CONSUL GENERAL AUSTIN

REPRESENTATIVE OF LIBERIA TALKS.

No Doubt About His Position in The Corps—Confirmation of an Old Appointment—Some History.

Franklin Austin, consul-general for Liberia, thinks too much notice has been given to his office and himself in connection therewith. Of course Mr. Austin is a modest man and, moreover, does not appreciate fully the importance of a consulate under the great African Republic in the Pacific.

"My appointment came on account of an incident of more than thirteen years ago. At that time I was made a commissioner of the president of Liberia to effect an exchange of decorations with King Kalakaua. I was met in London by a representative of the Hawaiian ruler and there made the proper transfers.

"The decoration presented to Kalakaua was one of five issued. Subsequently I was decorated with one of them in recognition of my services to the Liberian government.

"Later on my attention was called to the fact that having decorations in this country the president of Liberia should be represented here. Of course I well knew that there were no commercial relations between the two countries and probably never would be. The only work of a consulate would be the exchange of ordinary courtesies by mail, department reports, information, etc., and while the office has not been of importance to Hawaii I felt sure that our reports have been of advantage to Liberia.

"Well, my suggestion was followed. I was appointed consul-general and W. C. Parke was made vice-consul. Things went on that way. There being no business connected with the office, as I said before, people lost sight of it and I believe the consulate was eliminated from the official calendar. I had almost forgotten about it myself.

"I understand that when a list of the consular representatives was sent to Washington some months ago my name as consul-general of Liberia was among them. At any rate I know the appointment was reaffirmed by the government at Monrovia and I am fully qualified."

Mr. Austin was asked if he expected any Liberian cruisers or battle ships in very soon. He looked sadly toward the sea and let out as much as said he did not think they would be along this year anyhow. Hawaiian trade with Liberia has not been very large, but the local demand for malos keeps up and there may be a chance yet. In these days of imperialism, when all states are casting about for trade, Hawaiian merchants do not feel that a good chance should be lost by neglecting to develop a considerable commerce with Liberia, in malos and pnan plips, through Mr. Austin.

MUST HAVE AN AMERICAN

SCHOONER ROB ROY HAD A FOREIGN MASTER.

Customs Authorities Refuse to Allow Her to Go to Sea With a Japanese Captain.

The schooner Rob Roy was held this morning by the customs house authorities under peculiar conditions. She was violating the law which requires that she shall have an American citizen for a master, being an American vessel, and the men who were running her, thinking that they were "wanted," skipped out, leaving the vessel with no one in charge.

The schooner is owned by J. Wilson, who chartered her to a hull of Japanese. She had a native captain named Kunhi, who was discharged when the Japs took hold. They put one of their own, a Japanese subject, in command of the vessel, and the customs house refused to allow her to go to sea without an American in command, as provided for by law.

The Japs seemed to take fright at the official interference and this morning when a customs man went on board to ascertain the matter, they were nearly all gone. A cook and one of the deck hands was on board. They didn't know where the boss was, and the customs house man left without accomplishing his mission. In the meantime the schooner is held.

The Rob Roy is one of the largest of the island schooners. She was a Hawaiian vessel whose register was changed to American with all others under the Hawaiian flag at the time of annexation. The law requiring Americans to be in command applies to all the island vessels.

DAMAGE DONE ON KAUAI

THE STORM PROBABLY COST TWO LIVES.

Waimea Bridge Is Demolished, the Wharf Partially Wrecked and a Launch Knocked to Pieces.

The Noeau and Waialeale arrived this morning from Kauai ports with further particulars about the recent storm, showing it to have been worse than former reports indicated, a considerable amount of damage having been done. Two Japanese fishermen are supposed to have lost their lives, the Waimea bridge was destroyed and the Hanalei pum was flooded by rain water. Max Schlemmer's launch at Waimea was wrecked.

The Noeau was at Waimea when the storm came and Captain Wyman soon found it necessary to start for the open sea. He did so, not waiting for purser Adams to come from shore. Adams went overland to Hanalei and got on board there.

The two Japs who are thought to have lost their lives in a fishing boat at Waimea. After the storm was over their boat was not to be found. It is supposed to have been blown away, and both men are thought to have been drowned.

The steamboat men write in saying that the storm was the worst they have experienced. The rain swelled the river Waimea so that its torrents broke down the bridge at Waimea, and the structure collapsed into the stream. Schlemmer's launch was an old craft, which has not been used lately. It was torn from its moorings and broken up on the rocks.

The wharf at Waimea was also smashed by the force of the waves, which broke over it with unprecedented fury.

The steamer Waialeale was at Ahukini when the storm began and left for Hanalei. She was unable to make port there and started back to Ahukini. The steamer was 19 hours and 50 minutes at sea between Ahukini and Hanalei.

For Isenberg had one of the toughest experiences of the storm. He was seen last Thursday about 5 miles from Lihue in a truck that was stuck fast in the mud. Rain was falling in torrents and there was a howling wind and the back of the truck was jammed along the swamped road by its horse.

Assistance was sent for and after a long wait a team came to the rescue and Isenberg was driven to Lihue.

THE OLUA HOUSE WARMING

MANAGER McSTOCKER MOVES TO THE NEW HOUSE.

Many Tentative and Unbounded Hospitality Extended—W. H. Hoogs describes What he Saw of Plantation work.

W. H. Hoogs returned by the Kinau this morning from Olua where he was present Tuesday evening at the "house warming" of the Olua Plantation manager's new house. The house, which is a splendid almost palatial residence is situated on the road leading to Puna, about a mile from the plantation office. Manager and Mrs. McStocker had invited a large number of friends, and the "house warming" was a scene of unbounded hospitality. There were songs and recitations and other musical entertainment. The host himself, was compelled by his guests to sing. Miss Pearl Hoosack, who is described as having a magnificent voice well trained, sang several selections, and with Mr. Hoogs, a duet from Il Trovatore.

Speaking of the plantation itself, and the work of development that has been done on it under the management of F. B. McStocker, Mr. Hoogs says: "It is simply marvelous what has been accomplished and what a prospect the plantation presents. The plantation has always been able to get plenty of labor. Thousands of acres of magnificent cane are growing. The mill site is all prepared, and a large part of the machinery is in place. It is the expectation if all goes well, that the mill will be ready to commence grinding August 1, next, and will start in to grind 25,000 tons of sugar as the crop which will begin to be milled at that time.

"In the matter of water a supply of 25,000,000 gallons a day has been developed in Kaunahua, sufficient to flume every stalk of cane to the mill, for domestic and mill purposes. It is expected that within a short time four times that amount will have been developed. The work of building the fourteen mile flume to the reservoir is in progress. A mile of it has been built. The flume is thirty-six inches wide and two feet deep.

"The railroad from Hilo to Olua is a splendid piece of railroad construction. There is not a culvert in the whole distance. The roadbed is made right in the solid pahoehoe lava. They have been laying rails into Puna, and grading into Kaua. The road is well equipped for freight.

"In Puna I saw cane that would be creditable to any plantation. One can form but a faint idea of the work that McStocker has done, and the splendid prospects of Olua without a visit to it."

ANT POISON IN ALCOHOL

DEATHS OF PORTUGUESE ON PUNCHBOWL STREET.

Silva's Alleged Wine Making in His Little Resort—Inquest to be Held on Monday.

A solution of ant poison, with alcohol and sugar to make it attractive to the insects, is said to have been the stuff that killed the three Portuguese on Punchbowl street. Dr. Shorey has not yet made his report to the police department, but he has found a poison in the compound submitted to him for analysis. He will probably be ready to make a full report as to its nature on Monday, when the inquest will be held.

Since Silva senior died there have been many charges that he ran a private distillery and sold wine on the quiet and it has been charged that this was done under police protection. Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth says he will summon all the witnesses that can be found to tell anything about Silva, and the alleged wine-making. No wine was found on the premises unless poisonous mixture can be called wine. Chillingworth this morning stated that the allegations about "poison" were made carelessly and were a great injustice. "Silva had a small place and was making almost nothing out of it," said the deputy, "and the idea of his trying to buy policemen is absurd to anyone who knew him. If anyone knows of any witnesses that we do not summon and who is able to tell anything I shall give such people a chance to have the witnesses summoned."

The inquest promises to be quite a lengthy one.

Up to this time the expert is at sea as to what caused the death of the men. He still holds to the view, however, that the methylated spirits alone did not do it but that some foreign material in it was the depressive factor. There is hardly a question but either honey or brown sugar is also contained in the concoction.

The physician having to report on the autopsy on the body of Joaquim Silva, held Thursday, had a misfortune in losing most of the material required in reaching a speedy conclusion as to the operation of the poison in the dead man. It was mucus, etc., from the stomach. Had this been preserved in quantity, the result could have been reached. Portions of the organs and a quantity of blood was preserved and from that an analysis can be made, but the process will be longer.

Dr. Pratt still holds to his view that he did everything in a nurseryman's case that the law allows or requires. He claims to have the most convincing evidence that he did not die of "unnatural" causes.

A burial permit was this morning issued for the bodies of the three Portuguese. The funeral will occur tomorrow afternoon. All the other men whose deaths were reported on Thursday have been buried.

HAVE FOUND LEUNG CHI-TSO

YOUNG REFORMER HAS GONE TO TOKIO.

Lam Sal, the Former Secretary of the Local Bow Wongs, Writes of Chinese Affairs.

The Bow Wongs have at last succeeded in locating Leung Chi-tso, the young reformer who left here some months ago for China to try and put his party in a position to profit by whatever turn affairs might take. Lam Sal, the secretary of the Bow Wong Wui, who is now in Hong Kong, saw Leung Chi-tso the middle of October, and had a talk with him about the situation in China. Leung left Tien Tsin on October 15 for Tokyo, where he will hold a consultation with some of the other leaders and endeavor to raise funds to carry on the reform insurrection under the command of Dr. Sun Yat Sen.

Leung thought the prospects very fair of securing recognition to a greater or less extent from some or all of the powers, and being entrusted with the management of some of the nation's affairs. The purpose of the rebellion of Dr. Sun Yat Sen seems to be to secure possession of one of the Yangtze provinces with a view of retaining the upper hand, so that when the powers assign the government of the various districts to the friendly Chinese, the Bow Wongs will be placed in control of one or more of the richest provinces of that section. Wai-chow, which was taken recently by the forces of Dr. Sun, was abandoned by the reform army and fell into the hands of the Chinese imperial troops again. There was no further need for holding the place, however.

With characteristic enthusiasm, Lam Sal has resumed his efforts in behalf of the Bow Wong society. Although in Hong Kong, he is diligently proselyting his countrymen to the views of the reform party. This is a very dangerous undertaking, for whenever the Empress Dowager gets her hands on a reformer or even a Chinese who is other than a rabid anti-foreigner, she proceeds to destroy him of his head. Although Lam Sal realizes the danger to which he is exposed, he appears willing to risk his life to further the cause which he believes to be right. The letter is dated October 26.

THE MINER CASE IN COURT

PETITIONER MOVES TO QUASH ANSWER.

Question Being Argued Before Humphreys This Afternoon—Widemann Estate—Antone Not Convicted.

The Miner divorce case has occupied the attention of Judge Humphreys all of this forenoon and this afternoon argument was resumed at 1:30 o'clock. Attorney J. A. Magoon is at this time making an earnest appeal in behalf of the answer of Dr. Miner to the original bill. He has stated that the doctor waited to the last day before the case was to come to trial before he would file his amended answer, disclosing family secrets and his opinion of the character of the petitioner. Dr. Miner hesitated and waited in the hope that Mrs. Miner would come back to him and save the penalty of a family jar from the shoulders of their daughter said Mr. Magoon.

Dr. Miner's amended answer to the bill was filed yesterday and was quite a sensational document. It stated that Mrs. Miner had for a long time had a desire to go back to England, and had been harping around him to make him dissatisfied with life in Honolulu. He had built up a lucrative practice here and could not afford to start all over again in another land. In his answer the doctor testified that his wife entered the operating room and insisted female patients undergoing treatment, and also insulted other patients. He said that her attitude around the house in not performing the ordinary routine of home duty and in making it "hot" for him made life almost intolerable.

This morning Mrs. Miner, by her attorneys, filed a motion to dismiss the answer. It is this matter that is now under debate and consideration.

The petitioner objected to the answer on account of its new and separate allegations. Objection was made to the allegations themselves.

In the matter of the trustees of the Widemann estate vs. Emilie Macfarlane, a bill for construction of will distribution of property and discharge of trustees, Martha Berger, Herman A. Widemann and Anna Widemann have filed an answer consenting to the distribution proposed by the trustees. It is likely that the other heirs will file a like consent.

Ellen A. Pollyblank has filed her bond in the sum of $250 as guardian of the Wray Taylor minors. James Wakefield is the surety.

The trial of John Antone, in Judge Humphreys' court came abruptly to a close yesterday afternoon by the court taking the matter from the jury and ordering the discharge of the defendant. Antone was charged with forging the name of a school teacher to a salary warrant and cashing the same at the store of the Manufacturers Shoe Company. The prosecuting witness was not present and the government was unable to make a showing that would justify a complete hearing.

Judge Humphreys has signed the orders for partition in the two petitions preferred by Genevieve Dowsett against the other heirs of the Dowsett Estate.

HILLO ALSO HAS A STORM

ROUGH TIMES ON THE BIG ISLAND.

The Kinau Arrives Here at Seven This Morning After a Very Lively Trip.

The Kinau arrived at about seven o'clock this morning, the storm having prevented her from calling at many ports which she usually visits. She reports very rough weather at all the windward ports, heavy rains at Hilo and gales on Hawaii.

The road to the Volcano house is said to be all blocked up with trees blown down by the wind and the heavy rains sent floods down the mountain side. Hilo itself is enjoying one of the wettest experiences it has known.

The Kinau left Hilo at eight o'clock yesterday morning, when the storm was abating a little but the sea was as rough as ever. She made a stop at Kohala district, going to Niuli instead of to Mahukona to take passengers on board. Landing was impossible at Mahukona and all the passengers from the district went to Niuli. A start was made for Kawaihae, but the Kinau found it too hard a trip. Captain Parke decided after bucking the waves for a time to turn back, and he started for Maui.

Makana was reached at eight o'clock last night and here also the sea was too rough for any work. The mail was landed, however. The Kinau made no effort to stop at Maunaloa, which she passed at about 10 o'clock, sighting the Mauna Loa off port. It was too rough for the steamers to enter. At Lahaina also the storm prevented any stop being made and the Kinau started homeward without having any communication with the shore.

The trip was one of the roughest the Kinau has ever made, and the passengers on board had a very lively shaking up.

THE LAW ABOUT NAMES

ISLAND VESSELS COMPLYING WITH REGULATIONS.

Most of Them Compelled to Carve or Paint Their Names Again to Meet the Requirements.

The island steamship companies and all other owners of vessels here have been notified by the customs house bureau that they must comply with American laws with regard to the painting of names, numbers, etc., on the vessels. Very few among the large fleet of local vessels have the proper decorations, and a lot of painting and carving is going on.

The law provides that every vessel must have her official number and her name carved or otherwise permanently marked on her main beam, her name marked on each bow, and her name and home port on her stern, in a light color on a dark ground or the reverse, and in letters not less than four inches in length. Steamers are also required to have their names on each side of the pilot house, in six inch letters, or larger.

The two island companies are preparing to paint and carve all their vessels in compliance with the law. Even some of the big steamers have not carried the necessary lettering to this time, and among the smaller vessels are some that have no names at all in sight. Deputy Collector Statemeyer has notified the owners and is looking after the enforcement of the law.

JOURNALISTIC AMENITIESAS THEY ARE EXHIBITED IN HILO.The Tribune "Chews the Rag" over the Herald's Doughnut Diet Lucubrations
—Coffee, "Sinkers" and Elections.They are still holding post mortems on the election over in Hilo, just as they are here. This is what the Tribune says aiming at the Herald."Once each week the people of Hilo have an opportunity to observe the awful effects upon the human brain caused by an invariable morning diet of coffee and sinkers. This has been illustrated forcibly in a contemporary by the conversation of a coffee shop
"Early Riser" (or his creator). The practice above referred to bears upon the signing of Dr. Russell's petition by certain Republicans."As a matter of fact, when Russell accepted the nomination, the Republicans had not held their convention nor had Loebenstein, Blacow, Holstein or Paris been nominated. Any Republican could with perfect loyalty to his party support the candidacy of any nominee made by the other parties, and if he chose, advocate his nomination as fusion candidate by the Republican party.
As a matter of fact Brown, the other independent nominee here, was so supported by large numbers of Republicans, and it is probably a mistake that he was not nominated in our convention, though this could not well have been done without the consent of the northern portion of the district, who as it turned out had fixed upon Blacow."Just as any Republican had a right to get Brown nominated if he could, so any Republican had a right to give support to Russell until party nominations having all been made the fixed lines of campaign had been drawn."That the comparison of such a case with the Desha bolt is altogether without point, anyone who has not stuffed himself by maternal coffee shop disipation can readily see."THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.The Adjourned Annual Meeting was Held last Night.At the adjourned annual meeting of the Honolulu Library Association held last evening the following directors were elected for the coming year:
Charles R. Bishop, M. M. Scott, Sanford B. Dole, Mary A. Burbank, T. R.
Walker, William F. Allen, Henry Waterhouse, J. H. Fisher, Dr. C. T. Rogers
William D. Alexander and H. A. Par-malce. The directors held a meeting and from their number elected Charles R. Bishop, president, M. M. Scott, vice-president, Mary A. Burbank treasurer, and H. A. Parmelee secretary.The report of the librarian shows that at present the library contains 14-600 volumes. During the year 432 volumes have been acquired. Of these 272 were purchased and 129 were presented.
Persons donating books were W. D.
Alexander, C. D. Chaney, S. S. Paschal,
M. M. Scott, Rev. E. W. Thwing, Harry
Webster, Mrs. Hyde, Mrs. Heard, Miss Tilden and Miss Kenney. The Brigham has donated numbers of the Hawa-ian Fauna as they appeared and W.
N. Armstrong has sent several volumes and pamphlets from Washington.The books purchased were all works of reference. The months when the Honolulu public reads most are October and November. The volumes circulated during these months range from 1,000 to 1,100 in number.RAGSDALE HEARD FROM.HILO, November 16.—A gentleman re-

SAN JOSE, Oct. 4.—A favorable testial number of witnesses in the case of Berger and Cech, who were charged with the murder of a man named Begerow at the brewers' picnic on July 11. Begerow also took the stand and told of the killing, which he claimed he did only in self-defense after the deceased had threatened his life.The prosecution rested about noon. Their witnesses have been rather weak and it looks as though the defense will be accused of a "frame-up."Max Shannahan, who was the indicted witness in the case, was called today and he proved an excellent witness for

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1900.

We seem well supplied with that section of the animal kingdom which has the gift of chewing the cud. Not satisfied with giving us politics galore before election, we are now being treated to a daily relish of the past, and are being told the why and the wherefore of the loss of this man or the gain of that one. We are told who is and who is not going to be in the future parties. In fact we might still be on the eve of an election instead of just through one. On the mainland when an election is over, opponents shake hands, accept the vote, and devote themselves earnestly to get up with the time that has been lost. We shall learn mainland methods yet.

ON INVESTIGATION.

When a man dies without having been seen by any medical practitioner, it is proper and being so, it is the requirement of every properly organized community that the cause of death should be investigated. With this view the coroner's law was amended in the Legislature of 1898 in order to force proper enquiry. The result of that change in the law has been the investigation of a number of cases which in former times would not have been investigated, the discovery of one crime, and a strong impression upon all classes of the community as to the sanctity of human life.

It is not so long ago that Board of Health records used to come in regularly every month with a list of from ten to a dozen deaths marked "unknown." After a campaign extending over years in the old Gazette and the present Star the writer finally was enabled to see that this disgrace to Board of Health statistics was wiped out. We no longer have a dozen deaths marked "unknown" upon our monthly reports. But it was not sufficient to wipe out this. It was and is necessary to have every case where there is an unattended death properly investigated. The only way such a death can be properly investigated is before a coroner's jury.

It almost seems absurd to bring forward any arguments in favor of the calling together of coroner's juries because they are so trifling. It may be laid down as absolutely incontrovertible that cases of sudden death, or cases where a man dies, without medical attendance are cases for judicial investigation. It is not true that judicial investigation means suspicion of evil doing which is usually the argument brought forward. If there is no evil doing, investigation has no evil effect. It clears the people who are involved. Where there is no investigation there is no clearing of the cloud and today in this city there are men and women who walk around and who never have cleared their skirts and trouser legs of possible crime, simply because the law in those days did not require them to do it. A man died. He was dead. Heavens and earth why trouble the living because of such an unpleasant matter? Get the body into the grave and say no more about it.

These things have occurred. What is stated above is no fancy picture or any draft on the imagination. One would think that the Board of Health would do all in its power, by example to put an end to any such suspicions. For it must be understood that much is explainable, and that if proper legal investigation is made, a person charged with crime may be honorably exculpated. In judicial investigations according to Anglo-Saxon theory it is not the guilty that you desire to punish, but it is the innocent whom you desire to vindicate. Consequently the law regards every man innocent until he is found guilty. Latin law does not, or at least does not practically as applied in France.

We have a case very much in point, just now. The other day a Portuguese, an old man, named Silva died. He was unattended by any physician. The executive officer of the Board of Health went up to the house, viewed the body, asked some questions, was answered as any casual questioner might be answered, gave a certificate of burial and departed. The man was buried.

Before going any further one must comment upon this. An informal investigation such as the executive officer of the Board of Health held was practically no investigation as far as the law is concerned. The executive officer may or may not have been right as to the cause of death. There are plenty of men sick of one disease for years, who finally succumb to something entirely different. Because a man suffering from Bright's disease happens to be killed in an explosion of dynamite even the Honolulu Board of Health would hesitate to say he died of Bright's disease. However it might.

But mark! This very simple matter of the death of old Silva develops. There was no investigation as to the cause of old Silva's death, and Silva's friends went to take care of the corpse. Incidentally they find bottles and they assuage their grief by emptying them. Three of these men die. Then the matter becomes one to be examined. Why did they die? The stuff in the bottles was poisonous.

Now let us see what the executive officer of the Board of Health has to say on the subject. In an interview he says:

"The old man Silva had been ill for six years. For a long time he had not had a physician. I saw him after death and investigated the case. From what I found out I was firmly convinced in my own mind of the cause of death, and believed then, and believe now, that there was no need for a coroner's inquiry nor an autopsy. The three subsequent deaths resulting from liquor taken in that house, may appear to cast suspicion upon the original case, but I do not think the facts bear out any such conclusion."

"I received positive evidence from a man living in the nurseryman's house that the latter had taken nothing for three days but tea. During this time he had been deathly sick at his stomach. It was denied to me in the strongest terms that he had taken any liquor and I believe he had not."

This officer, whose business it is to have proper certificates for burial issued satisfies himself that there was no cause for having an autopsy upon Silva upon very flimsy evidence. He says he knew Silva had been sick and he was satisfied that no autopsy was needed. He says the three deaths afterwards "may cast suspicion" but he "does not think the facts bear out any such conclusion. He goes on to say that he received "positive evidence from a man living in the nurseryman's house that the latter had taken nothing for three days but tea; and the statement goes on to say that the old man had never taken any liquor during the time finishing up with the statement "I believe he had not." As to the latter, the executive officer of the Board of Health must be a very credulous individual. If he knew anything of the ways of alcoholic sufferers he would know that unless there were a strong repressive action upon the patient he would run to his stimulant. Upon this aspect of the case he had better consult a few trained nurses. Then it might be added, that the evidence obtained from mere bystanders not under oath, is very flimsy stuff indeed.

Now as to responsibility, and it is here where the true essence of the case comes. It was manifestly the duty of the executive officer of the Board of Health to have turned the case of Silva into the hands of the police authorities, and have had a coroner's jury enquire into the facts of the case. Had he done so it is more than probable that the lives of the three men who drank the poisonous stuff, found in Silva's room, might have been saved and the community would not have to support some twenty-two or twenty-three children. Had the matter been properly investigated in the first instance, the whole house would have been put under guard and at the coroner's inquest the poison would have been produced in evidence.

The easy going, happy-go-lucky way of doing things in the matter of death must come to an end. Every unattended death should be a matter of investigation. It was not so long ago that the late Lord Russell, Lord Chancellor of England, insisted upon having a coroner's inquest held upon the body of a guest who died suddenly in his house, saying that he was no greater than any other householder in the kingdom, and that a death under the circumstances should be properly and thoroughly investigated. Not only was Lord Russell right in law, but he protected himself, because a coroner's "jury gets facts and relieves the individual of responsibility." A coroner's jury in the Silva case would have relieved the executive officer of the Board of Health of a responsibility which he can now never wipe out, no matter how long his life may last.

It is not a good comment upon the work of the contractors that the sewers leak in the way they are doing. The Superintendent of Public Works is perfectly justified in refusing to accept the work as it now is.

Marital relations do not seem to be working smoothly in some families. The Hawaiian Islands as a rule have not had any sensational divorce proceedings, but there seems a very unfortunate prospect of the rule being broken through.

There is nothing more necessary to the good health and comfort of the people than pure food. The fact that a large number of cases of watered milk have been brought forward shows that there is a tampering with one of the foods which is used largely for young children and sick people. The dairy which does this supplies the poorer classes of customers. It is high time that the law reached these people.

American citizens still come along though there is no election in sight. The fact is men want to be under a flag that they know will protect them on the spot and don't want to wait for endless appeals to Europe to have their international matters settled. The last few months has produced a very large number of good American citizens under any circumstances. But times have changed very considerably.

Hilo is also chewing over the legality of elections. What is the use of crying over spilt milk. When a thing done it is done with. There never was an election in which the beaten side could not find out where it made its mistakes, and where it failed to put in its strong work. But this should be food for reflection and not for reprimand. All this post-election talk is the most childish exhibition. We went into the election as men. We ought not to come out of it as babies.

MODERN GROCERY STORE

OPENING OF MAY & CO., LTD. NEW BUILDING TONIGHT.

The Public Invited to See the Handsome Quarters of the Firm—A Progressive Company's New Home.

Henry May & Co. will open their new store in the Boston block this evening. They extend a cordial invitation to the public to call and see the most modern grocery store in Honolulu. This firm has long enjoyed a very heavy trade with housekeepers in this city. With the natural increase of business, it was found that a larger and better store was required. The company arranged with the Brewer Estate for their present quarters.

The new store is handsomely fitted. The shelving throughout is of white Oregon pine, and to all shelves bicycle ladders are attached, thus greatly facilitating the emptying and refilling of the various compartments of the shelves with new goods. The counters have solid quartered oak tops, curvilinear fronts, with white marble bases. There are two cracker counters, one on each side of the store. These are of the same construction as the others, excepting that the fronts contain glass compartments for the display of the firm's complete assortment of English and American fancy biscuits. A perfect network of the latest improved system of cash rail-ways runs from the office in the rear to the various counters throughout the establishment.

The retail department on the main side is partially divided from the wholesale department on the mauka side by a compartment in the front containing the staircase and elevator leading to the upper flats of the building.

The set of shelving along the mauka side of the retail department is devoted to teas, coffees, cocoas, chocolates, extracts and spices, the base containing a long line of handsome tea caddies.

Immediately behind the elevator compartment, and in the center of the store, is the marble top semi-circular delicatessen counter for cold storage goods, etc. Behind this, stands the refrigerator, which is eight feet long and eight and a half feet high, made expressly for Henry May & Co., by the Garney Refrigerator Company of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. It contains four tiers of compartments, and is made of quartered oak, with nickel fittings. The doors of the various compartments have plate glass mirror fronts.

The office in the rear of the store are in keeping with the general elegance of the whole establishment, the fixtures being of solid oak and curvilinear, surmounted by oxidized copper grill work and plate glass mirrors. Running the full width of the building at the back, and screened by the main store by a partition of white pine is the wholesale shipping room and the retail delivery department, which contains separate counters for each delivery wagon, thus insuring accuracy in the despatch of orders to all parts of the city. To obviate the necessity of going to the main retail department for staple articles, a very large stock of these goods is arranged on shelves in the delivery room, from which an elevator runs to the basement, which is used for the stowing the reserve stock of the firm.

The show windows, two in number, at the front of the store, are of the most modern construction and design, with hardwood finish floors, heavy plate glass mirror walls and plate glass windows.

The entire establishment is lighted by electricity and is a decided credit to Honolulu and to the proprietors, who seem to have spared no expense in fitting it up in a most modern style.

THE ORIENT AND OCCIDENT

BARRIER THAT IS BETWEEN THEM.

The True Meaning of Kwang Hsu's Offer to Make Sacrificial Offerings in the German Minister Matter.

At no time in the world's recent history has there been a more striking illustration of the nature of the barrier which divides east and west than that afforded by the diplomatic correspondence passing between the Chinaman, Emperor Kwang Hsu, and the aggressive modern German, Emperor William. The two letters better far more difference of opinion; they disclose the radical difference which lies between occidental and oriental points of view and baffles all attempts to bring them into harmony. Considering the circumstances, the Chinaman's serious suggestion of an antique ceremonial as an atonement for the Boxer outrages seems like something taken from comic opera. Yet it is not improbable that Kwang Hsu's proposal to atone for the assassination of the German minister, Baron von Ketteler, by offering libations to the Chinese gods and making a sacrifice upon the altar was made in all seriousness and good faith. It is quite within probability, too, that in the Chinese mind such a sacrificial offering was more than the emperor of Germany asked.

That the emperor of Germany, in the nature of things, could not accept such a proposition as serious is only another sign of the gulf that yawns between the west and the east. No matter how stern a measure the performance of sacrificial rites upon an altar may seem to Chinamen, to the practical western mind the suggestion is whimsical and absurdly irrelevant.—Chicago Record.

MOTHER DENOUNCES SON.

A mother denouncing her son as a cold-blooded murderer and threatening in case he is not hanged, to see that he is put out of the way by other means was the spectacle presented here yesterday when Mrs. Dora Lundroot at Portland Oregon told the story of the killing of her husband by her son, Louis Keutemeyer, on Sauvie's Island.

Mrs. Lundroot declares her son planned the deed two years ago, and that he had been waiting only for a suitable opportunity to commit the crime. The trouble she says, arose through the jealousy of Keutemeyer because Mrs. Lundroot's mother deeded to Lundroot thirty acres of land and gave nothing to Keutemeyer. She declares Keutemeyer has threatened not only his step father's life but the lives of other persons on the island, and that if he is not hanged she and those persons will see that he is put out of the way.

STILL A GUESS.

It will be noticed that people are still obliged to take for granted the way Tom Reed will vote.—Chicago Record.

GET ACQUAINTED.

The more people you know the greater your chance of finding useful friends among them. The same principle obtains as to labor saving conveniences. It is much better to get a light by pressing a button at your bedside than to rise, strike a match and set the gas going. The more things you know how to do, the more thoroughly safe guarded you are in emergencies and times of trouble. It is ignorance along these lines which induces incalculable loss of time, money and health. "Oh, if I had only known of it in time" is the sad, despairing cry of multitudes who find themselves in the grasp of some disease from which a certain remedy might have delivered them. Now, information comes through the eye and ear. It is reasonable, therefore, to suppose that what we are now going to tell you about may be the most valuable intelligence printed in this newspaper. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Malt and Wild Cherry. It has no equal for the use of Invalids and Consumptives. In all cases of Fevers, Anemia, Nervous Debility, Pneumonia, Scrofula, Rheumatism, etc., it may be implicitly depended on. Progressive physicians endorse and prescribe it. Thin and wasted patients quickly gain new health and strength. One sufferer gained twelve pounds in weight from a single bottle. If you need it now take it now. If not, get acquainted with it and know what to do when occasion arises. One bottle convinces. Effective from the first dose. "You cannot be disappointed in it." ## BOOK COMPANY'S OFFER

WHAT IT WILL DO FOR PROPOSED CONTRACT.

Details of Matter Contained in Letter

From A. F. Gunn—Mr. Atkinson Said to Favor the Scheme.

The proposal of the American Book Company for a new five years contract with the department of education has interested everybody in town in the past day or so.

The proposal of Mr. Gunn, representing the American Book Company, is contained in the following letter to the commissioners of education dated November 15, 1900:

Ladies and gentlemen—Whereas the contract now existing between the Territory of Hawaii and the American Book Company will expire on the 14th day of February next, and whereas the territory now has a large stock of books on hand, amounting to about $6,000, and it has been stated that your honorable board, to select any books from our catalogue of said books, and place same in the hands of the dealers; now, therefore, we propose as follows:

We will take from the territory all of the stock of books now on hand, allowing you cost prices for same, and we will create a depository in the city of Honolulu that will carry a complete stock of the books which may be required for use in the public schools of the territory.

We further agree to supply said books from our publications, and have them sold to the school districts, or pupils, or other purchasers of the territory as they are now supplied by your honorable board.

We also agreed that the prices shall be maintained and shall never exceed that of contract rates. That your honorable board will have the privilege, at any time, to select any books from our catalogue that they may wish to have used in the public schools of the territory. We will also agree to give you a special edition of a geography with a special supplement for the territory, the same to be compiled and written by some party or parties as you may designate. Some of the books that you now have in use may be desirable to continue in use in the public schools. I would suggest, however, that it might be well to displace others with some of our more recent and modern publications. The children in the public schools of Hawaii, at the present time and for the past five years, have been purchasing their books at the prices that the same books are supplied to the public school children in New York, Boston, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and all other parts of the United States. We agree that in case any reduction in list prices should be made at any time that the Territory of Hawaii shall have the full benefit of the same.

As you are aware, we publish a very extensive list of school and college text books; our list being in the neighborhood of 4,000 titles, including every class of books than can be desired for use in any or all grades of schools. Should you, however, require at any time any books for use in high or normal schools not published by us, we will supply the same at cost price.

Most respectfully submitted,
AMERICAN BOOK COMPANY.
By A. F. GUNN,
Attorney in Fact.

"My reason for desiring to make this contract," said Mr. Atkinson yesterday, "is first to get rid of the book business in the board of education, which no other board engages in, and, second, to have books sold at list prices to the pupils in the Hawaiian schools. By no other means than a contract can this be reached. To give up the book business and have no authority over the sales would leave the community in a position to be charged higher prices than are now paid. It is the duty of the superintendent of schools and the commissioners of education to protect the public to the utmost."

THE WALAKEA BRIDGE.

HILO, November 16.—The old trouble of construction of the new bridge at Waialae seems to be in danger of going down. During the present heavy rain the sand has washed out through the cracks making large holes extending to the foundation. Supervisor Vierra had men at work yesterday dumping rocks into the holes believing they would form a foundation at the piles and eventually settle so that sand could be filled in. On one side of the walled approach a large crack has appeared.—Hawaii Herald.

Sparklets

TRADE MARK

SPARKLETS are tiny capsules of thin steel, filled with Compressed Carbonic Acid Gas, and so arranged that by means of simple mechanism, and in most inexperienced hands, their contents can be discharged into a bottle containing the liquid which it is desired to charge, producing instantly perfect aeration and all its most desirable attributes.

SPARKLETS are to be used in connection with a SPECIALLY PREPARED BOTTLE which may be used for an indefinite time and absolutely free from danger of explosion inseparable from the ordinary carbonic water bottle.

A sleight of hand performance by J. W. Dougherty, a guest, afforded pleasant entertainment to the people at the Hawaiian hotel last evening.

The fancy tea of the ladies of St. Andrew's cathedral will take place in the Sunday school rooms between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 this afternoon. There was not a session of Judge Estee's court this morning. Aside from a payment of a fine imposed some days ago, there was little business of any kind.

The funeral of Joe Cabral, foreman for H. H. Williams, who died Wednesday night after drinking poisonous liquor at the house of old man Silva, will take place tomorrow afternoon.

THE ABLATIVE OF "DONUM."

"The class in Latin will now recite," said the Latin teacher at one of the city high schools the other day. The members of the class in Latin, consisting of thirty or more bright-looking girls, with three or four boys, came forward and took their places. All moved along smoothly until the declination of the noun "donum" was in order, and then there was trouble. It was the ablative that caused the trouble. For the benefit of those not acquainted with the mysteries of Latin, it may be mentioned right here that the ablative is "gono" and the pronunciation is the same, as one should say "don't know," stirring the two words, as is so frequently done, to don't know.

"Miss Jones," said the teacher to the head of the class, "what is the ablative of 'donum'?"

Miss Jones gave her version, and was told to sit down. The question in turn went down the entire length of the class, all failing, until it reached the last, a boy who has a reputation for baseball and football, but none for scholarship.

"Well, Percy, the ablative of 'donum'?" asked the teacher.

Percy scratched his head and despairingly looked at his grinning classmates.

"Don't know," he finally blurted out. "Right," said the teacher; "go up head."

And then the class broke out into a laugh that cost each member ten marks, but none peached on Percy, and the teacher to this day cannot understand what there is so comical in the ablative of "donum."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A BIG BEAR.

Yesterday the largest cinnamon bear ever seen in this vicinity was brought into town by some cowboys from the head of Seven Mile.

The bear had been caught in a trap and was killed by a 12-year-old boy by the name of Bennie Walsh, who was out hunting deer at the time. It only took one well-directed shot to kill him. The bear tipped the beam at 800 pounds.—Denver Post.
