CARRYING OUT LOCAL OPTION

GOVERNOR DOLE'S CALL FOR VOTES ON SALOON LIMIT QUESTION.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE THE RULE IN THIS CASE.

Residents and Property Owners of the Proposed Queen Street Limits to Be Heard From.

The Executive Council tomorrow will probably settle the matter of calling for a vote of residents of the proposed new saloon limits on Queen street, carrying out the "local option" idea to the limit. Governor Dole proposes such an election, with woman's suffrage. He submitted to the council at the last meeting the following draft of a call for voters:

"A vote will be taken between the hours of—on the question whether Queen street from Alaska street to Punchbowl street should be opened as an extension of the limits heretofore established in Honolulu within which persons may be licensed to retail spirituous liquors.

"A ballot box will be stationed at—where negative and affirmative ballots will be at the disposal of voters.

"All persons of legal age residing on Queen street between Fort and South streets and on Alapai and Richard streets between Hakekawa and Millani streets and on Punchbowl and Millani streets between Hakekawa and King streets, and all persons of legal age, owning or holding under lease real estate in the said described locality may cast a ballot on the question stated above.

"Women may vote as well as men."

THE JURY INSTRUCTED

LEWIS HEIRS GET IMPORTANT VERDICT.

Sudge Humphreys Orders a Verdict for Then—Fisheries Test Cases Set for Next Monday.

Sudge Humphreys at noon today instructed the jury in the case of James Auld and others to return a verdict for all the plaintiffs excepting H. J. and James Auld for a 7-8 interest in the property at the corner of King and Bethel streets, claimed in the complaint. The evidence was closed soon after court began session this morning and after argument by Atkinson for the plaintiffs and Magoon for the defendant, the Oahu Lumber and Land Company, Humphreys quickly instructed the jury.

The verdict, as ordered by the court, was for an undivided 7-8 interest in real property worth about $50,000. It has been in the possession of the Oahu Lumber and Building Company, but the plaintiffs established their title to the satisfaction of the court. The successful plaintiffs are the heirs of the late James L. Lewis. In addition to a 7-8 interest in the property, they are awarded all rents collected by the defendants since October 7, 1900.

The fisheries cases will be heard on Monday next, Humphreys having stated this morning that he would devote the first two days of next week to them.

SAILING OF THE WHALEN

The departure of the schooner Julia E. Whalen for Marcus Island, has not been definitely decided upon. A galley is being built and not until this shall have been installed will the boat be ready to sail. Captain Rosehill has not even signed his crew yet, as he will have to feed the men as soon as they sign, and not until the galley is in place can food be prepared for the crew. It is probable that the boat will get away tomorrow morning.

EDWARDS IMPROVING

THE KING'S HEALTH ON THE MEND.

The Joy of the British People Signaled by a Chain of Bonfires from Land's End to John O'Groet's.

LONDON, July 1.—The reappearance today of Queen Alexandra as a participant in a public ceremony practically marks the end of the period of anxiety caused by King Edward's condition. Her presence at the review of the colonial troops by the Prince of Wales greatly increased public enthusiasm over what in itself was a picturesque and interesting event. Upward of 2500 colonials were brought in from the various encampments and marched through great crowds down Constitution Hill, which was lined with troops.

LONDON, June 30.—The general feeling of relief as a result of the favorable reports of the King vented itself tonight by the touching off of the 3000 bonfires throughout the United Kingdom which were originally prepared to celebrate coronation night. The signal to light the fires was given at five minutes to 9 o'clock. A rocket was sent up from the top of the gigantic wheel in East's court and burst in a cloud of stars 1000 feet overhead. In response to this signal bonfires rose from every elevation of any consequence from The Lizard to the Orkneys. The celebrations were unfortunately somewhat dampened by the downfall of rain.

LONDON was not officially illuminated. It had been hoped that the Mansion House, the Bank of England and Marlborough House would join in the celebration, all their illumination stands being intact, but none of the official decorations was lit up. The display in London in this line was confined to the Strand, Fleet street and other thoroughfares.

There was quite a celebration at Spithead today, when the nearest approach to a review of the great fleet there was seen in the trip of several transports loaded with volunteers and colonial troops, and a number of distinguished persons who inspected the empire's "first line of defense."

The following bulletin was issued from the Buckingham Palace at 7 p. m.: "The King has had a fairly comfortable day and the discomfort in the wound has been less."

"TREVES, LAKING, BARLOW." At noon the following official statement was given out at the palace: "There is no cause for alarm in the distress caused by dressing the wound. This occurs at least twice daily. The wound, which is of considerable depth, is dressed from the bottom, as it is essential that it should heal from within outward. The dressing causes his majesty considerable pain, which he has borne with great fortitude. In fact, his majesty's courage and patience calls for the greatest admiration. The King was much benefited by the change to the couch yesterday, on which he stayed for a few hours. The electric fans have proved of great value in keeping down the temperature of the apartment."

The Queen is in constant attendance in the sick room, but the utmost quiet is enforced. The King occasionally sees his children, but the interviews are of short duration. No matters of state or business are allowed to be submitted to the King, who is also debarred from reading his correspondence. Neither Drs. Laking, Barlow, nor Treves have left the Palace since the operation except for an occasional hour."

LONDON, July 2.—King Edward has passed another good day. The quiet and routine of the sick room was varied today by the excitement of listening to the music and cheers of the Indian troops as they marched past the palace and greeted Queen Alexandra on the balcony. King Edward demanded a full account of the review and the formal report made by the Prince of Wales was supplemented by the personal narrative of the Queen. His majesty dictated a letter to the Duke of Connaught, commanding him to compliment the Colonial troops upon their excellent appearance and to thank them for their expressions of loyalty and sympathy, which he had heard with pleasure in his sick room.

BAD NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

FIRE CLAIMS BILL DEFEATED JUST BEFORE ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.

HOUSE STRIKES OUT THE SENATE APPROPRIATION.

Court of Fire Claims Will Now Have To Issue Warrants According to the Original Plan.

Bad news for Hawaii was received by the Sonoma this morning, in Washington dispatches under date of June 30, when, on the last day before adjournment day, the House struck the Hawaiian fire claims appropriation of $1,000,000 from the deficiency bill, and the Senate agreed to the striking out. This ended all hope of assistance from Washington for months at least. In payment of the thousands of claims heard and adjudicated by the court here, and throws the financial burden upon Hawaii. When Congress meets again further efforts may be made, but the result of the attempts this time indicates that the chances of success are not good.

The news was a disappointment to Honoluluans generally and especially to members of the court of claims and government officials, who had been hoping for some relief from Washington. The business community was also so interested, it being recognized that the help hoped for would have been a material factor in improving the financial situation.

F. W. Macfarlane, chairman of the Court of Fire Claims, was greatly disappointed at the action of the House of Congress. He stated that the only thing for the court to do now would probably be to give out the certificates of awards and let the auditor give out warrants on the Territorial treasury.

"The certificates of award are all ready," said Macfarlane, "and I think the warrants are about all ready too. I shall have a consultation with the Governor on the subject and decide what to do. It is a great disappointment, after coming so near success, to find defeat in the end. The government seems to have taken every thing in the way of revenue from Hawaii, and to be unwilling to allow us any help."

Is it thought by some that the latestness of the commencement of work at Washington had much to do with the defeat of the appropriation, and that in the next session there may be better chances. It is also thought that the chances of Hawaii would have been better if the territory had not gone ahead in the first place with an apparent intention to assume all the burden.

Edgar Cayless, who arrived this morning on the Sonoma, and has spent several months in Washington, is of the opinion that the bill will go through during the next session. He thinks that there is little doubt of the ultimate success of the appropriation. "The measure has many friends in Washington," said Cayless, "and the main difficulty this time was that it was brought up too late. It was objected to by Cannon, who objects to everything, and there was not time enough to head him off. I think the bill will undoubtedly pass when it comes up again."

"It's got to pass," continued the returned attorney. "We are in the position of the man who was throwing sticks up to catch a coon. After he'd thrown at the coon a number of times with no result, a passer told him that way, and he said, 'I've got to get it, he'll never get it. I've got to get it,' replied he. 'My meat's all out.' That is the way with Hawaii and the appropriation."

The press dispatches from Washington, telling of the results of the consideration of the appropriation, are as follows:

WASHINGTON, June 30.—With final adjournment probable tomorrow the House worked under high pressure from noon today until a late hour last night. As a preliminary several resolutions were adopted to grease the legislative wheels. The rule providing for the printing of conference reports before consideration was suspended until the end of the session, and a resolution was adopted making a motion to suspend the rules in order at any time. The House then got down to business.

The conference report on the Philippine civil government bill, which is considered the last obstacle in the way of adjournment, was adopted by a strict party vote, with the single exception of McCall of Massachusetts, who voted with the Democrats. A partial report on the general deficiency appropriation bill was adopted, by a vote of 118 to 101, adopted the Senate amendment to appropriate $500,000 for the Buffalo Exposition and $1,000,000 to pay the Hawaiian fire bubonic plague awards were defeated. A number of bills were passed under suspension of the rules.

After the House adopted the Philippine civil government bill 130 to 28, Cannon presented the conference report on the general deficiency bill. It was a complete agreement. Cannon explained on the Charleston Exposition amendment. The Senate had agreed to the striking out of the $1,000,000 to pay the Hawaiian fire claims and had reduced several small appropriations covered by the Senate amendments. The report was adopted.

Finley (D.), of South Carolina then moved to recede and concur in the Charleston exposition amendment. Cannon said that while he was opposed to the amendment he could not see much reason why the House should strain at gnats after swallowing the Buffalo camel. Finley's motion was adopted without division.

HOME RULE ISSUES

THE NINE PLANKS ARE PREAMBLE OF HOME RULE PARTY.

Will Ask For Many Improvements—After Board of Health—Growing Dissatisfaction With Kalaokalani.

The Home Rule convention this morning met at the Orpheum at 10 o'clock, several new delegates attending who were unable to be present yesterday.

The first procedure was the roll call after which the minutes were read by Secretary Nakookoo. D. Kalaokalani was on the platform, Edgar Cayless coming later. Both were upon the motion of George Markham appointed consulting and debating members of the convention, without, however, the right of vote. Palau tried with Lane Jr. to have the names of the delegates arriving today inserted in the minutes. The latter was much excited and interrupted the meeting continually during the earlier stages.

The minutes were adopted as read finally. John Wise, chairman of the committee on platform, then made his report which started as follows: Mr. President and Delegates of the Home Rule party, and presented the report of the committee with a suggestion that two committees of five members each be appointed, one to frame the various bills to be presented to the legislature and the other to hold themselves ready to answer questions and ask for rights and privileges of the Hawaiian Commission when that body arrived. The preamble read as follows:

The Home Rule party declares by its delegates here assembled that we do believe in the Declaration of Independence framed by Thomas Jefferson and further declare our implicit confidence in the Constitution of the United States on which the foundation of our Organic Act was built.

We condemn the action of the executive at all times and places when and where he oversteps his prerogatives, and we hereby declare ourselves in opposition to all agreements made by him without the sanction of the legislature.

We stigmatize the remarks made by the executive of this territory during his trip abroad in relation to the internal affairs of this territory as libels of the worst kind to the voters of these islands.

We hereby petition that the Congress of the United States make an appropriation sufficient for the erection of custom houses and post offices, with suitable preparatory school, insane asylums, homes and schools for the care and education of the children of the lepers, and light houses of the latest type at all points where ships constantly enter.

We approve all demands by the Federal Government for lands in the Territory suitable for all purposes, that it may see fit to institute.

The planks are nine in number running in the following order:

1. The establishment of a county government throughout the Territory within thirty days of the passage of the bill. This was amended to sixty days on motion of Prendergast.

2. The establishment of municipalities throughout the Territory by means of which the people of the various districts would be enabled to regulate their own affairs.

3. The regulation of labor and the hours of labor in all branches of work.

4. The furthering of the interests of the farmers and day laborers by guaranteeing the payment of wages every week.

5. The establishment of an agricultural college in this Territory.

6. That the Congress of the United States be asked to set aside suitable appropriations for the payment of the fire claims by means of a bond issue sufficient to pay the same.

7. That uniform laws be passed to regulate the liquor traffic.

8. We pledge ourselves to a continuance of the appropriation to our esteemed Queen.

9. We protest against the present arbitrary action of the Board of Health and pledge our candidates to restrict the same.

We hereby pledge ourselves to stand firmly for equal rights to all in order that benefit may accrue to all voters of the various districts. Signed, John Wise, chairman; D. W. Kawika, J. B. Halki, C. L. Kookoo, Carlos A. Long, J. H. Biplikane, J. H. Kahilina.

Emmeluth and Prince Cupid had by this time arrived and the platform was taken section by section. All were approved as read with the exception noted in section one. One aged delegate had to have municipal government explained to him by Delegate Wilcox before he would subscribe and allow the plank to pass. He also asked that Kalaokalani's County bill be produced and read, a two days' procedure from the idea of which he was finally dissuaded. Kalaokalani took the opportunity to deliver a panegyric on himself for introducing the bill.

John Kanul aroused much laughter by producing an amendment in which the United States was to be asked for twenty-five million dollars in greenbacks for the carrying out of the platform's proposed arrangements. The amendment was voted down with laughter.

George Markham read last year's preamble to the platform and wished to substitute it for the one offered by the committee. He took the occasion to object to any Japanese, Chinese or Portuguese working. All the work should go to the Hawaiians. John Wise pointed out that the preamble of the present platform with the mention of the Declaration of Independence and the name of Jefferson covered everything in the old platform. Kalaokalani stopped debate and put the amendment of Markham's preamble to the house, declaring it passed. There was much discussion at his assumption of control. Prince Cupid asked—

KALUA KAPUKINI SPENDTHRIFT CASE AGAIN.

The Supreme Court Refuses to Re-open The Matter as Requested by Colonel Fitch.

The Supreme court today decided finally the case of Kalua Kapukini, spendthrift, declining to re-open the case as asked by Attorney Tom Fitch. In an address to the court withdrawing as counsel for Kalua, Fitch called the attention of the court to new evidence and arguments which he had not had an opportunity to present.

The court in an opinion by Gaherith says: "This court in this proceeding, on the mere suggestion of counsel can scarcely be expected to look into and pass upon the conduct of counsel out of the presence of the court. There are recognized methods of bringing such matter before the court but this is not one of them."

Fitch is advised to go to a circuit judge to recover the money he says he advanced to Kalua while the case was pending. The statement by Fitch as to his having agreed to reduce his own fee one half is referred to by the court as "certainly confirming" the view already taken, that Kalua is a spendthrift.

KILLED BY THE HEAT

COAL PASSER ON SONOMA FALLS VICTIM.

Mail Liner Arrived This Morning With Five Days Later News—Sighted Ventura and Nippon Maru.

The S. S. Sonoma, Captain Van Oerendorp, arrived off the port this morning at 6 o'clock from San Francisco with five days later news. The vessel brought a good sized number of passengers for Honolulu, many of them being old residents. The vessel experienced good weather. She left San Francisco on time at 10 a. m. of July 3. The latest bulletins issued the morning just before sailing time, announced that King Edward was steadily improving in health.

On Sunday July 6, H. F. Dwyer, a coal passer died of heat exhaustion. The man was buried at sea the same day. Dwyer went about the vessel without a ticket. The officers think that he was trying to stow away and was discovered. Whether or not this is true, he was discovered soon after the vessel had left the harbor. He was informed he could sign the ship's articles and ship as coal passer if he desired. He did so. It was the man's first experience as coal passer and the intense heat of the engine room was too great for him. Nothing is known of his relatives.

The Sonoma sighted the Ventura at 7 o'clock last evening and saw another steamship, presumably the Nippon Maru about four hours later.

Among those who returned to Honolulu from the Sonoma were Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Jones who have been absent several months, enjoying an extended tour through the States. Mr. Jones was a delegate to the annual national convention of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. Miss Alice Jones did not return with them.

Mrs. George R. Carter, two children and maid were also passengers, returning from a visit on the mainland. George R. Carter took a shore boat and went out to board the vessel but unfortunately he missed connection with the steamer and did not get aboard until after the Sonoma was in the harbor.

Lieutenant W. T. Brigham of the Bishop Museum was a returning passenger. Edgar Cayless returned from Washington, D. C. where he had been trying to serve the interests of the Home Rule party.

Mrs. Sarah Jacobus of Los Angeles was a passenger. She will visit her daughter, who is connected with the Kamehameha School.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Newmark are Los Angeles people who are bound for Sydney. He is a well known wholesaler of Southern California.

Franz Wilczek one of the world's most famous violinists, is a passenger for Sydney, where he will give a series of concerts.

The Sonoma brought 150 sacks of mail for Honolulu. She is scheduled to sail at 4 p. m. today for Pago Pago, Auckland and Sydney.

W. T. Rawlins took his oath as referee in bankruptcy this morning before Judge Este.

GOT LONG SENTENCES

PORTO RICAN VAGRANTS PUT TO WORK.

Police Determined to Rid Town of Worthless and Dangerous Loafers. Judge Wilcox Inflicts Six Months.

Ten Porto Ricans, nine men and one woman, faced Judge Wilcox this morning to answer to charges of vagrancy. This has been the largest number of this race that has been in the police court in many months and recalled the large numbers that were rounded up by the police last year. In fact, most of the defendants had served sentences in jail, inflicted by Judge Wilcox. The court had evidently made up its mind to deal severely with the gaily ones and teach a lesson to the rest of the would-be vagrants that Honolulu is no good for a loafing place.

The crowd had been in town all the way from two weeks to six months and with two exceptions, made little pretense of having done work. Some of them had excuses, but the excuses appeared to the court to be very lame affairs and seven of the male offenders were given six months each at hard labor.

In two of the cases however, where the defendants had claimed to have been working, the court continued the cases until tomorrow in order to give the Porto Ricans an opportunity of securing witnesses and proving whether the defendants had told the truth.

Pedro Rodriguez one of the most worthless old Porto Rican beggars who has ever come to these shores was one of the seven who faced the court. Rodriguez acted perfectly rational while being examined by the court. Rodriguez stated that he had come from Maui only recently, for the purpose of getting his daughter and taking her back with him. The court candidly said that he did not believe the defendant intended any good to the girl, so he sentenced Rodriguez to six months imprisonment.

Rodriguez was taken back to the prisoners dock and in a few minutes, began to act in an odd manner, moving around and shifting about from one seat to another. The attention of the court officer was attracted by the fellow's actions, and, before Rodriguez had worked up his fake insanity, the Porto Rican was taken below. When in the prison yard, Rodriguez cut loose and soon his howls and cries were heard in the court room above. Big Jim Kuphe soon put the fellow in a cell and quieted him.

Marie Santos, a woman was charged with vagrancy. She said that she could not help telling the truth. She was leading the life of a common prostitute and there was no use denying this self evident fact. The court sentenced her to two months imprisonment.

The wholesale round up of the Porto Ricans was largely the result of certain threats which some of the most worthless of some Porto Rican men were alleged to have made against special officer McDuffie. The latter arrested these men, and, after several days, also, on charges of soliciting and they were sentenced to terms of imprisonment this week. The men who had been consorting with the females, were reported to have threatened to cut McDuffie's throat, so the police decided to make a round-up and rid the town of the dangerous element.

THE MARIPOSA.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The Oceanic Steamship Company's Mariposa will make her trial trip using oil as fuel on Friday next, the Fourth of July. The amount of interest that is being taken in this trial, both here and in the East, can be judged by a telegram received yesterday by J. D. Spreckels, president of the Oceanic Steamship Company, from Rear Admiral Melville, chief of the bureau of construction in Washington, which reads as follows:

"Commander H. N. Stevenson will report to you for trial of steamer Mariposa.
The Mariposa, with the Alameda, was built at Cramp's yards about eighteen years ago. She is the first large passenger steamship to be equipped for burning oil. Her capacity is 6500 barrels, which is sufficient to take her to Tahiti and back without additional fuel. She has been fitted with new triple expansion engines and new boilers and will make seventeen knots an hour.
The Mariposa will make her dock trial today. The greater interest will be taken in the results of her trial on Friday, as almost every steamship running to San Francisco will be similarly equipped if the Mariposa's experiment proves successful, as the saving in labor and fuel will be $250 per day.

The Mariposa has been running in the past between this port and the Hawaiian Islands, but in future she will run between San Francisco and Tahiti.

JULIA E. WHALEN MAY SAIL.

The schooner Julia E. Whalen may sail tomorrow for Marcus Island, Captain Rosehill is not sure whether he will be ready to sail then or not, but he will probably set sail in the afternoon if nothing happens to prevent his starting.

KIPLING AND HIS AUNT.

Kipling's aunt, Lady Burne-Jones, seems to have been as strong a pro-Boer as Kipling himself was anti-Boer. The story of the Boer flag on her house, with its lettering, "You have killed, you have conquered," and the poet's intercession in her behalf with an angry English mob, raises the query why the throbbing war verses of the nephew did not have more influence upon his own relatives. Kipling's influence upon public opinion in England has been enormous, they say. Herbert Spencer, in his last book of essays, speaks of the "immense popularity of Mr. Rudyard Kipling, in whose writings one-tenth of nominal Christianity is joined with nine-tenths of real paganism." The truth probably is that Lady Burne-Jones knows her nephew and refuses to accept him as the family thinker. She can see the pagan in him—Springfield Republican.

ICE PACKED STEAMERS

PORTLAND AND JEANIE KNOWN TO BE SAFE.

Revenue Cutter Thetis Is Standing By Ready To Rescue Passengers If They Are In Danger.

SEATTLE, June 30.—The steamers Portland and Jeanie of the Nome fleet are reported safe, though still locked in the ice floes of the Arctic. The passengers on board both steamers are certain of delivery from harm, as the revenue cutter Thetis, standing off from the icepack, is ready to render any assistance made necessary by the movement of the ice.

News of the long missing steamers was brought by the steamship Centennial, which arrived in port today. This news came to Nome only a few hours prior to the Centennial's departure, having been brought by the steam whaler Belvedere, which arrived from the Arctic.

The Belvedere was in sight of both the Portland and the Jeanie, and left them to return to Nome only after her officers had assured themselves that they could render no assistance to the beleaguered vessels. When the Belvedere left the scene of captivity the revenue cutter Thetis was standing by, ready to render any assistance made necessary by a change in the condition of the ice or the position of the icebound ships.

When the Centennial left Nome the northern camp was singing the praises of Captain Michael A. Healy of the Thetis. Of the many vessels which took up the search for the Portland and Jeanie, his was the first to find the endangered vessels, and the quickness with which he located them was equalled only by his daring in gaining the position in which the Belvedere left him.

Healy found the Portland and Jeanie within five days after he left Nome on the quest. In order to approach near enough to the vessels to be able to land their passengers, should the icepack show signs of breaking, it was necessary for the Thetis to encounter the same risks that had placed the two imprisoned vessels in their perilous predicament. Captain Healy did not hesitate. Pointing the Thetis into the drifting ice, he "bucked" his way to the main pack that held the Portland and Jeanie. For days he was in danger of being crushed or imprisoned by the floes, but gradually the drift ice disappeared, and the Thetis, when the Belvedere left, was enabled to hover near the imprisoned vessels. Should their passengers and crews appear at any time to be in danger, the Thetis will take them aboard. To Captain Healy's promptness and nautical skill Nome gives the credit for placing several hundred lives out of danger.

CAPITAL $50,000,000

FEDERAL SUGAR REFINING COMPANY.

C. A. Spreckels, Son of Claus Spreckels, at the Head of the Big Concern—Common and Preferred Stock.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Federal Sugar Refining Company, incorporated in New Jersey a short time ago with a capital stock of $100,000, filed a certificate today in Trenton increasing the capital to $50,000,000. The amended charter provides for $25,000,000 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and a similar amount of common stock. The incorporators are: Everitt Jackson, who has been president of the company; Pierce J. Smith, Morris-town, N. J., secretary, and Charles T. Bingham, Brooklyn, C. A. Spreckels, son of Claus Spreckels, the Pacific Coast sugar magnate, is one of the chief men interested. The Federal Sugar Refining Company has about complete a plant in Yonkers which will have a capacity of 1000 barrels of sugar a day. The sugar is to be refined by a new process. Pierce J. Smith, named as an incorporator, is a member of the sugar-brokerage firm of Smith & Schipper, with offices which connect with the Federal Sugar Refining Company.

There are several features in the amended charter somewhat out of the ordinary. It is provided that the preferred stock may at any time, except when the books are closed for dividends, demand its exchange, share for share for common stock. This exchange is to be effected by cancelling the preferred stock to be converted, which, it is expressly provided, shall not be reissued under any circumstances, and issuing in its place common stock. There is also a redemption clause in the charter empowering the company to retire preferred stock in such quantities and in such manner as may be decided, upon payment of all accrued dividends and $125 in cash for each share. The holder, however, may in such an event waive his right to the $25 premium and insist upon the privilege formerly expressed of converting his preferred stock into common stock.

In sugar refining circles today surprise was expressed over the action of the Federal Company in so largely increasing its capital. One refiner was of the opinion that a mistake had been made in the figures.

Spreckels said tonight: "The board of directors of the Federal Sugar Refining Company consists of John W. Mackay, Sir William C. Van Horne, Dubont Clarke, Edwin Hawley, William W. Cook and myself. I am president of the company and Mr. Mackay vice-president. We have a new process for the refining of sugar which eliminates the use of animal blood and animal charcoal and which we believe will save $5 a ton."

What the immediate object of the increase of capital is was not further stated.

Fainting Spells

Always indicate a weak heart. They usually follow palpitation or fluttering, shortness of breath, irregular or intermittent pulse. When the heart muscles are overworked or exhausted they relax, the flow of blood to the brain is interrupted, and unconsciousness follows. Should relaxation continue completely for two or three minutes, sudden death is the result. The surest and best remedy for overworked and debilitated hearts is

DR. MILES' Heart Cure.

"My heart trouble began several years ago with palpitation, shortness of breath and smothering. Then I began to have fainting spells and would fall over on the street or wherever I happened to be. I was unable to attend to my business and dare not venture away from home. The doctors failed to help me, and seeing an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure I bought a bottle. The first few doses stopped the fainting spells and in a few weeks my heart was working all right."

BISHOP OF HONOLULU

CONSECRATION AT ST. PAUL'S
SAN DIEGO.

Henry Bond Restarick Now the First
Missionary Bishop of This District—
The Three Consecrating Bishops.

SAN DIEGO, July 2.—With impressive ceremony at St. Paul's Church this afternoon before a large congregation, Rev. Henry Bond Restarick, for the past twenty years and more rector of San Diego parish, was made the first American bishop of Honolulu. The portion of the service which had been assigned to Bishop Moreland of Sacramento had been taken by the other bishops, as he did not arrive until just at the close of the service. Bishop Nichols of California was the presiding bishop and was assisted by Bishop
Johnson of Los Angeles and Bishop Mills of New Mexico and Arizona, as the members of the commission to consecrate, and by Bishop Jagger of Southern Ohio, the presenting bishop and the designated preacher for the occasion. Other officials of the church from all over Southern California were also in attendance and assisted in the ceremony.

The masterly sermon by Right Rev.
Jagger of Cincinnati was based on the third verse of the fourth chapter of the Epistle to the Ephesians: "Endeavor to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."
At the close of the service, which last for more than three hours, the bishops and their wives were entertained at luncheon by Mrs. O. J. Stough at her residence on Florence heights. This evening a reception to Bishop Restarick was held at the Florence Hotel. At the reception the new bishop was presented with a purse containing $1000 in gold from his friends, in and out of the church, here and elsewhere. Bishop and Mrs. Restarick will leave here about the 16th to take steamer at San Francisco for his new field of labor.

ARCHITECT COMING.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—A dozen or more San Francisco architects have applied for permission to enter the competition for drawing plans of the new Custom house. Some of the architects informed today by Supervising Architect Taylor that every architect who desired could enter the preliminary competition, and that from those entering perhaps ten would be selected to enter the real competition. The successful architect will be appointed superintendent of construction. Taylor said he was going to Honolulu in October to look over public building matters there and that he hoped to get San Francisco's Custom-house under way by that time. Incidentally referring to San Francisco's Postoffice, Taylor said the people of that city should be proud of it, as it would have the handsomest interior in the United States, with the single exception of the Library of Congress.

DESTROYING CUTWORMS.

Director Jared Smith has received from Dr. Merriam of the Agricultural Department at Washington, a letter in response to his inquiries regarding a means of destroying cutworms. Merriam suggests poisoned cabbage leaves as a very effective means. He says that he does not know of any birds that could be imported to eat the worms and would not prove to be destructive pests themselves.

REGIMENTAL DRILL.

The National Guard will have regimental drill, Friday, July 18, at 7:30 o'clock, in the evening. Field and staff will parade dismounted. Fatigue uniforms, white trousers and leggings.
Companies will parade with sixteen-file front, double rank.

F. M. ENGLISH DEAD.

DENVER, June 29.—Francis M. English, who was killed in an excursion train accident today, was born in England and was a graduate of Oxford.
On coming to Colorado he was admitted to the bar of this State. He was for three years private secretary to Queen Liliuokalani. He was the author of the famous proclamation which she made to the American people just before she was dethroned. After leaving England, English traveled extensively, spending a few years in New Zealand. In his early life he was a millionaire, but since leaving Hawaii adversity had overtaken him. He was on his way to this city from Woodland Park, where he had been spending the summer, to direct the choir of St.
Stephen's Episcopal Church, where he was organist.

WILL VISIT HAWAII.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Acting in accordance with a resolution recently adopted by the Senate, Mr. Foraker, chairman of the Senate Committee on Porto Rico and the Pacific Islands, today appointed a sub-committee to visit Hawaii during the recess of Congress for the purpose of making an inquiry concerning conditions in that Territory. The sub-committee consists of Messrs. Mitchell and Foster of Washington, Burton, Cockrell and

The Fourth of July sub-committee on sports made a report yesterday showing $30 left in its appropriation for the day. The committee was given only rangements for $170. C. F. Chilling-worth, chairman, yesterday returned $30 to the general committee.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and re-told by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks

KING EDWARD.

The news that King Edward VII is improving will relieve a great many minds. The anxiety over the health of the King was by no means confined to his own subjects, but was felt by people of many nationalities. There seems now to be a good chance of his recovery, though undoubtedly the greatest care will have to be exercised, exercised.

The life of King Edward means a great deal in the world's history just now. He is mentally vigorous, and if he revives his strength physically he may live for a considerable time. The affairs of the British Empire are in a critical stage, and it is well known that King Edward's experience and his natural and cultivated good qualities make him a most important factor in dealing with such a crisis.

The affairs of the empire are intertwined with the affairs of the world, and any disruption would have a universal effect. King Edward's son, Prince George, may or may not be an able man, but the King is known to be both able and diplomatic. He does not depend upon others for his knowledge, he knows himself. His reign will be for peace, tranquility and commercial development, and an advance in science, art, literature and general civilization which the leisure of peace will give. Much hinges upon King Edward's life. May he be spared to be useful.

SIMMERING.

The returned delegate who has come with empty hands, has commenced the fight for the campaign in his usual style. He is vituperative, he is incorrect in many of his statements, and others are palpably false. All the same these utterances are swallowed by his constituents and he has started out to win upon these issues. With a constituency such as that of most of the states and territories these kind of talk would not go down; and upon such issues the delegate would come to complete wreck. But he understands his own people, keeps them filled with false or perpetual information, deals in large and lavish promises, and deduces his followers to the utmost of his bent.

But Delegate Wilcox cannot delude all his countrymen, by any means. That he is a force to be reckoned with is true, but he is by no means an invincible force. He can be beaten and in the opinion of the large majority of Republicans he will be beaten. His victory at the last election was by no means a walk over. Had there been a stronger effort made by the Republicans in several voting precincts, the Republican candidate would have been brought in.

The total number of votes cast for delegate for the unexpired term of the fifty-sixth Congress was 5,589, of which 4,083 were secured by Wilcox, and 3,556 fell to Parker, while Kawanakoa received 1,550. This gave Wilcox only 227 majority over the Republican. For the 57th Congress the figures were Wilcox 4,108, Parker 3,845, and Kawanakoa 1,655, a total of 9,609 votes, and a majority for Wilcox over Parker, the Republican candidate, of 263. It is certainly no impossible task to overcome this majority.

We all know that there is no longer unanimity in the Home Rule ranks. Wilcox alludes to it himself. Wilcox has not performed his promises and many of his former followers distrust him. His own intemperate utterances, while they suit a certain section, at the same time disgust others. The younger generation of Home Ruleers are not disposed to be led by the nose by Wilcox, they think for themselves, they are widely read and they have many of them been abroad and widened their ideas. They have political aspirations, and they have the material interests of the Territory at heart. They may outwardly acquiesce in the delegate's views, but he will not find them in the ranks of his supporters when the crucial time comes. The delegate has hard work before him. The Republican party has very hard work before it also. But there is no reason why any Republican should feel downhearted. We go in to win, and we will win.

THE LIQUOR INDUSTRY.

A census bulletin, recently published shows that the production of liquors stands fifth among the industries of the United States. As regards the amount of capital invested, and seventh as regards the value of the product. The total amount invested in the 2,550 establishments which reported is given at $457,674,087 and the value of the product is stated to be $349,615,461. This is an immense return upon the capital invested. With such large interests one can understand the power wielded by this industry. It is not the saloon which the temperance people should attack, it is the large manufacturers that the war should be waged against. The root of the liquor industry lies in the $457,674,087 invested in the manufacture and the enormous return which come in from that investment.

The saloon keeper is the small distributor of this industry. To the main manufacturer it is a matter of indifference whether a saloon is closed up here or another is closed up there. It is moreover a matter of indifference whether the liquor sold pays a license or does not. If a saloon or a set of saloons is closed up in one place, it only means that they open out somewhere else, or that an illicit trade in liquor is carried on. The saloon keeper may be injured, but the main industry goes calmly on. If a war is to be carried on successfully it will have to strike at the root and not at the branches and small twigs. This has little or no effect upon the main industry.

The output of malt liquors in the United States is 1,198,602,104 gallons yearly, of distilled liquors it is 100,330,428 gallons, and of wine 23,425,567 gallons. This gives a total estimated consumption of 1,322,358,091 gallons, which, according to the census bulletin means a per capita consumption of 17.8 gallons. Deduct the number of women and children who do not consume liquor, and the number of total abstainers who never take liquor and the per capita consumption becomes still larger among those who consume liquor.

It is when contemplating figures such as these that the task of the temperance societies, and other similar bodies must be measured. Their true fight is not against the saloon as much as it is against the industry which stands fifth in value among the industries of the United States. Mrs. Carrie Nation with her hatchet got a lot of cheap notoriety but she had no effect upon the general issue, and many efforts of similar character, though carried on in a more seemly manner, have as little general effect. The general and not the small local effort will have the effect desired by those societies.

It is by no means the noisiest crowd which wins at the election. Still waters run deep, and the Republican outlook is a good one. There is a great deal of work being done in a quiet way which will tell in course of time.

Congress got through its work quickly towards the last of the session. It was slated to close July 3, but the work was completed on July 1, and now legislators are enjoying a rest, or are looking after securing their seats.

Consul Yang and the little opium racket at the Chinese consulate is likely to come into considerable prominence. There will be some interesting developments which will come to the fore in the investigation.

One way to make a man popular in politics is to abuse him. Abuse rallies his friends and some times carries his enemies over to his side. There has been a good deal of free advertising given to men who, but for this, would have remained in obscurity all their lives.

The signing of the Panama bill means the cutting through of the isthmus, and a revolution in the commercial relations of the Pacific. It is the end of a long political struggle and the beginning of a new era. American energy will not allow the grass to grow under its feet. The canal may now be looked upon as a practical certainty.

The Home Ruleers are recommended by their leader to drop the name Republican, which during his last visit he strongly recommended. The title will after the election, be picked up again should the Republicans win, and will become Home Rule Democrat, if there is a chance in that direction. Verily whom the Gods wish to destroy they first make mad.

One fails to see why opium should be brought in here as anything else than opium, seeing that there is no prohibition of opium as an article of traffic if it is properly sealed. The only alternative is to think that it is opium which has been smuggled into the United States on the Mainland, and then passed on down here. But this does not seem very plausible.

That there is gross carelessness in driving is patent to every one in the streets. The outcome of the accident to Colonel Hawes is not a matter of discussion. It is not only that there are incompetent drivers, but competent drivers have become criminally careless since a recent judicial decision. Colonel Hawes' accident is merely an outcome of that decision.

An article upon Hawaiian affairs appeared in the Chicago Record-Herald and was reprinted in The Star yesterday, was a very clear statement of conditions here. It was evidently written by no partisan but by a keen observer. The Star cannot agree with all the conclusions or the deduction, but there can be no doubt about the keen insight of the writer. Though appearing in a republican paper, there are traces of a Democratic pen.

The plan of local option with regard to the establishment of saloons is a good one, and should be embodied in our law. If a community wants a saloon it should have one. If it objects to a saloon, and the objection is supported by a majority vote, the wishes of the majority should be listened to, but such voting should have a proper legal status.

The Democrats have organized for the campaign. They state that they are willing to back and vote for Home Rule candidates if they are good men, and are of broad mind and statesmanship. If, however, they are men of similar caliber to those set up at last election, they will have nothing to do with them. As the standard of statesmanship of the Home Rule is very different from the standard of statesmanship of the Democrat, it is not very likely that the Home Rule will poll a large Democratic vote in support of their nominees.

ed if the convention was acting under any rules and the chairman said no. Cupit asked what they were all doing there in that case, and Kalaokalani explained that while the constitution was in the hands of a committee and therefore had no regular rules, yet they were acting under the usual rules of conventions.

The vote was then reconsidered and the Markham amendment referred to a committee.

Meheula brought up an adopted resolution that the committee appointed by the executive committee establish precinct clubs throughout the islands. That this resolution be ratified by the delegates and that each delegate be appointed a committee of one to further this, and the committee instructed to go ahead with zeal in this work.

Emmeluth asking and ascertaining that the adoption of the platform with its amendments was deferred, stated that his committee on revision of the by-laws and constitution would be ready to make their report immediately after convening this afternoon. The meeting then adjourned until 2 o'clock.

THE TEXAN ASSAULTS THE MAN FROM INDIANA.

Other Senators Separate the Two Men. Words Uttered in Debate the Cause of the Trouble.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Senator Bailey of Texas assaulted Senator Beveridge of Indiana tonight just after the senate had adjourned from executive session. The Texas Senator was dragged away and separated from his opponent by some of those about the senate. He was very angry, and threatened severe harm to the Indiana Senator. The episode was the result of a heated controversy which the two senators had during the afternoon, when Senator Beveridge had said that Senator Bailey had made "an unwarranted attack on Senator Penfield of the State Department."

In executive session Senator Beveridge, like other senators who smoke, lighted a cigar and took a seat on the Republican side. He was still sitting there when the senate adjourned. Senator Bailey crossed the aisle and walked through the seats until he was facing Beveridge.

"Beveridge," he said, "I don't want to have any trouble with you, but I want you to withdraw those words which charge me with making an unwarranted attack upon Penfield."

"I did not intend to insult you," replied Senator Beveridge, "and there is nothing in my language that you could consider offensive."

"I don't allow any one to say that I libel a man, and that is what you do in making the charge. Now, if you won't withdraw the words when I ask you I'm going to make you withdraw them."

Senator Bailey had been getting more and more angry and excited as he talked. He had been sitting down part of the time, leaning against the desk immediately in front of Senator Beveridge. The latter, in reply to Senator Bailey's last remark, still remaining in his chair, said: "I repeat that I did not intend to insult you, and that I have nothing to retract."

As the words were uttered Senator Bailey threw himself upon Senator Beveridge, who is a man hardly up to the average in physique, and seized him by the throat with both hands. The rush was so sudden and fierce that the chair in which Beveridge was sitting was pushed back against the desk and toppled over before the assault could go any further. Senators who had been sitting near had moved up between the desks. Senators Hansbrough of North Dakota seized Senator Bailey by one arm and Senator Spooner of the other. The Texas Senator is a powerful man, and it was with great difficulty that the two senators were able to drag him away from Senator Beveridge, and when they succeeded a part of the Indiana Senator's necktie was ripped away in the vigorous grasp of Senator Bailey.

Senator Bacon of Georgia and Harney Layton, assistant doorkeeper, came quickly forward and assisted in pulling the Texas Senator further away. Senator Bailey meanwhile struggling to get free and lunging toward Senator Beveridge. As he was being dragged away, he uttered a sound like a threat about killing. Without further effort, however, he walked away when Senator Bacon urged him to be quiet and led him toward the Democratic side. Senator Bacon engaged Senator Bailey in conversation for some time, advising him to cool down. Senator Spooner also went across the aisle and discussed the matter with him and urged him to apologize and if possible fix it up at once, but Senator Bailey refused all such proffers, declaring that Senator Beveridge had insulted him in the senate, and that he had taken the only course, as the Indiana Senator had refused to withdraw his remarks.

Senator Beveridge remained in the chamber for some little time and continued to smoke his cigar. He remarked to those who had spoken to him on the subject that it did not amount to anything. He did not intend to resent the attack made upon him. In fact, the whole thing was over in a very brief interval, before much resistance could have been offered.

Beveridge was asked tonight if he had any statement to make regarding the assault committed on him by Bailey. He expressed regret over what had occurred and said he had no personal resentment over the matter. The conversation between them immediately before the trouble, Beveridge said, was the same as had occurred in the senate chamber regarding the attack on Judge Penfield, who is an Indiana man, except that on his (Beveridge's) part it was much milder in tone. Beveridge said that he was not excited, but remained cool and collected and expressed to Bailey his wish that their relations might continue agreeable.

Beveridge denied that he had been choked by Bailey. According to his version, the Texas Senator had made a lunge at him, but his arm was caught by Senator Spooner before the threatened blow landed.

TRYING BANKRUPTCY

ESTEE SUSPICIOUS OF A JAP PETITION.

Refers The Matter To The United States District Attorney For Investigation—Contradictory Testimony.

United States Judge Estee this morning refused to grant a petition to adjudicate one, Murata, a bankrupt, referring the case to the United States District Attorney, and intimating that he looked like an attempt to make money out of the bankruptcy court. Murata appeared to be confused in his testimony about his debts. Dunne was in court when the matter came up and Estee remarked that the court had power to ask the assistance of the District Attorney, and he requested Dunne to take the matter up.

Dunne asked a few questions of the alleged bankrupt and then asked for time to look into the papers. Murata did not agree with his schedule filed, nor with his testimony of two days ago. The court postponed the hearing and referred the matter to W. T. Rawlins, referee in bankruptcy, to take testimony.

"If a bankrupt doesn't know how much he owes within a reasonable sum he doesn't know enough about his own affairs to be adjudged a bankrupt," said the judge. "It looks like trying to make something out of the bankruptcy court, and the court is very sensitive about that."

Murata's testimony as to the amount he owed his employees was quite contradictory. Attorney Fleming, who represented the alleged bankrupt, said that this was due to misunderstandings about different kinds of accounts. Murata appeared to have borrowed money from many of his employees, while he ran behind many months in their wages. He is a Japanese merchant and conducts a large store on Nuuanu avenue, with several branches.

IN VOLCANIC DUST

STRANGE EXPERIENCE OF THE NEVADAN.

Was For Thirty Hours in a Blinding Downpour of Volcanic Ashes From the Eruption of Mont Pelee.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—The steamer Nevada, arriving yesterday from New York, was covered for a day by a dense cloud of dust from Mont Pelee, the mountain volcano, and for hours was compelled to sound her whistles as in a fog. It was meanwhile impossible for anybody on board to look to windward. This was on the morning of May 8th, when the city of St. Pierre was destroyed, but the Nevada, far out of sight, was steaming along 200 miles off Martinique, in latitude 13 degrees north, longitude 56 degrees west.

The Nevada passed within thirty miles of Martinique on May 5th, and was at St. Lucia on the 6th, taking on coal. There a French steamer was lying, having taken a number of people from St. Pierre after the first outbreak of the volcano the previous day. The refugees were much excited, and told a story of a father and son having been overtaken by lava from Mont Pelee while descending the mountain's slopes, the father being killed but the son miraculously escaping. Two days later, when the Nevada had resumed her trip was far at sea, the immense storm of dust convinced the Nevada's commander and all on board that Mont Pelee had again broken out, but particulars of the disaster were not learned by them until reaching this port yesterday.

"Early on the morning of May 8th there were heavy thunder clouds in the sky and the weather looked bad," said Captain Weedon of the Nevada yesterday. "Still, the sea was smooth, but very much discolored, being pea green in appearance. At 3:30 o'clock that morning the atmosphere was so choked with dust that the whistle had to be sounded and an hour later the dust covered the steamer and was so thick that we could not look to windward. It was its very worst at 8 o'clock that morning. All the afternoon the dust was descending in a big cloud, and did not entirely cease falling upon the steamer until thirty hours had passed. No damage resulted, of course, but the fine powder, resembling emery dust, was everywhere. Great quantities of it were swept into the sea, and some was gathered up to keep as a curiosity." Though Captain Weedon said that no unusual sounds were heard on the Nevada, others on board said yesterday that on the 7th of May, while at sea, two reports, sounding like distant heavy blasting of cannonading were heard.

The trip of the Nevada from New York to this port was otherwise uneventful. The time from New York was sixty-one days, from St. Lucia fifty-three days, and from Coronel twenty-two days. The Nevada was under the command of Captain C. W. Delano as far as Coronel, on account of his familiarity with the passage through the Straits of Magellan, and at Coronel, in accordance with a pre-arranged plan, he was succeeded by the chief officer, Captain H. F. Weedon, who had been appointed permanent commander of the new steamer. He steamed Eureka, now on this coast. Captain Delano returned to New York from Coronel by way of Panama, and will bring out the Nevada's sister ship, the Nebraska, which is to be launched in about a month.

The Nevada is a fine modern freighter of 5500 tons capacity, and is designed to run between here and the Hawaiian Islands for the American Hawaiian Steamship Company, alternating on the route with the Nebraska. Each of the steamers is 350 feet in length, and both are oil-burners, though the Nevada used coal on the trip from New York. She brought a cargo of general freight from New York for local merchants. The date of her sailing for Honolulu has not yet been determined.

CANNOT RETURN TO AFRICA.

THE HAGUE, July 2.—The Foreign Office here has received a notification from the British Government to the effect that the prisoners of war of foreign nationality will not be liberated until all the bales are repatriated, with the exception of those who defray their own passage. The latter can secure their release forthwith, but they must not go back to South Africa.

THE CABLE.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—An important conference was held at the Navy Department today, at which Secretary Moody, Rear-Admiral Bradford, Chief of the Bureau of Equipment, and Senator Perkins of California, a member of the Committee on Naval Affairs, were present. These gentlemen had before them a proposition of the Eastern Extension Telegraph Company, asking it is understood, through the Commercial Pacific Cable Company, by which the company would agree to finish its work of laying a cable across the Pacific ocean, a year earlier than was contemplated and give this Government the benefit of reduced rates in exchange for the information developed in the surveys made by the United States steamer Nerio for a practicable submarine cable route across the ocean. The proposition was discussed at some length and Rear-Admiral Bradford was charged with personal inspection and consideration of the matter. He probably will report favorably on the company's offer in a few days.

ELKINS AND CUBA.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Early in the session of the senate today Elkins of West Virginia delivered an earnest speech in favor of the annexation of Cuba, maintaining that it would be in the best interests of both countries. Elkins' remarks drew a sharp fire from Platt of Connecticut and Hanna of Ohio, who deprecated an annexation proposition at this time, and urged that the United States ought to be sensible of its obligations to the civilized world, if not to Cuba. After a lively colloquy, in which General Wood was criticised by inference for using Cuban funds to advance the reciprocity propaganda, Elkins' resolution for annexation was referred to the Cuban Relations Committee.

WIRELESS READY.

The monthly guarantee of $1,000 a month to the Wireless Telegraph company by Honolulu merchants is now complete, and it is announced by the company that the system is open for business. Manager Cross has gone to Lanai, to see if the pole at that station is in proper condition. It has been raised 85 feet, so that the Molokai station might be cut out, and the latter station has been dispensed with.

CHINESE INDEMNITY.

PEKING, July 1.—The Treaty of Shanghai has notified the Bankers' Commission that China refuses to pay the July installment of the indemnity except at the rate of exchange prevailing April 1, 1901. The foreign ministers consider that the Treaty's declaration is the result of the announcement of United States Minister Conger to the Chinese that the United States sustains China's contention and is willing to accept payment on the basis mentioned.

The ministers are confident that China will accept the decision of their majority when she is convinced that the United States is her only supporter. Some of the ministers insist that the policy of the United States is unreasonable and in direct opposition to the terms of the protocol. They assert that Prince Ching, head of the Foreign Office, and other officials, before learning that China had the support of the United States in this matter, admitted that their arguments were rather a plea for mercy than a demand for justice.

Great Britain proposes to permit silver payment of the indemnity until 1910 on account of China's great loss owing to the depreciation of the price of silver. The ministers of the other powers regard the proposal as being a further complication and as equivalent to an admission of China's contentions.

HONOLULUANS IN AFRICA.

A letter from Fred J. Scott, late proprietor and editor of the Gossie announces that he does not expect to visit Honolulu for some time to come. The letter is dated Winnipeg, July 26 and is written on the eve of Scott's intended departure for St. Helena, where he expected to witness the debarkation of the Boer prisoners to the Cape. He is apparently engaged to write a series of articles, to be illustrated with photographs, on this subject. He gives his future address as care of James Barkley, Capetown, Transvaal Company, Cape Town, South Africa. "Barkley" he adds "is the man who was with the Rapid Transit in Honolulu until a few months ago."

CONGRESS ADJOURNS

SCENES WHEN THE SESSION IS DONE.

Members of the House Sing "Dixie," "America," and Other Patriotic Songs—Brilliant and Engaging Scene

WASHINGTON, July 1.—A scene of enthusiasm that has not been paralleled since the exciting and stirring days of the Spanish war, Speaker Henderson at 5:30 this afternoon declared the House of Representatives adjourned without delay. In doing so he said that no House of Representatives since the adoption of the constitution had done as much work in so short a time. The audience to which he made his brief address was a brilliant one. The galleries were banked to the doors and almost two-thirds of the members were in their seats on the floor. The Speaker's appreciative words to the members on thanking them for their cooperation during the session had touched a responsive chord and they gave him a remarkable demonstration of their friendship and good will. While the cheering and applause were still in progress the members on the floor began singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." It was taken up by the correspondents in the press gallery over the Speaker's chair and by the spectators in the surrounding galleries, and soon the vast hall was ringing with the swelling chorus. Other patriotic airs followed as the members' farewells. "The Star Spangled Banner" alternated with "Dixie."

The Speaker came down from his rostrum, his appearance on the floor being greeted with "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and a perfect rush of members to grasp his hand. Standing on the dais in front of the clerk's desk, he, too, joined in the songs, and there was a wild scene when General Hooker of Mississippi, an old one-armed Confederate veteran, took his place by the side of the Speaker and together they sang "Dixie."

YELL SHAKES RAFTERS. Candler, a Mississippi Democrat, jumped on a desk and let out a yell of jubilation that fairly shook the rafters. For almost an hour the jubilation continued. All this time the spectators remained standing in the galleries, watching the animated scene below and joining in the singing.

The adjournment came at the end of a seven and a half hours' session, during which much minor business was transacted. In all seventy bills and resolutions were passed. The general good feeling in the House had been heightened by the victory won over the Senate on the item in the naval appropriation bill for the building of a battleship in a Government yard.

The closing hour was occupied with a spirited debate between Cousins of Iowa and Richardson, the Democratic leader, over the report on the investigation into the charges made by Captain Christmas concerning the sale of the Danish West Indies. Cousins ridiculed Richardson for bringing the matter to the attention of Congress. The latter defended his course.

Richardson was still speaking as the time approached for the final adjournment. Meantime the galleries had filled to overflowing and every member in the city was in his seat.

SPEAKER'S PRAISE. The Speaker then arose and with evidence of much feeling addressed the House as follows:

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives: Many of us met at the beginning of this session as friends; many of us at the commencement of this session met as strangers. I believe that we shall all part when the moment for adjournment comes as friends.

The prayer which I made to this House at the commencement of this Congress, that the House would help to sustain the chair in enforcing the rules, has never been forgotten. You have been each and all of you sustaining forces in aiding me in the discharge of my duty. For that, my friends, I return my grateful acknowledgments. I am proud to say that no House of Representatives since the constitution was adopted has in the same length of time done the same amount of work that this House has done, and you have done so with the like men—earnest and honest as you all have been in carrying your conviction so far as possible into execution. You have all been faithful and untiring; and in the twenty years of my service I have never seen so many friends in the closing days of a session as I now witness.

Now, as we are about to part, I wish you all a safe return to your homes and that you may all come back to the next session rested and refreshed; and I ask no more than that you may be as earnest then as you have been in the session just closed.

And now, gentlemen, in pursuance of the concurrent resolution of the House and Senate, I declare this session of the fifty-seventh Congress adjourned sine die.

The gravel fell amid the wild applause that followed. Before it had subsided a group of Republicans on the west side of the hall, led by Landis of Indiana and Hamilton of Michigan, began to sing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." Immediately the refrain was caught up all over the hall and in the galleries. Then the doxology followed, in which the correspondents in the press gallery joined. As the Speaker descended from the chair the air changed to "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and the members swarmed about him to say good-by. Other songs followed, "Way Down on the Suwanee River" and finally "Dixie," as the Speaker and General Hooker, the one-armed Confederate veteran, embraced warmly. The jubilation was kept up about half an hour.

SCENES IN THE SENATE. After a session marked by some of the stormiest debates ever heard in the American Congress the Senate adjourned sine die at 5:20 this afternoon. During the last hours of the session there was a tart debate on the Philippine question, participated in by Carmack of Tennessee, Spooner of Wisconsin, Culberson of Texas, McComas of Maryland and Lodge of Massachusetts.

The conference report on the Philippine government bill was adopted without any serious opposition, and then, when the decks of the Senate were cleared for adjournment, Carmack called up his resolution providing for a continuance of the investigation of the Philippine Committee and for a visit to the Philippines by the committee during the present summer. This started the trouble, and for more than an hour a battle of words was waged. Spooner delivered a scathing denunciation of the minority of the Philippine Committee for what he declared was an attack upon the American army.

Carmack denied that any attack had been made upon the army, and declared that any fool could charge such a calumny and any parrot could be taught to repeat it. The resolution was referred to a committee, thus effectually killing it.

At 5:10 o'clock Allison and Cockrell reported to the Senate that the President had no further communication to make to Congress. Cockrell offered the following resolution, which he said gave him great pleasure:

That the thanks of the Senate are hereby tendered to Hon. William P. Frye for the dignified, impartial and courteous manner in which he has presided over its deliberations during the present session.

The resolution was adopted unanimously.

At 5:28 President Pro Tem. Frye, addressing the Senate, said:

Sensors: The resolution just adopted by you is very grateful to me. My duties as while and comparatively easy, through you; and my debt is to you rather than yours to me. I hope our dear Lord will keep you all during the coming vacation and permit you to return in strength and health for the duties of public life once more. Senators, the hour has arrived for adjournment under the concurrent resolution passed, and the chair declares the Senate adjourned sine die. (Applause.)

For some time after adjournment Senators remained upon the floor taking leave of their colleagues and of friends.

W. N. ARMSTRONG MARRIED. LOS ANGELES, June 29.—Miss Lillian Bovard of Los Angeles and William Nevill Armstrong of Honolulu were married today at the old Bovard home in that city. The bride is a daughter of the late Dr. M. M. Bovard, first president of the University of Southern California. Rev. F. D. Bovard of San Francisco, a brother of the bride, gave her away, while another brother, Rev. G. F. Bovard, presiding elder of the Los Angeles Methodist district assisted Rev. A. C. Hardie in performing the ceremony. Attending the bride were her sister, Miss Marian Bovard; her cousin, Miss Helen Bovard; Miss Marie Sanderson and Miss Jennie Hawkey.

Miss Marian Bovard wore a gown of pale-green organdie, which harmonized well with the bridal toilet of white silk batiste. The other young women of the bridal party were in white organdie and all carried sweet peas. H. Coffin stood with the bride during the ceremony. The wedding was characterized by simplicity in all its appointments and only relatives were present. The floral arrangements were superintended by the Kappa Alpha Theta college sorority, of which the bride is a member.

After August 1st Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will make their home with the bride's mother.

TRIPLE ANNIVERSARY

THREE ANNIVERSARIES COME ROUND THIS MONTH.

Father Bachelot Landed Seventy-Five Years Ago—Religion Recognized Sixty-Three Years Ago.

The Catholic church is able to celebrate triple anniversaries this month, the occasions being the first landing of the Catholic priests on this island, the demand for recognition by the French government and the acceptance and signing of a treaty permitting the free development of the Catholic faith and the start of the building of the cathedral.

The order of the "Congregation of the Sacred Hearts of Jesus and Mary," often called the "Picpusian Order," was founded in the Rue de Picpus, Paris. To it Pope Leo XII gave the task of converting the Hawaiian Islands to the "true faith." Alexis Bachelot, prefect apostolic, Patrick Short and M. Armand were set apart for this mission and embarked at Bordeaux on the "Comet," arriving in Honolulu roadstead July 7, 1827, seventy-five years ago.

They were landed without a permit. Armand had died at sea. The first mass was celebrated July 14 and a small chapel opened January 1, 1828. The crucifixes, representing in the mind of the natives, graven images, seem to have been a principal cause of protest for deporting the missionaries. This was done in January, 1832, the Fathers going to California at the request of the Franciscan missions.

They and others returned and were again deported, being in some cases not permitted to land. Father Bachelot died at sea December 4, 1839, and was buried on the island of Ponape, Micronesia. July 9, 1839, saw the arrival at Honolulu of the French frigate-of-war "Artemise," Captain Laplace. Demands were made for a money guarantee and permission for freedom of Catholic worship. This was signed five days later and a grand mass and Te Deum celebrated in a thatched building belonging to the king, Kamehameha III.

The cathedral was started July 1840. Monday, July 7, was the seventy-fifth anniversary of the arrival of Father Bachelot and party. Today, July 9, is the sixty-third anniversary of the first recognition of the faith and arrival of the frigate "Artemise," and some time this month the sixty-second anniversary of the cathedral commencement.

GONE TO HAWAII.

VALEDICTORIAN.

The valedictorian at Lehigh University commencement last week was a Japanese, Maximilian Shozo Hachita, and his theme was "Japan among modern nations." Such incidents will soon become so common that they will no longer call for special notice.—Springfield Republican.

Irish, J. E. Paraday, A. Guild. The game will start at the usual hour. Jacobson will score and the regular refreshments will be provided.

Picker has two 'varsity men on his team from the sister universities of Oxford and Cambridge, represented by Dunn and Ahlo. The former played in public school elevens for Winchester fifteen years ago, but has not touched a bat for ten years, so that he will probably not be a heavy contributor to the score. Picker has been batting freely of late. McGill has esided himself and Blackman, Jordan, the "father of the game," and the two elevens are very fairly divided.

sleep

That's a symptom of a run-down condition that many people have at this time of year. But don't resort to opiates. You need a system builder—something that will give tone, vim and renewed strength.

Royal Malt Extract

fulfills a two-fold duty: it's medicine as well as food. It builds up the whole system, restores loss of appetite, and a wine glass before bedtime will produce sound, refreshing sleep. Royal Malt Extract is the best that ripe barley and careful brewing can produce, so insist on having it.

Special Sale OF Foreign
Dress Goods

Notwithstanding the excellence of American printed and washable dress goods, as stated in our recent advertisement of an "American Sale," we still have to go to Europe for certain fine fabrics, such as Embroidered Etamines and Swisses, which are worked out in exquisite designs and color combinations and largely take the place of silks for summer and evening wear.

This week we offer One Hundred Dress Patterns, no two alike, of these fashionable goods, at Special Sale. The reduction is liberal, as shown by prices noted.

$18.00 Embroidered Etamines and Swiss Dress Patterns, reduced to	$13.00
$16.00 Embroidered Etamines and Swiss Dress Patterns, reduced to	$12.00
$15.00 Embroidered Etamines and Swiss Dress Patterns, reduced to	$11.00
