THE WAR CLOUD BLACKENS

President McKinley Has Completed a Message Invoking Arms.

Just a Glimmer of Peace in Spanish Queen Regent's Attitude—Flying Squadron to Attack Spain.

President McKinley's message on the Cuban question was expected in Congress the day the Zealandia sailed.

Armed intervention was supposed to be the President's policy. His message was expected to declare that the condition of affairs in Cuba must end.

Recognition of the independence of the island will be argued against as a poor move at this time.

It was said from Washington on the 5th inst., that the apparent failure of all attempts on the part of friendly European powers to induce Spain to acknowledge her defeat in Cuba, and to end the wasting and barbarous warfare there, left little basis for hope that peaceful relations could longer be maintained between Spain and the United States.

Though war is not likely to be declared at once as a result of the Spanish Cabinet's persistence in maintaining the struggle in Cuba, yet the inadequacy of Spanish efforts to restore a stable civil administration and protect American lives and property in Cuba, together with the disappointing character of the promises for the future offered by the Sagasta Government, have finally forced the United States to assume a coercive attitude which, in default of an absolute surrender on Spain's part, must speedily entail war.

This attitude, assumed only after every other peaceful resource had been exhausted, involves the submission by the President, with the express sanction of Congress, of an ultimatum to Spain insisting on the immediate withdrawal of her land and naval forces from Cuba. Should this ultimatum be rejected by the Madrid Government, the President, under instructions from Congress, is to employ the military and naval strength of the nation to expel the Spanish troops from the island.

This program, arranged between the President and the leaders in the two branches of Congress, together with the correspondence relative to the situation and the President's message, was to go to the Capitol on Wednesday, unless it was decided that the safety of American citizens awaiting deportation from Spanish territory might be endangered by too speedy action in Washington.

Gloomy View at Madrid.

London, April 6.—The Madrid correspondent of the Times says: "The horizon blackens anew and Congress is the cloud which grows more imminent. The London correspondent of the Epoca sees reason for declaring that President McKinley has not communicated with the Pope, and the Epoca is not an alarmist organ.

"The talk of an armistice has done something toward inducing calm. Today it is being remembered that before the armistice project in Cuba can become an accomplished fact, no fewer than five parties must be consulted in one form or other. These are the United States, the autonomists of Cuba, the autonomists of the mother country, the Government of the mother country and the rebels in the field.

"It has been usual of late, perhaps unreasonably usual, to attribute every sinister impression to a jingo source. No imputation whatever of jingoism can be attached to El Liberal, which has nobly stood by the Government until quite recently. But today El Liberal says it 'fears the ray of light serves only to show the darkness, and that the guiding thread leading the way out of the labyrinth is snapped.' "The effect of the Cuban Cabinet's manifesto to the insurgents is regarded here as doubtful, for similar experiments have been tried before and unsuccessfully."

From Zealandia Passengers.

From passengers on the Zealandia it was learned that President McKinley's message to Congress was of an exceedingly warlike tenor and that Consul-General Lee had asked the President to avoid an actual declaration of war for a few hours until he could get all the Americans out of Havana.

Brownson Ordered Home.

Orders have been cabled to Commander W. H. Brownson in Europe, to return to the United States without delay. He is over there trying to buy navy vessels. The steamship St. Paul is to be converted into an auxiliary cruiser and placed under Brownson's command.

The Flag Lowered.

Soon after sundown on the 4th the tattered United States flag was taken from the gaff of the wrecked Maine, where it has floated since February 17, two days after the explosion. It was taken down by an officer and a boat's crew from the Fern.

British Protection.

Americans in Madrid and elsewhere in Spain will come under the care of British diplomatic representatives if Minister Woodford is compelled to leave.

The Spaniards Knew.

Admiral Irwin, before the House Foreign Committee, gave the opinion that the mine that blew up the Maine could not have been located without the knowledge of the Spanish authorities.

Americans Leaving Havana.

The telegraph wires between Havana and Key West and Washington are burdened with correspondence between Consul General Fitzhugh Lee and the State Department and the Navy Department. Many cipher messages were sent, nearly all in relation to the removal of Americans from Cuba before the message of President McKinley goes to Congress.

General Lee is straining every energy to secure enough steamers to carry the Americans away. He telegraphed that he could not concentrate the fugitives at a principal port under five days. Also, the startling news that the steamer Olivette, depended on to take several hundred passengers, was disabled.

Lee is cool as a cucumber. He says he has no orders about himself leaving the island. His wife he telegraphed to have no fears for his safety.

The very latest from Washington on the 6th inst. was that General Lee and all Americans would get away from Cuba that day.

Not Until Monday.

A Washington dispatch in the evening papers of San Francisco, 6th inst., says:

It can be stated authoritatively that, after a conference with members of the Foreign Affairs' committees of both houses, the President has decided not to send in his message until Monday next.

This delay is explained by other dispatches as being due to the request of General Lee, who wants time to get all the Americans out of Cuba.

Torpedo Fleet for Havana.

The Spanish cruisers Vizeaya and Almirante Oquendo went to Porto Rico as was supposed. It is believed their object is to convey the torpedo flotilla to Havana.

A Washington telegram says Lee has been recalled from Havana for his personal safety.

Will Chew the Rag.

Much debate is expected on the message in the Senate. Some Senators are in favor of recognizing Cuban independence and they will urge their views.

On the other hand, there is a strong faction against the independence idea, and in favor of supporting the President's policy of intervention only.

Spanish Cabinet Crisis.

A midday dispatch of the 6th from Madrid reports a ministerial crisis as imminent. The two conservative factions are willing to accept office on a program of an immediate armistice, with full authority to the Autonomist government at Havana to negotiate and conclude an immediate effectual peace in Cuba.

Republicans Against Delay.

The Republican conference in Washington was in session all forenoon on Wednesday, adjourning till 8 p. m. The tone of the meeting was strongly against empowering the President to intervene at his discretion. But as no absolute information was at hand as to the character of the message it was decided to wait until after it had been presented and to meet again in the evening.

House for Independence.

A member of the House Committee on Foreign Relations said, after a meeting of that body on Wednesday, that neither the Committee nor the House would support a resolution that did not declare for the independence of Cuba in some form. While both parties are largely of this mind, some Republicans are disposed to trust the judgment of the President.

England With America.

London, April 6.—On the highest authority the Associated Press can announce that the British Government has assured the United States of its fullest and most cordial sympathy in its Cuban policy. This assurance was given with the most complete knowledge of the latest developments in the negotiation between the United States and Spain, and on the understanding that events are tending steadily towards armed intervention in Cuba.

The British Government is even more friendly to the United States than the newspapers here, having more accurate knowledge of the real nature and purport of the dealings between the United States and Spain.

A Peaceful Glimmer.

Madrid, April 6 (via Bayonne, France).—The developments in the situation today are confined to the important part the Queen Regent is taking in the crisis. She has practically taken matters out of the hands of Ministers and is dealing direct with the United States Minister, General Woodford, through the German and Austrian Ambassadors, and is working earnestly for peace.

It is known beyond doubt that Spain is now prepared to give all America has asked for, although the form of this concession must be gilded to suit Spanish palates, and must take into consideration the political difficulties which confront Spain.

First War Order.

New York, April 6.—A special to the Times from Washington says the flying squadron, under command of Commodore Schley, will move on the Canaries within twenty-four or twenty-eight hours. This is the program of the Navy Department. It is both a reply to the dispatch of the torpedo flotilla and fleet of cruisers toward our shores and preliminary to a decisive blow at the sea power of Spain.

This is the first positive war order issued.

Americans in Danger.

Havana, April 6.—9 a. m.—Consul Brice, at Matanzas, has requested Consul-General Lee to notify the State Department that the civil authorities cannot protect Americans in case of an outbreak. Anti American riots are hourly expected. Several Americans have already gone aboard ships for safety.

Notes of War.

Troops are in readiness all the way from the Pacific Coast to receive orders for marching. There are signs of a general movement at once of regular troops toward the Atlantic.

It is intended to harass the coast of Spain with the flying squadron from the Canary Islands as a base.

The United States has bought three torpedo boats in Italy, and Spain has bought the Italian cruiser Giuseppe Garibaldi, 6840 tons.

There is a tremendous demand for gallery seats in the houses of Congress to hear "the first gun."

Twenty thousand troops are to be mobilized at Chickamauga.

The cruiser Cincinnati has run aground at Key West.

Cuban insurgents refuse to cease fighting.

The Senate of Ohio has passed the Riley bill appropriating $1,000,000 to put the Ohio National Guard on a war footing. There was not a dissenting vote. The Madrid evening papers of the 5th, for the first time, gave up all hopes of peace.

The battleship Texas has joined the flying squadron.

Spain has apologized for starting the report that President McKinley sought the Pope's mediation.

The United States squadron on the China station is preparing at Hongkong to go to sea. Maui's will be attacked in the event of war. The American naval authorities have bought the British steamer Nanshaw for a storeship.

THE VERY LATEST.

McKinley's Message Completed and is a Strong Document.

Washington, April 6.—Noon.—President McKinley has completed his message to Congress. It contains 5700 words and is a strong document.

It can be positively stated that the President will recommend armed intervention in Cuban affairs.

He will practically ask Congress to confer upon him authority to make this intervention. It is stated by members of the Cabinet that the President, in requesting this course, has no idea of asking for any delay other than is absolutely necessary to carry out his views.

PROMOTERS LOST MONEY.

For Them There Was Nothing But Effort for Clean Sport.

The races on Saturday did not prove a bonanza to the management. While Major McCarthy and Mr. Cunningham are quite reticent, it is well known that the expenses of the meet were nearly $900 and that the receipts were about $200 below that figure. This is not due to bad management.

The promoters did not expect to make much money. Their aim was to show what was possible in the line of good racing, and many complimentary tickets were issued to people who were ready and willing to pay. This was done with a view of obtaining the good opinion of those who are averse to all that smacks of gambling on races, and it must be said that the gentlemen in charge of the event were watchful and zealous on this point. In fact one of them takes the responsibility, and it is a fact, of having the name of one of the principal entries scratched because of proof that the rider of an opposing and favorite animal had been offered a goodly sum to "pull" his mount, and he stands ready to give the name of the would-be corruptionist.

Still needed work on the track will be proceeded with.

Great Britain Helps Herself.

London, April 4.—It was semi-officially announced today that Great Britain had made arrangements with China to take over the port of Wei-Hai-Wei, on the Shang Tung peninsula, when the Chinese Government has paid the war indemnity due to Japan and the Japanese troops have evacuated the place. The arrangement, it is added, was made with the knowledge and approval of Japan, with which country an agreement had previously been arrived at. The latter fact was kept secret until China had actually agreed to the lease and the British fleet had assembled in the vicinity.

It is said on good authority that neither Russia nor Germany is pleased at the arrangement, and it is added that the island of Lau Kung Tau, at the entrance of Wei-Hai-Wei, will be strongly fortified, while the land batteries destroyed by the Japanese can speedily be reconstructed.

ALGAROBIA AND ALGAROBIA

The Abounding Tree of These Islands is Misnamed.

The Algarobia a Mint of Commercial Value—Lone Specimen of Algarobia—Its Cultivation Promised.

The value to these islands of the Algarobia (Prosopis dulcis) is not fully appreciated as it should be. It is true some spasmodic and happy go lucky sort of attention has been given toward extending its occupancy of pasture and waste lands, but nothing that its value warrants has been done in this direction.

Commencing with the blossom, which yields a most delicious and abundant honey, that can scarcely be equalled for its whiteness, it can lay claim to our attention on this score alone. The value of this tree as a forage plant for bees—growing as it does on any soil, as the salty waste lands along the coast or the coral reef with scarcely soil enough to cover the chance seed that may be deposited upon it, with as great apparent luxuriance as upon the better lands—would alone warrant its extended planting. Then add to this, its value for fuel and shade, and the wonderfully nutritious seed pod so valuable to all kinds of live stock, and we have few trees that could be more profitable to plant. The seed pods of this tree have shown by analysis 25 to 28 per cent of grape sugar, 11 to 17 per cent
starch, 7 to 11 per cent protein, and of other non-nitrogenous nutritive substances, 14 to 24 per cent. Thus we have from 57 to 80 per cent of food value in the seed pods of this tree. No wonder that animals, not accustomed to eating it, become foundered or have other ill results when allowed to eat too freely of it, and it is due to its food value, more than to the native grasses growing beneath its shade, that the animals in pastures where it grows show such sleek coats and well rounded sides.

A value this tree has in other countries—and why not here?—
is the production of tanning material. If the money worse than wasted on the "cannigre enterprise" on these islands had been devoted to experimenting with this product and other tannin producing trees of the islands, a valuable industry might have been developed—of which I shall have more to say in the future. This tree and others of allied species yield algarobylla bark, the commercial product used for tanning.
The leaves also are rich in tannin, often containing as high as 20 per cent. The pods also of several species are rich in tannin.

A variety of algarobia (Prosopis glandulosa) growing in Texas yields a gum almost equal to gum arabic, which is quite an article of commerce there, and the wood is very hard, having the appearance of mahogany when polished. The introduction and experimenting with some of these different varieties might result in finding a variety suited to the windward side of the islands, and I am expecting to receive seed of a very hardy variety of this tree, to make the trial with.

There is a widespread confusion
of the algarobia (Prosopis dulcis), the common tree here, with the algarobia (not algarobia) of southern Europe,
which is Ceratonia Siliqua, another family. This is the Carob-tree of Mediterranean regions, the pods of which are a popular sweetmeat, especially with children, in European countries, being known as "St. John's Bread," from the fact that the disciples in early New Testament times made use of it for food. Some writers also claim it was the pod of this tree, which is alluded to in the Scriptures as "locusts" in speaking of the diet of "locusts and wild honey"
—as the tree is allied to the locust family—and not the insect known as locust, that was used as food in those days, which seems quite a rational interpretation.

The pods of this tree are very much larger, of a dark brown color and very full of a sweet gelatine
like substance, without the rank, disagreeable taste of our tree here.
I have seen the pods as grown in

ALGAROBIA AND ALGAROBIA.

Southern California fully one inch wide, six to ten inches long, and a half inch or more thick. It is wonderfully productive and very valuable for stock feed. The tree has handsome dark green foliage, entirely unlike the tree commonly known here as "algaroba." It makes a beautiful shade tree, but is more slow in developing than the algaroba, yet will stand the winds and drouth better, for it has a deep rooting tap root, and one need never fear
having it blown over by the wind,
as with the surface rooting tree grown here. In fact its having such a tendency for developing a long tap root with very few lateral or side roots is the chief difficulty in growing the tree, for if planted in open ground and transplanted it is very difficult to make it grow, and when grown in a pot, if allowed to get of any size, the roots become coiled, and unless properly planted will not do well.

The pods of this tree are exported in large quantity from Crete for feeding domestic animals, also a substitute for chocolate, and a medicinal syrup is made from it.
The meat of animals fattened upon them is considered of finer flavor, and they are twice as valuable as oilcake for this purpose, containing 66 percent of sugar and gum.

The Spanish conquerors took this plant to Central and South America, and at least one tree from that source is now growing on this island. On a recent visit to the ranch of Mr. Galbraith, on the plains this side of Waialua, I was shown a tree which he said he had grown from seed taken from some old water containers which had been sold in Honolulu
by a vessel from South America and purchased by him. He found in them a number of large pods from which he took the seed and planted it and had the satisfaction of getting one tree, but had been unable to learn the name of it.
This tree is now about ten feet high, seeming to stand the wind and in a fair way to make a large tree, but has never fruited, and is not likely to do so, for the species is Diospyros—i. e., has the pistillate and staminate flowers on different trees. Only on very rare occasions has it been known to be capable of individual fertilization, and unless other trees of the opposite sex be planted near or grafted into the top of this, he will likely not be rewarded with fruit at all, or else with limited and poor specimens.
This would be an invaluable tree to introduce here, and if planted in groves, and a limited number of pollen bearing trees allowed to grow, the balance being grafted over with fruiting wood, there could be no more profitable tree introduced. I shall give this tree a thorough trial, hastening the experiment by grafting from old fruiting trees, thus shortening the time, to prove its fruiting qualities.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1898.

With the Senate committee's ideas carried out, there will be a lighthouse instead of a candlestick on Diamond Head.

While about repairs on the Beretania bridge, the Works bureau should give the floor lines a hump that will make water run off. Otherwise, in a rainy spell, the bridge may be mistaken for a reservoir.

Our consul in Spain, if we have one there, will read all the Advertiser's international law to Sagasta, so that Spain may know how to behave properly toward Hawaii in case of war before the islands are annexed to the United States.

Has litigation increased so much, since the Supreme Court was made strictly appellate a few years ago, as to require an additional Circuit Court Judge in the First Circuit? When the Supreme Court with three Justices used to do all that the Circuit Court does now on this island, its members also presided in rotation at all of the terms of Circuit Courts throughout the group. There was not a larger proportion of the law's delays in those times, either, than there is in these days. The question now suddenly raised is too important to be sprung upon the Legislature in the fog end of a session. It will stand public discussion for a couple of years at least.

Secretary Wilder's Resignation.

A statement in this paper yesterday, to the effect that S. G. Wilder had resigned the secretaryship of the Hawaiian Jockey Club on account of irregularities in Saturday's races, was erroneous. The Jockey Club had nothing to do with that meeting. Mr. Wilder resigned simply because he considered, after four years in the office, that someone else ought to be given the work and responsibility. More especially as he is in the Legislature, and intends being absent from the country for a time.

Kaula on Hawaii.

James K. Kaula and Kalau-okalani have arrived at Kailua, Hawaii, and will make a political tour of the island. In every town and settlement they will hold public meetings, and address the natives on the subject of the delegation's recent trip to Washington and the present situation. Authentic information comes from Hawaii that Mr. Kaula, believing the monarchy and annexation to be dead, will advise his native friends to take the oath and register.

Meeting of Officers.

At the meeting of Regiment Officers several matters received thorough discussion. A proposition to have a group portrait of Guard officers was not considered favorably. The treasurer was instructed to collect all dues outstanding since May last, if any.

Senator Hanna Better.

Washington, April 12.—It was stated today that Senator Hanna had sufficiently recovered from his recent illness as to be able to take a ride through our parks on a Sterling bicycle. The Pacific Cycle and Manufacturing Co., Ltd., are Honolulu agents for this built-to-wear wheel.

PASSED BY THE SENATE

The Shipping Registration Bill Goes to the Lower House.

Greater Part of the Morning Spent on Various Appropriation Bills—Senators Asking Questions.

In the Senate this morning after the opening preliminaries Minister Cooper read a letter from United States Minister Sewall, acknowledging the appreciation of the government of the United States at the action of the Hawaiian Legislature in passing the resolution of condolence on the loss of the U. S. S. Maine.

Senator Hocking asked the following question of the Minister of Interior:

"Under what authority is a portion of the public domain known as Union square set aside for the erection of a memorial to a deceased private citizen?"

Senator McCandless also asked the same Minister the question: "Will you please state, did the government advertise for tenders for excavating the slip at the Pacific Mail wharf? If so, were there any bids, and if so please state the amount per yard bid by each separate bidder? Also how many yards have been excavated up to the present time? And how many yards of it is coral, and how much per yard has it cost; also how many yards still remain to be excavated to complete the slip?"

Senate Bill 17, registration of vessels, came up on third reading.

Minister Cooper said in reply to the question propounded yesterday by Senator Waterhouse that only one communication had been received from the United States in relation to the registration of vessels. This was a letter from Minister Sewall under date of November 8, 1897, in which he said:

"I am instructed by my Government to report as they arise any cases of vessels built elsewhere than in the United States or Hawaii which may be admitted to Hawaiian registry under the decision in the 'China' case.

"I will thank you to communicate these cases to me, also the names, tonnage and place of build of vessels to which provisional registers have already been issued or may be issued as they are reported to you, these to include cases, if any, of provisional registers issued prior to the case of the 'China' under which the owners of the vessels in question are entitled to call for permanent registers."

Minister Cooper then detailed the correspondence had with Minister Hatch and others after which the bill passed by a vote of 9 to 3.

Senate Bill 31, emergency appropriations, passed third reading.

House Bill 32, relating to grades of streets in Honolulu and Hilo, passed third reading as amended.

Senate Bill 22, appropriations from Loan Fund, was taken up with the report of the Public Lands Committee, printed elsewhere, and the items recommended by the Committee were adopted.

Senate Bill 23, additional appropriations for current account, passed second reading.

Three House bills passed first reading.

Some Military Matters.

The drill of the first battalion, Companies A, B, F and G, Major Jones, on Friday evening will be held on Palace square, for the reason that the drill shed and parade grounds will be occupied by other companies at that time. BERETANIA STREET BRIDGE.

Repairs Completed at a Cost of About $200.

John Onderkirk has completed repairs to the Beretania street bridge, damaged by the recent freshet in Nuuanu stream. One needle beam was broken by the debris knocking against it and the truss rods were adrift. This caused the bridge to sag down in the middle and greatly weakened it.

Originally the bridge was set on a pre-constructed trestle. This time the bridge was jacked and the trestle work fitted under it. Thus a perfect foundation is assured. The bridge is now more substantial than ever before. The expense of repairs will fall near $200.

NO NEED OF PRICE CUTTING.

The Safe Business Man Adds a Fair Profit to the Cost of His Goods.

"If bicycle agents know their business there will be no price-cutting in 1898. There is a class of business men who do not know how to sell goods except on bargain-counter methods. Their first move when approached by a customer is to reduce the price, in order to impress the would-be purchaser that they are getting a special price. Such agents never make a success of selling goods of worth and merit. It is an established rule of the trade that bartering is carried on with the exclusive object of reasonable profit-making. When a man refuses to accept this reasonable profit he will either not pay his shoemaker or rob the man from whom he buys; he is bound to beat some one. It is almost an invariable rule that price-cutters are unreliable and need watching. If you have any in your town watch them then and see if our words are not verified.

"A reliable and straightforward business man is the man who endeavors to place his business on a firm and secure basis. He asks for a fair profit for investing his money in stock and for maintaining a store to shelter a customer when he is seeking to invest. The safe business man knows what his goods cost, and he knows that by adding on a fair price to this cost price the selling price or list price is reached. Never in the history of any business has the selling price been brought so near to the cost of production in such a toboggan-slide manner."—Cyclo Age.

FREAK OF NATURE.

Born of the Dog Kind With Fantastic Peculiarities.

Pearl City is again forward with its claim as the most enterprising town on the Islands. This time Sam. Reilinger, proprietor of the Pioneer stage line to Waiolua and Kahuku, presents the demand with a decided freak of nature. This is in the shape of--well, not a dog, and yet it looks verily like one. The nondescript was ushered into the world several days ago, and the owner was startled to find that it had a distinct double head, with three eyes--one, like that of Cyclops, being exactly in the centre of the forehead. While there are long pendant ear flaps, there are no ears visible, and further there are no evidences of sex. In other respects it is doing quite well and will give old Cerberus a run for the gate money, even if it has to go to Hades to get a lucifer, or any kind of a match.

TO TAKE OUT MUD.

Dredger Starts Work at Place the Arago Mired.

The dredger will start tomorrow morning pumping out the berth between the Sorenson and Emmes wharves, filled in by the flood with debris from Nuanu stream. A depth of 28 feet at low water will be reached. The dredgings will be pumped upon the site of the old limekiln, which will be raised to the wharf level. A retaining wall covering about a half acre and taking in the entire premises is being patched up today. It extends to the edge of the bay.

Emmes wharf is finished and ready for use. Therefore, the work of dredging the berth and filling contiguous land is a case of killing two birds with one stone at a very opportune moment. When the dredger has finished in the berth she will move out and begin the work of cutting a channel to the harbor proper. As previously reported that entire district, so recently dredged, is filled up with mud from the flood.

If not, why not?

If you will give us the chance, we will relieve you of a care that you should not bear.

We sell only good stoves, and we guarantee what we say to you when you buy a DETROIT JEWEL STOVE, no matter what size it is.

The fuel you will save will pay for the difference in a short time if you conclude to relegate your old stove to the auction rooms.

GET IT AT WATERHOUSE'S

In the manufacture of crockery there is room for a great deal of deception. Unless you are dealing with a good responsible house whose business it is to make all things clear to you, explain the difference between this grade of firsts compared with some other make of firsts there is a liability of there being dissatisfaction all around. We make it a point to be honest if asked why it is that we are able to sell this line cheaper than another line that to all outward appearances is of no higher grade. Under the same roof we carry a very full line of tinware, glassware and household hardware, as well as a complete line of heavier hardware for general use. We can stock up your kitchen and pantry if you will only say the word.

WHARVES AND LANDINGS

Complete List Prepared by Surveyor W. A. Wall for Judge Hartwell.

Many of These Facilities for Traffic are Private Property—Large Number of Beach Landings.

Below is the list of wharves and landings referred to by Judge Hartwell in his letter, as attorney of the H. C. & S. Co., to the acting Minister of the Interior, which was published in yesterday's BULLETIN:

PRINCIPAL LANDINGS IN THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

ISLAND OF KAUAI.

Nawiliwili—There are 2 landings, one on the west and one on the north side, the former being a Government one and the latter a private one owned by W. H. Rice.

Hanalei—There are 2 landings, one on the north and one on the south side. The former was built by the Hanalei Sugar Co., which was part of the Lihue Plantation. It is built on a siding over the shore out into the sea. The latter is about the same style with a breakwater and was built by the Lihue Plantation a short time ago.

Wailua—Boats land on the beach—public.

Kapaa—Private landing of the Makee Sugar Co. There is a pier.

Anahole—That is an open roadstead. No wharf. Public.

Molokai—Similar to Anahole. No wharf. Public.

Kilauea—Private wharf built and controlled by the Kilauea Sugar Co. Projects out into the water but is not a regular pier. It is on the land of Kahili.

Kalihiwai—They land on the beach. Public.

Hanalei—Public landing. No wharf. Boats land on the beach at the mouth of the river. When the plantation was running it had a storehouse up the river a short way with a wharf built in front of it at which they used to ship and take freight. The Inter-Island S. S. Co. has a storehouse at the mouth of the river and they land freight right on the beach.

Waimea—There is a pier running out into the water. Government property.

Makaweli—There is a private wharf there.

Elele—There is a private wharf there and also a private one at Hanapepe.

Koloa—There is a private wharf there, which can be claimed by the government, although it has put no money into it.

ISLAND OF OAHU.

Waimanalo—Private landing built by the plantation.

Kaneohe—They land on the beach. Public.

Heia—Long pier built from the shore out to a little island, on which there is a storehouse built by the plantation. This is a private landing. Steamers pass by.

Kaalea and Kahala—They land on the beach. Public.

Waikane—Land on the beach. Public.

Punaluu—That is a rice plantation. There is a little pier running out into the water with a railroad track on it, boats coming alongside. This is private.

Hauula—They land on the beach. It is a question whether this landing is private or public.

Laie—The Kahuku Plantation has a private landing there. It is a pier running out into the water.

Waimea—Land on the beach. Public.

Wailua—There is no wharf there. Public landing.

Mokuleia—There is a wharf there alongside of which the boats come, and there are several smaller landings at the rice plantations. All of these are private.

Waianae—There is a pier running out into the water. This is a Government landing, although the Plantation has spent some money on it.

Pearl Harbor—There are several small private landings in Pearl Harbor.

ISLAND OF MOLOKAI.

Kaunakakai—There is an old

For more than fifty years has PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER stood the test against all remedies prepared to eradicate pain, and today stands at the head of the list among the medicines that are so essential to keep at hand in the home.

It is not a new fangle remedy nor do the proprietors lay claim to any wonderful revelation of the ingredients that enter into the manufacture of this ever popular remedy.

It is perfectly harmless, you need have no fear of becoming habitually inclined to its use.

For Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, Colds, and all painful affections, a few doses will certainly give relief. You cannot afford to be without a bottle in the house.

Your forefathers used it and found it beneficial.

Why experiment with some remedy that is new and its effect on the system unknown?

It has many rivals but no equal.

The new 35c. size contains over double the quantity of the 25c. size.

DUPONT

Smokeless Sporting Powder

The claims made for Dupont Smokeless are briefly as follows:

FIRST. It may be loaded the same as black powder, using the usual Dixon measure.

SECOND. It gives best pattern and best penetration of any nitro powder at this time before the public.

THIRD. It is cleaner in the gun than any nitro powder in use.

FOURTH. It is what its name would indicate—smokeless.

FIFTH. Recoil, while noticeable, is far less than that incident to the use of any other powder.

SIXTH. Its shooting qualities of the best; hard, quick, well suited to trap and wing shooting.

SEVENTH. This powder is not affected by extremes of heat, cold or moisture, which is not the case with many other nitro powders.

We've Ruined the CORN CROP!

For years the corn crop of this part of the beach has been enormous. Reckless shoe sellers made it so. Everybody had to "break in" their shoes or get someone else to do it for them, and by the time they were broken in they were broken out also, and that broke pocket books.

Different Now.

Our motto is: "A cheap article is not a good article, and will not stand inspection or wear," but a good article cheap will draw trade to our store like a hungry horse to his feed.

Those who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla are the ones who are competent to speak of its merits.

The testimonials of cures by Hood's constitute a vast mass of testimony which proves the power of this medicine to cure a great variety of diseases.

These cures often seem marvelous, yet they are perfectly natural and are easily explained. They are the necessary result of purifying and enriching the blood.

"I have been troubled with scrofula all my life, and it effected my eyes so that I was obliged to remain in a dark room. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Now my eyes are so strong that the light never troubles me, and my health is good." Mrs. CARLIE WHEELER, Lompoc, Cal.

TALK BY DOCTOR STALEY.

Life Among the Hindoos as Seen by a Medical Woman.

About forty ladies of St. Andrew's parish gathered yesterday afternoon at the residence of Philip H. Dodge on Emma street to hear Miss Staley, a daughter of Bishop Staley, formerly of Honolulu, tell of her experiences as a medical missionary for many years past at Delhi, India. Miss Staley proved very interesting and narrated the pathetic life of the child wives of Hindoos in such a way as to open the eyes of those present. Many questions were asked and Miss Staley had a fluent answer for each of them. Miss Staley has been the guest of Rev. Alex. Mackintosh at Sunny Slope for the past month and continues her journey to England on the Rio today, from whence she will return to her labors at Delhi.

The Anchor.

William Carlyle, who formerly assisted P. F. Ryan in the management of the Anchor, has succeeded him in the management, assisted by Charlie Andrews. He continues to deal out the cheer for which the Anchor is noted. Seattle beer on draught can always be had, as well as the best brands of whiskies, etc., including John Dewar's Scotch whisky. A full stock of other liquors, wines, etc., is kept on hand also.

Will Paint Bridges.

J. E. Rodgers, agent for a new preservative paint for roofs and lumber, has just closed a big deal with the Government for wharf and bridge work. The contract was signed with Mr. Rowell yesterday afternoon. All the new bridges, to replace those ruined by the storm, will be treated with the Rodgers preparation. This paint is applied steaming hot and is wholly impervious to the effects of sun and rain.

Another False Alarm.

The sounding of the steamer whistle at 9 o'clock last night sent everybody to the telephone and many people came down town. First the Miowera, then the Rio de Janeiro, was reported. The lights seen turned out to be those of the Inter Island steamer Waialeale. Pilots and Post Office people were the worst put out on account of the false alarm, as they had a miserable trip to sea for nothing.

The steamship Braemar is at the Mail wharf from Hongkong via Kobe and Yokohama, with 579 Japanese immigrants and 500 tons of Oriental merchandise. Of the immigrants 479 are male, 98 female and 2 children. The Braemar sails for Portland this evening.

Captain Turner was in command of the bark Mohican when she sailed for San Francisco yesterday. He was formerly mate of the Andrew Welch and afterward of the R. P. Rithet. He left the latter ship when captain Saunders, who was in charge of the Mohican, was compelled to leave her on account of the news of the sudden illness of Mrs. Saunders in San Francisco and has been in command ever since.

Captain Parker of the Waialeale desires to thank the pilots for kindly lighting the channel buoys last night when he steamed in from Laie. It seems the Waialeale was mistaken for one of the big liners when her lights were seen by the signal station. The Waialeale discharged her cargo of freight and bridge lumber at Punaluu yesterday and brought in a small lot of rice.

DIAMOND HEAD LIGHTHOUSE

Senate Public Lands Committee Has No Use for a Pipestem Structure.

Recommends the Appropriation of Twenty-Five Hundred Dollars Extra to Build Permanent Stone Supports.

In the Senate this morning the Committee on Public Lands made a long report on various matters referred to them.

The items for the completion of the ship wharf in Hilo Bay, new wharf at Nahiku, the new grading of the road into Waipio valley, are all recommended to pass as in the bill. For the road from Kula homesteads to Makawao $5000 is appropriated, and for the Kihei road and branches $10,000.

The report then goes on to say: "The item in line 45 is the estimated amount needed to complete the Diamond Head Lighthouse, including the installation of electric lights for the same."

"Your Committee have personally inspected said new lighthouse now being constructed, and consulted different authorities regarding the strength and stability of the structure, which is all of iron above the concrete foundations and is simply four 4-inch galvanized iron pipes, in 20 foot lengths, from the ground to the floor of the lighthouse proper, 40 feet. It is suitably braced, and above this is the superstructure with the lights, 20 feet high. The iron of the pipe supports is 1/2 inch thick, which is cut by the thread in each of the joints at least half of its thickness, leaving but 1/4 of an inch in thickness at each joint, which would appear to be weak points in the same."

"It may, however, be strong enough to support the fifteen tons weight of the superstructure and stormy gales while it is fresh and new, but it is in a position constantly exposed to the salt spray of the sea, which will sooner or later cut the weak points of the iron with rust and endanger the safety of the structure, with final collapse of the supports."

"On general principles a lighthouse should be a permanent institution that can be relied upon, with its light always on hand, especially in stormy weather. To accomplish this, it should be constructed in the most substantial manner and not in a way to do service for two, three, five or even ten years and then be missing, having collapsed or toppled over."

"The lighthouse now being constructed can be made substantial and as permanent as possible by building up a good substantial stone and cement tower from the ground up to the superstructure and securely fastening the upper structure to the stonework. It would then be doubly strong, and when the iron pillars become weak from rust the stone tower will continue to hold all firmly in its place. This will require an addition to the original appropriation, which was $10,000. There has already been expended for the foundations and tower, tools, etc., $1824.29; for the lantern, $5561.90; total, $7386.19; and we are now asked to reappropriate from the unexpended balance to complete the construction and put in electric lights, $1500, which will make the total cost $8886.19. To build up a substantial stone tower as suggested above would require say $2500 additional, or about $4000 besides the amount already expended."

"It seems at first sight as if this is a large amount to expend in addition to the present outlay on this structure, but if we consider for a moment it is only a drop in the bucket when compared with the loss of any one of the large steamers or merchant ships now coming to this port, as a result of the collapse of the new Diamond Head Lighthouse."

"We cannot afford to run any chances in such a matter and rely upon a cheap, temporary structure when we can have something permanent. Your Committee, therefore, recommend that in addition to the $1500 asked the sum of $2500 be appropriated to build a substantial stone tower for said lighthouse, to be completed before the superstructure is finished."
