Drifted Out to Sea.

Two little ones, grown tired of play, Roamed by the sea, one summer day, Watching the great waves come and go, Prattling, as children will, you know, Of dolls and marbles, kites and strings; Sometimes hinting at graver things.

At last they spied within their reach An old boat cast upon the beach.
Helter skelter, with merry din.
Over its sides they clambered in —
Ben, with his tangled, nut-brown hair,
Bess, with her sweet face flushed and fair. Rolling in from the briny deep, Noarer, nearer, the great waves creep, Higher, higher, up the sands, Reaching out with thoir giant hands, Grasping the boat in boisterous glee, Tossing it up and out to sea.

The sun went down 'mid clouds of gold; Night came, with footsteps damp and cold; Day dawned; the hours crept slowly by; And now, across the sunny sky, A black cloud stretches far away.

And shuts the golden gates of day. A storm comes on, with flash and roar, While all the sky is shrouded o'er; The great waves, rolling from the west, Bring night and darkness on their breast; Still floats the boat through driving storm, Protected by God's powerful arm. The home-bound vessel, Scabird, lies In ready trim, 'twixt sea and skies, Her captain paces reatless now, A troubled look upon his brow, While all his nerves with terror thrill; The shadow of some coming ill. The mate comes up to where he stands, And grasps his arm with eager hands; "A boat has just swept past," says he, "Bearing two children out to sea; 'Tis dangerous now to put about, Yet they cannot be saved without." "Naught but their safety will suffice;
They must be saved!" the captain cries;
"By every thought that's just and right.
By lips I hoped to kiss to-night,
I'll peril vessel, life and men,
And God will not forsake me then." With anxious faces, one and all,
Each man responded to the call;
And when at last, through driving storm,
They lifted up each little form,
The captain started with a groan,
"My God!" he cried, "they are my own."

A Romantic Career.

The mere parrative of Garibaldi's life reads like a mediaval legend or a tale of heroic times. He is at once the Ulysses and the Achilles of the Italian national epic. Long before his name had been heard in Europe, his exploits, both by sea and land, had made it a word of power in the New World. Having been involved in revolutionary intrigues, he quitted Europe in 1836 for South America, only to return after twelve year's exile, the story of which, with its stirring adventures both of battle and peaceful enterprise, is as romantic as any subsequent portion of his wonderful career. In 1848 Garibaldi returned to Europe, allured, like so many other Italian patriots, by the promise, soon to be blighted, of Pio Nono's accession as "the Liberal Pope." But though he soon found that his hopes in that direction were to be disappointed, Garibaldi did not return in vain. His share in the defense of Rome against the troops of the French Republic under General Oudinot, and his victory over the Neapolitans in the campaign of Valletri, served to show his countrymen that they would not want a leader ready to go all lengths when the time came.

The time did not come for another ten years, and the intervening period was one of sorrow and humiliation for Garibaldi. After the disastrous Roman campaign, ending with the occupation of Rome by the French troops and the overthrow of Mazzini's triumvirate, Garibaldi was hunted from place to place; two of his devoted friends were taken by the Austrian troops and shot without any form of trial; his heroic wife, Anita, the companion of all his adventures and perils, succumbed to the exposure and privation of his flight, and the General himself only escaped from his more implacable foes to be arrested by Sardinian troops and carried to Genoa, where La Marmora, who had the command. allowed him to retire to Tunis. When Victor Emanuel made his peace with Austria, and the hopes of Italy seemed extinguished for the moment, Garibaldi once more crossed the Atlantic and settled in New York as a tallow chandler.

branch of industry. With the exception of the year 1874, when the number reached the maximum, the figures for the present He returned to Europe in 1855, and in 1859 the war between France and Austria brought him again into the field. Here we approach the better known, or, at least, the better remembered, parts of Garibaldi's eventful career. All the world recollects the exploits of the Chasseurs des Alpes, whom Garibaldi organized for mountain warfare, and led with consumate daring along the sub-alpine ranges and to the very summit of the Stelvio Pass before the sudden peace of Villafranca put an end for the moment to the rising hopes of Italian patriots and statesmen. Still more familiar is the story of the campaign of the following year, which was begun in Sicily by Garibaldi and a few devoted followers, and ended in a few months at Naples, when the victorious patriot, who took no regard for himself and asked for none, handed over the Crown of the two Sicilies to Victor Emmanuel and retired to his farm in Caprera.

The falls of Niagara are now lit up by eighteen electric lamps from the American shore. The effect is thus described by the correspondent of a transatlantic contemporary: "I was standing alone on the extreme edge of Goat Island, shortly after dusk, when suddenly and unexpectedly a great flood of dazzling white light burst forth from the foliage of Prospect Park, forth from the foliage of Prospect Park, and spread over the great volume of waters which had previously seemed, in the twilight, like a mighty bank of snow. So rapid was the change and so great was the effect that it was only after two or three minutes of bewildered pleasure that one could realize what had taken place. The wast sheet of falling water should like thick of steel during the year reaches an aggregate of 40,688 tons, against 28,808 tons during 1879.—Times. burnished silver, while the eternal clouds burnished silver, while the eternal clouds of spray away down below were as deep gold in their shimmering tenderness." The hight of gush about the falls, however, has been reached by a correspondent of the Tribune, who, remarking upon the lives lost in the rapids, goes on to say, "You know that lives have been quenched like tapers in the fateful foam of the falls, but the only testimony to the tragedy is the great clouds of spray which roll up to heaven like smoke from the altar of immolation."— Graphic. lation." - Graphic.

The largest library in the United States The largest library in the United States is the library of Congress at Washington, which contained 281,000 volumes in 1874, and in that year the British Museum and the Imperial library at St. Peter's comprised 1,100,000 volumes each. The largest library in the world is the National Library at Paris, which, in 1874, contained 2,000,-000 printed books and 150,000 manuscripts.

for San Francisco. The agents hope to get her off on Monday next, 7th inst.

for on Wednesday last the weather moderated and a number of weather bound vessels were towed to sea which leaves our harbor quite desolate, but we hope with the return of trade winds to see quite a fleet come in as there is quite a number over due.

The Brit bk Lizzie Irodale, is discharging her cargo very slowly at the old steamship wharf; she may sail for Victoria B. C., early next week.

The Chinese stmr Meifoo, arrived at this port Wednesday, from Canton, making a good passage of 195 days, bringing 65 Chinese, 2 of which have the Small-pox, and 4 that have had it, but are now about well; they have all been put in quarantine. The Meifoo will proceed to San Francisco, early next week.

The bks Kalakaus and Lizzie Marshall, were ready to go to see on Saturday last, but had to wait until last Wednesday before they could get out. To be sure we had some wind, and quite a swell on the bar, but if we had any kind of a Tug boat, we think these reason

WE are not yet free, it seems, from the machinations of this irrepressible Moreno. Our neighbor the Gazette publishes the full text of the European papers from which we quoted last week. We have no wish to make or to multiply troubles, but is it not time that our Government parted company with Moreno, absolutely and completely? As long as he is in possession of the Royal autograph, and can draw money from the Hawaiian exchequer, it must be expected that he will be credited with an official position, though he has ceased to hold it. A letter from one of the "youths" is published in the Kuokoa. Not without comment, we hope. We do not propose to give the full text in this issue, but merely to draw attention to the more particular subjects. We learn that Moreno, having established himself for the time at Berlin, writes to the Hawaiian Consul at Bremen to "come over to him at Berlin" ! This the " haughty Consul," as our letter-writer calls him, very naturally and necessarily declined to do, " as a great deal of Consular affairs keep me in my office." Mr. Moreno writes to the Hawaiian Consuls in Paris and Berlin that he is "instructed by His Majesty the King and by his (Moreno's Brit bk Viola, Price, Liverpool, over due, Castle & Cooke, Agents.

comes it that the youth is able to copy, verbatin, into one private letter no less than

Here are four months gone by and neither the place nor the nature of their education yet decided upon. It is said that one is to be sent to Kiel for a naval education. We doubt if the shores of the Baltic be the most Along our wharves this week, it looks dull enough, advisable locality in which to place a Hawaiian youth for his first Winter away from his sunny home. And when-or if this young gentleman returns, an accomplished paval officer, what shall we do with him? There are plenty of educational establishments, both in the United States and in Europe, where these youths might have been taught some useful civil employment, law, physic, commerce, etc. Why are they not long ago at work at one of these? The fact is, that the undertaking was ill-designed and put into the hands of a man eminently unsuited for carrying it out. "Put money in thy purse," says Ingo : some other one-sided. It reads thus:

Article II.—The Governments of China and of the United States mutually agree and undertake that Chinese subjects shall not be permitted to import optim in any of the ports of the United States, and citizens of the United States shall not States, and citizens of the United States shall not be permitted to import opinm into any of the open ports of China, or to transport from one open port to any other open ports of China. This absolute prohibition, which extends to vessels owned by the citizens or subjects of either Power, to foreign vessels employed by them, or to vessels owned by the citizens or subjects of either Power, and employed by other persons for transportation of opium, shall be enforced by appropriate legislation on the part of China and the United States, and the benefits of the favored claims in existing treaties shall not be claimed by the citizens or subjects of either Power as against the provisions subjects of either Power as against the provisions

The italics are ours. A Chinaman may not import the drug into the United States. A citizen of the United States may not import, buy or sell opinm in any of the open ports of China. Our friend the Gazette is of the opinion that this is intended " to establish a prece dent for inserting a like clause in all future treaties." Now this trade is almost entirely in the hands of British merchants, who import direct from India to Hongkong. There, the drug is resold to any one who likes to purthen distributed over China and is used largely as an article of barter for tea and silk. The American houses have hitherto had their share of the opium trade, and have no doubt benefitted by it as well as their neighbors. Up to 1876 nine-tenths of the carrying trade on the Yangtsze, the Mississippi of China, was done under the American flag. At that time, the China Merchants' Company, finding themselves unable to wipe out the American flag by competition, did so by purchase. The entire fleet of the Shanghai Steam Navigation Company, consisting of about twenty large steamers into the hands of the Chinese for the sum of traffic between Hougkong and Canton. In both the benefit of the exorbitant freights charged on the transit of opium, which by the way, is chandise, while the American is by the new with his English, French and German rivals. It is extremely questionable whether the British Government will ever submit to a similar restriction, as long as the Chinese continue to grow and cultivate the poppy on their own soil. If they, (the Chinese) could produce an article equal in quality to the Indian drug, they would soon cease to buy the latter, and consequently the importation would decrease, if it did not entirely stop. It is very significant that the words "buy or sell " are not applied to the Chinese on American soil. It is needless to point out how easily the Chinaman may get all the opium he requires when in the States. Until the importation of opium into the States is rendered contraband, this clause may be considered a dead letter as far as the Chinaman is concerned. The inference to be drawn from the whole text of the new Treaty is that the Chinese have got all they desired, whereas the Americans have lost the liberty of carrying on a legitimate and profit-

A FIRST rehearsal of the extremely funny pperetta "H. M. S. Pinafore" was given at the Lyceum on Tuesday evening. A large gathering of our amateurs assisted. Mr. Harnden sang the tenor music, and gave the recitative and spoken dialogues, and explained the play, the various situations and the stage action, for the advantage of those who had not seen it before, as they went through the piece. Amongst the lady solo singers were Mr. Paty, Mrs. Hamden, and others, and amongst the gentlemen, Mr. Harnden and Mr. T. R. Walker took the most prominent parts. The choruses were given with great spirit and full appreciation, both of the fun and the music. Mr. Berger was at the piano and helped effectually to explain the special peculiarities and necessities of the play. As this was a first rehearsal, some airs of course had to be repeated and corrected, but the way it was given promises unbounded success when the time comes. The parts were not then alloted, but there is good reason to believe that each will be completely

THE PACIFIC LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY MUTUAL of California.

1007 and 1009 Second Street, Sacramento.

To all Desirous of Securing the Benefits of Life Insurance;

The first consideration with applicants for life insurance is, or at least should be, SAFETY, Will the money paid out for the Policy be prudently invested ? Are the affairs of the Company honestly and efficiently administered? When the Policy becomes a claim, will it be promptly paid, and thus the object which induced the payment of the premiums be fully attained? These are queries animally suggested, and the character of the answers determines the course of the questioner and the selection of his Company.

In this connection, the Managers of the PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY respectfully beginned to submit the following facts and statements concerning their Company:

1. Since its organization, A. D. 1868, it has paid 353 death losses, on policies amounting in the aggregate to good, 975.

It has paid to policy holders, for matured endowments, dividends, and surrender values, in round numbers, $1,000,000.

2. It has paid to policy holders, for matured endowments, dividends, and surrender values, in round numbers, $1,000,000.

3. Its tosses have been paid promptly and without litigation. No judgment arising from a Policy claim has ever been rendered against it, and it has no suits of this character pending.

4. It has repeatedly been examined by sworn experts, and most thorough and searching investigations made of its condition and business, and IN EVER Y CASE its solvency and trustworthiness have been demonstrated.

5. Its stockholders and Directors are widely known as among the most capable business men and ablest financiers of the State of California, and the integrity of their management is unquestioned.

6. The laws of the State of California, and the integrity of their management is unquestioned.

8. Section 16 Aericle XII of the NEW CONSTITUTION of the State of California, is as follows:

"Suc. 5. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint stock association shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder, as the amount of stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole of the substribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzied or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint stock association, during the term of office of such Director or Trustee,"

7. Its policy contracts contain no restrictions upon residence or travel, and its forms of insurance are unsually attractive. The Low Rate, Deposit Endowment, and Mutual Investment Policies, are peculiar to this Company, and oder advantages to the insured which are not surpassed, if equalled, by those of any other Company.

Company, and ther advantages to the instread which are not surpassed, it equalised, by those of any other S. Whon desired, Policies can be registered by the Insurance Commissioner of California, on the payment of a moderate fee, and a Policy holder in the PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA has then the absolute guarantee of the State of California that the money held by this Company against the centingency of his death, is secured by bonds and mortgages deposited in the State Treasury. With December 01st, 1870, the Company closed its eleventh year, and in so doing affords the only instance on record in which a life insurance company in the eleventh year of like xistence was enabled to pay its death losses from interest receipts; not only was this done, but in addition thereto a considerable surplus promained.

Believing ourselves entitled to the confidence and business of such as propose effecting insurance upon human life, we solicit their patronage, and piedge ourselves to discharge to the best of our ability, the important and sacred duty devolved upon its.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

On account of change of residence, will be

Saturday, February 12th,

AT 12 O'CLOCK M., at SALES ROOM,

The Following Desirable Property 1

That portion of Land situated to the east of Punahou College, owned by A. Marques, who has enriched a desert of most fertile soil by the treasures derived from an inexhaustable flowing well, supplying a yield of over 6,000 gallons per hour of the purest water for irrigating and drinking purposes.

The property will be offered in two lots.

Lot it contains about 8 acres of best irrigable bottom land, and 14 acres of excellent high pasture grounds, together with the artesian well and a beautiful new and extra solidly built dwelling, two stories high, with fine view of the sea over Walkiki, containing 12 large airy rooms, with pienty of Cabinets and store-rooms; and an attle of three wide servants rooms, also, outside kitchen, carriage house and other out-houses.

Over 500 Banana tress and pienty of algeroba trees are already growing on the land, which are entitled to half of the water flowing from the well.

Lot 2 contains nearly 7 acres, all irrigable, now leased by a Chinese Company for the purpose of a vegetable garden, for a term of nine years with the right of half the water from the artesian well situated on Lot No. 1. At the end of the said lease all the improvements, and especially the frait trees to be planted by the Chinese, are to remain for the benefit of the owner.

Both lots have been carefully drained and assured against flooding by rain water; both lots are nicely fenced in, and both lots—now bordering on the carriage road leading from Beretania street to Sylva's Ranch, in Manoa Valley,—will have access to the new street, and outlet to be opened on the Punahou lands toward Punahou street, which will render both parts of said property valuable for building lots.

Title perfect, Deeds at the expense of purchaser.

The above property if not sold as above will be offered in suitable building lots with water privilege. Plan of which may be seen at Sales Room.

NOTES OF THE WEEK. MONDAY, February 14th, is St. Valentine's day. Two eases of small-pox are reported from Kahului, Maui. THERE were no cases on the Police Court docket last Saturday. A NUMBER of vessels from foreign ports should arrive here this month. EIGHTEEN passengers left here for California on the Kalakawa last Wednesday. A NUMBER of the large trees in front of H. H., R. Keelikolani's palace were cut dawn last Wednes-

Next Saturday the 12th, is the seventh anniversary of the accession of King Kalakaua to the A REGULAR business meeting of the Library and Reading Room Association will be held this evening at 7:50 r. M. The steamers were unable to call at a number f places on the other Islands last week, owing to the severity of the weather.

THE three-masted schooner A. P. Jordan arrived in port yesterday, 31 days from San Francisco, bringing a large mail for the Post Office.

THE wind has been quite violent on the other side of this Island, and on Sunday last a church at Kaneohe was blown from its foundation.

THE sale of lands belonging to the Kanaina estate on the Islands of Molokai, Maui, Hawaii and Kauai, on Monday last, realized $23,959. THE workmen engaged in macadamizing Fort street are now beyond Beretannia street, and the street will soon be completed its full length. Expass licenses numbers 5, 7, 35, and 119 have been revoked by the Minister of the Interior, on account of the holders disobeying instructions of

THERE will be a called meeting of Le Progres de Oceanie Lodge, No. 124, A. F. and A. M., at the hall of the order on King street, next Monday evening, February 7th. THE Chinese theatre on the Esplanade has been in full blast this week and last, and residents in that vicinity have been treated gratis to the melody of oriental music. THE small-pox has at last got among the residents of Honoluln. Yesterday a young white boy and a Native from the same part of the town, were found to have the disease A BUNCH of Koas bananas, a peculiar kind having green and white longitudinal stripes, from Mr. Paty's place, were on exhibition at Whitney & Robertson's bookstore this week. Last evening eight new cases of small-pox were reported on Kukui street, making ten in all-two whites and ten natives—amongst the residents of Honolulu, and not including Chinese. Proper on the other Islands were very late in this month, owing to the non-arrival of the Zealandia before the Island steamers left Honolulu Lasr evening a death from small-pox was reported on Nuuanu Street, between Beretania Street and Kukui place. The victim was a half-white woman named Lilia, and when found was past medical aid, dying shortly afterward.

THE rainfall for the month af January at the Ice Work in Nuuanu valley, as measured by J. K. Wilder, was 3.96 inches; at W. W. Hall's on Nuuanu avenue, 2.19 inches, and at Dr. R. McKibbin's on Beretannia street, 2.39 inches.

ONE thing the harbor of Honolulu is sadly in need of is a tug-boat-a real tug boat. There were four deep-sea vessels lying here during the continuance of the late Kona that were ready to sail, but the Pele could not tow them out. A tugboat could have taken them out without difficulty

The heavy southerly wind which prevailed last week and the first three days of this week, was the most severe and longest continued of any we have had this season. The movement of local steamers and schoolers was much interfered with, and a number of the latter due from other Islands were unable to make port. Since Wednesday morning the weather has been quite pleasant.

THE Kona which set in early last week continued until Wednesday of the present week, when most of the vessels in the harbor left, it being the first favorable opportunity for sailing. There were about twenty departures in all; four square-rigged vessels, seven consting steamers, and the remainder Island schooners. Business was very lively along the wharves all day, but the departure of so many vessels left the harbor quite bare of alipping.

At the last regular monthly meeting of Hon Inlu Royal Arch Chapter No. 1, the following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing term, viz: H. P., A. Mackintosh; King, G. West; Scribe, E. P. Adams; Captain Host, G. Williams; Principal Sojourner, D. Dayton; Royal Arch Captain, H. R. Hollister; Master Third Vail, H. McIntyre; Mas-ter Second Vail, L. Marchant; Master First Vail, E. B. Freil; Treasurer, Jno. S. Walker; Secretary, J. M. Oat, jr.; Tyler, Wm. Babcock.

FOLLOWING is the programme of the Band con ert at Emma Square this afternoon at 4 o'clock :

The next moonlight concerts will take place on Friday and Monday evenings, February 11th and 14th, at Emma Square.

THE following is the record of the proat the Police Court for the week: Mary, w. drunkenness, pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and drunkenness, pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and $1 costs. Joe Howard, same charge, was fined $5 and $1 costs. Mocpeto, k., drunkenness, forfeited $6 bail. Lee Chong, heedless driving, pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and $1 costs. D. Kalaikou, drunkenness, forfeited $5 bail. Alana, c., found to be insane and committed to Insane Asylum. John Pulua and Kawai, drunkenness, forfeited $6 bail. Geo. McGregor, drunkenness, sentenced to two months' imprisonment at hard labor, and costs taxed at $1.

The Chinese New Year holidays have come and gone. Early on Friday night of last week the celebration was commenced by the firing of fire-crackers and bombs and was continued until Monday. At night the Chinese quarter of the city was illuminated with Chinese lanterns. Their business establishments were closed until Monday, and our Celestial friends kept open houses, and many of our citizens shared their hospitality which, on this occasion, was unbounded. One fact worthy of mention is, that we did not see an intoricated Chinaman in town during their holiday season.

ANOTHER ship load of Chinamen, another im- PLANTERS' COLUMN. portation of small-pox. The Chinese steamer Meifoo after a rapid run from Canton, 195 days arrived in this port with 796 passengers amongst whom were six cases of small-pox, four in the con-valescent stage, two in the height of the disease, one of these two being a very serious case. The ship and all belonging to her were immediately quarantined, and every passenger examined. Those who were distinctly pitted with small-pox, and amongst whom there appears to be little risk of an outbreak of the disease are detained at the quarantine station on Fisherman's Point, the rest at the hospital on the reef.

partment came off on Wednesday the 3d. All of the companies turned out in full uniform and all the morning the streets were full of red and blue jackets. The engines and hose carts were tastefully decorated with flowers and flags: the steam engine of China Company No. 5, was almost concealed by dragon flags and streamers. The procession was formed on Hotel street with engine Company No. 1 in front and China Company in the rear, and led by the Band, marched to pany in the rear, and led by the Band, marched to Nuuanu and Queen streets and along the usual route. They made a very creditable appearance and the parade was witnessed by a large number of people, and during the forenoon the town wore a holiday appearance. The proceedings in the afternoon however, in the vicinity of the head-quarters of the Fire Department, were somewhat riotous, and might well have been dispensed with. Whisky drinking and "fisticuffs" do not make a coord impression, on the makie as the last age of a good impression on the public as the last act of a Owns to the absence of the President of the

The children of careful parents will be kept at home and those of careless ones will assemble within the possible reach of the infection. The former will be put at a disadvantage as to their marks of non-attenda disadvantage as to their marks of non-attendance, and the latter may be risking their lives, and those of who knows how many others. The staff of teachers will have to attend almost a vacant class-rooms, and from these and other considerations we are sorry that the school work is not temporarily suspended. This mischief is probably traceable to a white deserter from the Quinta who has been lying hidden on the district where these cases were discovered. The native woman who lived with him has the disease in a bad form. As we said before if that ship comes here again in the same hands, let her be treated with the utmost rigor of the law.

THE Chinese have celebrated their Happy New Year. They made great preparations for it. THE wind was very heavy on Wednesday, the 25th, and the steamer C. R. Bishop was obliged to return to Lihue from Koloa. She left the former place again on the 26th but was back the following morning. The wind was westerly but with very little force.

THE old wharf at Nawiliwili is gone and the new one is finished and is the best one on the Islands, which is something for Kauaians to be proud of. G. N. Wilcox deserves credit for it.

Mr. Joseph Rice, carpenter at Kealia plantation fell from a height of 48 feet while erecting a bent for a new flume, and his injuries will be probably fatal. He is paralyzed from the neck down.

Dr. Fitch is attending him, and all that can be done is being accomplished. Mr. Rice is a man that enjoys the respect of the whole community and his loss will be deeply felt. Mr. Huntley, who was with him at the time of the accident escaped by a miracle, and two other men received slight intuities.

Tue schooner Uilama, at Hanalei, dragged he anchor and stranded, but got off again, sustaining damage to her keel. The wind on that side of the Island has been very strong and the rains heavy. On Friday, the 28th, a South Sea Islander at the Hanamaulu mill got two of his fingers cut off, by getting them under a chain that drives the cane-of a large train of cars passing along very rapidly. I heard the same noise at the flow. It was the noise caused by the burning of the trees. Last night Manna Loa was more active than it has been for a month. The end of the flow was particularly bright. Kitauca has had quite an unusual number of visitors lately, who report it quite active—more so than what it has been lately.

In a previous letter I mentioned that a gen-view the following is taken: avoid the dangers arising from doing inferior work in the building line? We answer, yes! by avoiding mere pretenders as architects and builders, and trusting those important duties to none but thoroughly qualified and capable men, who understand the necessities of the case, and possess th integrity to perform the work as it should be. When owners become as anxious to find and employ good men to do their work, because they are good, as they are to find the cheapest men because they are the cheapest, better work will be the rule. But so long as fierce competition governs and controls the letting of work, and all classes are allowed to figure, and the lowest bidder accepted, defective work may be expected, for men who figure down to non-paying prices calculate to seup with earth. cure themselves in every possible way against loss; and in whatever way a dollar can be saved, it is done, with no solicitude or regret for probable condone, with no solicitude or regret for probable consequences. Let the architect see that slights or omissions are not practiced. To do this would often require incessant attention, at the sacrifice of all other engagements, for many of those who undertake contracts are wholly incompetent to execute proper work, and need an instructor constantly even if they are disposed to do the best they can. But quite as often this class of men knowingly seek to omit, hide, and corner up all that is possible, and unless the architect is as keen as it is possible for him to be, and as faithful as a house-dog, advantages will be taken of him as well as the owners. And it is demanding extraordinary and seldom sufficiently paid-for services, to carry work to completion satisfactorily in all respects, when inferior men are entrusted with contracts."

of the manure.

In order to prevent the guano being washed away by heavy rain, it must be put a few inches deep and covered with soil.

The quantity of guano to be used is from three to four cwt. per acre, or with one ton of guano five to six acres of cane can be suffi-ciently manured.

I stayed at the above-mentioned place for one week, and the day before yesterday started on foot for the flow with two other persons and two guides to cut our way through the woods, more properly named Hawaiian jungle. I never had such a hard road to travel in my life; I could not advise any one to attempt the trip at the present time. I had my pants almost

The Manuring of Sugar Cane.

We print the following communication for the benefit of our planters : It is the interest and duty of every agriculturist to restore to his land in the form of manure what he takes away by the produce he sells in the market, for otherwise his land will after a certain time get exhausted and be un-

In many colonies the very favorable climate and fertile soil have enabled planters to raise good crops without manure, but in time even these most favored countries have yielded to the above-mentioned law of nature.

Sugar cane exhausts the soil very soon, and unless the field is manured the yield decreases from year to year, until it becomes too small to pay the cost of cultivation.

Board of Education an informal meeting was where sugar cane cultivation has become such an important and well-paying industry, large quantities of manure are always used.

Very little stable dung is generally available in the colonies, and as trash, megass ashes, and other refuse collected on sugar shipped, large quantities of guano and other artificial manures have to be imported.

To remedy this, we treat the Peruvian guano with sulpharic acid and prepare our dissolved Peruvian guano of one uniform quality in fine powdery form, free from stones and lumps. This enables us to offer an improved Peruvian guano, in which by the acid the ammonia is fixed, is non-volatile, and the phosphates rendered soluble in water. For ratoons, the guano is generally put into two holes a few inches deep, six to twelve inches distant from the stumps. Where the ratoons stand on the slope of a hill the hole, as a semicircle, in which the guano is put, should be always on the higher part of the ground, so that the rootlets get the full heaville.

trip at the present time; I had my pants almost torn off. We at last, after a very hard struggle, reached the flow. It seemed to be going very slowly (pahoehoe). We heard noises like the discharge of cannon quite often. Trees were being burned and coming down with a crash and the smoke was sufficiating. At ene place we smelt very strongly coal gas. We started from Halealoha at 8 A. M., and returned at 3 P. M., very much fatigued. During the week that I remained at the abovementioned place I could hear quite often during the day and night noises as described, and the sky had the appearance of a grand conflagration. At times there was a sound like that of a large train of cars passing along very

In a previous letter I mentioned that a gentleman from here would make a second attempt to ascend Manna Loa. He left here with two native guides a week age last Monday, Jan. 17th, arriving at Halesloin the same evening. He started early on Tuesday morning to ascend Manna Loa, and followed the flow to its source. He says it was extremely hot, so that he could not look down any distance into the large crater. He thinks it was at least 75 feet in diameter. It was roaring terribly. Snow was all around them. He had a spirit lamp and melted snow to drink. They returned on Friday afternoon. Two of them were quite exhausted. We who were at Malesloha gave them a very hearty greeting on their return.

For this reason Pernyian guano has always been the favorite with sugar planters.

Formerly the raw Peruvian guano was used as it comes from the large deposits on the slands and along the coast of Peru, but in its raw state it has certain drawbacks; it contains stones and lumps not easily reduced to powder, and is very variable in its composition, which makes its application to the land diffi-cult and the results uncertain. It loses further some of its valuable ammonia by evaporation when sprend on the land, and its phosphates are not sufficiently soluble to be soon enough

Respecting the mode of applying the guano, we would give the following suggestions:

Both newly planted canes and ratoons in the stumps left from cut canes to shoot out again and for ratoons soon after the caues are cut, but always as far as possible before the rains The canes are planted in most colonies either by putting the cane tops into single holes or in very damp countries by laying cuttings flat down in rows. If cane tops are planted, the guano should be put into the holes previous to planting and be well mixed a few inches deep

If cuttings are planted, they may be first covered with some soil and then the guano put on the top of it and covered with earth. The object is that the guano should not be put in direct contact with the plant and in dissolving in the ground spread as much as pos-

The largest casting ever made in the United States was cast at the Black Diamond steel-works of Park, Brother & Co., of Pittsburg. It was a solid anvil block, eleven feet high and eight by ten wide, intended for a seventeen-ton steam-hammer, and weighed one hundred and sixty tons. Seven hours were consumed in running the metal into the mould, and it will be four months before the casting is cool enough to move. The hammer will stand thirty-four feet high, and will strike a blow of twenty tons. Its total cost was $52,000. The largest hammer at present in the United States is at Nashua, N. H., and weighs ten tons.

The thing was pooh-poohed at first, but the company is to-day operating lines between New York and Boston successfully, and its extension bids fair to revolutionize the whole business, and render competition by the present system impossible. A Colliery Explosion.

A dreadful colliery explosion occurred about two o'clock on Friday morning, the loth of December, at the Penygraig Pit in the Rhondda valley. About a hundred men were killed, five only being recovered alive. DR UG GISTS' SUNDRIES One of the latter, named Morgan, was discovered after being in the pit forty hours. The explorers were startled by hearing some one calling upon them to bring a light They then found Morgan at the bottomof a hole, from which they extricated him. As the explorers had passed over the same ground many times before, it is believed that he must have been asleep. He could give no account of the explosion. He says give no account of the explosion. He says that his lamp suddenly went out and he felt a scorehing heat, and that he afterwards spent much time in trying to grope his way towards the shaft, and finally fell into the hole in which he was discovered. Owing to the difficulty of restoring ventilation and clearing the falls there was some delay in recovering the bodies, eighty-two of which had been brought to the surface on Thursday. No explanation has yet been on Thursday. No explanation has yet been given of the cause of the disaster. Two separate inquests were opened on Monday, the colliery being in two parishes, but the two coroners will now hold a joint inquiry. Evidence was given that 102 men had lost their lives. A number of bodies have been identified, an adjournment took place. The Lord Mayor has opened a relief fund at the Mansion House. It appears that the number of persons left dependent on public charity is 271, and that the amount required to relieve them will be about £17,000. The explosion has caused great alarm in the neigh-boring collieries. The Dinas colliers have refused to resume work unless immediate measures are taken to perfect ventilation. They allege that the locality where fifty-seven dead bodies lie unrecovered since the explosion two years ago is full of gas.

The herring harvest of the Tyne last season was very fruitful. Since July upwards of 4,000 lasts, or 40,000,000 fish, weighing 6,000 tons, were landed at North Shields alone. The fishing was best during August, when 2,251 lasts, or 22,510,000 fish, weighing 3,377 tons, were brought in. Last year's take shows an increase over 1879 of quite 600 tons, representing 4,000,000, fish.

Japan's Armament.

The nation that may advance with hostile intentions against Japan a few years hence must be prepared to count the cost. In 1872 Japan established an arsenal at Tokio, Osaka and Oji on plans furnished by French artillery officers. Three years later, so well had the native workmen learned their duties, the Tokio are snal turned out 93,000 caps, 45,000 ball and blank cart-ridges, 101,000 Suider cartridges, and 20,-000 rounds of artillery ammunition. At the Osaka aresnal during the first year of its completion 200 4-pounder bronze fieldguns were finished, and 100 4-pounder mountain howitzers, besides the wood and iron work of several field-batterries, and 3,000 sets of harness and horse equip-

Nothing is more remarkable in Europe than the recent rapid increase of the armies of the leading States, and certainly nothing is more injurious to the best interests of the people at large. France, Germany and Austria have been bending every energy and employing all their available revenue in the last ten years to strengthen their military bodies. The increment of the Russian forces during the last quarter of a century is shown by a document lately published in St. Petersburg. At the beginning of 1853 the Russian army numbered 27,716 officers and 968,382 men, including reserve, local, auxiliary and Cossack troops increased and comprised, January 1st 1856, according to official reports, 31,817 officers were in the field or fit for actual service. is not even approximately known. The naturally be made from these figures in counting an effective force. In 1863, for the Cossacks, 53,422 men, with about 106,-000 on furlough. It is not likely, however, that any such force could be brought into the field. A German military writer recently proved that the revenue annually devoted to the maintenance of the Russian army would be inadequate to sustain so large a body, even if administered on the most economical principles, and nothing is so administered in Russia. There is no

Mechanical Notes

A new gun, which can fire 5,000 shots in thirteen minutes, was recently tested in Washington. The Gardner is a machine gun like the Gatling. It has two barrels made of steel eneased in brass.

Wooden vessels are declining, steamers increasing in number. Three hundred and thirty-three new steamers were last year

An "electrical stone-breaker" is the latest American invention. An electromagnetic chopper delivers from 1000 to 2000 blows per minute, the power being supplied by a dynamo-electric machine.

One wire struction of birds. Our husbandmen as a ties are in the transmitting of the message, by legal enactment. and that, too, at such a slow rate that a multiplicity of wires is needed to keep up with the business. In the rapid system the transmission is nothing; in the other, it is everything. The thing was pooh-pooled at first, but the company is to-day operating lines between New York and Boston successfully, and its extension bids fair to revolutionize the whole business, and render competition by the present system impossible.

A Colliery Explosion.

A dreadful colliery explosion occurred about two o'clock on Friday morning, the 10th of December, at the Penygraig Pit in the Rhondda valley. About a hundred men were killed, five only being recovered alive. One of the latter, named Morgan, was discovered after being in the pit forty hours. The explorers were startled by hearing some one calling upon them to bring a light. They then found Morgan at the bottomof a hole, from which they extricated him. As the explorers had passed over the same ground many times before, it is believed that he must have been asleep. He could give no account of the explosion. He says that his lamp suddenly went out and he felt a scorehing heat, and that he afterwards spent much time in trying to grope his way towards the shaft, and finally fell into the hole in which he was discovered. Owing to the difficulty of restoring ventila-tion and clearing the falls there was some delay in recovering the bodies, eighty-two of which had been brought to the surface on Thursday. No explanation has yet been given of the cause of the disaster. Two separate inquests were opened on Monday, the colliery being in two parishes, but the two coroners will now hold a joint inquiry. Evidence was given that 102 men had lost their lives. A number of bodies have been identified, an adjournment took place. The Lord Mayor has opened a relief fund at the Mansion House. It appears that the number of persons left dependent on public charity is 271, and that the amount required to relieve them will be about £17,000. The explosion has caused great alarm in the neighboring collieries. The Dinas colliers have refused to resume work unless immediate measures are taken to perfect ventilation.

They allege that the locality where fiftyseven dead bodies lie unrecovered since the explosion two years ago is full of gas.

The herring harvest of the Tyne last season was very fruitful. Since July upwards of 4,000 lasts, or 40,000,000 fish, weighing 6,000 tons, were landed at North Shields alone. The fishing was best during August, when 2,251 lasts, or 22,510,000 fish, weighing 3,377 tons, were brought in. Last year's take shows an increase over 1879 of quite 600 tons, representing 4,000,000, fish.

Japan's Armament.

The nation that may advance with hostile intentions against Japan a few years hence must be prepared to count the cost. In 1872 Japan established an arsenal at Tokio. Osaka and Oji on plans farnished by French artillery officers. Three years later, so well had the native workmen learned their duties, the Tokio aresnal turned out 93,000 caps, 45,000 ball and blank cart-ridges, 101,000 Suider cartridges, and 20,-000 rounds of artillery ammunition. At the Osaka are snal during the first year of its completion 200 4-pounder bronze fieldguns were finished, and 100 4-pounder mountain howitzers, besides the wood and iron work of several field-batterries, and 3,000 sets of harness and horse equip-
