

RUEF'S ATTORNEY HAS BEEN INDICTED

"WE MAY NOT COME BACK," SAYS ADMIRAL

"We may not come back" were almost the last words spoken by Rear Admiral William T. Swinburne, in command of the Pacific fleet, when he left this city a little while before the flagship West Virginia moved to take up her position as head of the line of cruisers and destroyers going to Samoa.

When the fleet was to have sailed from this port for Samoa, at the hour appointed, the flagship flashed wireless advices to the rest of the fleet to the effect that sailing would be delayed two hours and, as stated in The Star at the time, the Admiral was busy with a special report to Washington from here and with cable correspondence.

What is believed to be the further fact is that the fleet sailed from Honolulu under sealed orders, orders dependent upon events.

Soon after the sailing of the fleet came the cable orders for holding the coilers here, to load them and hold them ready for further orders. The Justin had sailed when these orders arrived and the Saturn was about to sail. She was rushed with a load and now waits alongside the wharf, deep down with the Navy's best steaming fuel, coal which came all the way from the Atlantic coast.

Admiral Swinburne's remark, quoted above, was in line with many similar ones.

U. S. GUNBOAT IS SEEKING S. S. AEON

SAILORS ARRIVE HERE IN MARAMA FROM U. S. S. ANNAPOLIS, AND REPORT NAVAL OFFICERS OPINION THAT BRITISH STEAMSHIP IS LOST—TO SYDNEY ISLAND IN SEARCH OF VESSEL WHICH HAS MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED—STILL HUNTING.

United States gunboat Annapolis, July 6 for Auckland and Sydney via Pago Pago, and which has not since been heard of.

The arrivals from the Annapolis, stated that it was the opinion of the officers and men of the Annapolis that the Aeon had been lost, although the gunboat is still pursuing the search.

Captain John F. Parker, commanding the Annapolis, is also governor of American Samoa. The Annapolis carries six-gun and is the American station ship at Tutuila. She has called here several times.

The French bark Sainte Anne which this morning arrived from Newcastle, after a voyage of sixty-seven days, reports no sign of the missing British steamship.

HOW THE POT BOILS

The majority situation was changed today only by the bringing forward of the name of J. M. Dowsett for mayor, with the idea of breaking up the fight of the other three aspirants. Otherwise the three are still in the ring and all expressing confidence.

"I figure that I shall be nominated on the first ballot, with 25 votes or so to spare," said Lucas this morning, with every sign of sincerity. He was told that the convention seemed to be rather big, judging by the number of promises out, and replied with a characteristic Lucas wink, and a remark that the fight would be settled very soon after the convention was called to order, by his nomination on the first ballot.

Charles Hustace, Jr., has a very similar idea as to his own candidacy. "I am not talking," he said. "But the situation looks all right to me. I will lay back now and see."

Lane has not got the big accession of strength expected from the sudden Kuhio coup, but he has unquestionably got enough pledged votes to make him an important factor. His nomination on the first ballot is only claimed by a few of his workers, but it seems likely to most observers that he will be in a position to take advantage of a deadlock and win out on a second or third ballot. If Dowsett is

STOLEN FOR SEA

Captain W. A. Christianson of the American barkentine irmgard which recently reached San Francisco from Honolulu, writes to his agents here, F. A. Schaefer & Co., under date of September 7, to the effect that he had a stowaway leaving Honolulu.

The young stowaway gave his name to Captain Christianson as Samuel Dawe, 19 years of age, and declared that three years ago he was kidnapped from his home in Vancouver, British Columbia, and that never before has he had a chance to get on his way home.

Captain Christianson says: "I had a stowaway leaving Honolulu and did not find him until I was about three hours out, so I put him to work. I believe his name is Samuel Dawe. He was a young fellow about 19 years old and had been gone from home for 3 years; his folks live in Vancouver, B. C. He ran away from the British bark Carnadale. When I arrived here I had to hold him, as he was a British subject. I wrote to his father at Vancouver and he sent money to me for the boy's passage home. Last Saturday I sent him home and got him clear with the immigration people, so we are under no penalty. The boy stayed on board and kept night watch without pay. It seems that the boy had been kidnapped from Vancouver three years ago and has been unable to get home ever since."

GOMPERS TRIES TO SWING LABOR VOTE

SAMUEL GOMPERS, LABOR LEADER, IN POLITICS.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who has stirred the political and industrial world to the depths by endorsing Bryan and trying to throw the organized labor vote to the Democratic candidates, was born in England and was a cigar maker by trade. For many years, however, he has been internationally famous as a labor organizer. As head of the American Federation of Labor he is the executive representative of more men than any other man on earth. Mr. Gompers has for years been urging workmen to get into politics as a class. This campaign, however, is the first attempt by Gompers to put his idea into practice on a national scale. Gompers has tried to swing the labor vote to Bryan and the result is a spit in the Federation of Labor.

ELECTRIC CARS TO PEARL HARBOR

THE RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY IS NOW RUSHING A SURVEY OF THE ROUTE—IT WILL GIVE DIRECT COMMUNICATION WITH FORT SHAFTER AND THEN CROSS COUNTRY TO REACH THE GREAT NAVAL STATION.

The Rapid Transit Company is preparing for an extension of its lines to Pearl Harbor, as was exclusively reported in The Star several weeks ago. While the actual proposition of building has not yet been determined by the board of directors, the company has a force of surveyors at work on the matter, settling grades and deciding on the best route to take to reach the site of the future Naval Station.

When asked for a statement this morning L. Tenney Peck, the president of the Rapid Transit Company, stated that it was true that surveyors were at work on the proposed line to Pearl Harbor. He also stated that nothing definite had yet been decided in regard to building, or to where the line would be located. He said that a report was expected in about ten days, which would set forth the cost of the line, the best route to be taken and full information upon which definite action could be based. The work being done was merely in order to be ready should the extension be decided on.

As a matter of fact it seems very evident that the Rapid Transit will build to Pearl Harbor immediately, that is as soon as the necessary material can be brought to this city and the work completed. It will be remembered that the bids for the work at Pearl Harbor will be opened December 1, which is only two months and a half away, and that actual construction will be commenced shortly after the first of the year. With everything favorable it is doubtful if the Rapid Transit could construct a line to Pearl Harbor by that time.

The haste with which the survey work is being carried on is noticeable.

MR. LOOMIS ADDRESSES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

HE WARNS HAWAII OF POSSIBLE COMPETITION IN SUGAR FROM COUNTRIES OF CARIBBEAN SEA AND STRONGLY URGES DIVERSIFIED INDUSTRIES—ADVOCATES ABOLITION OF CUSTOMS DUTIES FOR HAWAII—MAGNIFIES TOURIST BUSINESS.

Hon. Frank B. Loomis, United States Commissioner to Japan in connection with the Tokyo Exposition, gave a talk full of meat before the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon.

There were present C. M. Cooke, Mr. Loftus, F. M. Swanzy, A. Gattley, L. Tenney Peck, J. A. McCandless, T. J. King, C. H. Atherton, Norman Watkins, Geo. B. McClellan, F. B. McStocker, Owen Williams, W. L. Hopper, R. J. Buchly, W. Protenbauer, E. A. Berndt, Edward C. Brown, W. C. Weedon, W. Lanz, A. W. T. Bottomley, M. Sheba, L. H. Petrie, Secretary H. P. Wood and Mr. O'Loughlin, secretary to Mr. Loomis.

Mr. Swanzy, in the absence of the president and vice president, was voted into the chair. Having had the usual routine business deferred until next meeting on motion suggested by him, the chairman introduced the distinguished visitor as one to hear whom was a rare opportunity for the members of the Chamber. Mr. Loomis was Assistant Secretary of State under Secretaries Hay and Root.

Mr. Loomis on rising expressed his great pleasure at meeting with the Chamber of Commerce. He said Mr. Wood had asked him to address them before he had been in the city two hours, and he was glad to meet with the representative business men of so vigorous, alert and wide-awake a community. He had been a great deal in the tropics—in South America, the West Indies and the Orient—but he found Hawaii exceptional. There was none of the languor of the tropics here, where the climate was as vital as that of England.

The first thing he should talk about was the International Exposition at Tokyo. The Japanese Government had made a preliminary appropriation of five or six million dollars for it, with the intention ultimately of increasing it to twelve or fifteen millions. It was designed to make it monumental as the first international exposition in the Orient. The event appealed strongly to President Roosevelt, Mr. Root and Mr. Taft. They see that it is quite necessary, if we are going to exhibit there, we should do it in an effective manner, making it a great object lesson of the commercial resources of the United States. Not only should this be done for the sake of trade with Japan, but they would meet buyers from all the great ports and marts of the Orient.

This exposition had been postponed but when the time came they were going to make a very vigorous appeal to the people of Hawaii to make a large showing there. They have had a unique position in having been so long an independent state. Nobody would expect anything from Indian Territory, New Mexico, Arizona or Alaska to make such an impression as these islands. They were expecting to see in the future a great many developments in Pacific commerce which would inure to their benefit. The opening of the Panama canal would do them more good than it would almost any other country. As once all roads led to Rome, so here was the meeting place of the Pacific.

Two or three things would have to be done before Hawaii could obtain all the benefits of its destiny. They should diversify their agriculture. They would have to develop something in the nature of a free port. It seemed to him that nothing could do more for these islands than a free port.

With the opening of the canal this would be a great port of call. If they expected ships to call here for supplies they would have to furnish the supplies cheaply. If they wished this port to enjoy the position that Hong-kong or the Danish West Indies used to enjoy they must make things attractive.

Mr. Loomis next discussed the tourist business. It was not merely those who would spend money here for a short time, but out of the number coming there would always be a few who would stay, to make investments of their money and thereby increase local productivity. He instanced the great prosperity of Los Angeles with its $17,000,000 in the banks as an example of the value of cultivating tourist travel. There was nothing more attractive to tourists than free ports with the absence of annoyance about baggage.

There would have to be a serious tatemt made here to diversify their agricultural products. The time might come when there would be competition in sugar from Cuba, San Domingo and Hayti. Their neighborhood to the Panama canal would, the speaker thought, inevitably lead to bringing all the countries in the Caribbean Sea under the dominion of the American flag.

With regard to coffee the great thing was to establish their market and then they would find no great difficulty in getting their price. Most of the superior coffee grown in Jamaica went to Europe. The United States had shown a vitiated taste for coffee, preferring an adulterated article to the genuine. It was the same way with the olive oil of California, the people would persist in using cottonseed oil instead. Providing the soil was adapted to it, the cacao bean should be cultivated here. The demand exceeded the supply. If conditions were favorable he thought there was nothing better to go into.

In San Francisco his attention was many times called to the fact that a very strong delegation of men representing the financial and commercial bodies of the Pacific Coast was about to proceed to Japan. They told him they expected some representation from Honolulu. His advice to his hearers was that when they sent men on commercial expeditions let the men take an active and salient part in all the proceedings. This was the age of publicity and if they did not advertise their resources others would get ahead of them.

Mr. Loomis sat down amidst applause. Mr. Swanzy asked what was meant by a free port.

Mr. Loomis answered lower duties or no duties. It would be a new idea and likely provoke opposition as appearing to be in antagonism to the policy of protection.

Mr. Swanzy observed that this idea of a free port had never occurred to anybody. It had been hardly within the range of practical politics. The idea was very important. Diversified industries, he went on to say, had attracted a good deal of attention. Disadvantages were known to people here a long time which were unknown to others. They were experimenting and doing their best to increase the number of diversified industries. Tourists had received considerable attention from the Promotion Committee. But, as Mr. Loomis might know, we were 2100 miles from the mainland and opportunities to go to and from the mainland in good steamers were few and far between. Coffee had experienced a checkered career. One time it was thought coffee would rival sugar, but the bottom had dropped out of things. Not every part of the country was suitable for coffee. Mr. Swanzy told of the disastrous attempt to make Oahu a coffee region, later explaining to Mr. Loomis that the place was too moist to mature the berry.

Mr. McStocker, who has stated in answer to a question that the Hawaiian production of coffee now amounted to 40,000 sacks a year and constituted 10 per cent of the imports at San Francisco and less than 1 per cent of the mainland importations of coffee, now gave some further information on the subject. The output from Kona this year would be about 30,000 sacks. Mr. Swanzy said there had been no experiments of any consequence with cacao. He himself had made an attempt to grow some from Samoan seed, but was unsuccessful in making them even germinate.

Mr. Atherton moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Loomis and, in putting the question as a matter of form, Mr. Swanzy assured Mr. Loomis that on his return anything in the nature of information or amusement which he desired would be heartily accorded to him by the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Loomis responded that on his return he might have something of importance to make known to them.

SAVED FROM DEATH.

SAN BERNARDINO, September 3.—Archie L. Banks, a prominent resident of Philadelphia, who is passing some time in the mountains near here with a party of tourists, was saved from instant death by William Rogers of New York in a most remarkable manner. A party of four—James Archer of London, William Rogers and Robert Shea of New York and Banks—were riding on one of the slopes of the San Bernardino range. Banks was a little in advance of his companions, and his horse was going at a lively canter when suddenly, on the edge of a deep descent, a bowler gave way. The horse slipped and threw his rider. Banks rolled down the embankment toward a precipice. At the very brink he grasped a small brush. This was about to give way under the strain when there was a swish of a lasso and the imperiled man found himself encircled by a rope thrown with unerring aim by Rogers.

In a few moments he was drawn up to safety. With the exception of a few bruises and a severe nervous shock he was uninjured.

AWFUL SURPRISE.

RENO, (Nev.), September 3.—Raising a bucket of water from the old Orr ditch, that runs through the heart of Reno's fashionable residence district, Mrs. W. G. Alexander, wife of a local contractor, was horrified today to find the head of a drowned man come to the surface. Mrs. Alexander promptly fainted as the emaciated features showed above the water and neighbors, hearing her cry, rushed to the bank of the ditch to rescue the corpse.

Mrs. Alexander did not notice when she placed the bucket in the water that the body was floating down stream. At the coroner's inquest the identity of the drowned man was not ascertained.

GEORGE F. HENSHALLMANAGER

THURSDAY.....SEPTEMBER 17, 1908

The schools are much overcrowded. Banzai.

Some of those who do a lot of talking about yellow dogs would be perfectly satisfied with obedient yellow dogs.

After all, Republican success seems to be expected locally. Observe the fight in the Republican ranks to get nominations and in the Democratic ranks to dodge them.

That free port suggestion might work both ways. Hawaii wants a protective tariff. Would it be just the right thing to ask Congress to give us protection and deny Mainland Americans protection here?

There seems to be some prospect that the three aspirants for the Republican nomination for mayor will "do each other up" too successfully. The convention may paraphrase Shakespeare and say "a plague on all your houses."

Some people rubbed their eyes this morning when they learned that the Advertiser has discovered that Eli Crawford is all right. Remembering various utterances since the days of eggs on wool in the Fifth, they pinched themselves and then verified the reading.

The Star thinks A. P. Taylor would make a good sheriff. He has the added value that comes from experience and tried ability and if he gets the Republican nomination should be elected. There has been absolutely no response from either the Advertiser or the Civic Federation to the call for reasons why the other Republican candidate, Wise, is not all right too, so unless they prefer to do their criticizing after the nominations are made, it is only right to assume that they have no considerable reasons.

The Star's correspondence from Hilo today indicates that Chairman Atkinson, of the Republican Central Committee, will find a good deal of work to be done to save that island to the party. But the situation is by no means hopeless. The fight will be a three-cornered one. Having tried fusion with Home Rule and found that for them it means the sort of fusion Jonah experienced when the whale swallowed him, the Democrats are determined to run alone. Add to their strength the disgust aroused among the people of the islands by the bad record of the present Hawaii Board of Supervisors, and Republican chances would seem to be good.

NAVAL MEN'S SPECULATION.

Those who have associated with American naval men find among them a general opinion that neither the Atlantic nor the Pacific fleet will return to the other side, in spite of present orders. The story in both fleets is of negotiations pending for a treaty with Japan, which must be completed before Admiral Sperry leaves Pacific waters to continue his circumnavigation of the globe. According to the fleet story, which from the inevitable discussions of eventualities is going the rounds to a considerable degree, President Roosevelt's policy is to secure the necessary treaty while he has power in the Pacific. In line with all this are the reports that the fleet which has just left here departed under sealed orders; that neither fleet will go back; that a lot of troops are soon to be rushed to Hawaii so that within a month or so we may see big camps on Oahu, etc. All these rumors, which drift through the wardrooms of the navy, come from men who have been at sea and out of touch with events for a long time. They may be taken for what they are worth, as opinions having their birth at the time when the Atlantic fleet started, when the war scare was at its height. Since then the developments have been all in the direction of peace.

A FREE PORT.

Mr. Loomis has given a new meaning to the term, "a free port," from everything that has ever been understood here before in that connection. It is long since a free port, of another meaning, has been advocated for Honolulu. This was to afford free anchorage, free wharfage, free pilotage and free water to all ships entering and leaving this port. Such a free port was agitated for, in the press, more than a score of years ago by the late Robert J. Creighton, and since at various times by other local editors. Such a free port is within the range of practical politics. The advantages it should promise to the prosperity of Honolulu are enormous, while the objection to it—which no doubt has heretofore prevented its receiving official or political consideration—is solely that of the sacrifice of revenue. In present circumstances it is a serious question if such a sacrifice could safely be made, as well as doubtful if the advantages to be reaped would compensate for its making. With the present scale of expenditure in Territorial and county government, with the public schools crying out loudly for increased accommodations and more teachers, with a demand for Territorial built tourist and settlement roads, the curtailment of sources of revenue is something that nobody can be bold enough to propose. With regard to the other branch of the subject, too, it is doubtful if the abolition of all port charges on shipping would attract any additional shipping, steam or sail, to Honolulu to that which now frequents the port.

Yet with the opening of the Panama canal, an event to which all eyes are expectantly directed as likely to revolutionize for the better, our always favorable position in the Pacific, the case will be different. As a calling and warehousing port it is impossible to forecast just what degree of competition Honolulu will have, after the canal opening, from the ports of Southern California and even San Francisco. They have long since been making their calculations in that regard. By making Honolulu a free port, in the sense here considered, its competitive position with other ports would be immensely strengthened when the canal era has made its advent. There would in any case, unless all the predictions fail, be such an increase of prosperity to Hawaii from the ocean traffic coming to all our ports as to make the amount of revenue now received from port charges appear trifling. Of course there would still be a sacrifice of the prospective increase of

(From the Washington Correspondent of The Hawaiian Star.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 1.—Now that a revision of the tariff is assured, senators and representatives who will have a voice in the next Congress are beginning to study the present tariff, as it affects their respective states, and from time to time, views will be expressed as to what should be done by way of readjustment.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota is early in the field with a demand for the absolute removal of duty from lumber, coal and iron. "The people of the Northwest," said the senator, "are generally of the opinion that if the American market could be opened to the Canadian lumber and coal, there would be a material reduction in the price of these commodities."

Senator McCumber announced that he would vote and work to secure the removal of the duty on lumber and coal. As for the duty on lumber, he thought that could be removed with little difficulty; in fact he said that the American lumbermen, in his opinion, were about ready to concede that this duty should be removed.

The importance of the remarks of the North Dakota Senator arises from the fact that his view of the lumber tariff is probably the same as that of a majority of the Republicans in both branches of Congress. It foreshadows a very determined effort on the part of non-lumber-producing states to grant foreign lumber free access to American markets, and particularly the lumber of Canada.

"I believe that the time has now come to revise the tariff." This statement, coming from Representative Payne of New York, chairman of the House committee on Ways and Means—the man who will have charge of tariff legislation in the next Congress—is not only important but significant. It did not require assurance from Mr. Payne to make it certain the tariff would be revised next summer, but the fact that Payne, one of the ranker stand-patters in Congress, has been converted indicates that public sentiment has at last made itself felt through the thick hide of that coterie of Republicans who have long opposed any change in the Dingley rates.

Payne is converted, Dalzell, his lieutenant, is converted, and even Speaker Cannon has uttered sentiments similar to those of the chairman of the Ways and Means committee. With these stand-pat leaders actually advocating revision of the tariff, there will be few men in the next House to rise up and object. These men control the machinery of the House that has heretofore stifled the demand of a large part of the members; now they declare there will be no stifling. So the last obstacle has been removed. A tariff bill will be duly framed, reported, discussed and passed when the House meets in revenue from this source, but to waive a prospect is not so severe an operation as to cut off a reality. There would be compensation practicable in the situation considered which in present circumstances is beyond reach.

To make Honolulu a free trade port, in the face of a national protective policy, is altogether another question. It is both a novel and a startling proposition, and one which ought to be approached by our business people with extreme caution. We might find it highly advisable to have as few two-edged swords in our armory as possible.

"WE MAY NOT COME BACK,"
SAYS ADMIRAL

lar remarks made by officers and men of the cruisers and destroyers before they left. The fleet does not know if it will return and the principal immediate idea is for the fleet to be in readiness in strategic position as regards
Hawaii, the Philippines, the Atlantic fleet and Japan.

The Saturn, in the event of the fleet
being ordered from Samoa elsewhere than to return to Honolulu, will be dispatched to join or intercept the fleet. Collier Iris at Cavite is in readiness also and the Justin may be returned to Honolulu from San Francisco, loaded, very soon, preceding the cruiser Colorado which is expected here in a couple of weeks. Colliers Nanshan and Pompey are in Philippine waters. Collier Ajax, at last reports, was in Samoa.

The American Atlantic fleet of sixteen battleships and a number of auxiliary leaves Albany, Australia, today, bound for Manila where the warships are due on October 1. They are supposed to leave Manila on October 10 and to arrive at Yokohama on October 17, when the Pacific fleet, according to present schedule, is supposed to be back here. But the Pacific fleet, as the follow-up of the Atlantic fleet, is in position to reinforce or act
as reserve to the Atlantic fleet at a short interval if orders from Samoa are such as to render the move advisable.

In the meanwhile there are the Colorado, Charleston, Milwaukee and St.
Louis on the American coast.

The Pacific is chess-boarded very prettily and in the event of trouble
the American ships of war are effecting an interesting bottle-up in the Far East.

Not that there is any prospect of trouble, but the United States Navy
is in a position to strike the first blow, if desirable, rather than suffer the first stroke as was the case with Russia
in the last big Far Eastern misunderstanding.

Those recognizing the significance of the great drill of ships going on in this ocean, declare that it is a supreme move of "reinforced diplomacy,"
that the unfavorable financial condition of a possible though perhaps not probable foe renders the American display of force an argument for the favorable settlement of pending international questions.

In regard to land forces in Hawaii,
the recent report of the possible sending to Oahu an army of twenty thousand men may be the forecast of an immediate installment, and the arrival here of a transport about October 13, a few days before the scheduled approach to Japan of the Atlantic fleet and about the time of the proposed return to Honolulu of the Pacific fleet, may also mean the arrival here of the first detachment of armed land forces which will in a reasonable time swell
to the thousands referred to.

Manchurian affairs are said to figure largely in the present show of naval force not only on the part of the Americans in the Pacific but on the part of the British in European waters, the British watching Russia while America is alert in the matter of any possible unfriendly move toward the Philippines or Hawaii.

There are nearly ninety vessels of the U. S. Navy in the Pacific today and half are dependable fighters—battleships, armored and protected cruisers, torpedo boats and torpedo-boat destroyers, while the rest are scouts, gunboats, supplyships, tenders, coilers, tugs, etc.

leiwa attracts people who ride in auto-ter the comforts in a culinary way. The lent in every way.

put into the game, this hope may be defeated, for after pledges have been redeemed by first votes for the principal rivals, Dowsett would accumulate votes very quickly.

The first precinct of the 4th district
held an interesting caucus last night,
at which the majority fight was half
taken up—somewhat as a hot potato is supposed to be taken up—and dropped. Prince Kuhio showed emphatically his support of Lane, and proposed an endorsement of Lane. But there were immediate responses in the form of proposals to endorse Husted, and then Lucas. Seeing a fight in prospect, the members of the caucus decided to drop the matter altogether.

The first endorsed J. H. Boyd for the Senate. Wise for sheriff, Daniel Logan for supervisor by unanimous votes. It was also decided to support E. A. Douthitt for the House, if he consented to run.

THE SCHOOLS
IN TROUBLE

GREAT INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE IS A PROBLEM CAUSING MUCH

WORRY TO SUPERINTENDENT BABBITT AND THE BOARD OF

EDUCATION—JAPANESE INCREASE THE PRINCIPAL CAUSE AS IT

WAS LAST YEAR.

A meeting of the principals of all the local public schools will be held tomorrow afternoon to consider the best means of handling the children who have been unable to find accommodations in the local schools. The situation is a very serious one and is causing Superintendent Babbitt a good deal of worry. The Normal school is a good instance of the manner in which children looking for education have been turned away.

In the final courses at the Normal school 130 children have been enrolled this year, as compared with 85 a year ago. In the preparatory classes there are 59 where there were but 34 last year. In the lower grades there are about 275 children and 125 were turned away on account of the fact that there was no room for them.

Now that the trouble has come up in a manner which has called for general attention both from the Territorial officials and from the public, it is interesting to note the cause. There is only one reason for the tremendous increase, which is keeping so many children from having their regular place in the public schools and that is the great increase in Japanese who are attending school.

The report of Superintendent Babbitt to Governor Frear shows that this was in the past year and it will, without doubt be shown up still more strongly when the figures for the present year are available. In 1907 the percentage of Japanese in the public schools was 27.06 of the total of all nationalities. That is there were 5025 Japanese school children attending the public educational institutions in the Territory out of a total of all nationalities of 18,564. These figures show the relative numbers but not the increase.

When it comes to increase the figures are even more startling. Fifty-two and ninety five hundredths per cent of the total increase of children in 1907 over the attendance of the previous year is credited to the Japanese race.
The Chinese come next with 20.67 per cent. It is certain that the figures increased.

FINE CLUB AT BEACH

Honolulu, Sept. 16, 1908.

EDITOR STAR:—Great things are suggested and talked of in regard to the expansion of the Outrigger Club;
and which are expected to materialize
in the near future. This is nothing less than to have a club house, that shall be to the beach what the Country Club is to the country. But in this scheme the club house at the beach will surpass the other in having one of the largest and finest dancing and social halls in the city. And having a bath house and bathing facilities equal to any place at the beach. This club house is to be surrounded with cottages
for the use of the members who wish to sojourn there for a few months or all the time if they choose. It will also be surrounded with trees, flowers, lawns and every thing that will make it attractive and beautiful—in a word

an ideal place for residence, for pleasure and enjoyment. It is proposed to make this place the center of festivities and the social life of the city. And to give dances, socials, and dinner parties and other entertainments galore. And the best thing about this proposition, is the fact that such a place, with all the buildings and requirements is already there, and it's said can be got for this purpose.

GEORGE OSBORNE.

THE BRECKONS CHARGES DESCRIBED

The following appears in the San Francisco Chronicle of September 6:

HONOLULU, August 27—The charges

which have been filed with the Department of Justice at Washington against United States District Attorney A. W.
Breckons cover a wide scope. They are directed both against his personal and his official character. While they do not charge specific instances of graft
except in one or two minor matters,
they urge that in view of many circumstances that, unexplained, look suspicious, there ought to be an investigation.

Specifically it is alleged that in his official character he has encouraged violations of the anti-prize-fight law, saying to those who were getting up certain contests or were to be participants, when efforts were made to prevent the fight, for them to go ahead,
as he was "Uncle Sam in this Territory."

The whole course of his personal and official relations with the Orientals, Japanese, Chinese and Koreans, is charged to be such as to have brought the administration of Federal law into discredit. His leisure, it is charged, is largely spent among the Japanese and the Chinese at their social festivities, and where the entertainment is of doubtful character, though no accusation is made against the upright

ness of his family and marital relations.

It is charged that in the enforcement of the Edmunds act he has shown partiality, using prosecutions with bitterness against some and not prosecuting others.

The active agent in filing the charges against Breckons is Rev. E. W. Thwing, pastor of a Chinese church, and active in the reforms undertaken by the Ministerial Union and the Civic Federation.
He was active in seeking to prevent certain pugilistic contests some months ago. These were advertised as prize-fights, until efforts to prevent them began to be made, and admission was charged and the fights were for a purse. Breckons refused to make any efforts to stop these, and it is alleged, assured those interested that they would not be prosecuted under the Federal law. This seems to have been the start of Rev. E. W. Thwing's active campaign against Breckons.

Breckons came here from Wyoming.
He succeeded John C. Baird, who also came here from Wyoming. He was reappointed a few months ago for a second term.

All the nations in the world who are gested for a site and seemed to meet with the approval of the promoters.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL RULES SHOW CHANGES

Football will again be in the glare of the sporting spotlight. Several changes have been made by the football rules. Points affected by the alterations are the forward pass, penalty for holding and roughness, time to be taken out and the intermission between halves.

But the changes are not such as to make a great deal of difference. They are slight, but in some cases may, nevertheless, be important factors in the winning or losing of games. One of the new clauses in the forward pass rule provides that when the forward pass is legally touched only the man of the passer's side who thus first legally touches it shall be entitled to touch or recover the ball until it has been touched by an opponent. A ball thus illegally touched or recovered shall go to the opponents at the spot where the foul occurred. However, any player of the side that did not make the forward pass has full right to touch and attempt to secure possession of the ball.

Furthermore, when the ball has been legally passed forward and has been legally touched by any player of the side not making the pass before it strikes the ground any player on either side may touch or attempt to secure possession of the oval. While the ball is in the air during a forward pass players of the defensive side may not use their hands or arms on opponents except to push them out of the way in order to secure the ball themselves. Players of the side making the pass, and who are eligible to receive it, may use the hands or arms as in case of players going down the field under a kick. Neither side may, however, hold or tackle an opponent who has not the ball.

In the penalty for handling and roughness a change has been made providing for a loss of fifteen yards, but the point to be gained and the number of downs to remain unchanged. The intermission between the halves has been changed from ten to fifteen minutes and a penalty provided in case of a team's failure to appear within a stipulated time. The ball on a forward pass or kick, except a try at goal, in striking the uprights or crossbar, shall be considered as having crossed the goal line, while in case of the ball accidentally striking an official the play shall be gone through again.

WHEN JEFF BET AGAINST HIMSELF

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1.—It is not generally known that when I entered the ring to fight Bob Fitzsimmons the first time I had $5,000 wagered that Fitz would defeat me. Then I went in and licked him.

I honestly thought that Bob would defeat me, and figured that I could afford to bet on him, as, should I win, I could easily make up that amount, and if he defeated me I would have enough for my expenses in addition to the purse.

I had not had the experience in the ring that Fitz had and thought that on account of this he might take my measure. I could almost see myself crawling from the ring a defeated man.

When we entered the ring Fitz was the picture of confidence, and I sat in my corner and it kept running through my mind that here is where Jeff gets his. But at that I determined to do my best, and if Fitz won he would have to go some to do it.

After the first six rounds I was sure that I could win, and the little bet I had made on Fitz did not keep me from going after him. In the eleventh round I got him, and when I saw Fitz lying on the floor and heard the crowd cheering me, I was the most surprised person in the city, as I did not think that I could win in such a short time and via the knockout route.

MODERNITY'S TRIUMPH.

Papa was about to apply the strap. "Father," said Willie, firmly, "unless that instrument has been properly sterilized I desire to protest."

This gave the old man pause. "Moreover," continued Willie, "the germs that might be released by the violent impact of leather upon a porous textile fabric but lately exposed to the dust of the streets would be apt to affect you deleteriously."

As the strap fell from a neverless hand, Willie smiled. — Philadelphia Ledger.

SANTA CLARAS SAY GOOD OF HONOLULU

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—The Santa Clara College baseball club returned from Honolulu on the Alameda Tuesday. The trip was very successful. Santa Clara played eighteen games on the islands and won all but a couple. They brought back the championship of the islands as well as the recollections of a royal time.

"We had the time of our lives," stated Manager McKenzie this morning. "California think they are a hospitable people, and they are, but they have nothing on the Hawaiians when it comes to giving strangers good times. Our players made a lot of friends and they hated to break away. Our trip was not a money-making proposition. We merely got our expenses paid. That was all, but we had lots of sport, which amply repaid us."

"I think Reach's All-Americans will do a good business. Interest in baseball is at white heat. People turn out fine to the games. The team that Mike Fisher took down last winter made a hit. We heard much talk about them."

TAMING THE MISSISSIPPI.

Perhaps there is no fact regarding the attempts to make a tame and navigable stream of the Mississippi more interesting than the one that contractors and boomers demand that the river itself be controlled, at a least possible cost of $200,000,000. Between New Orleans and Cape Girardeau there are hundreds of miles of caving banks and rolling waves of sand to be matted and jetted, in order to secure a permanent depth of fourteen feet through the channel's course. A canal dug down the river lowlands would reduce the distance from over 1000 miles to less than 600 miles. The cost of dredging a canal down the bottoms, putting in the twenty-five or thirty necessary locks and right of way, would amount all told to less than $75,000,000. The canal would, at one stroke, solve the question of draining the St. Francis and Texas bottoms. It would reduce the cost of maintaining a permanent depth of 14 feet navigable channel from $10,000,000 a year to less than $1,500,000, and it would cut the time required to secure a fourteen-foot channel from an uncertain number of years to two or three years.

The fact that the Mississippi valley demands the taming of the Mississippi itself can be traced to the river's own lawless challenge flaunted in the face of humanity time out of mind. The people of the Mississippi valley are at heart not so anxious for a deep-water way and for sight of ocean-going steamers at the wharves of St. Louis, Vicksburg, Memphis, and other river towns, as they are for sight of the river humbled and humiliated and in shackles.—R. Mrs. Sallie French, of Paucaunla, Ind. Ter., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had female troubles for seven years—was all run-down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different troubles but did me no good. While in this condition I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am now strong and well."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat your letter in confidence and advise you free. No woman ever regretted writing her, and because of her vast experience she has helped thousands. Address, Lynn, Mass.

ABOUT MANGOES

DONALD MCINTYRE DESCRIBES THE QUALITIES OF NEW VARIETIES BROUGHT HERE.

The very best varieties of the Philippine mango do not compare in quality with the Indian mango which has already been introduced to Hawaii for several years, is the statement made by Donald McIntyre, who recently made the trip to Manila and brought back over one hundred young mango trees for Mr. S. M. Damon. The plants which were brought over by Mr. McIntyre have grown well without exception, and not one has been lost.

Of these there are two varieties, which come from six different provinces. In all the Philippines there are but three kinds of mango. The first and best of these is the Carabua and the next the Pico. The latter mango has not so much flesh and is not as well flavored as the Carabua, while the third variety, the Pahutan, is so poor that Mr. McIntyre did not bother to bring any plants with him. It has a big stone and very little flesh and is hardly as good as the ordinary local fruit. Its only good quality is that it has a very late season.

In speaking of mangoes yesterday Mr. McIntyre said:

"The best mango that we have at Moanalua is the Piri, an Indian mango which has been grafted on native stock. We have had fine fruit from this variety and it is better than any mango that I saw in the Philippines. It does not grow quite as large as the Carabua, which is by far the best of the Philippine mangoes, but has a firm hard flesh, somewhat like an apple in texture and without a bit of fibre.

"In India they consider the Alfonso the best of their mangoes, but though we have it here it is not as good as the Piri. The Mazgon is another mango from India which is very good and only a little behind the Piri. All these are grafted on native stock and Mr. Damon has given away quite a number of cuttings to his friends in various parts of the islands. In the Philippines, where they have but three varieties, I got plants from the following provinces, Gapan, Bulacan, Balewag, Santa Maria, Cavite and Imos. There the varieties come true when raised from seed, which is sometimes the case here but by no means always. The Carabua is a fine mango, but it has not the snap in its flavor which is found in the mango we have from India.

"We have recently been trying some new varieties of alligator pears, the cuttings which we have used for grafting coming from Florida. We expect very good results. There are no pearls to speak of in the Philippines, the only ones that I could find being from plants that I sent over a few years ago. The pear is not native to the islands."

The lack of enterprise among the local banana growers is well shown at Moanalua. Here bunches of bananas, which would be considered perfect in any market, are being grown, while the average fruit that is shipped from this city is dwarfed in comparison. The single fruits are very large and perfect in shape and flavor, while the bunches are three times the size of those which are shipped to San Francisco. Cultivation and care are the only reasons given for the quality and size of the fruit.

GOMPERS MAY SPLIT

FEDERATION OF LABOR

LOUISVILLE (Ky.), September 6.—Rival political cliques in the Federation of Labor threaten to disrupt the organization. The last meeting was marked by a free-for-all fight which, instead of clearing the atmosphere, has only accentuated the bitterness. The trouble arises over the "steam-roller" methods of Samuel Gompers in his effort to force an endorsement of Bryan and it was announced today that a number of unions would withdraw before they would submit to Gompers' dictation. These independents are adding to their numbers constantly, and the revolt has assumed formidable proportions.

The outbreak dates back to early in June, when the Federation submitted to Congressional candidates a list of questions as to their position on certain labor legislation. The replies were forwarded to Gompers, who mailed back his opinion that Congressman Shirley was not satisfactory, and that the Federation should endorse Herman D. Newcomb. It is charged that this letter was suppressed until after the primaries. Four days after the primaries Gompers' letter was read and a motion made that his views be sustained. This was voted down by friends of Congressman Shirley.

At the next meeting a resolution was offered endorsing the Denver platform and pledging the Federation to the Democratic ticket. This resolution precipitated the hottest kind of a war.

Japan must not let itself be disturbed by those war talkers. They don't know any better. That's all.—Indianapolis News.

YOU WANT The News First.

You Want Your Ads Read

Here Is Some Advice—

Honolulu more than any other city in the World, is a place where the Evening Paper gets the news first. The clock here is over two hours behind the clock at San Francisco, four hours behind Chicago, five hours behind New York and ten to eleven hours behind the clocks in the European capitals.

This means that when The Star is going to press THE DAY IS CLOSED in Washington, Chicago, New York and Europe and almost over in San Francisco. The news of the day is here for The Star.

Under modern conditions it takes practically no time to prepare and transmit news and THE STAR gets every evening the cable dispatches giving

The News Of All the World

For the Day Just Ended—

Here are some of the features that go to make the evening paper the predominating factor in an advertising campaign:

It is delivered at the home each night when the whole family has plenty of time to read it.

It is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it stays there. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The evening paper is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all the advertisements receive their share of attention.

It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

The evening paper presents the news the day it happens. The morning paper the day after.

The evening paper presents the news first. The morning paper merely elaborates it.

The evening paper prints daylight news. The morning paper takes what is left.

WHITE
IS SUED

FATHER OF CHINESE BOY KILLED
BY AN AUTOMOBILE WANTS DAMAGES.

Though the coroner's jury found that E. O. White, of this city, was not criminally negligent in the accident a few weeks ago in which a Chinese boy named Lau Kai Foy was killed by his automobile, he was served this morning with papers in a civil suit in which $10,000 damages are demanded by the father of the victim of the accident. The papers were filed in the Circuit Court this morning by Attorney E. C. Peters, former Attorney-General, representing the plaintiff, Lau Tong.

The sum of $10,000 damages is asked for the death of the child to which is added the sum of $80, which was paid for funeral expenses and $15 which was incurred in doctor's bills. The usual matters in regard to sorrow and anguish caused by the death of the child and the taking away of his earning capacity from the parent, appear in the document.

The accident took place on August 15, when White was driving along Beretanla street in his motor car. The dead boy was riding on the handle bars of a bicycle which was being propelled by another Oriental and was struck by the machine, being killed almost instantly. The matter was thoroughly investigated by the coroner's jury, who paid a visit to the scene of the accident, and heard the testimony of a number of witnesses, all of whose stories did not tally. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

For Wife's
Cruelty

DIVORCE GRANTED TO GUSTAVE
BECKERT ON ACCOUNT OF AG-GRAVATED HEN-PECKING.

Gustave C. Beckert was granted a divorce from Lucy I. Beckert by Judge Lindsay this morning. The case was an interesting one on account of the fact that it was granted on the ground of cruelty, which is an unusual charge of a husband against a wife, though rather common with the tables turned. Beckert told his tale of woe to the court under the guidance of his attorney, C. W. Ashford, in such a manner that Judge Lindsay hastened to grant him the desired decree lest he should be forced to undergo more such treatment.

Athletic enthusiasm drove the marital love astray and it wandered far away, even to San Francisco. Beckert is one of the oarsmen who have represented the Myrtles in their many winning contests against the Healanis in the past few years and here his trouble started. Last year things looked as if the Healanis would take a big brace and win against their old time rivals, so the strictest of training rules were enjoined on the members of the crews. Beckert came home and told his wife of the rules which he must abide by that would enforce his inhabiting a separate apartment from her till after the contest, which caused her great displeasure. There trouble started and it kept up till the present time.

In November last Mrs. Beckert wished to go to San Francisco, and did go much against her husband's wish, obtaining the needed funds from members of her family.

Another complaint against the wife was that she nagged him cruelly, and called him by names which, while not blasphemous or verbally improper, were very unpleasant and worried him extremely. She also was very extravagant and ran up bills beyond her husband's means to pay, and the mental worry from the various sources has been such that Beckert has been ordered to take a long rest for fear that he will break down completely.

HAWAII LIKELY TO GO HOME RULE,
BUT FOR KUHIO

HOME RULERS ON THE BIG ISLAND HAVE COLLECTED BIG CAM-PAIGN FUND BY ASSESSING OFFICEHOLDERS — REPUBLICAN
BUSINESS MEN TAKING LITTLE INTEREST IN THE CAMPAIGN
SO FAR—SOME OF THE CANDIDATES.

(Special Correspondence.)
HILO, Sept. 12.—Both the Republican and Democratic County Conventions will meet here Thursday, the 17th inst., the former in the Armory and the latter in Serrao's hall.

The Land Commission meets here also this week, but their deliberations will probably receive scant attention, on account of the controlling interest in the political situation.

Austin and Alfonso are Republican candidates for Legislative Representatives, and Hewitt and Brown, whose terms are expiring desire to succeed themselves as Senators. Former Senator Paris is also mentioned as a possibility.

Three gentlemen are willing to act as Supervisors—former Representative Jim Lewis, Rev. S. L. Desha, the ministerial politician, and J. M. Ross, manager of the Hakalau plantation. Sam Pua, the present County Clerk, is out for the Republican nomination for Sheriff, and is admitted to stand a good chance. Fetter is willing to be appointed deputy for another term.

There is no opposition to Maguire, the present Auditor.

For County Clerk, J. Hal, Jr., assistant to Pua, is mentioned, and O. Swain is also in the lists.

It is a matter of remark that Republican business men seem to take very little interest in the campaign, indeed, as far as they are concerned, a condition of absolute apathy prevails.

On Thursday, the 24th inst. the Home Rulers will meet in convention at Kailua. An effort is being made to secure the S. S. Manna Kea to leave here with the delegates Wednesday evening, returning Thursday night in time for the regular trip to Honolulu. The County Band will go along to furnish musical inspiration between the periods of impassioned eloquence, with which the delegates are primed.

The Home Rule organization stands alone from a financial standpoint. The Democratic and Republican bodies are paupers compared to it. It is stated that an assessment of $1.50 per month has been collected from the patrolmen, and $2.50 per month from the captains—willy nilly. The higher ups have also contributed their quota. The fund amounts to nearly $1500. The Democratic supporters refuse to contribute a cent, and the Republicans, likewise, but content themselves with arranging the financial recklessness of those at present in office.

The outlook for a Home Rule victory, unless the Democrats pile up a larger vote than expected, is good. At least so say the Home Rulers. Kuhio will be solidly endorsed for Delegate.

The Republicans talk of nominating a candidate for County Attorney. If they do, it is a gift to Williams, the Home Rule candidate, of another term.

If, however, they should reconsider the matter, Harry Irwin, the Democratic nominee, stands a good chance of election.

Why the Civic Federation should pass upon nominations at all. By what authority does the Federation presume to be the judges of the character and qualification of candidates?

"When the Republican or the Democratic party chooses a candidate it assumes the responsibility and candidates and the party nominating them stand or fall together. If the Republican party nominates for a particular office a man who appears undesirable to voters, the latter can vote for the man put for that office by the Democrats. They do not need to submit their freedom of choice to an irresponsible body of men.

"Why, if the Civic Federation does not approve of candidates on one side or the other, does it not nominate candidates of its own instead of whimsically trying to strike a balance for others between candidates? Have the Federationists any means superior to other citizens for gauging the respective merits or demerits of candidates?"
