

ACABLE TO THE POPE

BISHOP ROBERT CABLES HIS HOLINESS

The Dying Prelate From His Deathbed Asks the Blessing of the Head of the Catholic Church.

TO MONSIGNOR CARDINAL GOTTI, PROPAGANDA, ROME.

Bishop Gulstan, on his death bed, the clergy and laity of the Roman Catholic Church of Hawaii send their respectful congratulations to His Holiness Pope Leo XIII at the inauguration of the Trans-Pacific American Cable between San Francisco and Honolulu, and pray for His Blessing.

F. LIBERT, PRO-VICAR.

Bishop Gulstan on his death bed in Hawaii prays for the blessing of the head of his church, Pope Leo XIII, at Rome. The pleading message goes speeding over the newly connected cable franked by the courtesy of the Pacific Cable Company.

Amid the hundreds of congratulatory messages which have been sent over the cable by rejoicing citizens of Hawaii, the message approved in a whisper by the failing breath of Bishop Gulstan who lay on his death bed, spared to see the birth of a new year and the birth of a new era while the last grains of his own life limit ran inexorably through the hour glass of Mortality, strikes a distinct note of pathos.

Bishop Gulstan, who with vitality inexplicable to his physicians, still retains a grip on life; while patiently awaiting his end, was yesterday asked by Father Valentine whether he would care to send a cablegram, already prepared and then read to him, to the Pope. "What could we do that would be better," whispered, almost inaudibly the dying prelate.

The message was taken to the office where it was found that the line had been closed for the day. Manager Martin of the underground cable contract, who met Father Valentine, was anxious that the bishop should have no disappointment and brought Father Valentine to Superintendent Gaines who promised that the message should have his personal attention the moment the cable tests of the Silvertown engineers were completed.

Today the message will be flashed across the Pacific, the broad continent of North America, the Atlantic and across the continent of Europe until it reaches the Eternal City and the Head of the Church of Rome, himself an old, old, man patient, benevolent and saintly, holding in his vital hand the centering lines of Roman Catholic enterprise and work, even to the Antipodes.

Bishop Gulstan lies on his bed, free from pain, semi-comatose, with his brain feebly assuring its intelligence when required. Solid nourishment he can no longer take and his vitality is eking out with sips of weakened champagne or brandy and water. The end is inevitable, waited for with resignation, almost longing, but it has been inexplicably delayed for the past two weeks.

Yesterday when guns were firing, whistles blowing and the gay crowd passed by the quiet of the cathedral close, the bishop smiled a faint greeting when he was told that Cable Day was a reality and the parties of Honolulu were joined to Rome by a new temporal as well as a spiritual power. An answer to the cablegram may come today.

CRYPTOLAEMII MONTROUZIERRE ON ICE ON THE KOREA

Agricultural Commissioner Wray Taylor has spent a lot of time during the last few days looking for healthy specimens of the Cryptolaemus Montrouzierre. He met with no success until yesterday afternoon and then he found a tree where there were plenty of Cryptolaemus Montrouzierre. He caught twenty of them, for State Quarantine Officer Crow of California, and the Cryptolaemus Montrouzierre are now on ice in the hold of the S. S. Korea. In common language they are lady-bugs, which Crow wants to place where they will have a chance at their natural enemies, the meale bugs, which are a serious pest in California. After receiving a request for them a week ago Taylor proceeded to hunt, but he had great difficulty in finding any. The Cryptolaemus Montrouzierre population of Oahu is very much depleted. The bugs will sleep on ice during the trip, and when they get to San Francisco Crow will warm and wake them up.

MISERY FROM COAL FAMINE.

NEW YORK, January 3.—Owing to the great shortage of coal in many of the Eastern states, there is great suffering among the poor. The weather recently has been intensely cold and the suffering in many places has been intense.

The deplorable condition will be augmented by the closing of some of the largest manufactories throwing thousands of employees out of work temporarily. The financial loss to the manufacturers for having to shut down on account of this coal shortage will be immense.

MARCONI TO EMMANUEL.

BOSTON, January 3.—With a force of several million volts, the largest ever obtained in an electric current, the following message is to be flashed next week from the Marconi Wireless Telegraph station at South Wellfleet, Mass., to King Victor Emmanuel, Italy: "Greetings to your Royal Highness from your faithful subject. (Signed) "MARCONI."

The inventor himself will operate the taper. This message will mark the formal opening of the first wireless telegraph station on the soil of the United States.

TAFT IS SUSTAINED.

MANILA, P. I., January 3.—Solicitor General Araneta sustains Governor Taft's contention that the latter is not in a position to intervene regarding the possession of the Roman Catholic property that has been seized by independent Catholics. ARBITRATION STILL PENDING.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 3.—Nothing has been heard from London, Berlin or Rome in the nature of an answer to President Castro's amended proposition relative to the arbitration at Venezuela. CENTER OF INTEREST

CABLE IS STILL VERY GREAT NOVELTY

Service Tests all Prove Satisfactory—More Will Be Made—End of the Franking Privilege.

Interest in the cable is still deep this morning though not as plainly visible as yesterday. Recipients of cablegrams are comparing them this morning and many merchants who received business communications from business friends on the other side are displaying the messages in their front windows.

In all something in the neighborhood of five hundred "dead head" telegrams were received from the other side, judging by the numerals following the significant initials "D. H." which appear on all cablegrams received or sent out yesterday.

The Silvertown tests of yesterday were successfully made and will be continued today. The office in the Young building is open this morning though not for business. The superintendent's office, so often besieged yesterday morning, presents a locked door to all applicants. All cable employees are pretty thoroughly tired by the long day's work and ensuing festivities of yesterday and are desirous of accomplishing what has to be done today in peace and quietness. Some messages of actual cable necessity are going over the line but the liberal franking is at an end and the line not yet open for public business.

The office will be regularly and formally opened to the public on Monday, according to present regulations. The hours will run from eight in the morning to midnight until Monday is communicated with, when a largely augmented staff will be on hand day and night.

Already the possession of the cable and the prospect of constant news has brought the subject of the federal building paramount once more. The news of the executive decision will be wired to Commissioner Eustis directly. It is gained and the message will undoubtedly be awaiting him in Washington. The feeling of being in touch with Washington seems to affect a large proportion of the community more closely than the prospect of general news. The losses and mistakes of past years that might have been averted had the cable been in existence are brought up in reminiscence. With the coming of the new year and the cable simultaneously, everyone unites in the belief that the combination will prove the commencement of a new era of Hawaii's prosperity.

ZEALANDIA NEXT WEEK.

Cable advice received yesterday by W. G. Irwin Company were to the effect that the S. S. Zealandia scheduled to arrive yesterday from San Francisco, did not sail until last Monday.

THE LAST DEADHEAD RIDE ON THE KING STREET TRAMCAR

They had no passes, for Pain never issued passes, but they were dead heads, just the same. They were only about five years old, a little white boy and an Hawaiian. They lived at Wai-kiki but they had been down town enraptured with the excitement of New Year's Day till darkness overtook them before they thought about getting home. By various shifts of walking and stealing rides they had got as far as the government nursery by 8 o'clock. Here they sat on a fence watching for a tramcar. They saw it some distance away, crouching in the shadow of a tree, so that the driver would not see them, they waited till the car which was empty, got just past them. Then with a quick run they followed it, swung themselves on the rear platform out of sight of the driver, and so rode home. This was probably the last dead head ride that was ever taken on the King street tram.

OLD ANDROMEDA AT LAST SOLD

WAS PURCHASED IN SAN FRANCISCO BY CHARLES NELSON LUMBER COMPANY.

The old Norwegian bark Andromeda which has been lying at anchor in Rotten Row since last September has at last been sold. The vessel was purchased at San Francisco December 31 for $4,100 by James Tyson for the Charles Nelson Lumber Company. The vessel was sold at auction at the Merchants Exchange.

McCabe, Hamilton and Renny the local stevedores have received notice from the new purchasers to take charge of the Andromeda. The exact intention of the lumber company is not known. Sufficient rigging and masts and other things with which to equip her will be sent to Honolulu by the new purchasers. Their idea is to fix her so she can proceed to San Francisco where complete renovations can be made. She will probably be put into the lumber trade.

The Andromeda had a very eventful time just before she put into this port on September 23. While en route in ballast from Iquique to Eureka she encountered a hurricane that threw her on her beam ends. In order to save the ship Captain Rotter had to let his masts go by the board. She put into Honolulu with only the stump of a couple of masts standing. She has been here every since awaiting a purchaser. It was thought she might be purchased by H. Hackfeld and Company for the Laysan Island guano trade to replace the bark Ceylon which was lost some months ago.

PEKING'S HEAVY MAIL.

Arrives From San Francisco After Uneventful Trip.

The S. S. City of Peking arrived this morning from San Francisco with eight days later mail. Special significance is attached to the arrival of the Peking as she will probably be the last boat to bring news of the outside world. She has eight days later San Francisco papers than those already received. Some of the news contained in them has been received already, while some news later than that aboard the vessel was received yesterday by cable.

This is the first time that the vessel has been here since last June. On that trip she broke her thrush shaft and had to be towed back to Kobe and remain out of commission for months. She is now making probably her last trip on the Oriental run as the S. S. Siberia will take her place next February.

The Peking brought 350 sacks of mail for Honolulu. She has a small list of passengers for Honolulu and the Orient.

Among those who returned to Honolulu were W. F. Allen and wife and J. S. McCandless. J. B. Castle also returned from a brief trip to the Coast.

HALL BRINGS SUIT.

W. A. Hall has begun a partition suit against W. O. Smith et al, to secure the division of real estate owned by him and on which Annie Hall and Mrs. Dowsett have claims. George Carter also has a claim on the property. The defendants want to wait until Hall becomes of age, next March, and Judge Gear appointed J. F. Brown as commissioner to report on the matter.

COAL DISTRIBUTION.

Foreign Vessels May Act In Coastwise Trade.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The house committee on merchant marine and fisheries today considered the McCall resolution to suspend the operations of the coastwise navigation laws so as to permit foreign ships to carry coal from one port to another on the coast. A large number of telegrams, letters and statements were read, indicating that at this time there apparently is not only a sufficiency, but a large surplus of tonnage available for the transportation of coal, and that it is a scarcity of coal, not ships, which is causing the trouble. It was stated before the committee that an unreasonable and extortionate rate of freight is being charged for the transportation of coal from the shipping points to the market ports, and from Boston, whence come the greatest number of these complaints, the lack of facilities to unload coal as rapidly as it comes to the market is the greatest obstacle to the distribution of that commodity. The committee proposed further consideration of the resolution until the meeting in the first week in the session following the holiday recess. If the resolution should be finally passed, it is stated, it would be in the interest of a reduction of freight rather than because of any scarcity of tonnage.

PAID HIS BET.

An Election Wager That Lasted Until Death.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Owen McCarton, a rich recluse of Oceanic, N. J., 70 years of age, is dead. Although he had spent forty years at Oceanic he was scarcely known to any one except the members of his own family.

For thirty years he had not crossed the threshold of his dwelling between sunrise and sunset because of an election bet. During the presidential campaign of 1872 between Grant and Greeley, McCarton was one of the latter's most enthusiastic supporters. He made a bet with a friend that if Grant was elected he would not leave his house, except during the night, as long as he lived.

McCarton lived up to his wager. About five years ago his house caught fire and for a time it looked as if he would have to break his agreement, but the flames were extinguished before they had gained sufficient headway to compel him to leave the premises.

Aching Bones,

pain in the back running up the spinal column to the base of the brain, eyes feverish and bloodshot, a stuffy feeling in the head, scalding discharge from the nose, sneezing, sore throat, cough, pain in chest—these are all signs of grip's ravaging effect on the nerves. Grip weakens the heart, congests the lungs, destroys the appetite and lowers the vitality of the whole system. The best and safest remedy for overcoming the depressing and prostrating effects of grip is Dr. Miles' Nervine. It invigorates the appetite, assists digestion, quiets the nerves and brings restful, refreshing sleep. It builds up the nerve tissues, overcomes the aches and pains, steadies the nervous heart and puts new life and energy into broken-down men and women as nothing else can.

"Four years ago I had a very severe attack of La Grippe, which settled in the back of my head and spinal cord. I had distressing pains in my head and back, my bones ached all the time and I became extremely nervous and restless. I could not sleep for days and nights together, my brain became seriously affected and I thought I should lose my mind. For two years my condition grew steadily worse and then I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Nervine. In a few days I was able to sleep naturally and continued to improve from that time on until my health was completely restored." Miss SUE GODWIN, Opelika, Ala.

BALL AT THE CAPITOL

BRILLIANT ASSEMBLAGE IN HONOR OF SILVERTOWN'S OFFICERS LAST EVENING.

The cable ball and reception last night was pronounced a brilliant success by the crowds that thronged the throne room, lanais and halls of the Capitol last night gaily decorated for the occasion. It seemed as if everybody in the city made it a point to drop in for at least a few moments and the only criticism that revealed itself was the inability of the palace building to accommodate the crowds.

Later the rooms cleared and towards midnight there was ample dancing room on the floor but during the reception and the earlier hours of the dance the guests were packed closely together. The reception line consisting of Secretary H. E. Cooper and Mrs. Cooper, Manager S. S. Dickenson and Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Engineer Bennett and Mrs. Oscar White, Captain Morton and Mrs. Marston Campbell, Captain Patterson and Mrs. J. W. Pratt and Mr. and Mrs. Gaines. The governor's staff attended in full uniform and were assisted as floor committee by the following: George C. Potter, J. Tarn McGrew, H. W. Shingle and W. F. Dillingham.

There were fourteen dances on the program, split into twenty-eight for which Berger's musicians and a native stringed orchestra admirably furnished the music. The dancing started at ten and lasted for four hours. The complement of the Silvertown's officers were the heroes of the occasion and missed few of the numbers. Refreshing punch and lemonade was served with appetizing sandwiches in the basement.

A feature of the decorations was the big cable flag from the Silvertown with its designs emblematic of the mission of the cable, the field divided by a strand of cable separating a dove and clasped hands.

The thirty foot flag that graced the capital building yesterday was a historic banner being the same that was raised on Flag Raising Day, August 12, 1898 when these islands were formally taken over by Rear Admiral Miller, U. S. N. At sunset last evening a salute from the Capitol battery hailed it as it fluttered down the hallways.

Proceeding the ball last evening an interesting display of fireworks was given in the Capitol grounds.

RECIPROCITY WITH CUBA

SOMETHING OF THE TREATY WHICH IS NOW BEFORE THE UNITED STATES SENATE.

WASHINGTON, December 13.—The friends of the reciprocity treaty recently negotiated between the United States and Cuba have been assured by members of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations that the treaty will be taken up by that committee as soon as practicable after the Christmas holidays. There were several conferences of the committee at the capital today which resulted in this understanding. The terms of the treaty require that it shall be ratified before the 31st day of January, and its supporters appreciate the necessity of getting it out of the committee in order to avoid the necessity of an extension of time. The treaty makes more liberal provision for the importation of American articles into the republic of Cuba than has been stated heretofore, there being provisions for reductions, in some cases of as much as 40 per cent, in others of 30 per cent, and in still others of 25 per cent.

On all American-grown or American-made articles, except tobacco, imported into Cuba, and not specified in the 25, 30 and 40 per cent. classes, there is to be a uniform tariff reduction of 20 per cent. In return, the United States agrees to a uniform reduction of 25 per cent, without exception, on all importations from Cuba. The new island republic does not agree to any reduction on tobacco grown in the United States, or in the territory of any of its possessions, and imported into Cuba.

The products of the United States which are to be admitted into Cuba at a reduction of 25 per cent from the rate of the existing Cuban tariff include poultry, fish, copper-made machinery, cast and wrought iron and steel, and articles used in manufacturing them, glass, cotton and some cotton goods, ships and boats, whiskey and brandy.

The 30 per cent reduction includes cutlery, shoes, plated ware, drawings, photographs, engravings, etc. materials used in making labels and bands for tobacco, common soaps, preserved vegetables, butter, drugs, bottled beer, etc.; mineral waters and articles made of hemp and kindred fibers, musical instruments and writing and printing papers.

The list of American importations into Cuba on which a 40 per cent reduction is made includes watches, umbrellas, knit cottons, preserved fruits, perfumery and woolen and silk goods.

There is a specific declaration to the effect that the rates fixed for each of the two countries by the other shall be preferential of each party to the convention as against all other countries. There is a provision against a discriminating tax on the articles affected in the country of their origin. In case either country changes the tariff rates so as to deprive the other of advantages granted, the other country is to have the privilege of abrogating the treaty. No specific provision is made for a subsequent reduction in Cuban duty so as to let American goods in at lower rates by the regular methods of legislation rather than by treaty, but there is a clause under which, if this reduction is made, the Cuban government may reopen negotiations to secure a modification of the treaty. It provides for such a change only in case the Cuban tariff should be so reduced as to make the reduction unreasonable from the Cuban point of view.

The treaty is to go into effect ten days after its ratification by the authorities of both countries.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 3, 1903.

A SMALL CLOUD.

The tide of immigration into the United States for the fiscal year 1902 was greater than it has been for twenty years. Comparing the totals for thirty years past it will be seen that only twice in that period has this tide of immigration been exceeded, viz., in 1881 and 1882. The table is as follows:

1872.....404,806	1888.....546,889
1873.....549,803	1889.....444,427
1874.....313,339	1890.....455,302
1875.....227,498	1891.....500,319
1876.....169,986	1892.....623,084
1877.....149,857	1893.....502,917
1878.....138,469	1894.....314,497
1879.....177,826	1895.....279,948
1880.....457,257	1896.....343,267
1881.....669,431	1897.....230,832
1882.....788,992	1898.....229,229
1883.....603,322	1899.....311,715
1884.....518,592	1900.....448,572
1885.....395,346	1901.....487,918
1886.....334,203	1902.....648,743
1887.....490,109

Of the total arrivals in 1902, 446,369 were males and 182,374 were females, the males thus exceeding the number of females three and a half times. It is amusing to the observer to look through these figures and then to call to mind the arguments which used to be put forward against the annexation of these Islands. There used to be the gravest fears expressed in certain journals and by otherwise well informed public men as to the effect that our population would have upon the vote of the United States. To have read their writings and to have heard their arguments one would have imagined that our little population of 150,000 was going to permeate every state in the Union and overturn the best political calculations. And yet all the time the tide of immigration was pouring in from a quarter to half a million of people annually, ignorant of our laws, ignorant of our language, ignorant of our customs, and in many cases actively hostile to our cherished ideals.

The class of immigrants has also changed very materially in the last half century and even the last two decades. In earlier years the British Isles and Germany used to contribute the bulk of our immigrants; now over two-thirds of them come from Italy, Austria-Hungary and Russia. Italy sent 178,375 persons, which was not far from four times the number sent a decade and a half ago, i. e., in 1887, and over seven times the number coming from that country in 1889. As compared with the preceding year there was an increase of 42,379. From Austria-Hungary there came during the last fiscal year 171,989 immigrants, an increase of 58,599 as compared with the year preceding, and a total more than four times as large as that for the fiscal year 1887. Russia contributed 107,347 newcomers, an increase of 22,090 over the year preceding, and over three and a half times the number arriving from there in 1887. The quota from the British Isles has fallen off notably in the course of the last decade and a half, as has that from Germany. Immigration from China shows a decrease, while that from Japan shows a very notable increase as compared with the preceding year.

Of the whole number of immigrants admitted about one-fourth were unable to read or write, but of the number in this class nearly one-half were under fourteen years of age. The aliens who were refused permission to land numbered 4,974, of whom nearly four-fifths were excluded as paupers. Of the others, 709 were barred on account of disease, 275 as contract laborers and nine as convicts.

To any country less great than the United States, these immigrants coming from the sources which they do might be root of much trouble, but a country such as our ready assimilates these masses of people, and they go into the crucible and come forth in a generation or so good Americans. Even the anarchist, bent and twisted as his mind is against all existing institutions, loses his worst traits after the third generation, and becomes a law-abiding citizen, a lover of law and a supporter of order. We have instances of this without end, but as there were bitter anti-annexationists who could not see that 150,000 additional people on the Hawaiian could have absolutely no effect upon the body politic of the entire United States, so we now have people who would, it possible, stop immigration altogether, or at all events so cripple it, as to reduce it to a minimum.

The great fear expressed is levelled at the Asiatic races, but there is as strong an undercurrent of dislike to the European races which at present make up the bulk of the immigrants. This latter is not loudly expressed but it is there never the less. The Asiatic is regarded as a danger out and out, and the Geary exclusion act has had the effect of keeping the Chinese section out. It is not absolutely prohibitory, but it has had a very marked effect. The Japanese, on the other hand, has come in practically untrammelled, and the number of immigrants from this source has shown a very considerable increase. To meet the immigration of ignorant and in many cases vicious masses from Europe, and to check the immigration of the bright and active men from Japan, is one of the great problems.

The matter is of intense interest to us, in that we need labor to carry on our production of sugar. We have no field of labor among ourselves, and we must import labor or go under. The best form of labor, and the least objectionable from our point of view is Chinese labor, and that is exactly what the main mass of people, who give attention to the subject most object to, and have been most successful in making objection to. The new educational test bill is aimed at keeping out the ignorant population of Europe and the Japanese. But if we cannot have Chinese, we need Japanese. Our representatives in Washington are engaged in fighting the educational test bill, and are bringing every argument possible to bear against it in committee.

Our own solution was a good one, but it is a solution which will not present itself with any chance of success before these whose views control legislation on this subject. We may argue that the fear of Chinese competition is unreasonable, but the fear has crystallized into a prejudice. The subject of immigration is the only cloud upon our otherwise bright horizon in this opening of the year 1903.

No more striking illustration of what the cable means to Hawaii can be found than in that offered this morning in the arrival of the S. S. Peking from San Francisco. Before the cable was installed the greatest interest would have attached to the arrival of a boat from the Coast as she would have later news. Now the people aboard the Peking were the ones to call for the latest news of the outside world.

On Monday the city will settle down to business. Today it is suffering from the reaction of yesterday. Seldom has such excitement been shown by our citizens as was displayed yesterday.

TOPICS IN BRIEF.

The effective anti-trust bill must provide first of all for publicity, and then prescribe penalties for specific abuses of corporate powers, together with ways and means for executing its provisions. The weakness of the Sherman law is admittedly the difficulty of enforcing its penalties or of obtaining evidence of its violation.—Pittsburgh Gazette.

It is now rumored that J. Pierpont Morgan is to buy up enough mines to enable him to be the coal trust himself. It is hoped that he will treat the consumer kindly.—Washington Star.

Eastern suffering from lack of fuel does not begin to be as intense as it is in Colorado. At Cripple Creek they burned $3,000 worth of gambling tools the other day.—Chicago Daily News.

The system of insurance upon the lives of children for the benefit of parents may possibly need the careful attention of legislatures in several states. There have been hideous instances recently of the murder of baby boys and girls by unnatural fathers and mothers who were willing to commit these crimes in order to get money.—New York Tribune.

Mr. Dowle of Chicago continues to advertise his affairs with an industry which shows no disposition to allow his alleged religious enterprises to go into bankruptcy.—Washington Star.

Washington is reported to be suffering from a coal famine. It is a little tough on the citizens of course, but it will be a good thing for the country at large if the thermometers in the houses of Congress are kept low enough by a lack of coal to make the members hot. Then maybe something worth while will be done in this coal mining mix-up.—Indianapolis News.

WHILE AT CHURCH.
He was cutting an item from a news-bed, and I want to show it to my wife," he explained. "What good will that do?" a friend inquired. "A whole lot," was the reply. "You see, this house was robbed while the man was at the friend excitedly, "you haven't

DEATH STOPS THE SUMNER CASE

INTERRUPTION TO ALLOW BISH-OP GULSTON'S DISCHARGE BE-FORE DEATH END THE SUIT.

News that the Right Rev. Bishop Gulston was very near to death interrupted the proceedings in the John K.
Sumner case this morning shortly after 11 o'clock. The bishop was nominally the plaintiff in the case, having begun the suit to secure the court's permission to resign as trustee for Sumner.
The contest arose when the conflicting interests of the bishop and the trustee would terminate the suit, and make it necessary to begin all over again on the issues between the other litigants.
It was agreed by all parties that his resignation might be accepted, without prejudice to the other issues in the case.

Sumner himself was reported ill when the case was called this morning. Attorney Magoon stated to the court that the old man had caught cold and was ill in bed. As he is 84 years of age, the announcement came as something of a shock. It was agreed that he would not be needed during the day, though Magoon said that if he was wanted, Sumner would get up and come to court.

Walter Davis, called as a witness by Magoon, continued his testimony and was cross-examined by E. E. Thompson.
He declared that Sumner had read in the Star the statement that the $48,- 000 left of his fortune after his gifts was in trust, and had been worried about it. He had gone to Bishop Gulston and complained, declaring that the trust was ended. The bishop had told him the same, and had assured him that he could do what he wanted with his money.

Mrs. Weed, a neighbor of Mrs. Buffandeau, was called, and testified to the consultation of Humphreys by Mrs.
Buffandeau, who told her that Humphreys would soon be off the bench, and had advised her to employ Highton, "a learned man from California."

"The next time I saw Mr. Sumner," said the witness, "he came from High-ton's office, out of temper. He said that the children had demanded $25,000 each from him, and that if he didn't give it he would be thrown into guardianship again. I asked Mrs. Buffandeau about it, and she said, 'Yes, Willie has been doing that.'"

It appeared from Mrs. Weed's testimony that "Willie" and others were waiting for the old man when he stepped ashore from the steamer here. On the first day there came a telephone from "Willie" telling Mrs. Buffandeau to put the old man in his hack right away, drive him to Willie's office, and not let anyone speak to him.

At this point Peters arrived with news that the bishop was very near death, and Magoon suggested excusing Fathers Valentine and Matthias who had been called as witnesses. The question of accepting the resignation of the Bishop before death removed him and ended the suit that has been so long contested was brought up, and a recess was taken for five minutes, to allow the lawyers to draw up a stipulation.

The lawyers all talked at once while they were discussing the proposition, and Judge De Bolt gave a sarcastic rebuke, when he could make himself heard. "It helps the court," he said,
"when all the lawyers talk at once.
All are talking at once, on the theory,
I suppose, that two talking at once are better than one. This helps the court a great deal, gentlemen."

The Supreme Court will meet again on Monday and take up a calendar on which there are many important cases.
Among those on the list is that of Austin vs. Dole, in which the former auditor secured from the Circuit Court a writ of mandamus directing the Attorney General to allow him to resume charge of his office. Owing to the removal of Austin the case will be dropped, except as it may affect the question of Austin's right to his salary during the months while he was suspended.

The tax appeal cases are all on the calendar, making an imposing array, and they will take up most of the term. Three of them are of great importance and will settle new issues. The cases of Brewer & Company and Castle Cooke, involving the taxation of "good will" by the assessor will be argued, also the appeal of Assessor Pratt from the ruling of the tax court allowing the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Company to deduct about $70,000 from its income tax return, for buildings abandoned.

Another case that has found its way on to the calendar is that of Mrs. Anna Gertz vs. J. Alfred Magoon, which the circuit judges have been troubled with for some time. Gear tried it out of court, but the plaintiff took an appeal, and she claims to have the right to be heard in the higher court.

CLUB STABLES SUIT.
The demurrer in the Club Stables suit was sustained this morning by Judge De Bolt, on the ground that the complaining stockholders should have appealed to a meeting of the stockholders rather than to the court. In the suit fled C. Bolte and others complained of the acts of Manager Ballina in paying salaries which they alleged were too large, also a fee to T. McCants Stewart. The defendants contended that the proper course was an appeal to the stockholders and the judge sustained this view, allowing time for an amendment.

SPECIAL CABLES

Massachusetts, chairman of the Committee on Judiciary, today made public his bill for the regulation of such corporations.

This measure is in every way a most sweeping and drastic one and in its provisions aims to make it impossible for any combination of capital to carry on its business contrary to the law. In its terms the bill is so sweeping that there is not a loophole through which a criminal corporation might hope to escape. The bill will prevent combinations of capital for the purpose of limiting production or raising prices on the one side or from making such inside organizations as will make it possible to cut down the price of labor, and blacklist the men who may strike against reductions.

The provision which will accomplish this reform in business methods, make its compulsory for the corporation doing business in one line of trade to make public such a statement of its transactions as will give to the public complete knowledge of the cost of the raw material and the wage cost of production. In addition there must be all charges against the manufactured article, which would render impracticable those rebates and counter charges which have made it possible for the Trusts to give advantage to certain customers as against others.

The penal clause makes it a misdemeanor to in any way break the law as provided in the bill, and in addition provides that a corporation in any way committing an infraction of its provisions shall be prevented from engaging in inter-state or foreign commerce.

Those who have been made cognizant of the terms of the bill declare that under it none of the trade combinations now operating can carry on business in a way to be detrimental to general trade, while the legitimate companies will be aided in their transactions.

SENATE AND FIRE CLAIMS.

Per S. S. Peking.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—The Senate has passed the Hawaii Fire Claims bill. The measure provides for the payment to the treasury of the Territory of the sum of $1,500,000 or so much thereof as is necessary to meet the awards of the Court of Fire Claims of the Territory.

This measure is identical with the one which passed the Senate during the long term, in its general provisions, and has been pressed for passage by J. G. Pratt, who came here for the purpose of urging such relief for the Territory.

The bill had the assistance of the senators who investigated the conduct of the administration of the Territory, and was passed without material opposition. Several conferences have been held with influential members of the House and there is a belief that it will be possible to secure its passage there.

SUGAR PRICES FALLING OFF.

Special Cable to the Advertiser.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The market for raw sugar has been quiet for the past five days and the price has declined a fraction.
There have been few offerings and the rate was established by a small sale. The last figure for centrifugals noted is three and seven-eighths cents, which is a decline of one-sixteenth. This figure does not indicate the true feeling in the market, however, and the brokers still look for higher rates with the opening of this year's business.

CAUSE OF RED SUNSETS.

Special Cable to the Advertiser.

VALPARAISO, Jan. 2.—Five volcanoes in the province of Llanquihue are in active eruption. Llanquihue is situated in the extreme southern part of Chile, close to the Andean range. Its area is 7823 square miles and its population is 68,580.

CUBAN RECIPROCITY.

Special Cable to the Advertiser.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—The most reliable news from both Washington and Havana indicates almost to a certainty that the proposed reciprocity treaty with Cuba will be accepted by both countries.

SCRANTON CAVES IN.

Special Cable to the Advertiser.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 2.—The old workings at the Eddy Creek colliery under the heart of the town caved in this afternoon carrying down half a dozen buildings. The subsidence was a gradual one, so no lives were lost. The tops of the sunken houses are forty feet below the surface. The whole of Scranton has been undermined by the operations of the Redding Coal and Iron Company and during the past thirty years such cave-ins have been frequent and not unaccompanied by loss of life.

RAILROAD COLLISION.

Special Cable to the Advertiser.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—The railroad disaster, reported in advices to the cable ship Silvertown on December 22, occurred at Byron, California, on the line of the Southern Pacific Railroad in the San Joaquin valley, between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Two trains collided with great force. Twenty persons were killed and a number injured.

JAPANESE DIET SUSPENDED.

TOKIO, Dec. 21.—A surprise occurred today when the following Imperial Rescript was announced: "In accordance with Art.
7 of the Constitution we command the suspension of the Imperial Diet for seven days from the 21st to the 27th inst."

It is understood that the immediate cause of the new prorogation was the discovery that a large number of the anti-Cabinet section of the Representatives had decided to secede. The number is put at fifty.

COOPER RELIEVES WILDES.

WASHINGTON, December 25.—The Navy Department has ordered Rear-Admiral Philip H. Cooper to the command of the southern division of the Atlantic station to succeed Rear Admiral Wildes, who was detached on Monday on account of sickness. Rear-Admiral Cooper, now in charge of the naval defense of the Eastern coast, will leave for his new post of duty about January 5th. His new command is considered a very desirable one, as the time of Rear-Admiral Evans, now in supreme command of the station, expires in less than a year, and when he returns Admiral Cooper will succeed him as senior officer of the Asiatic fleet.

TAMPOCO'S BOILERS LEAKY.

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.), December 25.—The steamer Tampoco, Captain Ames, put back to port today owing to leaky boilers. The Tampoco was bound for Honolulu from Seattle and had arrived outside Cape Flattery before the condition of her boilers forced her to put back for repairs. The Tampoco will probably depart for Seattle on Friday night.

BEFORE WE CAN

use them, iron and gold must first be got out of the ore. The same principle applies to cod liver oil. Its virtues are not in its fatty matters; much less in its sickening taste and smell. No consumptive, or sufferer from any other wasting disease, was ever greatly benefited by the so-called "plain" cod liver oil. The shock it gives to the nerves, the repulsion and disgust it excites in the stomach, the outrages it commits upon the senses of smell and taste, are enough to spoil any medicinal potency that may be in it for the majority of people.
This—to say nothing about its being indigestible. Yet there has always been reason to believe that, among the elements which form cod liver oil, there existed curative properties of the highest value. But it was necessary to separate them from the nauseating waste material with which they were combined. This was successfully accomplished in WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION

and in this effective remedy, made palatable as honey, we have the very heart and soul of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. These constitute a tissue builder, a blood purifier, a health renewer beyond comparison. Disease yields to it with a compleat-ness and rapidity which astonishes medical men quite as much as it delights their patients. In all wasting conditions, Scrofula and Blood Disorders, La Grippe, Chronic Bronchitis, Pulmonary Affections, etc., it never fails to relieve and cure. Dr. Louis W.
Bishop says: "I take pleasure in saying I have found it a most efficient preparation, embodying all of the medicinal properties of a pure cod liver oil, in a most palatable form." It stands in the front rank in the march of medicine. Effective from the first dose. Sold by all chemists here.

EUSTIS MAKES A PREDICTION

After the reading of the messages at the celebration yesterday, Commissioner Eustis said that he wanted to make a prediction. "When next you dedicate your big public building you will receive messages from a governor in Mara mayor of Jupiter and from a Chamber of Commerce in Saturn."

"Now this is not extraordinary when you think that only twenty-five years after Captain Cook landed on these shores Franklin was flying a kite into the clouds. He waited a long time but presently, after he thought the storm passed, the fibres on his line stirred like the back on an angry cat, the spark was there."

"I went to the funeral of Morse the inventor now I reverse the memory of Mackay the enterprise maker, the man of action. You see the results of electricity before you, the cars in the streets, bread baked by electricity. You have your X rays and girls you can see how his heart beats. What would Morse say if today he could see messages sent without wires. Remember though ladies and the ladies of Hawaii are the fairest of the world, I have spent half my time on street corners watching them go by that after all it is not the hand that makes the cable but the hand that rocks the cradle that rules the world." Mr. Eustis terminated his speech with a eulogy to the business men of Hawaii who had made his stay so pleasant and his work such a delight.

"I have suffered a great deal from impure blood, especially from boils on my arms and back. I felt weak all over and was greatly depressed. I began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking only a little of it I felt better, and soon my troubles disappeared. I believe this medicine is the best blood-purifier and the strongest tonic that any one can buy."

MILES IN PEKING.

PEKING, Dec. 26.—General Nelson A. Miles, commander of the United States army, arrived here today for a short visit. Tomorrow General Miles will be the guest of the Dowager Empress of China and Emperor Kwang Su. He will be received in audience by the imperial family and will review the Chinese troops stationed in the capital.

The honor of reviewing the imperial forces of the Chinese empire is a very signal one and General Miles is the second—if not the first—man of his generation to whom it has been accorded.

The Chinese are not wont to make military display before foreigners, especially in these later days, when they know the comparative weakness and inefficiency of their men of war and their military establishment.

The troops to be reviewed by General Miles probably will consist of the Imperial Guard stationed in Peking, numbering 4000 men of all arms with a large percentage of officers, and a part of the "Ying Ping," or national army, also called the "Green Flags" and the "Five Camps."

The "Ying Ping" consists of eighteen corps, one for each province, under the command of the Governor or Viceroy. The strongest and most important contingent thereof is the Pichili Army Corps, reorganized and brought to some degree of efficiency by the late Viceroy of that province, Li Hung Chang. Its nominal strength is 100,000, really about 40,000 men, who are employed in garrison duty at Tientsin, the Taku forts and in general service along the road to and about Peking.

The "Ying Ping" is recruited from the population generally, while the "Eight Banners," from which the Imperial Guard are chosen, are made up mainly of descendants of the Manchu conquerors and their allies.

AN ELASTIC CURRENCY

A bill has been introduced in the House by Representative Pugsley of New York, the aim of which, as the title states, is to "render the currency more elastic and responsive to the financial and commercial requirements of the country." Under its provisions the controller of the currency, with the consent of the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized to issue circulating notes under certain prescribed conditions. These circulating notes may be issued to any national bank to the extent of one-tenth of the face value of bonds deposited by the bank with the treasury, and are to be secured by approved notes, bonds or bills receivable, double in value the amount of issue.

The measure, as its title implies, is intended to give the present system a greater flexibility. It creates a currency based on bonds, notes and bills receivable, but one so heavily taxed as to lead to a natural contraction to the present bond-secured currency when crises are passed. An address on such a currency was recently delivered by Mr. Pugsley before the convention of the American Bankers' Association at New Orleans and the practicability of the views expressed at that time led many prominent business men and bankers to urge Mr. Pugsley to incorporate his views in a bill and present it at the opening of Congress.

"I do not believe," said Mr. Pugsley, speaking of the objects of his bill, "that we are so much in need of more currency as of greater elasticity in our present system. The report of the treasurer of the United States shows there is now about $30 per capita in circulation, which, I believe, is larger than in any other country, with the possible exception of France."

"It is evident that the consensus of opinion is largely in favor of a more elastic currency, and the introduction of bills and the bringing forward of plans may result in evolving such a measure as may meet the requirements of the country for a more elastic system. It would undoubtedly be of untold value to the business interests of the country if such a measure should be perfected, for a sound, stable and responsive currency system is the life blood of a nation's commerce and prosperity."

"The bill that I have just introduced will, I believe, give some measure of elasticity to our currency, whether the internal revenue and custom receipts continue to flow into the treasury or not, and whether national bank-note currency, secured by government bonds, remains as under existing law. Thus, for instance, when the moving of the crops or an impending financial panic demands a larger circulation, a larger circulation can at once be had, while, when the occasion for the increase has ceased to exist, a contraction will follow naturally until the circulation of the several banks shall again be brought to the bond-secured currency. The latter will result naturally from the tax imposed upon the circulating notes, or, if not, the Secretary of the Treasury has the power to direct the retirement of the circulation, which may be accomplished as under existing laws. The provisions are such that it makes no difference whether the circulating notes left outstanding are the bond-secured currency or the notes issued under the provisions of this act, and otherwise secured. Under the working of the present redemption system the amount of the circulating notes outstanding of each national banking association could easily be brought to the normal or bond-secured currency by not reissuing the notes received for redemption. The controller, if necessary, could require the banks to deposit lawful money to retire this supplementary circulation, or the banks of their own volition could make such deposit of lawful money, and stop the interest on this heavily taxed and special circulation."

"Criticism may be made that the securities are left in the hands of the banks issuing the circulation, but if the securities had to be forwarded to the treasury, or time taken to deposit them first in the hands of a trustee, owing to the time required, the purpose of the bill might be defeated and its benefits lost. And for this reason I would have the controller furnish to the banks blank forms upon which the directors might certify as to the securities, that these forms, properly certified, might be forwarded to the controller of the currency without loss of time."

"As to the amount of currency that might be issued if all the banks in the country took advantage of the provisions of the bill, I should say between $140,000,000 and $150,000,000 additional circulation would be at once available, if 30 per cent of the banks' capital in circulating notes be kept on hand by the controller of the currency, as provided in the bill."

THE PRESIDENT AS ARBITRATOR AND THE MONROE DOCTRINE IN RELATION TO VENEZUELA.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Saturday, December 20.—The proposition of Germany that President Roosevelt act as arbitrator in adjusting the difficulties between that government and Venezuela is viewed as a shrewd attempt to at least secure a new and more liberal interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine.

By the provisions of that famous document foreign governments are forbidden the acquisition of any territory on the Western hemisphere. Venezuela's greatest possessions are those of land.

It is believed in some circles that Germany's action is not prompted so much by mere matter of dollars and cents of the claims she holds against Venezuela as it is in finding some plausible basis for claiming territory as security for indemnity.

Should President Roosevelt accept the offer of arbitration it would in due course of time devolve upon him to suggest some method of payment of damages that would be found against Castro's government. It would be impossible for Venezuela to liquidate by cash payment. Could she guarantee the payment by realty securities, it is believed President Roosevelt might find it difficult not to advise what he, in his capacity as President of the United States, would find inimical to the chief principle of the Monroe Doctrine.

Again, if by the provisions of that doctrine, foreign governments are barred from the right of acquiring territory in lieu of cash indemnity, as is the usual custom elsewhere the world over, what proposition toward the security of the debt could Roosevelt make on the security that Venezuela seems able to offer, if not land? And again, if landed securities is not to be thought of, will the United States enter upon the dangerous rule of guaranteeing the bonds of South American countries?

These are some of the problems that confront the defenders of the Monroe Doctrine whether or not President Roosevelt acts as arbitrator.

KINDERGARTEN ASSOCIATION

The Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association held its January meeting yesterday. Interesting reports were given of the Christmas celebrations in the six kindergartens of Honolulu. Notwithstanding hard times their friends gave liberally, toward "Merry Christmas" for the 300 children donations of money equalling those of previous years. Teachers and assistants worked hard for weeks and the children added their best endeavors. In some of the kindergartens the children made Christmas presents to their parents of kodak photographs of themselves, which the teachers took and the children themselves framed.

The practicability of adding to the Normal School a kindergarten department as an experiment school was considered, and referred to the publication committee. It must be done through the legislature and its friends in that body.

The Castle Home reported that four more children are about to be admitted. This will make household of eighteen little children who greatly need this home. Those in charge regret that its funds are in rather a stringent condition and hope that the public and its friends will lend their assistance.
