MORE TAX BURDENS BY BILL PASSED IN THE TERRITORIAL SENATE

A Special Levy of a Quarter of One Per Cent in Place of Bonding.

There will be more tax burdens for the people of the Territory if the bill that was passed yesterday by the Senate meets with the approval of the House of Representatives and the Governor. Senate Bill 139 is the official title of the measure, and it provides that the Board of Supervisors of all the counties of the Territory can, with the approval of the Governor, levy an additional tax of not more than one-quarter of one per cent upon property now subject to the regular tax rate of one per cent.

Senator Fairchild took the lead in urging the passage of the bill yesterday and Senator W. O. Smith reiterated his objections to the increase of the tax burden at the discretion of the Boards of Supervisors. He urged that it was contrary to the principles of American government, and that the development of the Territory had not reached a point when measures of taxation could be left to the judgment of a few men. He argued that the imposition of further tax business was something which the Territory should try to avoid.

Senator Fairchild took the stand that the provisions of the bill were amply safeguarded from abuse, and that the stipulation which made the approval of the Governor necessary before the special tax could be levied, was sufficient guarantee that it would not be subject to being levied without good cause. The bill as passed by the Senate regulates the disposition of the money that is secured through the levying of the special county tax. The funds can only go for the construction of new school-houses, hospitals, courthouses, jails or other necessary buildings and for the purchase or construction of such water and sewer systems as shall have been approved by the Governor.

The Senate majority has gone on record as believing that residents of Hawaii are not better qualified to administer the offices of Government in the Territory than some hungry constituent of a United States Senator. By a vote of eight to seven the Senate yesterday voted against the passage of the resolution drawn to respectfully show that the sentiment of the people of Hawaii was in favor of being governed by residents of these islands.

In moving for the adoption of the resolution Chairman Knudsen of the Senate Committee on Judiciary stated that the resolution covered the subject in a satisfactory manner and that the committee recommended its passage.

Receive House Bills.

House Bill No. 200, giving warehousemen a lien on storage, passed first reading, as did also House Bill 221, relating to court decisions. House Bill 222, relating to bail, and House Bill No. 225, relating to tax liens, passed first reading. House Bill 226, re-

The House Carries Out Biggest Program of Session—Table Uni- form Bill.

Yesterday was a day of dreary routine in the House, with eighteen bills put through third readings and a mass of other work attended to. For the greater part of the day, Rice sat in the chair, Speaker Holstein having asked to be excused from attendance until Saturday, in order to allow him to go home and visit a sick son.

One of the most important measures finally passed was one empowering the Superintendent of Public Works to install water meters in connection with the waterworks and charge consumers accordingly, while the important bill defeated was that establishing a board of examiners to pass upon the qualifications of applicants to practise veterinary medicine.

The bill to borrow $100,000 for the improvement of the Honolulu harbor and $100,000 for a Kula pipeline passed, while a new bill was introduced making stricter the requirement that all corporations file annual reports of their business with the Treasurer yearly. Chillingworth's bill prohibiting the wearing of a uniform or any part of it belonging to the Army, Navy or National Guard was beaten.

Thirty Minutes.

The reading of the minutes of the tri-session day before took half an hour, after which a batch of routine communications from the Senate were read and received.

The Finance Committee dug up a report to present, this being on House Bill 224, to fix a tax rate on insurance companies. The report recommended the bill, saying something therein about "policy holders." This was hastily changed to "policy holders" and the report was adopted.

Boosts All Proper.

The Hawaii members, as a special committee, reported on Senate Bill 127, to boost Hawaii county salaries. All the boosts were approved of and one other recommended, that being for the Deputy Sheriff of North Kona, who goes up from $960 a year to $1080. The report was adopted.

"Last, but Not Least."

Sheldon presented a new bill, "the last, but not least," he styled it. This is a bill amending section 2566 of the Revised Laws relating to the annual exhibits of corporations. The bill provides that all industrial corporations shall annually present "a full and accurate" exhibit of the state of its affairs to the Treasurer as of December 31 of each year. The reports must be filed within sixty days of January 1. The exhibits are to be examined and the results of such examination may be laid before the Governor. Failure to provide a report may be punished by fine and imprisonment, while the books of the corporation may be gone through to secure or verify the information given.

APPROPRIATION BILL NOW IN THE COMMITTEE'S HANDS

The members of the joint conference committee on the appropriation bill are discovering that the problem of territorial finance is a bit complicated. They have made the same discovery in regard to the rules of parliamentary procedure as applied to joint conference committees in general and the one on the appropriation bill in particular.

Representative Joel Cohen is the chairman of the committee and he is doing his best to smooth out the obstacles that seem to confront the committee in its attempt to reach an agreement on the provisions of the appropriation bill.

The differences between the Senate and the House on the methods of making the territorial expenditures come within hailing distance of the revenues are very pronounced—so pronounced that it will require all the diplomatic talents of Chairman Cohen to guide the conferees away from the shoals of fruitless discussion and dispute.

The joint conference committee began its work Monday and consideration of the salary appropriation for the new office of Adjutant General showed at once that it is going to be hard work for the Senate and the House to reach a compromise upon any question in which there is a decided difference of opinion. In the appropriation bill as it was passed by the House, the salary attached to the office of Adjutant General was $200 a month, in place of the $225 recommended in the estimate submitted by the Governor. The Senate endorsed the figure recommended by the Governor. When the bill was taken up in the conference committee, the House majority were insistent that $200 was the proper salary for the head of the militia department. It was passed at that amount, but with the advocates of $225 discontented and uneasy.

Another question is whether the minority is bound by the action of the majority—making a majority vote appear as the unanimous opinion of the committee. Senator Chillingworth brought the issue up yesterday afternoon and there seemed to be a decided difference of opinion as to whether the minority should fall into line with the majority or have its dissenting opinions go on record.

WASHINGTON WILL SETTLE DISPUTE

Question of Paying for Work of Hawaiian Translating Referred There.

The whole question of the legality of the use of the Hawaiian language in the Legislature, so far as the use of Federal money to pay for it is concerned, is to be referred to Washington and the decision of the Comptroller of the Treasury accepted as final.

This was decided upon yesterday in the course of the passing on the voucher presented from the House against the Federal appropriation to pay Piianaia for translating the House Journal into Hawaiian, the Speaker, Representative Castro and Secretary Mott-Smith having deliberated over the question after Piianaia's voucher had been held up and payment refused. In the meanwhile the translator will be paid out of Territorial money.

This was brought to a head yesterday, when Secretary Mott-Smith wrote the following communication to Representative Castro:

"Your note of the 20th instant, with copy of letter of the 19th instant addressed by H. L. Holstein to yourself, in regard to the duties of Mr. A. St. C. Piianaia as Assistant Journal Clerk, has been received.

"Until I have had opportunity of referring this matter to the Comptroller of the Treasury for his opinion, the course suggested by Mr. Holstein would appear to be the better one to follow; that is, that Mr. Piianaia be appointed 'Hawaiian translator,' and his salary charged against the Territorial and not to the Federal appropriation for legislative expenses.

"I shall also take the opportunity of asking the opinion of the Comptroller on the general question, whether cost of translation and printing in the Hawaiian language may be charged to the Federal appropriation on the broad ground that the words, 'Legislative Proceedings,' as used in the Organic Act are confined in their meaning to the actual proceedings on the floor, the presentation, reading and passage of motions, resolutions, bills and the like and do not include translation and printing in the Hawaiian language which is ordinarily done for the convenience of legislators in preparation for 'Legislative Proceedings.'"

RUMOR THAT SHIP DIRIGO IS ASHORE ON MOLOKAI SENDS JAMES MAKEE OUT

Rumor had it last night that a vessel had been wrecked on the coast of Molokai, and although the story could not be traced to a definite source, Captain Miller dispatched the little steamer James Makee, Captain McAlister, on a hurry-up run to the island last night on the chance that the tale might be true. The American ship Dirigo, bound from Delaware Breakwater for Honolulu, is now 177 days out, and may have gone ashore on the Molokai rocks.

Captain Miller said last night that he had secured his information from some of the customs officials, but on investigation it was found that one of these had learned the story indirectly from one of Captain Miller's sailors on the Makee.

The James Makee left at 10:30 last night, and will arrive at Molokai at daybreak. Miller gave his men instructions to look on the weather side of the island. There is very little wind outside, and has been but little the last forty-eight hours, according to a report brought in by the schooner W. H. Marston yesterday.

While no fears have been felt for the safety of the Dirigo as yet, she is on the due list and has been expected to arrive here any day. Captain Goodwin is her master.

TOO MANY COOKS SPOIL THE BROTH

Waiahole Bridge Matter Has Become a Jumbled
Mess.

That too many cooks spoil the broth seems applicable to the present Board of Supervisors with reference to the bungling of repair work on the Waiahole bridge, which was partially destroyed in the freshets of March. Nobody seems to know how much the remainder of the job will cost, nor how long it will take, nor how much cement it will require to make the bridge safe. The Waiahole bridge has become the bogy of the board, and in the middle Road Overseer Paele of Koolauoko district seems to be the under dog.

The Mayor called attention to the distressing state of affairs at the Waiahole bridge at last night's session of the board, having just returned from the bridge with Supervisor Kane, which they visited to learn the truth of the situation. After the Mayor made a statement of his observations, giving his ideas as to the further cost of repairs, Supervisor Quinn made a contra-statement, denying the truth of some of the Mayor's information. The Mayor thought the cost would be something like $2000; Quinn thought it would be a few hundreds, and Engineer Gene added other figures.

The whole Waiahole incident has been the cause of more recrimination among the board members than any other job, and it will crop up again unless all signs fail.

The Mayor stated that when he visited the bridge yesterday a mechanic from Honolulu was patching up the old engine and pump which is making an effort to suck the coffer-dam dry of water so that the cement work can be done. The engine is apparently on its last legs. The Mayor thought the work would not be finished for at least two weeks, if then. The bridge has been costing all kinds of money thus far, and he thought it would cost thousands to make complete. There are other bridges to be fixed and repaired and rebuilt, and he did not believe such work should be done out of the district's appropriation, but special appropriations should be made from the (Continued on Page Two.)

Murray as manager of a phosphate company's interests on Christmas Island, had been made king of the islanders so that he should have sufficient authority over the natives.

lating to the failure to return property for taxation, also passed first reading.

Chairman Chillingworth of the committee of the whole on House Bill No. 180, the new tax bill, which completed its consideration of the bill Monday, submitted the amending report, which was adopted, passing the bill on second reading.

The Senate resolution expressing the sentiment of the Legislature as favoring the appointment of residents of the Territory to all judicial and executive offices in the Territory, was lost on the negative votes of Moore, Quinn, Harvey, Woods, Brown, Coelho, Robinson and Makekau.

Affirmative votes were cast by Baker, Chillingworth, Fairchild, Kalama, Knudsen, McCarthy and Smith.

House Bill No. 205, providing for the payment of the expenses of the district courts by the several counties, was taken up on second reading. Makekau moved to strike out the provision for a clerk and interpreter for the court of South Hilo. The motion was carried.

Senator Robinson moved to raise the salary of the district magistrate at Lahaina, Maui.

Time for a Halt.

Senator Fairchild said that it was about time a halt was called in the matter of raising salaries. He declared that a measure involving a salary never came up in the Senate without some member trying to force a raise.

Senator McCarthy offered an amendment, striking out all the salary specifications and substituting a clause that would leave the amount of salaries to the discretion of the county Board of Supervisors.

Senator Fairchild said that he fully agreed with the principle of McCarthy's amendment, but said the carrying out of such a plan at the present time would be a trifle premature.

Robinson next wanted $125 for the district magistrate at Wailuku, but the motion was lost.

The Ways and Means Committee reported favorably on the bill raising the salaries of the County Supervisors and other officials of the County of Maui. House Joint Resolution No. 7, providing for a commission to investigate the methods of imposing stamp duties, passed second reading.

County Tax Bill.

Senate Bill No. 139, allowing a special tax of not more than one-quarter of one per cent. for the purpose of county improvements, was taken up on third reading.

Senator Fairchild declared that the bill as amended practically took the part of bonds. He stated that it was a serious problem that confronted the Territory and insisted that some measure was essential to provide for the necessities of county development.

Senator Robinson offered an amendment to make the bill become operative December 31, 1909, so as to bring it within the next taxation period. The amendment was adopted, but later withdrawn.

Senator Chillingworth said that the bill would work a hardship upon the taxpayer and explained why he had dissented from the majority report of the Judiciary Committee, recommending the passage of the bill. He stated that no country would tolerate the burden of taxation that is borne by the people of the Territory.

Coelho supported the passage of the bill, arguing that it was based on similar practice in the United States.

Senator Smith took the floor in opposition to the passage of the measure, declaring that the principle was wrong. He said that the question of raising the tax rate should not be allowed to rest in the hands of the County Board of Supervisors. He said that the time had not yet arrived when a measure of taxation could be left in the hands of the counties. He insisted that the argument offered in support of the bill were specious and unsound and contrary to the established principles of government.

Senator Smith then moved for an indefinite postponement of the measure, but the motion was lost by a vote of 9 to 6, the affirmative votes being cast by Senators Brown, Chillingworth, Harvey, Quinn, Smith and Kalama.

The same vote carried the bill past its third reading.

House Bill No. 122, increasing the pay of officials of the City and County of Honolulu, was taken up on second reading. Senator Moore stated that he opposed increasing the salaries and declared that it was time that some effective idea of economy was carried into effect. Moore then moved for indefinite postponement, but the motion was lost and the bill passed on second reading.

Tax for Wireless.

The select committee on taxation reported favorably on House Bill No. 208, providing an annual license upon the transmission of wireless messages.

The Committee on Ways and Means recommended the passage of House Bill No. 209, relating to stamp duties and House Bill No. 202, providing for the disposition of the special gold certificate deposit and special money order deposit funds in the territorial Treasury.

Senate Bill No. 141, providing for the assessment of property holders for the cost of sewers, was taken up on third reading but was deferred because of the absence of Senator Chillingworth. President Smith said that Senator Chillingworth was anxious to be heard on the third reading of the bill. Senator Moore also observed that there seemed to be some defect in the measure, and he moved that the bill be deferred until today and the motion was carried.

Senate Bill No. 145, repealing the law limiting the transportation of lepers to vessels of not more than 250 tons burden, passed third reading without a dissenting vote.

House Bill No. 208, licensing wireless telegraph companies, passed second reading on the adoption of the favorable report of the Taxation Committee.

House Bill No. 209, relating to stamp duties, passed second reading on the adoption of the committee report.

House Bill No. 202, regulating the special deposits in the Territorial treasury, passed second reading on the adoption of the favorable report of the Ways and Means Committee.

House Bill No. 164, providing for the appointment of a lunacy commission, was taken up and passed on second reading. The amendments suggested by the Health Committee were adopted, after a general discussion on the provisions of the bill. An additional amendment offered by Makekau, to exempt persons appealing from a charge of insanity from the cost of appeal, was also inserted.

The Governor signed the following bills yesterday:

House Bill No. 167, Act 88, entitled "An act to prohibit the taking of fish with nets in the waters of the bay of Hilo."

Senate Bill No. 63, Act 89, entitled "An act to amend Section 14 of Act 119 of the Session Laws of 1907."

Senate Bill No. 111, Act 90, entitled "An act to provide for the payment of commutation due the Territory."

Senate Bill No. 124, Act 91, entitled "An act relating to accounts of executors and administrators, adding a new section to be known as Section 181A to the Revised Laws."

Senate Bill No. 194, Act 92, entitled "An act to authorize the appropriation of money for the purpose of paying the unpaid claims against the County of Maui, created by virtue of Act 31 of the Session Laws of 1903."

Senate Bill No. 165, Act 93, entitled "An act to appropriate money for the purpose of paying the unpaid claims against the county governments of East and West Hawaii created by virtue of Act 31 of the Session Laws of 1903."

Senate Bill No. 196, Act 94, entitled "An act to appropriate money for the purpose of paying the unpaid claims against the Territory of Hawaii for services and materials supplied during the period from the 4th to the 14th day of January, 1904."

HOUSE

Much Business To Do.

The House yesterday faced the biggest order of the day of the session, on the menu being seven House bills for third reading, eleven Senate bills on the same order, one House bill on special order of the day for second reading, a joint resolution on special order of the day, and a Senate bill to take up on second reading in committee of the whole.

Third Readings.

Bravely the House plunged into this mass of work.

House Bills 225 and 226, Rice, both rush bills to amend defects in the tax laws relating to tax liens and failure to make returns passed without opposition.

House Bill 200, Long, gives warehousemen a lien for storage of goods and authorizing the sale of the stored goods for collection of payment. Six months' storage is sufficient to allow a sale if the goods are unclaimed and unneeded for. The bill passed.

House Bill 221, Douthitt, requiring judgments to be rendered in writing, with reasons, in Circuit Court cases held without juries, was passed.

House Bill 222, Douthitt, authorizing the receipt of money for bail by certain court officers and allowing the money so received to be applied on the payment of costs and fines, passed. An attempt to amend by cutting out the last provision was tabled. The roll call showed some opposition, the vote being: Ayes, 20; noes, 8.

Kaniho's Plea.

House Bill 219, Shingle, requiring that anyone knowing of the presence of disease among animals should report the same to the authorities, under penalty for neglect, was read. The bill also discourages the trading off of animals with glanders and farcy. Kaniho, as representing the mules of the Territory, possibly, protested against the bill applying to his district. He stated that there were no veterinarians in Kohala, which accounts for several things. Correa moved to table the bill, the motion being lost. A motion to defer for a day carried.

Jackass Kills Bill.

House Bill 223, Douthitt, to establish a board of veterinary examiners to pass on the qualifications of applicants for licenses to practise veterinary medicine in the Territory, prescribing their duties and regulating the practice of veterinary medicine, was taken up.

Sheldon pointed out that the bill would prove a hardship on animal owners. He drew a word picture of a Kona jackass carrying Kawewehi and turning sick on the job, whereat the honorable member would be prevented under the law from providing first aid to the injured.

This killed the bill and it was tabled. At this time the House went into recess to see the Mauna Kea sail.

Second Readings.

Senate Joint Resolution 3, which calls upon the Governor to consider the manner of raising and apportioning school funds in other states and territories, was read a second time and referred to the Education Committee.

House Bill 223, Shingle, defining the duties of the Board of Regents of the College of Hawaii, passed second reading on recommendation of a report from the Education Committee.

Senate Communications.

Senate Bill 143, Harvey, wiping out Sections 1136 and 1137 of the Revised Laws relating to the transportation of lepers, was received.

Senate Bill 143, Fairchild, making an appropriation for the Public Lands department, was debated on first reading and came very close to being rejected, the matter involved having been already attended to in the House. Vice Speaker Rice, in the Chair, stated that to reject it would be uncourteous to the Senate and that second reading could table the bill.

License Bill Deferred.

Senate Bill 120, Baker, requiring second-hand dealers to take out $25 licenses and regulating the business to discourage the establishment of fences, was read. Sheldon pointed out that the licenses should be secured from the counties and the bill was deferred to give him a chance to draft an amendment.

Furtado said this bill would conflict with the former license bill 195, Alfonso agreeing that Furtado was right—for once. The bill was finally again deferred, this time until Friday.

Meter Measure Passed.

Senate Bill 125, McCarthy, empowering the Superintendent of Public Works to fix the rates for the use of water from the Honolulu system and authorizing him to install water meters where necessary, was read. Kama objected to the bill, which would make a hardship on a man whose water pipes leaked and whose faucets were not tight. He protested against the bill in the name of plutocracy and that of the great middle class. He moved the indefinite postponement.

Coney said Kama wouldn't know a water meter if he saw one. The bill was one to prevent the waste of water, which was now costing the Territory thousands of dollars. If pipes leak, fix them, he said. Properly used, meters would reduce rates and cut down expense of upkeep of the system. He urged the members to get civilized and pass the bill.

Coney quoted from the report of the Los Angeles water commission, showing that the use of meters saved money all around. Under the flat rate system the economical man has to pay for his neighbor's waste. Through the meter system he thought that the water rates would be cut in halves. At present, according to the estimate of the department, three million gallons a day are being wasted.

The result of the roll call showed: Ayes, 23; noes, 3.

Kula Pipeline Carried.

Senate Bill 123, Coelho, the special appropriation bill for public improvements, which carried $1,669,492.82, as first introduced and which included everything asked for, but which had been gone through until only the Kula pipeline, $100,000, and Honolulu harbor improvements, $100,000, were left.

Carley explained the great need of the Kula water line. The member from Maui made an eloquent address, telling of the great hardships suffered by the Kula people during the past two years as seen by him on a trip through the parched region. He explained that each family was allowed only ten gallons of water every three days for all purposes, this supply for the whole district coming through one small pipe. What the Kula people wanted was only sufficient money to pipe a proper water supply down from the mountain. The district to be served was a country rich in everything but water.

Carley's good address carried the item through.

Affonso offered an item to appropriate $15,000 for a Honolulu waterworks system, stating that he would present a bill to provide for the repayment of the amount by the county of Hawaii. The member reported—before he moved into Hilo—having to go ten miles for a drink.

Cohen said the House was a unit on the Kula pipeline but regarded Affonso's amendment as an imposition, bringing the item in at this time and tacking it on a bill with the danger of killing it.

Purtado wanted to know what the money for the Honolulu harbor was doing in the bill.

Rice, with consent of the House, explained from the chair that the Pacific Mail had agreed to pay a stated sum of $500 a month for the use of the wharves, an amount that would pay interest and sinking fund to meet the bonds.

Castro defended the item and pointed out the businesslike principle of making a profitable investment. He said the bill was not one to cover all necessities or desires.

The moving of the previous question shut Affonso off from presenting some more amendments, although he had them in the hands of the clerk. He argued the priority of the amendments over the previous question motion but Rice had the Speaker's big stick and brought it down sharply.

The bill passed twenty-two to three.

Maui Foots the Bill.

Senate Bill 140, the bill binding the County of Maui to repay principal and interest of the $100,000 for the Kula pipeline and authorizing the Treasurer to hold out the payments from Maui's share of the taxes, was read and passed. Furtado presented an amendment, stating the bill as drafted guaranteed only payment of interest and not principal. His amendment was tabled. The vote on the bill stood: Ayes, 23; noes, 2.

Senate Bill 19, Coelho, fixing the license fee for hotels in Honolulu and Hilo at $50 a year and elsewhere at $25, was read and passed on a vote of 21 to 4.

Senate Bill 114, Harvey, to pay physicians employed in examination of suspects at the Kalihi receiving station from $5 to $10 an examination from Board of Health money, was read. There was no debate, the bill passing by 21 to 4.

Hasty Marriages Tabu.

Senate Bill 25, Castro, to discourage hasty marriages, making it necessary that the parents or guardians of boys under 20 years and girls under 18 years give their personal consent and sanction to their marriage, and making it a punishable offense to make false representations when applying for a marriage license, was read. All the members but three disapproved of hasty marriages, and carried the bill by 22 to 3.

Senate Bill 86, Coelho, relating to medicine and surgery, was read. Furtado said that it looked as if the doctors wanted a lead-pipe cinch on everything, and moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed. Coney said the cinch in this bill was the other way. Cohen asked that action be deferred, which was denied on a standing vote.

The bill passed, 21 to 6.

Senate Bill 131, Chillingworth, prescribing the qualifications of licensees for pharmacists and assistants, was passed, 27 to 0.

Senate Bill 56, Chillingworth, to prohibit the giving or receiving of military instruction without the sanction of the Governor, was read and passed unanimously.

Hat Pins Still Permissible.

Senate Bill 59, Chillingworth, to prohibit the wearing of the uniform of the Army or Navy or National Guard, was read and tabled, after the Vice Speaker had asked if the newspaper story was correct that it would prevent ladies wearing souvenir button hats. Furtado said the bill would prevent police officers and detectives from disguising themselves as soldiers and sailors. The vote to table was an overwhelming one.

Committee of the Whole.

Kawewehi was called to the chair when the House went into committee of the whole on Senate Bill 121, up for second reading. This is the bill governing general elections in the future.

The various sections of the bill were wrangled over, the ex-sergeant-at-arms proving himself a good disciplinarian. The committee will report today.

general fund for all bridge work, the same as was done under the old county board.

The Mayor stated that Paele was up against a short appropriation for the rest of the month for road work, having put most of his money into the bridge. He felt that the engineer should bring in plans and estimates of cost for repairs to bridge work and the work be done under appropriation from the general fund.

Supervisor Quinn said the work would cost about $200. He was at Wai-ahole just after the Mayor and he thought everything was O. K.

Logan remarked that Paele seemed to have blocked things at the start by putting the dogs on Engineer Gere when he went there to make a report. Engineer Gere stated that he agreed with the Mayor's policy of making special appropriations for repairs to bridges, and would have to do so in this instance. He thought the work could be finished for about $200 if there are no more storms meanwhile.

Logan thereupon introduced a resolution appropriating $100 to be used in addition to the $150 yet remaining to carry on the work this month.

It is quite likely that the Mayor's plan, to specialize appropriations for bridge work to be done under the direction of the Engineer, will be adopted.

Cheap Gravel for Roads.

Chairman Quinn of the Road Committee showed the county an opportunity to save money by spending a little. There was a lot of gravel on some land of Mr. Swanzy's in Koolau which Mr. Swanzy was willing to let the county have at a very low price, and Mr. Quinn stated it was just the right kind of gravel for the roads. If it was used the road would cost a few hundreds of dollars instead of the thousands it would take to cart the gravel in from another location. The board approved of the suggestion, not without a lot of childish wrangling, and the road overseer of the district is authorized to receive gravel from Bonny Judd, who negotiated the deal. The price will be fixed up later.

Bids for Machinery.

Bids for supplying a twenty horsepower engine, a petrolitric roller tamper, spike disc, harrow and cultivator, were opened, tenders being offered by the von Hamm-Young Company and the Honolulu Iron Works. The von Hamm-Young Company offered to furnish the engine for $1048 on wheels and for $750 on skids; the petrolitric tamper for $800; disc harrow for $90, and cultivator for about the same price. The Iron Works bids were $1157 for the engine; petrolitric roller $783.75; disc, $77 and cultivator $77.

As the board members knew little about the merits of the machines the matter was passed to the engineer for a report. Ahia raised a laugh by asking seriously if this machinery would tend to reduce the number of men on the road work, as was the case with the Inter-Island company's coal hopper, which he said was responsible for laying off sixty-seven men.

Politics Again.

The political bugaboo came up during the course of the meeting with reference to road workers being discharged by the road supervisors, and Supervisor Logan, after making an impassioned statement that discharges having a political basis must cease, said he wanted a full and thorough investigation of a petition from discharged road workers, ending in Kane offering the following resolution, which was adopted:

"Be it Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of the city and County of Honolulu, That no employee of the City and County of Honolulu shall be discharged on account of his political affiliation, and be it further resolved, that the clerk of the City and County be and he is hereby ordered to transmit a copy of this resolution to each of the various departments of the City and County and to each of the road district overseers."

The matter was brought up through a petition signed by about twenty Hawaiian workers, who set forth that they, as citizens and voters, employed in the road department, had worked eight hours a day, but since March 16 they have worked nine hours a day without overtime, and eight hours on Saturday without overtime. They state that they understand the law requires eight hours' work of them every day, except on Saturdays when they are to work five hours. They state they believe they have been unfairly dealt with and pray the honorable board to cause an impartial investigation and do whatever in their judgment may be just and proper in accordance with the law.

Cox wanted the matter referred to the Road Committee. The Mayor wanted it settled right away. Logan said that there were many people, not present, who wanted to be on hand when the matter was under discussion. For a month, he said, he had met groups of men on the street who complained to him about the hours.

"I want this matter investigated right down to the bottom," said Logan, "to find out whether antocratic methods are to be in vogue or not. I think the board should have something to say to prevent wholesale dismissals."

The Mayor thought Logan said something about "outsiders" taking a hand in the investigation and he stated his mind freely against intermeddling of outsiders. Logan insisted that he had said nothing of the sort and went on to say that he knew of "some good

SPORTS

YOUNG ACTORS
ENJOY SPORT

Pollards Find Time to Swim and Row in Spite of Rehearsals.

In spite of the hard work that the young Pollard actors have been doing on the stage with many rehearsals and much learning of new parts, they have found a little time to devote to athletics and sports generally, of which they are, like all Australians, very fond.

One of the principal delights of the younger members of the company has been to chase down to the Healanu boat club for an hour or two in the morning or afternoon, when Mr. Gould-ing would spare them from rehearsal.
The privileges of the club were extended to them and they have made full use of this courtesy.

Rowing and swimming is their forte.
Frank Cherry is, perhaps, the smartest swimmer of them all but has not the speed and staying power of some of the older boys. Last year, when Cherry was here with the Lilliputians he defeated "Peanuts," a local Hawaiian, in a swimming race, and there is some talk of another match in which Cherry will take on any lad of his own age.

The Pollards would have come out with several challenges had this not been deprecated by the management on account of too much business to be attended to. There are several of them who are handy oarsmen and they have been talking about having a rowing race between a four-oared crew from the company and one of the same age limit from the boat club.

This idea was promptly taken up by some of the members of the club yesterday afternoon and it is more than possible that it will come off next Sunday.

The Australians are naturally all good cricketers and, if it were not for the Saturday matinee, there would have been a match with the local team last week, but the actors cannot play on Saturday and there is no other day on which the Honolulu C. C. can get a team together.

Just growing into manhood as most of the Pollards are, it is essential that they should get plenty of exercise out-of doors and they are certainly keen enough after it. When they get out on the water they are just like kids and have as good a time romping round the boat-house, chasing each other into and out of the water and having a good time generally, as the oldest of the morning dip association ancients, and that is saying a whole lot.

All the leading local sporting and athletic events have received proper attention from the young actors and they took a special interest in the Marathon last Sunday. A cordial invitation was sent to the winner of the race to make himself free of the Opera House as long as the Pollards are playing there. When they get out together they talk mostly of sport, principally in Australia, and the one member of the company who has seen Tommy Burns fight is looked upon as an oracle in the pugilistic line.

MARATHONITIS
PAU AT PRESENT

Jack Scully has not received very much encouragement to pull off another Marathon race, from a financial point of view, although there has been much talk round town of another event and the promoter has been pestered to bring off a big race between two or three of the best runners.

There was some talk of a match race between Jackson and Saito, the Japanese Marathonite who is now in Honolulu on his way to the mainland.
But negotiations have apparently fallen through and it is hardly likely that it will come off.

Mr. Scully states that he does not believe in killing a good sport by overdoing it and expects to leave the Marathon business alone, at any rate until after the distinctively amateur affair that Dr. Hand will pull off on June 11.

Jackson is figuring on going to Hilo and running in a Marathon race there.
He states, and quite rightly too, that the half-mile track would be much better for running on than the fifth of a mile track at the league park and he believes that the event would draw a large crowd in the rainy city.

Marathon running was a novelty here and the people enjoyed the two races that have been pulled off, but it is possible to have too much of a good thing and it is doubtful if another event of this kind would be much of a drawing card.

Dr. Hand's big athletic carnival on June 11 is about the next thing of the kind to be looked for. The good director of Y. M. C. A. athletics is arranging a very attractive program for that date and it looks as though it would bring out a big crowd.

BIG OPENING FOR NEW LEAGUE

There will be big doings at the league grounds next Sunday afternoon, when the opening of the Military Baseball League will take place. This will add to the long list of baseball leagues already organized in Honolulu, and lots of baseball is promised for the year.

The Military League was organized largely through the efforts of Lieutenant A. W. Chilton, who is now the treasurer of the league. Lieutenant Chilton is a true sportsman, and takes great interest in the national pastime.

The other officers of this league are
A. K. Vierra, president, and K. L.
Andrews, secretary.

The opening ceremonials will beat anything of its kind that ever took place here. There will probably be two bands in attendance—the Hawaiian band and the famous band of the 5th Cavalry—and besides this there will be a large number of ladies from both the Army and Navy circles of Uncle Sam who will be present. Many invitations have been issued. Colonel Schuyler will open the league by pitching the first ball over the plate, which will mark the opening of the first military baseball league in the Hawaiian Islands. The first game to take place will be between the 5th Cavalry and the 20th Infantry, and the second contest is to be fought between the National Guard of Hawaii and the United States Marines. Both of these games promise to be hotly contested, and some good baseball will be seen.

The league has elected Edwin Fernandez as umpire, and W. Tin Chong, scorer. This means that the umpiring and scoring end of the league will be properly taken care of.

WITHINGTON
HAS NEW HONOR

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 3.—Captain C. E. Cutler of the Harvard vari-sity crew has appointed Paul Withington, '09, of Honolulu, Hawaii, captain of the Harvard second varsity crew for the rest of the college year. This means that Withington is regarded as sure of his seat in the varsity fouroar, which will be made up from the second eight in which he is now rowing.

The members of the second crew are substitutes for the first boat, and in case of accident or ineligibility of any of the regulars, one of them will be taken to the first eight. Withington rowed at 3 last year in the four-oared boat at New London. At present he is number 7 in the second eight.

Coach Wray took Luntz seat at number 2 when the varsity boat first went out for practice Wednesday. The crew went upstream about a mile and then returned to the boathouse, where Luntz took his seat again and the eight went downstream for its usual row.

Wray then took Forster's place at 2
in the second crew for some distance.
This method of following the work of the crews and getting the line in the boats is one of Coach Wray's methods of training, and he occasionally resorts to it in the daily practice.

Yale and Harvard have both agreed to hold their annual race on the Thames, Thursday, July 1, the usual date, which is the day after the Yale and Harvard commencements.

Sport Notes

The interscholastic baseball series will begin next Saturday afternoon, when High School will play Punahou, and the Kams will play St. Louis College, at the Kaimali ground. All the four schools are practicing vigorously, and a keen contest is looked for. On paper Punahou has the best team, but all of the other three are doing well in practice, and there is no telling who will take the championship.

There will be another practice of the N. G. H. team at the league grounds tomorrow afternoon at 5 p. m. They were out yesterday afternoon and went through a hard course of sprouts under the gentle tutelage of Sergeant Barry. The N. G. H. boys have a rattling good team and are very confident of winning the championship of the Military League series.

Dal'Fahy states that, in a two-mile walking race, he can beat the longest-legged scribbler that ever put fingers on a typewriter. He expects to start training next week for the June 11 walking race. He states that newspaper men are great on talking but not much on walking.

The Y. M. C. A. junior handball tournament will start on April 27, which is Tuesday of next week. The courts have been refaced, and a "tell-board" put in, which prevents players from killing the ball by driving it into the angle of the wall and the ground.

The return baseball game between Oahu College and the Marines will be played this afternoon at Atkinson Park at 3 o'clock. The Marines have suffered defeat at the hands of the young collegians and are very anxious to win this game on their own ground. Hynes will pitch for the Marines, and if he be in good form there is quite a chance that he may put it over on the Puna-hou lads.

THE VALUE OF SMALL THINGS.

A recent writer on Cuba in the New York Sun makes a point which is applicable to other tropical places and to other than Eastern markets, in terms as follows:

The American settler who goes to Cuba wants to produce sugar or tobacco or citrus fruits. He believes that the "big money" is to be made in those lines. He is mistaken. Sugar requires capital, and tobacco requires special knowledge. Citrus fruits require time. The notion of going to Cuba to raise beans and onions and potatoes does not appeal to the American settler. He can raise those at home. Yet there is a better profit for the average settler in those lines than in any other. The Cuban takes to and sticks to cane and tobacco as the Southern planter sticks to cotton, as the Western farmer sticks to corn and wheat and cattle. It becomes a habit not easily broken; a custom not easily changed. In that matter the Cuban planter is quite like those of his kind in other lands.

There are many small products which Oahu and the other islands raise far in advance of the appearance of similar crops on the Coast which might become as profitable to truck farmers here as early onions are to the Bermudians. Among them are table grapes. To send grapes to San Francisco and the Northwest may seem to some like sending coal to Newcastle, but it is not so. The season for grapes in California is well-defined and there is a waiting spell of many months between crops, during which our Isabellas—more delicate table grapes than are usually found on the Coast and which are always in the market—could bring good prices.

California, Oregon and Washington go without sweet potatoes for months during which the latter may be had here for a low price. Two years ago we were assured that the Sound country would take such vegetables between seasons at a price which would be highly remunerative to the grower. Oahu is growing asparagus of absolutely the finest quality—some that Mr. Lansing is now showing from a Pearl Harbor tract being better than the best California product. Indeed, if there were enterprise in small things here we could make a reputation for early vegetables and tropical fruits in California which would vastly add to the demand here for small agricultural tracts.

THE JAPANESE SUGAR SCANDAL.

The Japanese parliamentary sensation involving the arrest of several members in connection with the failure of the Dai Nippon Sugar Refinery Co., noted in the cable dispatches recently, is best told in the following statement of the collapse of the refinery which appears in the March number of the Japan Financial and Economic Monthly:

One of the industrial enterprises in Japan that was regarded with sanguine expectation, the Dai Nippon Sugar Refinery Co., exposed its internal condition to the great astonishment of the public. The fact that such disorder in the company was not known to the public must be attributed to the work of a few directors of the company, whose action was almost akin to a criminal procedure. Concerning the steps taken by the directors, we have to note the following:

1. The Directors returned their own shares to the company and took in return the funds of the company, in lieu of the same.
2. They are suspected of having been guilty of unjust action in making purchase of other companies.
3. The Directors utilized the company's shares and engaged in speculation.
4. The Directors made a false report.

The amount of losses is figured to be 3,000,000 yen, and the present auditors of the company as a measure of adjustment presented the following plans:

1. To reduce the number of directors.
2. To borrow the sum of 3,000,000 yen on the security of the Formosan Works.
3. Losses should be made good by those who are concerned with the company even by the presentation of their property that will be figured on at the current market prices.

The sum of the total losses amounting to 2,920,000 yen will be partly defrayed by the reserve funds amounting to 2,160,000 yen, and the sum of 760,000 yen out of this year's profits. The questions is whether these adjustments will be regarded as the most effective method of adjusting the affairs of the company or not.

When the news concerning the disruption came to hand, says the Financial and Economic Weekly, we requested of Mr. Sako, president of the company, an explanation on the two following points:

1. To give a plain statement of the losses of the company.
2. To make the cause of failure plain. But to these questions, we have not received an answer as yet. As the failure of the company affects the economic circle in general, it has been thought best that sufficient explanations should be given about the above two points in which Baron Shibusawa and Mr. Hayakawa, directors of the Mitsui Bank, fully concur, so that we believe that the true cause of the failure will be published before long.

THE SCENT OF CITIES.

People who go from Honolulu to their old home towns on the mainland or abroad are struck on their arrival by an odor which they never particularly noticed when they lived there but which they recognize as something familiar and distinctive. If they stay away a few weeks and return here they note for the first half hour a generic odor about the business part of this city and identify it as the much-diluted essence of Chinatown. Many cities are scented by their chief building material or the kind of fuel they use; but all of them make their presence known to the nostril in a way peculiarly their own.

Some investigations lately made along these lines have determined that London, though not without its smells of locality, has an all-pervading odor of coal smoke. Paris smells of coke, and Washington of negroes. Richmond, Va., smells of the James river. Moscow is scented by cranberries, which are in great demand there, and St. Petersburg by old boots or leather. Brooklyn has an odor of brownstone and sea air; and before the fire San Francisco air, when the fog was absent, was tinted by the ancient and dirty rookeries and old wooden boarding houses that hedged in the business quarter—though there were various localities, like Chinatown, Spanish town, the Latin quarter and the Potrero, that had pronounced smells of their own. The same is true of all large cities, particularly London where the neighborhood of Covent Garden smells of vegetables, Billingsgate of fish and Soho of garlic.

One of the delightful incidents of a long voyage is the smell of great bodies of land, of a continental shore, as the ship approaches it. This odor, if a land breeze is blowing, may be detected a hundred miles from the beach. The first thing which convinced Columbus that he had reasoned well, was the fragrance which reached his eager nostril a night or two before he found one of the outpost islands of the new world. Today a traveler from the Coast to Japan, under right atmospheric conditions, gets the scent of Asia before he sees the white peak of Fuji and the odor is very different from that which, on his return, tells of the invisible presence of his own continent.

About the most delicious travesty the Legislature has produced is Kealawa and his speech on the art of extracting secrets from a reporter. Poor Kealawa got a license to practice law the other day—why and how no one seems to know—and he took offense because the Graft investigation committee had engaged Deputy Attorney General Whitney as its lawyer instead of himself, thereby failing to find out who, of the legislators, had given the graft story to the press. "I have just got my license," said Kealawa, "and if you would leave this thing to me I would get the name out of the reporter in about a minute." Inquiry as to the means which this new barrister proposed to employ has not been especially fruitful, but it is understood that he had consulted a kahuna who told him to have the reporter arrested for arson and then to let him off as soon as he had disgorged the name of the graft revelator.

Jeffries finds that a champion, if he is to stay one, must defend his championship in the good old way. There are no lay-figures in the lists in any line of competitive business, least of all that of prize-fighting.

One trouble with a Turkish revolution is that it is quite as likely to make matters worse as better.

What a glorious old time a Hawaiian legislature might have if there were no newspapers.

WARNED NOT TO LET ROADS DETERIORATE

Some honest criticism was handed to the Board of Supervisors last night by Albert Waterhouse and Frank Archer with respect to the manner in which the board builds roads and then allows them to deteriorate.

Mr. Archer appeared as a citizen of Ewa district to remind the present board of a promise of the former board to macadamize the road from Pearl City to the Peninsula, after which the railroad company would deed the road, to which it was adding a wide strip, to the city and county. He said he thought it was time for the citizens to plead for the road work in that district. The road was only half done, and the remainder should be attended to while the crusher was in the vicinity.

Mr. Waterhouse supplemented this statement by saying that there was no more earnest advocate of the island belt road than himself, but he felt that the road to the Peninsula was important as an adjunct to the belt road. The people of the Peninsula were paying city taxes on their property, and paying it at the rate of $3000 to $4000 of valuation per acre, and they had not got their money back in improvements, and their claim was legitimate. The Peninsula road would be attractive to tourists, as it would bring them directly to Pearl Harbor.

Mr. Waterhouse then said he had a criticism. "This city and county," he said, "is building some fine roads, but you are letting them go to the dickens, because you don't take care of them. I took a trip recently to the Malay States. They had a road-building problem there in tropical jungles, but they not only build roads, but they keep them up. Every two miles there is a section gang repairing the roads, not a single cantonment here and there. They spend lots of money on roads, but they don't let them go to pot by not taking care of them. If some money is not spent in repairs on the Honolulu-Pearl City road you are going to lose lots of money."

Supervisor Kane thought the board should agree to carry out the promise of the former board, and the Peninsula road will be looked after.

Mr. Quinn replied to Mr. Waterhouse, saying that while the present board is building many roads, yet it is not neglecting any. The board has been in office only a short time and is doing its utmost to keep the roads up. There were roads left over from the last administration which were not in good shape. He spoke of the work being done on King street and the Pail, and Mr. Waterhouse stated again even on the Pail road the side ditches to carry off the water were far from being deep enough or large enough for the purpose.

honest men who had been turned out to the streets from their jobs." As to outsiders, why the Legislature allowed attorneys to come before it and the board could do likewise. Cox renewed his effort to have the matter go to a committee, and Logan referred to some mysterious matter which he said had been settled right off the handle by the board and he found he had voted in a way that did not give a fair verdict. The matter was referred to the Road Committee.

When the investigation comes to a head, Road Supervisor Wilson will be found armed with ammunition that will tell. He will show the board that it is interfering with a businesslike plan that is the means of procuring more labor for the county, at the same rate of wages. He is using a ticket system. When a teamster goes out with his wagon he is given a ticket and when he leaves the quarry with a load the ticket is punched, and is punched when the load is delivered. This gives the road supervisor a check on the way the teamster is working and results in the teamster being required to get an extra load, possibly, or more than he did before. The road supervisor, agreeing with the board that "this must be a businesslike board" is carrying out its plans. It has come to be a question whether the laborers are to dictate or the supervisor of roads administer the affairs of his department.

NEWS OF THE WATERFRONT

BIG SCHOONER
MARSTON HERE

Arrives After Uneventful Voyage From Coast—News of the Front.

Eighteen days out from San Francisco, the big five-masted schooner W. H. Marston, Captain Hersey, arrived here yesterday afternoon after an uneventful voyage. The Marston had light winds the greater part of the trip from the mainland, and it was on account of this that she came in later than was expected.

The big schooner is back to Honolulu after an absence from this port of about a year, during which time she has been running to Hilo, picking up sugar cargoes there. She has about 2700 tons of general freight for Honolulu. Of this, there are ten thousand cases of oil for the Standard Oil Company.

Another consignment on board the Marston is a considerable amount of lumber of the dredging company at Pearl Harbor. This will be unloaded at the Railroad wharf, where about half of the cargo will be discharged. The rest of the freight on the Marston will be unloaded at the Oceanic wharf, where the schooner is now docked.

The Marston tug Intrepid, Captain Hyde, brought the vessel in very neatly to her berth.

Hilsonian Departs.

There was the usual crowd down at the Matson wharf to see the steamer Hilsonian, Captain Johnson, get away for the Coast yesterday morning. The Hawaiian land was on hand and played the usual appropriate selections. The Hilsonian had 2500 tons of refined sugar from the Honolulu plantation as her principal item of cargo, and also carried a large number of passengers.

The Lurline of the same line will probably arrive here about the same time as the Chiyo Maru tomorrow morning. The Chiyo has the mail.

F. M. Slade to Sail.

Captain Johnson of the schooner F. M. Slade, which brought a large cargo of lumber here, will probably get out to sea within the next few days, providing his vessel does not take on a load of sugar here. This is unlikely, however, the boat probably returning to Grays Harbor for another lumber cargo. While in this port she has been repainted and presents a spick and span appearance now.

JAMES RUSSELL
GOES TO HILO

Is Appointed Temporary Harbormaster There—Mosher Goes Later.

James Russell, well known among local shipping men, has been appointed temporary harbormaster, pilot, kerosene and powder-keeper at Hilo, and he left yesterday at noon on the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea to assume the duties of his new post. It has been announced that Captain Mosher, one of the local harbor pilots, had been appointed to this position, but on account of the fact that he is at present filling the place of Captain Sanders in the pilot-house, Russell has been sent to take temporary charge of the Hilo work.

Captain Sanders will probably return from the Coast in time to go back to work by the first of the month. Captain Mosher will then, in all probability, be given his commission as harbormaster and pilot at Hilo. In any event, it is stated authoritatively that Mosher will later be sent to Hilo, notwithstanding the fact that Russell yesterday had a commission tucked away in an inside pocket when he left for the Big Island metropolis.

The Marus for South America.

The old Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamers, which have called at Honolulu for several years, are to be placed on a new subsidized run between Japan and South American ports. The Japan Financial and Economic Monthly for March gives the following statement of the proposed runs and subsidies:

The Government decided to open the South American route for 1909, and to give subsidies. Mr. Uchida, chief of the Mercantile Marine Bureau, made the following explanation concerning the matter. He said that to the routes in question three steamers should be applied. The route reaches Hongkong, Mexico, Peru, and Chile. The whole route covers 12,500 nautical miles. As this line would open communications between the above countries and Japan, it would serve for the foundation of the world's communications. He believed that the trade between various countries in South America and Japan would be developed.

Mr. Nakashoji, Government Commissioner, spoke about the necessity of opening the South American route. The point of his speech is this that at present America Maru, Nippon Maru, Hongkong Maru, Tenyo Maru, and Chiyo Maru, are engaging in the navigation to San Francisco. And the present amount of expenditure is 1,973,589 yen. As it is very uneconomical to apply this number of vessels to the San Francisco line alone, the government ordered the company to apply America Maru and Nippon Maru and also Hongkong Maru as a subsidiary vessel, to the South American route six times a year. Under the circumstances the subsidy to be allowed to the route is not newly demanded.

The following are the particulars of the subsidies for the San Francisco and South American routes:

| Year | Subsidy     | Yen |

Swimming Boys Have Sport.

An angry officer and four or five Hawaiian swimming boys on the deck of the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea formed the combination that created considerable amusement for the large crowd which witnessed the sailing of the flagship yesterday at noon. As usual, there were a number of the diving boys perched on points of vantage on the steamer as she backed out from her wharf. One of the officers of the boat apparently didn't like their presence on board, and, according to onlookers on the shore, he began to chase them. This was real sport for the lads, as they were well aware that all they had to do to escape was to leap out into the harbor. They fished the man until, it is said, he was well-nigh frantic. They finally plunged overboard and began their call, "Right beach," to the passengers on the steamer. The crowd on the wharf joshed the officer who lost his temper, until the vessel was well out into the harbor.

When the Mauna Kea backed into the stream yesterday, she dropped her port anchor before making the turn toward the sea, this being done to aid her engines in making the sharp shift. Many people on the wharf, however, thought the vessel was detained for some unaccountable reason, and that she had anchored for a stay of some length in the harbor. They accordingly surged back onto the wharf, only to see the splendid little interisland liner slowly get under way and steam out.

There was a whole string of Inter-Island boats sailed away at noon, and several last evening at 5 o'clock.

Marama Booked Heavy.

Cable advices have been received by T. H. Davies & Co., that the steamer Marama left Fiji twenty hours late. She will probably be that amount of time late in arriving here, but it is possible that the Canadian liner may make up the loss en route here.

According to the present prospects, there will be considerable trouble in store for people who desire to leave for the mainland within the next few weeks. Of the eighty passengers booked at this port for the voyage to British Columbia on the Marama, but ten can go on account of almost all the accommodations being taken up already.

Not only on the Canadian-Australian boats is this so, but also on the liners of other companies. It is understood that the Lurline is already booked to nearly her entire capacity for the return voyage. There are several families, it is said, who have tried to get transportation to the mainland within the last few days, but they have found a heavy booking ahead of them all around.

Chiyo Maru Thursday.

A wireless received by H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., from the Chiyo Maru, yesterday, announces her expected arrival here on Thursday morning at daylight. Ex-Vice President Fairbanks and family are on board.

Inter-Island Sailings.

But two Inter-Island boats are on the boards to sail for other ports today, these being the Likelike, Captain Naopala, and the Nihau, Captain Oness. The Likelike yesterday afternoon, at the Channel wharf, took on cargo for the other islands. She will sail today at noon for Honokaa ports. The Nihau sails at 8:30 this morning with explosives for Lahaina and Kakaekai. A new mast for the Nihau is being shaped out on the Mauna Loa wharf, and this will, as soon as finished, be installed.

Alakea-Street Wharf Shed.

Contractor Ouderkerk got the first big timbers for the new wharf shed on the Alakea street wharf in place yesterday and work from now on will be very speedy. Shipping interests along the front are looking forward eagerly to the completion of the new shed, as it will be a great addition to the set of wharf-coverings in Honolulu's harbor. The office of Harbormaster Clark will probably be transferred to the new shed when it is completed, and it is also probable that the harbor pilots will be given a new home there. This sounds the doom of the historic old pilot-house, on the Waikiki end of the harbor.

Sir Thomas of the Kukui.

There is one fine mascot on board the United States lighthouse tender Kukui, in the shape of a cat which goes by the official cognomen of "Sir Thomas of New York." The feline made the voyage around the Horn, from Atlantic to Pacific waters, on the boat, and the boys hold their mascot in high esteem. Sir Thomas, in return, never strays far from the boat when she is at her wharf, and would no more think of allowing the trim vessel to leave on a voyage without him than he would of flying.

Humble Heroes of Molokai

The Catholic Herald.

In that most interesting book, "The Lepers of Molokai" ("Ave Maria" Press), Charles Warren Stoddard has the following little-known passage relating to the share taken by an Irish-Australian family in the early attempts to comfort the forsaken leper of the Pacific. The author says:

There was little sleep that night. I was thinking of my first visit to the settlement in 1868, when the keeper and his family did what they could to make Dr. Lee, the then visiting physician, and myself comfortable.

The Walsh family had a history, and a sad one it was. Failing health compelled the retirement of Mr. Walsh from the British army some years previous to my acquaintance with him. With his wife and children he sought a home in the colonies; that first hope of the young and enthusiastic, the last resort of the despairing. Misfortune and death pursued him from shore to shore. Discouraged by unprofitable speculations in Australia and New Zealand, he sailed, for the far-distant Hawaiian Islands.

Seven children had been taken from him by death; but one remained—a good lad, though, alas! in delicate health, subject to physical disorders, and therefore a constant source of anxiety.

Upon the arrival of the Walshes in Honolulu, it was announced that a keeper was needed at the new leper settlement—one who would make his home with the lepers and devote his entire attention to them. Mr. Walsh offered his own and his wife's services, and they were accepted. The little family at once removed to Molokai, and took up their residence at Kalawao.

Upon my visit at that time, the doctor and I sought shelter under their roof, the only refuge available. The house was extremely small; I think there were but two rooms in it; but the son was absent for a few days—away in the mountains with some companions—and the living room, in which we sat by day, where we ate, and which was also a dispensary on a small scale, was our sleeping-room at night. The doctor found his bed in a little alcove, while I slept on the lounge.

I remember the charity, the loving kindness and the deep poverty of those gracious people. I remember their modest apologies for the table, upon which were spread only the bare necessities of life. (Sea-biscuits, sopped in milk was a staple in that humble home.) I remember their efforts at merriment; how they tried to make light of their sorrowful straits; but their very mirth was pathetic. With what tenderness they spoke of their absent boy and his infirmities; with what fearful hope they pictured his future and their own!

One of the half-dozen volumes that constituted the family library was Father Faber's "All for Jesus." It was the mainstay of the house; it was taken down at odd moments during the day; put into my hands again and again, that I might read this or that favorite passage—and read it aloud; for Mr. Walsh was rapidly losing his sight, and his eyes were then shielded by double green glasses.

Husband and wife worked as one in that vineyard. Many a time was Mrs. Walsh called to the bedside of the dying, to lend the aid of her tearful sympathy to some fainting soul in its last agony. Fifty, yea, a hundred, times a day were these gentle people called to the door to minister to the wants of some pitiful creature, and very likely some one whom they had seen but a little while before; for they made their rounds frequently between dawn and dark. Other guests they had no hope of seeing; for who would be likely to seek their hospitality as long as they dwelt in that sad place?

As we were about leaving the settlement, Mr. Walsh drew me aside, and with charming embarrassment said that he had been searching the house for some little token to offer me as a souvenir of my visit. The only thing he could find, in fact almost the only thing he could offer—for he could not part with his crucifix, his rosary, his two or three pious pictures, or his precious volume of Father Faber—was a little pocket map of the City of Mexico. "You are always traveling," said he; "I shall travel no more; and some day, perhaps, this will be of service to you."

I received it gratefully, and said: "Mr. Walsh, I will go to Mexico, and open the map in memory of your kindness." And some day I hope to do so. Not many months later, having returned to San Francisco, I received a letter in an unfamiliar hand. It bore several postmarks, and showed signs of some hard usage. The letter had evidently gone astray; it was dated at least two months before; but on reading it I found fresh assurances of the warm friendship of the Walsh family. It was written in Mr. Walsh's slow and careful hand, and conveyed the modest request that if I published anything concerning his poor little settlement, I would be good enough to let him see it; he added: "You know, we hear so little of the world in Kalawao."

The same mail brought me a newspaper from the capital of the kingdom. On glancing through it, my eye fell upon a paragraph that startled me. His letter was still open before me; and by the printed lines, that grew blurred as I read them, I learned that Mr. Walsh having become almost totally blind, and beginning to fail so rapidly as to alarm his wife and son, it was thought best for the family to return to Honolulu and seek medical advice.

They took passage in one of the Inter-Island schooners—never noted for their excellent accommodations—and set sail. The elements were not propitious; head winds or calms delayed them; and at last, when they were nearing port, while they reclined upon the deck in the glare of the sun—for the atmosphere of the little cabin was intolerable—Mr. Walsh was seized with a sudden paroxysm, and almost immediately expired.

The despair of the mother as she bowed over the inanimate form of her husband, added to his own natural grief, so wrought upon the emotions of the son that in a moment he became a raving maniac. He had been subject to periods of insanity, and now he had gone mad. His violence was such that it became necessary to lash him to the mast. And in this plight the stricken family ended their mission among the lepers of Molokai.

Death of Rear Admiral.

Rear Admiral Charles J. MacConnell, U. S. N., retired, who died recently in Brooklyn, at the age of 72, was well known in Honolulu in the latter part of the '60s. He was here for over a year on the U. S. S. Lackawanna, commanded by Captain Reynolds from March, 1867, to May, 1868, at the same time that the late Rear Admiral Houston, then a young man and just beginning his naval career, was here. The latter's son, Lieutenant Houston, U. S. N., is now here in charge of the Light-house Service. Admiral MacConnell visited the Islands on the Mohican during the nineties, and was on the Olympia as chief engineer thirteen years ago when that warship called off port during the cholera epidemic. He was on the New York at the battle of Santiago. He leaves a widow and son in Brooklyn. Following the Santiago campaign he returned home on sick leave.

Rear Admiral MacConnell was born in Pennsylvania, December 14, 1837, and served an apprenticeship as a mechanical engineer, afterward becoming a civil engineer, doing much railroad work. He was a graduate of the State Normal School at Trenton, N. J., and at the outbreak of the Civil War, with other members of the New Jersey Militia, he entered the Union Army. He was appointed a third assistant engineer in the Navy in 1861. Joining Farragut's fleet later, he took part in the capture of New Orleans. He was promoted to second lieutenant in 1863, and during the last years of the war was on the flagship Mattabeset. On August 10, 1898, he was made a captain and promoted two numbers in the list of chief engineers for conspicuous conduct in battle. He was retired for disability in 1899.

Reminder of Samoa Deaths.

Congress is to honor the memory of Ensign Monaghan, U. S. N., who was killed in Samoa in 1899 with Lieut. Philip Lansdale, both of whom were well known in Honolulu. Secretary Meyer has directed that one of the torpedo-boat destroyers recently authorized by Congress shall be given the name Monaghan, in memory of Ensign John Robert Monaghan, U. S. N., who met his death in Samoa, April 1, 1899, at the hands of hostile natives, while engaged in a reconnaissance made by a combined force of British and Americans. The American force was in charge of Lieut. F. V. Lansdale, U. S. N. Ensign Monaghan was at the time attached to the U. S. S. Philadelphia, which was then at Apia, Samoa, and the following is an extract from the official report of the occurrence made by the commanding officer of that vessel:

"It is not clear when Mr. Lansdale received the wound in his chest. It is in evidence most clear that when Ensign Monaghan discovered that Lieut. Lansdale was wounded he used his best endeavor to convey him to the rear, and seizing a rifle from a disabled man made a brave defense, but undoubtedly he fell very shortly after joining him, and the hostile natives, flushed with success, bore down on our men in his vicinity. The men were not in sufficient numbers to hold out any longer and they were forced along by a fire which it was impossible to withstand. Ensign Monaghan died standing. He stood steadfast by his wounded superior and friend; one rifle against many—one brave man against a score of savages. He knew he was doomed. He could not yield. He died in heroic performance of duty."

Ensign Monaghan was appointed to the United States Naval Academy September 7, 1891, from the state of Washington.

COCOANUT TREE ONE OF THE MOST USEFUL

It is more than a coincidence that the tree which furnishes a greater amount of valuable material to man than any other in the vast kingdom of vegetables is the first to spring up on the bare rocks of the newly-arisen coral reef. The coconut, so formed that it may have floated half way across the Pacific, is thus universally distributed throughout tropical islands.

It thrives best near the sea, seldom penetrating far into the interior. Its hard shell is a coat of mail for the embryo plant, enabling it to stand hard usage for a protracted period and locking up securely the precious life in miniature.

The fibrous husk which envelops it, and is seldom seen in the market on account of the greatly-increased bulk, breaks the jar which would be inevitable should the hard nut fall unprotected from the tall tree to the ground 60 or 90 feet below.

Such a blow would scarcely fail to break the shell, occasioning the loss of the nourishing milk so necessary to the germ. The outer husk not only breaks the jar of a fall, but buoys it up on the water, while the tough outer cuticle is waterproof, says the New Age.

Thus is the tree which offers to man almost in the raw state all his necessities freely scattered where the warm seas and their borders offer a footing; and from it the native secures sugar, milk, butter, vinegar, oil, candles, soap, cups, ladles, cordage, matting, thatch for roof and material for raiment—combining food, clothing and shelter in a single gift, continually making waste places habitable.

PEARL HARBOR EXCURSION

The big opening of the yatching season and excursion to Pearl Harbor is beginning to attract the attention of all the water-dogs and a whole lot of other people as well. The committee in charge of the affair is making the very best of arrangements and it looks as though the event would be as smoothly run as it will be popular.

Charles Crane will have charge of the ticket selling and the booking will be done at the Advertiser office where tickets will be on sale within a few days. The committee has arranged so that different tickets will be sold for each craft. The capacity of the Mokoli and Luka will be ascertained and those who go on the excursion will have the choice of which vessel they go on, provided they come in early enough for their tickets.

In addition to these two craft, which have been chartered by the Hawaii Yacht Club, many of the yachts will sail down to Pearl Harbor and those who prefer a sail to going on a steamer or a yacht under tow, will be accommodated on the sailing boats.

The date of the excursion is May 9 and it is a date to remember. This is a unique affair, one of the finest ever arranged in Honolulu and will appeal to hundreds of people who have never had the opportunity to make the wonderful trip by water to Pearl Harbor.

WHEN THE CITY SHOULD ADVERTISE

In calling the attention of the board to the law which requires that resolutions which involve an appropriation of over $200 to be advertised in the newspapers for certain stated times, Mayor Fern last night said he had delayed countersigning certain authorizations made at the last meeting because of this law. He said, in part:

"While it is highly desirable that the advertising expenses of the City and County should be kept down to a minimum, I do not think that so plain a provision of the Municipal Act as is contained in Section 17 can be neglected; and by careful wording of resolutions thus appropriating money, I believe they can be kept down to such a length as will not entail large expenditures for advertisement."

"It is true that some resolutions, similar in form to these to which I call your attention have been passed by your board and acted on without having been advertised. In some cases, however, though in form making an appropriation, they were passed, not with the intention of making an appropriation, but of enabling departments having unusual expenses during the early period of City and County government, to pay them by anticipating the monthly allowance already appropriated for their use. And while at the time it did not seem to me that the form of the resolution was the best way to express that intention, there were other and more important questions at issue at that time, and the question of form was not raised."

Referred to the County Attorney.

HONOLULU, HAWAII TERRITORY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21, 1909.

No owner of a "talking machine" will ever be satisfied with ordinary-process disc or cylinder records once he has heard Columbia Records played. Let that sink in—for it's a fact.

Columbia Records are beyond argument better in every way—in smoothness of surface, in evenness of tone, in clearness, in volume, in repertory and in durability. They are made under the original patents, and by processes that elsewhere can only be imitated. Compare them, that's all we ask.

Letters From the Public

Honolulu, April 20, 1909.

Editor Advertiser: I must confess I felt greatly annoyed and aggrieved over a rather vicious attack which was made against me by a certain gentleman in last night's Star. Such incendiary writings should not be allowed to appear in print! Why may we not argue matters dispassionately? There is really no reason that I can see why anyone should become excited over these discussions.

Although I greatly admire courage in others, I would rather prefer to withhold my name, because my health is delicate and I consider it my sacred duty to preserve the same in the interest of the laboring class.

Now, if the estimable gentleman thinks that I have no brains he is badly mistaken. For the present, at least, I am well provided with all that I need in my business, and I want him to understand that I pay out over $3,000 every month for brains, and that does not include the ones which are working for me in a general way all over; they cost me only a small pro rata. Does he not know that I maintain institutions of learning where that article is prepared for my special use? The market in that line being somewhat overstocked, there is little prospect of my running short of brains in the near future. I therefore sincerely regret not to be in a position to consider his application for the present.

As regards his personal allusions concerning the regulation of wages, I must respectfully decline to discuss such matters with an outsider; suffice it to state that in all my dealings with labor I am actuated by the highest and purest of motives, and if sometimes they are misunderstood, that is no fault of mine.

And now, if the gentleman will lay aside, for the time being, his temper and reflect calmly, he will find that my policy is the kind that has led to success all our great men in the business world, and I, for one, will stick to that policy just as long as others will let me.

PROPOSED MOTHERS' DAY FOR YOUNG HONOLULANS

Editor Advertiser: Mothers' Day is a fine old custom, observed for generations in England, and last year became well-nigh national in the United States. I have not known of its observance in Hawaii, and wish to urge that the day set for this year, May 9, the second Sunday in May, inaugurate this beautiful custom here. Its main features are these:

- 1.—Every young man should wear a white flower in his coat lapel, preferably a white carnation.
- 2.—He should write a letter to his mother, if she is living.
- 3.—He should attend church services in the morning, and spend the whole day as he thinks his mother would have him spend it.
- 4.—He should do some definite kind act.

In other cities fraternal organizations have urged it upon their members, ministers preached sermons on such texts as "Her children rise up and call her blessed," corporations provided carnations for their employees, mayors issued proclamations asking men to adopt the custom. Everything is done to make the name of "Mother" loved and respected.

The Nebraska congressmen moved in the Senate last year that Mothers' Day become a national affair. Mr. William Jennings Bryan wrote, "The turning back of our thoughts to her who was our protector and adviser will result in many good resolves as well as delightful memories. The letters, too, that this observance will prompt will bring joy to many a mother's heart."

Many a hard-headed practical man remembers with joy the days spent with mother, and in a town like Honolulu, filled with men away from home, in office, shop, store and barracks, such a movement should meet with a hearty response. We suggest therefore that ministers of all creeds preach sermons appropriate to the day, that fraternal organizations use their influence to have their members adopt the above suggestions, which are the customary ones, that the large corporations provide carnations for their men as a graceful act, not because the men can not afford to buy so inexpensive a flower, and that you, Mr. Editor, help make the plan a success by means of editorial notice.

A JUST CLAIM.

Honolulu, April 17, 1909.

Editor Advertiser: I see the House has seen fit to again refuse to return to merchants moneys illegally gotten at the time of annexation, or, rather, just after, in the way of a merchandise license, which the Supreme Court declared to be illegal. It seems that those merchants who were honest enough to pay the license promptly at the time, when the government was hard up for funds, must lose; while those who refused payment or delayed for a time saved the license fee. What just grounds our Legislature has for again refusing to return money illegally gotten, are not apparent in the papers, but there can be none. A private citizen who does such a thing is liable to disgorge. The government keeps it, on the ground, I suppose, that it is badly in need of cash. Is that fact, or the fact that the amount needed is large, a ground for not paying a just claim, or, to put it in its proper way, a ground for refusing to return money illegally gotten?

A SUFFERER.

BEFORE WE CAN

use them, iron and gold must first be got out of the ore. The same principle applies to cod liver oil. Its virtues are not in its fatty matters; much less in its sickening taste and smell. No consumptive, or sufferer from any other wasting disease, was ever greatly benefited by the so-called "plain" cod liver oil. The shock it gives to the nerves, the repulsion and disgust it excites in the stomach, the outrages it commits upon the senses of smell and taste, are enough to spoil any medicinal potency that may be in it for the majority of people. This—to say nothing about its being indigestible. Yet there has always been reason to believe that, among the elements which form cod liver oil, there existed curative properties of the highest value. But it was necessary to separate them from the nauseating waste material with which they were combined. This was successfully accomplished in WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION and in this effective remedy, made palatable as honey, we have the very heart and soul of pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. These constitute a tissue builder, a blood purifier, a health renewer beyond comparison. Disease yields to it with a completeness and rapidity which astonishes medical men quite as much as it delights their patients. In all wasting conditions, Scrofula and Blood Disorders, La Grippe, Influenza, etc., it never fails to relieve and cure. Dr. E. J. Boyes says: "I have found it a preparation of great merit. In a recent case a patient gained nearly twenty pounds in two months' treatment, in which it was the principal remedial agent. It cannot fail or disappoint you. Sold by all chemists everywhere."

AMUSEMENTS

SCENE FROM "THE OTHER FELLOW," AT THE ORPHEUM TONIGHT BY THE ELLEFORD COMPANY.

"The Other Fellow" Full of Laughs.

The Ellefords closed last night with "The Two Orphans," and tonight will present an entirely different variety of play. It is "The Other Fellow," or "Dr. Bill," a play that had a big run in England and was made famous in America in the hands of the Frohman forces. The story deals with a young physician who marries and settles down after having an extensive practice with the theatrical world. His father-in-law wants him to practice again, and in order to get him to do so has a notice put in the paper, and also cards printed which he scatters broadcast. One of his nervous patients calls on him, meets his wife, and convinces her that all men are prone to flirtation. She promises to get the husband in a flirtation and then send for the wife to come and catch him. He receives the note asking him to call, but he refuses, and his friend, scenting a flirtation, takes his place and makes out that he is the real doctor. He tries to prescribe for the lady, and his endeavors are very funny. The patient is married to a very jealous inspector of the police. He arrives on the scene just as the father-in-law and his wife, who are looking for their daughter, who has gone to the house in response to a note asking her to hurry and catch her husband. The father-in-law locks his wife in a bathroom with her son-in-law, unknown to the old lady, and the son-in-law is arrested for attempting to poison the patient, and the complications that arise make three acts of nothing but laughs. The entire company appears in the cast, and the Ellefords are at their best in comedy. The Saturday matinee bill is "The Two Orphans," and already there is a big demand for seats, as the school children have all read the story and are anxious to see the play. Special prices will prevail at the matinee. All children, to any part of the house, 25 cents, and adults 50 cents.

The bathing suits sold by M. McInerney, Ltd., are quite the most fashionable to be found in Honolulu at this time. They are priced within reason and are made on lines that assure perfect freedom of motion in the water, and they are non-shrinkable.

BUCCANEER BEN.

The Latest Chanty on the Western Ocean.

Oh, Buccaneer Ben was a sailor bold, He sailed far away in search of gold And found a land-crab, so I've been told, Way down on Christmas Island.

Yeo heave ho, bowse her down my bully boys,
 Yeo heave ho, there's a pirate on the seas.
 Come douse your fore to gallantsail, For we must not be a wreck
 When Eben Low, the Pirate Kid, Walks the old poop deck.

He chartered a schooner and sailed away To the seas where the gold-finned dolphins play, And the mermaids are pretty and sometimes gay, Way down on Christmas Island.

Yeo heave ho, stand by your royal ballards,
 Yeo heave ho, 'bout ship so hard alee; Belay your sheets on any old cleats Or else we'll be a wreck,
 When Eben Low, the Pirate Kid, Walks the old poop deck.

He brought back a gun with a hole in its side; He found the Aeon was all covered with tide, But he has some good stories and "true" ones beside, From way down on Christmas Island.

Yeo heave ho, shout for good old Eben Low,
 Yeo heave ho, for the mighty mariner, If any son of a sailor gun Has rubber in his neck,
 He can have it pulled by the Pirate Kid On the old poop deck.

JACK DENSHAM.

RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

In Central Union parish house this evening at the midweek service, 7:30 o'clock, Dr. Herman Babson of the College of Hawaii, will speak on the subject of "Ralph Waldo Emerson as an Interpreter of God's Spirit in Nature and in the Individual." Prof. Babson has made a careful study of Emerson and comes to this theme with an inspiration born of sympathetic knowledge. The topic strikes at the very root of Emerson's power as a prophet of the larger life and forms a climax in the series of evenings with the poets in Central Union's midweek themes. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Checkers Again Tonight.

Tonight the Pollard Company will repeat "Checkers," in which they made such a conspicuous success last week. The same musical numbers will be interpolated and a finished show is assured by the experience they have had in their parts.

"Checkers," as everybody knows, is a typically American comedy and is full of the up-to-date catch-phrases that originate on the broad white way and spread all over the country. There will be no matinee this afternoon only an evening performance and tomorrow night the young actors will go back to the vaudeville with which they captured the house on Monday night.

Alfred Goulding realizes that the people of Honolulu want to laugh and the next vaudeville show will have more mirth-makers in it than ever. There will be more vaudeville on Saturday afternoon and evening and the program will be changed sufficiently to make each performance worth going to.

The Great Auto Race.

There is to be a lot of action in the pictures shown at the Park Theater this week. The great auto race through France is to be shown for the first time this evening and everything will be true to life. The machines used in making the film for this picture was one of the most expensive ever made and was constructed especially for this race. It recorded very atom of dust as well as the figures in the cars and along the roads. There will be several other good films thrown on the screen and the audience will be repaid for the visit tonight.

There will be a public band concert this evening at 7:30 at Aala Park.

THE WORKER MUST BE WELL

In these days of sharp competition everyone who works should be keyed up to the highest pitch of efficiency. The rewards of business life go to the clearest thinkers, to the men and women who know and do things better than other people.

But who can do his best work when the health is impaired, when the appetite fails to demand the food necessary to sustain the body, when strength is lacking and ambition gone? Surely the part of wisdom is to begin at once to build up the body to its normal condition, and this may be done more certainly by the use of than any other medicine. It checks hacking coughs, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, restores flesh to the emaciated, and renews health and vigor. It is so agreeable to the taste that its regular use is a pleasure. Get it at your chemist's and be sure you get STEARNS'—the genuine.

TRIBUTES TO A GOOD WOMAN

Funeral Services of the Late
Principal of Kaahumanu School.

A great tribute was paid to the memory of Miss Alice M. Felker, late principal of Kaahumanu school, yesterday afternoon in Central Union church, when not only the entire school of hundreds of children of almost every nationality known in the Hawaiian Islands, but scores of teachers from other schools, friends and those who had at some time come within the kindly influence of Miss Felker, went to pay their last respects to her memory. The spoken tributes were voiced by fellow instructors of the public schools and by the minister, whose tribute was the finer because the late Miss Felker was of the Unitarian faith and he of another, but he was one who recognized the beautiful character and the influence for good which she had wielded in the community.

The services were held at 3 o'clock at which time the edifice was filled, even the gallery being crowded. The main body of the church was filled with teachers and pupils of Kaahumanu School, each class and grade being kept together and under the direction of their teachers. Miss Felker's only relative here and intimate friends occupied pews directly before the stand on which rested the flower laden urn. Upon the platform were Rev. Doremus Seudder, D.D., pastor of Central Union church; W. H. Babbitt, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Prof. M. M. Scott, principal of the McKinley High School. The platform was laden with beautiful floral pieces, among them being a desk of green and a cross of red flowers. Tributes were sent from the school Rehoboth, and others. Mrs. Judd presided at the organ.

The services were opened by the singing of "The Lord is My Shepherd," sung by the older pupils of the school under the direction of Miss Cook. The assembly sang "Nearer My God to Thee," followed by the singing of "Abide With Me" by the school, and at the conclusion of the services when the school sang "Aloha Oe," there was hardly a dry eye among the pupils.

W. H. Babbitt paid a tribute to Miss Felker, saying that from the very beginning of his work as superintendent of schools he found that she gave her services freely and even during sickness presided over her school until the very last day. Miss Felker came to the Honolulu schools well equipped as a teacher and Hawaii can congratulate itself on having had her enrolled among the teaching corps. Mr. Babbitt said that he did not exaggerate in stating that, regardless of self interest, but thinking only of those committed to her charge, Miss Felker's influence among the children was wonderful, and no matter how successful her successors may be, Kaahumanu School's best advancement will always be associated with Miss Felker's administration. She was more than a teacher, more than a friend; she was a whole-souled woman, and she had a wonderful way of imparting her strength to others. She had deep convictions and the courage of them. His own task had been the easier because of the honest advice she gave and the high ideals she set for her school.

Prof. Scott stated that from his observation the chief note of her character was cheerfulness and optimism, and her work always ran into lines that were always for the benefit of those with whom she came most in contact. Having no children herself, like many of those women who have no children, she seemed to have intense love for those of others. A noticeable side of her character was the humane, helping those materially who were unable to help themselves, and she did this regardless of her own comfort. She had rare qualities for a school leader, not as an enthroned monarch but as one down in the midst of the children.

"I think I can truthfully say," said the speaker, "that humanity was a part of her worship and that to do good was, at least, a part of her religion."

Dr. Seudder referred to the Unitarian faith of Miss Felker, although she allied herself with the interests of Central Union. Her qualities were Christian. All of her school girls and boys knew that Miss Felker was just. She always walked with God. "Every one of us down to the smallest child," said Dr. Seudder, "will be a better man and a better woman because of this strong, beautiful attractive life."

The ashes will be sent to the Coast for interment.

Eclipse of Moon No Cause for Noise, Says Chinese Prince.

HONGKONG, April 2.—On the occasion of eclipses of the sun or moon it has for centuries been customary in China for everybody, down to the meanest subject, to let off firecrackers and cause gongs to be beaten for the purpose of frightening off the monster which is supposed to be swallowing the luminary, and for every mandarin holding office to burn candles and incense and prostrate himself before the darkening orb. The superstitious custom is no longer to be officially recognized. A Peking letter states that the astronomical board presented a memorial to the prince regent the other day reporting a forthcoming eclipse of the moon and recommending the performance of the usual ceremonies. To the horror of the conservative portion of the court, Prince Chun replied that all this was mere superstition which must now be abolished forever. The news that this enlightened view is held by the prince regent is said to have filled the hearts of all liberal-minded Chinese with gratification.
