DEADLY POISON IN THE TATTOO

LILY LANGTRY'S HUSBAND TRIES A DANGEROUS EXPERIMENT WHILE IN SAMOA.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Among the more notable of the passengers who arrived on the steamship Sierra yesterday was Hugo Herald de Bathe, son and heir of General Sir Henry Percival de Bathe of England, and more familiarly known to the American public as the second husband of Lily Langtry. He is accompanied by his brother, Captain Max de Bathe, who recently resigned from the British army after fifteen years' service, and Captain C. L. Davis, also of the British army. The trio came direct from Samoa for the purpose of securing proper surgical attention for Hugo de Bathe, who is suffering from a slight attack of blood poisoning resulting from a tattooing operation performed by a native islander during their visit to Pago Pago.

Hugo de Bathe's body bears numerous artificial designs in India ink, implanted upon his skin by the clever tattooers of various countries through which he has traveled during the last ten years. One of his purposes in going to Samoa was to submit himself to a tattooing operation, which was performed upon his left leg. Later the limb swelled to such proportions and the pain from the operation became so intolerable that he was forced to seek medical assistance upon one of the American men-of-war lying in the harbor of Pago Pago. It was plain to the surgeon who attended him that De Bathe was suffering from blood poisoning resulting from the use of an unclean needle, and he was advised to hurry to this city, where he could receive better attention. For a time it was feared that De Bathe's injury might prove fatal. Arriving here yesterday he was apparently in good health, although he used a cane to assist him in his movements about the Palace Hotel, where he and his fellow travelers are staying.

It is his intention to place himself under the care of a surgeon here, and if the latter can assure him that danger of further trouble has passed he will join his brother on a trip to the City of Mexico, to which they have been invited by President Diaz.

Hugo de Bathe and Captain de Bathe left England on their present tour around the world shortly after Lily Langtry entered on her recent theatrical engagement in this country. They drifted slowly across the ocean to the South Sea Islands and were enjoying themselves among the natives when Hugo was taken ill.

REPUBLICAN SAYS CARTER

THE GOVERNOR AT A LUNCHEON IN CHICAGO—ROOSEVELT GETS A SHOCK.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Governor Carter of Hawaii said yesterday that there was no doubt Hawaii would remain in the Republican ranks. It was at a luncheon at the Hamilton Club and Governor Carter was one of the guests. "The Republican party annexed us," he said, "so we feel that we have to stick to that party. We are also impressed with its wisdom and its traditions."

The governor said he came to Chicago because he thought he ought to see what there was to learn at a national convention.

After attending a session of the national committee when rival delegations from Wisconsin talked for five hours, I thought we in Hawaii had a good deal to learn," he added.

Walter Wellman told an anecdote of President Roosevelt.

"It was at a meeting of the cabinet," said Mr. Wellman. "Secretary Shaw pulled from his pocket a letter from one of his constituents, applying for a government position."

"He hadn't more than read the address and the first two lines when President Roosevelt said in tones that indicated that he meant it:

"Stop right there! Tell him he can't have it!"

"Then spoke Secretary Root, the dignified and ponderous:

"Secretary Shaw if I were you, I should write a letter to my constituent explaining that, after much deliberation, thought and consideration of the matter from every point of view, President Roosevelt, in his wisdom, decided he could not make the disposition of the place desired by the writer."

"Everybody stood aghast at this rebuke of the president, but Mr. Roosevelt said:

TERRIBLE FATE OF SAILORS

FIFTEEN MEN SCALDED IN BOILER ROOM OF A CRUISER NEAR TAHITI.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Slowly scalding to death, fifteen men were penned in the boiler room of the French cruiser Durance.

The captain fully realized their fate, but was helpless to save them. While he and the other officers and the men of the crew, who were on deck, knew that their comrades were dying down below, it was not within their power to do anything but wait till the end came.

One of the boilers of the cruiser had exploded and had filled the boiler room with superheated steam that meant doom for every man in the compartment. Those that started to the rescue were driven back, blinded.

The shrieks of the men dying in agony came up to them with the clouds of the killing steam, but not a man could go below until many minutes had passed, and then all of the fifteen who were in the boiler room at the time of the explosion were dead, every man scalded almost beyond recognition.

News of the disaster reached here yesterday on the Oceanic liner Marlborough, which came from Tahiti. The explosion occurred while the warship was on her way to Noumea from Papeete, and the last reports received by the French officials at Tahiti were to the effect that the warship had made Noumea in safety and Captain Rozier, who was prostrated by the disaster, was sick on shore.

For several years the Durance which is a vessel of light draught, has been stationed at Papeete. She makes frequent cruises among the French possessions in the Pacific group of islands.

Recently she left Papeete for Noumea to undergo repairs and it was when nearing her destination that the boiler exploded with such fatal results. The explosion of the boiler wrecked the engine room.

It was thought for a time that the vessel had been blown up by an explosion in her powder magazine and the boats were hastily made ready for launching.

The victims of the explosion were buried at sea and then the Durance drifted for several days before her engines could be repaired. She finally managed to crawl into Noumea.

Captain Rozier of the Durance is known at this port having been on several occasions. He is an intimate friend of Captain Rennie of the Marlborough.

The Durance was the cruiser sent from Tahiti to rescue the survivors of the recent tidal wave that inundated the islands of the Tuamotu group. She brought man of the survivors to Papeete.

Chronic Diarrhoea.—For several years during the summer months I have been subject to looseness of the bowels, which quickly ran into a very bad diarrhoea and this trouble was frequently accompanied with severe pain and cramps. I used to call on doctors for my trouble but it became so regular a summer affliction that in my search for relief, I became acquainted with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which proved so effective and so prompt that I came to rely exclusively upon it, and what also happily surprised me was that while it almost instantly relieved the cramps and stopped the diarrhoea, it never caused constipation. I always take a bottle of it with me when traveling.—H. C. Hartman, Ansonia, Iowa, U. S. A. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

FRIDAY.....JULY 8, 1904

It is true that "The Forest City" series of World's Fair views, which forms a complete pictorial and descriptive history of the great event, is the most artistic and valuable publication ever offered to the American public on terms so easy as those we are making our readers. These superb portfolios are being issued, in thirty parts one each week, and all that is necessary to secure any part desired is to send, or bring one of the little coupons printed in our columns from day to day, with ten cents, to pay the cost of handling, wrapping, addressing and mailing. Three parts have already been issued. It should be remembered that the cream of the immense collection of photographs secured by the official photographer of the Exposition, are being reproduced in this series, and the accompanying descriptions are also the best, having been prepared by Walter B. Stevens, secretary of the Exposition. We hope that every reader will, at least, send in a coupon and dime for one number—after they inspect a single portfolio we have no fear but that the remaining parts will be ordered regularly. Part IV will be ready tomorrow.

Democracy Says Farewell Bryan

The Democracy appears, in the words of Grover Cleveland, to have returned to a sane condition. Reports of the progress of the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis show that the conservatives represented by Cleveland and Judge Parker are in control of the convention while the radical end of the party is in the minority. Even the spellbinder, W. J. Bryan, was unable at first to arouse the delegates to anything more than some light applause, while the name of Grover Cleveland caused the convention to indulge in a wild demonstration.

While there was at the opening no actual test of the relative strength of the two factions, the demonstration and trend of affairs showed at once that the power of Bryan had waned, while the name of Grover Cleveland possessed even greater attraction than before. The political destiny of these two men has clashed in a very remarkable way during the past eight years, and it is a coincidence that the name of Cleveland should be the one to overshadow that of Bryan. It was Cleveland who defeated Bryan's presidential aspirations in 1896 and it has been largely due to Cleveland that today Bryan's influence, eight years later, is so much lessened.

But while Cleveland has no doubt exerted great influence in the present party campaign, it is due to an extent to Bryan's own selfishness that the radical wing of his party has apparently been overthrown. He has played the part of the dog in the manger throughout this entire campaign for presidential nomination. Bryan has been guilty of an act of political ingratitude toward the men who made his fight in both of his presidential campaigns. The candidacy of Judge Parker aroused Bryan into expressions of all but unutterable reproaches and condemnation. The Nebraskan seemed to think that his condemnation of Judge Parker should be sufficient reason for the repudiation of the New York jurist by the party. The Silver Tongued failed to realize that there was a powerful element in the party, who had for eight years been awaiting the opportunity of downing the Bryan wing. Candidates were to them, a secondary consideration. The primary issue to this conservative element was not a candidate but the defeat of Bryanism.

Instead of realizing these conditions and taking steps to hold his following in line by naming some standard bearer for them, Bryan sat on the fence and whittled away at abuse of the Parker element. Bryan came out indirectly in advocacy of Hearst, with a sort of silent approval and inactive alliance. But this is as far as he went. He ignored the real situation and, by his silence and neglect of his political responsibilities, allowed his personal followers to remain without any well-defined method of defeating Parker, while the Parker elements worked systematically.

It is only by organization and concerted effort that political or any other battles can be won. An organized force of ten thousand men is better than a rabble of fifty thousand. But Bryan seemed to be bereft of all common sense. He sat in his tent and probably dreamed of stampeding the St. Louis convention as he stampeded the Democratic convention eight years ago. Talk is always cheap and it has dropped to a lower quotation than usual, since Bryan began to do national politics, so while Bryan whittled and dreamed the Parker conservatives worked and secured control.

There is little question but Bryan hoped by holding aloof he would be able to secure the nomination himself or else dictate terms to the man who was nominated. In every plan Bryan was defeated. If he had not been blinded by his own conceit the Nebraskan would have realized that work and not talk was the means by which the conservatives were to be overcome. The only way to defeat the rising Parker strength was by concentrating on some other candidate.

The nearest to the Bryan ideal was "the impossible Hearst." Bryan, as already said, gave him only a silent indirect support. The Hearstites would say that Bryan owes to Hearst a political debt that calls for larger payment. Considering Hearst's strong support of Bryan in two campaigns it is a poor repayment on the part of the Nebraskan to merely make use of Hearst for a brief anti-convention period, in his own efforts to defeat Parker.

The War Of Rival Sugars

The American consul at Trieste, Austria, has been investigating the sugar problem and has reached conclusions which lead him to refer to the current season as a "campaign"—the beet sugar interests against the cane producers in a war for supremacy. His erroneous statement, under date of April 6, 1904, that "the tendency of prices is again decidedly downward," and that "a change for the better cannot be looked for" at present, shows something evidently wrong in his observations or reasoning, but his views of the future are interesting. Germany, Austria, Italy, Belgium and Holland are increasing their acreage, it is stated, while Russia remains stationary and France is the only country reducing.

The consul ventures the following as a forecast of the "campaign": "The beet-sugar interests are determined not to give up their foreign markets without a desperate struggle. Nor is it difficult to account for their attitude. An immense capital has been invested in the beet-sugar industry, which has thereby been brought to a high degree of development. Hundreds of thousands of laboring people, furthermore, rely upon this industry, directly or indirectly, for their support. Both capital and labor, therefore, oppose surrender, and the only question which at present concerns European sugar interests is how best to fortify themselves against the enemy's attacks. A retrospective view within their own field of activity suggests the policy of be pursued. All small and inefficient sugar factories have in the course of time been starved out and only the largest and at the same time best equipped and best conducted plants have survived. The latter survived because they were able to manufacture on a large scale and therefore at a comparatively low cost. That the increasing production of cane sugar will bring prices to a still lower level than the present admits of no doubt, and the manufacturers of beet realize that they must be prepared to meet the new and increasingly critical condition of the market or withdraw from the contest. As experience and observation have made it clear to them that the cost of production can be lowered only with an increased output they are determined to work their respective plants to their utmost capacities and thus continue to swell Europe's already formidable surplus of sugar rather than permit the producers of cane sugar to derive from the Brussels convention any advantage likely to increase their power of resistance. "In other words, overproduction has been chosen by the European beet-sugar interests as the most effective weapon of defense in their fight against the rising power of cane sugar in the markets of the world. Whether this will really avert or only postpone the threatened crisis at home remains to be seen."

John Barrett, now minister to Panama, made the following statement in a Chicago address on the American merchant marine. "Three times have I been around the world, and never once in my travels have I seen the American flag floated over an American merchant ship. Five years have I remained in Bangkok, Siam, without seeing the American flag down at the masthead of a merchant vessel. It is humiliating. Barrett must have traveled with his eyes shut. He was in Honolulu for several weeks a couple of years ago and no one can come here without seeing plenty of American flags over American merchant ships.

The number of steamers plying between Portland and Oriental cities is being increased. Perhaps it would be worth while for our Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association to take up the matter of trying to have some of these steamers make Honolulu a port of call. Honolulu's growth and prosperity inevitably depend largely on the amount of such commerce business we can get and results might follow if the matter were taken up.

A Chicago Inter-Ocean cartoon illustrates well the attitudes of the parties—Republican, "We point with pride," Democratic, "We view with alarm."

A few years ago Oklahoma was a Territory, unsettled and unknown. Now she is reported to be the home of an enterprise next to the Panama canal in magnitude. The Revere du Commerce Exterior says: The construction of a pan-American railway to unite the three Americas, which was decided upon at the Pan-American Congress at Mexico, is now assured by the formation of the Pan-American Railway Company at Guthrie, Okla. with a capital of $243,794,000. The line will start from Port Nelson, on the Hudson Bay, thence to Winnipeg and will traverse the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Mexico, Central America, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and ends at Buenos Aires. Branch lines will be built to Rio de Janeiro and Valparaiso. The total length of the line will be about 11,000 miles. Only about one-half of this will be built, since existing lines cover the balance. It is estimated that it will cost $193,000,000 to build the connecting lines, and that it will take eight years to complete it. Brazil and La Plata are being visited by an agent of the company.

attack is to be made upon one much cherished American military institution, the fat man. "West Point graduates who tend to obesity are not to be assigned to the cavalry branch henceforth." So runs the new order and it seems only fair to assume that this is the entering wedge and that in the near future not only fat men but those who tend to obesity will be denied admission to the army at all. It then follows as a matter of course that the fat one will eventually be barred from public service of any kind. This may be all very well from the standpoint of Inspector General Barton who is responsible for the new order, but what are the fat men going to do about it? Is it to be assumed that the flame of patriotism burns the less brightly in a soul contained within a body generously supplied with adipose tissue? Perish the thought! General Shaffer is understood to have won the battle of Santiago and he was none of our skinny, cadaverous persons. The fat man has his rights and the war department has started on the wrong tack. Instead of eliminating the fat men from the cavalry, the department ought to try increasing the carrying power of the horses.

TAX RETURNS VERY LARGE

OAHU'S CONTRIBUTIONS FOR THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR GREATLY IN EXCESS OF THOSE FOR THE SAME PERIOD OF 1903—SIGNS OF PROSPERITY.

If prosperity is to be measured not so much by the ability to earn as by the ability to pay, as one school of economists maintains, then there should be no necessity for anyone to worry over the financial condition of the Territory of Hawaii if every part of the territory can make as good a showing as the island of Oahu has made so far this year. There are stories of hard times to be sure and doubtless many of these stories are too true but the real test of the ability to pay comes when the tax collector is knocking at the door.

The accounts of the island of Oahu for the first six months of the year were tallied up this morning and the report is a gratifying one from several standpoints no matter how it may be considered by some who consider themselves overtaxed.

The total amount collected in taxes as reported by Tax Collector Hoit, up to June 30th is $141,874.36 as compared with $127,056.46 for the same period of 1903.

The amounts realized from the principal forms of taxation are given in the following table, the smaller amounts, not recapitulated being made up of taxes on dogs, carriages, boats, advertising, penalties, costs and interest.

	Real Estate	Personal	Poll	Road	School	Income	Grand Total
Honolulu	$26,629.02	$29,120.45	$5,151	$10,298	$10,382	$4,655.55	$91,945.81

COURT SETS ASIDE A DIRECTED ACQUITTAL

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The Supreme Court has decided that Dr. Benjamin F. Stoll, though acquitted of the killing of Dr. Robert J. Blake, must be retried.

All seven Justices agree that Judge Cook's order to acquit was erroneous, but on the question of "twice in jeopardy" four of the Justices hold the plea would be unavailing, in view of the fact that there was no actual trial, but that it was quashed by a void order. Chief Justice Beatty reserves his opinion on the question and Justices Angelotti and Van Dyke hold that "under the constitutional provision of twice in jeopardy the verdict already rendered by the jury is a bar to another trial."

The majority opinion was written by Justice Lorigan.

Dr. Stoll has been practicing his profession since the trial at the northeast corner of Haight street and Masonic avenue. He is not out on bail and a fresh order of arrest will have to be made by Judge Cook, who is temporarily absent from the city. Dr. Stoll was very much shocked when he learned of the decision, but said he had no intention of leaving the city and would be prepared to surrender himself and give bail whenever required.

District Attorney Byington declared that the decision of the Supreme Court was fully expected by him and he would prepare at once for a new trial, with the expectation of defeating the jeopardy plea.

The killing of Blake, on October 16, 1902, was the result of a quarrel between the two men, who were dentists, in the Phelan building. After the jury had been impaneled the customary statement of the case against the defendant was made to the jurors.

At the conclusion of this statement, made by Assistant District Attorney Ashe, counsel for the defendant moved the court to acquit the defendant. Judge Cook then instructed the jury as follows:

"Gentlemen, on the admitted facts in this case, as stated to you by the District Attorney, and admitted by the counsel for the defendant, I direct you to find a verdict for defendant, for the reason, in my opinion, that under the facts as admitted, the homicide was justifiable."

The Supreme Court says, after setting forth the statement and ruling of the court:

"The sole question presented is whether the court had authority to give such a direction to the jury. We are satisfied it had not, and that the order to the effect was not only erroneous, but void."

"It was erroneous because under no circumstance is the court authorized in a criminal case to direct a jury to return any particular verdict. It can simply advise them to do so, advice which they are not bound to follow."

In the majority opinion on the question of twice in jeopardy the court says: "We are not so much concerned, however, with the matter of mere error committed by the court. If that tribunal had jurisdiction to instruct the jury upon the opening statement, its failure to do so in the proper manner would not be sufficient warrant for reversal."

"But the direction to acquit was not erroneous only, it was entirely beyond the power or authority of the court to make it, and was void."

THIS SHARK HAD LIVER COMPLAINT

A remarkable shark was captured at Kau last Wednesday. Fred Leslie shot the monster and got him ashore. The shark measured 15 feet in length and was 11 feet in circumference. This is a remarkable size and the creature remained alive and an inflated balloon fish than a sea wolf. The capture proved quite profitable to Leslie. The liver of the shark weighed 280 pounds and 35 gallons of shark oil was secured from this organ.

Pictures and affidavits will follow by the next Mauna Loa.

CATTLE THIEF RUN TO EARTH

The scourge of the Hawaii cattle ranches at last been run to earth. The famous Kona Vigilance Committee did not run him to earth by hanging him from a tree. He was caught red-handed in the act of quartering a stolen steer and was turned over to the authorities. He was prosecuted in the regular way and was convicted of cattle stealing and sentenced to a term in prison. His name is Namonokukau. He was a wonder at the business. The fellow was caught on Col. Norris' ranch. The prisoner confessed guilt. He was tried before District Magistrate Walpuli at Waikolu. The court sentenced the man to one year in jail and to pay a fine of $100. According to the statements of the officers, the man operated in quite an odd style. He would try and get other men to steal the cattle and then scare the original thief away and take the beef himself. He is the same man who has been secretly accusing various men in the Kona and Kau districts of cattle stealing. He caused the officers to arrest a number of innocent men.

SAKE APPEAL

Treasury Department instructions to Collector Stackable, in accordance with which he took his last sake appeal, were as follows:

Treasury Department, May 21, 1904.
Sir: The Department is in receipt of a decision of the Board of United States General Appraisers, G. A. 5690 (T. D. 25323), dated May 25, 1904, where it is held that an allowance on account of shortage or leakage should be made for certain sake which appears to have been lost or disappeared from certain tubs which arrived at your port from Kobe Japan, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph 206 of the tariff act of July 24, 1897, under which no constructive or other allowance for breakable or leakage is to be made on wines, liquors, cordials, or distilled spirits, imported under the act of July 24, 1897.

It being the desire of the Department that this issue be reviewed in the United States circuit court for your district, you are hereby directed to file an appeal in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of the act of June 19, 1890, in this case.

Respectfully,
C. H. KEEPE,
Assistant Secretary.

MAUI NEWS

PUUNENE, Maui, July 7, 1904.—The first success of the Puunene Athletic Club occurred on the 4th of July at Makawao when the baseball team of Puunene beat the aggregation of the Maui Agricultural Company by a score of 1 to 12 in a very hotly contested game of nine innings. The tennis players of the Puunene Athletic club, Messrs William Lougher and William D. Auld, won the honors in that field of sport. In the ring tilting tournament the beautiful silver loving cup trophy was won for the first time by James B. Thompson of this place. The polo game was won by mostly members from the Puunene Athletic association who composed some of the contending teams.

A large picnic followed the athletic events of the day. In the evening the entire crowd congregated at the rooms of the Puunene Club and there listened to the strains of the Government band.

C. A. Alexander is up from Honolulu in connection with some survey work for the government.

The meeting of the Waikuku Improvement association will take place on next Thursday evening.

A party consisting of Messrs James Croli, J. Reed, F. Reed, M. Fleming and a Japanese made the ascent to the top of Haleakala on the Fourth of July. Among other trophies they have to show for their trip is a beautiful bunch of the famous snow white silver sword which only grows in the crater of the volcano as does the adelsins in the Alps.

Preparation is being made for a party of twenty people to spend a fortnight in camp in the crater of Haleakala during the month of August.

August Tollner, assistant Post Master at Puunene made a flying business trip to Honolulu, leaving here on Saturday, July 2, at 5 p. m., he was again at his desk on Monday July 4 at 6 a. m.

You go to your barber, week after week, hoping the shampoo will cure your dandruff. But the dandruff continues to form as badly as ever. The trouble is you do not get it in the right way. The scalp is diseased, and you must cure it before your dandruff will ever disappear. Simple washing will never bring this about.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

This splendid hair preparation cures dandruff because it cures the disease of the scalp, and then the dandruff soon disappears for good. Ayer's Hair Vigor will prevent dandruff, and at the same time it will keep your hair soft and glossy.

PORTLAND TO ASIA

INCREASED TRANSPACIFIC COMMERCE BETWEEN THE OREGON CITY AND ASIATIC PORTS RESULTS IN THE NUMBER OF VESSELS BEING MADE EIGHT AS BEFORE—CHINA COMMERCIAL'S PLANS.

PORTLAND, June 26.—Commencing early in August the oriental fleet out of Portland will again consist of eight steamships. At that time the China Commercial steamers will once more make port of entry calls at Portland and assist the Portland-Asiatic vessels in handling the traffic between here and the far east. This announcement is made in a letter which has been received from J. V. C. Comfort, general manager of the China Commercial line, who is now in Mexico. The steamers of the latter line consist of the Ching Wo, the Clavering, the Lothian and the Athol. Last spring arrangements were made for the vessels to stop here regularly, and Manager Comfort established his headquarters in Portland. Soon afterwards war was declared between Japan and Russia, and the shipments to the orient began to dwindle down so rapidly that the service was soon discontinued. But before leaving, Mr. Comfort stated that the probabilities are that he would return here in the fall. It was not expected however, that the steamers would be put back on the run so soon.

The decision to have the China Commercial steamers call at this port earlier than contemplated a short time ago is due to the fact that more freight is being offered for shipment to the orient than has been the case for several months past. From now on the business is expected to improve very rapidly. If it should increase at the rate that some say it will, the combined fleet of the two companies will soon have all the freight they can take care of to advantage. For the first time in several months an oriental liner will leave Portland in a few days fully loaded. The Arabia has all the cargo she can take care of, and nearly 3,000 tons' freight space has already been engaged on the Aragonia, which will arrive from China and Japan next month. Orders coming at this rate it is evident that the Portland-Asiatic fleet would soon get swamped did they not receive assistance.

It is presumed that the two companies will make the same arrangements relative to the division of freight which was in effect a few months ago. At that time the China commercial steamers did not carry freight on the return trip from the far east, only taking cargo on the outward trip. On the return voyage they brought Chinese coolies to Mexico.

"PERDICARIS ALIVE OR RAISULI DEAD"

SECRETARY HAY'S STERN MESSAGE TO THE AMERICAN CONSUL AT MOROCCO—IT IS READ IN THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION AND IS THE OCCASION OF A GREAT DEMONSTRATION.

CHICAGO, June 23.—By far the most enthusiastic and patriotic climax which has marked the two days' session of the convention came yesterday directly after the reading of a Washington dispatch conveying an ultimatum of Secretary Hay to Raisuli, the Moroccan bandit.

The applause which followed Senator Lodge from the front of the stage after his reading of the platform had not yet died away when Speaker Cannon, gavel in hand, left his desk and advanced to the very edge of the speakers' stand. His manner indicated a consciousness of the demonstration that was to come. He recalled the applause that had greeted the reading of the paragraph in the platform just adopted commending the efforts of the administration to protect American citizens in foreign lands and his voice and gesture seemed prophetic when he said:

"By consent of the convention, through the courtesy of a newspaper association, the chair will direct the secretary to read a dispatch from Washington, which has been verified."

All expectancy, the vast multitude in the Coliseum quieted in a moment. The Speaker retired, and all eyes were now riveted on the reading clerk, who advanced with the telegram in his hand. The clerk announced that the message had been sent in consequence of a dispatch received from Admiral Chadwick which intimated very strongly that the Moroccan government was not acting in good faith. The exact hitch in the negotiations, he said, had not been made public. He then read the bulletin, as follows:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—Secretary of State Hay has sent instructions to Consul General Gummere as follows: 'We want either Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead.'"

For a moment the great building was even stiller than before. But it was only the burning of the fuse to the bomb which soon burst. When the realization of the meaning of the message dawned with its full force on all in the hall, when they understood that the laconic sentence might mean even the declaration of war, when they saw the actual fulfillment of their pledge to "insist upon the just and equal protection of all our citizens abroad," the enthusiasm knew no bounds.

The cheers echoed and re-echoed through the rafters. Delegates and spectators rose to their feet as one. They climbed on chairs and tables, and those who had flags waved them high above their heads. Louder and louder came the cheers, rising in volume and reverberating through the vast structure like the roar of a mighty ocean.

Those in the galleries vied with the thousands on the floor in the waving of hats, handkerchiefs, canes, and flags. Before, it was the delegates who did most of the cheering.

But there were no delegates now; there was no convention, there were no spectators, no Republicans. There was one vast army of American citizens, whose patriotism had been touched, and they all joined with a true American spirit in hearty response to a call that binds together all patriots.

WE ARE A VERY SWIFT PEOPLE.

The records made in divorce proceedings before Judges Thompson and Gibbons in this city on Wednesday are reported as follows:

In Judge Thompson's Court.
4:04—Mrs. Laura C. Walter filed bill of divorce.
4:05—Joseph Walter, husband, filed appearance.
4:06—Mrs. Walter was sworn.
4:07—Mrs. Walter began recital of troubles.
4:14—Mrs. Walter told of being beaten by husband.
4:23—Mrs. Walter told of being pinched until her body was discolored.
4:30—Attorneys for Mrs. Walter rested case.
4:31—Attorneys for Mr. Walter rested.
4:35—Mrs. Walter secured decree and custody of child.
4:40—Judge Thompson signed decree.
Time—36 minutes.

In Judge Gibbons' Court.
1:33—John Hillman, stationary engineer, filed bill for divorce. Desertion was the charge.
1:43—Judge Gibbons received paper.
1:45—A signed appearance was offered by attorneys for Mrs. Hillman.
1:46—Judge Gibbons declined to accept statement without Mrs. Hillman's personal acknowledgment.
2:00—Mrs. Hillman enters courtroom.
2:05—Husband testified that Mrs. Hillman deserted him.
2:15—Mrs. Mathilda Waldman testified that Mrs. Hillman was guilty of desertion.
2:44—Decree granted and signed.
It will be seen that Judge Thompson's court defeated Judge Gibbons' court by thirty-five minutes. Doubtless there were unreported circumstances which caused the proceedings in Judge Gibbons' court to drag at times.

THE ADVANTAGES CEMENT ROOFING

POSSESSES OVER

Tin, Iron and Steel Roofing
IT CANNOT RUST.

Gases, fumes, moisture, coal soot and smoke cannot injure or effect cement roofing.

It is better adapted for application over uneven surfaces, such as old shingles or metal roofs, obviating the expense of removing the same. It will not rattle from wind and storm, nor create any noise from rain falling upon it. The materials used in cement roofing are the best non-conductors of heat and cold known, therefore it will keep the building warmer in winter and cooler in summer than a metal roof.

Hence, as between the two courts this trial of speed can hardly be regarded as fair or decisive. Under equal conditions it is quite probable that Judge Gibbons' court could dispose of a divorce case with as much expedition as any other.

This divorce contest possibly will lead to others of a similar nature. Possibly our judges in general may decide to enter upon a divorce tournament, say of ten days, before the summer vacation, those courts which fail to do business in less than thirty-six minutes falling out of the competition from day to day until the final struggle shall lie between those that can hear and decide a case in less than one and one-half minutes.

With improved machinery in our halls of justice, there is little doubt that the record made by Judge Thompson's court can easily be reduced, and that we shall have reports covering not only the legal proceedings in divorce cases, but the events leading up to them, somewhat after this fashion, in the near future.

itol building are being artistically papered and painted and will present a brilliant appearance by the time Governor Carter returns.

John Johnson third mate of the steamer Mauna Loa is to lead a bluen-ging bride to the altar tonight. John brought a little pig down on the steamer today for the luan.

Mrs. McCarthy and Miss Rathborne were thrown out of a buggy yesterday morning and hurt. An electric car struck the buggy at the Kewalo and King streets crossing.

Judge Gear listened to further argument in the Parker ranch case this morning. The different parties in the case were represented by attorneys Dunne, Wilder, Magoon and Lightfoot.

In the suit of R. C. A. Peterson against R. N. Halstead, to recover a real estate broker's commission, the defendant by his attorneys, Robertson & Wilder has demurred to the complaint on the ground that it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

This evening there will be an extra band concert by the Territorial band in the pavilion in the Hawaiian Hotel grounds. A dance on the lunalu will take place after the concert in honor of the visiting officers and tourist, as-sengers from the Mongolia or transport Sherman.

The test case in the matter of the sailors of the Inter-Island Steamship Company's employ who are protesting angainst deductions from their pay in order to pay territorial poll tax, was set for hearing before Judge Dole this morning but by consent the hearing was postponed.

A meeting of the Honolulu Chess club was held at the club rooms, Alexander Young building last night. C. M.
White and Dr. Sinclair were appointed a committee to see whether the matches with Hilo could be played by wireless telegraph. Dr. Sinclair was appointed as instructor to deliver a lecture next Thursday evening on the subject "Queen's Gambit Declined."

BAND CONCERT THIS EVENING.

The stay in port of the big liner Mongolia will make the occasion for a public concert by the Territorial band
at the Hawaiian Hotel this evening, commencing at 7:30. The new electric light effects installed for the 4th of July ball will be in position, and the scene will be more brilliant than ever.

LAHAINA WATER CASE.

There are prospects of a settlement of this old case between the Territory of Hawaii and the Pioneer Mill Company, Ltd., which was set for hearing at Lahaina yesterday. A postponement was made until August 11th and it is probable that a compromise will be reached.

"THE FOURTH"

PEOPLE OF THE LEPER SETTLE-MENT HAD A HOT TIME ON THE NATION'S BIRTHDAY.

From word received today by President Pinkham of the Board of Health from Superintendent McVeigh of the Leper Settlement at Kalaupapa it is plain that the Fourth of July was spent in good old fashioned style there. The funds collected by the residents themselves were augmented by $130 collected and sent by Acting Governor Atkinson and $70 through President Pinkham and with this very detail of the day's enjoyment was well attended to.

"We had a hot roaring time," writes
the superintendent, "and everybody claims that it was the time of their lives. Everything passed off nicely and without trouble. A good many of our people have asked me to convey their thanks to you for assisting so much in procuring funds and also to those people who subscribed so generously."

The day's program consisted of literary exercises, athletic sports, foot races and horse races. A special prize was put up by President Pinkham for a race between the winners of the different horse races during the day and as the horses are not classified, the event provoked a great deal of interest.

CARE FOR SEAMEN.

The Treasury Department has given notice of a contract for care of seamen entitled to relief in Honolulu, up to June 30, 1935 as follows: the medical attendance to be furnished by a medical officer of the Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service; patients suffering from tuberculosis and incurable diseases, excepting leprosy, to be furnished quarters, subsistence, nursing, and necessary medicines by the Honolulu Home for Incurables, at $1.50 a day; others, excepting contagious diseases, by the Queen's Hospital at $1.50 a day.

MONGOLIA HAS RECORD CARGO

HIG VESSEL IS COMPLETING HER FIRST ROUND TRIP WITH AN ENORMOUS CARGO.

Carrying the biggest cargo that has ever been taken through the Golden Gate, the S. S. Mongolia, Captain Rinder, arrived off the port this morning
shortly after 8 o'clock from the Orient.
The big vessel did not reach here yesterday as she sailed June 29 from Yokohama, a day late. The vessel experienced good weather during her trip to this port. She sighted the S. S. Coptic on July 4. The two vessels spoke each other, stopped and exchanged compliments. Captain Rinder was formerly the commander of the Coptic, and the meeting was a very pleasing coincidence.

The Mongolia had 13,700 tons of freight in her hold. Of this amount 4-700 tons were for Honolulu and the remainder for San Francisco. There will be a hard struggle for the wharf people at the Pacific Mail wharf to handle the big cargo. It will be several thousands of tons more than any contract of the kind they have previously undertaken. About 5,000 tons of this cargo consisted of tea.

The vessel is just about full. The various shippers in Yokohama and other ports decided, when they were told that the Mongolia could take about all they wanted to ship, to let go what they had and sent it on her. It is doubtful even, whether the cargo can be gotten out of her in San Francisco and she is ready for sea within ten days, so as to sail on schedule time.

Every effort is being made to rush the work of discharging her at this port.
She went to the Naval wharf, as there was not enough water for her to go alongside the Hackfeld wharf. A big crowd awaited the vessel at the wharf.
She was docked in neat style, there being little trouble in handling her, big as she was.

Captain Rinder has made marked improvements in the appearance of his vessel. When she came here on her outward trip she looked rather dirty and unkempt. He has gotten her in shipshape now and she is as neat and clean as if she had been in commission many trips. A couple of trips more will put her in the neat and perfect order that characterizes the vessels of which Captain Rinder is in command.

The vessel had a very large crowd of passengers. She had 572 souls altogether, and 182 saloon passengers altogether.
She will get 90 more passengers at this place.

A good sized crowd of passengers will depart on the Mongolia from Honolulu for San Francisco. The vessel is scheduled to sail at 9 a. m. tomorrow for the Coast. She will probably not get away by that time.

LEE CHEW HAS RETURNED.

Lee Chew has returned. Lee is the Chinese comrade who has served the Oriental vessels for years. He went to China months ago to pay his respects to his parents and to "look around."
Chew looked around and saw a neat pretty Chinese girl that he fancied, so he married her. She arrived today with him. Lee and his bride traveled first-class. He furnished much amusement to the passengers. Chew's numerous friends in Honolulu will probably give him a reception of welcome.

PROTECTED

METROPOLITAN MEAT COMPANY
ADOPTS A POLICY TO PREVENT MORE LOSSES.

At least one firm in the city has secured itself against damage suits arising out of accidents suffered by employees and that is the Metropolitan Meat Company. This concern has quite recently protected itself by an employers' liability policy, a form of insurance much in vogue throughout the United States.

The company sustained a heavy loss
by reason of an accident by which one of its wagons ran into W. R. Riley, who sued for damages and secured a verdict for $4,000. The case has been settled and the appeal of the Meat Company has been withdrawn from the files of the court. It is said that a compromise was affected by which the plaintiff in the action was paid $3,000.
The insurance plan now in vogue is designed to insure the company against any similar liabilities that which might develop as the concern keeps a large number of wagons running constantly.

JAPANESE BANKRUPT.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy
was filed in the district court this morning by Yasaburo Oka and was adjudicated by Judge Dole. Oka was keeping a hotel at Hilo. His debts amount to about $1,500 and his assets to practically nil. He was declared a bankrupt.
