HUGHES, CLOSING CAMPAIGN, ASSAILS WILSONISM

GRAND JURY ASKED TO PROBE IWILEI BY JUDGE ASHFORD

Letter From City Attorney Suggests Course; Jurors
Called for Monday

Y. AHIN IN COURT BUT CASE IS POSTPONED

Arrested Yesterday, Released Without Bail; His Hearing
Set for November 8

Developments in the campaign being conducted against commercialized vice include the calling of the grand jury by Circuit Judge Ashford to meet Monday, when he will recommend that it investigate certain matters pertaining to Iwilei, following a letter from the city and county attorney made public today.

Y. Ahin was arraigned in police court on charges of conducting a house of ill fame at Iwilei and the case postponed to November 8.

The city attorney's office indicates that it will not allow counsel for the anti-vice committee to assist in prosecuting in the Ahin case.

Sheriff Rose denies that he encourages inmates to remain in Iwilei, but admits that he has told some of them that they had nothing to worry about.

M. Miyake, for many years a resident here, is refused redemption from Japan and takes appeal to the secretary of labor. Miyake's wife was arrested on charges of conducting a lodging house as a disorderly house and the case against her was nolle prossed today.

Whether Honolulu's "red-light" district at Iwilei should be abolished or maintained is a question which will be laid before the territorial grand jury at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon for investigation.

Circuit Judge Ashford on Friday notified the members of the jury that they would be wanted in court Monday.

Recommendations that the inquiries be requested to investigate matters pertaining to Iwilei were received by Judge Ashford on Friday in a letter from City Attorney Arthur M. Brown.

The letter, which is self-explanatory and which was made public by Judge Ashford and City Attorney Brown today, is as follows:

"In view of the recent agitation against, and more or less publicity concerning the so-called 'Iwilei district,' wherein it is generally understood that prostitution, under certain regulations concerning health and the maintenance of law and order, is being carried on, and in view of the further fact that this office may be called upon by certain citizens opposed to the maintenance of any such restricted district, to prosecute all such offenders and the owners of the public prostitution within such district.

"And in view further that public opinion is apparently divided as to whether such a restricted district should be tolerated as it has been in the past, as a so-called 'necessary evil,' I would very respectfully request that this entire matter be made the subject of a most thorough investigation by the grand jury of this circuit, and their attention called to the same by you officially, with the end in view that such grand jury, as representing public opinion in so far as the enforcement of law and order is concerned, may make such recommendations concerning the abolition or maintenance of this so-called 'restricted district' as will enable this office and the police department, working together to carry out to the fullest extent the recommendations of this body of public citizens concerning this alleged evil and all matters connected therewith."

Ahin in Police Court

Y. Ahin, alleged owner of disorderly houses in Iwilei, was arrested yesterday and arraigned in police court this morning and then developed what may prove to be a feature of the entire effort to close the disorderly district. It appeared that the city and county attorney's office will refuse to allow any handling of the case except by his own staff.

Robert W. Breckons, who has been engaged as counsel by the anti-vice committee, appeared in court and said that at the instance of several reputable gentlemen of the community he has been asked to look after the legal aspects of the fight on Iwilei and that he had requested of the city attorney's office to allow him to appear as assisting in the prosecution of the cases which might be brought up. He said indications were that the city attorney would refuse to allow this.

Breckons said later that he would address a letter to City Attorney Brown to ascertain the latter's exact attitude.

Ahin was arrested and released on his own recognizance—without bail.

Rose Explains Position

Although some houses were dark last night, Iwilei showed little sign of a general closing, most of the inmates now awaiting the outcome of the Ahin case. Sheriff Rose says he has been asked by several inmates of that district if the police were going to close their places and that he told them the position of the police was

WHIRLWIND END BOND CAMPAIGN IS UNDERTAKEN

Mayor Gets Speakers Together and Will Conduct Meetings
Today and Monday

Because he has found that a large majority of the voters know comparatively little about the municipal bond issue, Mayor John C. Lane has started a whirlwind windup campaign to enlighten the people and educate them in order that they may vote intelligently. Lane has gathered a large number of prominent speakers together and today and Monday they will talk to the voters.

At 1 o'clock today Supervisor Arnold, Building Inspector Freitas and D. L. Conkling spoke at Kaneohe, and Monday noon there will be rallies at the Honolulu Iron Works and Ritchie Construction Camp and a monster rally Monday night at Aala Park.

Mayor Adds Drawing Cards

The mayor is planning several attractions for Monday evening, among which are the Hawaiian band quintet club, and seats will be provided for all. The grand stand will be fully decorated with flags and built high enough for the speakers to be easily heard.

Friday Mayor Lane wrote to both the Republican and Democratic committees asking permission to speak from their platforms. In his reply, Harry Murray said, "I beg to advise you as vice-chairman of the Republican Territorial central committee, that there is no objection on our part to a discussion of the municipal bond issue, both pro and con, from the platform used by the candidates, provided, however, that the bond discussion takes place after the candidates and party workers have addressed the voters." No reply has been received from the Democrats.

Goes Right Ahead

The mayor feels, however, that he cannot accept the offer of Murray, for the reason that when the candidates are through it will be too late, and he has therefore decided to have a platform of his own. The speakers Monday night will be: Chairman Chas. F. Chillingworth, Hon. J. K. Kalanianoʻe, delegate; David Kalauokalani, John H. Wise, William C. Achi, W. R. Farrington, A. L. C. Atkinson, A. M. Brown, Chas. H. Holoua, Moses Kahue, Mayor J. C. Lane and Supervisors Ahia, Arnold, Hollinger, Horner, Larsen and Logan.

In speaking of the meeting Monday evening Mayor Lane said: "It is not the purpose of the meeting to interfere with the other meetings, but I hold that the people should be enlightened and educated upon the bond issue in order that when they go to the polls the next day they may vote intelligently for or against it."

Part of Education Campaign

"The meeting is principally a campaign for education, for I know the necessity of such a campaign. In talking with many whom I believed knew something about the bond issue, their answers have fully convinced me that they even do not know that they are to vote for it next Tuesday, as they are of the belief that the election takes place next year."

"Knowing this to be the fact it has made me more determined than ever to talk on this vital issue, and since it is the first election held of such a public nature, the least that could be expected from the administration is to present the merits of the bond issue."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 4.—Eighteen negroes and nine white persons are believed to have been killed in a coal mine explosion here.

VILLISTAS EXECUTED; LEADER WINS SUCCESS
EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 4.—Col. Rosario Garcia, the Villa commander in Sonora, and two men with him have been convicted of treason and executed at Juarez by the Carranza party. Garcia pleaded, saying that he was forced to carry the Villa messages. When he was shot, he was not killed at once and it required two "mercy shots" to finish him. Government agents have heard that Santa Rosalia, Parral and Jimenez are in the hands of Villistas.

IMPERIAL BAR LICENSE SUSPENDED TWO MONTHS
The Liquor License Commission met this afternoon to render its decision in the matter of charges against James E. Thompson for his conduct of the Imperial Bar. All testimony was in and the board went into a prolonged executive session at 1:30.

At 3:30 the board ordered license suspended for two months with provision to sell meantime.

JEFFS RELEASED, AGAIN ARRESTED UPON SUSPICION

Attorney Carden; Dr. Ayer
Examines Wound

Twice in the last 24 hours Harold Jeffs, the barber, has been arrested by the police on suspicion of being responsible for the death of his wife Thursday-morning. He is now being held for investigation.

Immediately following the coroner's jury verdict yesterday that discredited the suicide theory, he was arrested to be released later in the afternoon in the custody of two friends. This morning Sheriff Rose again ordered him behind the bars upon request of Deputy County Attorney W. T. Carden.

Police Surgeon R. G. Ayer made a thorough examination Friday evening of the bullet's path through the victim's brain and personally does not believe the shot could have been fired by herself.

"It would be almost a physical impossibility for her to have held the rifle in such a position to take a downward path from the place of entrance into the skull instead of the probable upward course had she shot herself," says the physician.

He also does not understand how the gun could have been resting so naturally across her breast with the thumb carefully inserted in the trigger guard when the result of such a shot is a complete coup de grace.

Attorney E. A. Douthitt, who has been retained by Jeffs, stated this morning that the two little Jeffs children had been taken to the St. Andrew's priory.

Jeffs, in custody of Detective Rudolph Stein, went to his wife's funeral yesterday afternoon but showed no signs of breaking down.

THROWING OF GLASS IN STREET BRINGS FINE

Judge Monsarrat was almost "peevish" Friday morning in police court following the trial of Chir Hark Sir, a Korean whom the magistrate had fined $5 for throwing a soda water bottle on the street, when he learned the defendant had a posted bond of $50 in cash.

The whole audience laughed with the court when he said he had no idea the defendant had so much money and might have assessed a fine more in proportion to what he considered a serious practice.

When the defendant explained through an interpreter, however, that he was a hard working man, entirely ignorant of the law and received an average wage of $21 in 26 days, the judge felt better but he refused to remit costs of the trial, still holding the fine as high as possible in the light of that whole half hundred dollars in cash.

PAROLED PRISONER GOES BACK TO FINISH TERM

Samuel Kahi, who was arrested recently by Chief McDuffie of the detectives with several hundred dollars worth of stolen personal property in his possession, was given a suspended sentence in police court Friday morning and sent back to prison to serve the remainder of an unexpired sentence from which he had been paroled on good behavior.

In passing sentence Judge Monsarrat remarked that he had noticed several defendants before him recently were paroled prisoners and Prosecutor Chillingworth explained that McDuffie had learned through long experience and many successful catches to watch the actions of former prisoners.

300 FEARED LOST BY COLLISION IN THE IRISH CHANNEL

Almost Instantly; One Survivor Rumored

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
LONDON, Eng., Nov. 4.—The London & Northwestern Railway steamship Connemara and the Clarye Steamship Company's steamer Retriever collided in the Irish Channel today with a probable large loss of life. Both sank almost immediately. It is believed that the fatalities will reach 300 and it is rumored that there has been but one survivor found.

Railway officials say they believe that only 50 passengers were on the Connemara, which carried a crew of 31. A few bodies have been washed ashore.

The Connemara was loaded with cattle and the Retriever with coal. The collision occurred in one of the worst gales in the Irish Sea. It is believed that at least 100 have certainly been lost. No Americans are thought to be among this number.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 4.—The British steamer Spero has been sunk in the war-zone.

Statistics of the vessels mentioned in the news above are as follows:
Connemara—Built Dumbarton, 1897. Owned by L. & N. Western, 833 tons. Home port Dublin; passenger steamer.
Spero—Freighter. Built Sunderland, 1899; 1199 tons. Owned by Belson S. S. Co., Ltd. Home port Newcastle.

"JACK" McGRATH DEAD, IS REPORT

Notorious Gangster, Escaped
From Jail, Said to Have Died
Several Months Ago

That John J. ("Jack") McGrath, one of the leaders of the McGraw-Lewis-Boggs-Scully gang of "badger game" artists and hold-up men hunted down last year, died some weeks or months ago in Brooklyn, N. Y., is the story that has reached Honolulu.

McGrath was under indictment for first-degree highway robbery, had pleaded guilty to second-degree robbery and was awaiting sentence on May 1, 1915, when the night previous he escaped from the county jail and has never been trailed down. His escape led to a jail scandal exposed by the Star-Bulletin and investigated by the territorial grand jury. From time to time there have been reports that he was in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Mexico, and Deputy Sheriff Asch made a fruitless trip to San Diego and Tia Juana to get him and the embezzling former president of the Honolulu brewery, C. G. Bartlett, with whom he was supposed to be in company.

On September 30 of last year the McGrath case was stricken from the court calendar, to be brought up if he ever was apprehended. At the police station today it was said that reports have come indirectly but upon good authority that McGrath has been dead for several months. Chief McDuffie has heard the report and it is said that the same rumor has also come to McGrath's father-in-law.

PARTIES ON LAST LAP OF CAMPAIGN

With the general election but three days away, both Republican and Democratic candidates are putting forward every effort to meet with the voters in both districts, meetings being scheduled for this afternoon and tonight with final rallies at Aala park on Monday evening.

Republicans will meet at 6:45 o'clock this evening in Bishop park for the final fourth district rally. There will be a program of Hawaiian music and the speakers will include J. W. Cathcart, A. Lewis, Jr., Eben Low, C. H. Cooke, C. N. Marquez, J. K. Jarrett and R. W. Breckons. On Monday evening the last campaign rally will be held in front of the bandstand at Aala park.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Democrats held a meeting at Puuloa; at 4 o'clock a meeting was held at Pearl City and tonight Waipahu will be covered. In Honolulu at 7:30 o'clock this evening the candidates will meet with the voters at the Kumale block, Kakaako. The final rally will be held at Aala park, Beretania street side, at 7:30 o'clock next Monday evening.

RUSSIA'S NEW LOAN PUT TOTAL AT HIGH FIGURE

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—More than two billions of dollars has been borrowed or arranged for borrowing by foreign countries, outside South America. News came out today of the completion of negotiations with Russia by American capitalists of a $50,000,000 five-year 5 1/2 per cent loan by the National City Bank. This brings the total foreign-country borrowing, besides South America, to over $2,000,000,000.

BERLIN CLAIMS CHANNEL FIGHT

(German Official)

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 4.—The German authorities once more state that all German torpedo boats which took part in the enterprise in the English channel during the night of October 26-27 returned. No boat was damaged by artillery hits or mines.

As to the English patrol ships sunk by German torpedo-boats, English Minister Balfour admits that No. 6, the official English reports first had mentioned none. The German report gave their number, which, according to new and careful investigation, must be considered as very conservative.

German torpedo-boats were by no means driven away by the British for there was no British force present that could have done this.
The British destroyers that showed themselves were partly shot down in such surprising fashion that they could not fire one shot, and the rest saved themselves by flight.

G.O.P. FINISHES CAMPAIGN WITH RALLY IN N. Y.

Madison Square Packed With
as Hughes Ends Efforts

PRESIDENT AT SHADOW
LAWN; GETS NEWS THERE

John M. Hanly, Prohibitionist, and Allan L. Benson, Socialist,
Work to the End

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Republican and Democratic national campaigns are coming to a virtual close tonight with tremendous demonstrations centering around the chief figures—President Woodrow Wilson and Candidate Charles E. Hughes.

After a swing around the state, with half a dozen speeches daily, Hughes reached New York today and redoubled his activity. The former justice made five speeches this afternoon, closing with an address in Madison Square Garden. The huge structure was packed with people who cheered the Republican candidate.

In his Madison Square Garden speech Hughes assailed the Wilson administration. He declared that he is for the maintenance of American rights throughout the world, and that he is "opposed to treating the American merchant as a suspicious character." He said that he is "confident of election" and that if elected he does not propose to deal with international situations in an "academic manner."

President Wilson is closing his campaign at his summer home at Shadow Lawn, N. J. He had been there most of the day and in the evening a great crowd gathered to hear him in his final oratorical effort. He made his chief argument to New Jerseyans, reviewing the achievements of the administration and calling for support for the principles he has espoused.

The president was vigorous in his denunciation of the Hughes campaign. He accused his opponents of "coercing laborers" and said that "by spreading alarms they used to control the credit of the nation," but now they only control the betting. He accused his opponents of "making sport" which unsettled things at a serious crisis, and of "spreading tinder when the world is ablaze."

While the president was speaking, William Johnson of Adelphi, N. J., died of heart failure as he stood in the crowd.

Hughes is stopping at the Astor. John M. Hanly, the national Prohibition candidate, came back to Indianapolis late today after a vigorous campaign tour. He has visited 34 states and covered 20,000 miles.

Allan L. Benson, the Socialist candidate, is still out on the campaign circuit. He is making speeches in Kansas City today and this evening. Benson has visited most of the states. Hughes has a traveling record of 28,000 miles, during which he has visited 23 states, covering virtually every one except the southern states certainly Democratic.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Nov. 4.—John M. Parker, candidate for vice-president on the Bull Moose ticket, has telegraphed to the Wilson managers his assurances that the Progressives of the Middle West are coming to the support of the president. "The elements of a landslide are appearing," says Parker in his telegram.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 4.—The national campaigns from Ohio to the coast closed here today. Western Manager Hert of the Republican organization, again predicted that Hughes would have more than 300 votes in the electoral college.

Thomas Walsh, the western Democratic manager, said: "Wilson will be reelected by the greatest popular vote ever given to a candidate."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4.—The U. S. weather bureau predicts that the weather will be generally fair over the country next Wednesday.

BOARD ADJOURNS FOLLOWING TILT ON MANOA PARK

Municipal bond issues and political rallies were more on the minds of the members of the board of supervisors last night than regular city business and after passing the payrolls and referring several petitions to the various committees shortly after 8 o'clock the board adjourned until November 8 and the members hurried off to add their weight to the vital subjects that were discussed at different points about the city.

Only one matter arose which marred the otherwise peaceful gathering and that was a rather acrimonious argument between William Larsen and Ben Hollinger over the piling of rocks on Manoa park. Hollinger said that Park Superintendent Vierra had not threatened the contractor with arrest, as had been alleged at the last meeting by Larsen, and that there were two ordinances which prohibited the piling of rocks on public parks.

Larsen then accused Hollinger of telling Ritchie, the contractor, that he would "get him" if he did not take the rock off. This was denied and after several more verbal tilts, in which the word "lie" from a visitor was heard, Mayor Lane put a stop to the argument by adjourning the meeting.

WORK ON LAIMI, PARK, PUIWA STREETS DONE AS REPORTED BY TAYLOR

The Star-Bulletin wishes to correct a story appearing in Friday's issue in which it said that George Collins had declared certain work on Laimi park and Puiwa street in Nuuanu valley reported finished by James T. Taylor had not been done. Upon investigation it was found that the work had been done, the mistake having been caused by a misunderstanding over the work meant. Collins referred to the frontage improvement, while the work which has been completed was done by private enterprise.

TERRITORIALS WIN FOUR FOR CLEAN SWEEP

The Territorials won from the Federals easily last night, taking all three games and total pinfall of the Commercial Bowling League match on the Y. M. C. A. alleys last night. The bowling of the victors was of a high order and created much enthusiasm among the fans that crowded the alleys.

Wikander made the hit of the evening. He rolled 244 in his first game and missed the double century mark only by four pins in his second game. He got high average, this being 196.3. Tinker, also of the victorious five, rolled high, just missing the double century mark in his second game by one pin.

For the Federals Guthrie was best man, making a total of 502. Chan just reached the double century mark in his second game, and Hornberger missed it in his third game by six pins.

COL. GUILFOYLE WILL RETIRE IN LESS THAN YEAR

Col. John F. Guilfoyle of the 4th Cavalry will retire about the first of the year. He made this known to friends in Douglas, Arizona, before he left there October 16 for Jerome, Ariz., where he is interested as a stockholder in the United Verde Extension mine.

Col. Guilfoyle stated to Douglas friends that he would automatically retire for age on October 1 next but that having completed 40 years of service he is now privileged to retire sooner. It is said that he will make his home in San Francisco and that his daughter will enter the university at Berkeley.

The colonel is expected to arrive on the transport Logan, due here about November 13 from San Francisco.

JUDGE ASHFORD ASKS GRAND JURY TO PROBE IWILEI

now just the same as it was before the agitation to close the district was started. He denies, however, that he encouraged them to remain or that he made disparaging remarks about those who were behind the movement to abolish the district.

Chief McDuffie of the detectives, whose duty it is, under orders from the sheriff, to require each week from every inmate a certificate of good health, says he has been asked by practically every woman in the district whether the police proposed to run them out.

"To every one of them I replied that I knew nothing of such a proposition," says McDuffie. "I told them I was under orders of the sheriff and had received no word from him to that effect."

The sheriff admits that he did say to those who had not received orders from landlords to move out, that they had nothing to worry about.

Information comes to the Star-Bulletin direct from Iwilei that McDuffie has been approached by some of the women who asked him if the police would keep away if they started a quiet little house uptown.

To each of these inquiries McDuffie firmly replied, "Nothing doing."

Would Keep Miyake Out

In connection with the fight being made by the anti-vice committee on commercialized vice in Honolulu comes the news that the United States immigration authorities here are taking radical steps against Japanese said to be profiting from rental of rooms for prostitution.

It was learned today that H. Miyake has been denied readmission to the territory by a special federal immigration board of inquiry appointed to investigate.

Miyake returned from Japan on the T. K. K. liner Siberia Maru October 18 after an absence of several months from Honolulu, in which he has lived off and on since 1890. The board found that he has been guilty of immoral conduct of a nature to preclude his admission to the United States. Miyake has taken an appeal from the board's decision to Secretary of Labor Wilson. If he loses he will be deported to Japan. Miyake is about 50 years old.

Mrs. Miyake was recently arrested during her husband's absence in Japan. She was charged with running a house of prostitution in a lodging house conducted by herself and husband. Today in court her case was nolle prossed and she was discharged.

CASES AGAINST TWO LODGING HOUSE KEEPERS ARE NOLLE PROSSED

The cases of Mrs. H. Miyake and B. Aoyama, both charged with conducting disorderly houses in the downtown district, were nolle prossed in police court this morning and the defendants went free. Prosecuting Attorney Chillingworth explained that the prosecution had insufficient evidence to go to trial.

A similar case of S. Yamamoto recently resulted in a conviction and sentence of a $100 fine and 60 days in jail. A notice of appeal was entered in this case.

The police rumor that Miyake and Aoyama may be prosecuted under another charge and there is a possibility that the immigration authorities will deport the defendants upon the strength of testimony already collected.

U. S. JURY WEDNESDAY

Federal trial jurors have been notified to be in court at 8:30 o'clock next Wednesday morning, at which time the case of Lum Dow, charged with having opium in possession, will go to trial.

HAWAIIAN FILM WILL BE SHOWN SUNDAY NIGHT

"Kaolulani," the new Hawaiian-made film, will be shown at the Hawaii theater Sunday evening. This will be its first public appearance for the views that were given this week at the Liberty and Empire theaters, were by invitation.

It was announced today that arrangements have been made between the Aloha Film Company and the management of the Hawaii theater for a public display of the Hawaiian play and Hawaiian-made film before it is sent to the mainland. In accordance with this arrangement, the film will be made a part of the regular program at the Hawaii Sunday evening.

Full criticism and description of the play and the film have already appeared in the Star-Bulletin. Numbers of people who had not the chance to see the advance presentation of it have expressed a desire to see the pictures before they go to the mainland and it is to gratify such desire that the arrangement for its exhibition was made.

A. C. MONTGOMERY CLAIMS $1750 FROM GOVERNMENT

Alexander C. Montgomery has filed in federal court a claim against the U. S. government for $1750 which, he alleges, is owing him under the terms of a lease he recently had with the government on the Model building, Fort street, in which is now located the United States court. The lease was entered into in 1911.

It's Easy to Pay —the Model Way

The wisdom of The Model way is becoming clear to more and more people every day. Men who have been used to paying cash for their clothes are coming to see the economy of being systematic—of paying for their clothes in small instalments instead of big sums irregularly. And at The Model you can get styles and values which are absolutely correct, in addition to cheerful credit. Purchase delivered on first payment. Alterations free.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Schofield Lodge No. 443 of Leilehua has regular meeting tonight.

A motion has been filed in federal court to quash the indictment in the case of Yee Mun Wai, charged with having opium in possession.

Charged with truancy and disobedience, a 14-year-old Hawaiian boy today was committed to the reform school at Waialea by Juvenile Judge Whitney.

G. Shimada, who came from Japan lately, will speak at the Japanese theater Aschiza on Maunakea street Sunday night. His subject will be "The Terauchi Cabinet and the Japanese-American Problem."

Circuit Judge Whitney on December 11 will hear a petition for the approval of the final accounts and the distribution of the estate of the late Emily May. The executor charges himself with $5135.96 and asks to be allowed $773.20.

A bicycle race, under the management of the Japanese bicycle dealers association, will start at noon Sunday at the old Athletic park. The race will be 10 miles and is open to all nationalities, the winner to receive a new bicycle from the association.

Jack Lucas has forwarded to the department of public works a sample of koa desks likely to be installed in the Capitol for the coming legislature. The desk already received is attracting the praise of many persons who visit the department.

Charles A. Padeken died at Fredericks, Oklahoma, Friday morning, according to a wireless received in Honolulu by a cousin, W. A. K. Williams. Padeken was born here 31 years ago and was well known here chiefly through his athletic records on the bicycle and with the Myrtle Boat Club.

A petition has been filed in circuit court asking that the Hawaiian Trust Company be appointed administrator of the estate of the late Charles Hustace, Jr. Circuit Judge Whitney will hear the motion on December 8. The heirs are the widow and Charles Hustace, father. The value of the estate is not given.

Dr. Benjamin C. Woodbury, who has recently come to Honolulu from Portsmouth, N. H., has occupied the office and residence of Dr. George J. Augur, 431 Beretania street. Dr. Woodbury is a graduate of Boston University school of medicine, where, during the past three years he has been an instructor in homeopathy.

Members of the Y. M. C. A. will observe the week of prayer at the association beginning November 12. Word has been received from New York that all the associations in America will observe this week and meetings have been planned for every day during the period. Special prayer meetings will be held at noon each day, which will be led by a member of the board of directors.

WEST SIDERS ARE FRIENDLY TO BOND ISSUE

Two Improvement Clubs Discuss Question With Mayor and Supervisors

At the home of W. O. Barnhart, Puunui street, Friday night there was a joint meeting of Puunui and Alewa Heights improvement clubs, called to consider the proposed bond issue. Many representative citizens attended, and the tone of the meeting was one of friendly but keen inquiry into the merits of the question.

One of the main features of the discussion was an informal talk by Fred G. Kirchhoff, civil engineer of the water works, on the filtration plant for Nuuanu water. He stated that the estimate of $150,000 for this purpose in the bond proposals was sufficient to complete the work, including auxiliary filters for the higher levels of Alewa Heights and Puunui. The estimate was based partly on a report made by Rudolf Hering, the New York specialist in sanitary engineering, who devised the Honolulu sewer system.

Mr. Kirchhoff, as well as members of the city government present, maintained that the filtration plant was necessary, both for sanitary and economic reasons. Nuuanu water must be utilized, it was pointed out, to prevent an excessive drain upon artesian water resources which the experts agree is liable to destroy them altogether in time, and the development of electric power from the big reservoir would save the expense of pumping the artesian water that will continue to be used.

Mayor Lane and Supervisors Arnold, Hollinger and Logan were questioned minutely on all phases of the question, including both the financial expediency of the proposed loan and the merits of each item in the list. Wade Warren Thayer, secretary of Hawaii, joining in the inquiry.

With reference to the items for parks and public baths, one of the supervisors mentioned that Long Beach, Cal., had a plebiscite now pending for a bond issue of $500,000 for a recreation pier at that resort. He also expressed the opinion that if Honolulu was brought up to the best standard of a tourist resort, including the perfection of the scenic boulevard around the island, there would be returns from the tourist business not second to those from the sugar industry and, moreover, the tourist "dividends" would all be spent in Hawaii.

No formal vote was taken but there was no dissenting voice, as the gathering spontaneously broke up shortly before 10 o'clock, when someone declared that it was the sense of the meeting that the bond issue should be supported.

CONSPIRACY CASE IS NOLLE PROSSED

At the instance of City Attorney A. M. Brown, the case of Seizaburo Sakai and Hideo Hiraoka, charged with criminal conspiracy, was nolle prossed in Circuit Judge Ashford's court today. It was alleged that the defendants conspired to defraud a receiver appointed to take charge of their property as the result of a civil case against them in circuit court. Insufficiency of evidence was Attorney Brown's reason for asking for a nolle prossed.

THREE JAPANESE PLACES BURGLARIZED ON FRIDAY

Three robberies, all of Japanese places, were reported to the police Friday. A home in Manoa was burglarized and about $7 taken. Boys suspected of the theft have been arrested and turned over to the juvenile court. On Queen street, near Pier 15, two stores were entered during the lantern parade. About $60 in cash was taken from one and $20 from the other. Chief McDuffie of the detectives says these are the first burglaries reported this week.

AMERICA'S WAR PHILANTHROPY.

PROGRESS OR FALSE ECONOMY?

Voters who may still be uncertain whether they should go to the polls next Tuesday and vote for or against the bond proposals are invited to consider the following.

1. Under the tax increase plan, nine miles of city streets per year for three years can be built—27 miles.

Under the bond plan, in the same period 40 miles of city streets can be built.

2. Under the tax increase plan, it is unlikely that the parks, playgrounds and bathing-beach improvements contemplated will be carried out, while if the bond plan carries, $100,000 will be devoted to these purposes.

3. Under the tax increase plan no funds will be available prior to January 1, 1918, and it is possible that the whole scheme will fail because of non-action by the legislature.

Under the bond plan the city is sure of raising funds for immediate work on city street, belt road, water improvements, sewer improvements, establishment of a free garbage service, parks, and $53,000 in the contingent fund.

The water and sewer improvements are imperative. Good roads are virtually as vital. Good roads not only are demanded by this community, but after construction allow the reduction of maintenance charges.

A vote against the bond issue means a vote against the certain method of progress.

A vote against the bond issue means a year of delay in getting improvements all Honolulu asks for now.

A vote against the bond issue means a vote to continue disgraceful streets and inadequate water and sewer works, on a false theory of economy.

"Who will block the way?"

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

A few weeks ago several Hawaiians were arrested on the charge of vagrancy. They were connected with the strike on the waterfront. The bond for each was fixed at $250, and before they were released "gilt-edged" security was required. The offense with which they were charged is a misdemeanor. The prosecution made no objection to private counsel being employed to assist in handling these cases.

Y. Ahin, a Chinese, charged with maintaining a disorderly house in Iwilei, was arrested yesterday. The offense is a misdemeanor. The record shows that by orders of Sheriff Rose he was released without bail. This morning in open court, an attorney employed by reputable citizens of Honolulu to assist in an attempt to have legalized vice ended here, announced that the prosecution would probably refuse to permit him to appear an endeavor to aid in securing a conviction.

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

CLAIM JOE AUNA DISTURBS QUIET AT HAWAII POLLS

Charging that Joseph A. Auna, election official for the 12th precinct, 1st representative district, Hawaii, is a "disturbing element" upon the board, and asking for his removal, more than a score of petitioners have filed their names with Governor Pinkham.

The governor has turned the letter over to Secretary Wade Warren Thayer, who stated today that he considers the matter largely a squabble over petty troubles, and that he will inform the petitioners that Auna will remain on the board; furthermore, that the petition was filed too late to allow the case to be investigated in time to have it settled before the election next Tuesday.

The fact that Auna failed to appear until 15 minutes after the polls were opened at the last election was held by the petitioners as sufficient grounds for a censure in the place. The allegations state that the "members present proceeded business, and at 8:15 took up the matter of appointing" some one in his place.

It is also alleged that Auna protested against the appointment of S. K. Kaakuaiki as clerk of the board instead of himself; that he refused to allow men to vote because through typewriting errors names were spelled slightly different from the name as registered; that he raised rows during the primary election which resulted in the head clerk having "to leave his seat" twice to settle the matter, and that lastly he is a "disturbing element" on the official board.

"The whole thing sounds to me like a petty squabble," said Secretary Thayer today as he looked over the letter from the indignant Hawaii voters.

Manuel Santos is recovering at the Queen's hospital from severe injuries received Thursday afternoon when he was crushed in a rock carrying elevator at the Honolulu Construction & Draying Company's crushing plant at the corner of Kapahulu and Wai-lan roads.

Hawaii's contribution through the War Relief Committee of more than $120,000 is part of the tremendous total of nearly $30,000,000 given by Americans to the 60 principal war relief societies.

Of this total the Commission for Relief in Belgium received about $7,000,000, the Belgian Relief Fund $3,085,000, and other societies $184,000, making a total for Belgium of $10,269,000. France, through twelve organizations, received $2,000,000; England, $594,000; Russia, $12,000, and Serbia, $313,000. Thus gifts specifically for the allied nations totaled more than $13,000,000, not including about $3,000,000 of Red Cross funds largely used in those countries.

Contributions to the German Red Cross and to three German-American relief bodies totaled about $3,750,000. About $9,000,000 was contributed to specific dependent races, such as Poles, Jews, Armenians, etc., the Jews leading with upward of $5,223,000 in three funds, and the Red Cross general fund of $3,231,000 completes the total, which is about one-twentieth of the Allies' American bill for war munitions.

President Wilson told an audience in New York that American business has hitherto been in the hands of too few men. In one respect the Democratic administration has been endeavoring to remedy this situation—it has been distributing American business on the Pacific among the Japanese.

Vice landlords in Iwilei are reported to be making up a "defense fund" which ought more properly to be called a slush fund. The public will not be sorry to see some of these Iwilei cases get into court so that the light of day may shine on men who take profits from the shame of unfortunate women.

A Republican expert predicts that Link McCandless won't get a corporal's guard of votes on Maui. Somehow this reminds us irresistibly that the Republican experts said Abe Louissou wouldn't get a corporal's guard of votes in the whole territory. Did he? Ask said experts.

Is the fifth district going to elect to the house William H. Crawford, Republican, and David M. Kupihea, Democrat? The candidacy of either is a disgrace to respectable men of both parties.

Somehow the arguments for increasing Honolulu's taxes have not fallen upon fruitful ground. The taxpayers don't like the idea.

"Wilson's prospects were never brighter," says a Democratic manager. But that doesn't necessarily mean very much.

Villa continues to be numbered among the best vote-getters for Hughes.

A boost for the bond issue is in order any time.

Putting off until the last few days of grace is characteristic of humanity which accounts for many people not paying taxes earlier in the month. Big business concerns with big taxes also prefer to borrow late in the month so as to pay less interest.

Thanksgiving

Is One of the Days With Lessons in Paid Publicity

Suppose the Word was merely passed around to give Thanks without saying anything of what we should be thankful for.

Suppose the claim should be made that Thanksgiving is "an old institution, everyone knows what it is, where it is, when it happens and what to do about it; so what's the use of reminding people about it?"

Wouldn't that be Foolish and would it not be the same idea as that worked out by the merchant who says, "I've been here for years; everyone knows that I have goods and if they need anything they'll come in and I will sell them something."

Publicity Reminders are what makes Thanksgiving live.

Men Who Preferred Working Ashore to Being Interned Ordered Punished

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) HILLO, Nov. 3.—Some time ago four of the engineer's staff of the German war-bound steamer O. J. D. Ahlers left their floating home and tried to get work ashore. They succeeded and seemed happy enough in their employment instead of rusting out in the bay on the steamer. That arrangement seemed to be all right until the German consul in Honolulu took up the matter and sent one of his staff to Hilo to hold a sort of court-martial on the four men.

On Thursday last the "court-martial" was held and the four young men, who had been summoned by letter to appear before the consular representative, did so.

The four "deserters" appeared before the agent of the consul and what they had to say about their desertion was taken down. They told their story, but the "court" decided that they were at fault and inflicted fines that ranged downward from 200 marks.

As soon as the fines were announced by the "court" the young fellows walked off for a consultation. The quartet then made its way to the deputy collector of customs' office and there petitioned to be allowed to enter the United States in the legal manner. They were cross-examined and, upon being found good material for citizens, were entered on the books at once. They now cannot be touched except through the federal courts, and there is not much chance of that course being taken with success.

When shown the above despatch from the Star-Bulletin's Hilo correspondent, German Consul Georg Rodiek today confirmed the story. From his secretary, H. August Schroeder, who went to Hilo to conduct the trial and fine the sailors, further particulars were learned.

In May, 1915, the fourth engineer of the Ahlers asked for leave of absence to accept a position with the Hilo Railway. It was given him by Captain H. Eelbo, the freighter's commander, with the understanding that he return to duty on the steamer whenever his services were required. The engineer, D. Coldeway, signed a written agreement to this effect.

On May 28, 1916, Captain Eelbo requested Coldeway to return to his ship to help make some urgently needed repairs. The fourth engineer refused to do so, and in consequence Captain Eelbo appealed to the German consulate in Honolulu for a trial of the man, who became a deserter by his refusal to come back to his old job.

The other three deserters left the Ahlers June 4 of this year. Their names are F. Glord, O. Hermann and F. Steengrafe. At the trial of the quartet in Hilo the fourth engineer, Coldeway, was fined 200 marks. Glord, Hermann 100 and Steengrafe 125. Captain Eelbo, according to Schroeder, who is secretary of the German consulate in Honolulu, asked that the deserters be only fined and not sentenced to imprisonment. This was accordingly granted, although under Section 93, paragraph 2, of German Seamen's Regulations, issued June 2, 1902, desertion or absconding from German merchant vessels is punishable by a fine not to exceed 300 marks and imprisonment for a period not over three months.

According to German Consul Georg Rodiek, the four deserters could not have escaped punishment by taking out first papers in American citizenship, as they have done. Until their final papers are granted they are still subject to German seamen's regulations. As only a fine has been imposed, however, the matter will be dropped, as the captain does not desire to have the men imprisoned.

Under Article 14 of the Treaty of 1871 between the United States and the German Empire, German consuls who are representatives in the United States of the German Empire may apply to United States authorities for aid in capturing deserted German seamen. After the seamen are found by the U. S. shipping commissioners to be deserters they may be held for a period not exceeding two months, in which time the German consuls are required to find an opportunity to send them back to Germany for trial. This article has never been repealed.

'NO OFFER MADE,' FRAZIER ANSWERS OUTDOOR CIRCLE

Declares He Stood Ready to Negotiate in Businesslike Way on Billboards

Unqualified denial was made today by Charles R. Frazier that the Outdoor Circle through Robert W. Shingle ever made an offer of $5000 to buy out his billboard business.

"The published statement this morning that such an offer was made, even in tentative form, is not correct," he said. "Mr. Shingle never brought the proposition to me in definite form, and after I had placed a figure of $15,000 to get out of the business, so that the Circle could realize its aim of eliminating billboards from the city, the whole thing was dropped."

The volume of controversy over the billboard situation was added to late yesterday when the Outdoor Circle gave out for publication copies of letters passing between Shingle and Frazier, accompanied by comments of its own, to prove that the Circle had made a tentative offer to Frazier to quit the billboard field. This is part of the discussion aroused by Frazier's letters to members of the Outdoor Circle asking them to express their attitude.

Frazier today made public the following letter which he wrote to Shingle on May 25, 1915, stating that this letter shows no offer was made him:

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 24th inst. in which you state that you have further consulted with the ladies of the Outdoor Circle with a view of their buying my billboard business, and that it does not appear to the Circle that $15,000 is a reasonable price. You also state that the Circle is willing to undertake to raise and pay me a substantial sum providing the members can be satisfied as to what the value is and that you are authorized by the Circle to propose to me the appointment of a valuation committee of three disinterested persons.

"Inasmuch as the Outdoor Circle is not an incorporated body and the appointment of such a committee would necessitate a full examination of my private business, I request that before sending you my decision in this matter you give me a written authorization from as many ladies as possible belonging to the Outdoor Circle endorsing the negotiations already carried on and empowering you to carry on further negotiations with me. You can easily understand that I will want to assure myself absolutely of the bona fides of this transaction before permitting any such intimate examination of my business.

"As soon as I receive your reply I will give you my answer in regard to the proposition which I am now giving very serious thought to and expect to make a decision."

He also told the Star-Bulletin today that he is receiving numerous letters from Outdoor Circle members saying that they do not approve of the character of the fight being made against him, that it savors too much of the "boycott."

RARE FEATS OF CHERNIAVSKYS

The great thing about the Cherniavskys' work is that it displays extraordinary beauty. It is an intellectual puzzle for music lovers to discriminate the most perfect interpretations of the great masters' works, as up to the present time there has been no basic law discovered to guide them in their judgment. A close observation of the wondrous music produced by Leo, Jan and Mischel Cherniavsky, the three distinguished Russian brothers, who are shortly visiting this city, will enable the hearer to formulate certain principles which he can apply in his analysis. Their emotional nature is the instrument which makes the hearers feel the truth underlying their work, while at the same time it acts as the stimuli which causes the outflow of their force.

The return of these great artists to a concert on Wednesday, November 3, at the Opera House, has caused quite a flutter in society and musical circles of Honolulu. And were the Opera House twice the size it would not be too large to contain those anxious to renew the acquaintance with this famous trio.

8000 LANTERNS SHINE IN HONOR OF CROWN PRINCE

Line Over Mile Long Passes Through Honolulu Streets; Other Affairs Tonight

In honor of Crown Prince Michino-miya Hirohito, who Friday morning was formally nominated as heir apparent to the throne of Japan, 8000 Japanese paraded the streets of Honolulu last night waving aloft in unison their candle lanterns. The figures are the estimate of the committee in charge. Except for the shuffle of many feet the procession, more than a mile in length, was silent in conformity with their religious beliefs, but impressive-ness was not lacking and a feeling of intense patriotism and love for their prince 4000 miles away across the ocean, seemed to pervade the entire winding, glittering column.

The parade started from Athletic park and then proceeded along Kukui, Liliha, King, Nuuanu, Kuakini and Fort streets to the fire station, where it broke up. Lanterns were everywhere, not only carried by those in the procession but by those who watched. Some held great clusters, others supported frameworks on which were strung the flickering light and here and there were huge lanterns waved aloft on long poles.

Band Leads March

Grand Marshall K. Wada with the Hawaiian band led the marchers, silent until they reached the reviewing stand in front of the Japanese consulate on Nuuanu street, when the bounds of their enthusiasm gave way and all was tumult. "Banzai" was shouted on every side and while the band played Kimigayo, the national anthem, the crowd stood with heads uncovered.

Consul Reviews Marchers

Then the review began before Consul R. Moroi, who stood on the stand with officials and friends. Many costumes were displayed. One group wore American Indian head gear, painted feathers and all, another was dressed in imitation dress suits and top hats while now and then a solitary drum thrummed by with cymbals, whistles and flutes sounding on every side. Most conspicuous of all was the occasional American flag carried by the children. The marchers were also of every age, from tiny tots on the backs of their mothers to staid and elderly businessmen.

Other Festivities Tonight

The Japanese celebrations will not end with last night's parade, for tonight there will be a grand banquet celebrating the two recent festive events—the Mikado's birthday and the nomination of the heir-apparent. The banquet will be held in the Mochizuki Club under the auspices of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu. T. Sumida will preside and make the opening address. Other speakers will be Consul-General R. Moroi and Y. Takakuwa, president of the chamber of commerce.

After signing the national anthem dinner will be served. Many American businessmen and officials have been invited.

The Japanese Contractors' Association will also give a dinner this evening in the Hirano hotel. Tomorrow afternoon the Japanese Bicycle Merchants' Association will hold races in Athletic park. Kite Day will be observed by Japanese boys in Kapiolani park tomorrow afternoon under the auspices of the Japanese Children's Association.

TALK NUMBER 13.

Democratic meeting tonight at the Kumalee Block, Kakaako. Music and new speakers. HEAR THE CANDIDATES!

Things You Should Know Before You Cast Your Vote

Mr. Independent Voter: Now let's be personal. You know what we mean. Most men don't want to be talked about until after they are dead. But when a man's in politics you are bound to hear personalities anyway—from his opponents.

Whether you have favored Kuhio for Delegate or not, you should know some of the things said in favor of the man who is again his opponent before you cast your vote.

Do you really know this man McCandless? Why should you favor or oppose him? He is a candidate for delegate for the fifth time. As the head of his ticket, his support has grown larger every year.

He is not a malihini, nor was he born here. He came to these islands thirty-five years ago to drill artesian wells, but today he is a rich man. With practically nothing to begin with save his bare hands, pluck, ambition and ability to work hard, he has climbed the ladder through his own exertions to where he is now. He has worked for what he has—some inherit it.

Although a prosperous man he is busy all the time and is now in the race again to carry out a cherished ambition—to be Delegate to Congress—that he may the better serve Hawaii nei. That is a worthy ambition. Would that others were equally ambitious and as willing to work.

In a manly open fight in the interest of the average man he has won and held the continued support of the voters of his party and of many other men who will vote for McCandless again this time.

He has done as much to develop Hawaii and make it what it is today as any man of wealth in the group. He has made his money here by hard work and he spends it here—thereby helping other men to live. His investments are in the islands, he lives here, and he believes in Hawaii.

He owns lots of land, but, none of it is idle. He builds lot of buildings; he also pays his tax. When he builds he employs citizen island labor and that is more than other big builders can say.

He does more for the Hawaiians than any man living, and does it just as man to man. He never shirks his duty; is charitable and kind to those in need, and helps along every worthy cause.

Those who would use him as a tool fear his honest independence. So they tell you he is "dangerous" and all that sort of thing. Coming down to sugar he and his family own such a lot that he knows it like a book and is not liable to hurt the industry at all.

He is a businessman and works in a business way, and is always on the job. Although defeated four times for delegate, he comes back game. You therefore know he has the grit to go after anything that's tough to do and stay with it till it's done.

In the delegate's "vacant chair" in Washington he would work for the islands because he loves them and, like you, wants to see them prosper.

He is a man that as delegate would represent you, no matter who you are. You know just where he stands, likewise just what he will do. Be independent. This is personal with you. Make the break this year!

Vote for L. L. McCandless! Support the entire Democratic ticket! The country is prosperous under Democratic rule and Democrats want your vote.

COLLEGE MEN TO HOLD DINNER AT 'Y' FRIDAY NIGHT

College men of Honolulu have been invited to attend a college dinner at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening. Preparations have been made for a larger number, and it is expected that more than 100 will gather in Cooke hall when the first talk is made.

District Attorney S. C. Huber will be the guest of honor and will speak on "The Obligations of the College Man." Special musical features and stunts have been arranged. A. E. Wyman and L. L. Lynch will present an interpretation of an esthetic dance, together with a special Kellar performance.

After the dinner a basketball match will be played between college men of the East and West. There are a large number of college men in Honolulu, who have made a success in basketball, and this feature is expected to be attractive. Invitations are being sent out today to a number of college men in the city.

SCHOFIELD COMPANY TO VISIT HAWAII 10 DAYS

Under command of Capt. Kneeland S. Snow and 1st Lieut. Robert Sears, Company A, 1st Infantry, arrived in town this afternoon to leave on the Mauna Kea later today for the island of Hawaii. The company left Schofield Barracks about noon.

Capt. Snow's men will be absent for about 10 days, it being planned to march over the entire island and visit all places of interest on the trip. Officers believe that the hike will be very instructive. Funds for transportation were furnished largely by contributions by the men themselves.

Four persons were injured while riding in an automobile which was struck by a westbound street car in Fourteenth Street at Third Avenue, New York.

If all cases in federal court prove as successful for Attorney William J. Sheldon as did his first one Friday, that Kamadina says he will have no "holler" coming, especially considering the short notice he had to prepare for his "maiden" appearance before that tribunal.

The case was a statutory one against John Fragas and Mrs. Borges, whom Charles Chillingworth was supposed to defend, says Sheldon, "but the case was called when he was busy in the district court and he asked me to go in his place. I had never been in federal court and know nothing about his case, but I consented and won my first case. Charlie says he will go fifty-fifty."

MATSON LINERS CHINESE SEAMEN STEVEDORES IN BRINGING BIG CARGOES MANNING P. M. LINER NOW HILO GET MORE MONEY NOW

More than 9000 tons of freight are coming to Honolulu on the Matson steamer Matsunia Tuesday morning. A Marconigram reaching Castle & Cooke's shipping department from Captain Charles Peterson of the liner today gives the following report:

Passengers, 139 cabin and 47 steerage; mail 547 bags, express matter, 267 packages; automobiles, 41 for Honolulu and two for Hilo.

Making up the big cargo for Honolulu are these items: Hay and feed, 2100 tons; railroad delivery, 2900 tons; cement, four lots, 24, 25, 190 and 165 tons; brick, three lots, 15,200, 23,000, 7500; fertilizer, 144 tons; box shooks, 11,343 bundles. There are also three 3-ton lifts, one 7-ton lift, and six 3-ton lifts.

Hilo cargo is heavy, 1398 tons, including 222 of hay and feed, 244 of fertilizer, 18 express, 15 autos and other freight.

The Matson freighter Hilonian also sent in a cargo report by wireless today. She is expected to arrive some time Wednesday or late Tuesday night. The Hilonian's freight for Honolulu amounts to 3280 tons for Honolulu and 277 for Kahului.

Honolulu cargo includes two lots of fertilizer of 11,195 and 5025 bags; 1000 bags of land plaster, 1025 cases of rails and wire, 132 cases of drygoods, 496 bags of coke, 700 cases of soap, 5293 pieces of beams and pipe, 334 bundles of tubes, 1450 cases of canned vegetables, 1411 pieces of steel material, 139 kegs or cases of beer, two lots of rails, 656 and 136 pieces. There is no mail.

ECUADOR COMING TOMORROW P. M. FROM ORIENT

The Pacific Mail liner Ecuador was heard from this morning. She sent in a wireless to the shipping department of H. H. Hackfeld & Company, Ltd., the local agency, saying she will be off port from Yokohama at 5:30 tomorrow afternoon to leave for San Francisco Monday morning, probably at 9 o'clock or later.

Total passengers aboard the Ecuador are given in the radio as 60 cabin and 135 steerage. The number for Honolulu is not mentioned. Freight for this port is 750 tons. The steamer will dock at Pier 6. The postoffice will despatch the next mail to San Francisco on the Ecuador, mails closing an hour and a half before sailing time.

The Pacific Mailer Venezuela, from San Francisco, was due to arrive off port at 3:30 this afternoon to steam at noon tomorrow for Yokohama.

In October 41 vessels entered this port from overseas points, American ships leading with 19 and Japanese second with 11. General cargo from domestic ports received for the month totalled 44,404 tons and from foreign ports 5305. A total of 1104 passengers arrived from foreign ports and 1167 from domestic. Mail from domestic ports was 3406 sacks and from foreign 280. The figures were compiled by Boarding Officer L. B. Reeves of the customs service.

Venezuela Has 42 Asiatics In Crew; Manager Rosseter Is Coming on Orient Trip

When the Pacific Mail liner Venezuela arrives off port at 3:30 this afternoon from San Francisco, which she has wireless she would do, it is probable that most of her crew will consist of Chinese seamen and stewards.

According to the San Francisco Chronicle, 42 Chinese, the pick of Asiatic seamen in the Orient, arrived recently on the T. K. K. liner Persia Maru as a crew for the Venezuela. These men were to pass the examination provided in the seaman's act and man the steamer which enters the Oriental trade under the American flag.

Experience on the Ecuador has taught the owners that it is impossible to comply with the seaman's act by employing Americans, and they are now going to put Chinese on the vessels, says the Chronicle.

Members of the stewards' department, leaving Yokohama, were practically all under the influence of the national Japanese drink.

In the saloon at dinner there was a fist fight between two of the men because one had waited upon one passenger who should have been served by another.

The Venezuela has on board 41 cabin and 161 Asiatic passengers. There are two stopover passengers for this port. The steamer will leave for Yokohama at noon tomorrow, taking the next mail for the Orient, mails closing at 11 a. m.

According to the San Francisco Chronicle every effort is being made by the Pacific Mail to place the United States on the same footing in the Orient as before the withdrawal of the old Pacific Mail Company's liners, according to officials of the company.

John H. Rosseter, vice-president and general manager of the company, is expected aboard the Venezuela for an extended tour of the Orient to investigate trade conditions preparatory to placing liners on the transpacific run, which will equal the Leviathans operating from New York to Europe. The Venezuela is a sister ship of the steamer Ecuador, which was the first of the company's vessels to be sent to the Orient. A large number of passengers from Central American ports arrived at San Francisco on the Venezuela. Most of the cargo aboard the steamer was loaded at New York and is destined for the Orient.

Capt. Hans Thompson is master of the Venezuela and but for the fact that his ever-present gloves were missing, he is the same jovial skipper as in the days of the old China. Since Capt. Thompson left San Francisco on the Manchuria last October he has been dodging submarines and picking his way through the mine-infested North sea. He vividly described a night attack on London by the Zeppelins which occurred while he was there, and the capture of a German mine-laying submarine by the English.

ANNUAL SOCIAL OF INSTITUTE ENJOYABLE

With a large attendance present, including sailors from many ships in port and the submarine division, also many other friends of the institute, the annual social of the Seamen's Institute was held last night and was one of the best in the institute's history.

An excellent program was enjoyed by all present. It was under the direction of Mrs. Jessica G. Pascoe. The numbers included a well-presented skit, "The Dress Rehearsal," given by the Misses Caroline, Catherine, Clara and Robert Raymond, Catherine von Holt and Ed Stannard; a vocal solo by Miss Johanna Wilcox, a piano solo by Miss Oakes of St. Andrew's Priory School, a soprano solo by Miss Frances Hamlin, a baritone solo by T. F. Sedwick, violin numbers by Miss Margaret Stevens, vocal solo by Miss Mabel Ruth Schaefer and an amusing comedy hypnotizing act and dance by Messrs. Wyman and Lynch of Mills School.

Superintendent Charles F. Mant of the institute told of the work accomplished in the last year and praised the excellent assistance given the institute by the Harbor Lights Guild, organized by Honolulu women interested in the welfare of the sailors calling at this port.

Superintendent Mant told how the Seamen's Institute has grown in the 70 years since it was organized. He said the institution now conducted 140 institutions for sailors, in all the principal ports of the world and has more than 70 vessels engaged in its work. He also mentioned the success met by the institute's recently-opened employment bureau, which has found work for several needy seamen in the last week.

Refreshments were provided at the social by the Honolulu Ladies' Missionary Union and the Harbor Lights Guild.

HARBOR NOTES

Sugar reported by the Kinau awaiting shipment on Kauai is small, only 2500 bags of Waimae.

Next mail from San Francisco will arrive Tuesday morning in the Matson steamer Matsunia.

The Japanese tramp steamer Kinakan Maru will arrive Monday from Muroran with coal for the Inter-Island. Sugar awaiting shipment on the Big Island is reported by the Mauna Kea to be 11,359 bags of Punaluu and 4257 of Honuapo.

The barkentine Lahaina and the Matson motor schooner R. P. Rithet are reported by the Kinau as discharging cargoes at Port Allen.

Purser Pete Phillips of the Mauna Kea reports the schooner Oulu Fjord to have arrived at Hilo Thursday from Puget Sound with lumber.

A hole in the sleeve of the steam schooner Daisy Matthews' propeller shaft caused a leak, which has been repaired by divers, who plugged the hole. The schooner is loading canned pines today for San Francisco.

Bringing 27 cabin and 16 deck passengers, the Inter-Island steamer Kinau arrived from Kauai ports today. Her inward freight was 150 sacks of taro, 50 bags of rice, 45 bags of empty bottles, 1 auto and 83 sundries.

In addition to the mail for San Francisco, which will leave here Monday morning on the Pacific Mail liner Ecuador, the postoffice will send another despatch to the coast Tuesday evening on the Oceanic steamer Sonoma.

A barkentine with a missing mast was sighted Thursday afternoon by Capt. Nalpo of the Inter-Island steamer Likelike 30 miles to leeward of Kauai. The vessel's mainmast appeared to be gone. Her identity could not be made out.

The Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea arrived this morning from Hilo and way ports with 40 cabin, 9 way-cabin, 42 deck and 9 way-deck passengers. Inward freight included 4 cows, 4 calves, 9 crates of poultry, 2 autos, 48 packages of fruit and vegetables and 456 sundries.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the U. S. army transport Dix arrived from Seattle and docked at the naval slip. She has 500 head of stock, horses and mules on board for the Philippines. The transport will be here three or four days while the stock is given shore exercise.

The crew of the schooner Sophie Christensen saw five men drown in the roadstead of Antofagasta in a storm. The Christensen arrived yesterday from South American nitrate ports with 8458 bags of nitrate for the Hawaiian Fertilizer Company. She begins discharging Monday.

The Oceanic steamer Sonoma will arrive Tuesday morning from Sydney and Pago-Pago and steam at 6 o'clock that evening for San Francisco, the shipping department of C. Brewer & Company, the local agency, reports today. She will take out 300 tons from Honolulu, including 360 tons of sugar, 250 tons of canned pines, 3000 bunches of bananas and general merchandise.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS

On account of Tuesday, Election Day, being a legal holiday, this Company will not receive any freight, other than icehouse goods and baggage, one hour before sailing.

Freight for the steamers "Kinau" and "Mikahala" will be received Monday, the 6th inst.

Mrs. A. N. Campbell, Mrs. L. A. Thurston, Mrs. F. J. Lowrey.

Dear Ladies: Persistently, in daring headlines in the Advertiser, the unproven statement is made that Mr. Shingle, or the Outdoor Circle, or somebody, offered me $5000 for my billboards.

Please read again the correspondence between myself and Mr. Shingle. Please point out exactly, to me and to the public, where Mr. Shingle offered me $5000.

Show me where any definite offer was made to me at any price. In the letter dated April 15, Mr. Shingle merely stated that he had the authority to open negotiations with me and asked me to name my lowest price.

I replied to his letter April 17, offering as my lowest price $15,000; stating that I considered it less than half what the business was worth, but was willing to meet the ladies half way if they likewise were willing to make a sacrifice in behalf of their cause.

To this letter I received a reply from Mr. Shingle saying the ladies considered $15,000 too high. He said the Circle would be willing to undertake to pay me "a substantial sum," based on the value of the business, provided the ladies could be satisfied as to what the real value was. He added:

"I am authorized by the Circle to propose to you the appointment of a valuation committee of three disinterested persons—one to be appointed by you, one by the Circle and one by mutual agreement. You to submit to this committee all data bearing on the value of your billboard business—they to thereupon make full examination of the same and after hearing what is to be said by both sides, to submit a written appraisal of value which they think it fair that you should receive under the terms of this correspondence between you and myself. The Circle will use its best endeavors to raise and pay you the amount of such appraisement on the lines above set forth."

I replied to this immediately, advising Mr. Shingle that before giving him my answer, I wanted to know with whom I was dealing. If Mr. Shingle was authorized by, say, ten leading, responsible ladies of the city I was disposed to accept the proposal for a valuation committee, feeling certain that the committee would appraise the value greatly in excess of $15,000.

Mr. Shingle's proposal called for a thorough and intimate examination of my books and affairs. Surely no fair-minded person will deny that I should ask for the names of the parties with whom I was dealing.

The moment I sought to ascertain exactly with whom I was dealing, what certain person or persons Mr. Shingle represented, negotiations ended.

I have never been able to learn the reason for this. Mr. Shingle never told me why he, or the persons for whom he had been acting, failed to pursue the negotiations further.

I reiterate: Mr. Shingle, the Outdoor Circle or anyone representing the organization never offered me $5000 nor any other sum for my billboard business.

NORMAL SCHOOL STUDENTS TAKE WAHIAWA TRIP

Ninety young future pedagogues, students of the Territorial Normal and Training school, enjoyed an auto-bus excursion to Wahiawa and vicinity yesterday.

The Trail and Mountain Club conducted the trip, and education was combined with pleasure. Each student carried a typed list of places of interest, and as the "information man" pointed these out they were checked off and notes taken for the trip had to be "written up."

The first halt was made at the road leading to Salt Lake crater, and then began the long ride through three gulches to Poad's piggery and chicken ranch beyond Wahiawa. The Wahiawa dam was next in order, and here the students learned that its area was 730 acres and it had a capacity when full of 2,545,000,000 gallons.

After lunch on the hotel grounds, the canneries and then the wireless station were inspected, and then began the real trip of the day. The army post was visited, and the students taken up the road leading to Kolekole Pass and then began a hike to the top of the ridge. The girls won credit in this, for out of the ninety but two failed to reach the top.

DINNER-DANCE AT HEINIE'S

And now for a real relaxation from the week's tiresome toil. An evening of fun and entertainment at Heinie's Tavern, "on the beach at Waikiki," will drive away all those pesky, dull cares which have been haunting you all week.

Come and have one of those delicious dinners by the sea which have made Heinie's Tavern famous. Bring your friends and have an enjoyable evening. Dancing to the tunes of "Sonny" Cunha's rhythmic music will put the gladness back into life and the cabaret features will more than please you.

Have your reservations made early and you will be able to enjoy the evening just that much better.—Adv.

MARKET ADVANCE WITH SHARP RISE IN OLAA SHARES

Stocks generally advanced today in connection with a rush of buying orders on Olaa which lifted that stock by jumps of a quarter each from 15-14 to 15-34. Such orders were responsible for dealings of 900 shares out of a total of 1273 for the whole market. McBryde advanced to 12-34 and Pioneer to 43, each gaining a half. Olahu was 22-14, Onomea 56 and Waihua 24-12.

In the undisturbed market Engels Copper recovered sharply. Friday there were selling orders in which were offered that marked the copper shares downward but all offerings were taken today at advancing prices. There were sales of 3000 shares at $3.55, of 100 at $3.51-12, of 3705 at $3.60 and 650 at $3.62-12. Other sales were 1950 shares of Mineral Products at $1.20; Mountain King, 500 shares at 62-1-2 cents and 2100 Oil at $3.35.

To Investors and Home-Builders!

Here is the Golden Chance You've Longed For!

HONOLULU'S RAPID TRANSIT CO. is about to extend its lines through McInerny Park Tract. Here is your chance to pick up one of the greatest "buys" that has been offered you in many a day.

McINERNY PARK TRACT

"Honolulu's Lovliest Homesite"

Here is a remarkable opportunity for the man who wants a home where he can enjoy all the attractions of the country with all the conveniences of the city.

Water is laid throughout the Tract and electric lights, gas and telephone are amply provided for.

In McInerny Park Tract a buyer procures property that lies directly in the path of Honolulu's greatest growth. A purchaser can't go wrong!

Remember McInerny Park is not suburban property but improved city real estate. Considering its ideal location, McInerny Park is the lowest priced property in Honolulu.

This property is situated on the lower slopes of Alewa Plateau.

It commands a superb marine and mountain view that for real beauty and range is absolutely unsurpassed.

It has an elevation of from 250 to 350 feet above the sea—an extremely happy medium.

It has an annual rainfall of 38 inches—small but adequate for abundant foliage.

Lots in Sections A, B and C, at 7c per sq. foot.

Lots in Sections D and E, at 10c per sq. foot.

There are fine auto roads leading to McInerny Park—all up-to-date.

McInerny Park is only 1 1/4 miles from the center of Honolulu—a 10-minute ride on the street car.

McInerny Park presents more home features, more delights for the man who LIVES, than any other homesite in Honolulu.

An unusual offering in improved Real Estate.

SOCIETY

LANIAKEA TEA ROOM DANCING

The tea dancing at Miss Alexander's tea rooms on Wednesday brought out a large number of the society set. Between 4 and 6 in the afternoon about 65 guests dropped in for a cup of tea and a dance or two. At the luncheon hour 65 guests were in the dining room, several of them private parties. The rooms are becoming more popular with each day. The "sterner sex" were a bit shy the first few days, but now have gotten bravely over their timidity and come regularly for their luncheon. On Monday Mrs. Edward Carpenter was hostess at a small luncheon, as was Mrs. Ella Ayers, Miss E. A. R. Ross, Mrs. Harold Dillingham, Mrs. Ambrose Wirtz. On Wednesday Mrs. A. N. Campbell had a luncheon for Mrs. George Shumer, entertaining 14 guests at tea. Mrs. E. A. R. Ross had 10 guests at tea. Mrs. Gideon Van Poole and Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse had tea guests, as did Mrs. Carl Du Roi and Mrs. Elizabeth Knight and many others.

COL. AND MRS. JAMES MCRAE'S RECEPTION

Col. and Mrs. James McRae were host and hostess at a reception on Friday afternoon honoring Brig.-Gen. and Mrs. Robert K. Evans. The reception room was most attractive with all shades of pink and rose, hibiscus and potted plants. The dining room was very dainty with pink begonias and asparagus vine. From the ceiling were arranged showers of pink tulle, pink begonias and asparagus trailers. The lights were all shaded in pink and it was all very pretty and dainty. Col. and Mrs. McRae introduced the callers to the guests of honor, after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. William Dashiell served punch, Mrs. James Houston tea and Mrs. William P. Kendall poured coffee. Miss McRae was assisted in looking after the comfort of the guests by Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum, Miss Helen Ohnstad, Miss Kittson, Miss Hodges, Miss Bailey and Mrs. Clark. Kaul's quintet furnished music during the reception and for the dance afterwards.

Col. and Mrs. McRae's guests were Gen. and Mrs. Robert K. Evans, for whom the party was given; Gen. and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong; Col. and Mrs. F. A. Snow, Mrs. Locke, Col. and Mrs. William Dashiell, Maj. and Mrs. Otho Rosenbaum, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter H. Frank, Maj. and Mrs. Conrad S. Babcock, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas H. Blackmore, Capt. and Mrs. George Clark, U. S. N.; Miss Clark and Mrs. Harmon Bailey.

Princess David Kawanakao was hostess to about 200 Hawaiian women on Monday afternoon. It was planned to make a garden party of the affair, but the rain interfered, so the large and comfortable lanai was used. Here the princess met the women of her race, who were anxious for an hour of intimate talk with her. The princess was assisted by several friends, who personally waited upon the guests. It was a very charming party and much enjoyment for the guests were had.

Those assisting for the guests were Mrs. A. P. Taylor, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mrs. E. S. Cunha, Mrs. Walter Macfarlane and Miss Irene Dickson.

A quintet club furnished the old-time Hawaiian music and hulas. Many of the women present danced very gracefully the hula, which when artistically done is beautiful to witness. They asked permission to have a "hookup" for the princess on Thursday, that is, to bring gifts of pua, mullet, squid, poi, lobster, crab, chicken, coconut pudding, and the other accessories that go to make up a luau. Full justice was done the Thursday spread and the afternoon was spent in singing and playing.

MR. AND MRS. C. C. VON HAMM'S DINNER PARTY

Miss Vera Henshaw was the guest of honor last Saturday evening at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Conrad von Hamm at their Pacific Heights home. Beauty was lent the decorations by a silver basket holding long-stemmed American Beauty roses and lace ferns. The name-cards were hand painted and represented dainty lamps with pink shades. After dinner Mr. and Mrs. von Hamm took their guests to the Roof Garden, where the rest of the time was spent in dancing and listening to the Russian orchestra.

The guests were Miss Vera Henshaw, the guest of honor; Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Rosie Herbert, Miss Betty Case, Miss Vera Damon, Mr. Charles Herbert, Mr. "Kelley" Henshaw, Mr. George Fuller, Mr. Ludy Langer and Mr. Donald Gilmore.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman's tea was a very pretty affair on Tuesday of this week, when Miss Mary Johnson gave a luncheon honoring her niece, Miss Helena Johnson, who is here to spend the winter. The table was decorated with a yellow pumpkin lantern filled with yellow and red Transvaal daisies. Witches' hats and bonbons were at each guest-place. Miss Johnson's guests were Miss Helena Johnson, the guest of honor, Mrs. George Bustard, Mrs. G. C. Milnor, Miss Dorothy McRae, Mrs. Max McGregor and Mrs. George Kluegel.

MR. AND MRS. MATTEO SANDONA HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Robbins B. Anderson were host and hostess at a luncheon on Monday of this week, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Matteo Sandona, who are visitors in Honolulu. The table was very attractive with a basket of island blossom and island ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Matteo Sandona, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman and Miss Anderson.

A THANKSGIVING SALE

The day before Thanksgiving the ladies of St. Andrew's Guild will hold their annual delicatessen sale and afternoon tea. COMMANDER AND MRS. VICTOR HOUSTON ENTERTAIN

The Country Club this evening is the setting for one of the largest and most elaborate dinners given at this popular place in many a day. Commander and Mrs. Victor Houston are honoring Commandant and Mrs. George Clark of Pearl Harbor. The decorations will carry out the navy colors, blue and gold. Deep bronze gold chrysanthemums and asparagus vine with quantities of sapphire blue maline will ornament the table. Plain monogrammed name-cards will mark each guest-cover. The dance being given at the club by Commander and Mrs. Arthur Crenshaw will supply diversion for the evening.

MR. AND MRS. C. C. VON HAMM'S DINNER

Brig.-Gen. and Mrs. Robert K. Evans were the honor-guests at a dinner on Thursday evening which was presided over by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. von Hamm. The table was exquisite. From the chandelier tulle was gracefully arranged to the table edge and on this was a tracery of asparagus vine. Resting on this pretty cloud were blue and gold butterflies. In the table center was a gilded low basket with a very tall handle on which reposed dainty butterflies. The basket was filled with every shade of dahlia from palest yellow to deep brown. The name-cards were hand-painted butterfly girls.

Mr. and Mrs. von Hamm's guests were Brig.-Gen. and Mrs. Robert K. Evans, Col. and Mrs. Daniel Howell, Maj. and Mrs. Edward C. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Case Deering, Mrs. Isabelle Howell Clinton and Maj. Herbert Williams.

MR. GEORGE AHIHORN A DINNER HOST

Mr. George Ahihorn was a dinner host on Monday evening of this week when he entertained at the Courtland Hotel. As decorations a rock crystal basket held white chrysanthemums and asparagus vine. The name-cards were very dainty. After dinner the party motored to the Bijou theater and enjoyed the show, after which Helene's was visited for a dance or two. Mr. Ahihorn's guests were Mr. and Mrs. James D. Dougherty, Mrs. Reynolds McGrew, Miss Sibyl Robertson, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Lu Beeter, Mr. Robert Menary, Mr. Robert Purvis and Mr. Thomas Thompson.

COMMANDER AND MRS. ARTHUR CRENSHAW'S DANCE

This evening the Country Club will be in gala attire, beautifully decorated in flags and greens for the dance that Commander and Mrs. Arthur Crenshaw are giving in honor of Commandant and Mrs. George Clark of the Pearl Harbor naval station. The lights are to be shaded in flag lanterns. A splendid quintet will furnish music during the evening. Commandant and Mrs. Clark with their attractive daughter, Miss Louise Clark, are welcome additions to society here, where they have already made for themselves a very pleasant home.

Those invited included the following: Commandant and Mrs. G. R. Clark, Miss Clark, Miss Harmon Bailey of Chicago, Surgeon and Mrs. William Seaman, Civil Engineer and Mrs. Charles W. MISCHEL CHERNIANSKY ENGAGED

Mischel Cherniavsky, the cellist of the Cherniavsky trio, and his wife, who is engaged to be married to a Vancouver, B. C., heir, Miss Mary Rogers. They met while both were going home from a Honolulu trip and the romance followed. The wedding is to take place in a few months. The bride-to-be's father is called the "sugar king of Vancouver."

Of a recent performance in Canada a Canadian paper said:

"An event which created quite a flutter in the social and musical circles of Victoria, B. C., was the special command performance of the Leo, Jan Louise Lucas, Mrs. Riley H. Allen, Mrs. H. C. Foucar, Mrs. R. Quinn and Mrs. William T. Monsarrat.

For decorations a brown-toned basket was filled with deep bronze yellow chrysanthemums and trailers of asparagus vine. At various points of the table nestled dainty baskets of dark-faced pansies. The basket handle was tied with a butterfly bow of gold and purple tulle. The name cards at each place were blue birds and gold birds. After listening to some delightful Hawaiian music the Chillingworths and the guests attended the Matteo Sandona portrait exhibit at the University Club. Those who enjoyed the Chillingworth hospitality were Princess Kawanakao, the guest of honor; Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper, Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mrs. Alice Schultz, Governor Lucius E. Pinkham and Mr. Clarence Olson.

"Next Sunday their royal highnesses are to visit the young artists at their home and take afternoon tea with them. These young Russian geniuses are booked to appear in this city early next month."

MR. AND MRS. I. M. STAINBACK ENTERTAIN

At their home on Makiki street Mr. and Mrs. Ingram M. Stainback entertained a company of guests on Friday evening. The table was very pretty. A Chinese bowl was filled with pink chrysanthemums, yellow candy tuft and yellow tulle. After dinner the Stainbacks and their guests motored to Helene's where dancing was the diversion for the evening.

Those enjoying this party were Brig.-Gen. and Mrs. Samuel I. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Cockburn, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Frances Reed, Mr. John Macauley and Mr. George Ren-

Miss Grace Robertson, whose marriage to Mr. Harry Hoffman will shortly take place.

MRS. MAGRUDER GORDON MAURY'S BRIDGE

Mrs. John Sandes of Sydney, Australia, was the guest of honor at a bridge party given by Mrs. Magruder Gordon Maury on Monday of this week at her pleasant apartment at the Courtland Hotel. The rooms and lanai were made very attractive with baskets of yellow marguerites and asparagus vine. The prize gift was won by Mrs. John Sandes and was a Canton pottery bowl. Mrs. Louise Lucas poured tea.

Mrs. Maury's guests were Mrs. John Sandes, the guest of honor; Mrs. William Johnson, Miss Ruth Johnson, Mrs. Jones and Miss Jones of Sydney, Miss Adelaide Jones, Mrs. Roy Le Stover, Mrs. Edward Dekum, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. Riley H. Allen, Mrs. H. C. Foucar, Mrs. R. Quinn and Mrs. William T. Monsarrat.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES CHILLINGWORTH'S DINNER

Princess David Kawanakao was the honor guest at a very handsomely appointed dinner given on Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth.

For decorations a brown-toned basket was filled with deep bronze yellow chrysanthemums and trailers of asparagus vine. At various points of the table nestled dainty baskets of dark-faced pansies. The basket handle was tied with a butterfly bow of gold and purple tulle. The name cards at each place were blue birds and gold birds. After listening to some delightful Hawaiian music the Chillingworths and the guests attended the Matteo Sandona portrait exhibit at the University Club. Those who enjoyed the Chillingworth hospitality were Princess Kawanakao, the guest of honor; Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper, Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mrs. Alice Schultz, Governor Lucius E. Pinkham and Mr. Clarence Olson.

MISS BETTY MAUPIN GIVES A LUNCHEON

At her pretty bungalow in Pucuni Miss Betty Maupin was hostess at a luncheon on Tuesday honoring Miss Grace Robertson, a bride-to-be. In the center of the table was placed a dainty basket filled with American Beauty roses. The name-cards were hand painted and attracted much attention. For an hour after luncheon bridge was enjoyed, then a ride to the Country Club and a refreshing cup of tea brought a very happy day to a close. Miss Maupin's guests were Miss Grace Robertson, the guest of honor; Mrs. Harry Gray, Mrs. Ben Conrad, Miss Marjory Capps, Miss Kate Williams, Miss Irma Wodehouse and Miss Sibyl Robertson.

MISS GRACE ROBERTSON HONORED

Miss Irma Wodehouse was hostess at a very pretty luncheon on Wednesday when she honored Miss Grace Robertson, who is to be married very shortly to Mr. Harry Hoffman. A table decorated with a brown canoe-shaped, woody, sweet-smelling basket was filled with sweet peas, violets, and forget-me-nots, and tulle in the colors of the blossoms made a very pretty finish. At each guest-cover was a corsage bouquet of violets. The name-cards were daintily-gowned brides and properly-arranged grooms. The afternoon was spent in singing and playing the piano and ukulele. Miss Wodehouse's guests were Miss Grace Robertson, the guest of honor; Miss Baker, Miss Marjory Capps, Miss Kate Williams, Miss Sibyl Robertson, Miss Betty Maupin and Mrs. Arthur Gilman.

MRS. JOHN PALMER'S BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. John Palmer entertained a company of friends with a bridge party on Friday at the Courtland Hotel. The lanai was most inviting with its baskets of fine ferns and choice palms. After several rubbers were played it was found that Mrs. Jones of Sydney, Australia, held the highest score and she was given a very handsome silk bag. The second prize, a pretty Japanese tea-tray, was won by Mrs. Fred Ohrt; the third prize was given to Mrs. William T. Monsarrat—an embroidered bath towel—and the fourth prize was won by Mrs. Merle Johnson, a bottle of perfume. Mrs. Palmer's guests were Mrs. Julius Unger, Mrs. Merle Johnson, Mrs. Charles G. Mettler, Mrs. A. G. Ralston, Miss Tahman, Mrs. William T. Monsarrat, Mrs. Jones of Sydney, Miss Culcetto, Mrs. L. Hatch, Mrs. W. Johnson, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Mrs. Farrow of Sydney, Mrs. J. K. Butler, Miss Mary Baker, Miss Lou Baker, Mrs. Thomas Boylan, Mrs. Florence Lee, Mrs. G. H. Granger and Mrs. Fred Ohrt.

THE COURTLAND TENNIS COURT OPENING

Tomorrow the new tennis court at the Courtland hotel will be used for the first time and the christening will take the form of a tennis luncheon. The courts are situated on Young street and tennis players say they are admirably provided with facilities. Several sets of tennis will be played by the guests at the hotel, after which luncheon will be served, then some more tennis and then afternoon tea. About 50 guests are expected. Mrs. Hannah Palmer is always about and sees personally to the comfort of her guests.

HONORING THE JAPANESE EMPEROR

The Young hotel was a brilliant scene on Tuesday evening when Consul-General Moroi of Japan was host at a reception to honor the 57th birthday of the emperor of Dai Nippon. About 500 guests called and a delightful evening was the result. All affairs planned by the consulate are very elaborate and the annual emperor's reception ranks as the most impressive of the year.

The receiving line, which was formed in the mauka pavilion, was made up as follows:

On the left were:

Madame T. Imai, wife of Secretary T. Imai.

Consul-General Rokuo Moroi and Eleve Consul K. Fujii.

Mrs. K. Takashima, wife of Secretary K. Takashima.

Mrs. K. Kondo, wife of Secretary K. Kondo.

Mrs. M. Kurokawa, wife of Secretary M. Kurokawa.

Secretary K. Takashima, Secretary T. Imai, Secretary K. Kondo and Secretary M. Kurokawa.

Attorney Arthur K. Ozawa introduced the guests.

PRETTY HALLOWEEN PARTY

On Tuesday evening, October 31, a very enjoyable Halloween party was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whiteback of Third avenue, Kaimuki, to about 50 of their friends.

The decorations were very pretty and artistically arranged, consisting of flowers, autumn leaves and electric lighted gobblins in pumpkin faces.

The guests were all dressed as children and the evening was spent in playing various appropriate games and dances, after which a delicious repast was served.

Mrs. V. E. Baumann and Mr. Ekstrand were voted the nicest-dressed and best behaved children of the evening.

LANIAKEA TEA ROOMS POPULAR

Miss Helen Alexander's luncheon and tea room is filling the need seen for it here. The rooms are very comfortably patronized at the luncheon hour, the men availing themselves of the quiet home atmosphere that one feels on entering the lanai. Women of Honolulu who dread the thought of home entertaining are having their guests come to this pleasant place for luncheon and this week every evening has had several dinners.

PRINCESS KAWANAKAOKA TO ENTERTAIN

On Thursday, November 16, the anniversary of King David Kalakaua's birthday, Princess David Kawanakao will give a reception at her Pensacola street home for Hawaiians only. The princess is representing her young son, Kalakaua, and it will be a day that as the years roll on will be a leaf turned back in the history of this country. Several friends are going to assist the princess in looking after the comfort of her guests. Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani will assist Princess David and the reception will be from 12 to 2 o'clock.

MRS. A. N. CAMPBELL HONORS PRINCESS DAVID KAWANAKAOKA

"Laniakea." Miss Helen Alexander's lunch and tea house on Alakea street, was the setting for a very charming and well appointed luncheon on Wednesday of this week when Mrs. Albert Newton Campbell honored Princess David Kawanakao.

It was a "black and yellow luncheon." The table center was ornamented with a black flower bowl holding golden California poppies and each guest place was marked with a bird, that of the princess being a gorgeous peacock, preening its lovely feathered form. An hour of social conversation brought the party to a close.

Mrs. Campbell's guests were Princess David Kawanakao, Mrs. W. A. Purdy, Mrs. A. Gattenberg, Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Miss Grace Cadwell, Mrs. J. Morton Riggs, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mrs. E. S. Cunha, Mrs. August Dreier, Mrs. A. P. Taylor and Miss Irene Dickson.

CAPT. ROBERT HARBOLD HONORED

Mr. Frank F. Baldwin, who has recently been appointed colonel of the regiment of National Guard on Maui, gave an elaborate banquet at the Maui Hotel at Wailuku last Friday night in honor of Capt. Robert Harbold, who has gone to Maui as the National Guard inspector-instructor. It was the first time the new banquet hall of the Maui Hotel was used. The hall is pretty in design and finish, with a great number of windows and hung with plants in hanging baskets, very cool and pretty—the white and the green. The guests sat at one long table, whose center was a banked mass of maidenhair fern and dark red carnations. Red-shaded candles lent a pretty, soft glow. The Mary Hoffman orchestra furnished the music during the entire evening. It was a stag dinner. About 40 men in uniforms of white and gold made a most effective scene.

Both Capt. Harbold and Col. Baldwin received the hearty congratulations of the guests.

THE CHERNIATSKY CONCERT

The three famous musicians, Leo, Jan, and Mischel Cherniatzky, who are being so eagerly looked forward to by music loving Honolulu, will be greeted with a full house for their first appearance on Wednesday evening. Already the boxes and loges have been engaged and a large number of people have reserved numbers of seats for the opening evening. Mr. George Ahlborn has two loges. He will entertain a large company of guests. Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman have secured a box for each performance. Princess Kawanakao is also a box-holder. Mr. Richard Ivers has reserved a box for his use. Among those holding a number of seats for the entertainment of their friends are Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Castle, Miss Hartwell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. S. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Newton Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Matteo Sandona, Mr. and Mrs. William Love, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cooke, Dr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hedemann.

MRS. OSWALD LIGHTFOOT GIVES A SHOWER PARTY

Mrs. Oswald Lightfoot invited a dozen of Miss Pearl McCarthy's friends to spend Saturday afternoon and shower the bride-to-be with napkins. After the excitement of the shower was over the guests each hemmed a napkin, thereby adding another dozen of table napery to Miss McCarthy's dower chest. Those enjoying Mrs. Lightfoot's hospitality were Miss Evelyn Scott, Miss Hope Lytell, Miss Mabel Armstrong, Miss Gustine Mansen, Miss Eva McCriston, Miss Aileen McCarthy, Miss Louise McCarthy, Miss Bernice Gustine, Mrs. L. Van Anderson, Mrs. Burkwitz and Mrs. Alexander Porter.

A THURSDAY EVENING DINNER

Yellow chrysanthemums were very artistically arranged on the table on Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Ingram M. Stainkack entertained a company of friends very informally at dinner. Those at the dinner besides the host and hostess were Mrs. Grafton Beall, Mrs. Frances Reed, Capt. William S. Mapes and Mr. David Gilmore.

THE FOOTLIGHTS TO PERFORM

The Footlights Club is very busy rehearsing the play that it will produce on Wednesday, November 15, at Bishop hall, Punahou. The rehearsals are being held nightly on the lanai of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Jr. This club aims to give at least one play a year, and every member is an enthusiastic worker. The rehearsals are going on with a great deal of vim and energy. The play to be put on is one of Oscar Wilde's.

MRS. ELIZABETH KNIGHT TO ENTERTAIN

Mrs. Elizabeth Knight has invited a company of friends to be her luncheon guests on Wednesday of next week at Laniakea, Miss Helen Alexander's lunch and tea rooms.

MRS. A. P. TAYLOR A HOSTESS

Mrs. Elizabeth Knight was the guest of honor of Mrs. Albert P. Taylor on Tuesday of this week at a luncheon. The center of the table was very prettily ornamented. A low basket was filled with every shade of sweet peas and a corsage bouquet of the same dainty flowers was at each guest-cover. The name-cards were made of tapa. Several Hawaiian singing-boys sang very beautifully many of the old, almost-forgotten melodies. After luncheon bridge was enjoyed and later friends dropped in for a cup of tea and to say aloha to the guest of honor.

Mrs. Taylor's guests were Mrs. Elizabeth Knight, the guest of honor; Princess David Kawanakao, Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper, Mrs. F. W. Kiehn, Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Mrs. Alexander G. Hawes, Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth. The friends who came for tea were Mrs. Alonzo Gartley, Mrs. Augustus E. Murphy, Mrs. Ernest A. Ross, Mrs. Victor Houston.

ARMY MAN WEDS VIRGINIA GIRL

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Andrew's rectory at 4 p. m. yesterday when Miss Sallie Collins of Virginia and Lieut. Roy Messick Jones of Schofield Barracks were united in marriage by Rev. Canon Ault.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Harriet Collins of Maui. The groom's attendants were Lieut. Simmons of the 1st Infantry and Lieut. Owen, 4th Cavalry.

Lieut. Jones has been stationed with the 1st Infantry at Schofield Barracks since January, but has recently been detailed in the Signal Corps and ordered to the mainland on the transport sailing Monday. The unexpected departure of Lieut. Jones was the cause of hastening the wedding, for the event was not to have taken place until spring.

Mrs. Jones will visit her sister at Hamakua, Maui, until Lieut. Jones has been assigned to a station.

BRIG-GEN. AND MRS. ROBERT K. EVANS HONORED

Governor Lucius E. Pinkham presided as a dinner host on Wednesday evening when he gave a farewell dinner for Brig-Gen. and Mrs. Robert K. Evans at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper. The table center was decorated with a basket of vari-colored phlox and lace fern. The silver candlesticks were shaded in pink. The name-cards were in simple white, monogrammed. Pleasant conversation made the hour after dinner a happy conclusion.

Governor Pinkham's guests were Brig-Gen. and Mrs. Robert K. Evans, Commandant and Mrs. George Clark of the naval station, Col. and Mrs. James McRae, Col. and Mrs. Robert R. Raymond, Brig-Gen. and Mrs. Samuel I. Johnson, Secretary and Mrs. Wade Warren Thayer, Maj. and Mrs. Charles Lincoln, Col. and Mrs. Daniel L. Howell, Col. and Mrs. William P. Kendall, Mrs. Isabelle Howell Clinton, Miss McRae, Col. William Ebert, and Capt. Horasby Evans.

DR. AND MRS. FERDINAND HEDEMANN'S MUSICALS

Last evening Dr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hedemann entertained a company of guests with a musicale. About 30 friends were in attendance.

HONOLULU HOSPITAL FLOWER SOCIETY

A pencil sale is being arranged by the ladies who are officers of the Hospital Flower Society. The city has been laid out in districts and everybody will be asked to buy at least one lead pencil to help the good cause along. There is hardly any situation as pathetic as that of some one ill and no one sufficiently interested to bring a few blossoms to brighten the table in a sick room. This is the work of the flower society. The sale takes place on the 25th of November, so save at least 10 cents with which to buy one pencil.

The first president was Mrs. S. M. Dowsett, long since deceased, and Mrs.

Albert F. Judd is the president this year. The society was the thought of the late dearly-loved Mrs. Alexander Mackintosh, whose whole life was devoted to attention to other people. Its work is a most kindly one and the 7000 pencils should all be sold in a few hours.

MRS. E. A. ROSS GIVES A TEA AT LANIAKEA

Mrs. Ernest A. Ross entertained 20 guests on Wednesday afternoon at the tea dansant at Miss Helen Alexander's tea garden.

A WEEK-END AT AHUIMANU

Princess David Kawanakoa and a company of friends motored over early this morning to be guests of the Macfarlanes at their Ahuimanu home.

SOCIETY

TRIBUTE TO PRINCESS KAWANAKOA

Princess David Kawanakoa was given the homage of women of her race on Thursday when a "hookupu" was held at her home on Pensacola street, many friends coming with gifts of Hawaiian delicacies, afterward set out in an elaborate luau.

This custom of old Hawaiian days, seldom seen now, was carried out with loving attention by the princess' friends. Their homage was two-fold—for the late Prince David was the nephew of King Kalakaua, and in time would have succeeded to the throne had not the political changes taken place.

The callers came early and the princess, in the holoku of her country, received her guests and gave them the aloha of welcome that never fails to please. The hookupu was a token of real affection and devotion for the princess and her three children—Kapilani, a sweet girl who will always be gentle with the gentleness of the people of her race; Kalakaua, who brings back to many minds his grand uncle, King Kalakaua—he is a strapping youngster and will very shortly be one of the type of Hawaiians almost gone; and Liliuokalani, an impetuous, bewitching youngster who will always lead. She has the same sparkling eyes that Queen Liliuokalani had as a young girl.

The table fairly groaned with the delicious edibles brought and 50 of Hawaii's daughters, who, long past the youth of life, were yet girls again, sang and laughed and danced with the gaiety of yesterday.

The hookupu was a perfect tribute and the most pleasant and yet the most sad memory that Princess David will carry away with her when she leaves on the Great Northern on November 18.

MISS CHARLOTTE DOWSETT A HOSTESS

Miss Charlotte Dowsett was hostess at a poi supper on Wednesday evening given in honor of her sister, Beatrice, whose 18th birthday it was. The table was very pretty with its lovely green and yellow decorations. Each guest's place was marked with a malle iel. A quintet club furnished music during the luau and for the dancing afterwards.

Some among Miss Dowsett's guests were Miss Beatrice Dowsett, the guest of honor; Mrs. Aika Dowsett, Princess David Kawanakoa, Miss Sibyl Robertson, Miss Grace Robertson, Miss Grace Forsyth, Miss Matison, Miss Camp, Mr. George Ahlborn, Mr. Francis Brown, Mr. Thomas Thompson, Mr. Henry Hoffman, Lieut. Eugene Robinson, Lieut. Howard P. Mulligan, Mr. Ed Hedemann and others.

AN AFTERNOON SWIMMING PARTY

Miss Rosie Herbert was hostess to a few friends on Friday at a swim and tea. The Tenneys' tank was used and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. The guests were Mrs. Reynold McGrew, Miss Ruth Soper, Mr. and Mrs. John Dryden, Mr. Arthur Restarick and Mr. Herman von Holt.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK E. THOMPSON'S DINNER

Around a table made most attractive with a silver basket filled with American beauty roses and trailers of asparagus vine, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Thompson entertained on Friday evening at dinner. After dinner the music at the roof garden was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hotner, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Hodgins and Dr. Clifford B. High.

HALLOWEEN MASQUERADE PARTY

One of the jolliest parties of the week was given Halloween by Wilson and Roy Jacobson at the attractive home of their parents in Kaimuki. The grounds and house were appropriately decorated symbolic of Halloween—Jack o'lanterns, witches and black cats being much in evidence.

The guests were greeted by numerous ghosts in the grounds who directed them in a weird manner to the house where all sorts of surprises awaited them. The evening passed all too quickly with games (prizes being awarded the lucky couple) and dancing, the costumes being varied. An old witch in a secluded corner revealed the futures of any who wished to consult her.

Dainty refreshments were served on the spacious lanai. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the hosts were Dorothy Ormiston, Frances Clark, Roberta Clark, B. Towse, Helen King, Ethel, Thelma and Alice Hartman, Margaret and Zella Rowat, Ester Armstrong, Rebekah Sherwood, Richard Simonton, Walter Samson, Douglas Ormiston, Orlando Schoening, Ralph Metters, Jack Foster, Frank Day, Murray Heminger, Riley Kuehn, Billy Nicholls and Ezra Crane.

MR. FRANK MOSS' SUPPER-DANCE

Laniakea was the setting for a very attractive supper on Thursday evening given by Mr. Frank Moss. Tables on the lanai were lighted with Japanese lanterns. After dinner the guests danced the evening hours away. Mr. Moss' guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. William Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Patterson, Miss Edith Williams, Miss Able Buchanan, Miss Florence Butler, Mr. Dunbar Wright, Mr. Charles Dana Wright, Mr. Guy Butolph, Mr. George Bennett and Mr. H. L. Tucker.

MRS. ELIZABETH KNIGHT HONORED

Mrs. William Williamson was hostess at a very informal two-table bridge on Thursday afternoon when she entertained for Mrs. Elizabeth Knight, who is on a visit to Honolulu. After several rubbers of bridge refreshments were served. Mrs. Williamson's guests were Mrs. Elizabeth Knight, the guest of honor; Mrs. Jack Dowsett, Mrs. J. F. C. Hagens, Mrs. Frank E. Richardson, Mrs. Armin Haneberg and Mrs. Harold Giffard.

MR. AND MRS. J. MORTON RIGGS' DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. J. Morton Riggs entertained on Monday evening with a dinner served at the University Club. The table was very dainty, a basket being filled with pink and white candy tuft and fine ferns. Mr. and Mrs. Riggs' guests were Princess David Kawanakoa, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane and Maj. Herbert Williams.

MRS. RALPH GAYLORD'S SEWING TEA

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ralph Gaylord was hostess at a small informal sewing tea at her Hassinger street home. Dainty needle work made the afternoon hours pass quickly. Those enjoying Mrs. Gaylord's hospitality were Mrs. Ralph Clark, Mrs. F. West, Mrs. Grover Bratton, Miss Ruth Soper and Miss Anna Johnson.

DR. AND MRS. ARTHUR HODGINS' ANNIVERSARY

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hodgins will celebrate their fifth wedding anniversary tomorrow by having a company of friends enjoy a day at Kahalawai as their guests.

SOCIETY

SANDONA PORTRAIT EXHIBIT

The walls of the University Club are hung with the portraits done by Matteo Sandona, the artist. Invitations were sent last week to the social set in Honolulu to come and view the exhibit, beginning on Thursday evening, and the large number of guests present bespoke the interest they have in this talented man's work. Every picture is well worth the time spent in viewing it. The Sandonas are well known here, having a large circle of friends. They were assisted in the reception of their guests by Mr. and Mrs. Robbins B. Anderson. Mrs. Sandona is the daughter of Mr. Clarence Macfarlane, so is in every sense an island woman. She and her talented husband will be the motifs for a great deal of entertaining while here.

The following guests were bidden to view the exhibit:

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton P. Agee, Mr. and Mrs. Riley H. Allen, Mrs. Helen Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Robbins B. Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. What a Better Home Means to a Woman.

Home to a woman is the ONE place of greatest importance. Wife, mother, daughter spend nine-tenths of their time in the home—it is the center of the daily routine, in which work, rest and recreation all contribute their respective parts.

The Better Home, from a woman's viewpoint, should combine convenience and comfort, also the charm of the beautiful—this latter so essential to the finer instincts of the feminine sex.

Furniture that is Good is a vital factor. If it is good it will be Beautiful—and serviceable. Then come rugs, draperies and decorative values that harmonize, to give peace and pleasure to the mind.

Such a home as described can be achieved, not only at surprisingly moderate outlay, but most readily, if you will avail yourself of the splendid home-furnishing service afforded by the Coyne Furniture Company.

The wonderful stocks of furniture at Coyne's are marvelous in their completeness. Take advantage of the best Furniture Service in the city. It awaits your command.

Shaw, Mrs. Livingston Watrous, Mrs. William McCleave, Mrs. Raymond Pratt, Mrs. Charles Meals and Mrs. Louise Beard. At the end of the morning's play Mesdames Nalle, Bloombergh and McCleave were found to hold the highest scores and each received a very attractive silver pencil. Those who came in for lunch included Mrs. Kerr T. Riggs, Mrs. Eugene Householder, Mrs. Allen Smith, Mrs. John Herr and Mrs. Jerome P. Shaw. White chrysanthemums were used on the luncheon table and throughout the house.

On Monday evening dinner guests of Capt. and Mrs. John Herr were Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Cheney and Lieut. and Mrs. William Nalle.

The current topics class met with Mrs. Charles Lloyd on Thursday morning.

Among the people who are leaving on the transport are Gen. and Mrs. Robert Evans, Capt. Hornsby Evans, Maj. and Mrs. Hugh Wise and their three children, Col. William Guignard, Capt. and Mrs. William Shedd, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Naylor, Lieut. and Mrs. William Nalle, Lieut. and Mrs. John Richardson, Capt. James Chaney, Capt. Ballard Lyerly and Lieut. Joseph Andrews.

On Wednesday evening Capt. and Mrs. John Corey's dinner guests included Lieut. and Mrs. Harrison Richards and Dr. and Mrs. Wilfred Stokes.

Col. and Mrs. William Snow and Lieut. and Mrs. Jacob Devers were among the guests at a reception given on Friday afternoon in Honolulu by Col. and Mrs. James McRae as a farewell to Gen. and Mrs. Robert Evans. Later the party had dinner together at the Young Hotel and were spectators at the Japanese lantern parade.

Dinner guests of Col. Tieman Horn on Monday evening were Miss Lella Wilson, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Vanderveer and Lieut. and Mrs. John Hauser.

Lieut. and Mrs. William McCleave had as informal dinner guests on Monday evening Capt. and Mrs. William Shedd.

Lieut. and Mrs. Philip Kiehl gave a very enjoyable Halloween dinner on Tuesday evening for Capt. and Mrs. Kerr T. Riggs, Capt. and Mrs. Douglas McCaskey and Capt. and Mrs. Jerome P. Shaw. The table decorations were very artistic, being carried out in African daisies, black cats and miniature pumpkins. The costumes of the party were in real country style and caused much merriment throughout the evening.

Capt. and Mrs. William Browning had an informal little tea on Sunday afternoon at their attractive bungalow on the beach near Haleiwa for Capt. and Mrs. Augustine McIntyre, Lieut. and Mrs. Oliver Dickinson, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Clegg, Lieut. and Mrs. Louis Beard and Lieut. and Mrs. William McCleave.

Mrs. Donald Hay and her two children returned on the Niagara on Tuesday after a two months' visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Brown in Seattle.

A handsomely appointed dinner of the week was the one on Tuesday evening at which Capt. and Mrs. Clyde Abraham were hosts. The table looked very attractive with its decoration of small lanterns and pumpkins. The place cards which were named for Capt. and Mrs. Byard Sneed, Mrs. Julius Disney Willis of New Orleans, Lieut. and Mrs. Livingston Watrous, Miss Louise Phipps of Charleston, Va., Miss Jewell Mattis of Chicago, Capt. James Ulio, Capt. DeGrasse Catlin and Lieut. John Smith.

A number of Schofield society people attended the dinner dance given at the Country Club by Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Sloan on last Friday evening. They included Capt. and Mrs. Harry Pfeil, Capt. and Mrs. John Herr, Capt. and Mrs. John Corey, Col. John McMahon and Col. Tieman Horn.

Mrs. Douglas Greene had one table of bridge on Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Eley Denson, Mrs. Robert Calder and Mrs. Frederick Black.

Mrs. Gustav Gonser is the houseguest of Capt. and Mrs. Harry Knight.

On the luncheon table and throughout the house a combination of ferns and red carnations was used most effectively.

Capt. James Bell, who comes to Schofield as an instructor in the Infantry School of Fire for the coming school year, will occupy quarters in the 25th Infantry cantonment.

Halloweide has been a gay and exciting time for the children, and there have been numerous large and elaborate parties in the different garrisons. The old-fashioned Halloweide games have the greatest fascination for the youngsters and such parties never lag. Among those who entertained on Halloweide was Cameron Wadsworth, who invited Jack and Howard Bloombergh, Allen Day, Rosanna McCleave, Susie

Lang and De Russy Hoyle, Dan Daly, Jack Corey, Margaret Torrance, Virginia and Ross Currie. Pinning the cat on the witch, biting apples and other games were much enjoyed by the children, as were the lovely and appropriate favors which were drawn from a large paper pumpkin in the center of the table. The latter was unusually attractive with its yellow plate daisies, spooky lanterns and numerous black cats, the artistic handiwork of Mrs. George H. Paine, the young host's aunt. Another merry Halloweide party was given on Tuesday evening by Capt. and Mrs. Robert Love for their young son and daughter, Bobby and Dorothy. Two large tents were placed on the lawn; in one the children played all sorts of games so popular on this day, while in the other refreshments suitable to the occasion were served.

Mrs. Eley Denson gave a very enjoyable and unique party on Saturday afternoon for a large number of the post children in honor of her little daughter Marion's birthday. Every detail of the affair was a la Charlie Chaplin; the walls of the living room were covered with posters of this popular character; the cake was adorned with Charlie Chaplin dolls; the favors were Charlie Chaplin banks; and after refreshments the entire party attended a Charlie Chaplin "movie" at the 25th Infantry amusement hall.

On Monday Master Charley Wyman gave a large birthday party at Fort Shafter, which was attended by many children from Schofield.

Miss Clara Leonard, also was hostess at a Halloweide party on Tuesday, the games, decorations and refreshments all being in keeping with the spirit of the day.

Miss Virginia and Ross Currie had a number of their young friends in to supper on Friday evening and later took them to the "movies." Favors of comical face masks caused much merriment, while attractive baskets of candy and whistles also added greatly to the pleasure of the children.

Col. John McMahon and the Misses Carrie and Esther McMahon were hosts at a charming dinner on Tuesday evening for Lieut. and Mrs. John Hauser, Lieut. and Mrs. Jacob Devers, Capt. Ballard Lyerly and Lieut. Joseph Andrews.

Miss Yera Henshaw and Lieut. Joseph Andrews were dinner guests of Lieut. and Mrs. Wilbur Rogers on Wednesday evening and later attended the hop at the Artillery pavilion.

Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Frank entertained at a most delightful dinner on Thursday evening. Yellow chrysanthemums and candles shaded in yellow made a pretty setting for the party, which included Capt. and Mrs. James Higgins, Lieut. and Mrs. Oliver Dickinson and Capt. and Mrs. Frederick Black.

A large and elaborate affair of the week was the hop supper on Thursday evening at which Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Lowe were hosts, complimenting Miss Lucille Kitson. Small tables, artistically decorated with African daisies, seated the guests, who included Col. and Mrs. William Bannister, Maj. and Mrs. Lewis Sorley, Capt. and Mrs. Harry Knight, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Meals, Miss Evelyn Hodges, Miss Lella Wilson, Capt. and Mrs. Byard Sneed, Capt. and Mrs. Clyde Abraham, Capt. and Mrs. Harry Blodgett, Capt. and Mrs. Harry Blasland, Capt. and Mrs. LaVergne Gregg, Capt. and Mrs. Fred Pitts, Capt. and Mrs. Elvid Hunt, Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd Fredendall, Capt. and Mrs. John Richardson, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Greason, Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Calder, Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Sears, Lieut. and Mrs. Barrett Glover, Lieut. and Mrs. Douglas Greene, Capt. and Mrs. John Burnett, Lieut. and Mrs. James Peale, Miss Catherine Carnahan, Miss Dorothy McRae, Mrs. Gustav Gonser, Miss Louise Phipps, Lieut. Frank Riley, Capt. Charles Bankhead, Capt. James Ulio and Lieut. Carl Cohen.

Capt. and Mrs. Harry Knight had as informal dinner guests on Tuesday evening Col. and Mrs. Richard Croxton, Miss Lucille Kitson and Mrs. Gustav Gonser.

Mrs. Robert Calder was hostess at a very enjoyable sewing party and tea on Friday afternoon for the following ladies: Mrs. Frederick Black, Mrs. Douglas Greene, Mrs. James Higgins, Mrs. Carl Baillinger, Mrs. Eley Denson, Mrs. John Waring, Mrs. Clyde Abraham, Mrs. Julius Disney Willis, Mrs. Lloyd Fredendall, Mrs. James Bell, Mrs. Clarence Tinker and Miss

PT. SHAFTER SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
PORT SHAFTER, Nov. 4.—One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the bridge given by Mrs. Alden C. Knowles in her quarters in the main garrison Monday afternoon. The prizes six in number, were most attractive. Mrs. Gillogie won the first prize, a Chinese work basket; Mrs. Lincoln, second, a guest towel; Mrs. Dashiell, third, a sewing chatelaine; Mrs. Peck, fourth, a sewing basket; Mrs. Sullivan, fifth, a sewing basket; and Mrs. Barker, sixth, a sewing basket. After the playing a delicious collation was served at small tables. Those playing during the afternoon were Madame Pearson, Mrs. Otto B. Rosenbaum, Miss Mattis, Mrs. Daniel Lane Howell, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Madame Cochran, Mrs. William Dashiell, Mrs. Raymond A. Wheeler, Mrs. Charles Lincoln, Mrs. Thomas A. Harker, Miss Dorothy Harker, Miss Dorothy Melroe, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Jack Hayes, Mrs. James A. Gallaghy, Mrs. Edwin S. Hartshorn, Mrs. Robert H. Peck, Mrs. Alfred Rockwood, Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Mrs. William E. Hunt, Mrs. Joseph A. McAndrew, Mrs. Claire R. Bennett, Mrs. Arthur T. Dalton and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday. Mrs. William Reese Scott, Mrs. George M. Holloran, Miss Bonnie Scott and Mrs. Eleanor Scott came in later for tea.

When Commander and Mrs. Victor Houston entertain at the Country Club tonight in honor of Gen. and Mrs. Robert K. Evans the guests from Fort Shafter will be Lieut. and Mrs. Frank A. Sloan.

Billy Scott, son of Chaplain and Mrs. William Reese Scott, observed the time-honored customs of the last day of October by giving a Halloween party for a few of his friends. The evening was spent in the merry games appropriate to the season, hobbling for apples, tricks, etc. Jack o'lanterns, riding witches, black cats and other insignia of the weird October night were used in decorating the living room. Those present were John Randolph, Bobbie Lyon, William Rosenbaum, Morris McKain, Edwin S. Hartshorn, Jr., Charles Wyman and Richard Hunt.

Mrs. Charles L. Wyman entertained for her small son on Monday in honor of his sixth birthday. The party was a Halloween affair; lighted Jack o'lanterns and yellow daisies were the decorations. Twenty-seven little kids came and spent the afternoon with small Charles, and a very merry time was spent playing the games most dear to the childish hearts.

Among those from the post who were able to attend the reception given by the Japanese consul, in the Young Hotel, in honor of the birthday of the Emperor of Japan, were Col. and Mrs. Daniel Lane Howell, Mrs. Howell-Clinton, Maj. and Mrs. Otto B. Rosenbaum, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Lieut. Edward F. Witsell, Maj. and Mrs. Guy G. Palmer, Miss Campbell, Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday, Madame Cochran, Lieut. William H. Britton, Lieut. Robert G. Guyer, Lieut. Robert A. Sharrer, Capt. and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett, Lieut. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Lieut. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood and Capt. and Mrs. Joseph A. McAndrew.

Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday chaperoned a merry party on Sunday afternoon. The participants in this outing met at the quarters of Maj. Otto B. Rosenbaum and motored from there to De Russy. After a refreshing swim they enjoyed a most delicious supper. Those of the party were Miss Mattis, Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum, Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday, Lieut. Robert G. Guyer and Lieut. William H. Britton.

Lieut. Robert A. Sharrer, Lieut. Robert G. Guyer and Lieut. William H. Britton left Fort Shafter Thursday morning on a surveying trip which will probably last five months.

Capt. and Mrs. William E. Hunt entertained on Thursday evening. Covers were placed on this daintily appointed table for Capt. and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett, Capt. and Mrs. Arthur T. Dalton, Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday and Capt. and Mrs. Hunt. The hours after dinner were spent pleasantly playing bridge.

The Bridge Club did not meet as usual on Tuesday evening, the session being postponed until Friday on account of the reception given that evening by the Japanese consul. Mrs. Daniel Lane Howell was the hostess on this occasion who received the guests on their arrival. Those playing were Mrs. Daniel Lane Howell, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Madame Cochran, Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph Holliday.

Lieut. and Mrs. Alfred Rockwood, Lieut. and Mrs. Raymond A. Wheeler, Lieut. and Mrs. William E. Hunt, Dr. Harry M. Teller, Mrs. Charles L. Wyman, Capt. and Mrs. Alden C. Knowles, Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum, Mrs. William H. Cochran, Capt. and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett.

Capt. and Mrs. Joseph A. McAndrew entertained at luncheon for Capt. and Mrs. James E. Bell on Saturday in their home in the cantonment.

Capt. and Mrs. William E. Hunt were hosts at a very enjoyable bridge party on Wednesday evening in their quarters in the main garrison. Mrs. Barker was the fortunate one to hold the highest honors for the women, thus receiving the prize, a very attractive fan, while Lieut. Holliday won the other prize, a very pretty bronze ashtray. Those playing during the evening were Capt. and Mrs. George A. Harker, Capt. and Mrs. Robert H. Peck, Maj. and Mrs. William B. Cochran, Madame Cochran, Lieut. Carl A. Dagg, Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell and Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum.

Lieut. and Mrs. George M. Halloran entertained at a beautifully appointed dinner on Wednesday evening thus celebrating the first mile stone of their married life. American beauty roses and candies dimmed by rose shades made a lovely decoration for the table on which covers were placed for Capt. and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett, Lieut. and Mrs. Halloran. After dinner Lieut. and Mrs. Halloran took their guests to Young's roof garden where the remainder of the evening was spent gaily dancing the hours away.

Miss Mattis was the house-guest of Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham of Schofield Barracks over Tuesday.

Mrs. Alfred Rockwood entertained at a most delightful tea, on Wednesday, in honor of her house-guest, Mrs. Rockwood, the mother of Lieut. Rockwood. The decorations of coreopsis and ferns were most effectively arranged throughout the rooms. Mrs. Rockwood was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Wheeler. While Mrs. Halloran served ice and Mrs. McClellan poured tea. Those calling during the afternoon were Mrs. Otto B. Rosenbaum, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Mrs. Daniel Lane Howell, Mrs. Howell-Clinton, Miss Mattis, Mrs. Edwin S. Hartshorn, Mrs. William E. Hunt, Mrs. Alden C. Knowles, Mrs. Guy G. Palmer, Mrs. Robert M. Lyons, Mrs. Arthur T. Dalton, Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Madame Pearson, Mrs. William B. Cochran, Madame Cochran, Mrs. George M. Halloran, Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday, Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Mrs. Thomas C. Spencer, Mrs. Bernhard K. Stumberg, Mrs. Raymond A. Wheeler, Mrs. Benjamin F. McClellan and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett.

The many friends of Capt. Thomas L. Crystal will be glad to know that he has so far recovered his health that he and Mrs. Crystal with their two small children will be able to return on the December transport.

The Sewing Club of the post met with Mrs. Otto B. Rosenbaum Wednesday morning. Those present were Mrs. Robert M. Lyons, Mrs. Edward S. Hartshorn, Mrs. Benjamin F. McClellan, Madame Cochran, Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Madame Pearson, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Mrs. Guy G. Palmer and Mrs. Eugene H. Hartnett.

Lieut. Robert G. Guyer, Lieut. William H. Britton and Lieut. Robert A. Sharrer entertained at a beautifully appointed dinner at the Country Club, on Saturday evening of last week, for Capt. and Mrs. Raymond A. Wheeler and Capt. and Mrs. Paul S. Reinecke.

POISONOUS FUMES KILL SAILOR ON NORSE SHIP

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 4.—Fumes of poisonous gases used for disinfecting purposes aboard the Norwegian steamship Roald Amundsen caused the death late yesterday of a crewman and the serious illness of three others. The man who was killed was Jacobus Kramer, a coal passer. Chief Officer Hendrickson, Second Officer Nelson and a sailor named Jorgensen were overcome by the fumes and taken to the hospital, where it is expected that they will recover. The quarantine authorities say that the accident was due to the sailor's disregard of instructions given them when gas was applied.

SCHOFIELD SOCIETY

Informal dinner guests of Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Foster on Sunday were Capt. William Doane and Lieut. Wallace Philoon.

Miss Sallie Collins and Lieut. Roy Jones were quietly married at St. Andrew's Episcopal Cathedral in Honolulu on Friday afternoon.

A very pretty custom has arisen here whereby the post chapel is always well supplied with beautiful flowers for Sunday. This matter is now looked after by the various regiments alternately, as follows: First Sunday in the month, 1st Infantry; second Sunday, the Field Artillery; third Sunday, 25th Infantry; fourth Sunday, the Cavalry; fifth Sunday, General Strong.

MEXICAN AMBASSADOR DENIES FALL OF PARRAL

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Andreas Garcia, the Mexican inspector general of consulates in the United States, has been advised from the City of Mexico, he reports, that the news of the fall of Parral to the soldiers of Villa is incorrect. Parral is still being held by its Carranzista garrison, he says.

The page ad in the Saturday Evening Post of Oct. 28th that attracted a great deal of attention was one dealing with the Hughes Waterproof "Ideal" Hair Brush. This brush is a regular $2.00 value. Until Dec. 1st it will be sold for $1.50 at the store of Benson, Smith & Co.—Adv.

MAUI COUNTY FAIR ASSURED OF FINE SUCCESS; BIG CROWDS EXPECTED

Valley Isle Will Have Splendid Exhibits and Fine Program of Entertainment

Maui County's First Annual Fair will be the largest and most successful event of its kind in the short but impressive history of fairs in the islands, according to present prospects.

Representatives of the Star-Bulletin who have been on the Valley Isle for several days preparing a Maui County Fair Edition are enthusiastic over the prospects for the forthcoming event at Wailuku. In size the fair will eclipse that at Hilo, and, with two additional months in which to work, the Maui management has added greatly to the features which made Hilo's fair a success both in exhibits and in finances.

Maui is preparing for a "big time" both in the serious work of offering the public a large and instructive fair and in the entertainment of the thousands who will go to Wailuku during the three days, November 29, December 1 and 2.

Some of the features planned and something about the progress of preparations are told in the following notes from the Star-Bulletin's Maui correspondent:

WAILUKU, Maui, Nov. 4.—Plans for an excursion from Honolulu and Hana, and the best means of getting the various exhibits here were discussed at some length at the regular weekly meeting of the county fair committee, held yesterday afternoon at the town hall. Every effort is to be made to have an excursion boat come from Honolulu Thanksgiving Day, probably leaving Honolulu in the evening, and remain here until Friday or Saturday night.

The cooperation of the Ad Club, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and various other Honolulu organizations, which have agreed to make an exhibit, will be asked to also aid in having an excursion run by the Inter-Island and to get the people of Honolulu interested in coming.

Regarding the possibility of a successful excursion from Hana, the committee were not so enthusiastic, as it was feared that there would not be sufficient patronage to warrant it. However, it was decided to name Principal McCluskey and Supervisor Drummond as a committee to ascertain the number who might take advantage of the opportunity if a special boat was run from Hana to Wailuku.

The committeemen decided that the press should be asked to inform all exhibitors that all consignments of exhibits should be addressed to the transportation committee, Kahului, Maui. It is urged that the exhibits be sent in as early as possible preceding the fair dates.

Harry Gesner, who is one of the fair committeemen arranging for the decorated automobile parade which will be held on the last day of the fair, wants to know the names and owners who intend to enter cars. He urges that steps be taken at once to secure the necessary auto decorations. Suggestions regarding the decorations will be furnished by him upon receipt of a request.

Over 140 persons, both men and women, have sent in requests that seats be reserved for them at the fair boosting dinner which is to be given at the Grand Hotel on next Thursday evening. Fully 60 more are expected to make similar applications within a few days.

The Roosters, the new organization of the Maui Chamber of Commerce, have compiled and are practicing a number of new boosting Maui songs. They are also keeping their voices in good order so they will be able to make as much noise as any of the speakers.

Among the speakers who have already consented to make talks are the following: R. A. Wadsworth, D. H. Case, F. B. Cameron, H. W. Baldwin, J. Garcia, J. J. Walsh, Mrs. T. B. Linton, W. F. Crockett, J. C. Fitzgerald and W. L. West. Besides these talks music is to be furnished by the Mary Hoffman orchestra, and, as the official program says, "There are to be frequent interruptions of noise by the Roosters."

The Maui First County Fair is attracting almost as much attention in the press on the other islands as it is on this island, as is shown by the liberal mention that is being made of it in almost every issue of the various newspapers.

Riley H. Allen, editor of the Star-Bulletin, spent several days this and last week on the island taking the preparatory steps for the issuing of a special eight-page section of that paper which will be devoted to the fair and Maui progress. Another Star-

BAT THE RAT

Join the Clean-Up Club and Kill Off the Rats

Boards of health everywhere are trying to exterminate rats because of their menace to health and destruction of property. But without waiting for the health authorities to do the work for you, do your duty and use the only effective weapon in the war on rats, Stearns Electric Paste. Get a two ounce box from your drugist or 25 cents and in one night it should kill off all the rats and mice in your home, barn or garage.

Remember above all that killing a rat now is as effective as killing a dozen a couple of months later. Use Stearns Electric Paste now and prevent further breeding. Directions in 15 languages in every package.—Adv.

Bulletin representative, A. C. Smith, is now on the island and will remain here completing the work on the issue.

The question of approving of a special edition was placed before the executive committee of the fair committee at a meeting held last Monday. Approval was immediately granted when the intention and scope of the edition were explained by the Star-Bulletin editor. The edition will make its appearance on a Saturday in advance of the fair and it is believed that it will attract many people to the local county show.

Besides the reading space given the fair by the newspapers, all the E. O. Hall publications in Honolulu, Hilo and Lahoe are carrying advertising space urging attendance at the fair and offering some of the interesting exhibits which will be shown.

HILO MANAGER ADVANCED BY VON HAMM-YOUNG CO.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

HILO, Nov. 3.—Manager West of the Hilo branch of the von Hamm-Young Company is to leave this city for Honolulu about the end of the year. He will then take charge of the new show and salesrooms that the big company has opened on Alakea street in the old Kerr block.

West has been in Hilo for several years and he has become well-known and liked throughout the county. He is recognized to be a man well up in his line of business and to be worthy of advancement in the von Hamm-Young Company.

On Monday's Mauna Kea Mrs. West and her children left for Honolulu. West will not be able to get away until he finally closes up the figures for the year's business in Hilo of the von Hamm-Young Company. He will probably move to Honolulu about December 31. A successor to Manager West has not yet been announced, but it is probable that a man from the Honolulu office will be sent to Hilo.

PROSECUTOR WILLING TO PAY CASH TO GET PRISONER ON OCEAN

Whether Charles F. Chillingworth, prosecuting attorney in police court, makes good his promise to lend H. B. Elliott, habitual drunkard, $5 to join the sailors' union so Elliott can get a job, remains to be seen.

The red-headed defendant came back to court Thursday to "stump" the prosecution and puzzle Judge Monsarrat. He had just been released from jail the day before and was charged on counts of begging on the streets.

Chillingworth said: "Excuse my slang, your honor, but 'soak' him hard this time. We have been too lenient with these fellows. They are coming to laugh at the court." But the judge replied, "I have 'soaked' them as you say (he produced the records to prove his assertion) and apparently that does no good."

Elliott replied to the magistrate's query of "Why don't you go to work," that he was a sailor but didn't have sufficient money to join the union and couldn't get work unless he did.

"I'll stake him to the money," said Chillingworth.

"It's $5," a court attendant meekly warned him.

"That's all right, I'm game," retorted the attorney. "It would be worth that to get rid of him."

"Ten days," said the judge, and Elliott laughed his way to the prisoners' deck.

Charles C. Dickinson, a former official in the Carnegie Trust Co., died insolvent. The report of Appraiser Ludden shows that Dickinson had assets of $40,038 and liabilities of $413,043.

IN PUNCHBOWL EXTINCT CRATER NATURE PROVIDES IDEAL SITE FOR RIFLE RANGE

Here are 10 photographs taken by the Star-Bulletin staff photographer at the Punchbowl rifle range when the 3d Battalion, 1st Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii, was holding target practice. The pictures are as follows:

1. Infantrymen in the 300-yard butts at competitive shooting. Gen. Johnson and Capt. Luther Evans in the foreground.
2. Gen. Johnson and Lieut. Col. William Weigel of the 2d Infantry, Fort Shafter, with the mascot goat that "Jack" Atkinson brought from Kahoolawe.
3. View showing the 200-yard (right) and 300-yard (left) ranges with targets and marksmen.
4. Mess time. The line of march goes past the "chow" table where plates and cups are filled for hungry militiamen.
5. Lieut. George W. Baker, a good shot, who pads his shoulders and elbows and wears a shooting coat and dark goggles on the range.
6. Officers instruct their men first-hand. This shows a captain coaching his marksmen to better shooting.
7. At work in the 300-yard butts. Gen. Johnson and Capt. Evans made a 50-50 score here in ten shots at the target, each.
8. Officers' mess. The officers are allowed the privilege of a mess table. Privates sit in the shade of trees that fringe the range and talk over the work of the morning.
9. The 300-yard butts again, and officers and men watching the results of the various shots. Those in the rear are about to take their turns with the guns. The new administration building, now nearing completion, is shown in this picture.
10. Maj. Lawrence W. Redington, brigade adjutant, who spends every Sunday on the range, and who has done much in boosting target practice among guardsmen.

An extinct crater, cleared of brush and trees, cut with rifle pits and shooting butts, equipped with latest patterns of field telephones, protected of all sides by a rising rim of rock or soil, and set in an atmosphere clear and void of dampness—this is the rifle range on Punchbowl which battalions from the 1st Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii, are using every week for practice.

One who climbs the steep side of Punchbowl that faces toward town, and this is the path by which the infantrymen ascend, gets a birdseye view of the range from the rim of the crater.

He sees before him a huge green and brown saucer some 40 acres in area in which men in khaki, a hundred or more of them, lying with guns, while up to him through the still air comes the intermittent crack-crack of the weapons and the puffs of smoke that show where the firing is heaviest.

Across the saucer stand the huge target boards, 12 or 15 feet in height, and backed with soil at the back. Directly behind them rises a grove of kaia trees and farther back beyond the crater's rim the slopes of Tantalus show in the distance. This is the setting for the day's work on the range.

Work, Not Child's Play

That day's work is no child's play and is not intended for laggards. It begins at 8 o'clock in the morning when the men march from the armory past way up the Pauoa Valley road, thence up the steep face of the cliff to the rim of the crater.

Immediately on arriving at the semi-permanent camp, which is maintained at all times there, the guardsmen get busy. By orders already arranged one band is sent to the pits to handle the targets, another is placed in charge of the cleaning racks, for the guns must be kept shining at all times, another handles the field telephones and the shooting records, while the last are assigned to work with the guns. During the day changes are made at intervals that all may have an equal share of the different sorts of work. Not to be left out is the group of company cooks, which serve through the entire forenoon at that work, and must have the meal ready when the bugle blows "Cease firing" for lunch.

The casual spectator who climbs to the top of the crater or rides up in an automobile is visibly impressed with his first view of the target work. Dicks Tell Results

There is a fascination in watching the big targets spotted to show whether the last shot went true or wild. Immediately after a shot is made a disk is lifted to the target to show the location of hit. A white disk means a bullseye and counts five; a red disk counts four, and so on down. If the entire target is missed a red flag is waved, almost defiantly it seems, and often provoking as much wrath in the unfortunate marksman as it would provoke in a bull.

The targets resemble huge playing cards—aces of clubs—and they slide up and down between shots almost as if alive. That black mark in the center is supposed to represent the head and shoulders of a man, lying prone and firing straight ahead.

The ranges fired over are 200, 300, 500 and 800 yards, and various positions are allowed the marksmen according to the record to be tried for. Sometimes he lies prone, sometimes squats on one knee. The beginner is instructed during the process by one of his company officers, practically all of whom are good shots.

Men Fire in Turn

Each target is fired at by two men, being raised and lowered alternately as they take turns in shooting. This gives a spirit of competition that arouses interest and helps in the work.

If all the shots are going wide or high, this fact is telephoned back to the butts from the pits and orders go out to the individual to change his sights accordingly. This telephone communication is carried on constantly, keeping the two groups of men in touch with each other.

At noon the bugle call rings out to cease firing and prepare for lunch. Hungry infantrymen know the meaning of the notes which to them have a truly silver sound. From the pits come running some 20 or more men with yells of delight as they cross the area to the mess grounds.

Then they line up single file, a hungry bread line that passes the huge pots of corn beef hash or potatoes or rice, where generous helpings are scooped out to plates that look up beseechingly. The officers eat under the shade of a kiawe tree and at a table, and often an army officer is present as a guest.

Amusing Incidents Arise

Funny incidents are always occurring that add to the good time of the day. Maybe a stray cow from the road camp nearby strolls across the range during practice. At once the order to cease firing does down the line.

Sometimes it's an officer, sometimes a private that goes to clear the range armed with rocks and sticks. Whoever it is he is applauded with cheers and hand-clapping from the men behind, and cries of "bullseye, bullseye," go up as an especially well aimed rock lands against the bovine ribs.

Or it may be that the goat mascot which "Jack" Atkinson brought from Kahoolawe breaks into the customary routine by attacking a cartridge belt or hurling down among the men. Here and there during the afternoon officers of rival companies engage in a spirited contest at the targets, and are backed by their respective men who watch the shooting eagerly.

Later in the afternoon, about the time that the rays of the sun are beginning to strike down less forcefully, the order is given to clean up for the march to town, and soon after many tired but happy men mount the rim again and head toward town and the armory. Such is the day's work on Punchbowl range.

Location is Unique

Target practice upon an open range is not a rarity, especially in this day of preparedness, but a rifle range within an extinct volcanic crater is unique and probably belongs to no other organization than the National Guard of Hawaii.

Beginning with the whirlwind campaign conducted last winter by Brig. Gen. Samuel I. Johnson to secure

AVIATION SECTION PLANS FOR BIG CORPS OF RESERVE FLYERS

Col. Squier, Chief, Announces Preliminary Intentions For Training

Honolulu's organization of an aero club during the last few months is in fitting time with an announcement by Lieut. Col. George O. Squier, chief of the aviation section of the Signal Corps, regarding the training of reserve aviators.

Col. Squier says that it is the intention to train as many such as possible and whether this number will be a thousand or less will depend upon the personnel and facilities available. This division is a different class than national guardsmen, and will be trained at civilian flying schools.

When reserve aviators are thoroughly trained they will, if satisfactory, receive commissions as officers in the Officers' Reserve Corps.

Any civilian who wishes to join the Officers' Reserve Corps as a reserve military aviator should send his application to the War Department at Washington. He will then be examined by a medical officer, and also, if it is possible, by an officer of the Aviation Section, to determine his probable fitness.

If accepted he will be ordered to a civilian school, where he will be put through preliminary training under the supervision of an inspecting officer either stationed at the field or making frequent visits. This training may be stopped at any time at the discretion of the officer who makes the inspections if it should appear that the candidate is either physically, psychologically or mentally unfit.

When the preliminary training is ended the candidate may be ordered either to an army station or to continue his work at the civilian schools under direct military instruction until he is ready to take his reserve military aviator's tests. These require a considerable degree of skill as a pilot, though they are not as difficult as the junior military aviator's tests which the army pilots take. When the reserve military aviator has passed his tests he will be commissioned a first lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps. He will then be required to report 15 days in each year for instruction and practice at one of the army flying fields, during which period he will receive the same pay and allowances as an officer of the same rank in the regular army.

Col. Squier says the section plans to train 257 R. M. A. first lieutenants and about 2000 mechanics, truck drivers, etc. These men will be trained as individuals, and in case of war or threatened war they may be summoned and put into one of the regular army flying units of their own. In his way it is hoped to get individual flyers and mechanics who will be on call in case of need.

WANTS PART OF THREE MILLION

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—As direct descendant of Gideon Howland, who died many years ago, leaving a $3,000,000 trust estate, of which Hetty Green had life use, William Allen, a Myrtle Beach contractor, through John J. Bennett of Ansonia, has filed a claim for a share of the estate.

ARMY CHAPLAINS LIGHTEN BORDER LIFE BY MOVIES

FIELD HEADQUARTERS of the American Punitive Expedition in Mexico, Oct. 28.—The army chaplains who accompany the American Punitive Expedition in Mexico have not only marched abreast of their toughest charges clear through to the Sierra Madres, but here they have distinguished themselves in a new way. They have established the first electric plant within a 125-mile radius of this spot in Chihuahua for the lighting of a reading room and a movie show.

However commonplace the electric light has become in the states, it is still rather an innovation in this part of Mexico, especially in an army camp in the Casas Grandes valley. But, thanks to the chaplains who devoted much time to pestering the authorities for permission to bring the necessary machinery in on motor trucks, the gas engine, generator and other equipment arrived about two months ago and now the lowest private can read the latest periodicals and write his letters under electric lights. Even the general hasn't that privilege.

The reading room, which is well lighted and supplied with benches and tables, is in charge of Chaplain O. J. N. Scott of the 10th Cavalry. The Young Men's Christian Association has furnished 61,000 envelopes and 160,000 letterheads, which are given out gratis. With the Red Cross and the Young Men's Hebrew Association, it also sends reading matter. The tent will accommodate several score and generally is well filled.

The crowd comes early and stays until the last flicker. Right after retreat, bearing gasoline cans, soap boxes, even cumbersome arm chairs, they secure the coveted positions surrounding the projecting machine, prepared for an hour and a half wait.

Reports made public at the War Department show that it cost $25,000 last month to recruit 372 men in New York for the National Guard in the federal service.

MEXICANS PLAN TO REBUILD ON FIRM FOUNDATION

(By Associated Press)
JUAREZ, Mex. Mexico plans to rebuild her revolution-shattered industries upon a firm foundation. With the restoration of peace in the country the thousands of factories, mills, shops and stores which have been burned, wrecked or partially destroyed by artillery fire or by the work of the bombing crew which is always a part of a Mexican army in the field, are to be rebuilt.

The representative of a large Pacific Coast cement manufacturing company recently visited Andres Garcia, inspector-general of consulates for the Carranza government, and Gen.
Francisco Gonzalez, commander of the Juarez garrison, and consulted with them regarding the erection of a $1,000,000 cement plant in Juarez to utilize the great shale beds which are to be found at the foot of the Juarez mountains. This material has been tested and found to be good for cement making. The supply is said by experts to be inexhaustible and the shale beds are located near enough to the railroad to make haulage costs low.

The representative of the American cement company is being given every encouragement by the Carranza officials. They realize the importance of having such a plant on the border, where its product can be shipped to all points in the interior at a low cost.
While many of the buildings in Mexico are built of adobe, the larger buildings are made of brick and stone, concrete having been little used in construction work in the interior because of the comparative scarcity of cement.
With the construction of a plant to manufacture cement here, many Mexican laborers who are now forced to go to the United States in search of employment will be employed, and, because of the lower cost of labor in this country, it will be possible to sell the finished product of the plant at a much lower rate than that prevailing in the United States, the promoters say.

GEN. PLUMMER PRAISES SERVICES OF Y. M. C. A.

Appreciation of the work of the Y.
M. C. A., which has been so active on the border during the last several months, is given by Brig-Gen. E. H.
Plummer, commanding the 4th Brigade, in a written statement to the association at Nogales, Ariz. He says:

"I desire to express my appreciation of the efforts that are being made by the Y. M. C. A. to provide comfort, entertainment, recreation and very de-

VILLA'S COINS NOW BRINGING FANCY PRICES

EL PASO, Tex.—Francisco Villa's money is worth more now than it was when Villa reigned in the state palace at Chihuahua City and controlled Northern Mexico. The United States army is oddly responsible for this increase.

Sent down to the border with the expectation of taking part in the Villa chase, the National Guardsmen from all parts of the country have been purchasing Villa's currency from local dealers as souvenirs of their visit to the border and have been sending this paper money home to relatives and friends. The result has been a great demand for the money which Villa ordered printed on a hand press in Chihuahua City.

When Villa was in power his money reached a "high water mark" of six cents, American money, for $1 Villa money. But this was exceptional and, before Villa was forced to evacuate Chihuahua state it was selling at a few cents for $1000 worth of his money. Now the market price is $500 worth of Villa's currency for $1 of United States currency. Because of the demand dealers in the border leader's money have been having a hard time getting enough to supply the demand. One of Villa's generals is said to have recently sold $1,000,000 worth to a local broker and that has been sold to the soldiers on the border.
Great quantities of the Villa money also have been shipped to Chicago,
New York and other cities of the United States, where it is used for advertising purposes, the name of the advertiser being printed on the face of the money. It is estimated that $100,000,000 worth of this currency has been printed and circulated throughout the United States and elsewhere.

troops encamped in this vicinity. I have been watching the work of the Y. M. C. A. in camps at various places during the past four years, especially at San Antonio in 1911, at Vera Cruz, Mex., in 1914, and at Galveston, Tex., years '13, '14 and '15. The benefit to the men has been very noticeable with regular troops and is very much greater with state troops, who are temporarily separated from their homes and are unaccustomed to the inconvenience, monotony, etc., of camp life.

"I am sure that what is being done here by the Y. M. C. A. will be of inestimable value to thousands of men, saving many of them from acquiring dissolute habits.

ORGANIZATION OF UNION CHURCH IN TOKIO EXPLAINED

Dr. Doremus Scudder of Honolulu Returns to Old Field When He Becomes Its Pastor Next Month, Says Outlook

In 1892 representatives of the missionary boards of the United States and Canada met and formed a foreign missions conference, which, except in 1900, the year of the ecumenical council, has ever since held annual sessions. The remarkable growth of the spirit of unity among Christian workers in non-Christian lands—not to say in all lands—is illustrated by the work and accomplishments of this conference, says the Outlook.

At the meeting of 1904 the veteran Baptist missionary to China, Rev. Dr. William Ashmore, in a memorable address, called the attention of the conference to the close relationship which European communities in Asia bear to the missionary enterprise. The deplorable religious condition of many of these communities, he pointed out, was both a reproach and a menace to the Christian church. A spirited debate followed, and a committee of three was chosen to consider the responsibility of mission boards to these neglected communities.

During the next few years men like Robert Speer, John W. Wood, James L. Barton, John R. Mott, W. J. Schiefel, A. E. Marling and others served on the Anglo-American communities committee, and under their fostering care union churches in Yokohama, Kobe, Peking, Mexico City, Rio de Janeiro, Colombo and Tokio were encouraged to organize, stimulated to self-support, subsidized when in need, furnished with devoted pastors and given the moral support as well as the inspiring counsel of this large body of homeland leaders. The expenses of this work have been borne by a number of cooperating missionary societies, 16 of which, together with the World's Sunday School Association, the Young Men's Christian Association international committee and the foreign department of the Young Women's Christian Association, united last year to raise the required $5000. The largest annual grant to churches aided is $1000, sometimes with assistance towards the traveling expenses of the pastor to his field of labor.

The results already achieved in this movement have been far-reaching and the effect upon missionary work notable. One of the latest of these enterprises to be started has been the Union church of Tokio. Here the English-speaking constituency numbers some 900, one-half of whom are missionaries and their families, while the other half is made up of businessmen with large interests, professors and teachers in the greatest student center of the world, and a small number of stenographers and commercial assistants. This church has had a settled pastor, meets in borrowed quarters and has practically none of the many activities associated with the idea of a modern church, yet it faces an opportunity of such moment that its members have pledged an annual budget of $2900, to which the foreign missions conference has added an annual grant of $1000.

This has enabled the church to issue a call to Dr. Doremus Scudder, pastor of Central Union church in Honolulu, which he has accepted. Dr. Scudder, in taking up this work, is only returning to an old field. He knows Japan and the Japanese, and he knows the Pacific Coast. In his new work in Tokio he may confidently be expected to be an influential factor in promoting understanding and friendship between the two countries, which have, unfortunately, sometimes misunderstood each other.

"THE COURAGE OF THE CHRIST" IS SUBJECT FOR SERMON TOMORROW

At the morning service at Central Union church tomorrow Dr. Doremus Scudder will preach on the theme "The Courage of the Christ," and in the evening on "Friendship." The Kamehameha schools will attend the evening service in a body. Among the musical selections on the morning and evening programs are two anthems by the choir, "Arise, Shine, for Thy Light is Come," by Varley Robb, and Harry E. Shelley's arrangement of "Abide With Me." Miss Harrison will render the organ selections "Adagio" by Widor, "Andante from Symphony Pathétique" by Tschaiikovsky, "Postlude" by Mendelssohn, "Cantilene Nuptiale" by Dubois and "Postlude" by Schaeffer.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM AT FIRST METHODIST

The devotional theme that has been carried through the recent services at the First Methodist church for several services past will be continued tomorrow morning. "Practising the Presence of God" will be the theme as it was last Sunday morning, and in connection with the service the communion will be observed. The

News and Notes From Hawaiian Mission Board

There was a business meeting of the Fort Street Chinese C. E. Society last evening, at which plans were made for the work of the winter. Mr. Hon Yung Ing is the president of the society.

Rev. David Kaai, pastor of the Sioama church at Kalaupapa, Molokai, has reconsidered his resignation, tendered a few weeks ago. It is his determination to return shortly to the leper settlement and continue his church work in that community.

Rev. Pedro Rozola and his family are expected on the Nippon Maru on November 10. They will shortly afterwards go up to Maui to enter upon the large work awaiting them there. The Rozolas will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ygoria on their trip to Maui.

Last Friday evening a social was held in the Kilohana Art League building by the C. E. Society of the Second Chinese church. Owing to lack of space it has always been necessary to borrow some other building for its social life. In spite of this handicap the attendance has kept up remarkably well and a large number was noted at this social.

Rev. Frank S. Scudder, superintendent of the Japanese department, returned from a visit of two weeks on Kauai last Wednesday morning. The first week was spent attending the Kauai Evangelical Association meeting at Lihue and then in making an evangelistic tour of the island in company with Rev. J. P. Erdman, H. P. Judd and A. Akana. His second week was spent in work among the English-speaking Japanese at Waimea, Hanalei, Koloa and other places.

Mrs. William Kamau, wife of the pastor of the Ewa Hawaiian church, died after a long illness on Friday morning, October 27, at Pearl City, and funeral services were held the following afternoon, being conducted by Revs. H. K. Poepoe, S. K. Kamaopili, D. K. Kaialakamau and S. W. Kekuwa. Mrs. Kamau was popular among the Hawaiian people because of her unaffected kindness of heart and her unselfishness. She leaves a widow and three daughters and three sons.

Rev. Simon R. Ygoria, pastor of the Oahu Filipino Congregational church, arrived from Manila last week with his bride. He left Honolulu last March to spend his vacation in his old home in the Philippines. While touring among the islands he met the young lady who became Mrs. Ygoria on August 3. She was in the Presbyterian board work at Iloilo. Mr. and Mrs. Ygoria were met at the wharf by a delegation of the Ewa church members and escorted to Ewa, where a large reception was held in their honor. The following evening a large gathering listened to the preaching of Ygoria and to an address by Mrs. Ygoria. The people of Wailua and Waiapahu as well as Ewa have been most cordial in their reception of the Ygorias.

The farewell reception to Rev. Tse Kei Yuen at the Beretania mission last Monday evening, October 30, was a fitting recognition of the remarkable place he has in the local community and in the government of China. After considerable correspondence and two or three refusals, Mr. Tse finally arrived at the conclusion that his duty was to return to China for a season and take up his work in the legislature. He hopes to be back in Hawaii in a few months. At the reception there were addresses by the Chinese consul-general, by Rev. Norman C. Schenck, head of the Chinese department; Rev. Henry P. Judd, who brought the greetings of the Hawaiian board; Yuen To Pui, one of the two pastors of the Fort Street Chinese church, and by Mr. Tse himself. Besides these addresses there were a number of musical selections and after the formal program was concluded refreshments were served.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY IS PLANNING FAREWELL FOR PASTOR AND WIFE

The women's society of Central Union church has voted to hold its social scheduled for the afternoon of Thursday, November 9, in the evening of the same date, as the later hour will enable more of the congregation, especially the men of the church, to be present. The social will be in the nature of a farewell to Dr. and Mrs. Doremus Scudder, who are leaving for Japan on the Tenyo Maru, scheduled to sail November 17. An enjoyable program is being prepared and it is hoped that a large number will be in attendance.

Girls' vested choir will sing Thompson's "Lead Me Gently Home, Father," at the morning service. For the evening solo Mrs. William H. Fry will sing, "Abide With Me," by Coffman.

At the evening service Mr. Loofbourrow will speak on "He Will Not Fail."

Saturday's Sermonette

By LELAND H. TRACY, St. Clement's Church.

WHAT THE FATHERS HAVE TAUGHT US

"Look at the generations of old and see: did ever any man trust in the Lord and be confounded? They that fear the Lord will prepare their hearts and humble their soul in his sight, saying, 'We will fall into the hands of God; for as God's majesty is, so is his mercy.'"—Eccles. 2:10.

The man who wants to do a big piece of work for his generation must ally himself with a cause which has for its motive the development of high principles and high ideals, whether in a city, in a community, or in an individual, and then enter into partnership with God. In the belief that much depends on a right start, the teacher affirms that he who plans a great enterprise must prepare in advance for testing, for temptation and temptation. To get the dress out of the soul—that is the aim of life under the providence of God. What are pride, hate, vanity, insolence, lies, but dress to be expelled? What are justice, truth, hope, courage, but gold of the world spiritual? But the precious metal is not easily found or refined. No miner ever found a gold eagle in the rock, or a gold ring for the bride, or a gold service for a prince's table. The miner finds much quartz, with only tiny flakes of the precious metal. But through the furnace the gold comes, and is then ready to receive the image of a king or president. So all great souls have emerged from the furnace.

The sage gives certain principles for right living. First he bids man work and then wait for God to ripen his plans and make perfect his purposes. If man's work is of low order, little time will be required. Nature will grow a radish in six weeks, a red wood in 2000 years. The parent, ambitious for his children, must work, instruct, rebuke, restrain, inspire, must transfer his defeated ambitions to his children and then wait; but when old the father and the mother behold the fruition of their toil. No man is at his best in moods of fear and despondency. Hope stands by the side of the defeated patriot and points him towards the rift in the sky a thousand times when the tired hands drop the tools. Hope lifts up the weary worker and whispers encouragement and gives certainty of victory. The author then bids man work in the spirit of hope, and press on, carrying the atmosphere and joy of victory, because God has pledged all his resources to the worker. The good deed is memorable, and every right plan and word shall be immortal.

Then, lest some man doubt, and ask how man is to know the issue of his cause, this hero anticipates the objection and cries out, "Consider the generations of old. Ask the fathers and the founders and they shall teach you. Did any patriot trust in the Lord and was confounded? Did any reformer abide in God's fear and was forsaken? Did any hero or martyr stand by his great convictions, only to be deserted by the God he loved?" The appeal is not to philosophy—it is to your own revered father and mother. Ask of the generations of old therefore, and this is the answer: "Of all the good things that God has spoken concerning his children, not one promise has failed."

And then the speaker lifts the scourge on the men who linger on the edge of the battle. "Woe unto the soldier of the fearful heart, and the pioneer with the faint hand. Woe unto the reformer who is faint-hearted, and to the man who shrinks on the edge of the waters." Nature hates the coward. Some stand looking down these days with faces of jelly. What vandals are abroad in the world, calling for destruction. The glutton loots the fair temple of the human body. The greedy man destroys children in the sweat shops. The miser robs the young girl's cheek of a beauty beyond the loveliness of any canvas. Disobedience to the highest that is in man and that has been revealed by God blackens the threshold of the home. But, "Mark the perfect man and consider the upright. For the end of that man is peace."

D. L. WITHINGTON TO INAUGURATE SERIES OF LECTURES AT "Y"

Next Wednesday evening, from 6:45 to 7:30 o'clock in Cooke hall, Young Men's Christian Association, D. L. Withington will inaugurate his six weeks' Bible study course for young men.

The hour is fixed at 6:45 so that men may attend the class after they finish dinner in the cafeteria and get through at 7:30.

This course is open to all young men and affords an exceptional opportunity. Following is a list of the subjects:

- Nov. 8—"Man's Need of God."
- Nov. 15—"The Beaten Path."
- Nov. 22—"The Outward Senses."
- Nov. 29—"The Inner Sense."
- Dec. 6—"The Aspiration of the Soul."
- Dec. 13—"Revelation." The Bible.

CHARACTER OF AMOS TO BE SUBJECT FOR DR. WILLIAMS' TALK

The subject to be taken up tomorrow in the course which Dr. R. D. Williams is giving on "The Earlier Prophets and Their Modern Social Message," is "Amos—His Environment and Character." Syllabi of the course giving a resume of the previous lectures and references for the lesson in advance are distributed at each class period, thus making it possible for new members to enter the course at any time and still have a connected idea of the course of study. The class meets at 10 o'clock in the Kilohana building and is open to all interested in the subject.

ENDEAVORER'S PLAN CIVIC SERVICE FOR MEETING TOMORROW

In recognition of the intense political feeling preceding election day the Christian Endeavor society of Central Union church is planning a civic service for Sunday. The subject of the meeting will be "The Christian's Place in Politics," and the leader will be Dr. Wallace C. Weirick. The timeliness of the topic and its general appeal ensure an unusually interesting symposium to which all young people are cordially invited. The time of the gathering is 6:30 p. m., the place, Central Union parish house.

MISSION BOARD TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Women's Board of Missions will be held in the Bible school rooms on Tuesday, November 7, at 2:30 o'clock.

The topic for the afternoon will be, "Work Among the Japanese," and a very delightful program has been arranged. It includes:

Selection on the koto, Mrs. Horikawa. Report of the Japanese work, Miss Gulick.

Songs, children from the Japanese girls' home.

Miss Knapp, in the absence of Mrs. Richards, will have charge of the meeting.

Tuesdays and Thursdays, catechism class. Convent of the Sacred Heart, Kaimuki (Rev. Fr. Valentin)

Sundays—6 a. m., mass; 10:30 a. m., mass with sermon; 7 p. m., benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Weekdays—Mass at 7 a. m. Wednesdays, 2:30 p. m., catechism class.

EPISCOPAL CHURCHES. St. Andrew's Cathedral—Emma street, near Beretania. Rt. Rev. H. B. Restarick, bishop; Rev. Canon Wm. Ault, vicar. Holy Communion, 7 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon, 11 o'clock; evening prayer and sermon, 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; Hawaiian services, Rev. Leopold Kroll, pastor, 9:15 a. m.

St. Clement's Episcopal Church—Wilder avenue and Makiki street. Rev. John Osborne, rector; Rev. Leland H. Tracy, vicar. The services for Sunday morning, will be:

7 a. m.—Holy communion. 10 a. m.—Sunday school. 11 a. m.—Matins and sermon. 7:30 p. m.—Evensong and sermon.

The vicar, Rev. L. H. Tracy, will preach at both services. The theme for the morning will be "Left Alone Among the Nations of the World." For the evening, "The Revelation of the Righteous God."

St. Mark's Mission—Kapahulu road. Rev. Leopold Kroll, priest in charge. Services: Holy Communion, first Wednesday each month, 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school every Sunday at 10 a. m.

New Benevolent Association to Erect Building

Christian Science Directors Will Carry Out Mrs. Eddy's Plans By Providing for New Buildings at Chestnut Hill

The Christian Science movement is progressing very rapidly and very resistibly along the lines laid down for it by Mrs. Eddy, and the latest development along these lines is made public in the formation by the Christian Science board of directors of the Christian Science Benevolent Association, says the Christian Science Monitor. The buildings of the first home of this association will be erected on a part of the well-known Lyman estate, near the Chestnut Hill reservoir. The site is known as Smith's Tree Hill, as it was formerly surrounded by a high tree which used to act as a landmark to the captain bringing their ships into Boston. This ground is situated on Bolyton street and is near the Chestnut Hill Golf Club. The decision of the board of directors is embodied in the following announcement, which is printed simultaneously today in the Christian Science Sentinel:

"It is our pleasure and privilege to announce to the field that preliminary steps have just been taken toward the formation of a new and important department of the organized work of Christian Science, to be known as the Christian Science Benevolent Association. We present herewith a statement of the aims and purposes of this new activity, together with a brief history of its development from the time of its inception by Mrs. Eddy to the present.

"Those who were in personal touch with our leader know that she recognized and often spoke of the need, at this period of the demonstration of Christian Science, for properly conducted institutions where those seeking relief through Christian Science might find such care and attention as would assist in their recovery. In about the year 1904 Mrs. Eddy consulted with Mrs. Mary Beecher Longyear of Brookline, Mass., in regard to the founding by Mrs. Longyear of an institution which Mrs. Eddy proposed should be called a 'sanatorium,' and which should include provisions for such instruction in practical methods of caring for those under treatment as is consistent with the teachings of Christian Science."

In a letter to Mrs. Longyear under date of January 15, 1915, Mrs. Eddy wrote:

"God is moving on the face of the waters of your thoughts and His creations will appear."

"I propose that the institution you found be called sanatorium * * * that it be a resort for invalids without homes or relatives available in time of need; where they can go and recruit."

"Our cause demands a wider circle of means for the ends of philanthropy and charity and better qualifications for practical purposes. This latter lack in students of Christian Science is a great hindrance to our cause and it must be met and mastered. The students need to be qualified so that

BIG WORK DONE IN OCTOBER AT KOREAN 'Y. M.'

Inadequate Building Facilities Handicap Organization, Report Says

The October report of the Korean Y. M. C. A. indicates that much was accomplished during the month, although the work was carried on under the handicap of inadequate building facilities. Much credit is due Tai S. Lee, the general secretary, for the beneficial and progressive program offered the Korean young men and boys of the city.

During the month five special religious meetings were held at the Palama chapel. The total attendance passed the 150 mark, making the good average of 56 people each meeting.

An opportunity for social intercourse was presented in the nature of a social gathering at the Korean National Association building for the young men and friends of the Y. M. C. A. About 100 persons attended and spent the evening enjoying games. Refreshments were served.

Besides the foregoing features, night school facilities, four nights per week, were given to 160 young men. This work is conducted by M. K. Choo. A new educational committee was elected with Mr. Shin as president; Mr. Park, treasurer, and Mr. Kang, secretary.

The Tiger Club was reorganized and resumed its Bible study under the direction of Ray Baird of the central association. This year the boys will study Williams' "Men of the Old Testament." Besides the weekly Bible study meeting a monthly nature study trip in the mountains has been planned.

DR. SCUDDER WILL GIVE LAST SERMON AT-CENTRAL UNION

The mid-week meeting of Central Union church will be a service preparatory for the communion which will be celebrated on November 12, the last Sunday before Dr. Scudder leaves for Japan. As the succeeding service will take the form of a welcome to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. John H. Williams of Redlands, California, who are expected on November 14, this will be the occasion of the last mid-week service of Dr. Scudder's ministry, and every member of the church and congregation whether regular attendants at this service or not will doubtless wish to be present on this evening. The subject for consideration will be "The Cloud That Gave Light."

ROUSING CHEERS GIVEN TO BIBLE CLASS TEACHER

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Ten different Bible classes, held in the tents of various companies of the New Jersey regiments at Douglas, Arizona, have been conducted by the Young Men's Christian Association secretaries connected with the Army Association building at Douglas. One of the groups gave the teacher a unanimous vote of thanks for his work; another requested the leader's return by a rising vote.

It is not often that a Bible class teacher is given three cheers as an expression of appreciation. In the Army Young Men's Christian Association building at Douglas, Arizona, eight nationalities were represented in a group led by the secretary, as follows: Polish, Hebrew, Canadian, American, Italian, Irish, Scotch and English. It was after the class broke up that the Hebrew representative proposed three cheers for the leader, which were given with enthusiasm.

Five hundred men have been enrolled for Bible study in the camp of the Virginia troops at Brownsville, Texas. One hundred and fifty were present on Sunday, September 1, in spite of an hour's deluge of rain which began 10 minutes before the meeting hour.

Two Bible classes are held daily in connection with the branch Young Men's Christian Association which has been established at the army base hospital, Camp Wilson, San Antonio.

One Sunday in August, in the Army Association building with the Minnesota militia at Llano Grande, Texas, a secretary taught a Bible class, addressed two meetings and presided at the organ. The day in the building started with Episcopal communion, administered by the chaplain of the 1st Minnesota Infantry.

At association building, No. 3, Camp Wilson, San Antonio, three strong evangelistic services, with 1729 men present, were held on August 13. The attendance at a 15-minute devotional service before closing the building numbered 250 men.

Three religious meetings are held weekly in the Army Association building with Virginia troops at Brownsville, Texas.

IRON CROSS MAKES ACTOR'S 15TH MEDAL

BERLIN, Germany.—Carl Clewing of the Royal theater, now at the front, has received his fifteenth decoration in the Iron Cross, and is in consequence one of the most decorated actors in Germany. Only two others, Ludwig Barnay and Sigmund Lautenburg, are said to have more than 15 orders. The majority are not war medals, but decorations for histrionic art.

The gross earnings of the Boston & Worcester Street Railway for the month of September were $80,048.

ONE CHILD OUT OF EVERY SIX FOUND TO BE DEFECTIVE

Examination of English Schools Shows Conditions Appalling; State Control is Needed

[By Associated Press]
LONDON, England.—The surprising revelation that at least one-sixth of England's six million school children are "so physically or mentally defective or diseased as to be incapable of deriving reasonable benefit from the education which the state provides" is made in a report just issued by the chief medical officer of the board of education.

The report has aroused great interest and has come as a shock to the public generally. The Manchester Guardian says that the report "should awaken fears as to the nation's future sharply as would news of a disaster or defeat of our arms." It makes the point that the waste referred to is preventable and that while it is being lessened by better housing, better labor conditions and purer and cheaper food, together with ampler medical facilities and sounder ideas in education and hygiene, "the nation moves with incredible slowness."

State Control is Needed

Sir George Newman, the chief medical officer, at the conclusion of his report, indicates that a complete scheme is now practically ready that will enable the state to take entire charge of the child, mentally, physically and morally, with a view to preventing in future a repetition of reports as disappointing as that just issued. The transformation is to be accomplished through the aid of several agencies. The local education authorities, through their school medical service, have established a system of remedial and amelioration. Education committees, doctors, nurses and thousands of voluntary workers compose a cooperative system designed to save the child. The system is to extend from schools for mothers to the home and from welfare centers to juvenile employment. In his report Sir George Newman says:

"Eight years' work has brought to light a large mass of physical defect and disease, varied in character and widespread, most of it preventable. In regard to the data thus provided we can form two general conclusions. First, not less than a quarter of a million children are seriously crippled, invalided, or disabled; not less than a million school children are so physically or mentally defective or diseased as to be unable to derive reasonable benefit from the education which the state provides. If this figure be considered merely from a financial point of view and quite apart from the disease, suffering and premature death entailed, it will be seen that the state is not getting adequate returns, on physical grounds alone, for a substantial part of its expenditure on elementary education."

Supervision is Needed

"Consideration of the situation seems to indicate that the physical welfare, and in part the education, of the child of school age is dependent upon antenatal conditions; and dependent also upon post-school conditions. In other words, if we are determined to rear a healthy and virile race of high capacity, we must, from a physical standpoint, begin earlier and continue later than the hitherto accepted period of education. What is needed, indeed, is an effective supervision and a sound and practical training of the body from the end of infancy to adolescence. It is said sometimes that in the interest of economy the state cannot afford such a complete scheme. My submission is that in the interest of economy the state cannot afford to neglect a complete scheme."

ITALIAN SOLDIERS SEND BACK MILLIONS TO THEIR FAMILIES

[By Associated Press]
HEADQUARTERS OF THE ITALIAN ARMY, Oct. 20.—The soldiers each month send home to their families out of their pay four and a quarter million dollars, according to the army postoffice statistics. This fact is attributed to the economic disposition of the individual soldier and also to the abundant army ration which makes it unnecessary for him to buy private supplies of wine, tobacco, or food.

"Why, they wake us up in the morning to drink a glass of rum," said one enthusiastic Alpinist.

The total cost of the daily war zone ration is about 75 cents, according to the changes in the wholesale market prices. But the high cost of living felt in the homes never affects the quantity allotted the soldier.

The total quantity of the ration is 1860 grams or slightly over four pounds, with an additional allowance of 300 grams during periods of hard work or fighting. The daily bread of the soldier weighs one and one-half pounds, with two pounds on special occasions. His daily drink consists of half pint of wine, with a full pint in bad weather or during periods of hard labor.

The other items in his ration are meat, sugar, coffee, lard, potatoes or beans, salt, pepper, cheese, figs, chocolate, dry figs and cake.

TREES AND SHRUBS VALUABLE FOR HAWAII BROUGHT FROM THE TROPICS

Prof. Joseph F. C. Rock Successful in Hunt for Flora Attractive for Beauty and Some With Commercial Value — Famous Nipa Palm Secured

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
COLLEGE OF HAWAII, Nov. 1.—Professor Joseph F. C. Rock, head of the botany department of the College of Hawaii, and consulting botanist of the Board of Commissioners of Agriculture and Forestry, has recently returned from a collecting trip through the Dutch East Indies, which lasted about three months and took him over an area of 5000 miles. His main object was to visit the famous botanic gardens at Buitenzorg, Java, and to bring back certain plants which, with those collected on a previous trip around the world several years ago, now form the nucleus for an arboretum.

The largest part of Professor Rock's time was spent at these gardens, where he was shown the greatest courtesy and attention, being allowed to collect without restriction. These wonderful gardens have an approximate area of 6500 acres, and up to an elevation of 2000 feet contain tropical vegetation. At 5000 feet elevation are located the Gardens of Tibodas, where temperate zone vegetation is cultivated. Altogether there are about 1000 species of palms and 10,000 species of trees, all of which are arranged according to families. The gardens were planted in 1817 by the Dutch, under whose administration they now are.

Professor Rock collected seeds of 64 species of palms and of 35 species of trees, of which number there are many that will prove of interest to others than botanists. The most valuable and unique specimen obtained was the Antheristia nobilis, which is regarded as the finest flowering tree in existence. The mature tree reaches a height of about 35 or 40 feet, and has a magnificent foliage, especially the young leaves, which are pink and mottled, drooping gracefully from the end of the branches. The flowers are scarlet, and droop in large panicles from under the branches. During many years it has been attempted to introduce this tree into the Hawaiian Islands, Dr. Brigham being one of the first to try it, but all past efforts have failed; even the first effort of Professor Rock three years ago, when he brought eight seeds at $3 apiece in Java, were fruitless. As an example of the rarity of the tree, out of 25 trees in the Buitenzorg Gardens only two seeds were secured last year, one of which germinated, and it was presented to Professor Rock.

Four other leguminous trees of universal interest are the brodiaea grandis, and brownia hybrida, considered the second best flowering trees; saraca, with globose heads of orange yellow blossoms, and a Brazilian tree called schyzotobium excelsum, a magnificent species reaching a height of 150 feet, mainly planted for shade. The latter has already been planted. Nearly all the seeds secured have already germinated, and the only ones which are known to have died are 12 seedling wax palms Lyrtostachys lakka, which died during the journey.

Next in point of interest are a number of palms never before introduced. Some are from the island of Palawan, in the South Philippines, from Java, and from British Borneo. The two most interesting species are the true sago palm (metoxyylon sago) and the nipa palm. One of these is intended for Kapiolani park and another for Moanalua Gardens.

Of the forest trees the collection includes dipterocarpaceae, which family contains most of the commercial timbers of the Philippines, some members reaching a height of 300 feet. As the seeds lose their vitality within a few days, some even germinating on the tree, it is next to impossible to transplant them any distance at all. The dipterocarpaceae family is distributed not only over the Philippines, but also over the whole Malay archipelago and India.

Aside from flowering trees, Professor Rock collected some flowering climbers, notably the consea velutina, arrabida and gloriosa superba, the latter being a climbing lily.

Photographs were taken of the mature growth of all specimens collected. In order to guard against the introduction of plant diseases all the specimens had their native soils removed before passing the port of Honolulu, and were also fumigated. It is a gratifying fact that nearly all of them are in a healthy condition.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor, color, gloss and youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

WOULD SET ASIDE $100,000,000 TO HOUSE SOLDIERS

[By Associated Press]
LONDON, Sept. 30.—England's determination to provide the best possible housing accommodation for the soldiers on their return to civil life is reflected in plans formulated to set aside as a beginning $100,000,000 of government money as advances to local authorities and other agencies, to provide houses for the working classes at reasonable rent. Mr. Leng, president of the local government board, told a deputation that the plans actually before the board represented but a small beginning. He added:

"It would be a black crime to let our soldiers come back from water-logged and horrible trenches to something little better than a pigsty." He had told a deputation representing the housing and town-planning congress some time ago that the 20,000,000 pounds asked for by them should not represent even an index of what might be required. He emphasized that if the government came to the aid of the local authorities in this matter, it must be vital to the future of the race that there should be provision for as many as possible in these districts in order to keep the land occupied.

The move is one of many indicating that, in the estimation of the government, nothing is to be too good for the men who helped in the war on their return. It is a harbinger of the social revolution that has been so frequently predicted and which affects all classes.

PENN FOR MILITARY TRAINING

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Addressing the 3000 students of the University of Pittsburgh at the opening of the fall term, Chancellor S. B. McCormick said that military training would be established at the university under a regular army officer as soon as details could be worked out with the War Department.

A Highlander chat on milk

Doctors and specialists tell us to-day that much of modern disease is caused by impure milk—hence, the greatest care should be exercised with regard to the quality of the milk used in the home.

In warm climates it is especially difficult to secure a high-grade pure milk of standard quality. It is here that Highlander Milk (full cream) offers such advantages.

It gives you pure, rich, germ-free milk of standard quality, from which only the excess water has been removed by evaporation in vacuo.

Highlander Condensed Milk is made from the purest, richest milk of specially selected herds in the rich pastures of Southland, New Zealand—a district famed the world over for its model dairies and the exceptionally high quality of its dairy produce.

Highlander Condensed Milk challenges comparison with any brand prepared anywhere.

Why not test Highlander yourself. Get a tin to-day—use it in the home—use it for your cooking—try it in comparison with the brand you are now using, you'll readily admit its superiority as thousands of others have done.

HIGHLANDER Condensed MILK

There's a Free copy of the Highlander Cookery Book awaiting you—nearly 200 beautifully illustrated pages of practical, economical tested recipes. Send your name and address to-day to "Highlander," Fred L. Waldron, Ltd., Agents, Honolulu.

RELICS OF FATHER DAMIEN MAY BE SAFE NEAR LOUVAIN

Brother Dutton Writes to Star-Bulletin With Information on Mementoes

Interesting information regarding relics of Father Damien, the heroic minister of Molokai, which were destroyed, is furnished by Damien's successor, Brother Joseph Dutton, in a letter to the Star-Bulletin from the leper settlement. Brother Dutton says that so far as he knows the relics are safe in a museum 12 miles from the sacked and burned Louvain. It was first reported they were at the latter city.

Brother Dutton writes: Baldwin Home, Kilauea, Molokai, Oct. 28, 1916. My dear Star-Bulletin:

Pardon me for coming in without knocking. It isn't for "knocking." It's to help to help a couple of good friends, Mr. A. P. Taylor and the Star-Bulletin, in making more complete the little story of Father Damien relics begun in the Star-Bulletin of 20th inst., page 4. Any item about Father Damien catches the eye, and arouses the interest of nearly everyone. So the story should be somewhat complete. We may call this a two-story account. The first came from a brief and incomplete memorandum of mine. So a little more about the Father Damien relics.

Rev. Father James Beissel, now at Hilo, and I were the executors. Father Damien asked that I be allowed to arrange the accounts and effects. I did so, turning the records over to Bishop Hermann when completed. The last items being such effects as were reserved for the Damien Museum in Belgium. These were put in order and well fumigated in a new spare building at Bishop Home (operated by the Franciscan Sisters), near the steamer landing at Kalaupapa, two miles from Kilauea, on the opposite side of our little peninsula, both places being near our path. This hall consists of magnificent headlands about 2300 feet high. Our location is excellent for its purpose. Great stress of weather is infrequent. Some fruits grow well. In refreshing windward breezes the afflicted leper, wasting, passes away amidst the sublime grandeur of nature's everlasting monuments. So Father Damien passed away April 15, 1889, and the above arrangements followed concerning his effects. On April 15, 1893, I carried the last remaining pieces to Kalaupapa. The fumigation finished, everything was put in order for shipping. Father Wendelin at Kalaupapa attending to the latter on next steamer day. At once returning here to Kilauea, where my duties have always been, I remained here at Baldwin Home, without leaving the yard again in the past 23 1/2 years.

The effects sent to Belgium arrived safely, were sent to the Father Damien Museum at Tremeloo, some 12 miles from Louvain, where Father Damien was born (Joseph Devereux) January 3, 1840. Everything remains there safe at the museum so far as I have ever known. Bishop Libert might possibly have later news.

In the note to the secretary of the Promotion Committee my latest date, April 15, 1893, at Kalaupapa was given to explain that since said date I have had no connection with the affairs of that portion of the settlement. Also intimating that a certain charity fund the secretary had written me about, if accepted by Dr. Pratt, would doubtless be used at Kalaupapa, therefore a matter in which Kalaupapa could hardly be included; certainly not one for me to enter into the correspondence suggested, as Dr. Pratt would arrange the matter with Mr. McVeigh.

Also I stated about such funds my having succeeded in keeping clear of any connection with them, not interfering in board of health matters. Chiefly by means of a circular memorandum sent to many old friends over the mainland in place of letters due, in which I stated, amongst other things that no one was to imagine that funds for the leper settlement should be gathered, because of me or in my name, for such would be a calamity as the territorial government gave entire and very generous support for the settlement through its board of health. The substance of this went out in various ways for several years, about 1900. Therefore no public charity was ever started in any connection with myself that I ever heard of. Previous to 1900 there were some different conditions, but there is not time now to explain—may do so some other time.

With good will to all, very cheerfully and gratefully yours,

TEDDY DECLARES NATION HUMBLER IN WORLD'S EYES

Wilson's Weak-Kneed Foreign Policy Scored in Fiery Address

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, was denounced by Former President Theodore Roosevelt last night at a monster meeting addressed by Roosevelt at Cooper Union, as having uttered a sordid untruth when he said, "You cannot worship God on an empty stomach nor be a patriot when you are starving."

Roosevelt, in his characteristically vigorous manner, charged the Democratic administration with having humbled the United States in the eyes of the world through its foreign policy.

Only a Buchanan "A world cataclysm had overwhelmed civilization," said the former president. "The times demanded a Washington or a Lincoln. But unfortunately they were granted only another Buchanan."

Roosevelt denounced Wilson's administration as vacillating and weak. As a party to The Hague treaty, he said, the United States should not have stood idly by while Germany overran helpless Belgium. This country should not have permitted its citizens to be murdered and drowned at sea by a European power, nor to be ruthlessly killed on land by Mexican bandits.

Instead of "keeping us out of war," the Wilson administration, Roosevelt declared, had virtually involved us in war with Mexico, war in which many American lives were uselessly wasted and no good attained.

IN WAR ARENA

BRITISH TAKE TRENCHES

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 4. — Last night, after it had been taken for granted that the infantry fighting for the day was over, the British made a surprise attack upon the Germans west of Guedecourt, taking a number of trenches and wiping out the defenders, many of whom surrendered. The attack followed a number of feints against the same positions earlier in the day, the failure of the British to drive any of these early attacks home being described in yesterday's Berlin despatches as due to the strong German defense. The final attack, made in earnest, was a complete success.

Other raids were carried out after nightfall by the British storming parties entering the German lines near Arras and returning with prisoners and some machine guns.

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 4. — The combined French and British losses in killed, wounded, prisoners and missing for the past four months, during which the French and British were pushing their great offensive on the Somme front, totaled 600,000 men, according to an estimate made public here today by the German western headquarters.

The statement says that each square mile of territory captured by the Entente Allies cost them 5000 men. It is believed that this estimate is conservative, headquarters say, as the British in their lists of losses admitted total losses of 372,000 men up to the end of September.

FRESNO GRAPE GROWERS SUFFERED HEAVY LOSS

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 4.—Thirty per cent of the muscat grapes of the Fresno grape district of the San Joaquin Valley, valued at two and a half millions of dollars, were destroyed by the early rains of this year, so far as their value for raisin making was concerned, according to a statement issued here yesterday by James Madison, president of the California Associated Raisin Company.

Vote for the Bond Issue

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU:
GENTLEMEN—

Besides voting for Delegate, Senators and Representatives on November 7, you are asked to decide whether the City and County shall issue bonds for certain improvements mentioned on the ballot that will be handed to you at the booths.

All of these improvements are necessary for the health and welfare of the people. The Congress of the United States and the Legislature of Hawaii have given power to the counties to borrow money for great public improvements, but until now the City and County of Honolulu has not taken any advantage of this privilege. The Territory has borrowed eight million dollars ($8,000,000), of which Honolulu has been given something over one million, mostly in the shape of the city water works debt. Not one dollar of loan money has been raised by Honolulu to spend for improvements needed to be made for itself.

Honolulu has a right to its share of the credit given to the Territory and the counties, and it must have it if the taxes are not to be raised. It is the taxpayers' money which is used to repay loans expended by the Territory, and the taxpayers of this island of Oahu are paying a large share of the cost of public improvements on the other islands. It is time they were allowed their full share of loan money for their own benefit.

These large improvements cannot be made out of the present City and County revenue, and the choice is between the issue of bonds and the raising of taxes. The improvements are necessary NOW, to protect the health of the people and to save the money being wasted to keep up roads that will not stand the heavy traffic of today.

This proposed loan will pay for itself within a very few years, so that there will be no increase of taxes to redeem the bonds.

If you mark your ballots "YES" on each of the questions given, it will mean nearly half a million dollars for improvements in the coming year. Most of this money will go into the pockets of the mechanics and laborers of this island. It will help all kinds of business, besides which the people all over the island will share in the benefits to be provided by the money.

Vote for every one of the proposals, as what benefits one part of the City and County benefits the whole community.

CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU

It is proposed to issue bonds of this City and County to the amount of Four Hundred and Eighty Thousand ($480,000.00) Dollars, or to such specific detailed amount as shall be approved by the following detailed projects, said bonds shall be redeemable by lot at any time after five (5) years and payable in fifteen (15) years from the date thereof, to bear interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum, and the proceeds thereof to be used as follows:

U-57 TO CONVOY DEUTSCHLAND HOME

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 4. — The German merchant submarine Deutschland will be convoyed back to its home port by a war submarine, according to a statement made yesterday by Captain Koenig of the Deutschland. He states that the U-57, a sister of the U-53 which recently raided against the shipping of the Allies off Nantucket, is expected to meet his ship somewhere outside of the three-mile limit and accompany it back to German waters. The Deutschland will leave probably within the next ten days.

HUGHES PREDICTS REPUBLICAN VICTORY

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—"I return home, pretty sure that the fight has been won and that when the votes are counted next Tuesday night, it will be found that a Republican president has been elected," said Charles Evans Hughes yesterday when he arrived in Brooklyn at the end of his last journey as Republican candidate for the presidency of the United States. During the day Mr. Hughes delivered four addresses in Brooklyn, in the course of which he assailed the administration's foreign policy, both in Mexico and in Europe. He argued that whereas President Wilson was that he "kept us out of war," he had running for reelection on the ground really been at war with Mexico.

STOCK MARKET SHOWS STRONG TONE AND SCORES ADVANCES IN OCTOBER

Few Securities Decline and Several Advance; Crop Estimates Are Good and Sugar Plantations Are Physically in Good Shape; Present Prices Are Indicative of Larger Earnings for Island Companies in 1917

During October, and thus far in November, the general tendency of the stock market has been upward. There are numbers of stocks that have not changed in price materially in that time but ten advances can be seen to three stocks that declined. Hawaiian Pineapple made the greatest advance and Pala Plantation scored the largest decline.

Comparing the stock sheets with those of a month ago it appears that Ewa has advanced $1 a share, Hawaiian Sugar 3-4, Honokaa 2-1/2, McBryde 3-4, Oahu 1-2, Onomea 1, Pioneer 1-2, San Carlos 2 3/4, Hawaiian Pineapple 3-4 and Oahu Railway 2. Pala declined $15, C. Brewer $10 and Oia is the only sugar stock to fall away, its loss being 1-7/8 points. This was occasioned first by the statement as to dividends and next by lack of obtainable information as to earnings in advance of the usual end of the year statement.

Of the unlisted stocks Engels Copper scored and maintained the largest advances. A month ago it was $2.90 a share and at that time Honolulu Oil was at the same figure. Mineral Products is now little changed from its price of a month ago though it gained considerably in the highest figures reached by it during that period. Tipperary and Mountain King are lower.

Figures on the estimated crops, of nearly all of the plantations of the territory have already been published in the Star-Bulletin. Within a short time the last figures from the plantations of the Sugar Factors' company will have been filed with that company for shipping purposes and when this is done it will be possible to secure and to publish the full list of crop estimates of such plantations. Thus far the Star-Bulletin has secured and published the first estimates of the entire crop of the islands which, though considerably larger than this year's crop was also considerably smaller than the guesses made by some optimists.

Waialua and Ewa have furnished statements showing estimates of expenses, receipts and balance on hand at the end of the year which show high degree of prosperity for both.

Generally the condition of the various plantations, of their crops, and of their finances appear to be better than ever before. Mainland reports give higher sugar prices. All in all prices of and even advances in the various sugar stocks, generally appear to be warranted and the only matter of unusual uncertainty is the probable duration of the European war upon which largely depends a maintenance of present sugar prices and consequent earnings and dividends of the producing plantations. At the same prices as this year and with a larger crop larger dividends can be earned and if the prices of today should be continued on into the new crop still greater earnings and dividends are to be expected.

WEEKLY PRODUCE REPORT

By A. T. LONGLEY, Marketing Superintendent.
WEEK ENDING OCT. 27, 1916
ISSUED BY THE TERRITORIAL MARKETING DIVISION

Eggs have taken another jump and are now selling from 68 to 70c whole sale, the highest price during the past two years.

There is a shortage of all kinds of dry beans in Honolulu at the present time, and it is likely that the first beans to reach the market from the fall crop will bring record prices. All those farmers who took the advice of the division to plant a large proportion of their land in beans will be well repaid. Red beans and small whites are in greatest demand. There is a good market for small yellow corn. Some of the corn received lately has been damp, and had to be sold at reduced prices. Producers should be sure their corn is thoroughly dry before bagging as damp corn will soon heat and mold in the sacks, and become worthless.

There is beginning to be a shortage of beef in the local markets and it looks as though this will hold the price of pork up in spite of the large quantity on the market.

Nothing has been heard from the turkey raisers regarding the quantity they will have for the market this year. They should not complain if they find, during the holiday season, that all of the retailers are well supplied with coast turkeys, and the price of island turkeys is very low.

AUTO AS COW PONY
IN USE OF A FORD

MEAD, Colo.—Modern times has seen the use of the auto for almost everything imaginable, but it remained for Joe Bradley of this place to employ the auto to supplant the favorite pony as a means of herding stock.

He had a herd of 10 horses in a pasture belonging to A. Mosher, several miles from town, that he desired to bring to town, but had no pony on which to ride. Finally he conceived the idea of using his Ford, and, taking a friend with him, he drove to the pasture, opened the gate and let the horses out into the highway. Following them with the auto and occasionally taking off over the prairie a short distance after one straying from the herd, he managed to get all 10 horses to town in as short time as if he had used the old-fashioned way of herding.

A freshman class estimated to number more than 700 was on hand for the opening of the 281st year at Harvard University.

BRAZIL'S COFFEE CROP WILL FALL UNDER ESTIMATE

(By Consul General Alfred L. Moreau, Gottschalk, Rio de Janeiro.)

From all appearances Brazil's coffee crop for this year (1916-17) will not reach the expected figure. In 1915-16 the yield was 11,744,500 bags—a total exceeded only in 1906-7, when 15,292,200 bags were produced. While for some months it was held that the crop of this year would be a notable one and would amount to over 10,000,000 bags, it is now generally conceded that it will not reach the 9,000,000 mark.

As late as June favorable weather had prevailed; the coffee trees of the State of Sao Paulo were in fine condition, and everything pointed to an unusually good flowering in August; but some light frost was felt in the highland districts in July, and the rains ceased, so that the August flowering proved unusually weak. Again in early September there was a slight frost. The planters in the southern states of Brazil are confident, however, that their improved methods of culture are steadily increasing the average crop of each succeeding year, although bad conditions may sometimes diminish the individual total of one particular year.

Prices appear to have been advancing steadily under the favorable predictions that were made some months ago. A singular condition is reported of prices abroad having advanced but not on a par with the advances in the State of Sao Paulo, so that transactions are rendered difficult. It is said that many growers in the south are holding their crop until the consumers will be forced to buy at the planters' price, and that price may go considerably higher if the droughts continue.

The stock in Santos, said to be a little over 2,000,000 bags, is not counted large for this season of the year. It is said that 25 per cent or less of this stock is what is known as "good roasting coffee," which is a very unusual situation.

Freight Rates An Important Factor
Coffee freights to the United States stood in January of this year at 60 cents plus 5 per cent per bag. They gradually increased to $2.20 plus 5 per cent, but subsequently dropped to $1 plus 5 per cent in June and July.

This was followed by an upward movement, which surprised many and which is attributed to the shortage of the grain crop in the United States and consequent demand for bottoms on the Argentine route. Freighters in early September were $1.65 to $1.80 plus 5 per cent per bag, and on one line of steamers $2.

PROPOSED RAPID TRANSIT LINES HELP SELL LOTS

Following the announcement of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company that it intended to extend the car line along School street the sale of lots in the McInerney tract took a decided jump this week and C. H. Desky, agent, reports the largest number of sales yet recorded.

In the McInerney tract, George R. Clark bought lots 4 and 5, block 3, section D, at $1500; Mrs. Maria L. Harpham, lots 1 and 2, block 1, section E, $1490; Leonard Ford, lots 7 and 8, block 2, section A, $800; C. H. Behn, lot 22, block 3, section D, $936; Pang Chang, lots 4 and 5, block 3, section A, $1200; S. D. Pang, lot 10, block 3, section A, $400; John Kapuwal, lots 1, 2 and 3, block 15, section A, $1135; and John Huihui, lot 3, block 16, section A, $350.

Other lots sold by Desky are two in Woodlawn to Mrs. James Quinlan and Mrs. Fanny Hall, the former paying $830 and the latter $710.
Another sale of the week is the L. C. Abies property at the corner of Kewalo street and Wilder avenue by Jas. F. Moran & Company to a client for $14,000.

PERMITS SHOW BETTER CLASS BUILDING DONE

Total is Smallest in Year But Costs Are Fourth and Average Largest

Although building permits issued in October, 84 in number, was the smallest of any month this year, yet the total estimated cost of the buildings, $188,689.75, was fourth in size, the average for each permit was the highest, it being $2245.35 against $2231.72 in August, which holds the record this year for the highest total.

Another interesting feature for October is the large number of permits issued for cottages and bungalows, the estimated costs of which are under $500. The number is 18 and besides these there were also permits for approximately half that number for dwellings between $500 and $1000. The 84 permits were issued for the following purposes: Fifty-four for the building or alteration of dwellings, 16 for stores and theaters, seven servants' quarters and garages, one church, one clubhouse and five for minor repairs.

The different amounts for which the permits were issued are from $100 to $500, 33; $500 to $1000, 23; $1000 to $2000, 10; $2000 to $3000, 8; $3000 to $4000, 5; $4000 to $5000, 1; $5000 to $30,000 1, and over $30,000, 2.

ESTIMATED BEET SUGAR CROP IS 7,500,000 TONS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13.—The Department of Agriculture places the condition of the sugar beet crop at harvest time at 86.3 per cent for October 1, as compared with the corrected rating of 88.7 per cent for September 1, or a decrease of 2.4 per cent for the month intervening, due to unfavorable weather conditions.

The harvest record is 3.4 per cent below the 10-year average for the crop. An important development in the government's estimate is the apparent decrease in the average yield per acre, the figures showing that the output per acre this year is estimated at an average of 9.8 tons per acre, compared with 10.7 tons in 1915. The cause of this decrease in the average per acre yield for the country is due to the unfavorable weather conditions that affected plantings and the early growth of beets in the spring, especially in the eastern states and to a minor degree in the mountain states and California.

In spite of the weather handicap the government forecasts a record beet crop for this campaign, and the output is placed at 7,500,000 tons, or about 1,000,000 tons in excess of the 1915 production. Officially the increased production of the beet crop is placed for 1916 at 15.3 per cent over last year.

The government's figures estimating the acreage remains unchanged at 768,500 acres planted to beets, or a 15.7 per cent increase over 1915. Such gains as the final production figures will show will therefore be due this year to the increased acreage, and the government estimate indicates they will closely balance.

BOWLER & INGVOSEN SECURE CONTRACT FROM PLANTERS' ASSOCIATION

The Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association has accepted the bid of Bowler & Ingvosen to build their new administration building for the planters' experiment station on Keeaumoku street. The appropriation set aside for the building was $30,000 and Bowler & Ingvosen's bid was $3000 higher. At first it was announced that the association would either call for new bids or not erect the building until some later date. At a meeting held Thursday afternoon, however, it was decided to accept the bid of $30,000 of Bowler & Ingvosen and the contract has been awarded to them.

The plans of the structure were drawn by Ripley & Davis, architects. The building will be constructed of concrete and contain an assembly room, and offices for the various officials.

LOUISIANA SELLS THIRD OF CROP, HARVEST GOES ON

Present Sales Total Over Half Million Bags and Growers Face Prosperous Days

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 13.—Louisiana planters are in the unusual position of having disposed of approximately one-third of their crop, possibly more, before harvesting operations are well under way. This condition indicates the great demand for sugar and reflects the general prosperity. It is a strong contrast to conditions in the Louisiana field in recent years, when uncertainty reigned and the planters came to the harvest season largely on faith.

Now that good feeling has been restored generally in the Louisiana industry and all elements are working together, the indications are that the industry will be in a position to face the era of keen competition that will set in after the conclusion of the European war. The present prospects are so encouraging that optimism reigns among the planters. Sugar is such a vital factor in the prosperity of the state that the encouraging symptoms in the industry have affected all classes of the population.

The threat of the abolition of the sugar tariff a few years ago hit the Louisiana planters harder than any other domestic producers. The recovery of the industry under present prosperous conditions has therefore been received with general gratification throughout the state.

In addition to the 50,000 tons of test sugars purchased by the American, which amount approximates some 300,000 bags, the Colonial Sugar Company announces that it has completed arrangements to refine about 150,000 bags at its Gramercy refinery on a tollage of 55 cents a hundred pounds. Henderson has also closed contracts for some 40,000 bags. In all 500,000 or more bags of Louisiana raws have been taken off the market, or over one-third of the probable production of raws, if estimates of a 250,000-ton cane crop are anywhere near correct. New crop plantation or direct consumption sugar is expected here in a day or two. The Allendale factory, at West Baton Rouge parish, is now operating and it is reported that 210 barrels have been shipped to New Orleans. This should be on the market the first of next week.

AUCTION SALE OF LOTS ON PACIFIC HEIGHTS SUCCESS

As there were several lots of the Charles Wallace Booth estate on Pacific Heights not sold at the public auction held October 28 at the offices of Jas. F. Morgan Co., Ltd., another auction sale will be held in the near future. According to officers of the Hawaiian Trust Company, administrator of the estate, there have been a large number of inquiries from would-be purchasers and at the next sale the remainder will undoubtedly be sold.

At the sale last Saturday 13 lots were sold for a total of $19,425 and are as follows:

NEWS AND PRACTICAL INFORMATION ABOUT AUTOMOBILES

HOW ELECTRICITY IS MADE TO PERFORM ITS VARIOUS FUNCTIONS IN THE AUTOMOBILE'S SYSTEM IS EXPLAINED FOR BENEFIT OF THE MOTORIST

Herewith is presented the fourth instalment of a series of articles designed to give the motorist the knowledge necessary to enable him to care for and repair any and all of the electrical features of his car, no matter what make or model it may be.

These articles are reproduced by permission from Motor Age, for which they have been prepared by David Penn Moreton and Darwin S. Hatch.

In general terms, a force is that which produces, stops, changes or tends to produce, stop or change the motion or rest of a body. Thus, a force always must be applied to a body to cause it to move, as when you push on a car, and a force must be applied in order to increase or decrease the velocity of a body that is in motion. A force does not always produce motion, but may only tend to produce it, as when you push on a brick wall you apply a muscular force, but there is not necessarily any movement of the wall.

There are a number of different kinds of force, some of the most common of which are as follows: Gravitational force, as a result of which all bodies fall from a higher to a lower level; mechanical force, which may be produced by the explosion of a gas mixture in the cylinder of the gas engine; electrical force, which produces or tends to produce a movement of electricity in the electrical circuit, etc. The electrical force is commonly produced by chemical action in the battery or by means of an electrical generator.

If a force overcomes a certain resistance, work is done; or work is the result of the action of a force through a certain distance. Work is measured in a unit which is a combination of the unit in which the force is measured and the unit in which the distance is measured. For example, if you push on a car with a force of 75 pounds and the car moves through a distance of 200 feet the work done will be equal to the product of the value of the force and the distance through which the force acts, or $75 \times 200 = 15,000$ foot-pounds.

It must be clearly understood that a force may exist without work being done, as when you shove on a wall you do not work unless there is an actual movement as a result of the force.

If a man carries 100 pounds of material from one floor of a building to another floor which is 50 feet above the one from which he started he will do 100 times 50 or 5000 foot-pounds of work.

A man would do the same amount of work in carrying 200 pounds of material up a height of 25 feet, 50 pounds up a height of 100 feet, etc.

If a pump raises 1200 gallons of water a vertical height of 100 feet and each gallon weighs 8.33 pounds, the work done by the pump will be equal to the weight of the water raised multiplied by the distance through which it is raised. The weight of the water raised in this particular case is equal to $1200 \times 8.33 = 10,000$ pounds, and since this weight of water is raised 100 feet the work will be equal to $10,000 \times 100 = 1,000,000$ foot-pounds.

The same amount of work would be done in raising 600 gallons to a height of 200 feet, 2400 gallons to a height of 50 feet, etc.

A motor car weighing 5000 pounds is to be raised from the ground floor of a building by means of a freight elevator to one of the upper floors which is 50 feet above the ground floor. Assuming that the elevator is properly counterbalanced, and neglecting the friction of the guides, pulleys, ropes, etc., what will be the value of the work done in raising the car to the upper floor? The actual work done in raising the car is equal to the weight of the car multiplied by the distance through which it is raised, namely, $5000 \times 50 = 250,000$ foot-pounds.

Electricity at Work

The same amount of work would be done in raising a car weighing 6000 pounds a vertical distance of 25 feet. In raising one weighing 1500 pounds a vertical distance of 100 feet, etc.

A disabled car is being drawn by a second car at a constant speed on a level street and a spring balance which is connected in the tow rope indicates a pull of 100 pounds. The work done in pulling the car a distance of two miles is equal to the distance in feet multiplied by the pull on the car, or 2×5280 (or 10,560 feet) multiplied by 100, or 1,056,000 foot-pounds.

The same amount of work would be done in drawing a disabled car one mile, if the pull on the tow rope were 200 pounds; in drawing a car four miles, if the pull on the tow rope were 50 pounds, etc.

If a unit quantity of electricity, or one coulomb, is moved from some point on an electrical circuit to another point on the circuit whose electrical pressure is one volt higher than —Transformation of energy in a motor car

Comparing the closed water circuit and the electrical circuit

the first point one unit of electrical work will be done upon the quantity of electricity which is moved. This unit of electrical work is called the joule. The quantity of electricity in coulombs passing through a circuit in a certain time is equal to the product of the steady current in amperes and the time in seconds. For example, if a storage battery when being charged takes a current of four amperes the quantity of electricity passing through the battery in one hour, or 3600 seconds, will be equal to 4×3600 , or 14,400 coulombs. If the pressure between the terminals of the battery is known, then the work in charging the battery for one hour will be equal to the product of the quantity of electricity and the value of the difference in electrical level through which it is raised. Hence the work done in this particular case is equal to $14,400 \times 7$, or 100,800 joules.

The same amount of work would be done in charging a battery if the current was two amperes and the battery was on charge for two hours; if the current was one ampere and the battery was on charge four hours, etc. Likewise, the same amount of work would be done if the current was eight amperes, the pressure was 3.5 volts and the battery was on charge for one hour; if the current was two amperes, the pressure 14 volts and the battery was on charge one hour, etc.

What is the work done in operating a starting motor for two minutes if it takes a current of 150 amperes from a six volt battery?

The quantity of electricity moved is equal to the time in seconds, which is 60×2 , or 120 seconds, multiplied by the current in amperes.

The work done will be equal to the product of the electrical pressure and the difference in electrical level through which the electricity moves, or $18,000 \times 7$, which is equal to 126,000 joules.

In this case the electricity does work as it passes through the motor because it is passing from a point of higher electrical pressure to a point of lower electrical pressure, or it is running down hill electrically.

The same amount of work would be done in operating the motor for four minutes if it took a current of 75 amperes, in operating it for one minute if it took a current of 300 amperes, etc.

Energy

Energy may be defined as the ability to do work. Thus, the energy of a certain quantity of water standing in a pool in the street is zero with respect to the street level, as it is not capable of operating a water wheel or any other device when such a device is on the same level as the water. If the water contained in this pool be raised to the roof of a building the water then possesses some energy with respect to the level of the street and is capable of operating a water wheel or any other device when such a device is on the street level or located at any point below the level of the water. The energy possessed by the water with reference to the street level when it is raised to the top of the building is equal to the work done in raising the water from the street level to the top of the building.

For example, when 1200 gallons of water are raised to the top of a building which is 100 feet above the level of the street the work done, we found in the previous section, was 1,000,000 foot-pounds. The energy possessed by this water, then, is 1,000,000 foot-pounds, and it will do that amount of work if allowed to fall to the street level, 100 feet below. You can think of work as being the expenditure of energy, and energy, of course, is the ability to do work. The energy possessed by 600 gallons of water which have been raised a vertical height of 200 feet, 2400 gallons of water which have been raised 50 feet, etc., is the same as the energy possessed by the 1200 gallons which have been raised 100 feet.

In the case of the car, the work done in raising it a vertical height of 50 feet was 250,000 foot-pounds, and the energy of the car when it is on the upper floor, 50 feet above the ground, is 250,000 foot-pounds with respect to the ground floor. If the car be placed on the elevator and allowed to descend to the ground floor it may be made to do just as much work, such as lifting the counterweight, as was done upon it in raising it to the upper floor, neglecting losses of all kinds.

Storing Energy

The work done in drawing the disabled car we found to be 1,056,000 foot-pounds, but the energy possessed by the car at the end of the journey was no different from what it was at the beginning, because the car was drawn along a level path. All of the work done on the car is used in overcoming the friction of the various parts. As a result, no energy is stored, as in the case of the water which was raised to the top of the building and the car which was raised in the electrical circuit, as was done upon it from which it started. If no energy be lost in applying the brakes and the car starts and ends at the same level, the same amount of work will be done in moving it along a level road as is done in moving it along an up and down road, as the energy stored in the car as it goes up hill will be used when it goes down grade.

The energy of a certain quantity of electricity at a given point in an electrical circuit with respect to a second point in an electrical circuit is equal to the work done in raising the quantity of electricity from the second point to the first. Thus, in the case of the storage battery, as given in the previous section, the work done was 100,800 joules and this represents the energy stored in the battery, assuming that all of the work done is used in producing a reverse chemical action in the battery. As a matter of fact the work done in charging the battery will be greater than the energy stored in the battery, as some work done will be used in overcoming the internal resistance of the battery.

The work in operating the starting motor will be transformed into mechanical work and may turn the engine or do other kinds of work. If the motor turns the engine there will be no energy stored, but if it raises a weight part of the work it does will overcome the friction of the mechanism it is driving, and part of the work will be used in raising the weight.

The work done in raising the weight will represent the value of the energy possessed by the weight in its second position with regard to its first position. This stored energy may be used in doing work.

Water and Electrical Circuits Compared

A comparison of the operation of the closed water circuit and the electrical circuit, shown in the accompanying illustration, will be of interest inasmuch as they are quite similar.

The water circuit consists of a pump connected in series with a water motor by means of several pipes, and the circuit is controlled by the valve. The pipes, pump and motor are supposed to be filled with water, and when the valve is open there is a flow of water in the circuit; just as much water returns to the pump as leaves it; just as much water leaves the motor as enters it; in fact, the current of water is exactly the same at every point in the circuit at any instant. Remember, the water is not used up.

The electrical circuit consists of a generator connected in series with an electric motor by means of several wires, and the circuit is controlled by means of the switch. The generator does not create electricity but merely produces the pressure which tends to cause the electricity to move through the circuit. The same quantity of electricity leaves the generator as enters it; the same quantity of electricity leaves the motor as enters it; in fact, the current of electricity is exactly the same at every point in the circuit at any instant. Remember, the elec-

If the water is not used up in the water motor and the electricity is not used up in the electric motor, what is it, then, that causes the water and electrical motors to operate in their respective circuits? The pump causes the water to flow from a point of low pressure to a point of high pressure as the water passes through the pump and in so doing imparts energy to the water. The energy possessed by the water as it leaves the pump is greater than the energy it possesses when it enters the pump, and as a result the water is capable of doing work as it passes through the circuit outside the pump. This energy, or ability to do work, possessed by the water is used in causing the water to flow through the pipes and in operating the water motor.

The generator in the electrical circuit causes the electricity to pass through the generator from the terminal of lower electrical pressure to the terminal of higher electrical pressure and in so doing imparts energy to the electricity. The energy possessed by the electricity as it leaves the generator is greater than the energy it possesses when it enters the generator, and as a result the electricity is capable of doing work as it passes around the outside circuit. This energy, or ability to do work, possessed by the electricity is used in causing the electricity to flow through the wires and in operating the electric motor.

The pressure produced by the pump may be high, low or what may be called a medium value. If the pressure is low, a relatively large quantity of water must pass through the pipes in a given time in order to operate the water motor; while if the pressure is high the quantity of water that must pass through the pipes in a given time is relatively small. The energy possessed by the water when it is acting under a high pressure is greater than when it is acting under a low pressure, and hence a certain quantity of water in a high pressure system is capable of doing more work than a like quantity in a low pressure system. The current in the high pressure circuit will be less than the current in the low pressure circuit.

A similar relation exists in the electrical circuit between the quantity and pressure. That is, the higher the pressure the less the quantity of electricity required to do a certain amount of work, and the lower the pressure the larger the quantity to do the same amount of work. Since there is a smaller quantity of electricity required in the high pressure circuit than in the low pressure circuit in order to do a certain amount of work, and assuming the length of time required to do this work is the same in both cases, it is obvious that the current of electricity in the high pressure circuit will be less than the current of electricity in the low pressure circuit, just as the current of water in the high pressure water circuit will be less than the current of water in the low pressure water circuit.

The high pressure electrical circuit must be insulated or better protected electrically than the low pressure electrical circuit, just as the walls of the pipes in the high pressure water circuit must be stronger than the walls of the pipes in the low pressure water circuit.

The amount of energy in the universe is always the same, but it assumes many different forms, and it is possible for us to transform certain kinds of energy into other kinds of energy. A good example of the transforming process is found in the operation of the steam engine and generator. We start with the energy stored in the coal or other fuel, and a part of this energy is used in heating the water in the boiler and thus producing a steam pressure. A part of the energy possessed by the steam is transformed into mechanical energy in the engine which drives the generator. In the generator a part of the mechanical energy used in driving it is transformed into electrical energy.

The electrical energy produced by the generator may be used in charging a storage battery, where a part of it will be transformed into chemical energy; it may be used in operating an electric heater, where a part of the electrical energy is transformed into heat energy; it may be used in operating an electric motor, where a part of the electrical energy is transformed into mechanical energy, and may be used in driving a pump, starting a gasoline engine, operating a fan, etc.; it may be used in operating an incandescent or arc lamp, where a part of it is transformed into a radiant or light energy, etc.

In operating the gas engine we start with the energy stored in the fuel which may be a gas or liquid, and a part of this energy is transformed into mechanical energy, which may be used in driving the motor car, the charging generator, circulating pump, etc. You see numerous examples every day in which these or other transformers of energy are taking place.

The all important point to remember is that we are not creating or destroying energy, but merely transforming it from one kind to another which will better serve our purpose.

In general there are two kinds of energy, and these are called potential and kinetic energy, respectively. Potential energy is the energy due to position or condition, as, for example the energy possessed by a certain quantity of water with respect to the ground level when the water is located on a level above the ground; the energy possessed by the volume of water held behind the dam above the water wheel; the energy possessed by a steel spring after it has been put under a strain, perhaps elongated, compressed or bent out of shape; the energy possessed by a quantity of air stored in a pressure tank or a pneumatic tire, etc.; the energy stored in the primary or secondary battery; the energy stored in the coal, gasoline, gas, wood, etc., and numerous other examples.

Kinetic energy is the energy of a body due to its motion, as, for example, a car in motion; the energy stored in a fly wheel when it is turning; the energy stored in a stone or other body when it is falling, etc.

In throwing a baseball up in the air, the following transformations take place: We start with potential energy stored in the individual who is going to throw the ball, and a part of this energy is imparted to the ball and it is in the form of kinetic energy as the ball leaves the pitcher's hand. This kinetic energy is transformed into potential energy as the ball goes up into the air and finally it possesses no kinetic energy just at the instant it is neither going up nor down. The potential energy is then transformed into kinetic energy as the ball descends, and the greater part of this kinetic energy will be transformed into heat energy when the ball strikes in the glove or hands of the catcher.

Various Transformations

In the various transformations of energy from one kind to another the transformation is not altogether complete; that is, it is never 100 per cent efficient. Some of it always will be transformed into some other form which we do not want, usually heat.

For example, the electrical energy from a battery which is connected to a starting motor is not all transformed into mechanical energy, as a part of the output of the battery will be used in causing the electricity to flow through the resistance of the various parts of the circuit. This energy will manifest itself by heating the circuit; but is, it will appear as heat energy. All of the mechanical energy generated in the electric motor is not available to turn the engine crankshaft in starting, as a part of the generated mechanical energy must be used in overcoming the friction of the bearing of the motor, the friction of the brushes on the commutator, the fan-like action of the armature as it revolves, which is called windage, and certain other losses which tend to prevent the armature turning.

Returning to the more important electrical circuits, or circles, of the motor car, we find the following transformations taking place, as shown in the illustration. Mechanical energy is transformed into electrical energy in the generator and the magneto. Electrical energy is transformed into heat energy in the spark plug, the electric lamp, the electric heater, the cigar lighter and in the various conductors carrying a current. Electrical energy is transformed into chemical energy in the storage battery when the battery is being charged and the chemical energy in the battery is transformed into electrical energy when the battery is discharging.

LOCAL FIRESTONE DEALER ATTENDS BIG CONVENTION

P. M. Smoot Attends Big Gathering at Plant in Akron; Was Royally Entertained

P. M. Smoot, president and treasurer of the local firm of Smoot & Steinhauser, Ltd., recently attended the annual sales convention of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, which was held at Akron, O., on October 17, 18 and 19.

When Smoot left the islands he did not fully realize what a tremendous organization was back of the Firestone Company. Neither did he realize that this big family, composed of thousands of individuals, could work together in such harmony. After the three days' session of the convention were over Mr. Smoot stated that he was amazed at the manner in which the whole convention was handled. In his own words he said: "It seemed to me more like a huge family gathering and everyone seemed to be vitally interested and concerned with everything that took place. Firestone can be justly proud of the men that are behind him and it is greatly due to his personality that the men are so firmly bound in what might be termed a Brotherhood of Most Miles Per Dollar."

The men attending this convention came from all over the world and for three days assembled in daily conference, at which company executives, branch managers and salesmen made spirited addresses, full of valuable pointers. Discussions on the vital tire problems and new business methods resulted in abundant gain by each man. The data obtained will be put to use in the field, with the customer as the ultimate gainer.

This year the meetings took place in the new Firestone Clubhouse, just finished at a cost of more than $390,000. This is intended for the use of Firestone employees and has every convenience necessary for their comfort. The general assemblies were held in the large auditorium.

The social side of this convention was not neglected, for dinners and banquets at local hotels and theater parties were included. However, serious business was dominant throughout and at the close of the convention E. J. Firestone, sales manager, remarked: "Of course, a large investment is involved in these days of study and interchange of ideas, but the result will be adequate dividends for the tire user. We feel that we now have an even more alert and better informed sales organization and thus we can serve our customers more efficiently than ever. And this latter idea strikes the every keynote of this corporation—the greatest in the history of the Firestone Company."

Mr. Smoot will spend considerable time in the states and will visit New York, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., and other Eastern cities.

THEY CAN BRING COAL IN WITHOUT SPOILING LAWNS

Packard Co. Has New Arrangement Whereby Dirt is Kept Away From Residence

Modern efficiency experts are always devising some new way of cutting the costs of doing business, of making every minute count, not only so profits may be maintained, but better service rendered to the public.

One of the latest stunts in the coal business is the "wheel-in" and "stowing" crew. Just as the householder becomes worried about the big pile of coal dumped into the street from a big Packard chainless truck, the "stowing" crew dashes up. And they come in style, too, by light delivery car, which carries four to six men and wheelbarrows, shovels, planks, etc.

In a jiffy the equipment is on the ground. The men place planks on the lawn so that the sod will not be cut and the work of making the big coal pile vanish is on under the direction of the foreman, who knows just how to go about this kind of work. Some of the men load and other wheel, so there is a continuous procession. At last every bit of the precious coal has been thrown into the bin. The men load their wheelbarrows and planks and shovels on to the delivery car and are off to some other point.

That the work of a "wheel-in" crew may be carried on with the utmost efficiency it is necessary that the coal firm lay out a definite route of deliveries each day. The big Packards then start out, dumping two tons here, three there, five at some other place, and so on. The truck doesn't wait for the "stowing" crew to appear, but goes on its way after each load is dumped.

With the old way a truck or horse outfit, after unloading the coal, waited in front of the house until all the coal had been wheeled in. Now neither the trucks nor the "wheel-in" men waste a minute. And the consumer gets every last crumb of coal, for the "wheel-in" men use a broom on the pavement.

TOURING CHEAPER THAN PAYING FOR RENT, SAYS BAKER

Cross-country touring in a well built motor car is cheaper than paying rent, according to Clarence E. Baker, veteran motorist of New York City, who is just rounding out a solid year of life on the open road.

Last December Mr. Baker purchased a Chalmers Six-Thirty in New York, and accompanied by his wife and child, started for Arizona, New Mexico and the Southwest. Traveling leisurely, the party toured through 20 states, crossing and recrossing mountain ranges of the West. The summer was spent in Colorado with side trips into Idaho, Wyoming, Utah and Nevada. When the car rolled into the Chalmers factory ground at Detroit recently the speedometer read in excess of 12,000 miles.

"My actual upkeep expenses, not including gasoline and oil, stood me $37.50 for the season's work," said Mr. Baker. "Two-thirds of my summer mileage was made over the steep grades of the Rocky Mountains. As a mountain climber I can heartily recommend the Chalmers Six-Thirty. On one occasion we carried nine men up a 22-per-cent grade with no visible labor on the part of the high-speed motor."

"The car's extreme flexibility was the source of considerable comment among my western friends. On our trip East the carburetor worked perfectly without a single adjustment, although we passed through many changes of climate and altitude. I consider my season's average of 17 miles to the gallon of gasoline the best record for economy I have ever obtained."

On their long tour the Baker family carried a complete camping outfit and patronized but few hotels.

INDIANAPOLIS WILL GO BACK TO THE 500

Information has come out that officials of the Indianapolis motor speedway have decided to go back to the original 500-mile international sweepstakes race and hang up a purse of $50,000 to the winners for their big Memorial Day derby. It is figured that with the stake increased from the $30,000 offered in the 300-mile event to the $50,000 figure for the longer race, practically every driver of note in the United States will enter.

FEDERALS BUILD GEORGIA ROADS

Through the aid of Federal trucks, Floyd County, Georgia, has built up a system of good roads that are the envy for her southern neighbors. They said in ancient times that "All roads led to Rome." Now down in Georgia they say—"Good roads lead to Rome," for Rome, the county seat of Floyd County, is in the center of this good roads movement. Two Federals were purchased for road work and shortly afterwards two more Federals were added, all 3 1-2 tonners with dump bodies and hydraulic hoists.

ENGLAND PLANS TO CONSERVE GASOLINE

In its effort to conserve the supply of gasoline the British government has placed restrictions on the amounts that may be used by certain classes of cars. Warrants have been issued to owners of cars and these must be produced for each sale. The maximum allowance for private cars is 30 gallons a month, while motorcyclists are allowed two gallons monthly.

British Red Cross Society Reports on Results of "Our Day"; Large Sum Raised

At a meeting of the British Red Cross committee held in the British clubrooms, Fort street, on October 30, Fred Harrison being in the chair, the honorary treasurer submitted his first report showing that up to that date $7934.05 had been collected throughout the territory on account of the "Our Day" fund in aid of the British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John of Jerusalem. The expense in connection with the work, viz: For printing Red Cross pamphlets, circular letters, receipt books and postage, amounted to $34.45 at Hilo and $33.50 at Honolulu, or a total of $67.95. This leaves a net amount available of $7866.10. The honorary treasurer's accounts have been examined and approved by H. Douglas Young, C. A. of the Audit Co. of Hawaii.

At the current rate of exchange the net amount collected equals (less cost of messages) £1611:14:0 sterling, and instructions have been cabled through a local bank for the sum to be paid over to the joint head office of the British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John of Jerusalem, London.

It may be interesting to mention here the amounts donated by the different parts of the group towards this work of mercy, viz:

Honolulu	$3274.50
Honolulu Red Cross concert net proceeds	471.53
Island of Oahu (outside of Honolulu)	73.00
Island of Hawaii—
Hilo, Puna, Kau	$2445.00
Hamakua	617.50
Kohala	500.00
	3562.50
Island of Maui	510.00
Island of Molokai	12.50
	$7934.05

The island of Kauai and district of Kona, island of Hawaii, together with some individuals on this island, have yet to be heard from, so that it is believed eventually a total of about $10,000 will be gathered for the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers at the front.

It is proposed that £500 of the amount now remitted to London shall be set aside for the purpose of providing a fully equipped motor ambulance to be used for the transportation of wounded men from the firing line in France. The ambulance will bear on the sides some suitable inscription, such as the word "Hawaii," in large letters.

The local British Red Cross committee will meet again on the 13th inst., when a further report of progress made will be laid before the meeting.

In the meantime the committee takes this opportunity of extending its sincere thanks to the numerous donors, men and women, who have responded so liberally to the Red Cross appeal. It also wishes to express its deep appreciation of the hard work performed for the cause by Messrs. Frank Medcalf, Hilo; Dr. F. W. Taylor, Pauilo; H. D. Sloggett, Hamakua; E. Madden, Mahukona; L. Macfarlane, Kealahou, and George R. Ewart, Jr., Makaweli.

The committee is also under deep obligations to the various artists who contributed to the success of the Red Cross concert held in Honolulu on the evening of the 21st ult., and to the trustees of the Mission Memorial hall for kindly giving the use of their beautiful hall for that occasion. Last, but not least, the committee is deeply grateful to the newspapers of Honolulu and the other islands for the many courtesies extended by them to the British Red Cross cause.

When Dario Resta, piloting his Peugeot, flashed across the wire victor in the speedway race at Chicago on October 14, he regained the lead in the struggle for the title of speedway champion of the world and incidentally strengthened his chances of getting the lion's share of the prize of $12,500 in gold that is to be awarded to the two drivers registering the highest number of points under the rules as governed by the American Automobile Association.

Although Resta took the lead away from Johnny Aitken, the latter finished second in the Chicago race and is pressing Resta hard for the lead; and popular Eddie Rickenbacher is right in the running by his taking third place, Ralph De Palma is having tough luck, and he seems to be hopelessly out of the prize money, although there is a chance for him if he is favored by Dame Fortune in the Vanderbilt, Grand Prize and Championship Sweepstakes events that are to be run in Southern California in November. Big Battles Here

As the three big contests at Santa Monica and Ascot Park are the concluding ones in the championship awards, the real battle for the gold and the title will be fought on those courses. The Vanderbilt cup and Grand Prize races will carry 1900 points, and the Ascot Park double century on Thanksgiving Day will carry 700 points, or a total of 2600 points, sufficient to completely upset the present standing.

That the premier drivers of the land will come to California this fall, there seems to be no doubt. In addition to the big purses offered in the Santa Monica and Ascot events, there will be the championship title at stake with its attendant $12,500 in gold. With such a fortune offered, the greatest drivers cannot afford to remain in the East.

Great Attendance Certain
With such tremendous interest in the championship battle and the richness of the purses, the attendance at Santa Monica on November 16 and 18 and at Ascot Park on Thanksgiving Day should break all records, and the class of the cars and drivers competing makes practically certain the shattering of the course records.

The last census reports gave the number of bearing English walnut trees in the United States as 914,270.

AGNEW BELIEVES IN NEWSPAPERS FOR PUBLICITY

Following his policy of strengthening the sales and advertising organization of the Chalmers Motor Company, E. C. Morse, vice-president of the selling division, has just announced the appointment of W. L. Agnew as director of advertising.

Mr. Agnew, who has already assumed his new duties, is one of the best-known advertising men in the automobile industry. For the past four years he has been advertising manager for the Hudson Motor Car Company and has been responsible for much of the excellent selling copy placed by that concern. Before joining the Hudson Company he was a prominent member of the copy staff of Lord & Thomas, Chicago advertising agents. A comprehensive merchandising experience includes several years as advertising manager of the Great Northern Railway at the time when the late James J. Hill was lending his enormous energy toward building up a great transcontinental system. In directing Chalmers advertising policies Mr. Agnew will promote an advertising campaign of the safe and sane type as opposed to sensationalism. He is a firm believer in plain, straightforward, shoulder advertising copy that carries a real selling message and will build the coming Chalmers campaign on quality, performance and price features.

According to Mr. Agnew, Chalmers advertising plans call for widespread use of daily newspapers during the coming year. He has a high regard for the ability of newspaper space to deliver the goods and has directed a large appropriation for this purpose in the 1917 campaign.

EARL COOPER HAS TRIAL OVER FAST VANDERBILT ROAD

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 2.—Earl Cooper, famous Stutz pilot, is the first driver to make a trip over the Santa Monica road race course over which will be held on November 16 and 18 the Vanderbilt Cup and International Grand Prize races, in a racing car this year. Cooper paid the course a visit last week and was greatly interested in the preparations for the contests.

Work started on the stretches last Monday and the erection of the bridge and grandstand commenced at the same time. The work is under the direction of Commissioner of Public Works Carter, the man who has had charge of all previous work on the roads. Mr. Carter is experienced in the needs and requirements of road work for racing purposes and promises that the course will be faster this year than ever. He also states that all work will be done before first practice starts on November 9.

The bridge over the course will be erected at Eighth and Wilshire boulevards this year instead of at Seventh street as in former years. The change of location will make for better handling of traffic, say the men in charge. The new location of the bridge will allow motorists who come by way of Washington and National boulevards a straight shot into the course.

Cooper in his inspection trip looked over the road very thoroughly and stated that world's records would be broken this year. He based his prediction on the fact that the course is now in much better shape than ever before and furthermore he said that as Santa Monica had held no race for two years and that racing cars had

The Best Possible Investment

BUYING a Buick Motor car is closely akin to buying a good farm or a good bond. A Buick Motor car is what the bankers call a cash asset. There are thousands of bankers who would just as soon lend money on a car load or a train load of Buick Motor cars as on the best farm land.

The man or woman who buys a Buick Valve-in-Head motor car takes no chances. There is no risk involved. It is an investment that is safeguarded at every turn, and one that will yield as great a return—in health, in pleasure, in satisfaction of ownership, in prestige, and in freedom from doubt and worry—as any investment that could possibly be made.

Buick Motor cars have backing of the most substantial sort. They are constructed on engineering principles that were conceived when the motor car industry started, and which have gained steadily in public favor and the best expert opinion ever since. They are endorsed by the more than a quarter of a million men and women who use them.

A Buick Valve-in-Head motor car is a strictly gilt-edge investment.

HUPMOBILE GOOD ROADS CAR.

The Capitol to Capitol Hupmobile party, which J. Walter Drake, of Detroit, is sending on a 20,000 mile trip to investigate the roads of the United States, reached New York city on August 31 from Trenton, N. J., on its way to Hartford, Conn. The car is being driven by C. E. Salisbury and G. R. Lipe, both of Detroit. The party left Washington on August 28. From Washington the party went to Annapolis, Baltimore, Harrisburg, Dover, Del.; Philadelphia and Trenton. The car is a stock Hupmobile and was checked at Washington by the Technical Board of the American Automobile Association.

REPAIR ON CORD TIRE SIMPLE IN

So Says Manager of Goodyear Tire Company; Cost More at First But Not After

"I am often asked about the repairing of Goodyear Cord Tires," says L. C. Rockhill, manager automobile tire department, The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. "Many motorists are wondering if the repairing of our cord tires is as simple as the repairing of our fabric tires. One of the great advantages of our cord tires is the ease with which they can be repaired. We have found that this feature appeals strongly to motorists."

Goodyear cord tires rarely need attention, as they have six to ten layers of strong cords, depending on the size of the tire, which offer reinforcement and strong resistance against injury. But when a tire injury requires attention it is not necessary for a motorist to send the tire back to the factory. Any tire repairman can repair a cord tire just as he would a fabric tire, using regular fabric, without impairing the efficiency of the tire. Nor is it necessary for the repairman to invest several hundred dollars in a machine to take care of his customer's repairs.

"Our cord tires are remarkably free from road injuries because of the minute inspection and rigid tests to which the materials entering into them are subjected. Our tire experts adopted the present construction of these tires only after satisfying themselves through rigid tests of hundreds of designs, that it was scientifically correct. Intensive experimentation is going on continually in our laboratories to improve our cord tires. No sooner do we reach an ideal than we set out to eclipse it. We are constantly reassuring ourselves that our materials are right."

"To prevent skidding Goodyear cord tires are made with the all-weather tread. They also come with the ribbed tread—the easy-steering tire which has long been popular abroad. They cost a little more at first, because they cost more to make, but experienced tire buyers, who are in the habit of figuring income rates on the purchases, know that the increased mileage, economical gasoline consumption, easy-riding qualities and comparative freedom from road injuries, more than offset the higher initial cost."

KNOW INSIDE OF
AUTO AUTHORITY

General Manager of Cole Motor Car Co. Says Driver Should Love Motor

"Get acquainted with the inside of your motor car. Study its characteristics. Get yourself into the habit of looking after it personally—as much as possible. By so doing you will get the most out of your automobile and you will also find a new satisfaction in owning a car."

The foregoing is the advice of A. F. Knobloch, general manager of the Cole Motor Car Company of Indianapolis, to all automobile owners and prospective purchasers. He was giving an informal talk to a group of owners at a luncheon recently when he was asked to discuss the relationship of the motor car to the owner. "In this day of simplified automobile mechanism," he said, "the average owner is too often in the habit of allowing the car to take care of itself. As a matter of fact, there is no necessity for mechanical knowledge in the actual operation of the modern motor car. Expert engineers have so designed it that women can drive it as well as men. Nevertheless, the owner who simply knows how to start his own car, regulate its speed and then stop it—while he may never be called on for further knowledge concerning its workings—is losing a lot of pleasure which he could have at no expense whatever."

"In the days of horses, the owner of a fast horse was always acquainted with all the traits of the animal. He knew what to expect under all conditions and if he discovered that the horse was getting lame he lost no time in treating the affected parts. He saw to it personally that his horse was getting the best possible attention. It was always well-fed, well-groomed, well-shod. The same thing is true of many automobile owners. They study their cars until they are thoroughly acquainted with all of their parts. The slightest strange sound when running will attract their attention and the first thing they do is to investigate the origin of that sound and this prompt attention often saves them needless expense."

"On the other hand, there are thousands of owners who pay absolutely no attention to the inside of the car and simply run it on and on until it stops, no matter how great a strain the machine is operating under. It is that class of owners who sometimes complain about the maintenance cost of their cars. They not only fail to get comfortable riding qualities out of their cars, and they not only lose time and money while the car is being repaired at some garage, but they lose the keen enjoyment which one should get out of owning a piece of mechanism as the modern automobile. If every owner of a motor car studied his machine and learned the details of its workings, he would soon become just as attached to it as the average lake captain is to his ship or the railroad engineer to his engine. And the car itself would benefit thereby."

"If you expected to get the best results from your horse, you saw to it that the animal was properly taken care of. And also you did not take your speedy trotter out on the road and abuse him with fast and reckless driving. But, you are doing that with your automobile most of the time, in spite of the fact that it cost you more money than your horse did and represents a much more serviceable possession."

"Every driver should learn the fundamental principles of his car's construction. Much of the trouble in the automobile world can be traced

DRIVES MULE NOW.

Edward J. Welsh, assistant advertising manager of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, now stationed at Camp Pershing, El Paso, is doing border patrol with Battery B, Ohio Field Artillery. Welsh has developed a wonderful hypnotic power over rambunctious mules, and is known as the champion mule tamer of the border. The most obstreperous jack on the Rio Grande simply wilts when he appears on the scene. Some of his comrades have suggested that after the "war" he get a job as professional mule breaker on some of the big ranches of the west. His favorite mount is naturally the mule that gave him his hardest battle. This jack keeps his right eye open day and night, sleeping only with the left. Nobody but Welsh can ride him.

BUILDING BALLOONS.

The modern type of kite balloon is rapidly coming to be regarded as the most effective means of conducting observations of the enemy on the battle fronts of Europe. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, recently furnished the United States navy with two Goodyear type kite balloons, and presented one to Battery B, Ohio Field Artillery, now stationed on the Mexican border. Ralph H. Upson, Goodyear aeronaut and world's champion balloonist, is an officer of the battery and is piloting the balloon, which is the only one owned by the militia in the United States.

Morris N. Johnson, 70, who was a member of the senior class at Princeton University when President Wilson was a freshman there, was killed by falling 10 feet from a window of his room to the rear yard of Gramercy Park.

63000 IN USE

The Model 75 and 75 B Series of Overlands has shattered all selling records.

Already there are 63,000 in use.

The whole country is buying this Overland.

The demand is huge and steady.

Such smashing value was of course bound to make this the fastest selling complete automobile ever offered.

The motor is a wonder—full 31 1/2 horsepower.

But though unusually powerful it is wonderfully economical—20 to 25 miles on a gallon of gasoline is the usual report.

It holds the road better, and rides more comfortably at all speeds than any other car of its size.

It has cantilever rear springs, four inch tires and an exceptionally long wheelbase for a car of its price.

No need to hesitate about buying a car with such a selling record and so many advantages.

See us today, get your $635 Overland now and have it for some of the finest driving weather of the year.

Ford Times Tells How to Clean
Car: Do Not Let Water
Dry Off Naturally

The Ford Times, the house publication of the Ford Motor Company, gives the following directions for cleaning Ford cars:

"The proper cleaning of a motor car is one of the most important things connected with its ownership, and the longevity of the machine depends to a large extent upon the manner in which the cleaning is done. Dirt is the natural enemy of all machinery. It is also a destroyer of fine polished surface.
Your car is composed of both. Keep them clean and you will extend their periods of service.

"Never use hot water to wash the car, but always cold or lukewarm water. If a hose is used do not turn on the water at full force, as this drives the dirt into the varnish and injures the finish. The water must be used thoroughly if the car is caked with mud, as any attempt to remove mud before it is thoroughly saturated will damage the finish of the car. It is advisable to start in at the bottom, working up. In this way you will clean the running gear, usually the muddiest part, first, and by working up you will avoid splashing muddy water on an already clean body.

"Working with water you will need a good sponge. Keep the sponge well saturated with clean water. You can do this by having a hose in your left hand playing a gentle stream on the sponge all the time. Start sponging from the top downward, working along to the radiator and then going over the mudguards. When all the mud or dust is removed give your car a second rinse over with the hose and if possible a new sponge. We do not recommend special preparations for cleaning the body. Ivory soap or a good linseed oil soap will give satisfactory results.

"It is important that you do not allow the water to dry off naturally on the body. If you let this happen your car will be streaked and unsightly. As soon as you have finished washing take a piece of chamolite and starting at the highest point follow the path of the sponge, drying up all the moisture on the panels. A body or furniture polish of good quality may be used to add luster to the car.

"Grease on the running gear may be removed with a gasoline-dampened sponge or rag. The brass or nickel work may be polished with any good metal polish. Care should be exercised to dry the springs carefully after each washing as water left on them is likely to rust the leaves.

"Ivory soap or a linseed oil soap and warm water can be used to wash off the top. After it has been dried it is advisable that you use a high grade top dressing which will not only improve its appearance but will also preserve the material. The inside of the top can be brushed out with a whiskbroom or cleaned with a vacuum cleaner.

"The upholstering of the body should be thoroughly dusted off with a whiskbroom after which it may be cleaned with a rag that is slightly dampened with water. It is, of course, advisable to see that all traces of moisture are removed from the upholstering before the car is put into service."

Most old people must give to the

And the bowels are muscles.
So all old people need Cascarets.
One might as well refuse to aid weak gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is import-at fifty.

INDIA USES FEDERAL WATER WAGON.

Federals are found operating under all sorts of conditions and in all sorts of places. From Bombay, India, comes the word that a huge wooden barrel capable of holding hundreds of gallons of water has been mounted on a Federal chassis in the State of Mysore, India, by the presidency, and is being used as the official water wagon.
A custom centuries old applied to the modern method of transportation. And in Buffalo Federals are being used to help build the greatest power station in America, a fleet of six Federals owned by the Buffalo General Electric Company being engaged in constructing a 100,000-horse power plant on the Niagara River above the falls.

FEDERAL BEATS FLOOD; SAVES

With the Catawba River threatening to overflow its banks at any moment, bringing peril and devastation to the town of Mount Holly, North Carolina, a Federal truck bought just ten days previous by C. E. Hutchinson of that city, by working night and day for over 24 hours was able to move several hundred bales of cotton to safety. When the flood came, the cotton mills, stores and warehouses were swept away, and now the Federal is being used to transport the help to and from the town four miles away, at the same time moving materials to rebuild the cotton mill.

GOOD OIL PREVENTS FOULING SPARK PLUG

Burning of the gasoline and lubricating oil in the cylinders by the explosion of the gases causes carbon, which is in solution in both liquids, to free itself and adhere to the cylinder walls, spark plugs and pistons in the form of nearly pure carbon.
A high grade of oil, with the proper gasoline mixture and tight piston rings which will keep surplus oil below the pistons, where it belongs, will reduce spark plug fouling to the minimum.

POLYGAMY MAY BE PERMITTED WHEN GREAT WAR ENDS

11,000,000 Surplus Women Offers Big Problem for Europe to Solve

[By Associated Press]
VIENNA.—Whether or not Europe will be obliged to change its marriage laws as the result of the war is a question which has recently occupied sociologists in the central states. Most of them are of the opinion that material modifications must ensue; a few think that legalized polygamy must be established in order to provide for the surplus of women which two years of warfare has made one of the problems of all Europe.

The total population of the states at war, the non-Arian elements of Russia excepted, is roughly 375,000,000, of which, according to best sources, 188,000,000 are women and 185,000,000 men. For the countries of Europe where exact statistics are available, the proportion is 105 males to 107 females. For Europe this leaves in normal times an excess of three million females, of which number one-third would be marriageable.

11,000,000 To Be Mateless
To this million of women who at present can find no husband for the reason that nature, while insuring an excess in the birth of males permits more of them to die in infancy, will be added at least eight millions whom death on the battlefield and incapacitating wounds has also deprived of mates. Europe, therefore, is face to face with the question of how these nine million women are to be cared for.

Economically the problem has been solved by the women themselves, by showing that in many departments of industry they are able to fill a place. But the sociologists point out that, except to avert this, a certain natural law would increase greatly the rate of illegitimacy of children, which even now is a serious matter.

At the conclusion of the Thirty Years' War, similar conditions prevailed. It was met in many of the central European states by making polygamy legal. When the proportion of males and females had been re-adjusted by the coming of later generations these laws were repealed.

For the time being the European parliaments are too occupied with matters affecting the continuation of the war, but expressions on the subject agree that some sort of legislation will be necessary.

Two Generations to Recover
Several writers point out that it will take two generations before the old social equilibrium is reestablished. The tendency of men to marry women younger than they themselves are is held responsible for this. Usually the man married a woman from three to five years his junior, and some authorities fear that greater choice, which the excess of women will give, will decidedly foster this inclination, so that only the girl who today is from 12 to 13 years old can hope to be the subject of competition among men which her mother was.

This would be a matter of only seven to eight years for most of Europe; provided the end of war comes soon. Should the war continue another year or two and so cause the loss of many young men who are now from 15 to 16 years old, the problem would be much harder to meet. In that case the excess of women over men would be no less than eleven millions, so that for every male of marriage age during the next 10 years there would be almost two single women.

It is impossible to say just how European legislation will meet the situation. Legal polygamy is so un-welcome to Europe's social system and religion that opposition to it will be great. The belief is held, for this reason, that legally at least illegitimacy will be abolished and that laws will be passed giving the child born out of wedlock every right upon the care and property of its father. It is argued that this measure of expediency would meet the situation easily and that it would violate no social arrangement now in force, giving in its most extreme application nothing but an expression to a tendency which has manifested itself in Europe for several years past.

HORSE MEAT SHOPS THRIVING IN LONDON

LONDON, England.—Prior to the war there was not a single shop in London where horseflesh was sold for human consumption. A horse butcher, who started business in Soho, the center of the Franco-Italian colonies, six years ago, failed to obtain customers.

Today, owing to the great influx of Belgian refugees, there are more than 20 horse butchers, all doing a thriving trade, including five who are located in the southwest district of London, which abuts on aristocratic Kensington.

One of the probable effects of the war and the high price of beef and mutton will be that the London poor will acquire a taste for prime cuts of horseflesh at 14 cents a pound, against beef and mutton at 37 cents a pound.

Labor leaders and social reformers view this tendency with growing alarm. They fear it will lower the standard of living and, incidentally, spread numerous diseases among the consumers, as they declare that old and diseased horses have been slaughtered for human food.

The United States will not get raw copper from Norway for which negotiations have been under way for some time, according to a dispatch from American Minister to Oslo, at Christiania.

White Trucks and AUTOMOBILES PREDOMINATE

Mechanical Theories versus Performance

There are four different types of final drive in motor trucks and automobiles advocated by their makers. Each has its merits and demerits. It is impossible for the purchaser to determine their comparative values on a theoretical basis. He cannot reconcile the conflicting claims of rival engineers.

The wise buyer brushes aside mere theories of construction and selects the make which holds the record for performance. That is the only value he can know and the only value he can use. The White record is reflected in its predominant annual sales.

UNIVERSITY OF GHENT WILL OPEN WITHIN FEW DAYS

[By Associated Press]
THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Oct. 20.—It is reported that the University of Ghent will open late this month or early in November as a Flemish institution, in accordance with the ideas of Governor-General von Bissing, notwithstanding the sharp opposition of the Belgian government at Havre.

Anonymous circulars are being distributed among professors and students calling upon them to boycott Ghent hereafter. The university authorities, however, have already secured fifteen Flemish and twenty-five Dutch professors, most of them quite unknown men, who have hitherto held minor positions in the educational realm. A number of distinguished scholars have declined the proffered posts, notwithstanding the guarantee of a high pension should they be ousted from their positions after the war.

A body calling itself "The Flemish University Association" and comprising over hundred members, has just issued a manifesto signed by two parliamentary deputies and others setting forth reasons why the decree of the governor-general in this matter is to be regarded "as a just and legal decree of a competent authority," placing those who have joined the staff of the university and condemning former professors who have declined to serve.

The Belgian government at Havre, however, has resolved to remove the names of three Ghent professors from the role of the Knights of the Leopold Order for cooperating in the new scheme, which, in its view, aims at dividing Belgium. The Belgian government is itself prepared, it is stated, on the conclusion of peace, to lay a bill before parliament for the Flemishizing of Ghent, having already had such a plan under consideration before the outbreak of the war.

IMITATORS FUSS FILM STAR,
PATENT ASKED FOR HER FACE

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Pavlova has her toes, Paderewski his hands insured, Charlie Chaplin his entire person. But it takes a motion picture actress to think up the stunt of having her face patented. Grace Darling, for some time, has had cause for worry because other screen players have made up to resemble her. She has scooped these designing persons by applying to the register of patents in Washington to have her features protected by patent. In case the application is granted the files of the patent office will be the richer by one marble replica of Miss Darling's face, carved by a competent sculptor.

Paris plans to obtain 300,000 electrical horsepower by damming the River Rhone at a point 300 miles from the city.

AUCTION BULLETIN

When you bought that fine Dining suite what did you do with the old set, put it in the barn for the worms to eat, or did you send it at once to the Auction Rooms to turn it into ready money? We received several lots last week, but are looking for more, especially from those who do not like to part with old furniture. There are some people who will not part with it, strange to say, and there are others who want for an old sideboard which is out of date enough to buy a William & Mary dining suite. "It can't be did," you know, but if you are quite finished with your good useful but worn furniture, then, send for the Auction Room man who will buy it outright or sell it very advantageously for you by Public Auction at Honolulu Auction Rooms, J. S. Bailey.
