COLONIZATION.

If colonization means anything for Hawaii it means the upbuilding of internal wealth and the development of the country's resources; it means good times in a few years, provided our colonization schemes are practical and just; it means permanent homes with home interests and simple frugality for the foundation upon which may be built citizenship that will honor the Kingdom; it means solidity, fertility and national advancement—provided it be properly carried out. Colonization has done much for the development of Australia under less favorable circumstances, in many cases, than it would have to contend with here. Cases have occurred in Australia where colonization has been made a success on large tracts of land, which were only held under long leases, say of from 20 to 30 years. There is hardly a doubt that if colonization can be made successful on long-lease land there, it can be successfully carried out in the Hawaiian Islands where the land can be obtained in fee simple by the colonists and paid for at leisure. One of the first questions to be considered in putting forth a scheme of this kind is, what can the colonists do to make an immediate living without the assistance of capital? If the promoters of colonization here can provide for immediate returns to these tillers of the soil and these raisers of cattle there will be little trouble in finding a sufficient number of willing hands to take up Company land at fair rates. But many colonists could be secured for future citizenship who could bring a small capital into the scheme, which would almost insure its success under ordinary circumstances. We speak advisedly when we say, that if the present colonization scheme had developed earlier, at least $45,000 out of the $75,000 sent out of the Kingdom by Portuguese immigrants would have remained here and become a faction in the prosperity of the country.

NEW CHINESE REGULATIONS.

The former regulations, relating to Chinese restriction, issued by the Minister of Foreign Affairs in March, 1884, having worked so admirably, the Minister has issued, by authority, the following set of regulations which it is supposed will work as handsomely as the others:

No. 1. From this date no vessel coming from a foreign country will be allowed to land more than twenty-five (25) Chinese passengers at any port in the Hawaiian Kingdom, unless the passengers in excess of that number are provided with passports entitling them to enter the Kingdom.

No. 2. Passports entitling the holders to return to the Kingdom will be granted at the Foreign Office, Honolulu, to all persons of Chinese nationality now resident, or who may hereafter become resident, on these islands, who may desire to visit any foreign country, provided always that such persons have been engaged in trade or have conducted some industrial enterprise during at least one year of their residence here. No return passports will be given to Chinese laborers leaving the country.

No. 3. Passports will be granted at the Foreign Office, Honolulu; also by His Majesty's Consul at Shanghai, and His Majesty's Consul General at San Francisco, to any Chinese women desiring to come to the Islands, and to Chinese children whose parents are residing in the Kingdom, or who may not be more than ten years of age.

No. 4. Passports entitling the holder to enter the Kingdom will also be granted at the Foreign Office to such persons of Chinese nationality as the Minister of Foreign Affairs may claim it proper to admit to the Kingdom.

No. 5. The fee for any passport issued under this regulation shall be two dollars ($2).

No. 6. The holders of passports issued under these regulations must have the same indorsed with the visa of the Consular representative of this Kingdom at any port at which he may embark on his return journey, and also at any port at which he may stay more than twenty-four hours during such return journey.

No. 7. The fee for the Consul's visa of each passport shall be one dollar.

No. 8. All orders and instructions regulating the incoming of Chinese into this Kingdom heretofore made and proclaimed are hereby rescinded, but nothing herein contained shall affect the validity of any passport issued at Hongkong before the proclamation there of these Regulations.

A LEAK STOPPED.

Messrs. Allen & Robinson have been first in aiding with their enterprise the revival and development of our home industries. Since the completion of their new kiln near the Fish Market, they have been turning out a sufficient quantity of fine lime to supply the Honolulu market and have virtually stopped one of the leaks which was annually wasting a large amount of the revenue of our home labor in paying for imported lime. It is true value received for foreign produce by foreign merchants in most cases, but the greatest benefit accruing to this new home industry is that both profit and labor are expended here, and capital as well as interest are thus kept in circulation. There will be no trouble in the present company making arrangements to supply the entire trade of the islands with good lime if its present capacity prove insufficient. The quarries at Honouliuli are practically inexhaustible and will not only suffice for what is used here, but there is no reason why this industry should not be so developed that we could export lime to other countries at a profit.

HERR HERZ.

A friend, well posted in Australian affairs, informs us that we have a musical celebrity of a high order in our midst, in the person of Herr Julius Herz, who arrived by the last steamer from the Colonies. Professor Herz arrived in Melbourne about fifteen years ago and at once took a front place in the rank of eminent musicians in that very musical city.

As a pianist, leader and composer, his reputation is European as well as Australian. The Melbourne Leidertafel—a society of gentlemen amateur vocalists and instrumentalists—was organized by Herr Herz, and is said to be not inferior to the Orpheus Societies of Paris, or the Philharmonic of London. Herr Herz is a genial conversationalist and a well travelled man, and as this is the first real holiday that he has been able to snatch from his admirers, we trust he may enjoy it thoroughly.

Since the late rains Fort street, above Kukui, is so much cut up with ruts that hackmen are beginning to avoid it for the comfort of their passengers. Notice is hereby given the public that the authorities will never take steps to repair the damage—if they follow the usual course.

There is a rumor afloat which presumes to be based on fact, to the effect that within the next twenty-five days high official heads will fall and Chamber secrets be revealed. We should like to see this community startled once by having its hopes realized.

"Kind words can never die." Thanks for the many kind things said of us yesterday. It is plain that much is expected of us, and though the aim is high it is not impracticable if we are properly supported.

What rumor is this that possesses the town, that a dictatorial potentate is here that royalty and ministry dare not thwart? The Maui labor troubles are said to be but the commencement of its power.

PROSPECTUS.

Many maintain that the day of weekly newspapers is past in Honolulu; that the people want their news and food for thought fresh with their coffee every day; and that the people are willing to pay for what they want. At the very nominal figure established as the subscription price of Honolulu Dailies, fifty cents a month, it must be borne in mind that six or seven hundred, or even a thousand subscribers is but a mere bagatelle toward the expense of conducting a newspaper. Our advertising rates are not such as would satisfy our Pacific Coast contemporaries, or in fact any but those who labor for the love of it rather than for profit. This paper will not be run for glory, but will be conducted on a sound financial basis and value received will be given to its patrons in every case. We believe that the independent elements in the community will appreciate and properly support a daily morning paper that is outspoken and independent in its utterances.

The DAILY HONOLULU PRESS will be published every morning, Sunday's excepted, for the proprietors, Messrs. L. T. Valentine and Arthur Johnstone. Mr. Valentine will be the responsible business manager and Mr. Johnstone will be the responsible editor of the paper. It will be the aim of the management to make the HONOLULU PRESS a newspaper in every sense of the word. The paper will contain twenty-eight columns including a daily average of from six to eight columns of local news, editorial matter and short pithy articles of general interest to the residents of the Hawaiian Islands. It will be made distinctively a family newspaper, and will endeavor to reach the interests of all classes of citizens without introducing the objectionable features of the newspapers of large cities.

The editorial department will be conducted in a candid, manly and impartial manner, and while political theories and public actions will be carefully probed, and, in many cases, severely criticized, the utterances of the paper will be jealously guarded and not allowed to degenerate into abuse or personal detraction. In the main, editorial articles will be short and always to the point; but in cases where the facts warrant and public opinion demands, fuller expositions of living issues will be given.

Our local department will contain everything of interest to the general readers of the islands and will include local notes from the other islands and general correspondence on local topics. This department will be made spicy and readable, and will, from time to time be interspersed with humorous local episodes. Full reports of all public events and social entertainments will be given and a just equipoise will be established among our various social elements for special news.

The shipping department will be made full and correct and special arrangements will be made for weekly corrected lists of foreign shipping. Full shipping notes of our inter-island traffic will be given, and the interests and convenience of shippers will be carefully studied and provided for.

Our advertising department will be conducted on liberal business principles in such a manner that the ends of patrons may be reached by placing their wants and desires before a majority of the reading public. Promptness and correctness in this department will be assured. Arrangements have been made with the proprietors of the Saturday Press to carry out all unexpired advertising contracts and subscriptions, which will faithfully done. Collections will be made monthly and all bills against this paper will be paid monthly upon presentation to the business manager.

In conclusion, the chief aim of the HONOLULU PRESS will be to foster and protect Hawaiian interests while special attention will be given to individual industries and plantation enterprises. We expect to merit the support of the community and respectfully ask the privilege of a fair trial.

TO-DAY'S ENGAGEMENTS.

Court: At Chambers, Bankruptcy of Geo. Hoy, proof of claims, before McCully, J. Bankruptcy of Le Lang Wai Co., before I. Preston.

Prayer Meeting at Fort-Street and Bethel Churches at 7:30 P. M.

The bktn Mary Winkelman, Captain Backus, arrived in port yesterday, 14 days from San Francisco, and docked alongside Brewer's wharf. Captain Backus reports having had splendid weather, with light NE. trades, and from the day of leaving San Francisco, until arriving off port, never had occasion to furl a sail. She brings a cargo of miscellaneous goods, and five horses for Mr. James Dodd. The horses arrived in splendid condition and are noble looking animals. They will be a valuable addition to Mr. Dodd's stables.

The Y. P. C. E. Union.

The Annual Meeting of the Young Peoples Christian Temperance Union was held last evening in the vestry of Fort-Street Church.

The society was organized by Mrs. Southwick (then Miss Breese) two years ago, and has been instrumental in doing much good by training the young people in the principles of total abstinence, and the highest order of morality. The number on the roll at present is about 130, but only about a fourth were present. A programme of recitations, social and instrumental music by the young people evinced talent of a high order. The intellectual half of the entertainment was concluded by an address from Mrs. Southwick in which the members were impressed with the pleasures and advantages which follow from the strict adherence to the principles which each boy and girl present professed, and the importance of having the highest possible example ever before them as a rule of conduct. The question of altering or improving the organization would come before the members at the next meeting.

A small spread table, resembling one of Meller & Halbe's counters, was laid out at one end of the room, and the good things passed round to the juveniles and visitors, who appeared to enjoy the cake and lemonade as much as Falstaff could possibly have enjoyed his cake and ale.

This society and its devoted leader deserve every encouragement.

A New Meat Safe.

Messrs. Williams and Mayhew have applied for a patent upon an invention which is a novelty in its way. It is an ingenious device for keeping insects out of meat safes and will be manufactured with safe, complete, or without the safe so that the ordinary four-legged safe can have the legs removed and be placed upon it. The patented part consists of an upright four inches square surrounded just above the feet, about midway, with a zinc-lined tray five inches wide and two inches deep, containing water. The tray has an overflow and stop cock so that the water can be drawn off either way. The safe is placed upon a bracket and rests upon the upright. The patented stand will fit any meat safe and will ensure the exclusion of insects and facilitates cleanliness. The feet of the stand project far enough so that the tray cannot come in contact with the wall. This stand will virtually do away with the many inconveniences of the old four-legged stand and will cost but a trifle more than the old style, with patent stand and safe complete. Drawings of the invention can be seen at Williams' photograph gallery where one of the new safes will be put on exhibition during the week. They will be manufactured in three sizes and are especially adapted to the wants of tropical countries.

The Tribulations of a Poi-pail.

A poi pail was riding down town the other day in a stylish carriage when the horse suddenly shied and threw the poi pail into the street. The carriage also contained several young ladies who clung to the seats. The occupants of the carriage did not miss the poor poi pail at first and left it lying in the gutter looking into the show windows of the Temple of Fashion. At last a polite Hotel-street clerk who happened to pass that way saw the disconsolate poi pail and asked it what the matter was. The poi pail dried its eyes and replied: "Alas! kind sir, if you will only put me back into the carriage, so that I may be taken home and eaten up, I shall again be happy—I cannot bear to think how those young ladies would miss me at supper." The kind clerk placed the poi pail in the carriage where it was received with exclamations of surprise and delight. The sequel of this thrilling episode is a moral which none but the poi pail can ever guess.

Y. M. C. A. Classes.

During the heat of summer and the vacation season, the Y. M. C. A. classes have been suspended, but now that it is getting cooler and vacation is over, they are to be taken up again. The singing class, under the direction of Prof. Yarmley, will have its opening session next Tuesday evening and will be open to both ladies and gentlemen. The book-keeping class, taught by Mr. P. C. Jones, Jr., will begin the 1st of October.

Such other classes as may be desired by young men will be provided, if they will make their preference known by consulting Secretary Fuller.

Late Fashion Items.

Round waists and wide sashes are still in favor.

Long flowing sashes are as fashionable as ever.

Cotton dresses are most frequently trimmed with embroidered frilling of the same goods.

Wide tucks will be used on all dresses made of wash materials. Hamburg embroideries are preferred to lace in trimming.

The prettiest and most delicate fans are painted in soft tints with much daintiness of design, upon cream-colored gauze.

Small pins and brooches, no earrings, few finger-rings, and very slender bracelets make up the catalogue of summer jewelry for a woman of taste.

Stripes are decidedly fashionable in all styles, widths and colors. They are worn either for an entire costume, or else combined with a plain fabric.

The Bishop of Oahu formally admitted 400 candidates to membership in the Catholic Church, at Hana, Maui, last Sunday a week ago.

Mr. A. Arthur received last week from the Coast, at his private stables on Queen street, five fine, thoroughbred fillies. He has them in charge for Col. Z. S. Spalding.

Billy Moore, the hack driver, was arrested yesterday morning for driving a hack without a license. Mr. George Markham signed his bail bond for $25, and he was released.

Paia Plantation stockholders are favored again. Another dividend of $1.00 per share, payable at the office of the agents, Messrs. Castle & Cooke, was announced yesterday.

A large number of residents assembled at the wharf to witness the departure of the Alameda with its envied bery of Kamaeians taking their exodus to settle in new homes in other lands.

Last Saturday evening, Mr. Johnnie Rothwell, who works for Messrs. Freeth & Peacock, was thrown from his horse on Nuuanu Avenue, near Vineyard Lane, and severely bruised about the head.

Hercules, the Holstein bull which killed a man at the Pawa Dairy about two years ago is still so dangerous that he is confined in a strong-fenced paddock, of which he is the undisputed "boss."

The Princes' Own Guard will give a grand luau at the armory this afternoon at 2 o'clock in honor of the birthday of Princess Liliuokalani (Mrs. Dominis). A right royal time is expected.

An excellently executed crayon picture of Mrs. Dominis, 32 by 42 inches in size, made by Williams the photographer, and finished by Mr. Fureaux, is on exhibition at Williams' Fort-street gallery.

The Married Men state that it is a mistake, that they intend to protest last Saturday's game with the Oceanics, on account of the decision of the umpire regarding the calling of a "strike" while Robert Parker was at the bat.

A small model of a native canoe with outriggers, the whole about 14 inches long and six wide, was offered for sale yesterday at a native fruit stand on Hotel street. The model was made from the wood of the Wilhelms tree which is white and light.

The "boys" held a jumping match last night in front of McCarthy's cigar store on Hotel street. The mark was a lamp frame fixed to the awning. One of Messrs. S. J. Levey & Co.'s lat clerks was the first to reach the mark. Many tried who were found wanting.

Rev. E. C. Oggel will deliver a preparatory lecture this evening at the Bethel-Union Vestry at half-past seven o'clock. The standing committee of the church will meet at the same place at 7 o'clock to receive new members either by letter or on profession of faith.

Mr. Ralph S. Smith, late editor of the Saturday Press, has received an offer to take charge of a flourishing newspaper near San Francisco, and he will probably leave by the next steamer, on the 15th instant, for his new field of labor. My success attend you, Brother Smith.

The Honolulu Rifles held their regular monthly meeting last night at the Armory. Mr. C. F. Bishop was elected Treasurer. Besides the regular order of business, several resignations were accepted and other business pertaining to the accounts of the company was postponed.

We invite attention to the new advertisement of Mr. L. B. Kerr, Merchant Street tailor, No. 29 Merchant street, whose facilities for furnishing neat and stylish suits of clothing to order at short notice is well known. His prices are very low, his work good and his fits are guaranteed.

Mr. James H. Boyd, of the Interior Department, gave a luau at his residence in Nuuanu Valley last Monday afternoon, commencing at 4 o'clock, and continuing into the "wee wee" hours. It was an enjoyable affair and Jimmie was in one of his happiest moods. About 50 of his friends were present.

The artesian well, being bored at Mr. Campbell's Kahuku Ranch, which is the first of a series of five wells to be sunk there, has reached a depth of 110 feet and the water has already risen to within a foot of the surface. The result of this well is sufficiently encouraging to warrant Mr. Campbell in beginning the others as soon as possible.

It seems that all the newspapers were wrong in stating that there were no passengers by the City of Sydney for Honolulu. There were five, viz.: Professor Julius Herz, L. Loeniss, J. Farrell, L. Ghidella and J. Evans. We missed the item and our shipping reporter wasn't sick either—he could walk two blocks, but he didn't do it; that was what the matter was, don't it?

Fryer's Circus management have signified their desire to aid the sick fund of the Honolulu Fire Department, and will tender a benefit therefor on Friday evening next. A regular performance will be given by the troupe to night and to-morrow evening a benefit will be given the Kaunakapili Church building fund. Both benefits will be under royal patronage.

In to-morrow's issue will appear a new advertisement from Mr. C. B. Miles, the celebrated horse breaker and trainer, whose establishment at Capt. J. C. Cluney's, corner of Queen and Punchbowl streets, is becoming so well known for his extensive and judicious use of printer's ink. His large and increasing patronage is the best evidence that can be afforded, as to his popularity and business talents.

Messrs. A. S. Barnes & Co., of Chicago and New York, have sent several hundred copies of the National Series of school books to Honolulu. These books embrace courses in arithmetic, algebra, natural science and hygiene. The publishers propose to exchange them even with the scholars of the Honolulu public schools, for the old books now in use, provided the Board of Education will adopt the new series.

Mr. T. R. Foster and Signor Furini were the objects of special floral decoration on the occasion of their departure yesterday by the Alameda. The many friends of the former evidently thought his shoulders were broad enough for all the wreaths they could obtain, but his generous nature soon showed itself as he shared these tropic tokens of regard with the distinguished stranger.

A young lady who resides in the neighborhood of Fort street, and who usually appears to be a sober and sedate member of society, was observed dancing a jig on the flat tin roof of the house yesterday. When the case was investigated by her mother it turned out that she had gone out on the roof for a flower pot in her bare feet and had struck a patch of tropical sunshine. She declares the next time she walks on a tin roof she will keep in the shade.

The Central Park skating rink has been undergoing extensive repairs and improvements. Mr. D. B. Smith, the proprietor and manager, has had the entire building painted inside and out, the seating capacity has been enlarged and a patent composition floor is now being laid, which will be as smooth but harder than ice. As soon as the new floor is dry this evening resort will be reopened to the public. The rink will probably be ready for use in three or four weeks.

The Government dredger is constantly bringing to the surface, various articles from the bottom of the bay, some of considerable value. A few days ago one of the prisoners found a quarter-eagle gold piece while engaged shovelling the mud from the dredger. Last Friday the dipper brought to the surface a Colt's Navy revolver, of large size, which after being cleaned, was found to have two chambers loaded. It was numbered 198,765. Yesterday the dipper hauled up a gold watch case, of English make. The works and part of the chain were lost again. The case is marked 13 carets fine and is numbered 45,302 with the letter "K" stamped near the key winder. There are also four marks, of five nicks each, cut into the case for the fitting of the lids.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 2, 1885.

A Wedding in Wyoming.

Camping near town, we secured our stock and then went in. Entering the leading store, I introduced myself to Mr. Stiles, one of the proprietors and the postmaster.

"It's now half-past two, and at three there's a wedding at Jonas Burton's. Old Jonas is a rough old coon that we elected a justice of the peace about a month ago, and, as this will be his first attempt at a marriage, I think we will see some fun. Come go with me."

We went in the old squire's cabin and found him poring over a large volume of the statutes of Wyoming, sweating like a horse and looking terribly anxious. After greeting us, he said: "Stiles, then, get out that got up these yer laws hadn't gumption enough to last 'em over night. I've run through the blamed book a half dozen times, an' can't find a word about matrimony or how the hitchin' process is proceeded with. I've just got to put the clamps on this couple hit or miss, an' ef I don't yoke 'em up legal I can't help it."

Stiles explained to him about how to proceed, and the old man finally thought he could worry through in tolerable shape. Ere long the couple appeared, followed by a crowd of the citizens of the camp. The candidates stood up before the squire, who began:

"Fellow-citizens, this 'yar man an' this 'yar woman have appeared before the court to be hitched in the legal hands of wedlock. If any galoot in the mob knows of anything that mout block the game of tuck to a higher court, let him now toot his bazoo, or else keep his jaw to himself now and forever more. All in favor 'o me peecedin' as authorized by law, say 'I.' Everybody said 'I.'"

Contrary, 'no. Nobody said 'no.' "The motion's carried unanimously, an' the court rules that their hain't nuthin to prevent the tryin' of the case. Grip yer fins."

The candidates joined hands. "Amos Peabody, do you solemnly swa'r that ye'll freeze to Mandy forever an' pervide fur 'er, an' treat her squar an' white, accordin' to the rules an' regulations sot down to govern such cases in the laws o' the United States, so help yer God?" "Yass, sir; I do, sir."

"That fixes yer end o' the bargain. Mandy Thomas, do you solemnly swa'r that ye'll hang on to Amos for all comin' time, that ye'll nuss him in sickness, and be squar to him in wellness, that ye'll always be to him a good, true, honest an'-up-lawful under the penalties prescribed by the laws for the punishment of such offences; so you swa'r this, so help yer God?" "I swa'r I will."

"Then by the power in me vested as justice o' the peace in an' fur this precinct, I pronounce Amos Peabody, husband, an' you Mandy Thomas, wife, and legalize ye to remain as sich now an' forevermore, an' ye'll stand committed till the fees an' costs in the case are paid in full an' may God have mercy on your soul an' bless this union with his bestest blessin'."

The fees and costs were adjusted, and the newly made husband and wife, after receiving the congratulations of the assembly, departed for their cabin up the creek.—Oil City Derrick.

A System of instruction for working-people has been organized with great success in Copenhagen. At a public meeting held in the Autumn, the number of workmen desirous of attending the classes was found to be upwards of 3,000. There are at present 136 classes, with 132 teachers, dispersed over the town in seventeen different houses. There are fifteen classes of these, comprising about 200 students, for the most part under female teachers. The women are taught hygiene and the chemistry of housekeeping, besides the elementary sciences and languages, some of the male pupils have asked for instruction in bookkeeping, and the elements of law; others, for help toward their own special employment. The painters want to get information about the chemistry of colors; the smiths, about metallurgy. Men who work by night have been formed into classes. The bakers get their instruction early in the evening; and the men at the gasworks, who work by day and night in turn, get their instruction during one month with the rest of the students in the evening, and during the next month have special classes in the daytime. The whole undertaking has roused an interest among the working-people which, based upon an increasing and more consciously recognized desire for knowledge, promises good results for the whole society, if directed rightly. It has been considered best to let the plan grow according to the wants and desires of the laboring classes, instead of obtruding any completely arranged plan upon them and this way of proceeding has evidently met with their approval.

The argument of Baron Tennyson's verses on the marriage of the Princess Beatrice consists of an elaborate and sustained metaphor which we take the liberty to translate into perspicuous prose: Life is a day lighted by two suns. One sun is maternal, the other spousal love. One of the suns of the Princess Beatrice's life is Queen Victoria, while the rival luminary is Battenberg. Under ordinary circumstances, the German gentleman would have the pull, but in this case her Majesty is the heavier body. The Princess Beatrice will not "quit the widowed crown," but will continue to revolve in the "household orbit." The attraction of the second sun will not prevail against the superior gravity of his mother-in-law; and the Princess, drawn two ways at once, will hang in mid-heaven "like some conjectured planet," without any definite astronomical purpose, but favored with a double quantity of caloric and constant summer.—New York Sun.

The Mormons are seeking out all the remote places of the earth in order to spread the doctrine of the Latter-Day Saints. One of their peripatetic elders recently found a congenial field in New Zealand among the Maoris. He found a native chief who had had a vision of the coming of the new religion, and in a short time he secured 127 converts among the ex-cannibals. It is an open question whether the Maoris will gain anything by this change in their religion. Civilization has cut off more than half their number; perhaps they hope to recoup this loss by the productive creed of Joseph Smith.
