Advertiser.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY HENRY M. WHITNEY.

THE PACIFIC Commercial Advertiser.

"Have Patience." A youth and maid one winter night. Were sitting in the corner. His name, we're told, was Joshua White, And hers was Patience Warner.

Not much the pretty maiden said, Peside the young man sitting; Her cheeks were flushed a rosy red, Her eyes bent on her knitting.

Nor could he guess what thoughts of him Were to her bosom flocking, As her fair fingers, swift and slim, Flew round and round the stocking.

While as for Joshua, bashful youth, His words grew few and fewer; Though all the time, to tell the truth,

His chair edged nearer to her. Meanwhile her ball of yarn gave out. She knit so fast and steady; And he must give his aid, no doubt,

To get another ready. He held the skein; of course the thread Got tangled, suarled and twisted; " Have patience !" cried the artless maid To him who her assisted.

Good chance was this for tongue-tied churl To shorten all palaver; "Have patience !" cried he, "dearest girl ! And may I really have her ?"

The deed was done: no more that night Clicked needles in the corner; And she is Mrs. Joshua White That once was Patience Warner.

VARIETY.

Little disputes before marriage are great ones after it; as northerly winds, which are warm in sum-mer, blow keen and cold in winter.

An exchange asks very innocently if it is any harm for young ladies to sit in the lapse of ages Another replies that it all depends on the kind of ages selected. Those from eighteen to twenty-five it puts down as extra hazardous A patriotic exempt in St. Albans, Vermont, offers

An old geography says that in 1750, Albany had 1,500 houses and 5,000 inhabitants, all standing with their gable ends to the street. A barber while shaving a man whose cheeks were so sunken that it was necessary for him to put his finger inside and press them out so that the razor would reach what was usually the hollow, suddenly withdrew his hand, exclaiming, "A plague on your lantern jaw! I have cut my finger through them."

A woman in Albany sued a neighbor to recover damages for breaking an iron kettle which the latter had borrowed. On trial, the attorney for the defendant proved the following points:

1. His client never borrowed the kettle.

2. It was broken when she borrowed it. 3. It was whole when she returned it.

During the great Californian flood of 1862, the bridge at Yuba river at Parks' Bar, though thirty feet above the usual level of the water, was carried away. An Irishman on the bank of the river a mile below, saw the fragments floating past, and a few minutes afterwards met the Nevada stage, which had crossed on the bridge a few minutes before it was swept away, and could not have crossed by any other means or at any other place. He asked anxiously, " And sure, did ye cross the bridge before it

A Baptist preacher known to be very fond of toddy was riding, one very cold day, past the house of a friend who had similar tastes, and who now cried out, " Hallo, brother, don't be in such haste. Won't you stop and chat awhile?" " No, thank you, I have no time. John Smith is dying, and I must get to his house as soon as I can."

"But wouldn't you like a hot whisky toddy?" "Well, I don't care if I do," said the preacher, as he stopped his horse and commenced to dismount. Before he had got to the ground, however, he was stopped by the friend's reply : " I thought so, and I haven't a drop in the house. I only asked for curiosity." The hurricane smote the earth with a force and filled it with a terror beyond any previous conception. All nature seemed to be in convulsions; if the universe had been going to wreck the scene could soarcely have been more frightful. Houses were overturned and dashed to pieces; the largest trees were snapped off or torn up by the roots; men, cattle, and the limbs of trees were lifted up into the air and blown about like feathers; the water of the river was thrown from its bed; the thunder roared with frequent peals, which began its deafening crashes and continued in prolonged echoes gradually grow-ing fainter in echoes until they died in the distance; uring the intervals the air was full of the shricks and groans of the men and women buried in the ruins of buildings, or crushed by falling trees; the lightning flashed with dazzling brilliancy against a sky black as midnight; and although I was sheltered by a large rock, it was with the greatest difficulty that I could hold my bat on.

CHECKING PERSPIBATION .- A merchant, in " lending a hand" on board one of his ships on a windy day, found himself at the end of an hour and a half, down to rest. The cool wind from the sea, was delightful, and, engaging in conversation, time passed faster than he was aware of. In attempting to rise he was unable to do so without assistance. He was taken how and put to bed, where he remained for two years; and for a long time afterwards could only hobble about with the aid of a crutch. Less exposures than this have, in constitutions not so vigorous, resulted in inflammation of the lungs, " pneumonia," ending in death in less than a week, or causing tedious rheumatism, to be a source of torture for a lifetime. Multitudes of lives would be saved every year, and an incalculable amount of human suffering would be prevented, if parents would begin to explain to their children, at the age of three or four years the danger which attends cooling off too quickly after exercise, and the importance of not standing still after exercise, or work, or play, or of remaining exposed to a wind, or of sitting at an open window or door, or of pulling off any garment, even the hat or bonnet, while in a heat. It should be remarkabled by all that a cold never comes with be remembered by all that a cold never comes without a cause, and that in four times out of five, it is the result of leaving off exercise too suddenly, or of remaining still in the wind, or in a cooler atmosphere than that in which the exercise has been taken.

LEWERS & DICKSON, LUMBER YARD ON FORT, KING AND MERCHANT STREETS. "The sugar market remains in a healthy condition, the old refinery has purchased the cargo of Peru sugar per Emilie, some dark Sandwich Islands, and is in treaty about a cargo of central American sugar, so that there may be very little sugar left soon in first hands. Hogshead sugar is also being bought by the trade, fine Portorico at 12c, and about 200 hogsheads is all that remains at present in the hands of speculators and importers. The new refinery does not produce as much up to this time, as expected. From Peru and central America nothing of any consequence is on the way as known. The cargoes of West India hogshead sugar on the way cost high, the one first due from Perturico, for instance, will cost laid down here, daty paid, near 14 cents per lb, such as now sells at 12c, per lb; the loss in weight alone with these sugars is 10 to 12 per ct. These hogshead sugars are too dear for the refineries and therefore interfere a good deal with the better grades of island sugars, but their high cost and large packages will on the other hand be a protection again for the island sugars, so that, as far as we can see, now at least, the prospects of the latter's crop for the next season are not at all discouraging and eventually may be very promising, as shipments from Peru and central America, etc., have not returned very satisfactory accounts this season and may be considerably curtailed next year; the renewed shipments of China sugars to this port have sold with a loss mostly and importations from Brongkong, will no doubt be stopped nearly altogether."

From this and similar advices received, it appears that the

From this and similar advices received, it appears that the prospect for Sandwich Island sugars will be good for some time. Manila and China sugars cannot be imported at the prices that formerly ruled for them. The cause is, the sugars imported from China and Manila have to be paid for by exchange on London, which is now at a heavy premium, making shipments from thence attended with great cost. The effect will be Francisco. The same remarks will probably apply to rice, ugh not to the same extent, as Chinese merchants generally send goods of some kind to pay for rice.

Now as there will be an increased demand for our sugars in future, it is well for our planters to study economy in the packages used. The dark sugars being destined mostly for the refineries, should be packed either in hogsheads or in bags, in order to save a portion of the cost of the present kegs, which in the sale are counted as of no use, and when emptied are destroyed. Cheap packages for the dark grades will enable our planters to hold undisputed the important position of the principal supplier of California, which they are about to assume. Our exports for 1865, will not be less than fifteen millions of pounds, which is about one half that California ntion has been called to the eareless way in which our half barrel sugar containers are hooped. The outer hoops at each end of the keg should be made broader and extend Sush to the end of the staves, or even a little beyond. Now they are generally driven from a half to three-quarters of an inch below the rim. The consequence is that in the rough bandling which the packages receive after leaving the mill, the ends of the staves get badly broken, making holes, where the sagar wastes. Coopers will readily understand this, and a ttle attention can correct it.

The dyportures of the Onward on Wednesday, and the Comet on Thursday, leave no packet in port now for San Francisco. Both the Yankee and the Smurniote will however arrive in a few days. The cargoes and passengers by the The bark Arctic arrived at Boston Aguust 19, 144 days from France.—It is reported that an imperial manifesto will shorely appear. That document will, it is said, be such as to remove all doubts as to the pacific intentions of the Emperor. It is believed that it will lay down that the Emperor entirely and distinctly reputiates a policy of aggression, and specially pro-tests against any arrière pensée of an annexation of the Rhenish provinces. It is said, also, that the manifesto will deal in emphatic terms on the advan-tages of a sincere and bons fide alliance with England.

THE PACIFIC

Commercial Advertiser.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15. On our fourth page will be found a letter extracted from the Bulletin, written from Honolulu, and pertaining to local matters. Like many superficial observers and critics, commenting on Hawaiian affairs, this writer gives currency to assertions the very reverse of the fact, when he states that, "Unvarnished truth will tell you that Hawaiians are totally unfitted by education and training for the possession of the privileges of the ballot, the trial by jury, or to sit as lawmakers."

European critics talk the same way about the American people, in almost the identical words, and point to the present rebellion to support their theories. "Unvarnished truth" tells us that the Hawaiians have enjoyed the privilege of the ballot for 12 years with less corruption, bribery, and the attendant evils so common to it, than any other country on the face of the globe, and have progressed under their late constitutional form of government, more rapidly than any other. And even as law-makers, they are certainly equal to their wants, if not so refined, so subtile and obscure in their legislation.

"Truth will further tell you," says this writer. " that a horrible disease is eating out the vitals of the race unchecked and unheeded, and that it is impossible to make rules by which its spread can be prevented," &c. Truth will tell us that these same legislators, who are set down as fools and imbiciles, did at the last session of the Legislature pass an act and appropriate $7,000 to erect an insane asylum, to alleviate the sufferings of their race. Truth will tell us that this same Legislature voted $1700. more or less, for a health commission, to investigate and report on the Asiatic leprosy and other diseases which are spreading among the Truth will also tell us, in unmistakeable language, that, notwithstanding these appropriations were made, two years and more have passed and no hospital has been erected, and no health commission has reported, though thousands of natives have been attacked by the leprosy since the passage of the appropriation! Truth will tell us that it is not the people, nor their legislators, who are unfitted for their rights and privileges, but the ministers, the executors who are appointed to carry out the law, who " are totally unfitted, by education and training" for the offices they hold. We like to see the "unvarnished truth" told, and trust that correspondents who take that as their text will stick a little closer to it.

There are many who despise this Hawaiian race, and take every opportunity to cry them down-chiefs and people-as "totally unfitted by education and training for the possession of the privileges" of self-government, and who desire to see them set aside and foreign rulers established. This is the secret impulse that has carried forward the late Opposition to the Constitution and to law and order. The chiefs do not yet see it, but the day will come, when they will see it, and when they have been set aside by the very men who are now their councillers, as being "totally unfitted by education and training" for ruling this people. And until we have ministers who are willing to work for the good of the people, who are capable of filling the trusts reposed in them, until then, the people must suffer and die, no matter what laws or rules may be established. Under such rule, the race will soon become extinct.

Foreign News.

THREE arrivals from San Francisco the past week, have brought us most gratifying intelligence relating to the civil war. Our dates are to Sept. 23 from Washington, and the telegrams from the various battle centers are to nearly

A battle was fought in the Shenandoah valley on the 19th of September, between Gen. Sheridan, commanding the Union forces, and Gen. Ewell, commanding the Rebels. It took place on the Opequan Creek, near Winchester, and the rebels were defeated with great loss, losing also Fisher's Hill, which they had fortified for depositing stores and material. They then retreated hastily up the valley, closely followed by Sheridan, who overtook them at Strasburg, and made another large capture of prisoners. The pursuit by the Union forces appears to have been so vigorous that the rebels were unable to reorganize, and at the latest dates were scattered and escaping in small squads to Gordonsville and Richmond. Official reports state that about 5,000 rebel prisoners had been secured with 16 cannon, and a large number of regimental flags. Two Rebel generals, Rhodes and Gordon were killed, and three others wounded. Altogether, the victory is one of the most decisive that has taken place ia Virginia since the war opened, and will tend to cripple Lee very much, as his movements have been of late much depending on Early's success. The news of this victory had a greater effect in the principal cities of the north, than that of any victory during the year, and is generally conceded will have a most important result on the Virginia campaign.

About Petersburg and Richmond there has nothing important transpired, Grant appears to be gradually extending his lines, and strengthening his position, with new men and new material, and the opinion appears to be gaining ground that if Lee remains long in his present position he will become enclosed in a net from which escape can be effected only by a great loss, and perhaps the total demoralization if not capture of his army. Affairs in Richmond are evidently approaching a crisis, which must culminate during October or No-

Sherman's letter to Gen. Hood is well worth perusal. It is one of the keenest and yet most truthful documents that have appeared during the war. Hood will not undertake to reply to it. The Governor of Georgia has ordered the militia of that state to retire from the Confederate army. This looks like carrying into effect the "State rights" doctrine at a moment when it will prove very inconvenient to Jeff Davis and his rebel gang.

The news from Texas is somewhat strange, wet is confirmed. Four parties-the Mexican Imperial forces, the Mexican Republicans, the Confederates and the Union forces, were all engaged in the fights which took place. The gist of the whole matter is this-the export trade of cotton from the Rio Grande River, which divides Texas from Mexico, is very important, and the various forces located about there are anxious to control it, which has brought on a collision between them. We do not see how any trouble can spring out of this, that can involve the American and Mexican Governments.

We learn from the late arrivals the cause f the recent fall in gold. It is an offer to the American Government, from the European capitalists, to supply it with one thousand millions of dollars-which is probably the largest tender ever made to any Government. It had not been accepted, but should it be it will have the effect to send gold down much nearer par than it now is, and hasten the suppression of the rebellion. With the fall of gold there will be a corresponding decline in the prices of every description of merchandise, which now rules so high at the East.

Altogether the news by the late arrivals has a pleasing aspect, and betokens the onward march of the peace movement, which will eventually terminate in the restoration of the Union, with the total destruction of slavery, which has been its sole cause and support. Slavery may not be wholly dead till the rebellion is suppressed, but it must be abolished before any peace can be reestablished which the North will assent to.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

THE AMERICAN MAILS .- Much inconvenience has been felt by the non-arrival of the American letter mails. For five or six weeks past, very few Eastern letters have been received at the Honolulu Post-office. It is impossible to tell what the cause of this is, but as the irregularity began about the date of the increase of foreign letter postage, we are left to surmise it has some connection with that order, and that letters are detained at New York or San Francisco for want of the entire sum of len cents being prepaid. Whatever the cause may be, there is detention somewhere, as only occasional strazgling letters from the East have come to hand.

- On Wednesday, after the arrival of the Emily Banning's mail without the usual Eastern letters, a petition, signed by the principal American residents was sent to the American Minister, requesting him to seek a correction of the irregularity, which we presume will be done. There is another matter that ought to be investigated, viz : the charging of double postage on prepaid American and European papers. And now we are informed that newspaper exchanges (which are always allowed to go free) must pay the usual postage, contrary to law. These things ought to be investigated.

- The letter referred to above, has elicited the following acknowledgement:

UNITED STATES LEGATION, GENTLEMEN: — Your very respectful letter of the 12th, requesting me as the Representative of the United States Government near His Majesty's Court, to notify the proper authorities at San Francisco and Washington, of the irregularity and almost total failure in the mail service for the past two months or more, is received, and duly considered. Allow me to assure you, gentlemen, that I shall most cheerfully and promptly comply with your request.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

To Messrs. C. Brewer & Co., Richards & Co., G. P. Judd, B. F.

Bolles & Co., and others.

The bark Young Hector arrived at San Francisco on the 22d of September, 25 days from Honolu-About two hours later, the Yankee arrived. 151 days from Honolulu! The gallant Commodore Paty has withdrawn his flag from the Yankee, and will hoist it on the Whistler, on her arrival at that port. Capt. Fuller takes command of the Yankee, and we presume the Y. H. will be withdrawn from the line. The Yankee was to have sailed on the 2nd of October, and if she has a good run down, ought to arrive here within a day or two. Several clippers also were to leave early in October, to touch at this

PLAYING WITH MATCHES .- A fire occurred on Tuesday afternoon, near the Nuuanu stream, at a place called Kauluwela. It was a new thatch house, nearly finished. The fire was caused by a child playing with matches, while its mother was asleep. On seeing what a fine blaze it had made, it waked its mother to enjoy the sight also, but it had made so much progress that the house and its contents were entirely

- On Thursday another thatch house back of Mr. Barnard's in Nuuanu Valley was destroyed by fire.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY .- Among the passengers, by the ship Daniel Marcy, en route for Hongkong, were Rev. Mr. Dean and wife, Baptist missionaries, who have resided in China for many years, and are now on their return thither after a visit to the United States. During the stay of the vessel here, they visited most of the places of interest in and around Honolulu, and had an opportunity to make a comparison between Honolulu and Hongkong, as places of residence.

THE OLD WATER BOAT .- In our last we stated that the old water boat was condemned. In this we were mistaken, as Capt. White who has her in charge during the absence of Capter S. James, has had her thoroughly overhauled and is now ready to fill all orders for water to ships outside or inside.

SHIP DISMASTED .- On the passage from San Francisco to this port, the bark John Wells passed a merchant clipper in the night, with her fore and mizen masts gone. She was heading towards San Francisco, with a fair wind, and made no signals for help.

PERSONAL -Among the passengers that left San Francisco, Sept. 23, in the steamer for Panama and New York, were Rev. Dr. Bellows and family, Bishon Kip and family, Peter C. Jones, Sr., Rev. C. T. Mills and wife, late of Punahou, and Lieutenant. H. W. Dimond of this city.

The schooner H. N. Ruggles, Chadwick, was at Kealakeakua loading, when the steamer left last week, and expected to sail on the 18th or 14th for San Francisco direct, with a cargo of pulu and oranges.

AUTUMN RAINS .- A good soaking rain fell on Saturday last, and another smaller shower yesterday, which are the first of the fall rains, and will help farmers and planters.

Firing was distinctly heard off the port on Thursday night-supposed to have been from a San Francisco vessel bound past to China. Court has been in session the past week.

Several cases of interest are before it, still pending,

We are indebted to Capt. Ross, of the Daniel Marcy, for late foreign papers, and also to Consul Caldwell for the same.

of which we shall give reports next week.

THEATRICAL.-Among the passengers of the Emily Banning from San Francisco, we notice a troupe of Theatrical Artists, from Maguire's Opera House, under the management of Mr. C. R. Faylor, who visited Honolulu last year, while on his way to China, and gave a performance here. This troupe made their first appearance at the Royal Hawaiian Theatre, on Thursday evening, before a crowed house, and the plays selected for that evening were " All that Glitters is not Gold," and the side-splitting farce of "Toodles." Master Geo. W. Marsh is certainly the most comic and eccentric little comedian we ever saw, and can't be beaten in the character of Toodles. His remarks about his friend " not that man, but another man," against whose principle it is to pay the interest on what he owed; and what's more, against his interest to pay the principle, has unfortunately a very wide application in almost every community. Last evening the performance consisted of "Little Treasure," and "The Irish Broom Maker," which were witnessed by a full house. It must be a pleasure to the troupe, who acquitted themselves with great credit, to have such a large and attentive audience. To-night will be their last performance in this city as they take their departure in the Emily Banning for China to morrow. A very attractive programme is offered, and they will no doubt have a crowded house, as it is well

FOREIGN NEWS. Ten Days Later!

The bark Emily Banning arrived here on Tuesday evening, having had a passage of 21 days from San Francisco, bringing daily papers to the 20th of September, and the New York newspaper mail of Ang. 23. She was followed on Thursday by the Daniel Marcy with dates to the 24th.

The following is a summary of the news by her : From Grant's Army.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Sept. 13. -Picket and artillery firing has been kept up briskly since Saturday, and five or six of our men have been brought into the hospital, the majority of them badly wounded. Yesterday a large mortar opened on the right and threw a number of shells into Petersburg with great precision. Grant is still perfecting his lines on the Weldon Railroad, and pushing his line alowly to the west of the road.

Washington, Sept. 16.—A letter received in this city to-day from an officer of Grant's staff, dated City Point, Wednesday, says: "Everything looks bright and cheering. Every day we are here we are weakening the enemy more or less. Their troops are deserting to our lines in droves. We are receiving large accessions. The 11th Florida, which entered the service 1,150 strong, has been reduced, deserters

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 .- The Herald's correspondent in front of Petersburg, with the Ninth Corps, writing on the 18th, says that deserters continue to report great dissatisfaction among the rebel soldiers.

A new regulation has been established that if a rebel soldier advances beyond his post without his musket, he is to be fired on by his comrades; if he comes forward with his piece, of course he is likely to be fired ou by our pickets.

New York, Sept. 16 .- The World's special from Grant's headquarters, the 15th, says there is every reason to believe that the rebels have in contemplation, and are already preparing for the evacuation of Petersburg—retiring their army within the defenses of Richmond. This may account for the protracted quiet in our front since their failure to regain possession of a portion of the Weldon Railroad, captured us. There has been considerable firing along the line to-day, but without results of any moment on

The Herald's City Point correspondent of the 15th says: Yesterday morning General Birney opened all his batteries on the rebel works; and in the city of Petersburg it literally rained shot and shell on them for two hours. This was in retaliation for the rebel firing on our pickets at all hours. All accounts of an impending battle on the Weldon Railroad are mere speculations based on the remote probabilities. Whether Lee removed his headquarters to Reams's Station, as reported by deserters, to oversee the management or not, he does not seem disposed to bring

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 .- The World's Army of the Potomac correspondent of the 17th gives the follow-ing account of the rebel capture of our cattle: "To the rear of a portion of our line, picketed by the First District of Columbia cavalry, there was a large field in which there were about 3,000 head of very fine beeves. As the enemy had been constantly running scouts thereabouts, they had probably learned the fact, and resolved to possess themselves of our treasure. Accordingly, daylight yesterday morning revealed them approaching close in the front of the First District of Columbia regiment, in two strong lines of battle; the first, comprising the troops of Wm. H. Lee; the second being the Hampton Legion, and the aggregate number of men roaching probably 5,000. Quickly breeking in front of our pickets the enemy turned by the right and left, moved around the cattle and drove off the entire herd, likewise many horses belonging to our men.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Commercial's special says reports from City Point state that the third division of the Fifth Corps interrupted the raiding party across the head of the Blackwater, and recaptured most of the cattle taken on Tuesday. They also have taken seven hundred prisoners. The rebels were shooting the animals that gave out. Advices from the Army of the Potomac state that fresh troops are arriving rapidly. The situation is all that could be

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Sept. 20 .-News of the victory in the Shenandoah Valley was read to the troops along the lines this afternoon, and was received with unbounded enthusiasm and repeated cheering. A salute of a hundred shotted guns will be fired to-morrow at daylight, in honor of the event. Deserters say the rebels are receiving rations of fresh beef from the drove captured from which accomplished the feat, and they took two hundred and fifty prisoners, with 2,500 head of cattle, trains, guns, etc. SEPT. 21st .- The guns along our entire line opened this morning at daylight, and kept up a roar for half an hour. Since that time occasional shots were heard at various points.

From Atlanta. Louisville, Sept. 13 .- The Journal's special correspondent, writing from Atlanta, the 10th, gives the congratulatory order from Gen. Sherman, recounting his victories, and an agreement between Gen. Sherman and Hood for a ten days' truce at Rough and Ready, on the Macon Railroad, and the country around it enclosed by a circle of two miles radius, to enable the people of Atlanta to remove to points north and south. In relation to Sherman's order removing the inhabitants of Atlanta, Hood, in a letter to Gen. Sherman on this point, says : " Permit me to say the measure you propose transcends in studied and ingenious cruelty all the acts ever before brought to my attention in the dark history of war. In the name of God and humanity, I protest, believing you are expelling from their homes and firesides the wives and children of a brave people."

Hood's letter to James M. Calhoun, the Mayor of Atlanta, says: "I shall do all in my power to miti-gate the terrible hardships and misery that must be brought upon your people by the extraordinary order of the Federal commander." The letter from Sherman to Hood is not obtainable, but the following items taken from the notice issued by the Mayor, by command of Gen. Sherman, will give some idea thereof: " Citizens are requested to leave Atlanta and proceed south or north. The government will furnish transportation south as far as Rough and Ready, and north as far as Chattanooga. All citizens may take their movable property, and trans-portation will be furnished for all movables. Negroes who wish to do so may go with their masters; other male negroes will be put in Government employ, and the women and children sent outside the lines."

Sherman's Order No. 4, states that Atlanta being occupied exclusively for warlike purposes, it will at once be vacated by all except the armies of the United States, and such civilians and employes as may be detained by the proper Departments of the Government, and concludes, "At the proper time just arrangements will be made for the supply to the troops of all articles they may need over and above clothing, provisions, etc., furnished by Government; and at no price [?] whatever will traders or suttlers be allowed to settle within the limits of the fortified places. If they do manage to come in in spite of this notice, the quartermaster will seize their stores and appropriate them to the use of the troops, and deliver the parties or other unauthorized citizens who thus place their individus! interests above that of the United States, into the bands of some Provost-Marshal to be put to labor on the forts, or conscripted into one of the regiments or batteries already in service. The same general principles apply to all military posts south of Chattanooga."

The Richmond Sentinel has an article on Sheropulation of Atlanta, calling it an event unparalleled in the American war, and without example in modern times. It calls Sherman chief among the savages, captain of pirates, leader among bighwaymen, prince among scoundrels and brutes, and the foremost villain of the world. "Sherman," it says, " has given the war a new feature. Stern as it has been, it is henceforth to be sterner; and horrible as it has been, henceforth it will be more horrible. The people are ready; if the President wants us, let him call for us; no matter about age. If this is the kind of warfare we are to resist, we will strive to fight better for halting age, peaceful innocence, and to die in defence of home, rather than be driven out in hordes to languish in exile. The last man and the last boy among us must take his arms, sooner than endure such outrages as at Atlanta."

The Battle in the Shenandoah Valley. WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 .- The following is an official dispatch just received from Gen. Sheridan, detailing some particulars of the battle and victory at Fisher's Hill : " I cannot, as yet, give any definite account of the loss, which is light. Crook struck the left flank of the enemy and doubled it up, and advanced down their lines. Rickett's division of the Sixth Corps swung in and joined Crooks, and Getty's and Wheaton's divisions took up the same movement, which was followed by the whole line, attacking beautifully. We carried the works of the enemy. The rebels threw down their arms and fled in the greatest confusion, abandoning most of their artillery. It was dark before the battle ended. I pursued on after the enemy during the night up to this point, with the Sixth and Nineteenth Corps. I have stopped here to rest my men and issue rations. If Gen. Torbett has pushed down Suray Valley, according to my directions, he will achieve great results. I do not think there ever was an army so badly routed as this in the Valley. Their soldiers are hiding away and going to their homes. I cannot, at present, give any estimate of prisoners, and have pushed on regardless of everything. The number of pieces of artillery captured is 16. The news from Sheridan's army yesterday created a wild evcitement throughout the city. The capture of Fisher's Hill, that great stronghold and key to the upper end of the Shenandoab Valley, and the addition of sixteen cannons, with several thousand prisoners, to the trophies already won by the victorious army of Sheridan, are regarded here as conclusive evidence of the destruction of the rebel army in the valley and the opening of the whole route to Lynchburg, which necessarily must bring about a speedy evacuation of Richmond, or the capture of the rebel capital and Lee's whole army.

When last heard from, Early's army was flying down the valley panic-stricken. Sheridan was in hot pursuit near Woodstock. New York, Sept. 24 .- The Herald gives a list of the rebel officers captured by Sheridan at Opequan

Creek, viz : Two Colonels, seven Lieutenant Colonels, one Major, nineteen Captains and seventy-five The following list of rebel Generals killed and wounded is correct : Generals Rhodes, Raines, Gordon, Leroy, Goodwin, Bradley, Johnson and Fitzhugh Lee. [For the hundredth time, at least. Eps. ALTA.] From all that can be learned, the number of prisoners approximates 5,000.

From Mobile. NEW YORK, Sept. 15 .- The Herald's Mobile Bay correspondent of the 4th says: Everything is quiet here, with the probability of an immediate military movement upon Mobile. The sunken rebel iron-clad Baltic still effectually blockades the main channel across Dog River Bar; but the Winnebago, a double turreted monitor, has found a passage through the obstructions to a point nearly opposite Mobile, and can drop 11 and 15 inch shells into the city at will. The Metacomet, Sebago and Kennebec have also reached the same place, and are in line of battle ready to shell the city at the signal from Farragut.

Mobile is entirely at our mercy.

The distance of the war vessels mentioned above from Mobile is about 31 miles. Their largest rifled guns can throw shells into the remotest suburbs. The rebel rams and gunboats are in plain sight, but don't make the slightest hostile demonstrations. They seem to have had enough of Farragut and his fleet in the recent combat. The rebel war vessels referred to are the rams Alabama, National and Tuscaloosa, the gunboat Morgan, and one other ram, the name of which is not known. They remain above the city, in the mouth of the Alabama river, just out of the range of the gunboats. The J. P. Jackson has succeeded in capturing the largest one of the three launches that have been hovering around the Mississippi Sound of late, with the object of attacking Setona. The launch had on board a howitzer, and other articles of a warlike character.

As stated in a late Mobile paper, Granger's troops have constructed splendid fortifications at Cedar Point and other places, and even if Hood's whole army should reinforce Mobile, and attack our position, with the assistance of the guuboats, the enemy could easily be kept at bay. The rebel Gen. Page has been brought to Fort Morgan, where he is to be tried on a charge of destroying the munitions of war in that fort after surrender. The offence is punishable with death. A large quantity of secret ordnance stores have been discovered by our expeditionary parties. Rebel dispatches dated Mobile, the 14th, say: "There is nothing new. Seven Yankee vessels lie quietly below the obstructions." From Charleston.

New York, Sept. 17.—Hilton Head news has been received to the 18th. No active military operations of importance are reported. Six hundred rebel officers, recently consigned to General Foster, had been placed in a prisoners' camp, constructed on Morris Island, under fire of the rebel batteries, and the commander at Charleston is notified of the fact. As regards rations, these officers are to fare precisely as Union officers under fire at Charleston.

New York, Sept. 13 .- The Tribune's special dispatch from Washington says : Col. Daua, of the 143d Pennsylvania, who has just returned from under fire at Charleston, reports that he was assured by parties who had been out to Sumter, that it was rapidly settling, and in a very short time, it was believed, the water would enter the lower tier of embrasures. The fact is well known to our engineers that this fortification was erected upon quite a thin point of sand, which strata of sand rested upon a soft, pulpy mass of debris.

From Mississippi. CAIRO, Sept. 19 .- The latest dates from New Orleans state that the news from Atlanta had produced great despondency among the rebels, and corresponding joy among the loyal people. Hood's army is reported, through loyal sources, to be greatly demoralized. All the trans-Mississippi rebel army, with the exception of Buckner's brigade, moved up towards White River. Buckner confronts the remnants of our army at Morganza, whose destination is contra-

A Characteristic Letter from Sherman. WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 .- The following is the reply of Sherman to Hood on the charge of cruelty : GENERAL-I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of this date, at hands of Ball and Crew (?) consenting to the arrangements I proposed to facilitate the removal South of the people of Atlanta, who prefer to go in that direction. I euclose you a copy of my order, which will, I am satisfied, accomplish my purpose perfectly. You style the measures proposed unprecedented, and appeal to the dark history of war for the parallel as an act of studied and ungenerous cruelty not precedented. General Johnston wisely and properly removed families all the way from Dalton down. I see no reason why Atlanta should be excepted, nor is it necessary to appeal to the dark history of war, when recent events, modern examples, are so handy. You, yourself, burned the dwelling houses along your parapet. I have seen to-day fifty houses you rendered uninhabitable because they stood in the way of your forts and men, and you defended Atlanta on a line so close to the town that every cannon shot and many musket shot from our line of entrenchment, that overshot their mark, went into the habitations of women and children. Hardee did the same at Jonesboro, and Johnson did the same last summer at Jackson, Miss. I have not accused you of heartless cruelty; I merely instance these cases of very recent occurrence. could enumerate hundreds of others, and I challenge any fair man to judge which of us has a heart of pity for the families of a brave people. I say it is a kindness to the families of Atlanta to remove them now and at once from scenes to which women and children should not be exposed. A brave people should scorn to commit their wives and children to the rude barbarities of war's dark history. In the name of common sense I ask you not to appeal to a just God in such a sacrilegious manner. You who, in the midst of peace and prosperity, plunged the nation into civil war; a dark, cruel war-who dared and badgered us to battle; insulted our flag; seized our arsenals and forts that were left in honorable custody; seized and made prisoners of war their very guardians, sent to protect your people against the Indians and negroes, long before any overt act was committed against you by Lincoln's Government.

You tried to force Kentucky and Missouri into rebellion in spite of themselves; falsified the vote of Louis. isna; sent privateers to plunder unarmed ships; ex-pelled Union families by thousands; burned their houses, and declared by Act of Congress the confisca-tion of all debts due Northern men for goods. You may talk this to marines, but not to me, who have seen these things, and who will this day make as much sacrifice for the peace and honor of the South as the best born Southerner among you.

If we must be enemies, let us be men, and fight it out as we propose to-day, and not deel in such hypo-critical appeals to God and humanity. God will judge us in due time, and he will pronounce whether it will be more humane to fight with a town full of women and families, and a brave people at our back. or remove them in time to places of safety among their own friends and people.

W. T. SHERMAN. (Signed,)

From Texas. CHICAGO, Sept. 19 .- Advices from the Rio Grande farnish information of a fight at Brownsville in which the French, Rebels, Mexicans and Federals were engaged. The facts appear to be as follows: On the morning of the 6th, a French force of five thousand moved out of Bagdad and commenced the ascent of the Rio Grande for the purpose of attacking Matamoras. The march was uninterrupted until they reached a point opposite White Ranch, where they met Cortinas with a Mexican force prepared to contest their advance. An artillery duel ensued, resulting in the French retiring in confusion, closely fol-lowed for three miles, when coming to the chaparral they made a stand, where Cortinus again opened on them with shot and shell. While engaged at this point the rebel commander at Brownsville, Colonel Ford, came down the Texas side of the Rio Grande with a large drove of cattle for the French, and seeing the Confederacy's friends engaged with Cortinas, promptly espoused their cause and opened on the Mexican rear. On this the French army charged on the Mexicans, but were driven back in disorder to the cover of the chaparral. About this time the 91st Illinois, at Brazos Santiago, hearing firing on the Rio Grande, were ordered to the scene of action Immediately on arrival, they pitched into Ford (rebel,) driving him five miles, capturing his camp equipage and about thirty stand of arms. In the meantime, Cortinas succeeded in putting the imperialists to flight and drove them to Boca del Rio. As his artillery could not compete with their heavy ord-nance on ship board, he withdrew his forces to White Ranch, and crossed five hundred men into Texas. where they lay on their arms during the night by the side of the American troops. No sooner had Cortinas crossed the river than he lowered his flag and hoisted the Stars and Stripes, which were greeted enthusiastically by the Mexican soldiers as well as Americans. On the 9th, Cortinas followed Ford to the old battle field of Resaca de la Palma, where he rested his troops for the night, while Ford fell back to Brownsville. Cortinus immediately dispatched a courier to Matamoras with an order for the forces there to prepare to move immediately. Early the next morning, 8,000 Mexicans moved up the Rio Grande, crossed the river, and came down on the Texas side, attacking Brownsville simultaneously with Cortinas. The struggle resulted in the defeat of the rebels (Americans,) who were driven from the town, Cortinas taking possession. The rebel retreat was so hasty that they left their flags flying from several public buildings. The Stars and Stripes were noisted amid enthusiastic cheering.

The New Orleans Picayune's account of the affair at Brownsville, is as follows: " Reliable in formation from the Rio Grande states that Cortinas crossed the river with his whole force of three thousand men, with sixteen pieces of artillery, and occupied Brownsville, driving out the Confederates under Col. Ford. He hoisted the United States flag, and offered his services to the United States com mander at Brazos Santiago. When Cortinas levied his forced loan on the people of Matamoras, Colonel Fisher, late in the Mexican service, and now in the Confederate army, attempted to interpose between them and Cortinus, and proposed to the French commander to unite in expelling Cortinas. He not desiring to unite his fortunes with those of the Confederacy, declined. Fisher, not contented, visited Cortinus and left a message that if any attempt was made to levy a forced loan on the French or Confederate citizens, the Confederate forces would do as General Dana did some time ago, cross the river and remove their funds to a place of safety. Cortinas roused by this, determined to take the initiative, and accordingly left quickly during the night, leaving a small force in Matamoras, and went to a point below, where he crossed his whole force and sixteen pieces of artillery, with which he marched to Brownsville, driving out the force of Col. Ford, composed of cavalry without artillery. Cortinas then hoisted the United States flag, declared as he was born on the American side of the river, that he was a cirizen of the United States, and would hold Brownsville for that Government. He immediately notified the commanding officer at Brazos Santiago of his proceedings, and offered through him, to his Government his own services, and those of his army. It seems that a small French force at the mouth of the river was so alarmed at the advance of Cortinas down the river that they took to their ships, but re-turned when they found Brownsville was the object

Dates from New Orleans of the 13th say there is much dispute over the Mexican news concerning the exploits of Cortinas, which are not generally believed; but some who should know assert that the whole is true. Cortinas is said to be still at Fort Brown, with nineteen guns bearing on Matamoras. Colonel Ford's rebel cavalry is encamped ten miles up the Rio Grande. The French had moved out ten miles from Bagdad.

The Draft.

Washington, Sept. 14 .- Grant telegraphs this morning in respect to the draft as follows : " CITY POINT, Sept. 13 .- We ought to have the whole number of men called for by the President in the shortest possible time. Prompt action in filling our armies will have more effect on the enemy than victory over them. They profess to believe, and make their men believe, there is such a strong party in the North in favor of recognizing Southern independence that the draft cannot be enforced. Let them be undeceived. Deserters, come into our lines daily who tell us the men are nearly universally tired of the war, and that desertions would be much more frequent, but they believe peace will be negotiated after the Fall election. The enforcement of the draft and prompt filling up of our armies will save the sheading of blood to an immense degree.

The following telegram has been received from Sherman on the same subject : " ATLANTA, Sept. 18 .- I am glad to hear that the draft will be enforced-first, because we need men ; secondly, because they come as privates to fill up the old tired regiments, with their experienced officers already on hand; third, because the enforcement of the law will manifest a power resident in our Government equal to the occasion. Our Government, though a democracy, should, in time of trouble and danger, be able to wield the power of a great nation.

SHERMAN." The draft has been ordered to be commenced in all the States on Monday, September 19th, and will go on until completed.

Political.

Boston, Sept. 22 -A letter from Fremont, withdrawing as a candidate for the Presidency, was published to-day. He says the Union Republican party has become a paramount necessity. The policy of the Democratic party signifies utter separation or reëstablishment with slavery. The Chicago platform is separation. McClellan's letter of acceptance is reëstablishment with slavery. The Republican candidate, on the contrary, is pledged to the reëstablishment of the Union without slavery. However hesitating his policy may be, the pressure of his party will, we may hope, force him to it. Between these issues of the liberal party no one can remain in doubt, and I believe I am consistent with my antecedents on withdrawing, not to aid in the triumph of Mr. Lincoln, but to do my part towards preventing the election of a Democratic candidate. Fremont thinks Lincoln's administration has been, politically, military, and financially, a failure, and that its necessary continuance is a cause of regret for the country. In concluding, he says: "The united Republican party is reasonably sure of success; divided, the result, at least, is doubtful."

Macon, Sept. 10 .- Hood received a flag of truce from Sherman yesterday, in which he states that he has ordered Atlanta to be cleared of all white inhabitants-those taking the oath to be sent North; those refusing, to be sent South. An armistice of ten days was proposed by Gen. Sherman to carry out the order. Hood accepted the armistice, but denounced the order as barbarous.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Capt. Sloan, of the 2d Pennsylvania Cavalry, who left Libby Prison September 12th, informs the Washington correspondent of the Times that there are 280 of our officers imprisoned in Richmond, and the men are all at Belle Island. Since Grant has held the Weldon Railroad the Danville Railroad is the only outlet. The rebels dare not transport prisoners South. The sentiment of our captured men was that they would rather endure sufferings as prisoners than that the rebels should fill up their ranks with 35,000 or 40,000 fresh men by their exchange, and these men understand that this is the only source of strengthening the rebel POSTAL REPORMS .- A Washington letter writer says that several new and important reforms are being introduced into our National Postal system. " Among the most important of these is the new Money Order system, which has been in process of preparation in the Department for some time past. It is thought it will be fully matured and in operation by the first of October. The necessary blank forms, books, instructions, etc., are now being rapidly prepared. Mr. Chas. F. Macdonald, an old and experienced attaché of the department, is placed in charge of the work, and a force of seven clerks detailed to assist him.

Arrangements are also being perfected for the distribution of the mails while in transitu, similar to the system so long pursued in Great Britain, France and other countries. It has been a matter of surprise to business men why the system of distributing mails for way points, and of sorting through letters while en route, so as to faciliate their early and certain delivery, has not been adopted sooner. Travelling Post Offices have constituted an important branch of the postal arrangements of England ever since their railroad system was completed, and even before that period. It has been found to work well, and there is no reason why it should not operate to equal advantage in this country."

D. KALAKAUA, Postmaner

Letter from Honolulu.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.] Honolelv, August 13, 1864.

THE NATIVE HAWAIIANS STILL BUT SEMI-CIVILIZED-THEY ARE NOT FIT TO COMPREHEND AND

ENJOY A FREE CONSTITUTION. In my letter to the Bulletin under date of the 18th June lest, the postulate was set forth that the political institutions of the Hawaiians were far in advance of their social condition. Such a state of things might appear at first sight as sim-ply anomalous and nothing more, but it is a posi-tive evil, and destroying the race. The subject has been well ventilated in the Convention by the different advocates pro and con in the discussion of the elective franchise, which it was proposed of the elective franchise, which it was proposed to limit by a property qualification, and the debates, if fully reported, would throw a deal of light upon the actual condition of the country.

Every resident here who is not judicially blind and purposely unconvinced, knows and acknowledges that a totally false impression prevails in the United States and elsewhere as to the condition of the people of these Islands. It has been published so often from apparently reliable sources and "kept before the people," that this is in every sense a Christianized and enlightened nation, that it would appear to be a hopeless task to controvert what is so generally believed. Only these who have lived among the people know the these who have lived among the people know the actual state of things existing among them; and far from all these are willing to acknowledge what they know. The free Constitution "granted" (?) by Kamehameha III.; the numerous churches, with their long lists of members, the public schools in every district; the fact that almost universally the people can read and write; these evidences are pointed at triumphantly by such observers as the Rev. Dr. Anderson as proofs that the Hawaiians are all that is claimed for them. But the truth, though often bitter to the taste, is yet a wholesome medicine, and sooner or later it must be known that " matters among the Hawalians" are not as they are represented to be Unvarpished truth will tell you that Hawaiians are totally unfitted by education and training, for the possession of the privileges of the ballot, the trial by jury or to ait as law makers, although they have possessed these rights for the last 12 years; that the long list of church members is, alas! a long list of hypocrites and missionarysupported by government, are too often the schools of vice instead of virtue; that the ability to read and write well is an invariable accomplishment of the lazy vagabonds, who, educated at the seminary established by the mission, swarm like locusts devouring the substance of the industrious. Truth will further tell you that a horrible disease is eating out the vitals of the results of the res trious. Truth will further tell you that a horrible disease is eating out the vitals of the race, unchecked and unheeded, and that it is impossible to make rules by which its spread can be prevented and the sick compulsorily treated, because we have a free Constitution, and the liberty of the people must not be infringed! It may be said of the Hawaiians, "too much liberty hath made them sick;" and to ask a native legislature to pass laws for the benefit of the people, is as if a physician were to go into an hospital and invite the patients to prescribe for their own ailments. It counds strangely to hear sensible people ignoring the true condition of affairs here, and arguing earnestly for the continuance of this system of allowing tyros to govern themselves into the grave.

THE REFORMED CATHOLIC CHURCH OF HAWAII Is the rather high-sounding title of the branch of the English Church established here under his of the English Church established here under his lordship Thomas Honolulu. The decease of the late Sovereign, Kamehameha IV., under whose patronage the Bishop came out from England, was a sad blow to the hopes of this "high" church. The present King, as I once before intimated, is inclined to be rather indifferent to forms of public worship, and it is extremely doubtful if the Bishop will ever succeed in getting him to pull in the ecclesiastical traces. It is amusing and at the same time instructive to observe the fix in which a number of the Government officers have got themselves on account of observe the fix in which a number of the Government officers have got themselves on account of this church. Immediately on the late King making his public profession of faith and joining, with much state and ceremony, the "Reformed Catholic Church of Hawaii," it suddenly became very fashionable to attend there, and among others who were confirmed and admitted to the Church were his Excellency Mr. Wyllie, always supposed to have been a Scotch Presbyterian in his predilections; the Hon. G. M. Robertson, always known to be ditto., and until then a member in full communion of a Congregational church in Honolulu; his Excellency Gov. Kekuanaoa, for forty years a Congregationalist (but he naoa, for forty years a Congregationalist (but he was the King's father, and no doubt liked to please the King;) and last, not least, the honorable, the Attorney-General, C. C. Harris, whom nobody ever accused of possessing any religion in particular. Now that the popularity of "the Reformed" is on the wane, it is beginning to be oticed that the new faith (in its outward obmoticed that the new faith (in its outward observances) sits awkwardly on some of those who made haste to give in their adhesion. The Bishop, though a very clever man no doubt, and "first wrangler" in his college, as I have heard, came here with very erroneous ideas of the condition of these sacage islanders. He and his attendant clergy were not a little surprised to find the native population about fairly divided between St. Peter and St. Calvin, and the large, intelligent, and somewhat literary foreign population either Congregationalists or indifferent, and, like the natives, after satisfying their curiosity as to the new comers, not caring to hear

"The snowy banded, Mictiante, Delicate-handed priest intoge."

A STORY OF THE BISHOP. But so long as his late majesty lived, the prospects were good for the mission; schools were established, and, save some unfortunate slips, appeared to prosper. The Bishop was as good as promised—so it is said—the office of President of the Board of Education, and went so far as to advertise in the London papers—in his character to be, but which, by one of those slips, etc., which sometimes occur, he did not get to be—for male and female teachers for the principal government school in Honolula, guaranteeing liberal salaries and advances of passage money. This was subsequently withdrawn, it is supposed, by the advice of the late King, who plainly saw, no doubt, that the new theological whistle was going to be costly, to say nothing of the bad odor which would arise by turning out competent and faithful native teachers to make room for the Bishan's restance from England. Bishop's protegés from England. The plan, as I said, was abandoned, but the Honolulu public mem to think they have "seen the hand" of the Reformed Catholic Mission, and that it is as good as "played cut." The advertisement above referred to, appeared originally in the London Guardian, and was forwarded to the publisher of the Advertiser through the postoffice. Under the circumstances, as it was said to have been countermanded, it was not thought advisable to print it, but it was shown to several parties, and the Bishop heard it was to be printed. He thereupon wrote a very inconsiderate letter to the publisher of the Advertiser, commanding him not to print the advertisement copied in the London paper, on pain of consequences which are not particularized, and raving incoherently and hit-terly about the late King's having been responsible, etc., in a way not unusual with disappointed men, and priests no less than others. The dictatorial manner of the letter had the very effect which it was intended to prevent, and the advertisement was copied in the Advertiser—without comment, however. Had not the golden rule been observed, the intemperate and ill-advised letter of the Bishop would also have been published. lished, and the consequences might have been such that the career of the "Reformed Catholic Church" in the Sandwich Islands would have become " as a tale that is told."

Saturday Night.

It is the blessed Saturday night, the week's work is done, and the great city is pouring forth its toiling myriads and sending them out to their homes by car, by ferry-boat, and by stage, before shutting itself up for the Sabbath-day's rest. Saturday night! how good and cheery that sounds to the weary mechanic who has been confined through the daylight of the livelong week to the dark, noisome shop. He receives his pit-tance of wages, and steps out of doors like a man; he knows his wife, clean and smiling, the house brightened for Sunday, and the baby just learning to walk, will be waiting for him. He could not be tempted to stop at a porter-house or billiard-saloon, because it would cheat him of some of the pleasure of his holiday at home. He would not give up, for a hundred drinks, the gratification of purchasing a little toy; of being in time to steady the tiny feet in their first essay across the floor; of going out with his wife to market, and having the choice of the Sunday dinner; of trotting the imperious little tyrant of the household on his back while "mother" looks out and lays ready the clean clothes which are to be worn the next day.

The Sabbath would not be Sabbath if it were not for Saturday night. It is a prelude, a preparation, a sounding-board which strikes the tune to which the day of rest shall be set. Waste it in carousing and drinking, and the curse will extend to the family, and be felt not only the next day and the sext week, but through the whole life. Saturday night is one of God's best gifts to the poor man, if he will spend it wisely, and let its influence and associations creen into his heart. its influence and associations creep into his heart. Happy the man whose wife loves Saturday night, and tries her best to make home the coveted resting place for her husband's weary, jaded spirit; who, instead of making a careful list of her troubles, her trials, her aches, and her perplexities, dresses her shining hair with a gay colored ribbon, spreads the white cloth, arranges the tempting meal, and thinks of all the pleasant incidents which, trifling to others, possess a special and peculiar interest to them. Happy wife, happy husband, happy Saturday night!

Eight to Sixteen.

Lord Shaftsbury recently stated, in a public meeting in London, that he had ascertained from personal observation that of adult male criminals in that city, nearly all had fallen into a course of years; and that if a boy lived an honest life up to twenty years of age, there were forty-nine chances in his favor and only one against him, as to an honorable life thereafter.

This is a fact of startling important to fathers and mothers, and shows a fearful responsibility. Certainly, a parent should secure and exercise absolute control over his child until sixteen; it cannot be a very difficult matter to do this, except in very rare cases, and if that control is not wisely and efficiently exercised, it must be the parent's fault; it is owing to parental neglect or remissness. Hence, the real source of ninety-eight per cent. of the crime in a country such as England or the United States lies at the door of the parents. It is a fearful reflection; we throw it before the minds of the fathers and mothers of our land, and there leave it to be thought of in wisdom, remarking only, as to the early seeds of disease, that in nearly every case they are sown between sundown and bedtime, in absence from the family circle, in the supply of spendingmoney never earned by the spenders, opening the doors of confectioneries and soda fountains, or beer and tobacco and wine shops, of the circus, the negro minstrel, the restaurant, and dance; then follows the Sunday excursion, the Sunday drives, the easy transition to the company of those whose ways lead down to the gates of social, physical, moral ruin. From "eight to sixteen!" in these few years are the destinies of children fixed in forty-nine cases out of fifty—fixed by parents! Let every father and mother solemnly vow: "By God's help I'll fix my darling's destiny for good, by making home more attractive than the streets."
