Monthly Meeting of the Maui Literary Society.

HAMAKUA AND MOLOKAI NOTES.

New Teachers at Moanalua Seminary—Baseball at Makawao—Summer Visitors at Molokai—Shipping Notes from Maui—Last Week's Happenings.

MAUI, August 18.—Last evening witnessed the August meeting of the monthly literary at the beautiful home of Mr. George E. Beckwith, at Haiku. During the early part of the evening the weather was clear and delightful, and though the moon did not make its appearance till rather late, Makawao people, with their summer visitors, turned out en masse. Kahului and Spreckelsville were also well represented. The interior of the house was tastefully decorated with pots and bouquets of flowers. Chinese lanterns hung from trees and shrubs all through the spacious grounds and around the broad verandas, which presented a most pleasing effect.

The following programme was rendered: Quartette—"Makawao Orchestra"—Misses Gilhus, Atwater, P. B. and W. D. Aiken. Recitation—"Aunt Hetty's Gossip"—Miss Hammond. Vocal duet—"What are the Wild most an entire new set of faces amongst its teachers this year. Miss Zeigler is to be principal, Miss Leonard and Miss Watson assistants. Miss Smith will be the only familiar face remaining. The ladies mentioned are from Ohio and are expected soon.

Mr. M. J. McLane, formerly of Spreckelsville, has opened an iron foundry in California.

Mrs. S. Marks leaves rather unexpectedly today for Honolulu, after a few weeks visit at Glenside, Haiku.

The baseball game last Saturday, on the Makawao polo grounds, between the Wailuku and Makawao teams, resulted in a decided victory for the Makawao boys, the score standing at the end of nine innings, 24 to 12.

A return game is expected soon to be played either in Wailuku or Kahului.

Quite a unique court scene was witnessed in Kipahulu one day last week. It was held al fresco under the branches of a spreading tree. The Judge, J. K. Pihmanu, sat near the trunk of the tree behind a small table, while ranged around in the shady spots on chairs were the jury, witnesses and spectators. A native boy was being tried for burning a small shanty, and, through the eloquence of J. W. Kalua, for the prosecution, was convicted, though the evidence was rather circumstantial. Simon Kaai was the defending lawyer.

Mr. H. P. Baldwin, with his four sons, Harry, Will, Arthur and Frank, Geo. Martin, and Mr. D. D. Baldwin, all left for Lahaina last Monday for an outing. Part of the party intended to try to strike the trail from Lahaina over the mountain direct to Wailuku and come that way on foot. But after getting up on the mountain from Lahaina the clouds and rain came on so thick that they had to give up their project, and returned by horseback around the mountain.

Mr. Heydtmann, formerly of Hana, has taken Mr. Barclay's place in the office at Spreckelsville. Mr. Barclay leaves for Honolulu this afternoon.

Mr. George Martin departed per W. G. Hall Friday morning for Honolulu from whence he takes the Australia to California.

The dance and supper was given by Miss Emma Mullinger in honor of some of her friends, and was a most delightful affair. Quite a number participated in the dance, among them Mr. and Mrs. E. Maddin, Mrs. Pulsone, Miss Josephine Barnard, Miss Alice Horner, Miss Lotta Alexander, Miss Margaret Greenfield, Mr. G. Osborne, Mr. R. Horner, Rev. R. Callender, Mr. Fowler, Mr. Cyril Smith, Mr. Edward Greenfield and Masters Frank and Walter Greenfield.

The Horners also gave what is called a family picnic, which was said to have been a very enjoyable party.

It is understood that Hamakua is soon to be invaded by quite a bevy of young beauties who are to be chaperoned by some of the most charming Mesdames of Koloa. The arrival of this party is looked forward to with much impatience.

Mr. James F. Renton and Mr. Armstrong Smith have returned from the Volcano, and report that Madame Pele is giving a good account of herself.

MOLOKAI, August 18.—Ex-Judge Kupieha of Molokai gave a grand luau on the 16th inst. in honor of Mesdames Luther Wilcox, Sharrett and Kaai. There were present eighteen Honolulu people.

Some of the summer visitors on Molokai are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lewis of Honolulu are at Moanalua; the children of Mrs. Edward Damon are visiting Mrs. Dr. Mouritz; at Kamalo Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dunn of Honolulu have been enjoying their honeymoon; and Mrs. Kendal of San Francisco is being entertained at Kupieha's.

Dr. Mouritz is planting coffee extensively near Wailau, Molokai.

Walter and Clara Lowrie of Ewa, Oahu, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horner of Lahaina.

A CHINESE AND JAPANESE BATTLE, FROM A CHINESE STANDPOINT.

(Reproduced from the Honolulu Chinese News.)

CHINA AND JAPAN.

The Chinese News Gives a Picture of a Battle.

It is well known, of course, that the Chinese and Japanese here are taking great interest in the war between their mother countries. Ask a Japanese which side will win, and the answer will be just the opposite of what a Chinaman will say when the question is put to him. The government officials of the two powers have forbidden, it is said, their people to discuss the war, as they wish to avoid trouble between the laboring classes.

The Chinese and Japanese newspapers of this city, however, are devoting columns of their space to the war. Saturday's issue of the Chinese News contained the picture of which the one above in this column is an exact reproduction. The Chinese characters at the top were explained by a Chinaman as being a dispatch from Yokohama, dated July 19, to the effect that the armies had met, and that 2000 Japanese had been killed, and over that number badly wounded.

The island where Robinson Crosoe was monarch of all he surveyed is now inhabited by about 60 people, who attend the herds of cattle that graze there.

The hornet's nest is sometimes two feet in diameter. The outside layers have a small interval between each, so that if rain should penetrate it is soon arrested.

Italy gives to the world outside her borders 2,500,000,000 oranges; Spain, 1,400,000,000; Portugal, 80,000,000; Paraguay, 60,000,000; Florida, nearly as much as Paraguay.

LANGLEY DISMISSED.

The Captain of Police Accused of Accepting a Bribe.

Captain Langley and Sam Stone were ordered to hand in their commissions on Saturday. The cause of their dismissal is alleged to be a bribe taken from a Chinaman a week ago yesterday. They will both appear before the Attorney-General and the Marshal this morning, to explain their part of the transaction.

The story that the police officials tell, is that Langley and Stone accepted $10 from some Chinese gamblers whom they had caught playing cards. When Langley returned to the police station, he was asked to give some change for $5, which he did. The money was marked, and this is the cause of Langley's trouble.

The former captain's story is substantially the same as that of the police department with the exception that he knew that the whole thing was a put up job, and he was only waiting to be spoken to about the matter before he gave the money up.

PERSONALS.

T. Knudsen, August Dreer and William Eassie all arrived from Kauai yesterday.

Captain Godfrey and his family left for San Francisco on Saturday.

Harry Wilder, Percy Lishman, A. R. Cunha and James C. White, Jr., were passengers on the Australia. The last two named left to resume their school duties.

Mrs. Hendee and daughter and Mrs. Lieut. Werlich and child left Saturday to rejoin their husbands, who are officers on the flagship Philadelphia.

J. H. Letcher, a professor in an Oregon academy, left for home on Saturday after spending a very pleasant visit here.

Prof. W. W. Lovejoy, a brother of the late J. H. Lovejoy, left for home Saturday after an extended stay on the different islands.

Miss Wodehouse returned from Maui yesterday.

Mrs. A. F. Cooke and her daughter are in the city again.

L. von Tempesky arrived from Kula, Maui, on the Claudine.

New Commerce Destroyer.

Mr. Painton and Professor Busse have had an interview with the Secretary of the Navy in regard to the so-called Painton propeller, a model of which is on exhibition in the model room of the Navy Department. The model is a miniature vessel run by electricity, and having eighteen propellers ranged along its sides. The inventor claims that a big ship built after his model could cross the ocean from New York to Liverpool in three days. He has asked the Government to take hold of his invention for use in the construction of a commerce destroyer. Secretary Herbert has referred the matter to Messrs. Hichborn and Taylor, the chief constructor and the head designer of the department, for an investigation of the merits of the invention. — Washington Star.

FOR A FAMILY OF GIRLS.

At the right is a gown of pink chambray with a French blouse waist. The little girl in the center wears a zephyr frock with pink and blue stripes and red slippers. Her elder sister, at the left, has a hairline striped percale frock of blue and gray. There are three rows of ecru lace around the skirt.

VATICAN AND QUIRINAL.

Conflict Between the Pope and the House of Savoy.

The conflict between the Vatican and the Quirinal, which has never altogether ceased, has just now become more acute than ever. Premier Crispi is determined to uphold the integrity of Italy, the Curia hopes to regain, through the Queen, the much coveted worldly power, which it lost in 1870. The friends of the church, both in Italy and Germany, advise the Pope to accept the loss of his worldly power as an irremediable fact. The French press encourages the Pope to hold out.

The Journal des Debats, Paris, says: "During the last two months a remarkable change has taken place in the attitude of Crispi toward the Vatican. He is less pliable. The Premier refuses to ratify the appointment of several bishops, which he did not seem to oppose in January. It seems very much as if Crispi intends to frighten the Curia, to coerce it into submission. The assistance of the Catholics is needed at the ballot-box, but they will not vote unless the Pope gives the word. The Pope may not be unwilling to come to terms, but he is restrained by his regard for France."

The Observateur Francais, Paris, is authority for the following: "For the last two or three months Queen Margherite has been in constant unrest. She is convinced that the reign of the House of Savoy will shortly be ended by a revolution, and that her life is in danger. 'I will end like Marie Antoinette,' she cries. 'We will not escape punishment for having taken Rome! Our fate approaches through the Porta Pia.' If the matter was left to her she would give Rome back to the Holy See unconditionally."

The Augsburg Post-Zeitung, Augsburg, Germany, remarks upon this: "All this is nothing new. The late Empress Augusta informed a Protestant member of the Prussian Court, in 1887, that the Queen of Italy asked her to assist in satisfying the Pope. King Humbert also looks upon the cessation of the struggle with the church as necessary for the existence of the monarchy."

The Deutsche Volksblatt, Stuttgart, declares that Crispi is very angry at all this, and threatens to prevail upon the King to have Queen Margherite confined to the palace, a measure which it will be difficult to execute, as the queen is very popular.

The Reichsbote, Berlin, believes that the difficulty is due to French machinations. "We have repeatedly pointed out," says the paper, "that the French Ambassador to the Vatican, Lefebvre de Bataine, exercises a kind of terrorism there. When the press of Italy accused the Pope of indifference to the sufferings of the people, the Pope denied the imputation, but did nothing to convince the people to the contrary. He is, practically, a prisoner to France. When the Pope tried to mediate between the Sicilians and the Government, his advice was half-hearted. He dares not assist in strengthening the Government for fear of France."

Similar opinions are expressed by Raffaele de Cesare in the Nuova Antologia, Rome. He says: "The Pope need not flatter himself that he will escape the general ruin if the Italian Government be destroyed. The rentes and pensions which the present Government allows to the church would cease to be paid if royalty fell. Only one course is open to the Pope. He must revoke the non expedient which forbids the Catholics to vote. He has tried everything else. He has gone from court to court, from Government to Government begging for help, and asking to be reinstated as a State ruler. He should now identify his interests with that of the Crown. When the Catholics are seen at the political gatherings and at the Quirinal, their influence will act as a wholesome restraint upon certain radical parties. The Catholics are the conservative element. Their entrance into politics means nothing less than the emancipation of the Vatican from French politics, and the salvation of Italy. Their absence from the polls alone has made the present rule of corruption in parliamentary circles possible. This absence now threatens ruin to the country and the church."

"My dear young woman, it is well known that intellectual women are not good-looking." "And how do you classify me?" "Why, you are not at all intellectual." "You flatterer!"—New England Homestead.

Among other things the Senate just now may be said to be resting on its oars.—Philadelphia Times.

A bore is a fellow who talks too much and says nothing.—Dallas News.

LONDON WATER SUPPLY.

Economy in its Use as Compared With American Experience.

In London, the largest city in the world, the water is furnished by companies and is charged for by the quantity. No one has a free faucet or can afford to waste his water. Every family bargains for as many gallons per diem as it needs, and this amount is placed in tanks. Then the water is shut off. If the family uses it up by noon it gets no more until the next day, unless it can borrow of its neighbor. There is no waste. The water is all measured and paid for. With three times our population, London does not use one-third as much water as Chicago does, simply because the water is not wasted.

In Chicago the city furnishes the water, and everyone is free to do with it what he pleases, and the result is anarchy in water. The man on the third story has no rights the man on the second is bound to respect, and the man on the first floor cheats both of them by running water via the sewers into the river and lake. So long as there is disregard of human rights by human hogs this waste will continue, and those on the upper stories will suffer because those on lower stories are running water all day to cool their rooms or to flood their lawns—in other words, are letting millions of gallons run into the sewers without being used at all.—Chicago Tribune.

HOW NOT TO USE A COMPASS.

Explorers Who Overestimated Their Own Knowledge.

Mr. C. F. Finlason, in his "Nobody in Mashonaland," gives an account of how he and his friends got lost in the bush, and shows what precious little use a compass is to travelers who have not thoroughly mastered that simple looking instrument. Mr. Finlason's landmark was certain telegraph poles, and when he and his comrade lost sight of them, they had to fall back on the compass, having had no sun that day to serve as guide.

"In taking my observations I had carefully noted that the needle pointed dead at the camp, but I did not turn the compass so as to bring the needle over the 'N.' So it transpired that my observation was only useful in indicating the whereabouts of the camp when we got to the poles. Another little thing which added to the confusion was the fact that I did not know for certain whether the black or the white half of the needle pointed to the North, and I had also forgotten which end pointed to the camp. And let me add that this little difficulty of the black and white needle is not at all an uncommon one with novices. They know all about it, of course, before they are lost, and would be indignant if anyone should infer (sic) that they were ever likely to be in doubt on the point. But when once they are lost, and the fact, at first resisted, is slowly and surely borne in upon them, it is surprising how speedily and completely their heads follow the way of their bodies."

Mr. Finlason and his two friends eventually found their way by tree climbing and the activity of anxious friends.—Ex.

The Health-Giving Onion.

Mr. Walter Besant, during his stay in America, learned a fact or two concerning the odoriferous onion, which he recently made public for the benefit of English girls in general and ugly girls in particular. "If ugly girls," he remarks, "will eat onions, they won't be ugly any longer. Ugliness is often the result of bad health alone. Health is beautiful and onions are health-giving. They brighten the complexion, and consequently lighten the feminine heart. In America," says the famous author, "some of the best people, particularly in literary and academic circles, are 'not at home' to their most intimate friends on Sunday. They devote that day to the consumption of the leek." Here is a grand new feminine excuse. The everlasting but convenient headache may now yield to the health-giving onion.

The records of the Bureau of Navigation, Treasury Department, show that during the past fiscal year there were built in the United States, and officially numbered, 538 wooden sailing vessels of 37,719 tons, and 308 wooden steam vessels of 44,158 tons. During the same period 3 iron or steel sailing vessels were built of 4750 tons, and 45 iron or steel steam vessels of 47,776 tons. These sailing vessels aggregated 541 in number and 42,460 tons in measurement. The steam vessels aggregated 353 in number and measured 91,934 tons. The entire number of vessels built and numbered was 894, the tonnage being 134,394. Unrigged vessels were not included in the above statement.—Exchange.

SOMETHING MORE ABOUT SODA WATER.

The First Requisite in Making Soda Water is Pure Water.

HOLLISTER & COMPANY'S FACTORY was the only one in Honolulu that made use of the most improved method of purification—the Hyatt System—that removes all animal and vegetable matter, even microbes, and this is the kind of water we use in our Factory for our customers.

As for the Gas,

it is immaterial whether it is obtained from chalk, marble, whiting, marl or bi-carbonate of soda, the gas will be identical in either case.

Bi-carbonate of soda has been used exclusively by HOLLISTER & COMPANY for over 26 years, and the TAHITI LEMONADE WORKS since its foundation, because than any of the other sources, and easier to handle. But the gas must be cleansed before mixing with the water.

In generating the gas, the material is sometimes carried over with the gas and must be thoroughly eliminated. Most Soda Water manufacturers are satisfied by running the gas through one purifier. We are not. We run it through three. In using any one of the lime carbonates it would do no harm to any one if some did slop over as they are all insoluble and can be seen in the glass; but with bi-carbonate of soda it is different, because the bi-carbonate is converted into sulphate of soda (Glauber Salts) a very good horse medicine, but not very agreeable to have in a glass of Soda, and which is soluble and therefore cannot be detected by the eye.

We do not dispense Soda Water ourselves, but furnish the pure Soda Water to every fountain in Honolulu but one, and we guarantee the Soda Water to be pure.

Each dispenser of soda will use the kind of syrup that suits his trade, but this has nothing to do with the purity and wholesomeness of Soda Water.

Homes at Pearl City!

THE OAHU RAILWAY &amp; LAND CO.

Offer the Public Another Great Opportunity to Secure Homes in One of the Most Delightful Localities to be Found in the Paradise of the Pacific.

As a healthy resort—Pearl City has already established an enviable reputation. Many good citizens in this community have experienced the wonderful effect produced by a few days sojourn in that dry, cool atmosphere, and give grateful testimony to the relief they have almost instantly gained from severe and long continued attacks of asthma. Physicians acquainted with the climate of Pearl City recommend it as a natural sanitarium.

The Water Supply is Ample.

And can be increased to meet the needs of a population equal to the largest city in the world.

Prop. A. B. LYONS of Oahu College is our authority for stating that the water supply is the purest yet discovered in this country.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS TO EARLY SETTLERS!

For ninety days from date we will sell LOTS ON SPECIAL TERMS favorable to bona-fide settlers. For a term of three months from date, lumber and all building materials will be supplied, and delivered at Pearl City at much lower price than ever before obtained.

For further particulars, call at this office or on any of the lumber dealers in this city. Those who now own lots as well as those who propose to become residents of that growing city, will do well to embrace this opportunity. Those who avail themselves of this offer, within the time named, will be entitled to, and will receive the following benefits:

For a term of ten years, this Company will carry such residents and their families from Pearl City to Honolulu in the morning (arriving a little before seven o'clock), and from Honolulu to Pearl City in the evening (leaving Honolulu station a little after five o'clock), for ten cents each way, a rate less than one cent per mile. The rates on all other passenger trains running during the day or night will be 1½ cents per mile first class, and 1 cent per mile second class. A good school is about to be opened in the Peninsula, in the fine, large, new school-house erected by Mr. J. T. Waterhouse. Residents living at Pearl City heights, (above Pearl City station) and those having homes on the Peninsula, will be allowed to ride free on regular trains between Pearl City stations to and from the Peninsula.

Those who want to continue to send their children to schools in Honolulu, can have transportation on all regular trains to and from Pearl City, for the purpose of attending school at five cents each way for each pupil. This is equal to 24 to 26 miles ride for ten cents.

Equal inducements for those desiring to secure homes in this country have never before been offered to the public.

This Company has been requested from abroad to name the price of all their unsold land in that locality.

Should a clearance sale be made to a syndicate, no opportunity like the present would again occur for the purchase of homes at Pearl City.

H. N. CASTLE, : : : EDITOR.

MONDAY, : AUGUST 20, 1894.

A CORRESPONDENT in this issue calls attention to the alleged fact that drunkenness is more frequent in Honolulu than in other cities of its size. Whether this is true or not we do not know, but if it is, the fact is not remarkable, in a seaport with the composite population of this one. Sailors always come ashore for a good time, and they generally get it, with the result that the annual record of conviction for drunkenness and disorder is materially increased.

SIR EDWIN ARNOLD's peculiar views regarding Japan seem to be matched by his still more peculiar views regarding Turkey. That journal says: "If a well informed person were called upon to name the country in which womankind has her rights most clearly defined or most jealously guarded—the country where, taking all in all, women are most happy, most safe and best contented—he would name Turkey." In the "placid refinement" of Mohammedan homes, Sir Edwin finds a "peace and dignity unknown to the restless life of Europe." This shows how great a mistake the West is making in not keeping its women in the seraglio.

In these days of jealousy and fear of the Oriental, it seems a little strange that there should not be some relaxation of the old time prejudice against the Jew. Is it not clear that our salvation is in the Jew? In the game which we are playing with the Chinese and Japanese, in which the stake is the possession of the world, is it not clear that the Jew is our last and highest trump? If the fight with Asia is to be fought fairly, if unrestricted competition is to be left to do its deadly work, then we must borrow from the Jews some of that untiring zeal and application, that splendid commercial talent, which is making them the financial rulers of the West.

SENATOR HOAR AND WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The current number of the Century magazine contains two articles on the woman suffrage question, one from Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, and the other from D. Buckley. Senator Hoar is an uncompromising believer in the suffrage for women, and his article is one of the most brilliant contributions to the literature of the subject which we have ever seen. The article of D. Buckley on the other side is also a very clever statement of the traditional view.

The whole discussion is an illustration of the fact that the real conflict is between two radically hostile views of the relations of the sexes and the organization of society. One regards the family as the social unit and the other the individual. One is practically satisfied with the present dependent position of woman, the other pronounces it fundamentally wrong and demands for woman social freedom and the same free scope for the exercise of all capacities that men have.

The conservatives are quite right in regarding the proposed change as an innovation of the most radical kind. To put these little slips of paper into the hands of women is not a trifling thing. It means revolution. It means the practical completion of a process which will make women free and independent, and which will at the same time deprive them of all artificial support. Having all the rights of men, they will cease to be a privileged class, and will make their way on their own merits, as other human beings have to do.

This is an innovation indeed, and we need not be surprised that even in America there are plenty of men and women found to fight it bitterly. Think what a commotion the proposition to enfranchise women would create in Turkey. While the "sphere" of women is less carefully defined in the United States than in Constantinople, there are still plenty of people in the Occident who think they have a divine call to define that sphere, and who wish their definitions clothed with the sanctity and armed with the authority of law. These champions of an outworn society are in the last ditch and correspondingly desperate. It need surprise no one, if they, with the zealous co-operation of their wives, daughters and sweethearts, succeed in preventing, for another generation or two, the full recognition of women as human beings.

CORRESPONDENCE.

What Are We Coming To?

MR. EDITOR: When Rev. Dr. Coyle was here a few weeks ago, he surprised and shocked some of us by a remark made in public that he had never seen a city where there were so many drunken men on the streets in proportion to the population as in our beautiful Honolulu. Passing along Beretania street toward the plains today, just after leaving church, we saw a crowd about a carriage, and policemen lifting the limp, unconscious form of a young native man into it. We stopped to inquire into the matter, and the reply was: "Only a drunken native, who fell from his horse." We drove on, thinking sadly of the present contrast with the time, not many years ago, when a drunken Hawaiian was never seen upon our streets.

We had hardly gone a block further when we passed two white men, "dead drunk," lying bare-headed in the blazing sun on the sidewalk near Alapai street! And this on Sunday—when the saloons are supposed to be closed! What a sight in a law abiding, Christian community! What are we going to do about it? Are we, as a community, so in the power of a few lawless rumsellers that our policemen dare not, or do not care to, enforce the few mild laws that we have against the usurpation of the liquor traffic? Do the police officers not see that we are going from bad to worse; that, with the best Government these islands have ever had, intemperance is steadily on the increase, and the rumrunner is more defiant of law and order than he ever was? Is it not time that the indignation which any righteous man must feel at such a state of affairs should take some form which would demand from our authorities an enforcement of the laws we have, and, as soon as possible, better laws and more in keeping with the progress of events in other civilized lands? Y.

PEARL HARBOR.

Feasibility of a Coaling Station Shown by Report.

The Secretary of the Navy has made public the report of Admiral Walker in regard to the establishment of a naval coaling station at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, showing indirectly the entire feasibility of the project says a late Washington Star. Detailed figures showing the depths obtained at the different borings are given, and then summarized by Admiral Walker as follows: They show that nothing but loose sand is to be met on the line of the proposed cut to a depth of at least thirty feet at mean low water; that the dredged sand could be safely discharged over the western reef by a short pipe, whence it would be carried off by the current. Allowing $6000 for the cost of operating the dredge per month, the average cost of the removal of the deposit is 40 cents per cubic yard. But allowing 50 cents to cover contingencies, the admiral says that if the proposed cut in the bar be 250 feet wide, which is as wide as it can be made without touching the coral, and thirty feet deep at mean low water, it will necessitate the dredging of 200,000 cubic yards, and will cost $100,000. If the channel be 200 feet wide the cost would be $80,000. It would take thirteen and a half months to accomplish the first and ten and two-thirds months the latter, although it is recommended that fifteen and twelve months, respectively, be allowed. At one place inside the bar it will be necessary to widen the channel at a cost of $5000.

August 8, 1894

The trouble over the selection of a jury to try native cases here looks as though it might be growing serious to the fellows whose names grace the calendar. As the constitution does not provide that natives shall be tried by Hawaiians, though it is a custom, and citizens of that nationality cannot be procured if a remedy is needed it may be found only in an act to be passed by the present Advisory Council.

In some parts of the United States, New York for instance, to be eligible to jury duty, a man "must be a citizen of the United States, a resident of the district in which he is called and be the owner either in his or his wife's name, of two hundred and fifty dollars worth of real or personal property." Citizens are created by law and natives do not become citizens until the statutes make them such. In this instance the taking of the oath to support the present government is all that is necessary. This seems to decide the question "whether a change in the form of government nullifies the citizenship of the people." To become a citizen now, one must be politically born again and the result of last Monday's midwifery was that all but three of the panel died "a bornin." The only relief for this state of affairs seems to be in amending the constitution; men do not become criminals until they are convicted of the charges on which they are tried and until such conviction they are entitled to certain rights. If they are not tried within a certain time they have a good strong kick which must be recognized by the court. We cannot see where the taking of the required oath to support the government is a guarantee that the verdict rendered will be according to the law and the evidence, the result the court and attorneys should strive to obtain. The judiciary being considered above politics it must not be supposed that the court would be a party to increasing the number of supporters of the government by any such peculiar methods.

If you can get an article that will do all and more than another will at the same price, it seems reasonable to decide that the more versatile is the one to be used. The "D. & D." polisher is one of them. It does everything that Sapolio does and more too, it polishes silverware without the slightest injury to the metal. Everyone who uses Sapolio knows that the instructions are not to use it on silverware. "D. & D." is purely a vegetable preparation containing no acids and may be used on the finest polished woodwork without injury. We are the only people who sell this article and we know it is good.

Our stand lamps, good quality, at low prices, are what have been wanted in Honolulu for a year past. It has been hard to get a really serviceable and stylish lamp for a dollar and six bits until we found them in Pittsburgh. They are selling rapidly and delay means a tallow candle; they cannot last long when people get acquainted with their good points.

We have a few oil burning Radiators that will be in demand at the beach when the weather changes and in the mountains even now. They are built just like an ordinary heating stove except that they burn oil instead of coal or wood and being on castors, they may be moved from one part of the house to another without the annoyance which accompanies the taking down or putting up pipes. The heat can be regulated or shut off entirely by the mere turning of a screw so that there is no necessity for the temperature of a room being anything but just right.

MRS. LEASE'S FAMILY

HUSBAND AND CHILDREN OF THE KANSAS JOAN OF ARC.

Mr. Charles Lease has no personal ambition, but is very proud of his wife. They have four bright children, two boys and two girls.

We know all about Mrs. Lease, or at least as much as we need to know concerning the personality of the plucky woman who is devoting her life and talents to what she believes to be the general welfare. Of her husband and children, however, very little has been printed, and much curiosity concerning them has been expressed by admirers of the Kansas Joan of Arc.

C. E. Chapin, a St. Louis Post-Dispatch reporter, recently visited the Lease homestead at Wichita, and if his report is reliable, as it seems to be, it clears up a good deal of the mystery that has surrounded the home life of Mrs. Lease. He found that Charles L. Lease (Mr. Joan of Arc, the flippant correspondent calls him) had been discharged from the drug store where he was formerly employed about six months ago on account of the hard times. Then he went to the Lease home at 335 North Wabash avenue, a large frame house surrounded by cottonwood trees and flanked with flower and vegetable beds. Here is Mr. Chapin's own story of his reception:

"When I rapped at the door, an old man, with long white mustache, almost as bald as an infant, and with only a thin fringe of white hair to protect the back of his neck, responded. He was carefully and shabbily dressed, and there was a week's growth of beard on his face. I told him I wanted to see Mr. Lease.

"That's me," "I introduced myself and was given a cordial welcome and invited to step in. He gave me the best chair in the house and then sat down and freely answered every question I asked. He got photographs of all except himself, explaining that he had not had a picture taken in many years.

"While we were talking I sketched his face as well as I could, and I think it looks very much like him. He was brought up on a farm near Freeport, Ills., and left home to become an apothecary, finally moving to Kansas, where he married Joan of Arc. He failed in business, and with the failure ambition fled. He impressed me as a man who had been crushed by adversity, and who had not the slightest desire to ever make another effort to get on his feet. He is very proud of his wife and children.

"The children were brought in, the father fairly aglow with pride as he introduced them. Charley, the eldest, a boy of 19, is attending the state university at Lawrence, so I did not see him, but was told by the others, who think he is the smartest boy on earth, that he is studying law and has published several volumes of verses.

"Louise comes next, aged 13. She is a second edition of her mother and a wonderful child. She is as ladylike in her deportment as a cultured woman of 30, and she can converse as intelligently and use as good language as many girls who are twice her age. She is the youngest pupil in the high school, and this is her second year.

"Annie, her sister, or 'Jim,' as the family call her, is unlike Louise. She would rather ride a bicycle or climb a tree than study, and she is her mother's pride and joy. Ben-Hur is a bright, roguish boy, as mischievous as any boy can be, yet grave and sedate in addressing strangers. He wants to be an author.

"All of the children are devoted to their mother and speak of her as the noblest and grandest woman in the world. If any one has an idea that either the children or the husband feels that Mrs. Lease neglects them, he should spend a morning at their home, as I did, and he will speedily become convinced that he is mistaken. They would like to see more of her, but they think that she has far greater duties to occupy her time than attending to their small wants."

Before visiting Wichita the correspondent had a talk with Mrs. Lease at Olathe, in which she said that Charley (her husband) wrote to her every day and was in all respects a model husband, adding naively, "He lets me do anything I wish to do, and he wouldn't quarrel with me for the world."

Ladies' Column.

When the trade finds time to doubt our assertions about sales and prices, but one conclusion can be formed, and that is that we are setting the pace on prices, as well as doing the business.

There is an old proverb that "what is one man's loss is always another man's gain." We are going on record and charge it to what is your gain, by trading with us, and ours by increased business—is the other man's loss. So down we go from day to day in prices. There is not a dull counter in our Store; we have gotten out of the old rut. The days of large profits are over. Every day it will be something new and tempting in styles and prices. We can't mention but a few articles in this column, but wish to impress you that if you want anything in our line you can get it at ROCK BOTTOM PRICES and a guarantee the goods are as represented.

If you buy those Turkish Towels of ours you will surely pray for rain. They are so different from the cheap things offered as Turkish Towels. Cash bought these so that we can sell them at just as low a figure as the cheap goods are offered at. A handsome PURSE is a very deceptive thing. It almost always creates the impression that there is money in it, and so there is, if you save on the purchase price by buying of us. We struck a snap in our purchase of PURSES—and will give you the benefit of it. They run from 25 cents to perfect beauties in Real Alligator and Russian Seal with Sterling Silver Mountings.

National Cane Shredder

PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

The attention of Planters and Agents is called to the following letter from Mr. JOHN A. SCOTT, Manager of the Hilo Sugar Co., regarding the working of the National Cane Shredder, which he has just introduced into the Mill of that Company:

WAINAKU, HILO, HAWAII,

January 23d, 1894.

HON. WM. G. IRWIN, HONOLULU, H. I.
DEAR SIR:—In reply to yours of the 16th inst. regarding the National Cane Shredder furnished by the Universal Mill Co. of New York, and erected by the Hilo Sugar Co. this past season,

I would beg to say, that it has now been in operation day and night during the past three weeks working on plant cane, and also hard ratoons, and it is giving me the greatest satisfaction. The more I see of its capabilities, the better pleased I am that I put it in, as I am satisfied that it will repay the original outlay in a short time, in saving of labor, higher extraction, etc.

It is shredding from 350 to 400 tons of cane every 22 hours with the greatest ease, and it could shred a much larger quantity if necessary. It delivers the shredded cane in an even uniform feed to the three roller mill, which receives it without the intervention of any labor, and as the cane is thoroughly shredded or disintegrated it relieves the mill of a great deal of strain, thus reducing the liability of broken shafts, gearing, etc.

There is a saving of four (4) men daily on the mill, as only one man is required to regulate the amount of cane delivered by the carrier to the shredder. It has increased the extraction from 4 to 5 per cent.

The economical use of steam is generally a serious consideration in adding new machinery, as in most mills the boiler power is taxed to its highest limit, as it was in this mill, and any increased demand necessitated an additional boiler. But I find that the shredder and the three roll mill engines combined use no more steam than the three roll mill engine did when working on whole cane, while doing better work and more of it, and owing to the uniform feed on the mill, the engine demands very little attention.

The Megaes from the shredded cane makes superior fuel, and the fire, I have less difficulty in maintaining a uniform pressure of steam than formerly.

I will be pleased to have a call from parties interested, as it is necessary to see the machine at work to fully appreciate its capabilities.

I remain, very truly yours,

(Sig.) JOHN A. SCOTT,

Manager Hilo Sugar Co.

Plans for erection of these shredders may be seen at the office of the Agents, where prices and other particulars may also be obtained.

YARNS ABOUT GOULD.

INCIDENTS SHOWING CHARACTERISTICS OF THE FINANCIER.

He Avoided Newspaper Men, but a Denver Reporter Trapped Him Once—Sent One Man to Jim Keene—How He Learned That Whisky Was a Bad Surveyor.

There was nothing he detested more than newspaper notoriety. He used to fledge reporters, and only one of them, as far as known, ever fairly outwitted him. Fred Skiff, the city editor of the Denver Tribune, detailed reporter after reporter to interview Mr. Gould during one of his visits to Colorado, but each brought back word that the little railroad king would not be seen and had posted sentinels all along the hotel corridors to drive intruders away. So Skiff set out to do the job himself. He hunted up a friendly Pullman car conductor and borrowed his uniform. Then he walked into the hotel and up the stairs. "Look a-here," said he to the first sentinel he met, "what does Mr. Gould propose to do about that car? I must know right away, for if he isn't going to use it tomorrow I've got to take it back to Chicago."

The sentry knew nothing about the car, of course, and advised Skiff to see Gould about it himself. So Skiff successfully ran the gantlet of the half dozen lackeys, growing all the time about the bother of being compelled to attend to other people's business. Judge Usher, one of Gould's attorneys, who was in consultation with his client when the bogus sleeping car conductor was shown in, immediately recognized Skiff, having known him back in Kansas.

"When did you get out of the newspaper business?" inquired the astonished lawyer. "I ain't out of it," replied Skiff, "but I had to put on this disguise in order to get in here to interview Mr. Gould."

"Young man," said Mr. Gould sternly, "if you're a reporter, you can take yourself right out of the room, for I am not to be interviewed."

Skiff argued the point and not being invited to be seated coolly sat down on the floor.

"Unless you put me out," said he, "I shall stay here till you tell me what your plans are."

This audacity pleased Gould. He looked at Usher, and seeing the lawyer chuckling heartily broke out into a loud laugh.

"Well, what do you want to know?" he said finally in the tone of a man who is wearied with objecting.

Skiff knew he had triumphed. He produced his notebook, drew up to the table at which Gould sat and set industriously to work putting out questions and noting the replies. The result was a reliable forecast of the immense railroad enterprise in which Gould subsequently embarked, and of which the public would not otherwise have been forewarned.

Less happy was the fate of the Chicago reporter who followed Gould by rail down into Indiana and finally overhauled his special car and knocked at the door. Mr. Gould responded in person, and the reporter held up his card so that his victim could read it through the glass window.

"The Chicago Eagle wants your opinion," he shouted, "on the question of refunding the 6 per cents."

Mr. Gould regarded him through the glass with such a frigid expression that the interviewer shivered at the mere memory of it ever since, but finally opened the door on a crack and asked:

"Young man, do you want me?"

"Yes, sir. I want to interview you on the subject of—"

Mr. Gould began to shut the door. "On the subject of the devil!" yelled the indignant reporter as he saw all his hopes fading away.

"Young man," said Mr. Gould, opening the door once more an inch or two, "on that subject you had better see Jim Keene. He's got all the points and is anxious to give them away to spite old Flood!"

Gould always believed that the secret of his ability to overcome others in any contest of wits was his temperate habit of life. He never tasted whisky but once. In the days when he was a surveyor in a small way and was mapping a county on the practical line of getting lodgings and meals of the farmers in exchange for marking correct sundials on their doorsteps he became tired one hot, dusty afternoon. He came to a country tavern. In his pocket was a 5 cent piece. It suddenly struck him that as a medicine to relieve faintness he ought to buy a glass of whisky with his nickel. "I was ignorant of bar usage," he said once in describing the incident to a friend, "and so when a glass and a bottle were set before me I filled the tumbler clock full. The bartender made no protest, and I swallowed the big horn. Then I went my way, trundling my wheelbarrow like measure of distances and occasionally taking the bearings with a sextant. Never in my life had my work gone off half so blithesomely, and for awhile I felt as though making a map of the starry heavens instead of a very dusty portion of this mundane sphere. After an hour or more of exaltation I grew sleepy and took a long nap under a tree in a field. I awoke with an awful headache and found that the figures entered in my notebook during the time of extra steam were quite incoherent. I was fully convinced that whisky was a bad surveyor, and I have never tried it for any other purpose."—Cor. Kate Field's Washington.

Tea as Medicine.

In some forms of heart disease tea proves a useful sedative, while in others it is positively injurious. Many cases of severe nervous headache are instantly relieved by a cup of strong green tea, taken without the addition of either milk or sugar, but it should be only occasionally resorted to in such cases, it being much better to avoid the cause.—New York Journal.

THE EAGLE'S EYE.

Why It Can See Both Nearby or Distant Objects Equally Well.

All birds of prey have a peculiarity of eye structure that enables them to see near or distant objects equally well. An eagle will ascend more than a mile in perpendicular height, and from that elevation can perceive its unsuspecting prey and pounce upon it with unerring certainty. Yet the same bird can scrutinize with almost microscopic nicety an object close at hand, thus possessing a power of accommodating its sight to distance in a manner to which the human eye is unfitted, and of which it is totally incapable.

In looking at a printed page we find that there is some particular distance, probably 16 inches, at which we can read the words and see each letter with perfect distinctness, but if the page be moved to a distance of 40 inches or brought within a distance of five inches we find it impossible to read it at all. A scientific man would therefore call 10 inches the focus or focal distance of our eyes. This focus cannot be altered except by the aid of spectacles.

But an eagle has the power of altering the focus of its eye just as it pleases. It has only to look at an object at the distance of two feet or of two miles in order to see it with perfect distinctness.

Of course the eagle knows nothing of the wonderful contrivance that the Creator has supplied for its accommodation. It employs it instinctively and because it cannot help it. The ball of the eye is surrounded by 15 little plates called sclerotic bones. They form a complete ring, and their edges slightly overlap each other. When it looks at a distant object, this little circle of bones expands, and the ball of the eye, being relieved from the pressure, becomes flatter. When it looks at a very near object, the little bones press together, and the ball of the eye is thus squeezed into a rounder or more convex form.

The effect is very familiar to every one. A person with very round eyes is near sighted, and a person with flat eyes, as in old age, can see nothing except at a distance. The eagle, by the mere will, can make its eyes round or flat and see with equal clearness at any distance.—Philadelphia Times.

The Women of Hellas.

Alas for the Greek ideals! Here is what the women of Hellas look like now, as told by a correspondent: "The women wear short, shapeless tight skirts reaching a little above the ankles, made of the same material as their rugs, and a short white tunic made of coarse serge. Their hair is worn in a long braid, and to make it reach past the waist they plait in horsehair or black tow and decorate it with cheap coins, beads or coarse, bright cottons. Greek children are pretty, and so are the very young girls, but when they step from childhood to womanhood they soon lose all their good looks. The women toil not; neither do they spin. They are as lazy as the men and seem to have no higher idea of life than lying in the sun and drinking coffee or cold water. The food is a cross between German and Greek. The bread is black and under-baked, and the butter is churned from sheep's milk and never gets solid. The cow is not a milk purveyor in Athens, but a humble beast of toil. Our breakfasts were served in our rooms and were severely simple. They consisted of green tea, with sheep's milk, black bread and the pure honey of Hymettus. The honey of Hymettus is not so delightful as it sounds, because the bees browse among the strong scented asphodels, with which the mountain is covered, and the result is not appetizing.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Personal Considerations.

Mrs. Home, the wife of the author who wrote "The Tragedy of Douglas," was very infirm and very peculiar and spent her time on a sofa in the unusual occupation of chewing nutmegs.

A gentleman who was a great admirer of her husband's work called one day to see him, and not finding him thought it would be only less delightful to talk with the wife of so celebrated a man. He was ushered into her presence and began to ingratiate himself by praising her husband. She made no answer. Then he attempted to talk on topics of general interest, and still she was silent. At last she spoke.

"Any prospect of a peace?" she inquired.

"Yes," he replied enthusiastically, certain now that conversation had really begun, "there is every hope that a glorious peace will soon be concluded."

"Oh, ay!" said she. "Will it make any difference in the price of nutmegs?"

The hero worshiper took his leave.—Youth's Companion.

Auction Sales.

Sales by auction, so far from being an invention of late years, were known as far back as the time of the Romans. It is supposed by some that they chiefly used the plan to dispose of the spoils taken in war. As these sales were said to take place under the spear, it is fair to conclude that they stuck a long spear in the ground to mark the place where the sale would be held. It was long the custom in England to mark the time during which bids might be offered by burning an inch of candle, the last offer before the light went out being of course the one that took the article on sale. This custom led many to make no bid until the candle was nearly out, and many often delayed so long that the end of the flame still found them silent.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Electric Lights for 21 Cts. a Month.

Honolulu uses the electric current for lighting purposes more generally than do most American cities of its population. The reasons are found partially in the climate conditions which urge the adoption of a light unaccompanied by heat or an offensive odor. Furthermore, no gas company has found our city an inviting field for investment chiefly because of its scattered condition and the consequent large cost of reaching consumers; and electricity has thus met no competitor except the original oil lamp and the tallow candle. A third cause we believe to be largely the fact that when electric lighting was first introduced by the Government, it was offered to consumers on a basis of rates, which in many cases of commercial lighting and especially for night lighting, considerably discounted the cost of oil for the same amount of illumination. The demand thus created soon reached the limit of that Government supply.

Today the Hawaiian Electric Company possesses working capacity equal to more than three times the present combined incandescent output of the Government service together with our own. We offer lighting at the Government flat rates as follows:

Stores and offices per 16 c. p. light per month $1.00.
Residences per 16 c. p. light per month—10 lights 90cts.
Residences per 16 c. p. light per month—excess of 10 lights 60cts.

We do much better than this for our consumers. We place lights in every nook and corner of your premises, if you wish, measure the light you use, and charge for actual consumption only. You use light when and where you need it and you don't forget to shut it off when that need is satisfied, nor do you feel bound to keep the lights going from dusk till dawn in order to secure the value of a stipulated bill. We in turn know exactly what we have delivered to you and can figure with certainty upon a definite and rock bottom basis.

The cost of a 16 c. p. light per hour is 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents, varying with the efficiency of the lamp. The probable cost to you per month is clearly indicated by the following analysis of total charges made for residence lighting during June. Average number of lights per consumer, June 30, 22; average amount paid for month's lighting per consumer $4.54; average cost per light for the month 21cts. In view of these prices and the positive advantages of safety, convenience, simplicity and comfort, you can ill afford to use candles or oil. We furnish fittings and wiring of only the best grades and for obvious advantages at the lowest reasonable figures.

16 c. p. lamps reduced from $8 to $6 a dozen.

Provisional Government

The Crisp photo process, by which "The History" will be illustrated, is acquiring a well-merited reputation for excellence, the productions being artistic triumphs.

An instantaneous success!!! The project received by the business men of Honolulu in a most enthusiastic manner.

Art connoisseurs warm in its praise. "An artistic gem of the purest ray serene" TO BE PUBLISHED IN 1894.

The historians have commenced with the frame-work of the construction, setting forth the remote causes of events and the motives of human action; and follow up their connection with other developments, and present the whole in a finished exterior of high literary worth. The foundation principles of government, the predominant sentiments swaying human minds at different epochs, the physical condition of different parts of the land, the nature of different influences brought to bear upon the people, have all been closely studied, and the effects philosophically traced. Accuracy of statement, soundness of reasoning, clear presentation, and high literary merit will be the commanding aspect of this ambitious effort. It will be published in an attractive form containing over 200 pages,—fully illustrated, supplied with many maps and plans, containing tables of useful information and a complete index, it comprises all the accompaniments necessary to complete a work of its character.

GREEK GEORGE.

His Performance Was Not a Howling Success.

Professor John Theodore Hatzopoulos, who claims to be one of the strongest men in the world, gave a performance at the Opera House Saturday evening. The Professor, who also says he is a doctor, may be very strong, but he was not strong enough to draw more than about twenty-five people to see him. The performance lasted about one hour, and when the few people who were there left they were not very well pleased with Mr. Hatzopoulos, for his performance had all the appearances of a fake.

The doctor is a tall, loosely-jointed man, who does not look as though he were strong enough to break his word. He wore a suit of black tights, which were evidently made for someone else, who was larger than the famous doctor, for it hung on him like a gunny sack. The doctor did not do any of the marvelous feats which he advertised. He did lift two men, one in each hand; but the stone-breaking process was omitted. The doctor says he can put a piece of granite rock on his head and let a man break it with a sledge-hammer; but he didn't. When it came to be time to allow a horse to walk backward and forward over his body, and to play see-saw over his anatomy, the doctor seemed to be ready but the horse objected. No urging nor coaxing could induce the fiery steed to walk up the board which the doctor had laid across his chest. So, in default of this four men sat on him for a few minutes, and then he arose and waved his hands with an air of triumph at the audience. After this wonderful feat he dismissed the people and the show was over.

A Thirty-Five Mile Ride.

The first run of any length by the Pacific Wheelmen took place yesterday. Eighteen energetic young men, led by Henry Giles, started about ten o'clock and returned after four. They rode about eight miles out on the road to Ewa, and to Sans Souci and back, afterward taking a turn around the town, making nearly thirty-five miles in all. It is probable that these runs will be held every Sunday.

There is a greater proportion of men capable of bearing arms in the Northern and Western than in the Southern States.

Cleopatra was made miserable during her later years by the consciousness that her charms were fading and resorted to every known means to revive and retain them.

"What is a bill of exceptions?" asked the Professor. And the law student, whose mind was on other things, replied: "The Tariff bill."

BUFFALO BILL

on a galloping horse puts a rifle ball through a glass-egg thrown into the air.

We can hit the commercials bull's eye with our cut rate rifle. At every shot the public observes the marker cover the center disk.

These commercial shots are pocket-book advantages to the public.

Some persons imagine cutting to be an unpardonable sin. So it is literally; it means nine months on the "reef." But one and all are deeply interested in commercial cutting that saves the public thousands of dollars annually.

We believe in moving our goods rapidly. We're doing it through the pocket-book-cut-rate movement that we inaugurated.

SWENSON—In this city August 19, 1894, Estella M., beloved wife of Captain Carl Swenson, of the bark Matilda, aged about 21 years.

The funeral will take place this (Monday), morning at 9:15 o'clock, from the undertaking parlors of Williams Bros., King street. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

WEARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD, Aug. 19, 10 P.M.

—Weather clear; wind, fresh N.

The Australia left for San Francisco on Saturday at noon.

The Kaala leaves this morning at nine for a circuit of this island.

The steamers Claudine and W. G. Hall will leave port tomorrow.

The bark Albert and the barkentine S. G. Wilder will both get away within a day or two.

The Schooner Sadie arrived at Kahului, from San Francisco, on Friday. She was out for fifteen days.

The O. & S. S. Belgie will be due tomorrow from Yokohama, en route to San Francisco. The Mariposa will be due from the Colonies on Thursday.

The bark Velocity, Captain Martin, arrived on Saturday, ninety-three days from Hongkong. Light winds caused the long voyage. She is anchored in the stream.

All the mail matter sent here for the French warship Duguay-Trouin, has been returned to San Francisco. Evidently, the captain of the vessel has changed his mind and will not put in here.

The House has passed the bill providing for the keeping of the life-saving stations open for ten months in the year instead of eight. It fixes the period as from August to June and allows all surfmens employed more than eight months $60 per month.—Ex.

Secretary Herbert has accepted the 300 tons of barbed wire intended for the battleship Oregon, represented by the 17-inch Carnegie Harveyized steel plates, which have been tried at Indian Head.

The British bark Oimaru, Captain Brown, arrived yesterday, fifty days from Newcastle. She brought 1949 tons of coal for the Inter-Island Company. The Oimaru is docked at the Mail wharf.

The James Makee will come down from the Marine Railway about Wednesday. She will receive a general overhauling before she is sent out again. In the meantime the Waialeale will run on her route.

A German steamer loaded with arms consigned to the Nicaraguan Government, which left Colon recently, is reported wrecked off the Costa Rica coast. The wreck is believed to be the work of enemies of Nicaragua, as the arms have disappeared from the vessel.

The captain of the Pacific Mail steamer San Jose recently had trouble at Corinto, Nicaragua, with the authorities. Armed forces menaced the vessel and her passengers. The captain was refused permission to telegraph the facts to United States Minister Baker.

Captain Brown of the British bark Oimaru, now in port, had an exciting experience during the late Brazilian war. He was trying to run a blockade and while doing so, insurgent vessels fired on him, damaging his vessel considerably. While the Oimaru was at Newcastle, Captain Brown, had an offer to load coal for Japan, but he preferred to come here, not caring for any additional war experience.

Gunter's chain, used in measuring land, was invented by Edmund Gunter in 1854.
