People Will Talk.

You may get through the world, but will be very alow. you listen to all that is said as you go; You I be worried and fretted, and kept in a stew, For meddiesome trugues will have something to do,-For people will talk.

If gold and molest, you'll have it presumed That your hamble position to only assumed ; You're a wolf in sheep's clothing, or else you're a fool; But don't get excited, keep Perfectly cool,—

If generous and noble, they'll went out their spleen : You'll bear some loud hints that you're selfish and mean; If upright, homest and fair as the day, They'll call you a repor in a sly sneaking way,— For people will talk.

And then if you show the least boldness of heart, Or a slight inclination to take your own part, They will call you at upstart, concrited and vain; But keep straight about, don't stop to explain,-

For people will talk: If thread-bure your dress, or old fashioned your hat, Some one will surely take notice of that, And hist rather strong that now use I pay your way ; But don't get excited, whatever they say,

For people will talk. If you dross in the fashion, don't think to escape, For they criticise then in a different shape ; You're about of your means, or your tailor's unpaid; But mind your own business, there's naught to be mad For people will talk.

Now, the best way to do is to do as you please For your mind, if you have not, will then be at ease; Of course, you will mast with all surts of abuse, But don't talk to stop them, train't any use,-

"Unless you give me aid," said a beggar to a bene-collect lady, "I'm afraid I'll have to resort to sussthing which I greatly distile to do." The lady havined him a dollar; and compassionately Winst is it, poor man, that I have saved a Work, was the mournful answer.

"Are you empaged?" said a gentleman to a young lady from Marysville at a ball the other evening. "I was but if that Pete Johnson thinks I'm going to sit here and see him squeeze that freekle faced Wilkins girl's hand all the evening A minister once told Wendell Phillips that if his business in life was to save the hogress he ought to go to the South, where they were, and do it. "That is worth thinking of," replied Phillips; "and what is your business in life "." "To save men from going to bell," replied the minister. "Then go there and attend to your business." said

Sir William B-, being at a parish meeting, de some proposals which were objected to by armer. Highly enraged, he said to the farmer ir, do you know that I have been at two univer wites, and at two colleges at each university?"
"Weel sir," said the farmer, "what o that? I had a colf that socket two coos, and the mair he

A good story is told of General Butler's sarcastic A good story is been of General patter associated present upon a Massachusette judge, whom he was bessent for a ruling favorable to a cause he was defending in court. The judge got out of patience at last, and somewhat testily exclaimed, "Mr. Suffer, what do you think I set here for?" The General quietly shrupped his shoulders, and replied. "The Court has got use now."

Not long ago an Irishman applied to an overseer in a Type shippard to be put on to a job. He was informed that he could not comply with his request; but, as Pat continued to gaze earnestly at an another which was lying in the vicinity, the fareman repeated his reply that there was no work for him, and advised him to go away. "Not a bit will I shirt, sort," replied Pat, "till I see the man that's going to use that pick."

In deminschisis with the ace of trees, it may interest many to know that in Barl Spenser's pirk, Alshorp, near Northampton, a stone with the date of their planning has been placed in the various planningons from Queen Elizabeth's time downwards. This custom was begun by Sir John Spencer. The three-bundred-year old cake, on which the herons now build, are fine tall growing trees, ith no appearance of age or decay about them. The idea of self-importance, which is so free mily established by the bretaren of the "color work, has seidem been better illustrated than by the erchamstions of a colored mail carrier in Vir-ginia, who had been well shaken by a man for ricking his dog. "Look a here, massa; you'd bet-ter be keerful how you shake dis chile; cos when you shakes me yer shakes de whole ob de United States: I carries de mails."

There is no worse occupation for an earnest physicism than so listen to the complaints of people who protein to be ill. A well-known doctor, who was called upon by one of his patients for nothing about oace a week, ended by enquiring. "Then you set well?" "Yes." "You drink well?" "Yes." "You deep well?" "Certainly." "Wonderfu!" said the doctor, as he prepared to write a prescription. "I am going to give you something that will put a shop to all that."

That ripe tomatoes will remove ink and other stains from white cloth; also from the hands. That a teaspoontal of turpentine boiled with white clothes will aid the whitening process. That begind starch is much improved by the addition of a little spermanest or a little sait, or both, or a little gum atabue dissolved. That beeswax and sait will make flat-irons as clean and smooth as giass; the a lump of wax in a rag, and keep it for that purpose; when the irons are hot, rub them with the wax rag, then scour with a paper or rag sprinkled with sait. That kerosene will soften boots or shoes which have been hardened by waster, and mucher them as pliable as when new. That kerosene will make the ton-kettles as bright as new; saturate a woolen rag and rub with it; it will also remove stains from clean varnished furnithms.

The chain-small vest which is said to have saved General Melhoof from Vladetski's bullet has for many generations past been a common article of war with the leading personages of Europe, the most notable examples being Oliver Cronwell, Gestavus of Sweden, the present Crar, and Louis XVI. In the middle ages these mail-coats were known as "Milan Shirts," and greatly esteemed for the fineness of their workmanship. A famous Italian generally, who went into the built of Research thus equipped, was found dead with the links of his mail still unbroken, though the bones beneath it were completely shattered by the force of the death-blow. A "bullet-groof" vest of this kind was offered by a speculator to the Duke of Wellingson, who got rid of him in a very characteristic tachies. Bidding the man to put it on, he called to the centry outside to load with ball-cartriage and come up at once. But the visitor's confidence in his invention did not apparently extend to his hecks at once.

BILLIARDS PEDDLING.

Hawaiian Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1880.

Tun Ten Million Loan Bill was defeated last Friday by a vote of 28 to 20. Mr. A. S. Cleghorn's speech on this Bill, his only extended speech for the mession, we believe, is worth reading, for it take Acknowledgements to Contracts for Labor for is full of manly independence and of sound "Scotch sense." If anything can ward off the dangers which recently have seemed to impend over the present regime, whether they be in the shape of a "Khedive" or "Turkish" manipulation, or of something else, it is by following the sensible views which are expressed by Mr. Cleghorn.

THERE has been more solid thinking done by this Consul Davies; Notice is hereby given that the said community during the last forthight than in the Thomas Bain Walker has been recognized as Acting previous fifteen years, upon matters of public con-British Vice Consul aforesaid, and all persons are required to take notice of this fact and respect his author- feeling will soon provail, and that wiser counsels Ity accordingly.

during his absence as Consul for the Netherlands and Belgium, and all persons are required to take notice of this first and respect his arthur to the health.

On Thursday last Mr. Abolo brought in a resolution that $30,000 be appropriated to pay certain promissory notes of the King, and that one-fourth of the Crown Lands' income be appropriated to repay the same with interest at not over five per cent. This is enough to make one suspect that the members who favor this and like measures have Friel, resigned Assessors, Collectors and Tax Appeal Boards, by which many of the good features in the new law may be secured this year. For instance, the Appeal Boards should be composed of men having no interest to keep up assessments. Assessors and Collectors from other districts should never sit on such Boards. There should be publicity of as-sessments, so that all may see that fairness and uniformity are the rule. The valuation for taxes should be the amount of cash which by a sale at anction the property would reasonably be ex-pected to bring. Full value, or "full cash value" means no more than "value;" and an auction sale, not a sale on credit, is the proper test.

Oun narrow escape from the $10,000,000 Job should give the warmest satisfaction to all who are true well-wishers towards the Hawaiian kingdom. The majority which saved us is a small one when only counted, but a very heavy one when

An inspection of the two lists will be found very instructive. On the side of the Ayes, on the question of indefinite postponement, we find the whole ministry, the King's brothers-in-law, all the principal nobles of both native and foreign extraction, and those native members who have distinguished themselves throughout the session by integrity and Thus we see, with one exception, that the whole mass of intelligence, native and foreign, all the men of prominence, official and private, social and mercantile are on one side.

On the other hand what do we find amongst the "Noes" but Noess?

The new loan bill, introduced last Saturday by Mr. Gibson, is characteristic of that gentleman in its assumption that the Ministry fail to provide measures for the good of the country. He will therefore see to it, both that proper appropriations are made and that means be furnished for borrowing money to meet them. We have neither time nor space in this issue to say more than a fraction of what we wish to say on this new loan bill. It The undersigned Plenipotentiaries, negotiators of is wanton, unnecessary and impolitic, as ugly and the largeting Treaty of Friendship, Commerce and Navicious, though not quite so big, as its elder igation and Consular Convention between the German brother. Almost all these have lavishly provided for by the present Legislative Assembly. Some evil genius must have perched itself near Mr. Gibson's elbow when he gravely invites us to borrow money to import labor and ma-terial to compete with Philadelphia and North Eritain in building ocean steamships! [We are happy to report that the bill was defeated vector-day, being ruled out of order as substantially the same thing which was voted down last Friday.]

AT LAST the famous resolution of want of confidence in the Ministry, after knocking about from hand to hand for nearly two weeks, came up for debate last Wednesday, and was defeated by a vote of 32 to 10. The ten who "had no confidence" were Messrs. Gibson, Rhodes, Bush, Aholo, Kalua, Kuapuu, Nahaku, Mahoe, R. W. Wilcox, and Lilikalani. The speeches especially of the opposition were marked by strong personalities and invective Mr. Rhodes ventilated his well known anxiety about the prevalence of American interests and against the reciprocity treaty, not omitting his usual fling at the Chief Justice. In a portentous tone he called on Mr. Kalus to detail "what the Chief Justice had said to him;" whereupon Kalua went on to give the conversation, which it must be Norson is hereby given that all Licenses must be applied for direct to the Interior Office, and all parties are cardiaged about failing to renow expiring Licenses, and all Sacriffs and Deputy Sheriffs have instructions to prosecute without discretion any and all parties doing charged the Ministry with weakness, divided countries without the negative state. without the proper License.

Sels, failure to respond to the King's wishes about expenditures, and especially bore down on the expenditures, and especially bore down on the expenditures, and especially bore down on the Minister of the Interior for connection with "rings," which he defined (after Marcey) as "the cohesive power of public plunder." The Attorney General's words were perhaps better than his manner, for he appeared to lose his temper somewhat but he found time to call Mr. Gibson the political Ishmael, who had opposed every Cabinet since the death of Kamehameha Y, and had prolonged this session at a cost to the Government of not less than $5,000. Mr. Gibson retorted that he was now following the course to which he had been advised by the Attorney General in former years when he said that Mr. Preston was acting as his paid counsel against the Cabinet then in office. The defeat of this resolution has given a sense of relief to the country.

By the Constitution of 1852, the Legislature was composed of two separate Houses, the Nobles appointed for life by the King, and the representatives elected by the people. The Constitution of 1864 changed this, and makes but one House. This change was undoubtedly made with the view to strengthen the power of the King as represented by the Ministers and Nobles who, it was supposed. would be more likely to secure a majority thereby. It was fiercely opposed by those who regarded the measure as a blow at popular rights. The result, however, is precisely that which a student of history ought to have foreseen. One House has not the conservative force or deliberateness of the aristocratic element which is required for every government. We use the word aristocratic in its original meaning, being contra-distinguished from that element which every society contains of irresponsible and unthinking persons. The United States Senate was intended to represent the former social force, in the longer tenure of office and smaller number of its members, which naturally leave them less ready to respond to popular cla mor or excitement. A legislature, however, which does not have two Houses, the one being a check upon the other, is subject to the evils of a demoeracy in its worst meaning. Reckless expendi-tures are more likely to be made, ill-advised and hasty legislation is more easily forced by the gagging operation of the previous question, urged on it may be by an importunate mob and led by unscraptions demagogues. More than this, there is less probability of obtaining worthy representatives for an Assembly, in which their vote can so easily be weighed down, whether by Ministers and Nobles, or by the mob power. Since the era of elective Sovereigns, it has become more than PEDDLING.

STALLION.

We be been seen that the conservative forces in the looky politic be strengthened. This can now only be done by the instrumentality of a responsible and trusted Ministry. Without this, we have not the cohesive force of a responsible and trusted Ministry. Without this, we have not the cohesive force of a responsible and trusted Ministry. Without this, we have not the cohesive force of a responsible and trusted Ministry. Without this, we have not the security of a menarchical form. It is the height of folly for any one who intends to hold the reins of government to deat directly with those whose cupidity is easily excited or whose ignorance is easily imposed upon. The tyrangu of a mobile that when such a set of persons are anobis the worst imaginable. It should ever be remembered that when such a set of persons are anobis the worst imaginable. We learn that there are already five candidates named among the young native Hawaiians to be sent abroad for education under the $15,000 appropriation recently granted by the Legislature. It seems to have been a sudden inspiration on the part of some memibers, after the bill had been for weeks before the House, and to have been as harriedly adopted without any attention to details. ed. There is an anatimous sentiment in this community against class Legislation, also a surging wave of discontent with all classes, to stay the downward progress. What means this subsidy of $24,000 to the China line? Particulars will be given across the waters, the story is understood.

We pity the poor planters who have been too condicated to take risks of investment they have already taken, we are called upon to learn wisdom by such things as we suffer from. The policy of such conduct is to endanger the loss of that which is so great a boon to these Islands, via: Reciprocity. We know amought other arguments the one of advantage to the United States in carrying our produce was advanced to obtain it.

Now our glorious Legislature pay a Chinese subsidy to compete with Uncle Sam in the freight business. Is this right toward the United States Government with the imaginary advantage of peopling these Islands with an abundance of males to become cake seliers and ultimately have to sell plantations and residences. Verily this is Hawaiian Chinese, same to Reciprocity. This Legislature is now provoking the United States Government (if I mistake not) so that at the next sitting of Congress they maybrive this Government notice to terminate the treaty.

We must protest against being taxed without representation. When we held Boyal Patents of land in these Islands with invested rights, when the late King died and lands were without a rowering, is see preclamation Feb. 6th, 1874.) This is a subject well worth our Chief Justice's consideration, and there are two sides to this bone.

A recent issue of the New York San contained a lengthy letter from Honolulu, understood on good authority to have been written by Mr. Oukford, who spent some months here. The letter gives a somewhat extravaguntly eraggerated account of

The letter gives a somewhat extravaguitty exagerated account of the progress of these Islands under the influence of the progress of these Islands under the influence. of the reciprocity treaty. The writer has evidently an unfriendly bias towards us, as may be understood from such utterances as this: "As the export of Hawaiian sugars to California, in 1883, will reach 60,000 tons, the United States Treasury will be the loser by $3,360,000 a year." Treasury will be the loser by $3.360,000 a year.
"The increased exports has not lowered the price of sugar to the consumers in the United States. The remission of duties has therefore enured solely to the benefit of the Hawaiian planter."
"Planters who were bankrupt in 1875 are fast be-

"Planters who were bankrupt in 1875 are fast becoming millionaires."

The San Francisco Journal of Commerce, of July 15, commenting on the Sua's article, very justly says: "The writer proved that the planters reaped golden harvests; but he seems to forget that these golden harvests; but he seems to forget that these golden harvests pass eventually into American hands. Every dollar is invested in something which America produces. Instead of the treaty being a matter of complaint, it should be a matter of gratulation. The expensive and costly machinery, which, as the writer says, is used to irrigate the Islands, is the work of American hands, and is shipped from San Francisco altogether. Without this, our foundries would have been badly off during the past two years. Thus, flour and groceries, the hams, bacon, lard, butter, the wines and spirits, the dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, furniture, lumber, tobacco, and the hundred and one things needed in the Islands, as lururies or necessities, came from San Francisco—are made by American hands, and give employment and a means of livelihood to American citizens. Our exports have heavily increased since the treaty was entered into. "
We want reciprocity, and the result of our experiment with the Hawaiian Islands is a good argument in its favor, and the article in the New York Sun but backs up our position."

A feeling of indignation was aroused and expressed among the native members and nobics of the Legislative Assembly yesterday, when they read the views of a number of merchants, published in the Kaukou and Hawadi Puenina, and which we publish toolay, setting forth that Minister Wilder should be eastained as the financial and political savior of the country. The signers of the document have made a blunder, highly detrimental to the interests of Mr. Wilder, in thus singling him out as the special object of landation. Hawaiians ask, are the representatives of our race in the government, anbody! And shall a too of strangers, the most of whom have he wore, or any abiding interest, campt a speculative one, in the country, pretend to instruct His Majesty as to whom shall be chosen retained or dismissed as an adviser of the Crown !- P. C. A. July 19th.

July 18th.

We should think that if the present Ministry were responsible and united among themselves, the very fact of such a thing would be sufficient to command their resignation. It may not be, after sit, so much the fault of the Aing as of the Ministry, that important measures are sometimes brought irregularly before the Assembly. Are we be trust men who come before the Assembly armayed one against another from the very start? This conflict of purpose among them, is certainly too apparent! Was not a grave charge brought forward at the very begining of the session by the Minister of Finance against the Minister of the Interior. And since then, until now have we seen any unity among them? If the Gazarra can unboid such a body as worthy of the confidence of the commanity, there is an end to argument—F. C. A. July 24.

ment—P. C. A. July 24.

A short time since a couple of paragraphs reflecting apon the action of the signers of a memorial to the ling, through an entire mistake, were passed through our cupy frawer and appeared in our print. We had thought that the general time of our articles would have sufficiently indicated our non-endorsement of the views sufficiently indicated our non-endorsement of the views sterre expressed to have satisfied unbiased minds. Such seems to have been generally the case, nevertheless we deem it opportune that such as explanation should be made, in order to avoid any accusations of want of consistency on our part, as well as in positively assure the very respectable signers of the document referred to that we do not entertain such views, and never have—P. C. A. Aug. 1.

On reading the last of the above rearrangels it.

On reading the last of the above paragraphs it was on motion resolved by us that we do laugh,—one time in three motions.

The fourth and last of the series of concerts with which we have been favored, took place at Eawaiahao Church on Friday evening last, and was well attended. In noting the several numbers seriatim, we have first the selection for plano and violin introducing Prof. Berger and Herr Heinssen, showing the efficiency of both and opening the evening's performance with celat. The second number gave as "Once Again," by Sullivan, in which, to our idea, Mr. Turner's rendition was by far the best, both in expression and in execution, to any which we have listened to from this gentieman; the well and long sustained notes, the delicate shading and distinct enunciation, called for an encore, which was right hearthly accorded, bringing out the well-worn "Nanny Lee," one of Mann's best baritons songs. The Polosaise from Mignon which gave Miss Montagase her first number, was an excellent opportunity for her to pre-The fourth and last of the series of concerts

Mr. Morton, the U. S. Consul, at this port, resigned his position on the lith ult., to accept the office of Surveyor of the Port of San Francisco, recently tendered him by President Hays. It is to be regretted that we are to lose so efficient a Consul, as Mr. Morton has proved himself to be since taking charge of the U. S. Consulate here in June, 1873.

Yesterday the Assembly did some good work. Besides shelving the new loan bill, the "sub-marine (a) cable" bill was indefinitely postponed, and a bill to specially tax Asiatic immigrants arriving here without wives, was passed to a third reading. The amount of tax proposed is not less than $10 nor more than $25 per man. Planters engaging such immigrants, would, of course, have to pay this extra tax, getting it back, perhaps, from the laborer.

A succest important case in the Supreme Court brought up the question of the final and conclusive effect of a decree in probate for distribution of assets upon the right of a party against whom such decree was made to bring an action at law for the recovery of the real estate. A majority of the Court have held that such a decree is a bar to any action. When there is time to consider anything besides immediate public evils, it may be well to see if all the probate decrees throughout treatment closed with the Miserere with chorus of selected voices. Leonora. Miss Montague; Manneo, Mr. Turner, on account of indisposition, was obliged to substitute, for the selection from Faust, "Let me like a soldier fall." On Monday last the Assembly passed on its final reading an Act to amend Article 61 of the Constitution, respecting the property qualification required in order to be eligible for a representative of the people. The article at present requires that the candidate shall own real estate, unincombered, of the value of at least $250. The proposed amendment alters these figures respectively to $1,000 and $2,000. By Article 80, the amendment must be published for three months previous to the next beginning the continuous part of the Constitution. It is an amendment in the right direction.

Both the native papers in this city, in their issues of last Saturday, express satisfaction at the signal defeat in the Assembly of the resolution of want of confidence. The Kasolos says that frequent changes of Ministers signify a weak government, and is a menace to its stability. The Ko Hasous Pass sha says: "We believe that the present Cabinet is one of the best the country has ever had, seeing moreover that the natives to whom the country belongs and foreigners settled here are equally represented in the Ministry, and reviewing their official acts and the valuable work which they have accomplished for the country, they have proved themselves to be the right men for their positions."

We learn that there are alroady five candidates named among the young native Hawmians to be named and not the same and necessary of the public comprehend the translation in the Country has ever had, seeing moreover that the natives to whom the country they have every that the of the watches and vitaling our guarantee, which is an tended to cover only our complete watches wholly made by us. It is necessary, also, because It is as notopoids as to be a public scandal, that there is great fraud in the metal quality of both gold and silver cases as now generally sold. We have demonstrated by frequent assays that many gold and silver cases offered in the market are debased from from 10 to 20 per cent from the quality they assume to be. This is a fraud upon the purchaser, and accounts for the low price at which such cased watches have been sed.

We take this occasion to announce that we have recently entirely remodelled the very popular grades of full plate movements, known by the marks "Wm. Ellert," "Appleton, Tracy & Ca.," "Waltham Watch Un, "P. S.
Bartiett," and "Broadway," giving to them not only a highly improved appearance, but great additional value,
We embody in them such of the best results of our experience and study for twenty years as can be useful in this popular form of watch. We give these new model-watches special recommendation to all who look for good performance and solid excellence at moderate coat. The alterations have been made with the view of pleasing practical watch makers, as well as watch wearers.
We avail curselves, bus, of this occasion to warm the

He showed a good knowledge of his subject and possesses sound and vigorous ideas thereon. In addition to this, the hearest were trouted to the enjoyment of hear-ing both Miss Montague and Mr. Turner, who took part in the music.

A report is on circulation among the Hawaiians that the inst higher bill is not to be signed as a sort of retaliation for the refusal to pass the $10,000,000 ban bill. This however is too good to believe. There would be a certain species of poetic justice, if the general public is to be saved by such fallings out of counsel among public enemies.

People were grinning on Saturday over their Advertisers, for it was a funny paper. On the second page it came out sharply and well in favor of the public, against those persons and their measures, so recently defeated and routed. This was so totally different from its tone of the past few months, that the charge on the third page, that the Gazarra has changed front was very comical.

The Appropriation Bill appeared in last week's supplement. The pump put into the Kaika Spring by Mr. Raudsen for irrigating Kehaha Plantation has done its work well. It is capable of raising one hundred barrels a minute. All that is needed now is the stream, 24 inches wide, 5 inches deep, that now rushes from the mouth of the pipe into the fume. 29 feet above the level of the apring. Lirania stalks, old occount leaves, and such trash, have so far been used for fuel for the engine that works the pump.

rocks the pump. The wool clip at Niihau for the season is all sheared, with the exception of one or two day's work. The prevailing wet weather has prevented this last of the shearing. It is very provoking for the men who want to finish the job, but the needed three days of consecutive fair weather will come some time. The grass has been much improved by good management, and the thirty thousand sneep, more or less, on the island ought to give a profitable account of themselves to their canny owners.

Lihue and Kilauea mills are not yet through grinding. Kapaa sent off its last sugar of this year's crop last week. Strong trade winds with cloudy skies and cold squalls are good for the pastures, but came planters want the warm six and good growing weather usual in August and September. There are evidences of a long continued drouth about Keelia. Caterpilars are busy between Kapaa and Kilauea; but the young cane in the fields has not been injured by them this year to any great extent. There is no wider expanse of came field on the whole island than at Kapaa. Kilauea makes a fine show, but the old pluntation of Lihue has the advantage of years of experience in successful cultivation. Its adjunct of Hanamaulu gives every appearance of a great success, mails gives every appearance of a great success, and a large addition to Libne's already immensely big profit account. Koloa is prospering this year with the additions of hundreds of tons from came planted by outside parties. Electe and Kekaha

A curious relic has been found plowing at Kapaa It is a cylinder of stone about a foot and a half high, and ten inches in diameter with an enlarged base, and a hollow of some ten inches depth as if it had been used for a mortar. Possibly it was some old chief's ointment pot, for such seems to have been the use of similar relics now to be found have been the use of similar relics now to be found in the cabinets of our curiosity-hunters. Another curiosity recently found on the same plantation is a miniature adse, evidently formed out of an old copper bola, that may have at some time in the ages past floated ashore in a piece of a wreck. It is a possible thing that in plowing on our newer plantations similar relics may be discovered. It would be well to send such treasure trove to the national museum, for it is a notorious fact that to examine such memorials of past ages of Hawanian national life, one must go to Berlin or Paris or London. Such curiosities have not been preserved here.

The Hawaiian people has a deadly ulcer fastened to it, it has also a few moles and warts, and behold our would-be sanitary reformer aping the true Samaritan anomits with oil, (see "Sanitary Instructions for Hawaiians, pages 121 and 122,) and pours in wine (i. e. gin and brandy) see vote of Hon. Let the foul contagion of leprosy spread, and its ravages in this little nation go unchecked for an-other few years, and where will be the prospect of the perpetuity of the Hawarian people? Can our would be sanitary reformer point to a speech made, or to a vote given by himself during Perhaps be fondly imagines that dispensaries and hospitals are to be the cure-all for this foul contagnon, or, it may be he still trusts that some inspiration will yet direct him to the choice of the Hawatian herb or simple, the anti-leprous virtues of which, like the "rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel," are more potent than all the drugs of Asia, Africa or the fertile Indies.

When, in compliance with the suthusiastic desire of his fellow-countrymen, and the foreign consuls, the Khedive abdicated, he took his harem and such valuables as he could lay his of the bay, and at the foot of Vesavius, where he took up his residence and arranged his collection of wives in a series of managed his collection of wives in a series of pleasant rooms. It formed decidedly the best collection of the kind that any Italian city had seen since the days of the Roman Empire, and the cx-Khedive was naturally proud of it. Before very long, however, he found that a harem can not be kept together so easily in Naples as in the kept together so easily in Naples as in the left together were not together were n lection of wives in a series of pleasant rooms. Ciro. The windows of the palace were not latticed, and the ladies of the harem could not their best to keep the harem in subjection, but their efforts were unavailing, and before the ex-Khedive had occupied his palace many weeks he was compelled to notice that his harem was gradually grawing smaller. He at once spoke to the chief cunuch, and demanded to know if several of his wives were not missing. The ennucli maintained that, and tear incidentals to dressing, no losses had occurred. The ex-Khedive could not thus be ceived. He was confident that seven or eight of his best wives had vanished, and although, owing to the want of a trustworthy catalogue, he could not prove that he was right, he resolved that no more losses should occur without his knowledge. A careful watch soon showed the leak in the harem. Every night a throung of handsome young Italians would appear under the window of the place, and a few wives would jump into

The Italian Government showed itself cold Khedive, it explained that there was no law under which an Italian could be beheaded for taking one of the ex-Khedive's wives, or the latter prevented from jumping out of the win- Har low. In these circumstances be decided to take severe measures, and ordered his entire harem to be tied together by the ankles and chained to a post. To his great dismay, he found that his servants had been corrupted by civilization, and were unwilling to obey orders that would bring them into difficulties with the Italian police. They fixtly refused to lay illegal hands upon a single ankle, and the ex-Khedive sadly realized that he was living in a free and Christian country. There was nothing for him to do but to sit up at night and witch his family. He walked up and down the corridors of the palace, bursting into a room whenever he heard a noise, and occasionally catching a wife in the act of climbing out of the window. But this could not last. The want of sleep soon told upon him. More-over, his wives resented his conduct in watching them; and, whenever he put his head out of the window, the Italians that stood halos of the window, the Italians that stood below in the street, watching for wives, and making bets as to who would catch the next one, ad-dressed disrespectful language to him. Thus he was forced to see his harem melting away. rooms in which he had arranged his collection, tenarian. mental ability to make these calculations or verify this opinion. We take it from those I guess I'll use this money toward buying me who have the ability. Precisely the same my mourning and a new trosseau. I look well in black. Besides, it would be a mercy to gious flats and there are religious theories. Epam to put him out of his suffering."— It is a fact, which any one may verify for himself, that there are four Gospois; that in them is the portrait of a character and the story of a life abandural water than the story of a life abandural w story of a life absolutely unique and transcendent in its supreme and spotless excellence, worthy of the highest reverence and affection, the most sedulous imitation; so high, so pure, so true, so patient, so hernic in its self-sacri-fice that the highest dream of the haman soul falls below it, that no conception which the human mind has ever formed of God equals it in moral grandenr. It is a theory bused on critical study of documents and on theological and philosophical study of probabilities, that ese Gospels were written in the first century by the immediate disciples of Jesus, and that he was the Son of God, born of a virgin, gotten by the Holy Ghost.

Now to deny the facts of science, easily attested by anyone with ordinary mental equip ment, shows mental obliquity; to deny the form of religion, easily attested by any one with ordinary moral equipment, shows moral obliquity. If a man reading the life of Jesus sees in him no beauty that he should desire in him, if this life which has won from such unbelievers as Renan, Knenen and John Stungt Mill inexpressible admiration, wins none from him, it is because he is blind and deaf. But ognizing the moral sublimity in that life, seeing in him a character beyond all compare in human history, the intellect may draw the coordision that he was the Spirit of God in the body of man-that is, he may be Swedenborgian in his theory of Christ; or that he was God and man, a composite being curiously and inexplicably conjoined in one—that is, he may be athanasian in his theory of Christ; or that he was a man guided, governed and possessed by the Spirit of God, with a fulless never seen in any other man-that is, he may be Arian in his theory of Christ-without any moral obliquity. The difference in the spiritual appreciation of Christ is moral; the difference in the intellectual theory about Christ is moral. Moral judgments possess a moral character; purely intellectual opinious do not. The one are determined by the moral character of the man, the other by his intellectual column.

It is, or ought to be, axiomatic that no purintellectual apinion is or can be gui tellectual error is often a misfortune. never a crime. But moral and spiritual indif-ference to the great facts of buman experience is more than an error, it is sin. The Bible so treats it; and mankind universally so regards it. He Wanted to be an Actor.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1880.

The Fate of an Egyptian Harem.

the New York Times learns that the exKhedive of Egypt is in an unhappy state of mind. By care and industry, accompanied by a large outlay, he succeeded while in Egypt in collecting a very fine harem. It was especially rich in what art critics would call "choice examples" of Circussian and Georgia, and it included the bost specimens of Egyptian, Turkish, and Syrian giris, besides a small amount of select French moral bric-a-brice.

The Wanted to be an Actor.

A citizen whose best weight never exceeded 120 pounds was the other day buying a couple of bens of a farmer in the market, and before the bargain was concluded, the two became quite friendly, and the farmer said he had something on his mind to communicate. One of his boys had a passion for theatricals and was desirous of becoming an actor. The idea was so strong in him that he had become worthless around the farms, and the father was in a peck of trouble to know how to turn the boy's attention from the footlights to the plough handles.

"Spose I send him to you, and 'spose you make fun and ridicule him and let him see how foolish it is ?" augreested the father and before the bargain was concluded. The market, and before the bargain was concluded. The market, and before the bargain was concluded. The market, and before the bargain was concluded.

"'Spess I send him to you, and 'spose you make fun and ridicule him and let him see how foolish it is?" suggested the father, and the citizen agreed. As a result of their planning the boy walked into the citizen's place of business, on Congress-street East, next morning. The father had called him a boy but he weeded about 160 nounds, stood nearly six hards on, and went to Naples, intending to live a quiet life of study and meditation, surrounded by his harem and his portable prorounded by his harem and his portable property. At Naples his troubles began. The Government rented him a fine palace—popularly known as the Favorita—on the shore feet high, and he had a pair of hands as large as the chromo of the Yosemite Valley. His arrival was expected, and after a few words about the weather, the citizen queried—

"So you think you would make an actor,"

"Yes, I kinder think so,' was the reply "What line would you take?"

Not at all. In the first place, your ears "Not at all. In the first place, your ears be prevented from looking out at the people in the street. Neither was it practicable to prevent stray Italians from seeing an occasional wife at a window. The eunuchs did will be a dead failure." other actors. Don't try the drama, for you will be a dead failure."

"Could I do anything in comedy?"
"Not a thing. The sight of you in comedy would be the same as the sight of a hearse on the stage. All the fecial expression you have is behind your ears.' "I've thought some of being a nigger min rel." observed the boy, after a long silence "That's the worst of all. I tell you, boy, stre!. beyond the usual loss of wives by the wear you'd better stick to the farm. You are not cut out for an actor, and you want to drop "Couldn't I act as usher?"

"No, Sir; you are too stiff in the knees." "Couldo't I take tickets?" "Never! Your hands are too big for that work '

"Couldn't I shift scenes ?" "No; you are too big and unwieldy." "There was a long and painful silence Then the boy rose up and said-

"Well, I'm bound to go into theatricals. It A FINE ASSORTM'T OF WALL PAPER their arms. In this way a constant drain of their arms, In this way a constant drain of wives was in progress, and the alarmed extends at the door to raise a row, and I'll be-khedive saw that unless it could be stopped gin on you! Come over here!"

He hauled the adviser over the table, clutched him by the small of the back and spun him od heartless. When appealed to by the ex- around, slammed him against the wall, and dropped him to get a better hold. When the curtain rose on the next act there was a strictly private conversation going on between nlet and the ghost, and the ghost's coat was ripped up the back and his collar torn Then Hamlet suddenly demanded in a "Caitiff! do you declare that I cannot act ?" Then the ghost dodged around the table and

No. I don't! You are all right-you are a spleudid actor -you can't help but win!"
"And you'll tell my father so?"

Is a medicine that was discovered by old Newson DESTRAND, who had been eccupied in sich mems and with the care of elek people, for over fifty years. It is made purely and entirely of Plants, Herbe and Roots, and is exceedingly agreeable and pleasant to both the faste and smell, being warm, presents to one the mace unit seperations warm, aromatic and spice. It is a most thorough purge, cleaning out the bowels without pain, and without names or sichening. It does not weaken, and linear the system open and fire, never drying up the howels afterwards, as every other purps that we know of does.
