WILL BE NO DEATH SENTENCES,

NOT IN IT AT FOOTBALL.

Decision as to Disposition of Leaders of Rebellion.

WILL HEAR THEIR FATE TODAY.

Sentences Were to Have Been Read Last Night—Mr. Kinney Telephones for a Delay—Long Imprisonment and Heavy Fines—Postponed to 9 This Morning.

The sentences of the leaders of the rebellion, from Robert Wilcox to Liliuokalani, it is understood, have been decided upon and have received the signature of President Dole.

All yesterday afternoon the Councils were in executive session considering the action of the Military Commission and discussing what disposition should be made of the prisoners.

The President and the Cabinet were at work on the necessary papers till late in the afternoon, and at 7:30 o'clock Major Potter and Major McLeod walked into the Marshal's office, Major Potter bearing a roll of paper which indicated the purport of their visit. Jailor Low was telephoned and prepared to receive visitors and the Marshal and the military officers only awaited the arrival of Commissioner Hawes to proceed to the prison.

Just as they were about to start out Mr. Kinney telephoned from Waialae to delay serving the sentences till he arrived in town.

Mr. Kinney arrived at the Station soon after 8 o'clock, and, after a ten minutes' talk with the Marshal and Attorney-General, it was announced that the sentences would not be served until 9 o'clock this morning. The cause of the delay was not made public, but it is believed to be a minor matter, which will not effect the sentences of the leaders.

Although the names of each of those sentenced were not given out it was learned from a reliable source that the death penalty had been commuted, and each of the leaders given long terms of imprisonment at hard labor with heavy fines. The sentences of Nowlin, Bertelmann, and possibly Davies, will probably be suspended in consequence of their having turned states evidence. Mrs. Dominis is said to have received a sentence of five years' imprisonment and a $5000 fine.

All the sentences will be announced at 9 o'clock this morning, unless there is more deep-seated trouble from the cause of last night's delay than is anticipated.

The Philadelphia Lads Meet With

Ignominious Defeat.

46 to 4 TELLS THE SAD TALE.

Large Crowd and Much Enthusiasm at Yesterday's Game—A Philadelphia Man Injured—Game Was With the Home Team From the Start.

FOOTBALL was in the very air yesterday from early morning until late at night—football in all its phases, pleasant and unpleasant. During the morning and part of the afternoon, the only questions that seemed to be asked at all were, "Are you going to see the game?" or "What's going to win?" or "Do you think it will rain this afternoon?" Indeed, the game which took place yesterday has been looked forward to for weeks past by the pleasure-loving people of this city as the greatest event, barring the revolution, that would take place this year.

Just before the beginning of the game, the baseball grounds and pavilion presented a very gay and holiday-like appearance. Carriages, buses, trams, horses and bicycles were used in abundance to convey to the grounds the crowd of seven hundred people that was present.

Those who did not choose the pavilions stood around on the outside of the low fence inside the grounds, or remained in their carriages. The cream of Honolulu society was present to lend dignity to the first game of the season.

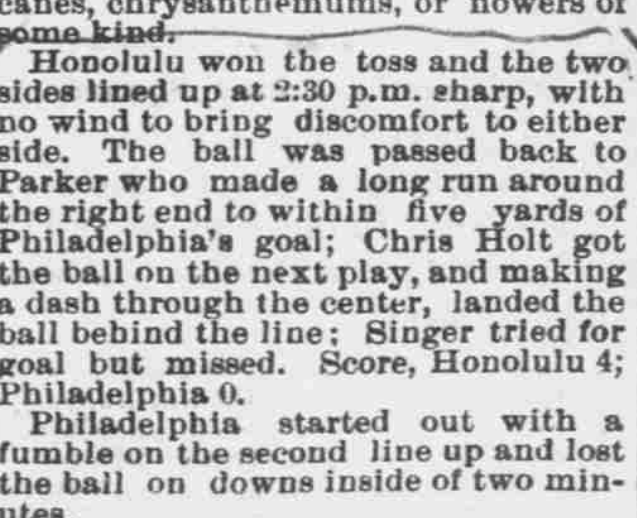

The Government band did its part toward making things as lively as possible, encouraging both sides by American and Hawaiian national airs. Professor Berger, while he led his band in a most admirable manner, could not help emphasizing the best with his baton when Palmer Parker shot out from somewhere in the rear of Honolulu's team and disappeared behind the goal of the Philadelphia men.

The sailors from the Philadelphia bunched together and shouted whenever they got a chance to do so. Adopting the suggestion of the ADVERTISER, they procured tin horns, canes, chrysanthemums, or flowers of some kind.

Honolulu won the toss and the two sides lined up at 2:30 p.m. sharp, with no wind to bring discomfort to either side. The ball was passed back to Parker who made a long run around the right end to within five yards of Philadelphia's goal; Chris Holt got the ball on the next play, and making a dash through the center, landed the ball behind the line; Singer tried for goal but missed. Score, Honolulu 4; Philadelphia 0.

Philadelphia started out with a fumble on the second line up and lost the ball on downs inside of two minutes.

Crane made a run of seventeen yards around the right end, supported by the splendid interference of the whole team; Parker made another run around the left end and made a touchdown inside of a minute after the first line up; Singer tried for goal but missed. Score, Honolulu 8; Philadelphia 0.

Philadelphia failed to advance the ball on the next start off; a play through the center resulted in a gain of one yard; the right half-back made an attempt to rush the ball around the end, but was stopped in his wild career and carried back about fifteen yards into his own territory; O'mstead kicked the ball, but succeeded in sending it only a few feet; the ball was carried eight yards further back into Philadelphia's territory by the Honolulu; George Rosa made a run around the right end and touched the ball down, but Corbett, the umpire, claimed that he went out of bounds when about half-way up; the ball was returned to the spot where Chris Holt had gone out; a clever play was made by Chris Holt and the ball was advanced five yards; Crane rushed the ball around the right end to within one and a half yards from Philadelphia's goal; another play through the center and Crane succeeded in making a touchdown; Crane kicked goal. Score: Honolulu, 14; Philadelphia, 0.

At the next start off O'mstead fumbled the ball and lost ground; the ball was fumbled again by center; Sharkey gained four yards through the center; Bates of the Philadelphia was injured and Reese took his place; Warrington gained about a yard through the line; the ball was lost by a fumble.

Crane started off with a run of eleven yards around the right end; a double pass between Crane and Parker advanced the ball to within eight yards of Philadelphia's goal; Parker went outside of the line and after passing the ball in, Philadelphia succeeded in getting it.

Philadelphia pushed the ball through the center; the left half-back was carried back three yards; Spencer made a foul tackle on Warrington and the Philadelphia were given fifteen yards; the left half-back made a gain of two and a half yards through the center, followed by a gain of seven yards by O'mstead; the left half back tried a play around left end but was tackled before any gain could be made; Sharkey tried to make a hole through the center but fumbled the ball; O'mstead succeeded in falling on the ball; O'mstead kicked the ball to within four yards of Honolulu's goal; Singer dropped on the ball.

Crane gained six yards around the right end; on another attempt around the right end Crane made a gain; Rosa gained four yards around the left end but this was not sufficient; the ball was lost on downs.

Philadelphia gained three yards on the start off; the next play brought no gain; O'mstead took the ball and made a desperate effort towards Honolulu's goal, succeeding in getting to within a yard of the line; Warrington got the ball and made a touchdown by bucking the center. No goal. Score: Honolulu, 14; Philadelphia, 4.

There was a great shout from the man-of-war's men when Warrington made the first touchdown for Philadelphia. Hard and up-hill work was necessary and the Philadelphia men deserve the greatest credit for the game they put up.

When goal was tried for, the ball struck the cross-piece and bounced back; Honolulu secured the ball and tried to rush Parker around the right but lost five yards in the attempt; Singer gained ten yards around the left end; Ed Holt went through the center but made a play which gave the ball to Philadelphia.

O'mstead started out with a kick and the ball struck Singer; Crane caught it up and made a touchdown, kicking goal afterwards. This play ended the first half. Time, 4:11. Score, Honolulu 20; Philadelphia 4.

The second half began with a wedge and a beautiful rush by O'mstead around the right end, gaining nine yards; the left half-back gained five yards and then O'mstead bucked the center for two yards; some severe fighting was done by Philadelphia, but no gain was made and the ball was lost to Honolulu on downs.

Angus started off with the ball but made no gain; a fumble was made and the ball lost back to Philadelphia by Sharkey falling on it; O'mstead kicked the ball which struck Singer and bounced back; Aukal secured the ball and made a good run but got out of bounds; Crane went through the center four yards and the right half bucked the center for three; the ball was passed to Aukal who gained eight yards; Reese of the Philadelphia made a foul tackle on Crane and Honolulu was given fifteen yards; Louis Singer made a run around the right end for five yards, and Antone Lawrence went through the center for three; Crane made another of his runs around the right end and gained nine yards; Singer pushed the ball five yards through the got up steam again and arrived at Philadelphia's goal with the ball a few seconds before any one knew where he was. No goal. Score: Honolulu 30; Philadelphia 4.

Philadelphia started off with a wedge and gained ten yards by the transaction; Sharkey tried his best to carry the ball down into Honolulu's territory, but the little barnacles of Hawaii were all over the man-of-war's pugilist and he was forced to go back in the direction he had just come; Olmstead tried to get around the right end but Crane was after him at a very lively rate; no gain; the ball was then pushed five yards through the center; the next play started out to be a walk-over for Philadelphia, but only two yards were gained; the next play resulted in a fumble and Parker securing the ball, made another long run for a touchdown; Jim Thompson kicked goal. Score: Honolulu, 36; Philadelphia, 4.

Philadelphia lost the ball by a fumble in the start off wedge, but secured it again; Ellers gained five yards and then four in two very plucky plays through the line; Olmstead then backed the center for five yards; a double pass was made to Warrington but Parker wrapped his arms gently around the half-back's waist and landed him on the ground; a yard was lost by Philadelphia on this play; Honolulu secured the ball on a fumble.

Angus did not want much and started immediately for Philadelphia's goal when the ball was passed to him; he arrived there a little later and added four more to the score; Parker tried for goal but missed. Score: Honolulu, 40; Philadelphia, 4.

Philadelphia started with another long kick, which was returned by Singer; an attempt was made to get through the center, but no such good luck; it was the third down and six yards to gain; again the ball hit Singer and bounced to Thompson, who accepted the charge and carried it tenderly to Philadelphia's goal; the cleanest and prettiest goal of the afternoon was kicked by Thompson, after the last touchdown. Score: Honolulu, 46; Philadelphia, 4.

Philadelphia started off with another kick which was returned by Singer; Dietz went through the center very prettily and gained nine yards.

Just as time was called, Ellers, left half-back on the Philadelphia team, got in a scrimmage and one of the metatarsal bones of his left foot broken.

The men of both teams put up a very "stiff" game. That point is conceded by the men themselves. The Philadelphia team, although beaten by the Honolulu, showed pluck and courage all the way through.

The features of the game were the interferences of the Honolulu, the run of Olmstead for goal, the plays of Parker and Crane around the ends, and the plucky backing of Ellers.

OPPOSITION TO CHINA.

A Possible Line From Portland to the Orient.

A late Exchange from the Coast says that J. B. Davidge, representing Samuels, Samuels & Co., of Yokohama, arrived at Portland, and was in consultation with Receiver McNeill of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, regarding the proposed steamship line between that city and the Orient, to be operated in connection with the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, and the Great Northern. It was understood that no agreement was reached, and that Mr. Davidge will leave without signing a contract. He asked for a guarantee of $6 per ton on four six months after the line was started, but Mr. McNeill considered this exorbitant, inasmuch as the rate would be liable to be cut in two whenever another line is started.

If an agreement is finally reached and the line established, its vessels will probably call at Honolulu.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING.

Committees from Various Organizations in Session.

SOME OFFICIALS MUST SURELY GO.

Non-Patriotic Office-Holders Who Did Not Shoulder a Rifle, May be Asked to Hand In Their Resignations—Resolutions Adopted By the Committee.

A general meeting of the committees appointed by the various military organizations, the Citizens' Guard and the Sharpshooters was held in the hall of the American League last night for the purpose of outlining some plan of action in regard to obtaining the discharge of all Government employees who failed to render active service to it during the recent rebellion.

Following are the committees present:

COMPANY A.—J. L. Carter, D. L. Naone, —Duchalsky.
COMPANY B.—Lieutenant White, Charles Hall.
COMPANY D.—Sergeant Oat, Sergeant McInerney, Corporal Effinger, Corporal Burnette, L. M. Johnson.
SHARPshooters.—J. McCandless, J. S. Martin, A. W. Keech.
AMERICAN LEAGUE.—L. M. Johnson, R. I. Green, Theo. P. Severin.
CITIZENS' GUARD.—C. B. Ripley, George P. Castle, Dr. Wood.

After the roll was called, L. L. McCandless was elected chairman and T. P. Severin secretary.

After the chairman had stated the object of the meeting, Mr. Effinger moved that the representatives of the press be excluded, as certain questions might arise which the committee might wish kept secret. This started quite a discussion, but the matter was finally dropped without a vote after one gentleman of the press announced that whether their representatives were excluded or not the papers would publish the news anyhow.

After a desultory discussion, which lasted over half an hour, the committee finally got down to business.

Mr. McInerney moved that a committee of one from each organization be appointed for the purpose of procuring lists of all Government officials enrolled in any of the organizations represented, prior to the 6th of January, 1895. After a long discussion pro and con, the motion carried.

Mr. Johnson moved that all Government employees who had not been enrolled in any military organization, citizens' guard or police force prior to January 6, 1895, and not done satisfactory service be no longer employed in the Government service. This motion went through three or four amendments before it reached the above shape, but it finally passed with but one dissenting voice.

On the committee to obtain lists the chairman appointed J. L. Carter, Lieutenant White, Corporal Burnette, J. McCandless, T. P. Severin and C. B. Ripley.

The committee of the whole then adjourned to meet tomorrow night at 7:30 at the drill shed, at which time the sub-committee was ordered to report.

Choral Society.

The recently formed Honolulu Choral Society will hold its first rehearsal in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on next Tuesday evening, February 26th. The rehearsal will commence at 7:15 o'clock and finish at a quarter before 9 o'clock. All persons who have signified their intention of joining the society are requested to be present on this occasion, so that a good start can be made.

Concert at Emma Square.

In spite of announcements to the contrary, there will be the usual concert at Emma Square at 4:30 p.m. today, with the following programme:

2. Overture—"Festival". Suppe

Irwin's check for $500 as a Christmas offering to the fund. The disbursements for the year were $1500.35, and the balance on hand at this date is $207.27.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: President, Hon. C. R. Bishop. Vice-President, Hon. W. F. Allen. Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. Bruce Cartwright.

Relief Committee, Messrs. J. Emmeluth and C. B. Ripley.

The society has on hand ten regular pensioners, which accounts for its funds being exhausted previous to Mrs. Irwin's timely donation. Five of these were in the hospital during all of April, May and June, but none are there now.

Travelers tell us that when the ostrich is pursued it hides its head in the sand, the silly bird appearing to think that if it cannot see its pursuers they cannot see it.

Equally absurd are those medical advisers who prescribe for the symptoms and not the source of a disease. Oftentimes they do this because the patient desires it, unwisely demanding that eruptions or other skin troubles be effaced at once. To do this it is necessary to use poisonous applications, which must sooner or later aggravate the disease or cause it to appear in new and more dangerous form.

There is scarcely a single ill to which flesh is heir but what has its origin in impure blood. Therefore, the only way to cure these troubles is through

In the Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Islands.

DECEMBER TERM, 1894.

BEFORE JUDD, C. J., BICKERTON, J., AND
J. A. MAGOON, ESQ., A MEMBER OF THE BAR WHO SAT IN PLACE OF MR.
JUSTICE FREAR, ABSENT FROM ILL-NESS.

ANNA PHELPS, PLAINTIFF IN ERROR VS.
JOSEPH O. CARTER, DEFENDANT IN ERROR.

(1). A person named in the will as Executor renounced the trust on the Will being proved in the Probate Court and an Administrator with the Will annexed was appointed who wound up the estate and was discharged. The Will was contested and the case carried on appeal to a jury who sustained the probate. After the discharge of the Administrator a writ of error was sued out alleging error in the charge of the Court and the assignments of error were served upon the Executor named in the Will as defendant in error. Held, that the writ should be quashed because served upon the wrong person.

Seemingly, if the Administrator had been made defendant in error, plaintiff in error would be remedied so far as the property of the testator was concerned, it having been delivered to the devisee.

(2). Any person "aggrieved" may apply for a writ of error.

OPINION OF THE COURT BY JUDD, C. J.

This is a writ of error to review and correct certain alleged errors of law in the charge of the Circuit Judge to the jury on an appeal from the Probate Court to the jury, the issue being the competency of one Charlotte Adams, to make the will in question. The will was admitted to probate on the petition of J. O. Carter who was the Executor therein named. Mr. Carter in his petition prayed that the will be admitted to probate and "that letters testamentary be issued to some person to be named by the Honorable Court," and on the will being proved and the announcement made in open Court that Mr. Carter would renounce the appointment as Executor, the Court appointed, on nomination of the devisee, Mr. Charles Lucas. This was on the 3d of November, 1893. The will was contested and finally carried to a jury and a verdict sustaining the probate was rendered May 24th, 1894. Exceptions were taken and a motion for a new trial filed but not argued. On the 10th July Mr. Lucas, administrator, by his counsel moved that the motion for a new trial be heard and disposed of on the 12th, and on that day the motion was heard and overruled. Later the parties by counsel stipulated that the contestants should have until 1st September, 1894 to have the bill of exceptions allowed. This was not done. Meanwhile the Administrator had settled the estate, paid the liabilities, filed his accounts, and, pursuant to published notice of hearing, on the 9th of November, 1894, the day set, the accounts were allowed and Mr. Lucas discharged from all further responsibility as administrator and his bond cancelled, having delivered the remaining property to the devisee named.

On the 24th November the contestant Anna Phelps filed her petition for a Writ of Error, which was served upon J. O. Carter as defendant in error. At the December Term of this Court a motion to quash the writ was made upon the following grounds:

(1). That there are other parties in interest besides plaintiff in error.

(2). That the writ of error was not issued within six months from the rendition of the judgment complained of.

(3). That J. O. Carter is not a party to the proceedings, having renounced the Executorship of the Will in question but that Charles Lucas was the administrator with the will annexed and was the proponent of the will at the May Term, 1894.

(4). That the judgment complained of was fully satisfied and executed previous to the issuance of the writ.

(5). That the matters set forth and alleged as error are not legal grounds upon which the writ should issue.

(6). That no bond was filed by plaintiff in error to pay the judgment in case of failure to sustain the writ.

We overrule the first ground of the motion to quash. We think the statute, Chap. 95, Laws of 1892, defining Writs of Error allows any party "aggrieved" to sue out such a writ and it is not essential that all the parties who contested the Probate of the will should be joined as petitioners for the Writ.

We think the motion to quash should be sustained upon the third ground. The proper party to be served with the copy of the assignment of errors, as defendant in error, was Charles Lucas. He was the representative of the estate. Mr. Carter, the Executor named, had refused to accept the trust. The issue before the jury on appeal from the Probate Court was between Mr. Lucas and the contestant. This point is sufficient upon which to dismiss the proceedings. But an analysis of the statute on Writs of Error raises serious doubts whether it will lie to correct proceedings of this nature. The statute says: Sec. 1, that the writ may be had "at any time before execution thereon is fully satisfied, within six months from the rendition of judgment." But in our case the verdict of the jury rendered no judgment sounding in damages upon which execution could issue and be satisfied. So also the Bond required by Sec. 8, to be filed by plaintiff in error "conditioned for the payment of the judgment in said original cause in case of failure to sustain the writ of error" could not follow the statute literally for there was not nor could there be a judgment capable of being paid, when the issue before the jury was the question whether the will was validly executed. If an argument by analogy is admissible in this case we should be inclined to hold that the discharge of the administrator, if not a "satisfaction of the execution," made the plaintiff in error remediless so far as the estate theretofore in the case of the Court was concerned. The property of the testator was, pending administration, in the hands of the Court and the Court had control of it through the administrator but at the date of the application for the writ, the trust had determined and the Administrator had no longer any interest in or concern for it.

The Writ is quashed.
C. W. Ashford for petitioner; W. A. Kinney and C. Brown for respondent.

Dated Honolulu, H. I., February 18, 1895, as of the December Term, 1894.

WALLACE R. FARRINGTON, EDITOR.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1895.

The exalted position held by Honolulu as a port of entry for American vessels is a point which the annexationists should thoroughly take cognizance of. Figures from the State department at Washington given in another column do not distort facts and are hard nuts for the anti-annexationists to crack.

OUR STRENGTH ASSURED.

The burden of decision which has rested upon the officials of the country and particularly the chief executive in the disposition of the leaders of the recent rebellion, has been put down for better or for worse. Our friends and enemies in the States will receive by the outgoing steamer the news which they are so anxiously awaiting, and we venture to predict that not a little satisfaction will be evidenced that the Republic of Hawaii has again displayed its ability to administer its own affairs with dignity. While in a measure it has listened to the plea for leniency it has shown no disposition to allow any guilty man to escape the full penalty of the law except as it incurred the taking of life.

The Hawaiian public has been intensely interested in the outcome of the findings of the Court, and many have favored the most extreme measures. Full confidence in the ability of the Government to properly weigh the situation and act accordingly has existed, however, and is still extant. The supporters of the Government are a tower of strength which stands ever ready to uphold the will of the executive officers on whom has been placed the great responsibility of shaping the nation's course. The relief from the suspense that has existed on all sides for many weeks is one of the most reassuring features of returning peace and quiet, which will be sent abroad today. The conspirators have tested the strength of the Government and know they are dealing with a stern, undinching body founded on sound principles, not to be dealt with as a figurehead to be toppled over at the slightest provocation. The deportation problem has worked out its own salvation, resolving itself into a co-operative scheme whereby all concerned are signally benefited. The small colony which leaves today profit by the leniency of the Government, which, in turn, is freed from what has been a disturbing element, but which we do not regard as beyond redemption under changed surroundings.

The stability of the Republic is daily becoming more clearly demonstrated, and the broad foundation which is now being laid will give renewed confidence politically and commercially both at home and abroad.

DISTORTION OF FACTS.

The San Francisco Call got itself in very much of a stew because it heard that "two Americans, one named Gulick, the other Steward," were in Oahu prison under sentence of death, and in consequence thereof the Call goes on to make numerous misstatements on the situation in Hawaii and threaten dire results "if a hair of their head is injured."

The Call knows better than the spirit of its expressions would indicate. It knows better than to say, "There appears to be in Hawaii two factions, each contending for empire, and carrying on civil war against each other. There are Americans in both factions. At the present time the Dole faction is on top, and it has jailed 10 per cent. of the American and European population of the islands."

There is an established and recognized Government in the country, in no sense a faction more than President Cleveland represents the "faction on top" in the United States. A close study of figures and the rules of percentage will show how groundless is the last accusation.

The Call goes on to say that America "exact full reparations from Chile when sailors of the Baltimore were molested in Valparaiso, and it can do no less for the prisoners in Honolulu—the victims of a factions fight," winding up its wild tirade with a sentence that, to those acquainted with the facts, opens the way to see the endeavor to distort the truth: "An American, wherever he goes, is entitled to the freedom of his opinions, so long as he does not express them in a way and at a place which involves danger of a breach of the peace."

No one has denied the right of an American to think in Hawaii or to a harmless expression of his thoughts, but unfortunately for the Call and all similar enemies of the Republic, Messrs. Gulick and "Steward" are in jail because they actually did, with malice of forethought, express their opinions in such a way and at a place which involved danger of a breach of the peace—a most deadly breach of peace which would have involved danger to brother Americans as well as a national government. The Call cannot afford such a wanton distortion of facts which must finally revert to its discredit.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.
The revolt in Hawaii evidently shook things up just enough to settle them.—San Francisco Call.
Shall we lay a cable line to Hawaii, or wait for little Hawaii to lay it herself.—San Francisco Call.
There should be no further delay in sending to Hawaii Senator Lodge's message of encouragement and of assurance that the American people will never abandon their kinsmen beyond the seas.—New York Press.
The royalist plotters in France and Hawaii can be depended on to illustrate as of old their knack of prompt subsidence. In both lands the Republics, if not exactly at peace, are too firmly fixed on their foundations to be shaken by the struggles of personal ambitions, or the shadowy plottings of those to whom royalty is still a sentimental dream. Against Socialism in one quarter of the globe as against Royalism in another, the Republic stands as the bulwark of safety, and the fairest hope of civilization.—Philadelphia Record.

Timely Topics

February 15, 1895.

The press, voicing the sentiments of the theatre-going people, is crying for a new opera house, now that the old one that stood idle month in and month out, is gone they want a place of amusement. There's nothing like being deprived of a thing to make people feel they must have it. But where is the money to come from? The people here who have money to spare are not those who build theatres or anything else through public spiritedness, there must be in sight some return for the investment and none can be seen in the theatre project. It is pretty well understood that the old opera house was an expense of about two thousand dollars a year to its owners with an offset of about $1500 per year for rentals. Not much money in the investment is there? Americans will tell you that there is not a city the size of Honolulu anywhere in the West but what has its opera house and two or three electric railway lines, but if you ask who built them you will learn that it was through the energy and enterprise of men who had corner lots and outside property for sale. Honolulu is one place on the map that has not had, and probably never will have, a real estate boom; its "just a stiddy growth." An opera house will not bring any better returns in Honolulu than would an ice factory at the North Pole and the people who want one built know it. How many people are there in Honolulu that would subscribe a thousand dollars each toward building one? Not a dozen outside the editors of the newspapers; but show an investment that will bring them a guaranteed return of 25 per cent. and they would tumble over each other to put their names down on the subscription list.

If you are thinking about painting your house you can do nothing better than examine our cards showing colors of Hendry's Ready Mixed Paints. You can find in the assortment, just what you need for either inside or outside work, and you can get more satisfactory results than if you bought white lead and oil and mixed your own colors. The pigment in our mixed paints is the best that can be found anywhere; the lead is just lead, and the zinc is pure zinc. You get no whitening and oil in our compounds. These mixed paints will stand the wear and tear of this climate better than any other paint manufactured. We simply ask you to try them and see that our statements regarding the quality of the paint are not exaggerated.

Solid silverware is almost as much in demand as it was Christmas time—it is useful twelve months in the year and just as acceptable to your wife as it was two months ago. Our stock is kept filled up at all times so that we can supply any demand made upon us.

The Haviland China we show you is rather better than anything we have ever shown before; the designs are different and probably more inviting to persons who have a penchant for fine China. We will be pleased to furnish prices on application.

JUST A FEW WORDS

on a subject which we know will interest every one: For years we have done the fine watch repairing in Honolulu.

Difficult work of every description which had formerly been sent to the Coast, was first properly handled in our Repairing Department. Such work as repairing complicated watches of every description; demagnetizing; making by hand any lost part of a complicated watch; in fact any difficult work pertaining to the repairing of fine watches is our especial forte.

The number of watches which find their way into our Repairing Department after having been through the hands of numerous EXPERTS (?) is beyond belief. Whilst we are at all times ready and willing to do every conceivable kind and condition of a job—would it not pay you better to bring your watch to us in the first place and be assured of an honest amount of work at a reasonable price, rather than take it from one to another, causing you delay and annoyance, to say nothing of the greater expense?

than you have been used to paying for inferior work right along. As a matter of fact, the EXPERT (?) who cleans your watch with a pair of bellows and a crow-bar for 50 cents makes more money than the honest workman who does an honest job and charges an honest price.

Because your watch is returned to you running fairly well, it is no criterion that it has been properly repaired. The great annoyance attendant upon the repairing of a watch, is that 99 out of 98 cannot tell if the work is well done—but are satisfied if the watch is keeping somewhere near the correct time.

Who can see the jewel protruding half way out of the plate, or worse, sunk down through the plate, fastened in with a little glue, or hammered in with a sledge. How often the EXPERT grinds off the broken staff, sinks the jewel a little lower, tells you he has put in a new staff and charges you a little less than the price and you go on your way rejoicing. But some day you will discover the fraud, such work cannot last long. It is dear at any price, which you soon discover to your sorrow.

Moral: Make no mistake; take it where you know it will be well treated and that is the Repairing Department of

VALUE OF BALL BEARING.

An experiment with ball bearings was recently made in Canada. A street-car fitted with ball bearings was drawn a distance of several hundred feet by men pulling on the three strands of ordinary sewing thread. A carriage manufacturer put another style of ball bearings on the axles of a coach ordinarily pulled by four horses. A trained dog was hitched to the pole, and he drew the coach around the yard with little effort.—(Daily Bulletin.

CHINA'S CREDIT STILL GOOD.

This is Due to the Effort of Sir Robert Hart, an Irishman.

In the war with Japan China has been beaten at every point, but despite her continued reverses and the fact that three great Japanese armies are now threatening Peking, her credit abroad remains unimpaired. This confidence in the ability of China to fulfill her obligations is due to the energy and ability of an Irishman, Sir Robert Hart, K. C. M. G., who for over 80 years has been inspector general of the imperial maritime customs service of China. Sir Robert was born at Portadown, Ireland, in 1815, and was graduated from the Queen's college, Belfast, in 1833. He went to China a year later as student interpreter in the British consular service in China and was secretary for the allied commission for the government of Canton in 1858.

A year later he joined the Chinese customs service and soon rose to the highest office in the service under the Tsung-li-Yamen. He built up the coast light service from three to four lights to over 70 in 20 years and has vastly improved the collection of customs and impressed the outside world with the great resources of the Chinese government. He was president of the Chinese commission to the international exhibitions at Vienna in 1873, at Philadelphia in 1876 and at Paris in 1878.

During his long service in China he has received almost as many buttons, feathers, plumes and jackets as Li Hung Chang and seems to be much more successful in retaining them than the famous Chinese statesman, who is now in eclipse. In 1864 he was elevated to the civil rank of the Third Class, in 1869 he was raised to the Second Class, in 1881 he was favored with the Red Button of the First Class, and four years later was invested with the Order of the Double Dragon and the Peacock's Feather.

In 1889 the Chinese government went still further and honored him as no other foreigner had ever been honored before, it is said. He was favored with the Ancestral Rank of the First Order of the First Class for three generations. Belgium, Sweden, Norway, Austria, France, Portugal, England and other countries have also decorated him.

THE DUKE OF ARGYLL.

He has Long Been One of the Ablest Men in British Public Life.

The Duke of Argyll, who recently retired from politics, is without doubt one of the ablest statesmen and orators of a century. For over a quarter of a century he has been in the very front rank in English public life, and next to Gladstone has had the longest and most noteworthy career of any one in English parliamentary circles. He is now 71 years of age and succeeded to his title in 1847. He was a brilliant scholar in his student days, and no man in college was more interested in acquiring knowledge and culture than George Douglass Campbell, who was destined to be the eighth Duke of Argyll and head of the great Campbell clan in Scotland. Although he is an advanced Liberal, he has long been the intimate friend and adviser of the queen, and his son, the Marquis of Lorne, married Princess Louise, one of Queen Victoria's daughters, in 1871.

In 1892 he was created a duke of the United Kingdom, and among his numerous offices are those of heritable master of the household in Scotland, hereditary sheriff of Argyllshire, lord lieutenant of Argyllshire and chancellor of the University of St. Andrew's. He has been lord rector of the University of Glasgow, postmaster general, three times lord privy seal, secretary of state for India and president of the council for India.

In 1881 he was lord privy seal in Gladstone's cabinet, but resigned because he differed with Gladstone regarding several provisions of the Irish land bill. As an author the duke has been famous for 50 years. His "Reign of Law" and "Primeval Man" are classics, and he has written enough on the Scotch church, evolution and on the question of landlord and tenant to fill a whole bookshelf. He despises the illiterate aristocracy, and owing to his brusque, dogmatic and arrogant ways is very unpopular. Inverary castle, the chief seat of the Argyll family, is the principal baronial residence of the Western highlands. The duke owns 175,111 acres of land, with an annual rent roll of about $250,000. The Marquis of Lorne, the prospective Duke of Argyll, has not inherited many of his father's characteristics.

PARIS IN WINTER.

The City of the Native and Not of the Tourist.

[Special Correspondence.]

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Paris is the most cosmopolitan city of the world—surprising assertion, but just think over it before you deny it. If you want to see the world revolving around, you come here. If you stop to analyze its charm, it can be summed up in the sentence—it caters to all human emotions. And if the serpent had not understood human nature the fall of man would never have been accomplished. Every type is exemplified in its thronging, pulsing boulevards—every type of humanity—beggars and bankers, nabobs and negroes, demimondaines and diplomats, sporting men and smiling women—animate the boulevards. The city is changed from the city the tourist saw in summer. The cafe tables. His beloved table gives way during the holiday festival, which is from Christmas to Twelfth night, to the small booths filled with cheap wares. This privilege is accorded each year to the small shop dealers by the municipal authorities. They line the boulevards for miles. Their patrons are legion. A dainty Parisian in her ermine jacket stops to buy a "grace hoop" for the small boy who holds her hand. As she moves off to go into Columbus' for chocolate and leaves her small son to the care of the heriboned capped bonne they are superseded by a commissaire in a cock hat and portfolio chained to his vest. The woman with him good naturedly wrangles over the choice of a toy. At last they amicably agree. The woman dives down in the pocket of her green skirt for the few sous, puts her purchase in her fishnet basket, and off they trudge to make way for the next customer.

The stationary kiosks, gayly covered with posters, vividly portraying "Les Dishes Belles" or "Aida," drawn by Cheret in dash of yellow and crimson, are almost forgotten. The erstwhile flower girl sits huddled inside. She sells The Petit Journal and a Gazette in winter. She wraps her shawl closer around her and feeds the charcoal box at her feet.

Some night, if trade does not improve, she will take home to Montmartre the box and its fiery contents, stuff the cracks in her room—and wait. The prospect does not make her shudder. The women of Paris die like that for some reason or other. That peasant woman who stops to speak to her is carrying part of a New Year's dinner to some one. It is a very important dish—that live hare. She carries it alive to the very doorstep of the purchaser, and engaged in an animated conversation with the concierge puts a knife in the jugular vein and bleeds the little animal drop by drop, with a monotonous movement of her thumb.

If one will walk as far as the Champs Elysees smart women may be seen driving in easy, cushioned victorias, wrapped to their lips in furs, lips that look as if nature had used a blue pencil to them. There are "spiders," broughams, phaetons, drags, bicycles, handcars filled with chestnuts, or the "fiacres" with its yellow body and steamed windows. That woman who bows along so smoothly in her English mail phaeton, with the harness and trappings of unmistakable British make, is Yvette Guilbert. She has the reputation of being the most graceful as well as the most shocking woman in Paris. Just notice before she gets out of sight. She wears no trimming on her sleeves, no wrap to hide her arms. Those long arms are her stock in trade. On the stage she elongates them by wearing black gloves—those wonderful arms which she has twined around the neck of the public.

Closely following her are two "bicyclettes," as they are called. The women of the Faubourg St. Germain may ride in the country, but in the city the demimonde have the right of way. No one else wants it. Notice that padded white gloved man, with his tiny stiff mustache, who drives on the left side to show the world to what class of society the woman on the seat belongs, even if her gown of yellow and black and the huge bunch of violets did not proclaim the fact.

One misses the quaint musical din of the cafe chantants. They are all under glass now, appropriately, too, as if they were social hotbeds which bloom for the summer. But the Comedie Francaise, the Porte St. Martin and a host of other theaters flourish, the opera is crowded nightly, and the wood of Bologne throngs with skaters of both sexes. There is a crispness in the air, an added sprightliness to the city, and Paris is once more the city of the Parisian and not the tourist.

MAUDE JAMES CHILTON.

Extracting Teeth by Electricity. Trials have been made at London with a new apparatus for the extraction of teeth by electricity. It consists of an induction coil of extremely fine wire, having an interrupter that can vibrate at the rate of 450 times a second. The patient sits in the traditional armchair and takes the negative electrode in his left hand and the positive in the right. At this moment the operator turns on a current whose intensity is gradually increased till it has attained the utmost limit the patient can support. The extractor is then put in circuit and fastened on the tooth, which, under the action of the vibration, is loosened at once. The operation is performed very quickly, and the patient feels no other sensation than the pricking produced in the hands and forearms by the passage of the current.

Cake Croquettes.

Take sufficient stale cake to produce one pint of crumbs when rubbed between the hands. Cover this with about a half pint of milk and soak for 20 minutes. Turn into a saucepan and stir over the fire until thick and boiling hot. Add the yolks of 2 eggs and a teaspoonful of vanilla and turn out to cool. When cold, form into pyramids, dip in egg and then in bread crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat. Dust with powdered sugar and serve.

NEWS FROM NORTH KONA.

Dedication of the Roman Catholic Church at Holualoa.

MEETING OF COFFEE PLANTERS.

South Kona School Teachers Meet in Convention and Transact Much Important Business—Contract For New School House at Holualoa Awarded.

NORTH KONA, Hawaii, Feb. 20.—The new Roman Catholic church at Holualoa was formally dedicated on the 10th instant. Fathers Paul from Hamakua, Oliver from Kohala, and the resident priests, Fathers Victor and Maximine, celebrated mass. Large numbers of Portuguese and natives were present. After the service a luau was held on the grounds.

The contract for building the long-talked-of school at Holualoa has been awarded to M. F. Scott. Work has not been commenced yet, however, on account of a hitch in the designation of the lot. A rumor that the School Agent was trying to move the school a mile and a half farther north called forth a petition to the Board of Education, signed by a few white residents and a large number of Portuguese. Three-fourths of the school children live in the immediate vicinity of the present location, where a lot can be secured. It is, therefore, desirable to have the new building remain at Holualoa.

Last Friday, the 15th, North and South Kona teachers met in convention at Kealahou. There were fifteen present. Mr. Wilson, of Miloli, president of the association, was in the chair. An elaborate programme had been arranged at the last meeting, but was not carried out beyond a limited extent, the president being with the association for the first time. A serious loss to the meeting occurred through the absence of Mrs. Scott, one of our most gifted teachers, who was detained at home through illness. The day was spent in discussing methods of teaching the various branches of primary work. Mrs. Suter gave her methods for keeping the little ones busy; Mr. Amuli discussed on third year no work; Mr. S. Pitero, first year no work; Mr. Mills, phonics; Mr. Scott, advanced grammar; Mr. Makinima, maps and drawing; Miss Scott, writing. Mr. Wilson brought out from his granary of experience several important points. He told the teachers they were not to come prepared to read papers, but to talk on their work and how to obtain practical results. The next meeting is to be held toward the end of June, at the call of the secretary.

A meeting of the coffee planters of the district was called by Charles Miller, manager of the Hawaiian Coffee and Tea Company, for the purpose of forming a planters' club. The object of the club is to advance and promote the interests of coffee growers generally, regulate the wages of laborers during the picking season, etc. The meeting was held at Kailua on the 16th. All interested responded.

The telephone is before us again and Mr. Augest has issued his prospectus. A violent wind storm swept over Kealahou on the 8th inst. uprooting many large trees. The weather here has been delightful for some time. Occasional showers and two or three all day's rain have started a vigorous vegetation. The grass is rich and abundant all the way to the beach.

Messrs. Hendry and Howard Hitchcock of Honolulu were in the district last week, the former on business, the latter using his pencil. Miss Paris has her home open again for guests and we notice some English gentlemen tourists and lady guests whiling away pleasant hours on her wide verandas by the sea.

Mrs. Catherine Scott is in Honolulu and goes from there to Kauai for a short visit.

The volcano is low and the snow has almost disappeared from Mauna Loa. There has been very little rain since last steamer.

Hutchinson plantation is still turning out sugar and will ship about 5000 bags by this steamer. Naelehu and Hilea mills are both grinding.

The Ladybird's Work.

Anyone passing the residence of Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, Nuuanu Valley, will notice in the grounds a large orange tree with fine, juicy looking fruit on it. A closer inspection will show that it has also small, green fruit and blossoms on it. A year or more ago this tree and several others near by were given up as dead, owing to the prevalence of blight. The change that came over these trees was brought about by the introduction of Commissioner Marsden's wonderful little ladybird, the Cryptolaemus, which cleaned the blight from the trees. This is only one of many instances where people have to be thankful for the introduction of this little insect.

SAVED THREE STARS.

WHITMAN'S RIDE PRESERVED OREGON, IDAHO AND WASHINGTON.

A Journey Across the Continent That Eclipses the Famous Feats of Paul Revere and Phil Sheridan—Whitman College the Only Monument to the Hero.

Written high upon the scroll of fame are the names of Paul Revere, Philip H. Sheridan and John C. Fremont, and beside them should be the name of Marcus Whitman. His name is not there, however, and few people are familiar with the remarkable history of the man who crossed the Rocky mountains six years before John C. Fremont, and who was the hero of a ride beside which the midnight ride of Paul Revere from Charlestown to Lexington "to spread the alarm through every Middlesex village and farm" and the famous ride of Sheridan from Winchester to Cedar Creek pale into comparative insignificance. No Longfellow has immortalized Whitman's ride in verse, no Reid has told the story of Whitman's dash from the Pacific coast across the continent to Washington to save Oregon, Washington and Idaho to the Union, and no monument marks the spot where Whitman's ashes mingle with the dust of 13 other brave prisoners who were massacred by the Cayuse Indians in Oregon in 1847.

The only monument thus far reared to Whitman's memory is Whitman college, a small frame building in Walla Walla. The college has had a hard struggle during the 28 years of its existence, and its endowment at present is only $11,000. No story of the college would be complete without a sketch of Marcus Whitman, who never saw the structure and never dreamed that it would be reared as a monument to his memory. Whitman was born in Rushville, Ontario county, N. Y., Sept. 4, 1802. He studied in Berkshire Medical Institute, Pittsfield, Mass., and in 1834 was appointed a missionary physician to Oregon by the American board. Oregon was then a vast, unexplored territory, comprising what are now the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Dr. Whitman, Rev. Henry N. Spaulding and their young wives started for Oregon in 1836. When they reached Fort Laramie, the agents of the Hudson Bay company, who were working hard to save Oregon to Great Britain, warned the missionaries that no wagon train could possibly cross the Rocky mountains. These agents had succeeded in preventing settlers from proceeding beyond Fort Laramie in wagons, well knowing that if wagon trains from the United States crossed the great divide the United States government would exert itself to claim Oregon.

Whitman and Spaulding disregarded the warnings of the Hudson Bay people and refused to abandon their wagons, their wives were undaunted by the perils of the proposed journey, and the four missionaries, led by Whitman, pushed on over the Rocky mountains, crossing through the South pass, which Fremont used six years later, and reached Fort Walla Walla in safety. The women were the first members of their sex to make the perilous trip, and Whitman's was the first wagon to cross the great divide.

After several years' residence in Oregon Whitman saw that the British were discouraging American immigration by harping on the inaccessibility of Oregon with a view to securing the territory for themselves, and learning that the Webster-Ashburton treaty concerning Oregon was then under consideration he determined to ride to Washington and lay before the president the importance of clinging to Oregon. He set out on horseback through the vast mountain wilderness Oct. 3, 1842, and three months later, after enduring many hardships, reached St. Louis, where he learned that the Oregon question was still unsettled. On March 3 he reached Washington, having completed his great ride across the continent in five months, and soon demonstrated to President Tyler that Oregon was accessible and well worth saving, despite the fact that John C. Calhoun had declared that Oregon was a "God forsaken country" and not worth a pinch of snuff.

At President Tyler's request Whitman volunteered to demonstrate the accessibility of Oregon by guiding a wagon train across the great divide. At Independence, Mo., he found 200 wagons and 1,000 people en route for the west, and a month later the army of pioneers, with Whitman at their head, arrived at Fort Walla Walla.

At Waulatpa, Or., Nov. 29, 1847, Whitman, Mrs. Whitman, their two adopted children and ten other pioneers were treacherously slain by the Cayuse Indians. Their bones were gathered together years later and buried in a great grave, which is unmarked, save by a picket fence. Rev. Dr. Cushing Eells followed Whitman to Oregon and in 1859 decided to perpetuate Whitman's memory by founding Whitman college. The college was opened Oct. 13, 1866, and has suffered many vicissitudes. True to the memory of Whitman, Dr. Eells made many sacrifices to pay the institution's debts and keep it running. He succeeded in securing an endowment of $11,000 and died in 1893. D. K. Pearson of Chicago has since become interested in the college, has offered $50,000 toward a $200,000 endowment, and Rev. Dr. S. B. L. Penrose, the new president of the college, is now laboring hard to raise the remaining $150,000.

WHARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD, Feb. 22.—10 P.M.

—Weather, clear; wind, fresh, north.

The H. C. Wright and the Mary Winkelman have finished discharging their coal.

The Alice Cooke requires about 9000 bags of sugar to top off her cargo for San Francisco.

The Uncle John's position near the Oceanic wharf is now occupied by the brig W. G. Irwin.

Twenty-five casks of whale oil will be discharged from the steam whaler Belvedere on the Alice Cooke today.

One hundred and fifty men from the Philadelphia were granted leave today up to 6 p.m., and there is no question that they enjoyed it.

The Robert Searles hauled in to Brewer's wharf from the stream yesterday and took on ballast. She will sail for Port Townsend in a few days.

The new pavement outside Allen & Robinson's lumber yard has been completed. It is a decided improvement over the old sidewalk in the line of keeping people from getting their feet wet, and will be appreciated by those visiting the Australia today.

From recent events one would hardly think that up to 1860 the Japanese were poor sailors, and by law all Japanese junks were built with low, open sterns, so that they could not go far to sea. This was to prevent intercourse with other nations. The Chinese, on the other hand, have always been good seamen.

The German steamship Wilhommen, which arrived at Philadelphia recently from Hamburg, reports having witnessed a spectacle during the voyage not often seen in a lifetime. It was nothing more nor less than a fleet of twenty-five sailing vessels all bound East, and all within a short distance of each other, in latitude 47.40, longitude 25.20.

The schooner Maid of Orleans, which has been due at this point for several days, is not likely to make her appearance for some time yet, as just previous to her departure from San Francisco she was run into by the ship Oriental, sustaining considerable damage. The topmast and three other spars were carried away, the rail smashed and a wreck to the amount of several hundred dollars entailed.

W. C. T. U.

A great and honorable distinction has come to the society, the initials of whose name heads this article. The liquor dealers of Ohio, in their recent annual convention in Cincinnati, passed a resolution in which they said: "The only enemy we have to fear is the W. C. T. U."

Twenty-one years ago this winter the famous "Woman's Temperance Crusade" began in Ohio, and extended through the middle and western states with marvelous rapidity and power. It was a divinely inspired protest of the womanhood of the nation against the power which was, and is, threatening the home and all that we hold dear. Turning the loving father into a dreadful tyrant, changing the tender husband into a bloated terror and giving us the saddest forebodings for the sons of our love and care. Up to this time the efforts of temperance reformers had been almost entirely with the comparatively irresponsible drunkard. But in the crusade, we women were for the first time brought face to face with the saloon, and we saw that that was the foe we must meet. When we consolidated our forces, and formed the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, this became our war cry: "Saloons must go!"

It has not all been fair sailing during those twenty-one years. We have gained some victories, but have had more defeats. We have been chided by many a "God bless you!" from our comrades in other fields of work, and have been wounded by arrows of criticism and condemnation when we least expected it. Still our banner has been flying all these years, until now there is not a civilized, nor semi-civilized country in the world, where the Women's Christian Temperance Union is unknown. Our forces are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. We have Loyal Temperance Legions in all lands, where the children are trained in temperance principles. The young women, the fairest and best, do not hesitate to enroll themselves on the unpopular side of total abstinence and pledge themselves to use all their influence with brothers and lovers in home and society, against that destroyer of soul and body, the drink habit. Through our efforts, in nearly every state and territory of the U. S. scientific temperance instruction is obligatory in all the public schools. We edit and publish papers, and send out millions of pages of temperance literature annually. We work and we pray year in and year out.

And the saloon? The saloon is still in many respects the dormant power in all these lands. But the saloon must go! and with God's help, go it will—sometime.

National Cane Shredder

(PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.)

Mr. John A. Scott, Manager of the Hilo Sugar Company gives the following wonderful record of the working of the NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER, which was erected by their works at the commencement of the crop just harvested:

"During the past week the Hilo-Sugar Company's mill exceeded any of its former records by closing the 125 hours grinding with an output of 3000 tons. This is fully 10 per cent. more than the best work of former years.

"The three roller mill being 26 in. by 54 in. and the two roller mill 30 in. by 60 in. The first mill doing this amount of work in an efficient manner and with great ease, compared with work on whole cane, owing to thorough preparation of the cane by the National Cane Shredder, recently erected by the Company. And by its use the extraction has been increased from 3 per cent. to 5 per cent. on all kinds of cane, and in some cases 80 per cent. has been reached; the average being 75 to 78 per cent., according to quality.

"I continue to find the megass from shredded cane better fuel than from whole cane.

"The shredder has been working day and night for seven months and has given me entire satisfaction, having shredded during that time about seventy thousand tons of cane, and a large part of it being hard ratoons.

"The shredder and engine require very little care or attention."

Plans and specifications of these shredders may be seen at the office of
