

Paths of Duty

American Missionary Wives in Nineteenth-Century Hawaii
Patricia Grimshaw

Between 1819 and 1850, eighty young, well-educated women from New England married dedicated young men and made the long journey to the Hawaiian Islands to carry Christ's message to the Hawaiians. Through their letters and journals, Paths of Duty describes the role these independent young women played in the life of the mission and sheds new light on the role of the American Protestant mission in Hawaii.

Read about the actors and actresses who portrayed Flame Flower, Hula Calhoun, Lehua Waipahu, and Charlie Chan in such memorable films as The Island of Desire, Passion Fruit, The Shark Master, The Black Camel, and don't forget — Ma and Pa Kettle at Waikiki.
