TEN THOUSAND CASH FOR KONA

RECEIVER WUNDERBERG TAKES THE MONEY WITH HIM ON THE MAUNA LOA.

LABORERS UNPAID AND NOT EVEN SUPPLIED WITH FOOD

The Receiver Authorized By the Court to Borrow $10,000—Preliminary Receiver's Report Made.

Fred Wunderberg, the receiver appointed for the Kona Sugar Company this morning secured from Judge Hays permission to borrow $10,000 for the company, taking the cash with him to Kona on the Mauna Loa, to be used at once in paying laborers and for other necessary immediate expenses. The motion was presented to the court by T. L. Dillon of Maunaloa and Dillon, for the receiver, and all interested gave consent.

With the application for permission to borrow the money Wunderberg presented a preliminary report as receiver, and some affidavits showing the immediate need of the cash. Wunderberg said in his report that the laborers had not been paid for several months, and added: "There is now an actual shortage of food and supplies for the sustenance of such laborers and employees, and as a result of these conditions, it is with the utmost difficulty that the manager of said Kona Sugar Company has been able to keep the laborers on the place, and at this very time said laborers are threatening to desert and work is practically at a standstill on said plantation."

The plantation is absolutely without money or credit, said the report, and needed the $10,000 for the following purposes:

"First to buy food and supplies for the sustenance of the laborers and employees of said Kona Sugar Company, Limited.

"Second, to purchase and forward by steamer tomorrow the fittings absolutely essential to enable grinding operations to commence.

"Third, to make some cash payment to the laborers to quiet them until their receiver can examine the property and make an exhaustive report to this court upon the general condition of the affairs of the said Kona Sugar Company, Limited."

R. Hawxhurst, Jr., who is superintending the building of the Kona Sugar company's mill, also made an affidavit which was presented to the court. He stated that the laborers on the road were not even supplied with food and sustenance and were threatening wholesale desertions. He had received advices by the last mail which convinced him that unless the cash went forward today, there would be wholesale desertions, to the irreparable injury of the plantation. An affidavit of J. M. McChesney, to similar effect, was also presented.

The court made an order authorizing the receiver to borrow $10,000, issuing receiver's certificates therefor at a rate of interest not to exceed 8 per cent per annum, the money to be used for the following purposes:

"First, for the purchase of such piling, fittings, and machinery as may, by said receiver, be found to be necessary and essential to equip the mill of said Kona Sugar Company, Limited, so as to enable it to take off the crop now ripe and ready to be ground not to exceed $1,000, and

"That balance of said sum of $10,000 to be expended for the payment of skilled and unskilled labor now employed at said plantation, such payment to be made either in money or in supplies, or part money and part supplies, as the said receiver shall see fit, such payment to be only for services rendered and to be rendered after the date of the appointment of the receiver, except as said receiver shall find it necessary to make part payment to said laborers for services already performed in order to retain said labor upon said plantation and in its employ."

It is understood that the receiver secured the money through H. Hackfeld & Company.

ELECTION IN APRIL

THE GOVERNOR ISSUES A PROCLAMATION.

Precinct Officers Named and April 9 Chosen as the Day for Electing Governor's Successor.

The Governor's proclamation calling a special election in the Fourth Representative District, to choose a successor to the late A. P. Gillilan, was issued this morning. The date set for the election is April 9.

The proclamation contains a list of the seven precincts in the district, and names the election officers who are to preside in each polling place. They are as follows:

First precinct, Booth street, foot of Punahou; inspectors, John H. Hager, Joseph Aca, H. McCullom.

Second precinct, Booth, corner of Kilauea and Pili; C. M. White, S. P. Kaai, W. O. Wilder.

Third precinct, building at entrance of lower reservoir grounds, Nuuanu avenue; F. McIntyre, Albert Waterhouse, J. P. Kahawai.

Fourth precinct, Emma square; W. C. King, T. C. Polikapa, J. R. Hall.

Fifth precinct, Kapuniwa building; John Short, E. K. Liliakani, John K. Wilder.

Sixth precinct, Honolulu Hale; J. F. O'Connor, O. Swain, J. Mahuka.

Seventh precinct, Waimanalo schoolhouse; G. C. Chalmers, John Kekuhu, A. Irvine.

The complete boundaries of the district and of the various precincts appear in the proclamation, published as a By Authority advertisement in this issue of The Star.

THE TERRITORY AHEAD

The Territory is about $700 ahead in the Waikiki Inn liquor license business. The license held by H. N. Ainu had about $700 worth to run when he died. It could not be transferred to the inn, put up $1,000 for a new license. The $700 can only be recovered by an act of the legislature.

SISTERS QUARRELLED

ONE TRIED TO TAKE HER PRESENTS BACK.

Row Ensued—Native Boy as Peace Maker Chased With a Flower Pot.

There was a battle of sisters in Judge Wilcox's court this morning. Joaquina Heights and James McKeg, a native youth were charged with assault and battery on Rosie Fraga. The latter claimed that several days ago she had gone to the house where Joaquina, her sister, resided and taken some clothes and started away with them.

It appears that the clothes had been given by Rosie to Joaquina nearly a year before but Rosie was angry at her sister and wanted the presents back. Joaquina represented the proposition of being deprived of her wardrobe so she stopped her sister on the porch. A row ensued. The complaining witness claimed that James McKeg had grabbed her by the breast and pushed her down and Joaquina had struck her in the back. This evidence was corroborated by a native woman.

In her defence, Joaquina absolved the native boy of any complicity and assumed the entire blame. She said her sister had first slapped her in the face and then they had come together and Rosie had been put to the mat. Rosie then grabbed an umbrella and struck Joaquina in the side. All that James had tried to do was to act as a peace-maker and tell them to stop fighting. Rosie then abused him and took up a flower pot and chased James out of the yard. The other defendant corroborated this evidence.

The trial was enlivened by personal tilts between J. L. Kaulukou and L. Strauss who represented the defendant and prosecution respectively. The court said he did not propose to determine who owned the clothes and discharged both defendants.

THE MEAT CAME NOT.

The bark Star of Bengal was to have sailed for San Francisco at 1 p. m. today but when the pilot got aboard and the tug boat was alongside, Captain Ulberg of the Bengal discovered that several days supply of fresh meat had not materialized. Inasmuch as the stuff had been paid for and Captain Ulberg did not relish going on a salt diet any longer he postponed the sailing and came ashore in the pilot's boat to learn the cause of the neglect.

WOULD MAKE BAGS

WARDEN HENRY WANTS A JUTE MILL.

Thinks Making Bags Better and More Profitable Occupation for His Prisoners Than Breaking Rocks.

Hawaii ought to make her own sugar bags, say some of those who have studied the question, and Warden Henry of Oahu prison would like to establish a jute mill, to provide more profitable employment for the convicts. Henry is of the opinion that it would pay much better to employ prisoners making bags than to have them breaking rock.

The prisoners now who work at all, are employed in the quarries. They do a good deal in the way of assisting in street improvements, but it is hard work, and some prisoners cannot be put to it.

"If our men were employed in making bags we could probably sell them right here to the sugar plantations," said Henry, "and we should not be employing our convicts in competition with any private enterprise. We should only be in competition with state prisons of California and Oregon, where thousands of bags are made. Hawaii imports all the bags used here, and it is not likely that there will ever be successful private mills running here, in view of the competition it would have to meet from the prisons of the Pacific coast."

The matter is one that will be urged when the legislature meets again. It is claimed that a bag mill prison would be a considerably better source of revenue than the rock-breaking, and at the same time the planters might get bags cheaper. Warden Henry has long had the idea in mind, and says he wanted it brought up in the last legislature, but that body of lawmakers was not giving attention to such matters, and would probably not have had time to do anything. Henry will, however, make a recommendation on the subject now, and the next legislature will have a chance to go into the subject. There would have to be some outlay in machinery for the establishment of a mill, but when it was once in operation Henry would be able to employ all prisoners according to their ability, and the public street work, which is regarded by many penologists as undesirable could be abolished.

THE TRIALS FAILED

DEFENDANTS FOUND EAST ROAD TO FREEDOM.

No Complaints, or Complaints That Were Defective Against Them—Free After Pleas of Guilty.

The appealed cases that have been dismissed by the district court this morning, on account of lack of a complaint, or on account of defects in the complaint, have aroused something of a controversy between the judicial clerks and the police department, as to the responsibility for the miscarriages of justice. The statement from the police and the complaints had been sent up to the judicial clerks.

The records of the term show that over 30 prisoners went free without being tried, because there were no written complaints against them or defective complaints were made against them in the district court. The supposed reason, in the cases of no complaints, is that they pleaded guilty. Under the circumstances it was not thought likely that they would appeal, and written complaints were not made. But the defendants did appeal, and no complaints having been made there was a loophole through which they got free without even being tried, after they had once entered pleas of guilty. Four of them were Porto Rican women arrested twelve days ago and others were Chinese sentenced for assault.

Twenty-six of the defendants whose cases were on the calendar for the term found the way to liberty easy because the complaints against them were mostly due to the fact that there were 21 cases on one complaint, the charge against Arlita and 20 others having been brought up on a complaint held to be insufficient. They were accused of riot, John Silva and 3 companions charged with assault and battery, and others charged with not properly charged, and Ah Cheong the Chinese who pleaded guilty of forgery in the lower court, was also not properly charged in the complaint sent up, and is therefore now at liberty.

HEN WISE'S PISTOL.

Joe King was before Judge Wilcox this morning to answer to a charge of carrying a dangerous weapon, to wit a loaded Colt's pistol. The defendant offered a long explanation of the occurrence. He said that the pistol belonged to Hen Wise the negro minstrel, and that Wise had given it to him, forgetting the weapon. King was simply keeping it for him and had showed the pistol to Prestidge of the Orpheum when the arrest was made. Witnesses for the defence will be summoned and the case heard on Monday.

CONVICTED OF ADULTERY.

Mrs. Becky Houghtaling and Ben Haashe were fined $20 and $20 respectively this morning by Judge Wilcox for adultery. The case was brought against the woman to enable her husband to secure a divorce. Notice of an appeal was given.

"KING" GOING HOME

GREGG AND FAMILY TO LEAVE FOR FANNING.

Will Sail on Emma Claudina Tomorrow For Pacific Mome—Vessel Carries Cargo of Coal.

"King" Gregg of Fanning Island will leave tomorrow for his island kingdom. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Gregg and family. Gregg has chartered the little three masted schooner, Emma Claudina for the trip and she will take rather an odd cargo for such an out of the way place.

The little vessel is now loaded with 50 tons of coal which is intended for King Gregg's coal yards on the island. There is little if any demand for this coal by the residents of the island, but in taking the coal Gregg displays quite a christian spirit. It is not for his own use but to be kept in case of possible emergency.

Often British and other steamers touch at Fanning Island. Frequently they are in need of coal. Mr. Gregg proposes to keep a small supply on hand so that he can provide any vessel which might be in imperative need of coal, with sufficient to take them to the nearest regular coaling station. In addition to the coal, the schooner will carry considerable supplies for the residents of the island.

The vessel will load coals from Fanning and deliver the stuff at San Francisco. Gregg and family came here on the Sonoma February 12. He had gone to the Fiji Islands on some business and after concluding it boarded the steamer and came to this port to take the schooner home.

CUNNING THE KAHUNA

WILL PERFORM PUBLIC MIND-READING.

To Emulate Washington Bishop on Monday Afternoon—Will Drive Blindfolded to Hidden Objects.

Honolulu will, on Monday afternoon, have an exhibition of thought reading, mind transference, mental telepathy, or whatever it is called, by a man who calls himself Cunning the Kahuna. The exhibition will be at the opera house. The exhibition will recall the marvels that astonished the town when presented by Washington Bishop in the time of good King Kamehameha.

At 2:30 Monday afternoon, Cunning with the smartest equipment that he can command locally, will drive to the Wall, Nichols store where, from the assembled crowd, he will choose a committee of people apparently capable of concentration, choosing probably from the business men of the community. The selected ones narrowed down to a final selection of four, Cunning will be blindfolded and will go into his rig and driving in turns, his mind concentrated on the object agreed upon between them. On their return Cunning, with coat and hat off, the strain being arduous, will take the reins while each of the committee takes hold a copper wire attached to the hand of the blindfolded driver. The "magician's" forehead and concentrate their thought upon the object hidden and the place of its concealment. Still blindfolded, the magician will drive as rapidly through the streets as the authorities will allow, corners and possible obstructions being supposedly communicated to him by telepathy, and make straight for the hidden object, whether a key in some bank vault or a pin thrust up to the head in the wall behind some office calendar, anything that the committee select and hide so well infallibly find with despatch and accuracy.

The strain is a terrible one and Cunning is usually exhausted after his efforts. To those who say that he cannot accomplish the feats some notices from the last town in which he performed it, Provo, Utah, where the believers in the occult arts and all the ladies who delight in spiritual seances almost mobbed Cunning with requests for him to read their past and future and exercise all his power of divination. His professions of merely having accomplished a "magical" problem caused them to think him disbelieving. The native element here will doubtless esteem Cunning a kahuna of the highest possible rank and serious thinkers will catch a glimpse of future possibilities along the lines of "wire current" telepathy, wireless telegraphy and thought communication. Cunning is always anxious to secure the hard headed business men of the community to assist him in his experiment which calls for the exercise of superior intelligence from all hands. Half past three will see King street temporarily blocked on Monday afternoon by those who remember Washington Bishop and the general populace.

ONE LICENSE EACH

GOVERNOR'S POLICY REGARDING SALOONS.

Opposed to Allowing One Man or Firm to Hold More Than One License.

If Governor Doie has his way there will soon be a number of local saloons closed or transferred, it is stated. The executive is opposed to allowing one man or firm to hold more than one license, and when the dates for renewals come up he will oppose such renewals, where many licenses are held by one man or firm.

The governor's position is said to have been taken partly as a means of reducing the number of saloons in the city. The matter was discussed yesterday in the Executive Council, and the executive stated his position. While there are many applicants for licenses, he is not in favor of allowing one man or firm to hold several.

Treasurer Wright, however, has the control of the license business, within the limits agreed upon between the governor and him, and he may not fall in line with the governor's position. Wright has just granted two more licenses for local saloons, making the number in the city 21. The matter of renewing a license is in his hands, though such questions are usually brought up in the council meetings.

Of the 21 licenses out, four are in the name of J. G. Rothwell of Peacock & Company and two others are known as Peacock places, all managed by the same firm. Macfarlane and company are also credited with having several, two of them being the Hawaiian Hotel and Waikiki Annex while one of Peacock's is the Moana Hotel. None of them will expire for some time, except the Moana, which is not a saloon and does not come within the governor's new policy.

A GASOLINE FAMINE

ONLY A FEW CASES NOW FOR SALE IN TOWN.

Two Ships Both three weeks out Bringing Several Hundred Cases to Relieve The Stringency.

There has been a gasoline famine in town for the past two or three weeks, one of the two firms which carry this commodity, being completely out of it while the other was obliged to modify all orders and is practically down to the last case.

The trouble lies in the fact that the ships are loath to take the inflammable cargo while they can get any other, preferring to carry provisions and other articles until they are absolutely forced into carrying gasoline or nothing. Even now the stringency is not actually relieved although both the Pacific Hardware and E. O. Hall and Sons have several cases now on the way here.

The Pacific Hardware company, which has completely run out of their stock has now several hundred cases consigned to them on the Coronado, now twenty one days out on her way here while E. O. Hall & Son has four hundred cases also on board a vessel just the same number of days out from the coast. No one is allowed meanwhile to buy more than a case or two at the utmost of the fluid and there will be no chance of making any corner on it by enterprising speculators.

METER RATES.

At the annual meeting of the Hawaiian Electric Company yesterday, the question of the preference of flat or meter rates was brought up. The committee to whom the matter had been entrusted brought in a report that 87 per cent of the electric companies on the mainland used the meterial system and the committee considered it the best for both parties. The report was adopted and a resolution concerning the taking up of the meterial system to the exclusion of flat rates laid on the table.

The Doric is also expected tonight from San Francisco.

WATCHED A KAHUNA

WOMAN BUILT FIVE TIMES ON BEACH ROAD.

Seafaring Man First Thought That Murder Had Been Committed—No Gin Bottle or Roosters in Sight.

The Beach Road about a quarter of a mile Waikiki of the Union Feed company's warehouse, was the scene of a kahuna's operations. At an early hour this morning, a kahuna was at work with a patient or more properly a victim but inasmuch as there has been no death reported the "treatment" has probably not been completed.

W. Simerson one of the Inter-island purveyors saw the kahuna at work and for a while it caused Simerson the worst scare that he had known in a long time. While riding to work about 6:30 a. m. today, the purser noticed a man busily engaged in covering up a woman's body on the beach, just west of the Beach Road. The purser immediately suspected that a murder had been committed, and the murderer was trying to conceal evidence of the crime. A closer observation showed that the body was that of a native woman who was dressed in a white haluk.

The kahuna would cover all but the woman's head, with sand and then suddenly catch hold of her and draw her up off the ground. Then he would cause her to lie down and the burying process would be repeated. Five times did the kahuna perform this operation and at the conclusion of the fifth time, the native man and woman walked across the road and disappeared in the direction of the fish ponds.

When he first saw the woman being buried, Simerson started for a telephone with the intention of notifying the police to hurry to the scene of the supposed crime but happening to notice another native man standing nearby, inquired of him about the supposed crime. The latter explained that the burial of the woman was a part of the kahuna ceremony. The result was that the purser decided not to notify the authorities but returned and watched the performance to its conclusion. It is not known how many mornings the performance has been going on, or if it will be repeated. Evidently the kahuna did not have all of his paraphernalia with him for there was no white rooster or a bottle of gin near the temporary burying ground. The expert on the beach was probably taken to work up a strong appetite and vigorous thirst.

WAS NOT LEAKING.

Captain Newhall, master and owner of the brigantine Tanager, has written a communication denying the claims of his crew that the little vessel has been leaking. The captain says that the vessel did not leak any more than usual and the fact that she is able to safely weather the worst storms he has ever experienced on the Pacific, is ample evidence that the claims were grossly exaggerated. The captain says that the crew off watch was not called upon but on one occasion and this was to reef sail and not work the pumps.

HAD JOLLY ALOHA.

Big Crowd on the Fearless Yesterday Afternoon.

Captain Christensen and the passengers on the schooner Helene were given a royal aloha yesterday afternoon on the vessel's departure for San Francisco. Among those aboard were Mrs. W. S. Ellis who is returning to San Francisco on a visit. Her husband and a number of friends, together with friends of other passengers and of Captain Christensen boarded the tug Fearless, and accompanied the schooner out to sea. Captain Brokaw of the Fearless had a jolly crowd with him and they sang while the schooner was being towed out. Captain Brokaw took the crowd much farther out than usual going about six miles to the southward before he let go his line. Just as the tug was heading for home and the spirits of the crowd seemed considerably depressed, Captain Brokaw gave them a surprise by running back toward the vessel and making a circle about her before finally heading back to the harbor. The Fearless' megaphone was used during the trip to shout songs and farewells to those on the schooner.

IN ARABIAN GARDENS

SIMILAR TO HANGING GARDENS OF BABYLON.

Beautiful Regions of Verdure Flourishing in the Middle of the Arabian Desert.

The hanging gardens of Babylon, constructed over 500 years before the Christian era, were reckoned at that time among the wonders of the world. A hanging garden is a garden formed in terraces rising one above the other. There were five of these gardens at Babylon, each consisting of an artificial hill, 400 feet square, the sides divided into terraces of earth resting on stone platforms covered with groves, avenues and beds of flowers, and provided with galleries and banqueting-rooms. They were irrigated from a reservoir at the summit, filled with water raised from the Euphrates.

There are today many hanging gardens in various parts of the world, particularly on mountain sides in China, water being raised in buckets, sometimes thousands of feet, to irrigate them. Col. S. B. Miles of the British army has just described the hanging gardens to be found on the mountains in the interior of Arabia, about 60 miles southwest of the trading port of Muscat. Visitors have to cross a stretch of verdure amid the thirist lands.

One of the inland towns is Sherazai, perched on the brow of a lofty cliff which falls to the valley beneath. The town is built on so steep a declivity that the houses appear to overhang one another, the only communication being by means of steps leading from one to another row of buildings. Just below the town is a copious spring of pure water gushing from the rock in sufficient quantities to meet the requirements of the inhabitants and to supply the channels that fertilize the hanging gardens below.

These extensive gardens, spread along the precipitous valley walls, are the most beautiful feature of Sherazai. The whole face of the mountain side to a depth of over 1000 feet is cut into a parallel series of ledges or terraces. Owing to the sharp angle of the slope, the ledges are not over 10 to 12 feet in width. The inhabitants would be glad of greater depth of soil, and the garden spots have been enriched by a large amount of fertile earth brought to them. The steep mountain side is almost barren except for the beautiful strips of green where vineyards, orchards and wheat fields are bearing. These curious gardens, with their varied foliage and ripening fruit, grain and vegetables, form a very attractive and pleasing sight. The labor bestowed on the terraces would have been futile without an abundant supply of water, and in this respect nature has been prodigal, the strips of cultivation being easily and perpetually irrigated by the mountain stream which is led from one ledge to another, and is kept from overflowing by little embankments along the margin.

VACCINATION.

Philadelphia's troublesome epidemic of small-pox has given the doctors a chance to observe the effectiveness of vaccination. Dr. William M. Welch, who has been connected with the Philadelphia municipal hospital for 30 years, is quoted as saying that in 300 cases of the disease that he has observed his notice, not one was of the "recently successfully vaccinated" sort. Much the same comment has been heard in other cities, and it is probable that the practice of vaccination has had a very large part in keeping down the percentage of mortality in the remarkably small figures that have characterized recent epidemics.

ATTACK THE BRITISH

BOER SYMPATHIZERS PROPOSE DRASTIC MEANS.

Give Notice That They Will Attack the British Horse Corral at New Orleans.
Horses and Mules

NEW YORK, February 7.—A special to the Sun from Washington says:
General Samuel Pearson, late of the Boer army, who has been in this country for a year engaged in working up sentiment for the Boer cause, has sent a communication to President Roosevelt indicating his intention to organize an armed force of Boer sympathizers in New Orleans to attack the camp established by a British military agent near that city, whence horses and mules are shipped to South Africa. The President is notified that the letter concerning the proposed attack on the British camp is a last solemn appeal.
Pearson refers to a decision of the Federal courts that only the Executive Government has the right and power to stop the shipment of animals and munitions of war from the United States to the British military forces in South Africa. In view of this decision, he suggests that he be permitted to strike the British camp at Port Chalmette with a force to be assembled at New Orleans, and intimates that he will consider the President's failure to respond to his communication as equivalent permission to make an attack.
The Government is always careful to frustrate any design that may involve it in complications with a foreign power, and the organization of an armed force by Pearson will certainly be followed by interesting developments.

HAWAIIAN STAMPS.
A Hawaiian five-cent stamp with inverted surcharge recently brought $60 at a sale in Philadelphia, where seven hundred sets of rare stamps, comprising the balance of a private collection of about 10,000 stamps were sold. Nine Hawaiian stamps of the early issue, type-set variety, in a single sheet were bid up to $111. The Hawaiian lot of 110 stamps were sold for $350. At the same time three lots of stamps of the Portuguese Indies were sold for $3, 30 and $1.25 respectively. The lowest bid was five cents for 250 canceled United States stamped envelopes and $600 cancelled United States stamps brought only 15 cents. The sale was well attended by collectors, and about $5,000 was realized on the collection. The prices were considered good.

THE PRIMO FIGHT.

Motion to Vacate and For a Stay of Estee's Decree.
Hatch and Stillman yesterday filed a motion to vacate the decree of Judge Estee in the Primo beer cases. It is based on the same grounds as the objections to the form of the decree already published, and which the court refused to receive and on the following:
"6. That the court ought not to have entered a decree adjudging that Chapter 48 of the Session Laws of 1888, now part 4, sections 479-485 inclusive, of Chapter 41 of the Penal Laws of the Hawaiian Islands, 1887, and every part thereof, are wholly unconstitutional, null, void, inasmuch as the court has no jurisdiction to repeal or annul by a decree any law or portion of a law.
"7. That the court ought not to have entered a decree enjoining and restrain-ing the defendant as Treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii, and his successors in office, from doing any thing or act under Chapter 48 of the Session Laws of 1888, in that the court has no jurisdiction over the Territory of Hawaii or any of the duly appointed officers thereof and their successors in office.
"8. That the court ought not in any event to have entered a decree on the basis that the law was unconstitutional and void, and that in no event were the plaintiffs entitled to a decree based upon any more favorable or far reaching finding than that certain portions of the law were in conflict with the provisions of the Act to provide a government for the Territory of Hawaii and therefore inoperative.
"9. That the court ought not to have entered a decree in this cause awarding judgment against the defendant as Treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii, and therefore in effect against said Territory of Hawaii, for the cost of the suit.
"10. That the court ought not to have entered a decree ordering execution to issue against said defendant as Treasurer of said Territory of Hawaii for the collection of said costs so awarded."
This motion will be argued next Monday, together with a motion for a stay of the decree, pending an appeal, which the attorneys are now perfecting.

TEMPERANCE ON HAWAII.

Superintendent W. H. Rice of the Anti-Saloon League will leave on the WASHINGTON.

Tomorrow, in every part of the United States, in every appanage of the United States upon the broad Ocean, the memory of the great founder of our Republic will be honored. Washington was not only a great man of his day, but he was a great man for all time. It was not so much his military talents that made him great, and yet his military talents were remarkable. He was too a most able administrator, over the century or so of time. It is but to the unbiased man looking back manifest that the absolutely pure patriotism, and the innate goodness, the self abnegation of the man made Washington the towering character that he is and always will be in the history not only of his own country, but of the world.

Compare Washington and Napoleon, sometimes misnamed the Great. The men played their parts in the world within a few years of one another. How lasting the work of the one, how evanescent the work of the other. What Washington accomplished laid the foundation of the greatest nation the world has ever seen, greater than the Persia of the ancient world, greater than Rome, greater than any present European power. It is a growing nation, a growing power, whose ultimate future no man can now define. This result has been reached because Washington and his associates made their plans upon a solid foundation of honesty and of patriotism.

What did Napoleon do for France? He covered Europe with his armies, and left their bones whitening from the Py to the Bosphorus, from the Pyramids of Egypt to the Byzantine Domes of the Kremlin. Of that mighty empire which he built up with such care, and without consideration for the rights of others, what is left? Practically nothing. Napoleon was not patriotic, he was purely selfish. Washington was thoroughly and intensely patriotic, and was equally thoroughly unselfish. It may be that extreme unselfishness which appeals so much to one's heart. Take the theatrical and hysterical farewell of Napoleon from his generals at Fontainebleau and the dignified farewell of Washington from his able officers. One probably in this has a keynote to the characters of the men. The one man self centered, always considering what the Germans aptly call the Grosse Ich, the great I, and the other grand in his abnegation of self.

In his farewell address Washington used the following words which might well be taken to heart now, as they were taken to heart by those who first heard them fall from the gifted lips. The quotation has been made again and again, but it never can grow old, and it should never be forgotten. It runs as follows:

"Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of patriotism who should labor to subvert these great pillars of human happiness, these firmest props of the duties of men and citizens. The mere politician, equally with the pious man, ought to respect and cherish them. A volume could not trace all their connections with private and public felicity. Let it simply be asked, where is the security for property, for reputation, for life, if the sense of religious obligation desert the oaths which are the instruments of investigation in courts of justice? And let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience doth forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle.

"It is substantially true that virtue or morality is a necessary spring of popular government. The rule, indeed, extends with more or less force to every species of free government. While that is a sincere friend to it can look with indifference upon attempts to shake the foundation of the fabric?"

PEARL HARBOR.

Work has been begun upon Pearl Harbor, and in a comparatively short time the entrance will be in a condition to allow vessels of considerable tonnage to enter the waters. The future result of this work it is not difficult to foresee in some measure at least. Lands in the vicinity of the harbor will increase in value. There will be considerable business carried on at the spot. The railroad will benefit for it will have to run more trains daily and consequently carry very many more passengers.

The awakening of Pearl Harbor from their long sleep has been the hope of many of our most foresighted men. It has been discussed and talked over for years. Finally the hope has been realized. It means a great deal to the Territory. It means the utilization of one of the greatest natural advantages, and it will give the United States the most commanding position in the Pacific Ocean.

Gradually everything improves. There have been some who found annexation irksome, but annexation is going to make this Territory the most important post in the Pacific.

RARE EGG VINTAGES.

The subject of the importation of Chinese preserved eggs, whether those of ducks or chickens is one which will bear a good deal of investigation. These eggs are preserved in some kind of mud. It is claimed by some of the importers that the eggs come from San Francisco, where they are prepared, but further investigation shows that they do not come from San Francisco, but that they are brought from Hongkong and are put up on the low lands about the great river beds, where ducks abound, and where there are square miles of fetid and unhealthy mud.

At one time the importation of these eggs was stopped, but it is in full swing again. A Chinese likes his eggs full flavored, and if in 1902 you can get eggs of the vintage of 1890, or of 1883, why any connoisseur will be willing to pay for them at big prices. The average Westerner cannot appreciate the delicate bouquet of the well kept egg. Like an utter barbarian he eats his eggs fresh and crude. He does not give them time to mature. That is where the Celestial gourmet gets ahead of him. The mature egg, like mature port or mature whiskey is the proper thing. With our base and depraved appetites it may be some time before we can rise to the full appreciation of eggs that have come from a vintage of twenty or even so recent a one as ten years back, but we may improve in time. There is still hope for us.

From our own point of view, in this Territory, necessarily a barbarian one, we don't care anything about the vintage of eggs. If our Celestial fellow citizens like to eat them even fifty years old, it is no matter to us, it is only a question between themselves and their stomachs. But what is objected to is the stuff in which the eggs are put up. It can and probably does contain the germs of several kinds of diseases. One has only to have a perfunctory knowledge of the river plains of Southern China, its teeming population and its awful filth to realize that mud packed eggs are by no means a sanitary importation.

The matter may seem a small one to many people, but it is really more important than it appears. The business of our authorities is to guard the public health in every way. The Chinese ancient egg business seems to be a menace to the public health. Let the mud in which the eggs are packed be carefully analyzed. There is no difficulty about obtaining samples. The eggs and the mud are openly sold.

Bishop Willis has always been acknowledged to be a good fighter and to have a good deal of what the old San Francisco gamblers used to call nerve, but the nerve which asks the members of the Second Congregation to supply funds for the Cathedral from which they have been shut out is really phenomenal. Still there it is in black and white, and the ordinary man will take off his hat to one who has such power of nerve.

The new constitution of the Methodist Church, which was adopted at the last general conference, held in May, 1900 and was referred to the various conferences throughout the country, has finally been approved by the three-quarters vote required. Its most striking provision is that which gives women the right to sit as delegates in the general conference. This innovation comes as the result of a contest that began about thirteen years ago.

The coming of Dr. S. Shechter, of New York as the president of the reorganized Jewish Theological Seminary is quite a notable event in the Jewish world. Dr. Shechter is reader in rabbinics in the University of Cambridge and professor in the University of London. He is famed for important discoveries in Hebrew literature, and the Jewish papers express the belief that his coming will infuse new life into Jewish scholarship in this country.

The railway mileage of the United States was, in 1830, 23 miles; in 1840, 2,818; in 1850, 9,021; in 1860, 30,626; in 1870, 52,922; in 1880, 93,362; in 1890, 166,464; and in 1900, 194,321; and the addition of the mileage construction for this year, estimated by The Railway Age at 5,057 miles, brings the grand total for 1901 to 199,738 miles. It is only in more recent years that statistics of operation are available. According to the Bureau of Statistics figures, the number of passengers carried was, in 1887, 423 millions; in 1890, 520 millions; in 1895, 529 millions; and in 1900, 584 millions. The growth in the freight business is shown by the figures which states the number of tons of freight carried one mile. These figures are: For 1883, 39 billions; for 1887, 61 billions; for 1890, 79 billions; for 1895, 83 billions; and for 1900, 141 billions tons. While the length of railways and amount of freight tonnage have been increasing, the cost of transportation has greatly decreased. The average cost of freight transportation as given by the Bureau of Statistics figures at 1.24 cents per ton per mile in 1887; 1.07 cents in 1887; 0.93 cent in 1890; 0.84 cent in 1895; 0.80 cent in 1897, and .75 cent in 1900.

TO SAVE GIRLS.

The Episcopal church at Luray, Va., has a plan for saving the poverty stricken and ignorant white girls in the mountain districts of that region and at the same time helping to solve the servant girl problem. It has established an industrial school, and is teaching housework. The girls have to enter into a contract to undertake domestic service at the end of their course of training, and to go where the managers choose to send them. The housekeeper must pay $25 to secure one of the girls.

SICK OF THE JOKE.
A young woman employed at the United States arsenal at Jeffersonville, Ind., thought it would be a good joke to put a few of her cards in the pockets of clothing which was being sent to soldiers at home and abroad. She did so, but as no response came she soon forgot all about it. Evidently some of the boys in blue made up their minds to have some fun with her, however, for one day she received an even dozen of letters from as many military stations, including one from Fort Sheridan. All the writers pleaded that she answer and each assured her that he meant matrimony. She laughed at the coincidence of receiving so many letters in one day and decided to send one or two replies, when she found time. But next morning's mail brought another batch, until she had received missives from about every place on earth where American soldiers are stationed. The epistolary flood still flows on and she is heartily sick of her joke.

TOOTHLESS FAMILY.
Victor Smith tells of a family that is toothless. There are three brothers, and not one of them has a tooth in his head, and never had. Two of them have no children, but one of them has three children well grown up, and the inheritance sticks to all of them. Not one in the family has a tooth. The only dentist's bills are for the three wives.

A SMALL MAN.
Viewed from the gallery, Mr. Lessler, who defeated Perry Belmont the other day in a New York congressional race, seems like a blade of grass, somebody in Washington says. He is less than 5 feet high, weighs about 60 pounds, and his arms are like pipe stems. Under his boys' shoes and a boy's hat. He wears his hair, however, as brains entirely out of proportion to his size. Everybody agrees that he has plenty of ability. "Alexander Stephens was the smallest man in Congress," says Mr. Lessler, "but he was also one of the greatest men. There is hope for me."

"FRIEND" REVIVUS TO SQUARE TROUBLE

OLDEST JOURNAL WEST OF THE ROCKIES.
Changes in the Editorial and Publication Plans—A New Editor and Business Manager—His Long Career.

The Friend has been published by T. G. Thurn since July, 1887, and edited during the same time by the Rev. S. E. Bishop, D. D. The connection of these two gentlemen with the paper, the control of the Friend having been taken over by the Board of Hawaiian Evangelical Association which represents the Congregational Protestant churches of Hawaii.

The paper will be in charge of an editorial committee, of which Rev. John Leidingham is chairman, and chief editor, Theodore Richards, who is the Treasurer of the Board, will be the business manager.

The Friend will probably be somewhat increased in the number of pages, and will give special attention to temperance and church work, as well as to the various departments of missionary and benevolent effort in these islands. A program of the projected changes will appear in the April issue.

Dr. Bishop expresses himself as being greatly pleased and relieved in mind by the proposed changes. His increasing years, now seventy-five, with diminishing strength, have made him sensible of being unable much longer to conduct the paper as it should be. The proposition, which originated with Mr. Richards to assume charge, comes as a most welcome solution of the problem how The Friend was to be continued, as so many of its old subscribers are anxious that it should be.

The Friend began its existence in January, 1882, and is the oldest newspaper west of the Rocky mountains. Its first issue bore the title of "Temperance Advocate," but it soon added the title of "Friend of Seamen," and in the course of a year became simply "The Friend." It was established by the Rev. Samuel C. Damon, who arrived here only a few months before. He conducted it for about forty years, when it was edited by Rev. Messrs. John Cruzan and E. C. Oggel, the pastors of the Fort Street and Bethel churches, respectively. Upon the departure of Mr. Oggel in June, 1887, Dr. Bishop took the editorial charge. He is sanguine that a period of greatly increased influence and success now awaits this valued journal.

NEW DEAD SEA.

The new dead sea discovered by Dr. Seven Hedlin, in Thibet, is described as enormous in extent, but so shallow that to navigate it one must wade half a mile to reach the boat, and must drag the boat half a mile before it can be floated with a load. But the most remarkable characteristic is the almost incredible amount of salt. Boats and men quickly become as white as chalk; even the dress of the rowers soon becomes whitened, while drops of water sprinkled upon a dry surface leave globules like candle drippings.

TO SEAL ENVELOPES.

A machine has just been installed in the pension office at Washington which will "lick" and seal 25,000 official envelopes a day. Previously the work was done by hand. Into the machine the envelopes are fed flat and open. It passes between two rolls, the upper one of which is dampened by an automatic fountain. In its passage through another set of rolls the flap is dexterously turned over by means of a small catch, and a third roll presses it firmly in place. All this is done in the twinkling of an eye, as fast as the operator can drop the envelopes into position to be caught by the first roll.

THE INDIAN AS A CRITIC.

Two Indians were at the Capitol yesterday, seeking the sights. They gazed at the Senate and the House with innumerable countenances. Suddenly, however, they discovered over a door leading from the rotunda to the House of Representatives a marble group representing a white man fighting with an Indian. The white man, they unhesitatingly, warding off the hatchet of the Indian, which is about to fall upon his head. The moment the Indians saw the group their apathy disappeared. They stood for some time in front of the marble figures, talking earnestly. "What do they say?" some one asked the guide. "They say," was the reply, "that the man with the gun could never save himself unless he changed his position. They say that the white man's scalp." Which shows that the untalented red man is a critic from a practical point of view.—Washington Post.

AS HIGH AS HE COULD.

There is a story about that once upon a time Senator Simon, the most diminutive man in the Senate, was trying to make before the Supreme court of his state. Out in Oregon the men are nearly all of tall stature, so that when Mr. Simon began to address the court he was almost lost in the throng of lawyers around him. As he began his argument, the chief justice looked over the bench at him. "Is he customary?" said the justice in a kindly tone. "For lawyers to arise when they address the court?" Mr. Simon blushed and remarked that he had arisen as high as he could arise. Some waggy attorney near by suggested that he stand upon a chair, but the suggestion was not carried out.

WHY A. T. JACKSON WENT TO KAU TODAY.
Alleged to Have Falsely Secured a Small Sum of Money as Payment for Clothes.

Among the passengers on the Mauna Loa for Kau today was A. T. Jackson who was bound for Kau for the purpose of securing a charge of getting money by false pretenses, which has been hanging fire for about a year past.

There seems to be considerable doubt on the part of the police regarding the details and nature of Jackson's charges against High Sheriff Hyatt, who went on the Mauna Loa, claimed to know nothing about Jackson's trip to Kau.

From what can be learned elsewhere of the matter, it appears that Jackson is charged by some person on Kau with having secured a small sum of money as an installment on a suit of clothes. Jackson is said to have been the representative of a mercantile house and as such received an order for clothes and was paid a small amount by a party at Kau. The amount was about $15. This transaction is alleged to have occurred about a year ago. Jackson returned to Honolulu but the clothes are alleged to have failed to appear. Attempts have been made to have the matter settled but for some reason the transaction was not closed.

Finally matters were brought to a crisis recently by a warrant being issued from the district court of Kau for the arrest of Jackson. Evidently the warrant was not served for Jackson did not go to Hawaii under charge of an officer today. It is understood that service of the warrant was withheld however as the matter was not regarded as of an especially fraudulent nature but to have arisen more from a general misunderstanding than anything else and Jackson was given the time to settle the matter out of court.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

Oliver Kane charged with embezzling some curios entrusted to him for sale, was given his liberty today by Judge Wilcox as a nolle prosequi was entered.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The Supreme court this afternoon rendered a decision in the case of David Kawanakoa and Jonah Kalanianoale vs. L. K. Puahi, sustaining the decree of the First Circuit court.

BLUEJACKET DESERTED VESSEL.

One of the sailors of the Phaeton has deserted the cruiser. The jacks were granted leave today, several boat loads being ashore.

ENJOYED MOONLIGHT OUTING.

A party of forty-five merry makers, gathered from the younger circles of the social community, spent a pleasant evening on the harbor yesterday. Wade Armstrong was the host of the occasion and a gasoline launch with a big whale boat in tow was chartered to draw the crowd over the moonlit waters. Solomon's quintet club was included in the crowd and a pleasant night musical. H. M. S. Phaeton was visited and serenaded with "Rule Britannia" and other eminently British airs, the sailors returning the compliment in kind with "Old Kentucky Home," "Goochie Eyes" and other typical American tunes. Afterwards the party repaired to the Healan boat house and rounded out the evening with a dance.

THE VATICAN.

There are 1000 halls and corridors in the Vatican and 11,000 rooms, counting everything, the quarters for the Swiss guards, the stables for the horses, the storehouses for gardeners' tools, the mosaic factory and other workshops, and it is said that an average of 226 people are employed under the roof, most of them being lodged there. This includes the Swiss guard.

A BIG ROOF.

Work has begun in the Salt River valley on a great plan for the growing of citrus fruit. The project involves the roofing of more than 1000 acres of orange, lemon and pomelo trees, and is undertaken by the territorial association of citrus fruit growers.

The best cough drops are drops of

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

The next time you take cold, dose yourself with a lot of home remedies and dilly-dally along until your cough is deep-seated and you are threatened with pneumonia or consumption. That's one way, to be sure.

Here's another way: Take

at bedtime and be all right the next morning. Isn't this the better way? Then continue the Cherry Pectoral a few days until your throat and lungs have completely healed and all danger of future trouble is past.

Another grand thing about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is that it cures hard coughs, the hardest kind of old coughs, even after all other remedies have failed.

Put up in large and small bottles. When it hurts your lungs to cough, then apply one of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plasters directly over the painful lung. It will quiet the pain, remove all congestion, and greatly strengthen.

POPE LEO'S OLD AGE

WONDERFUL IN FREEDOM FROM ILLS.

His Organism is Perfectly Healthy and Maintains all the Normal and Hereditary Functions—His Physician's Views.

Alarming reports in regard to the health of Leo XIII. which have been circulated with unfailing regularity at the opening of the new year have just been explained and satisfactorily disposed of by Commander Lappont, the Pope's physician and intimate friend, who of late years has become one of the most influential physicians at the Vatican. Commander Lappont in the course of a conversation with the Rome correspondent of the "Gaulois" gives an insight into the daily life of Leo XIII.

"I rang at the little iron grated door of the villino where Dr. Lappont resides," writes the "Gaulois" correspondent, "and the result was extremely cordial. The eminent professor is a tall robust man, with a large, imposing head. He has a long, bushy, blond mustache and his expression is frank and honest. I told him that I had called to inquire about the real state of the Pope's health. Dr. Lappont replied: 'I will answer you fully because I am glad of an opportunity to show that there is no foundation whatever for the false, mysterious rumors about the Holy Father—rumors that crop up every year with strange regularity and at times when my august patient's condition, by a strange coincidence, is most satisfactory.'"

"Leo XIII. both physically and mentally, is in the enjoyment of a most enviable old age. He is free from all ailments and infirmities which usually torment persons of his advanced years. His organism is perfectly healthy and has maintained all the normal and regular functions. His case is, indeed, almost exceptional in the history of longevity. Scarcely a day passes but what he astonishes me by the clarity of his mind, the perfect accuracy of his memory, and the penetration of his judgment."

"He recollects the dates, the names and the faces of the numerous persons whom he receives at the Vatican. I can even relate numerous instances of foreign prelates to whom the Pope has recalled occurrences that they themselves had forgotten, and who were astounded by the old man's extraordinary mnemotechnical precision. Moreover, contrary to the usual phenomenon shown by very aged persons, the Pope not only recollects things that happened in his youth, but also remembers with accuracy and exactness of detail the recent events and incidents. Nothing seems to elude his vigilant perception in regard to men and events. In short, the brain performs all its functions admirably."

"The Pope's eyesight remains unimpaired. He wears spectacles, but most of the time, especially when reading, he raises them so that they rest on his forehead, for he complains that they fatigue him. Many a time I have surprised him reading letters and newspapers unaided by his spectacles. It is true that his activity has somewhat slackened in the last few years, but he nevertheless works regularly six or seven hours a day. It is precisely this concentrated persistency for hard, absorbing work that at times causes me some uneasiness. On several occasions I have ventured to object to his working so steadfastly, but each time the Pope refused to heed my remonstrances, and said that my anxiety was greatly exaggerated. I am thus always compelled to keep silence, and I go away discontented."

"Another matter that worries me a great deal are those audiences, which, in my opinion, the Holy Father accords with far too great liberality. Almost every day the Pope receives several persons in special audience. Talkative, easily fatigued, Leo XIII. particularly so during these grand ceremonies. It thus happens that during the Holy Week the Pope is always fearfully overworked. Last Holy Week I was in perpetual fear and trembling. Pilgrimages succeeded pilgrimages, in alarming frequency. Ceremonials were multiplied in profusion. The admirable old man never for an instant flinched but undertook the work with extraordinary moral courage, mental energy and physical activity. He went down to St. Peter's no less than seventy times. All ended satisfactorily, however, but I look forward with uneasiness to the coming pontifical jubilee, which begins in March. Nevertheless, I have reason to believe that on this occasion the Pope will listen to the respectful remonstrances of his physician and will take greater pains to preserve his precious existence."

"You ask me for information about the Pope's daily life? Very well; I will tell you all about it. Fourteen years ago I was called to the Vatican, and since then I have been in daily, almost hourly attendance upon Leo XIII. During that period the only change in the usual habits of the Pope's life has been in regard to the hour of rising. Until recently the venerable Pontiff used to get out of bed at six or half-past six each morning. But nowadays he is subject to occasional insomnia, so that, not being able to sleep more than four or five hours in the night he does not usually rise until nearly nine o'clock."

"As soon as the Pope is dressed he celebrates mass, which is performed by Centra, his confidential chamberlain. He then takes a cup of coffee and milk, or sometimes, but rarely, a cup of chocolate. At half-past nine the audience begins and lasts until one o'clock. It is not until two o'clock in the afternoon that the Pope takes his first meal, which invariably consists of a plate of soup, a little white meat—chicken, veal or turkey—some fruit, and a small glass of clear and water. On Fridays and Saturdays—fasting days—the white meat is replaced by fish with which well cooked green vegetables are served. Leo XIII. always takes his meals in his bedroom, and his repasts are never served by any one else than by his faithful Centra. You are perhaps aware that the Pope's apartment contains only three rooms and a small library, which by means of the thermophilon are kept at a temperature of from fifteen to eighteen degrees Centigrade (59° to 64° Fahrenheit.)"

"After luncheon the Pope reads clippings from the Italian and foreign newspapers prepared for him by two secretaries, Monsignor Angeli and Monsignor Ungherini. At four o'clock he attends to his private affairs and writes or dictates letters. All this occupies his time until nine o'clock in the evening, when he takes a plate of soup and one boiled egg. At eleven o'clock he goes to bed."

"Leo XIII. has always led a very frugal and abstemious life, and his habits are as regular as clockwork. This accounts for the wonderful preservation of his organism. Leo XIII. is still in the vigor of the digestion of a young man."

The above statements concerning Leo XIII. furnish the latest information concerning the venerable Pontiff, who on March 2 will enter upon the ninety-ninth year of his age.—N. Y. Tribune.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

In the murder of Bela B. Brown, a wealthy diamond merchant of Rochester, N. Y., the news of which has been given, there is a tragedy of more than passing interest. The prominence of the man, the cold-bloodedness of the crime and the mystery that surrounds it make such a story as White Collar could have delighted to tell. The old man was found dead, seated and bound in a chair, facing the door of his safe, with his head shockingly crushed. The prevailing theory is that robbers attempted to force him to open the safe and that he either refused, because he thought they would kill him whether or not he opened it, or in his excitement forgot the combination—Springfield Republican.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

The regular weekly rehearsals of the Philharmonic Society have been changed from Thursday evenings at 7:30, to Fridays at 8 p. m., the change to take place next week. There is some talk of a reproduction of Handel's "Messiah" with Madame Johnstone Bishop as the leading singer, for the benefit of some local charitable institution, to be announced later.

THE LIQUOR PROBLEM.

The Young Men's Research Club will discuss the temperance question at its next meeting, a week from tonight. As a basis of discussion short papers on particular phases of the subject will be presented as follows: Prohibition in Kansas, D. H. Case; The Wide-Open Saloon, Charles L. Rhodes; South Carolina's Dispensary System, L. D. Timmons; Phases of the Temperance Problem, Temperance Saloons, Railroad Regulations, etc., E. Towse, the Local Problem, Deputy High Sheriff Charles F. Chillingworth.

FOR WOMEN.

Warner Van Norden of New York, who recently retired from the presidency of the National Bank of North America, has approved plans for a $1,000,000 hotel and banking structure which he will erect on the south corner of Fifth avenue and Sixtieth street, opposite the Millionaires' club. The new structure will be unique and progressive in its combination of hotel with fashionable banking. The first two floors will be occupied by a new trust company. The building will be designed especially for the convenience of women financiers. There is a rapidly increasing number of fashionable women in the upper Fifth-avenue district who are interested in financial operations, and the new Van Norden trust company will furnish them the facilities in their own neighborhood.

COLOMBIA REBELS. PADEREWSKI MANIA.

PANAMA, February 1.—Colonel J. Herrera, the insurgent commander, arrived here last night, escorted by police and left Panama at 10 o'clock yesterday for Colon. Herrera is a native of Colombia and the President of Colombia, the President of Colombia, the President of Colombia.

The news from General Herrera was welcomed in the American, French, British and German Consuls here. At 10 o'clock yesterday, among other things, that the Government of Colombia, the President of Colombia, the President of Colombia, the President of Colombia.

General Herrera also declared in his note that the Liberales considered the capture of Panama and Colon to be absolutely necessary for the development of their military plans; that they would not obtain such results, and that in due time they would notify the Consuls of such proposed action, allowing twenty-four hours for foreigners to take refuge at a place of safety to be agreed upon with the Consuls, and that the point so selected should not be fired upon.

CONCERT TO-NIGHT.

A unique and what will doubtless prove a very enjoyable entertainment will be given this evening, complimentary to the crew of H. M. S. Phaeton by the Young Men's Christian Association at the Y. M. C. A. hall at 8 o'clock. The entertainment will be in the nature of a concert, both hosts and guests contributing to it. The first part of the program will be supplied by the people ashore. There will be a solo by Mrs. C. B. Cooper, a ladies' trio, part songs and other music, vocal and instrumental. The second part of the program will be given by the guests, the men from the Phaeton. The program has been attractively arranged and will no doubt be thoroughly enjoyable. All members of the Association and their friends and friends of the Association are invited.

ELABORATE WOOD CARVING.

Two elaborate wood carvings have been placed on exhibition in the Pacific Hardware Company's windows, the work of F. N. Ottemba, who has from time to time exhibited various specimens of his skill in carving and cabinet work. The subjects represent a branch of guava showing the fruit and leaves, the texture of the former being very skillfully conveyed, and a cluster of grapes, the leaves and leaves. The carving is in high relief and shows many hours of patient work.

YACHTSMEN'S LAST CALL.

By noon today all third class boats not registered for the race for the Port Captain's trophy will be considered ineligible for that competition while no provision will be made for entertaining members who have not conveyed their intentions of participating in the cruise by that hour. Owners of the smaller boats are acquiring race to secure private signals and club flags today. The supper is to consist of fish chowder, pork and beans, pickles, catsup and the usual accessories.

MAILE ILIAMS.

The Maile Ilima club will give a dance at Progress Hall this evening. The following are the committees: Floor Manager, Frank Rowland; Reception Committee, F. Jarrett, J. J. Belser, D. L. Conkling; Finance Committee, R. D. King; W. W. Wright, S. F. Chillingworth Jr., Refreshment Committee, F. Rowland, S. A. Crook, Otto Berndt; Music Committee, F. Jarrett, Charles Osborne, W. Jordan; Decorating Committee, W. Rowland, A. S. Robertson, George Lucas, George Clark, William Stone.

MR. WHEELER GOT RID OF HIS RHEUMATISM.

"During the winter of 1898 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked steadily all the year.—R. Wheeler, Northwood, N. Y., U. S. A. For sale by all dealers. POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.), February 2.—Paderewski has charmed Vassar to a girl. He gave a recital tonight in Collingwood Open-house and 300 students were fairly wild in their enthusiasm over his playing. During the recital of the last number one of the girls became hysterical. She screamed wildly, but Paderewski kept on playing. Friends were compelled to escort her from the theater, while Paderewski concluded his recital.

Paderewski was enthusiastically pleased by the warmth of his reception at Vassar. The demonstration was pronounced from the first. At the close of the recital Paderewski had prepared to leave the theater, but the plaudits of the girls were so enthusiastic that he again appeared, wearing his overcoat. The handclapping was long and applause was irresistible, and Paderewski, retaining his overcoat, played an encore.

DEFEATED THE SAILORS.

Honolulu Cricket Club Easily Defeated the Visitors.

In a single inning game yesterday afternoon, the Honolulu Cricket club defeated an eleven from the Phaeton with sixty-five runs and a man to play, when stumps were drawn. The visitors won the toss and went first to bat captained by J. Henderson. The Phaeton contributed 47 of his own, before being bowled by Craik 13 more were contributed by able seaman Cogges. Lieutenant Curvall knocked up six and 8 more were accounted for by bowlers and extras. The rest of the Phaeton's batting was long and aimless, the total score being 77.

The Honolulu, headed by Craik and Anderson, batted the visitors with five wickets to spare and at the conclusion of the game had nearly doubled the score with one man yet to bat. The local score was 142.

The Phaeton team was not up to their usual form through the unavoidable absence of two or three of their best players. Captain Kelly of the brig Mohican scored thirty one for the Honolulu. A. M. Hewett acted as umpire and Viggo Jacobson as scorer. A small crowd attended the game and there would have been a much larger one had the game not been started at an hour which prohibited many would be players and spectators from attending the game. The full scores were as follows:

FOOTBALL TODAY.

Regular League Game Will be Played This Afternoon.

An association football match having been arranged between the players from the Phaeton and a team chosen from the league, the regular match scheduled for tomorrow afternoon will be played today. The game will probably wind up in the gloaming as owing to business affairs the kick off will not be made until five o'clock. The opposing teams are the Wanderers and the Hackfeld-Davies who meet for the second time in the league series. The Wanderers were the losers in the first game. The players will probably be as follows:

Wanderers: Goal, Notley, fullbacks, Cockburn and Simpson, halfbacks, Harwood, Stokes and Judd; forwards, Williamson, Blackman, Waterhouse, A. Blackman and Kerr.
Hackfeld-Davies: Goal, Dutsenberg; fullbacks, Guild, Beardmore; halfbacks, Isenberg, Sinclair, Churton; forwards, Ryer, Brett, Morse, Davies, Stopp.
The time for the commencement of the game between the visiting sailors and the local team tomorrow afternoon has not yet been fixed upon. The personnel of the league team will consist of the following:

Goal, Dutsenberg (Hackfeld-Davies); fullbacks, McGill (Maile Ilima), Beardmore (Hackfeld-Davies); halfbacks, Blackman, captain (Wanderers), Craik (Maile Ilima), Harvey (Honolulu); forwards, Simpson (Wanderers); Morse (Hackfeld-Davies), Boyle (Maile Ilima).

YACHTING DIRECTIONS.

Only Seven Members Seem to Want to Eat Tomorrow Night.

A fleet of twenty-five yachts of various ratings together with two or three launches will assemble tomorrow afternoon for the flag raising at Puu-loa. A party of non-members under the charge of the port captain will run down to Pearl Harbor and spend the time in exploring the lochs, returning to the club grounds in time to see the race. They have chartered the Twin Brothers for the purpose.

According to the number of members who care sufficiently for the rules to sign the roll of the cruise, food will only have to be provided for about seven people, that being the number signed up to date. The head caterers have however arranged for about sixty.

The following third class boats will compete: Ship, Pirate, Kahuna, Vi-ke, Princess, Mailini, Wikiki, and Myrtle, and the others to complete the fleet are likely to be the Gladys, Mary L.,
Hawaii, Dewey, Marion, Abbey M.,
Kaumana, Canary, La Paloma, Kalki, Hermi, Optear, and Dabula with home launches Manuwal and Julie, belonging to Judge Cooper and Clarence Macfarlane and at present kept at Pearl Harbor.

The advisory committee suggests that pleats of blankets be taken in addition to the mosquito nets as the early mornings on the lochs at this time of year are quite chilly, for Hawaii, although there is no ice to be broken for the morning plunge.

NO POLO TOMORROW.
Owing to the holiday and so many of the members going out of town there will be no regular game of polo tomorrow afternoon although there will be more or less desultory practice at Kapitolani Park.
