KING DAVID KALAKAUA nurtured a vision of an independent Pacific empire with Hawaii as its head.

In his first step toward this goal, he attempted to form an alliance with Samoa. Tonga was expected to join in the proposed alliance later.

On February 17th, 1887, King Malietoa of Samoa, signed an agreement to enter into the installation of confederation.

In August, the Germans declared war on King Malietoa. Malietoa, fearing loss of life amongst his people, surrendered to the Germans then disappeared into exile.

Thus ended King David Kalakaua's dream.

On September 26, 1887, King David Kalakaua signed a lease of Pearl River (now known as Pearl Harbor) to the United States for eight years to get a reciprocity treaty.

THE JUDGES OF THE 24th ANNUAL MERRIE MONARCH FESTIVAL

EMILY KAUI ZUTTERMEISTER: Chanter, dancer, teacher, composer. Trained under her uncle, hula master, Pua Ha’aheo. She underwent three traditional ceremonies. The first was an informal one called ho’ike; the second graduation exercise was called a hu’elepo, a more private and serious ceremony; the third was called the ‘uniki and his ceremony was complete with all the rituals and traditions of the hula. She has been teaching over fifty years.

MAE ULALIA LOEBENSTEIN: Her first Kumu Hula was her mother Ida Pakulani Kaaihue Long of Kahului, Maui. The most precious gift her mother gave her through the hula was discipline. After moving to Honolulu, she joined Daddy and Mama Bray who were performing at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel. She went to hula master Henry Moikeha Pa, the last two years of his life.

EDITH KAWELOHEA MCKINZIE: Her first formal training was with Joseph ‘Ilala ‘ole. The discipline under which this training occurred went beyond the dance. It included personal carriage, attitude, presentation of gestures and the necessary respect involved in the tradition of the dance. Later she trained under Eleanor Hiram Hoke and after a long period, went to Hoakalei Kamauu. She spent a great deal of time with Aunty Edith Kanakaole, a master of many Hawaiian skills including hula and chant.

PAT NAMAKA BACON: Pat was born in Waimea, Kauai, and was adopted at birth in the hanai tradition of the Hawaiians by Mary Kawena Pukui. Her formal training started at the age of thirteen with Keahi Luahine. At the age of fifteen, she trained under Joseph ‘Ilala ‘ole and went through two traditional graduations with him.

GEORGE KANANIKEAKUA HOLOKAU: At the age of twelve, he became interested in the hula. His relatives were hula teachers, chanters, musicians and composers. At nineteen years of age, he began with Tom Hiona as his first Kumu Hula. He graduated in a traditional ceremony when he turned twenty-two and became Hiona’s Alaka’i.

KEVIN MICHAEL KAPIALOHAU MOHOE: “Chubby” as he is affectionately called was taught the hula for over thirteen years. He is a student of the ancient and honorable art of the hula but is not a Kumu Hula because he feels that only a few can be acknowledged as such. He is currently affiliated with the St. Andrews Cathedral of Honolulu and the Christian Hula Academy.

NALANI KANAKAOLE: She started hula at age four and taught at the age of fourteen. First as a kino for her mother then gradually going full time at sixteen. Took an extensive workshop from George Naope that lasted for six weeks and for a time learned court etiquette from Iolani Luahine. Her formal training started with Mary Kekuwea Ahiana Kanaele Fujii who, at the time, was alaka’i for Akoni Mika; however, her hula kapu was from a man called Hulu who lived in Kona. Secondly learned with Mary Kaleialoha Keahililau, she inherited the teaching right from her grandmother Kekuewa and taught throughout the 40’s and early 50’s, and through the years, Edith Kekukihihipuuoneonaaliiokohala Kanakaole. Each of these kumu gave me basically the same background in Hula Kahiko and chant although the teaching methods differ.

O ka lehua o Makauele
A ka kui la a Pele ma
Elieli kau mai e Pele e
Elieli kau mai e Pele e
Elieli kau mai e Pele e
He inoa no Hi'iaka-i-ka-poli-o-Pele

When Pele came voyaging from the east
And landed at Mo'okini
The rain poured down at Kumalae
Her people set up an image
And there they made their abide
With the workmen who carved the canoe
Wonder and awe possess me
They offered prayers and gave thanks
Then Pele led them in journey
To the cape of Lele'iwi
Where they breathed the incense of Hala
With Makauele's rich lehua
Goddess Pele wove her a wreath
Wonder and awe possess me
They built a village at Pu'ulena
Her bedroom at Papalauahi
A might hall at Kilauea
When Pele fell through from Kahiki
Ka hekili, ka 'ola'i, ka ua loku
Bitter the rain, lightning and quaking
Her pu'a o ko'i
With the workmen who carved the canoe
Wonder and awe possess me
They built a village at Pu'ulena
Her bedroom at Papalauahi
A might hall at Kilauea
When Pele fell through from Kahiki
Ka hekili, ka 'ola'i, ka ua loku
Bitter the rain, lightning and quaking

When Hi'iaka travels to Kaua'i she is honored by a feast given by Malaeha'akoa and his wife. At the end of the feast Malaeha'akoa and his wife perform a sacred dance which gives account of Pele's reign in Hawaii. This part of the chant tells how Pele flees from Naiwiopele in Maui after battling with her sister Namakaokaha'i, the sea goddess. Pele and her people land first at a place called Mo'okini then on to Lele'iwi where they establish the worship of images.

He Kau No Hi'iaka I Ka Poli O Pele (Wahine)

Apopo'i haki ka'ko'oko'lu  Ha ki ha ki kakal a ka ino

Pua ehu mai la uka o Keahialaka
Pa'u i ke ah'i o Waiwelawela
O ka lua e
Aloha ua po'e la o uka o ka lua e

High waves break with force upon the shore
Bursting high the waves from the storm break sharply
With deafening resound the lehua of Kalihiku roa
The woman of Kaumu consumes lehua
The rocks bubble forth till suffering
By the claving of the fire, in the wrath of the Pu'ulena
The island rises up, the land flattens out
The heavens dance low, the mountain churns in high seas
The ocean trough breaks covering Kilauea
Legged rocks of Papalauahi
Pele comes forth, the peal of thunder
The rains from the heaven
The earth trembles by quakes
Waiua bursts forth in thunderous crackle
Pu'uhonua stands high
The ominous clouds pile low upon the horizon
The uplands of Keahialaka a glowing golden flower
Girded by the fire of Waiwelawela
Of the pit
Love to the people who dwell in the upland pit.

Chairman’s Message

To all the people from our neighbor islands, Europe, Canada, Japan and the continental U.S.A., we extend a warm aloha.

We honor our kupuna of Puna this year as the Festival’s special guests.

The Festival has grown beyond anyone’s expectations and we could never have accomplished this without the support of our Mayor, for in-kind services; Abigail Kekaulike Kawananakoa for her generous monetary gifts to be used as seed money and a workshop for the kumu hula; Charles K. Robinson Foundation for the overall prizes; Hawaiian Airlines contra services for all kumu hula, judges and entertainers; the Aston Naniloa Hotel for office space; First Interstate Bank for donating the prizes for Miss Aloha Hula and kane and wahine kahiko winners; and KITV for bringing the Festival to thousands of people who are unable to attend the Festival.

Our warmest appreciation to all the kumu hula and their haumana who make this Festival possible.

'O AU NŌ ME KA OIĀ'I'O
DOROTHY S. THOMPSON

The past tells us about ourselves. It reveals the stored secrets of generations. And the hula is an expression of that time when memories were passed by the teller to the told and became the history of our people. We celebrate the hula and the Festival. And we treasure the stories that live because of it.
