The Merrie Monarch Festival in Honor of King David Kalakaua

David La'amea Kalakaua, last King of the Hawaiian Islands, was a ruler whose visions and aspirations put forth the renewed well-being of the native Hawaiian people.

This revival and respect for ancient Hawaiian culture and arts, often called the Hawaiian Renaissance, reached its height during Kalakaua's reign from 1879 to 1891, enriched the music and revitalized the hula of Hawaii.

This period of the Renaissance was not only a return to the old, but a flowering of the new, as exemplified by the members of the Kalakaua dynasty itself—Kalakaua, Liliuokalani, Leleiohoku,—all composers of note, and the development of new steps for the classic hula.

The intense spirit of this historic cultural re-birth is once again in predominance during this era, one of its sources of inspiration and vitality emanating from Hilo, the birthplace of Kapiolani.

From Hilo, every year, for 18 years, has come the Merrie Monarch Festival, in honor of Kalakaua whose love of life and his people are recaptured during the days of the festival.

The highlights of this festival are the evenings filled with thrilling performances in the hula kāhiko and hula auwana from tens of hālaus from all of the Hawaiian Islands.

The Merrie Monarch Festival of Hilo of the County of Hawaii can be looked upon as a pioneer in this revival.

Albert C. "Slim" Holt is a 6'4", 215-pound part-Hawaiian who came to the Big Island in 1943 as a stevedore, and stayed to take a place in the just-developing tourist industry. Like most of Hawaii's tour operators, he started out in the business at both the bottom and the top, as owner of a one-car operation in which he was driver, tour guide, mechanic, and promoter. It was a 365 day a year, 12-hour a day business — which it still is — but one that Slim Holt obviously believes is the most exciting, and the most important part of the tourist industry today.

HAINAKOLO

O 'oe ia e kuu ipo pehi pua hinano
Kike hala hoomau
I lu ka ua i ke ala a waiho malie
He haupu he halia i ka moe
I moe ia e kawa a aloha
E ha'iwahine hainakolo
I ka pali kapu o Waipio
He hoapili he hoa 'oe no Lauka'ie'ie
He hoa hooulu lei no ka ua
A maliu mai 'oe pono
A ae mai 'oe e ola hoi e
E ola i ka leo, e ola i ka loaa mai
E ola ia makou i na haumana hula

You are she, my sweetheart pelting the hinano blossom
To break open the bruised hala fruit
When the rain scatters the fragrance and leaves calm
A fond memory of the encounter
When we experienced love together
Oh Ha'iwahine Hainakolo
The sacred cliff of Waipio
A close companion, a friend of Lauka'ie'ie
A companion whose wreath is inspired by rain
Harken well to me
And agree to live
Let the voice be alive, let it obtain
Life for us, students of the hula

HĀLAU KU AIWA KAMAEHU, the hula hālau of the Honolulu Boy Choir, will participate in the exhibition portion of the prestigious Merrie Monarch Festival, held April 15 - 17, 1982 in Hilo.

The hālau, organized in 1977 to complement the Honolulu Boy Choir's program and to perpetuate the Hawaiian culture and a greater awareness of hula and its heritage as an art. The hālau has grown to become an integral part of the Choir's performances. It is the youngest group of male hula dancers, starting at age 6 thru 12. They have demonstrated their skill and grace as the half-time exhibition entertainment for the King Kamehameha Hula competition, and as the half-time entertainment for the nationally-televised Pro Bowl. They have done many major concerts in Hawaii, as well as, extensive touring throughout the United States; British Columbia, Canada; and Mexico. The Hālau has also participated in community and educational functions to motivate the “youths” awareness of their Hawaiian Arts. The Honolulu Boy Choir has been acclaimed as the “pride of Hawaii”, surely they share this pride with you, the Honolulu Boy Choir’s Hālau Ku Aiwa Kamaehu.

The Hālau’s talented kumu hula is Leleiohoku Rasmussen, whose extensive knowledge of Hawaiiana makes him one of the foremost kumu hulas in the State.

FLEET MARINE FORCE, PACIFIC BAND

An integral part of every major U.S. Marine Corps field organization is its official musical unit. The Fleet Marine Force, Pacific is the largest single Marine Corps field command and it is only proper that its musical unit be the finest. Such is the distinction that the Fleet Marine Force, Pacific Band holds today.

In addition to its stirring traditional military theme and march music, the FMFPac Band has an extensive repertoire ranging from the electronically amplified beat of disco music to the soft pleasing tones of the classics. Performed in concert by the Band en masse or by one of its jazz or polka ensembles, the musical competence and versatility of the FMFPac Band have thrilled military and civilian audiences throughout the Pacific area. Their popularity and expertise were locally recognized when they were named the "Best Military Band" for their performances in the annual King Kamehameha and Prince Kuhio Day Parades.

The Band plays for all official functions hosted by the Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific and in this capacity has played Honors for countless civilian and military dignitaries including the President of the United States.

From ceremonial parades and patriotic ceremonies at the National Cemetery of the Pacific, to school activities and public concerts, the FMFPac Band has established itself as a premier musical unit of Hawaii.

To the memory of King David Kalakaua, the "Merrie Monarch Festival" is dedicated.

The festival’s aim is to perpetuate the traditional culture of the Hawaiian people; to develop and augment a living knowledge of their arts and crafts through demonstrations, exhibitions and performances; to reach those who might not otherwise have the opportunity to participate; and to enrich the future lives of Hawaii’s children.

The "Hawaiian Dance Program" of the Merrie Monarch Festival focuses on bringing together Hawaii’s beautiful and handsome hula dancers like King Kalakaua did and share a learning experience for all those involved. It demonstrates the variety, the ingenuity and the creativity of the many schools and the styles and disciplines of the Hula.
