WAR RISKS JUMP AGAIN

LLOYDS ADVANCES RUSSO-JAPANESE WAR RISKS FIVE PER CENT TODAY-SITUATION IN FAR EAST NOW SAID TO BE VERY CRITICAL—RUSSIA SENDING MORE NAVAL REINFORCEMENTS TO EAST,

Associated Press Cable to the Star.

LONDON, Dec. 18-Russo-Japanese war risks have been advanced five per cent by Lloyd's marine insurance department. The situation between those two nations is regarded as very critical. A declaration of war is thought likely to occur very soon.

To Set Latin Republics Against United States

COLOMBIA PLANING TO SET SOUTH AMERICAN COUN-TRIES AGAINST UNITED STATES IF THIS COUNTRY REFUSES TO ALLOW DISPUTE OVER PANAMA RE-PUBLIC TO BE TAKEN BEFORE HAGUE TRIBUNAL.

Associated Press Cable to the Star.

PARIS, Dec. 18.—The United Colombian Committee says that the program to be followed by Colombia will be to first ask the United States to recognize the rights of that country as set forth in the Treaty of 1846. In the event of the United States refusing to accede to the request for recognition of the Colombian claims as against the recognition of the new Republic of Panama, an appeal will be made to The Hague Tribunal. If The Hague appeal be refused by the United States war will then be declared by Colombia to enforce her alleged rights, relying on the assistance of the other Latin Republics to aid her in the

The declaration of war will not, however, it is thought, be made directly against the United States, but against the seceding Province of Panama. Any attack upon the integrity of the new Panama Republic would naturally mean a conflet with the United States Government, as the United States has announced that she will preserve order on the Isthmus and any attempt on the part of the Colombians to conquer the former province, would result in a conflict between the United States forces and the Colombian army.

WASHINGTON, December H .- The statements attributed to General Mac-Arthur, as contained in last night's dis-patches from Honolulu, in which he is alleged to have predicted war in the immediate future between the United States and Germany, have come to the notice of Secretary Root. In an interview today the Secretary said the only information he had on the subject was what he had seen in the papers. Secretary Root made the assertion that remarks of this character delivered in private conversation would not necessarily shield an officer from the re-quirement of an explanation, but he says that General MacArthur's denial carries with it the weight of an explanation.

At the meeting of the Cabinet today it is said that the matter was discussed, as a result of which it seems likely that Secretary Root, in the interest of fairness to General MacArthur, will call upon him for an explanation upon his arrival in the United States the latter part of this month.

WHO FULLS THE STRINGS?

The position of Mr. Kepoikai is unique. He is a government unto himself. He has decided to upset the county law and is going to restrain and otherwise prevent the Territory from turning over any of its property to the counties. There have been many strange things done here in the past, but the spectacle of one official head of a department, starting out to restrain another official head of a department is one that has never been equalled,

In order to carry on his campaign, the Treasurer has to have legal advice, but he ignores any advice from the legal adviser of the government. What? Ask the Attorney-General? Not much. That could never be thought of. The Treasurer must have an Attorney-General of his own, and in order to get him, he must pay a fee. That is not he, but the public whom he does not represent must pay a fee. So this great patriot engages outside counsel and calls upon the Auditor to authorize the payment. It is quite a neat little raid upon the treasury.

Unfortunately the Auditor did not prove as complaisant as was expected of him, and the retainer was not forthcoming. Of course there never could have been anything more absurd contemplated than a government paying fees to attack itself and its policy. The idea of public money being used in this manner is absolutely ridiculous, and yet we are gravely told that there will be a writ of mandamus asked for to enforce this payment.

If such a policy were to become general, every department might keep its own set of lawyers and ask for fees for them upon any frivolous pretext that might be brought up. The Land Department might take it into its head to prevent Superintendent Holloway from building a bridge. Forthwith Mr. Pratt would sally out and engage Judge X, giving him an order on the Treasurer for his retainer. Or the Secretary might want to restain the government entomologist. At once engage counsellors Y and Z and pay them out of the public fund. There is absolutely no limit to which such a thing might be carried, and to be departmental lawver would be far better than to be Attorney-Geenarl,

Of course Mr. Kepoikai is not the originator of this idea. He is but the pupper and some one else is pulling the strings. The true attack is upon the county bill, not because it is a faulty bill, but to get even with some of those who drew it. With this there might be no reason to find fault, if the attacker would come out into the open. But he does not do so, and he puts himself entirely in the wrong when he strives to get public money to pay for carrying on a venderta of private enmity.

COMING EVENTS.

In the coming election contest for the presidency, New York is Cases, Ladies' Pocket Books, Traveling going to play, as it always has played, a most important part. There are those who contend that President Roosevelt will win even if New York went against him. There are those on the other hand, who claim that without New York it is impossible for him to win. The state counts thirty-nine electoral votes out of a total of 468. This number of votes is greater than a combination of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and Colorado, or practically the whole West.

The political leaders are beginning to make calculations and are wondering how the state will go. The fact that they are so doing shows that the state is doubtful. The victory of McClellan has made the opponents of Roosevelt feel somewhat elated, but it must be remembered tinet increase of our forest lands. We that Roosevelt is in himself a name to conjure with in New York. The question in New York City was not between McClellan and Roosevelt, but it was between McClellan and Seth Low, a very different proposi-

What disturbs the calculations of the politicians is that are going to have, the legal backing these two men are not in harmony, or are said not to be in harmony. Of course if a factional fight were to take place in the State, it might be lost. But the question is, are these two forces out of harmony, or is it the one cent coinage, and we may one of the most astute politicians in the United States, and certainly the utterly foolish to have the prejudice supply of skilled labor is still unwe have against the cent. It is a equal to the demand, and as long as most astute politician in New York, and he is not going to lose the relic of the flush times of the fifties.

State to the Republican pages if he can help it.

It is rather curious to note how the State to the Republican party if he can help it.

There may be some differences between Platt and Odell, but on the in the sixties there was nothing less eve of a presidential election those differences are not going to become than a quarter in circulation. People used to calculate by the "bit" but no bits were in circulation. In Lahaina however they used to cut the quarters result may be, but it may very correctly be guessed that New York in half. FORESTS.

We are only following in the footsteps of Europe in our effort at forest protection. France and Germany were the leaders in the movement, and now every European state is alive to the fact. Lumber experts on the mainland are constantly showing how the forests of the Gear's nerves for he has stopped all United States are being exhausted, and how prices are advancing because we are eating up the supply. An article on this subject appeared in the Star a few days ago. It is plain to any resident of these islands, that we have been wilfully wasteful of our own forests, and are begin- pieces will be worth hearing. When ning to suffer for it. However, we are going to remedy the wrong as we can. Our forest conditions are going to be carefully studied, and litan. then we shall know what to do. For we can not stop at merely studying, we shall have to act, and the action must come through a thorough and comprehensive forestry law.

Among the states of Europe which have adopted new special laws for the conservation of their forests is Sweden. The value of the wood exported from Sweden in 1001 amounted to 36 per cent of the total exports of that country and the government, realizing the necessity of protecting the forests, has passed a law for that purpose. The new law trial for alleged murder is over, to compels Swedish forest owners to follow a regular system of forest protection. Denuded areas, now covering hundreds of thousands of acres, are to be reforested, and it is provided that plans for cutting timber comes very expensive. shall be laid before a special committee having the reforestation of the denuded areas in charge. While this law limits the rights of the owners and the use of the forests, it will be of unquestionable value to Sweden in the protection of its forests.

The difficulty we shall have when we come to forestry laws in this Territory, will be in limiting the rights of the owners. We shall come right up against vested rights and shall meet with opposition. Put a the limited product of a few hand comprehensive bill, such as the Swedish forestry law before our legislature, and it is very doubtful if it would bass. But unless we have some comprehensive law, all the study of our forest conditions will be of little

Forests are a distinct asset of a state. They can be made actually profitable, and will return a regular revenue indefinitely, if they are only properly cared for. But man has regarded the forest as something which some 200 scholars constantly re which will yield a revenue now, and will never do so again. It was which will yield a revenue now, and will never do so again. It was sketching and lace making; but the vorking upon that theory that we lost our sandal wood industry. The long list of advertisements in the local andal wood of the islands was simply hacked out, and the forests know daily papers demonstrates that the

The fluctuation of the American cotton market during the past twelve months has greatly disturbed the European spinners and weavers of cotton. Many of the mills continued to work at a loss, some entirely failed, while others sought to evolve novelties for which fancy prices might be ob-tained. Thus, the "mercerization" of the Egyptian cotton-producing a most plausible and deceptive imitation of silk-and the manufacture of cot-ton blankets and other specialties were strongly pushed. The desire to mul-tiply the present sources of supply has induced a strong feeling among Ger-man manufacturers in favor of cottor culture on a large scale in German and British African colonies as well as in other regions wherein cotton has not hitherto been considered indigenous.

CHINESE GOINF ASHORE.

The Chinese regularly enlisted on the warships will be permitted ashore by the immigration authorities, under certan restrictions. The orders that Chinese Commissioner Brown received from the Department of Commerce and Labor were explicit and were in answer to the cable which he sent day before yesterday regarding the matter of per-mitting Chinese stewards to land at this port.

Commissioner Brown was directed that any Chinese enlisted on any of the vessels of the fleet could be permitted ashore during the day time on business They cannot be allowed ashore overnight

Admiral Evans the commander of the fleet had an interview with Com missioner Brown on the subject and actory understanding was Descriptions and lists of the enlisted Chinese who are to go ashore are supplied by the officers of the fleet to the immigration officials in the morning. In case of any of the Chinese fail to return to the ships by night fall, notification of their absence is to be ent to the immigration officials. order went into effect today, and will have the effect of enabling the officers of the fleet to enjoy the fresh goods from local markets.

GOES BACK TO ENGLAND. Wray Taylor has left New York for England. He was unable to find employment in New York and so returned to England where he has friends and relatives and where he expressed him-self as feeling that he would be able to do better in the way of making a liveli-hood than there was promise of his being able to do in New York.

Taylor seems not to have made any secret whatever of his presence in New York, as in addition to calling on Bishop Restarick, he was frequently seen by the Bickertons and other members of the Honolulu colony in New York. He claimed to Bishop Restarick that he had been robbed of $700 in San Francisco and that he worried a good deal about it, and thinks this was one of the predisposing cases of his mental lapse, dered a decision sustaining the appropriation bills as made by the last legispriation bills as made by the last legislature, for two separate periods. The decision was in the case of R. N. Boyd deputy registrar of the land court against Auditor Fisher, a suit to compel Fisher to pay thoyd's salary. The court holds that there is no provision for the expenses of the land court until January 1 and the court therefore canoth use any of its appropriation new form the decision, by Chief Justice Frence, and considerable worry was beginning states the matter in part as follows.

Word was received by the Bow Wongs from Leung Chi-tso bimself, stating his hability to keep his agreement to come here, a pleasure he said which he had counted much or and this deputy is properly in office and that his salary may be paid out of an appropriation for expenses of the court, provided there is such an appropriation vailable.

The appellant's contention is that the proposed capital stock everywhere he has gone, and that the prospects are not flattering.

"If the limitation of the act to the eighteen months period should be held void, it would not follow that the appropriation would be available for th six months period. The appellant's ow argument, if sound, might require us i hold the whole act vold, for there would then be no limitation at all-not even to the blennial period for which alon he contends that the appropriation could properly be made. But, however that may be, and although it is true that one portion of an act may be held void and the remainder allowed to stand, it does not follo winat the re-mainder may stand, if the elimination of the part would make such remainder mean something different from what the legislature intended. Thomas Shearer who was with the Sanfords during their stay here, says that some of the statements in yesterday's Star regarding his severance of relations with the company are not quite correct. He says he did not know he was to go second class until he was assigned to his stateroom. All his agreements with Sanford simply provided for transportation, it being understood it was to be first class and hitherto it had been.

Mr. Shearer has a good offer from the Central Theater, San Francisco, He is going to San Francisco but has not positively accepted this offer.

The case of Claus Spreckels & Co. vs. Melo Kauket was tried yesterday before Judge Robinson and a jury. It was a suit to recover $292.75 alleged to have been paid erroneously to the de-fendant, from Spreckels bank, the defendant having, it was alleged, repre-sented herself as the widow of one Maunalli. The jury gave a verdict for the plaintiff.

Judge De Bolt has signed Judgment for plaintiff for a total amount of $301.86 in the suit of Henry Loo Kong vs. Loi Sai. Also, judgment for plain-tiff for $190.11 in another suit between the same parties.

An order has been made by Judge De Boit dismissing the appeal of de-fendant in the suit of C. C. Bitting vs. Vincent Fernandez.

Judge Dole has released the Federal jurymen for the holiday season. They were excused yesterday until January 4, 1904, and draw their $2 a day for the time they had been in attendance.

Archbishop Harty, in speaking of his new field of labor, said he had formed no plans for the future conduct and management of church affairs in the islands. Although he has familiarized himself in a measure with conditions in the islands he said he had determined upon no plans except to do the work which he will find when he reaches the islands. He went on to explain, however, that he would take a very decided interest in educational matters and by the building up of schools and colleges in the islands hoped to accomplish a great deal in the way of the up-building of the people.

"I was glad to learn upon investiga-tion," he said, "that the people of the Philippines, on the whole, are not un-educated. There, as in -very other section of the world, you will find many people who have been denied the opportunity to obtain an education. We have illiterate people in this country, and in some sections—Tennessee, for instance—there is a considerable population of illiterate people. MAN BESIEGED BY PORTO RICANS AT IWILEI SCARED THEM AWAY WITH A WORTHLESS REVOLVER

W. Dealks was taken into custody yesterday on a warrant charging him with assault with a deadly weapon. While the weapon may have had the appearance of peing "deadly" an examination showed it to be far from possessing such quality.

Dealks lives in a cottage at Iwilei. On Wednesday night a couple of Porto Rican women accompanied by a couple of staiwart Porto Rican men attempt ed to force their way into the house of Dealks. The latter knew that one of the women was angry with him for some reason and that the intention of the unwelcome visitors was to do him up. He ordered them away. They mounted the porch so he grabbed up an old revolver and levelling the thing at them, again ordered them away. The revolver caused the crowd to decamp. Yesterday one of the women caused the arrest of Dealks, The revolver is an old affair with the hammer gone and was as devoid of
