FILIPINOS EXPIATE MURDERS

'Killed Man by Accident,' Says Domingo Rodrigues on Scaffold

GO BRAVELY TO DEATH

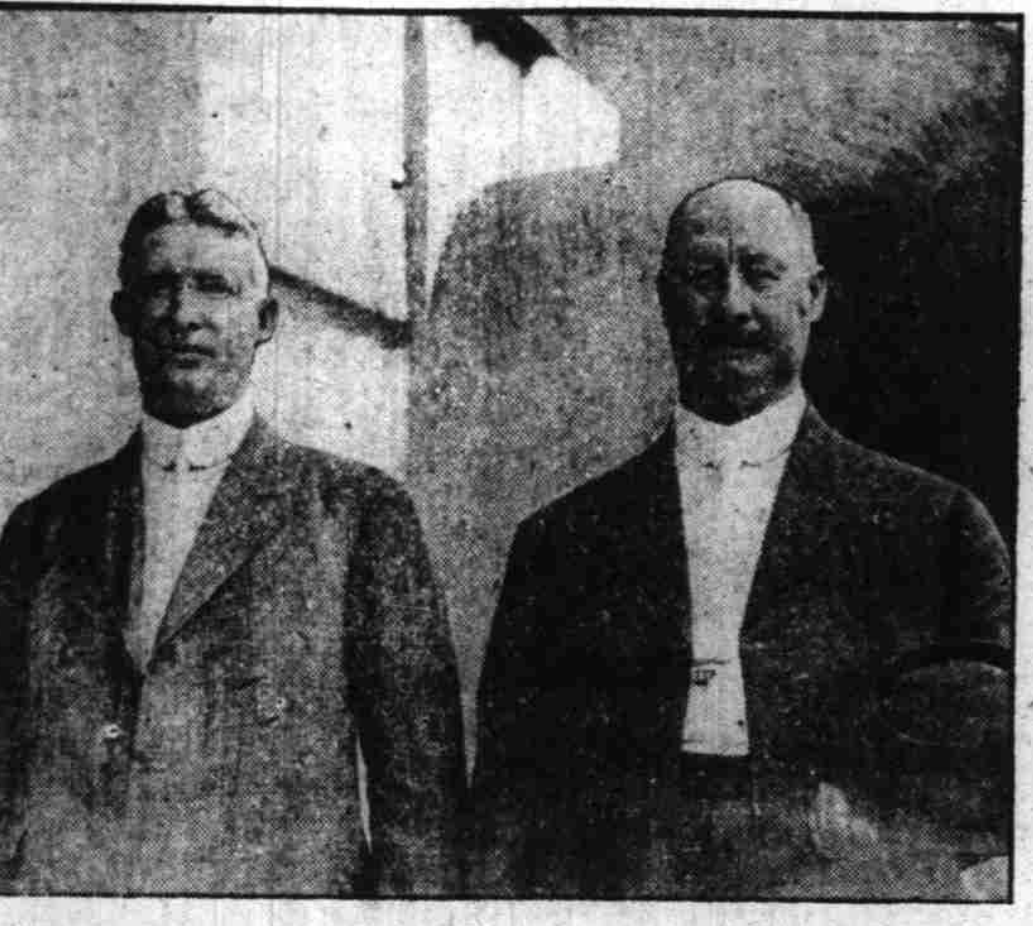

Trio Is Executed Without Any Further Statement Being Made About Crimes

"I am being sent out of the territory because I killed a man by accident," said Domingo Rodrigues in broken English at 8:25 this morning, and one minute later the trap was sprung that sent him and Miguel Manibang into eternity. This was the last word uttered by any of the trio hanged for the brutal murder of Mue Kum Yee and his wife, Hilda Bautista following his companions in crime to the scaffold at 8:47.

The trap was dropped at 8:26 for the hanging of Rodrigues and Manibang and they were declared dead by Prison Physician W. L. Moore at 8:38, exactly 12 minutes being consumed by the murderers in passing out. At 8:47 the trap was sprung for Bautista and at 9:00 o'clock he was pronounced dead.

Each of the doomed men carried out to the end the bravado which has characterized them for the last few days, each walking to the scaffold without aid and each going to his death with a forced smile on his face. But for the above quoted statement by Rodrigues, not a word was uttered on the scaffold after Rev. R. E. Smith, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal

HIGH MASONS IN HONOLULU ON A TOUR OF INSPECTION

Grand Master William P. Filmer and Grand Lecturer T. J. Baker of the Grand Lodge F. & A. M., California.

Grand Master Filmer and Grand Lecturer Baker Will Pay Visit to All Local Lodges

With a view to making an official visit to and inspection of the local lodges of Free and Accepted Masons, Grand Master William P. Filmer, of the Grand Lodge F. & A. M., of the jurisdiction of California, arrived in Honolulu from San Francisco on the Wilhelmina this morning accompanied by a party of five persons. Besides Grand Master Filmer, those included in the party are Mrs. W. P. Filmer, Miss Marion Filmer, Grand Lecturer T. J. Baker, F. and A. M.; Mrs. Baker and H. G. Elderton, prominent in the Scottish Rite Masonry of Oakland, California.

A delegation consisting of the masters of the three local blue lodges, J. R. McLean of Hawaiian, W. H. Goetz of Oceanic and J. F. Fenwick of Honolulu, boarded a launch and steamed out to the Wilhelmina, going aboard and accompanying the visitors to the dock. A committee consisting of C. G. Bockus, T. H. Petrie, Wallace R. Farrington, M. P. Robinson and Charles R. Frazier was in waiting at the wharf and escorted the party by automobile to the Young Hotel. A brief interview was secured with Grand Master Filmer at the hotel, he saying that, while his trip to Honolulu was purely one of business in connection with an inspection of local lodge work, he intended to make the most of his stay by taking in the many places of interest in and about the city.

"This is my first visit to Honolulu," he said, "and as yet I have not had enough time to form much of an impression. However, the little I have

J. F. HACKFELD RETURNS HERE VERY OPTIMISTIC

Anticipates Removal of Tariff by Present Congress and Its Later Reinstatement

J. F. Hackfeld, head of the firm of Hackfeld & Company, arrived in Honolulu this morning on the steamer Wilhelmina. Since leaving here he has spent most of his time in Germany. A few minutes after the steamer docked, Mr. Hackfeld was at his desk, a pile of correspondence before him.

During his absence he has kept in close touch with the tariff affairs at Washington, and though he says he is now satisfied that the Wilson-Underwood measure, with the free-sugar-in-three-years clause, will be passed by congress, he is optimistic as to its effect upon the local industry. He is also confident that if congress passes the bill taking the tariff off sugar, its work will be annulled by a future congress by restoring the tariff to its present rate.

"Whatever is done will not destroy our industry," he declared. "It may mean that we must economize, to meet the new conditions, but it does not mean that we must give up our industry."

In Germany, he said, he found monetary conditions to be poor, though steadily improving, the unsatisfactory money market probably being due to the long fighting in Southern Europe, the influence of which has been felt in all commercial centers of the world.

"I was glad to see conditions improving before I left, and I look to see them recover to the normal shortly," he said this morning in an interview with a representative of the Star-Bulletin.

"As for the conditions here, I have every confidence that they will improve. It is natural that there should

ADMIRAL BROWN WAS WELL KNOWN IN OLD HAWAII

Late Commander Visited Here in 1891, During Days of Power of Monarchy

In a condensed news item by mail is recorded the death of a naval commander who figured prominently in the later royal hospitalities of Honolulu prior to the overthrow of the monarchy, and who may safely be said to have been the most popular officer of the United States navy visiting here in many years.

Reference is to Rear Admiral George Brown, retired, who died recently at his home in Indianapolis. He represented the United States government as host in carrying King Kalakaua to San Francisco in the U. S. S. Charleston late in 1890, but only to bring back the body of the dead monarch a few months later in the same ship. Remaining for some months after the funeral of the king, he flew his flag successively on the Philadelphia and the Boston, the Charleston having left here and finally on the Philadelphia, in which he sailed hence. Not long thereafter the Boston and her commander, Captain Wiltse, played a large part in making history for Hawaii.

While the two cruisers were here together, there was a gay round of entertainments—receptions at the palace by Queen Liliuokalani to the naval officers, return receptions on board the ships and, finally, Admiral Brown's farewell reception on the Philadelphia.

Most notable of all the series of festivities, as illustrating the popularity of Admiral Brown with the natives especially, was the revival of the ancient ceremony of the "hookup" in his honor. This was given on the Brewer wharf, which was piled high with the gifts of the natives, con-

PHYSICIAN MAY BE FACING BIGAMY CHARGE

But Police Maintain Woman with Hartman Admits She is Not His Wife

A young man and woman sat in the rear room of the jailer's quarters at the city and county jail this morning, striving hard to smile, and declaring that their love for each other would never end. Dr. Pope C. Hartman, the young man, was arrested yesterday evening at 5 o'clock on a cable order from the San Jose police to hold him on a charge of felony, and the young woman, who represents herself to be his wife, has been under the care of a trained nurse following the shock experienced when Dr. Hartman was taken in custody.

Dr. Hartman and the young woman who is said to be his wife were first-class passengers on the Oceanic liner Ventura, with through tickets to Australia, and Hartman was arrested just before the steamer's gangplank went up.

According to information by the police this morning, the woman has made statements to them that she is not Hartman's wife and they say that she told them she was a nurse in California. Furthermore, the police

ASKS DIVORCE; CHARGES SHE WAS BEATEN

Alleging that her husband, J. W. Kershner, head of the Kershner Vulcanizing Works, beat her in the presence of his employees at the office on Alakea street last Wednesday, and that he then led her into the rear room of the establishment and proceeded to kick her, Mrs. Ada M. Kershner this morning filed a petition in circuit court asking for a decree of absolute divorce, on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Kershner, who is named in the city directory as officially the treasurer of the vulcanizing firm, is a comely young woman well known among the automobile owners of Honolulu, as she has also acted as business solicitor for her husband's enterprise.

In her petition she alleges other acts of extreme cruelty, though they are not specified in detail as was the husband's latest alleged assault. The papers were to be served on Kershner today.

SWITCH ENGINE KILLS MAN IN FREIGHT YARDS

G. L. Weilmann, for forty years a resident of the islands, and of late making Honolulu his home, was fatally injured at 11 o'clock last night while in the act of crossing the tracks in the yards of the Oahu Railway and Land Company.

Switching engine No. 10, with several loaded cars attached, struck Weilmann as he was passing between the freight depot and the Wells Fargo Express warehouse.

Jo Lili, an employee of the railway company, was the first to hear cries that indicated that an accident had occurred. The mangled form of Weilmann was found lying along the side of the track, his hip broken and many bruises and cuts on other portions of his body.

Eye witnesses to the collision state that Weilmann was dragged a distance of about ten feet.

He was still alive but unconscious when taken to the Queen's hospital. At 1 o'clock this morning Weilmann breathed his last.

Engine No. 10 is said to have a considerable string of records to its credit. According to records this switch engine has had in a number of fatalities. Some quarters has become a "hoodoo" engine.

Deputy Sheriff and Rose made an investigation and summary of witnesses including train crew to appear which probably will central police station.

CARDINALS TELL OF BASEBALL IN MIKADO'S REALM

Fresh from the baseball conquest of Japan, eleven college athletes who sport the cardinal of Stanford university landed from the liner Nippon Maru this morning and proceeded to greet old friends and make new ones. The Stanford team will play six games here, the first being against the All-Service combination at Mollie field, tomorrow afternoon.

The collegians met with stubborn resistance from the ball tossers of the Mikado's land, and although they won seven games out of the 11 played, they had to work hard for the long end of the score. The Japanese gave their visitors a splendid time both on and off the field, and the returning players are loud in their praises of the treatment received on the trip.

"Baseball in Japan isn't much different from baseball in the states, once the game is on," said Manager R. W. Wilcox this morning. "The language of the game is the same, but the umpire's supply of English is somewhat limited, and when they had to say anything more than 'ball,' 'strike' or 'out' they usually had to call on an interpreter. The umpires were good for the most part, though, the officials giving us a square deal."

"The Japanese are crazy about baseball and big crowds turned out to see the games. We played eight with Keio, winning five; two with Meiji, breaking even, and one with the Waseda alumni, which went into our win column. I should say that we averaged about $,000 at the games, with the exception of two which we played against Keio at Osaka and Nagoya. For these two exhibitions no admission was charged, about 20,000 turned out for each." Wilcox said that the fielding of the

"HUI NALU TEAM IS CREDIT TO HONOLULU."--H. P. WOOD

INJURY TO MRS. WOOD IS CAUSE OF SHORT TRIP

"I want to speak first of the admirable way in which the members of the Hui Nalu swimming team and the swimmers who accompanied them, impressed the people of San Francisco," said H. P. Wood, secretary of the promotion committee and director of the Hawaii fair commission, when asked for an interview this morning shortly after his arrival from San Francisco in the Wilhelmina, accompanied by Mrs. Wood. "They are a splendid lot of young fellows and conducted themselves at all times like gentlemen, and I heard many remarks concerning the fine appearance they made. Mr. Rawlins has acted like a big brother to them and is a fine manager. Hawaii should consider herself fortunate in having such a fine representation."

Mr. Wood was forced to give up his trip through the States and Canada on account of an accident on board the Sierra in which Mrs. Wood was severely injured. San Francisco physicians advocated her immediate return to Honolulu and it was necessary for Mr. Wood to accompany her here. She is now on a fair road to recovery, but Mr. Wood does not intend returning to the mainland until

HAWAII'S COMMISSION FULLY ARMED, SAY THE MAINLANDERS

Hawaii's public utilities commission is not a weakling, as was charged when it was created by the legislature, but is equipped with unusually full powers, according to the opinion of mainland commissions.

Chairman E. A. Mott-Smith, who has been writing to the various commissions of the mainland states to secure general information on their work, has received a number of letters in reply which show unmistakably that the territorial body has been given what are regarded as extremely broad powers. In fact, the chairman of Oklahoma commission writes:

"We feel that you are fortunate that your powers are circumscribed only by the Constitution of the United States. They are just as they should be."

"A study of the act," comments Chairman Mott-Smith, "proves that we have been given plenty of power, and even in rate-making we are well-armed. In fact, it is recognized now, I think, that the bill as passed had the necessary teeth."

The commission has selected an office on the fifth floor of the Stangenwaid building and will open up for business on July 15. Chairman Mott-Smith is carrying out a policy of rigid economy in his preparations. He will not even engage a stenographer as yet, and he is furnishing the office largely by the use of his well-known persuasive powers on friends who happen to have desks, chairs, tables or

NIPPON MARU PAID LONG STAY FOR MANY RUSSIANS A FLYING VISIT WILHELMINA AT HILO WILL MIGRATE

It's touch and go with the trim little white yacht, Nippon Maru, now in the Toyo Kisen Kaisha intermediate series, which came to a berth at Alahe wharf at nine o'clock and was dispatched for San Francisco at noon.

The Matsun Navigation liner Wilhelmina will spend five days in the discharge of mail and cargo and the loading of a large quantity of sugar at Hilo, according to announcement made this morning with the arrival of that vessel from the coast.

At least one thousand Russians are in a party that was expected to depart from Vladivostok, in northern Siberia, for British Columbia, with the last of June, according to a report which reached officers in the T. K. K. Nippon Maru when that vessel called at Yokohama en route to Honolulu and San Francisco.

Captain Peter Johnson deposes and says that this time he is really making a farewell appearance as master of the Wilhelmina. He is accompanied by Mrs. Johnson and three children, who will visit the volcano before returning to the coast.

Of 3316 tons of general cargo brought here, 1327 tons will be left at Hilo. The Wilhelmina is to be dispatched for the Hawaii port tomorrow evening and due to return to Honolulu Tuesday morning.

It was stated in Yokohama that between a thousand and fifteen hundred peasants were expected to be given transportation by each boat. There are said to be about 150 farmers among the first consignments who intend to take up land in British Columbia.

Engineer Williams, who has been detailed here on special duty, says the establishment of the new coal station is made necessary because the capacity of the station at San Francisco, which is 125,000 tons, has been reached.

The vessel brought 51 sacks of later mail and a considerable amount of express matter. Included in the cargo was an extra large consignment of tin plate intended for local canning factories.

Shipping at the port of Hilo at the time the Kilauca sailed for Honolulu was represented by the American-Hawaiian freighter Alaska which arrived there on Monday to take on the last of a large consignment of sugar destined for Salina Cruz.

The United States army transport Dix is at the port to remain until tomorrow, the consignment of five hundred or more head of horses and mules destined to the Philippines.

For the last two seasons she has been employed as a floating cannery, but prices for canned salmon are on the decline, so her present owners decided on using the vessel as a cold storage ship.

The power plant also includes a lighting set to illuminate the vessel and supply current for her wireless apparatus. She will be able to store 3,000,000 pounds of fish.

Anyo Maru to South America. The big new Anyo Maru of the Central and South American line, the latest addition to the Toyo Kisen Kaisha fleet, is reported to have sailed from Hilo for the west coast of Central America on Sunday noon.

According to report brought by Purser Sheldon in the Mauna Loa this morning the following sugar is awaiting shipment: Punaluu 12,855; Honouua 6,555; Paauhau 700; Kukui 1000; Paauhau 9600; Honokaa 8000; Kukuiahae 5000.

There will be general approval of whatever regulations may be necessary to discourage the practice, rare as it is, of resignation from the navy of midshipmen who have taken the course at Annapolis, not with a view of making service in the navy a lifetime career, but solely to obtain the excellent education there given for the purpose of profiting by it in private life.

DIRECTORS OF Y.M.C.A. TO MEET ON THURSDAY

A rearrangement of the duties of the present employed force of the Young Men's Christian Association will be one of the two important matters of business to be taken up at a meeting of the board of directors of that organization in the office of the general secretary Thursday afternoon at half-past twelve o'clock. The other matter will be a discussion as to whether or not to continue the Sunday night mass meeting for men now being held under the auspices of the association.

The idea of a rearrangement in the office of the present employed force of the Young Men's Christian Association will be one of the two important matters of business to be taken up at a meeting of the board of directors of that organization in the office of the general secretary Thursday afternoon at half-past twelve o'clock. The other matter will be a discussion as to whether or not to continue the Sunday night mass meeting for men now being held under the auspices of the association.

The second of these matters is the solving of the question as to whether or not to continue the mass meeting which have been held every Sunday night in the Empire theater and which have attracted a large number of the better grade of men of the city who have not been in the habit of attending church services. These services, while they have been a success in every way and one of the most prominent features in religious work ever attempted in Honolulu, have cost considerable money. The association believes at present that it has not sufficient available money to carry on these meetings and unless some special course of income is devised, they will have to be discontinued.

SUMMER SCHOOL OPENS AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The summer school for boys opened for the first time at the Young Men's Christian Association this morning with an attendance of 32 students, and bids fair to become a permanent feature of local association work. Of the number of students now enrolled, 12 are in the 6th grade, 10 are in the seventh and 10 in the eighth grade, leaving room for two in the seventh and two in the eighth grade, as each class is limited to 12 boys.

Honolulu's first touch with the boys' vacation school came in connection with a visit of one of the local association secretaries to the mainland last year, when he saw the school in action in Chicago in one of the large Y. M. C. A. buildings. The secretary was impressed with the value of the plan and decided to put it into operation at the first opportunity in Honolulu. Secretaries Loomis and Cross, of the local organization fell in with the plans and it is to them that the credit belongs for organizing and establishing the first summer school of this kind for boys in the islands.

One of the features of great value in this scheme is the instruction by men teachers. After a boy has reached the age of twelve it is highly desirable that he have as many men instructors as possible in both Sunday and day school. In all the summer schools of this kind throughout the states the facts and benefits of masculine instruction are emphasized. With Charles F. Loomis, Roland M. Cross and J. C. Wine as teachers of the three grades, and with the splendid equipment of the Y. M. C. A. and a first class set of boys to start off the work of the school, its success is assured. The tuition fees are small, being $5 for the six weeks' course.

Edwin F. Young, former treasurer of the Chicago, Terre Haute and South-eastern Railroad Company, pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of $53,000 from the company's funds and was sentenced to an indeterminate period of from one to ten years.

Lightning struck the postal telegraph office at Wilkows, Cal., burning fifty telegrams which were hanging on a hook.

Police Notes

A Chinese woman whose sole name appeared to be "Lily", fell from Rapid Transit car number 49 while enroute to Waikiki yesterday. The woman was picked up by a passing automobile, but declined to go to the hospital, declaring that she was not seriously injured. No blame is attached to the crew of the car.

The police learned yesterday that a Chinese, whose name was not forthcoming, had been run down by an auto while crossing the street near the corner of Maunakea and Paiah. According to a story from several who profess to have witnessed the accident, the Chinese was gathered up in the machine and taken away.

Auto number 308, listed under the name of Antonio Rodrigues, dashed into a telephone pole near the intersection of Kalaka'ua avenue and Makee Island road yesterday evening, the machine sustaining a battered glass windshield and some other minor damage that caused it to be sent to the repair shop. According to police report no one was injured in the collision.

Fook Wah is a Chinese-Korean who is now in durance vile charged by the police with having entered a number of dwellings in Moiliili, and from the premises of several Japanese is alleged to have made away with small sums of money. The defendant was arraigned at district court this morning, the case having gone over until a later date.

Chen Tim, a Chinese flower vendor, while still alive at Queen's hospital, is in a precarious condition with slim chance for his recovery from an accident in which he received serious injuries by being struck by auto number 1093, alleged by the police as driven by R. M. Morton, and in which machine were seated Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wolf. The Chinese was a passenger in Rapid Transit car number 20, which was standing at a station near Jack Lane on Nuuanu street. Three Hawaiian women who attempted to alight from the street car at the same time are said to have narrowly escaped a fate such as that met by the flower seller. Eye witnesses declare that Morton was traveling at a fast rate of speed. The Chinese had just stepped from the car platform when the auto whizzed by and sent him to the ground. Chen Tim was dragged for thirty-three feet, while the car is said to have gone over seventy feet before being brought to a full stop.

SUPERVISORS HAVE MEETING TONIGHT

The supervisors will meet this evening at 7:30, to pass upon routine work before the board. The only other business expected to be discussed is the resignation of J. J. Smiddy, road overseer, who was asked to resign by City and County Engineer Whitehouse a number of days ago. The question of the successor of Mr. Smiddy may be informally considered. It was rumored in the municipal building this morning that Rudolph Duncan, now trackmaster of the Rapid Transit Co., is an active candidate for the position. He could not be found this morning to pass on the veracity of the report.

The proposition of making appropriations for Leahi Home and the commission of agriculture and forestry, which is under submission with the ways and means and the health committees respectively, will probably not be reported out this evening, as the chairmen of both committees have said that they desire more time before coming to an agreement.

Judge Robinson today granted a divorce to Mary K. Aylett, who sought legal separation from H. W. Aylett on a charge of extreme cruelty.

The total figure asked to date by banana claimants is more than $170,000, with eight days more in which to file demands with Secretary Walter F. Drake of the Commission. Claims aggregating $9,000 were filed yesterday. Among these was a Chinese demand for $409.50 for jewelry. The claimant alleges that the jewelry was locked up in his house when the latter was fumigated by the board of health, and that when the building was opened afterwards the jewels were gone.

Arthur E. Larimer, educational secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, who returned to Honolulu July 2 from a four-months' tour of the world, will give an account of his experiences in Japan in Cooke hall, Y. M. C. A. building, Thursday evening, as one of the series of Thursday night lectures now being conducted by the association. These lectures are free to all members of the association and such men as they care to bring as their guests.

PARKER ESTATE RELEASES LAND

The sum of $10,563 was realized by the territory in the sale by Land Commissioner Joshua Tucker at noon today of seven land leases on the Big Island to A. W. Carter, trustee for the Parker estate. The lands have been held by the Parker ranch on former leases, all of which expired July 1. The new leases are for a term of fifteen years, dating from July 1, 1913.

The tracts re-leased are: Honokaiia, 3747 acres, upset $936.75, sold $940; Kalopa, 7440 acres, upset $1490, sold for $1491; Pookapu, 11,900 acres, upset $3178, sold for $3180; Lahalo, 14,140 acres, upset $2,260.50, sold for $2270; Kawaihae, 9630 acres, upset $1955, sold for $1956; Pauahi, 600 acres, upset $242.50, sold for $243; Momoialoa, 430 acres, upset $182.50, sold for $183.

say that Hartman declares he is not a bigamist, and that he has left his wife in California well provided for. Of these things the couple would say nothing this morning.

This morning she sat on his lap, and as she talked to him she patted his cheek and affirmed that she knew the report that he had another wife, whom he deserted, was untrue. Though the message upon which the physician was arrested did not disclose the charge against Hartman, other than that he was wanted for a felony, information received from San Jose was to the effect that he had deserted a wife and child there, and was to be taken back to face a criminal charge upon that ground.

When Hartman was arrested he refused to make any statement, and he largely maintained the same reserve this morning when he was seen with the young woman at the city and county jail. When he was asked if it was true that he had a wife on the mainland, he refused to answer, but the woman on his lap replied:

"It is not true; it is a horrible lie. Why, it would be impossible for it to be true. Am I not right, dear? Does he not ask foolish questions? Tell him it is all a lie!"

But the physician kept his peace. When he did not answer she broke out in a hysterical laugh, put her arms around his neck, laughing and crying at once. Her trained nurse, who sat on the lanai, heard her, and turned nervously with a worried expression. During the night the nurse had stayed by the side of the woman, who has fainted many times since the arrest of her supposed husband.

When the woman recovered, her manner had changed, and where before there was something of a plea in her voice, there was now sarcasm. The physician's mood was similar. Together, in sarcastic accord, the interview passed, and when it was over both seemed quite pleased with the feat.

"I have too many troubles," at last sighed the doctor, "to think of filling a paper."

The cablegram upon which Dr. Hartman was arrested states that an officer from San Jose is on his way with extradition papers. Whether the woman will accompany him back, cannot be learned.

The charge to be put against the prisoner, according to the opinion of local police, is either bigamy or desertion. As the present Mrs. Hartman has declared that she is the wife of the man, it seems likely that the former accusation will be made. This belief is strengthened by the fact that desertion of a wife or child in California is made either a misdemeanor or felony, to be determined after judgment, and not before. There is therefore a question of whether under such a statute a requisition would issue.

A 17-year-old stenographer of Joliet, Ill., though "falling out" of love with her fiancé, refused to give up the ring, claiming that time wasted during six months' courtship was worth $150.

Never attempt to bear more than one kind of trouble at once. Some people bear three kinds—all they have had, all they have now, and all they expect to have.—Edward Everett Hale.

PARTY MERGER IMPOSSIBLE

A recent conference of Progressives in Rhode Island has decided, and with wisdom, that under no circumstances will the party consent to the proposed merger plan, or any merger plan, with the Republican party.

The Progressive party and the Republican party are in harmony on many issues, but there is this important difference in general policy,—that the Progressives have declared their great crusade is for recognition of human rights before property rights, of human welfare before industrial profits, while with the Republican party that is but one of many features. The Republican party is not yet purged of its old-time politicians who subordinated the workers to the occupation. And until it definitely rids itself of the selfish interests that have controlled Republican legislation in state and nation, it will largely mark time while the young Progressive party, giving new emphasis to old issues, and new meaning to old catch-words, will advance.

MAKE EVERY DOLLAR COUNT

The territorial administration is taking wise precautions in emphasizing to the heads of departments the wisdom of strict economy during the next few months.

No emergency exists, nor is there anything deeply alarming in the situation, but the trend of affairs financial in the United States is a powerful argument why Hawaii should keep a considerable amount of cash on hand. Money in the territory is somewhat "tight" now and will be tighter if the territorial officials make a heavy drain on the treasury and deposit accounts, for the deposit account particularly has a direct bearing on the ability of the banks to carry on their ordinary commercial business. At the present time there is a considerable sum on deposit in Hawaii's banks which may be conserved under a policy of strict economy and of making not one cent's expenditure that is not demanded. By following such a policy, the territorial administration may be of unique benefit to the people in general.

Governor Frear's "cabinet conference" of yesterday,—the second of the kind, it is said, during his term,—should not be the basis for alarm. It was held to bring home to the various department heads the absolute necessity for guarding their expenditures and for putting the territory in a position to meet without fear the expected drop in income tax receipts.

There is some talk of an extra session of the legislature, but the Star-Bulletin does not believe an extra session will be advisable or necessary if the territory's officials adhere to the line of economy marked out.

LIMITED JAPANESE NATURALIZATION

Dr. Sidney L. Gulick's remarks on the "Japanese question" as raised by the recent passage of an anti-alien land ownership bill in California, indicate that he has given much study to the subject. They indicate, moreover, that he is in sympathy with an interpretation of "the brotherhood of man" in its broadest sense, in a sense of true Christianity. He does not, however, in his suggestion for dealing with the question, take into account all the factors.

Dr. Gulick favors limited naturalization for Japanese who come to America. Apparently he does not approve the naturalization of the coolie class, but only of the educated classes. He thinks that the uneducated Japanese who enter the United States are, largely because of their lack of education, forced to work in gangs and inevitably tend to communize, and that this state of affairs makes against assimilability. He would make considerable knowledge of the English language a prerequisite for naturalization.

Two factors would, it seems to us, work against the success of such a plan. The first is that to carry it out, the United States would have to discriminate not only between classes of Japanese immigrants but between immigrant races. The history of immigrant legislation of the past few years indicates that the United States is averse to imposing any kind of a "literacy test" on those aliens who come to our shores. The latest immigration bill does not provide a literacy test. To allow European immigrants, for instance, to enter the United States without the imposition of such a test, and to require Japanese immigrants to take the test, would raise a point of discrimination quite as important as that raised in California. Japan would argue, and with some justice, that if uneducated Europeans are allowed to enter the United States, and uneducated Japanese are not, Uncle Sam is tacitly declaring the Japanese inferior to the Europeans.

The second factor arises from the recognized condition that it is the coolie class, the uneducated class, and not the student, merchant and travelling classes, that has brought about the land-ownership controversy.

To refuse naturalization in the future to the coolie class will not solve the present question, which arose from the realization of California that she has an alien land-holding population active in her midst. The United States cannot enter consideration of the naturalization question along the lines proposed by Dr. Gulick until it has settled this land-ownership controversy. Japan's recent notes to the United States indicate that Japan is not satisfied with Uncle Sam's answer to the protests made through Ambassador Chinda.

Hence it should be clear that discussion of Japanese naturalization which involves a distinction between classes of immigrants must be preceded by a settlement of the question of what the United States is going to do with the Japanese who already own or lease lands in California and elsewhere.

Press reports received during the last few days, give an idea of the confusion of the Balkan fighting. One detachment of Servians fell afoul of the Greek forces, though originally Greeks and Serbs combined against the Bulgarians. It is evident that Bulgaria hopes to make the campaign short and decisive, and is willing to sacrifice any number of men to gain an important advantage in Macedonia.

Mayor Fern has gone into the Aloha Aina's "snake-box" because he reappointed Charles H. Thurston chief of the fire department. It is to be hoped that L. L. McCandless, the controlling power in the Hawaiian paper, doesn't really stand for this kind of political mud-slinging.

The indignation over the cutting of the library trees will hardly be quieted by the announcement that twenty years from now there will be other trees growing on the site.

According to returning members of the Stanford baseball team, the only "Japanese question" they found in their recent tour of Nippon was the size of the score.

Does Hawaii want a visit from Secretary of the Navy Daniels? Then why not ask him to come? He will be on the Coast the latter part of this month.

Impersonating an officer is not a crime, because no law exists on the subject. Up to the present nobody has wanted to be taken for a congressman.

Judging from that $30,000,000 Pittsburg collapse, the secretary of the treasury may as well place some of that $500,000,000 on the counter.

Governor Estill of North Nicaragua started a revolution after losing his job. Too bad no such opportunity is afforded in Hawaii.

The next Hawaiian census should include an enumeration of the various Democratic factions.

SYDNEY R. JORDAN—It looks as if Honolulu will be a mecca for an increased tourist travel during the coming year. A tourist bureau of San Francisco plans to send from 200 to 250 tourists here each month during the winter months and a party of 200 or more Elks will visit the city during next year's floral parade and carnival.

CHINESE PLAN TO PARTICIPATE IN FAIR

Word from Peking which has made the Chinese of this city rejoice has been received telling of the request which will be made to the Chinese government for an appropriation of $3,000,000 for the Chinese participation in the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The information came with the announcement of the opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition preparatory bureau in Peking, where the work of directing China's interest in the exposition will be carried on. The request for the large appropriation was formally made by Senator Tong King Chong, who presented a bill in the parliament calling for $3,000,000 to be set aside for exposition purposes. Efforts are to be made to secure a larger site for the Celestial exhibit.

"The exposition is going to be a great undertaking, and one which will be of world-wide interest. From those buildings which are now in course of construction, I take it that the fair will be one of the most impressive of its kind ever held. The buildings are massive and cover a large area of ground and are of wonderful architecture. It will be a wonderful exhibition and one which none should fail to see. As yet the work has not been commenced upon the state and territory buildings, and this will give the Hawaii fair commission ample time in which to decide upon definite plans for local representation.

"The advertising which Hawaii is receiving on the mainland is more extensive and of a better quality. We have received splendid co-operation from steamship and railroad lines as well as private concerns, all of whom seem willing to lend a hand and help place the islands before the traveling public. We have secured a most desirable location in San Francisco for the branch of the local promotion committee. It is situated in a building on O'Farrell street opposite the Orpheum theater and is in the very heart of the shopping district. It will be next to a large theater which is now in the process of construction and two windows will face the street and two others on the lobby of the theater. I expect to return to the coast in November and at that time open two office and install a secretary there who will handle all business. In the meantime I will busy myself with matters pertaining to the local office."

Business has very largely adjusted itself, he says, to the new schedules...

"Politics," he continues, "has ceased to be an important influence in the market, and there are signs that the administration is anxious to avoid any unnecessary disturbance to business."

The approach of the independence holidays, when business will be suspended for three days, will tend to restrain new commitments upon the long side.

On the other hand, the improving monetary position at home and abroad and the continuance of good crop prospects should serve to sustain values.

Next week the mid-year disbursements will be available and these will be exceptionally heavy, fully $10,000,000 greater than a year ago.

The HILO RAILROAD COMPANY

Has Finished Its Extension from Hilo to Hamakua

The track runs along the top of the bluff for 34 miles; but it is no "bluff" when we claim that it presents some of the most spectacular scenery in Hawaii.

It crosses 207 gulches over fills up to 120 feet high—sixteen steel bridges over 400 and up to 1006 feet long and from 90 to 230 feet high—thru tunnels up to 2860 feet long—thru cuts up to 70 feet deep, and in one place

Runs for 4000 Feet Along the Face of a Precipice descending sheer 200 feet into blue ocean. You never saw anything like it.

WE WANT YOU TO SEE ALL THIS FOR YOURSELF and have arranged with the HENRY WATERHOUSE TRUST CO. to tell you all about it and the summer cut-rate, round-trip ticket which we are issuing.

HILO RAILROAD COMPANY

COLUMBIA DRY BATTERIES

Many of the big departments at Washington, the Army, the Navy and Isthmian Canal Commission, use "COLUMBIA" No. 2.

Uncle Sam thinks so much of "Columbia" that it is used on all his battleships.

You, too, can enjoy its long life and dependability by saying "Columbia No. 2" to your dealer instead of merely "battery."

WILLET & GRAY'S LATEST SUGAR REPORT

Willet & Gray's Sugar Journal for June 26 says:

Cuba.—The six principal ports: Receipts, 7,000 tons; exports, 30,000 tons; stock, 554,000 tons.

Centrals grinding 22, against 29 last week, 23 last year and 8 in 1911.

Receipts entire island 24,000 tons, against 34,000 tons last week, 18,000 tons last year and 10,000 tons in 1911.

Stocks in the United States and Cuba together of 1,024,571 tons, against 1,049,474 tons last week and 662,279 tons from last year.

Europe.—Stock in Europe, 2,226,000 tons, against 1,576,000 tons last year.

Visible Supply.—Total stock of Europe and America, 3,250,571 tons, against 2,236,279 tons last year at the same uneven dates. The increase of stock is 1,014,292 tons against an increase of 957,607 tons last week. Total stocks of alofts together show a visible supply of 3,411,571 tons against 2,386,279 tons last year, or an increase of 1,025,292 tons.

Raw.—The quotation for Cuba centrifugals, 96° test, advanced 3c per 100 lbs. to 2c c. & f., equal to 3.36c per lb. duty paid.

Moderate sales were made on this basis for prompt and early July shipments, and a 2 1/2c c. & f. (3.39c) for the second half July shipment.

The inspiration to pay this slight advance came from an improved demand for the refined product.

Now it would seem under all the evidence in sight that a further slow upward trend to the market can be expected for some months to come. The Cuba crop report brings the production to such high amount that we find it practicable to revise our crop estimate intelligently, which we do herewith, to 2,375,000 tons, against 1,895,984 tons last year, an increase of 479,016 tons.

Notwithstanding this large increase in the Cuban crop, we find it necessary to revise our previous expectation that no full duty sugar will be required to complete the consumption of the year.

From the table herewith it is shown that such full-duty sugar may amount to 48,000 tons, not a large quantity, and only required because of the large exports from the Cuba crop to Europe, Canada and Vancouver, made possible by reason of Cuban prices falling enough below the world's price at Hamburg as to induce such importations.

The increase in the foreign demand for Cuba sugar this season is about 125,000 tons over that of last year, but if a good part of this quantity is diverted to the United States instead, or returned from Europe, we will not require any full-duty sugar this year.

European markets have a downward trend, declining 1 1/4d. for the week to 9s. 3d. for June beets, on favorable conditions as a whole, although somewhat dry in some sections, but 9s. 3d. for beet is equal to 63c. above our market for 96° test centrifugals.

We publish herewith our estimate of the United States domestic beet sowings for this season's crop, showing a total of 647,506 acres, an increase of 2.94 per cent. over those of last year, and indicating a possible yield of 640,000 tons of sugar, against last year's crop of 624,064 tons, the largest on record. The tariff agitation began too late to materially affect this year's sowings. The new crop sugar will begin to come on the market in July from California.

Atlantic Ports receipts for week are 77,010 tons, of which 11,126 tons Porto Rico and 7,152 tons Hawaii are free duty sugar. Meltings are unchanged and stock increases 19,010 tons.

At the close there are buyers for all offerings at current quotations, while sellers are inclined to ask 1-32c. advance.

Porto Rico Centrifugals were sold today at 3.26c for 96 deg. test, the full equivalent of Cuban sugar, because of the probable delay in making the new tariff effective.

The last sale to Europe was made this week at 133c f. o. b. Cuba for balance cargo for July loading; the demand from Europe seems to be satisfied for the present, but there are still some 50,000 to 75,000 tons of previous purchases to be shipped.

The outturn of the Cuba crop continuing to prove beyond all expectation, we find it necessary to increase our estimate.

The visible production to date is 2,171,759 tons, and if we add the same quantity as was produced last year after this date, say 154,000 tons (there being about the same number of Centrals grinding) and allow for some 50,000 tons excess of stocks held on plantations, we may reasonably expect a total production this season of 2,375,000 tons, which is now our estimate, against last year's crop of 1,895,984 tons.

NO ARMY EXTENSION IN KOREA.

(Special Cable to Nippu Jiji.)

TOKIO, July 7.—The army extension plan which proposes to establish in Korea two additional Japanese army divisions will be omitted from the budget for next year. The decision was reached by the government after a lengthy discussion and study of the situation.

The plan was an actual motive of the political disturbances in the Japanese capital a few months ago when the Saionji and Katsura cabinets were forced out of office in rapid succession. Count Admiral Gomei Yamamoto's present administration now decides not to carry out the plan for the coming year.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." JOHN J. LARSA, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARKER, M. D., New York City.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." EDWARD PARKER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria holds the crown of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments." J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

SUFFERED AWFUL PAINS

For Sixteen Years. Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moretown, Vermont.—"I was troubled with pains and irregularities for sixteen years, and I was thin, weak and nervous. When I would lie down it would seem as if I was going right down out of sight into some dark hole, and the window curtains had faces that would peek out at me, and when I was out of doors it would seem as if something was going to happen. My blood was poor, my circulation was so bad I would be like a dead person at times. I had female weakness badly, my abdomen was sore and I had awful pains.

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash and they certainly did wonders for me. My troubles disappeared and I am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. W. F. SAWYER, River View Farm, Moretown, Vermont.

Another Case. Gifford, Iowa.—"I was troubled with female weakness, also with displacement. I had very severe and steady headache, also pain in back and was very thin and tired all the time. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am cured of these troubles. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. INA MILL-SLADGE, Gifford, Iowa.

TRIO OF FILIPINOS PAYS DEATH PENALTY FOR BRUTAL MURDERS

Air of Bravado Is Carried to Scaffold by Each of the Doomed Men

church, said 'God have mercy on your soul,' the trap being sprung immediately following the utterance.

Father Valentin and Rev. R. E. Smith were at the prison early this morning and remained with and consoled the doomed men until the minute of their execution. Rev. Smith lightly touching Rodrigues on the shoulder and stopping his outburst on the scaffold.

Immediately following the execution the bodies were removed to Makiki cemetery, where the three were interred in one grave that had been prepared yesterday, in the section allotted to the prison authorities.

Sheriff Henry had taken the precaution of removing all Filipino prisoners from that section of the prison yard in which the execution took place. Following the death of the Filipinos Chinese residents of Honolulu, who had watched keenly the trial and conviction of the murderers of their fellow-countryman—who was affiliated with a number of Chinese secret societies—offered from $2 to $5 for pieces of the rope with which the men had been hanged.

Says Example Good One. High Sheriff William Henry, with a corps of prison attaches, who were present about 100 persons, including members of the jury which convicted the trio, physicians, police officials, representatives of the press and a number of politicians.

Following the execution, Sheriff Henry stated that this was the twentieth execution at which he has officiated during his 15-year tenure in office, and that the record time for dispatching a man with the noose was 5 minutes. Also, this is the second triple execution during Sheriff Henry's time. He said: "It is a most regrettable fact that we are compelled to take such stringent measures in order to keep down crime—especially murders. However, there seems to be no alternative, and my firm belief is that the hanging is not to seek revenge but for the good effect that it will have in minimizing crime in the future. I am confident that today's executions will go a long way towards holding back the Filipinos from such blood-thirsty deeds in the future."

"I make this statement advisedly for the reason that at the former triple hanging, May 23, 1906, at which time three Koreans were executed, an example was made of the Koreans and since that time I do not recollect a single murder or particularly vicious crime having been traced to the Korean colony.

"No statement was made by either of the condemned men during the last few hours of their life." People who witnessed the triple hanging in Oahu prison yard today declared that three more concerned men never stepped upon the gallows here. Rodrigues alone, said by those who have talked with him to be the most intelligent of the trio, began to weaken as he stood waiting for the noose to be adjusted. He was very pale as the black cap was put over his face. Even then, however, he smiled as he took his last look at the crowd. He spoke a few quiet words to Manigbas and then, in a loud voice, cried out that he was being "sent from this territory and from Honolulu" for the killing of a man by accident.

The police officers say that the same unconcerned demeanor has been shown by the men throughout. When they were first caught and taken to the police station for examination, they talked lightly and carelessly of the murders, each admitting some part in the preliminaries, but blaming the actual killing upon one of the others.

Every person who talked with the murderers during their last hours agrees that there was no breaking down and no confession, although in one way or another the men had previously admitted most of the details of the crime. Manigbas and Bautista, it was stated this morning, seemed so densely ignorant as scarcely to realize what they had done, the enormity of the crime, but Rodrigues understood its seriousness.

Hildo Bautista, Miguel Manigbas and Domingo Rodrigues, executed today for the murder of Mue Kum Yee and his wife.

Crime Atrocious One

The crime for which the three Filipinos, this morning, paid the death penalty was one of the most atrocious in the annals of the police department.

On the morning of May 1 the bodies of Mue Kum Yee and his handsome young wife, Lam See, were discovered almost covered in their own blood in the store in which the Chinese had conducted a general merchandise business at Kahauiki, just outside Fort Street, for a number of years.

Each body was frightfully mutilated, the throats being cut and the bodies literally covered with wounds, believed, at the time, to have been inflicted with a blunt instrument. The breast and shoulders of the young woman, who was barely 20 years of age, were cut and gashed as though with a rough knife blade or a chisel. A rifled cash drawer, carelessly thrown upon the counter, and a safe that had been opened by an amateur crackman, told plainly the motive of the murderer or murderers.

From the brutality displayed by the murderers the police at once evolved the theory that it was the work of Orientals and with this idea in mind and the photographs of blood-stained footprints with which the little store was covered the department started on what looked like an almost impossible task of bringing to justice the perpetrators of the fiendish crime.

Men Are Arrested

The day following the discovery of the dead Chinese and his wife Chief of Detectives McDuffie placed, under arrest Domingo Rodrigues, who was reported to have been seen washing a blood-stained sweater in the bathroom of a Hotel street rooming house. The result was the search of the room that had been occupied by Domingo, and the discovery of the sweater and a pair of tan shoes, all bearing evidences of bloodstains that effort had been made to erase. A minute microscopic investigation led to the conclusion that this was human blood.

The arrest of other Filipinos followed in quick succession, also the discovery of a revolver, stolen from a Chinese store, where it had been hidden by Domingo Rodrigues.

Rodrigues, according to the story related to the police when he was first placed under arrest, was forced to join the murder quartet at the point of a revolver. In the confession of the crime, made May 6, he denied that he had any part in the killing of the Chinese and his wife, stoutly maintaining that he alone of the quartet was unarmed. One dollar in coin and the revolver he declared to be his share of the loot that had been secured at the cost of two lives.

Confessions Are Made

The confession of Rodrigues was followed by one from Celestino Manalo, two days later. Each confession placed the brunt of the responsibility for the double murder on the shoulders of Hildo Bautista. The other Filipino under arrest at this time was Miguel Manigbas.

Manigbas, on May 12, admitted being a party to the murders, notwithstanding the fact that, previously, he had denied any participation in the crime. He had steadfastly maintained this attitude, notwithstanding the fact that the original confessor, Rodrigues, had implicated him in the crime.

On the same date Manalo made a further confession in which he fastened upon Rodrigues the entire responsibility for both murders. He further stated that, during the confinement of the quartet in the city bastille, Rodrigues had threatened his (Manalo's) life, unless the latter made a confession that would, at least, partially clear the former.

On May 20 two indictments were returned against Bautista, Rodrigues, Manigbas and Manalo, charging them with murder in the first degree. On May 22 they were arraigned before Judge Robinson and the indictments read and translated to them. On May 26 three of the accused men entered pleas of not guilty, Manalo reserving his plea until the morning of June 2, on which date he entered a plea of guilty and threw himself on the mercy of the court, practically admitting that he would turn "state's evidence," whereby he secured a reduction in the charge against him to that of murder in the second degree.

Attacks Fellow-Prisoner

Rodrigues, Bautista and Manigbas were placed on trial together and on June 10, after less than three minutes deliberation, a jury returned a verdict of "guilty as charged." On June 14 Judge Robinson passed sentence. The three who had been found guilty of murder in the first degree were sentenced to death, while Manalo, whose plea of guilty had saved the territory the trouble and expense of prosecution, was sentenced to hard labor for not less than 20 years. This means a life sentence, unless a pardon is forthcoming.

While the men sentenced to the severest penalty allowed by law, "a life for a life," stood up bravely under the sentence and laughed and joked about their impending fate for a few hours after being sentenced, they became morbid and eventually broke down to a considerable extent following their removal to the Oahu prison.

While in the prison, awaiting the date set by Governor Frear for the payment of the penalty for their crimes Rodrigues attacked a Japanese prisoner with a pail cover and rendered him unconscious. Previously, while confined in the city prison, he had made a like attack on a fellow prisoner. The second attempt to kill a prisoner, however, resulted in a curtailment of the liberties of all of the prisoners, owing to the fact that it was believed the attack was made as part of a concerted plot to attempt to break jail.

The first money collected by the government under the new treasury ruling will be $100,000 to be paid by national banks as interest for one month on federal deposits.

PUNAHOU TAKE ODD GAME AND ANNEX SERIES

Snappy Ball-playing Gives Castle's Players Victory Over St. Louis Alumni at Moiliili

As was the case a week ago, one very bad inning spelled defeat for the St. Louis Alumni team yesterday, the Punahou amateurs chasing enough men across the plate in a single frame to clinch the game, in spite of a ninth inning rally by the under dogs, which for a moment gave them an outside chance of pulling the contest out of the fire.

The Punahou played better ball than their opponents, and were entitled on their performance to the long end of the score. A good many errors were chalked up against them, but most of them were hard chances.

Castle was more effective in the box than Barney Joy, and on the whole he received better support. In fielding and base running the Puns showed more pep than the Saints, and altogether the three-game series has shown the former to be the better team, in spite of the fast professional reputations of the St. Louis players. If the three games played give a true line on relative merit, the Punahou Athletic Club has a better chance of winning from Stanford than has the St. Louis organization.

The game was won and lost in the third, when five hits, two of them for extra sacks, coupled with a brace of errors, put six Punahou men across the rubber. After that it was a matter of time before the Puns would weaken perceptibly in the final frame, letting in two runs by two successive wild throws, and being touched for three safe hits, sharp fielding put the extinguisher on St. Louis' hopes, a snappy double play ending the inning and the game.

There was no scoring for either side in the first two innings, but in the third Schuman opened with a safe hit, and Castle sacrificed him with a bunt toward third. Brown was safe on an error, and Billy Hoogs cleaned up with a two-bagger. C. Hoogs beat out a bunt, and stole second, and Rogers, who followed with a timely double to left, drove in a brace of runs. A passed ball put him on third, and Nowell was given life on a fielder's choice, although the throw to the plate failed to get Rogers, the big fellow bowling Heinie Raphael over before the latter could get the ball on him. Sumner fanned, but had to be thrown out at the base, advancing Nowell, who scored a moment later on Henshaw's hit. Schuman, up for the second time that inning, was thrown out, short to first.

Two long hits drove another run across in the fifth, thus ending the scoring for the Punahous. In the Saints' half of the third a couple of hits and two errors netted a run, and in the fifth two more were scored, when C. Moriama got life on short's error, and Hampton drove a ball that went right between Nowell's legs, traveling to the outfield before it was recovered. Akana hit, scoring Hampton, but Barney Joy ended the frame by hitting into a double play, unassisted, by Nowell.

BANNER CROWD SEES RACING

A varied program of sports embraced everything from baseball to horse racing furnished entertainment for the thousands of persons who gathered at Kapiolani Park yesterday afternoon to make the opening of the Fourth of July holiday season. Immediately after the patriotic exercises, a rapid trier race was put into operation from that time on.

There was no scoring for either side in the first two innings, but in the third Schuman opened with a safe hit, and Castle sacrificed him with a bunt toward third. Brown was safe on an error, and Billy Hoogs cleaned up with a two-bagger. C. Hoogs beat out a bunt, and stole second, and Rogers, who followed with a timely double to left, drove in a brace of runs.

Akana hit, scoring Hampton, but Barney Joy ended the frame by hitting into a double play, unassisted, by Nowell.

The real struggle came in the last half of the ninth. With a four-run lead the Punahous looked like safe winners, but Fernandez drove out a sharp single to left, and T. Moriama followed with one to center. Castle cut loose a wild pitch, advancing the men, and then repeated, Fernandez scoring. C. Moriama came through with a two-bagger to left, and with only one man gone it looked as though the Saints might drive enough runs across to tie or win. However,

RICHELIE SHOWS HIS REAL CLASS

As was generally expected, Duke Kahanamoku made a clean sweep of the events in which he started yesterday, in the big swimming meet at San Francisco. He finished first in the quarter mile race, and that at the close of the first day, the Hul Nalu led all other clubs by 8 points.

Round One—Ritchie, as soon as the gong sounded, started aggressively, hitting three uppercuts to the jaw before Rivers could get in a blow. Rivers then retaliated with a series of hooks to the jaw, evening up the round.

Round Two—Rivers opened the second round in whirlwind fashion, sending a series of fierce hooks to the jaw and face, drawing first blood. Ritchie drove his rights across, staggering Rivers, but the latter came back at Rivers' round.

Round Three—Rivers sprang at Ritchie at the tap of the gong, feverish and aggressive, carrying the fight to the ropes and landing a series of punches to both face and body. This was plainly worried. This round Rivers' round.

Round Four—This round was all Rivers' round, who punished Ritchie severely, hitting body blows that made Ritchie wince. At the conclusion of the round Rivers whipped across a right that staggered the champion.

Round Five—Ritchie came back at beginning strong, his rally surging Rivers. He landed repeatedly his right, swinging to the jaw. Rivers around the ring and fourth rows of delight and cheers his backers. This was Ritchie's round.

As was generally expected, Duke Kahanamoku made a clean sweep of the events in which he started yesterday, in the big swimming meet at San Francisco. He finished first in the quarter mile race, and that at the close of the first day, the Hul Nalu led all other clubs by 8 points.

Round One—Ritchie, as soon as the gong sounded, started aggressively, hitting three uppercuts to the jaw before Rivers could get in a blow. Rivers then retaliated with a series of hooks to the jaw, evening up the round.

Round Two—Rivers opened the second round in whirlwind fashion, sending a series of fierce hooks to the jaw and face, drawing first blood. Ritchie drove his rights across, staggering Rivers, but the latter came back at Rivers' round.

Round Three—Rivers sprang at Ritchie at the tap of the gong, feverish and aggressive, carrying the fight to the ropes and landing a series of punches to both face and body. This was plainly worried. This round Rivers' round.

Round Four—This round was all Rivers' round, who punished Ritchie severely, hitting body blows that made Ritchie wince. At the conclusion of the round Rivers whipped across a right that staggered the champion.

Round Five—Ritchie came back at beginning strong, his rally surging Rivers. He landed repeatedly his right, swinging to the jaw. Rivers around the ring and fourth rows of delight and cheers his backers. This was Ritchie's round.

Round Six—Ritchie came up strong for met Rivers' rushes squarely, giving blow for blow and outboxing and generaling the Mexican. Ritchie held himself cooler, and cleverer than his opponent, but had to keep on defensive throughout. Rivers is going furiously and rushing the

BIG CROWD WILL GO TO SCHOFIELD FOR FLIGHTS TOMORROW

Tomorrow at 2 p. m. is the time; from past performances Tom should offer some attractions that are way above the ordinary. The only Chinese aviator in the world, he has a record for sky devilry that is hard to equal and as a farewell exhibition on American soil, prior to taking up his duties as head of the aviation corps of the army of the Chinese republic, he promises to extend himself to the limit.

A special dispatch to the Star-Bulletin, from W. T. Rawlins, states that Frederick Wilhelm collapsed in the quarter mile race, and that at the close of the first day, the Hul Nalu led all other clubs by 8 points.

It is considered a little odd by a number of local swimming critics that Wilhelm was entered in the quarter mile race, and that he was to put so young a swimmer into a gruelling race as the 440 looks like an error of judgment.

A San Francisco special to the morning paper gives the results of yesterday's swim as follows: Fifty-yard—Duke Kahanamoku, Hul Nalu, first; Nixon, unattached, second; G. Cunha, Healan, third. Time, 24 1-5. This establishes a new coast record.

440-yard—Duke Kahanamoku, Hul Nalu, first; Lady Langor, Redondo, second; Benton, San Francisco Y. M. C. A., third. Time 5:41; a new coast record.

220-yard—Duke Kahanamoku, Hul Nalu, first; Smith, unattached, second; Johnson, San Francisco Y. M. C. A., third. Time, 2:29, a new coast record.

Fifty-yard breast stroke—C. De Villieton, San Francisco Y. M. C. A., first; Johnson, Olympic Club, second; Brandenstein, third. Time, 36 1-5, a new American record.

Fifty-yard, boys under thirteen—Frank Cheney, U. S. Club, first; Ray Kegeris, Redondo, second; J. Imhof, U. S. Club, third; time 35 1-5.

Fifty-yard juvenile championship under sixteen—Dead heat between Fred Huntington and R. Neergard, San Francisco Y. M. C. A., Walter Ray, O. Y. N. C. A., third. Time, 31 1-5. Dead heat ordered reswim today.

High diving—Bows, Redondo, 104 points; Bond, Olympic, 94, second; Beck, San Francisco Y. M. C. A., 87, third.

SCHOFIELD LEAGUE BATTERS ARE HITTING BALL TO GOOD PURPOSE

(Special Correspondence, Star-Bulletin.)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, July 5.—Hollingsworth of the Twenty-fifth still leads the batters of the Schofield Barracks League with a safe margin, but Curran, First Field Artillery, who has been close second all the season, has traced the past week by "Harry" Gray of the same team. While the Twenty-fifth's third baseman, who has played but seven games, looks like the most dangerous contender the League leaders need to fear, and the Sunday will complete the first half of the season.

On the records of the teams, the hard-hitting Artillery team, although they are third in the league, have posed out second place in batting honors. The games to be played today and Sunday will complete the first half of the season.

Fourth Cavalry was so promising that had he remained in the team he unquestionably would have figured. Smock, Fourth Cavalry, leads in stolen bases and with Thomas of the Twenty-fifth leading for the states the lead, with ease.

[Associated Press Cable] WIMBLEDON, England, July 5.—Champion A. F. Wilding of New Zealand retained the All-England tennis title yesterday by defeating Maurice McLaughlin, the brilliant young American, in three hard-fought straight sets, 5-6, 6-3, 10-8. Wilding was stronger and more accurate.

The British doubles champions defeated the German team today, 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

FIAT CAR WINS ROAD RACE IN CALIFORNIA

[Associated Press Cable] SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 5.—F. Verbeck in a Fiat car won the Los Angeles road race yesterday, doing 432 1/2 miles in 11 hours 1 minute 16 seconds. Barney Oldfield in a Fiat was second and Soules in a Cadillac third. The race was from Los Angeles to Sacramento and was closely contested.

SAN DIEGO CREW WINS BOAT RACE

[Associated Press Cable] SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 5.—The San Diego four won the Coast rowing championship in yesterday's regatta. No. 2 was last.

ROUND TREE WINS FROM HILO LION

[Associated Press Cable] HILO, July 4.—"Bud" Roundtree, the soldier scrapper from Honolulu, won from Ben De Melo in the eleventh round of their fight here this afternoon. The mill ended in wild excitement, De Mello claiming that the knockout blow was foul, and then contending that the bell rang before the count of ten, but the decision was rightly given to the soldier.

Roundtree forced the fighting from start to finish, the mill being the best seen in Hilo for a long time. Every-one was well satisfied with the exhibition, and a big crowd turned out for it. Roundtree did most damage to the Portuguese jab, which bothered the new stunt was tried as to officials, as there was some trouble in securing a referee satisfactory to both men. R. S. Grey therefore acted inside the ropes with Kellner, Austin and Young for ringside judges. This arrangement worked well.

PUNAHOU ANNEX SERIES

Hughes, who replaced Hampton when the latter hurt his thumb, wasn't equal to the occasion, popping up a fly to Nowell, who tossed to Hoogs before Chinito could get back to second, ending the game.

It was a good contest to watch, and by no means the lay-down that games usually turn out to be when one side gets an overwhelming lead early in the game. The Saints fought all the way, and had they been able to scare up a pinch hitter in the ninth, or had Hampton been able to play the game through, they might have turned defeat into victory. The Punahou show, the new first baseman, is a jim dandy, handling himself like a big leaguer. He made 12 putouts yesterday without an error, and some of the chances were hard. Cyril Hoogs was filling in at short, and it seemed a pity to change a cracker-jack outfielder to a strange position, but with Hitchcock out of town, the shift had to be made. With Hitchcock on short and C. Hoogs in right, the probable line-up for the games against Stanford, the Punahou will be a formidable aggregation.

Barney Joy used a slow ball frequently yesterday, and the opposition found it very juicy. Had the big fellow burned them across more often, he might have cut down the hits. As it was, Barney had nine strike-outs to his credit, as against three for Castle. The latter pitched a heady game, and by keeping his shoots close in, and mixing up his curves, kept the hits well scattered, except in the third and ninth.

Bill Hampton was put out of commission in the sixth, when an ugly twisting fly laid open his right thumb. He had to retire, and as he had been reaching first with considerable regularity, his loss at bat was a severe one.

A nice crowd journeyed to Moiliili to see the game, and this series prior to the Stanford games has evidently done much to popularize the ball grounds.

fight up to the last second of the round. This round was even.

Round Seven—This round was almost a repetition of the sixth, with Rivers rushing and the champion blocking coolly and cleverly. Rivers is trying to give the champion something to reduce his steam, but Ritchie seems too clever and the round closed even.

Round Eight—Ritchie assumed the aggressive at the commencement and thrice drew blood, landing squarely on Rivers' mouth. The blows told, and Rivers swung wildly, falling to land. This was Ritchie's round.

Round Nine—This round opened with an exchange of rights and lefts to the jaw, both landing and both taking punishment. The fighters are slowing down, but neither shows any evidence of quitting. This round was even.

HUMANE SOCIETY IN SPECIAL SESSION

Meetings in special session on the roof garden of the Young Hotel Thursday, the Hawaiian Humane Society passed upon a set of resolutions in memory of the late Miss Rose Davison who had until her death been special officer of the society since its organization four years ago. A committee consisting of Mrs. S. M. Damon, chairman; Mrs. George Potter and John C. Anderson drafted the resolutions, a copy of which will be spread upon the minutes of the meeting and another engrossed and sent to the family of the woman who was known to all through her kindly deeds in behalf of children and dumb animals. The society is also planning to erect a tombstone over the grave of Miss Davison.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Mrs. L. L. McCandless, one of the most active members of the organization, being present after an absence of several weeks. Reports of the humane work accomplished during the month were presented by Miss Lucy Ward and J. C. Anderson, humane officers. Mr. Anderson, who besides being humane officer has been appointed one of the dance hall inspectors, stated yesterday that during a recent inspection of the notorious Kukui street dance hall he had found that a number of women from Honolulu's underworld have been frequenting the hall of late and mingling with the dancers. He brought forth that, while the hall was known to be a trap for innocent young girls that the additional menace of redlight denizens should be done away with, and urged the society to take immediate steps along this line. The matter will be referred to the police, who will be requested to warn these women to stay away from the hall.

antics of the participants served to bring forth roars of laughter from the crowd. Ah Tin Chuck and Charles Hong hopped over the tape first and were pronounced the winners, while Hung Lum Choy and Willie Lane brought up second. The international relay race was perhaps the feature of the track events. Boys of every nationality were entered and in the end Portugal, with four men entered, topped the prize and the congratulations of their friends. The girls' race was called off on account of the fact that none of the fair sex could be spotted away from the dance pavilion long enough to trip the light fantastic over fifty yards of solid ground for the prize which the Fourth committee put up.

Soldier Wins.
The ten-mile marathon, starting at Moanalua and finishing at the park was won by Harry Sicker of Company F, Signal Corps, who did the distance in one hour and ten minutes. Second place was taken by Harold Fletcher, U. S. M. C., while Nigel Jackson held down third. The race was concluded with a run over the mile track at the park.

Race Crowd Eager.
That the sport of horse racing is one which will be ever a favorite with Honoluluans was shown by the large crowd which thronged the grandstand and patiently waited throughout the delays for the first race to start. The first race, which was a three-eighths mile free-for-all, was started at about 3:30 o'clock. Clara C., owned by George Holt Jr., and ridden by Clarence, got away in the lead and finished first, with Lincoln J. Achius' Onie, ridden by Achiu, a good second. Dora D., owned by J. J. Medeiros and ridden by Medeiros Jr., was left at the post. Time, 37 seconds. Purse—First, $50; second, $10.

The trotting and pacing race for Hawaiian bred, best two in three, was easily won by W. B. Hopkins' Carmelita, driven by Hopkins. Ivan Holt, owned by G. H. Wood and driven by Jack Gibson, was second. There were attempts to cover and making few efforts to do any of the fighting. This was the champion's round by a wide margin.

Round Eleven—Rivers came up weak from the punishment he had received, while the champion was fresh and smiling. The champion drove a fierce right to the jaw and Rivers wilted. A second right felled him and he took the count. He rose at the count of nine, dazed. A swift uppercut and a right cross downed him again, and he was counted out.

but two entries. Time, 2:44, 2:35.

There were four entries in the third race, a one-half mile dash for Hawaiian bred horses, $100 and $25. James P. Steward's Express jumped into the lead at the start and kept it throughout the race, finishing in good time with Palama Boy, owned by George Holt Jr., second. Sylvester Marks' Lurline captured third place, while J. J. Medeiros' Dora D. was again left at the post. Time, 55 seconds.

The one-fourth mile race for ponies 14 hands and under was won by George Holt's Palama Boy, ridden by Clarence, with M. Freitas' Handsome Boy, ridden by Freitas, second. Peleka, owned by M. Ferreira, and Billie, owned by Hollinger, came under the wire in the third and fourth places respectively. Purse, $25. Time, 26 seconds.

The cowboys' race, one-half mile relay, with post entries and a purse of $25, was won by George and Charlie Holt with Kame and M. Freitas second. Third and fourth places were awarded Smith and Marks, and Long and Ken Chen, respectively.

The last race, a one-half mile dash free-for-all, was won by Lincoln J. Achius' Onie, with Wet Weather, owned by M. Ferreira, second. Medeiros' Dora D. was again left at the post. Time, 51 seconds. Purse—First, $100; second, $25.

Following were the officials:
Judges—J. H. Craig, Capt. A. N. Tripp and Capt. A. E. Seale.
Timers—Walter Drake, W. R. Chilton and M. D. Abreu.
Clerk of the Course—Charles Chillingworth. Starter—R. A. Belsler.
Paddock Judge—Albert McGurn.

After the meeting Lincoln Achiu offered to match his Onie against Clara C., over any distance, for a side bet of $250. Onie showed to advantage yesterday in the sixth race, half-mile, when ridden by Jockey Ferreira. The boy who went to the post first was dumped and Ferreira, who was substituted, rode a classy race.

A VERY delightful affair took place this afternoon when Mme. Lillian Nordica, assisted by Mr. Paul Dufault and Mr. Simmons, gave a number of selections before Queen Liliuokalani at Washington Place. A number of people had been invited in by the queen to hear the great singer in this charming way. At the conclusion of the concert, Ericat E. Kaai and his orchestra played Hawaiian hulas and old-fashioned native melodies, delighting Madame Nordica in turn almost as much as she had delighted her Honolulu audience. Tempting refreshments, prepared under the skillful management of Miss Lord, were then served. The house was decorated very simply with bowls of tropical flowers, the queen being of the opinion that Madame Nordica would prefer seeing Washington Place as it really was. Those who had the pleasure of attending this afternoon's musicale were Princess David Kawananakoa, Mrs. Sam Albert, Mrs. McWayne, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Laukae, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. George Beckley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shingle, Mr. and Mrs. Renjes, Mr. and Mrs. Coney, Mr. and Mrs. W. Monsarrat, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, Mrs. Ward, Miss Kuleman Ward, Miss Lucy Ward, Miss Katherine Ward, Mrs. S. A. Gulick, Mrs. August Ahrens, Mrs. Francis Gay, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Allison Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. George Smithies, Mrs. John Walker, Miss MacIntyre, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Miss McInerney, Mrs. Mary Beckley, Chief Justice and Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, Mrs. Carlos Long, Miss Ethel Whiting, Mrs. Robert McEl-downey, Mrs. Robert Haer, Mrs. Burnett, Miss Callie Lucas, Mrs. E. Watson, Miss Ida Pope, Miss Katherine Pope, Miss Aholo, Miss Henrietta Smith, Mrs. Webb, Miss Miriam Stackler, Mr. and Mrs. Dominis, Mr. Lea, and others.

Miss Callie Lucas, daughter of Mrs. Thomas R. Lucas. The marriage of Miss Lucas and Mr. William B. Lymer will take place August sixth.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay's Tea.
Waialeale, the beautiful summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay, in Kailua Valley, was the scene of a large and attractive tea yesterday. Madame Lillian Nordica, who is enjoying the tropical life of Honolulu, was the guest of honor. The only decorations were the wild flowers and mountain ferns which grow in such profusion around Waialeale. Those invited to meet Madame Nordica were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter, Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Macfarlane, Mrs. Wilhelm Meier, Miss Edith Mist, Mr. Robert Mist, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander G. Hawes, Jr., Princess Kawananakoa, Mrs. Emmet May, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mrs. Baldwin, Mr. Dufault, Mr. Simmons, Captain and Mrs. Thomas of Lilehua, Mrs. Mary Gunn, and many others.

Mrs. Watkins' Dinner.
Lieutenant and Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson, who have been the incentive of so much entertaining of late, were the guests of honor at a beautiful dinner last night given by Captain and Mrs. Benjamin Watkins at the Country Club. Gorgeous pink lilies formed the centerpiece, while silk shaded candlesticks continued the color scheme. The guests' places were marked by heavy cards engraved with the regimental crest. Those who came to meet Lieutenant and Mrs. Jackson were Miss E. Gooley, Major E. V. Smith, Major Williams and Captain and Mrs. Walter Johnson.

Mrs. Masse's Luncheon.
The most beautiful luncheon of the week was given by Mrs. E. K. Masse at the Plesanton on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Frederick Fumston. The table was decorated with long-stemmed American Beauty roses, a gold basket filled with these lovely flowers forming the centerpiece. Round about this were strown wonder-roses of the same kind in each of which was concealed a tiny electric light. A corsage piece of a single long-stemmed rose was at each place—the place cards themselves being little shoes on which were painted American Beauties. Those who were present at this exquisite affair were Mrs. Frederick Fumston, Mrs. Galbraith, Mrs. Appel, Mrs. W. R. Gibson, Mrs. Fair, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson and Mrs. E. Gooley.

Mrs. G. E. Turner's Luncheon.
Mrs. Harold Pratt, wife of Lieutenant Pratt of the Marine Corps, was guest of honor at a prettily appointed luncheon on Wednesday, given by Mrs. G. E. Turner at her residence at Kamehameha. Yellow coreopsis and maidenhair fern formed an attractive centerpiece for the table which was lovely with its silver and cut glass. After luncheon the afternoon was devoted to bridge. Among those present were Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. R. B. Lister, Mrs. Samuel Gordon, Mrs. Lawrence MacAfee, Mrs. Ernest Gayler and the hostess, Mrs. Turner.

Mrs. Jaeger's Luncheon.
Yellow was the color scheme for a beautiful luncheon on Wednesday when Mrs. James Jaeger entertained for Mrs. Alexander Robinson at her home on Kowale street. Coreopsis and yellow daisies caught with fluffy gold colored tulle made an attractive centerpiece, the idea being further carried out in the favors which were tiny musical instruments—banjos, mandolins, guitars—filled with candy and tied with a big bow of yellow ribbon. Those present were Mrs. Alexander Robinson, Mrs. Carlos Long, Miss Ethel Whiting, Mrs. Arthur Davidson, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth and Mrs. Jaeger.

Mrs. Walter Dillingham's Tea.
A very delightful tea was given on Tuesday by Mrs. Walter Dillingham at their temporary home at the beach, Madame Lillian Nordica was the raisonnée of the affair, and her enthusiasm for the beauties of Waikiki was without bound. Mrs. Herman Focke and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder both presided over a program. Mrs. Rannie Scott also assisted. Mrs. Nordica's singing brought the afternoon, delighting Madame Nordica with their Hawaiian melodies, and native refrains. Among those present were the guests of honor, Madame Nordica and Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Miss Emogene Burr, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. J. R. Galt, Mrs. Thomas of Lilehua, Mrs. Alexander Hawes, Jr., Mrs. George Davies, Mrs. S. C. Wilder, Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson, Miss E. Gooley, Mrs. E. P. Bishop, Mrs. Theodore Richards, Mrs. Herman Focke, Mrs. Rannie Scott, Mrs. Richard Ivers and Mrs. B. P. Dillingham.

Mrs. Nichols' Card Party.
Mrs. H. P. Nichols of Fort Ruger entertained delightfully at bridge on Thursday afternoon. Her pretty little bungalow on Diamond Head was a bower of gaily-colored nasturtiums and bamboo. Refreshments were served later in the afternoon, after which the prizes—Japanese prints and brass candlesticks—were awarded to Mrs. William Wooten, Mrs. Kay, Mrs. Norris Stayton and Mrs. Frederick Barker. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Nichols' hospitality were Mrs. M. M. Macomb, Mrs. Wm. Wooten, Mrs. E. J. Timberlake, Mrs. Kay, Mrs. J. S. Johnston,

Mrs. Ballentyne's Luncheon.
On Thursday of this week Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon at her home on Lauriston avenue. Miss Gwendolen Blair, whose engagement was recently announced, was the motif for the occasion. Lovely pink insurance roses and maidenhair fern formed the centerpiece, while the place cards—appropriate to the occasion, were hand-painted cupid. After tiffin, the guests devoted the time to needlework. Miss May Marshall sang a number of songs which were greatly appreciated by the other guests. Among those present were Miss Blair, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. E. M. Watson, Miss Christiana Bradley, Miss Genevieve Bradley, Miss Marshall, Miss May Marshall, Miss Hewlings and Mrs. Arthur Hodgins.

The table was prettily decorated with snapdragons and ferns for the occasion. After luncheon the guests spent the afternoon over dainty needlework.

Luncheon at University Club.
A very pretty luncheon was given at the University Club when Mrs. Edward Blanchard entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Clarence White of Haiku. The centerpiece was of yellow coreopsis and green maidenhair fern. Covers were laid for eight.

Madame Nordica Entertained.
Madame Lillian Nordica, who gave so much pleasure to Honolulu audiences last week in her two concerts, is being made the motif for considerable entertaining this week by members of the smart set. The affairs have been of all kinds, the main idea being to show Madame Nordica, Hawaii at its best and most beautiful. Among the ladies who have acted as hostesses this week for the celebrated singer are Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Jr., Mrs. James Castle, Mrs. Francis Gay and Princess Kawananakoa.

Riding Club.
One of the newest and what is likely to prove most popular clubs in town is the riding club that was organized this week among the young ladies of the town. They plan to take all kinds of delightful rides throughout the summer, the first of the series coming off on Monday, when—rising with the lark—they will cross the Pali to Kuloa, the Swanzy place on the other side of the island. Once over there, they will camp until Thursday, spending the time riding, cattle driving and pursuing other such equestrian sports. Those who belong to this little club are Miss Rosamond Swanzy, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Helen Jones, Miss Margaret Jones, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Katherine Jones, Miss Phoebe Carter, Miss Helen Wilder and Miss Elsie Wichman.

Wedding on Pacific Heights.
A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones on Pacific Heights when Miss Jessie Powers of Chicago, Ill., became the bride of Mr. William Cameron of Honolulu. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Erdman in a bower of bamboo and bridal flowers arranged on the lawn. Clusters of ascension lilies, oleanders and daisies were banded on either side of a hedge of bamboo, while branches of lacy green pepper trees made a woodland canopy overhead. As the young couple stood making their vows, the superb view of the harbor, the extinct crater of Punchbowl, and in the distance the blue waters of Waikiki—this wonderful view that makes Pacific Heights so renowned in the islands—stretched out before them, while the southern cross and other tropical stars glimmered overhead. The situation was an ideal one for a wedding, as the small but enthusiastic gathering appreciatively testified. The romance of the situation was given the last touch by Kaai and his orchestra who sang the bridal chorus from Lohengrin and, during the ceremony, the soft melodies of "Oh Promise Me."

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of ivory white charmeuse. The bodice and one side of the skirt were draped with exquisite white Spanish chantilly lace. The heavy charmeuse of the skirt was caught up in front with a rosette of maline, while touches of the same soft material finished lace sleeves and yoke. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of white bride's roses and tulle. Her only attendant was little Miss Winona Jones, as flower girl, who wore a little dress of white embroidery and lace with soft splashes of pink ribbon. She carried a quaint gold basket out of which tumbled a profusion of dainty pink Cecile Bruener roses.

An informal reception followed the ceremony after which tempting refreshments were served. The dining room was charming in its decorations of pink shower, begonias, maidenhair fern and tropical palms. The wedding cake—a gift to the bride—was a thing of beauty with its delicate and significant icing. The young couple were beautifully remembered with gifts of silver and cut glass, this in spite of the fact that the wedding had been hurried, and only intimate friends had been notified. Miss Powers has been the guest of Mrs. Jones for the past six months and during her short stay in the islands has made many friends with her charming ways. Mr. Cameron is an island boy of undoubted popularity. He has been connected with the Oahu Railway Co. for many years and is said to be a young man of considerable business ability. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron will occupy the Wallace Farrington home on Anapuni street during the latter's absence over the summer. Their home will be in Honolulu indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder's Tea.
Madame Lillian Nordica was the guest of honor at a charming tea given on Thursday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder at their home on Makiki Heights. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Rannie Scott, Mr. Paul Dufault, Mr. Simmons, General and Mrs. Macomb, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Major and Mrs. Frank Chesham, Major and Mrs. John T. Myers, Mr. Charles Norton, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Jr., Mrs. George Sherman, Mrs. Baldwin and the Princess Kawananakoa. Mrs. Rannie Scott poured tea. A beautiful exhibition of Mr. Wilder's many varieties of hibiscus was shown, a new species which he has just produced from mysterious grafting being named after Madame Nordica and several of its blossoms presented to her.

Capt. and Mrs. Lincoln's Hop Supper.
A very delightful affair took place last Saturday night when Capt. and Mrs. Lincoln entertained at a hop supper at the conclusion of the Fort Shafter dance. They were assisted by Mrs. Bell, who poured coffee, and Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Wright. Their guests were Capt. and Mrs. Shuttleworth, Capt. and Mrs. Benjamin Watkins, Capt. and Mrs. Bell, Lieut. and Mrs. Wright, Lieut. Longenecker, Lieut. and Mrs. Booth, Major Williams, Capt. and Mrs. W. R. Gibson, Capt. and Mrs. Robert McCleave, Miss Betty Case, Lieut. and Mrs. Frederick Cook, Major E. V. Smith, Capt. and Mrs. G. H. Jamerson, Lieut. W. Rose, Lieut. Sylvester, Lieut. Camp, Lieut. Halloran, Miss Harriet Lucas, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Violet McKee, Lieut. Calder, Dr. Mudd and Lieut. Hardy.

Lieut. and Mrs. Jackson's Dinner.
Informality was the keynote of the little dinner given by Lieut. and Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson on Monday night. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, Major Williams and Miss E. Cooley. Lieut. and Mrs. Jackson do a great deal of informal entertaining and their affairs are sure to be delightful.

Mexican Luncheon.
Capt. and Mrs. Benjamin Watkins were hosts on Thursday at a very unique luncheon at their home at Fort Shafter. Chili con carne, enchiladas, tortillas and chili beans were the order of the day, and it is needless to say that the guests were charmed with the unusual menu. Capt. and Mrs. Watkins had for their guests Capt. and Mrs. Marquart, Lieut. and Mrs. Kay and Lieut. Calder. The table was decorated with white daisies and ferns.

Fort Shafter Bridge Club.
Mrs. Bell of Fort Shafter was hostess for the Fort Shafter Bridge Club on Thursday afternoon. After some unusually interesting rubbers of royal auction the prizes were won by Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Bell. Others present were Mrs. Roe, Mrs. Benjamin Watkins, Mrs. Frederick Cooke, Mrs. W. R. Gibson, Mrs. L. O. Mathews, Mrs. A. E. Schlanzer, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Robert McCleave and Mrs. Lincoln.

Motor Trips for Madame Nordica.
The Princess Kawananakoa will be hostess for Madame Nordica tomorrow at a motor trip around the island. They will proceed leisurely in order to permit the singer to take in all the beauties of Oahu, stopping at Haleiwa for luncheon. Mrs. James Castle will entertain the party at afternoon tea at "the Dunes," her summer place at Kahuku—a refreshing dip in the blue Pacific being promised all those who enjoy the water. Both the princess and Mrs. Castle have entertained informally during the week for Madame Nordica and her companion, Mrs. Baldwin. The swimming, more than anything else, has attracted the party.

Reception for Officers of New Zealand.
The following invitations have been received by many Honolulu people this week: The Commandant and Officers of the United States Naval Station, Hawaii, request the pleasure of your company at a Reception to be given in honor of the Captain and Officers of H. M. S. New Zealand, Wednesday evening, July the Sixteenth, Nineteen Hundred and Thirteen, at Half after Eight o'clock. Country Club, Honolulu. R. S. V. P.

Picnic and House Party at Kaneohe.
A very jolly picnic—where the girls were hostesses—ending with a weekend house party where the boys are hosts—was held at Kaneohe yesterday. A large and congenial crowd motored over the Pali yesterday to celebrate the Fourth a-picnicking in the country. The party is ending in an old-fashioned house party at the Allen and Morgan Kaneohe homes, with the boys at the head of the message. Swimming, fishing and tramps along the wayside will more than occupy the time until their return tomorrow night. Those who are enjoying this delightful affair are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoops, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Guard, Miss Fanny Hoops, Miss Violet Atherton, Miss Laura Atherton, Miss Grace Dawson, Miss Elizabeth Ferrier, Miss Marguerite Widman, Mrs. Norma Adams, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Marjory Gilman, Mr. Donald Ross, Mr. Cyril Hoops, Mr. Charles McWayne, Mr. Richard Catton, Mr. Wisdom, Mr. Walter Love, Mr. Harold Gear, Mr. Percy Nottage, Mr. William Ouderkirk, Mr. Allan Renton and Mr. David Larsen.

Major and Mrs. Myer's Dinner.
A yellow color scheme was used on Tuesday night when Major and Mrs. John T. Myers entertained at dinner at their home on Lunalia street. Bright-eyed coreopsis and maidenhair formed a very attractive centerpiece, while place cards and other dinner accessories were appropriate. Among those present were Col. and Mrs. F. H. French, Capt. and Mrs. Arthur B. Owens, Admiral G. B. T. Moore, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Pratt and Dr. C. B. Cooper.

Miss Jordan's Luncheon.
Miss Maude Jordan was hostess at an engagement luncheon on Tuesday in honor of Miss Gwendolen Blair who will be one of the brides of next month. The decorations were very quaint and pretty, carrying out the nuptial idea. Among those present were Miss Blair, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. R. Potter, Miss Elsie Werthmuler and Miss Victoria Jordan. The event took place at the hostess's home in Menoa Valley and although informal was highly delightful as these small affairs are liable to be.

Miss Dorothy Guild Entertained.
Miss Dorothy Guild has seen the incentive for a great deal of entertaining during her sojourn on Maui. Last week Mrs. W. O. Baldwin had a card party for her at Haiku and on another occasion Mrs. Worth Alken entertained at luncheon in her honor. The hospitality of Maunaloa is so proverbial that it is unnecessary to comment on the good times Miss Guild is enjoying.

Wedding Next Month.
The wedding of Miss Callie Lucas to Judge William B. Lymer will take place on the sixth of August and will be one of the society events of that month. Miss Sara Lucas, cousin of the bride-to-be, and Miss Edith Williams will be the bridesmaids.

SOCIETY

A Last June Wedding.
June has undoubtedly lived up to its reputation for being a month for brides this year. Wedding bells have pealed out the glad old song once, twice and even thrice a week for so long that their chimes are running through the heads of sleepy Honolulu like the tune of a popular song. Miss Marguerite Cousens chose Monday, the last day of June, for her marriage to Mr. George Rossman Humphreys, and the wedding was one of the prettiest affairs of this week. St. Elizabeth's Church, with its quaint architecture and beautiful flowers, was enough to make the staid old sober-sides feel festive and "bridey." The chapel was a veritable bower, thanks to the loving energy of Mrs. Kenneth Cousens, mother of the bride, and her two willing cohorts, Mr. Alfred Lee and Mr. Clement Tong. Branches of the banyan tree were arranged around the sides and along the pillars, while petite white camomile flowers were tucked amongst the foliage in such a way as to give the effect of orange trees. An archway made of palms and dotted with Marguerites—the bride's own flower—crossed the chancel. From this was suspended a beautiful wedding bell made of Marguerites and ferns. The altar was banked with Ascension and St. Joseph's lilies, while Marguerites and maidenhair fern made a pretty veil for the altar rail and baptismal font.

The same decorative scheme was carried out in the parish house, where the reception afterwards took place. The banyan's branches, with their pretty blossoms, palms, potted plants, maidenhair fern and bowls of Marguerites and lilies made a fairyland out of the room, while a truly elfin light was cast by the gay colored lanterns hung about.

At 8:30 o'clock Mrs. Folgome of St. Andrew's Cathedral played the wedding march from Lohengrin, and the bridal party entered, the ushers, Mr. Charles Herbert and Mr. Carl Schaefer, leading, followed by Miss Lucy Diamond, daughter of Mrs. W. W. Diamond of Kaimuki as maid of honor. Her dress was a dainty confection of pink charmeuse with draperies of chiffon, caught here and there with pink rosebuds. She carried a cluster of American Beauty roses.

The bride was met at the altar by her long train, fastened on one side with a cluster of orange blossoms. The cap was trimmed with orange blossoms and real lace—the gift of Mrs. Trevor Eardley-Wilmot, who was formerly Miss Frances Cousens, sister of the bride. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls with a pendant of pearls, emeralds and diamonds, a gift from her mother. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and maidenhair ferns. Mrs. Cousens wore a beautiful gown of white embroidered net and Honitou lace over chiffon and satin. She carried a cluster bouquet of lavender sweet peas.

During the ceremony the soft strains of "A Love Song" were heard on the organ, breaking at the end into the triumphant hosannas of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Mr. and Mrs. Humphreys then received the hearty congratulations of their friends standing beneath a wedding bell of Marguerites in the parish house. Refreshments were served later by the girls belonging to St. Elizabeth's mission, gaily dressed in their native Chinese costume. The bride and groom then escaped to Haleiwa where they are spending their honeymoon. The bride's going away suit was of blue novelty cloth caught here and there with bits of cerise velvet and lace. A girdle of blue messaline finished the costume. She wore a smart little toque of a blue to match with pink roses. Just before leaving the bride threw her bouquet which was caught along with all the happy omens by Miss N. Mercer of Kaimuki.

After a short honeymoon at Haleiwa Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey will return to Honolulu where they have taken a charming bungalow on Makiki street. Mr. Humphrey is connected with the von Hamm-Young Co., and has business interests which will keep the young couple here indefinitely. He is the son of Dr. D. V. Humphreys of Los Angeles, and has been in the islands about two years. The young couple were the recipients on Monday of many congratulatory cables from distant friends and relatives who join with local circles in wishing them a bright future.

Miss Mann as Hostess
Miss Marie Mann was hostess this week for the members of the Wednesday afternoon bridge club at her home at Waikiki. A very delightful time was had by all, amply proved by the lateness of the hour at which the guests took their departure. After three or four rubbers of royal auction the prizes—dainty pieces of silk lingerie—were awarded to Mrs. Nelson Lansing, Mrs. Lemuel Stevens and Miss Elizabeth Ferrier. A delicious repast was then served. Decorations on this occasion were simple but effective bowls of purple-faced pansies and yellow marigolds, charming to the artistic eye. Those present at this meeting were Miss Fannie Hoogs, Mrs. Charles L'Hommedieu, Mrs. Frank Hoogs, Miss Elizabeth Ferrier, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Florence Hoffman, Mrs. Lemuel Stevens, Mrs. G. F. Humbert, Miss Edna Mann, Mrs. Guilford Whitney and Mrs. Nelson Lansing.

Impromptu Bridge
Mrs. Harold Pratt, who leaves with her husband on today's transport, was the motif for an impromptu bridge afternoon on Monday given by Mrs. Arthur Burnstone Owens, wife of Capt. Owens of the Marine Corps. Mrs. Richard Cutts captured the first prize while a very charming guest prize went to Mrs. Pratt. A delicious tea was served later in the afternoon. Mrs. Pratt was very much of a favorite while in Honolulu and her departure is being greatly deplored by the smart set.

Scott-Hughes Wedding.
HILO, July 4.—Seldom has there ever been a social affair in Hilo of magnitude and beauty equal to the wedding ceremony which united Miss Margaret Scott and Richard Lyon Hughes last Saturday night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott. When the words were said that united them as man and wife, they stood in a bower made of a mass of maidenhair ferns reaching half way up to the ceiling, over which hung a canopy of ferns and in the presence of more than a hundred friends and relatives, some of these having come from Honolulu, and even from the mainland, to attend the wedding.

Throughout the house the decorations were gorgeous, roses having been used in decoration of the big living room, in which the ceremony was performed and begonias in the dining room and pavilion. On the lawn of the home many colored Japanese lanterns added to the natural beauty.

Rev. John A. Cull of San Francisco was the officiating minister.

The bride's gown was of white charmeuse with a long train, and was trimmed with rare old rose-point lace. Her veil of fine white tulle was fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink Cecil Breuner roses.

The Misses Balding, the bridesmaids, wore gowns of pink pina over pink silk, each carrying a bouquet of pink begonias.

After the ceremony a reception was held, followed by a supper, a quintette club of Hawaiian boys playing for the rest of the evening, during which the young couple were the recipients of hearty congratulations, as were also Mr. and Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Hughes and Miss Smith, mother and aunt of the bridegroom.

Late in the evening the bridal couple left for the volcano where they are spending their honeymoon. As they ran down the veranda and steps to the waiting automobile they were showered with confetti.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will be at home, after September 1, at Eleele, Kauai.

Mrs. Hodgins' Luncheon
Miss Gwendolen Blair, whose engagement to Mr. Edward Dekum, was announced a short while ago, was the raison d'etre of one of the prettiest affairs of the week—a luncheon at the Country Club given by Mrs. Arthur Hodgins on Wednesday. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out with roses and aster of those shades. Dainty hand painted cupid's marked each guest's place, while the favors were bridal slippers of white satin, inside of which were concealed tiny little old shoes. After tiffin the guests devoted the afternoon to auction bridge, the final scores in some cases being enough to take one's breath away. This is the first of a number of affairs that are being given for Miss Blair whose attractive personality has made her very popular in Honolulu during the five years she has lived here. Among those present at Wednesday's affair were Miss Gwendolen Blair, Miss Louise Lucas, Miss F. Maroux, Miss Hewlings, Mrs. Clinton Ballentine, Mrs. E. M. Watson, Miss Christina Bradley, Miss Genevieve Bradley, Mrs. Matherson, Mrs. A. W. Carter, Miss Graham, Mrs. Harold Hayesden and Miss Anna Sanford.

Engagement Interests Coast.
The following clipping is of interest to members of the younger set in Honolulu:
Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Martha McClesney of Honolulu and Ensign Milton Anderson, U. S. N., who is now stationed at Mare Island.

ter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McClesney, arrived yesterday on the Wilhelmina from the islands, with her mother and sister, Miss Ruth McClesney, and the wedding of the attractive Honolulu heiress and the navy man will be celebrated in the chapel at Mare Island in the near future.

During a stay in Honolulu Ensign Anderson met Miss McClesney, and they became engaged, but no definite arrangements were made at the time for the wedding. It was finally decided that it should be celebrated early in July. The prospective bridegroom was unable to obtain leave to go out to Honolulu, so Miss McClesney has come here, accompanied by her mother and sister. Her father is one of the wealthiest coffee planters in the islands.

Cockett-Rogers Nuptials
[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent]
WAILUKU, July 4.—On Wednesday evening at half-past seven Patrick Cockett of Waikapu and Miss Zella Rogers were quietly married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sommerfield in Wailuku. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Rowland B. Dodge, pastor of the Wailuku Union church. Mrs. Taylor, sister of Mr. Cockett, Mr. and Mrs. Sommerfield, Miss Ella Groves and Master Frank Rogers were the only members of the immediate families present. The wedding was a surprise to everyone, though the fact of the engagement of Mr. Cockett to Miss Rogers had been known for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Cockett will live at the Cockett residence at Waikapu.

Mrs. Trevor Eardley-Wilmot, who was formerly Miss Frances Cousens of Honolulu, is living now in Warwick, Queensland, Australia, where her husband has an estate. Lieut. Eardley-Wilmot has resigned from active service in the navy, contenting himself with the moderate care of keeping up a large place in Australia.

Friends of Mrs. George Cleveland Bowen, formerly Miss Alice Spalding of Honolulu, regret to hear of her serious illness in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Bowen, who was one of Honolulu's most popular society girls, left here two years ago, accompanying her husband to Fort Douglas, where he is stationed with the 20th infantry.

Wedding at Waialua
[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
WAILUKU, July 4.—At the Waialua Union church last evening George Noa Weight and Miss Carolyn K. Scholtz were married by the minister of the church, Rev. Rowland B. Dodge. The church was filled with the many friends of the popular young people. Four pews were reserved for the immediate families of the bride and groom, many of whom came from Honolulu in order to be present at the wedding.

The Union church never looked more beautiful. The pulpit platform was a mass of green and white, the decorations being arranged with this color scheme in mind. Ferns and potted plants of various kinds were banked so that the green filled a third of the arch behind the pulpit. White callidums were interwoven so the effect was most striking and very beautiful. Ornamental hanging baskets and other potted plants were used about the walls and pillars of the church and in the vestibule.

The decorations were arranged by Misses Belle Weight, Louise Hart and Irene Boyd. The plants were gathered from the gardens and green houses of many friends of the couple. Henriette and Annie Hart were the flower girls, Miss Lillian Weight the bridesmaid, Mr. James R. Love best man. The bride, in an exquisite gown and adorned with a long bridal veil and carrying a beautiful bouquet, came in on the arm of her brother, William Scholtz of Puuene. The ancient marriage ceremony was used and it was a double ring wedding. The wedding march was played by Miss Mary E. Hoffman and during the impressive ceremony, the organ was softly played. Daniel Weight, brother of the groom, and Herman Scholtz, brother of the bride were ushers.

The wedding took place at the church at eight o'clock and the reception was held immediately after at the residence of Mrs. A. Noa Keopikoi, an aunt of the groom. The beautiful rooms were filled with the choicest flowers. The bride and groom together with the bridesmaid received in the parlor beneath a canopy of green that rose nearly to the high ceiling. White daisies were showered through the mass of green and the whole effect was one of the most artistic ever seen on Maui. Lilies, Shasta daisies, callidums and maiden hair ferns composed the decorations of the different rooms of the Keopikoi residence. The large dining room was used for the display of the many valuable presents, the dining room table being loaded with very choice cut glass. A set of handsome koa furniture had not arrived for the night of the wedding, but was expected on today's Claudine. Handsome silver and china were also in evidence as tokens of the love and friendship that Maui people and the relatives have for the popular couple. Ten days ago the bride was the recipient of a shower of useful and beautiful linen pieces at a meeting of the Women's Aid Society of the Union church. She was completely taken by surprise and had no idea that such a party had been arranged for her. From the time of the announcement of the engagement friends and relatives have been making elaborate plans for their comfort and happiness. The host of friends that gathered at the reception proved how well the plans had been carried out.

In Business Circles--News and Review

DR. WILCOX IS AFTER KAUAU'S COOPERATION

Getting everything in shape for the formation of the marketing associations throughout the islands, Dr. E. V. Wilcox, special agent in charge of the Hawaii agricultural experiment station, to which the last legislature allotted the sum of $5,000, will leave next week for Kauai.

The purpose of his trip is to get the growers of fruits and vegetables ready for the formation of the association which will cover that island, and also to ascertain the amount of the vegetable and produce output there.

At present the residents on Kauai, and also on Hawaii and Maui, for that matter, are paying higher prices for their fruits and vegetables which are grown on their island than are the residents on Oahu, he says, which is due to the unsatisfactory arrangements now existing for the marketing of their products.

When the home markets are well apportioned, and a guard is kept against sending out products which will be needed by their local market, fruits and vegetables will be cheaper on the other islands, he says.

As an instance he cites the case of Hilo and its dairy products. The residents there complained of the cost of butter, which they said was cheaper in Honolulu, though Hilo produced it. The trouble, as Dr. Wilcox sees it, is that the Hilo producer has not first looked after his local trade, but has sent a great part of his output here. This has made it necessary for quantities of butter to be shipped to Hilo and this extra expense in freight accounts for the difference in price between the butter here and at Hilo.

The case of the butter applies to other products. Dr. Wilcox will emphasize the importance of first supplying the producer's local market and sending the surplus here. On Kauai in the way of vegetables, the principal grown are cabbage and onions. A number of berries are also grown. He wishes to find out the amount consumed on the island and the amount grown, and the difference in the two will give him the amount which he can recommend to be exported.

Coal Shortage Threatens. Honolulu is threatened with a serious shortage of coal because of higher ocean freights and an advance of about 25 cents gold per ton in price of Japanese coals at the mines. Further contraction of local supplies would seriously affect shipping in all this part of the world. Imports of liquid fuel into Hongkong in 1912 for ships increased 2,724 tons, or 15.4 per cent, over the previous year. An increasing number of ships using this fuel call at Hongkong.

GOOD NEWS ACTS AS TONIC TO MARKET

The closing of the stock exchange for vacation confined its business to four days this week. In that time former Governor George R. Carter returned from Washington and Senator Hitchcock, of the Democratic rank, openly opposed the removal of the tariff on sugar. The words of encouragement from Mr. Carter and the action of Senator Hitchcock seemed to have the effect of restoring some of the former confidence that the fight against free sugar will succeed, either during the present session of congress or the coming one.

The market itself, as shown by the quotations on sugar stocks, did not respond to a marked extent to the increasing confidence, but remained almost inactive, in its comatose, not likely to be disturbed until the final count of the free sugar noses is taken. Thursday, the last day during the week of the session, no sales were recorded during the session, but the two, involving sugar stocks, made between boards, though shall did not sell at lower prices, but in one case an advance of a quarter point was noted—that of Hawaiian Commercial which went at 25.25. Oiaa rose in a Wednesday sale, when two hundred shares of the stock went for 1.37 1/2, an eighth of a point above the price it has held for some time. Tuesday five shares of it also sold at that figure.

In other stocks prices remained unchanged. The sale of a number of bonds was reported, increasing $1000 Hilo Ex. 6s 78.50; $3000 Pacific Sugar Mill, 6s 98; $2000 O. R. & L. 5s 103, and $1000 Natomas 6s 89.

Thursday notice was given by the directors of the Hawaiian Agricultural Company that beginning July 20 dividends will be reduced from $1.50 to .75. A cut had been expected and the fact that it was not a severe one was taken as good news, by the "street." The directors of the Pahang Rubber Company announced that dividends are to be suspended indefinitely. The low price of rubber is the reason given. It was stated that as soon as the output on the plantation increases sufficiently to make up for the low price of the product, dividends will be restored.

In the real estate market a few small sales were made, but no large ones were recorded, though it is understood that a number are pending and near completion.

The sales of stock during the week aggregated the sum of $487,183, as against $18,371.87 for the same period during the previous week. Four hundred and twenty-six shares were

MANILA EXPORTS ARE NOW OFF 50 PERCENT

[By Latest Mail]

MANILA—Owing to the shortage in crops, the exports from Manila, Cebu and Iloilo during April this year are nearly 50 per cent less than those from all ports of April, 1912, during which month $6,129,742 gold worth of products were exported as against $3,541,925 for April this year. The big decrease comes in copra, hemp and sugar.

The largest loss is shown in copra. In April, 1912, there was 16,040 tons of this commodity shipped out, valued at $1,288,359, while in April this year there was only 4,177 tons, valued at $435,468, a decrease of 11,863 tons, or in money value $1,351,891, but what little copra there was exported brought a better price than that during last year.

Sugar also has shown a big drop. In April last year 34,534 tons of sugar were exported, valued at $2,095,809, as against 25,898 tons, valued at $1,211,041, during April this year, a difference of 8636 tons, representing $794,768.

In the export of hemp, while there was a decrease of nearly 150 per cent in the quantity shipped in value the decrease only amounts to a little over 50 per cent, the price obtained for this commodity being much higher this year than last. In April, 1912, there was 16,190 tons shipped out, valued at $1,810,051, while in April this year there was only 8125 tons exported, but the value for the 1913 shipments was $1,087,807.

The number last week being 265.

Of the stocks sold Oiaa led in point of number. Up to Thursday 205 shares changed hands at $1.37 1/2. A sale was later made, but not recorded, whereby 100 more shares went at $1.50. Hawaiian Commercial rose a quarter point during the week, the last ten shares of it going for $25.25. It opened at $25.

Oahu stood at $12.25. Two sales of it were made involving 61 shares. Forty Honolulu Browning and Malling stock sold at $21. Reports read at the annual meeting of the directors of the King's Daughters' Home Thursday afternoon show that the 1912-1913 fiscal year has been one of success from both a business and a financial standpoint. The association now has a balance of $141,659 in the bank, while the receipts of the year totaled $326.91 and the expenditures $3816.41. During the past year four new cottages have been erected in addition to the home on Makiki street.

In celebration of the founding of the new Pacific Bank, an institution backed by Japanese capital and soon to be opened for business in Honolulu, invitations have been issued for a Japanese garden party Sunday afternoon at the Tokiwa gardens, Nuuanu street. It is intimated by prominent local Japanese that the new bank is backed by a number of the big financiers of Japan and the capital will be for the encouragement of small farming among the Japanese in Hawaii.

CURE FOR SICK CHICKENS IS 'KILL 'EM'

Spare the axe—and you ruin your flock. If a chicken is sick, kill it. Don't be afraid to kill sick chickens, but when they become indisposed, get the axe.

This advice comes from no less authority than the United States department of agriculture. Personally, they say they like chickens all right either on the farm or on the table, in a Maryland. But when a chicken is sick, and keeps complaining of headaches, or needs to have some teeth extracted, the best thing to do is to lead it to the barn yard gibbet and have the dirty work done.

The department, in a recent bulletin, speaks of the risk a poultry raiser takes with ill fowls, and though it says that medicines may sometimes be used to restore them to good health, it is not as a rule satisfactory.

"There are, of course, cases in which medicines may be advantageously given or applied to sick fowls, but generally speaking, it is better to kill the sick birds and thus avoid the spread of the disease to many other birds in the flock," says the department, and continues with: "Then, a sick bird is an indication that it is more susceptible to disease than the other birds of the flock, which, to be strong and healthy, must be relieved of the menace of delicate and susceptible members."

Paint and powder have even been known to alter the complexion of a woman's thoughts.

Though its extension division the University of Kansas will give courses of lectures on moral education in a number of the largest cities of the state during the fall of 1913.

MEAT IMPORTS TO BE WATCHED CLOSELY

Brought about by the realization of the meat shortage in the country, requiring that food to be imported from many southern countries, steps have been taken by the department of agriculture at Washington which greatly increases its power, and gives it all the rights conferred under the pure food and drug act, which heretofore has not applied to meats.

By its newly assumed powers it will not only pass on the imports under the meat inspection law, but will seize bad meat or adulterated or misbranded meat once it enters interstate commerce. The new power comes to the department by the revocation of regulation No. 19 of the rules and regulations.

The revocation of regulation 39 now gives the department of agriculture the power to treat meats and meat food products exactly like any other food in interstate commerce. The change, however, in no way interferes with the powers of the department of agriculture conducted under the meat inspection law. It simply brings meat under the food act, as well as under the meat inspection act, and thus gives the government control over meat foods, not only in the federally inspected establishments, but after the meat product has left such establishment on an interstate journey.

Under the meat inspection law, meat inspectors have absolutely no power to seize meat or meat food products that have become bad or have been adulterated after they have left a federally inspected establishment. The only remedy possible under the meat act is to proceed criminally against anyone selling bad meat, but even in this event, bad meat cannot be seized nor its sale prevented.

The Department of Agriculture can now seize and prevent the sale of bad or adulterated meat, once it has crossed the state line and remains in interstate commerce. In case spoiled meat again reaches a federally inspected establishment, if of course comes under the jurisdiction of the meat inspection law, and can be destroyed, as heretofore has been done. Under the new decision, the government can now control meat foods in interstate commerce from the hoof to the retailer, subject only to the limitations of the power of the federal government in interstate commerce. Under the opinion of the attorney general, and the action of the three secretaries, the Department of Agriculture is empowered to require all manufactured meat products to conform fully to its labeling regulation, and can enforce its penalties, prosecutions, and seizures for misbranding and adulteration. The definition of "misbranding" under the food and drugs act is far more stringent than the rule preventing the sale of meat products under a false or deceptive name under the meat inspection law. Section 8 of the food and drugs act, to which manufacturers of meat must now conform, provides that the term "misbranded" shall apply to "all articles of food, or articles which enter into the composition of food, the package or label of which shall bear any statement, design, or device regarding such article, or the ingredients or substances contained therein, which shall be false or misleading in any particular, and to any food product which is falsely branded as to the state, territory, or country in which it is manufactured or produced."

The Department of Agriculture can now also apply fully to meat products its rules regarding statements as to weight or volume or number of pieces in a package, required of other foods. A committee has been appointed by

for Infants and Children.

Physicians Prescribe Castoria.

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: 1st, The indisputable evidence that it is harmless; 2nd, That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food; 3rd, It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for castor oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any opium, morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrup, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a medical journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

BIGGEST SALE OF MOTOR TRUCKS IS FOR U. S. MAIL SERVICE WORK

Announcement by C. A. Benjamin, general sales manager of the Alco, is just made of the biggest sale of motor trucks on record to haul United States mail in New York City. Representing an investment of approximately $225,000 this contract for government work marks a climax in motor truck installations.

The trucks are all of three and one-half tons capacity, and will handle a hauling job of huge proportions. The vehicles will be fitted with the standard United States mail type of bodies. The date of delivery specified for the entire battery of machines is August 1st.

The big contract was eagerly sought and brought bids from leading motor truck manufacturers in both the gasoline and electric business. Government inspectors carried on far-reaching tests and demonstrations before the order was placed. It is understood that the choice finally narrowed down to the Alco and a make of electric truck, with the decision in favor of the gasoline.

Not only will the trucks handle straight mail, but they also will take care of greatly increased volume of matter, due to the recent parcel post laws.

The battery of vehicles will have a capacity of 4,300 tons of mail in a day, which means an annual capacity of carrying 1,550,000 tons or 3,100,000,000 pounds. In terms of volume handled, the array of machines on each trip can transfer 24,000 cubic feet of mail. Figuring on the basis of 18 trips which will be required in a day, the total daily capacity is 432,000 cubic feet of mail, and the annual capacity is 157,880,000 cubic feet.

It is estimated that the trucks will cover a mileage of 1,000,000 miles in a year. The average haul is two miles, so that the annual total number of trips will amount to 500,000.

The fleet of trucks was purchased by the Postal Transfer Service, Inc., which has the government contract for carrying U. S. mail in New York.

FAMOUS 'BULLET' CAN'T BE WORN OUT BY WORK

After five years of conscientious effort by the expert drivers of factory and branches, the Studebaker organization has finally given up the attempt to wear out the famous old "Bullet" Studebaker "30." Sales Manager Benson has accordingly given the car outright to Harry Cohen, Studebaker dealer in Macon, Ga., who, as an employee of the Atlanta Studebaker branch, won the racing championship of the south in this venerable automobile.

Mr. Cohen has promised to continue the experiment, keeping the Studebaker engineering department in close touch with the results.

"Bullet" is the car which for years has attracted general attention, due to its use in a longevity experiment with rival makes by every motorist, present or prospective. During this process, picked drivers kept the car in almost continual motion about the country, visiting branches, dealers and automobile shows.

The car was the ninth in the long Studebaker "30" series, and the first shipped south of the Dixie line. Its early work was done at Atlanta, where access was easy to the two-mile speedway, then in general use. Many thousands of miles "Bullet" covered at high speeds on this course, both in practice runs, and in many a successful racing campaign. In the car's later work it has been as far west as Kansas City and as far south as Florida.

"Bullet's" record now exceeds 170,000 miles.

It is reputed to be the most economical car on tires and travels 18 miles to every gallon of gasoline.

OVER-NIGHT FEDERAL WIRELESS To the Advertiser

"Here is a nation God has bulled by our hands. What shall we do with it? It is a nation whose people stand ready to act again and who always will retain the spirit of this day of reunion, hope and patriotism. The day of our country's life has but broadened into morning."

This was the keynote at Gettysburg today of a speech by Woodrow Wilson, the first Southern born president of the United States, to celebrate on the historic field of Gettysburg the cementing of that union, which there fifty-two years ago was glued in blood.

Speaking with evident earnestness, the president addressed the survivors of the fight of long ago and as his rounded periods reached the ears of the grizzled veterans of the blue and gray they wept.

Welcomed by Rebel yells and Union cheers, the president alighted from the train today amid a thunder of cannon, his presence marking the climax of the week's celebration of Gettysburg anniversary. His reception was most enthusiastic, hundreds of veterans having been up since daylight to do him honor. Immediately on alighting from the train cavalry escorted the chief executive to a big tent off the Emmittsburg road, where, promptly at 11 o'clock, the day's exercises were held.

Lieutenant Herminigilde Wagner, the war correspondent of the Reichspost, who attained much notoriety during the hostilities between Turkey and the Balkan allies, telegraphs from the front that the Servian army suffered terribly at Oycheopolice, and that the Servian victory over the Bulgarians at Istip was only a momentary success of local importance.

It was reported today that the Bulgarian army had successfully outflanked the Servian troops and that it is now advancing on Kamenova.

Telegrams received today from Sofia state that Premier Danoff of Bulgaria and his cabinet have resigned. General Petroff, it was said, is forming a new cabinet, with General Savoff as minister of war.

The waving of a flag of the United States at Winnipeg early today, while thousands of Provincial soldiers were parading the streets, precipitated a riot, during which the flag was trampled and torn and a number of persons received minor injuries.

A soldier attempted to seize and put the flag away, but before he could do so a number of angry civilians pounced upon the American, tore the flag from him and threw it into the street. Before it could be rescued, the flag was torn and soiled. In the free-for-all fight which followed, a number of civilians were injured but none seriously.

The American, whose name could not be ascertained, escaped without harm, and with the aid of the police, eluded the crowd.

Letters submitted to the senate "insidious lobby" probers by Martin Mulhall of Baltimore to sustain his sensational lobby charges against the big business interests show that the National Association of Manufacturers kept a list of its friends and enemies.

Senators and congressmen favoring any sort of labor legislation, says Mulhall, were put on the list as enemies, and the manufacturers' Mulhall alleges, opposed their re-election.

Other letters addressed to Mulhall instructed him to make it too hot for Senator McComas of Maryland to be comfortable. In a political campaign against the lawmaker.

Four masked bandits early today, near Batesville, Mississippi, blew open the express safe on an Illinois Central express train, running from Memphis to New Orleans, and escaped with $5000. The passengers were not molested.

The train fireman resisted and one of the bandits knocked him unconscious with the butt of a revolver. The crew was intimidated by threats of the robbers to throw them into the Tallahatchee river nearby.

A few snots were fired to frighten the passengers. The bandits boarded the train at Memphis.

Harry K. Thaw, because he had two uncles in the Union army and a near relative who wore the gray, wrote a letter which was received at Gettysburg Thursday by Chairman Schoonmaker of the Pennsylvania commission in charge of the veterans' reunion, and inclosed one thousand dollars to start a fund to pay the debts of General Sickles. Thaw's letter expressed sympathy for a gallant Union officer who in his old age is bowed by financial misfortune.

Members of the senate lobby probing committee on Thursday admitted that they could not punish Lamar for his impersonations of public men, but propose to ask the New York prosecutor to act. Lamar is still here, but probably will not be recalled.

"I think Lamar has shown himself such a liar," said Senator Overman, "so utterly unbelievable, that it would be useless to recall him."

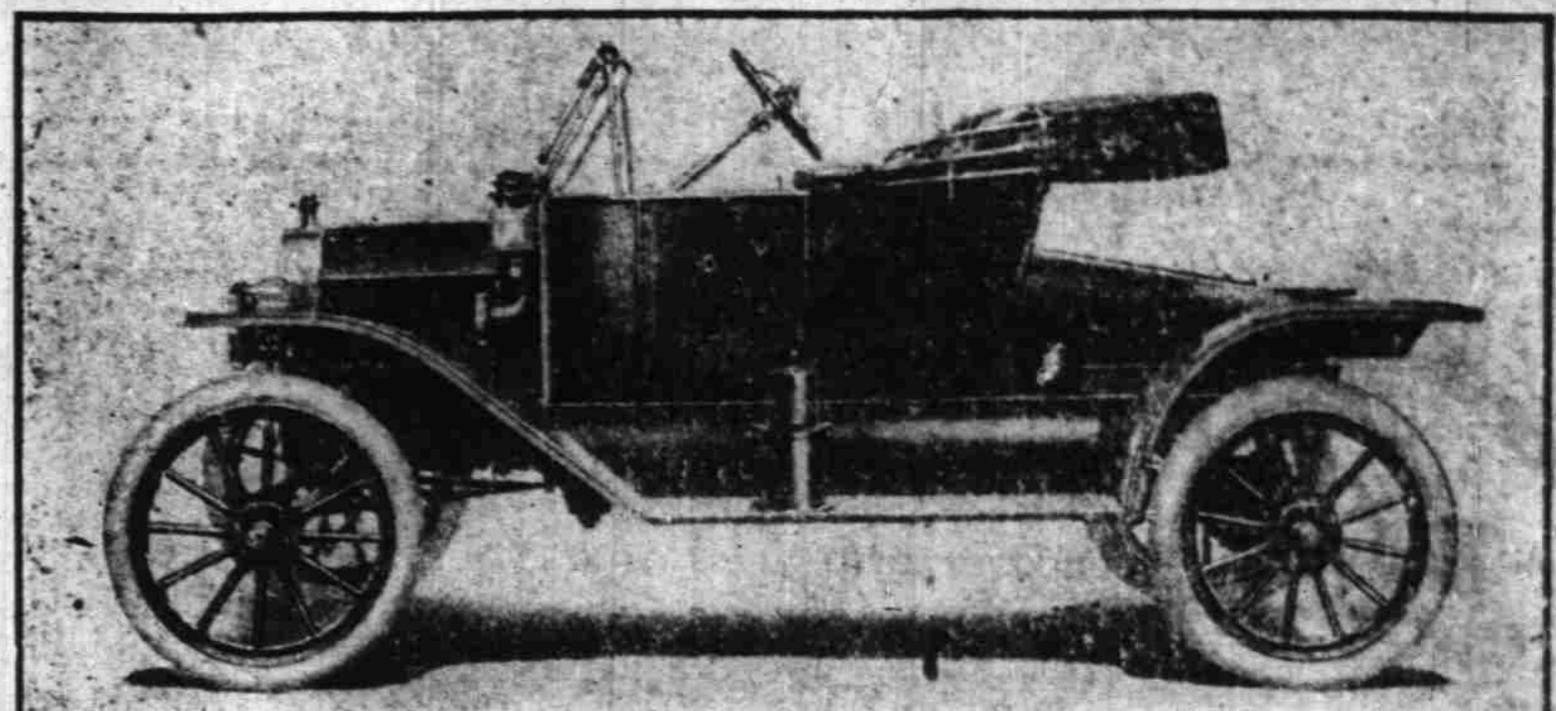

Among the Wilhelmina's passengers who left San Francisco for Honolulu were many well-known residents of Honolulu, including J. F. Hackfeld and H. P. Wood.

Among the passengers also are some Masons of high degree, including W. Filmer, T. J. Baker and H. G. Iderton. Mrs. Filmer and Mrs. Baker accompany their husbands.

Serious danger that Turkey will take a hand in the Balkan struggle between Greece, Serbia and Bulgaria became imminent Thursday when the Sultan notified the powers that despite the preliminary peace agreement recently signed, Turkey reserves the right to fight if the new war spreads into Macedonia.

Hundreds of persons perished by fire today when the village of Astradimova, in the district of Alatur, Russia, was destroyed. One hundred and fifty-four charred corpses have been recovered. Any accurate estimate of the number of dead is impossible.

BAGS FOR THE SUMMER GIRL

TWO bags which make pretty gifts are shown here. Neither of them takes long to make, the materials are inexpensive, and the work can be done by the home needlewoman. The upper bag will make an acceptable accessory to the outfit of the June bride or the summer vacationist. It is of white satin lined with chambray and embroidered with forgetmenots. A ribbon run through a casing serves to close the bag when it is not in use. Inside the bag the powder puff and box and a tin mirror may be kept. The bag can be turned inside out and chambray used for smoothing the powder into the skin. The other bag is a canvas one decorated with cross stitch. Wooden embroidery hoops covered with ribbon are passed through a casing and form the handles by which the bag may be carried. This makes a useful receptacle for handling or sewing work materials.

NOVELTIES IN FOOTWEAR

THESE are of a speckled fawn and white shade, and the silk laces they are tied with are also fawn to correspond. The shoes are very smart, and their smartness is enhanced by the addition of black patent toe caps. Some of the new patent shoes are fastened with pearl buttons, both gray and white, with gold centers, and, indeed, fancy buttons are steadily gaining in popularity, for they make a welcome change from the dull and conventional black or tan boot buttons.

HINTS FOR A BRIDESMAIDS' LUNCHEON

The materials required for this very delicious luncheon or supper dish are as follows: A medium-sized stewing chicken, 1-4 pound boiled tongue sliced very thin, 1-4 pound boiled ham, two or three eggs boiled hard, 1 box prepared plain gelatine, spices and seasoning to taste. After cleaning the chicken and removing the feet, cover it with cold water and let it boil gently until the meat is ready to fall from the bones. Remove the chicken from the pot and add to the liquor a couple of bay leaves, spices and seasoning. Season it rather strongly. Let the liquor simmer with the lid off while the other things are being prepared. Remove all bones, skin, fat and gristle from the fowl. Cut the white meat in fairly large pieces and put the dark meat, together with the boiled ham, through the meat grinder, using the coarsest knife. Cut away all the fat from the sliced tongue and slice the hard-boiled eggs. Now butter slightly a square deep pan or mold and on the bottom arrange a few slices of tongue and eggs symmetrically, as this will be the top when turned out. Dissolve the gelatine in a little water, according to the directions given on every package. Add the liquor, which should by this time be reduced to about a pint. Now start to fill up the mold. Put a layer of the white meat, then the ground-up dark meat and ham; scatter the slices of egg and the rest of the tongue through it all and add the liquor as you go along, taking care to get it in before the gelatine starts to harden. Cover closely and stand in a cool place until the gelatine sets, then put it in the refrigerator. It is as well to make this the day before it is intended to be used. When ready to serve turn out the jelly on a platter garnished with lettuce or cress and hard-boiled eggs or slices of lemon. Loosen it around the sides with a knife if it is inclined to stick. Serve in thin slices cut with a very sharp

Sandwiches For the Evening Party

WHEN sandwiches for an evening party are to be added to the menu the old fashioned way of making them, by first cutting the bread, then spreading it with butter and putting in a filling of some meat, is out of the question if an appetizing sandwich is to result. A paste filling is the quickest and best concomitant when a number of sandwiches are to be turned out in a short time. Have ready two bowls of paste filling with different ingredients, several loaves of sandwich bread, purchased the day before to insure the right degree of dryness without staleness, and a good sharp knife and one can pile up sandwiches by the score in a remarkably short time. The best foundation for the filling is mayonnaise dressing. The oil in the dressing takes the place of butter, and into the mayonnaise may be stirred deviled ham, chopped nuts, olives, peppers or any sweet sandwich filling. If a boiled dressing is used plenty of butter should be used in it or the slices of bread should be brushed over lightly with melted butter applied with a pastry brush. Chopped nuts and cream cheese make a delightful filling, kofen the mixture with cream until it is the consistency of paste. This bread and butter sandwiches are delicious, and everybody knows how good are lettuce sandwiches with a dash of mayonnaise in each. Use a long knife in cutting the bread, and if the latter is the least bit spongy warm the knife before cutting each slice, and it will go like a salamander through paper. Trim the edges from the slices of the bread, pile up and cover with a wet napkin for half an hour; then spread the seasoned filling between slices. "Spank" the sandwich with the flat of the knife to make it thin and compact and cover the dish of sandwiches with a damp napkin until ready to serve.

Hints For the Kitchen

AS a rule, a recipe should be faithfully followed. For instance, in making soup you cannot because you are short of the given quantity of meat, put in the same quantity of water without damaging the soup, but you may reduce the amount of the water and every other ingredient in the same proportion. In matters of flavoring you may vary to suit circumstances. If you are told to use cloves, a bit of mace may be substituted. If you read a recipe and it calls for something you have not, consider whether that something has anything to do with the substance of the dish or if it is merely an accessory for which something else can be substituted. If you are ordered to use cream in a sauce, milk with a larger amount of washed butter may take its place. Where cream is the chief part of the dish milk will not do. For a cake in which cream is used butter whipped to a cream may take its place. Again, in cakes be very careful that the exact proportions of flour, eggs and milk are used. Never lessen the amount of eggs when soda and acid are depended on for lightness. Never add milk if a cake is too stiff, when milk is not one of the ingredients, but another egg may be used. If milk is used a little more may be added. Flavorings may be varied always. Sometimes in cookbooks you are told to use articles not frequently found in ordinary kitchens, such as a salamander, which is very useful, but seldom found in small kitchens, but when you wish to brown the top of a dish, and putting it in the oven will not do, or the oven is not quick enough to serve, an iron shovel made nearly red hot, with a few hot cinders in it, serves as a good salamander. It must be held over the article that requires browning near enough to color it, yet not to burn. You must beware of attempting too much at once. Perfect yourself in one thing before you attempt another.

When China Falls

THE breaking of china is an everyday happening in some households, and unless the article broken is an ornament of some value no trouble is likely to attend it. Many dishes, however, may be quite well mended at home, and a very efficient cement can be made by mixing together into a paste equal quantities of whey of milk and vinegar, powdered quicklime and the white of an egg. The mixture must be well beaten and warmed. Expose the broken edges of the china to heat before applying the cement. A very thin coating is sufficient, and the joint should be held firmly in place until the cement has dried. If the dish is only cracked it may be prevented from falling to pieces by painting the crack on the underside with white paint. Cut a piece of tape the length of the crack, cover one side with white paint and lay it over the crack. Press the tape down till perfectly smooth. Get the dish aside for two or three weeks, when the crack will be perfectly firm. Broken china may also be mended with a paste made of plaster of paris and glue. Use the ordinary bottle of glue, mixing one part of the glue with two of water and adding the plaster of paris to it. Ornaments that have come to pieces may also be mended with white paint, using the ordinary tubes required for oil painting. Very little is required, and after applying it to the broken edges they should be closely held together for a little, then left for a few hours to dry.

A FAD OF THE SEASON IT

A FAD of the season is the separate coat, both in long and short lengths. The natty little model is of wash corduroy in a delightful shade of hunter's green. White corduroy forms the revers and waist, the latter being fastened with crystal buttons.

BEAUTY OF LINGERIE CUSHIONS

NEW women realize what a change a heap of cushions makes in the appearance of a room. Pretty pillows will add not a word to the comfort but to the appearance of any chair or sofa. No matter how lovely a piece of furniture may be, cushions will not hide but will rather enhance its beauty. There are so many kinds of cushions which are practicable that it seems strange that any one would buy the painted satens or leather atrocities so often to be seen. These are neither pretty nor practicable, for once they are soiled they must be sent to the cleaner's at a price almost equal to the initial cost or else they must remain soiled, an eyesore in any room. On the other hand, there are washable materials which one can make into covers oneself at very little cost and to much better effect. Some of the prettiest pillows imaginable were seen the other day in a room done in old rose and gray. A big divan was heaped with the loveliest lace pillows, with underlinings of rose. The hostess explained that she had made them herself. "I bought several yards of the imitation duany, which comes in very wide stripes, and the same amount of material for the lining," she told her visitors. "This is a washable goods with a satin finish. Then I made all the covers, sewing them on three sides with the machine and leaving the other side open. I sewed on a pretty edging, put in the pillows and basted up the other end. Now whenever they are soiled I pull out the basting thread, slip off the two covers and have the covers washed; then I baste them in again. It is simplicity itself, and my pillows are always clean and fresh."

CARE OF THE SINK

THE sink itself should be washed down after the washing up after each meal, and once each day a handful of soda should be placed over the sink grating and a kettle of boiling water poured over it in order to dissolve and wash away any grease that has accumulated. In the sink, which is allowed to remain would decompose and give rise to an unhealthy odor, particularly in hot weather. Most important of all in connection with the sanitary condition of the sink is to see whether it is properly connected. This means that any kitchen pipe that disappears mysteriously into the ground must be regarded with suspicion and must be altered so that it discharges its dirty water out of doors over a gully trap which is covered with a grating. If the housewife suspects that matters are right the sanitary authorities of the district are always willing to give advice and if necessary to force the owner of the house to set it in a perfectly sanitary condition.

HOW TO SERVE YOUNG CARROTS

SCRAPE and chop or cut into very small dice a bunch of small new carrots. Put a porcelain pan over the fire with butter the size of a walnut, and when melted add the carrots and stir and turn often with a spatula or broad knife. Season with salt and pepper and cook at moderate heat in order to draw out the natural juices of the carrots. This will keep them from burning. After they have cooked five minutes dredge lightly with flour, add a very little water, stir again and in five minutes add a little more flour and water. Cook until tender. The result should be a creamy, perfectly delicious mass and unlike any carrots you've ever eaten before.

SOFT FABRICS IN BRIDAL GOWN

The heavy white satins decreed by convention for the bride's wedding robes have been replaced by the robes of fabrics—soft silks, chiffons and laces. There is nothing stiff or hard in the wedding gown for the bride. It is alluringly soft and filmy and airy, almost ephemeral in character. The softening effect of quantities of lace and chiffon is universally becoming; the general style of the gown lends the necessary amount of dignity, and the draperies of lace and chiffon give an appearance of grace and youthfulness. For the foundation of the gown a soft silk may be chosen—a chambruse, crepe meteeur, or even mouseline—if the expense must be carefully considered. This, in turn, is veiled with chiffon. Very often a pale flesh pink chiffon is preferred to take away the severity of all white, and over this is hung the tunic of lace, embroidered chiffon or a very supple rich silk. The different veils blend into each other, giving a delightfully soft, light effect that is distinctly bridal-like. The 1913 bride can be as cool and comfortable as any of her guests, for the high collars have gradually been lowered. The sleeves reach only to the elbow, or, if long, are fashioned from chiffon. Other important style features have been adapted to the wedding gown with equally telling results. The vogue for combinations of materials is displayed on many gowns in which lace, chiffon and satin are cleverly combined. Very often this collection of materials is increased by a train of broche silk, sometimes embroidered with silver or gold threads. This train may hang from the shoul-

DESSERTS FOR WARM WEATHER

Nothing in the way of a sweet concoction is more delicious than creamed pineapple, if it is properly prepared. For the dish to be at its best, the fresh fruit is essential. Peel and grate fine one medium-sized ripe pineapple; then to the pulp thus obtained add the juice of one lemon— which, by the way, is an essential addition to pineapple, no matter in what form it is served. It develops latent flavors in the fruit in addition to imparting piquancy to it. Have ready half a box of gelatine dissolved in cold water. Strain into the fruit, and sweeten to taste. Turn into a mold that has been rinsed out with cold water, and congeal partly. Meanwhile, dry-whip a pint of rich cream. When the fruit and gelatine ders in the picturesque Watteau style, or it may take on a sashlike effect, spreading in two points like ends of a very wide sash; again it may be formed by the drapings of the skirt. It may be well for the bride who has chosen a husband of small stature to remember that it is not wise to choose a train of extreme length. Some of the trains are plain, the folds of the draped chiffon or lace adding a rippling, billowy appearance that is sufficiently decorative, while others are of a riching of lace or chiffon. A wide latitude is permitted this season in the draping of skirt and waist. There is still a demand for the draperies carrying the fulness to a point between the hip and the knee, but the effect is not becoming to a short girl or one inclined to stoutness. Of all trimmings lace is the most becoming and the most in demand. A gown of chiffon ornamented with lace is almost as appealing as an entirely fashioned from lace, and laces of every description are used. In fact, the knowing dressmaker does not hesitate to combine two and even three kinds of lace on the wedding frock. There are innumerable ways of using the lace. It may be in the form of a flounce, over which the chiffon or silk is draped; it may act as this over-drapery, falling over an undershirt of satin or of plaited chiffon; it may stimulate a yoke, or again it may be confined entirely to the waist.

mixture begins to thicken, hold in the cream and return to refrigerator to become firm. Remold, and serve with cream and sugar. A more simple but most tempting pineapple-cream dish is made by slicing pineapple very thin, sweetening to taste and garnishing with whipped cream heaped high in the center like a mound. Decorate with rings made by cutting marshmallow cherries round and round. Given a smooth, rich custard as a basis, numbers of delicious and attractive desserts are possible. None of any kind, but especially blanched almonds, ground fine, then added to the custard, and the mixture frozen is all it promises to be in the way of a palatable delight. To serve, hang high in sherbet glasses and garnish with English walnut meats. Another cunning variation is the following: Dip macaroons into dissolved gelatin that has been strained; then let them become slightly congealed. Put together to form a cup, standing each in a pretty glass fruit saucer. Stand in refrigerator until thoroughly set, then fill each cup with custard and garnish with whipped cream or chocolate meringue. Any of the succulent fruits may be cut small and added to the custard, provided the latter is quite cold before the fruit is stirred in; otherwise there is danger of curdling. Custard is a most acceptable change. A garnish of whipped cream is always a pleasing touch to any custard dish; also white of egg beaten to a stiff froth. Sponge cake, fresh or stale, is always stock in trade to the housewife of a resourceful turn of mind. Served with a mask of custard, rich fruit-sauce or whipped cream, it is transformed from an uninteresting slice of cake into a culinary joy. Another sponge-cake transformation, not so familiar but most certainly worthy a more intimate acquaintance, is wrought as follows: Cut thin horizontal slices of the cake; then spread each slice with chopped and sweetened fruit or with preserves. Pile the slices one on top of the other, layer-cake fashion and cover the whole with a kind of white icing which, though it hardens on the surface, is soft in consistency underneath. Cut into squares, and eat with a fork. If you are mixing a pudding or cake with a wooden spoon beat the mixture with the back of the spoon. It is far easier and becomes beautifully light in half the time.

SANITARY CAMPAIGNS AND CAMPAIGNERS I HAVE KNOWN

By Dr. John W. Ross, U. S. N., Retired

The following address on "Sanitary Campaigns and Campaigners I Have Known" was delivered by Dr. John W. Ross, U. S. N., retired, at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening, June 26.

Last Thursday night Prof. Jagger stood where I am standing and gave us a most interesting account of earthquakes—one of the greatest and grandest factors in the work of nature.

"God ploughed one day with an earthquake and drove his furrows deep. The hills were all upturned. And the face of the country was nevermore the same. Tonight, I stand here to tell you of one of nature's tiny agents—so tiny and common a thing that for centuries it passed without the notice it deserved—and yet, I am convinced that its effects have been more far-reaching and deadly than those of the great earthquake. I was very reluctant to concede to the mosquito the power for evil and destructiveness of which it has of late years been convicted, until I had it forced upon me by evidence acquired during the recent sanitary campaigns in which I had a small part.

It was Mark Twain, I think, who, in commenting upon a speaker said "He told us a great many things which we never knew before and never were certain of afterwards". In my remarks tonight I shall endeavor to refer to materials from said speaker by telling you some things which many of you already know, and others which you can rely upon as having been positively demonstrated. I shall limit myself to two great anti-mosquito campaigns—the yellow fever one in Cuba, and the yellow-fever-malarial campaign in Panama, in both of which the contending parties were the hitherto invincible mosquito on one side, and the United States government on the other. Many of you doubtless are aware of the important role played by yellow fever in the past history of the western hemisphere; how for centuries it had been firmly entrenched in the West Indies and certain parts of Southern and Central America, whence it made terrible inroads into the United States. Its encroachments were built up and made invincible on the ignorance of man concerning his ever-dreaded foe—the mosquito. At infrequent but irregular intervals it scourged the southern parts of our country, occasionally extending into the northern states as far north as New York, Boston, and Portsmouth, New Hampshire. There were several severe epidemics in Philadelphia, in one of which, 1733, ten per centum of the population of that city died of yellow fever. Quite a number of similar visitations by this disease occurred in more northern parts of the country.

On the return of the ship to tropical weather, grew active, and put in their deadly work. One of the well established facts now is that mosquitoes (as well as their larvae) have the power of hibernating through long, even Arctic winters, and becoming active upon the return of warm weather. Those contaminated at the commencement of their hibernation retain their infection and power to transmit it to man upon their return to active life.

The Campaign in Cuba
This perfect solution of the Plymouth riddle and other similar riddles we owe to some wonderful discoveries and demonstrations made in Cuba by certain trained scientific investigators during the last few years. The pioneer of this work was Dr. Carlos J. Finlay, a distinguished practicing physician of Havana, Cuba, born in Puerto Principe, Cuba, but a British subject. Nevertheless, he was an American by education, being a graduate of Jefferson College, Philadelphia. As far back as 1881, this pioneer announced to the world his discovery that yellow fever was transmitted from man to man by the mosquito. He not only discovered that the mosquito was the causative agent of yellow fever, but out of the 500 and more species of that insect he detected and exposed Stegomyia calopus, then called Culex fasciatus, as the criminal. Dr. Finlay's numerous papers, read before medical associations and persistently published at home and abroad, were received with strange incredulity by the medical profession. His conferees not only rejected his ideas but went so far as to ridicule them and him, his Havana colleagues frequently calling him a "loco". Nevertheless, Dr. Finlay, with dogged Anglo-Saxon persistence, kept up his experiments, and continued to maintain that he was producing cases of yellow fever by applying to non-immunes Stegomyia mosquitoes which had stung yellow-fever patients. Moreover, as far back as 1884 he read a paper before the International Medical Congress at Budapest, in which he laid down certain rules for controlling and stopping epidemics of yellow fever—practically the same as those which were later used with such brilliant success by Gorgas, both in Havana and Panama. Isn't it strange that this paper of Dr. Finlay's, which was published in the official transactions of the congress mentioned above, made little or no impression? Dr. Finlay experimented chiefly on newly-arrived Catholic priests, who, feeling that they, as future residents of Cuba, would be sure to have yellow fever, allowed themselves to be bitten by his mosquitoes. The priests would come down with yellow fever all right, but, as Dr. Finlay could not completely control their movements, he could not prove to our satisfaction that they might not have contracted the disease in some other way.

This was about the status of the mosquito-yellow-fever situation at the beginning of the Spanish-American war, 1898. Yellow fever had existed in Cuba since 1761—its principal world focus being Havana—and had been particularly deadly among the Spanish troops toward the close of the Spanish rule. When the Americans took possession of the city the sanitary condition was about as bad as could be well imagined. Smallpox was almost as prevalent and fatal as yellow fever; typhoid fever, dysentery, glanders and numerous other infection diseases were rife. The American health authorities, under Major—now Colonel—Gorgas, went to work, hammer and tongs, to get the city cleaned up and in a habitable condition. Within 1899 our progress had been quite satisfactory—smallpox, typhoid fever and other preventable diseases had been reduced to a minimum, even yellow fever had almost disappeared; by the end of 1899 we had begun to think that we knew how to control yellow fever. We learned afterward, to our cost, that the lull in the disease was due to lack of fresh material for it to feed upon—the constant influx of Spanish immigrants and Spanish soldiers having been cut off by the war. Early in 1900, when we were congratulating ourselves that we had made Havana about the cleanest city in the world, we were startled by a sharp epidemic of yellow fever. During 1900 there were 1244 cases with three hundred and ten deaths. In November of that year there were 214 cases with 54 deaths. This showed that the energetic sanitary work we had done had had practically no effect upon yellow fever; although it had banished pretty much every other disease. This epidemic of 1900 was caused by the fact that a large number of non-immunes, Spanish immigrants and Americans (soldiers and civilians) had poured into Havana.

In Cuba in the autumn of 1900 and continued their experiments through the remainder of the autumn and the following winter. Dr. Reed presented his plan for future investigation to General Wood, who, fortunately, was the governor general of Cuba at the time, and asked for sufficient funds. General Wood, himself an able physician, and a man who can see quicker, further and deeper into things than almost any man it has ever been my fortune to know, at once appreciated the importance of Reed's proposition and granted him the funds he asked for.

Dr. Reed installed an experimental station in the country, about seven miles to the south of Havana, which he called Camp Lazear in honor of his brave co-worker who had died early that summer.

It is interesting to note that Dr. Reed and his associates procured the Stegomyia mosquitoes, with which they began their experiments, from Dr. Finlay (the latter having always a plentiful supply on hand in glass jars). The non-immune persons on whom they experimented were freshly arrived U. S. soldiers and Spanish immigrants who had not been exposed to any possibility of yellow fever infection.

Then, at Camp Lazear, Major Reed and his associates conducted two sets of experiments by which they demonstrated, beyond all doubt: First, that yellow fever is transmitted from man to man by the bite of Stegomyia mosquitoes. Second, that yellow fever cannot be transferred from man to man by fomites (bedding, clothing, etc.) soiled by yellow fever patients, nor by discharges (black vomit, black stools, hemorrhages, etc.) from persons sick with yellow fever. The intensely interesting details of these experiments may be found in any good library. They are well set forth in that admirable work, entitled "Mosquitoes," by Dr. L. O. Howard, third edition, pages 125 to 128.

The positive and striking conclusions brought out by the careful experiments at Camp Lazear are as follows:
"1. The mosquito—Culex fasciatus—(now called Stegomyia calopus) serves as the intermediate host for the parasite of yellow fever.
"2. Yellow fever is transmitted to the non-immune individual by means of the bite of the mosquito that has previously fed on the blood of those sick with this disease.
"3. An interval of about twelve days or more after contamination appears to be necessary before the mosquito is capable of conveying infection. (Major Reed stated afterwards that the discovery of the latter highly important point was due to certain published reports of Dr. H. K. Carter, marine-hospital service. Dr. Carter is a close observer, a deep thinker, a man of enormous experience and knows more about yellow fever than any other authority in America.—J. W. R.)

"4. The bite of the mosquito at an earlier period after contamination does not appear to confer any immunity against a subsequent attack.
"5. Yellow fever can also be experimentally produced by the subcutaneous injection of blood taken from the general circulation during the first and second days of this disease.
"6. An attack of yellow fever, produced by the bite of the mosquito, confers immunity against the subsequent injection of the blood of an individual from the non-experimental form of this disease.
"7. The period of incubation in 13 cases of experimental yellow fever has varied from 41 hours to 5 days and 17 hours.
"8. Yellow fever is not conveyed by fomites, and hence, disinfection of articles of clothing, bedding, or merchandise, supposedly contaminated by contact with those sick with this disease, is unnecessary.
"9. A house may be said to be infected with yellow fever only when there are present within its walls contaminated mosquitoes capable of conveying the parasite of this disease.
"10. The spread of yellow fever can be most effectually controlled by measures directed to the destruction of mosquitoes and the protection of the sick against the bites of these insects.
"11. While the mode of propagation of yellow fever has now been definitely determined, the specific cause of this disease remains to be discovered."

Dr. Carroll, in a subsequent visit to Havana, demonstrated that the yellow-fever germ is so small that it can pass through a Berkefeld filter and that the serum which has so passed through the stone filter, can, upon being injected into a non-immune, produce the disease. This indicates that it is ultra-microscopic. The germ of yellow fever is still undiscovered, but the evidence is that it is a living germ—a protozoan and not a bacterium, that is, an animal and not a plant.

These discoveries and demonstrations of Reed were so original, beautiful and conclusive as to rank him as a great genius, and to excite the admiration of the whole civilized world. Unfortunately for the world, this brilliant investigator died in the autumn of 1902, in the flower of his age. There is hardly any estimating what Major Reed would have accomplished had he filled out his three score years and ten. "Had he lived a year or two longer it is almost certain that the Nobel prize would have been awarded him.

Dr. John W. Ross

Thus of the four members of the famous Reed Yellow-Fever Commission, only one remains alive today, viz: Dr. Aristides Agramonte, now, I think, a professor in the University of Havana.

The Cuban physicians declined to accept Reed's experimental cases at Camp Lazear as "genuine" because they occurred in a healthy country locally outside of Havana, and none of them proved fatal—death being considered one of the almost necessary symptoms of yellow fever. Consequently his experiment was repeated by the distinguished Dr. John Guitierrez at Las Animas, the yellow-fever hospital of Havana, of which I was at the time the director and Dr. Guitierrez director of its laboratory. Guitierrez obtained a positive result in eight cases out of 17 non-immunes to whom infected mosquitoes were applied. The physicians of Havana were invited out to see these experiments and as three of the patients died, the doctors were convinced it was genuine yellow fever. The medical faculty of Havana refused also to accept as conclusive Reed's fomite experiments, saying that they had been made in the country, in buildings altogether different in construction and material from the houses occupied by the inhabitants of the city. In order to convince them I repeated Reed's fomite experiment, using eight non-immune Spaniards. These men I passed, two at a time, through poorly-ventilated adobe outbuildings similar to those used by the working people of Havana. Each man was kept confined for two weeks in one of these rooms, completely mosquito proof, using constantly bedding and clothing which had recently been badly soiled by black-vomit and other discharges from yellow-fever patients in the city hospitals. All emerged in good health and remained so under observation for 10 days longer. The Havana physicians who watched these last experiments were satisfied at their conclusion that yellow fever could not be contracted from "infected" fomites. We deemed it quite important to convince our medical conferees of Havana because we knew we should need their co-operation in making a practical use of these discoveries in the work before us.

As already stated, 1900 saw a serious epidemic of yellow fever in Havana. About the end of the year 1900, Col. Gorgas, our chief sanitary officer, acting upon the knowledge gained by the Finlay-Reed discoveries and demonstrations, and supplied with sufficient funds by Gen. Wood, inaugurated a vigorous campaign against yellow fever on anti-mosquito lines. Almost immediately the disease began to disappear before his well-directed blows. In the very next month, the number of cases and decreased surprisingly. This decrease continued steadily until in March, 1901, the epidemic petered out. Occasional straggling cases occurred in the spring and summer until September 28, 1901, when the last one occurred. After that, Havana was absolutely free from yellow fever, which had scourged it for 140 years, and remained so until the end of the American occupation.

After this Dr. Finlay was appointed chief sanitary officer by the Cuban government. The tactics used by Gorgas in this brief and successful campaign were a vigorous, relentless war on all mosquitoes, especially the possibly-infected Stegomyia calopus. Every possible effort was made to break up their breeding and hiding places. Not only the house in which yellow fever had occurred but the whole block was thoroughly disinfected and fumigated by the fumes of burning pyrethrum powder, or sulphur. As a highly necessary part of the campaign Gorgas enforced energetic out-of-door operations throughout the city and suburbs—ditching, draining, filling up low places, destroying all suspicious bushes, shrubbery, plants, etc., etc., everything in fact which could produce or shelter mosquitoes. By his wonderful blend of suavity in mode and fortitude in re he secured the valuable co-operation of the citizens of Havana. Much encouragement was given said citizens by a system of generous fining. For instance, a fine of $50.00 was assessed upon every owner of premises upon which any mosquito larvae were discovered. Of course, these fines were always remitted when the offender would come to beg off from the fine, upon condition that the fault would be promptly remedied and not repeated. Whenever the person was unable to do the work himself, it was at once done for him by a sanitary squad.

At the same time every effort was made to protect all persons from mosquitoes and all mosquitoes from infection by yellow-fever patients by means of the careful use of mosquito bars and the judicious screening of doors and windows. In addition every precaution was taken to prevent, by inland and maritime quarantine, the introduction of any infection from the outside. Whenever a case was brought in by land or by sea, the patient was securely covered with mosquito netting, carried, with entire safety, through the streets of the city to a hospital and placed in a screened ward, sometimes among other patients. Not once did a case originate from these outsiders. Under the old order of things, this, in Havana, would have been very dangerous and reprehensible.

The Campaign in Panama

During the last days of the American occupation in Cuba, Gorgas used frequently to say: "They are going to build that Panama Canal; let us get ready to go down and continue this work there. He collected and studied with avidity everything he could lay his hands on in regard to Panama; its history, sanitary and otherwise, especially the sad story of the construction by some Americans of the Panama railway, in the fifties; and the causes of the appalling mortality among the French which made it impossible for them to dig the canal in the early eighties. Consequently, he was well prepared to go to work when the preliminary negotiations for building the present canal were completed, and the first isthmian canal commission was organized in 1904. Gorgas was appointed chief sanitary officer of the enterprise, by President Roosevelt; and three of his former co-workers were selected as his assistants.

On our first voyage to Panama, aboard the same steamer with the whole commission, we were called upon to formulate plans for our future sanitary organization and operations. In this, Gorgas laid down plans for taking care of a force of 50,000 men. The commission made merry over these figures, asserting that a force of 15,000 men would be ample to complete the job. Gorgas' wisdom and foresight has been shown by the fact that there are now 55,000 men at work on the big ditch.

Time will not allow me to dwell upon the very interesting sanitary experiences and operations of the great campaign at Panama. I will have to content myself with saying that practically the same processes which we utilized in Cuba—though on a very much larger scale—were repeated on the isthmus.

We found prevalent at Panama almost every known deadly disease and most every possible insanitary tropical condition. Chief of these were malignant malarial fever and virulent yellow fever, the former due, of course, to swarms of infected Anopheles mosquitoes; the latter to those of Stegomyia calopus.

Unfortunately, I was attacked toward the end of the first year by the worst form of malaria on tap there, and, to my infinite disappointment, had to drop out of the work, barely escaping—as Gorgas says—with my life.

All the world knows of the Waterloo in Panama, and how richly Gorgas deserves the credit, given him by the most competent judges, including ex-President Roosevelt and Taft, of being the man who has made the building of the Panama canal possible. Warning and Advice to Hawaii.

In the words of the immortal Captain Cuttle, "The bearing of this observation lays in the application on it." We come now, in conclusion, to the most important part of this paper. Do you know that, fortunately, out of from 500 to 700 species of mosquitoes there exists in these islands only three—Stegomyia calopus, Stegomyia scutellaris and Culex fatigans. The Stegomyia, as we have seen, is the only agent which can carry the virus of yellow fever from man to man. Culex fatigans transmits dengue and malaria. The evidence is that these mosquitoes were brought to Hawaii by a ship, as far back as 1826.

Some two years ago a case of yellow fever was detected in this city. The patient had, in all probability, been infected; that is, bitten by one or more leaved yellow-fever mosquitoes, on board a steamer off this port a few days previously. By energetic, scientific, well-directed work, an outbreak of yellow fever in Honolulu was averted. Very ugly epidemics have originated from less serious beginnings.

There are plenty of yellow-fever mosquitoes ashore here to produce a great epidemic of yellow fever but not having access to any yellow-fever patients they remain uninfected, and harmless. One person from an infected port or ship who might enter Honolulu in good health and come down with unrecognized yellow fever afterwards, would probably infect a large number of Stegomyia mosquitoes and start a bad epidemic. This occurrence has been rendered almost impossible heretofore by your distance, in time, from yellow-fever ports and the vigilance of your efficient sanitary officers on shore and your quarantine guardians afloat. With the opening of the Panama Canal, and its consequent immense increase of commerce and close connection with the yellow-fever ports of the Gulf of Mexico and Central and South America, your danger will be greatly increased.

It is reported that 33 lines of steamships have already made arrangements to run vessels regularly between the Atlantic and Pacific ports, through the Panama canal. Of these, many will doubtless frequently come directly from Panama to Honolulu without touching at any other port. Many of these steamers will be large and of great speed; they could very readily take contaminated yellow-fever mosquitoes on board in an infected Brazilian, Mexican or Central American port, and get them here in good condition and ready for business, during the average lifetime of a Stegomyia.

Enlarge they might, still maintain passengers who would reach Honolulu in good health and come down with yellow fever after having landed. Anopheles mosquitoes could very readily be brought here in the same way. They have been known to make considerable passages in trunks and boxes and fly out when said receptacles were opened. Provisionally, Anopheles mosquitoes (as well as snakes) have not yet appeared in the Hawaiian Islands. Of the two, the former would be by far the most dangerous. Anopheles are almost ubiquitous in the rest of the world. They, and they alone, transmit the parasite of malaria to man, and have caused more death and destruction than all other mosquitoes, including the Stegomyia, put together. Moreover, it is much harder to get rid of them when once they find lodgment in a place. Gorgas permanently banished yellow fever from the isthmus of Panama, within a year from the beginning of his anti-mosquito work there, whereas malarial fever, although immensely decreased, still persists in the Canal Zone.

The geographical distribution of malaria is enormously greater than that of yellow fever. To say that a country is unhealthy, is equivalent to saying that it is malarious. It has proven from time immemorial the curse of India, Africa and many parts of America. Many flourishing cities and countries of ancient and modern times have gone down before the Anopheles mosquito. I have stood on the site of the once magnificent city of Ephesus and beheld only a mass of deserted ruins, rendered uninhabitable for man by these tiny insects. I have a nephew, Dr. Edward Marshall, of the Public Health Service, who has been on duty at Honolulu for the past three years. He, like his uncle, is greatly in love with Honolulu and would hate to see any ill befall her. He sent a short paper on this same subject a few months ago before your Chamber of Commerce. You may find it in the Star-Bulletin of the 23d of February last. I would advise all loyal Hawaiians to read, mark, learn and inwardly digest Dr. Marshall's strong and timely paper.

Another cogent reason for doing everything possible to keep Anopheles out of these islands is the secretive and insidiousness of this genus of insects. They are out-of-door mosquitoes, which operate almost solely during the night, hiding during the day, in weeds, grass, bushes, flowers, plants, etc. At night they sally forth, burglar-like, and do their murderous work. As their song is lower in tone and their sting less painful than that of other mosquitoes they interfere less with sleep. Anopheles have often been found in large numbers in localities where their presence had not been suspected.

The mosquito—yellow-fever-malarial situation in Hawaii is unique. In a nutshell, it is this: First, yellow fever mosquitoes (Stegomyia) but no yellow fever germs to infect them; hence, no yellow fever. Second, an abundance of malarial germs but no malarial mosquitoes (Anopheles) to be infected by them; hence, no malarial fever occurs here. The malarial parasites in the islands are in the bodies of the immigrants and visitors from the Philippines, Porto Rico and other malarial regions. If a few Anopheles should be imported here they would at present find all the conditions favorable for their rapid propagation. Sir Patrick Manson, writing of mosquitoes, says: "One pair of insects can give rise to several millions of their kind in the course of a single summer." Owing to the peculiarities of the Anopheles

AFRICAN HUNTER FAILS TO BREAK INTO CHICAGO'S MAMMOTH ZOO

Ex-President Encounters Burly Guard, Is Refused Admittance. 'But I Am Colonel Roosevelt,' He Explains — 'Makes No Difference; You Don't Get In,' Watchman Replies

[By Latest Mail] CHICAGO — Colonel Theodore Roosevelt made an effort this afternoon to get into the animal house at Lincoln Park, but was balked by "Tim" Hunter, a big guard. That individual refused to recognize a former president and leader of the Bull Moose party as being different from others who go to the park. Consequently there was not even a temporary vacation of a regulation in his favor. The upshot was the colonel indulging in a hearty laugh. "He looked at you suspiciously," the Colonel was told. "Oh, well, he voted for Taft," was the facetious reply. With a party of attorneys, witnesses and newspaper men Mr. Roosevelt reached Chicago. No Reception Committee. Plainly disappointed by the absence of a reception committee of Bull Moose to greet him at the La Salle street station, he hurried toward a taxicab. "We will go to the Lincoln Park Zoo," he told James R. Garfield, who was at his side. Along the crowded Lake Shore drive the taxicab sped, but except by four persons the colonel was not recognized. The boulevard was crowded with automobiles, and pedestrians lined the sidewalks, but few even so much as noticed the big car in which the colonel was riding or were aware of his presence. When Lincoln Park was reached the Colonel's car did not stop. It hurried into Sheridan road, and went north toward the city limits. A cold, biting wind swept off the lake, bringing clouds of fog. Col. Roosevelt threw down the rear top of the taxicab and looked at the waves that were pounding the breakwaters. He bounced up and down as his car struck the "chug-holes" with which the road abounds and laughed. A suburban cemetery was reached. The taxicab began to turn back, and the colonel shouted: "We have reached Armaceddon." When Lincoln Park was reached on the return trip, the Colonel alighted. Catching a glimpse of "Big Tim" Hunter, he made his way toward him. Before the attendant knew that any one was near him, the colonel thrust himself in front of him with a question about the whereabouts of the animal house. The attendant opened his eyes, and then squinted. "The Zoo closed at 5 o'clock," he said. "It is now 5:10 o'clock." "Where is Dal De Rees," questioned the colonel. "Never heard of him," said the attendant. "Do you mean Cy Devry?" "Maybe so," answered the Colonel. "Where is he?" "Went home at 5 o'clock," was the stolid reply. "But I am Col. Roosevelt," said the Oyster Bay man. "Oh, yes," replied Hunter, "but it makes no difference who you are; you don't get in after hours."

this might easily occur before their presence was detected. Then they would rapidly become infected by sucking the blood of the Filipinos, and other malariacs, infect themselves and all the inhabitants of Hawaii, with dire results. Manson in his lectures on tropical diseases informs us that the Island of Mauritius was a British sanitarium and health resort until in the early sixties, when Anopheles were introduced. "Gradually they spread over the island * * * an epidemic that desolated the population was the consequence * * * and beautiful Mauritius, formerly known for its salubrity has become a byword for unhealthiness."

There is another powerful inducement—the argument of the dollar—for doing everything possible to free and keep free these fair Islands from mosquitoes. Honolulu has had on the mainland an unsavory reputation for mosquitoes. I used to hear many returned visitors say they had found the mosquitoes almost intolerable in Honolulu. I, myself, hesitated about coming here with my family, until I was informed by Dr. Marshall that the admirable mosquito-extermination work done here in 1911 had been a great success. This improved mosquito condition should be widely advertised and added to in every possible way consistent with the truth.

I am confident that a great many persons and a large amount of capital have been kept away from Honolulu by the mosquito reports. Of late years the world has been learning to dread mosquitoes, not only as a nuisance, but as dangerous to health. Example of Los Angeles. There is probably no city which has grown so rapidly in population and wealth as Los Angeles, Cal. (near which I have passed the last five years). A large proportion of this rapid growth has been clearly due to a great influx of tourists, visitors and settlers who have gone there to escape the severe winters and sultry summers of less favored regions of the United States. A very recent letter from a prominent gentleman in Los Angeles informs me that its new city directory shows its population to be nearly 500,000—an increase of about 60,000 within a year. The climate and other attractions of Honolulu are decidedly superior to those of Los Angeles, and with the increased ease and comfort of getting here, destined to be brought about by the new lines of steamers, Honolulu ought to grow at least as rapidly as Los Angeles.

I am sorry to learn from your accomplished, efficient, untiring and self-sacrificing president of the board of health, that the legislature has cut down the appropriation for his work 50 per centum for the coming two years and that he will have to limit his work in Honolulu to the ditching, drainage, etc., relying upon the individual citizens to guarantee the sanitary condition of their own premises, and do much of the work at present done by the inspectors and laborers of the mosquito force. My experience is that you cannot rely upon the individual householders to do this work properly. Some of them consider themselves unable financially to do it, and others seem to be blind to the defects on their own premises—probably on the principle laid down in the homely proverb: "Every man's smells seem sweet to himself." I would advise, strongly, that prompt measures be taken by the citizens of Honolulu and Oahu to furnish Dr. Pratt with ample funds and ample authority to do everything he may find necessary for the good of this city and island. Honolulu is no longer a town but a city—destined under wise management to be a great city. This is no time for stinginess under the guise of economy—for saving at the spit and wasting at the bung-hole! Honolulu should not be held back by the territory—(Los Angeles does not depend upon the rest of California). Her inhabitants are aggressively public-spirited and seem not to hesitate at any trouble or expense to make their city and its suburbs beautiful, attractive and healthful. She has certainly proved that such things pay.

I would suggest that the promotion committee take an active part and inaugurate a permanent sanitary campaign. I believe there is no other way in which the said committee

R. R. PORTERS OVERPAID, GET $1 PER MONTH

(By Latest Mail)

PITTSBURGH.—Lotterby Boyd, a negro porter employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad, today in criminal court pleaded guilty to taking $5 from a foreign woman for whom he had bought a ticket.

"Why did you keep $5 of that woman's money?" Judge L. L. Davis asked.

"I took it," answered Boyd, "because I had to have some money. I hadn't get hardly any tips for several days."

"Did you take it as a tip? I think your salary should be sufficient. How much do you make on salary?"

"I make a dollar a month."

"A dollar a month?" the amazed judge asked.

"Yes, sir. They expect us to make our living from what the traveling public give us for carrying things for them."

Judge Davis turned to Railroad Detective Swinehart, who made the information.

"Is that right, officer?" he asked. "Yes, it's true. Some are paid $1, some $2. A captain of porters is paid as high as $60."

"Why, this is outrageous," said the court. "A railroad company ought not to be expected to do such a thing. A condition like this should not exist."

"It's very bad," admitted Swinehart. "If I had my way of it."

"Yes," interrupted the court, "I am satisfied what should be done."

He turned to Boyd: "The company pays you this as a salary? You go up and sign a voucher?"

"Yes, sir; I get my dollar off the pay car every month."

"Well," declared the court, "you deserve leniency. Get into some business that pays you something. I will parole you for a year."

Lightning struck a pavilion at Willow Beach Park, Cleveland, Ohio, during a church picnic, killing one and injuring several. Among those injured were Thomas White, president of the White Sewing Machine Company and his wife.

Hundreds of the inhabitants of Tienova and Gornia-Orchovitz, in Bulgaria, were killed in the recent earthquake.

could half so effectively promote the welfare and prosperity of this city. To make assurance doubly sure, the ladies of Honolulu should be enlisted in this good work. A few years ago the women of New Orleans took the bit in their teeth, organized themselves, installed a good system of sewerage (which the men had deemed impracticable because the city was lower than the bottom of the river which almost surrounded it), and increased the healthfulness, prosperity and beauty of the Crescent City wonderfully.

Let the women of Honolulu emulate the example of their sisters of New Orleans, and all will be well. Pan.
