CLARK SAYS NO PROMISE TO COL. BALL

Speaker Denies Wilson Has Committed Himself--Declares Missouri Politician Himself Announced Hawaiian Job Was Promised Him -- Confusion Over 'Attorney-general' and 'District Attorney' Is Evident

[Special Star-Bulletin Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Speaker Champ Clark, in response to inquiry by the correspondent of the Star-Bulletin, emphatically denies that President Wilson has promised to appoint Col. Claude Ball of Missouri as attorney-general for Hawaii.

According to a statement made by Mr. Clark, he recommended Colonel Ball for the position and Ball himself announced that the position was promised him. The question of the legality of the appointment has been raised. Protests have already been filed against the appointment of the mainland.

C. S. ALBERT.
It will be noticed that the cablegram from the Star-Bulletin's correspondent refers to the position as "attorney-general," just as did the Associated Press cablegram which first brought the news through it has been taken for granted that the United States district attorneyship was referred to.

Furthermore, the message today says that the question of the legality of the appointment has been raised. If the attorney-general's office is the subject in question, as under the organic act a resident of the islands must be named attorney-general, the appointment being made by the territorial governor. However, it is presumed that Champ Clark and Colonel Ball have confused the two offices. The only vacancy will be in the district attorney's office when the resignation of Robert W. Breckons, sent in last March, is accepted.

RECKLESS DRIVER IS FINED $100

Edward Cluney, alleged to have been much under the influence of liquor and at the same time at the wheel of a large automobile which is declared to have speeded through King street at between thirty-five and forty miles an hour, escaped the clutches of the law this morning when arraigned at district court, by settling a fine of $100 and costs.

"I would willingly give this defendant the limit, and order that his license as a public chauffeur be taken away, were it possible under the section of the ordinances upon which this charge is based," commented Judge Monsarrat before imposing penalty upon Cluney.

"Had the defendant been booked under a section of the municipal laws, imprisonment and the cancellation of his license could have then been instituted in this court."

Headless driving was the complaint drawn up against Cluney. Special Motorcycle Officer Chilton, taking the stand, declared that Cluney was racing along King street shortly after six o'clock last evening at a fast and furious pace, and when trailed by the officer is alleged to have employed much profanity. The machine, number 1000, is said to have carried five passengers, all of considerable prominence about town.

Chief McDuffie of the detective department stated on the stand that Cluney was drunk and that he had warned the chauffeur while at Schofield Barracks that he would have to turn the machine over to another driver in returning to town after the aviation meet. A passenger named Hewitt was told to bring the machine back to town.

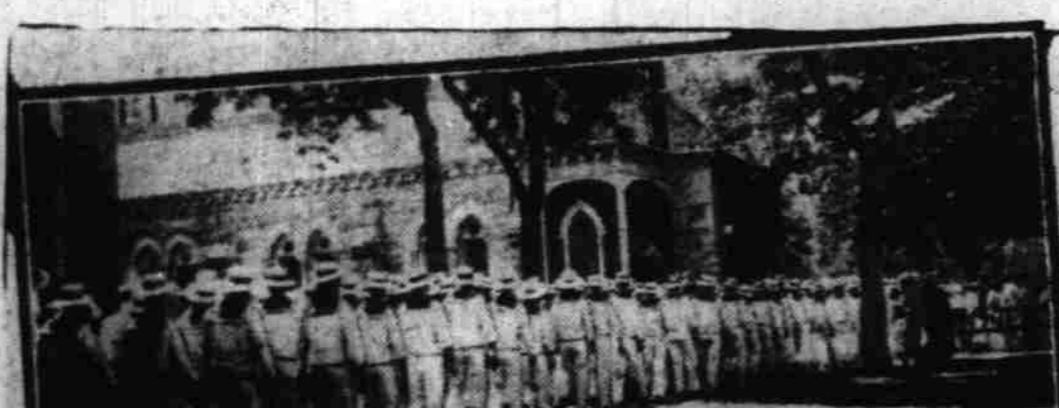

The fine imposed upon Cluney is the maximum penalty. The court expressed the hope that the magnitude of the fine might serve as a warning to other chauffeurs who appear inclined to chatter all reasonable speed records when coursing through the streets of Honolulu. Cluney was held in detention pending the securing of sufficient funds to liquidate his fine.

Motorcycle Officer Chilton charged Cluney with headless driving under Section 3116 of the Revised Statutes.

LIEUT. GEIGER AT KAMEHAMEHA HYDROPLANES TO BE FEATURED

Pearl Harbor Adapted for Work

Fort Kamehameha, and not Schofield Barracks, has been designated as aviation headquarters for Hawaii. First Lieut. Harold Geiger, the first of three army aviators ordered here for duty, arrived on the transport Logan yesterday morning, and after he had reported his arrival it was announced that his station would be at the Pearl Harbor post. With Lieut. Geiger is a civilian aeronautical engine expert, and a detail of twelve airplane mechanics, from the signal corps.

It was thought when the detail of army flying men to Oahu was first announced, that the logical place for the flights, but it develops that Lieut. Geiger expects to do most of his work with hydroplanes and flying boats, and that the smooth waters of Pearl Harbor are adaptable for this work. Lieut. Geiger brings two machines with him, and these will be set up as soon as practicable. It is even possible that he will be making flights over Honolulu harbor while the New Zealand is in port.

Lieutenant Geiger doesn't look for ideal flying conditions here, and fully realizes that the air currents are every precaution to avoid accident. However, according to the officer, flying at San Diego is anything but plain sailing, and he will have to draw on his experience of recent months to draw on when it comes to navigating the coast line.

If flying is found to be practicable here, there is a good chance that the local plant will be enlarged, and officers trained here especially for the service.

In order to acquire an army aviator's license they must perform several noteworthy feats. Among them are flying against a 15-mile wind; ascending to an altitude of 2500 feet; returning to earth, shutting off their engines 500 feet above and landing in a glide; carrying a 500-pound weight, going up and returning, landing within 150 feet of a canvas 50 feet square, stretched as a guide; being finally put through the process of making a 20-mile cross-country flight and return to starting point. The most difficult part of the latter task is that upon return, when the contestant for honors must be able to draw a map of the locality passed over in his dash through space. This last test, probably, is one of the most difficult in aviation.

The franking privilege, which costs the government millions of dollars a year, would be wiped out by a bill proposed by Senator Kenyon.

TERRITORIAL AND COUNTY OFFICIALS TO VISIT BRITISH BATTLESHIP

WEDNESDAY IS VISITING DAY
Captain Halsey of the battle-cruiser New Zealand has announced that visiting day on the vessel will be Wednesday. In the afternoon of that day, from 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock, the public is invited to visit the New Zealand. Officers will be on duty to show the visitors about the ship.

WATER COMPANY MUST PAY ITS FULL TAXES

The Oahu tax appeal court last week sustained the figures of the tax assessor, setting the valuation of the Waiahole Water Company's property at $250,000. The corporation had made a return of only $10,000, and claimed exemption under Act 136 of the session laws of 1907, which provides that water companies engaged in supplying the general public shall not be taxed.

JACK LUCAS TAKES STAND; SCORES A WIN

When "Jackie" Lucas breezed into district court this morning and prepared to take the stand in defense of William T. Heilbron, who faced a charge of excessive speeding of an automobile, a large gathering of spectators immediately sat up and took more than passing notice of what gave every promise of becoming an exhibition of verbal pyrotechnics.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS SAY TARIFF BILL NOW SURE TO PASS SENATE

Colleagues Claim Senators Thornton, Ransdell and Walsh Will Vote For It

BY C. S. ALBERT.
[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—The fixing by the senate finance committee of March 1, 1914, as the date when the reduction of duty on refined sugar shall drop to 1 cent per pound was made as a concession to the cane growers of Louisiana. A request to that effect was filed when the Underwood bill first came over from the house. It was renewed by Senator Ransdell, when he made his speech before the Democratic caucus in opposition to free sugar. The majority members of the finance committee after considering the matter from all viewpoints decided to accept the proposition.

In the same connection it was specifically stated that the date on which the placing of sugar on the free list becomes operative, three years hence, will not be in any way affected by continuing existing duties until March 1, 1914. Sugar will go to the free list as originally planned.

The concession will enable the planters to dispose of the present crops under the Payne-Aldrich rates, instead of the lower ones arranged in the Underwood bill. It is held that this will enable the Louisiana planters to meet their obligations in bank and save themselves from utter bankruptcy at the beginning.

Hawaii will receive the benefit of the same concession, but was given little thought in the making of it. Hawaii does not have two senators and cannot be depended upon to assist the administration in passing its legislative policies.

The opinion is now freely expressed on all sides that Senators Ransdell and Thornton will both vote for the Underwood bill when it comes to final passage. They will hold out to the last minute in their opposition to free sugar, but when that calamity is out of the way, their support may be given the measure as completed. Senator Ransdell has given an intimation to this purport. Senator Thornton will retire from public life in less than two years and

THE PRICE OF WAR

By MISS M. RUTH ANDERSON

Through centuries of hardship and suffering, people by experience have come to realize that, viewed from whatever angle you will, war is a waste—a waste of money, of men, and of morals. Horace Mann states that "if a thousandth part of what has been expended in war and preparing its mighty engines had been devoted to the development of reason and the diffusion of Christian principles, nothing would have been known for centuries past of its terrors, its sufferings, its impoverishment and its demoralization but what was learned from history."

Let us consider first the price of war financially. It has been estimated that since the French revolution the cost of war is no less than forty billion dollars. Added to this is the cost arising from destruction of property, the derangement of business, the interruption of commerce, the depreciation of values, the taking of men from productive employment; statisticians consider that these additional, though indeterminate, sources of loss would bring the total up to one hundred billion dollars. This, of course, relates only to the direct results of war. Another outlay is the institution of the national debt, which is almost wholly a war institution; in fact, without it modern warfare would be impossible. The total national indebtedness of the world today is upward of thirty-five billion dollars, plus the annual interest charge, which must be paid as it arises, and which amounts to about a billion and a quarter dollars. Then there are pension and charity rolls of all sorts equal to the interest charge given.

More burdensome than this in these later years, is the cost of "armed peace" or preparation for war. A few years ago it cost about five million dollars to build a fine battleship; now, one costs from ten to fifteen million dollars, and from one to one and one-half millions a year to operate and maintain it. The total cost at the end of ten years will be about thirty million dollars, and then it may be sent to the scrap heap or "modernized" at a heavy additional outlay. Besides this, the great size they are making the ships today call for larger dry-docks, and deeper ports and channels. Why is it that the present annual armament bill of the seven nations should be 165 per cent greater than it was thirty years ago? One answer to this question is that the majority of people still cling to their warlike instincts and cry, "In time of peace prepare for war." Sir Edward Grey, when speaking in the house of commons, on March 13, 1911, gave this warning: "Unless the incongruity and mischief are brought home, not only to men's heads generally, but to their feelings, so that they resent the inconsistency and realize the danger of it, if this tremendous expenditure on armaments goes on, it must in the long run break down civilization."

One of the most perfect examples in modern times of the inequity of war as a method of settling international disputes is the example of the war between the new German Empire and the Third Republic of France. Surely the result of this war was as productive as it was swift. But compare the different prospects with which these two nations took up life after the conflict was over. One victorious, her great aim gained, her territory augmented and the whole cost of the war paid for by the vanquished foe; the other literally at the feet of her invader, despoiled of much of her former wealth, crippled by the enormous indemnity exacted by her conquerors.

The financial loss in war is great but the loss of life is greater, for the number of men sacrificed to the god of war is so vast that it only confuses the imagination. Still it has been estimated that since Napoleon began his campaign no fewer than fourteen million people have died as a result of war. You say perhaps, that these people would have died if there had been no war. True, but what would be the difference? Death ordinarily comes in the midst of friends and kindness, but to those at war it comes in the midst of horror and suffering, in noisy camps or prisons perhaps. In war, the sacrifice of life involves every detail of cruelty, misery and suffering that one can conceive of. In the accounts of the late Russo-Japanese war we read how "in those fierce hand to hand fights men grappled, raged and tore each other like beasts, biting, clawing and gouging, each other's eyes out." All are not killed by the merciful bullet, which brings a speedy death. This is but one instance, which does not half describe the awful horrors on the battlefield. Hundreds of statistics try to describe the terrible scenes, but mere words can not depict or exaggerate the horror of warfare, a horror so terrible that even the great masters of war have been loudest in its denunciation.

During the last decade and a half, the three great wars of that period, namely the British-Boer, the Spanish-American and the Russo-Japanese, took millions of men out of the productive activities of civilization into the wasteful activities of warfare. Besides this, many more millions of men were set to work to use their skill in inventing and preparing great war engines, and all the necessary equipment of warfare. And all to what end? To the destruction of nations. This diversion of labor and capital from productive industry to waste and destruction, and the inability to supply the world's demands, led to an advance of prices in the world's common needs.

Economically, war means loss, a loss of men, which is far more serious than material resources. For the strength of a nation lies in its men, and there can be no doubt that the economic progress of the world, and the betterment of general welfare has been greatly retarded by the immense drain of war upon that portion of the population which does the world's work.

Terrible as is the price the nations pay financially and physically, there is still the heaviest item of all to be considered.

What is truer than this quotation from Edmund Burke? "War suspends the rules of moral obligation, and what is long suspended is in danger of being totally abrogated. In time of war, the moral standard of the whole nation is lowered, for war refines cruelty, prizes falsehood and deception, and legalizes crime. If the enemy is the victim, to the soldier in the field it is legitimate to lie, steal, cheat and burn property, so long as it is again the enemy against whom all this is practiced. How can this do anything but injure the moral character of the participant? War may call forth heroic qualities in men, it is true, but still more does it call forth the baser nature, for "God is forgotten in war and every principle of Christianity is trodden under foot."

In political life war leads to corruption and low ideals. Too often is an important position filled inefficiently by favoritism. Partisanship in politics leads to much jealousy and bitterness which continues long after the war is over. Commerce, too, shares in the general debasement. Everywhere one sees the spirit of selfishness.

Professor James, in his essay entitled "The Moral Equivalent of War," claims that military life is more strenuous and exacting than civil life, and that the tendency of war is to develop a more virile manhood than would be developed in civil life. He also states that if war be abolished that the world would lose a positive force in character building. His "moral equivalent" for this is compulsory service in civil life, by which manhood shall be able to do a world's work. But is this idea and these beliefs of his quite so? Is a soldier's life more strenuous than that of a civilian? Nine out of ten soldiers with any sense of justice would answer in the negative. Is it more exacting? Does it develop a virile manhood? Think of a soldier in peace service, which today constitutes nine-tenths of his duty, he certainly has an easier time than the average laborer or mechanic. Then in time of war, omitting the great crises of battle, the things which tax his endurance—lack of good food and regular eating, exposure, compulsory marches, prising, and other such things—tend to weaken, rather than promote moral and physical development.

Many people are at last beginning to realize the terrible price of war, not only to the individual but the nation as a whole. But too many still remain indifferent. "It may be true," they say, "but what can we do?" Every citizen can do his duty in driving this great evil from the world. War is of human origin and it is not inevitable. As the Rev. W. Walsh says, "The time has come to think."

Reports just received from the coast state that well No. 9 of the Honolulu Oil Company, on section 22, 24, came in with a gasser last week with a roar that was heard in Taft, five miles away. The flow is estimated to be about 40,000,000 cubic feet daily, with a pressure of about 700 pounds. The big blow came when the bit had penetrated a little beyond the 2300-foot mark. Fine sand and shells came out with the gas, and the tools were left in the hole. On account of the well being close to the road, guards were stationed a quarter of a mile from the well to warn automobiles to take the other road on account of the danger of the escaping gas taking fire.

HONOLULU NOW NEARING PORT

Nearing port and to come to a berth at Hackfeld wharf at an early hour tomorrow morning, the Matson Navigation steamer Honolulu will add to the accumulation of mainland merchandise and quartermaster supplies which for some weeks past have been arriving here in large quantities.

Forty-three cabin passengers are aboard the Honolulu according to a late wireless received here today at the agency of Castle & Cooke.

The Honolulu will be discharged of 2130 tons general cargo before sailing for Kahului, where 276 tons freight are to be left.

Consignments of supplies for Port Allen and Kaanapali on board the vessel will be transhipped here to other steamers.

The Honolulu is reported as bringing 299 sacks mainland mail and 71 packages express matter.

Three automobiles are included in the freight for this port.

Picnickers Met Misfortune.

Thirty-five young people who planned an outing in the lochs and at shady nooks about Pearl Harbor yesterday, leaving Honolulu at an early hour in the morning in the yacht Kamehameha, were sorely disappointed through the grounding of the craft, when within sight of destination. The Kamehameha met with ill luck near the ocean residence of Governor W. F. Frear at Peninsula. Despite efforts to get the vessel off the rocks, the yacht resisted the strain placed upon it through the friendly services of the power schooner Ida May. The yacht remained in the unfortunate position all day. The vessel's bottom was considerably damaged.

Friele Again Goes to Sea.

After many months ashore, James Friele, a former Inter-Island purser, has hearkened to the call of Neptune, and leaving behind his duties as chief clerk at the old Matson wharf office, went out as acting purser in the Mauna Kea, which sailed for Hilo and ports on Saturday afternoon. It has been some time since Hiloites have had the delightful pleasure of getting a line on the latest sartorial creations in Inter-Island uniforms. The arrival of the British battle-cruiser New Zealand proved too strong an attraction for Purser Phillips, who lays over one trip of the Mauna Kea to participate in the program of entertainment for the visiting officers and tars.

Loaded with Much Sugar.

Between five and six thousand tons sugar, gathered from a number of plantations along the coast of Hawaii, have been placed aboard the Matson Navigation liner Wilhelmina, during the stay of that vessel at Hilo. The Matson steamer returned to Honolulu this morning and at this port will be supplied with remaining freight to complete a shipment destined for San Francisco. The Wilhelmina is to be dispatched to the Coast at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. At least one hundred cabin passengers will return to the mainland in the popular liner. A number of Spanish and Portuguese are booked for the steamer.

Sparks From the Wireless.

Liners approaching the islands began to get into wireless touch with Honolulu at 8 o'clock last night was reported as three hundred and seventy-one miles off port, and reported that it will reach here at daylight tomorrow morning. The Hyades, en route from Seattle, reported being 434 miles off port. The steamer Nile, en route from San Francisco, reported that it will arrive at 6 o'clock on the morning of July 16 with seventy-seven sacks of mail. It reported all well.

Nile Will Require Coal.

Wireless advices received here indicate that the Pacific Mail liner Nile, now nearing the port from San Francisco, will require several hundred tons coal before resuming the voyage to Japan and China ports. The vessel may be berthed at Alakea wharf upon arrival here on Wednesday morning. Being a vessel of foreign registry the Nile has no cargo for Honolulu.

Kilauea Laid Up.

The Inter-Island steamer Kilauea, which for a year past has been operated on the Kona and Kau route, has gone out of commission, the vessel having been replaced by the old reliable Mauna Loa, which is now on a run to windward Hawaii ports. The Kilauea will receive extensive alterations and a general overhauling before going into service again.

Sparks from the Wireless.

The following wireless message has been received by the agents from the S. S. Honolulu, bound for Honolulu: For Honolulu, 2130 tons general cargo, 43 passengers, 71 express matter, 293 sacks mail, 3 automobiles; for Kahului, 276 tons general cargo; for Port Allen, 98 tons general cargo; for

BRITISH LINERS SUGAR-LADEN WILL MEET AT HONOLULU

Two Canadian-Australasian liners, the Makura from Sydney, N. S. W., and the Marama from British Columbia ports, are scheduled to meet at "The Crossroads of the Pacific" on Wednesday, to remain here for the greater part of the day before sailing for opposite points in the Pacific.

The Makura, with general cargo and a number of passengers from Australia by the way of Auckland and Suva, should reach the port at an early hour in the morning, according to the present expectations of T. H. Davies and Company, the local representatives. Aboard this vessel are one hundred tons of cargo from the colonies, including shipments of fertilizer and other lines of Australian products. Fifty passengers are booked to join the Makura, for Vancouver and Victoria. If all goes well, the Makura should be dispatched for the north Pacific coast on or about five o'clock in the evening.

There is but one available berth at Alakea wharf, and today it was about decided that the Makura be assigned to that wharf.

There is no cargo for this port aboard the steamship Marama, now enroute from Vancouver to Honolulu so far as the local agents have been advised.

The Marama will take fifteen additional passengers from this port before departure for Suva, Auckland and Sydney.

The last word received from this vessel was in effect that she would arrive here at noon Wednesday, sailing for the south some hours later.

It is possible that the Marama may be assigned to a berth at the Oceanic wharf.

COMMERCIAL NOTES

A recent consul report devotes considerable space to the conditions in China, particularly the currency situation following the birth of the new republic, and also the exportation of rice for the year, which is shown to be more than 60,000 tons in excess of that of 1912 from Saigon alone. Though the report is concerned mostly with Hongkong, and is written by Consul-General George Anderson of that city, it throws some light on China in general and is reproduced here in part.

While the discount between the paper currency issued by the provincial government at Canton and the corresponding silver coinage remains about the same as it has been for the past year, there has been a great improvement in the disposition of the people of the Province toward the paper money, and it circulates much more freely to the immense convenience of trade in the Hongkong field.

The provincial mint is turning out about $80,000 in subsidiary silver coins (about $38,500 gold) daily at present, which are received at the current discount of from 6 to 9 per cent as compared with the corresponding silver dollar, while the Government makes a considerable profit in seigniorage. These coins are used in the redemption of paper currency presented for redemption so far as they will go, and for the present there appears to be a general feeling of acquiescence in the idea that the people of the Province will have to accept paper money for some time to come. The Government has been able to buy considerable silver bullion with its own paper money at advantageous rates. While the situation is far from being without difficulty it is vastly improved. One of the direct results of this improvement is a more constant and an increasing movement of native goods to export points and a gradual loosening of credits in Hongkong for the shipment of goods to the interior.

Rice Trade—Mail via Siberia.

Rice exports from Saigon during the season up to April 1 amounted to 233,023 tons, as compared with 138,325 tons in the same period of last year, the prices during the current year averaging about 25 per cent below those of a year ago. There has been a general easing of the strained rice situation in southeast Asia, which has existed for the past two years with greater or less tension.

A daily mail service was established over the Tientsin-Pukow railway on May 1, thus increasing the facilities of mail from Shanghai and points south with Europe and the United States by way of Siberia.

Cement Trade—Cotton Goods.

The cement-making industry of Hongkong, including factories of the Hongkong concern at Canton and Macao, had an unfavorable year in 1912, the chief reason being the difficulty of securing supplies of limestone from the interior of China, whence most of the supply of this material has always been obtained. Ken competition also has had considerable to do with the results of the year's working.

Importers of foreign cotton goods in Hongkong report the smallest demand and slowest trade so far this year for their line of goods in South China, which has existed for many years. No definite reason for the situation is offered in explanation, but the general tendency of exchange to decline and the general uncertainty as to the future, politically as well as otherwise, probably account for the depression.

LACE MUCH USED ON NEGLIGES

The all-over lace blouses to be worn with different skirts are very much liked this season. They are inexpensive trifles, many not costing more than $5, but they are very effective. Some are made with a yoke, others merely have a plaited frill in the front, but all of them are comparatively simple. As a rule, they are delectable in the shadow lace, which is effective and cheap.

Another garment which demands a liberal supply of lace is the negligee. The dainty boudoir robes and negligees, not to mention the elaborate tea gowns, are made of lace. A beautiful tea jacket, made from the all-over shadow lace, has a shaped flounce of the shadow lace edging, which brings the garment about to the knees. The lace is mounted over flesh-colored chiffon, which gives it a soft and effective background, and is fastened by a buckle of crocheted roses, through which pink ribbon is drawn. Lace jackets are valuable assets for the tea gown. It requires only a satin foundation, which may be found in last season's ball gown, and a jacket of lace, to evolve a tea gown with all the hallmarks of Paris.

These lace jackets, by the way, are a really necessary addition to the wardrobe. They can be relied upon to add a finishing touch to many a gown which otherwise might be fashioned out of date. They are fashioned in various styles; the Russian blouse is a popular mode for the tall, slender woman, and the shorter, cutaway lines are liked by the woman with an average figure. One of the exclusive shops is featuring a very good-looking long coat of shadow lace finished with a wide hem of bright-colored silk, red, yellow and green being especially popular. Turnover collars of the cubist and futurist silks are used on other lace coats.

The use of lace, however, is not confined to gowns and to coats; it is also used largely in millinery and in neckwear. The softest, prettiest garden party hats are fashioned either entirely from lace or have brims or a crown of lace with trimmings of flowers. A lace frill extending an inch or more over the brim of the hat will give it a rich, soft finish which is universally becoming. The black jaces, by the way, are more effective than the white, because they tend to intensify the color of the eyes.

In discussing the vogue of lace one should not overlook the parasols of lace net the bags of lace which dangle from the wrist. Scarfs and veils of lace are also very much in demand. In the realm of lingerie, lace has never been used with such lavishness. In fact, there is not a feature of the wardrobe in which the unusual demand for lace cannot be noted.

Deputy Sheriff and Coroner Ross, was today called to inquire into the death of Makeana Ku, an Hawaiian, who was found dead in an apartment situated near the corner of Kilar and Kukui streets. The last seen of the man alive was when seated in a chair, he was accosted by some neighbors and then complained of feeling ill. Some hours later the body was found lying on the floor. The deceased is said to be related to Mrs. Daniel Bush of this city.

It was a badly damaged optic that George Ku presented to the attendant at the hospital following his encounter with a "mysterious" "Mr. Baker," who is alleged to have entered mightily into an assault that took place in the classic precincts of the Ah Leong block yesterday. Unable to identify his assailant, no arrests have been made.

The board of pardons discharged Michael Regan, a life prisoner, from the state prison. Regan was convicted in New Haven in 1902 for killing his wife.

Morning on CHANGE

Depression marks the week opening in stocks. Only one transaction between boards is recorded, being a sale of 5 shares of Oahu Railway steady at 110. Little business was done on the board, with Oahu the only stock showing improvement. Everything else was declined. Hilo Railroad common fell off half a point in a sale of 5 Oahu jumped three-eighths to 1.75 for shares at 4. Oahu Sugar declined one eighth in sales of 10 and 6 shares at 13.25. Hawaiian Commercial is down a fourth for 10 shares sold at 26.25. Oahu jumped three-eighths to 1.75 for 50 shares.

Pineapple, no doubt owing to the recently announced cut in price of the preserved article, has fallen two points to 35 asked with no sales.

FADS AND FANCIES OF HORSES RELATED BY THEIR TRAINERS

Race horses have marked peculiarities and often strong individualities. Learned men may argue pro and con as to the mental power of animals, but there is little chance to combat the proposition that dumb brutes have affection and love companionship.

Few people probably are aware that Rarus, 2:13 1/4, trotting champion in 1878, following Goldsmith Mail, 2:14, lavished the little affection there was in him on his owner, Mr. Conklin; Dave Coleross, his rubber, and a Scotch terrier named Jimmy.

"This dog," said Splan, "was presented to me in San Francisco by a fireman when he was a youngster of about two months. I took him to the track and gave him to Dave, who advised that he be put in Rarus' stable."

general acted as bad as the dog did. Dave remarked that he thought we had better keep the horse and dog together after that. When Rarus went to the track to work or trot the dog would follow Dave around and sit by the gate at his side, watching Rarus with as much interest as Dave did.

"I had several tempting offers for Jim in the way of cash, but such a thing as parting with him never entered my mind. When Rarus was sold to Mr. Bonner, Jimmy was not included in the bill of sale, but I felt that Rarus belonged to Jimmy and Jimmy to Rarus. After they both became the property of Mr. Bonner the affection of the dog and the horse for each other never abated, and this was well illustrated on one occasion.

Hack No. 70, driven by Ah Chuck, a Chinese, came into collision with an automobile on King street last evening with the result that the horse-drawn vehicle came out second best. The driver claimed that the chauffeur never stopped to ascertain the extent of the damage. The Chinese was unable to give the number of the machine.

NORMAL SUMMER SCHOOL OPENS WITH 100

With an enrollment of 100 students and with a staff of fourteen teachers, the Territorial and Normal Training School opened at nine o'clock this morning for the summer session.

The enrollment at the Normal School is unusually large this year, and a number of students are expected to arrive during the week.

Mrs. Mary W. Gunn, summer school director and in charge of physical training class; Mrs. L. G. Marshall, drawing and English; Miss Lucy Adams, literature and expression; Miss Helen Pratt, history; Miss Alma Seavey, arithmetic; Miss Jane Winne, music; Miss M. D. Dean, music; Miss J. M. White, domestic science, cooking, and sewing; Miss Nora Swanzey, assistant physical training director; J. F. Nelson, biology, hygiene and physiology; H. W. Robinson, geometry, algebra and arithmetic; C. W. Baldwin, geography, and S. T. Hoyt, vocational training.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Circuit Judge Robinson this morning approved the final accounts of the Hawaiian Trust Company, administrator of the estate of Clara E. English, and ordered the administrator discharged.

Word received from Attorney General Thayer by Assistant Attorney General A. G. Smith states he is dividing his vacation between the volcano and Hilo and having a good time withal. He probably will not return home until early next month.

Governor Frear today granted a pardon and restoration of civil rights to Edward K. Poyd, who was court-martialed and dishonorably discharged from the National Guard January 29, 1912, for leaving his post at the Kalahele quarantine before being relieved from duty, thus breaking the quarantine. The parole was recommended by the officials who presided at the court martial.

Chairman Mott-Smith of the public utilities commission has prepared a tentative form on which reports of railway accidents shall be made to the commission. Further consultation with railway men will be held before it is permanently accepted as official. This is only one of many forms that must be prepared for the many reports which public service corporations must submit to the commissioners.

An inspection of the Honolulu police force was made yesterday morning by the members of the civil service commission. This is the first inspection made by the commissioners. At 8:30 yesterday morning Deputy Sheriff Rose formed the men in line to be reviewed. In addition to the commissioners, Mayor Fern and members of the police committee of the supervisors were present. Chairman Wirtz of the commission stated after the inspection that the men make a very good showing, but he added that the city was in need of a larger police force, he believed.

More than $100 an acre is the valuation fixed on the pineapple cannery site at Kapaa, Kauai, which is to be sold by Land Commissioner Joshua D. Tucker at public auction in the near future. The tract contains about twenty-three acres, and the commissioner received word from the appraisers this morning saying they had fixed its value in the lump sum of $2500. The purchasers of the tract will be required by the territory to erect a cannery within a given time, and to have a canning capacity capable of handling the product of the large pineapple tract there, which has been parcelled out to homesteaders.

For an investigation of its stocks and bonds and general finances, the application to amend the charter of the Hamakua and South Kohala Telephone & Telegraph Company has been submitted to E. A. Mott-Smith, chairman of the public utilities commission. The statute under which the commission was created requires it to make careful scrutiny of the finances and business conduct of the concerns coming within its jurisdiction, and this rule must be complied with and the chairman's conscience satisfied before the charter amendments asked in the present instance can be granted. The company asks for a change of name, location and an increase in capitalization authority from $30,000 to $500,000.

The sale of four lots at auction in the auction rooms of O. A. Steven on last Saturday brought the sum of $3800. The first lot was sold on Beretania at the corner of Keaunokua and brought $2200. Five lots were offered for sale on Reservoir street, Kaimuki. Three of them were sold for $1600, the remaining two to be disposed of privately. The five lots were first offered together and at upset of $2400. No bids being made, they were offered separately.

Julius Asch, Jr., member of the house of representatives and chief clerk for Sheriff Jarrett, failed to connect with a fine trip to San Francisco as an accompanying guard to Pope C. Hartman, who is wanted by the coast authorities. At the last minute on Friday, the local police department was notified by cable that they would not stand the expense of an official to accompany Dr. Hartman. It was with much regret that Asch was obliged to forego the pleasure of a round trip to the coast. Hartman sailed in the Sonoma on Friday, the San Jose officers being of the opinion that they can take a chance of getting their man when the Sonoma reaches San Francisco.

MONDAY JULY 14, 1913

A broad margin of leisure is as beautiful in a man's life as in a book.—Theocritus.

GOOD WORK, MR. ROSE

Public sentiment in Honolulu is decidedly with Acting Sheriff Charles Rose in his campaign against the auto-fiends.

Abuses of the privilege of auto-riding and driving have been notoriously flagrant in Honolulu for years. Hardly a month has passed in recent years without chronicling a tragedy as the result of some reckless or intoxicated driver's attempts to "burn up" the streets in the city or the roads outside. Life and property have counted nothing in comparison with the wishes of the auto fiends to get a record of forty or fifty or sixty miles an hour.

Much of the blame, but not all of it, has been due to the lack of a systematic campaign on the part of the police against the speeders. Some of the blame has been due to the fact that the speeders either got off with light fines in the lower court or appealed their cases to the circuit court and, perhaps months later, were turned loose with a punishment that was far from fitting the crime. Not long ago a case went to trial in one of the branches of the circuit court. Although the motorcycle officer of the police department had evidence showing that the offending chauffeur broke the law in a particularly flagrant and defiant manner, the officer was not called, the case was heard without evidence to show its seriousness, and as a consequence the violator of the law went loose with little more than a reprimand. Something was amiss in the handling of this case.

There have been too many instances of the kind in Honolulu, and for a long time the speed-limit laws have been lightly regarded or disregarded altogether. The last legislature was asked to pass two important acts that would have made the prosecution of offenders more effective, but the bills were lost in the rush of the closing days. However, the present laws and ordinances, if enforced, will stop the speeders, and the acting sheriff gives every evidence of trying to enforce the laws. So long as Sheriff Jarrett is at the head of the police department, Honolulu cannot look for much energy, intelligence or ability in the administration of police affairs, but luckily the sheriff has taken a vacation on the Coast and Acting Sheriff Rose has an opportunity to hold the reins.

Also, Attorney Charles F. Chillingworth, who is prosecuting the cases as the acting deputy city attorney, is putting commendable energy and fearlessness into the work and is backed up by City Attorney Cathcart. The combination of forces is obviously more effective than that of the past.

If he can succeed in getting sufficient evidence against the many offending drivers, public and private, and if his work is backed up by energetic prosecution and the imposition of penalties that will not be laughed at, the reckless violation of law and order by the speed-hogs will be stopped.

GLAD TO SHOW IT

Uncle Sam and John Bull, bound by the ties of blood, are glad to show brotherly feeling when occasion permits.

Honolulu's British residents have not monopolized all the welcome to the New Zealand nor the entertainment of her officers and crew. Not at all. Americans greeted the great fighting machine and the men aboard with just as vigorous enthusiasm, and it was just as sincere, as that voiced by the Britons.

This is not by any means the first signal exhibition of international brotherhood that Honolulu has witnessed. The ties are so close, in fact, that they are scarcely noticed, so familiar as to be seldom remarked upon.

A significant statement on the same line was contained in the London Times on the day before the Fourth of July. The Times editorially said of Independence Day:

"It has become one of the established functions of British life, and we, who rarely commemorate triumphs in our history, make an annual point of joining with the Americans in celebrating our greatest disaster. Such a spectacle, as is seen twice a year in London, of Englishmen enlogizing Washington's memory and honoring Independence Day, would be well nigh unimaginable anywhere else.

"Probably there are but few who stop to think what it signifies when Englishmen make a feast day of July Fourth and publicly generate the name of Washington. It means, in the first instance, that they are celebrating the most tragic blunder in British history; and, in the second, that they are paying tribute to the memory of the man who brought Great Britain to her lowest depths of humiliation and impotence.

"It has come to be a sort of annual penance. Year after year this old and haughty nation dons a white sheet, and, through the mouths of some of her most eminent sons, expresses open contrition for her share in the American revolution. Our mistake was great, but we have, at least, amply, sincerely and repeatedly admitted it."

A BLOW TO CLEAN BASEBALL

Baseball at Moiliili will not be patronized long by clean sportsmen and the best element of fans if an occurrence like that of yesterday is repeated. An umpire who stood up for impartial administration of the rules of the game was blocked by the howls of a few disgruntled ball-players, and the weak-kneed policy of the management resulted in the overruling of the umpire and the triumph of the rowdy ball-players.

The merit of Sunday baseball is that it affords—or ought to afford—clean outdoor recreation for crowds of people who cannot afford auto rides or picnics in the country and who need to get away, in this climate particularly, from stuffy rooms and insanitary surroundings. The game is supposed to encourage physical and moral control, determination and sense of fair play.

When this splendid sport gets into the hands of rowdies, it will be discredited by the very people who now are looked upon as its best and certainly its most profitable patrons. The gentleman who umpired yesterday's game is a competent and a fair official and his decision should have been accepted at once. The management owes an apology to Captain Stayton, and certainly every lover of fair play and every fan who appreciates Captain Stayton's ability to conduct a game as it should be conducted hopes that he will umpire the remaining games of the series. It is also to be hoped that no more exhibitions of umpire-baiting like that of yesterday will be allowed at Moiliili field.

Col. Claude R. Ball, who, according to rather uncertain reports, is Wilson's choice for U. S. attorney here, is from Clark's congressional district and a brother of David Ball, who is a famous Missouri politician and was twice a candidate for governor. Col. Ball has been a member of the state legislature. A good deal of what has been printed here about Col. Ball's political record refers not to the colonel himself, but to his brother, according to those who are familiar with the politics of the "show me" state.

Some wisely constructive suggestions on the renovation of the Republican party should come from the fifth precinct of the fourth district. The executive committee of the club has been authorized to report recommendations to a general club meeting on Thursday evening of this week. The executive committee is composed of C. G. Ballentyne, L. M. Judd, F. D. Lowrey, G. H. Buttolph, O. C. Swain, D. L. Withington and C. W. Zeigler. These men ought to have some ideas on "what to do about it."

The Democratic county committee "has every assurance" that Wilson will name nobody governor who has not the committee's indorsement. Banana Jack et al. are correspondingly elated.

What's in fame or a name? The San Rafael, Cal., Teesin refers to George R. Carter as the "sugar-planters' $1,000-per-month lobbyist."

Anyway, if enough administration officials leave Washington at the same time, Bryan is acting president.

Now that the army birdmen are here, military aviation in Hawaii should be plane sailing.

The Hilo dynamiters have evidently been reading up on the McNamara cases.

The international status quo isn't half so important as the quid pro quo.

Jack Johnson, at least, is one who doesn't want to "come back."

Despite his name Col. Ball may be no Claude-hopper.

Nail the misstatements made on the mainland!

A good place for the speed-hog is the pen.

WAILAAE SPEEDING

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin. Sir:—On behalf of the citizens of the East End or the Kaimuki and Palolo districts, I wish to again call the attention of those whose business it is to enforce the laws, that complaints against being made of the reckless speeding of autos along the Wailaae road. For a few days after the last complaint there was an officer kept on the road, and his presence had a wholesome effect on the speeders (at the time being, but with his withdrawal the speeding and dodging again went merrily on.

There being no sidewalk on the Wailaae road at any section of it after leaving Beretania street at Moiliili, pedestrians have to use this roadway in going from point to point and it is a case of dodging automobiles at all hours of the day and night. Especially is this true in the case of the many children that have to attend the Liliuokalani school, and at any moment there is prospect of somebody getting badly hurt if not killed.

So far, Kaimuki has been fortunate, but that can't last forever. EAST ENDER.

A. B. LINDSAY of Honokaa and R. T. Guard of Hilo have been re-appointed members of the liquor commission for the county of Hawaii.

C. M. LINDSAY WATSON, manager of Bishop & Co.'s Hilo branch, is in Honolulu in preparation for a trip to the mainland, where he will take a vacation.

JOHN O'ROURKE, the well-known Hilo horseman, is here on a business trip. O'Rourke says that he is going to dispose of his racing string and get out of the game.

MISS PAULA ANDERSON of Alameda, Cal., is an arrival in Honolulu as a guest of Miss Evelyn Maillot, also of Alameda, who came to this city several weeks ago.

A. H. WILKINS, advertising manager of the Janss Advertising Agency of Los Angeles, is an arrival in Honolulu for a month's vacation of combined pleasure and business.

MRS. PHARES W. RIDER who, with her late husband, has for the past eleven years presided over the Kakaako Mission, will leave in the Wilhelmina for the mainland Wednesday morning.

CAPT. B. O. MAHAFFEY, ordnance department, the new department ordnance officer, of the Hawaiian department, arrived on the transport Logan, and has reported for duty. He will occupy an office of "army row" in the Young hotel building.

VERNON E. TENNEY, son of E. D. Tenney of Castle & Cooke, has joined his mother and sister at the Hotel Bellevue, San Francisco. The Honolulu party at the Bellevue includes Mrs. H. Noonan, mother of Mrs. Tenney, and Dr. and Mrs. George Herbert and their daughter, Miss Rose. They will later be joined by E. D. Tenney.

SENATOR ERIC A. KNUDSEN, president of the upper house of the territorial legislature, is now en route to Europe to spend several months at Berlin. He recently was entertained ten days at Boston, where, as the guest of a club of which he is a member, the senator was treated to a dinner as nearly resembling a Hawaiian luau as the Bostonese know how to make it.

ALFRED FREITAS of Honolulu was married in Los Angeles June 27 to Miss Hazel Barter, aged 20, of that city, who claims to be heir apparent to an estate in Ireland which contains two castles. The romance of the couple began a year ago in Los Angeles, hearing that Miss Barter was ill in the Mission apartments, sent her some flowers. Whether or not the couple will return to Honolulu is not known.

ARMY AND NAVY

Great interest was manifested at the War Department in the bill introduced by Representative Adamson of Georgia providing substantial recognition for the army and naval officers identified with the construction of the Panama canal. The bill provides for the appointment of Col. George W. Goethals as a major general and the appointment of Col. W. C. Gorgas and Lieut. Col. H. C. Hodges, D. D. Gailard and W. L. Seibert to be brigadier generals and of Commander H. H. Rousseau of the navy to be a captain.

According to the gossips, the passage of the Adamson bill would clear the atmosphere resulting from the keen competition for the prospective vacancy in the office of chief of engineers of the army, due to the retirement of the incumbent, Brig. Gen. W. H. Bixby, next December. Various plans under consideration involve the

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

BERTRAM VON DAMM—Civil service will, I hope, ultimately be extended until it takes practically all of the city positions out of politics.

JOHN BARLEY—When Jack Dowsett makes his will I'm going to ask him to leave me his algaroba bean privilege instead of his sugar plantation.

LIEUT. L. M. STEVENS, U. S. N.—The New Zealand is certainly a splendid ship. Apparently officers and crew are given the maximum of comfort.

GEORGE GUILD—The docking of the New Zealand Saturday was a beautiful piece of work. The navigator brought the big battleship in without a hitch. Capt. Macaulay was the harbor pilot, but the handling of the vessel was looked after entirely by her officers.

ARTHUR E. LARIMER—The Commercial League baseball games which are being played Saturday afternoons between teams from eight of the leading business houses of the city are proving a great success. They provide recreation and exercise for a large number of men.

H. C. CARTER—To countenance an affair like yesterday's at Moiliili is to put a premium on rowdy baseball. When disgruntled players refuse to obey the umpire because they don't like his decision, and the promoters stand by and see him driven from the game, it's about time to close the gates for good.

PROF. M. M. SCOTT—I am anxious to find someone who can tell me something of General Crook's famous Indian scout, George Roudard, who was an Hawaiian. There is some interesting history connected with this man and if anyone in Hawaii knows of him or his local connections, I shall be glad if they will communicate with me.

Appointment of either Col. Goethals or Col. Seibert to that office, in recognition of their great work at Panama.

The passage of the Adamson bill probably would eliminate both officers named from the field of candidates for the office of chief of engineers, and improve the chances of other officers in the corps for that vacancy.

Col. William H. Black, formerly engineer commissioner of the district, and now in charge of river and harbor works at New York city, is the highest ranking officer of the corps eligible for promotion to the head of the department.

Brig. Gen. William Crozier, who has been under special detail acting as president of the Army War College in this city, will relinquish that detail and resume his legal duties as chief of the bureau of ordnance.

Gen. Crozier was placed in charge of the War College last August, succeeding Brig. Gen. A. L. Mills when the latter became chief of the militia division, in order to carry out certain plans of the general staff for the development of that institution. His work of organization is now completed, which is the reason assigned for his return to the ordnance bureau.

Brig. Gen. Hunter Liggett, recently promoted and at present on duty at the Army War College, will become president of that institution. Col. Rogers Birnie, who has been acting as chief of ordnance since Gen. Crozier's detail to the War College, will remain on duty at the ordnance bureau as assistant.

WALTER KENDALL A BENEDICK YOUTHFUL ROMANCE FULFILLED

Mrs. Walter Morrison Kendall, formerly Miss Marie Elizabeth Smith, of Denver.

Wedding Solemnized in Denver June 30 and Couple Expects to Reach Honolulu July 21

Walter Morrison Kendall of Honolulu and Miss Marie Elizabeth Smith of Denver were married in the Colorado city June 30, according to a wedding announcement which reached here in Sunday's mail. That Kendall is the hero of a romance covering a period of six years is aptly told by the following, reproduced from the Denver Post of June 29:

"It's a real romance and the cleverest fiction writer couldn't possibly weave a prettier story" around two characters than that which is interwoven in the lives of these two prominent young people who will tomorrow launch their little craft on the matrimonial sea.

Walter Morrison Kendall of Honolulu and Miss Marie Elizabeth Smith of Denver were married in the Colorado city June 30, according to a wedding announcement which reached here in Sunday's mail. That Kendall is the hero of a romance covering a period of six years is aptly told by the following, reproduced from the Denver Post of June 29: "Little boy and girl were they; Katie Lee and Willie Gray" was almost the case with this youthful pair and when Marie tossed her pretty head, opened wide her big blue eyes and laughed at the ardent young swain he was much chagrined and resolved then and there to never again mention "Love" to this unsentimental Miss.

Not long after this little experience, Miss Smith went to Virginia to school and young Kendall hid himself to the Hawaiian Isles with an avowed determination to forget her of the blue eyes and golden tresses. Year after year rolled by and nary a letter nor yet a word was exchanged either directly or indirectly between the former sweethearts.

LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR, NO DANDRUFF, 25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Hair Coming Out?—If Dry, Brittle, Thin or Your Scalp Itches and Is Full of Dandruff—Use "Danderine"

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of Dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time.

Six years had failed to erase from her memory the sound of that Southern voice and she recognized him at once. He was here on business, he told her, but business of such a nature that it would not permit of being told over a telephone wire, and with her permission the young gallant made straight for the home of the dainty Miss with echoes of "Faint heart never won fair lady" ringing in his ears the while.

He spent three days in town, during which time he echoed the proposal and declaration of six years ago, but in a much more manly and forcible manner. It was all so sudden that she said she would have to take a little time to think things over, and after waiting six weeks—what were a few days or weeks to this young prince charming, so off he went for Washington, New York and other Eastern cities, but the telegraph wires were kept fairly sizzling and poor old Uncle Sam was obliged to add several new men to the force.

After an absence of three weeks he returned for his answer and lost no time in encircling her slender finger with a sparkling solitaire. "This was only two short weeks ago but Kendall is still in town—and what is more he refused to take any chances on leaving town and losing her again so they are to be married tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in St. Mark's Church."

The wedding will be very quiet only relatives and a few close friends being present. The altar will be banked with palms, ferns and quantities of pink roses and Rev. John H. Houghton will perform the ceremony.

The bride will be attired in a smartly tailored dark blue traveling costume with a nifty tailored hat to match and will wear a beautiful corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley.

She will be attended by Miss Hulda Churchill and Miss Ruth Gilbert as bridesmaids and her sister, Miss Dorothy Faye Smith as maid of honor. They will also wear dark tailored suits and carry armfuls of Killarney roses.

Irvin McCrary, who has just returned from Harvard, will act as best man, and the bride will be given away by her father.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wayne Smith of 562 High street and is not only one of the most beautiful but one of the most talented and charming young women in the city. She has a beautiful soprano voice and possesses a genuine and unaffected manner that is distinctly refreshing and has made her a favorite with all who know her.

Mr. Kendall is the son of J. B. Kendall of Memphis, Tenn. He is associated with the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company and the Honolulu Stock Exchange, and is one of the best liked young business chaps on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall will leave tomorrow for a wedding trip which will include Chicago and other Eastern cities, Yellowstone Park, Portland, Seattle and California and will sail from San Francisco on the Sierra, July 15, for Honolulu, where they will be at home to their friends after August 1 at the Hotel Pleasanton.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine—advertisement.

VISITING MASONS ARE GIVEN RECEPTION

The members of the three local Blue Lodges of the Masonic order entertained at a reception and dance at the Young Hotel Saturday evening in honor of Grand Master William P. Filmer, of the Grand Lodge, F. and A. M., jurisdiction of California; Mrs. Filmer, Miss Marion Filmer, Grand Lecturer T. J. Baker, F. and A. M.; Mrs. Baker and H. G. Ilderton. District Inspector Joshua D. Tucker, assisted by the Grand Masters of the three Blue Lodges, J. F. MacLean, W. H. Goetz and J. F. Fenwick, presented the guests of honor to the attendants of the evening.

The reception committee consisted of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Drew, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hars and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Boekus, while F. E. Thompson acted as floor manager. Shortly after the first guests had arrived, dancing was begun to the strains of music by Kaal's orchestra, which lasted well into the evening. Refreshments were served throughout the evening.

The visiting Masons will be tendered a reception by the members of the three local Blue Lodges in the Masonic Temple this evening, and tomorrow evening a farewell banquet will be given at the Country Club for Grand Master Filmer and his party. The visitors will depart for the mainland in the "Wilhelmina" Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

A SOUR, GASSY, UPSET STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" Overcomes Your Indigestion in Five Minutes

Wonder what upset your stomach—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regularly and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty-cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary—advertisement.

WILCOX' REMAINS INCINERATED IN HONOLULU

The Inter-Island steamer Kinau arrived off port early this morning, having on board the body of Ralph L. Wilcox, 27 years old, of Lihue, Kauai, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wilcox and head overseer of the G. N. Wilcox plantation, who was drowned on the Hanalei side of the Garden Island Saturday evening. News of the tragedy reached Honolulu by wireless yesterday morning.

Mrs. Wilcox, who accompanied the body of her husband to Honolulu, told briefly the story of the accident which has brought sorrow to the many friends of the deceased. Mr. Wilcox's health had not been very good and after taking a few days' rest he had come with his wife to Haena, beyond Hanalei, Saturday forenoon, to spend a few days at the seaside residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rice Sr. On the afternoon of his arrival at Haena, he and two lady members of the family went bathing in the surf. He swam out into the breakers and called to his companions not to follow, as the water was very deep. A third party, after a time he was heard to call for help, the two women hastening to his assistance. When they reached him he placed a hand on each of their shoulders and then suddenly released his hold and sank. Every effort was made to assist him, but when a boy was finally brought to the shore life was extinct. It is thought that the immediate cause of his death was heart failure.

As it was desired by the relatives of the deceased that his remains be brought to Honolulu for cremation, the steamer Kinau was promptly dispatched for Lihue upon her arrival from the Garden Island yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, returning this morning with the body.

The deceased was well known throughout the islands and for many years has been identified with the G. N. Wilcox plantation in the capacity of head overseer. He leaves a widow, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rice Sr. Besides his parents and wife, he leaves surviving him his brothers, Charles Wilcox, manager of the Koloa Sugar Company, and Gaylord Wilcox, manager of the McKee Sugar Company, and three sisters, George N. Wilcox, on whose plantation he was head overseer, and his uncle, Mr. Wilcox's sudden and untimely death caused great sorrow both on the island of Kauai and in Honolulu, he having a large circle of friends in both places. Upon arrival of the Kinau this morning the remains were removed to Williams' undertaking establishment, which superintended the incineration. Mrs. Wilcox and friends who came to Honolulu with the body, will return to the Garden Island in the steamer W. G. Hall this evening taking the ashes with them for interment. Funeral services will be held at Lihue on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Hans Isenberg and Rev. J. M. Lydgate will officiate.

Fort Shafter Notes

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

FORT SHAFTER July 14.—The transport Logan brought a number of welcome additions to the Ft. Shafterarrison, Maj. and Mrs. M. J. Lenihan, Miss Lenihan and Miss Katherine Lenihan reached the post from Major Lenihan's late station at Galveston and are the guests of Major E. V. Smith until the arrival of their belongings. Major Lenihan was recently transferred to the 2nd from the 7th infantry and formerly served as a 1st lieutenant in the 2nd. He has been assigned the quarters recently vacated by Lieut. Col. Stamper and will command the second battalion of the regiment, relieving Captain E. A. Shuttleworth of that command.

Other arrivals from the states were Mrs. Paul B. Malone and children, the family of Captain Malone of the 2nd. Captain Malone, whose company is in the field in upper Kailua valley, came in from his camp to meet Mrs. Malone, and, after settling the family in their new home, returned to his camp.

Another returning member of the garrison was Captain W. T. Hannum, engineer corps, who has been on leave of absence in the states for a month. Captain Hannum resumes command of company 1, battalion of engineers, relieving Lieut. Cleveland C. Gee.

Major Williams' battalion of the 2nd infantry will return from their field trip on Wednesday after a very successful tour of exploration. Numerous small parties of both officers and men have succeeded in crossing the main ridge of the Pali from the heads of the valleys where their various camps have been located. This work, though arduous and at times dangerous, has been accomplished without other than minor accidents, due largely to extreme care and good management.

The battalion numbers among its officers two especially energetic guides in the persons of Lieuts. P. J. Lauber and Thomas J. Camp. These officers have familiarized themselves thoroughly with the mountains in this vicinity by numerous trips made unofficially and in pursuit of their favorite sport of mountain climbing.

The garrison hop on Saturday night was well attended, and, in consequence, was a most delightful affair. Informal in nature, with splendid music, the evening was a huge success. Among the visitors were Major and Mrs. Myers, marine corps, Miss Helen Alexander, Miss Swanzy, Lieut. Carl Bostrom, of the navy, Lieut. Evans of the marine corps, Miss Hoffman, Mrs. J. F. Galbraith, Mrs. Heppburn of Honolulu, and Captain George S. Gibbs. Following the hop about thirty of the dancers were entertained by Lieut. W. C. Rose at an informal but agreeable supper. The affair occurred at the quarters of Capt. and Mrs. Gibson, inasmuch as Lieut. Rose, being a "tent-dweller," could not well accommodate so large a party in his limited quarters.

The next field service for the garrison will be a practice march to Haleiwa and return via Schofield Barracks by the first battalion. This will take place shortly after August first and will consume seven or eight days and is planned to give the new men lately joined some field experience prior to regimental and brigade maneuvers scheduled for the later months of the current year. The battalion will finish its target practice for its recruit squads this week and from present indications will qualify a number of marksmen. It will be followed on the range by the 2nd battalion under Major Lenihan.

Captain Jesse M. Cullison, 2d Infantry, was a passenger on the outgoing Sonoma on the 11th bound for Fort Leavenworth, Kas. Capt. Cullison had expected his orders for his new station to reach him in time to enable him to proceed by the last home-bound transport but they failed to arrive and he therefore was authorized to proceed by commercial liner.

Another of his predecessor's ideas went glimmering when Secretary Daniels ordered the restoration of shoulder marks to the white service coat, the mess jacket and the overcoat worn by a naval officer. Shoulder marks also are restored to the uniforms of naval militia officers, and there is a return to the type of shoes formerly worn. Mr. Daniels' latest order also made it optional with bureau chiefs whether, upon special occasions, they shall wear uniforms denoting the rank of rear admirals.

Recommended by Admiral Badger. The changes are made upon recommendation of Rear Admiral Badger, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, and a majority of the officers of the fleet. Mr. Daniels said a year's experience has demonstrated that the changes made last year by Secretary Meyer did not meet with the approval of the service.

THE MODERN WAY OF KEEPING HOUSE

Cooking with gas is the modern way of keeping house. Cooking with coal or wood means hot, hard, dirty work. And sometimes the stove won't "draw."

When you cook with gas you use a match for kindling---no dirt, no trouble. The kitchen is always clean. And there is no smoke and heat to blow into your other rooms.

Don't think that cooking with gas is expensive. On the contrary it is very economical, as the fire is going only when you want it, and it gives heat just where heat is needed.

Once you used gas for fuel you'd never be without it. Why not have "Gas Service" in YOUR home?

DUO OF CONCERT ARTISTS WILL ENTERTAIN AT YE LIBERTY THEATER

Two musical artists, rated as far above the average, will appear in a specially arranged program to open this evening at Ye Liberty Theater, at which time Monsieur Reynard, an Italian baritone, hearing the highest recommendations from large world-touring circuits and Mademoiselle Rosella, a noted harpist and pianist, will make their bow before a Honolulu audience.

General Manager Maxon succeeded in securing these talented musicians for a brief engagement only. Mme. Reynard and Mlle. Rosella have recently completed a two years' tour in which the greater part of the globe has been circled. They have just closed a successful season on the well known Rickard circuit which covers Australia and the colonies.

With the assistance of a beautiful harp, Mlle. Rosella, it is predicted, will become a general favorite. Mons-

Reynard is rated by the mainland and continental press as one of the clearest singers in his class. The musical artists are now en route to New York, where they have a contract to remain in concert work for the better part of a year before proceeding to Europe.

The tragic fate of the great liner Titanic, with the attendant loss of a thousand or more souls, is still fresh in the minds of the people.

To portray this disaster in a manner that arrests the attention of the spectator through between three and four thousand feet of film is the mission of the monster production, a masterpiece of the film manufacturers' art, which, under the title of "Wreck of the Titanic," is to be displayed for the first time in Honolulu at the Empire Theater this evening.

MASSMEETING IS WELL ATTENDED AFFAIR

In spite of the fact that the program for the Y. M. C. A. mass meeting in the Empire theater last evening was changed at the eleventh hour, the largest crowd of the series was present. The change was due to the non-arrival of the film, "From Manger to Cross." The picture had been sent to the Big Island for a week and the Hilo manager neglected to return it on the Mauna Kea Saturday. When the mistake was discovered Saturday afternoon it was decided to hold the ordinary meeting.

Although David C. Peters had but a short time to prepare for the address, a number of men have said that it was the strongest of the five addresses he has given. He took as his subject the story of the Prodigal Son.

The musical program, which was rendered by Miltner's orchestra, Mrs. G. K. Tackabury, the Male Quartet and Carl Miltner, was of the highest grade. The meeting was presided over by Lloyd R. Killam.

A pretty wedding took place Saturday at the residence of Miss Maye Mackaye, Emma street, when Miss Jessie Gee became the wife of Maximilian Basker, Dr. Doremus Scudder, pastor of Central Union Church, performing the ceremony. Miss Lillian Gee, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, I. Scharlin attending the bridegroom. Mrs. Basker, who is a daughter of Mrs. Florence L. Gee of San Francisco, came to Honolulu a short time ago on a vacation and here met Basker. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served, after which the couple left on a honeymoon trip. Those present at the wedding were Miss Lillian Gee, Mr. and Mrs. A. Clausen, Miss Emily Green, Miss Frances Mackaye, Miss May Mackaye, Miss Merrows, Dick Sullivan, I. Scharlin, M. Wilkins, J. Marshall and Mrs. White.

ing from her wharf at Southampton on a maiden voyage. Scenes aboard the palatial leviathan are lifelike and realistic in the extreme. Some clever studio work is accomplished in the encounter with a sea of floating ice, the careening of the huge vessel as for some hours it wallowed in the trough of the sea before taking the final plunge into Atlantic.

The rush to the life boats and the frantic efforts of the wireless operators to bring relief to distressed passengers grips the interest of the spectator to the end. The Empire program for the week is one of the best arranged in many weeks.

A referendum vote taken among the mayors of fifty cities in New York state shows an overwhelming majority in favor of Sunday baseball. Admissions paid to go aboard the new German steamship Emperor in Junk dealers during 1912 did an enormous business, the geological survey asserts in a statement issued.

NEW ZEALAND OFFICERS AND CREW ASHORE

The reception of Mrs. Swanzy at her Maunaloa Valley home will be attended by Captain Halsey and a number of the officers who have secured leave. The coaling of the ship, of course, has interfered with a large number attending. The reception will be from 4 o'clock until 7:30 p. m. Several American army and navy officers will be present.

It is tomorrow afternoon at the Country Club that British Consul Rentiers and Mrs. Rentiers plan to entertain Captain Halsey and his officers. Because of the coaling it may be that many officers will be obliged to remain aboard, yet there is a possibility of the work being completed by that time and the vessel put in order.

The entrance of the ship into the harbor Saturday afternoon was one of the prettiest sights naval men have seen for some time. Without a pilot boat, the huge ship of war made her way into the harbor shortly after 3 o'clock. The booming of cannon, from ship and shore, began as she slowly felt her way into the port, and swung in alongside the Ewa side of Alakea wharf. A few sharp signals given, lines brought to the dock by the British jacks, and the battle-cruiser was made fast.

A few minutes later, Consul Rentiers boarded the vessel and met the captain. He was followed by Lieutenant Ball, U. S. A., aide to Brigadier General Funston, and the local entertainment committee consisting of George F. Davies, William Healey, Robert Catton, Roderick O. Matheson, J. Phillips, C. G. Ballentyne. With them was Guy Butolph of the committee on sports; also R. A. Jordan, as representative of the cricket club and G. Fred Bush and Ed Towse of the Commercial Club. The committee was received by Captain Halsey in his quarters, where the program as outlined was gone over, and heartily approved by the captain, save the arrangements for Monday and Tuesday, coaling days, during which time, he said, the officers would be required to remain on duty until the work was completed.

The plans as shaped by Mr. McStocker, in charge of the program, are for a luncheon at the University Club, under the joint auspices of the Hawaiian societies of the American Revolution. It is hoped the function will be largely attended by the "Sons" and "Daughters." General Davis will have charge of the arrangements at the club. W. R.

CAPTAIN HALSEY PAYS RESPECTS TO LOCAL OFFICIALS

Captain Halsey of the New Zealand battle-cruiser called on Governor Frear and Admiral Moore this morning, visiting the executive building at about 10 o'clock, and reaching the naval station half an hour later.

There is an international agreement among the naval powers that white will be the accepted uniform for official visits in the tropics, and this morning Captain Halsey, and his aide, Lieutenant A. D. Boyd, merely added white service uniforms, and were dressed for the occasion.

The British officers were met at the entrance to the executive building by Colonel J. W. Jones, adjutant general of the National Guard of Hawaii, and were conducted to the governor's office, where a pleasant call was made. At the naval station they were received by Lieutenant Stevens, aide to Admiral Moore, and taken to the latter's office for a half-hour chat.

Owing to the fact that all hands are busy coaling ship, Captain Halsey requested that the calls be not returned until Wednesday morning, when Governor Frear, Admiral Moore and General Funston will visit the battle-cruiser. Captain Halsey called on General Funston Sunday, the latter coming down to his offices to receive his guest.

Charles H. Peckham, a former clerk in the Newport postoffice, was sentenced to a year and a day imprisonment for larceny of a letter from the mails.

NEW ZEALAND'S OFFICERS GUESTS OF THE CONSUL

A little dinner party was given Captain Lionel Halsey and Commander H. E. Grace last evening at the residence of British Consul Rentiers. A number of friends of Mr. Rentiers and Mrs. Rentiers were present to meet the two high officers of the battle-cruiser. A wireless had been sent to the captain inviting him to be present at the dinner during the latter part of the week, and an acceptance of the invitation was received here, also by wireless.

It proved a gay dinner, the two officers being given their first opportunity to taste a Hawaiian dish. They tasted it, so it is said, but whether or not they liked it cannot be learned, but one may take it for granted that they did, or did not, just as one wishes.

BRITISH CONSUL AND MRS. RENTIERS WILL ENTERTAIN VISITORS

The officers of the New Zealand are looking forward to the reception to be given them by British Consul Rentiers and Mrs. Rentiers. The reception will be given at the Country Club tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, continuing until 6 o'clock. The Country Club is being decorated with flags and flowers for the occasion.

The coaling of the vessel will be completed easily by tomorrow afternoon, which will make it possible for almost all the officers to be present. This will be the first large function given them since the arrival of the ship Saturday afternoon.

Ruth Mehl was awarded a verdict for $2,500 damages against Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist. She was struck in the face by a punching bag during an exhibition given by the negro at Chicago.

COAL IS RAPIDLY BEING TAKEN ABOARD

Filling the coal bunkers at the rate of 180 tons an hour, a company of men pushing in order back and forth, their faces black from the dust, the shouts of officers as the work proceeds, the scene today in the battle-cruiser New Zealand. And before the work ends, and the ship is once more polished and made ready, 2,500 tons will be lifted from the collier Glenartney, which is alongside.

This afternoon the work may be stopped for awhile to give the men a rest, the coaling to be resumed to night, when it will probably be finished. Because of the heat, records are not being broken by the New Zealand, 200 tons having been put on in cooler weather. But though records are not being broken, the work is going on with marvelous rapidity and is a sight worth seeing.

Two derricks, like huge hands, working on the Glenartney, hoist the sacks of coal onto the New Zealand. Without the delay of a second it is thrown on hand trucks, and rushed to small coal chutes, where it is emptied and falls into the coal bunkers. Every now and then a sack is caught and weighed to strike an average. That is the only delay. The rest of the work goes on without a hitch or false movement. Men speed along the decks in two lines, one hurrying with a sack of the fuel on a truck, the other returning, having emptied the load.

By 4:30 this morning, the officers took their places, the orders were given, the derricks began their tireless work on the collier. How long it will take to coal the ship is still uncertain. It depends a great deal, of course, upon what time a rest is taken this afternoon. Advancing at the rate of 180 tons an hour it will take fourteen hours of steady work to load 2,500 tons. The ship carried 3,200 tons, but only in the neighborhood of 2,500 are being put on.

At noon today the work was going splendidly. The men were praised by their officers for their endurance. So even with surcease this afternoon, by tomorrow morning it is expected that the last ton will be aboard. The remaining work will only be the cleaning of the ship, which, though requiring the services of a large number of the crew, leaves it possible for the majority of the officers to accept the invitation given them.

This afternoon's reception to be given by Mrs. F. M. Swanzy will not be attended by but one or two of the officers, it was stated this morning. The collier Glenartney met the New Zealand at Honolulu. The collier carries 7,500 tons of coal. The Glenartney will proceed to Vancouver, coaling the New Zealand there. It will then go to Atapulco, thence to Valparaiso. It will probably be sent back to Cardiff from there.

REVIEW OF TROOPS FOR THURSDAY A.M.

The review of the troops at Schofield Barracks, planned for Captain Lionel Halsey and the officers of the British battle-cruiser New Zealand, has been set backward from Thursday afternoon to Thursday morning. This has been done at the request of the British captain, who wishes to have one afternoon free for himself and officers to return some of Honolulu's hospitality. While no announcement has been made, it is understood that on Thursday afternoon an invitation reception will be held aboard ship.

General Funston is arranging transportation for the officers of the New Zealand to and from Schofield, and as many of the officers of the department staff own their own machines, the visitors will find congenial company on the road. It is planned to leave the waterfront at 8 o'clock sharp, the review being scheduled for 9:30.

One side attraction of the review which will be omitted, is the proposed flight of Tom Gunn, the Chinese aviator. It was stated at army headquarters today that he would not be permitted to take the air while the troops were maneuvering.

TERRITORY NOT TO ENTERTAIN NEW ZEALANDERS

Secretary Mott-Smith's plans for the entertainment of the officers of H. M. S. New Zealand have been abandoned, and the only exchange of courtesies is the official call, which Captain Lionel Halsey paid the chief executive of the territory this morning and which will be returned Wednesday morning.

The entertainment program already is entirely filled. It had been intended to escort the visiting officers on a sight-seeing trip around the island. This would require a day's time and Wednesday, the only day free from official entertainment, is partly arranged for. Captain Halsey is a member of the New Zealand team which is to play cricket that afternoon.

Rentiers at the County Club, the officers, with the exception of a few who are to do ship duty, will be present.

The collier Glenartney met the New Zealand at Honolulu. The collier carries 7,500 tons of coal. The Glenartney will proceed to Vancouver, coaling the New Zealand there. It will then go to Atapulco, thence to Valparaiso. It will probably be sent back to Cardiff from there.

Under this section no imprisonment can be imposed as penalty. Officer Chilton was unable to get sufficient evidence to make conviction certain under the city ordinance, No. 11, regulating traffic. Conviction under this ordinance would require the prosecution to prove the offending driver's speed in detail. The tax appeal court upholds the assessor's contention. The corporation's officers have been notified of the decision and undoubtedly will carry the appeal up to the supreme court, though they have twenty days within which to file notice of appeal.

No decision has been made yet in the appeal case of the Hui of Kahu, which has been assessed at $400,000 on water rights said to have been sold to the Waialae Water Company for an annual rental of $40,000. The board intends visiting and inspecting the water sources involved in the dispute, before announcing a verdict.

WILL ENTERTAIN AMBASSADOR GUTHRIE

Hon. George W. Guthrie, United States ambassador to Japan, has accepted by wireless the invitation of the local members of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution, and will be their guest upon his arrival in Honolulu July 22 accompanied by Mrs. Guthrie. A luncheon will be given at the University Club by the two organizations in honor of the visitors.

Judge Robinson has set August 19 as the date on which the petition of the Hawaiian Trust Company, asking for letters of ancillary administration for the estate of Julia A. Allen, will be heard. Mrs. Allen, the petitioner sets forth, was a New York woman who inherited a nine-sixteenths interest in the estate of William F. Allen, her interest being valued at $84,167.95. Virtually the entire estate consists of stocks and bonds. The only property in the territory are lots at Pawa, Honolulu, valued at $1,800.

Police Notes

Losing control of a motorcycle he was riding, George McIntyre met with an accident yesterday, sustaining injuries which caused his removal to the hospital for treatment.

Police placed Private T. W. Jarrell and Maria Sanchez, a Filipino, under arrest last night, the pair having been found at the home of a Japanese woman. They have been booked upon a statutory charge. The Japanese has been arrested for maintaining a disorderly house.

In a fight which took place at Waialae Water Company's plant on windward Oahu yesterday, it is alleged that Yumemura, a Japanese, received injuries through being stabbed by a fellow countryman. The wounded man was taken to the hospital for treatment. His condition is not regarded as serious.

Two large surfing canoes, one belonging to the Outrigger Club, the other manned by members of the Hui Nalu, collided at Waikiki yesterday afternoon, spilling passengers into the tumbling waters at the bathing beach. The Outrigger canoe suffered some damage to the bow. The occupants of both boats escaped without injury.

At the request of Prosecuting Attorney Chillingworth, a charge of profanity lodged against Edward Cloney, a local chauffeur, was nolle prosequi, it having been pointed out to the district magistrate that Cloney had just been assessed the maximum fine for speeding.

Jack Scully, charged with having operated his mar along Kalakaua avenue faster than the municipal ordinance permit, was represented at District court by Attorney Straus, who demanded in behalf of his client more time in which to enter a plea. The case has been set for Friday morning. Scully will probably take the case to a higher court.

In calling the name of Jonah Cummings at district court this morning, no response was forthcoming, and Prosecuting Attorney Chillingworth requested the court to issue a bench warrant for Cummings, who was booked upon a charge of operating a machine without first having provided the vehicle with a number in accordance with the city and county ordinances. Cummings appeared at court before the session came to a close, entered a plea of guilty and charged and settled a fine of $5 and the trimmings.

GAME FORFEITED TO STANFORD AFTER DISGRACEFUL EXHIBITION

St. Louis Team Refuses to Play After Barney Joy Is Benched and Management Fails to Back Up Umpire—Severe Blow at Baseball

By LAURENCE REDINGTON
Stanford 9, St. Louis 0.
Stanford won its first game from the St. Louis Alumni team yesterday when Captain Stayton, umpire in chief, declared the contest forfeited to the collegians, because the St. Louis crowd refused to take the field during the third inning. After a disgraceful exhibition of rowdiness on the part of the Saints, the game was continued where it broke off, Joy returning to the box, but later being replaced by Bushnell. The final score resulting from the entire afternoon of alleged baseball was 14 to 0 in favor of St. Louis, but this can not be classed as even an exhibition game, as the players went right along with the forfeited contest, running up a hybrid score which means nothing.

St. Louis in the fifth, and in two innings he was badly pounded. Joy went behind the bat, and Franco was shifted to short when the change of pitchers was made.
But for the unfortunate wrangle which lost the game for St. Louis, it would have been a good afternoon of sport, for there was plenty of action on the field every minute of the time. With both teams cloaking the ball, the cutfielders were given many chances to show their speed, and sensational running catches were the result. Argabrite in center handled six chances without an error, and Hampton and Moriyama for the locals had their share.

All the trouble started in the third inning, when the score stood 1 to 0 in favor of the home team. With men on second and third and one out, Terry hit sharply to short, and Bushnell's peg to the plate was wide, going through to the grandstand. According to the ground rules overthrows to first, third and home go for one extra base, and Stayton ruled that both Stanford runners had scored, conceding that the man on second would have reached third safely in any event, and that the extra base was the plate. Barney Joy let out an awful roar at this ruling, and finally Stayton waved him to the bench. Joy, still protesting, was on his way, when his team mates, led by the captain Albert Akana, got into the argument, and refused to play at all if Joy was benched. Stayton waited five minutes, after ordering the players back to their places, and then declared the game forfeited to Stanford, 9 to 0. Make Kick Stick.

It was here that the St. Louis team took the game in its own hands, and rode roughshod over the Mollilli management. The correct thing to do, so as not to disappoint the record crowd that filled grandstands and bleachers, and overflowed into right field, was to start all over again, and call the second game an exhibition. In that case Joy could have gone in again, and Stayton would have been perfectly willing to umpire. This the St. Louis players wouldn't hear of. They were going to have things just as they wanted them, or quit the game. It was probably a bluff, for had the Saints dogged it to the extent of quitting, they would have had a hard time explaining their action for a long time to come. Also, there are some fair-minded spectators in the line-up who wouldn't have stood for such un-sportsmanlike action. But the Mollilli management gave in without a whimper, and refused to back up the ruling of their umpire, or stand for their rights and the rights of the public. The sight of the crowded stands was too much for their nerves, and they allowed Joy, Akana & Co. to dictate terms.

The Stanford players were willing to do anything so long as the game went on, and when the Saints insisted on reversing Stayton's ruling, sending the runner who had scored on the wild throw back to third, they went back to the field without protesting. Ringland continued to umpire, handling the game alone, and doing it very indifferently so that the spectators were thoroughly disgusted, went to the box office and bought an admission ticket, which he handed to the doorkeeper. He then changed his clothes and went home. Stayton is a topnotch umpire, whose honesty and ability are unquestioned, and yet he is getting a very raw deal. When the promoters of the Stanford series refused to stand back of him, there was nothing for him to do but step down and out. However, his withdrawal from the game in no way affects his original ruling. Letting on ball games is a bad thing for the sport, but the fact remains that there was considerable money up on yesterday's contest, and the Stanford backers draw their money. The final score counts for nothing. Stayton having every right as chief umpire to declare the game forfeited, when the St. Louis team refused to continue.

When play was finally resumed the Stanfordites began to hit B. Joy, and it looked as though they would bat out a victory in any event. Two hits came in the third before the remaining two men could be retired, and this of course brought the disputed run across and also another. A walk, a couple of sacrifices, a rank error by Joy, and Argabrite's double to left, accounted for three more in the fourth, and Stanford seemed to have the game on toast.
In the fifth the Saints fell on Mole, and batted him to the bench. Five hits, two of them doubles, netted six runs before Grieg could be sent into the firing line to stem the tide. The local men had their swatting clothes on, and eight hits in the sixth and seventh were good for a total of six runs. Stanford scored two in the fifth and two in the seventh.
Bushnell went into the box for St.

EIGHT CLUBS ARE AFTER WILLIAMS: $12,000 MENTIONED

The Cincinnati Nationals are the eighth Major League Club to ask for a chance to buy Johnny Williams. Harry Wolverton received a telegram from Thomas O'Hara, their chief scout, stating that he was on his way west and wanted to look the Honolulu boy over at Portland before the Sacramento Club sold him.
O'Hara was Wolverton's scout for the New York Americans last year and is a good judge of players. Besides O'Hara, Jim McGuire, representing Detroit, will also look the Honolulu boy over while in Portland. He saw him pitch here last week.
There seems to be some mistake about when Williams will leave Sacramento if he is sold. If Johnny Williams is sold to a Major League Club before August 25, 1913. That is the ruling of the National Commission.
At present a number of very good deals are on and Manager Wolverton will undoubtedly sell before long. It is expected that he will go for about $12,000. Wolverton intends to strengthen his team, to a great extent by the sale of Williams.
The Major League Club making the best offer will undoubtedly receive him. At least three topnotch players will come to Sacramento besides a good cash consideration.

M'LOUGHLIN HAD HARD LUCK WITH BRITISH FINALS

Wilding at the Top of His Game Won in Hard-Fought Sets. Heroic Tennis

WIMBLEDON, A. F. Wilding, of New Zealand, holder of the title of All-England singles lawn tennis championship since 1910, retained the championship July 4 by beating Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco, national lawn tennis champion of the United States, by three straight sets, 5-7, 6-3, 10-8. The title practically means the championship of the world.
Wilding played the greatest game of his life. The match from start to finish was of the heroic order, but while the American made many brilliant recoveries, he proved hardly a match for his older and more experienced opponent. He suffered, too, from ill luck, and his service was not up to his best, being as a rule much weaker than in the previous matches he had played since his arrival in England. His first service many times resulted in a fault. Wilding, on the other hand, was at the top of his form.

In the first set McLoughlin established a lead of two games to love by splendid baseline shots, but Wilding's "hitting his opponent's service drew level at two all. Some beautiful rallies followed, but Wilding was passing the American frequently and winning his own service, while he almost as easily took McLoughlin's.
McLoughlin appeared a little tired when the second set was called. Wilding secured a lead of two games to love. After winning the third game off Wilding's service, McLoughlin lost the fourth, his short rallies finding the net three in succession, and Wilding, serving strongly, increased his lead to 4 to 1. The American then won his service, his two service balls entirely beating Wilding, who with some fine passing drives brought his lead to 5 to 2. After being served 30 in the next game McLoughlin made a fine recovery. In the ninth Wilding, after being twice within a point of winning, finally accomplished it with a net smash.

The third and last set which was a hard and long one, McLoughlin won on his service. McLoughlin was now leading and feeding his adversary's backhand. He succeeded in winning the second game. In the third, after picking up from 15-40, a double fault and a weak return into the net gave the game to Wilding. The American throughout was unlucky with his net services, the ball almost invariably falling off the net over the line, but he showed no trace of nervousness. In the sixth game he pulled up from 15 to 5 to 2. After being served 30 in the next game McLoughlin made a fine recovery. In the ninth Wilding, after being twice within a point of winning, finally accomplished it with a net smash.

DUKE KAHANAMOKU AND THE OTHER HAWAII SWIMMERS STARS OF MEET

San Francisco Papers Tell How Hawaiian Wonder Broke Existing Coast Records at San Francisco — Was Not Pressed in Any of His Races

The San Francisco papers which arrived yesterday's mail are loud in their praises of the fine work done by Duke Kahanamoku and the other Hawaii entries at the San Francisco meet of July 4 and 5.
Here is the Chronicle's story of the first day of the competition:
Record breaking, in which Duke Kahanamoku, the world-famed swimmer of the Hui Nalu of Honolulu, played a conspicuous part, was the feature of the first two-day tourney for the Pacific coast swimming championships, held yesterday afternoon at Suto baths before a crowd of nearly 6000 spectators.

The meet itself was a record-breaker, and followers of swimming on the coast had not until yesterday witnessed anything to compare with it in the line of swimming competition.
The Hawaiian nobleman established coast records in each of the three events he entered and won them in a style that demonstrated clearly his wide reputation of being a peer among swimmers.
He set up a mark of 5:41 in the first event of the day, the quarter that is ten seconds better than any that have ever been contested on the mainland of the American Pacific coast, for his performances of yesterday are not as good as those he is credited with in his own territory. Lincoln Johnson formerly held the record of 5:51 in this event.

The Duke was never breasted in the 50-yard free-stroke, although Nixon gave him the most competition and showed a heap of speed. Kahanamoku won the first heat in 0:24:15, the fraction slower than his American record made in Hawaii last month. In the finals he swam the distance in 0:24:25. The new record is remarkable and will likely stand until such time as the Duke himself betters it in these waters, as material at hand would not indicate that the new record is in danger.

The local lad is well reputed over the century but new in the furlong, and his performance yesterday was a surprise even to most ardent admirers of the young athlete.
Besides these times, a record of wider scope was made by Guy de Villepion of the San Francisco Y. M. C. A., when he swam the 50-yard breast stroke in 0:36:15, making an American record for the event and bettering his own former mark of 38 seconds. De Villepion had little competition and won all the way.

In the quarter, Kahanamoku took the lead after being paced early in the race by his fellow-Hawaiian, Wilhelm, who was obliged to drop out. Although Langer of Redondo hung on well to the Duke, the southerner was outclassed and had to content himself with finishing some twenty yards behind the "big chief," who swam throughout the contest with a graceful, easy stroke, which seemed to require little exertion.
The standing of the teams at the end of the first day was as follows:
Hui Nalu 4 0 3 2 5 2 15
S. F. Y. M. C. A. 8
Redondo 8
Olympic Club 7
Healini Club 1

The P. A. C. Jrs. and the Chinese still managed to hold on to their positions in the standing of the Junior league after yesterday's play. The Portuguese team won from the J. A. C.'s by the score of 5 to 4, while the Chinese just "played ring" around the Japanese team as the score of 13 to 2 shows.

The first game was full of excitement for the morning fans, and had it not been for the costly errors of the Japanese players, they might have won the game. Miyahara pitched in his usual style and fanned seven of his opponents without allowing a pass. For the Portuguese team, a new twirler by the name of Perry, measuring nearly six feet, was tried out. He proved to be quite an artist with the horsehide sphere, and with the good support given him by his teammates, won his first victory in the league.

The second game of the day ended with the Chinese doing as they pleased, and scoring whenever they wanted to. It was just a case of hard luck with the game little Asahis, and they have their off-day, as do other ball players. Only two runs were scored by the sons of Nippon in the first inning, while the Chinese piled up a total of thirteen runs before the game came to an end.

Arthur Wong was in the box for the Chinese team, and he had no trouble with him. This is the first game that Wong has pitched from start to finish. On the other hand, Sueda of the Asahi was wild. He permitted seven men from the Chinese team to walk.

Next Sunday, the games will take place in the afternoon instead of in the morning. Manager Henry Williams stated that the league was in need of fans, and he believes that afternoon games will no doubt net the league more than in having the games played during the morning.

INMAN WEAKENS AND STANFORD BATS OUT WIN

Six Runs in Fourth Inning Puts Punahou Hopelessly in the Hole

Stanford 9, Punahou A. C. 2.
One very bad inning tossed off Saturday's game for the Punahou Amateurs, and gave the Stanford collegians their first victory in Honolulu. In this frame, the fourth, Bill Inman, the husky Oahu college twirler, was given an awful lacing, the Cardinals pounding out six hits, which netted a like number of runs.
Inman couldn't do anything, but grove them waist high on the outside corner, and the Stanford batters fell on these offerings with hoots of joy. Scotty Schuman raved and tore his hair, and broke his fingers signaling for Inman to mix 'em up, but that young gentleman just had an off-day, and couldn't stem the tide. Finally, when it was too late to make any difference, Dunn, of St. Louis college, was put in, and he managed to finish the game without allowing a hit, although a couple of errors and a pair of wild pitches let a run across in the seventh.

BILL WILLIAMS WINS OWN GAME

By W. F. DESHA.
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent with the All-Hawaiian ball team.)
LINCOLN, Neb., July 1.—Won 13 and lost 9 is the record of the Hawaii team to date. Nearly every one of these 22 games has been played on a strange field, and after hard railroad traveling, so the showing is satisfactory to players and manager.
Bill Williams yesterday lost his game to the Greenwood team of Lincoln three different times up to the ninth inning, but timely batting by the Hawaiians in the running again. Five extra innings were played, and with two down in the fourteenth, Williams slammed the ball over the fence and won his own game. He pitched great ball from the tenth on, striking out seven batters. The final score was 6 to 5.
E. Desha is leading the team in batting, with 21 hits out of 33 trips to the plate. August Dreier is second with 34 hits in 81 times at bat.

GUNN CARRIES PASSENGERS IN SUNDAY FLIGHT

Aviator Tom Gunn, heralded as the only Chinese aviator and captain of the aviation corps of the infant republic, again demonstrated to Honoluluans that he is a birdman of no mean ability, when yesterday afternoon, in a free exhibition at Schofield Barracks, in the presence of a crowd of more than 7000 persons he not only made a number of successful flights, but also carried several passengers into the air with him.

The morning was given over to a series of trial flights in preparation for the afternoon exhibition, and when, at 3:30 o'clock, the train from Honolulu pulled up at the field with its hundreds of aviation fans, including a goodly portion of Celestial population, Gunn was in readiness to make attempts for the unsuccessful try-out of a week ago. Besides those who came by the afternoon train, the field was lined with thousands who had either come during the morning by motor, or who had come on the morning train. Shortly after the arrival of the detachment, Gunn climbed into the engine and then swept down the field, rising into the air to a good height and circling four times around the post. He remained aloft twenty minutes showing perfect control of his machine by dipping onto the parade ground a number of times. Upon his return to the starting point, the wind began blowing in gusts from the east, but nevertheless Gunn announced that he was ready to take a passenger aloft with him.

The first passenger was a man, and after a short flight, Miss Lillian Gee was taken aboard. Gunn took this passenger down the field and back, rising only a short distance from the ground, as he seemed unwilling to submit his passenger to the swirling air currents of higher altitudes. Miss Frances L. McKay was then invited to make an ascent. This trip was practically the same as the second, except that the aviator and his passenger journeyed toward Castner and back. During the trip one of the propeller blades was splintered by coming into contact with some unseen obstruction and upon his return Gunn announced that the flight was over for the afternoon. New propellers for Gunn's machine will arrive from the Coast Wednesday, and Gunn has stated that he will give another exhibition Thursday.

When asked of the trip, Miss Voeller said: "The only question that caused me any concern was the one of learning what to hold onto; and that was at the start. Once we got off the ground I forgot all fear of falling and enjoyed nothing but the sensation of the cold, fresh wind blowing against my face. It was so smooth—even the noise of the engine was forgotten and the feeling that one had conquered one of nature's great laws made me forget that there was the slightest danger of falling. I'm glad to be the first 'native' to sail aloft, but I only wish Mr. Gunn would take me up in his dives, volplaning and all the latest sensations in sky-vaudeville."

The ladies' doubles championship was won by Mrs. McNair and Miss D. Boehly, who beat Mrs. Sterry and Mrs. Lambert Chambers. The latter pair retired after the second set because Mrs. Sterry strained a leg muscle.

The doubles championship was won by H. Roper Parrott and C. P. Dixon of Great Britain, the title holders, who beat Friedrich Wilhelm Rahe and Heinrich Kleinschroth, of Germany, the challengers, by three sets to one, 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

DOLEFUL MAN SEEKS DIVORCE

[By Latest Mail]
PATERSON, N. J., In a suit to divorce his wife on the ground of desertion, Peter K. Hicks has gone on record in chancery here as a most doleful husband. He testified that the alleged desertion of his wife made him so disconsolate that he got a job in a powder factory in the hope that the plant would blow up. His prayer was answered a few months later when he was sent to the hospital with five others injured in an explosion. By the time he recovered he ceased to grieve over his domestic troubles and decided that life was worth living after all.

Says the Hilo Board of Trade

An Advertisement Written by LORRIN A. THURSTON

Last week we asked where you were going to spend your Summer Vacation, and suggested various and sundry cool spots, warm spots, mountains, plains, volcanoes, jungles, lava flows, fern forests, holes in the ground, auto trips and railroad trips, and other choice things that might make the mouth of an ascetic water and the face of a pessimist smile.

"But what is it going to cost?" and "Where can we stay?" we are asked.

We answer these questions by this Ad., and say that we can and do recommend the following as being worthy of patronage:

HILO BOARD OF TRADE

The HILO RAILROAD COMPANY

Has Finished Its Extension from Hilo to Hamakua

The track runs along the top of the bluff for 34 miles; but it is no "bluff" when we claim that it presents some of the most spectacular scenery in Hawaii.

It crosses 207 gulches over fills up to 120 feet high—sixteen steel bridges over 400 and up to 1006 feet long and from 90 to 230 feet high—thru tunnels up to 2860 feet long—thru cuts up to 70 feet deep, and in one place

Runs for 4000 Feet Along the Face of a Precipice descending sheer 200 feet into blue ocean. You never saw anything like it.

WE WANT YOU TO SEE ALL THIS FOR YOURSELF and have arranged with the HENRY WATERHOUSE TRUST CO. to tell you all about it and the summer cut-rate, round-trip ticket which we are issuing.

HILO RAILROAD COMPANY

COLUMBIA DRY BATTERIES

Many of the big departments at Washington, the Army, the Navy and Isthmian Canal Commission, use "COLUMBIA" No. 2.

Uncle Sam thinks so much of "Columbia" that it is used on all his battleships.

You, too, can enjoy its long life and dependability by saying "Columbia No. 2" to your dealer instead of merely "battery."

PICTURE SHOW HAMAKUAPOKO IS CHOSEN SITE FOR SCHOOL WILL BENEFIT LIBRARY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WAILUKU, Maui, July 11.—R. J. Baker, the artist-photographer, will give about two hundred slides next Thursday evening at the Kahului Lyceum for the benefit of the Maui Library Association. These slides Mr. Baker has made himself, and all who know his pictures know that his slides have the same artistic value. He will show some particularly fine slides of the Waimea and Olokele canyons of Kauai. He is making a specialty of the Haleakala and Kilauea pictures and of Hamakua (east, Lanai and Moikoi). He will show also about twenty slides illustrating the popular Hawaiian melody that everyone loves "The Old Plantation."

The admission is only fifty cents. The proceeds will be used to help to pay the freight on the books sent out by the Maui Library and also the books from the Honolulu Library to various parts of the island of Maui. The Maui library has undertaken to handle the library of Hawaii books, so that these may be sent free to all parts of the island. This has added greatly to the reading facilities of the Maui public.

MAUI NEWS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WAILUKU, Maui, July 11.—P. P. Peck of Makawao, for many years connected with the Paia plantation as overseer died very suddenly on Wednesday of this week. He was buried in the Makawao cemetery. The news of his sudden death had not reached many of the people away from Makawao and Paia, and his friends were greatly shocked when they heard he had gone.

W. H. Field did himself and his popular hostelry proud by his Fourth of July dinner and dance that followed. Some seventy-five people enjoyed the feast of good things and the dance that ended the pleasant holiday.

Miss Carolyn T. Church, who has been visiting Mrs. R. B. Dodge of Wailuku returns to Honolulu this week on Saturday's Claudine. Miss Church is enthusiastic in her praises of Maui, and says she has thoroughly enjoyed her visit. She spent some ten days at Maunaloa and Haiku, visiting old friends.

Miss Merriman and Miss Turner, both of the Alexander House, Wailuku, are spending a few weeks in Honolulu.

The family of D. C. Lindsay of Paia has been visiting Mr. J. P. Cooke's beautiful summer home—Kulamau—for about two weeks.

W. Leslie West, bookkeeper of the Wailuku Sugar Company, had a cable from his aged mother in Sydney, Australia, saying that she is in rather poor health. Mr. West has decided to take the next boat to his home, and will be away from Maui some seven weeks. His many friends hope that he will find his mother in better health than he fears.

Mrs. J. P. Inaina, wife of Rev. J. P. Inaina, and well known in the Kipahulu and Kaupo districts, died suddenly of dropsy on Thursday night, June 26th. She will be greatly missed by her family and her many Maui friends.

Word has been received from Rev. Collins G. Burnham, agent of the Hawaiian board at Lahaina, of his safe arrival and pleasant vacation experience in North Conway, New Hampshire.

The picnic of the Wailuku Union Sunday school will be held at the Wahee beach house on Tuesday afternoon. All pupils of the school, the cradle roll members, and the parents of the children are invited to the affair, which promises to be the most enjoyable.

Miss Carrie E. Chort, who has been away for a ten days' vacation on Kauai, returned to Maui last Wednesday evening. She had a most enjoyable time with her many friends on the Garden Isle. Her first organ recital on the Wailuku Union church organ will be given on Sunday evening half an hour before service.

The handsome new concrete sidewalk that has been completed about two weeks in front of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Wailuku, and leading up to the church and class rooms, is a very great improvement to the church premises, and much appreciated by all the congregation.

HAWAII PUBLICITY BUREAU PLANNED

That there is every prospect of the publicity campaign inaugurated by the Hilo Board of Trade being a success is borne out by the fact that the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company will open a tourist traveling department next week, thus giving Hawaii direct representation in Honolulu and assuring a big increase in the number of people coming here. The department will be in charge of John M. Giles, whose newspaper experience here and in Honolulu has made him thoroughly conversant with the existing state of affairs. —Hawaii Herald.

The international canoe races will be held at ravesend, N. Y., next month.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WAILUKU, Maui, July 11.—At a meeting held some three weeks ago of the people interested in the new Maui high school, it was decided that the new school building should be located at Hamakua. The plan previously had in mind to locate the school at Paia, but the only piece of land that was available for the new building was located in such a way that the school would not be free from the high winds and the heavy dust that blows over sections of Paia. At the meeting called to discuss the whole matter of the school, the people interested decided to locate the school at Hamakua, near the site of the present public graded school. The situation is ideal and it will not take much longer by train for the pupils to reach the new location. The school will have to be called "The Paia High School" however since the hill providing for the new school called it by that name. It is understood that the department of education will supply the new school with three teachers, but that Maui county fathers must provide the building and the fourth teacher. There will be no tuition charged for admission, although this was the first plan. It is expected that the school will open with some thirty-five pupils in September in the upper department and many more in the school as a whole.

WAILUKU GYM. IS IN GOOD CONDITION

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WAILUKU, Maui, July 11.—Great improvements have been made at the Alexander House gymnasium during the last few weeks. Through an arrangement effected by the Wailuku Sugar Company with the county, water from the town mains is now used for the swimming tank. The water is perfectly clear and young and old are thoroughly enjoying the bathing place. The gymnasium committee painted the walls and floor of the tank white and the iron work black, so that the whole tank is now most attractive in appearance.

The Island Electric Company has changed the wiring of the gymnasium, placing four large lamps near the location of the gas jets. The result is that the floor is brilliantly lighted, and is one of the most pleasant halls in Wailuku.

At the last meeting of the gymnasium committee, the resignation of Captain O. J. Whitehead from the

A $45.00 Suit of Clothes for $12.50

The last, which was the first, publicity this clothing had in Honolulu, resulted literally, in a stampede. No where else in the territory can such value be found. The material is woven of linen in the correct shades of Chinese silk pongee. The Palm Beach pongee is evidently pre-shrunk for after three visits to a laundry there was no evidence of further shrinking. These suits are the biggest value we have offered.
