Bairos Reports On Conditions Found In Maui

Sanitary and Food Inspection Results In Some Disclosures Not Pleasant To Listen To At Meal Times.

Sanitary and insanitary conditions as he found them on a three weeks tour of inspection of business places, restaurants etc., of Maui and Molokai are told in a detailed report made by M. Bairos, sanitary inspector and analyst of the territorial board of health to that body, a copy of which was received yesterday.

In part Mr. Bairos said:

| Villages | No. places Inspected |
|----------------|----------------------|
| Lahaina | 67 |
| Wailuku | 60 |
| Kahului | 38 |
| Pala | 24 |
| Wahee | 11 |
| Puunehi | 7 |
| Pauwela | 8 |
| Haiku | 8 |
| Hamakua | 4 |
| Keahua | 1 |
| Spreckelsville | 1 |
| Hana | 19 |
| Kipahulu | 4 |
| Kowali | 1 |
| Kaupo | 1 |
| Hanon | 1 |
| Kaeleku | 3 |
| Nahiku | 1 |
| Keanae | 4 |
| Kailua | 2 |
| Olowalu | 1 |
| Puukohi | 3 |

Relative to the class of business conducted, the establishments inspected consisted of approximately 150 stores; 45 eating places; 24 bake shops; 19 fishmarkets; 9 poi factories; 14 beverage fountains; 11 meat markets; 10 dairies; 13 vegetable gardens; 3 soda water works; 6 drug stores; 4 candy factories; 12 miscellaneous.

Many of the above mentioned classes of business are carried on in combination, under one management, in one building, such as store cafe and bake shop; restaurant and bake shop store and fountain; etc.

Valuable cooperation in the work was given us by the sanitary inspectors of the County of Maui, located in the districts of Lahaina and Hana.

Improvement Noted
 On this tour, although the conditions of the majority of places visited were found quite good and improvements noted, yet many offenses common to such places were detected the most frequent of which are as follows:

At some establishments of this nature, a good many of the shelves, counters, show cases, food containers, store rooms, kitchens, bake tables, chopping blocks or utensils, etc., were found dirty, roach, fly or mouse infested. Cats, or dogs were present. Often, some of the places were untidy from neglect, with unnecessary rubbish about the premises.

Causes for Complaints
 Five prosecutions were conducted, one Lahaina, two Kahului and two Wailuku establishments, and there were two guilty pleas followed by fines.

Severe warnings were issued to 23 business concerns, 3 in Lahaina, 9 in Wailuku, 4 in Kahului, 3 in Pala, 2 each in Hana and Kipahulu and one each in Wahee, Camp 3, Pauwela, Keahua and Nahiku road. In each instance the report gives the name of the concern and the cause or causes of the complaints, the chief ones being roach infested cases or refrigerators.

New Proposals Will Be Considered by The Irish Cabinet

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 LONDON, Dec. 2.—New proposals for Ireland by the British government will be considered by the Daily Eireann cabinet tomorrow. It is understood that the terms concede the terms of the Sinn Fein for the unity of Ireland, including Ulster, which would be required to remain in United Ireland for six months when she would be given the option of withdrawal if she desired.

Efforts are being made to solve the crucial question of Ireland's allegiance to the crown.
 Belfast dispatches said that police guards at the Londonderry jail repulsed an attack which sought to secure the release of prisoners. Two policemen were killed and three of the attackers were captured. The attackers gained entrance to the jail before they were discovered and a fight with guns and revolvers followed. No prisoners were freed.

Two policemen who had been guarding Sinn Fein prisoners were found to have been drugged and then strangled.

French Bluebeard Is Found Guilty and Is Sentenced to Death

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 VERSAILLES, Dec. 1.—Henri Desire Landru, alleged slayer of eleven women and convicted of murder in his trial which has extended over many days, smiled today for the first time during his trial when Judge Gilbert sentenced him to death by the guillotine. To the sentence the "French Bluebeard" said: "Thank you, gentlemen."

Landru has refused to be a party to a petition which was signed by many persons, including members of the jury which convicted him, asking the President to commute his sentence to life imprisonment.

The trial of Henri Desire Landru, who has become known throughout France as "The Blue-Beard of Gambais," on 11 counts of murder growing out of the disappearance of as many women to whom he had promised marriage, ranks among the celebrated criminal cases of France.

Landru was arrested in April 1919 and has spent his time for the past two and half years in answering or evading questions of the police, the investigating magistrate, and other court officials as to the fate of his 11 fiancées. He has proved a most stubborn as well as a very clever prisoner, and the police admitted that their case against him was not so strong as they would have liked it to be.

The so-called "Blue-Beard" rented a small villa at Gambais, a few miles from Paris and it is there that the police charge he did away with the 11 women, all trace of whom has been absolutely lost. It is alleged that he advertised in various matrimonial agency papers and chose from the letters received those signed by women with a little property and no near relatives.

A short courtship would follow, then a journey to the Gambais villa in the company of the fiancée. The accusation said that Landru always returned alone. The police offered proof that women were seen to enter the villa but none was heard of afterward. A few weeks later, whatever bonds, stocks, furniture, jewelry, the women possessed would be sold.

The villa at Gambais has been searched, ransacked, practically demolished by the police in an effort to find the remains of the missing women. A few bones were found, some hair, but not enough to form a "corpus delicti." "Rabbit and mutton bones," said Landru. "Why don't you bring your former fiancées forward," asked the judge.

"How can I when you keep me in jail for years?" countered Landru, "If you and your hundreds of detectives cannot locate them how can I?"
 A dark visaged man, with shining bald head and long black whiskers, Landru has become a familiar figure by impersonations on the stage. He was already under sentence of five years' imprisonment for forgery growing out of one of the cases where murder was also charged.

Chamber Committee Is In Favor of Two Proposed Ordinances

Approval of the proposed "keep to the left" pedestrian ordinance was given by the legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon and the proposed traffic ordinance was considered paragraph by paragraph. It will be further considered so far as provisions relating to permissible weights of loads for vehicles between now and next Thursday morning when the hearing will be held and will appear at the hearing and later report to the meeting of the Chamber the same day.

There have been made a number of changes in the proposed ordinance since its publication, most special in importance being the provisions relative to lights. Mention of the candle power of lights has been eliminated and it is thought the new provision will prevent glaring lights blinding approaching vehicles within 100 feet though the difficulty will not be cured when cars are from 125 to 200 feet apart. The provisions as to weights of loads permissible are to be made clearer, the clause for the examination of proposed light devices examination by the sheriff is eliminated, there are changes in the provisions relative to signalling and there is provision that cars shall pass to the left of approaching pedestrians in case the pedestrian ordinance is enacted. Otherwise those provisions would be eliminated.

Other matters considered by the committee included matters connected with the Hawaii National Park, as to the status of which further time to determine will be asked and the proposal to put the affairs of Hawaii in the hands of state department instead of the department of the interior. On that subject also the committee desires to go further. The general sentiment of the committee, however, is against the proposal unless it shall first be submitted to the territory for a referendum vote.

Planters' Sessions In Honolulu Ended

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 HONOLULU, Dec. 2.—The Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association concluded its 1921 meeting last night with a banquet. The day was spent at Ewa looking over the new irrigation project there.

One of the most important papers presented in the light of suggestions made was by H. P. Agee who urged super-intensive agriculture with a view to securing a 25 percent or more increase in raw sugars from a decreased area. He said one of the outstanding difficulties is a decline in efficiency of employees as well as their number. He advised securing more efficient labor and super-intensive cultivation through soil enrichment and other methods.

Railroads Are Ready to Terminate Agreements

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Six of ten railroads having agreements with foreign ship lines have expressed a willingness to cancel such agreements to the shipping board. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Road joined the list this afternoon.

Representatives of the Pennsylvania, the Southern and the Mobile & Ohio roads at the hearing of the shipping board today expressed their willingness to terminate their shipping contracts with foreign lines on expiration after Commissioner Thompson had said that such contracts were a menace to the American merchant marine.

Afterward the St. Paul road made an offer to cancel its agreement with a Japanese line running out of San Francisco providing the shipping board will agree to replace the business that would be lost thereby.

PROHIBITION PARTY STAYS
 (ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—The national executive prohibition party recommended to the national committee the continuation of the organization of that body as a political party. A resolution adopted declared that the party would be recreant in its trust should it fail to continue active.

Britain Advises Japan To Accept Hughes Proposal

Japan's Delegates Again Send Messages To Tokio; Renewal of Anglo-Japanese Alliance Not Needed.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Great Britain, as Japan's ally, is using her influence to persuade the Japanese delegation to accept the American proposal for naval armaments and this has led that delegation again to submit to Tokio the 60 percent ratio plan.

The nature of the latest move for the solution of the ratio problem has not been discussed but all of the principals say that they do not consider the situation as deadlocked and the Americans are confident Japan will abandon her 70 percent ratio demand.

Representative Mochizuki, representative of the opposition party in the Japanese delegation issued a statement this morning to the effect that there is no need of a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance because of the probable success of the conference. He said the chief object of the alliance was to prevent Russian aggrandisement in Asia and there no longer exists any such danger.

From the Philippines there has come to the war department a joint resolution of the legislature requesting the American delegation to take no action relative to the Philippines without consulting with the Philippine commissioner at Washington.

The American advisory arms conference committee has adopted four reports dealing with land armaments, submarines, air craft and new weapons, the latter including gasses and their use. Admiral Rogers proposed the submarine resolution indicating that naval officers and officials are in accord with the views of the advantages that will arise from limitations.

Indirect negotiations relative to the Shantung peninsula were opened yesterday but progressed only to the basic points when adjournment was taken until today. The Japanese demand that Tsingtao be declared an open port and that their vested interests in Shantung be respected. The spokesman for the Chinese said the delegates of his country cannot negotiate relative to control of the Tsingtao railroad and added that China stands firmly for her demand for the return of Shantung.

Advices from London said Lloyd George is planning to sail December 12, to participate in the conference. American naval opinion finds difficulty in reconciling the Japanese claims for a fleet ratio higher than "5-5-3" based on Japan's defensive needs when in the additional ratio Japan seeks all offensive instead of defensive ships. Japan also asks a number of airplanes and carriers equal to those of the United States and Britain.

Will Use Every Power To Bring Morse Back

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Reports were current today that the navy department would send a destroyer to intercept the French liner aboard which is Charles F. Morse whose shipping contracts are under investigation and to bring Morse back were denied by Secretary of Navy Denby tonight. The reports said the cruiser would be sent at the request of the department of justice and Denby denied having received any such request from that department. He added that under the international law Morse could not be taken off a foreign vessel. Department of Justice officials refused to discuss the case. It is understood, however, that every agency of the government will be brought to bear to bring him back.

Morse sailed from New York on the French liner Paris Friday and the state department says that a passport was issued to him in the name of C. Morris.

Morse has wirelessed that he is ready to return and has so wirelessed the district attorney. The minister of interior has instructed the police at Havre at the request of the American ambassador request of the American ambassador.

Mob Loots Vienna as Price of Necessaries Goes Out of Reach

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 VIENNA, Dec. 2.—The inner city of Vienna looks as if it had been struck by a tornado as a result of the rioting yesterday. All of the leading hotels are closed and many shops dealing in luxuries were wrecked.

Many Americans are reported to have been attacked and robbed during the looting. The rooms of some of them were rifled in hotels and rooming houses.

Mrs. Hand, the wife of a U. S. Army colonel and her daughter were robbed of furs and clothing in their hotel. Colonel Miller, U. S. A. and Mrs. Miller, in the same hotel displayed an American flag and the rioters withdrew from their room.

The criminal and rowdy element swept through the inner city committing great excesses. Practically every unshuttered window was shattered. The disturbance was the worst seen since the downfall of the monarchy and the police stood by, either powerless or indifferent. One of them said: "They are hungry, like us." The disturbances are attributed to the increasing scarcity of necessities.

The cost of living has advanced 241 percent in the last month.

Plans for Community Christmas Trees Go Forward Steadily

Christmas tree plans for the Wailuku district were further developed at a meeting of the committee held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Tuesday afternoon. Three trees were decided upon definitely, the hours for the holding of each determined and the programs tentatively laid out.

Waiahee children will have their tree at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, the day before Christmas; Wailuku's will be held at 5:30 the same afternoon and Waikapu youngsters will have theirs at 7 o'clock the same evening. The gifts will be the same at each of the trees and will be practically the same as last year, candy, peanuts, oranges and apples. Provision will be made for the distribution of some 2000 or more gifts.

From past experience it has been decided not to make any attempt to hold the Wailuku tree out of doors. In past years it was planned to have the celebration in the open but each year the weather man vetoed the proposal and enforced his veto with rains. So this year it is planned at the very outset to have the tree in the armory building.

Wailuku and Waikapu will have tableaux included in their programs. At all three of the trees there will be community singing and Wailuku and Waikapu there will be choral numbers and perhaps some solo numbers and several tableaux. Mrs. P. H. Ross has agreed to take charge of the staging of the tableaux.

The cost of the three trees this year will be about the same as the one tree last year. There are sufficient decorations for the Wailuku tree but decorations will have to be purchased for Waiahee and Waikapu. The Wailuku tree will be lighted by electricity and the others by candles.

Expenses of the trees will as usual be defrayed by popular contributions and a canvass of the business district will soon be made to raise the funds. The Waikapu committee is headed by Mrs. Frank Hoogs and Waiahee by Miss Lucy Lani.

Witness For Arbuckle Says She Is Poisoned

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Irene Morgan, a nurse, who was a witness for the defense in the Arbuckle trial was found in a semi-conscious condition in her room at the Cliff Hotel this morning. She said her illness was caused by poisoned candy or orange juice eaten in a drug store with a male companion whom, she said, she had seen around the court room during the trial.

Fifty Thousand Made Available Road Building

Money Raised Through Loan Fund Will Be Used Toward Important Kuiaha - Kakipi Gulch Project.

Road building between Kuiaha and Kakipi Gulch will be the next public improvement to be conducted through loan funds on Maui. Governor Farrington yesterday allotted $50,000 of the loan funds to Maui for that improvement, it was told in an Associated Press dispatch to this paper. The appropriation under the loan fund act was $75,000 but it is not practicable to take up that amount of bonds at the present time.

Importance of the Kuiaha-Kakipi gulch road has been recognized for a long time and recently has become more clearly evident through the growth and extension of the pine apple growing area in that direction. There was an appropriation for the work by the 1919 legislature in the loan fund bill but the bonds were not sold, and the project was included in the loan fund bill at the last regular session of the legislature. The road will be a part of the belt road project and it is one of the most important links leading to Kailua from whence under another loan fund appropriation of $500,000 the belt road will be extended through the Ditch Trail country into the Hana district. But there is little likelihood of the latter work being secured through the sale of bonds during present conditions.

A. F. Tavares was called up by Maui News yesterday afternoon and told of the action taken by the Governor. He expressed himself as much pleased for he has been a sponsor for the project before the legislature and since, both in the house of representatives and the senate. He had the subject before the board of supervisors last summer but that body expressed inability to act except if the bonds be sold and its readiness then to proceed.

Senator Tavares said the Haiku Fruit & Packing Company had agreed to take $45,500 of the bonds and that when he recently so told Governor Farrington the latter said that under such circumstance the Territory would see that $5000 more was made available, thus bringing the total up to $50,000.

It is hoped that if conditions warrant later the remaining $25,000 may be raised through the sale of bonds and the full $75,000 be devoted to the project.

In a letter by county officials to the Governor this project was put last of four in importance and this paper criticized the letter adversely. The legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday endorsed its having been given precedence and placed it first in importance.

Burden of Harding's Message Is Forecast

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—It is expected that President Harding's message to congress when it convenes on Monday will deal chiefly with the subjects of the tariff and the merchant marine. It is forecast that he will recommend that the proposed tariff bill be stripped of the provisions which would tend to delay its passage and will recommend that the rates in the house bill which is now before the senate be based on the old invoice basis rather than on the house American valuation plan.

For the merchant marine it is expected that he will recommend a ship subsidy, probably in the nature of preferential rates as supplementary to the granting of free passage through the Panama canal for coastwise ships. It is also expected that he will recommend elimination of section 44 of the Jones Bill in reference to the abrogation of treaties.

HALTON ACQUITTED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Fred Halton, formerly secretary of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee was acquitted at his trial here when the jury this morning brought in a verdict of not guilty after having been out for 30 hours. Acquittal was on the ground that he was a partner, the company owed him money and he took no more than he was entitled to.

Japanese Schooner Reported Foundered Off Flattery

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 1.—Meager reports available here indicate that the Japanese schooner Koun Maru en voyage from Japan to Puget Sound ports bringing a cargo of salt, foundered two hundred miles off Cape Flattery. Wireless messages received from the Tosan Maru say that the crew, composed of five persons were picked up by that vessel.

SPORTS

Proposed Football Game For Sunday Is Marked Off Schedule

Contrary to the schedule of the football program issued by the football committee some time ago there will be no game on next Sunday, December 4. This is due to the inability of Punene to put a team on the field. It seems, according to reports from the H. C. & S'ville camp, that several members of the "Rainbow team" have left for other parts and several others are on the sick or injured list, which causes that squad to withdraw from the scheduled series.

Fans and Fanettes are therefore doomed either to a disappointment or a long looked for rest and can store away their zeal and pep for the game between the two recent championship contenders on the Sunday following, December 11. That game will be played at Lahaina, however, in order that the admirers of football in West Maui be given a better opportunity to view one of the spirited contests that the "Blues" and "Maroons" are able to furnish.

Reports coming from the East Maui camp, say that the Paia boys have extended an invitation to two of the Marines players who were here last week to spend a month with them at Paia as coaches and if so the Wailuku champions may find themselves up against many of the plays and formations that brought such well earned victories to the Pearl Harbor eleven last Sunday.

The last game of the year will be played at Wailuku field on Sunday, December 18, when in a final contest, Paia and Wailuku meet.

Marines Are Better At Football Than on Basket Ball Courts

In a fast game of basket ball played at the Wailuku Gymnasium the Pearl Harbor Marines went down to their only defeat in a sporting contest on Maui. Their opponents the Alerts played rings around the Honolulu boys and when the smoke of battle cleared away were on the long end of 24-13 score. The first half of the game was a good clean exhibition of sport but, it is said, the last period was marked by a great deal of roughing though undoubtedly unintentional.

The Marines were unable to stop the local boys from the "go" and in their futile efforts to attempt to come from behind put in about twelve men at various stages of the game. This same Marine team is the one that stood at third place in the Honolulu league last winter and the victory of the Alerts over this aggregation throws them in the limelight as contenders for the Maui championship which series will be played later.

Basketball

At the meeting of the basket ball committee Tuesday evening it was agreed upon that the official season on Maui shall open on December 30 and continue until each team has opposed the other twice.

Tentative arrangements show that a possible six teams may enter the series for the Maui championship, the W. A. C. (Maroon) with A. P. Low as acting manager; Alerts (blue and gold) Brother Stephen, manager; Punene (black and gold) C. E. Chatterton, manager; Kahului (navy blue) A. S. Spencer, manager; Maui High (blue and white) E. B. Hair, manager; Hailu Athletic Club (open) A. A. Reis, manager and the "Sports" (white and yellow) L. C. Lewis, manager.

Many old timers in this sport have signified their intention of entering the different teams and basket ball should be of a higher class than has been seen here before.

OREGON PLAYERS BOOKED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—The University of Oregon football team has booked passage to sail for Honolulu on the Manoa, December 14.

game is so excellent that he has dwarfed the importance of this point. McLoughlin's Overhead Smash

The place that keeping your eye on the ball is of extreme importance is in making the overhead "smash" or kill, the shot which McLoughlin has developed as his greatest asset. Here the whole question of making the shot is in gauging the exact spot where the full power of body and arm can meet the ball with greatest force and easiest angle to the opposite court.

This can only be done by judging exactly the flight of the ball, possible by keeping the eye fixed on the ball itself, not the opposite court. It is equally true of the modern volley shot, so essential in every man's game today. Thus we find from back-court, mid-court or net, the vital part of every shot is to have your eye fixed on the ball all the time.

Tennis

No matches were played off in either the All-Maui mixed doubles tournament or the Alexander Settlement House men's handicap singles in the past week according to reports received this morning from Eddie Tam the official dopest of the net pastime.

Play will be resumed tomorrow afternoon their being a match scheduled in both tournaments. Phelps-Todd of Lahaina will meet Hansen-Taylor on the Punene courts at 3 o'clock and Eddie Tam will play Caleb Burns at the Settlement courts at the same hour.

Japanese Champion Beaten By British Mat Contender

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) HONOLULU, Dec. 1.—Sam Clapham, the English heavyweight wrestler defeated Kinju Ikeda the Japanese heavyweight of Honolulu by the use of the toe hold, securing the first fall after one hour and three and a half minutes of hard struggling. After the fall Ikeda claimed he had sustained injuries which would prevent him from re-entering the ring. The bout was then awarded to Clapham.

SOPHS WIN AGAIN

Meeting for the second time on the Wailuku gridiron last Saturday morning the "Sophs" by a single touchdown, converted into goal defeated the Freshmen by the score of 7-0. Great improvement in the playing of both the junior elevens over that of their first meeting was noticeable in this game. The first fray played over a muddy field in a heavy rain resulting in a 0-0 tie.

Having won from the Freshmen the Sophomores hope to meet the St. Anthony football squad soon.

Mexico Still in Throes of Commercial Adjustments

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The reports from U. S. Trade Commissioner Connell in Mexico say that although the Mexican readjustment continues it is causing a "distressing effect" on economical conditions. However, the past month has brought some encouragement. The report further says that a general drop in food prices is indicated and that labor is more plentiful and cheaper though a feeling of general unrest prevails throughout industrial centers, which may be explained in Connell's statement that the governments financial condition is still un-improved.

RUSSIAN CHILDREN FED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) MOSCOW, Nov. 30.—Walter N. Brown, the director of the American Foreign Relief Commission, following an inspection tour said: "There will be 1,200,000 children in the famine districts of Russia receiving regular food allotments from the American relief funds by January." He said: "We are feeding a half million of these starving children now" and added that the relief in Russia was having less food stolen there than in Armenia, Poland and Austria.

HOW TO PLAY TENNIS

By WILLIAM T. TILDEN
World's Grass and Hard Court
Lawn Tennis Champion
Copyright 1921, by Public Ledger Co.

Keep Your Eye on the Ball a Cardinal Principle of Tennis

HOW often in every game do we hear this shouted. In baseball the batter steps to the plate and swings wildly at bad ball. "Keep your eye on the ball," yells his coach. "You'll never hit if you don't look at it." In football it is the same thing. Many a forward pass is dropped because the man receiving it did not look at the ball. In every game, cricket, soccer, bowling, hockey, squash, golf and above all, tennis, the old cry of "Keep your eye on the ball" is used, and with good reason.

No man can hit any swiftly moving object with any degree of certainty unless his eye has followed its flight from the start until he meets it, not part of the way, but all the way. There are men who will tell you that you cannot conceal your shot or outguess the other man if you keep your eye on the ball, since you cannot tell where he is playing in the court. This sounds very reasonable, but fails, for the obvious reason that usually the man, if he plays correctly, can only be in one position, that determined by the length and direction of his shot. If his shot is short or slow he will be back. If his shot is deep and fast he will be at the net on the general line of flight of the ball, covering the straight shot down the line. Therefore, if this is known, why worry about looking at him? You know where he ought to be, so play accordingly. If he is not there, then his position is faulty and open to any attack.

To learn to keep one's eye on the ball it is a very good habit to fall into and also to follow the ball with your eyes from your own racket face to your opponent's and back to your own throughout each point without looking away from the ball once. When beginning this requires concentration at all times, but soon becomes a second nature with a good tennis player does it unconsciously.

The Correct Ground Stroke

A correct ground stroke is made up of three parts in one swing. The first or that part of the swing made behind the body, is speed; the second part, on a line with the body, is direction while the third and final portion made just in front of the body, is "top" or that spin which holds a ball in court. Now the speed does not need your eye—it is purely a question of physical power; then the ball is met for direction and the "top" put on almost simultaneously and both require utmost concentration of eyesight, since that determines the success or failure of the shot.

The eye following the ball as it comes to you is intent on that alone, but can direct the racket as soon as it enters the vision. Thus a perfect accord between ball and racket is possible if the eye is kept fixed on the ball itself. All seemingly impossible shots made, which sometimes swing matches and often championships are not lucky, but the result of the player's eye being fixed on the flight of the ball, and the shot resolves itself into the physical questions of whether it can be reached or not.

Many things necessary to tennis playing depend on this question of keeping your eye on the ball. Court position, footwork, and the physically technique of strokes are virtually useless unless the eye can follow the ball up to and including the point of hitting it. A man cannot play good tennis without this essential. He may play well, lacking one of the others. A notable example of lack of good footwork is shown in the play of W. E. Davis, the Californian, who gets in trouble with his feet in many of his shots, yet the remainder of his

With Maui's Girl Scouts

Kula
Rain and bad roads kept the Girl Scout director and the "eggbeater" from their regular visit to the Calla Lily troop on Wednesday. The following letter from one of these busy and helpful little scouts very creditably reports its own efforts and expresses its interest in the rest of us:

Waiakoa, P. O., Nov. 28, 1921
Dear Miss Seibert:
I am always glad when it comes to my turn to write. It always makes me feel bad when I don't see anything about our troop in the paper so I'm sending this to you. Our meeting was as usual. The patrols assembled very well and after a short drill, we held a short business meeting. During that time we practised on the Christmas carols while the principal accompanied us on the guitar.
When the meeting was over we played Virginia Reel. That was such fun. There was only time for a few other games as our captain had to go at four o'clock.
Come and see us when you can and bring news of the other troops.
Your little Scout,
LYDIA KAMAKAU.

Puukoli
A letter from Captain Shaw states that six girls have passed their tenderfoot tests and are anxiously awaiting the presentation of their pins. Good for you, girls! You are regular scouts now.

Haiku
The regular meeting of the Daisy troop met Monday afternoon with Capt. Parker, Lieut. Johnston and Miss Seibert. Much interest was shown in the exhibit board with the various scout insignia and badges. Next week will appear an account of the hike taken by nineteen of the scouts.

Paia
A joint meeting of Capt. Rosecran's troop was held at the school house Tuesday at 3 o'clock. Twelve of these scouts are to give the signalling and drilling demonstration next Monday at the Woman's Club, so much of the time was spent practising these activities.

Many of the Bougainvillea troop have started working for the Health badge. That is a wonderful badge to earn and is within reach of you all. Miss Seibert hopes many of the registered scouts will work for this badge right along with the second class tests.

Kahului
Miss DeKay, captain of the Rose-lani troop, met with seven scouts Tuesday at the Community Hall. Two new members are to be enrolled next week, so perhaps this troop may remain intact for awhile longer.
Signalling and drilling were practised and a short business meeting held.

Narcissus Troop Kahului
Only nine small girls compose this troop but they are such good little workers that they have asked them to give two demonstrations Monday at the Territorial Club. Gardner announces that the troop will have one or two of these demonstrations for "attendants."

Spreckelsville
The Carnation troop is always in full force. Many have already passed their test for signalling and are working on First Aid lessons under Lieut. Stuewe.
They are going to give a Christmas dance on the school program.
Captain Johnston has helped the scouts make their own signal flags but is in need of some 42-inch sticks on which to attach them. The manual training boys helped the Paia girls out.

Captains, attention! Please send in your "Personal Record" blanks. We want to check up by January 1st.

Theaters

"The Whistle"

Appearing in an entirely new type of starring vehicle, William S. Hart in "The Whistle" is the feature attraction at the theaters next week. Where most of his previous pictures have been western in character, this new film is based upon factory life in a New England community. "Bill" Hart plays the part of a mill foreman in a town which is dominated by the head of its one big factory. The human appeal and drama of the story serve to put it over with unmistakable emphasis. A tragedy enters the life of the foreman and changes the current of his existence. Hart engages in one of the most intense fist encounters of his career. There is no love story other than the love of a mother for her child, but this rather adds than detracts from the popular interest of the theme. In offering this feature to you we feel apart from the popularity of the star, it will receive a great reception and meet with your most enthusiastic praise.

"The Feud"

He's here again. Who? Why Tom Mix the boy that puts the act in action and believe me he is sure there in "The Feud" a picture so full of action with just enough sentiment in it to make it a little different from the usual run of Mix's pictures, but you can rest assured that you will get your share of thrills, so don't miss it.

"The Sporting Duchess"

Once each year sportsmen from all over the world gather at Epsom in Surrey, England, generally on the Wednesday before Whitsuntide, to attend the Derby races. Many plays have been written around these races the most famous of which is "The Sporting Duchess" the film version is taken from the mammoth spectacular production which had the greatest run at Drury Lane theater, London of any play of its kind. Alice Joyce plays the roll of the sporting Duchess, who stakes everything on the outcome of the race, her characterization is considered the best work of her career. Most of the race scenes were taken at New Orleans, and Derby Day is shown complete in every detail, the big race being complete from start to finish.

"The Lost Romance"

William de Mille's production "The Lost Romance" is a most pleasing picture, from the famous novel by Edward Knoblock. The honors are well divided in a splendid cast of whom Lois Wilson, Jack Holt and Conrad Nagel are well supported. It is a story of a husband and wife who were so busy making a home that they forgot to make love. Till the woman came to believe that life would be happier with the lover she once rejected. Come and see how the three of them face earth's greatest problem, and find the Lost Romance.

Science Will Rival Aurora in the North

American explorers are fast introducing electric lights in the Arctic Regions and one would not be surprised to hear shortly of the Esquimaux enjoying this modern luxury in their huts, according to the prediction made by Mr. Ralph Wilson, manager of the local Exide Service Station.

"A few weeks ago," said Mr. Wilson, "I read of the natives in some isolated section of Alaska, Cedak Island, I believe, being introduced to electric lights and the event was commented on as a step toward progress. Then the other day I received word that MacMillan, the explorer, had taken a complete lighting system with him on his latest trip to the Polar Regions. He has also equipped his expedition with a wireless set and will send back radio reports as he makes his way North. Current for both is furnished by Exide batteries."

"Mr. MacMillan, who sailed from Boston, was leader of the famous Crocker Land Expedition seven years ago. It was really on this occasion that electric lights also furnished by Exides were introduced in the Arctic Regions, probably, for the first time in history.

"This was made possible principally through the development of the storage battery. Such a voyage necessarily is rough and full of hardships and the equipment must be strong enough to withstand a lot of rough handling.

"After 4000 miles of traveling during which the party was shipwrecked and almost perished in blizzards, they were still able to give the Esquimaux the surprise of their lives—electric lights."

Eye two very interesting stories in which these two favorite stars do some very clever acting, this with the usual News Weekly's will make a week's program at the local theaters that is hard to beat.

Those that saw Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck" last week enjoyed it so much, that we have booked this great comedian in his latest scream "The High Sign" which will be shown in the near future.

JAPANESE LABOR

It is something of a coincidence that the action taken by the Japanese laborers at Puunene and the pertinent advice given by Consul General Yada of Japan to Japanese laborers in conference in Honolulu should have appeared in the same issue of this paper. Both were highly important items of news and had it not been that the Puunene mass meeting was held two days prior to Consul Yada's speech it would have appeared that the Maui laborers were acting upon his advice. Perhaps they were moved by some of the things he has said previously to his Honolulu speech for he has spoken to the point in many places and at many times in the past.

No matter what was the moving influence that caused Puunene laborers to cut away from labor organizations, the action is one which will tend to produce a better feeling towards Japanese labor. If other plantation laborers shall follow the same course, the harmonizing effect will be heightened and greatly emphasized. But will they do so?

Last week's meeting is not the first time that laborers of Puunene have expressed the most kindly sentiment towards the management of the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Company and relations between employers and employed there have been particularly satisfactory and gratifying. Other plantations have been trying consistently and earnestly for better housing, living and working conditions on Maui. They may not have achieved so much but they have perhaps not been in so favorable a position. Still the housing conditions on nearly all of the Maui plantations are immeasurably better than they were five years ago.

It may be that the action of the Puunene laborers will not be followed by the laborers of the other plantations. It may be that it was occasioned by the particularly cordial entente there established but the action will still have its effect.

Consul General Yada, spoke right to the point in Honolulu, Monday when he blamed the strike on Oahu of last year as a disturber of the harmony that had previously existed in the Islands. In part he was right in saying that the strike precipitated the demand for Chinese labor. To an extent it did but the withdrawal from the Islands of so many Japanese and Filipinos on the savings from high wages and large bonuses was an important operating cause also. And the consul was surely right when he said that the fomenting of industrial strife would weaken the position of the Japanese in Hawaii and on the mainland as well.

Mr. Yada came to the Islands at a time when the situation for the Islands here was decidedly critical. He has consistently worked to better relations, to bring about a cordial understanding and his services have been important to his countrymen and to citizens of the Territory. His services will be missed when he leaves the Islands to become the representative of his country elsewhere.

INTENSIVE PRODUCTION

There was much meat in the report of H. P. Agee of the planters' experiment station. He said that if the planters can increase their yield per acre in cane or sucrose content or both so as to secure an important increase per acre in extraction at a sacrifice to the acreage planted and cultivated, it would be found much more profitable. That is what every well managed plantation in the Islands has been seeking to do and why the most improved sugar making machinery is being installed in the mills after each grinding season.

Every one will admit the force of Mr. Agee's arguments, but how to achieve the result is the question that bothers. One important point he brought out in his report is that Hawaii suffers at this time from deficiency in quality as well as in quantity of labor. It has lost not merely workers but efficiency of workers.

The experiments in super-intensive cultivation of which he told were enlightening and surely the time will come when such methods are quite generally employed in all parts of Hawaii. But they are experimenting and practical application is what is necessary to increase production by 25 percent while reducing the area cultivated an equal amount.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREES

Nowhere, in no way, is the spirit of Christmas better exemplified than here on Maui in the Community Christmas tree celebrations. All races, all creeds, all ages of childhood come together and there is no discrimination shown in what they receive, in what is done for them. Class enters into it not at all. There is a little gift for each and the program is for the enjoyment of them one and all equally.

It may seem that little is done for the children for the gifts are not expensive and the costs to the community are small but the little folk are none the less happy. It is the idea that they are remembered, that they are cared for, given something, that really appeals. It is the Christmas spirit that is evidenced and radiates and descends upon the great and the small alike. The community and every member of it is better for such an observance of the day of the birth of the Christ.

In the home the tree has its charm and beauty; in the Sunday school it answers its particular purpose but no where does it mean quite so much, so fully harmonize with the spirit of the season as when it is made a truly community affair.

It is strange that public speakers should display such intense ignorance as they often do. In Honolulu a visiting speaker advised the removal of the mayor because he saw drunken men on the street. Had he investigated the powers and duties of the mayor he would not have placed himself in the position of appearing foolish himself or else of conceiving his hearers to be little better than fools. Such a faux pas cannot but weaken the cause the speaker espouses.

Some business men appear horror stricken that wharfage tolls should go into the general territorial funds. The maintenance and the interest costs have had to come from the territory so it really

THE OPTIMISTIC PESSIMIST

If one looks for the best in others one is apt to receive the best that they have for it is natural for a person to try to live up to that which is expected of him.

Fear is the most common and least warranted quality in man. Almost yes practically every one fears something, and yet man was made to control all things in the world through his will. Fear paralyzes the will and makes man a slave instead of a monarch.

It is the mental attitude that makes life what it is to each man or woman. Who lives in self and for self, suffers in self and for self, but the person who gets out of self and into the heart of humanity is the one who gains bodily health and the other joys of life.

Distrust is a second cousin to wretchedness if harbored habitually.

Nothing is more easily soiled than a reputation and much hard rubbing is required to remove stains. Some soil their own reputations and others seek to soil that of their neighbor.

It is easy to become so skeptic as to disbelieve before the evidence in the case is offered. It takes experience and restraint to remain unbiased.

The general idea of reform is to make the other fellow conform to one's own ideas.

One who ignores a slur or an affront hurts the giver more than him self for he deprives the offender of the satisfaction of knowing that he has hurt.

Next to his pocket book his self esteem is the most vulnerable spot in the average man.

Some of those who purchase on credit and do not pay their bills are the most persistent hagglers over prices. Perhaps they do not want to increase the burden of the debts they plan to carry more than can be avoided.

It is better to walk around the imperfections of one's neighbor than to stumble over them.

Those who are going out after business report this season promises to be better than the normal, though not so active as last year. It is those who are sitting back, Micawber like, who are complaining that business is poor. A little advertising tonic is what they need to put pep in the business system.

One good thing about those who procrastinate in their Christmas shopping is that they wait until it is too late to send off to some mail order house on the mainland and have to encourage home industry.

It makes the users of the wharves pay for the use to the taxpaying public through the territorial treasury, that is all.

FORESIGHT

If your father had bought 8 per cent bonds in 1873 he would have profited tremendously by the subsequent increase in security values.

This year you have practically the same opportunity—an opportunity which comes once in a lifetime and does not stay very long. That the time is rapidly passing is shown by the steady rise in bond prices in the last few months.

We are listing numerous attractive investments in bonds of companies whose long record and sure standing in the financial fabric of America assure the owner of their bonds, of safety and security.

On the Other Islands

For Wharf Tolls—Kauai Chamber of Commerce recently went on record as favoring the proposed wharf tolls prepared by the Harbor Board but the Garden Island says the action may be changed since it is learned that proceeds would go into the general treasury instead of a special fund for maintenance.

Job For Smiddy—Walter H. Brouley is out as superintendent of pumps for the Honolulu water department and former U. S. Marshal Jerome J. Smiddy is to be named in his place.

Andrade For Judge—Attorney Frank Andrade, former member of the legislature, is mentioned to succeed Judge Cornell S. Franklin on the bench of Honolulu. Confirmation of the report of the resignation of Judge Franklin has been given. He will sail for Shanghai on December 11.

Honolulu Oil Dividend—Honolulu Oil Company has declared a dividend of 10 cents a share payable December 15, from the earnings of its patented lines. The dividend is in no wise connected with the moneys that have been held in escrow and were recently released.

Ten Finish Grind—Ten of the 11 American Factors plantations have finished their grind of the 1921 crop. Oahu Sugar Company is still grinding.

Typhoid at Laie—Dr. F. E. Trotter of the health board finds that there is typhoid fever at Laie but that the water is not responsible, analysis showing freedom of the supply from typhoid germs.

American Factors Bonds—Three quarters of the $4,000,000 bond issue of American Factors are to be offered at once. Of the $3,000,000 there will be half a million offered to Islands investors and $2,500,000 from the mainland thus bringing that amount of "outside money" into the territory.

Road Badly Damaged—Extensive injuries to the new Kalopa Home-stead road in course of construction on the Big Island is reported to have resulted from recent heavy rains. Water swept along the road bed and materials were washed away.

Will Recover Taxes—Col. Howard Hathaway is quoted as saying that revenue collections for the Territory for the fiscal year 1922 will be approximately $15,000,000 and that plans are underway to recover $1,000,000 in taxes due from citizens of Hawaii who are resident in the Philippines and China but whose income is drawn from Hawaii.

Koreans Scalded—Five Koreans working in a boiler room on the S. S. Maui when she was last in Hilo Harbor were badly scalded about the faces and arms by escaping steam and were taken to the Hilo Hospital.

Former Emperor and Empress of Austria Live in Garden Spot

Arrival of former Emperor Charles and the former Empress Zita of Austria in Madeira has brought comparisons of their fates with other former monarchs who became trouble makers and whom the other nations proceeded to put in places where their trouble making could achieve little.

Banishment of trouble-making former monarchs to islands of the sea far from their one-time dominions is an uncommon procedure but precedent for the plight of former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary who has been exiled to Madeira, is found in the historic case of Napoleon I, who passed six years on St. Helena in the south Atlantic, 700 miles from the nearest land, a prisoner more than a century ago.

St. Helena is not only much smaller than Madeira but, compared to the latter, is as "a devil's island" to paradise. Five-sixths of its area is devoid of vegetation and, aside from an army garrison, there are no big towns or other evidences of life.

Island Garden Spot

Madeira, five times the size of St. Helena, is an ocean garden spot. Funchal, its chiefly city, has a population of more than 20,000 and the island, one of a group of four owned by Portugal, produces some of the most famous wine and laces in the world as well as an abundance of fruits, grains and sugar. Oxen are mainly used for agriculture, instead of draft horses and other farming methods are primitive. Less than two percent of the people can read and write.

The Portuguese military garrison is very small and Charles, Zita and their six small children, if the Allied powers permit, may have every freedom except an unchaperoned ocean voyage. Napoleon was guarded day and night by soldiers.

Madeira, the Portuguese word for "forest," is directly in the Atlantic ocean trade routes. St. Helena, a British naval coaling station, often doesn't see a ship for days. Madeira is a port of call and thus is kept in daily touch with the outside world. The island, 400 miles west of Morocco, has a temperate climate. It is 12 miles wide and 35 miles long and elliptical in shape. Three other islands nearby complete the Madeira group. They are Porto Santos which, with Madeira, have a population of 17,000 and the Desertas and Seixas, two smaller islands of volcanic origin. The latter are uninhabited, rocky formations jutting out of the sea.

File to Switzerland

After the collapse of the Central Powers in 1918, Charles and Zita sought refuge in Switzerland where, for three years, they lived with their children. Last March the former Emperor attempted a coup d'etat by crossing the Swiss border and reaching the town of Steinamanger, Hun-

Matrimonial System Of Japan is Changing

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

TOKYO, Nov. 30—A series of articles on love and marriage is appearing in Japanese newspapers and magazines as a sign of the modern tendencies New Japanese mentality. Professors of note in psychology, school teachers and writers are prominent in the discussion of reforming the old matrimonial system, all advocating more freedom for personal choice.

According to the old customs, the parents chose bride and bridegroom and the marriage was performed with out previous knowledge of each other by the interested parties. Marriage was considered a duty toward country and family, the religion of ancestor worship being its principle. The young couple lived with the parents and the bride owed complete obedience to her mother-in-law.

The custom now is for the young people to meet long before marriage, so that they may know each other. To live apart from the family is no longer considered undutiful. The tendency also appeared to marry for love's sake and because of personal choice. This new and romantic ideal is so strong that all means are tried to obtain it, entailing elopements, suicides, notorious family dissensions. Hence, the discussion for greater liberty and more social life which are quite opposed to the old social system of Confucius, that men and women should keep apart and marry for duty's sake and not for love.

gary, where with prominent monarchists he planned to enter Budapest. The plot failed and Charles returned to Switzerland. Again, on October 22 last, despite his "word of honor" given to the Swiss authorities that he would attempt no further escapes, the former monarch and his wife, during the dispute over Burgenland, flew in an airplane from Lucerne to Oedenburg and ultimately reached Rabb, Hungary, where Charles was received by an armed party of royalists. In a sanguinary effort to enter Budapest, the Carlists were defeated. The former emperor and empress were captured and, finally, at the behest of the Little Entente, placed aboard a British monitor in the Danube. On November 3, the ex-royal pair sailed for their future home in the mid-Atlantic. On November 4 the former emperor, who had persistently refused to renounce his hereditary "rights" was dethroned and the Hapsburg dynasty was ousted from Hungary by a law passed by the Hungarian National Assembly.

Fate Like Napoleon's

Napoleon's banishment in 1814 was no less bitter. The former Empress Josephine had died and his living consort, Marie Louise, with her son, the little Prince of Rome, had gone from Fontainebleau to Vienna following the Emperor's abdication. Meanwhile the Allied powers had ceded to Napoleon the island of Elba in the Mediterranean and there as a "sovere-

Woman In Peril at Black Fellows Hands

(Associated Press Mail)

SYDNEY, New South Wales, Nov. 29—(Associated Press Mail)—The perils of pioneering in the extreme north of Australia around the Gulf of Carpentaria, a region still peopled with wild black tribes, were related here by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Beckett, who have just arrived from Vanderlin Island, off the coast.

The natives from the mainland frequently raided the island, knowing that the police can not hear of the occurrences for some time and have difficulty then in tracing them, Beckett said. When Mrs. Beckett was alone on the island the natives plotted to kill her and her son, when he returned from another island, and then rob their store. The conspiracy was frustrated by a faithful native servant who was murdered brutally for exposing the plot, Beckett said.

Mrs. Beckett saved her own life by hiding off the murderer with a pistol, and he escaped to the mainland. Encouraged apparently by this, another native beheaded a native woman within a short distance of the police station at Borroloola. He was captured and with other law-breaking natives, including the celebrated "murdering Tomnoy" who has escaped from jail several times, was brought to Darwin in the same boat on which the Becketts traveled.

The possibilities of obtaining oil in the region are good, Beckett said, as oil-bearing shale is found and the natives have reported seepage of oil in several localities.

ign" he might have passed the rest of his life in peace and tranquility. Eleven months of retirement, however, sufficed to spur him to escape and new adventures.

He had been brought to Elba aboard the British warship "Dauntless" on April 20, with royal dignity and consideration. On the night of February 26, 1815, with 1,000 followers he slipped out of Porto Ferrajo and then began the famous "One Hundred Days" in which he sought to regain the throne of France. He gathered strength in men and guns as he crossed the Alps and marched on Paris but his reign as a "constitutional monarch" was of short duration. Great Britain, Russia, Austria and Prussia declared him an outlaw and raised 150,000 troops to crush him. The lost battle of Waterloo the following June saw the end of his power.

The former emperor threw himself upon the mercy of the British, falling in an effort to flee to the United States. He made overtures to Captain Maitland of the warship "Bellerophon" who took him to Plymouth, Eng., pending disposition of his case by the Allied powers. It was finally decided to send him to St. Helena and there, guarded by a strong British force, he landed on October 17, 1815. For six years he lived in practical solitude, writing his memoirs and monographs on military cam-

Change In Taxation System Is Forecast By New Treasurer

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
HONOLULU, Dec. 1.—Hawaii may soon have a new system of assessing and collecting its territorial taxes said A. Lewis Jr., this morning on taking over the treasurership from Delbert E. Metzger. The new treasurer discussed taxes and taxation at length declaring the subject a problem that requires the most careful consideration.

"Hawaii is passing through one of those cycles which, in the composite, make for the law of averages," said Lewis and continued: "The dropping line started here a little earlier than it did on the mainland. As almost all of the larger concerns here did not over-extend their business, we should recover here more quickly than they will on the mainland. Sign posts indicate the way to turn and the road may not be very long and arduous."

"While world conditions are being adjusted to produce a more stabilized market, commercial concerns of Hawaii are taking up a notch or two in their belts, are calling on their reserves prudently and are retrenching all along the line. The government expenditures will burden business as lightly as may be possible. To establish what is desired in the present financial crisis spells work."

"If the treasury department is to function properly there should be frequent and continued conferences to bring all points to the surface. Stability is the goal. It will be my earnest endeavor as treasurer to keep in close contact with the business interests of the territory, including the interests of every taxpayer. Taxes are a large item in every individual's business and in every home."

"When a change is to be made due notice should be given so that the effect may be analyzed and understood. Consequently, unless there is absolutely no other way out, tax law changes at hastily convened extra sessions of the legislature should be avoided. From time to time the treasury department will invite discussion of some of its problems."

Relatives of Father James Here on Visit

John Beys and daughter, Miss Dina Beys, father and sister of Rev. Father James, pastor of the Catholic church at Makawao, were among the arrivals by the Wilhelmina from San Francisco, coming from their home in Holland to visit their son and brother. The visitors will remain some time with Father James. So far as the records of the mission in Honolulu go, reports the Advertiser, this is the first time in the history of the Catholic Mission in Hawaii when relatives of a local priest have come here on a visit. Mr. Beys and Miss Beys were met at the pier by Father Charles M. Windels and Father Alphonse of the local mission.

TENDERED SURPRISE

Mrs. D. P. Penhallow was the recipient of a surprise by a number of her friends on Monday evening, the occasion being her seventieth birthday anniversary. The uninvited guests had told the servants to leave lights in the back of the house on and were stealing in through the kitchen when Mrs. Penhallow, thinking lights had been left on unintentionally went to investigate. She opened the door just as the visitors entered and her surprise was complete. They brought a large birthday cake with 70 candles among the good things and remembrances they carried.

Among those who planned the surprise and offered their congratulations were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gibb, Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Burns and the parents of Mr. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Case, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoogs, Mr. and Mrs. Moir, Rev. and Mrs. Villiers, Mrs. Pleasant and Miss Armin von Tempesky.

SENTIMENT AND SENSE

There is much sentiment, beautiful sentiment it is true, that attaches to CHRISTMAS GIVING but there is no reason why a gift should not carry with it something more than a fleeting pleasure, why sense and sentiment should not go hand in hand. There is no better gift than one that carries with it security and safety and protection.

You can do nothing better for your wife and family at this season than to provide against their suffering want or privation in your absence, if it should so happen, through a policy on your life, if you have none, or added insurance, if you already carry some protection for them.

Obituary

ANTONE M. FEITEIRA, SR.
 Death came suddenly to claim Antone M. Feiteira, Sr., for more than two score years a resident of Maui, last Sunday morning.
 Mr. Feiteira had been apparently in his usual good health previous to Sunday and on Sunday morning. He left his home and proceeded to the Kuau Church, had entered the church yard and was talking to friends before entering the building when he was suddenly stricken. He was picked up and cared for but died in a few minutes.
 Forty-one years ago Mr. Feiteira came from the Azores to Hawaii and at the time of his death he was 64 years of age. For 22 years of his residence here he was employed in the Hamakupu store and for 11 years at Paia store. Besides the widow he is survived by nine children, Manuel, Antone, John, Frank, Raphael, Alfred, Mary, Marian and Virginia and by 12 grand children.
 During his long life on Maui he made a large circle of friends who mourn his sudden demise.

er artists well known to Hawaii nei besides many half tone photo-engravings which illustrate the 160 pages it contains. The cover design is a beautiful reproduction in color of a bunch of Hawaii's typical blossoms, the hibiscus. There are 24 full page color illustrations and seven full page half tones besides scores of smaller cuts.
 Paradise of Pacific's holiday number has become an annual institution in the islands, is looked forward to with pleasurable anticipation and never disappoints. It has lived ahead of its reputation this year.
