OFFICIAL STATEMENT IN BERLIN SAYS GERMANS VICTORS AT ST. QUENTIN

[Associated Press service by Federal Wireless]
BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 29.—Official announcement here says that the British have been defeated by the Germans at St. Quentin.

[NOTE.—With the above dispatch, the Associated Press sends the following note: "If the above is verified, it indicates a significant German advance hitherto unreported." St. Quentin is in Picardy, almost half-way to Paris on the route from Maubeuge and other French towns on the Belgian border. If the Germans have reached this point and are continuously successful, they will soon be ready to strike at the capital.]

SILENCE IN NORTHERN FRANCE

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 29.—Two theoretical explanations are today advanced from the absolute silence as to the military developments in northern France since Wednesday's terrific struggle, in which the Germans are declared to have outnumbered the British two to one.

The first explanation is that the Germans have become exhausted and have momentarily slackened their advance.

The other explanation is that a second great battle is raging and that the commanders are unwilling to advise the British war office of the news until a decisive result has been obtained.

BLOODY BATTLES NEAR NANCY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—According to news received by the French embassy here, some of the bloodiest battles of the war to date has taken place within the last two days at Nancy, near the frontier. The French assumed the offensive on August 27 between Vosges and Nancy. The fighting was ferocious and indecisive. Along three kilometers of the front 2500 German dead were found, indicating the terrific nature of the struggle.

Near Vitremont, 4500 dead were found along four kilometers front.

Longwy, the "Iron Gate," surrendered after 24 days' siege. The garrison here consisted of only one battalion.

In the north, superior numbers forced the British, after brilliant resistance, to give some ground.

LIEGE FORTS MAY BE HOLDING OUT

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 29.—It was announced at the Belgian legation today officially that several Liege forts are still resisting every attempt of the investing Germans to reduce them.

NORTH SEA BATTLE LASTED EIGHT HOURS

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 29.—A British cruiser has arrived here from the scene of battle with the German fleet off Heligoland, bringing 200 prisoners and details of a fight that is held to be an important and significant victory.

The prisoners were captured from the cruiser Mains, which was one of those German vessels sent to the bottom. The Mains survivors are chiefly stokers and oilers. Those who have arrived say that the battle lasted eight hours. The British gunfire was terrific and deadly. The majority of German gunners were killed as they served at their posts.

MINES FLOATING IN BLACK SEA

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 29.—Telegraphic despatches to Lloyd's say that a small passenger steamer express bound from Odessa, on the Black sea, to Nikolayev struck a floating mine on August 11. Fifty-four people were killed and other steamers rescued the survivors, who were in the majority.

CANADIANS OFF TO THE FRONT

[Associated Press service by Federal Wireless.]
OTTAWA, Ontario, Canada, Aug. 29.—The first Canadian regiment sails from Montreal today for the scene of the fighting in France and Belgium. This has been named the Princess Patricia light infantry, with which is also being sent a force of field artillery with 18 guns. The force is now on board the troopship.

Yesterday the Princess Patricia infantry was reviewed here by the duke and duchess of Connaught and their daughter, the Princess Patricia, for whom the regiment is named.

This regiment was raised and outfitted by R. B. Bennett, a member of the Canadian parliament, representing the city of Calgary, and Hamilton Gault, a Montreal millionaire.

Of the 1100 men in the regiment, 1000 wear medals showing previous service in South Africa, the Philippines and Cuba. Prominent among the privates is Jack Munro, the pugilist.

BRITISH WOUNDED HOME

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 29.—Yesterday the first hospital ship arrived from France, bringing 200 wounded British soldiers. Nearly all had been wounded by shell fire.

FEDERAL COURT MAY BE RUN WITH BUT ONE JURIST

Organic Act Provides That Two May Not Handle Contested Cases at Same Time

OFFLEY SAID TO HAVE MADE THOROUGH PROBE

Letter Reported to Have Been Written by Judge Clemons May Be Behind Resignation

Will a successor be named to take the place of Judge C. F. Clemons on the Federal bench, in the event that retiring Attorney-general McReynolds insists upon the resignation of that jurist?

This question is being freely asked in political circles today and, according to a prominent Democrat, Judge Sanford B. Dole will be compelled to assume the entire burden of the federal judiciary when Judge Clemons' office is vacated. This particular exponent of the Bourbon doctrines pointed out that there is no necessity for a second member of the federal bench in Honolulu, in fact that the Organic Act, whereby the second judiciary position was created, while stating that the federal court of the territory shall consist of two judges at the same time prescribes that but one shall be allowed to handle contested cases. Just which judge shall officiate is a matter for decision by themselves.

The part of Section 86 of the Organic Act referred to is Section 86, which reads:

There shall be established in the said territory a district court, to consist of two judges, who shall reside therein and be called district judges, and who shall each receive an annual salary of six thousand dollars. The said court while in session shall be presided over by only one of the said judges. The two judges shall, from time to time, either by order or rules of court, prescribe at what time and in what cases each of them shall preside. The said two judges shall have the same powers in all matters coming before said court.

This section of the Organic Act, it is pointed out, has appealed to the incumbent attorney-general as voiding the necessity of two judges and is given as one of the reasons that the resignation of Judge Clemons has been requested.

Another reason is a letter, declared to have been written to the treasury department by Judge Clemons, in which the jurist is said to have recommended the Irwin site for the federal building, at a time when the community of Honolulu was divided on the issue and when the condemnation cases on the Mahuka site were still being heard by Judge Clemons in the federal court.

It is stated that this alleged letter is taken by the department of justice as "unnecessary interference" on the part of Judge Clemons, especially in view of the fact that participation by him in the controversy would disqualify him from passing on the condemnation cases.

"LITTLE BOBS" SEES BRITANNIA'S NEED FOR MORE SOLDIERS

Earl Roberts, field marshal of Great Britain, who makes announcement that his country needs 100,000 additional men.

WEST VIRGINIA TO LEAVE THIS AFTERNOON AT 4

Visitors Admitted to South Dakota Tomorrow Afternoon—Remains Until Friday

The cruiser West Virginia will sail for the Mexican west coast at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The South Dakota will sail for Bremerton next Friday morning, September 4. Both ships finished coaling at noon today, and the South Dakota will be open to visitors tomorrow afternoon, from 1 until 5 o'clock.

The two armored cruisers of the Pacific fleet that returned from Hilo yesterday morning put in a busy time yesterday afternoon and this morning, filling their bunkers and transferring men from one to the other. The West Virginia, which is ordered to Mexican waters, took over six officers and 169 men from the West Virginia and gave in return 40 short-time men who are due for discharge within the next six months. They will be taken to the coast on the "Ess Dee."

Last night as many of the West Virginia's men as possible were given shore liberty, and commencing this afternoon the South Dakota's men will be given a chance to see Honolulu. The time will be so divided that every man of the ship's company will get at least 36 consecutive hours on shore, which will give them plenty of opportunity to see the city and surrounding country.

The West Virginia sent a radio request from Hilo to stay over at Honolulu until next Monday in order that every man might be given shore liberty before the long Mexican cruise, on which liberty is the exception, and the men are often cooped up aboard ship for months at a time. No reply to this message has been received up to this afternoon, and all arrangements have been made to cast off between 4 and 5, although there is a possibility of a last-minute delay of 48 hours.

An Associated Press dispatch to the effect that the "H" group of submarines is shortly to be sent to Honolulu is not understood by officers of the cruisers now in port. For some time the "K" submarines, some of which are still in course of construction have been slated for station here, and the reported action of the navy department in ordering three of the "H" boats here, together with the monitor Cheyenne, "mother ship," is a distinct surprise.

MOLASSES WILL MAKE GOOD ROAD DECLARES WALL

City Engineer Positive That the Experiment Will Produce Lasting Thoroughfares

SAYS AUTOMOBILES WILL NOT SUFFER ANY INJURY

Has Host of Arguments in Favor of New Departure in Surfacing of Highways

"Yes, it is true I am having a portion of Kalakaua avenue covered with molasses," admitted City and County Engineer W. A. Wall this morning, and he escorted a representative of the Star-Bulletin out to the affected highway to show him how the thing is being done.

"No," said Engineer Wall, "the syrup won't stick to automobile tires and clog up motors. Of that I am positive. But it will cling to the coral rock and sand, will penetrate five or six inches below the surface and make a firm, smooth surface that will give you an ideal motor highway. I am confident it will make the road surface as slick as glass, and endure for two or three years per application. In fact it is just the thing we have been needing on Oahu thoroughfares."

The extent of "sugar-coated Kalakaua" temporarily will be from the Wai'iki end of the parking strip to the Lewis road, leading from the avenue toward the beach. It is an experiment, only the makai half of the road getting the treatment now, but if it proves satisfactory the other half will be coated similarly and then all the remaining coral-construction highway will receive the same saccharine coating. The present test has been authorized by the road committee of the board of supervisors, Patrie, McClellan and Markham.

Engineer Wall has a host of arguments in favor of the new departure in highway surfacing. He thought at first the idea was original, but since the actual work of spreading the molasses began, last Tuesday, he has been told that this treatment has been widely adopted in Cuba, where it proved efficacious. One reason for attempting it here is that the oil surfacing has proven unsatisfactory, particularly on coral roads, the oil not penetrating more than one or two inches deep and later causing the rock to break up in chunks. Molasses, on the contrary, goes so deep that such breaking is impossible, Wall says. Moreover, molasses not only mixes with water, but absorbs it from the air, so that water falling on sweetened road surface will sink in and pass through, not loosening the material but furnishing moisture, particularly in hot weather, that will hold down the dust.

Wall conceived the idea, he says, from observing the action of sugar and molasses spilled along the roadways at various mills and wharves on the islands. In these instances it seemed to give remarkable results. Then he remembered that for years in some places it has been customary to mix molasses with lime and water to obtain the very hardest, rock-like materials, and he figured that some similar result ought to be accomplished if it were applied with coral, which consists almost entirely of lime.

Another argument in the new process' favor, if it proves at all satisfactory as a surface-maker, is that it will cost only about half as much as oil. The original cost is about the same as for oil, but Wall says an equal amount will cover twice as much ground. About ten per cent of Oahu's highways are made of coral, and if the molasses treatment proves all Wall claims for it, the process may be applied on all such roadways, while hereafter new highways, built of coral which is cheaper than rock construction, can be built to the exclusion of the latter.

Wall intends applying the treatment to all of Kalakaua from the end of the parking strip out to Kapiolani Park, throughout Kapiolani Park and thence around Diamond Head.

PRUSSIAN SITUATION CONFUSING

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 29.—The numerous despatches arriving from East Prussia, where the Russians are engaging German troops, are confusing, as many of the dispatches are so contradictory that it is difficult to tell just how serious the Russian advance is proving.

For instance, it is officially announced in Berlin that the German and Austrian army, battling as allies, had defeated five Russian corps south of Allenstein. On the other hand, Russian advices report that Allenstein is occupied by the czar's soldiers. Furthermore, reports from the Russian side are that the German stronghold of Koenigsburg has been invested and the important position of Lemburg enveloped.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE IS RAPID

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—Announcement is made at the French embassy that its advices are that the Russian troops are only 30 kilometers distant from the German town of Lemburg.

The embassy further states that train service with Boulogne has been suddenly suspended, and it is supposed that German cavalry cut the communications. Boulogne is preparing to resist a raid.

GERMANS REINFORCING EAST ARMY

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 29.—The Copenhagen, Denmark, correspondent of the Evening News says that the German railroads have suspended their regular traffic and are busy carrying troops from the west armies, now battling against the Allies, to the hard-pressed east front, where the advance of the Russians is claimed to be effective.

HOW THE WILHELM WAS SENT DOWN

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands, Aug. 29.—Lieutenant Cane, a British army officer taken by the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse from the British steamer Galicia, has arrived here and gives a graphic description of the sinking of the Kaiser Wilhelm by the British warship Highflyer. The Kaiser was coaling from the collier Aruca when the Highflyer appeared. The captain of the Kaiser announced that he would blow up the ship before he surrendered. He then sent his sword and papers and all on board except the gun-crews, the engineers and firemen aboard the collier. The cannonade between the Kaiser Wilhelm and the Highflyer lasted only 40 minutes. The Kaiser's shells fell short. The Highflyer ceased firing when the Kaiser's guns were silenced by the rapid advance of the flames after the Kaiser took fire.

CANADA'S VOLUNTEER ARMY MOBILIZING
 OTTAWA, Ontario, Canada, Aug. 29.—News of the naval battle off Helgoland has aroused apprehension among Canadian military authorities, just as the troopships were about to be dispatched to England. It is feared that some of the German cruisers may have slipped past the British fleet during the engagement. The first Canadian contingent is to sail today. Between 20,000 and 25,000 men more will be dispatched within two weeks, convoyed by cruisers and a torpedo boat destroyer flotilla.

Military drill will be carried on actively this fall throughout Canada to fill gaps in the army in the field and to prepare for home defense.

GERMAN LOSSES ENORMOUS
 PARIS, France, Aug. 29.—The German forces appear to have slackened their march. Both sides are frightfully exhausted from the furious fighting. The losses have been appalling, especially the Germans, who have been assaulting fortified positions. A German prisoner relates that the 112th and 142d infantry regiments were decimated. But 60 men remained, and these were formed into one organization.

FRENCH TAKE OFFENSIVE AT NANCY
 PARIS, France, Aug. 29.—The French department states that the situation along the entire front from the department of Somme to the Vosges mountains remains unchanged.

French troops took the offensive yesterday between the Vosges mountains and Nancy, where fighting has been in progress for a fortnight. The Germans lost heavily, especially at Longwy, where one battalion surrendered after being imprisoned by French troops for 24 days.

THREATEN TO SEIZE BELGIAN ART TREASURES
 LONDON, Eng., Aug. 29.—A Reuter despatch from Ostend says that only $200,000 of the war levy of $40,000,000 demanded by the German commander from the city of Brussels has been paid. The Germans threaten to seize the collection of Flemish masters in the Museum of Old Paintings, the rare books and manuscripts in the Palace de l'Industrie and other treasures of the capital's museums, if the full levy be not immediately paid.

QUEEN LILIUOKALANI, HOME FROM HAWAII, BORE TRIP VERY WELL

Queen Liliuokalani, accompanied by Mrs. C. P. Iaukea and others, returned on the Mauna Kea this morning from her trip to Hawaii, the principal motive of which was the dedication of the Kanehameha III tablet at Honolulu.

The queen bore the trip remarkably well, as she did her last visit to Hilo and the volcano. Previous to that time she had not been away from Honolulu for some years.

During her absence of about three weeks on the island of Hawaii, Queen Liliuokalani spent some days at Kona, later visiting at the Kohala ranch. Before returning to Honolulu the queen remained three days at Hilo.

Wilhelmina Carries Big Cargo.
 Castle & Cooke today received a wireless announcing the departure of the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina from San Francisco with a big cargo including 4100 tons for Honolulu and 1500 tons for Hilo. The latter represents the largest amount of freight leaving the coast for the Hawaii port in a Matson steamer in many months. The Wilhelmina was given 477 sacks of mail in leaving the coast. The passengers number 100 cabin and seven in the steerage. The vessel is due to arrive at Honolulu at an early hour on Tuesday morning.

Japanese Liner Goes to Hilo.
 Declaring that passenger and freight traffic between Japanese ports and the Hawaiian islands is uninterrupted, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Co. has advised Castle & Cooke, the local representatives, that the steamer Kiyu Maru from the orient, with 800 tons of freight for discharge at Hilo, has sailed from Yokohama. The vessel is due to arrive at Honolulu about September 10. To remain at this port but a few hours, the Kiyu Maru will be dispatched for the island of Hawaii and following the discharge of freight at that point will resume the voyage to Mexico, Central and South American ports.

WAR MOVES BIG SHIPMENT OF SUGAR

A European war with its attendant increase in the price of sugar resulted today in a big shipment of the product being forwarded to the mainland in the Oceanic liner Sierra, which was dispatched for San Francisco at 12 o'clock.

While the music from the Royal Hawaiian band was absent at the departure of the steamer, the Sierra was thronged with passengers and their friends for some time before the time set for departure.

Sixty-five cabin and 15 steerage passengers were provided with transportation. In addition to 28,959 sacks of sugar destined for coast refineries, the vessel carried 12,237 cases of preserved pineapples, 3359 bunches of bananas, 86 crates of fresh pineapples and a quantity of sundries including hides, honey, sial, copra and island fruits.

Returning to the mainland in this vessel was a party of tourists that is completing a round trip to the islands. The members of the delegation were recruited by the passenger agents representing the Oceanic line.

Island Shipping.
 Thirty-three thousand sacks of sugar were supplied the barkentine Hawaii at Mahukona before that vessel sailed for San Francisco Thursday afternoon. The Hawaii came to the islands with a shipment of Australian coal which has been discharged at Kahului, Maui.

With a shipment of lumber amounting to about 700,000 feet, the barkentine Mary Winklemann, 19 days from Eureka, was an arrival at Hilo on Thursday evening. The vessel was brought to a berth at the railway wharf the following day. The windjammer is reported to have met with fine weather.

The Matson Navigation steamer Hilonian, with more than 3000 tons of sugar, has been dispatched from Hilo for San Francisco.

Rain Delays Handling of Cargo.
 Excessive rain along the Hamakua coast and at Hilo is reported to have delayed the handling of perishable cargo at the Hawaii ports. Several coasting steamers in the inter-island service were passed by the steamer Mauna Kea in its return to Honolulu. The Likelike was at Honoumoulu, the Kaula at Paauhau, the Waiwale at Hilo, the Niihau at Paauhau. Moderate trades and seas were met on the homeward voyage. The Mauna Kea brought a general freight including poultry, 273 head of sheep, 15 crates of vegetables, 10 cords of wood, 43 bales of hides and 160 packages of sundries. POMMERN ONE OF INVADING FLEET

Now laying idle at Honolulu harbor, her owners awaiting the outcome of the European war, the North German Lloyd freighter Pommern, which steamed to the Hawaiian Islands, barely escaping capture by hostile British war vessels, is one of a number of new cargo carriers recently placed in service by the German Australian Steamship Company who were intent on pushing a new line of trade into New Zealand and the Australian continent.

The increase of the German government subsidy from £95,000 to £237,000 a year permits the North German Lloyd to place four new 14 1/2-knot steamships on a regular monthly service between September and February. Older ships only will be used in the intervening dull season. The hope is expressed that the government's subsidy will again be increased and fixed for a definite number of years, "in order that the company may be able continuously to offer stronger opposition to foreign competition."

Arrangements are rapidly being completed for the establishment of a New Zealand service when a fleet of 50 vessels, totalling 308,000 tons, is ready. This service was expected to divert from the port of London 100,000 tons of German freight hitherto transhipped from England for New Zealand.

In steaming for San Francisco at 4 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon the Matson Navigation steamer Lurline will be supplied with about 6000 tons of sugar, and a large consignment of pines and miscellaneous products. Forty cabin passengers have been booked for the mainland at the office of Castle & Cooke.

GOVERNOR UNDECIDED UPON HOLIDAY FOR PRIMARY SEPT. 12

Governor Pinkham had not decided today whether he would issue a proclamation declaring a holiday on September 12, the date of the primary, but it is believed he at present is opposed to the holiday proposition. It is thought he favors the argument put forth by some of the merchants; that the holiday would work a hardship on business interests generally, and is unnecessary because many firms will give their employees ample time off duty in which to cast their ballots.

E. W. QUINN

CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR, ON THE REPUBLICAN TICKET AT THE PRIMARIES.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for senator at the primaries and ask for your support. I have always been Republican. In 1904 you elected me to the House of Representatives and I served in the session of 1905.

In 1906 you again elected me to the House of Representatives and I served in the session of 1907.

In 1908 you elected me to the Senate and I served in the sessions of 1909 and 1911.

My record is clean and an open book. There is not a voter in the district that I asked to vote for me in any of my previous campaigns that I cannot again honorably ask for his support in the present campaign.

I have served as chairman on some of the most important committees in both houses. My record and reports in the same are clear and are on file in the Government Archives building.

I have never aspired to be a leading spellbinder, nor have I been a gallery adherent.

I have always been reserved and conservative in my actions. I supported any bill that had merit to it and that I thought was for the benefit of the majority of the people no matter whether it was introduced by a Republican, Democrat or Home Ruler. I always have been independent.

I have read the platform of the Republican party and endorse the same. I nominated and elected to the next Legislature I will act in the future as I have in the past for the interest of all classes to the best of my ability. I am in favor of the present liquor and Sunday laws and will oppose any changes to either outside of the amendments asked for in the platform.

E. W. QUINN.

Department of justice, who made a thorough investigation of the McCarran-Bride episode several weeks ago, is said to have also thoroughly investigated the federal court and its operation. He is reported to have secured from a number of local attorneys their expressions regarding Judge Clemons' ability and the statement is made by this Democrat that every member of the Bar Association, with two exceptions, stated to Mr. O'Leary that Judge Clemons was unfit to conduct contested trials. None, however, questioned the integrity of the jurist. This statement is considerably at variance with the action of the Bar Association of yesterday in which it entered a protest against the enforced resignation of Judge Clemons and so called the attorney-general.

POLITICAL NOTES

A big Republican meeting will be held at Kalia park, upper Kalia valley, tomorrow afternoon beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

The Republican meeting at Kaimuki on Thursday night brought out a fair attendance and the candidates were well received.

L. L. McCandless, Democratic candidate for delegate, will arrive from Kauai tonight and will hurry to the mass meeting at Aala Park in time to deliver a speech.

Woman's suffrage talk is not monopolized by the Progressive and Republican party candidates. It has recently appeared at Democratic meetings. Prof. W. A. Bryan, candidate for the senate, introduces the question in his speeches.

Because of the Rice and Kuhio meetings at Wailua and Laie tonight, the mass meeting for county candidates in the same section of the island has been called off. However, many of the Republican candidates will go down country this afternoon and early tonight.

Most of the Republican candidates and a large number of active workers are going down-country today, several leaving this morning to journey to Laie and Wailua by the windward route. Others are going this afternoon, autos starting at 2, 3 and 4 o'clock. There are the Rice and Kuhio meetings at Laie and Wailua and the attendance from Honolulu will be large.

George R. Carter, Progressive candidate for delegate, arrived from Hawaii on the Mauna Kea this morning. Part of his auto tour of the Big Island was exceedingly strenuous, in and over places where autos had never before been. He went over one particularly bad stretch of road when he was within 20 feet of the good road the gears of the auto were suddenly stripped. He then was towed a dozen miles by oxen at the rate of 2 miles an hour. Carter will renew his local campaign next week. J. U. Joseph and D. Kalaoukalani, Sr., accompanied him and returned this morning.

The Republican executive committee has sent to Governor Pinkham the following resolution, passed at a meeting this week:

"Whereas, The laws of the Territory of Hawaii provide that a primary election be held throughout the Territory of Hawaii on Saturday the 12th day of September of the present year; and

"Whereas, The designation of the day on which the primary election shall be held as a holiday will aid materially in giving full effect to the intention of that law in placing in nomination candidates for office;

"Now therefore, Be it Resolved, by the Executive Committee of the Republican party of the Territory of Hawaii, That the governor of the Territory of Hawaii be requested, in accordance with the powers vested in him, to declare Saturday, September 12, 1914, a legal holiday within the Territory of Hawaii.

"And be it further Resolved, That the secretary of this committee be and he is hereby directed to forward to the governor of the Territory of Hawaii a copy of this resolution."

REV. MACKINTOSH OFFICIATES AT STONE-LAYING

News of the Rev. Canon Macintosh, for many years in Hawaii, has been received by the Star-Bulletin in a clipping from the Lynn Advertiser and Norfolk and Cambridgeshire Herald of England. The articles says: An interesting ceremony was witnessed at Holme on Tuesday afternoon, when the foundation stone of the Parish Institute, which is in course of erection, was formally laid. The institute, which will supply a long-felt want in the parish, is being erected on a site given by Mr. le Strange. In a corner of a field, owned by him and occupied by Mr. Renaut, near the church, and it is being built of red bricks, given by Mr. Holcombe Ingleby, M. P. The necessary funds have been raised by church organizations and by subscriptions from residents in and around the parish. For many years the Rev. Canon Macintosh was rector of Rinestead. The site was made attractive for the occasion, with flags, etc., and considerable interest was manifested by the villagers, showing that they appreciated the efforts which are being made for their benefit.

The robed clergy in attendance were the Vicar (Rev. Canon A. Macintosh), Rev. R. C. Black, F. C. Moore, H. W. F. Palmer, and M. F. Bell.

A short but impressive and appropriate service, specially arranged by the vicar for the occasion, was opened by the Rural Dean and concluded by the Vicar.

The Vicar said that the service they had last heard would help them to understand why they had met there that day and to show them that the work they had done was for God, a work which they trusted in His goodness He would prosper and make it what it should be. Nothing more remained to be said, but simply to express their thanks to all their friends who, by the will of God, had provided the things necessary to build the institute—their good squire, Mr. le Strange, who had given the site, Mr. Renaut in giving up the site, Mr. Holcombe Ingleby, M. P., for giving the bricks, all the workers of the Brotherhood, the women and girls of the Guild, the contributors in and around the parish, who had done their best, and those abroad in the Pacific Islands, where they had suffered reverses, which made their gift all the more valuable. The building was to be a home in the parish, so to speak, a home where they could meet and know each other better, at present they only knew each other superficially; a place of instruction, spiritually and mentally. They would have their meetings and lectures, scientific and otherwise; Sunday school, Bible classes, musical meetings and even political meetings. A place for social enjoyment, and even dancing would not be thought very sinful. And last, but not least, it was, if God willed it, to be a nursery for the church, to heighten and brighten the life of the village in the most pleasing way that God's Holy Spirit could put into their hearts and minds, and so it only remained for him to ask for their prayers.

Under the direction of the Oceanic Steamship Company the party embarked in the Sierra, steaming for the mainland at noon.

SPENCER BOWEN SEES GOOD MOVE IN CHAMBER ACT

"It seems to me that the decision of the Chamber of Commerce committee on charities and social welfare to furnish each charitable and philanthropic organization in Honolulu with a card of endorsement, is one of the strongest advance steps toward better and more business-like charity work to be taken in this city in a long time." Spencer Bowen, manager of the Associated Charities, in an interview with the Star-Bulletin this morning, thus expressed his opinion regarding what he believes will be the outcome of the chamber committee's action, taken at a meeting yesterday noon. At that time the members of the committee voted to ask each charitable organization to tender to the chamber a report of its work and, in exchange, receive an endorsement card which will signify to both the giver and receiver of charity that that organization is a worthy society.

"I feel that the way to secure greater efficiency and cooperation among our charitable organizations along more modern lines is through endorsement," Mr. Bowen continued. "It is the way the local business men have in advertising their schemes. It is plain, good business and this endorsement will mean the putting of the charitable organizations of Honolulu on a good business basis."

"It will not mean the curtailment of the work of any organization, but will assist it in fulfilling its best ambitions. The Chamber of Commerce, by endorsing these organizations, will give them a backing which will enable them to take a more prominent stand in the community. It will benefit those organizations which are strong now, and will enable them to get a better footing as soon as they can conform their activities to any regulations which the Chamber of Commerce might make. This will result in more work being done; in more donations being made."

"I say this, because similar results have been obtained in Cleveland, Ohio. Cleveland commenced this endorsement project a few years ago, and now carries on a highly efficient philanthropic work. It is a thorough business proceeding. I have heard that some institutions fear that it will mean an encroachment upon their part in the work. To my mind, it will mean nothing of the kind. But it will mean that, with the backing of the Chamber of Commerce, they will be encouraged to carry on their live work—not only executive but general. Then, too, this backing is going to mean that it will be easy to obtain the necessary money with which to carry on the work."

"This endorsement project is a thing which Honolulu should have had long ago. For instance, approximately $200,000 is spent here each year in charitable work. As a community, we are not always sure whether we are going to get that money each year; we don't know what the philanthropic assets are."

BIJOU THEATER IS TURNED OVER TO THE G. O. P. CANDIDATES

J. C. Cohen and J. H. Magoon, managers of the Bijou theater, announce that beginning next Wednesday night and continuing through to the eve of the primaries that the Bijou will be opened nightly for Republican rallies. In this manner opportunity will be afforded for every candidate running for public office on the Republican ticket to explain his political views to his constituents.

Cohen and Magoon announce that there will be no expense to any candidate; that they will furnish the house, lights, moving pictures, music and other entertainment features. Explaining their motives in thus opening the Bijou, Cohen and Magoon declare that a theater is a quasi-public institution and should bear its share of contributing toward the general welfare of a community. They feel that the election of a solid Republican set of office holders would bring prosperity to the islands because of the more efficient administration which would be accorded and for that reason give of their means that every Republican candidate may address his constituencies.

Cohen and Magoon will play no favorites and attach no strings to any of the speakers except arranging the grouping of the speakers. The opening night of the series of rallies has been granted to Delegate Kuhio and the managers of the Prince's campaign have availed themselves of the opportunity of using the theater for a rally on Wednesday night, Sept. 2.

On Wednesday night, September 9, the Rice forces have accepted the use of the free forum and will hold a rally. Thursday night, Sept. 3, all candidates for senator will be given opportunity to speak.

Friday night, Sept. 4, has been allotted to candidates for representatives and Saturday night, Sept. 5, candidates for mayor will exchange views or preach their own individual doctrines.

Monday night candidates for sheriff, clerk, auditor and treasurer will be given their innings. The remaining nights before the primaries are held open pending developments which may arise during the series of meetings now arranged.

SATURDAY.....AUGUST 29, 1914

If you can look into the seeds of time and say which will grow, and which will not, speak then to me.—Shakespeare.

PRIMARY DAY A HOLIDAY?

Two strongly contradictory voices are heard in the discussion of the question of declaring primary day, September 12, a legal holiday. The general public, a number of the large business houses and businessmen, the political managers and candidates, urge that the governor declare a holiday. On the other hand, the retail business houses and a number of other businesses are opposing a holiday with vigor and with plenty of reason from their standpoint. They argue that September 12 is Saturday, the heaviest day of the week in the retail trade, that there are already two holidays in September, and that, even if they should close their shop-doors, there would be innumerable Oriental stores keeping open and thus trade would be diverted to these latter.

The question must be viewed from a territory-wide, not a city-narrow standpoint. It is not only in the city and county of Honolulu that an election—and a very important election—is to be held. It is all over the territory. What is best for all Hawaii? What will best conserve public welfare, what will best promote public interests?

From this standpoint we believe that there can be only one answer—a legal holiday—so that every voter shall have a chance to go to the polls. It is recognized that the new primary law places much more than ordinary responsibility on the individual voter, and it is recognized also that the voter will have some difficulty with the new law and the new form of ballot, requiring more time than usual.

But the declaration of a legal holiday does not mean that the retail businesses must close their doors. The banks must close, but not the retail trade houses, which are the ones most largely represented in the petition against a legal holiday. They can keep open and in view of the publicity given to their side of the case, the public will appreciate that their keeping open is not out of any desire to run contrary to the spirit of a legal holiday but arises from a peculiar combination of circumstances which means serious loss of business if they shut up shop all day.

A holiday legally declared will guarantee the voter the right and the time to cast his ballot; it need not necessarily mean the closing down of all retail business in Honolulu east of Nuuanu street.

TAKING TIME BY THE FORELOCK

The proposal made to the Chamber of Commerce by C. G. Bockus that Hawaii should set its clock one hour ahead and thus move its working day up one hour should receive serious consideration. Of course there will be facetious remarks made about the plan but after they have been aired attention should be given to its many commendable features. The man who goes to work now at 8 o'clock and stays at 5 would still go to work at the same hour by the clock—but he would find his afternoon lengthened one hour. Similarly with every other man, woman and child. The children would have longer playtime hours, with correspondingly less reason for being on the streets at night-time. One very strong argument in favor of the plan is that advantage could be taken of the early-morning coolness, so characteristic of Hawaii, and who does not know that one hour of work in the delightful freshness of early morning is worth two later in the day?

After a week or two there would be no perceptible difference between the old and the new day, except that Hawaii would find as by a miracle a longer afternoon to be devoted to wholesome exercise and recreation.

Some objections would probably be found—it sounds too easy to be immediately credible—but the proposal should be carefully canvassed as to its possibilities. One large American city, Cleveland, has already tried it with distinct success. Hawaii, with its splendid climate—peculiarly adapted for early-morning work—and its freedom from interstate time entanglements such as train-schedules and the like seems to offer unusual opportunities for a trial of the plan.

Mr. Bockus has proposed a new way of taking time by the forelock. Because it is new is no reason to dismiss it with a laugh or a shrug.

REMOVING JUDGE CLEMONS

Judge Clemons is not a perfect judge. None is. His court-room manner is not of the best; there are times when he appears hesitant. But his integrity is unquestionable and attorneys who have practiced before him know that he is a jurist whom they can respect for his demeanor as well as for his knowledge of the law. He is a student, a gentleman and a lawyer. The retiring attorney-general in demanding Judge Clemons' resignation says that it is not because of charges against him, but declines to specify what the reasons are that demand the removal of a jurist who has made good. If this is a political move, it is poor politics—certainly not the sort to elevate the Wilson administration in public esteem. If it is a move for other reasons, Hawaii is entitled to know why the enforced resignation of Judge Clemons is called for.

Robert W. Breckons' intimation at a meeting last night that the Star-Bulletin is supporting John K. Kamanoulu for the house because if elected he will be in a position to turn printing contracts toward this paper is an insult to the honesty and integrity of Kamanoulu and an uncalled-for slur against a Hawaiian candidate. It is a slur that Kamanoulu and his friends justly resent. Breckons would not make such a statement of a haole candidate but he thinks he can attack the honesty of a Hawaiian candidate and be safe from answer. He did it, of course, for political effect, but the effect is a boomerang. Instead of helping Kuhio's cause, he has injured it for he has shown himself as an abuser of Hawaiians.

The territorial grand jury in beginning a thorough investigation of the affairs and conduct of Waikiki Inn has the approval of the public as well as the authority of the first circuit judge. Several members of the police department rest under a cloud as the result of the rumors and half-statements passed around a few weeks ago when charges of "spiriting-away" an important witness were made to the license commission. If the charges, the rumors and the half-statements are true, immediate action to purge the police department should be taken. If they are untrue, the police officers should be publicly cleared of suspicion.

Charles N. Arnold of Ewa should be elected to the board of supervisors this year. He served on the board elected in 1910 and his conscientious and energetic work on that board was in marked contrast to the bickering, peanut politics and short-sighter personal maneuvering done by some other members. He was independent and his judgment was good. His familiarity with supervisory affairs, particularly with road-work, will be valuable on the next board. He will get a large vote both in the Fourth and Fifth districts.

With the appointments of Judges Edings and Ashford and talk of bench appointments for Joseph Lightfoot and A. S. Humphreys it might be construed that the U. S. attorney-general and President Wilson are combining to deprive Jeff McCarn of counsel. The survivor of his quartet of defenders—should the Lightfoot appointment materialize—will be J. A. Magoon.

The general public hopes that the Oahu League will settle its baseball troubles by retaining Umpires Stayton and Bruns with entire support. Their presence on the field is a guarantee that the games will be well conducted.

Another feature for the Promotion Committee to boost to the tourists as an addition to the world's seven wonders will be "Honolulu's sugar-coated" highways.

An expert on sugar forecasts an average price for raws for next year of 5 1-2 cents. Thumbs down for pessimism!

Judge Ashford takes exception to the indeterminate sentence. Especially when it includes a split infinitive.

Germany expects to take care of Russia after smashing the Allies on the west. It's a large contract.

The judge who suits everybody would not be on a bench—he would be in a museum.

GETTING THE "CITS."

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin: Sir: I have been, but very little from the public regarding citizen tugs for the soldiers on Oahu since the live wire talks on "The soldier in Oahu in general, and his desire to wear civilian clothes," at the Ad Club lunch a few weeks ago.

If it is possible to bring about that much desired condition of affairs regarding the local soldier only through the assistance of the public, it is a great pity that the talk made by Sergeant Eby at the Ad Club lunch on August 12, cannot be reproduced and scattered broadcast. His argument for "cits" was convincing. It was helpful to those who would like to assist the soldier in getting the privilege of wearing "cits" when off duty. His talk also pointed out the best way to go about such a problem.

If there is any objection to a proposition put forth by an American he generally wants to know "why." Now, then, why should not the soldier on Oahu be allowed the privilege of wearing "cits" when he visits this city? If there really exists an undefinable something that causes the civilian to avoid contact with the man who wears a khaki uniform, and that same man in a dress of "cits" should and would command the respect of all fellow-citizens, then let's remove the cause of that feeling if it is possible, and some wise guy once said that all things were possible. I am not sure just how to go about such a problem, but if somebody else will start it going I will pull with the rest, and keep pulling till we have pulled the desired permission from the war authorities at Washington.

BOOSTER.

THE MAYORALTY SITUATION.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin: Sir—At the Republican meeting held on Thursday evening at the Liliuokalani school three of the Republican candidates for mayor addressed the meeting. The fourth was off on his own hook somewhere. Mr. Charles Hustace, Jr., laid his claim to the nomination on his experience on the board of supervisors seven years ago and his 25 years of banking experience in Honolulu. Mr. Lane's only recommendation was his term of service in the territorial senate several years ago. Had Mr. Cohen been present the only public record he could have quoted was his term of service in the house of representatives five years ago.

Now, to the man on the street, no recommendations offered by Hustace and Cohen can wipe away the political stigma they brought upon themselves when they bolted the Republican party and helped to destroy it by publicly declaiming from the stump that should the people not care to vote for them, to vote for the opposition. That has sunk in too deep to be forgotten in a day. Mr. Lane makes no apology for his string of defeats except to declare that they were by very small margins. Now Mr. Editor, a miss is as good as a mile, and for goodness sake let us put up a distance horse for once, one that can go the distance and win. If the Republicans are sincere in their desire to put a Republican mayor in office, they cannot get away from Murray, Cohen, Hustace and Lane cannot carry the election. Supposing one of them should, I will give you some food for thought. Paint a picture in your mind of either of the gentlemen as mayor, a brand new board of supervisors, a new attorney perhaps, a new auditor perhaps, a brand new house of representatives, some new timber in the senate and let me know where the city is going to get off at in the matter of urgent and pressing legislation. The board will not be in a position to go to the legislature for the reason that they sit just a month in advance of them and it surely takes at least six months to grasp the municipal situation; the house of representatives where all legislation necessarily arises know nothing of the needs of the city and either of the three gentlemen as mayor knowing still less would only make himself ridiculous if he attempted anything like municipal reform without a thorough knowledge of municipal affairs, and this can only be acquired by previous experience. We have no alternative then but to vote for Mr. Murray. His term as supervisor of the last board gave him the necessary insight into municipal affairs. He would be in a position to go to the legislature the day they met with concrete plans for municipal legislation. His experience on the board where he served as leader gave him, if I do not miss my cue, a practical idea of amendments that must be made to our municipal act. He must know more about the general situation than either of the others. We must have a man at the head of this city who will see to it that every function of government appertaining to it is vested in it by legislation. He must have the courage to propose legislation tending to vest the city with the ownership of every public utility. Now who is best qualified? We are lead to infer that none of the candidates are altogether satisfactory, but the fact remains that if we are to have a Republican mayor we must have the best qualified. I claim that man to be Murray. It is surely not his fault that he is so isolated at this time as against the other three. We have had two years for prospective candidates to declare themselves. Where are the men who have shouted for reform? Mr. Murray stated that his idea was that politics is composed of just about equal parts of comprehension and sympathy, and while he does not appear to be much of a sympathy getter, he has a better comprehension of the subject than any of the other candidates. If he is turned down at the primary and Fern is returned in November it will not be for his lack of comprehension of the subject, but on the contrary, the sympathy of the masses will extend to Fern for his absolute ignorance of it.

ANOTHER VOTER.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—JAMES FRIELE: The reports sent out by the London news bureau read like they were penned by a man suffering from writer's cramp.

—M. A. THOMAS: I am glad to say that I now have the business of the district attorney's office fairly well in hand. The first thing that came to light was the necessity of calling a meeting of the federal grand jury.

—CARL NEIPPER: Before leaving the coast, I noted that the moving picture camps around Los Angeles had put in busy week. Their pictures will show a heavy loss of life in all decisive battles along the Belgian border.

—LOYD R. KILLAM: Every man in Honolulu, whether or not he is a church member, should attend the mass meeting in the Empire theater tomorrow evening. There will be special music, and Col. Blanche B. Cox, head of the Salvation Army, will have an important message to deliver.

ALLEGED MURDERER CAPTURED AT KONA

HILO, Aug. 28.—Tokyo Endo, the Japanese who is alleged to have murdered his wife at the mill camp, Honokaa, last Monday night, is under arrest at Kona and Sheriff Pua has gone over to bring the man to Hilo. The rapid manner in which the alleged murderer crossed the country from Honokaa to Kona is causing some surprise as he is of a conspicuous character as regards looks and could hardly be missed by anyone who had heard of his description. He is small in stature, baldheaded, has no front teeth and possesses very high cheek bones. It was this description, telephoned to all the outlying districts that finally led to his arrest in Kona.

The Japanese had evidently made his way on foot, through the less frequented districts to Kona. He was captured while in a store endeavoring to get some food.

When the sheriff investigated the crime at Honokaa he found that a purse that belonged to the dead woman had been cut open and the money it contained stolen. This action on the part of the murderer made those who knew of the robbery, scout the idea that the man had committed suicide in some cane field after killing the woman.

Sheriff Pua is expected back from Kona tomorrow or Sunday and Endo will then be charged at the local court.

An ash can to which a handle can be attached to convert it into a lawn roller has been patented.

W. E. MILES IS NAMED MANAGER FOR DEMOCRATS

Urges Against Raising Race Issue as Kuhio Supporters Are Now Doing

William E. Miles, secretary to the mayor and an active and energetic Democrat, was named Democratic campaign manager at a meeting of Kona candidates at headquarters yesterday afternoon.

Thirty-two Democrats were present and Miles was the unanimous choice. After the meeting it was given out that nothing but harmony prevailed and that all factions were ignored. J. J. Fern, Lester Petrie and M. C. Pacheco were named as a campaign committee to work with Miles.

The new manager warned the candidates and the Democrats in general against raising the race issue, as it is stated the Kuhio supporters are doing in the Republican campaign. Miles declared that if the race issue was raised in the Democratic party he would quit the managership. He urged each candidate to work and solicit votes for themselves individually without knocking others.

LOCAL SONG IS BIG HIT WITH BOSTONIANS

The Juvenile Bostonians last night, in opening the closing bill of their engagement at the Bijou theater further demonstrated their versatility by suddenly appearing as a vaudeville aggregation which would be grabbed up in a twinkling by the Orpheum management as their feature road show.

These youthful entertainers, as an appreciation of the courtesies which have been extended to them during the engagement now drawing to a close, got together with "Muzz" Lang and among themselves arranged a potpourri of music, songs, dances and flashing wit which includes all the choice bits of every big success which the company has scored here.

In addition there are several reproductions of big successes now reigning in New York. It is easily the most entertaining bill which the little players have put on since they have been in Honolulu. There is no plot, no order of things, but just a pleasing kaleidoscopic night of rare entertainment.

In the melange "The Golden Slipper," "The Million Dollar Girl," "The Princess Chic," "My Tango Maid" and other successes are drawn on, but "Muzz" Lang has allowed the little people to exercise their originality and individuality to the utmost and the result is that the clever youngsters are seen along lines in many instances in which they have never before been seen in Honolulu.

Every member of the company is given opportunity to display her talent and each has selected some peculiarly pleasing stunt. One of the big hits last night was the singing by Thom Hellen of "Bye Lo Bye," a dreamy lullaby song composed by Carlos M. Caceres and C. D. Wright, both of Honolulu.

Another big feature was the graceful staircase waltz danced by Alico O'Neill and Little Clark and then buskined by Stubby Myling and Halcyon Clark.

"Through Fire to Fortune," the superior feature picture being shown this week at Ye Liberty theater, has created much wonderment and discussion as to the cost of producing a moving picture reel. In "Through Fire to Fortune," which is also known as "The Sunken Village," you see brick buildings suddenly crumple and fall to earth a mass of wreckage. A church steeple topples over and the building sinks into the ground out of sight. Fire destroys other structures as well as the great coal mine around which the town is built and all of which is seen wiped out. It is a liberal education for the masses, for only few comparatively have been privileged to witness the havoc wrought by a big coal mine disaster.

To produce all this realistic effect $25,000 was expended before a picture was ever thrown on the screen. In addition to the educational feature, a powerful human interest story is told of love, hate and intrigue, with the happy ending of right triumphing. The next bill at Ye Liberty will be a production of Charles Klein's powerful story, "The Lion and the Mouse."

NEW STAR WILL APPEAR BEFORE HONOLULANS

A new star to Honoluluans in the theatrical firmament who but recently has appeared before patrons of the Empire Theater has created a decidedly favorable impression through his interpretation of some of the most intricate parts of well presented dramas and laughable comedies.

Whether in a screaming farce or taking the difficult role in a problem playlet, Robert Brower has become an instant favorite with the local devotees of the movies. "Getting a Patient," is a comedy that is destined to leave a good impression. This film is rated as one of the best in the extended repertoire of a prominent mainland producing company. This picture will be offered today.

One of the finest productions to reach this city for presentation on the silent stage in many weeks will be the feature film entitled, "The Price of Victory," in which players of high merit are given opportunity of developing a stirring plot. The picture has to do with the war of rebellion. "His Last Fight," is dramatic in its depicting the troubles of a reformed pugilist, but who is drawn into a fist argument because of his defense of an unprotected woman. The program will close with a comedy "The Usual Way."

Charles F. (Daredevil) Niles, the aviator, startled Coney Island crowds by dropping a dummy from his airplane. Thousands rushed to the beach thinking a man had been killed.

TEMPERANCE STORY FOLLOWS MARY PICKFORD

LAST SALE EVERY GOODS. So

"Blair's Greater Photo Plays" exhibited exclusively at the Popular Theater continue to prove the stellar photo play attraction of Honolulu and are rapidly building up a patronage that is exclusive and discerning. "Caprice," the present offering, has proved one of the most popular of the many popular films Mr. Blair has exhibited since taking up his residence in this city. Mary Pickford, the star of "Caprice," already had established herself as a prime local favorite. This week she is becoming more closely endeared to the Honolulu public. Her ability in "Caprice" is given ample demonstration. A sweet little story is unfolded in the action of the film, well sprinkled with a line of comedy that belongs exclusively to Mary Pickford.

Of all the motion picture actresses it is probable that this charming little comedienne has more imitators than the rest combined. However, none is equal to the original. She possesses a style, in comedy and in the serious, that is inimitable. The fact that so many endeavor to imitate her should be sufficient guarantee of her sterling worth and ability.

"Caprice" will be the offering to-night and Monday and Tuesday nights to be followed at the matinee Wednesday by "Ten Nights in a Bar-room." This is a play that was witnessed by the fathers and grandfathers of many of the present day theatergoers. Its lesson has been told for several decades but today it is teaching that lesson just as strongly as upon its first presentation. "The curse of rum" is told in this offering in splendid style—provided the word splendid may be applied to such a story.

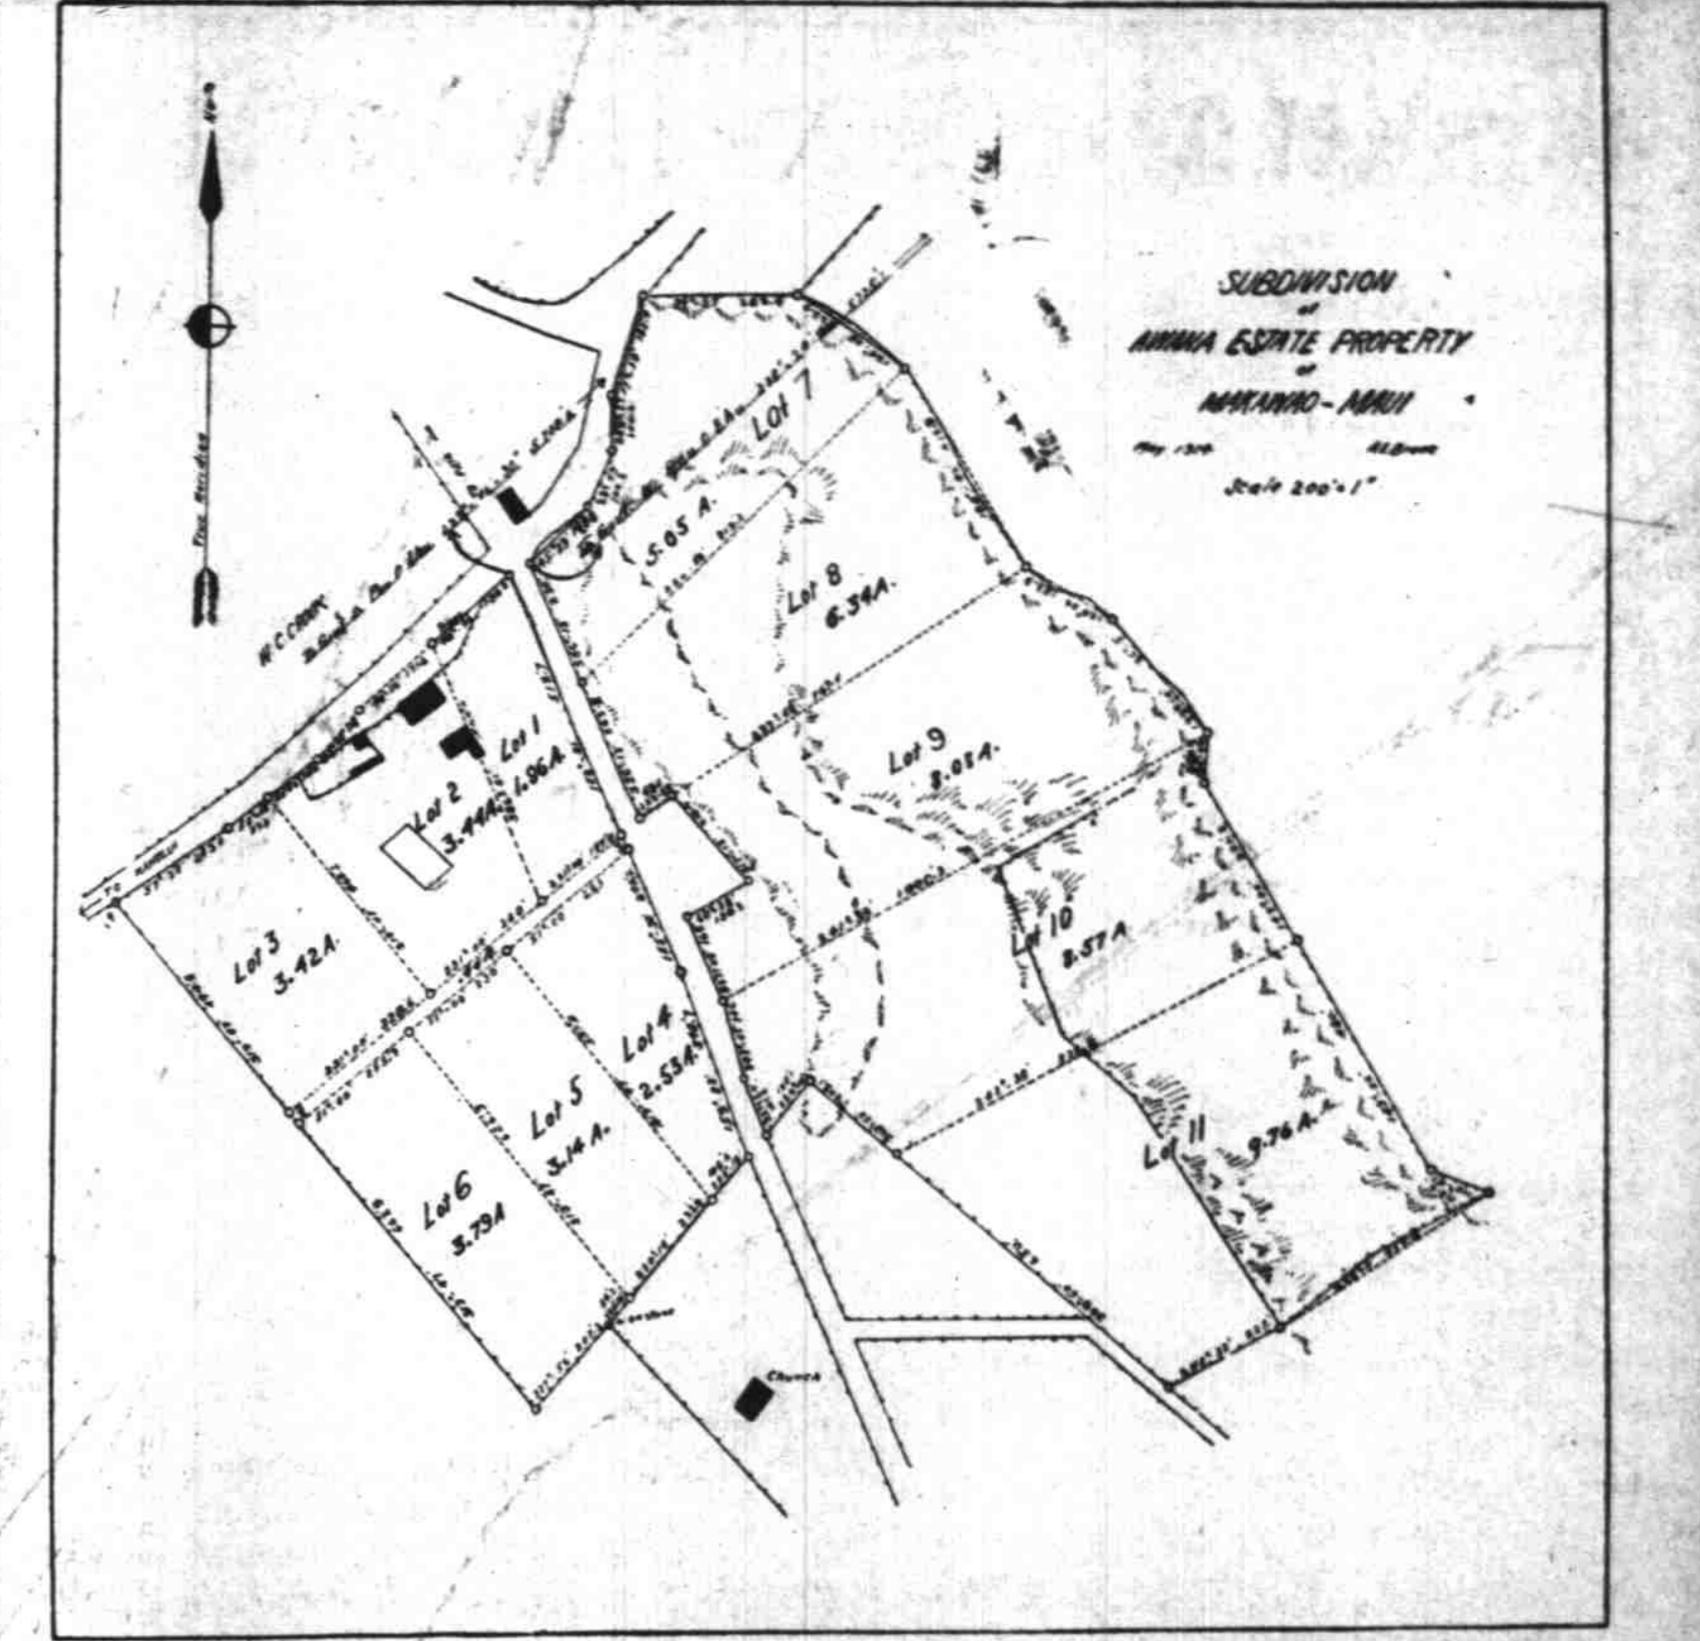

According to one of the ablest eastern critics "This picture is worth a million temperance lectures, not because of its moral lesson only but also because of its strongly acted scenes and beautiful heart interest which will make it welcome to every eye and to every mind." A strong play that has something to teach. A play that has the unqualified endorsement of the pulpit and the press. The play that the liquor interests are keeping out of California today.

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 11.—A German was arrested near the cavalry barracks in London on suspicion of tampering with the horses. It was said in the police court that the man was seen to stroke several horses which immediately afterward were taken sick. A joint meeting of the Polish societies in London decided today to form a Polish legion for active service in the event of a German invasion of the British Isles. Their action was taken because of the friendly asylum afforded Polish political refugees in England.

JUDGE ASHFORD NOT WILLING TO SHIFT M'CARN JURISDICTION

Circuit Judge C. W. Ashford yesterday denied the motion of City and County Attorney Cathcart to transfer the case against Jeff McCarn to the court of either Judge Robinson or Judge Whitney. This case, wherein the United States district attorney was indicted by the territorial grand jury for assault and battery with a deadly weapon upon Claudius H. McC Bride, properly comes in Judge Ash-ford's division, which is the criminal division of the first circuit court, but as Judge Ashford was one of counsel for defense in the affair he probably would be disqualified to preside if the case ever comes to trial. Judge Ashford declined to give the case consideration for the present.

JORDAN'S

SUGAR-COATED STREETS SOON WILL BE BOAST OF HONOLULU

Two black ants, of the common household variety, stood sunning themselves at the intersection of King street and Kalakaua avenue this morning. A lizard, scuttling through the stubby grass along the curb, stopped for a moment to chat with the pair. In a few moments the group had been increased by the arrival of a mouse and centipede with brilliant bronze armor.

"It appears that we have met here for some purpose," croaked the lizard. "Might I ask where you all are going?"

"To the luanu," came the answer in chorus. "Haven't you heard?" the first black ant added. "The huge and toothsome luanu which has been provided for us wee folk by the city and county of Honolulu?"

"A luanu for us? Impossible!" snorted the lizard, as he snapped up a fly from the end of a blade of grass.

"It's true," went on the first black ant. "On Kalakaua avenue, starting from where the streetcar track turns from the marshes into the road, they are coating the avenue with molasses; gallon after gallon of sweet, beautiful molasses is being spilled into the dirt. News travels fast among us and, no doubt, by this time the place is swarming with our friends of the field and air. It's good hunting."

"Molasses? Real molasses?" eagerly questioned the lizard, as he licked his chops.

"It's molasses, all right," ventured the centipede.

"What a horrible waste," the lizard said. "I see by the newspapers that sugar is up to 6.02; how can they afford to coat that road with molasses?"

"Politics, my boy, politics," squeaked the mouse.

"But why the molasses?" "Shortage of oil, I guess. However, Joe Fern needs the votes and many men need work this time of the year."

"I've lived many years and been from one end of this town to the other, and it's the first time I ever heard of them using molasses to improve a street," said the centipede. "I guess Honolulu has the honor of having the only sugar-coated road in the world. It would be quite an advertising stunt, wouldn't it? Imagine a notice like this: 'Come to Honolulu, the land of waving cane, and ride in your automobile over the only sugar-coated road in the world.'"

"If they don't look out, the traffic will tear that road up into wheat cakes," the first black ant remarked. "All the flies in Honolulu will be out there by this afternoon," put in the mouse. The conversation ceased as a city

CHINESE NEWSPAPER SAYS DR. SUN LEADER IN NEW REVOLUTION

Honolulu Chinese who are in sympathy with the policies of the revolutionary leaders in the new republic, are following with intense interest at this time reports published in the Liberty News, a local Chinese newspaper, to the effect that the long-expected revolt in China has commenced and that already three provinces in the south have been the scenes of numerous engagements.

This information is said by the Liberty News to have been received direct from the headquarters of Dr. Sun Yat Sen in Tokio, Japan. The published cablegrams say that the revolt commenced with an uprising in the province of Yunnan August 15, at which time the governor, Tong Ki-yu was seized and executed. Further, it is stated that the rebels have seized a large quantity of arms and ammunition and that a general revolution now is in the making.

and county wagon rumbled by, Wiakihound.

"We'd better be getting out there if we want to get our share of that luanu," spoke up the centipede. "As soon as they spread on the molasses they cover it with sand, and sand, I've heard, is only of some use when used by clog-dancers."

The two ants climbed on to the mouse's back, the centipede tarried a moment to sharpen his teeth on the stone-curbing, and then the trio moved on toward the spilled molasses--the sugar-coated avenue.

'CUT OUT THE TALK; LET'S GET IN AND DO SOMETHING,' HE SAYS

"Officer" Suggests Plan for Improving Conditions--Urges General Cooperation

Publication in the Star-Bulletin yesterday of two communications from enlisted men relating to the improvement of conditions on Oahu for the soldiers has brought two more communications, also valuable because they are devoted to definite suggestions. The first, from an officer at Schofield Barracks, H. T., Aug. 23, Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Sir--From the matter contained in the columns of your paper it would appear that there is a desire on the part of Honolulu to do something for the enlisted men of the United States military forces on this island.

It is not about time to stop talking about it and begin to do a little action.

I suggest the following: Induce your Chamber of Commerce or its equivalent to appoint a committee to wait on General Carter and ask for a committee representing each regiment, Coast Artillery, Marine Corps, etc., to meet them and decide what is necessary. These military representatives to be selected by their respective organizations and instructed by the said organizations as to what the enlisted men want and need.

After these committees have settled upon a policy, let everybody, civilian and military, pull for everything contained in that policy. We may not get half what we want, but pull anyway.

It does not take one with half an eye to see that we need a cheaper rate to town from Schofield Barracks. One cent per mile is a plenty to charge. Of course the railroad will say they cannot do it, but maybe they can be shown. There are more ways to kill a cat than by hanging it. Another thing, try to induce the street railway system to make transfers good at any time, in any direction (other than the direction from which the passenger came). Get busy at once on that amusement pavilion. Cut out the Y. M. C. A. talk and build a place for the purpose. Keep hammering at the civilian clothes proposition. Get busy! AN OFFICER.

The second is from a business man who discusses the possibilities of an electric railway line to Lelaehua. He writes: Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin:

Sir--A casual investigation of the possibilities in the suggestion of "booster" in yesterday's Star-Bulletin that an electric railway from Schofield Barracks to Honolulu would be a good investment, seems to indicate he is correct. The line could start at Wahiawa, thence to Schofield Barracks and pass through Waipahu, Pearl City, Honolulu plantation and Fort Shafter, and spurs could be run from Ewa plantation and Pearl Harbor naval station to connect with the main line. The combined population of all the places named is not far from 20,000, with promise of many more people at Schofield Barracks and Pearl Harbor in the near future. Such a promising field would not remain unoccupied long in any of the states. In the discussion now going on as to how to make our soldier boys more contented, it seems to me this matter of frequent and cheap transportation to Honolulu can well be considered. And then there are the tourists, who we all want to please and keep happy while with us, not to speak of the pleasure and satisfaction of our own home people in being able to get out into the higher altitudes occasionally for a little fresh air and change of scenery.

ELECTRIC. The letter is accompanied by a sketch of the proposed line and spurs.

GRAND JURY EXPECTED FURTHER TO PROBE WAIKIKI INN MATTER

Responding to the call of its foreman, the territorial grand jury held a two-hour session in Circuit Judge William L. Whitney's courtroom yesterday afternoon, adjourning until 1:30 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon. It is believed the inquisitors began work on the Waikiki Inn investigation, which Judge Ashford, in his recent charge to the grand jury, suggested be renewed. One of the features of this matter which likely will receive close attention is the report that certain witnesses wanted by the liquor license commission, in its investigation of the Waikiki Inn, were carefully kept from attendance by interested persons, one an officer of the law.

Sometimes ago we received from a mainland trust company an exceedingly attractive postal card containing on one side a colored cut of a large safe deposit vault.

As we had made plans for one quarter in an entirely new building just nearing completion and had installed a large new safe deposit vault, similar to the one shown in the cut just above mentioned, it occurred to us this was an excellent form of advertising and assuming that we could only have such work done on the Mainland, we were about to drop the matter when someone informed us that you did this class of work.

An order was placed with you, which has just been filled, and we wish to extend to you our hearty congratulations on the excellent results.

In our opinion you have surpassed the work done on the cut which we received from this Mainland Trust Co. and it is a pleasure to know that we have a printing establishment here in Honolulu, namely, your own, which in a special class of colored printing, such as this, can equal, if not excel, the best printing firms on the Mainland.

Yours very truly,

VALUE OF CLEAN CAMPAIGN SHOWN SAYS G. R. CARTER

Progressives Have Sought to Enlighten Voter. He Maintains—Home from Tour

George R. Carter, Progressive candidate for delegate to Congress, returned this morning on the Mauna Kea and makes the following statement.

"My opinion based on observation, is that Mr. Rice's campaign on the other islands is ineffective. It is perhaps too hurried. The methods used may do for Kauai, but they have not made any great impression on the islands that I have visited. Both Mr. Rice and his supporters are handicapped in that the voters are going through their first experience in a primary election and they are campaigning as if in a final election. Unless greatly mistaken, I think they will find out that the old-fashioned methods are useless and the voters among the Hawaiian voters are no longer influenced by luau—they are too intelligent—nor is the average voter swayed by extravagant claims of political strength that cannot be substantiated.

"Kuhio and his supporters, on the other hand, have inculcated the idea that the young Kauai candidate is too ambitious, that his record as a Republican is not as good as he claims, and they have led the natives in some instances at least to believe that the ordinary functions of the federal government are entirely due to Kuhio's efforts. For instance, that all of the lighthouses built on these islands are entirely due to his personal influence.

"Naturally, we Progressives believe that the primary vote on September 12 will show the value of a clean campaign without one dollar spent for food, liquor or for any man's services; simply a sincere, earnest appeal to the better side of the voter. We have sought to enlighten the voter by giving him food for thought, and our political opponents admit that we have set a new standard for political meetings and our appeal has a ring of sincerity in it, the strength of firm conviction.

He has toured Molokai, Maui and Hawaii since leaving here.

MANY POLITICAL MEETINGS HELD 'SPITE OF RAIN

Rice, Kuhio and Woods Address Voters—Delegate Defends Absence from Capital

Political meetings galore were held last night all over the city. Republican meetings, Democratic meetings, a Kuhio meeting and two Rice meetings, as well as several little meetings that "just grewed" gave the voters plenty of material to think over.

Republican meetings were held at School and Liliha streets, for county candidates primarily, but a number of others came later in the evening and addressed a fair crowd of voters.

At Moiliili, legislative candidates were given first call, followed by county candidates.

In this section of the city, according to voters who volunteered the information last night, Senator Rice's prospects for the delegateship are getting better and better. The same informants also say that Fern for mayor and Pacheco for supervisor seem to have a good deal of support in spite of the fact that the precinct is not expected to go anything but Republican generally.

Two Rice mass meetings were held last night, one in the eighth and one in the twelfth precinct of the Fourth district. Kevin's theater, Lustania street, held a large crowd and Rice was very well received. At the Emma Square meeting, in the heart of the "fighting eighth," Rice was again well received, the crowd being considered one of the largest of the campaign.

The weather was threatening all over the city and early in the evening both the Rice meetings, as well as all other political gatherings, were on the point of being called off, but the crowds came out to hear Rice just the same and so the meetings were proceeded with.

Kuhio's meeting at Kakaako, Kumalae block, drew one of the largest crowds that has yet appeared at a political meeting and one that applauded the prince frequently when he attacked the sugar planters and defended his absence from Washington. A large part of his speech was devoted to a defense of his long-continued absence from his post of duty. He declared that even if he were in Washington he could get no Hawaiian legislation through. He attacked the efforts of businessmen from Hawaii in their fight against the removal of the tariff on sugar and said that he is now assailed by the planters because the tariff bill passed.

Robert W. Breckons appeared as one of the speakers and attempted to show that the Star-Bulletin is drawing the race-line in its indorsement of various candidates for office. He did not explain away the fact that this paper is also urging the election of a number of Hawaiian candidates. And he did not go into the question of the ability and efficiency of the various candidates who are before the people.

E. W. Quinn, candidate for the senate, was one of the speakers. When asked who he would support for delegate, he said that he would support Kuhio and asked that the same question be put to other candidates. Earlier in the week this question was asked Quinn and that time he did not give a decisive answer, stating that he had not yet made up his mind.

Some of the Republican candidates this morning stated that Quinn had aroused much resentment by telling the voters they ought to ask all candidates whom they are going to support for delegate. It is claimed that Quinn has encouraged the bringing of the delegate issue into the municipal campaign and has thus placed every other candidate under a disadvantage. The crowd that heard Kuhio last night is estimated at 300 voters.

At the Royal school last evening a good sized crowd heard Democratic speakers, headed by Palmer P. Woods, candidate for delegate to Congress, candidate for delegate to Congress, Woods' main argument was based on the need for a hard sugar and intelligent fight against free sugar and he declared that as there is a Democratic president in the White House, a Democratic delegate should be sent to Congress.

The other Democratic meeting last night was at Kalulani School, Palama. Most of the Democratic candidates were present at either one or another meeting.

LAYING PLANS FOR INVASION OF MAUI AT CIVIC CONVENTION

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is busy today getting out correspondence to Maui with a view to obtaining additional information regarding the Civic Convention to be held at Wailuku in October. A letter will be sent to E. R. Bevins, director of the convention, inquiring whether there will be accommodations at Wailuku for more than 175 persons, the accredited number of delegates from all islands, and also whether the wives of the delegates will be permitted to attend the convention and if arrangements are to be made for them.

All these questions were discussed at a meeting yesterday afternoon of the members of the joint committee on delegates from Oahu. It was reported that but little data thus far has been secured regarding the number of persons who will attend the convention as delegates from the Chamber of Commerce, the Commercial Club, Ad Club, Promotion Committee and Board of Supervisors. The committee, however, has decided to charter the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Loa, which will accommodate about 200 persons on deck and in the staterooms. This steamer will leave Honolulu on the evening of October 2,

UP-TO-DATE FIRE-FIGHTING SHOWS CITY NEEDS MOTOR APPARATUS

J. Hastings Howland, Well-Known Here, Now Official of National Underwriters

Fire Chief Thurston, in his recommendations that additional motor apparatus is needed for the Honolulu department, has the backing of the latest fire-fighting policy as developed by men with national reputations.

Incidentally, it will be of interest to Honoluluans to know that J. Hastings Howland, formerly assistant superintendent of public works here and well known throughout the territory as an engineer, is now chief of the field party of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. In a recent address in Reading, Pa., on fire prevention and fire fighting, Mr. Howland said:

"Fire Prevention and Fire Protection" is the subject in which the people in this country of ours are rapidly becoming intensely interested, one which is awakening in us a sense of shame and horror at this enormous fire waste, which is proving to be such a drain upon our resources and which is undoubtedly showing itself in the increased cost of living.

Must Remove Latent Causes.

"We can no longer be satisfied with the spectacular dash of fire apparatus and the hazardous feats of firemen, but demand the scene of the fire shall be visited by the careful inspector and the latent cause of the conflagration removed before it starts.

"In the work of fire prevention members of the fire departments in many of our cities are now getting splendid results. Trained firemen are quick to detect fire hazards and become generally familiar with local conditions. With proper police powers to make necessary inspections and enforce their recommendations, they are able to bring about wonderfully improved conditions.

Prevention Committee Needed.

"There should be municipal fire prevention committees composed of influential business men. Their duty should be to create strong public sentiment in favor of good building construction and ordinances governing the cleaning up of rubbish, the use of safety matches, reasonable care with the handling of explosives and inflammables and with heating arrangements, etc.

We Build Too Rapidly.

"As to the matter of a building code and its important and building construction is the very basis of fire prevention. We in the United States have built too rapidly—so many cities constructed over night—that we have heretofore neglected to build for the future. All citizens, individually and in corporate capacities, must recognize the present as well as the future economy of more stable construction.

"There has been a momentous start on the part of our progressive cities to adopt a building code requiring the use of better building materials and demanding suitable construction for fire resistance, especially in closely built and high value districts.

"The destiny of fire insurance is to become prevention. We are told that in Vienna a fire has never been known to red beyond the building in which it originated, and this in spite of the fact that the fire departments of European cities are far less efficient than those of this country.

"For good fire protection it is most essential that a city have a well disciplined, efficient and well equipped fire department and a good system of water supply, adequate at all times for fighting large fires.

Discipline and Training.

"Let us now consider what are the essential features that go to make up a well disciplined, efficient and well equipped fire department.

"Discipline and training in a fire department is paramount to everything else. Without these, no amount of apparatus or equipment can produce a high grade of efficiency.

"As is found in many cities, a satisfactory method of supervision is to place a fire department under the jurisdiction of a commissioner of public safety.

Weed Out the Unfit.

"That a commissioner is not a professional fireman and the details of management properly should be left with the chief. These details include assignments, transfers of men, arrangement of running cards, etc. When it comes to appointments, civil service regulations are needful, proper physical and mental examinations weed out the unfit and leave men that

ONE OF HONOLULU'S BEAUTY SPOTS?

"Clean Up the City" Is Slogan That Has Failed to Reach Property Owners Here

It is the intention of every right-minded resident of the territory of Hawaii to create conditions favorable to the growing and harvesting of a mighty crop of tourists during next year; the year when they cannot go to Europe. But like getting ready for any big event there is a whole lot to do along the line of getting the house in perfect order.

"Clean up the city." has been the cry in Honolulu for years and years, and it is just as much in demand and as little heeded as it ever was. There

Are such scenes as this liable to give the tourist a good impression of this fair city and boost for further tourist travel to Hawaii? This is one of the first vicinities of Honolulu afforded the visitor from the mainland.

FIGHT ON BOVINE TUBERCULOSIS TO BE EXTENDED

Territory or Counties Must Provide Funds—Honolulu's Dirty Milk

Extension of the campaign against bovine tuberculosis on the other islands is the leading topic of the report of the division of animal industry for July. Dr. Norgaard says:

"With the exception of Kauai, where the disease undoubtedly gained an early foothold with imported breeding stock, it is not expected that any such percentages of diseased animals will be met with as were encountered here at the beginning of the work. But unless supported financially by either the territorial or the respective local authorities the deputies cannot undertake a systematic eradication campaign such as was done here, but must apply themselves to it as opportunity and other duties will permit."

"As will be seen by the appended report covering the laboratory work done during the month of July, the hygienic condition of the local dairy stables has not improved at the same rate a sane sanitary condition of the dairy animals. With practically all diseased animals eliminated from the herds the bacterial count has in many cases increased instead of decreased, so what has been gained by removing the actual infectious disease germs from the market milk is frequently offset by the presence of disease producing germs by the million."

"The territorial veterinarian promises a full report later on the subject of impure milk supplied to Honolulu homes from filthy dairies. For the remainder his report deals with the introduction of non-declared dogs on naval vessels, and the appearance of cerebro spinal meningitis among horses and mules on Maui."

FRUIT FLY FOES ARE MULTIPLYING IN THE ISLANDS

Many pests were intercepted by the division of entomology in July, according to the report of Superintendent E. M. Ehrhorn. They included flea beetles on an azalea plant from Japan, crawling insects on camellia plants from the same country, some being caterpillars, and bean weevil. Prohibited goods destroyed comprised four packages of soil from Manila sent here for analysis, 29 packages of fruit and vegetables found in the baggage of travelers from foreign countries, four packages of plants and seeds arriving by mail from foreign countries and four boxes of Mexican limes. Thirteen lots and 36 parcels were fumigated, 33 lots and 33 parcels burned and four lots and four parcels returned, out of 1066 lots and 20,663 parcels arriving in 20 vessels carrying vegetable matter. Rice importations consisting of 22,569 bags from Japan and 29 mats from China, together with 2434 bags of beans from Japan, were all free of pests.

Parasites of the Japanese rose beetle and another species of beneficial insect received from Mr. Muir, traveling in the Orient in quest of such things, did not survive the journey. Six lots of Japanese beetle fungus were distributed. Out of nine tin tubes of dungly material sent by Dr. Silvestri from Italy only three arrived with the beetles alive—14 in all, which were liberated to do their work.

During the month 7875 parasites, of which 2475 opus, humilis for the fruit fly and 2000 for the hornfly were distributed on Oahu and the other islands, and the remainder, being enemies of the meion fly, liberated in vegetable gardens. Success has followed the liberation of the opus last year, specimens having now been gathered from fruits on Oahu and coffee in Kona, and the division has reared 90 from 100 pupae. These are the parasites obtained in Africa by Dr. Silvestri.

There was nothing wrong discovered in shipments arriving at Hilo, including 215 lots and 2443 packages, besides 5833 bags of rice and 195 bags of beans from Japan. Inter-island steamer inspection resulted in the passing of 836 packages and the refusal of 29 packages.

PARIS, France, Aug. 11.—Martial law is being more rigidly enforced in this city daily. The authorities are particularly anxious to prevent the escape of important news and frequently take the precaution of tapping telephone wires, calls on which can only be made in French.

It is explained that this insistence upon the use of a language familiar to the police has been made necessary by the fact that suspected Germans were in the habit of telephoning in English.

The restriction, however, is decidedly irksome to many English and Americans whose knowledge of French is limited. The American ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, was cut off today when he attempted to converse with friends. The diplomat was more amused than annoyed.

Postal money order service with Austria was suspended by the postoffice department.

are many places in this city that prevent it being truthfully referred to as a beautiful city, for no city can be beautiful that tolerates in its midst spots that for untidiness are certainly the limit.

Honolulu had 7532 tourist visitors during 1913, and it is the intention to have twice or thrice that number during the big fair year. Honolulu can take care of them and will take care of them and see to it that they all go away satisfied that they have each and all received more than their money's worth of entertainment.

But they must be kept from seeing such sights as are shown in the accompanying photos. The street is one of the main thoroughfares of the city of Honolulu, leading to the waterfront and but a few hundred feet from Alakea wharf and less than that distance from the Oceanic wharf where the expected 20,000 tourists are to land.

The pictures herewith were taken within the week. The street is Kekua, between Halekauwila and Allen streets, and runs parallel and the next street to Fort street.

A few of the different articles that clutter the street are: Thousands of feet of water pipe, an abandoned automobile frame, 75 barrels of tar, old packing cases, a number of portable concrete mixers (some on wheels and some dumped and abandoned), old discarded machinery, old smokestacks, 18 barrels of supposedly oil, discarded winches, stumps of dead royal palm trees, stable room for a horse, old bricks by the thousands, rotten plies and refuse from the planing mill nearby.

Inquiry leads to the idea that this street has been acting as a storage yard for private citizens. The majority of the trash has been there for years.

While this is one of the worst spots in the city, it is by no means the only one that Honolulu should have no desire to parade before her tourist visitors. Going a little further, it is necessary for even Honolulu's resi-

TRAIL AND MOUNTAIN MEMBERS IN DIFFICULT CLIMB TO SCHOFIELD

Alexander Hume Ford Tells of Trip Which He Believes Establishes Record

The Trail and Mountain club has demonstrated that it is possible to cross from Waianae over the top of Kaala to Schofield Barracks. Alexander Hume Ford, Joseph Stickney, Capt. Sherer of the Fourth Cavalry, Capt. Ellerbrock and two troopers from the Fourth Cavalry succeeded in making the trip last Sunday. It is believed that this is the first party that has ever crossed by way of Kaala from Waianae to Leliehua. Speaking of the trip Mr. Ford said:

"Immediately on my return to Hawaii, I took up with Captain Sherer the possibility of the cooperation of the army with the Trail and Mountain club, as many of the army men are great hikers, privates getting off on leave in small companies and spending their leave camping in the hills; so Friday afternoon Joe and I sprang on our trusty bikes and wheeled out to Leliehua to talk the matter over further with Captain Sherer. We had in our heads a plan to ride on horseback around to Mokuia and discover, if possible, a horseback trail to the summit of Kaala, for we knew from past experience that horses could ascend to an altitude of 2500 feet on the Mokuia trail to Kaala, but Captain Sherer had a better plan. He was just preparing for a Saturday picnic at Waianae, from which the picnicers would be sent back and we would attempt the ascent of Kaala on foot from the Waianae side, then make a desperate endeavor to cross the Kaala swamp and find the trail down to Leliehua. Others had tried this, but so far as we could gather, no one had succeeded and we wished to be the first; so bright and early Saturday morning the cavalcade started out over Kuli Kuli pass and we rode down to the Waianae plains, and here we held our picnic and sent the women and children back while, with several troopers and the horses, we rode on to Makaha, which is the valley just beyond Waianae. Ascents had been made within the past few years from the little rest house far up Waianae valley but from all we could gather it was twelve years since anyone had ascended from Makaha and the man who had made the last ascent, Capt. Ellerbrock, met us at the Makaha station, having come out from Honolulu to pilot Capt. Sherer and show us the way.

"I wonder how many people in Honolulu realize that Makaha valley is in many respects one of the most interesting valleys in the islands? Pass it on the train and it seems a barren waste, yet here are the remains of a once magnificent coffee plantation, that at the present price for the berry it cared for, should make a rich return to the investors. We rode up the valley and found that new came ground is being broken, and then we entered the coffee plantation through which we rode for miles and this coffee, it is said, is the finest that is grown in Hawaii. Almost in the midst of this coffee area, 14,000 feet above and seven miles from sea, we came upon the cut-houses and remains of the little settlement of the now dismantled coffee mill, and what was our surprise to find three different sets of campers, making use of these splendid rest houses. Fred Ziebler, one of the charter members of the Trail and Mountain club, was there with his party.

"There was a little band of school teachers and there were half a dozen troopers off on leaves of absence—and this was how they were spending their vacation. Verily, the Trail and Mountain club can greatly assist in making Oahu interesting to the enlisted man, for I noticed that most of them preferred the rest houses to the tents; and how happy Capt. Ellerbrock was to be back on the coffee plantation that 12 years ago he had managed. The alligator pear trees that he had planted then were magnificent forest trees now, bearing an abundant crop of delicious salad fruit. The lemon groves, although uncared for, also yielded their fruit.

"We selected our rest house and, after a hearty meal, slept till morning, and were up with the first of the troopers who were off on the hills to get the young kids that supplied the meat for the camp.

"Again we passed up through the old coffee plantation, which is now a thicket. Up and up we ascended, but still coffee, but Captain Ellerbrock promised us an acre of black raspberries that he had planted years before. We struck the patch, but they weren't on our trusty bikes—instead they bore the largest and most delicious blackberries that any of us had ever tasted, and the "acre" had become more than a mile of blackberry briar, as high as your head, through which we had to cut our way. There is an alleged wagon road up to this patch, and there is good money for someone who will undertake to gather and market its now ripening fruit in Honolulu.

"After we left the blackberry patch the real steep ascent began, but soon we were on the ridge between Waianae and Makaha and trudged along on the hog-back. There is really nothing difficult on this trail, save that for a distance of perhaps half a mile, here and there, you meet rocks a yard or two wide that stand alone, seemingly balanced on the hog-back, and you have to look for roots or anything else to which to cling and hold yourself up by. If the roots gave way and you happened to slip and fall, there is a drop of a few hundred feet. It is not a ladies' trail, but for any man with a clear head, it is an almost easy trail; but, oh! the steepness of that last reach. It reminded me of Peilukua on the island of Molokai, where you climbed hand over hand holding on to trees that grew at right angles from the precipice that is almost a mile high.

"At last we reached the top, and then we turned and told Capt. Ellerbrock what a good man he was. He said that was all right, but that every one else who had tried to cross from where we stood to the Leliehua side had given it up to come back and declare it was impossible, although parties had traveled from Leliehua to Mokuia. However, it was but 9:30 and we had made the ascent in about 3 1/2 hours, and Captain Sherer stated that we had about eight hours of daylight and that we would make it; so getting out his compass, we started. It is needless to say that a fog had settled down. It always does on Kaala, and there was no looking for landmarks. We just let our two troopers, Sergeants Yates and Serstead go ahead with their poles and we followed, sometimes walking on the tops of trees, sometimes wading in soggy moss and mud up to our knees, and sometimes on all-fours, but we kept due east—then we held a council of war, for in the fog, which now and then raised, we knew we were lost. By vote we turned to the right and did some foolish things. We went over one gully and then started to go down over a series of waterfalls to—our senses in time and clambered back to the summit for there, far off in the distance, was the great long ridge that we believed led down to Leliehua, and suddenly the fog raised, and there at our feet lay Schofield Barracks. The six of us gave a shout, and then we had

M PIRACY along the inland waters of south China has practically ceased with the breaking out of war between European nations. The active operation of the British in patrolling the coast of Asia has had a salutary effect. Judging from the report brought to this city by officers in transpacific liners, it had been planned to place a gunboat in service, this vessel to take up a relentless war against piracy.

N THE idea was conceived by Chinese merchants in Hongkong who are natives of the Heungshan district, at the head of whom is Chan King-yue, the comrade to Messrs. Douglas, Larrak & Company. The boat, which will be of the type of the ordinary steam launch, is to be built in Hongkong at a cost of some $20,000, and is to be handed over to the authorities at Heungshan on the strict understanding that it is used solely to operate in that region more especially protecting the native traffic from Heungshan to Meaco and Hongkong. The authorities have agreed to this stipulation, and have promised to arm the craft with quick-firing guns and to also supply the crew. The work of building the craft is to be put in hand almost immediately.

RECIPES TRIED AND FOUND VERY SUCCESSFUL BY WOMEN OF HONOLULU

By MRS. W. A. BRYAN. BARBECUE OF FISIL.

Marinate one pound of any cold boiled white fish in one tablespoon of oil, one tablespoon vinegar, one slice of onion, salt and pepper. Have the fish in as large pieces as possible. Put in steaming dish or frying pan three tablespoons tomato catsup, three tablespoons sherry wine, three tablespoons butter. Put the butter in first, when melted add the catsup and wine and then the fish. Baste the fish with the liquor until it is thoroughly heated. It is then ready to serve. Thin slices of cold beef, veal or lamb may be used the same way.

STEWED PRUNES-FILIPPINI.

One pound prunes, half pint cold water, half pint claret, half stick cinnamon, four ounces granulated sugar, two bay leaves, rind of one lemon. Place the prunes in a vessel with two quarts of cold water to soak for 12 hours. Drain and place in a saucepan with all the above. Cover the pan and let boil gently on the range for 30 minutes. Remove the pan from the fire, pour into glass or stone jars.

BANANA TARTS.

Take ripe bananas, boil and allow to cool, sweeten and spice to taste, place on thin pastry, fold and bake.

GINGER CAKE.

One egg well beaten, half cup molasses, half cup brown sugar, half cup butter and lard, half cup cold tea, one tea spoon ginger, one-quarter teaspoon salt, two cups flour, one tea spoon soda.

BROWN BREAD.

Two cups graham flour, one cup white flour, one cup corn meal, one cup molasses and brown sugar, two cups milk, four level teaspoons baking powder, one scant teaspoon salt, one cup raisins, butter size of an egg. Fill tins two-thirds full, steam three hours.

JOHNNY CAKE.

Three-quarters cup corn meal, one-quarter cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder, butter size of walnut, one tablespoon sugar, milk to thin. If sour milk is used one-quarter teaspoon soda.

PRUNE SAUCE.

(For pot roasts.) Place one cup prunes in the pot with pot roast, 15 minutes before serving remove the prunes, cover them with a thick syrup made of two cups brown sugar and one cup of vinegar boiled down to three-quarters cup; add several cloves and stick of cinnamon which should be strained out as the syrup is poured over the prunes.

EFFICIENCY IN THE HOUSEWORK

Of all the housekeepers I have ever known, writes Bertha E. Streeter in the Pictorial Review, I could count on one hand the number whose work showed evidence of thought to save steps. Most of my acquaintances are like the woman I see several times each day coming from her kitchen clear out to the curb to deposit there a bit of refuse in the garbage box. In contrast to her is the woman next door who brings out her covered can once a day.

Of the two women, the latter is undoubtedly the happier and most successful. It is anything but laziness that prompts her to save the bags from the grocery to put scraps in, and to deposit them in the can only when she has to go to the back porch for something else. It is just plain common sense.

There should be duplicate necessities in ever house. A broom and dust pan for the work upstairs; others to be found near the front door when needed for the hall and porch, and also in the back part of the house, will not only save a great many steps but will help to establish the habit of thinking that the work is light and thought goes a great way in making it easy.

In the kitchen there should be pans, spoons and dish covers handy to each stove, table, kitchen-cabinet and sink, with trays of various sizes.

A big tray on the shelf where the groceries are left is another great step saver. By its use one trip to the supply cupboard will do the work of a dozen without such help.

In washing dishes it is easy to put on a big tray the dishes and silver that will be required at the next meal. Articles to go into a cupboard may be put on another tray. It is a simple matter to leave in the pantry the tray with the dishes stacked for the next meal and to put away only those not needed for that purpose. By this method one can do in two short trips what many women require a hundred or more steps to accomplish.

Kitchen aprons with large pockets are almost indispensable to a housekeeper. A purse kept therein saves running back and forth to pay for the laundry, the groceries, a few vegetables bought of a pedler or some unexpected demand made at the door. While straightening up the house it is invaluable as a receptacle for bits of paper, toys and miscellaneous articles that with its use, can be put away without a single unnecessary step.

There are few houses in which a better arrangement of articles that are most frequently used or always need together could not be made. The pans are seldom used without kitchen knives, forks or spoons, nor is the broom often used without the dustpan, carpet-sweeper and dust-cloth. And yet it is the rule and not the exception that a woman without a kitchen cabinet will keep pans in one place, and the spoons a few steps away; will hang the broom on one wall, lay the dustpan on a shelf somewhere else and keep the carpet-sweeper in a closet, with the dustcloth in another place. Look at your own arrangement of these daily necessities and see if you could not save yourself a great many steps by a little different arrangement in your kitchen, and by hanging the dustpan and cloth, one above the other, on two nails over that which holds the broom, a letting the carpet-sweeper stand so near the broom that by opening your hand you can grasp the handles of both.

Learn to work in large checks and to speak. For example, let your idea be to put the bedroom in order. It is better to make the bed. Straighten one side of the bed as much as you can, then, before going around to the other side, look about you to see if there are not some soiled clothes to be collected for the wash, shoes or garments to be put into the closet or the dresser on the other side of the room and put them away before finishing that side of the bed. Train yourself to think of the pillow; take it with you the last time it should be necessary for you to take a single step unnecessarily. Take into the room nearest where you are standing anything that belongs there, and do the work so you will not have to come back for that later. In this way the routine work in even a large house may be more easily accomplished.

FLOOR AND DISH MOPS HOME MADE

Old stockings make the best dusting mops, as they do not make lint. If you would make one, begin by taking a strip of strong cloth and cut it about 2 1/2 to three inches wide and about 10 inches long. Cut the old stockings in strips and place the strips close beside each other in a row. Place the cloth across the middle of the stocking strips and stitch along edge of the cloth on the machine. When this is folded together there will be a double row of stocking strips. Of course the strips must be cut of equal length. You can now insert the mop for a day or two in a good furniture polish, until it has taken up all the oil possible; squeeze dry and insert in your mop handle and you have quite as good an oil mop as many on the market. It goes without saying that you must frequently remove the mop and renew the oil.

Furniture mops and dusters may be treated with a good quality of oil in the same manner.

Dish mops may be purchased for a small price in the shops, but as they are soon worn out they are quite a little expense in the homes where pennies count, and in one afternoon you can make a dozen dish mops of different sizes for no cost at all.

A small, round stick that is smooth to the hand is best to use and pieces of old materials, linen, cotton or woolen as you prefer. Whittle the stick so that it tapers toward the end and cut three little circles of cotton and tie them over this end to form a sort of wand.

Then cut a strip of linen 24 inches long and 12 inches wide. Double the

HOLLANDS' QUEEN IS AN EPICURE

PARIS, France, Aug. 17.—Queen Wilhelmina does not make the gastronomical sacrifices for her figure that the large majority of women of today do. Indeed, Her Majesty is the greatest epicure among present day ruling sovereigns.

According to a party of French journalists returned from Holland, where she had the run of the royal palaces, Wilhelmina favors fish, meat, fruit, burgundy and champagne at nearly every meal. The Prince Consort is his own cellarman, taking the greatest interest in his wines.

Here is a typical day's menu: 8 A. M.—Coffee with whipped cream; a dozen pieces of cut bread and butter.

10 A. M.—Two hot meat or fish patties; cheese.

2 P. M.—Lunch, usually hors d'oeuvres, fish, roast beef, fowl, dessert, wine.

4 P. M.—Tea; ham sandwiches.

7 P. M.—Dinner, consisting of eight courses.

10 P. M.—Biscuits, liqueurs and bed. The Queen looks remarkably well on this diet and weighs as much as the Kings of Spain and Italy together.

Her great gain in weight of late years is due to a little of the same.

WAYS TO CLEAN SUMMER GLOVES

"A stitch in time saves nine" may be well applied to the treatment of the summer glove. The small breaks should be repaired especially before washing the gloves, as washing only makes them worse. The set of various cotton threads and small darning is an excellent glove equipment.

Save the tops of the long cotton, silk or kid gloves. Cut them off at the wrist, and when a pair of long gloves are needed they may be easily made by sewing these tops to a pair of short gloves.

To wash cotton gloves that are quite soiled, put on the hands, or a glove frame, and gently scrub with a small brush—a toothbrush is good for the purpose. Rinse well and shake powder in the fingers when dry.

The silk glove should be washed most carefully. Put on the hands and wash in tepid water and white soap with a wringing motion of the hands. Rinse well. Always mend before washing them.

Years is attributed to her fondness for good things to eat, especially sweets and notably chocolates.

WHEN CALLAUX TURNED LOOSE WHEN MME. CALLAUX FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

[By Latest Mail] PARIS.—In the midst of a bedlam of cheering, booms, mingled cries of "Monsieur!" "Vive Callaux!" and "Callaux, assassin!" Mme. Henriette Callaux was acquitted of the murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of the FIFRE, on March 15.

Even in Paris, the home of forensic science and dramatic trials, such a scene has not been witnessed for many years. The jurors were out just 55 minutes, and during their absence not a soul left the court of assize. Directly they returned to the court room and the foreman announced the verdict the well-dressed mob broke out in tumult.

At first all eyes were fastened on the defendant. Mme. Callaux, her face tense and drawn by the various emotions which she had undergone, crouched in her seat, her head buried in her hands. The moment she was called she announced she sprang to her feet and threw her arms about the neck of her chief counsel, Maître Fernand Labori. Her long hair fell over her shoulders. Her fashionable hat dropped to the floor.

As the prisoner dropped in a swoon—the last of the many she had suffered since the trial began—the spectators burst into a tumult. Some jumped to chairs and tables and lustily shouted their sentiments, favorable or otherwise, to the plaintiff. From words they quickly came to blows, dignified barristers beating each other in the face or tugging at each other's hair.

The Republican Guards, endeavoring to calm and separate the lawyers, were embroiled in the melee. The court room was littered with the ruins of hats, handkerchiefs and articles of feminine wear.

Maitre Labori and his recent antagonist, M. Chenu, chief counsel for the Calmette family, gave an example of peace and amity, as if to subdue the din. In the midst of the struggling mobs they rushed into each other's arms and warmly embraced.

The spectators, struck by the spectacle, abated their violence for a moment, during which the presiding judge made an attempt to make himself heard. Failing in this, he led a procession of the other judges out of the room and the tumult became greater than ever.

When the door closed upon the backs of the judges the lawyers took possession of the room and redoubled their outcries. Some mounted the judges' tribune and harangued the crowd in terms of increasing violence.

cool, sensible woman without emotion or pity. She has tears only for herself. She worked with tenacity to break up her lover's home. You see the result—the mistress triumphed over the lawful spouse. They are bound up in each other, in their happiness, in their hopes, even in their murder plans.

"M. Callaux is a man of inordinate and unjustifiable ambition, whose power rests on his own audacity and on the fear that he inspires. He neglected to tell his wife of the assurance given by President Poincare that Calmette was incapable of plotting private letters. They did not fear that what they feared was the publication of the report by Victor Fabre on the Rochette swindle.

"The husband's violent words at the luncheon table decided the wife to substitute herself for him, and she prepared the assassination with as much calm as a society woman fitting in calls between two tea parties."

The speech of the Prosecutor-general, Jules Herbaux, was mild. He told the jurors that their duty, as defenders of society, required them to find a verdict of guilty. "But," he added, "no one expects you to be pitiless."

A tempest of applause shook the court as Maitre Labori concluded his passionate plea for the defense, a masterpiece of the master of the French criminal bar. The shadow of coming war fell across the court room as the orator said in conclusion:

"My wish is that Mme. Callaux shall leave here acquitted and that the press shall be purified. Let us keep our anger for our enemies abroad. Let us leave this court resolute and united to face the perils which threaten us."

To Maitre Labori Mme. Callaux pays her tribute as the chief instrument of her release.

"It is Maitre Labori," she said at her home tonight, "to whom I owe the good fortune to be wholly free. He pleaded today with all his fine talent and I am profoundly grateful to him."

Mme. Callaux dined at home with her husband and a few friends, and afterward, attired in a handsome evening gown, received a number of her intimate friends.

BATHROOM MAY BE ATTRACTIVE

White paint and white woodwork are most attractive in the bathroom—unless one is blessed with a luxurious white tiled and white enameled room, such as the modern apartment houses provide for their occupants. There should always be a breeze blowing the white curtain at the bathroom window in summer time, and the shaded bathroom, with blinds half-bowed outside or an awning let down, is much more grateful to the warm seeker of a cool plunge than a room into which the sun pours.

A growing plant on the window sill will add to the cool appearance of the bathroom, and in summer the floor covering may be taken up and a blue and white rug laid before the tub.

DEVELOPMENT OF WATER FOR LEEWARD KAUA'I

Millions of Gallons of Water for Power and Irrigation Purposes

Millions of gallons of water now daily running wasted to the sea will, in due time, be diverted into a large irrigation and power project which will serve leeward Kauai, according to the July report of G. K. Larrison, superintendent of the division of hydrography. It is stated that the installation of a Stevens automatic clock register station on the Waimea stream at an elevation of about 850 feet above sea level last month "completes the construction work started nearly a year past in relation to the measurement of all large windward Kauai streams which, with the exception of the Waimea stream, are practically all wasting into the sea. This group of streams is made up of the Waimea, Lumahai, Waioli, Hanalei and Kauhala streams, with an estimated minimum discharge, at the 750 foot level, of about 260 million gallons per 24 hours.

It is of these waters that Mr. Larrison has made the prediction of ultimate utilization just quoted. "For topographical reasons," he adds, "it is believed that the water will be diverted at an elevation of about 700 feet and the measurements were all established above this level.

The installation of these stations has involved an immense amount of hardships and labor under the most adverse conditions to be found on the island. Many miles of foot trail have been constructed up the various valleys. All supplies to all but the Waimea station had to be carried in men's backs and the work was completed under clearable weather conditions. The stations are of a permanent type, and the records there will prove of immense value to Kauai water users. Of the five streams two, the Hanalei and Waioli, are owned by the territory of Hawaii.

Heavy rainfalls on the uplands and on windward Kauai continued during the month, the reports state. A rain gauge on the Lumahai stream, at an elevation of about 700 feet, has recorded an average of an inch a day during the past two months.

On Oahu seven cooperative clock register stations were established during the month, of which five were for Kahuku and Lala plantations and two for the U. S. army. Other work on this island and Maui and Hawaii is related. On the Big Island the superintendent accompanied the deputy attorney-general to Kamuela, where measurements were made which, with other data "will probably be used as evidence in future litigation relative to the water rights of the Waikoloa stream."

Work for August was to include cooperative experimental work for the planters' experiment station at Waipio, Oahu, and a special ditch loss investigation for the Honouliuli Ranch Co., Maui.

our lunch; but there was another hour's hard work cutting our way through the thickest kind of underbrush, and then we struck a trail—just four hours from the time we had reached the summit, and what speed we made on that trail! Now if there is anyone that believes that the visitor and the soldier and even women, do not like mountain tramping, let him be undecieved, for on our way down Kaala to Schofield we must have met a dozen officers and their wives, either ascending or descending, and that Kaala trail from Schofield Barracks would make any trail in the Waianalo mountains blush with shame. In several places it has become necessary to stretch ropes, owing to the steepness and the mud. There are two other ridges, however, up which excellent trails may be made; in fact there is a little-used trail on one of these ridges at present.

With the proper sign posts and markings, and a rest house at Lellehua, which the army will probably place at the disposal of the Trail and Mountain club, there is no reason why some great outings for civilians, tourists, and soldiers might not be planned about Kaala and the Waianalo mountains.

"We left the summit of Kaala shortly before two o'clock and a little after three we were down in the foot hills behind Schofield Barracks, where a wagon awaited us. At four o'clock we were back at Captain Sherer's quarters, and five minutes later Joe and I were on our bicycles, and before seven in the evening we were back in Honolulu.

"Java has set us a wonderful example in the charting and signposting of her mountain trails, and the Trail and Mountain club is now ready to utilize the Boy Scouts, the army men and its own members in an effort to introduce the Java system and its mountain rest houses in these islands."

A French aviator has placed a pneumatic buffer in front of the seat of his aeroplane to lessen the shock should he strike the ground heavily. Hundreds of farmers took a dip in the ocean at Maaquau N. J. in observance of "Jersey Wash Day."

ARMY OFFICER MISSING; POSTED AS DESERTER

(Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Lieut. Fielding L. Poindexter, retired, of this city, was dropped yesterday from the rolls of the army as a deserter. Lieutenant Poindexter had been in financial difficulties which were reported to the war department. He was directed to settle his obligations and report his action to the department. Further complaint developed the fact that the order had not been obeyed.

It was understood that he would be tried by court martial and he was ordered to appear before the war department for investigation. Instead he left the city and the efforts of the war department to locate him were unavailing.

FLOATING CHURCH BRINGS RELIGION TO THE GREEKS

A unique feature of the ships building at Cammell, Laird's shipyard at Birkenhead for the National Steam Navigation Co. of Greece is the little church which has been fitted on board each vessel. These floating churches, with their stained domes, their tiny altars, their walls adorned with icons—those pictorial representations inseparable from the internal decorations of the eastern church—should contribute substantially to the needs of the passengers. Standing on the shelter deck, and fitted up internally in oak, the church is entered by doors on either side of the structure. In addition to the dome, brass-framed rectangular side windows are fitted, the light from which can be modulated by means of Venetian blinds and covers of polished hard wood. On the occasion of general service, the majority of those attending will, on account of the smallness of the church, have to be accommodated amidship in front of the church and, in order that altar and priest may be in full view of those present, sliding doors have been arranged in the wall of the church directly opposite the altar. Hours of service are announced by means of a large brass bell fitted at the side of the church. Accommodation for the officiating priest is being arranged in a special cabin on the bridge deck. The first of these vessels, which have been named the Vasilefs Constantos and Vassilissa Sophia, after the reigning king and queen of Greece, and which are approximately 500 feet long, will be launched in June next, and will be completed by Messrs. Cammell, Laird & Co.

Gladys Woodell, 16 years old, one of a party of campfire girls of Mr. Vernon, was drowned while bathing near Ridgely, Conn.

Benjamin Phillips, 85 years old, who has spent 44 years in London prisons, asked the London Sessions to send him to penal servitude.

MOST PARKLIKE SPOT IN HAWAII FOUND ON KAUA'I

Forester Hosmer Tells of Great Asset of the Garden Island

Most of the report of Ralph S. Hosmer, superintendent of forestry, for July deals with routine matters such as the fencing of forest reserves and the preparation of special reports. It is the last report to be made by Mr. Hosmer, he having left this week to take the position of head of the forest school of Cornell. An interesting section of the report tells of a visit to the sub-nursery on the Papahaloa Spring forest reserve on Kauai, where he found conditions very satisfactory. Mentioning that he had made arrangements with Mr. McBryde for extension of the tree plantations there, the superintendent goes on to say:

"In this connection I wish officially to call attention to the tree planting by homesteaders and others in the vicinity of Homestead that has been going on in the last few years. Largely as a result in the first instance of Mr. McBryde's own efforts, the planting around Kalahoe has become general, so that now, looking from Kukuiloa hill, one sees a condition of shaded roads and tree-surrounded homes equalled by no other place in the territory. Kukuiloa park itself—the block of government land on the hill of that same name which McBryde has beautified and thrown open to the free use of the public—has now become one of the attractions of Kauai. It is well worthy of being featured as an asset of the Garden Island that should not be overlooked."

The forest nurseryman, David Haugh, reports 13,692 plants distributed during the month, of which 12,892 were gratis, sent to military posts and 129 to schools. Also 665 seedlings had been supplied to corporations, and an order received for 20,000 assorted seedlings, the latter with 50,000 previously reported making 70,000 tree seedlings ordered by planting and other corporations for the coming planting season. At the Makiki station preparations are being made for next Arbor Day. The Koa and kukui trees planted on and surrounding Sugar Loaf hill are doing very well.

TEMPERANCE DAY TO BE OBSERVED ON NOVEMBER 8

At the annual conference of the churches of the Hawaiian board held at Wailuku, Maui, July 8 to 15, it was decided that all the churches in the territory should observe November 8 as Temperance Day, co-operating with the Anti-Saloon League in making the occasion a big success. Samuel K. Kamatopi of the public lands office was elected to the membership of the local league to represent the annual conference and he and Dr. J. W. Wadman are now busy preparing a plan for the more successful prosecution of the work as above outlined. The national headquarters are in deep sympathy with the temperance work here in Hawaii, especially its educational campaign. It is expected that the national president may in the near future visit the islands in order to confer with the leaders here.

"Recent reports from the mainland indicate that the battle for prohibition now wages hot in four states; namely Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California and Kentucky. Idaho is dead sure of winning. All its candidates for political state honors are pledged to statewide prohibition," says Dr. J. W. Wadman, superintendent of the local league. "Washington is not far behind Idaho in its hope of winning its victory over the saloon power, while Oregon has at least a fighting chance. California, it is said, is not quite so sure of itself. If Kentucky swings in line with the other states south of the dry line, it will surely go 'dry' with a big majority. In any case, the Anti-Saloon League counts on having at least 12 states on its list as saloonless territory before the end of 1914 and 1915 before its next general biennial session in Atlantic City, July, 1915, at which it is expected 25,000 delegates will be present."

The headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League of America are situated at Westerville, Ohio, and consists of the offices of the national officers, a large depository for literature and a printing plant of three big modern presses running day and night. At the present time these presses are busy turning out tons of literature in preparation for the great world's temperance Sunday to be observed November 8 next in all churches, Sunday schools and young people's societies throughout the United States. Interesting Lincoln-Lee programs are being printed in attractive form, together with pledge cards, rolls, photos, photos of Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee—all for free distribution provided the schools and churches make application for the same in due time. Requests sent to the headquarters, Westerville, Ohio, will bring an immediate reply.

CRUEL AND UNUSUAL PUNISHMENT FOR ALL SOLDIERS OF SULTAN

(By Latest Mail) CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 29.—Not since its supposedly invincible battalions were rolled back by the Bulgarian advance at Lule Burgas has the Turkish army experienced a greater shock than the order issued by the new secretary of war, Envers Bey, that hereafter all Turkish soldiers must eat with a knife and fork.

The enlisted men are not only alarmed at the prospect of handling the strange implements, but are hurt by the intimation that faithful hands, which have always served the primary purpose of conveying food to their mouths, should be deemed no longer fit for that useful service.

The Turkish private is not proving an apt pupil. When his superiors are absent he squats upon the floor and devours his food in the good old-fashioned way, but at the approach of an officer he scrambles to a seat at the table and falls to wielding his new weapons with all the skill he can command.

The civilizing process is not to stop there. The edict has also with teaching the Turkish soldier gone forth that he must learn to read and write.

PUBLIC SHOULD BE CONSIDERED IN LEAGUE ROW

Baseball Troubles Considered from the Standpoint of Supporters of Game

Baseball has such a firm hold on the interest and affections of the Honolulu public that the row in the Oahu league over an umpire's decision has been widely heralded and commented upon.

One of the teams protests loudly against a decision in a recent game and has threatened not to play if Umpires Stayton and Bruns are retained.

Under the umpiring of Capt. Norris Stayton and George Bruns, league baseball in Honolulu has been brought to a higher, a cleaner, a more efficient, a more sportsmanlike and a more wholesomely enjoyable stage than at any other time in this baseball generation.

Capt. Stayton's first appearance on a local diamond inaugurated a new era in the conduct of league baseball. His knowledge of how a game should be run was so apparent that the league officials and most of the managers of teams joined in supporting his orders.

The president and directors of the league and the team-managers and players have helped contribute to this result. But the main work has been done by these two umpires.

Every umpire makes mistakes of judgment on the field and every umpire occasionally errs in his interpretation of the rules. Both Stayton and Bruns have done this. But that is a minor thing. The main point is that though the players and fans often disagree with the decisions of the arbiters—as players and fans do the country over—it is recognized generally that the umpiring is both honest and competent.

The demands of the public for clean baseball will not be regarded as two upright and respected officials are allowed to be sacrificed to the necessarily partisan and biased demands of any manager or set of managers.

EUROPEAN WAR MIGHT ENTANGLE UNITED STATES

Should Canada Be Invaded by Germany Monroe Doctrine Would Mean Intervention

That there is only one possibility of the United States being dragged into the European war, and that is providing Germany should take it into her head to invade Canada, is the opinion of United States army officers, who, of course, are closely following the European developments. Should there be a German invasion of Canada, this country must step in and interfere or else declare the Monroe doctrine null and void, many officers say. This could only come about, however, if England lost control of the sea.

In his international law digest, John Bassett Moore, probably the leading authority on this subject on this continent, quotes authority that would plainly show that the Monroe doctrine is absolutely against European interference even in Canada, subject of a European power, and that the moral duty of this country would be to say, "Hands off" in case Germany should invade Canada.

President Polk, in his annual message of December 2, 1845, says: "Excising rights of every European nation should be respected; but it is due alike to our safety and our interest that the efficient protection of our laws should be extended over our whole territorial limits, and that it should be distinctly announced to the world as our settled policy, that no future European colony or dominion shall, with our consent, be planted or established on any part of the North American continent." Thomas Jefferson, writing to President Monroe under date of October 24, 1823, said: "Our first and fundamental maxim should be never to entangle ourselves in the broils of Europe; our second, never to suffer Europe to meddle with cisatlantic affairs."

2ND INFANTRY WILL PROBABLY PUT IN A TEAM

Should Canada Be Invaded by Germany Monroe Doctrine Would Mean Intervention

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] FORT SHAFTER, Aug. 29.—The invitation to the 2d infantry to enter a team in the proposed tug-of-war contest at the army of the 1st N. G. H. has been received and it is practically certain that the regiment will enter a team and support its reputation in that branch of sport. A majority of the company commanders have indicated their willingness to furnish men as candidates for the team. The date selected for the meet will be important to the 2d infantry since the regiment is now scheduled to undertake its regimental march sometime during the month of September and will probably be absent from the post for about two weeks' time on that duty. As it has been announced that no men will be excused from the tour of field duty for the purpose of training and being present at the athletic meet, it will be present at the date selected by the management of the tournament will have an important bearing on the attitude of the regiment towards the competition. The 2d infantry won against all comers in the outdoor tug of war event in the field day at the last Carnival and still retains on its rolls the majority of the men that composed that championship team. Captain Paul B. Malone of the 2d infantry who organized the winning team last February is the athletic representative of the regiment and will probably be assigned the duty of selecting and training the team if the regiment decides to enter the meet.

ENGINEERS STARTS THEIR FOOTBALL TEAM GOING AGAIN

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] FORT SHAFTER, Aug. 29.—Company I, 3d battalion of Engineers, has reorganized the football team of the company and has commenced preliminary practice in the matter of trying out the various candidates and generally conditioning the men. Last year the eleven of Company I was uniformly successful against all of the service teams that were encountered, playing a fast and aggressive game with good knowledge of the game in nearly every department. One of the notably fast and heady players of last year's team was Bernstein who is now to be replaced as he has been discharged by expiration of enlistment period. Lieut. Frank S. Besson, a player of experience, will again serve as coach for the Engineer team and it is safe to assume that the men under his teaching will be heard from on the gridiron when the season begins. The company plans to meet all comers whether they be in or out of the service. That the team will be well supported by the non-players of the company goes without saying. HAWAIIIS WILL TRY TO WIPE OUT FORMER DEFEAT BY THE 25TH

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, August 29.—The Hawaiis of the Oahu League will make another appearance at Schofield tomorrow against the 25th infantry and attempt to retrieve their defeat at the hands of Lieut. Saunderson's crack aggregation on August 16th. In this game the Hawaiis held a three-run lead over the soldiers until the seventh inning when a batting rally tied the score. In the eighth Cullens poked out one of his famous home runs that gave the game to the 25th.

BIG POLO EVENT FINALLY SET FOR LATE SEPTEMBER

Four Teams Will Clash Here for Inter-island Championship Next Month

The inter-island polo championship will be held the latter part of next month. Since the opening of the season the matter of the big tournament has been unsettled, owing to the absence of Walter Dillingham, regular captain of the Oahu team. It has been hoped all along that Dillingham would return from Washington in time to take the saddle for the local club, and as Maui wished to meet Oahu's best and the army teams welcomed the chance for added practice and pony schooling, matters have been allowed to drift.

Now, however, comes a letter from F. F. Baldwin, the Maui captain, following up several conferences that were held when the Oahu team made its last trip to the Valley Island. Baldwin thinks that some definite date should be set, owing to the fact that the ponies have been up for a long time, and that there is a good chance of their going stale if the tournament is put off much longer. The uncertainty of Dillingham's plans, and the evident justice of Maui's proposal, has decided the Oahu players to take action immediately, and play for the championship is now down for the latter part of September, probably the week following Regatta Day, which falls on September 19 this year. This leaves a trifle more than three weeks for preparation, and all the teams will be busy in the interval.

Oahu and Maui will both be represented, while there will be two army teams in the field, one from the 4th Cavalry, and one from the 1st Field Artillery. This will make a four cornered tournament, which will likely be decided by elimination, requiring three matches in all. For the last three years, with only three teams in the field, the round robin system has been in vogue, each team playing the other two. This made possible a "no tournament" deadlock, such as came off in 1911, when Kauai beat the 5th Cavalry, Oahu beat Kauai, and the Cavalry beat Oahu. With four teams in the field drawings can be made for the original pairings, and the winners of the matches play off for the championship.

The Oahu club has never been so short of players as at the present time, and the loss of Dillingham was one that seemed fatal, until Arthur Rice announced his intention of turning out to take the fourth position on the team. Rice hasn't been playing polo at all this year, but he has come to the front in time of need, and will be a regular from now until tournament time. He is an experienced player, and was a member of the All-Hawaii team that went to the coast last year. He is rated as a 3-goal man by the American Polo Association.

The addition of Arthur Rice to the Oahu team means another shift of players, and probably everyone will be playing a new position when the whistle blows for the first match. The team has been forced to make constant shifts and changes this season, but it looks as though the proposed line-up would give the maximum hitting and defensive strength. The present plan is to play S. A. Baldwin at No. 1, Harold Castle, No. 2; Walter Macfarlane, No. 3, and Arthur Rice, back. This means a shift from 1 to 3 for Macfarlane, 2 to 1 for Baldwin, and 3 to 2 for Castle. Rice, although he played No. 1 on the All-Hawaii team, is more at home at back, so he is going back to his regular position.

Sam Baldwin is even more effective at 1 than at 2. He is not such a vigorous rider-off, as Macfarlane, but he is so snappy with his stick and so well mounted that he changes the general system of the game, and puts the opposing back in the position of chasing him. Castle is originally a No. 2, and plays this position better than any other. For 10 years he played 2 to Walter Dillingham's 3. Macfarlane has the strongest backhand of any of the local players, and will make an excellent No. 3. He has played back once or twice this season, and has showed to advantage in the second line.

The tournament will be played at Moanalua, as heretofore, there being no time to consider putting the Kaplani Park field in shape.

NEW CHRISTIAN CHURCH WILL BE FINE STRUCTURE

Building of Kewalo Street to Cost $30,000—Bids Asked at Early Date

What is adjudged will be one of the most modern structures of its kind in the United States is the new edifice which the Christian church soon is to erect on Kewalo street near Wilder avenue, and which is to cost in the neighborhood of $30,000. Bids for building the church are to be called for within a very short time and, following their opening, the contract will be awarded and active construction work commenced. The plans for the new church were drawn by Ripley & Davis, the local architects, and the building is to be of the bungalow type which has been found so successful in different parts of the United States.

The church will cover an area of 100x190 feet over all and will have a stone foundation with concrete steps and open corridors. The walls and roof will be of wood, with half-timbered cement-plastered gables. The auditorium will be 50x60 feet with an open timber roof and a large choir and organ loft. A feature of this room will be the beautiful baptistry with its large pool lined with white tile. The auditorium will have eleven wide entrances and exits, practically throwing the room open on to wide covered corridors, which are on three sides of this room. In addition to these eleven openings there will be windows extending on three sides of this room and located just below the roof. With this abundant ventilation and such a wide-awake preacher as Minister Peters, there will be no opportunity to go to sleep during the services and charge it up to lack of fresh air.

To the right of the auditorium, along a wide covered corridor will be the pastor's reception room, 12x14 feet and the pastor's study, 13x16 feet; then the library, 14x17 feet. Beyond these will be the public and private lavatories. On the left of the auditorium and approached by the covered corridor, as on the opposite side, will be the ladies' retiring room, 14x16 feet. It will be fitted with lavatories complete. Adjoining this will be a store room, 12x14 feet, a kitchen, 16x16 feet, and a pantry 9x14 feet. Passing all these rooms, all of which are reached by the open covered corridors and which will enclose an open grassy lawn, will be located the assembly hall. This will be 45x50 feet in dimension and will be connected on one side by the ladies' parlor, 22x28 feet. On the other side will be the primary school room of similar size. In the rear will be seven class rooms all opening to the main hall and fitted with rolling partitions between.

INTERESTING SERIES OF MEETINGS ARRANGED FOR CENTRAL UNION CHURCH

An especially interesting series of mid-week meetings in Central Union church has been arranged for the next three weeks, with subjects as follows: Wednesday, Sept. 2, address by Rev. Frank S. Scudder. Theme: "Impressions of Religious Life on the Coast." Wednesday, Sept. 9, "Two Pictures of Royalty." Luke 19:28-40, John 18:33-38. Wednesday, Sept. 16, "How to Help People." Luke 5:17-26. The meeting of August 26th on the theme of "The Crafty Steward" brought out some very interesting opinions on that puzzling story. An informal symposium elicited answers to the questions: "Did Jesus commend the steward? If not, why did he tell the story? If so, what in the steward's conduct did Jesus approve? The general feeling seemed to be that the steward was commended for using the opportunities at his command, not that he used them well, but that he used them, and used them for obtaining the most valuable of possessions—friends!"

All men of Honolulu, whether or not they are church members, are invited to the mass meeting in the Empire theater tomorrow evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Col. Blanche B. Cox of the Salvation Army will speak and there will be a special musical program.

SALVATION ARMY HEAD BRINGS MESSAGE FROM CONGRESS OF NATIONS

Colonel Blanche B. Cox of the Salvation Army recently shared with her friends of Central Union church the inspiration derived from the great congress of nations held in London last month. The accounts brought home by Colonel Cox pictured the wonderful gathering very vividly and the audience caught much of the enthusiasm of the original meetings as the magnetic speaker related various picturesque incidents of the immense convocation. The "Hallelujah Spirit" which characterized the giant processions and the packed audience-halls of the convention was well reproduced in the glowing recital.

One strong feature of the congress which seemed to impress the Londoners and to which the speaker often referred, was the happiness of the delegates, the joyfulness of those enlisted in the army, she said. The representatives there present did not go to London to have a good time, but they brought their good time with them and the value of this great congress, held every ten years, in affording opportunities for conference, education, encouragement and spiritual uplift could hardly be over-estimated, said Colonel Cox.

PROHIBITION MAY BE SECURED FOR COLORADO IN FALL

[By Latest Mail] DENVER, Colo. — With committees already appointed in many counties and people aligned for abolition of liquor selling, the state-wide prohibition campaign inaugurated by the Colorado Anti-Saloon League this year has been opened with a vigor that gives promise of marked results at the polls in November. In fact, leaders of the movement confidently predict that the state will vote out the saloon at the fall elections, declaring that they base their conclusion not on the widespread enthusiasm noted but on a careful analysis of the situation, according to a statement by A. J. Finch of the Anti-Saloon League.

Every man and woman voter in Colorado is to be reached, according to the plans outlined by the league's state committee, which will have the cooperation of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the assistance of the Anti-Saloon League of America. The struggle will be a keen one, for those who favor the saloon evidently are prepared to expend large sums to offset the growth of the opposition to liquor selling which is increasing so strongly throughout the state.

BLANCHE B. COX TO BE SPEAKER AT MASSMEETING

Salvation Army Head Will Address Gathering Sunday Night in Empire Theater

Colonel Blanche B. Cox of the Salvation Army will be the speaker at the big Men's Meeting at the Empire theater tomorrow evening. "A Life Purpose" is the subject which Colonel Cox has chosen. She will speak on the theme of Paul's declaration: "This one thing I do." A speaker of wide experience, Colonel Cox will present her message with a forceful appeal and this meeting should be one of the most helpful of the splendid series. Colonel Cox recently returned from London where she attended the decennial conference of the Salvation Army. There were 10,000 delegates in attendance from all parts of the world at this noteworthy convention. The meetings of the conference filled to overflowing the largest of auditoriums that could be procured in the city of London. The review of the army by General Booth, the commander, was a stirring spectacle. Each of the delegates wore the costume of his native land and many of them represented in their own lives, noteworthy conquests for the cause of Christ.

At the final meeting of the convention, music was given by 150 massed bands, which was one of the largest musical organizations ever assembled to render sacred music. The people of London were all impressed with the joyous note of the conference and the happiness from service that was expressed in the singing and addresses from the platforms. It is from the inspiration of such a gathering that Colonel Cox has returned to her work as commander of the Salvation Army forces in Hawaii. She will tell of incidents from this conference at the meeting tomorrow evening.

Because of the hearty response which the men have given each Sunday evening to the congregational singing and the enthusiasm with which they enter into the songs, the committee in charge has planned to feature this form of music at the future meetings. The hymns to be sung are all selected with a view to appealing to an audience of men. There will always be other and special musical features on each Sunday evening program.

James Wakefield, who is the chairman of the Y. M. C. A. committee which has these meetings in charge, will preside and Paul Super, general secretary of the association, will direct the singing. This is the first time that a woman has addressed one of these gatherings of men and the uniqueness of this feature of the service will undoubtedly attract a large audience.

GIRLS! STOP WASHING THE HAIR WITH SOAP

Soap dries your scalp, causing dandruff, then hair falls out—Try this next time.

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful. Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it—advertisement.

Dr. Doremus Scudder, pastor of Central Union church, will leave Honolulu for San Francisco September 22 to engage in the "campaign of good will" which is to be conducted on the Pacific coast.

One of the features of the musical program which has been arranged for the services in Central Union church tomorrow morning will be a vocal solo by George A. Brown entitled "The Lord is My Strength."

Sunday Aug. 30, 1914, Methodist church, J. W. Wadman, D. D., who is the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, will preach at the morning service. In the evening Dr. William H. Fry will preach the last of the published series of evening sermons. The theme will be, "Is It Ever Too Late to Mend or May We Reform in the Next World?"

Gossip

THE drygoods stores have begun to fill their windows with gingham and linens with attached cards, announcing that the same are new materials for school dresses, which makes us begin to realize that vacation is almost gone and it is time to stop playing and get down to the serious business of the year, whatever that may be. Already the summer-homes are preparing to close their windows and bolt their doors ready for the cooler months, and soon will be commenced in earnest the annual pilgrimage back to town.

Honolulu has seemed to enjoy her lovely outdoors more this summer than on previous years. Tennis, of course, is always played, and there are those who will enthuse over golf no matter how hot the day. However, the returning popularity of croquet this summer has brought many into the field of athletics for whom the above mentioned games are too strenuous. Swimming also is much more generally enjoyed than ever before, although there is no doubt that the discovery that the Outrigger Club was an ideal place to entertain one's guests informally accounts in a great measure for this. Tramping has been followed by some, but only by the most habitual walkers, as it has been much too warm for the exertion required. Perhaps fewer people went away this summer than is usually the case, but it does seem as if Honolulu is awakening to its own limitless possibilities for entertainment.

Dr. and Mrs. Carey's Dance.
Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Carey entertained at a delightful dance at their home on Keaumoku on last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Luita Arnold and Miss Sadie Carey who left on the Matsunia Wednesday on their way to Notre Dame where they will continue their studies.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in green and white. Great clusters of lovely white roses and shaggy white asters were artistically grouped about white quantities of maidenhair and asparagus ferns were effectively used.

A Hawaiian quintette furnished excellent music and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Those present were: The Misses Luita Arnold, Bessie Seybolt, Irmgard Dush, Shivi Carter, Ruth Seybolt, Ay's Fennel, Alvina Blom, Lillian Fennel, Nellie Hollinger, Hazel Merrill, Irene Hughes, May Harris, Pearl Robinson, Dorothy Quarles, Mary Brown, Julia Hollinger, Ethel Fennel, Angie Maderros, Maude Sanderson, Sadie Carey, Messrs. Decker, Martin Fennel, Blakeley McStocker, Jay Woodhouse, Allan Rodmore, Eddie Huthinson, John Hoffman, Fred Carter, Arthur Huff, Kenneth Decker, Luther Huff, Charles Hughes, Malcolm Smith, Irvine Blom, William Warren, Jack Perry, Jerome Hughes, Dr. J. H. Farrell, Thomas Hollinger, Jr., Will Hughes, Thomas Carey and Dr. and Mrs. Carey.

Dr. and Mrs. Franklin Depart.
Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Franklin of Columbus, Mississippi, who have been visitors in Honolulu for the past six weeks, departed on the Matsunia en route to their home on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Franklin has been very prominent both in state and national D. A. C. affairs for a number of years. She represented the Columbus chapter of the D. A. C. and also served as its president, while at present she is the state representative of Mississippi.

Mrs. Franklin is an exceptionally attractive woman and has won a great many friends in local social circles during her short stay here. At the time she was in the Matsunia's rail on Wednesday she waved her farewells to those who she was completely buried beneath the wealth of her friends. Her susceptibility was notable in that it was women to win such a great many friends in such a short time.

Honolulu friends of Mrs. Franklin received from London an announcement with of a son, which was very well received, having a great many friends here. They left Hawaii about a year ago to make their home in England and have been residing in London since that time.

Mrs. Franklin Honored.
Mrs. T. B. Franklin, sister-in-law of Malcolm A. Franklin, who, with her husband has been visiting in Honolulu for several weeks, was the motif for a very charming affair on Monday afternoon at which Mrs. A. S. Humphreys was hostess.

The house was attractively decorated with a profusion of beautiful hibiscus blossoms which were artistically arranged in great masses of red, yellow, pink and all of the other delicate shades. Such quantities there were and so large and perfect were the blooms that the rooms had the appearance of a lovely hibiscus show.

The luncheon table was literally buried beneath the wealth of flowers. In the center was a huge cluster of great double hibiscus of a dainty pink hue while the remainder of the table was one solid mass of the flower heads intermingled with sprays of maidenhair.

Mrs. Franklin is very prominent in D. A. C. affairs and on Monday afternoon Mrs. Humphreys invited the officers of the Aloha chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to meet her.

Covers were placed for about 15.

Among the passengers on the Matsunia bound for the coast, was Stuart Johnson, who is journeying to the mainland to claim his bride, Miss Zoe Watkins, who spent a number of months in the islands returned to her home in Arizona last spring shortly after the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Johnson. She is at present in Los Angeles, and it has not been definitely decided as yet, whether the wedding will take place in that city or at Miss Watkins' home in Arizona. Although the date has not been set, it will probably be early in September.

After the wedding, the couple plan to travel awhile on the mainland, returning to Honolulu in November. They will then move at once into their lovely new home in Manoa, which is located on Oahu avenue near the home of Mrs. F. E. Blake, Mr. Johnson's sister.

Bridge Evening.

Mrs. J. H. Craig was hostess at a delightful dinner party of last week. The table was prettily decorated with yellow coreopsis and maidenhair ferns and covers were placed for eight.

Miss Wichman's Dance.

Miss Eloise Wichman was hostess at a most delightful dance at the Country Club on last Monday evening. As Miss Wichman departed on the Matsunia Wednesday for the coast, the affair was in the nature of a farewell to her many friends of the younger set.

The decorations were simple but most attractive, being carried out in a green and yellow color scheme. Palms of different varieties, bamboo and dainty maidenhair ferns were used in abundance, the numerous white pillars being wreathed in bamboo leaves interwoven with the ferns. The lights were all hidden in pretty yellow shades which were most effective in the setting of green.

A Hawaiian quintette furnished excellent music and seventy or more of the popular younger set danced merrily until a late hour. Shortly after eleven delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were: Miss Laura Low, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Phoebe Carter, Miss Mary Ragan Gary, Miss Grace Carter, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss Hilda von Holt, Miss Helen Achilles, Miss Rosamund Swazy, Miss Nora Swazy, Miss Lila McDonald, Miss Rose Herbert, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Gladys Pearn, Miss Alice Macfarlane, Miss Beatrice Dredge, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss May Biven, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Margaret Center, Miss Telma Murphy, Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Charlotte Dowsett, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Helen McLean, Miss Margaret Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett, Judge and Mrs. A. Rose, Lieutenant Peyton, Lieutenant John H. Hineman, Lieutenant Eugene W. Fales, Lieutenant Carl A. Hardigg and others.

Bridge Afternoons.

During this time of the year when there are not enough large affairs to keep society folk on the "go" all the time, numerous small groups come together for a few games of cards, or a little tating and a cup of tea. There are a number of little congenial groups of four or perhaps eight women who meet once a week for a few rubbers of bridge. Among these Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Mrs. Carl Hedemann, Mrs. Sara Newcomb and Mrs. Ellis have enjoyed a pleasant afternoon together one day each week.

Col. and Mrs. Bromwell Honored.

Colonel and Mrs. P. P. Reynolds entertained at a delightful reception and tea dance at the Country Club on Thursday afternoon in honor of Col-most enjoyable dance given in honor of her brother, Lieutenant Robert McDonald, who expects to depart in the near future for the coast. Lieutenant McDonald graduated from West Point last June and has been the guest of his parents, Colonel and Mrs. J. B. McDonald, during the summer months.

The spacious rooms were filled with lovely flowers which had been sent in during the day. Roses of many colors and varieties, as well as numerous other lovely blossoms, were artistically arranged in vases and bowls about the rooms. The Lemon quintette rendered splendid music and interest in the dancing did not flag for a second. About 11 o'clock refreshments were served on the lawn where the enchanting beauty of the perfect night was greatly enjoyed.

About 70 were present, including those of the younger set who are in town at present, as well as a number from Fort Shafter and Schofield Barracks who came in for the evening.

Miss Linnard Complimented.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Warren entertained at a most enjoyable beach party at the Outrigger club last week complimentary to Miss Dorothy Linnard of Pasadena, who with her father, D. M. Linnard, has been spending several weeks in Honolulu.

Those present were: Miss Dorothy Linnard, Miss Julia I. Han of New York, Miss Margaret Andrews of Chicago; Messrs. Will Warren, Arch Brown and Welch, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Underwood's Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Underwood entertained informally at bridge on Thursday evening at their home in Keimuki. After a number of keenly contested rubbers, the gentlemen's prize, a lovely smoking stand, was won by Mr. Underwood, while the ladies' prize, a beautiful vase, was captured by Mrs. James Guild. Miss Mabel Hair was awarded the consolation prize, which was an attractive book.

Those present were: Lieutenant and Mrs. Frank D. Applin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Retow, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Peacock, Mr. Sam Peck, Mrs. Ernest Peacock, Miss Mabel Hair, Mr. and Mrs. James Guild, Mr. Charles Simpson, Miss Constance Simpson, Mr. John Ashley, and Mr. and Mrs. Underwood.

Announcing Miss Mathews

Miss Mathews is a well-known Millinery Designer and comes to us highly recommended. We consider ourselves fortunate indeed in having procured her services, she has been associated with the leading Millinery establishments not only on the Coast but in the East, among which we mention Collins of Los Angeles, the well-known importers, from where she comes to us.

Miss Mathews tells with much enthusiasm of the new styles and what the leading Milliners are doing in the States. She says, "Black and White effects are still exceptionally good and in addition and closely following this rage comes the soft shell pink effect; salsometal novelties are receiving much favor."

These new ideas and many more which Miss Mathews has suggested are to be seen in our Millinery Department; a few will be displayed in our windows this coming week.

SOJOURN

ARRANGEMENTS have been completed for an elaborate reception and exhibit on Monday afternoon, October 27, in the reception rooms of the Young Hotel, by Mr. George S. Roorbach and Mr. Kenneth Alexander.

Mr. Roorbach, who is a landscape artist of considerable note, has been making a study of Hawaiian scenery for the past several months, and has been doing some very beautiful pieces. He works entirely in water colors and his pictures imbibe all the delicacy and poetry in which our scenes abound. He has already completed a number of exquisite bits and those who have seen them have pronounced them little masterpieces. His work is highly artistic and makes a very strong appeal to one's esthetic tastes.

Mr. Alexander is a recent and very noted visitor to Honolulu from the ultra-artistic circles of London and New York, and his beautiful work in artistic portraiture will also be exhibited. This distinguished artist employs two methods producing two different types of photographs. One is the autochrome photograph in natural colors and the other is portrait work in artistic lighting. He is quite famous both in his own country, England, and in America, and has had quite a notable career. For four years he studied under Van Dyke, the court photographer of London, and probably the most famous in the world. Next he studied for two years under Hitchcock of New York, and then under Pierson of Boston, who inaugurated the method of making portraits in the semblance of old English engravings.

While in Honolulu Mr. Alexander has made portraits for practically all of the most prominent society folk. Among the pictures which represent the most wonderful pieces of work are those made of members of the families of C. M. Cooke, A. L. Castle, W. R. Castle, Jr., John Waterhouse, Albert Waterhouse, C. H. Atherton, A. N. Campbell, Walter Macfarlane, Robert Shingle, John Cull, Dr. A. G. Hodgins and Walter Dillingham. Of these, probably the best were of little John Waterhouse, Dr. Hodgins' baby, C. H. Atherton's daughters, Robert Shingle's little son, and an exquisite portrait of little Lowell Dillingham taken with Mrs. Charles Atherton's black chow dog.

Besides offering so much in an artistic way the event will be quite a brilliant social affair also. A large number of prominent society women have consented to act as patronesses and society in general is keenly excited over the exhibition and is eagerly anticipating the same. A Hawaiian quintette will play throughout the two hours, and refreshments will be served. The list of patronesses will appear in next Saturday's Star-Bulletin society column.

Mr. and Mrs. Paxson's Dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Paxson entertained at a delightful dinner party on last Monday evening at the Moana hotel in celebration of the first anniversary of their wedding. The table was beautifully decorated in lavender and green. A large basket of lovely lavender asters made a charming centerpiece while at each end of the table were smaller baskets filled with these attractive flowers. Sprays of maidenhair and other greens were placed artistically about on the snowy cloth.

During the dinner, the Hawaiian band rendered excellent selections. Covers were placed for Mrs. L. E. Kelly, Miss Laura Kelly, Captain and Mrs. John L. Jordan, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Ketchum, Dr. Alfred Wall, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Church, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bellina, Mr. and Mrs. T. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. William Patten, Mr. Harry Bruner and Mr. and Mrs. Paxson.

After dinner dancing was enjoyed during the remainder of the evening.

Miss Biegert Complimented.
Mrs. Irwin Beadle was hostess at a delightful little supper party on last Sunday evening at her home at Waikiki in honor of Miss H. E. Biegert, who sailed for the coast on the Matsonia Wednesday. The table was decorated in an exquisite shade of lavender, the color scheme being carried out in petunias. Satin candle shades of the same delicate lavender tone, subdued the lights.

Covers were placed for six.

On Monday night of the past week the most successful of the series of "Ladies' Nights" was in progress at the rooms of the regimental mess and until a late hour auction and dancing were indulged in by the members of the garrison and a few visitors from outside. Those who helped make the evening the success that all of them should be were Colonel French, Captain and Mrs. Malone, Colonel and Mrs. Atkinson, Captain and Mrs. Gibbs, Captain F. P. Jackson, Lieutenant and Mrs. Fredendall, Mrs. M. J. Lenihan, the Misses Lenihan, Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Roe, Mrs. L. O. Mathews, Miss Rosenbaum, and Captain W. R. Gibson. Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson who has been the guest of her brother Captain A. J. Macnab of the 14th Infantry at the latter's post at Fort Lawton, Wash., has now returned to San Francisco on September 5. Captain Jackson who has been unofficially advised that he has been assigned under his recent promotion to a company of the 1st Infantry at Schofield Barracks is now engaged in preparing for the move that is incident to his orders and expects to be prepared upon receipt of the official orders to move to his new post without delay. Both Captain and Mrs. Jackson will be greatly missed by their old regiment and the home is entertained that Captain Jackson may be transferred again a member of the 2d Infantry.

The approaching month will see Fort Shafter again what is practically a deserted village as regards officers and men as the regimental march is scheduled to take place during the month and the troops will be absent from their post for at least two weeks. It is understood that a stay of several days at Haleiwa is contemplated and if the report be true then numerous visitors from among the ladies of the garrison may be expected at the hotel at that place during the continuance of the camp at that point.

Letters from Captain and Mrs. Joseph C. Kay of the 2d Infantry who are spending the Captain's leave of absence in San Francisco speak of the delightful visit that the travelers are having with Mrs. Kay's sister, Mrs. Peter E. Marquart, wife of Major Marquart of the 12th Infantry, at the comfortable quarters of the Marquart's at the Presidio of San Francisco. Captain and Mrs. Kay are not expected to return to Fort Shafter before the middle of October.

Colonel and Mrs. French, Colonel and Mrs. Atkinson, Captain and Mrs. Malone, Major H. O. Williams, Captain and Mrs. Jamerson, Mrs. Lenihan and the Misses Lenihan, Major E. V. Smith and Lieutenant Campanole were among those from the garrison who were guests at the reception given by Colonel and Mrs. F. P. Reynolds in honor of Colonel and Mrs. C. S. Brownwell at the Country club on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. William P. Wooten, who accompanied Major Wooten on the latter's recent change of station from Honolulu en route to Washington Barracks, has been a visitor at Lake Ta'ala for the time since her arrival in California and expects to remain at that resort until the middle of September and will then visit at her home in Louisville before proceeding to Major Wooten's new post.

Major F. V. Smith and Lieut. Nicholas W. Campanole were among the guests at a dinner on board the Alert given by Lieut. Welch on Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. D. L. Howell of Schofield Barracks and her house guests, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Howell's daughter, and Miss Massey of Sheridan, Wyoming.

Mrs. C. S. Brownwell, Miss Brownwell, Miss Campbell and Mr. Brownwell were guests of Colonel and Mrs. Atkinson on Wednesday night at the picture play, "Count of Monte Cristo," at the alameda. Other visitors in the post on that evening were Lieutenant and Mrs. Besson and Captain Mudd.

Miss Catherine Lenihan was hostess at an informal but jolly evening at home in honor of Miss Edwards and Miss Porter on Friday of this week. Miss Lenihan's other guests for the evening of dancing were Lieutenants Calder, Rose, Lyman and Hardigg.

Mrs. William R. Gibson of the garrison who has been on an extended visit with her sister in San Francisco is expected to return by the Wilhelmina, arriving in Honolulu on Tuesday next. Mrs. Gibson has been away from the post for over two months.

BUSINESSMAN IS SAID TO BE SOON QUITTING HAWAII

Administration Credited With Making R. M. Morton's Stay Here Impossible

Robert M. Morton, superintendent of the American Can Company of Honolulu, intends to leave the islands for California, according to a statement credited to him by the Evening Tribune of Pendleton, Oregon. The Tribune says that this statement is made direct to it in a communication.

Mr. Morton when shown the article by the Star-Bulletin stated that the communication quoted was entirely personal and written without any thought of publication. His leaving the islands, he said further, has nothing to do with business conditions here, nor was he responsible for the personal allusions, especially as to being "general manager," the company having no office or that rank connected with any of its plants. He has no objection to the printing of his views on business conditions in Hawaii at present, saying, "They are just about as I see things."

The Tribune of August 6 declares: "One finds a state of affairs in the Hawaiian Islands that leaves no question of the times during the troubled days."

Apart from the general reports touched upon in places with optimism there comes a direct statement of affairs in the archipelago upon the irrefutable authority of a leading business man of Honolulu and who makes his statement direct to the Evening Tribune in a communication.

Is Leaving—Blames Administration.
"Robert M. Morton is general manager of the American Can Company. He is known in these parts, where he has visited friends. He now announces his intention of leaving the islands for California, until such time as business gets better in the islands. Of the magnitude of his concern he states the cannery grew from a capacity of 3,000,000 cans to 54,000,000 cans a year during his management and he found things in a high state of prosperity until the past year or so.

"He says:
"Business here in the Hawaiian islands is pretty quiet, and is certainly hard hit by the present Democratic administration. There have been plenty of failures and stocks have dropped fully 50 per cent."

"Mr. Morton goes on to explain that many of the plantations are running at a heavy loss, and are only hanging on, desperately, in a wild hope that conditions will change somehow, and give all a chance to retrieve their lost fortunes.

"He also makes the significant statement that he believes not one Democrat will be elected in the Hawaiian Islands in the coming election. The voters and all the thinking people here, it seems, sustained too heavy a loss to make any further experiments with the administration, and mean to know what they are getting next time. Fruit Men Desperate.

"Commenting upon the ominous state of affairs that has brought the planters and exporters to the verge of ruin in the islands, Mr. Morton states that many places will be forced to close unless a quick and favorable change occurs. Fresh pineapples that sold for $20 and $21 a ton a year or two ago are now going as low as $3.50. Some of the growers have term contracts with the packers on a sliding scale, and they are getting $11.15 a ton for their pine. As it costs, on an average, about $14 to raise the pine, the loss is apparent. In fact, states Mr. Morton, thousands of tons have even gone as low as $5 to $3 a ton. No Market for Fruit.

"But this, it seems, does not tell the worst of the tale. There are about 8000 tons of fruit unsold on the islands at this time. This supply, perishable as it is, stands ready to be taken away for $2.50 or any price that can be obtained.

"While these facts are covered by market reports officially, the statement assumes local interest by Mr. Morton's acquaintance with this section of Eastern Oregon, and becomes authentic by reason of his high standing as manager of a leading industry of Honolulu."

AUGUST NUMBER OF 'CHILDHOOD' IS ATTRACTIVE

The August number of Childhood, just off the press with its striking and catchy cover, contains much to interest not only the children of Hawaii but grown-ups as well.

The "Simon Says" page deals with "Sir Knights and Lady Knights" in a wholesome way. There is something about the "Campfire Girls" of particular interest to the young folks of Hawaii, many good short poems, a well-selected assortment of humorous sayings and verses, and "The Children's Hour" deals with swimming and advice to bathers. The Sub Club contains an offer that will be found attractive. One article that is of general importance is that on Children's Interests at the San Francisco fair.

The book is tastefully illustrated with appropriate photographs. Miss Sara D. Featherstone, the editor, makes announcement that she will open her Open-Air School, Diamond Head, on September 9. This is the second year of the school.

LEAHI HOME TO BENEFIT BY PLAY ENTIRELY LOCAL

Home Talent Will Depict Home Scenes, Words and Music from Homemade Pens

As it was written in this city by a local resident, and as its setting is the pit of the world-famous volcano of Kilauea, therefore it is natural that Honolulu lovers of good theatricals should be the persons to witness the initial production of "The Spirit of Hawaii," a three-act vaudeville sketch from the pen of Edward A. Douthitt.

The author of the sketch has arranged to produce it at the Opera House for three nights next month during Regatta week. Honolulu theater-goers will benefit through what is promised to be three evenings of keen interest and enjoyment; and Leahi Home, which takes care of the city's tubercular patients, is going to benefit through having turned over to it the proceeds of the three productions. The local try-out of "The Spirit of Hawaii" will be purely a benefit for the home.

The very few persons who have read the sketch predict that it will meet with instant favor in the eyes of the thousands who witness "big time" vaudeville on the mainland, where it is to be introduced shortly after its initial production here. It has jumped into instant favor with the Chamber of Commerce, the Ad Club and the Promotion Committee and, when taken to the mainland, will be produced under the auspices of the last-named organization as a promotion feature. At a meeting of the Ad Club last Wednesday, a committee was appointed to assist the author in securing the necessary talent to complete the cast.

Regarding the three productions here Regatta week, already local talent is being volunteered, and society is taking a keen interest.

For the local productions, W. H. Hutton will be seen in the role of the English playwright who dreams the dream that serves as a plot for the sketch. As Lehua, the immortal dweller of the volcano, Miss Fenella Miles, familiarly known as the "Ad Club Girl," promises to gain unqualified success. She is a sweet singer, is ambitious and energetic, and is proving an apt pupil in the role. Mr. Hutton's splendid tenor voice will be heard to great advantage, and a number of musical features, arranged by Prof. Carl Miltner, will be included which will add to the interest of the sketch. Preliminary rehearsals now are progressing at an excellent rate under the direction of D. William Douthitt and, as soon as the remaining parts in the cast are filled, a general rehearsal will be called.

HAROLD BAUER'S DATE CHANGED

Harold Bauer, the great pianist, has changed his plans about coming on the Canadian liner Makura, possibly on account of war conditions, and instead will voyage from Australia on the Oceanic liner Sonoma, according to cablegram to Manager W. D. Adams of the Opera House.

Manager Adams announced today that Bauer's piano recital will be held on the evening of September 14 at the Opera House. Tickets go on sale at the Promotion Committee rooms on Monday morning, September 7.

AN EASY WAY TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This masterpiece of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its re-generative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

Caution:—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

The vessel, it is said, will be sold or chartered to British owners and will be operated in the transatlantic trade. She will probably retain her American registry.

W. P. Kenney, president of the Great Northern Steamship Company, who has been in Seattle several days, refused yesterday either to confirm or deny the report. The desire to dispose of the Minnesota is said to be due to plans to devote the energies of the company to operating the new liners Great Northern and Northern Pacific between Astoria, Ore., and San Francisco. If the Minnesota is removed the Great Northern Steamship Company's offices will be shifted to Astoria.

The Minnesota has always been a white elephant on the hands of the Great Northern, according to Tacoma waterfrontmen. Several years ago a sister vessel, the Dakota, was caught in a tide and carried ashore in the Orient. Since then the Minnesota has been operating alone. Capt. Garlick, master of the Minnesota, is a Tacoma.

COMMERCIAL NOTES

Many plantations in Kohala district are running over their estimates.

Henry H. Perry, formerly head luna of Union Mill, is now manager of Hala-wa plantation.

Two of the chief local authorities on sugar matters left for the mainland in the steamer Matsonia this week—E. D. Tenney, first vice president and manager of Castle & Cooke, Ltd., and A. M. Nowell, manager of the Sugar Factors Co., Ltd.

Ewa mill has ground 30,700 tons of sugar this season, of which 924 tons belongs to Apokaa plantation.

Excessive rain and bad roads are causing heavy loss to pineapple growers at Kulaha, Maui. Fruit is left rotting in the fields and the roadside is strewn with pineapples thrown off loads to relieve the horses. While last year's pines were hauled at $1 a ton, this year it costs $2.50. Stanley Livingston estimates he has lost 50 tons of fruit, and others tell a like story.

A preliminary estimate of the Hawaiian coffee crop, made by J. M. McChesney, is 45,000 bags, of which Kona furnishes 40,000. Cable advices this week report coffee prices advancing, without final quotations in New York where the exchange closed August 5. Coast papers of August 18 quote Hawaiian worth 16½c to 16¾c for fancy, grading down to 9¾c to 11¾c for low grades. No. 7 Rio was quoted at 7¾c New York.

Operations of the reorganized Engels Copper Mining Co. to August 3 are reported to local stockholders by Elmer E. Paxton, manager. The new flotation mill will be completed November 1, with a minimum capacity of 150 ore tons and maximum of 400 tons daily. With ore averaging five per cent copper sulphides, and working at minimum capacity, the company expects to produce daily 25 per cent of copper valued at $60 to $75 per ton. The company now has 60 claims of 20 acres each, or 1200 acres of mineral lands. The balance sheet shows capital stock and accounts payable $1,506,170.84. Against this are treasury stock and discount on shares sold, $536,751. The value of the real estate and old equipment stands at $798,214.60; cash accounts receivable, $74,204.14. The remainder of the plant is valued at $97,000.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN DRILL REGULATION FOR THE CAVALRY

Double-Rank Plan Has Drawbacks, in Opinion of Conservative Critics

Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent. SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Aug. 29.—To an outsider the big innovation brought about by the new provisional cavalry drill regulations is the change from the single to the double rank formation, but to the cavalryman the important step is the greatly increased flexibility and the facility with which a regiment or larger unit can be maneuvered under the new system.

It is a pretty sight to watch the 4th Cavalry maneuvering on the big drill ground at Schofield Barracks, dashing from one formation to another, and without a sound save the dull thud of 4000 hoofs. No shouted commands, repeated all along the line as in the old drill. The faint echo of a whistle followed by a wave of the colonel's arm, and quick as lightning, without a word spoken or a command given, a quick change of formation, from column to line, from line to column, from a mass formation to one with wide intervals, a change of front or a sudden halt, men dismounting with their rifles to fight on foot. In the twinkling of an eye a long line of skirmishers sweeps the ground and advancing by rushes in the face of an imaginary shrapnel fire, with the horses under charge of a handful of men rushing to the rear in perfect order to find shelter in some protecting ravine.

Both mounted and dismounted it is all a matter of "follow the leader." If the leader changes the direction of march himself, the squadrons behind him swing on the center through the necessary angle. Every trooper is watching the leader to catch his signals and to do his bidding. There are some in the cavalry who are enthusiastic about the double-rank formation, but the viewpoint of the most conservative is that this new system of handling cavalry can be applied to the single-rank formation with practically the same flexibility and control.

The double-rank formation offers to both shrapnel and rifle fire a greater probability of demoralizing effect, and is rather hard on the trooper in the rear rank, who must ride in the dust of his front rank file and be splattered with mud by the horse in front of him. What the double-rank does is to miss a greater number of troopers under one leader than is possible by any other formation, which means a formidable force of cavalry with unit control and with the flexibility of the old-time troop.

The new drill regulations which are only tentative will probably undergo considerable alterations, and improvement before being finally adopted. Every cavalry officer has some pet scheme of his own which he is anxious to have come up for consideration by the Cavalry Board.

Ever since the Civil War and during the Indian troubles in the West, the principal training of cavalry has been along the lines of developing its efficiency as mounted infantry, with mounted shock action a subordinate consideration. Now the pendulum has swung the other way and the new drill goes to the other extreme, making mounted shock action the principal role of cavalry, with the horse and the sabre the principal weapons, and dismounted action with the rifle one of the least important functions. It is the old school of Frederick the Great that has been followed by European cavalry to the present day. The Civil War taught the United States the value of the rifle as a weapon for cavalry, and the Boers in the Boer War taught the British. Other nations have been slow in realizing that the magazine rifle has greatly diminished the opportunities that cavalry will have for using shock action, but its more modern role as mounted infantry has increased the value of cavalry a hundred fold.

The pendulum is bound to swing back, and it is hoped that it will stop at a proper mean and give all the functions of cavalry their proper relative importance.

Inter-Company Rifle Competitions Popular With The National Guard

Winning Team of Co. A.

There is a lot of interest in rifle competitions between various companies of the National Guard at the present time, and some good work has been done on the Kakaako range. Company A, 1st Infantry, N. G. H., commanded by Capt. H. P. O'Sullivan, was the winner last week over Company B, Capt. Paul Super, and the A company team is out with a general challenge to shoot a 12-man team against any outfit in the regiment.

Following is the result of the rifle match held at the Kakaako range, August 22, between 12 men from Company A, and 12 men from Company B, 1st Infantry, N. G. H., under the following conditions:

At 200 yds. 5 shots each, kneeling.	293 yds. kneeling, score	238
At 200 yds. 5 shots each, sitting.	279 yds. sitting, score	253
At 300 yds. 5 shots each, prone.	299 yds. prone, score	241
At 500 yds. 10 shots each, prone.	500 yds. prone, score	456
No sighting shots at any of the ranges.	Total	1184
Results: Company A—	Company B—	1154

U. S. MILITARY ACADEMY GRADUATES OVERSUPPLY ARMY

WASHINGTON.—The West Point Military Academy is now turning out second lieutenants faster than there is room for them in the army. The class of 1914 did not find sufficient vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant to accommodate all the members, and the class of 1915, which will contain 175 men, probably will be similarly situated. This will mean that it will be necessary to carry some of the West Point graduates as additional second lieutenants pending vacancies in that grade.

of the army, by 60 commissioned officers to form an aviation branch, would be making that number of extra second lieutenants, not only to be carried by all the West Point graduates, but also necessitate appointments from civilians but that will not be the case, it is said.

The aviation corps will be filled by the detail of officers to the signal corps. Six first lieutenants have been detailed as captains, and six second lieutenants have been detailed as first lieutenants. The increase in its entirety, however, will not be finished for some time.

Fort Shafter Notes

Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent. FORT SHAFTER, August 29.—Under a recent amendment to the army regulations the duty of witnessing the proficiency test of organizations armed with the rifle now devolves upon the department commander in person instead of being a part of the prescribed duty of an officer of the inspector general's department. To that end General Carter has been informed that the test for the companies of the 2d Infantry will take place on the 2d of September on the Fort Shafter target range, and has indicated his approval of the date selected and will be present, accompanied by a number of his staff, when the firing begins. The problems to be used have been received at the post and Lieut. Wood A. Cook, the post range officer, has commenced work on the pit locations and other preliminaries for the test firing. Colonel French, as regimental commander, will be in immediate charge of the firing and the actual operations will be commenced by the companies of the 1st battalion, followed in order by the companies of the 2d and 3d battalions of the regiment.

Under a letter of instruction from the headquarters of the department, the commanding officer of the department hospital will in future serve as assistant mustering officer to all mustering officers throughout the department in so far as mustering such enlisted men as may be patients in that hospital on muster dates. By this plan much correspondence and the preparation of the extra muster rolls for detachments of organizations will be entirely obviated. The commanding officer of the hospital will, after each muster, furnish each organization commander with the necessary certificate covering the presence in hospital of the members of the organization and these certificates will serve as the needed verification of that status of the men concerned.

2d Lieut. Frederick A. Barker, at his own request, has been relieved as battalion quartermaster and commissary of the 3d battalion of the 2d Infantry and assigned to Company F. To succeed Lieutenant Barker in the position on the staff of the battalion commander, Major Williams has recommended the appointment of 2d Lieut. William A. Reed, and this recommendation has been approved by the regimental commander and the appointment made effective as of the date of the 27th inst. Under the same date 2d Lieut. Woodfin G. Jones, unassigned, has been assigned to Company E of the regiment.

Company D of the 2d Infantry has commenced the construction of a company amusement and reading room and plans to have a structure second to none in the garrison for that purpose. The building is located on the line of similar structures built by Companies A and C, and when completed will afford ample accommodations for the pool table as well as for library and reading tables and general rest room.

NAVY MAY BE GIVEN CONTROL OF SEA SERVICE

Amalgamation of Revenue, Lighthouse and Transport Branches Considered

Collector of Customs Malcolm A. Franklin now en route to Washington D. C. may figure with prominence in a conference with Secretary Daniels at Washington concerning an amalgamation of the revenue service, the lighthouse service and the transport service with the United States navy.

The revenue service in the district of Hawaii comes under the direct jurisdiction of Collector of Customs Franklin, and with it the operation and maintenance of the revenue cutter Thetis.

Twenty years ago there was a movement to incorporate the revenue cutter service then as now under the direction of the treasury department, with the navy department. This arose from the desire of officers in the revenue cutter service to receive the benefit of the retirement provision for navy officers. Later a retirement provision was made for revenue cutter officials and the proposition of a merger was dropped.

A vast amount of legislation would be required of congress to accomplish the suggested changes, and according to those conversant with the law that applies to the situation, three sessions would be required to adjust matters and change the laws and regulations which now provide that the treasury department shall run the revenue vessels, the war department the transports, and the department of commerce the lighthouse tenders.

In this country, it is stated, the vessels of the revenue service have always given a good account of themselves when there was war, the Mc Cullough having taken part in the battle of Manila in the war with Spain.

All lighthouse tenders were armed during the Spanish-American war, and were under the control of the navy. This branch, which, in times of peace, is under control of the department of commerce, now has 39 vessels.

In England the army transports are under the control of the admiralty, and are officered and manned from the English navy.

Thus it appears that there is much in which to justify the control of all government vessels by the navy. It is pointed out that it would give the navy a large body of officers and men trained for naval service, as duties in the various branches would be made interchangeable.

THREE GREAT GENERALS LEADING WARRING POWERS

Two great generals are leading the armies of the allies against Germany in defense of the frontier of France. General Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French forces, and Field Marshal Sir John D. P. French, chief of the Imperial General Staff of Great Britain. General Joffre is a master of the technicalities of warfare. In the business of war General French has had comparatively recent actual experience. General Joffre, too, has been in actual battle, but that was in 1870, when, as a boyish lieutenant, he commanded a battery during the siege of Paris in the Franco-Prussian war.

General Joffre is 62 years old. He entered the army at 18 years of age and served through the Franco-Prussian war. He led the French forces that occupied the town of Timbuctoo and later became military governor of the organization of that province. General Joffre returned to France and was given high office in the army. He is an expert artillery officer and a lover of mathematics, which play no small part in warfare. General Joffre is generally credited with having brought the French army to the point of efficiency that only recently brought forth words of praise from all parts of Europe.

Little more than a year ago General Joffre went to Russia and received marked consideration at the hands of the Czar and the Grand Duke Nicholas during the Russian army maneuvers. He has been noted for his discipline. During recent army maneuvers in France General Joffre summarily removed five French generals for their inability to stand the physical tests. He has demanded as high a physical standard for officers as for rank and file.

Field Marshal Sir John French gained his name in the South African war, where he saw much active service. He is considered, next to Lord Roberts and Kitchener, the best army officer in Great Britain. He is an expert cavalry officer and commanded Lord Roberts' cavalry division during the Cape Town campaign and at the relief of Kimberley. Sir John was born in 1852, a son of Captain French of the British navy. He served four years in the navy and then entered the militia. Later he joined the Nineteenth Hussars and after several years of peace with that regiment went to the Nile campaign and took part in Sir Herbert Stewart's fruitless dash across the desert to save Gordon. Sir John also took part in the battles of Abu Klea, Gubat and Metemneh. In 1899 he was made commanding officer of the Nineteenth Hussars.

At the outbreak of the South African war Sir John commanded a cavalry division in Natal. At the battle of Elandsbaagte he was virtually in command, for Sir George White, arriving when the fight was nearly over, declined to supersede him as commander and thus avoided robbing Sir John of any of the credit. General French afterward took part in the battles of Relifontaine and Lombard's Kop. Just before the siege of Ladysmith, when the Boers were drawing in their lines, Sir George White felt it would be useless to keep so good a cavalry officer bottled up and therefore ordered French to leave, which he did by the last train, bringing the gauntlet of the Boer outposts.

During the dark period of the war Sir John French commanded the center before Cape Town and with an inadequate cavalry force succeeded, through months of constant fighting, in preventing the Boers from occupying Cape Town. On his arrival with reinforcements Lord Roberts placed General French in command of his cavalry division. In the advance to the relief of Kimberley, the garrison and population of which were in dire straits Sir John, with his entire cavalry division, dashed ahead of the main forces, although the veldt was swarming with commandos, and galloped into Kimberley after ninety-six hours of fierce fighting. He had literally cut his way through the lines of the besiegers. When peace was declared Sir John went to Aldershot as commander of the First Army Corps. From 1907 to 1911 he held the high post of inspector general of the forces. Since 1911 he has been chief of the imperial general staff and first military member of the army council.

General Helmuth Von Moltke, chief of the Kaiser's general staff, and commander-in-chief of all the German army forces, was born in May 23, 1818, in Gersdorf, Mecklenburg. He attended the gymnasium at Rendsburg and became a cornet on April 1, 1839. In 1870 he was promoted to lieutenant and took part with distinction in the war against France, being decorated with the Iron Cross of the second class. In 1881 he was assigned to the general staff of the army. In 1881 he was made captain on the general staff, and in 1882 he became second adjutant to the chief of the general staff of the army, General Field Marshal Count von Moltke. With the retirement of Field Marshal von Moltke as chief of the general staff of the army and his appointment to the presidency of the land apportionment commission, Captain von Moltke, who at that time was serving as his personal adjutant, became in 1888 a major of the line.

On the death of Field von Marshal von Moltke, his uncle, in 1891, he became aide-de-camp to the Kaiser. In 1891, he became major general and commandant at Potsdam. He has been chief of the general staff of the army since February 16, 1904. As chief of the general staff he succeeded Field Marshal Count von Schlieffen. The latter, who was nearly 73 years old, was kicked severely by a horse and crippled. A rule of the German general staff is that no one not physically sound may remain on it.

ARMY SANITARIUM MAY BE ESTABLISHED NEAR THE VOLCANO

Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent. HILO, Aug. 25.—Major General Carter, U. S. A., who arrived in Hilo on the cruiser South Dakota, when asked if there was any possibility of the United States establishing a sanatorium near Kilauea volcano, replied that he thought that a scheme to establish a place where soldiers who had been ill in hospital on Oahu could rest up, would be a good idea. As for the rest of the army, the general said that Oahu was such a healthy place that no sanatorium was needed on Hawaii.

The general stated that he was in favor of long hikes for the soldiers and that regular marches were nearly always in progress on Oahu. He thought that Hawaii would provide fine tramping grounds for the troops and he has in mind a scheme whereby a transport might be located in Hawaiian waters in order that battalions of troops could be easily transported from one island to the other. However, as transports are rather scarce now, there did not appear to be much chance, just at present, of securing one for Hawaii.

The sanatorium proposition was put up to the general by the members of the Hilo board of trade and the high military officer, while declaring himself in favor of a ration house and accommodations for convalescent soldiers at Kilauea, could not approve of a sanatorium for the soldiers as a whole.

HYMN BEFORE ACTION.

The earth is full of anger,
The seas are dark with wrath,
The nations in their harness
Go up against our path;
Ere yet we lose the legions—
Ere yet we draw the blade,
Jehovah of the Thunders,
Lord God of Battles, aid!

High lust and forward bearing,
Proud heart, rebellious brow—
Deaf ear and soul uncaring,
We seek Thy mercy now!
The sinner that foreswore Thee,
The fool that passed Thee by,
Our times are known before Thee—
Lord, grant us strength to die!

From panic, pride and terror,
Revenge that knows no rein,
Light haste and lawless error,
Protect us yet again;
Cloak Thou our undervising,
Make firm the shuddering breath,
In silence and unswerving
To taste Thy lesser death!

Even now their vanguard gathers,
Even now we face the fray—
As Thou didst help our fathers,
Help Thou our host today!
Fulfilled of signs and wonders,
In life, in death made clear—
Jehovah of the Thunders,
Lord God of Battles, hear!

Yes, Many Golfers Will Come Here If We Only Get Busy And Invite Them

They won't go to the links at St. Andrew's—and they can't go to Baden Baden, Nice, Vienna, Rheims, Nantes, Basle, Venice and other European resorts, as the war prevents.

But no war bothers Hawaii—and the Tourists will realize this if we tell them so.

Of course it takes some money to tell the world of Hawaii's attractions—and it takes some money to render Hawaii's attractions more accessible after the visitors come—but it surely is a wise investment that brings big returns for a small outlay.
