THE FRANCHISE AND NATURALIZATION.

Much interest naturally has arisen over the question of whether foreigners who register as voters become naturalized Hawaiians. There is no doubt, we are advised, that the intention of the framers of the Constitution was that foreigners so registering should not thereby forfeit their rights and privileges as citizens of the countries from which they came. Taken for granted that this intention is not defeated by the wording of the instrument, there is no doubt in the matter so far as this country is concerned. It would then only be necessary to know what the Governments of countries having citizens here to protect may decree in the matter. Upon this point there is unquestionably a doubt existing, and, if we are correctly informed, the diplomatic representative of at least one Power has asked his Government for instructions in the matter. From a common sense view there would not seem to be reason for foreign Governments cutting off their subjects for availing themselves of a privilege accorded them by the Government of this country. The question should turn on the point of whether foreigners as constituents of the Hawaiian Legislature would be liable to participation in acts prejudicial to the interests of their respective home Governments British subjects in the North American or Australian Colonies probably have more scope for antagonizing British Imperial interests than have British voters in the Hawaiian Kingdom. In other words, are not the restrictions of international law in that respect, together with the interest of a small nation in preserving a friendly attitude toward a great power, as stringent as anything in the relations subsisting between the Imperial and Colonial Governments? As to the point raised about the singularity of a man having a vote in two countries, it has to be shown that such a predicament is probable. At least a year's residence is a necessary qualification to vote in any franchise we have ever heard of, and a man with sufficient business interests both here and in the United States, for instance, to enable him to so vibrate in his residency between the two countries as to qualify him for a vote in both, ought to deserve the dual privilege. If such a condition should be deemed improper, it would certainly be so rare as to make the evil one of exceedingly minute degree.

Pacific Hose Company.

At the special meeting of the Pacific Hose Company held last evening, they decided after a long debate to issue certificates of equipment to only those who are uniformed, which is the interpretation given by the Acting Chief of the word "equipment," although those present could not see what good a uniform was. If they went home to put their "equipment" on every time the fire bell rang, of what use would the department be? They considered that their hose carriage and the other apparatus necessary at a fire constituted the equipment. However, to close up any loophole that may exist, they decided that a special meeting be held next Monday evening, all members appearing in full uniform, viz., a belt, cap, red shirt and dark pants, when the certificates of equipment will be issued. A committee of ten, consisting of Messrs. Zeigler, Dee, Gertz, Kanecke, Whigham, Venker, Pomeroy, Isaacs, Coghlin and Gracier, was appointed to see all members of the company and ensure that they appear properly uniformed. Mr. Peter Jones was elected secretary vice Mr. Robertson, resigned.

The foreign jury are notified to appear at the Supreme Court this afternoon at one o'clock. It is expected that the libel case of J. S. Walker and P. S. Pratt against A. T. Atkinson will come on for trial at that hour.

THOROUGH TUITION.

Yesterday the HERALD representative visited the Fort-street School, in order to examine some of the work done there, free from the hampering crowd of closing day.

Chief of the specialties of the Fort-street School is undoubtedly its teaching of English. Principal Scott is most enthusiastic on this branch, having proved the excellence of his method in Japan as well as here.

Mr. Dole took exception to the verdict as contrary to the evidence, and gave notice of motion for a new trial.

Before Judge Bickerton, Intermediary Division, July 21st. Shar York vs. Alo. Assumpsit, claim $150. Appeal from Police Court, Honolulu.

There was a large attendance at the closing exercises of the Royal School. The morning was taken by a general review of the studies by the different classes.

When it is remembered that the roll of scholars comprises children of many different mother tongues, and that the most excellent attainments in English are not proportionately more frequent among those born to that speech than among others, the value of the tuition imparted in this school may be to some extent realized.

Shipping Notes.

The schooner Sarah and Eliza, bound from Ewa to Koolau with a cargo of paddy, was compelled to put into this harbor Wednesday night owing to heavy weather.

The barkentine Ella, Captain E. C. Rust, will sail to-day for San Francisco. Her cargo consists of 2,976 bags sugar, shipped by Castle & Cooke; 243 bags by F. A. Schaefer & Co.; 3,173 by T. H. Davies & Co.; 200 bags rice by Wing Wo Tai & Co.; 850 dry hides by C. Brewer & Co., and 7 gasoline tanks by G. W. Macfarlane & Co.

The schooner Canute took freight from the steamer Surprise yesterday for Hilo and way ports.

The Blue Ribbon League will have its usual entertainment to-morrow evening. The programme prepared by Mr. Scrimgeour is unusually interesting and includes three numbers by "Blues" from H. M. S. Conquest, and a recitation by the Poet Laureate.

SUPREME COURT.

July Term, before Judge Preston.

The case of H. Ackerman, master of the American schooner Geo. C. Perkins, vs. J. H. Congdon, was resumed yesterday and continued throughout the day. The complaint of the plaintiff states that he claims of the defendant five hundred and ninety dollars and sixty three cents ($590.63), for freight and primage on account of two hundred and fifty hogs shipped on board the said schooner on deck in San Francisco on the 28th September, 1886, by the defendant at his risk, for Honolulu; that the schooner arrived in Honolulu on Sunday the 17th October, 1886, and on the next day all the said hogs except about twenty-five which died at sea and were thrown overboard, were delivered to the defendant at Honolulu; that plaintiff claims interest on the above amount from the said 18th October, but that defendant has neglected and refused to pay the amount until the date of the complaint.

The case seemed to turn upon the point of whether the hogs that died were lost through negligence or bad treatment of the captain. On the plaintiff's side evidence was given to show that the hogs suffered from a contagious disease, while the defendant produced testimony to indicate that the fatality was produced by suffocation through want of room and air.

The Court charged the jury that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the full amount, whether the hogs were delivered dead or alive, unless the defendant proved an offset on account of hogs lost through the negligence or bad care of the captain.

Mr. Dole took exception to the verdict as contrary to the evidence, and gave notice of motion for a new trial.

Before Judge Bickerton, Intermediary Division, July 21st. Shar York vs. Alo. Assumpsit, claim $150. Appeal from Police Court, Honolulu.

M. Makue vs. Akana. Assumpsit, claim $37.50. Appeal by defendant from the District Court of Ewa, where on June 9, 1887, judgment was rendered in favor of plaintiff.

The Royal School.

There was a large attendance at the closing exercises of the Royal School. The morning was taken by a general review of the studies by the different classes. At half past eleven the following programme was begun, under the direction of Rev. A. Mackintosh, Principal:

- Opening Chorus—"Rowing Song," School. Music—"The Mermaid's Evening Song," School. Music—"Music on the Waves," School. Dialogue—"William Tell," Knowles—William Tell, Chas. Akau; Gessler, Wm. Kino; Sarnem, Duke; Bov, Aeneas R. Mackintosh. Recitation—"Address of Sergeant Buzfuz," Dickens—Kelekoma Haul. Recitation—"The Bended Bow," Felicia Homans—Napela Harrison. Recitation—"The Vagabonds," J. T. Trowbridge—J. S. Kalakiela. Recitation—"The Frightened Traveler," Anonymous—Wm. Kino. Recitation—"The Country Pedagogue," Valentine—Chas. Akau. Recitation—"Daniel versus Dishclout," Stevens—George Rosa. Recitation—"Hezekiah Bedotte," Witcher—J. S. Kalakiela. Dialogue—"The English Traveler," F. F. D.—Landlord, George Kipa; Traveler, Napela. Dialogue—"The Female Exquisite," F. F. D.—Mrs. Kersey, mother—George Rosa; Becky, her daughter—D. Kamakauhua; Katy, her niece—J. S. Kalakiela; Madge, servant girl—Aeneas R. Mackintosh. Music—"The Beautiful Silver Sea," School. Music—"Buy My Flowers," School. Music—"Sailing by the Lowlands," School. Distribution of Prizes. "Hawaii Pono," School Drill.

The opening choruses were rather flat. The literary part of the programme, however, overweighted the fact, by its excellence. Master Kele-koma Haul distinguished himself in the address of Sergeant Buzfuz, Pickwick. Master J. S. Kalakiela also contributed greatly to amusing those present. Number thirteen on the programme proved entertaining, the different characters being well sustained. The closing choruses were well rendered, making up fully for the defective opening ones.

The prizes were distributed by the Hon. C. R. Bishop, President of the Board of Education. In the remarks he made previous to the distribution he said that it was a great pleasure for him to be called upon to present to the winners such trophies, which their hard study had won. He called the pupils' attention to the fact that anything worth doing is worth doing well. In all the best schools in the United States and France the closing days were attended with presentations which prizes were greatly valued. It should be considered an honor to any boy to win the first prize in the Royal School of Honolulu. He thought Job Nukauna deserved special credit for gaining the first prize, because he lost two months by sickness and made up by extra hard work. As captain of the school he ought to be the boy to set the example to all others and assist the teachers in all ways. He thereupon decorated Master Nukauna with a silver medal, as the first prize.

The second prize was awarded to George Rosa; third to Wm. Kino; the fourth, for best recitation, was awarded to J. S. Kalakiela by a vote of the audience. Kelekoma Haul receiving a number of votes. Following the distribution of prizes the school drill was held. The execution of the different manoeuvres would have done credit to an organization of men.

Band Concert.

A complimentary concert to the Captains and officers of the men-of-war in port this Friday evening at 7:30 at the Hawaiian Hotel. Following is the programme:

- Overture—Festival.....Bach Fantasia—Cornet Solo (Mr. Michiels), Duham Waltz—My Treasure.....Strauss Medley—Recollections of the War.....Beyer Aloha Oe! Aloha Oe! Grand National Fantasia.....Kappay Polka—Cabanis.....Michiels (Cornet solo by Mr. Michiels) Waltz—Jubilee.....Coote God Save the Queen, Star Spangled Banner and Hawaii Pono.

Mr. Chas. Michiels will kindly assist this concert by playing two cornet solos.

Police Court.

Before Justice Dayton, July 21st.

Two cases of drunkenness paid the regular fine of $6 each. Kahalau, charged with assault and battery on one Peleue, was found guilty and fined $4 with $3.40 costs. The case of Ah Ki, charged with committing a nuisance, was continued to the 22nd inst., with three other cases of different charges.

Mr. H. N. McChesney, managing partner in the business of Messrs. M. W. McChesney & Sons in this city, intends leaving for the Coast on the next trip of the Australia. He will take charge of the firm's establishment in San Francisco, and his brother, Mr. Robt. W. McChesney, now there, will come to Honolulu in his place.

SIDE LIGHTS.

CLOTHING ON FIRE.
THE FIRST THING TO BE DONE IN CASE OF SUCH AN ACCIDENT.

A Letter Which Should Be Memorized by Every School-Girl in the Land—What to Do in a Terrible Emergency—Suggestion from a Lecturer.

A girl or woman who meets with this accident should immediately lie down on the floor, and, so any one who goes to her assistance, should instantly, if she still be erect, make her lie down, or, if needful, throw her down into a horizontal position, and keep her in it. Sparks fly upward, and flames ascend. Ignition from below mounts with fearful rapidity; and, as a result, well known experts, the fatal or disfigurement in these lamentable cases is due to the burns inflicted about the neck, neck, face and head, and not to injuries of the lower limbs.

HOW TO GAIN PRECIOUS TIME.

Now, the very moment that the person whose clothes are on fire is in a horizontal position on a flat surface, the flames still ascend, but only into the air, and not encircling their victim. Time is thus gained for further action, and in such a crisis in a fight against fire, a few seconds are precious, nay, priceless. Once in the prone position the person afflicted may crawl to a bed-pull or to a door, so as to clutch at the one or open the other to obtain help. The draught from an open door into the room would serve to blow the flames, if any, away from the body; or again, still crawling, the sufferer may be able to secure a rug or table cover, or other articles at hand to smother any remaining flames. I say remaining flames, for as soon as the horizontal position is assumed they have no longer much to feed upon, and may either go out, as the phrase is, or may be accidentally or intentionally extinguished as the person rolls or moves upon the floor. In any case, not only is time gained, but the injury inflicted is minimized.

In the event of the condition not being those of self help but of assistance from another, if it be a man who comes to the rescue, having first and instantly thrown the girl or woman down, it is easy to take off his coat and so stifle the diminished flame with this or some other suitable covering, the flames playing now upward from the lower limbs or lower part of the body of the prostrate fellow creature. If it be a woman who rushes to give aid, this last-named condition suggests that the safer mode of rendering it is to approach the sufferer by the head, and fling something thence over the lower part of the body, for fear of setting fire to herself.

If in these fearful accidents the horizontal position be assumed or suffered, there would be, in short, comparative immunity and limited injury. If not, what must happen! The fire will mount, the flames and it is these which do the injury will envelop the body, inside and outside the clothes, and will reach the neck and head, and then, indeed, they may be smothered by a coat, or wrapper, or rug, while the victim is frightfully disfigured or is doomed to perish.

A SUGGESTION OF GREAT VALUE.

For many years I have urged these views, while lecturing on injuries from burns; and hence I had an occasion to illustrate them practically, though in a comparatively trivial accident. Some dressings of a very inflammatory character caught fire at the bedside of a patient in one of my surgical wards; they were promptly seized by a student, who threw them into the middle of the ward, and endeavored to stamp out the flaming material. But this containing paraffin and resin, adhered to his boots, and his legs, as he danced about, were getting uncomfortably hot. To his astonishment, and to the undoubted surprise of every one in sight, I caught him by the collar of his coat and trip, put up his legs. Instantly the flames became harmless, and were extinguished by a nurse throwing a jug of water on them.

I have often thought that on the approach of the winter season there should be at every school, whether board, voluntary or private, whether for girls or boys, an address, if not an actual demonstration by means of suitable models, pointing out what should be done in these special calamities. If two upright models were prepared alike and simultaneously set on fire, one being thrown after two seconds and one after thirty seconds, or at any other two different times, the memories of children would receive a lasting and it might be a serviceable impression.—John Marshall, F. R. S.

The Early Use of Artillery.

When Ronulus was marking out the limits of his new city gunpowder was already known, and 2,000 years before the birth of Schwartz pieces of ordnance had been cast in China. The Moors used guns in Spain in the beginning of 1500, if not in 1100. The claims of the Chinese having now been generally admitted, it is supposed that ordnance reached Europe through the Moors of Spain or the Venetians. Neither, however, had any connection with China. It is unaccountable that it should not have been perceived by the Turks, who conquered the northern portion of China in the early part of the thirteenth century and were established all around the Black sea, with the exception of a strip between Varna and the Bosphorus.

It is now doubted whether, indeed, the black prince did use guns at the battle of Cressy; but there is no doubt that Murad I had before then employed them at the battle of Cosova. On both sides they were used, the Turks having already instructed the populations with whom they were at war. Employing artillery in the field, it was easy (reversing the process in Europe) to apply it to fortresses; the peculiar nature of the straits of the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles invited its use. To the batteries placed above Constantinople is attributed the fall of that city, the supplies from the Black sea being cut off.—National Review.

Cotton Seed for Fattening Pigs.

E. M. of Georgia, has fed cotton-seed to pigs, with a small amount of corn meal—the cotton seed being cooked and the corn meal stirred in after the cotton-seed had been boiling half an hour, and after boiling another half hour it was allowed to stand for some hours before being fed. When fed three pounds of cotton-seed and two pounds of corn meal each, the pigs gained very rapidly—a dozen pigs gained an average of two pounds each per day. He says cotton-seed is not one-half as valuable as corn as hog food, and yet when fed in this way with corn meal the gain was more than with twice the weight of corn alone.—Chicago Times.

Stockland the Workman's Paradise.

Friends, in his new work, "Oceania," calls Auckland the workman's paradise, and says that $3 shillings 6s a day is the common wages, and the cost of living is less than in England. A poor clergyman's wife asked the price of some hot house grapes, and when told laid them down with a sigh, at which the dealer sympathizingly remarked: "Tisn't the likes of you that can afford them grapes; we keep them for the workmen's ladies."—Chicago Herald.

THE EQUITABLE
Life Assurance Society
OF THE UNITED STATES.

Total Assets, Dec. 31, '86, $75,510,472.76.

Total Liabilities, including legal Reserve on all existing policies (4 per cent Standard) $59,154,607.000

Total Undivided Surplus over Four per cent Reserve, $16,355,875.76

Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in general class, is $ 5,728,761.76

Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in Tontine class, is 10,627,114.00

Upon the New York State Standard of 4-1-2 per cent interest, the Surplus is as computed, $30,495,175.76.

New Assurance written in 1886, $113,540,203
Total Outstanding Assurance, $411,779,098

Increase of Premium Income, $2,810,475.40
Increase of Surplus (Four per cent basis), $2,409,636.63
Increase of Assets, $8,957,085.26

In actual Surplus (namely the excess of accumulated funds over liabilities) in Premium Income; in the amount of Assurance in force on its books, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States exceeds every other life assurance company, and may be justly regarded as the largest and strongest life assurance organization in the World.

EXAMPLE

Of Policy No. 67,389. Life, Issued Jan. 22, 1874, on the life of W. H. C. Date of expiration Jan. 22, 1887.
Amount of Policy, $10,000. Tontine Period, 15 years. Age 43. Annual Premium, $543.10.

1. CASH VALUE, Consisting of Reserve, $3,856.30 and Surplus, 4,199.80 $8,056.10

2. PAID-UP VALUE, $13,050.00

3. CASH SURPLUS, $5,199.80

Under this settlement, the policy holder withdraws the surplus in cash, and retains the original policy, continuing the payment of premiums, less annual dividend.

Three other options are available under the Policy.

The policies with 10-year Tontine periods do not show results as satisfactory as those above given. Policies with 20-year periods, on the other hand, will show much larger results than those with 15-year periods; but for purposes of illustration the 15-year policies—those of the intermediate period—are given as fair illustrations.

The longer period of accumulation which the 20-year policies enjoy renders them the most desirable for those who, seeking absolute protection at the lowest "Life" rate, desire also the largest returns in case they live.

Hence the Best Free Tontine "Ordinary Life" Policy is One with a TWENTY-YEAR TONTINE PERIOD

The Free Tontine Policy of the Equitable Life Assurance Society is unrestricted after one year, incontestable after two years, and is then PAYABLE in the event of death, immediately upon the receipt of satisfactory proofs of death.

It guarantees a full share of the surplus earned, and being issued by a Society holding a Larger Surplus than any other Assurance Company,

May be expected to show larger profits than the policies of any other company.

In addition to the advantages above cited, the Equitable now guarantees a full return of all premiums paid as well as the face of the Policy in case of death during the Tontine period.

THE FRANCHISE AND NATURALIZATION.

Much interest naturally has arisen over the question of whether foreigners who register as voters become naturalized Hawaiians. There is no doubt, we are advised, that the intention of the framers of the Constitution was that foreigners so registering should not thereby forfeit their rights and privileges as citizens of the countries from which they came.

At the special meeting of the Pacific Hose Company held last evening, they decided after a long debate to issue certificates of equipment to only those who are uniformed, which is the interpretation given by the Acting Chief of the word "equipment."

The foreign jury are notified to appear at the Supreme Court this afternoon at one o'clock. It is expected that the libel case of J. S. Walker and F. S. Pratt against A. T. Atkinson will come on for trial at that hour.

THOROUGH TUITION.

Yesterday the HERALD representative visited the Fort-street School, in order to examine some of the work done there, free from the hampering crowd of closing day.

Chief of the specialties of the Fort-street School is undoubtedly its teaching of English. Principal Scott is most enthusiastic on this branch, having proved the excellence of his method in Japan as well as here.

Mr. Dole took exception to the verdict as contrary to the evidence, and gave notice of motion for a new trial.

SUPREME COURT.

July Term, before Judge Preston.

The case of H. Ackerman, master of the American schooner Geo. C. Perkins, vs. J. H. Congdon, was resumed yesterday and continued throughout the day.

The case seemed to turn upon the point of whether the hogs that died were lost through negligence or bad treatment of the captain.

The Court charged the jury that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the full amount, whether the hogs were delivered dead or alive.

Mr. Dole took exception to the verdict as contrary to the evidence, and gave notice of motion for a new trial.

AT CHAMBERS.

Before Judge Bickerton, Intermediary Division, July 21st. Shar York vs. Alo. Assumpsit, claim $150.

M. Makue vs. Akana. Assumpsit, claim $37.50. Appeal by defendant from the District Court of Ewa.

The Royal School.

There was a large attendance at the closing exercises of the Royal School. The morning was taken by a general review of the studies by the different classes.

Opening Chorus—"Rowing Song," School. Music—"The Mermaid's Evening Song," School.

When it is remembered that the roll of scholars comprises children of many different mother tongues, and that the most excellent attainments in English are not proportionately more frequent among those born to that speech than among others.

Shipping Notes.

The schooner Sarah and Eliza, bound from Ewa to Koolau with a cargo of paddy, was compelled to put into this harbor Wednesday night owing to heavy weather.

The barkentine Ella, Captain E. C. Rust, will sail to-day for San Francisco. Her cargo consists of 2,976 bags sugar, shipped by Castle & Cooke.

The schooner Canute took freight from the steamer Surprise yesterday for Hilo and way ports.

The Blue Ribbon League will have its usual entertainment to-morrow evening. The programme prepared by Mr. Scrimgeour is unusually interesting.

koma Haul distinguished himself in the address of Sergeant Buzub, Pickwick. Master J. S. Kalakiela also contributed greatly to amusing those present.

The prizes were distributed by the Hon. C. R. Bishop, President of the Board of Education. In the remarks he made previous to the distribution he said that it was a great pleasure for him to be called upon to present to the winners such trophies.

The second prize was awarded to George Rosa; third to Wm. Kino; the fourth, for best recitation, was awarded to J. S. Kalakiela.

Band Concert.

A complimentary concert to the Captains and officers of the men-of-war in port this Friday evening at 7:30 at the Hawaiian Hotel.

- Overture—Festival... Bach
Fantasia—Cornet Solo (Mr. Michiels), Duhamel
Waltz—My Treasure... Strauss

CLOTHING ON FIRE.

THE FIRST THING TO BE DONE IN CASE OF SUCH AN ACCIDENT.

A Letter Which Should Be Memorized by Every School-Girl in the Land—What to Do in a Terrible Emergency—Suggestion from a Lecturer.

A girl or woman who meets with this accident should immediately lie down on the floor, and, as any one who goes to her assistance, should instantly, if she still be erect, make her lie down, or, if needful, throw her down into a horizontal position, and keep her in it. Sparks fly upward and flames ascend. Ignition from below mounts with fearful rapidity; and, as a result, well known to experts, the fatality or disfigurement in these lamentable cases is due to the burns inflicted about the body, neck, face and head, and not to injuries of the lower limbs.

HOW TO GAIN PRECIOUS TIME. Now, the very moment that the person whose clothes are on fire is in a horizontal position on a flat surface, the flames still ascend, but only into the air, and not encircling their victim. Time is thus gained for further action, and in such a crisis in a fight against fire, a few seconds are precious, nay, priceless. Once in the prone position the person afflicted may crawl to a bell-pull or to a door, so as to clutch at the one or open the other to obtain help. The draught from an open door into the room would serve to blow the flames, if any, away from the body; or again, still crawling, the sufferer may be able to secure a rug or table cover, or other articles at hand to smother any remaining flames. I say remaining flames, for as soon as the horizontal position is assumed, they have no longer much to feed upon, and may either go out, as the phrase is, or may be accidentally or intentionally extinguished as the person rolls or moves upon the floor. In any case, not only is time gained, but the injury inflicted is minimized.

In the event of the condition not being those of self help but of assistance from another, if it be a man who comes to the rescue, having first and instantly thrown the girl or woman down, it is easy to take off his coat and so smother the flames with this or some other suitable covering, the flames playing now upward from the lower limbs or lower part of the body of the prostrate fellow creature. If it be a woman who rushes to give aid, this last-named condition suggests that the safer mode of rendering it is to approach the sufferer by the head, and tinge something thence over the lower part of the body, for fear of setting fire to herself.

If in these fearful accidents the horizontal position be assumed or enforced, there would be, in short, comparative immunity and little or no injury. If not, what must happen? The fire will mount, the flames and it is these which do the injury will envelop the body, inside and outside the clothes, and will reach the neck and head, and then, indeed, they may be smothered by a coat, or wrapper, or rug, while the victim is frightfully disfigured or is doomed to perish.

A SUGGESTION OF GREAT VALUE.

For many years I have urged these views while lecturing on injuries from burns; and hence I had an occasion to illustrate them practically, though in a comparatively trivial accident. Some dressings of a very inflammatory character caught fire at the bedside of a patient in one of my surgical wards; they were promptly seized by a student, who threw them into the middle of the ward, and endeavored to stamp out the flaming material. But this containing paraffin and resin, adhered to his boots, and his legs, as he danced about, were getting uncomfortably hot. To his astonishment, and to the undoubted surprise of every one in sight, I caught him by the collar of his coat and trip, out up his legs. Instantly the flames became harmless, and were extinguished by a nurse throwing a jug of water on them.

I have often thought that on the approach of the winter season there should be at every school, whether board, voluntary or private, whether for girls or boys, an address, if not an actual demonstration by means of suitable models, pointing out what should be done in these special calamities. If two upright models were prepared alike and simultaneously set on fire, one being thrown after two seconds and one after thirty seconds, or at any other two different times, the memories of children would receive a lasting and it might be a serviceable impression.—John Marshall, F. R. S.

The Early Use of Artillery.

When Romulus was marking out the limits of his new city gunpowder was already known, and 2,000 years before the birth of Schwartz pieces of ordnance had been cast in China. The Moors used guns in Spain in the beginning of 1500, if not in 1100. The claims of the Chinese having now been generally admitted, it is supposed that ordnance reached Europe through the Moors of Spain or the Venetians. Neither, however, had any connection with China. It is unaccountable that it should not have been perceived by the Turks, who conquered the northern portion of China in the early part of the thirteenth century and were established all around the Black sea, with the exception of a strip between Varua and the Bosphorus.

It is now doubted whether, indeed, the black prince did use guns at the battle of Crusa; but there is no doubt that Murad I had before then employed them at the battle of Cossova. On both sides they were used, the Turks having already instructed the populations with whom they were at war. Employing artillery in the field, it was easy (reversing the process in Europe) to apply it to fortresses; the peculiar nature of the straits of the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles invited its use. To the batteries placed above Constantinople is attributed the fall of that city, the supplies from the Black sea being cut off.—National Review.

Cotton Seed for Fattening Hogs.

E. M., of Georgia, has fed cotton-seed to pigs, with a small amount of corn meal—the cotton seed being soaked and the corn meal stirred in after the cotton-seed had been boiling half an hour, and after boiling another half hour it was allowed to stand for some hours before being fed. When fed three pounds of cotton seed and two pounds of corn meal each, the pigs gained very rapidly—a dozen pigs gained an average of two pounds each per day. He says cotton-seed is not one-half as valuable as corn as hog food, and yet when fed in this way with corn meal the gain was more than with twice the weight of corn alone.—Chicago Herald.

Auckland the Workingman's Paradise.

Fronds, in his new work, "Oceania," calls Auckland the workman's paradise, and says that $3 1/2 (83) a day is the common wages, and the cost of living is less than in England. A poor clergyman's wife asked the price of some hot house grapes, and when told laid them down with a sigh, at which the dealer sympathizingly remarked: "Tisn't the likes of you that can afford them grapes; we keep them for the workmen's families."—Chicago Herald.

The Equitable Column.

THE EQUITABLE Life Assurance Society

OF THE UNITED STATES.

Total Assets, Dec. 31, '86, $75,510,472.76.

Total Liabilities, including legal Reserve on all existing policies (4 per cent Standard) $59,154,697.000

Total Undivided Surplus over Four per cent Reserve, $16,355,875.76

Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in general class, is $ 5,228,761.76 Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in Tontine class, is 10,627,114.00

Upon the New York State Standard of 4 1/2 per cent interest, the Surplus is as computed, $30,495,175.76.

New Assurance written in 1886, $414,540,293 Total Outstanding Assurance, $414,779,098

Increase of Premium Income, $2,810,475.40 Increase of Surplus (Four per cent basis), $2,409,636.63 Increase of Assets, $8,957,085.26

In actual Surplus (namely the excess of accumulated funds over liabilities) in Premium Income; in the amount of Assurance in force on its books, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States exceeds every other life assurance company, and may justly be regarded as the largest and strongest life assurance organization in the World.

EXAMPLE Of Policy No. 67,389. Life. Issued Jan. 22, 1872, on the life of W. H. C. Date of expiration Jan. 22, 1887.

Amount of Policy, $10,000. Tontine Period, 15 years. Age 53. Annual Premium, $543.10.

Total premiums paid in 15 years, $8,146.50

1. CASH VALUE, Consisting of Reserve, $3,856.30 and Surplus, 4,199.80 $8,056.10

2. PAID-UP VALUE. $13,056.00 If the policy-holder select this settlement, as the paid-up value is larger than the original amount of assurance, a satisfactory certificate of good health must be furnished, or the excess must be drawn on a cash basis.

3. CASH SURPLUS, $5,199.80 Under this settlement, the policy holder withdraws the surplus in cash, and retains the original policy, continuing the payment of premiums, less annual dividends.

Three other options are available under the Policy.

The policies with 10-year Tontine periods do not show results as satisfactory as those above given. Policies with 20-year periods, on the other hand, will show much larger results than those with 15-year periods; but for purposes of illustration the 15-year policies—those of the intermediate period—are given as fair illustrations.

The longer period of accumulation which the 20-year policies enjoy renders them the most desirable for those who, seeking absolute protection at the lowest "Life" rate, desire also the largest returns in case they live.

Hence the Best Free Tontine "Ordinary Life" Policy is One with a TWENTY-YEARTONTINE PERIOD

The Free Tontine Policy of the Equitable Life Assurance Society is unrestricted after one year, incontestable after two years, and is then PAYABLE in the event of death, immediately upon the receipt of satisfactory proofs of death.

It guarantees a full share of the surplus earned, and being issued by a Society holding a Larger Surplus than any other Assurance Company,

May be expected to show larger profits than the policies of any other company.

In addition to the advantages above cited, the Equitable now guarantees a full return of all premiums paid as well as the face of the Policy in case of death during the Tontine period.
