A STORM IN TEXAS.

One of the Pleasures of Sheepherding's Life—A Bad Night Out.

It was in April, and the weather was stormy, ink-looking clouds were spreading across the already leaden sky, and a few heavy drops of rain warned me that I must hastily pen my flock of sheep, for it is almost impossible to move them during a heavy rain. I was encamped alone on Juniper creek and, retiring into my 7 by 7 wedge-shaped tent, I closed it tightly, and prepared for a sleep. I was very sleepy from being disturbed the night before by the constant barking of my dog as he alternately chased and was chased by a wolf.

The place where I was encamped was open, with no timber save mesquit trees. Three of these grew at the three corners of my tent, and by the aid of them and other trees I had cut and dragged. I turned a wind break on the east, which was the back of my tent, and on the south side. Having confidence in the wind break thus constructed, I undressed before lying down, that I might rest more than I could if I should, as caution suggested, lie down prepared for the worst. The thunder bellowed, the lightning flashed, and the rain fell in torrents, but about two minutes after my head touched the pillow I was sleeping soundly.

I awoke some time in the night, and finding the water running into the tent, I got up to open the ditch with my shovel, and soon went to sleep again. How long I slept I do not know, but I awoke to find the wind had changed from the east to the south, and the rain, driven with great force against the side of the tent, fell through the strained canvas in such quantities that I reached for my oil can and spread it over me.

She next instant the tent was blown down, and the storm shrieked with a mad violence that I never before witnessed. The wind blew in gusts, each gust coming more lively than the last, until I felt the mesquit brush of my wind break pressed between the growing trees bearing down upon me; and as the storm increased in violence, it seemed that I must be swept away.

The tent being wet, it lay flat and smooth with the southwest corner peg still holding. Clutching my bedding and oil can tightly, I braced myself firmly, and notwithstanding the great protection the brush gave me, it was with the greatest difficulty that I could retain my position. The almost continuous lightning enabled me to see. With startling rapidity the wind whirled round to the northwest, and at the same moment I became aware that the water had overflowed my bed, and large hail that would weigh from three to five ounces began to fall, one striking me on the left leg. In great haste I snatched a thin woollen mattress from under the wet tent and spread it over me for protection, my oil can having been torn off me with the first change in the direction of the storm. By this time I had become wet, and the cold north wind chilled me thoroughly.

Fortunately the storm abated, and my clothing being saved to me almost by a miracle, I dressed with wet garments, my teeth chattering. One step brought me to where my large provision box had stood, but it was vacant, the box of provisions had been blown away, and but two pieces of it could be found the next day.—Tom Green County (Tex.) Cor. New York Sun.

The Manufacture of "Stick" Candy.

The "stick" candy which seems to be an indigenous American product, is ordinary "A" sugar boiled down with water and a little cream of tartar to prevent crystallization. The mass is taken in batches of about fifteen pounds to a marble table, where it is kneaded like bread, and the flavoring and coloring worked in. The paste then goes to the "pulling hooks," where for five or six minutes it is pulled and twisted. Thence it returns to the marble table, kept hot, on which is worked the candy into its final shape. Strips are pressed into the batch, two feet long and a foot thick, and it is then drawn and twisted till the proper size of the penny "stick," the right length of which is clipped off by huge scissors.—Chicago Herald.

Man Who Represented Three States.

The only man who has represented three states in the United States was the late Gen. James Shields, who was senator from Illinois, afterward from Minnesota, and subsequently from Missouri. Matthew Lyon was the only man who has been elected a representative to congress from three states—first in Vermont, second in Kentucky and third in Arkansas. He died August 1, 1852, before taking his seat as representative from the latter state.—Chicago Journal.

How They Build in Italy.

The way they build in Italy is indicated by the following passages from a letter from Naples: "I looked down from the balcony of my hotel and watched some masons at work just across the narrow street. They were laying outside walls three feet thick, and walls of two feet between the rooms. The rising structure seemed to be a jail or a bank. I inquired, and found it was designed for an elegant private residence."—Exchange.

A Report on Railroad Axes.

A special committee on railroad axes has reported that iron axes are safer than steel axes; that all cranks should have the webs hooped; that iron cranks appear to fall after running some 300,000 miles, and steel after 170,000, it is highly desirable that they should be taken off and not again used on passenger engines; and that crank axes, properly constructed, are as strong as straight axes.—Chicago Times.

They Were on Excellent Terms.

"Yus," said a barber to his customer, "I'm an Italian count. My father is the Duke Baricelli Muscollonge Garibaldi Plaza. I'm his only son!" "Aren't you and your father on good terms?" asked the customer. "Oh, yes. In fact I send the old gentleman $ every week out of my wages."—New York Sun.

Greatest Difficulty in the World.

Two friends meet: "Would you believe it?" said one, "I have just come from my landlord and I had the greatest difficulty in the world to persuade him to accept a little money." "Bah! That's nonsense. And why?" "Because he wanted so much more than I offered him."—French Joke.

Teaching Manners to the Almond-Eyed.

A young woman in Washington is said to be making a good living by teaching the young attaches of the Chinese and Japanese legations American small talk and society manners.—Washington Letter.

The Equitable Column.

THE EQUITABLE Life Assurance Society

OF THE UNITED STATES.

Total Assets, Dec. 31, '86, $75,510,472.76.

Total Liabilities, including legal Reserve on all existing policies (4 per cent Standard) $59,154,597.00

Total Undivided Surplus over Four per cent Reserve, $16,355,875.76

Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in general class, is $ 5,728,761.76

Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in Tontine class, is 10,627,114.00

Upon the New York State Standard of 4 1/2 per cent interest, the Surplus is as computed, $20,495,175.76.

New Assurance written in 1886, $114,540,203

Total Outstanding Assurance, $411,779,098

Increase of Premium Income, $2,810,475.40
Increase of Surplus (Four per cent basis), $2,409,636.63
Increase of Assets, $8,957,085.26

In actual Surplus (name the excess of accumulated funds over liabilities); in Premium Income; in the amount of Assurance in force on its books, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States exceeds every other life assurance company, and may be justly regarded as the largest and strongest life assurance organization in the World.

EXAMPLE

Of Policy No. 67,389. Life. Issued Jan. 22, 1872, on the life of W. H. C. Date of expiration Jan. 22, 1887.
Amount of Policy, $10,000. Tontine Period, 15 years. Age 53. Annual Premium, $543.10.

Total premiums paid in 15 years, $8,146.50

1. CASH VALUE, Consisting of Reserve, $3,856.30 and Surplus, 4,199.80 $9,056.10

2. PAID-UP VALUE, $13,050.00

If the policy-holder select this settlement, as the paid-up value is larger than the original amount of assurance, a satisfactory certificate of good health must be furnished, or the excess must be drawn on a cash basis.

3. CASH SURPLUS, $5,199.80

Under this settlement, the policy holder withdraws the surplus in cash, and retains the original policy, continuing the payment of premiums, less annual dividends.

Three other options are available under the Policy.

The policies with 10-year Tontine periods do not show results as satisfactory as those above given. Policies with 20-year periods, on the other hand, will show much larger results than those with 15-year periods; but for purposes of illustration the 15-year policies—those of the intermediate period—are given as fair illustrations.

The longer period of accumulation which the 20-year policies enjoy renders them the most desirable for those who, seeking absolute protection at the lowest "Life" rate, desire also the largest returns in case they live:

Hence the Best Free Tontine "Ordinary Life" Policy is One with a TWENTY-YEAR TONTINE PERIOD

The Free Tontine Policy of the Equitable Life Assurance Society is unrestricted after one year, incontestable after two years, and is then PAYABLE in the event of death, immediately upon the receipt of satisfactory proofs of death.

It guarantees a full share of the surplus earned, and being issued by a Society holding a

Larger Surplus than any other Assurance Company,

May be expected to show larger profits than the policies of any other company.

In addition to the advantages above cited, the Equitable now guarantees a full return of all premiums paid as well as the face of the Policy in case of death during the Tontine period.

General Agent for the Hawaiian Islands.

TUESDAY, JULY 26, 1887.

THE DUTY OF THE HOUR.

Doubt upon the question of electoral registration, as effecting foreign citizenship, having been set at rest, matters of government may now in the main, as they can be with confidence, left to the reform Cabinet, while everybody who has the good of the country at heart devotes time, energy and influence to the work of securing a Legislature in harmony with the principles upon which the recent revolution was based. This stage of the programme is one as critical as the situation during the period covered by the week preceding and that following the mass meeting. So far it may be said that the reform of the nation has only been inaugurated in the rough. Until the different estates of the realm in a free Legislature have ratified what has been done, besides committing themselves to a sound and progressive policy for the future, the country cannot be regarded as safe. Therefore, it is incumbent upon every right thinking member of the community to subordinate personal and especially selfish interests to the grand work of securing a Legislature that will be creditable to the nation in intelligence, capacity, and thoroughly representative character. To this end one of the first requisites is to secure a complete understanding amongst all friends of reform itself and for its own sake. Thus only can a solid front be preserved against the mischief makers of different nationalities who have early got to work, most of them with no other motive than one of resentment because they were not able to divert a great popular uprising to purposes of selfish profit and aggrandizement. Better is to be expected of reflective minds that have unreservedly devoted themselves to the cause of reform, than that they should now voluntarily stop to brood over this and that result coming short of the common desire and expectation. Yet there is danger that many good men, who may be troubled with misgivings on some score or other, may permit a spark of discontent to be fanned into flame by any wind of mischief craftily directed across their path. Let the watchword for every well-wisher of Hawaii now be "Hold fast that which is good," and then the cause of reform and national development will go marching proudly forward toward triumphant consummation.

Kohala Notes.

The members of the Kohala Glee Club gave a delightful luau to their numerous friends at Makapala hall last Monday evening. Some seventy-five invitations which were liberally responded to. After the feast the evening was devoted to singing and dancing.

This club has lately been organized, and its members consist principally of natives and half-whites of this district. They gave several performances lately, which were highly enjoyed. It is the intention of the club shortly to give a series of entertainments.

The Rev. Mr. Whalley was the recipient of a pleasant farewell social last night at Kaupihali hall, tendered him by his numerous friends. Mr. Whalley has been failing in health, and contemplates a trip home to England to recuperate. He has been with us for some time and his departure will be regretted. We all wish him a pleasant voyage and a speedy return.

Kohala is rather unfortunate in the prospective loss of many of our society people in the coming week. Those about to leave us are Rev. Mr. Whalley and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Renton, Misses Emma and Alice Renton, Mrs. George Ewart and children, Miss Mon-tross, Miss Turner and Mrs. R. H. Atkins and daughter. MASCOT.

The Kapaa School.

The closing exercises of the Kapaa School, Kauai, were held last Friday. To say they were a success would hardly represent the way in which the pupils distinguished themselves. Visitors from different parts of the island were present, some travelling a distance of sixteen miles. They considered themselves well repaid for the journey. Some of the selections on the programme would be difficult for English speaking children to learn and when it is remembered that the only time the pupils heard English was during school hours, their excellent delivery spoke most highly of the abilities of the teachers and their close attention to duty. Some of the children who recited could not speak English at all, about eight months ago. During the exercises, from the delivery and general conduct of the scholars, it was evident that they understood what they were saying and doing. The musical portion of the programme denoted careful training and was ruled a treat. At the close of the programme, Mr. White, who believes that a "full stomach giveth great joy," invited his many guests to take an active part in a luncheon prepared for them. This is the second exercise of this kind given by the Kapaa school during Mr. White's principalship. The first, which was held at the beginning of the Christmas vacation, was almost as attractive as the last and established for him and the school a well deserved reputation. The assistant teachers, Mrs. J. Sherman and Mr. Thomas Neal, deserve more than ordinary recognition, as it is upon them, Mr. White says, he relies for the material that makes his own class an easier success.

No hand-book excels the Hawaiian Almanac and Annual for reliable statistical and general information relating to these Islands. Price 50 cents.

LOCAL NEWS.

The grocers will be the most popular men in the city after the Australia arrives.

Mr. Frank Brown will be a candidate for the Legislature in the District of Koolau, Oahu.

After the meeting of the Honolulu Rifles battalion last night, a grand feast was had at the Armory.

A full supply of California fresh fruits will be here on the Australia for Quaker Dairy, corner Alakea and King streets.

A pile of bricks on the Fort street side walk, corner of Fort and Beretania streets, close by the wall of an old building, is one of the best arrangements in town for wrecking the skulls of pedestrians who have occasion to pass that way at night.

The Pacific Hose Company held a special meeting last evening. Sixty-seven members were present in full uniform. A number of others (whose names the foreman would not consider unless they were in uniform) were excused to attend the military meeting.

Henceforth there will be cricket practice on Wednesday and Saturday at the Makiki recreation grounds. All interested in the game are requested to meet at the Hawaiian Hotel on Thursday evening next. Per order of T. Lishman, captain of the Honolulu team.

A subscription is being taken up by Mr. Robert More to procure a coping and headstone for the grave of the late George Fawcett, in Nuuanu cemetery. The deceased was well known in Honolulu. Persons disposed to contribute to the object named will please call on Mr. More, at his place of business, King street.

Waialua Notes.

The people of this place are made to feel that they really are part of the world, through the former weekly visits of a schooner or two being improved upon by the frequent appearance of no less than three steamers—C. R. Bishop, Waimanalo, and Ivy Holmes.

Dr. Carter is living in his new house, it being well finished and furnished. His district is the second largest on the islands. He goes over to the Koolau side of the island every week.

Halstead's mill is still grinding. We are glad to have a visit from Mr. A. Wenner, the Fort-street jeweler, who is taking a respite from business cares.

SUPREME COURT.

July Term, before Judge Preston.

S. M. Kaaukai vs. James Wright. Ejectment. The following jury were empanelled: T. J. King, A. J. Cartwright, Jr., W. C. Peacock, H. Gunn, J. G. Spencer, W. E. H. Deverill, Maile, S. W. Kaikuaehine, C. B. Dwight, M. Keliiaa, S. Kaile and S. Kanoa. This case was tried at the January Term, when the jury disagreed after being out five hours and a half. Rev. S. C. Lubiau, the ninth witness called by defendant, is the most important one in the case. Mahi Pahale, claimed by the plaintiff as the original owner of the land in dispute, is claimed by defendant as not the owner, and to support which contention on the part of defendant, the tax books of the district of Kohala are produced as evidence in Court to show that Mahi did not own any real property, but paid taxes only on personal. W. C. Achi for plaintiff; W. A. Kinney for defendant.

AT CHAMBERS.

Yesterday Chief Justice Judd filed his decision in the Admiralty case of Sol. Ephraim vs. Bark "Forest Queen." This was a libel to recover of the owners of the American bark "Forest Queen" the sum of six hundred and thirty two dollars, the value of forty-two hogs alleged to have died on a voyage from San Francisco to Honolulu, by reason of the carelessness and negligence of the persons in charge of the said vessel in "stowing them" and in "keeping them stowed during the voyage." The bill of lading, signed in San Francisco on Nov. 6, 1886, by the agents of the vessel, shows that 399 hogs (alive) were shipped in good order and condition on the "Forest Queen," Winding master, by the San Francisco Packing and Provision Co. His Honor, after due consideration of the law and evidence bearing on the case, says he does not find that the loss of the hogs was occasioned by the negligence of those in charge of the vessel and therefore dismisses the libel. P. Neumann for libellant; F. M. Hatch for respondent.

Yesterday posters were seen around town calling a mass meeting to be held at 1 p. m. at the Kaunakapili church, to consider the nomination of representatives and the general political issues of the day. At that hour a large gathering of natives had assembled. J. Kanui was chairman.

The first to address the meeting was a lawyer named Kane. After stating the reason why the call was made, he invited attention to the great necessity of the natives to nominate a good man one who could carry their cause through successfully. That was the only way to preserve their rights and get back that which they consider was taken away from them. They must elect the right men if they wished to have that which was objectionable or unjust changed. Referring to the Constitution he said, "You cannot make a big coat that would set well on America fit such a small object as Hawaii."

The chairman called for Mr. J. O. Carter, and there being no response, Mr. Wm. Halstead was asked to step forward and address the meeting, but he was not to be found.

The next who addressed the meeting was Mr. A. K. Kalauka, who spoke a great deal but said very little. Following him came Mr. J. M. Poepeo, whose appearance was loudly cheered. He opened with quoting a passage from Scott During the preceding gentleman's address (Kalauka) he heard the remark that the new Constitution placed within the prerogative of the Legislature the right to oust the Ministry in case they did what was not proper. That same authority was also allowed by the old Constitution. Some years back, did not Walter Murray Gibson, as a member from La'haina, have resolutions passed expressing want of confidence in the Wilder Ministry, and did not that Cabinet go? Is that a change? He had been reading a book on Venice, where the form of Government was similar to this since the adoption of the new Constitution. The results have been that the rich have become all powerful, controlling the Government, and the poorer people were oppressed and almost ridden. So will it be in this country if there is not a change. How many natives are there receiving or earning six hundred dollars a year? (cries of aole! aole! Who does receive that amount? (Cries of, "the haole!") all the Government officers should be elected. The next Legislature is not to make laws for the people, but to look after the new Constitution and keep it in good working order. He thinks the same as a man who said to him, "The new Constitution is like the sole of an old shoe that requires mending."

Mr. Henry Waterhouse was next called upon, being received with loud acclamations of approval. He thought it most proper for the natives to thus assemble and give public expression to their opinions on public matters. If they thought they have not been treated justly, they all had the ballot to resort to. He was pleased to see the natives meet showing that they would hereafter do their own thinking. What they should nominate is a man who would always consider the rights of Hawaiians and the good of the country above everything else.

The meeting dispersed at 3 p. m. BIRTH. WILLIAMS—July 14th, in Kohala, to the wife of J. Williams, for Waimanalo.

A STORM IN TEXAS.

One of the Pleasures of a Shepherd's Life—A Bad Night Out.

It was in April, and the weather was stormy, inkly-looking clouds were spreading across the already leaden sky, and a few heavy drops of rain warned me that I must hastily pen my flock of sheep, for it is almost impossible to move them during a heavy rain. I was encamped alone on Juniper creek and; retiring into my 7 by 7 wedge-shaped tent, I closed it tightly, and prepared for a sleep. I was very sleepily from being disturbed the night before by the constant barking of my dog as he alternately chased and was chased by a wolf.

The place where I was encamped was open, with no timber save mesquit trees. Three of these grew at the three corners of my tent, and by the aid of them and their trees I had cut and dragged, I turned a wind break on the east, which was the back of my tent, and on the south side. Having confidence in the wind break thus constructed, I undressed before lying down, that I might rest more than I could if I should, as caution suggested, lie down prepared for the worst. The thunder bellowed, the lightning flashed, and the rain fell in torrents, but about two minutes after my head touched the pillow I was sleeping soundly.

I awoke some time in the night, and finding the water running into the tent, I got up to open the ditch with my shovel, and soon went to sleep again. How long I slept I do not know, but I awoke to find the wind had changed from the east to the south, and the rain, which had been driven against the side of the tent, fell through the strained canvas in such quantities that I reached for my oil coat and spread it over me.

The tent being wet, it lay flat and smooth with the southwest corner peg still holding. Clinging to my bedding and oil coat tightly, I braced myself firmly, and notwithstanding the great protection the brush gave me, it was with the greatest difficulty that I could retain my position. The almost continuous lightning enabled me to see. With startling rapidity the wind whipped round to the north-west, and at the same moment I became aware that the water had overflowed my tent, and large hail that would weigh from three to five ounces began to fall, one striking me on the left leg. In great haste I snatched a thin woollen mattress from under the wet tent and spread it over me for protection, my oil coat having been torn off me with the first change in the direction of the storm. By this time I had become wet, and the cold north wind chilled me thoroughly.

Fortunately the storm abated, and my clothing being saved to me almost by a miracle, I dressed with wet garments, my teeth chattering. One step brought me to where my large provision box had stood, but it was vacant, the box of provisions had been blown away, and but two pieces of it could be found the next day.—Tom Green County (Tex.) Cor. New York Sun.

The Manufacture of "Stick" Candy.

The "stick" candy which seems to be an indigenous American product, is ordinary "A" sugar boiled down with water and a little cream of tartar to prevent crystallization. The mass is taken in batches of about fifteen pounds to a marble table, where it is kneaded like bread, and the flavoring and coloring worked in. The paste then goes to the "pulling hooks," where for five or six minutes it is pulled and twisted. Thence it returns to the marble table, kept hot, on which is worked the candy into its final shape. Strips are pressed into the batch, two feet long and a foot thick, and it is then drawn and twisted till the proper size of the penny "stick," the right length of which is clipped off by huge scissors.—Chicago Herald.

Men Who Represented Three States.

The only man who has represented three states in the United States was the late Gen. James Shields, who was senator from Illinois, afterwards from Minnesota, and subsequently from Missouri. Matthew Lyon was the only man who has been elected a representative to congress from three states—first in Vermont, second in Kentucky and third in Arkansas. He died August 1, 1863, before taking his seat as representative from the latter state.—Chicago Journal.

How They Build in Italy.

The way they build in Italy is indicated by the following passage from a letter from Naples: "I looked down from the balcony of my hotel and watched some masons at work just across the narrow street. They were laying outside walls three feet thick, and walls two feet between the rooms. The rising structures seemed to be a jail or a bank. I inquired, and found it was designed for an elegant private residence."—Exchange.

A Report on Railroad Axles.

A special committee on railroad axles has reported that iron axles are safer than steel axles; that all cranks should have the webs hooped; that as iron cranks appear to fall after running some 300,000 miles, and steel after 170,000, it is highly desirable that they should be taken off and not again used on passenger engines; and that crank axles, properly constructed, are as strong as straight axles.—Chicago Times.

They Were on Excellent Terms.

"Yes," said a barber to his customer, "I'm an Italian count. My father is the Duke Baricelli Muscullouge Garibaldi Plaza. I'm his only son!" "Aren't you and your father on good terms?" asked the customer. "Oh, yes. In fact I send the old gentleman $2 every week out of my wages."—New York Sun.

Greatest Difficulty in the World.

Two friends meet: "Would you believe it?" said one, "I have just come from my landlord and I had the greatest difficulty in the world to persuade him to accept a little money." "Bah! That's nonsense. And why?" "Because he wanted so much more than I offered him."—French Joke.

Teaching Manners to the Almond-Eyed.

A young woman in Washington is said to be making a good living by teaching the young attaches of the Chinese and Japanese legations American small talk and society manners.—Washington Letter.

In the list of the five largest cities of the world, St. Petersburg stands last, and Paris is not included.

The Equitable Column.

THE EQUITABLE
Life Assurance Society
OF THE UNITED STATES.
Total Assets, Dec. 31, '86, $75,510,472.76.
Total Liabilities, including legal Reserve on all existing policies (4 per cent Standard) $59,144,997.00
Total Undivided Surplus over Four per cent Reserve, $16,355,875.76
Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in general class, is $ 5,728,761.76
Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in Tontine class, is 10,627,114.00
Upon the New York State Standard of 4 to 2 per cent interest, the Surplus is as computed, $20,495,175.76
New Assurance written in 1886, $111,540,203
Total Outstanding Assurance, $411,779,098
Increase of Premium Income, $2,810,475.40
Increase of Surplus (Four per cent basis), $2,409,636.63
Increase of Assets, $8,957,085.20

In actual Surplus (namely the excess of accumulated funds over liabilities); in Premium Income; in the amount of Assurance in force on its books, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States exceeds every other life assurance company, and may be justly regarded as the largest and strongest life assurance organization in the World.

EXAMPLE
Of Policy No. 67,389. Life. Issued Jan. 22, 1872, on the life of W. H. C. Date of expiration Jan. 22, 1887.
Amount of Policy, $10,000. Tontine Period, 15 years. Age 53. Annual Premium, $543.10
Total premiums paid in 15 years, $8,146.50
1. CASH VALUE, Consisting of Reserve, $3,856.30 and Surplus, 4,199.80 $9,056.10
2. PAID-UP VALUE, $13,050.00
If the policy-holder select this settlement, as the paid-up value is larger than the original amount of assurance, a satisfactory certificate of good health must be furnished, or the excess must be drawn on a cash basis.
3. CASH SURPLUS, $5,199.80
Under this settlement, the policy holder withdraws the surplus in cash, and retains the original policy, continuing the payment of premiums, less annual dividends.
Three other options are available under the Policy.

The policies with 10-year Tontine periods do not show results as satisfactory as those above given. Policies with 20-year periods, on the other hand, will show much larger results than those with 15-year periods; but for purposes of illustration the 15-year policies—those of the intermediate period—are given as fair illustrations.

The longer period of accumulation which the 20-year policies enjoy renders them the most desirable for those who, seeking absolute protection at the lowest "Life" rate, desire also the largest returns in case they live:

Hence the Best Free Tontine "Ordinary Life" Policy is One with a TWENTY-YEAR TONTINE PERIOD

The Free Tontine Policy of the Equitable Life Assurance Society is unrestricted after one year, incontestable after two years, and is then FAVORABLE in the event of death, immediately upon the receipt of satisfactory proofs of death.
It guarantees a full share of the surplus earned, and being issued by a Society holding a

Larger Surplus than any other Assurance Company,
May be expected to show larger profits than the policies of any other company.
In addition to the advantages above cited, the Equitable now guarantees a full return of all premiums paid as well as the face of the Policy in case of death during the Tontine period.
