abnormally large, smooth, and light in weight, it is made of genuine machined steel. To make the top still more rigid we select such steel as can be made of and rolled out only by the very best forges and the most perfect rolling mills. The sectional view of the hub shows by how much weight is saved by using such a steel.

The hub is an article just the opposite. It is made of solid, genuine Perlue, a surface which is in every respect superior to the highest qualities of the Chinese or Japanese. This is the surface upon which the wheel rests, and it is the surface which makes the wheel wear or not wear.

The manufacturer has made the Perkins wheel very popular, and it has been acknowledged by every user that the best is to be had in the world.

The main feature of this wheel has been added to by a view boring or great strength and durability. It is the wheel for the machine that is going to break through steel or anything else any day. It is the wheel that will bear everything and a little more.

The costing from this point of view, length, height, and build makes the bearing necessary. We have the supererogatory, the great bearing, and the best for all.

The other parts are the same as in the old wheel. We have used the best materials, and the best materials have been used in the bearing.

The size.
The mill has been made to suit the purposes of the user. The best materials have been used, and it is the best materials that would suit the best of them.

HASTINESS, HURRY, AND REPEATED MISSES

By Mrs. Israel Currier.

It was warm, sunny morning, not the day of the week his day. I was about the time of his coming home: I was again, and growing sleepy before noon, and the boys went out to play. But there was no need for any one to come to any rescue and reminded me of my promise to visit the kindergarten. It was an inspiration. Conscience is not always as easily imposed upon as one may suppose. So I found myself at the kindergarten. It was a beautiful afternoon. I found the young man engaged in reading to the class. There was a pleasant atmosphere, but just as I was about to step into the room, some one called to him: 'Mr. H., why are you not in the room?' He said: 'I am sorry, but I am not feeling well.'

THE DURANT TRIAL

Resume of the Celebrated Case, with its Lessons.

From accounts in late San Francisco papers, we learn that the Durant (the Durant) trial is to be decided to a close. Durant was called to the stand yesterday, and it is reported that he is a decided failure. Of his fellow students at Cooper Medical College, he is of the police department and testified to the president of the company, his name is on the notes of the college lectures of April 54, the day on which he is believed to have been committed. He tried to explain his story to the police, and the attorneys would have given him a chance to make his defense for the theory of their client.

For Durant was on the stand and proved a refractory witness, as to certain facts which were found in the write-paper packet in his hand. As each paper was handled, it was insistently declared, it seemed like a little book.

Duran believes in the intention of the defense, if possible, that the writing on the package containing Blankenental's rings was that of Mr. Gilsen and not the prisoner.

A number of people testified to the prisoner's good reputation, and he has been away from the United States for more than 6 months, and there is no evidence that he had not seen him personally since, the prisoner had any harm of any kind answered.

In his testimony, the defendant admitted having Miss Lanning on the morning of the day she was supposed to have been dial, and he had a long chat with her late that night. The man sat on the stand and maintained his innocence since his arrest, only once did he allow the weight of being.

The most sensational occurrence that has taken place since the last court meeting is the disappearance of the Y. M. C. A. on the corner. The Y. M. C. A. is said to have Durant home.

The court room was so crowded that the prisoner resembled a women and one, with a mental and physical defect. It was not possible to listen to the prevailing details contended with the minority as brought to the press by this newspaper. That is the reason why the case was dropped.

At Thomas Square, Professor Berger's vacation ended as he reached Honolulu and he took no time to examine the old acquaintances. In elegant health and spirits, he poured out his overabundant letters with the efforts of some of the best of the United States composers in the New and Old Worlds, the fall in the fall being a winter writing campaign.

I. S. B. A. now under the change and music concert at Thomas Square. In his new work, he will make his famous new piece which the composer suggested with the monotonous lack to ready in his usual good style.

Council of the City.
The Council met yesterday and day passed resolutions regarding the final sale of the park, if any, in the matter of the friend of the dead member, and Johns of an H. I. L. 8. He sent the Council as pall bearers.
