LEHUA AROUND

TAKES TWO HOURS TO GET OFF
Thought Have Struck Farther Out.

LEHUA, Hawaii, November 10, 19--:

The usual drowsiness which comes over the island to-day was the result of the heavy rain which had fallen during the past few days. The air was cool and the sea calm, and the only sound to be heard was the noise of the surf breaking against the rocks. The atmosphere was so thick that one could hardly see beyond a few yards.

The sky was dark and overcast, and the distant mountains were shrouded in a mist. The only sound to be heard was the roar of the surf as it dashed against the rocks. The air was cool and refreshing, and the sea was smooth and placid.

The islanders were few in number, and the only people to be seen were a few fishermen and their families. The fishing boats were beached, and the fishermen were busy mending their nets and preparing their equipment for the next day's work.

The island was surrounded by a graceful line of hills, and the scenery was beautiful. The hills were covered with lush green vegetation, and the air was fresh and sweet.

The water was clear and blue, and the fish seemed to be abundant. The fishermen were busy catching fish, and the sound of their nets being cast into the water could be heard throughout.

The island was a haven of peace and tranquility, and the only thought that passed through one's mind was the desire to stay and enjoy the beauty of the place. The island was a paradise on earth, and one could hardly help but feel a sense of contentment and Satisfaction.

Opera Season

The opening of the Hawaiian Opera House creates a demand for new gowns. The event will be a swell one and ladies are expected to wear their best "ib and tucker." Made-over dresses will pass, but to be in the swing, a new one is the proper thing.

We have just opened, ex Australia, a large assortment of Valentian lace laces and insertion to match. There are entirely new and fresh styles, which may be seen in any other store. A complete stock of White Satins, Polonese, Pongee and figured satin dresses in good capital quality for evening wear and just what is wanted for the theatre.

Art Denims, Embroidery Felts, Men's Negligee Shirts.

Ladies' and children's rain coats in new Chailles in new patterns. Riders should examine -- the new stock of black leather leggings, which we are selling at $5.00 per pair. They are very plain, cotton black and hosiery fast in style. Another lot of lace curtains just arrived, 3, 5, 7-12 and yards long.

FOR THE INFORMATION OF OUR CUSTOMERS.

In the year 1896, we opened our first store, and from that time to the present, we have remained in the retail and wholesale clothing business, and have been engaged in the manufacture of clothing in this city. We have always been in the forefront of the trade, and have always been able to supply our customers with the very best material and workmanship.

The result of this has been that we have always been able to command a large trade, and have always been able to hold our own in the market.

A WO MAN IN THE PULPIT.

Mrs. Edith Power Wicks has been sung for the first time in the history of the Coos Bay Congregational Church. It has been several months since the name of the woman ministering in the Coos Bay Congregational Church, for she has held the pulpit at various times during that period, but her work there has been not lacking in interest and enthusiasm.

Backwood Surgery.

"Perhaps the most interesting case of back surgery that I have ever witnessed was of a frequency of the kind, when the patient, a man, was suffering from a severe case of backache. The patient was suffering from a case of sciatica, which had been present for several years. The patient was examined by several doctors, but all failed to find any remedy for his complaint. The patient was then referred to me, and I examined him thoroughly. I found that he had a severe case of sciatica, and I advised him to have an opertion. I advised him to have an operation, and he agreed to do so.

I advised him to have an operation, and he agreed to do so. The operation was performed under a general anesthetic, and the patient was discharged from the hospital in a few days.

The patient has been doing well ever since the operation, and I am happy to say that he has been able to return to his work.

In this Climate

where there is a great demand for settee by bugologists, upholstered furniture, and similar effects, it is to any great extent. Besides the bugs, the natural high temperature is against anything that might be done to prevent them from coming about beauty. For the reason then, the inclination of the people is to ward off the consequences by using Wicker Ware Chairs and couches fill the bill and are more comfortable. At every number of some people furnish their homes throughout the years with wicker and rattan furniture, and the result has always been satisfactory. We have Straight Chairs and Rockers in an endless variety of shapes. Some fancy ones are works of art. These goods differ in fifty ways from the cheap goods manufactured in China. They are better made, brighter in color, and more durable. The Chinese have not the necessary skill for treating the wicker in the same excellent manner as the American manufacturers. We have the same skilled labors to weave the bamboo designs. Our goods are genuine American Goods.

For a very small cost, this style of furnishing is sufficient to imitate natural wood and by this means, whatever signs of crudeness may appear to the eye in the wicker ware, is obliterated.

Your imagination of this ware will be satisfactory to you.

Much of the solid silver ware used in Honolulu is bought in San Francisco by people visiting there because it is cheaper.

Twenty-five per cent duty on it is a great deal too much to pay and it tempts people to make purchases while they are where they may buy it cheaper. There is nothing criminal in the transaction, it is just a bit of practical economy. There would have been no necessity for these go-betweens to go abroad, if dealing was willing to divide with their customers. The profit is large enough on solid ware to cut off the twenty-five per cent, and sell it at a margin satisfactory to every one. People do not buy when they are abroad because they can get better goods, but because they can get it cheaper.

The selections made by us are from three of the largest factories in the States. We pay cash and get the articles cheap and will sell them at twenty-five per cent or exactly the same as is charged in San Francisco, where we have clients’ sets at $6.75.

NOW IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

KAMOHOALI (f) v. MAUNALO (d) and FRANK

EXCEPTIONS FROM CIRCUIT COURT, FIRST CIRCUIT.

JUDG. C. J., FERRELL AND WRIGHT, JJ.

Nothing appearing why a motion for a new trial should be granted, the decision of the Circuit Judge directing the motion is affirmed.

JUDGMENT OF THE COURT BY JUDG. C. J.

No briefs are filed by either side in this case, but we have examined the papers sent up and find no reason why the de- cision of Circuit Judge Carter requiring a new trial should be reversed.

We therefore affirm and adopt the decision entered.

We remark that the above suit is for the reinsti- tion of a home with damages for its detention; a verdict “for the plaintiff”, allowing him to recover the amount of legal interest on $800 (the valuation of the home) from date of detention till date is insufficiently certain and respectful to the demand.

Following is the decision now affirmed.

“This is an action of repossession for a home which came on for trial in the last February term before a jury as appealed from the District Court of Honolulu. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff. The defendant thereupon excepted to the verdict as being contrary to law, the evidence, and the weight of evidence, and gave notice of a motion for a new trial. Next day discovered evidence is also set up as an addi- tional ground for new trial.

“It is contended that the verdict is contrary to the law in that the same should be in the alternative, i.e., for the return of the home, or failing such return, for the value of same to- gether with damages. The declaration upon which action was brought prayed for the return of the home together with dam- ages and costs of suit. The instruction to the jury was no wider than the relief sought. However, the charge was acquiesced in by both parties, therefore this exception cannot now be considered.

“The same may be said of the rule of damages laid down.

“In regard to that part of the motion which claims that the verdict is contrary to the evidence or weight of evidence. The evidence was contradictory; the witnesses for the plaintiff testi- fying that the animal in question belonged to the plaintiff and the witnesses for the defendant testifying that the owner- ship was in Mr. A. Roa, Sr. There was a great deal of testi- mony on both sides on the question of ownership. It was probably a matter for the jury to decide and having decided it, I decline to interfere, no legal grounds for interference appearing.

“The jury in their verdict “for the plaintiff, allowing him damages to the amount of legal interest on Forty ($40.00) dollars (the value of the home) from date of detention till date”. The jury have been instructed that the action was for the recovery of a home. The verdict is sufficiently certain. Where a verdict is intelligible and capable of being under- stood it will not be set aside although informal. Cohron v. Republic, 80 Cal. 1629.

“Affirmed.

The exceptions are overruled.

J. J. Kaulukou for plaintiff.

A. Roa for defendant.

EXCLUSIVE SHOE DEALERS.

Good Shoes Have More Sole.

Thousand men have, and Good Shoes get their reward — not by immortality, but by being worn by the Good People of the Land.

We sell only the Good Kinds of Shoes because we have only the Good Kind of patrons. We couldn't sell the trashy kinds, even if we did carry them in stock. And that fact makes it certain that whenever you come here, you are going to get the right sort of footwear, and hence our ever-increasing business.
