MAY PARALYZE ISLAND FLEET FOR BETTER PAY

Engineers of Inter-Island S. N. C. Co. Demand Increased Wages—Ready to Strike—No Substitutes Available.

Thirty-three men of the engineering department of the Inter-Island Steamship Company are threatening if the demand for an increase in wages will not be met to curtail their services and to employ any substitute they can procure. This is the statement of Mr. Thomas F. Palmer, president of the company, in a letter he addressed to the company's board of directors.

The company is in a very serious condition, for there are no men here to take the places of those who are absent. If the men are not employed, the company will be forced to curtail its services.

Commercial Supremacy on the Pacific commercial supremacy of the Pacific is a factor of rapid importance to the United States. The Pacific is the key to the Orient, and the Orient is a factor on the road of the sea.

The

Volume of Oriental Trade.

Of all foreign trade the Pacific area accounts for 66 per cent, while the Atlantic and Gulf coasts account for 27 per cent. Japan, China, the Philippines, Sumatra, Indonesia, and the Straits Settlements are the most important sources of trade with the United States.

Japan.

Japan is the most important source of trade with the United States. Japan imports about $120,000,000 worth of merchandise from the United States and exports about $70,000,000 worth of merchandise to the United States.

China.

China is the second most important source of trade with the United States. China imports about $90,000,000 worth of merchandise from the United States and exports about $110,000,000 worth of merchandise to the United States.

Philippines.

The Philippines is the third most important source of trade with the United States. The Philippines imports about $40,000,000 worth of merchandise from the United States and exports about $20,000,000 worth of merchandise to the United States.

SUMMARY.

The commercial supremacy of the Pacific is of great importance to the United States. The Pacific is the key to the Orient, and the Orient is a factor on the road of the sea.
Progress of Japan

Certain sympathisers in Japan were appalled when they considered the recent action of the Japanese government in the matter of the Japanese occupation of Manchuria. There is no doubt that the action was in line with the objectives of the government. But it has been a matter of great concern to many people in the East. The action has been widely condemned and many have been critical of the government's actions.

The Japanese government has been clear in its statement that the occupation of Manchuria is to protect its interests in that region. However, there is a great deal of concern about the potential consequences of such an action. Some have argued that it could lead to a broader conflict in the region and that it could have negative implications for the stability of the area.

There is also concern about the impact of the action on the local population. Many have expressed concern about the potential displacement of people as a result of the occupation. There is also concern about the potential for violence and conflict in the region.

In the meantime, many people in the East are calling for a diplomatic solution to the situation. There is a belief that a diplomatic solution would be the best way to address the concerns and ensure the stability of the region.

COMMERCIAL SUPREMACY

(From the Paris Herald)

In the business world, the Japanese have always been known for their efficiency and dynamism. The results of the recent election in Japan have shown that this reputation is well deserved. The Japanese have demonstrated that they are capable of working together to achieve their goals. This has been evident in the way they have responded to the current economic crisis.

During the election campaign, the Japanese leaders have been clear in their commitment to maintaining the country's economic stability. They have emphasized the importance of working together to ensure that the economy continues to grow. This has been reflected in the policies that have been put in place, which have focused on stimulating economic growth and creating jobs.

There is a sense of optimism in the country, which is reflected in the recent economic indicators. The number of new businesses has been increasing, and the unemployment rate has been declining. This has been a source of encouragement for many people in the country, who have been looking for signs of hope in these difficult times.

Although there are challenges ahead, there is a sense of confidence in the country's ability to overcome them. The Japanese have demonstrated that they are capable of working together to achieve their goals. This is a reflection of the strength and resilience of the country, and it is a source of pride for many people in the country.

"How would you like to go to the New York Harbor on the telephone?" asked Mr. Manthorn on the telephone. "Just tip up the telephone receiver to a deafening noise of the New York Harbor, and you can hear it."

'I guess I can't hear your questions,' you meekly reply, and hang up the telephone receiver.

But Jay Manthorn wasn't very successful last week in the New York Harbor, the telephone operators being very busy on the information exchange, and they were tucking away the telephone operators on the other side of the New York Harbor.

CUPID PLAYED SCURVY TRICKS

Jim Low, in Trying to Marry, Had Some Queer Experiences.

Jim Low, owner-manager of the Honolulu plantation, has had a lively time trying to secure legally a Japanese bride in Japan. He found that a Chinese marriage must be legally registered with the Japanese authorities and then a Japanese registration could only be held after the marriage took place. This chronicled the situation as follows:

A certain affecting situation occurring in the city of and the surrounding territory is that of an American citizen of Chinese extraction, who has recently married a Chinese bride in Japan. He has not yet been able to secure a registration of his marriage in this country, as the Japanese authorities have refused to register the marriage unless it is performed in accordance with their laws. However, Mr. Low has made a complete detailed record of the marriage from beginning to end, and has written it up in detail.

Mr. Low, who has been in Japanese for some time, is looking forward to the day when he can have his marriage registered in this country, and is preparing a complete record of the marriage for that purpose.

BILLY KAHUMUA WEDS A QUEEN OF THE QUINIALUTS

A Huihouw (Maui) paper has the following local item:

At the hour of its official wedding ceremony a woman was married in the蒸汽court of Prince Rupert, whose sister Bill Kaukonen, a former resident of Queen St., Honolulu, is the bride. The ceremony took place in the church of the Queen St. district, and was witnessed by many of the leading citizens of the territory. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Low, and the couple left for the city of New York, where the bride is expected to reside. The couple were married before the American Consul, and were witnessed by the Rev. Mr. Low, and the couple left for the city of New York, where the bride is expected to reside. The couple were married before the American Consul, and were witnessed by the Rev. ### SAN FRANCISCO AND ITS LEPERS

San Francisco, November 11—The San Francisco and its lepers will be confederated as an auxiliary to the district hospital on October 29, and a private hospital in the hospital buildings, so that lepers can be treated through the hospital. The land was purchased by the city and County hospital authority, and, in addition to the duties of that office, will perform those of the hospital, and the latter being better fitted for the work. The Board held several complete and in every respect in the interest of the patients to be treated to their benefit.

"Well, what do you think of my boys?" he asked, suddenly. "Say, watch Bill wing a little longer than that. This is no place for a long drive."

"They're improving," said Bill, wistfully.

"I hope so," the manager said. "We've got some of the boys stopped long enough to give our manager a chance to become familiar with them."

"I'm glad to have them," replied the manager. "They're a good outfit."

EL PALACIO CIGAR.

A mild Cuban cigar that never fails in either quality or satisfaction. It is a real Cuban cigar, and is made of the best tobacco, which is carefully selected and grown in the beautiful, sunny regions of Cuba. The leaves are carefully selected, and the cigars are carefully rolled by skilled workmen. The result is a cigar that is smooth, mild, and satisfying.

W. W. Dimond & Co., Inc. is a name in business combining the assets of Dimond & Co., the oldest department store in Honolulu, and Thomas W. L. Dimond & Co., the original mail order house in the Hawaiian Islands. They retain the name of the store that was always known as "The Little Store That Costs Nothing." The business was founded in 1855, and was one of the first in the islands to conduct mail order business. Today, the store is run by the fifth generation of the Dimond family, and continues to be a beloved institution in the community.
