Roger (Sam) Manke, 17 years of age, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Manke, St. Stephen's Church, Wahiawa, made the scale model shown in the above picture, for the ground breaking service on December 22nd for the new parish hall that is to be built for the Church. It took him six weeks to complete the project, which was designed by the Vicar, the Reverend Howard B. Kishpaugh, and has a nursery, kitchen, 11 classrooms, a social hall and long lanai. St. Stephen's Church is shown at the left of the picture. So excellent was this model that he was asked by the head of the planned improvement area near the shopping center of Wahiawa, to make a more intricate scale model for this proposed area.

St. Andrew's Cathedral Now Has A Fine Library

On January 6, the library at St. Andrew's Cathedral opened for business. A committee has been working for over a year reorganizing the existing collection, re-cataloging and cataloging new material. With a gift of $500 from the Women of St. Andrew's, Room 6 (opposite Tenney Hall) was painted, equipped with shelves and necessary furniture acquired. A generous gift from Iolani Guild of St. Andrew's provided many up-to-date reference books, including the Interpreter's Bible, Interpreter's Dictionary of the Bible, an unabridged dictionary, Bible Atlas and many other useful titles. The Misses Mary and Renney Catton, and others, donated books on religion and some historical material on the church in the Islands. It is hoped to build a good collection of Hawaiiana, particularly the history of the church. A steel filing case will house material in clipping form, reports, pamphlets, etc. on every phase of the church and its work in the Islands. Current books will be added as funds permit. Religious periodicals are available as well as some popular magazines.

The clergy are especially urged to use the library's resources at any time, and if the library is not open, may obtain a key from the office, or contact Mrs. Birnie at 553-295, or Mrs. Chaffee at 991-810. Library hours, for the present will be: Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturdays, 9-12 a.m., and Sundays from 9 a.m. until after the last service. Any one in the diocese is welcome to use the library, or to come in and read or browse. Books may be charged out for two weeks, with the privilege of renewal.

The Right Reverend William Proctor Remington, senior Bishop of the Church, died in La Jolla, Calif., on December 19, 1963, at the age of 84. He attended our 50th-90th Anniversary celebration in 1952 and the General Convention in Honolulu in 1955.

He served as a bishop in three jurisdictions before his retirement, Suffragan of South Dakota, Bishop of Eastern Oregon, and Suffragan Bishop of Pennsylvania. He held the STD degree from the University of Pennsylvania and D.D. from the Virginia Seminary.

We join in extending sympathy to Mrs. Remington.

St. Andrew's Cathedral Organist And Choirmaster Married

Mr. John McCreary, Organist and Choir Director of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Honolulu, was married to Miss Elizabeth Ann Kendall, of Baltimore, Maryland, on December 28th, at Grace Church, Baltimore.

Miss Kendall was an editor for the Labor Department, in Washington, D.C., before her marriage. She also sang in The American Light Opera Company and the choir of All Souls' Episcopal Church, Washington, D.C., where Mr. McCreary was organist and choir director before coming to Honolulu in August.

We all join in wishing them every joy in their life together. We welcome her as part of our Diocesan family.

Iolani And Punahou Schools Share In Gift

The H. R. Company of Hilo, Hawaii, the partners of which are Lowell S. Dillingham, Ben F. Dillingham, C. W. Carlsmith, and Donn W. Carlsmith, have conveyed to Iolani and Punahou Schools one-half interest in and to 35 acres of land situated in Holualoa 1st, North Kona. A detailed appraisal of the property is in process, but the company has been assured that the value will not be less than $5,000 per acre, making the undivided interest worth at least $87,500.

In making the gift, the partners felt that this parcel would be more desirably developed as one tract. Each school is given free course to partition its interest at any time.

Iolani School is greatly indebted to these men for making such a substantial gift possible.

Welcome New Year's Baby

The Reverend and Mrs. William Reeves, Jr., of Iolani School had the New Year come to them in a very special way when they welcomed their first child, William Huntington. The congratulations of the entire Diocese are extended to this new family in our District.

What Do You Know About A Seminarian?

Clergy don't "just happen." God may call them, but it takes three years of expensive graduate training in theology before these men are prepared to practice their vocation.

It costs approximately $2,887 per year to educate a seminarian. Of this amount the student pays about $990. For each student a seminary accepts, it must plan to raise $1,000 over and above the income it receives from tuition, fees and endowments.

After four years of college expense, the resources of the average seminarian are extremely limited. The majority of seminarians have part-time jobs; many borrow large sums; 84% receive scholarship aid. The difference between what a seminarian can pay and what his priestly education actually costs is great.

We have seven men in seminary from Hawaii—in three seminaries—five in the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley, California, one in Virginia Seminary, Alexandria, Virginia, and one in Seabury-Western, Evanston, Illinois. Your help in training them to come back to Hawaii and serve in this mission field is needed. Remember Theological Seminary Sunday on January 26th with your offering and prayers.

The Presiding Bishop's Message

for Theological Education Sunday January 26, 1964

Our theological seminaries are centers of learning, the life-line of the ministry, forums where the issues of our time are seen and discussed in the light of the Christian revelation. About 350 men are prepared for ordination each year in our seminaries. Adequate leadership demands sound preparation.

No one of our theological schools receives any financial assistance from the national Church. No seminary student pays his own way; in fact, he pays about one third of it. The other two thirds must be made up from other sources, and maintenance costs continue to rise.

Theological Education Sunday falls this year on January 26. It is an annual opportunity for all Church people to make an act of faith in the future leadership of the Church, and to express that faith through generous financial support. I commend this cause to your prayers and to your giving.

Arthur Lichtenberger
Presiding Bishop

Interesting Figures

The 1964 Episcopal Church Annual states that the Diocese of Massachusetts has the most baptized members: 140,144. Second is the Diocese of Los Angeles with 136,992. Of communicant strength the Diocese of Los Angeles tops the list with 91,014 and New York is second with 88,420.

The largest parish shows St. Philip's, New York City with 3,999 communicants and Christ Church, Greenwich, Connecticut is second with 3,961 communicants. Number three is Trinity Parish, New York City, with 3,918.

JUMPING at conclusions is about the only mental exercise some people take.
