The large statue of King Kamehameha I, in front of the Judicial Building in Honolulu, is draped each Kamehameha Day, June 11th, with colorful leis to show the affection of the Hawaiian people for their Hawaii Nei and former Kings.

We are delighted to have the Lius with us and know that their ministry will mean much to the people in the Kohala area.

Beloved Member Of Cathedral Dies

John Bolster, for many years a devoted member of St. Andrew’s Cathedral, was called by death very suddenly on June 8. He was a dignified, white-haired gentleman who ushered regularly at the 8 a.m. service on Sundays. Always most friendly and kind, he was a willing servant of our Lord. His presence at all Cathedral functions will be greatly missed.

Funeral services were held in the Cathedral with the Bishop, Dean John Morrett, and the Reverend Edward Townsend officiating.

Diocesan Keymen Accept Major MRI Project

The Keymen of the Diocese, meeting as dinner guests of Associate Keyman, Richard C. Ching, decided to raise at least $3,000 as their MRI Project.

September 30 was set as the date for an International Night Bar-B-Q honoring bishops and other Church dignitaries visiting Hawaii after General Convention.

On November 4 and 5 Keymen from Oahu will make a visitation to Maui to meet with fellow Churchmen there.

Other plans call for a Laymen’s overnight camp at Mokuleia, September 8 and 9, and a quiet half day to be held in conjunction with a mission to be conducted at St. Clement’s Church by the Rev. C. Fitzsimmons Allison, of the School of Theology at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee.

Also in the plans is a Laymen’s Visitation Training Program.

The Reverend Gerald G. Gifford, II, will become head Chaplain for Iolani School in September. He has been at Iolani for the past year, but will replace the Reverend Keith McPherson, who will be head Chaplain for the Lower School.

Also receiving this degree was a former Sister of the Roman Catholic Church, who with the permission of her Church, renounced her vows in order that she might give more as a secular as President of Webster College, Missouri. She is now known as Dr. Jacqueline Grennan.

This summer Wilma Chang, of St. Andrew’s Cathedral, and Joel will go to Okinawa as our young people who will help on our MRI work project at Miyako and in Okinawa.

In September Joel will enter the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, at Berkeley, California.

CAMP PECUSA
Ecumenical Church Camp

We are pleased to announce, for the first time in the history of the Christian Churches on Maui, an ecumenically-planned church camp. Through the cooperative efforts of the United Church of Christ, The Methodist Church, The Salvation Army, and The Episcopal Church, a shared camping program has been established for the benefit of families in providing their children with a camping experience this summer.

The facilities of Camp Pecusa, Olowalu, will be used; and the cooperating churches will provide a staff of clergymen who will oversee the direction of the camping program. They will serve as counselors responsible for the care and supervision of the young campers.

Two sessions are planned for young folk who will be in the 3rd to the 9th grades during the 1967-68 academic year. The first session is planned to run from July 30 to August 5, and the second session from August 6 to the 12th.

All children, regardless of race, creed or color, qualify as potential campers, providing they meet with the medical requirements as set forth in the Health Report. Camp scholarships are available for those who need economic assistance. Camp fee per child is $15 per week.
Kwajalein’s Church
Of The Ascension...

On Kwajalein, the largest and southernmost of the hundred islands and islets of the world’s largest coral atoll, faithful Churchpeople have gathered weekly in the Island Chapel for well over two years now to rejoice in the Lord after the Episcopal way.

The Episcopal congregation is known as the Church of the Ascension, not only because it was formally organized on Ascension Day 1965, but also because those who form the congregation—like all people on Kwajalein—are in some way related to our missile research and development program. The Lord is gone up with a merry noise; the missile, with a loud whoosh and a bang.

Kwajalein, the down-range end of the 4,200-mile long Pacific Missile Range, is (appropriately enough) shaped like that earlier missile the boomerang. The Island, three miles long and one-half mile wide, is a combination of mainland army base (Kwajalein Test Site, or KTS), a Kailua-like suburb (tract homes, school district, shopping center, and trailer park), city-county recreation areas (baseball diamond, golf links, swimming pools, beach areas, marina, handball and tennis courts), Armed Forces YMCA (for single persons), a port and airport like Maui’s, and—most important of all—a Science City. As if by the power of Aladdin’s lamp, it seems, all this was gathered up and set down just 500 miles north of the Equator in the midst of Micronesia, a part of America’s Pacific Trust Territories.

The Marshallese of the atoll live mainly on Ebeye, the third island due north of Kwajalein. In the Marshalls and Micronesia, the Congregational missionary from 19th century Hawaii met the Spanish Jesuit from the Philippines. Today the Marshallese are (chiefly) Congregationalists of a most conservative sort or Roman Catholics. Marshallese seem to be one language into which the Prayer Book has not yet been translated.

The Episcopal Church on Kwajalein is led by Maj. D. L. Foster, USA (Senior Warden); R. J. Beck, BTL (Jr. Warden); Kay Koehler, KTS (Clerk); and Elmen “Red” Bloedel, RCA (Treasurer). The Kwajalein layreaders are: Russel Newhouse, BTL; Major Foster; Jon Huntington, Lincoln Labs; and Karl Koehler, RCA.

Special mention must be made of Karl Koehler, Senior Layreader and former Senior Warden of the Church of the Ascension, who has prepared eight for Confirmation and trained three layreaders while on Kwajalein. He is a leader among Churchmen, as he is a follower of Christ.

Appreciation From The Presiding Bishop

Dear Friends:

Thank you very much for your generous response to our recent special appeal for funds to assist people through the current crisis in race relations.

The receipt formally issued by our Finance Department is enclosed, but I wanted to add this somewhat more personal word of appreciation for your support.

Faithfully yours,

RT. REV. JOHN E. HINES,
Presiding Bishop
St. Andrew’s Priory Senior Honored

Maile Jean Allen, daughter of Mrs. Kay D. Allen, of Honolulu, was awarded the Distinguished Youth Service Award which is annually sponsored by the Honolulu High School Association, Rural Oahu High School Association, and the Liberty House Department Store.

The House of Representatives of the Fourth Legislature of the State of Hawaii commended her for her efforts in accentuating and perpetuating the beauty and traditions of the Hawaiian culture by teaching hula to all interested young people and by taking them on various excursions on Oahu and for her efforts in accentuating the “Aloha Spirit” of Hawaii.

Maile Jean graduated this year from St. Andrew’s Priory, standing high in her class. The Priory is proud of her record.

PLEASE REMEMBER!

There is no HAWAIIAN CHURCH CHRONICLE during July and August. Many send letters to wonder why they have not received their Chronicles, so we would remind you that we will not be in your mail box until September.

Oldest Member Honored

Tokutaro Makishima, the oldest living member of St. John’s Church, Eleele, Kauai, was honored to celebrate his eighty-eighth birthday at the parish hall of the church. The Rev. Thomas K. Yoshida, Vicar, acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Makishima is pictured with members of the “Airin-Kai” (Japanese congregation—“community of love.”)

Partnership To Be Decided In 1967

“Partnership” may assume new significance in the Episcopal Church, starting in 1968.

If General Convention approves, the many-faceted missionary program at home and overseas will be financed by the voluntary pledges of the dioceses and missionary districts. This action would abolish the 44-year-old system of quotas.

The Partnership principles, which says each parish and mission, each diocese and missionary district, should give to others at least as much as it keeps and spends on itself is to be recommended to the Church’s bicameral governing body by the nine-member Joint Committee on the Partnership Plan.

The Joint Committee will propose the Church’s canons be amended to eliminate reference to the quota system which was adopted in 1922.
ST. STEPHEN'S RECTOR RECEIVES CITATION

The Reverend Howard B. Kishpaugh, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Wahiawa, was honored by the Department of the Army on June 9th, in General Lassetter's quarters. The following letter commended him:

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
HEADQUARTERS UNITED STATES ARMY, HAWAII
OFFICE OF THE COMMANDING GENERAL
APO SAN FRANCISCO 96557

9 June 1967
Dear Father Kishpaugh:

On behalf of the many officers and men who have served at Schofield Barracks during the period 1963 to the present, I wish to convey my appreciation for the truly superb manner in which you have administered to the needs of the Army community.

In addition to your parish duties, you have shown by your actions that you are an enthusiastic supporter of the United States Army. You have directly participated with the soldiers of the 25th Division in countless training exercises on Oahu, Molokai and Hawaii. By sharing the rigors of hard training with them, you have won the respect and admiration of hundreds of soldiers of all faiths. You constantly affirmed for them the importance of their service as defenders of freedom. You and your wife have displayed complete selflessness in giving of your time and energies to assist in counselling military members and their dependents in times of need and sorrow.

When the 25th Infantry Division deployed to South Vietnam, you redoubled your efforts to assist the dependents who remained behind in the Schofield and Wahiawa area. You were an important link between the soldiers fighting abroad and their loved ones whose duty it was to remain behind. Often it was necessary for you to help soldiers and their dependents alike to achieve the high level of self-discipline that is so necessary in times of war and family separation. You were a constant source of strength and comfort to military dependents who were hospitalized during their husbands' absence and, on many occasions, had the hard duty of comforting those whose loved ones had been killed in action.

Your deep dedication to your country, your tireless and selfless devotion to officers and soldiers of the United States Army and their dependents, and your uncompromising extension of the high spiritual value and moral standards that are so cherished by the United States Army, have contributed significantly to the well-being and welfare of the command. Your conduct and your accomplishments during this period reflect great credit upon yourself, your church and the community.

I’m sure that if he were here, General Weyand, the recent Commanding General of the 25th Infantry Division, would join with me in offering as a token of our esteem and appreciation, this Department of the Army Certificate of Appreciation for Patriotic Civilian Service.

Sincerely,
ROY LASSETTER, JR.

Return To The Islands For Summer Supply

The Reverend John P. Moulton and his wife, Frances, will arrive in Honolulu on June 28th, and will be in residence at the Rectory of St. George's Church, Pearl Harbor for supplying while the Reverend and Mrs. Kenneth Perkins have a vacation in Alaska. They will be here a month.

Canon Moulton is now at the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist, in Spokane, Washington.

It will be welcome news to the many friends of the Moultons to have them return to Hawaii. During his Chaplaincy at Iolani School from 1945 to 1951, and to the Hawaii Preparatory Academy from 1951-1952, the Moultons endeared themselves to many. We welcome them with a warm Aloha.
