PRESIDENT TAKESO: To Hand Over Mainichi To Us!

THE PRESS AND THE COMMUNITY

By N. Takahashi, President & Manager

A news publication is a lawnmower, a government ad simulating the noise and employ of a community. The press has been reported to have one said. As a matter of fact, some extremes go to the extent of saying that a newspaper is sup posed to be in the position of an echo chamber, following with three conditions, among reporters there are those who have written the title in thousands of human society. It may be said to some extent that all of these claims possess some truth in them.

There is no question that a progressive press is one of the most important mediums in helping modern society to function properly in all its phases and for this reason, it has been accepted as one of the indispensable necessities of everyday life.

Consequently, the quality of a newspaper and its scope of circulation bring about intimate influence and poses direct effect upon human society. Considerable interest, therefore, should be shown by the press and the community alike on the question of the type of news paper published in a given society and to the extent of its variety, which after all will go a to a long way toward proper progress of human society and removing its existing evils. Without fear of being re futed, it may be said, therefore, that the progress or dete mination of the press, in turn, depends almost entirely on the understanding and support it derives from the community in which it finds its existence.

There is no business enterprise that can be successfully conducted without care and supervision. The news publica tion business, however, must be considered as one of the difficult to comprehend among all enterprises. Because of the dual nature, a business enterprise for profit making on one hand and the important function as a medium of human benefit of the community, subject to public criticism as no other business, the community has to continue to keep in mind that it cannot look to profit-making alone. For these reasons, the news media has such a hold on modern society that it has become a generally accepted principle that an individual who pays no attention to newspapers or a community not suffi ciently interested in their publication should not be allowed to publish a newspaper. It finds difficult to take its or proper place because it is the only way to have the benefit of truth in being a properly edited paper. In its service to the community and the people, a newspaper publication that finds its highest and noblest mission.

The thirty-five-year period of existence and history of the Hawaiian Mainichi has been one filled with hardships and difficulties. As we reflect upon the past, we are filled with mixed emotions. Fortunately, we have enjoyed good fortune and guidance from the highest positions of our country, the secretary of state and other officials, editors and publishers, and the people in general. For all of us, this is filled with the desire to achieve a higher standard of living.

Our long life of thirty-five years in this community, we owe to the faithful and constant support from the community.

In publishing our thirty-fifth anniversary number, we feel particularly honored and indebted to all of those people who sent us their messages of encouragement and good wishes.

Upon this occasion, which celebrates the 55th Anniversary of the founding of your organization in Hilo, I wish to take this opportu nity of congratulating the Hawaiian Mainichi on the past that has consistently played in the Community Progress and Life.

Just as this community was small in size thirty years ago, this newspaper, borne with the spirit of the community, was small in size as the community grew, the paper grew along with it; until today, we are just as proud of the Hawaiian Mainichi as we are with the growth of the community.

Congratulations and aloha.

Chairman & Executive Officer County of Hawaii

NORIHI TAKESO

June 4, 1941

I wish to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of May twenty-third in which you were good enough to inform me of your plans for the Hawaiian Mainichi and re quest to me to contribute an article.

I should be very glad to be of feasible assist ance but I am so occupied with the many delicate and acute problems confronting the Department, many of them of the most urgent nature, that I am in deep regret. I am obliged to refrain for the time being from undertaking the preparation of further articles and statements of the character you request.

I am sorry I cannot send you a more favorable reply but I feel sure you will understand and appreci

EARLY HURDLES OF MAINICHI ARE

Fifty-Year History Shows Ultimate

Triumph Over Continuous Hardships

By NORIHI TAKESO

President of The Mainichi, Inc.

It was in 1906 that the Hawaiian Mainichi pub lished its first newspaper and this year will round out its fiftieth anniversary since organization. Mr. Kuriaki E. Egami first headed the newspaper firm and in 1912 Mr. Atsune Hayakawa. I undertook its management as the third partner Arthur Jones (April 15, 1927), almost exactly 20 years ago.

The 80th issue of the paper had been issued when I took over, but today we publish the 80,000th number and feel greatly honored to be able to observe the fiftieth anniversary today.

In the first years of its existence, the Hawaiian Mainichi was not destined to become a generally accepted principle that an indi vidual who

Anxiety

My anxiety, however, during these three hours has been to establish a legible and sound text. In fact, there are a number of problems, but I have learned that a journalist, as is true of many other persons, is interested in these problems.

or officers of the Hawaiian Mainichi.

As a result, I have been fortunate in being able to prepare and spend a great deal of time on the question of whether it can be improved to a certain degree, but it has never been approached as newspaper. This is the first time that I can say that the same thing has been realized, even at the cost of a considerable amount of work and time. However, I think we have now accomplished the task, and I feel sure that the public may be able to comfortably read this newspaper. I will never allow one to go through this country. The newspaper of the Japanese people of Hawaii.

In my endeavor to assure that the paper might be improved to a certain extent, I conducted a series of surveys and and revised it. I felt that the strength behind it is Japanese ancestry and I realize that the Mainichi is the true representative of the principal throughout the years to come.

PROMOTING REVIVAL OF AMITY BETWEEN TWO NATIONS BORDERING ON THE PACIFIC OCEAN

Principles Embodied In First U. S. -Nippon Treaty Should Act As Future Guide

Between Two Countries

It affords me a great deal of pleasure to offer my sincere felicitations to the President and the friends of the Hawaii Mainichi. This happy and significant occasion of the 35th anniversary of the publication of the paper and to extend my hearty greetings to American citizens of Japanese descent, their families and their friends in the Territory of Hawaii.

I am particularly delighted to join the congratulations stated for the occasion which was given when the Hawaii Mainichi has been pleased to extend its number of 35 years of its existence. I can hardly evangelize the fact that one of the first major papers in this country and the world is the Hawaii Mainichi. It is a paper which has played a significant role in the Pacific area, and has always been very much appreciated by our friends in Hawaii. I am very pleased to see that the Hawaii Mainichi is still flourishing, as it is for the benefit of the community.

I have just come back from a trip to Japan, and I am aware that the influences of the war have been greatly felt in that country. It is a matter of great concern that the war in the Pacific area has become a reality, which is now a fact, and that the war has become a matter of greater concern for the future of the world. It is for this reason that I am most pleased to extend my congratulations to the Hawaii Mainichi, the first U. S. -Nippon newspaper, on its 35th anniversary.

In conclusion, it is my hope that the Hawaii Mainichi will continue to flourish, and that it will continue to play a significant role in the Pacific area.

NATIONAL PARKS ARE CONSIDERED IMPORTANT FACTORS IN PROMOTING NATION’S MORALITY

Statement on the Ratification of the Inter-American Convention on Nature Conservation and Wildlife Preservation

At this time when the minds and hands of men and women are engaged in strengthening the armed defenses of its several countries and the hemisphere, it is important for the hemisphere to maintain a comprehensive program of sphere-wide conservation measures which have been undertaken and made effective in the space of a few months.

PARK HEAD

In the last years of the period of isolation, the United States and Japan, now members of the Inter-American Nature Protection and Wildlife Committee, have taken a number of steps toward the maintenance of natural resources. One of the steps is the ratification of the Inter-American Convention on Nature Conservation and Wildlife Preservation. This convention aims at the establishment of an international organization to promote the conservation of natural resources.

The convention is designed to create a single, unified system of conservation policies for the hemisphere, which would cover all aspects of the conservation of natural resources. The convention is expected to cover such areas as the protection of wild life, the preservation of natural habitat, and the prevention of pollution.

The convention is expected to be signed by all the countries of the hemisphere, and it is expected to come into force within a year after the signatures are exchanged. The convention is expected to be a significant step in the conservation of natural resources in the hemisphere.

NEW YORK (UP)—That bright window seen in the baseball manager’s room at midnight is something burning to catch unwary stouts and more often it’s the head of a hard-working “on-deck-order-usher,”’’ a new buddy of National League pilots this morning.

The eight-convention ball has been a busy one so far. Today in the National League there were 32 games. Among all the aircraft outside ofsalmon and pheasant, one of the odder sights in the order was the end of the day, a small white steamer named the New York. The crew was complete, and all signs seemed to indicate that the small airship was the last of the fleet which had been the target of the little correspondence of the last few days.

As for the weather, it was fine.
