DPW head grilled on roads

By Nick Legaspi
Staff reporter

Lack of funds and inadequate equipment are not the only causes of bad roads in Saipan. Inefficient and uncooperative personnel of the Department of Public Works aggravate the problem.

This surfaced during a public hearing at the Legislature Wednesday, prompting DPW Director John Pangelinan to say that "if the department needs overhaul, I am willing to do that."

Rep. William Ada said the department needed a complete overhaul because it was suffering from an epidemic of equipment breakdown. Pangelinan, in response to the same question from members of the House Committee on Judiciary and Governmental Operations on the cause of bad roads in Saipan, said: "I sound like a broken record. I keep saying we need funds and we need equipment."

Later, he said that because of the many things he heard during the hearing regarding which he was not aware of, Pangelinan asked the committee to give him 30 days "to give you what is needed for road repair and service. Funding is not the only thing needed."

GJ unseals indictment

No one in CNMI govt. named

"Chico" Hiraga named in alleged bribe

By DAVID T. HUGHES
editor

Many of the tongues wagging throughout the Commonwealth lately will now have a lot of crow to chew—especially a copy editor of the Pacific Daily News. Deputy U.S. Attorney George Proctor ended the suspense of last month's sealed indictment Wednesday when he announced the person charged.

Who was indicted? It wasn't CNMI personnel officer Jesus Mafnas, as one PDN headline heralded a few weeks ago. It was Francisco DeLeon Guerrero.

That PDN story didn't say Mafnas was indicted, but a copy editor responsible for writing headlines did—bringing on a wholesale exchange of gossip about Mafnas.

Guerrero was indicted by the grand jury on Dec. 19 for his alleged role in bringing in almost 100 pounds of marijuana onboard the Sierra I a repeat.

Audit report will have a lot of bad news for NMI

By David T. Hughes

The ink isn't even dry on the preliminary draft of the first-ever full-scale audit of the CNMI government, but already word has leaked out that the figures will show "significant" deficits, as one CPA said. But, it could be as late as Easter before the final report is completed, approved, and published.

Public Auditor Scott T. Tan and Leslie C. Zuroske, senior account auditor with KPMG, aren't talking about "bottom line numbers" until governor Pedro F. Tenorio returns from the governor's conference in mid-March. They did agree to discuss the audit in "general terms."

Zuroske said in an interview Feb. 16 that his company had been in the throes of an audit since July, and the final report would be for the entire government spending for the whole year.

Smog caused by Pagan's new eruptions

Spectacular sunsets on Saipan

By Nick Legaspi

The volcano on Pagan Island woke up from its eight-year sleep and erupted Tuesday, Felix Sasamoto, civil defense coordinator, said Wednesday.

Sasamoto said in an interview that nobody was in danger on the island because it had been closed for residential purposes. The island's 55 inhabitants were rescued by the government in Saipan when the volcano erupted in May 1980.

He said he noticed smoke north of Saipan Tuesday afternoon. He said he called the Department of Public Safety. "Temp" plates will be replaced now

"Retirement... it's a beautiful word. Many of us work hard all of our lives so we can have a few years to enjoy ourselves without the pressure of work. However, the story of broken promises is the one that every American can relate to. Our government is broken by policies that promise us a future without the pressure of work. Yes, retiring is a wonderful thing."

"Disregard" for CNMI retirees

The Senate Chamber of Commerce has proposed a plan to give all retirees at least 15 percent of the cost of living allowance in view of the many millions of dollars the federal government has given away to people who don't necessarily deserve it. The law has been approved by the government. The proposal, according to a few senators, would be necessary to accommodate this kind. The proposal, according to some senators, would be necessary to accommodate those who have already retired. Second, the Commonwealth has received a number of complaints from the National Government, just as we did in the past. Burglars plead guilty to crimes
By Nick Legaspi
Staff reporter

Two local teenagers pleaded guilty Feb. 11 to several charges of burglary and theft.

Lorenzo Varios, 18, pleaded guilty to two counts of theft and one count of burglary. Timothy A. Fakihugh, 17, pleaded guilty to seven counts of burglary.

Both were charged with theft in connection with a number of break-ins and thefts.

In view of their ages, and as a local, I firmly believe that it is in the best interest of the people of the CNMI that they be confined to probation instead of being incarcerated in a prison.

The two, who broke into the MDC building in June and July last year, were first named in two complaints filed with the District Court.

In May 2000, President Al Figo Agaton of the CNMI American Legion Riders filed a complaint with the District Court.

In July 2000, Vice President of CNMI American Legion Riders also filed a complaint with the District Court.

Both complaints asked the court to revoke the two's bond for each count.

In April 2001, the two were detained on the CNMI American Legion Riders complaint.

In October 2001, the two were detained on the CNMI American Legion Riders complaint.

The two pleaded guilty to all counts of burglary and theft.

In view of their ages, and as a local, I firmly believe that it is in the best interest of the people of the CNMI that they be confined to probation instead of being incarcerated in a prison.

The House of Representatives passed HB11 this week to finance the operations of the Board of Education for fiscal year 1988. House Bill 6-49 introduced by Appropriations Chairman David C. Talusan provides a total of $161,300 at BOE's fiscal year 1988 budget. The board, according to Executive Director Juan M. Duenas, used the money to date conduct the March 5 municipal council elections in Rota and Tinian.

Of the total amount provided by the bill, $93,100 is for salaries of BOE employees and other personnel. Tenorio said $68,200 is for operations. The House passed the bill on first and final reading. It must be passed by the Senate before it could be transmitted to Governor Pedro P. Consulta for final approval.

During the same session the House adopted a joint resolution providing for a joint legislative session March 23 to receive Governor's annual state of the Commonwealth address. House Joint Resolution 6-5, introduced by Floor Leader Vincenzo M. Sablan, sets the joint session at 10 a.m. at the CNMI9 convention Center. Senate President of the government's annual report to the Legislature is required by the CNMI Constitution.

In an interview with the Legislature news reporter, Talusan said the Senate should pass the joint resolution for the joint legislative session. Talusan said he hopes the resolution is adopted without amendments by the Senate.

New Senate measure would speed bills' action

By Nick Legagri

The new Senate measure would expedite the process of passing legislation. The measure would allow the Senate to pass bills more quickly, thereby reducing the time it takes for legislation to become law. This would help to increase the efficiency of the legislative process and ensure that important legislation is passed in a timely manner.

Guerrero wants cable rate public hearings

By Nick Legaspi

Senator Juan T. Guerrero called the Commonwealth Utilities Corp. Tuesday to testify about a recent rate increase proposed by Tropic Isles Cable TV Corp. to raise the current cable television rates in Saipan.

"This public hearing should provide Tropic Isles a forum to explain its reasons for the new public's opportunity to comment," said Guerrero in a letter to CUC Chairman Jose M. Taitano.

Guerrero's request was in response to a recent announcement from Tropic Isles of a rate increase from $18.95 to $19.95 per month. He called for the meeting to ensure that all 36 employees have the opportunity to comment on the proposed rate.

It was not immediately clear how long the public hearing will take, with the final decision to be made by the CUC.

Employees may be required to post bond amounting to not less than $3,000 for each non-resident worker employed instead of the $2,000 bond on earlier bills by the Department of Labor and Employment.

The department stated implementing the bond provisions of P.L. 3-66 as it has been the practice in the Philippines at a monthly salary of $500 or the employer must be able to show the Commonwealth an equivalent amount, the airline ticket to Miranda (P48 in approx.) and $2,500 for each non-resident worker. The bond requirements are due the first of each new year and is to ensure foreign workers from employing employers.

Representatives of local industry groups such as the garment companies objected to the proposed rules and regulations to protect foreign workers from being underpaid and employers were told to post cash or surety bonds to cover the cost to Tropic Isles for the pay hike.

In response, the department published regulations published in the Commonwealth Register that the proposed rules is the requirement that employers who want to hire non-resident workers must also include procedures to ensure that bond amount must increase the bond amount if the new rule is adopted.

The proposed non-resident workers rules and regulations published in the Commonwealth Register also include procedures to be followed in being non-resident workers must include a statement of compliance and petitions for hearing and approval and a basis for appeal which includes the department's approval in the implementation of the non-resident workers.

Comments regarding the proposed rules and regulations to be submitted to the department within 30 days after which the rules and regulations will be put into effect.

Landmark property decision is appealed

By Nick Legaspi

The Seventh Day Adventist Mission appealed a Trial Court decision Feb. 11 which affirmed the purchase by an SDA Mission employee of land to be used for a school project.

Marybeth Agulto filed the appeal at the District Court of the CNMI to decertify Maria Agutilo, member of the sect and an employee of the mission.

In her petition, the defendant stated that a parcel of land approximately 3,000 square meters in Saipan originally owned by Dona Calixto Villanueva, a person of Northern Marianas descent, in 1981 was sold to this daughter and her husband, Jose Villanueva.

Calixto's daughter and husband, in 1983, entered into an agreement to sell (another) property to Rev. Rafael T. Gilotti.

Motioning again to the outside of the barracks, the report said the more efficient use of the cape of a fighting boat is a more than 100 feet from the building. Fists of construction material and other odds and ends on the premises prevent a further danger of fire and water lines. They are in order to remain or at least stored above ground level.

At the barracks and cafeteria of a new San Vicente garbage fac- tory inspector found a shadow, a list of violations. Barracks Sanpam, he said 300 employees housed in two areas. The company was told to provide an enclosed area for the kitchen and vehicle to a chill box and an assigned vehicle. The report noted that insulation was needed for all their self-vehicle needs. A significant improvement in the use of the metal license plates was won by Joeten Motors last year. He said the new metal license plates are expected to arrive early next year. Those 30,000 vehicles registered by the bureau in fiscal year 1987. He said motor sales companies hire drivers who run motorcycles and mopeds (with engine) of up to 100 cc (cubic centimeter) in size. He said drivers could be storing metal and other heavy equipment weighing 7,500 pounds or more.

Barracks ordered cleaned up

The proposed rules and regulations also includes the following: any employer must be a member of the health system in order to avoid the cost of workers' injury for the first year of the regulations is $500 for each and $2,000 for housing.

Worker housing must be maintained in a manner which will provide protection against the elements, including rain, sun, snow, and flood, and fire; seen in the walls, including the kitchen, and in the inspection that the screening of the buildings wasn’t sufficient to keep out rain or snow.

A security plan was noted under a list of inconsistencies observed under a viewing table. The inspection report noted that the storage of knives and forks and other kitchen necessities must be stored off the floor or in a protective cabinet noted that insulation was needed for all vehicle needs. A significant improvement in the use of the metal license plates was won by Joeten Motors last year. He said the new metal license plates are expected to arrive early next year. New bonding proposed

Each room for sleeping pur- poses must contain at least 50% of the floor space for each occupant and a ceiling not lower than 8 Feet. Any employee of the Mission has a right to file a complaint with the Division of Labor regulations regardless of any provision of the Northern Marianas Workers Rights Act or implementing rules and regulations that were recently adopted and subject to the control of non-NMI church members in taking title to property in the CNMI so that the church could build a school. Herald asks in the.

She also questions the conclusion made by a judge that a local school district could not hold title to property because the property was not included in the list of violations when the deed was signed. Paper plates

The Hyatt Regency Saipan will start selling paper plates Feb. 19. The hotel has announced a new bi-weekly column sponsored by the Hyatt Regency Saipan, "We Design" to keep up with your Renovation and expansion at the Hyatt Regency Saipan.

The Hyatt Regency Saipan announced recently an employee benefit that it will become the first hotel in Saipan to offer free health insurance benefits to all its employees.

According to Personnel and Training Manager Patrick Calvo, the decision to provide health insurance was largely a response to concerns employees had over the rising cost of health care.

"In order for employees to ask if we could do something to help. We looked into it and decided to do so," he said. "With the Hyatt tradition, the management of our facility is very pleased to be the first hotel in Saipan in offering this benefit."

Effective January 1, 1991, each full-time regular Hyatt Regency Saipan employee who meets the eligibility requirements was certified free of any Hyatt Health Insurance Plan. As a benefit, employees do not pay anything to get this coverage. Premium payments are paid by the hotel.

"On top of the Hyatt paying employees' premiums, we also made the program available for their dependents," said Patrick. "The premium rate being offered to employees to enroll their families is probably the best available on island."

By the way, if you've been to the Hyatt Regency Saipan lately, you may have noticed a new circular driveway that is part of the new expansion of the hotel project has just been completed.

The management of the hotel thanks everybody for their patience concerning the construction that has been going on in the parking lot. While it may be a little dusty everyone is very excited about what the outcome is going to be.

MARIANAS HIGH SCHOOL students invent some 'sweet equity' in Wbang Beach beauty

The first annual CNMI National Energy Day (NED) program is being held throughout the CNMI. This year the theme is "Expanding America's energy potential." This year students in grades 6-12 from across the CNMI are joining students from over 8,000 schools in the states as they organize and participate in various events to promote awareness and encourage energy efficiency as well as develop hands-on skills.

A dozen students from Marianas High School are participating in President's Day morning in the library of the Department of Energy, hosting materials for three projects they investigated. Each project looks at renewable energy sources, nuclear, solar, and biological energy conservation, natural gas, and efficient conservation through proper architectural designs and environmental and economic practices. The hands-on projects will just be one of the students for public service projects. In March 18 at the Convention Center.

During the week of March 14-18, students will participate in a variety of activities, ranging from high school students developing science type-energy-related approaches to teaching on energy-related subjects, to adults about energy-related topics in school boards, media, and community, and adults about energy-related topics in school boards, media, and community, and adults about energy-related topics.

CRM's "Adopt-a-Beach" program off to big start

Marianas High School has begun its Adopt-a-Beach activities with an excursion to Wbang Beach on February 19. Thirty-four OH students from Erolod Bato's Environmental Science class collected specific samples and took measurements and notes on waste depth and waste environment of different marine organisms they found. After "studies" and lunch the students cleaned up the beach, filling 11 large trash bags with garbage. This put Marianas High School on the bags ahead of other schools interested in participating in Adopt-a-Beach, a project sponsored by the Coastal Resources Management Office and the Division of Fish & Wildlife and supported by the Marianas Variety's Board, the Department of Education and local schools. Adopt-a-Beach is a project alternative for schools interested in participating in the National Energy Education Day (NED) project, which features a bumper-sticker design contest and classroom "energy" projects throughout the schools.

A couple interested in participating in Adopt-a-Beach should call Davey at 234-0517.

The program opens Rota inspections

The Frederic Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has opened an office on Rota to inspect complaints and approve government projects in the islands. In order to protect those destroyed by Typhoon Ryan last month. Federal and state disaster officials and FEMA inspector Ray Stevick and Bill Hamner have set up an office in the Marianas Islands Housing Authority (MIHA) office in Saipan. Hours 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 532-0435.

Applicants who house damages can be approved for a new home, according to Richard J. Adams, FEMA Coordination Officer. They may choose to have a FEMA-designed wood frame house or they may choose to have their homes reconstructed and replaced by an office in the Marianas Islands Housing Authority (MIHA) office in Saipan. Hours 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 532-0435.

The inspection process is crucial for the two new homes for their damaged homes in Rota. They may also be inspecting the condition of concrete and block houses.

The first annual CNMI National Energy Day (NED) program is being held throughout the CNMI. This year's theme is "Expanding America's energy potential." This year students in grades 6-12 from across the CNMI are joining students from over 8,000 schools in the states as they organize and participate in various events to promote awareness and encourage energy efficiency as well as develop hands-on skills.

A dozen students from Marianas High School are participating in President's Day morning in the library of the Department of Energy, hosting materials for three projects they investigated. Each project looks at renewable energy sources, nuclear, solar, and biological energy conservation, natural gas, and efficient conservation through proper architectural designs and environmental and economic practices. The hands-on projects will just be one of the students for public service projects. In March 18 at the Convention Center.

During the week of March 14-18, students will participate in a variety of activities, ranging from high school students developing science type-energy-related approaches to teaching on energy-related subjects, to adults about energy-related topics in school boards, media, and community, and adults about energy-related topics.

The program opens Rota inspections

The Frederic Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has opened an office on Rota to inspect complaints and approve government projects in the islands. In order to protect those destroyed by Typhoon Ryan last month. Federal and state disaster officials and FEMA inspector Ray Stevick and Bill Hamner have set up an office in the Marianas Islands Housing Authority (MIHA) office in Saipan. Hours 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 532-0435.

Applicants who house damages can be approved for a new home, according to Richard J. Adams, FEMA Coordination Officer. They may choose to have a FEMA-designed wood frame house or they may choose to have their homes reconstructed and replaced by an office in the Marianas Islands Housing Authority (MIHA) office in Saipan. Hours 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 532-0435.

The inspection process is crucial for the two new homes for their damaged homes in Rota. They may also be inspecting the condition of concrete and block houses.

Mr. TT "Governor," Guma said, is introducing the innovative "simple justice" demands that the land’s public employees make his administration ignorance of the magnitude of the problem...and that’s why we are in this mess today. But Governor's personal remedies are not acceptable to the government and enforcement. The problem is not going anywhere. We need to address the issue not be avoided. "It’s time to address the problem," Governor Guma said.

A group of Micronesian employers feel a cap on wages will be the answer to their problems. "This is the reason we need to move towards a cap on wages," one employer said. "The government is not going to address the problem."

Hopwood Jr. High Valentine dance

Valentine's Day was very special at Hopwood Jr. High this year. The students of Hopwood observed the day with a gala dance in which the queen and king of Valentine's were crowned. They were chosen based on the amount of money they raised for a school project. Also honored were the princes and princesses of romance at the school. Once the festivities were over their highnesses stepped off their thrones to boogie with their subjects on the dance floor of Convention Center.

Rocky road for Pangelinan

Rep. Antonio M. Camacho, committee chairman, called the hearing to discuss the road problem on the Commonwealth's main island. Public Safety Director Edward Manibusan and Saipan Mayor Gilbert C. Ada also testified during the hearing. Pangelinan, at the start of the hearing, admitted that paved as well as coral roads in Saipan are in poor condition. "I am fully aware of the problem," he said, "I am not blind to the issue." He said his department did not have enough funds and equipment to repair bad roads and keep them in good condition. He said the department did the best it could to do its job.

He said public works received $320,000 in fiscal year 1986 and $283,000 in fiscal year 1987 not only for road repair but also for the repair of government buildings, fuel and other materials needed for public works operations.

Rep. Juan S. Torres, who was appointed chairman of the Public Works panel in the Fourth Legislature, said the department also received $1.2 million for the salaries and benefits of its employees in fiscal year 1986 and $1.3 million in fiscal year 1987.

Torres asked Pangelinan on the fate of the money. "I received $1.2 million for the salaries and benefits of its employees in fiscal year 1986 and $1.3 million in fiscal year 1987," Pangelinan said. "I hope that would not be the case," Pangelinan said. "We assure you that we have the materials on hand," Pangelinan said.

"It takes a person to die for the road to be repaired," Camacho said. "Am I right?"

"I hope that would not be the case," Pangelinan said. "We do assist when there is death in the family by repairing the parking space."

Ada said he asked for help from the DPW several times but the response he got was either the equipment was tied up to another project or that there was only one piece of equipment available. He said he looked elsewhere and was able to obtain surplus equipment from the United States Navy, due to arrive in the next week or two. Commenting on the attitude of DPW personnel, Ada said: "Some of the Department of Public Works staff are uncooperative."

He added: "I hope that when the director leaves this hall he would call his staff and give them discipline."

Rep. David C. Sablan questioned even Pangelinan's request for 30 days to come up with the answer to the road problem, considering that Pangelinan had been with the DPW since 1964. The committee, however, gave Pangelinan the 30 days he requested to submit his answer and to turn over to the committee all the information and documents sought from him. The committee will review the additional information and will call Pangelinan to another hearing.

Big slate of teams will show for FASA games

By Nick Legaspi
Staff reporter

About 18 teams are expected to join the Second All-Filipino Inter-Commercial League when it opens March 13. This was learned following the election Sunday of the 1988 officers of the Filipino Amateur Sports Association. Jun Fidelino, who was re-elected unopposed, said in an interview that 10 teams had already applied for a slot in the league. He said FASA wanted to limit the number of teams playing in the league to 18. The 1987 league jointly sponsored by FASA and Mar Pac Distributors had a total of 14 teams.

Eight more teams may submit their registration forms and the $300 entry fee until the Feb. 29 deadline. Other FASA officers elected Sunday are the following: Mar Pacson, vice president; Ferdinand Bial, secretary; Monto Gualt, treasurer; Eddie Pangelinan, auditor, Monching Angeles, public relations officer, and Mike Cruz, Rudy Santos, Brigs Hernandez, Cesar Dumato, Sonny Javier, Ral delo Cruz, Danny Domingo, Rolly Bigbaha and Mau Elbio, directors.

House wants U.S. action on 902 del.

By Nick Legaspi
Staff reporter

The House of Representatives adopted a resolution Feb. 11 asking the Commonwealth Attorney General to file a complaint at the District Court to compel President Ronald Reagan to appoint a special representative and resume Section 902 negotiations with the CNMI.

Section 902 of the Covenant provides for the appointment of United States and CNMI representatives to hold consultations on non-financial issues affecting U.S.- CNMI relationship.

House Resolution 6-5, introduced by Floor Leader Vicente M. Sablan, recalls that three rounds of Section 902 consultations took place prior to the appointment of former Assistant Interior Secretary Richard Moncaya in September 1985 as Reagan's representative to the talks.

Issues discussed during the three meetings include citizenship and passport problems, control of local fishery and seafood resources, Headnote 3(b) protection, unpaid war claims and immigration control. The last meeting between U.S. and CNMI representatives was held in April 1987 "without any of the important issues being resolved..." The consultations were informally suspended following Moncaya's resignation from DOI in July 1987 to run for a Senate seat in New Mexico.

Sablan said in an interview Wednesday that his resolution was the extreme measure that the Legislature would take to resume the Section 902 talks. He said the House may hold on to HR 6-5 while waiting for a response to a resolution earlier introduced by Senator Herman R. Guerrero asking Reagan to appoint a new special representative only from the CNMI.

Sablan said Guerrero's resolution was the friendly step. If it fails, the House will transmit HR 6-5, the extreme measure, to the Attorney General to start District Court proceedings.
