House Takes No Poker Action

By Tom Anderson
Managing Editor

Early this week, House Bill 5-37 which would ban poker machines in the Commonwealth was placed on the agenda for the House of Representatives on Tuesday. Rep. David C. Sablan expected his fellow Democrats to help him place the bill up for a reading on the floor, but House Speaker Pedro Guerrero placed the bill into committee and did not allow it to come before the House.

Speaker Guerrero’s actions drew a bitter rebuke from Rep. David Sablan, who had made statements prior to the session indicating that the House would take action on the poker machine bill during the session.

“I would like for the record to show that the Democratic committee to ban poker machines has been broken,” said Rep. David Sablan.

Guerrero immediately removed the House and directed his fellow Democrats behind a closed door where presumably they discussed the issue. Members of the media tried to gain access to the meeting but were denied access by the Speaker.

After the closed door meeting, the Speaker made the decision to place the bill into the Committee on Commerce and Tourism chaired by Rep. Manuel Sablan.

Rep. Manuel Sablan has come out publicly in favor of having a ban on poker machines, but he said in an interview he will have to listen to the wishes of the rest of his committee.

U.S. Help In Bribery Cases Wanted

By Tom Anderson
Managing Editor

On the whole, Commonwealth governmental officials want to have self-government with limited interference from the U.S., but in one area in which U.S. federal help might be needed was discussed heavily by the House of Representatives in their last session. That area was the enforcement of laws aimed at those who would engage in bribery.

Rep. Juan Torres introduced a resolution, pushed for it to be placed before the full House, which requested the U.S. Congress to amend a U.S. law so that the Commonwealth would come under U.S. jurisdiction as far as bribery violations are concerned.

House Speaker Pedro Guerrero objected to the wording of Torres' resolution, saying it interfered with 902 talks ongoing with the U.S. The Speaker left his chair and turned the meeting over to Vice Speaker Benjamin Sablan so that he could participate in the debate over the bill.

"I think the Congressmen (Torres) admitting that there is a lot of corruption working for the CNMI government?" said Guerrero. "Is he admitting that the governor can not direct the Attorney General to prosecute white collar crimes? I believe that we need outside help."

Torres responded to the questions put to him by Guerrero by saying, "That is just a lot of hot air coming out of his mouth."

Rep. David C. Sablan joined in the debate over Torres' resolution and said "yes" outside help is needed by the CNMI as far as white collar crime prosecution is concerned.

"The record speaks for itself as far as enforcement of the laws in the Commonwealth. The Attorney General has been very lax in his efforts of prosecutions," said David Sablan. "Having the FBI here in the Commonwealth would be a blessing. We have to learn that bribery is a very serious crime."

Several amendments were added to Torres' resolution and several deletions also enough to prompt Rep. Gregorio Sablan to ask after the House had debated the question for over an hour just what was left of the original resolution.

What was left was the request for the U.S. to make its laws on bribery applicable to the Commonwealth and to make the resolution read so that it was plain it was a request from the House of Representatives and not from the full legislative branch of the government since the Senate had not participated in the drafting of the resolution.

The resolution, which did pass the House will be sent to the Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives and William O'Connor U.S. Attorney.

Senate--CUC Will Discuss Rate Hike

By Tom Anderson
Managing Editor

Commonwealth Utility Corporation officials will meet with Senate members to discuss the scheduled rate hike for electrical power although having the meeting arranged has caused some problems for the Senate.

For at least a month, the Senate has been trying to arrange the meeting but had been unable to get a firm commitment from CUC to show up. Senate President Benjamin Manglona even threatened to subpoena CUC officials at one time because the would meet with the Senate.

During the last Senate Session Wednesday the threat of subpoena was again mentioned but this time it came from Sen. Juan Babauta.

Babauta made the suggestion that a subpoena be issued after Sen. Jose Mafnas said he had been able to contact CUC Executive Director Pedro Sasaomoto to schedule a meeting for Thursday.

"If those people do not want to show up, I think it is time we issue a subpoena," said Sen. Babauta.

Senators Herman Guerrero and Juan Pan Guerrero were prepared to go one better and not even worry about talking to CUC officials about the rate hike but introduce legislation preventing the rate hike from taking place.

"I think it would be appropriate for us to introduce such a bill," said Juan Pan Guerrero.

Sen. Herman Guerrero said he had already started drafting legislation to have CUC wait until March 1st to increase electrical rates after a comprehensive study to the financial needs of CUC was made.

Sen. Herman Guerrero shared his fellow senator’s view.

Murderer Gets 15 Years

By Tom Anderson
Managing Editor

Early this week, Michael C. Bermudes was sentenced to 15 years in prison and ordered to undergo alcohol abuse counseling in connection with his conviction of second degree murder.

Bermudes stood trial in Nov. for the death of Juan Reyes Pangolin. Bermudes was accused of beating and kicking Pangolin so badly that Pangolin later died of the injuries.

The dispute between the two, which came out during the trial, was said to be over a dog which Bermudes had accused Pangolin of taking from his home. Bermudes caught up with Pangolin at the Moonlighting Club and began to beat and kick him.

Hours after the beating at the Moonlighting Club, Pangolin was found dead.

The defense counsel for Bermudes argued during the trial that Pangolin was a severely sick man who suffered from edema of the brain and was also afflicted with seizures. Public Defender Tony Ata'a told the jury Pangolin might have died from a fall as a result of the seizure and asked the jury to heap.
May Future Gifts Come To CNMI

Soon it will be Christmas and quickly after will come New Year's Day. We hope that presents are given to those in need and that we enjoy the festivities. We hope that new years will bring better things to the people of the Commonwealth.

The gift of 24 hour water service with enough pressure in the water line is a take for given to the people of the Commonwealth soon. Often we have heard of families going without water in their homes for days. Their children need to bath, their dishes need to be washed, the whole flow of their lives is hampered by the fact that water cannot be found in their homes when they need it. The Commonwealth Utility Corporation is facing a lot of problems making available water. It is also making some progress toward projects which should improve the service and water delivery to the people of the Commonwealth. We just hope they succeed soon and give us the gift of water in our homes.

The gift of better roads would also be nice. If you want to just drive down and drive Beach Road from Garapan to Tumon one day and go to any place elsewhere on the island of Saipan, then make sure your car is in good shape and that your tires are very hardy. What a pleasure it would some day to be able to Ladder Beach without fear of losing control. How nice it would be even for the tourist who has brought a gift to the boost of Saipan.

Other gifts such as a safe dump, no more pollution of the lagoon, less car accidents due to alcohol abuse as well as a brighter future. Perhaps those gifts will be given to the people of the Commonwealth. Perhaps when the end of 1989 comes some of them will be placed beneath the Christmas of 1989 itself.

Until then, have a wonderful and enjoyable Christmas and a very Happy New Year.

Dearest Santa, If there more than can help to bring all on the list.

Employee Problems At CHC Discussed

Why are employees always told that certain things are getting wrong when, in fact, it is really just people's opinion? Why are so many employees who have a good history at CHC not given the chance to show their abilities and improve their positions? How many employees are promised a raise in their home and still not given a raise? How many employees have attended meetings or a dis­cussion area about a department that is in trouble and then not given the chance to show their abilities and improve their positions? How many employees have been told that you are not going to be fired, but after a while, you are fired because of bad things that can be found in the future have an effect on the way and quality of health care of Saipan.

Thank you for your consider­ation.

Dear Editor:

With so much in the paper body moving out of Saipan Hospital and none of the prob­lems that they are facing, we fill it daily to bring to light some of the activities at our very own hospital. There has been very little done by any one individual yet to highlight some of the problems that we are experiencing, if they are not talked about, the community may not have a chance, but lastly be the CHC in an hour low moral. Why this, we will let out our pave a few of the issues in CHC.

Christmas Remains Special

For many people, con­sumption tans to what we hear about Christmas, which is a time where we are expected to consumerism to express how little we have. It is not. We know what is be­ing done, we change our budgets and spend accordingly. This does not mean that Christmas is a time for buying stuff. It is a time to reflect on the true meaning of Christmas, which is a time for coming together with our loved ones and giving gifts that are meaningful. Giving gifts is not in itself a bad thing and we can really believe onces.

Perhaps those gifts would be some of the activities at our very own CHC without printing this we will most certainly continue to do.

With the loss of loved-ones (mom or dad) or the loss of family members, begins with this special time of year. How many of us have seen bad seasons that they are experiencing and how many employees have a chance to at least voice some­thing.

One of the main problems that they are experiencing is the cor­porate culture that is present at CHC without printing this we will most certainly continue to do.

The current management is that something is going to be corrected as they promise. Don't worry be happy doesn't mean that something is going to be corrected.

What can we do while other departments work harder to better serve the public? How many employees have a chance to at least voice some­thing?

Rotarians Hear Guam "Basta" Leader

By Abed Younis

Rotary Club of Saipan had the first chance to listen to Dr. Jose Cruz from Guam about the poker machine industry and the fight against it by Guam's "Basta" Poker Machine Office.

During the regular Tuesday luncheon meeting, Dr. Cruz and Rotarians were given the chance to hear about the Basta Committee's efforts. The Committee has done a study and looked into the poker machine industry and its impact. I am telling you, "the industry is coming," he warned.

Last October, Bill 431 was signed to permit a law that permitted poker machine operation on Guam since 1980. The new law allows over 20,000 machines to operate up to April 1985. The law stipulates that all machines be destroyed or shipped off the island within that time frame.

To do this, Dr. Cruz said, the "Basta" group went out to the villages for public hearing and talked to the people. They learned and gain support from various parts of the community. Also a position with over 900 signatures was submitted to the Guam Legislature. Despite all that progress, the law has the poker machines immediately, only one person came forth to call on the people according to "Basta" papers. However the community and "Basta" choose to undertake an educational campaign to open the eyes and the ears of the officials and show them what was and support they may get in the next election. When we asked out Dr. Cruz told the Rotarians, "Politicians are going to elect us." Politicians claim to know enough about the industry by listening to its supporters.

"With one voice," Dr. Cruz said, "we want to hold the poker machine industry and show them what we are and support they may get in the next election." We asked out Dr. Cruz told the Rotarians, "Politicians are going to elect us." Politicians claim to know enough about the industry by listening to its supporters.

The Rotary Club of Saipan is non-profit organization and not active in any political issues. It took up the subject as an educational matter. It will be up to each member individually to form his own position on the poker machine industry said at the remarks that "Basta" choose to undertake an education campaign to open the eyes and the ears of the officials and show them what's right and support they may get in the next election.

Senators To Meet With CUC On Rates

Very soon, your family can expect a doubling of their power bills under the new CUC rates.

Senators want to meet with CUC officials to talk about the possibility of making the rate increases less and to discuss legislative efforts to reduce the rate increase for electrical power. The rate increases are scheduled to go into effect immediately.

FROM MANAGEMENT & STAFF
Tourism Education Offered at NMC

The Visitor Industry Program (V.I.P.) at the Northern Marianas College was established in recognition of the high demand for employees in the growing tourism industry. Today, more than ever, individuals who have ambitions for a career in the visitor industry are encouraged to pursue their dreams.

The intention of the V.I.P. is to provide students with the necessary academic knowledge and technical skills needed for their tourism industry careers but also to understand the basic functions, objectives, and tools of management which are common in our business world.

Moreover, students in either the CERTIFICATE or DEGREE program will also be required to complete an Internship/Practical Experience requirement. Through the Internship Program, students will be able to gain valuable "hands-on" experience in a variety of job positions within the local tourism industry. The Internship/Practical Experience requirement of the V.I.P. will have a significant impact on the success of the program because students will have the chance to functionally apply the concepts and theories learned in the classroom, interact with others in a real work environment, and use their skills under close monitoring and supervision of an instructor.

The NMC is offering Certificates of Proficiency in Hotel Operations, Food & Beverage Specialists, and Tour Manager Specialist. In addition, there are presently two Associate Degrees being offered in the V.I.P., Hospitality Management (A.S. Degree) and General Tourism Industry Business Practices (A.A. Degree).

The present and future needs for professionally trained persons in the tourism industry are considerable and is predicted to grow in fact, the number of qualified workers available today is less than the number of job openings. And the projected growth of our local tourism industry here in the CNMI will continue to create a high demand for employees in this exciting field. For more details about the Visitor Industry Program, contact Tony Deleon Guerrero at the NMC.

Progress On CUC Metering Project Moves Slowly Forward

By Tom Andrew
Managing Editor

Work towards having the charge for electrical power made from the reading of meters instead of using a flat rate is inching forward with those involved in the metering process slowly identifying the problem it faces and working towards solutions to solve those problems.

At the regular Commonwealth Utility Corporations Board meeting last week, reports on the metering process were submitted to board members. One report came from Manager of Administration Paul Swanson. He recommended the number of meter readers be increased from the current three with one supervisor to six with one supervisor.

"The meter readers should be the eyes and ears of CUC. They should not only read meters, but should report illegal line tampering, problems with customer services, locate illegal line taps, and provide information to customers," said Swanson.

Swanson also suggested a pay raise for the position of meter reader as a way to attract qualified people to the job, and as an incentive for those now employed as meter readers.

Also discussed during the meeting was what path CUC plans to take in light of the discovery that meters can not be hooked up to the majority of its customers because of wiring problems. Executive Director of CUC Pedro Sasarnoto advised the board that work was underway to have current transformer meters (CT meters) installed where possible. The CT meters can be installed ahead of the service entrance of a customer's building. Customers will be charged for the CT meter if they cannot bring the service entrance wiring into compliance with the electrical code.

Currently CUC is notifying customers of the metering requirement and a customer is given 60 days to either make the wiring improvements or ask for a CT meter. Should the customer fail to act, CUC has announced that a customer can request a meter with a possibility of being disconnected.

Customers are also being given information by CUC as to what actions they should take to meet the electrical code requirements and an estimate of the cost involved.

Workshop a Model of What Education Should Be

“Workshop a Model of What Education Should Be”

"What is the Commonwealth's current energy source?" How much does the workshop cost? And 'how can we beat the barrel of oil?" Over 150 students and teachers from public and private schools throughout the Commonwealth attended the workshop held this week in Alipang, Guam. The workshop was conducted by Casey Woodward of the national NEED program and ways in which students can participate. "Everyone pitched in to make the workshop the success it was," said Judy Garcia, Executive Director of the NEED program.

Many students and teachers alike left the workshops energized to introduce NEED materials in their schools. The games and activities proved a hit, and students of all ages were enjoying their new learning experience.

One of the improvements that the workshop highlighted was the importance of energy conservation. Students were encouraged to save energy by turning off lights when they leave a room, turning off the water when they brush their teeth, and using public transportation instead of driving.

The workshops were supported by the Commonwealth Teachers Association, which provided funding for the event. The workshops were also supported by the NEED program and the Commonwealth Department of Education. The workshop was conducted by Casey Woodward of the national NEED program.

For more information about the NEED program and ways in which you can participate, please contact the Commonwealth Teachers Association at 488-4221.

Committee Says Drop Drug Land Loss Law

By Tom Anderson
Managing Editor

Get rid of the law which would result in the loss of land if a person is convicted of growing marijuana on that land, was the finding of the House Committee on Judiciary and Governmental Operations.

During the last House of Representatives meeting, the committee report was presented to the full House by the members of the committee in an unusual practice, some of the committee members had written comments beside their names on the committee report as it was presented.

Rep. Juan S. Torres, wrote, "I don't support this legislation." While Rep. Mariano R. Bermudes wrote "with reservations" next to his signature on the committee report.

Other committee members, Chairman Antonio Camacho, Rep. Manuel Sablan, and Rep. David Sablan signed the committee report with any written comments added to their names.

The bill reviewed by the committee is numbered House Bill 6-96 and it seeks to amend 6 CMC Section 2150, the law which deals with land loss for growing marijuana.

"The committee sees that 6 CMC Section 2150 is biased on particular offenders such as marijuana growers and there's a concurrent penalty of land forfeiture, while a murderer is penalized by incarceration, deportation and fines," said the committee report.

"When a person commits murder, he would be afforded a jury trial and his land is not forfeited. When a person commits robbery, he would be afforded a jury trial and his land is not forfeited. When a person plants marijuana, his land and home are forfeited and he would not be afforded a jury trial," the committee report continued.

"When a person plants marijuana, his land and home are forfeited and he would not be afforded a jury trial. Is planting marijuana much worse than taking someone's live?" asked the committee.

In the report to the full House, the committee also said such land loss laws maybe all right in areas such as the U.S. mainland but such laws do not fit into the value system of the Commonwealth.

"Laws should be enacted in consonant with the values of the Chamorro and Carolinian people of the Northern Marianas," said the committee, "not contrary to those values, the legislature is raping its own people and is a hypocrite in itself." In the continental United States lands are in abundance.

The attempt to get rid of the land loss law was opposed by members of the law enforcement community such as the Director of Department of Public Safety Ed Manibusan, Drug Enforcement Task Force Director Ray Tano, and Attorney General Alex Castro. All told the committee the attempt or get rid of the land loss law was approved by members of the law enforcement community such as the Director of Department of Public Safety Ed Manibusan, Drug Enforcement Task Force Director Ray Tano, and Attorney General Alex Castro.

Softball League Tightens Up

Sipili Johannes, John Tuitu, and Ben Calunam all were 3-for-3 to lead the Glaziers to their first victory of the season and even up their record at 1-1 with a dominating 10-3. Fillis inning shut-out over the Department of Public Safety in the first game.

DPS took the first lead with a run in the top of the first when Al Talaiano bunted on a fielders choice before stealing third and home for the first run of the game. A series of wild pitches in the bottom of the second put the Glaziers in front 2-0.

They went on to pick-up five more in the third and four in the fourth for the shutout. DPS's Ben Mea slammed his career 9th homer, a two-run shot in the third for the DPS last run of the game, Sipili Johnson and John Tuitu between those drove in seven runs.

The Carmen Salwayo Brazil Figure remained unflappable as 2-0 edging out the Tropical Buds 10-3 by Jens Dula's third home run of the season and the timely hitting of Elzy King and Frank Villagran.

The Buds dropped the Buds to 1-1 who took a 5-4 lead in the top of the seventh inning on Ben Pua's two-run homer.

But the Buds cornered regularizing the lead 4-4 with two runs in their half of the seventh inning on Jens Dula's three-run homer.

The Glaziers regained the lead 4-3 with two run shots in the eighth and ninth innings and a run in the ninth for the shutout, taking the first lead with a run in the top of the first.

CUC Plans To Install Its Own Meters On Systems Not Ready For Regular Meters

By Tom Anderson

Managing Editor

Although approximately 85 percent of the work on the Micronesian Water Project is completed, the scheduled completion date of Dec. 30, 1988, has not been met. The Water Utility Corporation Antilles Director of Operations, Anthony Baez, has been instructed by the Governor to speed up the project.

Baez said the company was having problems with materials shipped by the company. Lightning customers would not receive the work in a timely manner, which is delaying the exchange program in progress.

On Guam, many of the residents in the Micronesian Water Project area have not received their new water lines or have received them in poor condition from the mainline.

The Mariana Vicente Water Distribution System Project, which started in August, still has a 95 percent completion date of Aug. 30, 1986. Seven percent of the work on the project has been done, and today, the project is proceeding at 71.47 officers to connect the existing Kagman-Agana line to the San Vicente Reservoir. The project will have to be funded by grants from the San Vicente Reservoir.

One problem the contractor encountered with the project is the presence of other utilities near the site. The contractor was instructed to protect the public and alert them to the work being done near their homes.

Work is being done on the new Pacific Islands Club Saipan Water Replacement Project with an expected completion date of Dec. 30. Ninety percent of the project is complete.

The contract for the 320,000-foot Dewey Springs Transmission Line Replacement Project should be awarded before the end of the year.

CUC Chairman said that the company is expected to save $5 million by installing its own meters.

Chairman emphasized that access to the beach in front of the P-3C and continuing policy of the company. Parking of a small boat to the beach in the north side of the property for the convenience of public beach users was recently completed.

Chairman said that due to the rash to prepare the resort for its official grand opening in January, some confusion may arise due to the many advertisements and promotions of the company.

Booze-Wet Bar

The opening of the new bar and live entertainment is set for December 31.

This will be the first time in the history of the P-3C that a private bar will be allowed.

The new bar will be located on the second floor of the P-3C and will be open to the public.

In 1989, every Monday the bar will offer free Happy Hour from 5 to 7 p.m.

Local travelers who would like to see the grounds will be invited to the new bar and will be served a complimentary drink.

Chairman said that the company is looking forward to the opening of the new bar and live entertainment.

Consumers Focus Of Bill

By Tom Anderson

"Most protection for consumers in the Commonwealth must be on the way as House Bill 220, titled the "Consumer Protection Act of 1988," has already survived its House "death" and is now on its way to the Senate," said Mayor Manglona.

In 1986, the Governor, Mr. Francisco Garcia, was able to get the House of Representatives to pass a consumer protection bill. But, unfortunately, the Senate did not act on it.

The bill would make it more difficult for consumers to be swindled by unscrupulous merchants. It would also provide a mechanism for consumers to recover their losses.

The Division of Economic and Consumer Affairs (DECA) and the Department of Health (DOH) have endorsed the bill.

DEQ Weekly Water Report is Issued
