American And Japanese WWII Vets Renew Vows For Peace

American And Japanese veterans of the WWII Saipan Campaign, meeting Tuesday in various memorial sites around the island, pay tribute to those individuals who lost their lives during the war and offered prayers for world peace. The meeting comes 45 years after the islands were finally liberated from Japanese occupation. That time the meeting was forced to be in some extent, notorious.

Bill Eger, a former Naval Operating Base Ashiya Fire Chief, led the 12 member American group, which included veterans and their wives from throughout the United States. Japanese WWII veterans and their families joined the American group in various ceremonies marking their historic meeting.

A famous member of the Japanese delegation was Capt. Saburo Okabe, who continued to fight American forces on Saipan 18 months after the island was over while hiding in the jungle. He is featured in the book "The Last Samurai.

On the American side, Saipan Conflict hero, Gay Cabahalan, a native of Los Angeles who now resides on Saipan, was present at the ceremonies. Cabahalan was a 19-year-old marine who was once wounded by one of Okabe's men. Cabahalan took part in the capture of 1,500 Japanese prisoners during the latter stages of the war. The idea of holding this joint reunion came about after Eger visited Saipan last year. During his stay he met Tomohiko Kawa of the Okinawa Press who was also visiting the island. The two newly found friends started corresponding and planning for the reunion last year:

"I had put out announcements in various U.S. military magazines about a possible reunion. That is how we got the American group together. Then, Tuesday's ceremonies included the unveiling of a commemorative plaque at the sugar mill on Saipan's Cliffs of King Park.

"Our island Commander B.W. Gabaldon instructed me to put up a sign on the site of the fire andămement, and he approved the idea to use the steam engine as landmark," continued Eger. Eger's wish of helping Japanese prisoners, moved the engine from Chalan Kanoa to Garapan. The engine was restored in 1975 and moved to its present location at Sugar King Park.

At a memorial service at the Suicide Cliff peace memorial, a pledge of peace was read aloud by Eger and Kawa.

Governor Pedro P. Tercero spoke at the ceremony. He welcomed the veterans back to Saipan and said, "You have all come back as friends and peace observers of international peace and goodwill."

New AG Looks For Tougher Law Enforcement

by Dan Phillips

Ed Manibusan, the Commonwealth's new Attorney General (AG), says he wants to emphasize tougher prosecution in "certain areas of the law," including consumer protection, environmental laws, and penalties for the immigration of aliens.

Gov. Pedro T. Tenorio officially appointed Manibusan as AG Tuesday, after appointing him Acting AG effective July 1. Manibusan's appointment is prompting the formality of a Senate public hearing that will confirm his appointment.

The new AG says he wants to look at laws "that have never been really enforced in the CNMI and do something about it." He said that, although consumer protection and unusual business practices laws exist, "the time is appropriate to look closely at the consumer protection bill that is currently pending in the Legislature and pass it, so that a mechanism can be established for enforcing consumer protection laws and for giving people someone to go to when they have a problem.

He says that current Commonwealth consumer protection laws are "not easy to enforce," and subsequently "not really being enforced right now.

Manibusan said the need for such legislation of these laws has a great public impact.

Environmental concerns are also high on Manibusan's list. He said that he feels his office needs to work more closely with Coastal Resources Management (CRM) in order to more effectively enforce environmental protection laws.

"We really need to take a look at things that have been happening in our business, in our environment, and that those individuals had no income at the time of the application, people who were in fact employees of his office and who had significant income," said Nutting.

Nutting said that it is possible that he will file more cases regarding the food stamp violations, but that he is not sure because he may not have sufficient evidence to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that misrepresentation was committed by recipients.

Aldan was issued a summons to appear in court on July 24 at 9 a.m.

In a Public Auditor's review, done by matching up Social Security numbers with Personnel Files and Nutrition Assistance Program files, it was revealed that over $3,000 worth of food stamps were unlawfully taken by government employees since the beginning of last year.

The idea of holding this joint reunion came about after Eger visited Saipan last year. During his stay he met Tomohiko Kawa of the Okinawa Press who was also visiting the island. The two newly found friends started corresponding and planning for the reunion last year.

Marijuana Found In Attorney's Back Yard

Marijuana was discovered and reported for the first time in the back yard of a local attorney's house.

A total of 21 marijuana plants were found in the yard of the house owned by Dennis Boaz, legal counsel for the Public Auditor's Office, according to Briam Dobie, Director of the Drug Enforcement Task Force, who responded to the scene after the officer discovered the plants.

Boaz, who is on vacation until the end of July or early August, has been unavailable for comment, as his public auditor Scott Tam, who is responsible for attending to family concerns.

According to the affidavit in search of a search warrant filed by Debbie last Friday, the officer responded to a call made by the person who was watching the house for Boaz. The person in the house had reported hearing someone knocking and scratching at the door, according to the affidavit.

The marijuana was discovered when the officer made a check around the house and followed a small path leading into the "elephant grass" area located behind the house, according to the affidavit, which goes on to say that the officer investigated the trail along with other officers who had responded to his request.

Agent of the Drug Enforcement Task Force (DETF) also responded to the scene and found that the trail did not continue further into the "elephant grass" area, according to the affidavit.

The officers who found the marijuana said they found plants in containers, as well as on the ground, and that the plants measured from one to five feet tall, according to the affidavit.

The Attorney General's Office filed a case in the Commonwealth Superior Court Wednesday implicating Vincent M. Aldan, Mayor of the Northern Islands, in some of the cases of food stamp fraud discovered by the Public Auditor's Office in an initial review of government employees.

Stephen Nutting, who is prosecuting the case for the Attorney General's Office, said that food stamp checks and applications bearing Aldan's signatures have been discovered, and that it is suspected that Aldan acted as a personal representative for several of his employees.

The information filed by Nutting charged that Aldan allegedly falsified over $25,000 worth of food stamps by purposely creating or failing to correct a false impression which he previously created or reinforced," during the period from February, 1986 through March, 1989.

"We have evidence that shows that Aldan made applications for food stamps on behalf of his own employees, and that he represented the food stamp office that those individuals had no income at the time of the applications, people who were in fact employees of his office and who had significant income," said Nutting.

Nutting said that it is possible that he will file more cases regarding the food stamp violations, but that he is not sure because he may not have sufficient evidence to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that misrepresentation was committed by recipients.

Aldan was issued a summons to appear in court on July 24 at 9 a.m.

Narcotics Seminar Arms Officers With Knowledge

J. Entin Ph.D.

Although there have been few incidents of drug trafficking in the Commonwealth with drugs other than marijuana, law enforcement officers believe that it is likely to happen.

Drug enforcement officers from Florida, Hawaii, and Massachusetts attended a seminar to share approaches to the education and awareness of local officers. The seminar was sponsored by the Basic Drug Information Training Group and was held at the Pacific Islands Club from July 18-20.

At least 40 law enforcement personnel attended the workshop, including members of the Department of Public Safety in the Commonwealth, Guam Police Department, Tana Police, and Court and Correction officers from the Commonwealth and Guam and Saipan.

The workshop, being conducted by members of the Institute for Law and Justice (ILJ) through a cooperative agreement with the U.S. Department of Justice, concerned what is called "intermediary level narcotics investigation." The seminar ended on July 20.

The specialized training offered in the workshop included a course on theении of course on all narcotics, according to Mike McCoppin, Trainer Director for ILJ.

Michael Phan, one of the workshop's teachers, said, "This is the first time that we have brought this to the Commonwealth. This workshop area appears to be the need of the game, with some good programs and personnel to continue it, we are simply working with what we have." Phan, who has worked exclusively in drug investigation in the Commonwealth, said that his six years of experience were available in "a state of mind."

Brian Deane, the Director of the Department of Public Safety (DPS), agreed, saying that the workshop was "very well attended. It is a positive step in this direction."

The seminar will focus on border and border security, including the current regulations and procedures of the 1990s, service and protocol, and information on drug smuggling and drug-related activities.

Today's workshop addressed drug trafficking and development and drug trade in the Commonwealth, including training on the drug enforcement, the area's police, and other occupations and the handling of information on drug smuggling.

On Thursday, the narcotics workshop will discuss the handling of the Commonwealth, according to the Commonwealth, and the authorities involved in the investigation of drug smuggling.

The Commonwealth's success in drug enforcement was also attributed to the Commonwealth's efforts to identify and train officers on drug smuggling.

CNMI Students Gain Cultural Insight

by Fermín Manglano

The Marianas Visitors Bureau (MVB) has been busy coordinating programs promoting cultural exchange between Japan and the CNMI.

Four students recently returned from an educational tour of Okinawa sponsored by the Micronesian Repatriation Association. The tour was made possible by the generous support of the CNMI, the Japanese government, and the Okinawan people.

The students, led by their coordinator, Mr. Dela Cruz, visited government officials and participated in the annual memorial ceremony of the Okinawan Repatriation Association. They also participated in a tea ceremony and observed the traditional performance of the Marianas Community Development Bureau.

MVB has invited some students to visit Rota as part of the exchange program. The students will return in August, their counterparts from Japan will visit Rota in September.

The students have been impressed by the Japanese culture and will share their experience with their peers back in the CNMI.

CNMI students will participate in the Okinawa cultural program.

The students will have the opportunity to observe and learn from other cultures and will have the chance to participate in cultural activities.

The students will be in Japan for a one-week stay with host families. They will get hands-on experience of Japanese culture and will sit in on classes during their visit.

The students will also have the opportunity to participate in the Okinawa cultural program.

Senate Schedules Public Hearing For Impact Fee Bill

The Senate Standing Committee on Rules and Procedures will hold a Public Hearing Tuesday, on Senate Bill 6-174, also referred to as the "Impact Fee Bill." This hearing is scheduled to be held in the Senate Chamber beginning at 6:30 p.m. The proposed bill, if adopted into law, will require new development in the Commonwealth to contribute its share of costs for new or improved infrastructure facilities made necessary by such development; to create the Office of Land Use Planning; to amend the 1 CMC, Division 2, Chapter 8 (Department of Public Works) to provide for construction permits, enforcement, and penalties; and for other purposes.

The bill, known as the "Development Contribution Law" finds "that the Commonwealth is experiencing substantial development, population growth, and increased visitor arrivals resulting in a serious burden on the islands infrastructure, e.g., water, electrical power, roads, police and fire services, parks, storm drainage, and sewage and solid waste disposal and treatment."

Additionally, the proposed bill recognizes that further economic development requires adequate infrastructure to serve existing and new development. It proposes an infrastructure finance program based upon a partnership of the government and the private sector to ensure the availability of the essential infrastructure to serve the population as well as visitor increases generated by new development.

The bill would also make amendments to the present duties of the Departments of Public Works. Among other things it would require any new development costing $100,000 or more to acquire a permit from the Department of Public Works. It would give the department the power to levy fines and other enforcement measures and penalties for those who violate its provisions. And finally the bill would create a Land Use Planning Office. It further requires that the office be created and its chief officer, who will be appointed by the Governor with the consent of both houses, be placed under the Governor with the consent of both houses, be placed under the discretion of the Governor.

The general public and all interested individuals are invited to attend this public hearing.

Beware Of The Brown Tree Snake

The Brown Tree Snake may have already crossed Saipan, native to Guam.

At the time that the 902 team began negotiating, the Brown Tree Snake had been eradicated from Guam, resulting in a loss of more than $1 billion dollars. The race is on because the snakes can be obtained at the DFW office at Lower Base for $25.80.

Unfortunately, the snakes still don't seem to be interested in the CNMI, so the number of snakes currently in the CNMI is unknown.

902 Report Recommended No Changes In NMI Status

(CNS) - The CNMI 902 team, headed by Lt. Gov. Pedro A. Tenorio, has recommended against the November 1989 vote of the NMI Congress that the Commonwealth be reclassified as an "outlying area" in the recommendations of the 902 Report.

The report, submitted to Gov. Pedro A. Tenorio, carrier in support of a Commonwealth-wide initiative based on the people's will at November 7, 1987 to reaffirm, reject or renegotiate the 902 Report.

At the time that the initiative was based, the 902 team was negotiating with an "agreed positions." The Special Representative of the U.S. President and most of the major issues such as citizenship, seven-year financial assistance, war claims and federal taxation on MI HAI and unspecified major issues have now been settled.

The 902 team met for several days last week, despite the fact that all issues regarding self-government and the federal taxation on MI HA were to be resolved.

The 902 team met to discuss the issue of whether to continue negotiations with the U.S. government.

The 902 team reported that it is in the best interest of the Commonwealth government not to support the maintenance, rejection, or renegotiation of the 902 Report.

In his letter to the Presiding Officers of the Sixth Legislature, Gov. Tenorio supported the 902 team's position on the Commonwealth. "We should not try to pressure the DFW office to do what is not in the best interest of the Commonwealth governments," Tenorio said.

by Patty Jacobs

Harry Johnstom, Vice-President of GTE Hawaiian Telephone and Tuesday's Rotary speaker, said, "We believe that the revolution taking place in all the islands of the Pacific".

Johnstom, an Annapolis graduate and native of Saipan, said, "Our responsibility is to not just make CNMTC have the best telecommunications system in the world. We have to keep up with improvements for MTC, and because of the growth we anticipate doubling the number of employees we have in Hawaii OTE."

GTE currently employs 540 people in Hawaii. Johnstom and his wife, who have been married for 22 years, have five children.

He added, "We see significant wage increases for our employees here because we just negotiated and signed a three-agreement with the union in Hawaii."

When asked about the cost of 8000 phones, the company official explained that the cost CNMTC Savings... system will cost $40 million. A new satellite dish, which is part of the upgraded system, will increase the number available to CNMTC residents, he said.

He added, "We do not believe the added expense of the 800 numbers is that much.

The contractor presently assisting with the project is ERGAC, a company that recently completed the construction of the University of Hawaii's new computer center.

The CNMI boys Troop 802 from Garapan will earn merit badges and other awards as they prepare for a week-end in Marpi.

It will also have a new network of microwave links which will provide a network for faster communication among the islands.

According to Warrick, the CNMI savings will be an out of pocket expense for the scouts, but they will be able to afford it.

The scouts will be able to earn merit badges in the fields of electronics, astronomy, and basic camping skills. They will try to earn as many merit badges as possible during the trip.

Natural Resources Introduces Nature Trail

by Patty Jacobs

Just past the Hotel Nikko, on the paved road up the hill on the way to the radar station there is a nature trail sign which has not been used by the Forestry Division of the Department of Natural Resources. The sign says, "Larden Tangke Trail." CNMI Forester Renee' Thakali said this last week after a guided hike along the nature trail on Saipan. We chose this area because so much work was being done around here already. The USAF was working closely with the high school students with the reforestation project.

"This section of Saipan is very interesting and quite old," she said. "This is one of the few areas that was not bombed during World War II," she added, "which means that most of these trees and this type of nature trail is very rare." The trail was laid out on certain key points being highlighted. There were fourteen stations along the 2.8 mile trail. These are areas where you can look at the trees and hear the birds. The trail is an extension of a Japanese fort which has been preserved.

Iglesias Visits Saipan

Vasconic local "Moonlight Ladies" and other fans of Spanish romantic balladeer Julio Iglesias missed a serenade last week, as the famous singer was only a four-day visit to Saipan's Coral Ocean Point Country Club to rest up from a strenuous Asian concert tour, according to a press release.

The singer's large private jet arrived at Saipan International Airport last Friday morning and left last Monday afternoon. In between, there was sightseeing and rest for the musician, but no performances and no interviews with local reporters.

Coral Ocean Point President Mike Imai said local fans of Iglesias got word of his arrival almost immediately and showed up at the country club hoping for a performance, only to be disappointed.

"We were very hopeful that he would sing at least once," Imai said. "But with his tour schedule, he really did need a break."

According to Imai, Iglesias came to Saipan on only a few hours notice, following a flight from Miami to Japan. Three nights of concerts there and then next nights of singing in Hawaii.

If that didn't sound too rough, Iglesias' schedule in the next week and a half includes flights to Taiwan, the Philippines and Hawaii, followed by a flight to Spain.

Iglesias played strolls, visiting Monogahla Island and Micro Beach and taking a helicopter tour of the island. Imai said that Iglesias missed Saipan from his private planes and chose it over Guam for the weekend break.

CCAC Concert Coming Soon

Concert #2 of the 1989 Kantaan Saipan Music Concert Series is set for Saturday, July 29. While some in the audience considered the initial concert a success, the Commonwealth Council for Arts and Culture (CCAC) hasn't been sitting on its laurels, according to a press release.

The CCAC learned a great deal from the first concert, according to a press release. Things are more organized this deal from the first concert.

Constructive criticism and ideas came from the CCAC Board of Directors, CCAC Management and Staff, musicians, audience, and the private sector.

Three major concerns seem to be constant, air conditioning, and pauses between acts.

The air conditioning situation is being worked on, so the audience can enjoy the concert without being disturbed by the heat.

Many ideas were brought up concerning the sometimes lengthy pauses between acts. Recorded music, or a monologue by the Master of Ceremonies, including announcements, are just two of the ideas being explored.

Hopefully, with all the input generated by the first concert, and all the tapes provided, the second concert will be better.

Iglesias will perform at the CCAC's newly renovated Auditorium, which has been enhanced with the sound quality with the amount of funding presently available.

Friendship Tourney Continues Sunday

by Dan Phillips

The all-star Northern Marianas basketball team, fresh off of a convincing exhibition win last Sunday, will see action again this Sunday in the Friendship Basketball Tournament, taking on PDL in the second game.

PDL, the defending regular-season and playoff champions in the Filipino Amateur Sports Association (FASA) basketball league, was beaten by Norpac last Sunday, 90-73. The Northern Marianas squad, getting ready for the Oceana Games in August, coasted past RB Electrical, 104-70. Norpac plays RB Electrical in the first game Sunday.

Sonny Flores, coach of the Oceana team, said he was pleased with the effort his team made last Sunday, but that he wants the players to continue to work on defense and speed.

Flores said he would love to see a bigger crowd this weekend than there was last week, when over 500 people showed to watch the action. He noted that this Sunday’s games may start up to one hour late, due to a scheduled power outage in the area.

This year’s Oceana team includes the following players: Guards Frank Iglecias, Arken Haddy, Tom Matsunaga, John Santos, Charles Sablan; Forwards Tim Paez, Felix Palacios, Yosh Gabaldon, Robert Quitugua; and Centers Gerald Kapileo and Swingly Aguon. Flores is the coach and Tony Rogolofoi is the assistant coach.

President Josie Cuertero-Mesta will be presiding and said the meeting will be a brainstorming session to come up with local association objectives and program planning.

All women who have graduated from college with a bachelor’s degree and above are invited to attend. Reservations may be made with the Pacific Gardenia Restaurant at 234-3455.
High School Students Plant Trees For USAF

Local high school seniors have formerly impressed visiting U.S. Air Force (USAF) representatives who are on island this week to check the progress of the USAF (PLANET) Tracking Station, according to a press release.

"They are the harders working high school kids I've ever seen," said Osan Tarko.

Rodney Camacho discovered a historic stone while clearing the forest.

Abbochiri, Saipan Tracking Station Program Manager, led the observers down trail near Bird Island to 11 more cleaned plots, one of which had already been planned with new native trees such as Noni, Kapal, Breadfruit and Mangosteen.

Along the way the party met the Tahik, another of the ten summer hires working on the forest enhancement project. He demonstrated some of the forest clearing techniques he is using this summer.

Aside from developing reforestation techniques, Camacho said, "We have Caymone, Chamorro and Palau students all working hard together to make Saipan a better place, and to earn some money too."

The CNMI Forestry Department has provided extensive assistance to the project by supplying the plants for the 68 plots being cleared. The CNMI Fish and Wildlife Division helped devise the species list of native trees, and is working hard to secure public land for the project which will create additional habitat for Saipan's wildlife.

The USAF is managing the forest enhancement program with $30,000 for planting and maintenance for the next four years.

This is by far the largest mitigation measure that reduces environmental impact from this project. A mitigation measure helps replenish the environment where construction has radically changed the ecology adding landscapes of different species.

For example, the extensive erosion control system along the new access road to the Tracking Station was built to reduce soil runoff which previously ran across Beach Road into Paulau Lagoon. When there were heavy rains, the new system reduces the soil and reduces the water flow velocity when Beach Road joins Beach Road.

Although designed for ten years, the catchment and most valuable in the system can handle in excess of 100 year storms. An As-Built Erosion Control Report was sent to CNMI agencies last week which provides hydrology maps and will be used as the basis for watershed analysis of other projects in the same area.

When documenting the USAF program on mitigation measures, a report was written about the mitigation project completed on Saipan. It lists the 170 mitigations agreed to by CNMI agencies and USAF and demonstrates when and how many of the mitigations will be in place or begin with operations in May of 1989.

One mitigation of particular interest to Saipanese is the large Tracking Station will now at least half of it's staff from among local people. Upon receiving the Mitigation Status Report, Saipan News of Coastal Resources Management (CRM), obviously pleased said "I've never seen anything like this report before in Saipan."

Russell Mecham of Department of Environmental Quality said, "This is really a model project in Saipan. I use your documents to teach our staff the way things should be done.

John D. Edwards, the USAF Environmental Engineer assigned to the Saipan Tracking Station program, stated that the habitat enhancement program was by far the most satisfying aspect of the environmental activities which he has managed since 1982. The habitat enhancement project improves the forest and recreation area which will create additional habitat for Saipan's wildlife.

Gramm, Bentsen Introduce Guerra

Stella G. Guerra appeared this week before the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources seeking confirmation of her nomination by President George Bush as Assistant Secretary of the Interior for Territorial and International Affairs, according to a press release.

"Upon confirmation," said Guerra at the conclusion of a formal statement to the Senate Committee, "I propose to concentrate my initial effort on placing greater emphasis on the advocacy role of the office (Territorial and International Affairs) and improving the level of communication and consultation between federal agencies, the Congress, and the insular governments."

Citing her years of administrative and management experience in the Department of State, Education and Defense, Guerra said, "In addition to gaining a working knowledge of our government, each position has prepared me to be an effective manager of people and resources. Furthermore, I believe that people in public service at all levels must be accountable for their decisions and progressively be challenged in levels of performance and responsibility."

Expressing support for Secretary of the Interior Manuel Lujan's commission of seeking an improved federal-insular relationship, Guerra told the Senate Committee, "I will work diligently in addressing the unique challenges and responsibilities which today confront the Congress and the Executive Branch as we strengthen the relationship between the federal government and similar areas."

Guerra was introduced to the members of the Committee by Texas Senators Lloyd Bentsen (D) Phil Gramm (R). Senator Bentsen cited "a long list of accomplishments serving in the departments of State, Education and Defense" as qualifications for the appointment as Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

Senator Gramm said Guerra "brings to the Department of the Interior a proven record as an administrator."

CNMI Bicycle Team Ready For Iowa Ride

by Dan Phillips

A group of bicycling enthusiasts from Saipan is about to participate in a 500-mile, 7-day Tienta on a bike" in Iowa.

This is the second year representatives from the Marianas are going to Iowa. Jerry Facey, one of only two to go last year, said this year's increase to 15 representatives is an indication of the rapidly increasing popularity of bicycle riding on Saipan.

He said the riders will be spending about ten hours a day on their bikes, but that the event is a lot of fun. "The locals come out in great numbers, cheering and asking where we're from," said Facey, who along with former Saipan resident Harry Brown were the only representatives from here last year.

Every state will have representatives in the 17th annual RAGBRAI (Des Moines Register's Annual Great Bicycle Ride Across Iowa), to be held July 23-29. In addition to Guam and the Marianas, several countries will be there, including Germany, Australia and Belgium.

Facey said that the 7,500 participants were drawn from a lottery that included over 15,000 applications. He said the Saipan team, named the "Marianas Islanders," received a special 15-person entry based on Saipan's participation last year and the distance from home the team is traveling.

Last year was "an exceptional experience," Facey said. He said that he wrote to every town in the Northern Marianas and Saipan Island and even received a red carpet ceremony in a small town named Mt. Carmel.

Saipan Divers Form Club

A movement has started among Saipan scuba divers to form a club, according to club organizer Capt. Chuck Tour. "We have enough interest now," he said.

"I think Saipans is ready for a club and we have 15 or 20 people who are interested in a club also," he stated.

Tour said the organizational meeting will be held, Saturday, July 29 at 7:30 p.m. in Taranap at the Village. Anyone wishing to find out more information may call Tour at 322-4951.

GIA Donating $5,000 To Sports Association

The Garment Industry Association (GIA) donated $5,000.00 to the Northern Marianas Amateur Sport Association (NMASA) with no strings attached to support league activities. The donation comes after a decision by Association members to target community involvement funding. Richard A. Pierce, GIA spokesman, stated, "The CNMI Sports Association chose NMASA to receive the contribution of its members diversity. And, as some of the leagues are currently in play, NMASA would forward funds when they open."

GIA will sponsor SABA's (men's basketball), SAVVA's (women's volleyball) and the NMI Amateur Softball Association's league play. Money will also go directly to NMASA for their use.

We chose sports as the beneficiary of our involvement in community activities because we felt the CNMI's most valuable asset, its youth, are often overlooked when it comes to resources. And, afterall, they are the most valuable resource. Sports have a way of instilling qualities such as fair play and working with others which are essential in adult life," Pierce stated.

In letters to the individuals sports association instigators were relayed from GIA's members that they would also like to sponsor teams in the upcoming leagues.
