Candidates Differ On Issues

by Fermin Meriang

The long awaited Gubernatorial Forum was finally held last night at the Diamond Hotel Ballroom with the two candidates differing on a number of important issues facing the future of the Commonwealth and its people.

Republican Gubernatorial Candidate Larry I. Guerrero and his Democrat counterpart Froilan C. Tenorio faced off in what may have been a final chance for Commonwealth voters to decide who are the best candidate to vote for in the November 4 General Election.

In their opening statements, both candidates made it very clear that they each represented very different solutions for the islands' problems.

Tenorio told the full house that his party represented restoring the government back to the people. Guerrero insisted that most of the problems facing the people of the CNMI, from infrastructure to better health care could be solved by privatization and consolidation of various government and private agencies.

Guerrero said the voters should retain the Republicans since the party is responsible for the economic growth sweeping the CNMI.

On the subject of better health care, Guerrero said he would like to meet top medical experts.

3 Brothers Charged In Koblerville Fight

by Dan Phillips

Three brothers are being charged in connection with an assault that took place in the Koblerville low-income housing area last Saturday, a disturbance that involved the use of 2 X 4 boards, a crowbar, a machete and a spear gun.

Arrested Wednesday were brothers Steve and Mario Anson and their cousin, Pedro R. Anson.

The Department of Public Safety was also looking to arrest a third brother, Robert Anson, to play cards at the Kaipat residence.

A Meeting Place For Our Opinions And Yours

By John Del Rio

The debate over whether or not we should privatize utilities has become a fact of life for all of us. It seems that there are no exceptions. It is true that a privatized utility is easier to manage, but it is also true that the interests of all voters will not be protected. In fact, it is not a simple task to privatize and advocate for it is often difficult and expensive. The argument when viewed from the perspective of the consumer is that the consumer is not interested in the cost of the service, but in the cost of the service. People are concerned about the cost of the service, but in the cost of the service. People are concerned about the cost of the service, but in the cost of the service. People are concerned about the cost of the service, but in the cost of the service.

If the role of government is simply that of监管ing or controlling the quality of the service, it is highly unlikely that the consumer will be able to control the quality of the service. For this reason, the commission's traditional approach to regulating the quality of the service will be used in this analysis.

There are some who argue that utilities utilize a profitable utility (via privatization) in order to spread payment. We need more than 100,000 people living on island in order to make this venture financially solvent. Privatization today will simply open the popular higher monthly payments for the people who are paying today.

Our legislators and gubernatorial candidates continue to support a near-absolute laissez-faire policy. It's time the candidates look at gambling as a social issue. Addiction Comes In Many Forms

Although the Saipan Rotary Club may not yet be quite ready to welcome women into their ranks, Maria T. Pangelinan was certainly welcome to the club.

Pangelinan gave the club a presentation on World Food Day, which will be observed on October 16. She said that if the international community has not been able to arrange to provide food in time, there is then, in her opinion, no need for the World Food Commission. For World Food Day, she said, "The slogan used will feature a "poor man's dinner" of rice and beans, which is being welcomed by women in the region because that is the food to be had there."

"What is the purpose of being poor and saying that you are poor," she asked. "What is the purpose of being poor and saying that you are poor," she asked. "What is the purpose of being poor and saying that you are poor," she asked. "What is the purpose of being poor and saying that you are poor," she asked. "What is the purpose of being poor and saying that you are poor," she asked.

The advisory group also decided not to make any recommendations to the Commission on Food and Materials Program.

PASA Looks for Legislative Support

by Patty Jacobs

The Pasifkos Against Substance Abuse (PASA) met at the Commonwealth Health Center (CHC) Wednesday afternoon and issued Education Chairman Rose Bliss to tell her how she has repeatedly tried to get legislatures to amend PASA meetings. Bliss told the group that the Chairman of the Ways and Means Subcommittee of the House David C. Solon and senators of the Health, Education and Welfare Commission were called several times before each Education Subcommittee meeting met.

The Education Subcommittee has just requested a summary of the public and private schools which deals with substance abuse prevention. The program will include young people and students programming; change position to Mondays; eliminate "happy hour"; prohibit public drunkenness; prohibit open containers of alcohol in motor vehicles; require licensed bartenders at public events where alcohol will be consumed.

Two new members of PASA were introduced. Dr. Todd, the new psychiatrist at CHC and Juvina Borja, of the Department of Youth Services on Tinian. Todd said, "I'm so happy to know about this group. Substance abuse is an important issue."

Chairman of PASA, Cris Villagomez, said, "I want to offer my personal congratulations to David Bliss for holding this rally this past week which was free of alcohol. To my knowledge that is the first time a political rally has been held in the CNMI where alcohol was not served."

Michael Mason, CHC child psychologist, said he has been waiting for a position paper from the group. Solon said that the Executive Committee will have two in the next scheduled meeting October 25th.

Rep. Moses Ferrazan said, "People get rights and privileges mixed up." Ferrazan was referring to people's right to drink as opposed to the privilege to drive.

Bliss said, "I keep running into people who drink. It's part of our culture to have a bit of alcohol. It's NOT part of our culture to have alcoholism."

Michael Murphy, PSS Science Supervisor, said, "We need trained counselors and nurses for the school who are substance abuse counselors. As far as I know drugs is only one counselor."

Legislative Subcommittee, proposed by Todd.

Olga said people in Tinian and Rota had expressed a desire to join the group. The PASA group is considering holding a meeting in Rota next month.

MHS Students Question Candidates

by Don Phillips

With the much-anticipated gubernatorial debates only two days away, the candidates came face to face in a more relaxed setting Tuesday, a forum before the students of Marianas High School.

The outdoor forum, originally scheduled for October 6, was conducted by members of the island’s Home Society, who produced a smooth, well-controlled all-purpose question and answer session.

Republican gubernatorial candidates Larry L. Guerrero and Democratic candidate Piliola C. Tenorio sat next to each other on chairs at the corner of the outdoor stage, and were called upon alternately to speak a piece, leaving two minutes to answer questions posed by a four-student panel and by other students as an open forum segment.

Guerrero received the biggest round of applause when he said, "On the day after my inauguration, you will see five lanes on Beach Road." Guerrero said he would concentrate on Beach Road by using the middle lane as a second lane during peak traffic hours, going north in the morning and south in the evening.

Both candidates said that the traffic problems would be eased by paying certain key access roads, including the road going from Koblerville to the base housing area. Guerrero said he "can't see any reason why we can't pave all the roads" when the time comes, and that "we should prepare for the future segment, student Carol "

Guerrero answered first, saying that a way to replace whatever revenue is being generated from illegal gambling must be found if the machines and casinos are taken off the books. He also said the constitutional rights of the people of each village or community must be decided in the issue for itself.

Tentorio told the students about his plan to confess the schools and provides a basis for modern sports and recreation center. He also said he saw "something seriously wrong with our education system." Tentorio said he would improve school facilities and offer these minutes to teachers if he is elected. He also said he would encourage local people to go to college after he is elected.

Guerrero said he would not support the idea of housing and supported by a two-feet deep retaining wall. The riveting blanks. The cement had to be removed from the water.

Tentorio joked a little bit in his response, saying that "if casino gambling is honest, then the Rotary Las Vegas Night will be the night of the century." He said that if the people of Tinian want to keep the proposed anti-gambling initiative, he would vote yes, but that as of now he would vote no because he respects the rights of the people of Tinian to have the way we educate youths," and that he is running for governor so that he can help correct the problem.

The question for the forum was Tavina Biajini, Frank Esposto, Eileen Farley and Cherlyne Cabrera. The moderator was Elaine Iosua. The timekeeper was Lynette Teregeyo. The debate was conducted by Iona microscope and supported by a two-feet deep retaining wall. The riveting blanks. The cement had to be removed from the water.

Propagation Made In Demonstration

by Patty Jacobs

Director of Natural Resources Nick Guerrero sat in a chair with a backdrop of young trees in galls and five gallon bins at the Chalan Kanoa blue tent on Wednesday afternoon as part of the World Food Day celebration. Guerrero, along with other members of the Natural Resources department, was made to give a demonstration of "air layering" or propagating plants offered by "mother" trees. The Mayor of Saipan's Office, David Palacios, Assistant Director of Natural Resources, and a few members of the public watched Albert Concepcion explain that the main disadvantage of planting seeds takes too much time,Palacios said. "Another method of propagation is quicker than other methods, the offspring will have no tap root and can more easily be separated to prepare for the celebration and was impressed with just about every "An Hawaiian who is visiting the island was invited to the celebration and was impressed with the attendance of food available. "I am going in here to come next year for the next Fiesta, he said."Another method of propagation involves cutting a ring of bark off the tree about two to three months. The main disadvantage Palacios noted is that the offspring plant will have no tap root and can more easily be blown over or spooked in a storm. Froilan’s Record Speaks for Itself.

Read how he represented you in Washington, D.C.

He wants to be your Governor.

On April 13, 1987, Senator Representative Froilan Tenorio moved a motion in the Committee on Appropriations in Congress, asking for the government to borrowing $20 million with the help of the Joint Committee on Appropriations in Congress. On April 28, 1987, a three-page copy of the Attorney-General’s Office informed Froilan that he would not see the request because it was not accompanied by the AG’s Office. It also denied that the government’s representation was inconsistent with previous policies of the Congress of the People. Then, the Senate continued to debate the contract, and the motion should be revised to make it consistent with the law and Constitution.

On April 30, 1987, President sent the following reply:

"FROIANO:

Before I send my nasty response to his letter of 4/28/89, please talk to the Attorney General. If I do not hear from you Friday, I will not agree to this revising the contract. I will not agree to this; that I have signed in the past with other law firms.

The new council of the Northern Marianas National Council of Women was elected Thursday at the Aqua Resort and quickly ratified a charter and bylaws for the group. The new group was born after a two-year period of planning.

The Women's Affairs Office coordinated the various women's groups in the CNMI in order to ratify the charter and the bylaws and then elect officers and committee chairs.

The newly elected officers were: President Eve Guerrero, NM Women's Association; First Vice President Pas Younis, NM Women's Associations; Second Vice President Rosa White, Assembly of God Women; Secretary Felicidad Ogumoro, Catholic Daughters; Treasurer Carmen Gaskins, Chamber of Commerce Business Women; and Assistant Treasurer Florence Benny, NMI Beauty Pageant.

The following women were elected to their positions:
- First Vice President: Pas Younis
- Second Vice President: Rosa White
- Treasurer: Felicidad Ogumoro
- Assistant Treasurer: Florence Benny
- Secretary: Stella Gaskins
- Member-at-Large: Maggie Quassa
- Member-at-Large: Maggie Wannberg
- Immediate Past President: Alvin Babauta

The council meets today to ratify the charter and the bylaws.

The charter of the newly formed council was the product of a two-year preliminary workshop which led to the creation of the new council.

The council finished their business meeting early and finished the session with a business meeting, hosted by the board of elections.

The Shikogakuen Mission, which was last here in July to pay tribute to soldiers who died in World War II, will return to Saipan later this month to celebrate their first anniversary of coming here.

The Shikogakuen Mission established a monument at Banzai Cliff last October. Ceremonies will be held on Saturday, October 28, to commemorate the establishment of the monument.
THE ROLE OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

In the CNMI, the elected Board of Education has the constitutional authority to set policy and exercise control over the Public School System. The Board sets the goals for the Public School System, in turn, the Board, I pledge to work to represent the community and channel your concerns for the betterment of the schools. While there are many things, for Education to accomplish, I will work especially hard to achieve three objectives that I think are the most critical at this time.

CURRICULUM

Curriculum is what is taught in the classrooms. The single most important subject is reading because it unlocks the door to lifelong learning. And the most critical grade is sixth, which is a bridge between the lower elementary grades. Children learn how to read, and enjoy it, they can take greater responsibility for their own learning. Every elementary school should have strong reading programs, supported by a school library, with a trained reading specialist. Teachers should receive extra training in how to teach reading, and receive all the materials necessary to implement an effective program. Once students at grade level, achievements new scores will go up, the drop-out rate will go down, and our schools will produce students who are fully capable of succeeding. In supporting educational funding, the number one priority above all is a full and well-rounded curriculum. Math, science, and computer education are the subjects that need special emphasis and extra funding support.

TRAINING AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

I support the granting of Marcelle leave for hard-working teachers. Every teacher should have at least a BA degree with increase in entry level salary of teacher with degrees. Professional development in the areas of effective schooling practices and instructional leadership should be made for all staff. I also support implementation of teaching incentive programs; such as education/training leave, off-island-on loan program, Fulbright exchange program and inter-Pacific fellowship. I strongly support positive outcomes in the Public School System. Over the past two years we have invested $6.5 million in new school buildings. However, that represents only one third of the total PSS CIP funds available.

EDUCATION: OUR HOPE FOR THE FUTURE

In the CNMI, education is one of our major economic development strategies. Our children deserve the best that we can provide. Education is the key to unlocking the door to lifelong learning. And the most critical grades to teach reading is kindergarten and first grade. The reading program is the foundation of the curriculum and every elementary school should have a strong reading program, supported by a school library, with a trained reading specialist. Teachers should receive extra training in how to teach reading, and receive all the materials necessary to implement an effective program. Once achieved at grade level, achievements new scores will go up, the drop-out rate will go down, and our schools will produce students who are fully capable of succeeding. In supporting educational funding, the number one priority above all is a full and well-rounded curriculum. Math, science, and computer education are the subjects that need special emphasis and extra funding support.

COMMUNITY AND BUSINESS SUPPORT

Full participation of CNMI citizens in economic development depends on producing graduates who are qualified to step into professional and managerial positions. Education must not cease in a vacuum. Cooperative education is an area that can be strengthened by the businesses community and school. By providing business in education, we can work together to improve local participation in the many business opportunities new to the CNMI. An effective education demands parental involvement. Parents should have more say in the schooling process, and as a Board Member, I will ensure that the concerns parents and the community will be respectfully considered and acted upon.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Over the past two years we have invested $6.5 million in new school buildings. However, that represents only one third of the total PSS CIP Master Plan that I helped develop when I was the PSS Planner. I will seek funding to complete the Master Plan and make schools a better environment to learn. I also support keeping the elementary schools in the villages and not "selling out" choice school sites, such as Hopwood, for more development. Our children deserve our best land.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR PROGRAMS

School does not have to be all work and no play. Some of the most enjoyable and valuable activities for students occur after school. I have long been involved in coaching and promoting youth activities such as sports and Boy Scouts, and as a Board of Education member, I would strongly support expanded, organized sporting events and off-island competitions for boys and girls. I also believe that many community activities for gifted and talented students could take place after school, such as science clubs and math contests. Extra-curricular activities with proper planning supplement the curriculum in ways that are stimulating, exciting, and worthwhile for the students.
NMC Rejuvenates Alcohol Awareness Week

by Fermin Meriang

A rejuvenated Northern Marianas College's administration, faculty, staff, and students have combined their efforts in an attempt to initiate a year-round emphasis on alcohol education and awareness.

The college has adopted the resolution for "The Northern Marianas College's Third Annual Alcohol Awareness Week" as the week's observance theme. The college plans to hold a variety of activities in observance of the week.

The activities include lectures, displays, posters, and other programs on the college's campus aimed at awareness, wellness, and responsible use of alcohol.

Garapan Student of the Week

Ferdinha Lucas, a senior from Mr. Romeo Pagapular's English class at the high school, was selected as the Garapan Student of the Week.

Ferdinha is described as a very mature and diligent student who is always ready to help others.

The college's activities coincide with the National College's Alcohol Awareness Week, and this year's National Campaign is titled "Alcohol Awareness Week." As in each year, the National Campaign promotes student health and wellness, and individual responsibility in making well-informed decisions on alcohol and other substance abuse issues.

NMC's Acting President Al Santos signed the resolution proclaiming the Third Annual Alcohol Awareness Week, which is observed in observance of the week.

The college's activities include a week's celebration theme that although the college has made a great effort in combating problems associated with alcohol and drug abuse in the past few years, it is the first year that it is done systematically.

Chairman of the Board of Regents Isaac Calvo and NMC President Agnes McPhee had endorsed the resolution and encouraged the college's students and administration to join forces in celebration of the alcohol awareness week.

The effort by the college also coincides with the National College's Alcohol Awareness Week. Now in its sixth year, the National Campaign has been focusing on the problems of substance abuse as an individual's responsibility in connection with the use of alcohol.

The college's activities coincide with the National College's Alcohol Awareness Week, and this year's National Campaign is titled "Alcohol Awareness Week." As in each year, the National Campaign promotes student health and wellness, and individual responsibility in making well-informed decisions on alcohol and other substance abuse issues.

The effect of the college's activities has been positive, and students and groups on the island are now promoting and sponsoring similar activities.

A group of Professionals Against Substance Abuse (PASA) was recently formed by students and school counselors, and has been instrumental in making sure the problems of substance abuse are being addressed.

NMC's Acting President Al Santos said that this is the first year the college has recognized the importance of this social problem and took steps to alleviate it. He added that although the college has sponsored similar activities for the last three years, this is the first year that it is done through a resolution.

Chairman of the Board of Regents Isaac Calvo and NMC President Agnes McPhee had endorsed the resolution and encouraged the college's students and administration to join forces in celebration of the alcohol awareness week.

experts, improve present facilities, and said that privatization of health services would drive up costs, making the average patient unable to receive decent health care. He agreed that some specialties like dental could be privatized.

Tenorio pointed out that the current health care situation is inadequate and more specialists are needed. He said patients usually have to wait a long time before they can see a specialist. Tenorio said that the present health care situation is inadequate and more specialists are needed. He said patients usually have to wait a long time before they can see a doctor, a problem that can be solved if the government encouraged more private practitioners.

Both candidates agreed there is a problem of alcohol abuse among the younger people of the CNMI, with each offering different solutions. Tenorio acknowledged that the problem has caused family break ups and proposed to institute more public education and to solicit grant money from local distributors for those programs.

Guerrero on the other hand said that the older generation needs to play a bigger role in dissuading youngster from alcohol abuse.

The candidates offered very different views when asked what they would do to upgrade the quality of education in the Commonwealth. Guerrero said that his administration would insist on more qualified teachers, improvement of existing facilities, better equipment and learning materials.

Tenorio proposed drastic changes from the current educational system. He said he would centralize all the elementary schools on Saipan, making a first class facility equipped with the latest in modern education technology.

Tenorio said his plan would save the taxpayers and the government a lot of money. He added that the present system is too riddled with loopholes and overlapping services and programs.

On the question of the influx of alien laborers, the candidates again differed in ideas. Tenorio cited particular industries and said more locals need to be trained to fill those positions currently filled by contract workers. He said the government should subsidize local employees in the construction, garment, and tourism industries as an incentive to attract more local workers.

Guerrero answered by saying a "Blue Ribbon Task Force" is in the process of studying the situation and will be submitting a report to the Governor shortly. He said he will make his recommendations based on that study or his own impression when he is Governor.

And finally, entrepreneurs were straining to listen when the candidates were asked what they would do to ensure local businesses can compete with foreign investments.

Guerrero said his administration will propose legislation to block foreign interference in those industries where local people have the skills and expertise to operate.

Tenorio proposed a two step plan to deal with the problem. He said his administration will set a limit on foreign investment and establish a new agency to review new business applications.

"JUAN in San Francisco, CA with CHC Architects."
It’s incredible big, totally fun, and a whole lot worthwhile,” described a press release released by Saipan, as they announced the December 6th and 7th celebration of one of Saipan’s favorite traditional festivities – the Hyatt 5th Annual “World’s Largest Office Party.”

Three local charities have been chosen to benefit from the proceeds of this year’s party, which will take place from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the hotel lobby and Gilligan’s Dance Club. The three organizations selected for this year’s event are: The Northern Marianas Child Care Resource & Referral Center, and the Northern Marianas Health Research Center, a new subsidiary of the Northern Marianas College.

Just a little more than a month before the party kicks off, the Hyatt’s “World’s Largest Office Party” will be the occasion for many local businesses, mostly from the hotel industry, “to come together to flirt with other businesses so get involved by donating prizes, cash, and/or time at the event.”

Two years ago, the Hyatt’s 1987 WLOP, a record $1,200 Japanese money went to local charity and a wide variety of Hyatt’s guests were involved in helping to raise $25,000 for our Northern Marianas Islands.”

With just a little more than a month to plan the huge event, the Hyatt’s “WLOP” will be the occasion for many local businesses, mostly from the hotel industry, “to come together to flirt with other businesses so get involved by donating prizes, cash, and/or time at the event.”

CAFE Assists Territories
In Teacher Training

The U.S. Department of Education has awarded $452,802 to the Center for the Advancement of Pacific Education (CAPE) to strengthen teacher training in the Pacific Islands, where isolation, remote resources, and language issues often impede effective schooling, according to a press release from the U.S. Department of Education.

CAPE, the Honolulu-based Pacific service delivery arm of the Oregon-based Northwest Regional Educational Laboratory, provides educational, technical training, technical assistance, and research and development services throughout the Pacific.

CAPE’s goal is to provide technical assistance to the educationally isolated territories of the Northern Marianas, Marshall Islands, Palau, and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

Art Show Feature CNMI, Japanese Artists’ Works

Beginning next month, the CNMI community will have the opportunity to view international and regional artworks at the Convention Center, Capital Hills.

The 3rd Annual CNMI/Cultural Exchange Art Exhibition opens November 15 and will run for an entire month. This exhibition, the largest in the Commonwealth, will feature traditional and contemporary art from both the CNMI and Japan.

This exchange program was established in encouragement to promote goodwill between the CNMI and Japan through cultural and artistic interaction.

Yoshiko Naruto, who passed away after a lengthy illness in August, started the exhibition years ago. It is with great sadness that we will miss the enthusiasm of Mr. Manuda’s son, Takashi Maruda, who will set an exhibition announcement for the newly renovated new Regency Wing of the Hyatt Regency Saipan.

President of the IMA and KENTEN (Kagawa Prefectural Artists Association), Fukusaka works at the Yokohama-based organization as an art director.

Thank You!
For your attendance and generous support in making our fundraising on Sept. 30, 1989 a success.

TO PRESERVE THE CULTURE OF MARIANAS

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY BELIEVES we must always be aware of who we are, we must hold the symbols of our culture for ourselves and our children. Our arts and crafts and culture must be intertwined in the development of the Commonwealth, so that the Commonwealth and Marianas traditions are always prominent and visible and respected. To this we must commit:

1. Social programs for the elderly and for the orphaned and the handicapped.
2. Preservation of our natural environment and all the historic sites which are our proud heritage.
3. Opportunities for all our people to own decent, safe, and sanitary housing with adequate infrastructure in all homesteads.
4. Full public access to the beaches and waters of the Commonwealth. We can guarantee tourism on the shoreline, but we must never lose our traditional utilization with the sea.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT:

PARA HAA GOA

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY BELIEVES we have before us a unique opportunity to achieve economic security and self-reliance for ourselves and our children. The economic growth of Japanese tourism can and should be equal in the abundance of being, to reap the potential of these benefits of tourism will mean the course of development and stimulate the recession sector of the economy; encourage access for resource for forest, carefully control fishing to our renewable waters, promote medicinal and specialty agricultural products marketable to the tourist industry and aloha and maintain interest in the mineral potential of the CIA's owned, while affirming our Commonwealth's right to manage and profit from these resources.

There is an urgent need to find a better and more effective way of providing our Commonwealth children with the finest educational opportunities they are entitled to. In response to this urgent need, I am encouraged to run for the Board of Education because I know that I can contribute towards the improvement of our children's educational development. I have definite and achievable ideas and plans which can significantly make a difference in our pursuit for a quality and dynamic educational system, a system which considers the persons in the process.

ACHIEVABLE PLANS FOR THE FIRST 2 YEARS

* Introduce a Board of Education Resolution requesting the Governor to declare a state of emergency on the Public School System.
* Establish immediately a uniform salary schedule for all professional teachers and teacher aids comparable with or equal to their U.S. counterparts.
* Reduce student-teacher ratio from the current 25 to 15. This can be done without the addition of teachers.
* Mandate the immediate placement of teachers in the primary (1st, 2nd, 3rd) grades who are extremely proficient in the teaching of and specialized on reading and language arts. Strong emphasis must be placed on reading comprehension.
* Require that teachers teach only on their specialized field or fields.
* Implement a departmentalized scheduling in the elementary schools.

ACHIEVABLE PLANS FOR A 4 YEAR PERIOD

* Introduce and implement a modular or year-round school system.
* Mandate the installation of air conditioning system in most of the classrooms.
* Mandate the installation of computers and other effective learning aids in most of the classrooms.
* Establish and implement a well-structured vocational programs in the elementary school.

Power Distribution - Part II

In a series of observations on Saipan's Power Distribution Awareness Month (PDAM), this column discusses the second major component of Saipan's power system: the distribution network. The power distribution system is responsible for delivering the electric energy generated at the power plant to the various points of use throughout the island. It consists of a network of transformers, feeders, and substations that step down the voltage from the high voltage levels produced by the power plant to the lower voltage levels required for residential and commercial use. The distribution system is designed to ensure an adequate supply of power to meet the island's energy needs.

The Power Distribution System

The power distribution system on Saipan is designed to meet the energy demands of the island's growing population and economy. The system is composed of multiple feeders, which transport power from the substations to the various points of use. Each feeder is a series of electrical lines, poles, and transformers that are connected in a network to provide a reliable supply of power. The feeders are designed to deliver power to the different areas of the island, including residential neighborhoods, commercial areas, and industrial zones.

Key Components of the Distribution System

1. Feeders:
   - Feeders are the main components of the distribution system. They transport power from the substations to the various points of use. The feeders are composed of electrical lines, poles, and transformers. Feeders are designed to deliver power to the different areas of the island, including residential neighborhoods, commercial areas, and industrial zones.

2. Substations:
   - Substations are responsible for step-down the voltage of the power from the high voltage levels produced by the power plant to the lower voltage levels required for residential and commercial use. Substations are located throughout the island, and they are responsible for distributing power to the different areas of the island.

3. Transformers:
   - Transformers are used to step-up or step-down the voltage of the power delivered by the feeders. They are located at the substations and are designed to ensure a reliable supply of power to the different areas of the island.

In conclusion, the power distribution system on Saipan is a critical component of the island's energy infrastructure. It is designed to meet the energy demands of the island's growing population and economy, and it is essential for the operation of the island's businesses and industries. The distribution system is designed to ensure a reliable supply of power to the different areas of the island, and it is constantly being upgraded and improved to meet the island's ongoing energy needs.

Forum On Education Set For October 28

The Education Commission said that "the purpose of the forum is to enable our teachers/staff to have an opportunity to question the candidates or future legislators on issues and concerns relating to education."

The forum "will follow. The moderators will explain the format for questioning, and the teachers and staff will take the floor and formulate a set of questions. In the event that the forum is held on or after October 15, he said "will be the first time"

The PSS will have a "government like this," he said the question." "It is necessary that all of our teachers and staff be present at the forum."

Each of the candidates will present a 3-minute statement, will make the closing remarks."

Gambling Anonymous Forming

Congressman David Casino Sablan is organizing assistance from the general public on matters having to do with "Gamblers Anonymous." A gamblers anonymous group is being established in Saipan to assist individuals who are in need of help because of their gambling addiction, or other gambling addictions.

If you are a member of any gamblers anonymous group, particularly in Guam, Hawaii, or the Mainland, please call us at 234-3200 and make an appointment to meet with Congressman Sablan.

Kobuville Elementary

PSS - Kobuville Elementary has become the fourth public elementary school in Saipan to go on double sessions this school year.

For the past month, the school has been holding classes in the afternoon, said Acting Vice Principal Danny Cillas.

Now 20 sixth graders come to school from noon to 4 p.m. because of the school's shortage, he said. "The other 21 sixth graders and the 18 students in other grade levels are also in the same situation."

Kobuville Elementary, with grades 1 through 6, has an enrollment of 273 students, Cillas said.

Classroom shortage has also caused double sessions at Tokyo, Tanapag, and San Antonio elementary schools.

Dear Editor:

Because it has not been possible to settle this dispute, and because I think it important to make the point, I wish to note that the reported low rate of liquor sales at the Shell Bar at the CNMI Airport is due to the swift action of the CNMI attorneys, and not to poor morale or lack of interest on the part of the CNMI Public Law Enforcement officers.

I have no doubt that the record will show that those who did respond represent a substantial proportion of the Association's legally active membership. This makes the finding that 21 did not find Hillblom to be qualified for more significant than would appear from the mere numbers that were reported.

The attorneys in active practice are the ones who will have to come before those judges. If those attorneys have no confidence in a judge's qualifications, how can the classic those attorneys represent have any confidence in the judge's capabilities? Is this the test of the basic criteria in the law for judicial selection as a Supreme Court judge, by no means docs this mean he possesses the qualifications to actually appoint a judge per se.

A judge must have integrity, an open mind, wisdom, maturity, experience, impartiality, and good judgment. Though these criteria were not spelled out in the law, they are perhaps even more critical to performance as an honorable judge than the criteria that are mentioned in the law. This point was not, apparently, made either.

The reason for not giving me the opportunity to bring to the attention of the CNMI membership, and members, and the rest of the community, these important additional points.

Sincerely,

Alrush L. Tight

But now, she says she knows that those who play poker machines are usually pathological gamblers. Although she had only been playing regularly for about six months, Flores already was suffering from the problem. She said that it caused her to neglect her two young children, including her husband. "I was ashamed and I didn't think I had anyone to turn to," she said. It finally caught her attention when her grandfather saw her playing in public. Now, Flores says she has "for the machines." She also says that she feels like her own husband and how her family would react when they found out. "I was ashamed and I didn't think I had anyone to turn to," she said. It finally caught her attention when her grandfather saw her playing the machines. "I lost track of time and didn't think about eating," Flores said. She hit her poker addiction from everyone around her. "I was ashamed and I didn't think I had anyone to turn to," she said. It finally caught her attention when her grandfather saw her playing in public.

A Message of Appreciation

I would like to take this opportunity to extend my sincere appreciation to my relatives, friends and supporters who helped in one way or another in my FUNDRAISING DINNER held September 30, 1989. It was a success because of your kind generosity and participation.

Thank you for your many words of encouragement and support. I stand ready to serve you as the next Mayor of Rota.

Hopwood Presents Book Of Poems By Students

"Let it grow, openly
Open your heart tenderly.
Verify your feelings, you will be Expected no more than what you know you can be."

The title of that poem is "Open," one of the 66 poems in "The Book of Poems," a 72-page book written by former Hopwood Junior High School students in Ernie Alano's journalism class.

"This is the first time a school has published the work of students in a book form," Alano said. "This shows the students' literary talents."

He said he had thoroughly reviewed the poems and found that they were original works of the students.

He said the poems won first prizes for the "Hawaii News," the official Hopwood Junior High School newspaper, from school year 1987-88 to 1988-89.

The book has poems on friendship, love, school, and seasons, Alano said, adding that it also has poems on other subjects such as the constitution, life, death, dreams, etc.

"The reason for printing the poems in the book form is to preserve the good work of the students for now and for the future," he said.

Authors of the poems are: Bernie M. Tudda, Aniella M. Banza, Stephanie R. Romihara, Brenda Masu, Carole Bryan, Mary Marshu, Melinda Ipole, Lilia Yonim, Bernard Javier, Charlisa Cah蚧, Paul Ajom, George Concepcion, Claudia Pangelinan, and Aldin Bailey.

These students have graduated from Hopwood and are at Marianas High School.

Alano said. The first 500 copies, are being sold at Hopwood for $1.00 a copy.

The YCO D-9'ers kept their playoff hopes alive and handed the Toyota Wheels their fourth loss in eight outings, their third consecutive loss, with a 5-1 victory Sunday.

Rudy Camacho knocked in three runs and pitcher Tony Camacho went 4-for-4 with two RBIs to go along with his five-hit performance to lead his D-9's.

The Wheels drew first blood with a run in the bottom of the second when Al Camacho drew a lead-off walk and scored on Bobby Lizama's single for a 1-0 lead. But the D-9's, with Camacho on the mound and the defense behind him, slowly but surely took over the lead and held on for their fourth victory with four defeats.

The D-9's and the O.C.K. Aces, which won their game against the Seabees 4, will be battling in their final game, which could decide the last spot for the playoffs, depending on how the Wheels fare on their two remaining games. A Wheels victory means the winner of the D-9's-Aces matchup will advance and the loser will be eliminated.

The Rainbow Seabees Four and the O.C.K. Aces concluded their long-awaited first round suspension game, which was re-scheduled with the Seabees on top 12-11 after six complete innings. The game was suspended due to the rain. The Seabees Four were leading 11-12 when both managers called a 13-12 lead.

FASA Basketball League Completes Third Week

by Fermin Meriang

The Filipino Amateur Sports Association (FASA) Basketball League rolled into its third week of competition with four more teams seeing action Sunday at the Saipan Civic Gym.

In the first game PDL Busch shot its way to an 84-68 victory over Sablan Termite. F. Ciores scored 20 points to lead the winners while T. Gopez scored 21 points in a losing effort.

As of October 9, six teams have one win with no losses while six other teams have lost a game without a victory. Those teams with winning records are SMJ L.A. Beer, Gozum Michelob Light, and Norman Michelob Dry of the AMBROS Division; and Williams Budweiser, PDL Busch, and Transpacific Michelob in the MARPAC Division.

Each team is to play one game with the Seabees and one with the OCK Aces, which are the two remaining games. A Wheels victory means the winner of the D-9's-Aces matchup will advance and the loser will be eliminated.

The Governor's Awards will be presented on Friday, November 17. Other awards presented will be for: Outstanding Individual Artist; Outstanding Community Art Support Organization; and Outstanding Art Student.

For further information, call Martin M. Sablan at 322-9982/83.

Deadlines For Governor's Awards For The Arts

The open deadline runs through October 27. A maximum of five winners may be chosen. All entries must be postmarked by December 27.

The YCO D-9'ers kept their playoff hopes alive and handed the Toyota Wheels their fourth loss in eight outings, their third consecutive loss, with a 5-1 victory Sunday.

Rudy Camacho knocked in three runs and pitcher Tony Camacho went 4-for-4 with two RBIs to go along with his five-hit performance to lead his D-9's.

The Wheels drew first blood with a run in the bottom of the second when Al Camacho drew a lead-off walk and scored on Bobby Lizama's single for a 1-0 lead. But the D-9's, with Camacho on the mound and the defense behind him, slowly but surely took over the lead and held on for their fourth victory with four defeats.

The D-9's and the O.C.K. Aces, which won their game against the Seabees 4, will be battling in their final game, which could decide the last spot for the playoffs, depending on how the Wheels fare on their two remaining games. A Wheels victory means the winner of the D-9's-Aces matchup will advance and the loser will be eliminated.

The Rainbow Seabees Four and the O.C.K. Aces concluded their long-awaited first round suspension game, which was re-scheduled with the Seabees on top 12-11 after six complete innings. The game was suspended due to the rain. The Seabees Four were leading 11-12 when both managers called a 13-12 lead.
