Teachers walkout still looming

by Tert M. Flores

Today will be a regular school day for thousands of CNMI students as the more than 500 petitioners belonging to the CNMI Educational Reform Movement are still awaiting the decision of the Board of Education on their petition seeking the resignation or termination of Commissioner of Education Elizabeth D. Relchel.

San Antonio Elementary school principal Joe Aldan said in a Thursday interview at the Hopwood Junior High School that the decision to stage a walkout will depend on the outcome of a scheduled dialogue between the BOE and members of the movement.

The dialogue and the Board’s decision will be deliberated tomorrow following the arrival of BOE Chairman Jesus Taiague from an off-island trip.

While board members met in closed session with government leaders and other school bodies most of the week, movement members were also busy attending dialogues and mass meetings at the Hopwood Junior High School.

Government officials headed by Acting Governor Benjamin T. Manglona and House Speaker Pedro R. Guerrero acted as mediators between the various groups who came to confer with them.

On Monday, shortly after Relchel took leave of absence from office, Deputy commissioner for instruction Lee Torres was named as the temporary PSS Commissioner.

Vice-Chairman of the Board Juan L. Babauta issued an order dictating that Rechebei take a 60-day leave from her position.

On Wednesday, Manglona, together with Marianas High School Parent Teacher’s Association (MHS-PTA) president Pete Nakatsukasa met with about 300 teachers from the school to discuss about the grievances which the teachers have stipulated in their position.

Manglona also briefed the teachers about the status of Rechebei and what government leaders are doing to alleviate the impending mass strike.

The Acting Governor assured that Rechebei’s leave is already a partial solution to the current problems of the PSS. He also said that instead of improving the situation, a strike will only heighten the current unrest within the system.

During the meeting, members of the MHS Student Council led by its president Elaine Inos presented the students stand regarding the issues.

Inos, who was speaking in behalf of the MHS student body expressed her disappointment over the teacher’s decision to stage a walkout if Rechebei is not removed from office by April

House pass salary increases for government employees

by Ronel B. Concepcion

The House of Representatives passed on final reading House bill 7-206 which would increase the salary of most government officials, during its session Tuesday.

Another bill, this time passed on first reading was House bill 7-184 concerning the proposed changes in the CNMI labor rules that will affect the Mayor’s staffs are still under the Civil Service.

According to the committee report which recommends its passage, “salaries of employees and officials of the CNMI government must be adjusted to reflect changing conditions in the CNMI.”

The committee, which introduced several amendments to the bill, said that salary increases contained in the bill “are necessary to provide for the increase in the cost of living since the enactment of the former salary and compensation acts.”

According to the report, there is a need for the increase as it will “attract and retain competent individuals in government operation” by narrowing the gap compared to salaries in other areas.

New salaries are enumerated as follows:

Governor - from $550,000 to $750,000

U.S. Governor - from $500,000 to $775,000

Lt. Governor - from $400,000 to $750,000

Director of Public Safety - $55,000 to $60,000

Director of Public Works - $50,000 to $55,000

Department Deputy

Mayors to file suit against Attorney General’s Office

by Ronel B. Concepcion

There is a possibility that Municipal Mayors may file a lawsuit against the Attorney General’s Office, which opinion provides that the Mayors staffs are still under the Civil Service System, despite the existence of PL 7-17.

According to Senate President Joseph Inos, they might be included in those who will be suing the AG’s Office since the “Mayors’ personnel won’t get paid.”

He explained that they will be joining the Mayors since the Senate introduced SB 7-60, signed into PL 7-17, also known as the Mayors bill, excluding personnel from the Mayors office from the CSC.

Due to the AG’s opinion which the CSC is holding to, personnel from the Mayors’ office will not get their salaries today, since they did not undergo the usual process of hiring by the Personnel Officer.

Inos, during a brief talk Thursday morning, said that they are already trying to get a lawyer to represent them in a case against the AG.

The Office of the AG earlier presented a legal opinion to the Personnel Officer stating that it is only the Civil Service Commission that has the sole authority to provide for exemption from the Commission, citing Article XX of the Constitution.

Conets now arise as to the applicability of Public Law 7-17.

Assistant AG James Parsons said in the opinion that the Legislature may declare that certain classes or positions will be exempt, even though the Commission has the “ultimate authority” to exempt specific positions within particular classes.

The Legislature has determined that the Mayor’s staffs will be an exempt classification “so that position within the class will be exempt,” it said.

The AG’s opinion pointed out that the Mayor may petition the CSC to submit a list of positions for exemption, which in turn will be decided by the CSC... “Personnel actions affecting the Mayor’s staffs should also be submitted to the Personnel Office.”

The Senate Legal Counsel, on the other hand, has a different opinion... “The Civil Service Commission has absolutely no authority over the agencies of the local government.”

But the council stressed in her opinion that the Constitution is “quite clear” on the provision regarding the CSC authority and “on the separate and distinct constitutional status of local government.”

It cited that PL 7-17 passed in January 1991 “to clear up any confusion as to the Constitutional status of the Mayors office by exempting all personnel and staff from the Civil Service...”

“Notwithstanding the Constitutional status of Local Government and the CSC’s authority over only positions with the executive, legislative and judicial branches, PL 7-17 makes it clear that the personnel and staff of the Mayor’s offices are exempt from the Civil Service.”

According to the council, PL 7-17 will only put back the status quo before August 6, 1990 to recognize the separation of the Mayors offices.

It was explained that back then, the Personnel Office began “imposing its authority” on the personnel. Continued on page 20

Guest Writer Development and Culture

By: Dr. Mohamad Astraf

There has hardly been as a period of time in human history when people were as influenced by technology as today. The advancements in technology are evident in every aspect of our lives, from communication to transportation, and the impact they have on our culture and society is profound. But technology also carries with it the potential for negative consequences, such as erosion of cultural traditions and social isolation. The question is, how can we navigate the challenges of technology while preserving our cultural heritage and social connections?

Many developing countries which have made a transition to a digital age develop a system that is so voracious to thrust them into a new universe. A comparison of the development indices that today’s world’s largest information nation is not America but Hungary, and that is the reason why we should have a change in the development of our current nation. Just like the people of other countries, we are also greatly affected by this crisis, we need to see to it that the re-structuring will start from the lowest echelon of the system up until the highest position has been resolved.

It is a known fact that the leaders of this movement are school administrators and certain key personnel within the system.

The underlying question is the motive of the group. Are they really trying for the betterment of students, and what repercussions a change in the system or are they just being misdirected by a few “interested” individuals who are out to destroy the entire system for their own self-serving interests?

These are questions with answers that may shed some light to some degree and lead to the decriminalization of the whole incident.

The petitioners should not panic but bring about their concerns and grievances to a forum where it could be heard. They should be allowed the same rights and opportunity to voice their concerns and present their case. The authorities, on the other hand, should also listen and consider the petition.

What is needed is a peaceful negotiation so that both sides of the issue could be heard and addressed.

Dear Editor,

People will good faith should be allowed the freedom to express their positive contributions of self-determination in any form that is acceptable to them... It’s a people’s rally. A people’s rally brings together people of any position or other to make an endeavor of it. The people’s rally has been a means of pulling together those responsible for creating a forum.

Because the CNMI Constitutional Convention (CC) is a process that involves the general public, everyone is a part of it. For everyone the process must be meaningful. To ensure that the process is not a failure, the government should ensure that the process is meaningful, it must ensure that everyone’s voices are heard.

The government must ensure that the process is meaningful. It must ensure that everyone’s voices are heard. Everyone should be given the opportunity to express their views and contribute to the process. This is important for the success of the process.

The government should also ensure that the process is meaningful. It must ensure that everyone’s voices are heard. Everyone should be given the opportunity to express their views and contribute to the process. This is important for the success of the process.

Meanwhile, Senate President Melvin Villanueva said, "We have adopted a joint resolution expressing twenty days of ad­

The last week showed an appreciable support for the other CNMI’s effort in backing its soldiers. The soldier, who is a Guamanian, is a Marine who has fought in the Gulf War..." (The issue has"...one of the most significant in the history of the CNMI..."

Our soldiers may also be considered as the most worthy of the current and past elected officials of the CNMI. They have served with courage, discipline, and dedication. They are the pride of the CNMI and the pride of the U.S. military. They have demonstrated their commitment to the CNMI and its people, and they deserve our support and respect.

Reintroduction of overridden public auditor bill expected

The CNMI government is reportedly considering reintroducing its legislation for the impeachment of Public Auditor John Iosweidet. This is following the rejection of the bill by the current legislature, which was overridden by the governor.

The legislation aims to allow the public auditor to be impeached and removed from office if found guilty of malfeasance or misconduct. The legislation was introduced by Representative Joseph Ada, who has expressed concerns about the auditor's role and performance.

The legislation was initially passed by the 19th legislature but was vetoed by Governor Donald Cristensen. The governor stated that the auditor's role and performance are crucial for the CNMI's financial stability and accountability. He added that the legislation was rushed and not well thought out.

However, the new administration has decided to reintroduce the legislation, with some amendments. It is expected that the new legislation will be reintroduced in the current session of the legislature.

The reintroduction of the legislation is expected to face opposition from some legislators, who have expressed concerns about the governor's role in the current session.

In the meantime, the auditor continues to serve under a temporary appointment, with the governor acting as the interim auditor.

The CNMI government has emphasized the importance of a transparent and accountable financial management system. The reintroduction of the legislation is seen as a step towards achieving this goal.

However, the reintroduction of the legislation is not without challenges. There are concerns about the governor's role in the current session, and the potential for political interference in the audit process.

In conclusion, the reintroduction of the legislation is a positive step towards improving the transparency and accountability of the CNMI government. However, it is essential that the legislation is well thought out and not rushed through the process.

The auditor's role and performance are crucial for the CNMI's financial stability and accountability. It is hoped that the reintroduction of the legislation will lead to a more transparent and accountable financial management system.
MIHA awaits Garapan Housing section 8 contract termination

by R. B. Concepcion

The US Department of Housing and Urban Development would soon be meeting with a representative from the American Micronesia Housing Authority to discuss the termination of the Garapan Housing Authority’s section 8 contract. A section 8 contract enables a public housing authority to lease its development to a private company at a discount in exchange for the company’s performing a management role. The Garapan Authority’s contract is due to expire on February 28, 1992.

The US Department of Housing and Urban Development is responsible for guaranteeing that public housing projects are managed efficiently and effectively. According to a letter dated January 10, 1991, the Housing Authority has informed the Department that it has selected the American Sign Company to take over the management of their housing projects.

The Housing Authority has informed the Department that the American Sign Company has a history of successfully operating public housing projects in the United States. The company has extensive experience in managing large-scale housing developments and has a proven track record of providing high-quality services to its residents.

The Housing Authority has stated that the American Sign Company has a long-standing relationship with the Department and has successfully managed its housing projects for many years. The company has also indicated its willingness to work closely with the Housing Authority to ensure the smooth transition of responsibilities.

The Housing Authority is hopeful that the American Sign Company will be able to bring new and innovative ideas to the management of its housing projects, which will result in improved services for its residents.

The Department is confident that the American Sign Company will be able to meet the challenges of managing the Garapan Housing Authority’s development and will work closely with the Housing Authority to ensure the success of the project.

The Housing Authority has expressed its gratitude to the Department for its continued support and assistance in managing its housing projects. The Authority is committed to working closely with the Department to ensure the success of the project.

The Housing Authority has also stated that it is confident that the American Sign Company will be able to provide high-quality services to its residents and that the Department will continue to support the Authority in its efforts to improve the lives of its residents.

Tropical Rainforest...a Paradise Under Threat

by Fredrick Daniel

The tropical rainforest is a unique ecosystem that supports a incredibly diverse range of plant and animal life. It is estimated that there are over 40,000 species of plants and 750 species of birds living in just one hectare of tropical rainforest.

However, the tropical rainforest is under threat from deforestation and other human activities. The loss of these important ecosystems will have a devastating effect on the planet's biodiversity.

We must act now to protect these vital ecosystems before it is too late.

Tinian prepares for annual San Jose Fiesta

The annual Tinian San Jose Fiesta will be held this year during the first weekend of May, according to Tinian Mayor Mercedes M. Mendiola, who this year is the Mayor’s Assistant in the Mayor’s Office.

The mayor said this week that the Tinian San Jose Fiesta will be held from May 3 to May 5, a weekend said to be ideal for activities such as sports competitions and entertainment.

Mendiola said Tinian is the island’s population and visitors from the neighboring islands of Saipan, Rota, and Guam, the Mayor’s release said.

In conjunction with the annual festa, the island’s Clean-up Week” has been proclaimed by the Mayor in a proclamation issued this week designating the week of April 24 to April 30 pursuant to law in which the people of Tinian are requested to beautify the island in preparation for the festa.

“As our most widely celebrated event in our community, we expect a lot of visitors from our sister islands,” said Mayor Mendiola.

Mangiona to address college students

Lt. Governor Benjamin Manglona will talk about current political issues confronting the CNMI in a forum which will be held at the Northern Marianas College student lounge on April 26 from 9:30 to 11 a.m.

Manglona will also discuss issues of the CNMI’s energy or conservation efforts.

The public is invited to participate in the discussion.

Zoning board appoints Salas community planner

Edward T. Salas was appointed by the Mayor to serve as the community planner for the Tinian Zoning Board last week. Salas, the Mayor’s release said, will be responsible for planning and conducting community education functions to land-use property owners, community groups, public agencies and other affected parties to zoning and land-use lines and policies.

Salas has had extensive experience in the field of land-use management and supervision, and said he will be very helpful to the Zoning Board in working with the community.

Salas said he is looking forward to attending a planning seminar which is scheduled for May 4, 1991, to further his education in the field of land-use management.

Salas was at a District Manager for the Tinian San Jose Restaurant for twelve years, for the Saipan County Sheriff’s Department, for the United States Postal Service, and for the Department of Interior, Salas San Jose, before he returned to Saipan after 18 years of living abroad.

 Upon his return in 1990, he worked as an Office Manager for the Tinian San Jose Restaurant and Maintenance.

“I learned to appreciate the value of zoning while living in California,” Salas said.

The Tinian Zoning Board, established in June of 1991, is charged with developing a zoning code and a land-use plan for Tinian. Work is presently underway to finalize a series of issue papers that will be used as the basis of education on zoning needs and concerns within the community.

Zoning Board Administrator Cindy Brewer Camacho has also been meeting with civic groups and government agencies to explain the concept of “performance zoning,” the zoning approach that is envisioned for Tinian.

Groups and agencies interested in working with the Zoning Board are requested to contact the Mayor’s Office.

Artist found his world on Saipan

by Terf M. Flores

Because Aryel Dumapit may not know all of the arts, it will take months to turn around, people will start asking who the talented artist in the CNMI is. Aryel acknowledges the support of the CNMI, but he says that it is not true that the Commonwealth government has no budget for the arts.

Aryel Dumapit is the artist who founded the guam magazine, Rafa Adan. He derives much support and recognition for the artist in the CNMI but, it is a statement that he does not have a budget for the arts when a couple of years ago he was given a job to set up his artworks in the international arena.

Aryel's artworks found in the pages of the magazine when his friend of his introduced him in the magazine's editorial. Rafa Adan during one of his visits on the island.

"At first it was a joke but when he really expressed his interest with my artworks, I don't know what to do anymore," Aryel said.

Aryel's appropriation to one of the artists of the month was through his charcoal paintings of Santiago Babauta, one of Saipan's World War II veterans and the current owner of Toys' N' Toys.

Aryel's artwork reflect his controversial and insensitive disposition on the title Aryel experiments by making and painting in canvas. What is interesting to note is that Aryel did not have any formal training in education in either drawing or the arts. "I was not inclined to the arts when I was small. In fact, I could not even produce a sensible drawing," Aryel said.

It was by accident that he learned the rudimentary of drawing. The opportunity to study drawing came when, as a youth, he was confined at the National Orthopaedic Hospital in Manila for a bone ailment.

"There was this guy named Bobo who was confined there. One day we were talking to each other about how to draw and paint. I didn't feel like being there. I didn't feel like mental confines," Aryel said.

Aryel recalls that while as a Trasnum student in one of the schools in Manila, he would read a great deal of time in department stores observing the masterpieces of commercial artists.

"After months of training looking at how the artist did their stuff, I immediately rush home and insist that what they were doing. During that time, I really read my imagination a lot," he said.

Despite his talent, Aryel did not pursue the arts but instead, he went into hotel and management business. While working as a bartender in Dolo, a southern province in the Philippines, Aryel made personalized greeting cards for the patrons of their restaurant. If he is given that commission works for a couple of friends who have shown interest in what he was doing.

Although he specializes in charcoal painting, Aryel also dabbles in watercolor and oil. A predominant theme in his artworks are landscapes and pastel themes. Aryel said he keeps on a research book in hand as he feels drawing.

"I'm fond of drawing while talking to people," Aryel said. Aryel hopes to make a name for himself and totally concentrate on his drawings. If he is given that opportunity, he said he will

Hopwood announces 1991 Spelling Bee winners

In a tough and grueling competition, Sonny Javier, an eighth grade student, was over eleven other finalists and was crowned as Hopwood's 1991 Spelling Bee champion. The Spelling Bee finals was the culmination of a series of spelling competitions among the students, according to the school's principal.

There were a total of 12 finalists, six seventh-graders and six eighth-graders, who participated in the championship round. The cletic code geniuses were Sonny Javier, Lily Baja, Zarrin Suda, Marlene Sablan, Joshua Suda, and Ken Thomas.

The top six spellers from the seventh grade who made it to the finals were Dawn Deacon, Cheryl Daqui, Joaquina Aguon, Dwight Javier, Jaiden Taltaloe, and Gary Pangalinao, the 1990 Spelling Bee champion. The competitors went through five rounds of spelling competitions in the finals. The contest was close as each student spelled correctly the difficult words that the judges deemed to be the most challenging.

Teachers walkout....

The Council of PTA Pres­i­ents are in full support of the walk-out.

House Speaker Guerrero also said that the strike should be con­strued as a means to inter­rupt the house will again deliber­ate on the issue for a second time before finally adopting it.

Several concerns were raised, especially regarding the con­tinuous yearly increase in the salary being received by the various offices, but house members were in favor of the pay increase. On the other hand, HB 7-184 was passed on first reading, meaning that the house will again dis­cuss the matter in the session in the house. After passing the consen­sus report, the bill was accommodative of the amend­ments which provides policies on the employment of both resi­dent and alien workers.

$18.3 million for PS. Five months later, we passed a supplemental appropriation of $22 million for PS. As a result, PS funding soared from $12 million to $25 million, an increase of 100% in just one year.
This year we appropriated $22 million for PS, an increase of 13%.

The money is not enough for our schools. We have seen the doubled the budget of PS. But...
Rota and Tinian artists get funding to attend festival

Funds requested and received by the Commonwealth Council for Arts & Culture (CCAC), $5,150 from the Commonwealth for Pacific Arts and Cultures in Rota and Tinian to send a performing group, three traditional artists and two visual artists to Rota and Tinian to come to Saipan for this year's 10th Annual Flame Tree Arts Festival, according to a news release from CCAC.

The Flame Tree Festival will be held at the American Memorial Park in Rota on Saturday and Sunday, June 1 & 2. For the first time the selection of the Saipan delegation to the 6th Pacific Arts Festival in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia in October of 1992 will take place. The Rota and Tinian delegations will be selected at a later date, said the CCAC release.

Local artists and craftspeople already registered to participate in this year's festival include Margi Vaselli (screen printing on fabric & paper), Carol Lyn Caldwel-Perez (painting, Cheryl Surcle (painting, drawing & collage), Elizabeth Vannette (bead jewelry, fabric accessories—men & women), Theresa Moonhagen (pottery, in painting & bead), Eric Smith (diploma) Dennis Klein (oil painting), Rhode Smith (glass), and Joe Kani (painting).

This year's festival will include Qian Lan, a traditional Chinese hand-boo flower player.

The Northern Marianas Music Society, which participates annually in the Flame Tree Festival, will be performing and offering a food booth again this year. Tinian Taiji has also applied as the CNMI Volleyball Association for a food booth, said the CCAC release.

Artists, performers, craftpeople, food vendors, businesses and community organizations can reserve space at the 10th Annual Flame Tree Arts Festival until 4PM, Friday, May 17, 1991.

The fact that anyone questioned the manner in which CRM handled the violations of the LUCKY-JETEX Project and the manner in which the CRM Permit was issued does not constitute an attempt to intentionally or directly for the purpose of misleading Mr. Jose C. Tenorio (JOETEN). What it does, however, is question the credibility of the CRM Permit and Enforcement Process.

Last, the statement that “this whole mess was masterminded by the CNMI Government” is in itself anachronistic. The whole CRM Program is a public matter, even the process in which permit applications must be granted. It is now the responsibility of the CNMI Government to ensure that the CRM Permit and Enforcement Process are as usual - simply GREAT!
