WASHINGTON, D.C.

January 19, 1961

Dear Mr. Inouye:

I hope that these few lines will convey my warm appreciation for your efforts during the campaign.

I am most grateful for the splendid enthusiasm of my associates. I am only sorry I have not been able to personally thank you for the excellent work which you performed in behalf of the Democratic ticket.

Without your unrelenting efforts and loyalty, victory would not have been possible last November 8th.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely,

Dear L. T.:

I have been informed by Bill Norwood and Morio of the tremendous impact that your personal letter on behalf of my candidacy had during the recent election.

I know that your personal efforts and sincere and unique psychological approach to my election campaign were instrumental in achieving the large vote total that I received.

I want to record, in writing, my sincere thanks to you for giving your valuable time to my re-election as a key member of the campaign committee.

Best wishes and aloha.

Sincerely,

DANIEL K. INOUYE, M.C.

Dear Fred:

Thank you for your letter of November 15, 1960, and all of the help that I received from you and the mainland volunteers. I cannot express my appreciation adequately for your work on my behalf.

I am sorry that I could not make much headway on behalf of Mr. Ken Kono. If there is some other manner in which I or any of my friends who know Mrs. Kono can help, please advise me.

Please extend my regards to Mr. Kido and Mike and the others who gave so much of their time, money and efforts.

Dear Dan:

Thank you for your good letter of November 14.

Please be advised that I have already sent it to Mike who left this morning for Washington D. C. and who will include your letter for our national release for the BI-PARTISAN VOLUNTEERS COMMITTEE FOR THE REELECTION OF DAN INOUYE.

We wanted a letter of this nature from you which we will use with a statement from General Pence as the Honorary Chairman for this committee and also with the statements from Mike and Mr. Kido.

I showed your letter to Mr. Kido before I sent it to Mike and he was very pleased and happy that you wrote to our committee.

By the time you receive this letter, our mutual friend Ken Kono will already be in Hawaii with his daughter. We sincerely hope that you will be able to help them in their difficulty.

Ken asked me if I would get in touch with you, while Mike, Mr. Kido and I were having a meeting and we decided that Mike speak to you. After Mike spoke to you, I telephoned Ken in Santa Ana right away and he was so happy to know that you would help him.

We still have a couple hundred more dollars which we are trying to build up and than close our drive. We will send you this balance very shortly.

With kindest regards

Fred Matsuo

If there is anyway we could help Ken from here, please feel free to call us here collect. We want to help him in every way possible.

Mr. Mike Masaoka
919 18th Street, N.W.
Washington 6, D. C.

Dear Mike:

Fred Matsuo has just advised me that you are now in the process of winding up affairs of the Bi-Partisan Volunteers for the Re-Election of Dan Inouye. I believe you and Mr. Kido and others who have had a leading role in this fine effort have heard or will be hearing from Dan personally. I know how grateful he is. All of us who were working for him here, of course, share his gratitude for the support you were able to provide.

By this time you probably know that Dan was re-elected by an overwhelming vote of confidence. He piled up some 135,000 votes to some 40,000 plus for his opponent and in so doing beat his own previous record of having polled the largest number of votes cast for any elective office in Hawaii's political history.

As chairman of Dan's campaign committee, I look upon his re-election not only as a strong vote of confidence in him as a member of the Congress. More important, I think his re-election—supported so strongly by the efforts of the Bi-Partisan Volunteers throughout our nation—was a vote of confidence in basic principles and the fundamental democratic process which enabled a person of Dan Inouye's racial background to achieve deserved recognition and a place of responsibility in the highest legislative council of our nation. His election and re-election should, I believe, have particular significance to our friends in countries of the Pacific rim at a time when we need to strengthen our ties with them and find a new basis for mutual understanding.

Yours very truly,

William R. Norwood

Dear Mr. Norwood:

Thank you for your letter of November 1.

I turned it over to Mr. Kido and let all of our committee read it.

We will re-word it and make a news release of it which will cover about 30 of our mainland newspapers. I am making it look like you wrote to Mr. Kono because I feel that it will make better reading.

We are still receiving some checks so we will send you the balance of the money we have here soon as we will now close the fund drive.

We are all happy that Dan did so well and all of you who worked so hard for Dan should be very proud of your results. As far as we are concerned, we had no doubts from the start.

We wanted to help him with his finances.

This is the first time that funds were raised for a political nature for Hawaii and all this would not have been possible, were it not for Mr. Saburo Kido and Mr. Mike Masaoka, who were the key figures in planning this nation-wide campaign.

We are proud to inform you that our drive raised more money than both the Nixon and the Kennedy campaigns.

Your letter acknowledged your receipt of $1500. This is the first check we sent you you. We sent you two $500 checks after that to total $2500.

Now that the election is over, I hope that you could find the time to write and thank both Mr. Kido and Mr. Masaoka.

With kindest regards,

Fred Matsuo

Dear Mr. Norwood:

Mr. Mike Masaoka came to town today and as busy as he was, we made arrangements to meet tonight. So, Mr. Mido, Mike and I got together and I wish to keep you posted on our latest situation.

We have decided that Mike will make a Washington release for the mainland BI-PARTISAN VOLUNTEERS FOR THE REELECTION OF DAN INOUYE out from Washington D.C. Mike will return to Washington tomorrow, after spending the last few weeks in the North West campaigning for the Alien Land Law.

Mike is having General Pence make the final statement for the Fund Drive and both Mike and Mr. Kido will add their thank you's to the many contributors from all over the country. I realize that you people are very busy in Honolulu; however, I feel that it would be very timely for you to write to Mike right away in Washington so he could include your message which we will give national coverage.

As I mentioned before, it was the team work and the spearheading of Mike and Mr. Kido that has made this Fund Drive possible.

With kindest regards,

First of all, Congratulations on your fine victory! We are all happy with the fine showing you made.

Now, I would like to thank you very much for the support you gave my nephew "Mustard" by merely mentioning that he was your "calabash". To me, this helped "Mustard" gain so much votes in the general (10,555).

I appreciate also, the note that you wrote for my son Jimmy, on the card that you autographed. You have succeeded in getting my son to prepare for a college education, something that we as parents seemed to have failed in. Jimmy treasures your note and autograph. Thank you very much!

Dear Congressman Inouye:-

I thank you for your kind letter of Nov. 14, 1960, and we cer­tainly hasten to congratulate you upon your over­whelming re­election to the Congress of the United States.

We are proud of you, as an American of Japanese ancestry, and we know that you are a credit to all of us. More power to you, Congressman! We hope that you are destined for bigger and better things yet to come!

I am enclosing a marked copy of our modest "Mountain-Plains AJA News", October issue, noting on the back page an appeal put out of Wash­ington, D.C. by Mike Masaoka on your behalf. It might be interesting to you to note that there are probably several hundred Hawaiian students in various colleges and university in the Rocky Mountain area.

We shall be hoping the best for you when you return to Washington, D.C. during January when Congress re­convenes.

MIKE MASAOKA of 919-18th St., Washington, D.C., announced the formation of a "Bipartisan Volunteers for the Re-Election of DAN INOUYE" committee, and issued an urgent appeal for funds to defray Inouye's campaign expenses.

Gen. Chas. V. Pence (ret.) of Georgia, who headed the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, was named honorary chairman of the "Volunteers for Inouye", and is the 1st time that the General has ever allowed his name to be used for political purposes, because of his sincere desire to help Rep. Locally, 442nd veterans and former Hawaiian students and residents were urged to support Dan Inouye's campaign.

Dear Dan:

The people of the State of Hawaii are justified in feeling proud of the outstanding record you have made in Congress. The character of service you render reflects great credit upon them. I know of no new Member who has made greater progress in the National House of Representatives than you have. Speaker Rayburn and I have complete confidence in you.

You have always supported progressive legislation that is for the best interests of our people, such as, increasing the minimum wage to $1.25 per hour and extending coverage; depressed areas legislation; school construction; housing legislation and all other progressive measures so necessary to strengthen our country, and particularly the family life of our country, as well as effective farm legislation; strengthening the Social Security System and legislation for the best interests of veterans and widows and dependent children of deceased veterans. You have stood valiantly as a supporter of a strong national defense and a firm foreign policy, which is so necessary in the world of today with the Communist threat aimed at world domination.

You are truly "A People's Congressman". On your record you deserve re-election and I am confident that the people of Hawaii will re-elect you giving you additional seniority which is very important, and by also enabling you to represent them in the Halls of Congress as you have, with outstanding ability, with clearer foresight and with great courage.

Dear Dan Inouye:

You have doubtless received under separate cover a letter signed for the Executive Committee of the Hawaii Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy asking four questions about peace issues. (The same letter went to Mr. Titcomb.) I am listed as one of the sponsors of the inquiry.

As you may know, I am indeed deeply interested in these issues, and I do applaud inquiry in the areas covered by the four questions. My reason for writing to you direct, however, is to express the personal hope that you may be able to find something significant and constructive which can be said publicly — and to express some concern that all the questions may not be stated in a way to make this possible for you. I was unable to catch the text for further suggestions on my part before it went into the mail.

I have been promised, however, that before any release whatsoever is made I will be consulted, and there should be time for some kind of personal conferences. I don't know what I can do, but my overwhelming interest is to try to find ways in which a statement from you can be made politically possible, rather than setting up a situation which puts you on the spot in order to dramatize an issue.

Yours most sincerely,

Ben Norris

Dear Mr. Wiley:

I welcome the questions you have asked relative to what appears to be the ever increasing threat of a nuclear war. I am sorry the matter escaped my attention in the rush of the campaign season until a few days ago. Your concern, I am sure, is shared by most Americans and by peoples throughout the world who are hungering for peace and stability and the opportunity to live in an atmosphere in which constructive efforts in the direction of social justice and economic improvement may be carried forward.

I regard the world tension to which your letter refers and which concerns you deeply as the principal issue of this campaign. As I have stated repeatedly in many of my recent campaign appearances, I believe that underlying this urgent problem are basic weaknesses in our foreign policy, if, indeed, the United States today may be said to have a foreign policy.

Therefore, in answer to your four questions in the order you have presented them to me, may I offer the following:

1. As the first step precedent to any effective effort to relieve international tension and to restore an atmosphere in which differences may be resolved peacefully, I feel that our nation must have new leadership. I can view the election of Mr. Nixon and Mr. Lodge as having no other meaning than a continuation, if not aggravation, of international tensions in relation to which the threat of nuclear war will become intensified. I believe the election of Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Johnson will provide the basic new leadership which I regard as essential to any effective moves in the direction of solving our complex international differences with the Soviet Union and other nations throughout the world.
Similarly, I would expect the Kennedy administration to strengthen our participation in the affairs of the United States so that American representation there would become identified as less power-conscious and more peace-conscious. Here again I would expect our new leadership to be firm but not militantly threatening.

I would strenuously de-emphasize diplomacy by public relations gimmicks of visits and parades through foreign countries, summit conferences and kitchen debates. The full forum of the United Nations and the voices in this world organization should be utilized fully. The power struggles and verbal fencing among the Big Four or Big Five in the past have availed nothing but ammunition for more propaganda to widen the lack of cooperation and understanding. The new member nations and the old member nations who have been expected to line up behind either of the great powers must be heard and our message of world policy transmitted to them clearly and unequivocally.

As an adjunct to direct dealings with all member nations, including the U.S.S.R., through the United Nations and other international forums like the Inter-Parliamentary Union conference which I was privileged to attend a few months ago, I would encourage the more intelligent participation of the United States in the development of the Afro-Asian nations, some of which are now floundering in chaos and confusion due to lack of stable leadership. The importance of these new nations in world affairs should be recognized and a concerted effort through every available medium should be made to aid their emergence in our family of nations. Sponsorship of educational aid through projects along the line of the East-West Center and educational and research foundations will foster a mutual understanding between the United States and these new nations. The full power of international public opinion through the United Nation, not the timonous guess of ill-informed diplomats, utilized, should be in our actions abroad.

I would also encourage the establishment of a European counterpart of the East-West Center. We must go beyond the policies of economic aid which served a much-needed purpose in Europe under the Truman administration. To make a concerted drive for better understanding of America by our European neighbors, a wider exchange program for students, teachers and professionals and technicians should be supported. A massive "understand America" program through establishment of educational, cultural and research centers manned by qualified American personnel in foreign countries is vitally needed. These centers would be mutually beneficial for reciprocal understanding by training native personnel for employment in native establishments as well as in American businesses in foreign countries. A long-range program of this nature for the minds and hearts of the people of other nations, together with cooperative aid in economic development, would help to dispel the fears and oft-made charges of Yankee exploitation of native resources and businesses. It would put to rest, once and for all, the unsavory connotations and eternal bugaboos of old Yankee dollar diplomacy which have been fostered and revived in the minds of our neighbors.

On the negative side, I would discourage the prevalent Administration practice of economic blackmail—financial aid with strings attached, pot-luck selection of one dictator over another, one government over another, with a hope and a prayer that the selection would not be overthrown by revolution or by graft and corruption. I would also discourage the use of our foreign service as a spoils fund to reward big campaign contributors and as an elegant retirement ground for socialite and political friends. I would advocate a long-range program as detailed above to replace the hit-or-miss, play-by-ear and personal appearance diplomacy of the past eight years.

In summary, I sincerely believe that the international atmosphere cannot be improved by crash-program diplomacy based on expediency of the moment, threats and coercion or by attempting to straddle the middle of the international seesaw to maintain a balance of power that can only lead to war. I believe that only a long-range program designed to capture the understanding of the other nations based upon emphasis of salutary similarities and recognition of differences in attitudes and policies is the only solution to world peace. This would replace the futility of attempting to deal only with the U.S.S.R.

2. In advance of any new realignment of our foreign policy and any meaningful steps to negotiate and program gradual disarmament it would be foolhardy of me to advocate any revision at this precarious time in Hawaii's role as an essential military base.

It is an unfortunate fact of our economic life that Hawaii is heavily dependent on income from military spending. Assuming that we can, through a more intelligent and constructive foreign policy, gradually achieve a reduction in tensions which necessitate military preparedness I would favor an appropriate and corresponding revision of the military program in this state. It would, of course, be presumptuous of me to attempt to analyze or judge the need for certain bases or the degree of military preparedness which should be maintained here. I have confidence that our military leaders are in a better position than I to evaluate the necessity for certain installations and activities.

I would hope and expect, however, that there would be a gradual phasing out of lands now allocated for military use and these would ultimately be diverted into and integrated with the development of more diversified and balanced peacetime economy for our State. Under the Statehood Act, the President is obligated to make an accounting of the need for the maintenance of certain military land and establishments in this state. Present indications seem to be that the military and other federal agencies are making a concerted effort to "use" heretofore unused land areas in Hawaii to offset the mandate of the Statehood Act. I will use the authority of my office to see that justice is done by making an incisive inquiry into all factors involved and by balancing the equities of federal and state needs.

As a member of the Congress I would expect to be in a position to contribute constructively and critically to that evaluation. Committees of the Congress have already surveyed the islands and found some areas surplus to military requirements. It is my aim to use my office as effectively as I can to expedite the return of these areas to civilian and peacetime uses.

There is, of course, the concomitant need to encourage the development of established industry and to encourage new industrial diversification and growth. The record of my first term in the Congress already shows, I believe, that I am cognizant of this need and have attempted to serve it.

3. As indicated in the foregoing portion of this statement I believe that we should look primarily to the United Nations for formulation and implementation of policies and programs to control use of nuclear weapons. I would hope and expect that a new Democratic Administration, together with a redefinition and strengthening of U.S. foreign policy, would be in a position of lend more effective American support for nuclear controls within the framework of the United Nations. In my opinion we simply cannot expect to establish sound and constructive and reliably peaceful relations with other nations by continuing to peddle arms to those we think we can trust. There must be a renewed effort to strengthen our diplomatic relations, our economic aid programs, and perhaps, most important of all, the philosophy behind our approach to other peoples. Here I believe we must learn more about their problems and their needs and their aspirations and seek new means to serve them as long as they are consistent with our concept of human dignity and freedom. We cannot, in my view, continue to peddle our influence throughout the world on the basis of trying to buy loyalty with armaments.

As you know, direct Congressional action to avert the spread of nuclear weapons cannot be made to apply to any nation except the United States. The fountainhead of control would be the United Nations. Control of dissemination of natural resources, research sources and nuclear weapons themselves can only be national in scope. However, the full leadership of the United States in advocating control with supervision can make such control effective internationally. I would support any legislation designed to have this far-reaching effect.

4. I believe this question to be largely a restatement and combination of the three questions preceding. Our nation has recognized the "right to live" as basic—not only the right to live in the sense of existence, but "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Our Constitution recognizes this not only as the right of every citizen of our country but as the right of human beings everywhere. In a sense I believe that despite the freedom and physical comforts most of us enjoy in our country, living under the constantly threatening cloud of a possible nuclear war is a form of existence it is certainly not the life you and I want for the future of this country and the world.

To re-establish democratic control over this fundamental right I advocate new leadership for our nation, a new and firm leadership to strengthen the processes and organizations already established through which we may resolve our differences with people of other nations and learn to live peacefully with them, and a new dedication on the part of members of the Congress and all citizens throughout our nation to further this cause.

Mr. Kennedy has repeatedly stressed his concern that our relations with our nations have deteriorated steadily in the years of the Eisenhower Administration. I believe that for the present we must maintain our military capacity and must be alert and prepared to take firm steps in the protection of our nation! At the same time I do not in any sense believe that we can establish the atmosphere in which enduring peace can be achieved unless we do something more than strengthen our own armaments and those of nations we presume to be friendly. Just this week Mr. Kennedy recognized the need in this area when he proposed establishment of a "Peace Corps" who would be sent to various strategic areas not as bearers of arms but as dedicated Americans willing to seek and work for peaceful solutions to problems confronting our neighbors.
I would encourage, in line with the Peace Corps, selection of our foreign service personnel, from ambassadors to clerks on the basis of qualifications and merit, rather than on the basis of party affiliation and campaign contributions. I would also encourage the image of America as a sincere neighbor and not as an overseer or condescending visitor. It is this sort of concept which appeals to me as being so urgently needed at this time.

I believe that the fiasco of the cancelled summit conference and the U-2 Flight brought to light a need for closer, more careful coordination, between the persons directing our intelligence program and its allied military program and those directing our so­ called foreign policy. I believe a new Democratic administration would be cognizant of this need. I hope to foster a more effective and constructive relationship between those branches of our government.

I believe the ideological struggle, together with the concomitant economic struggle, which has kept the world in turmoil can best be terminated by a recognition of basic differences in ideology and economic policy of different nations. America remains firm in its belief that American democracy is the ideal and should spread its gospel. And the best and only way to re-establish democratic control over our right to life is to demonstrate, by practicing and not by preaching, the virtues of our way of life. I am firmly convinced that the strength of our way of life and not the weakness of another way of life is the key to the preservation and spread of the American democracy that we believe is the answer for these crucial times.

It is this sort of concept which appeals to me as being so urgently needed at this time.

I believe that the fiasco of the cancelled summit conference and the U-2 Flight brought to light a need for closer, more careful coordination, between the persons directing our intelligence program and its allied military program and those directing our so-called foreign policy. I believe a new Democratic administration would be cognizant of this need. I hope to foster a more effective and constructive relationship between those branches of our government.

I believe the ideological struggle, together with the concomitant economic struggle, which has kept the world in turmoil can best be terminated by a recognition of basic differences in ideology and economic policy of different nations. America remains firm in its belief that American democracy is the ideal and should spread its gospel. And the best and only way to re-establish democratic control over our right to life is to demonstrate, by practicing and not by preaching, the virtues of our way of life. I am firmly convinced that the strength of our way of life and not the weakness of another way of life is the key to the preservation and spread of the American democracy that we believe is the answer for these crucial times.

Very truly yours,

Mr. Donald Wiley
Executive Committee
Hawaii Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy
2402 Tenth Avenue
Honolulu 16, Hawaii

Dear Mr. Wiley:

I welcome the questions you have asked relative to what appears to be the ever increasing threat of a nuclear war. I am sorry the matter escaped my attention in the rush of the campaign season until a few days ago. Your concern, I am sure, is shared by most Americans and by peoples throughout the world who are hungering for peace and stability and the opportunity to live in an atmosphere in which constructive efforts in the direction of social justice and economic improvement may be carried forward.

I regard the world tension to which your letter refers and which concerns you deeply as the principal issue of this campaign. As I have stated repeatedly in many of my recent campaign appearances, I believe that underlying this urgent problem are basic weaknesses in our foreign policy, if, indeed, the United States today may be said to have a foreign policy.

Therefore, in answer to your four questions in the order you have presented them to me, may I offer the following:

1. As the first step precedent to any effective effort to relieve international tension and to restore an atmosphere in which differences may be resolved peacefully, I feel that our nation must have new leadership. I can view the election of Mr. Nixon and Mr. Lodge as having no other meaning than a continuation, if not aggravation, of international tensions in relation to which the threat of nuclear war will become intensified. I believe the election of Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Johnson will provide the basic new leadership which I regard as essential to any effective moves in the direction of solving our complex international differences with the Soviet Union and other nations throughout the world.
Similarly, I would expect the Kennedy administration to strengthen our participation in the affairs of the United States so that American representation there would become identified as less power-conscious and more peace-conscious. Here again I would expect our new leadership to be firm but not militantly threatening.

I would strenuously de-emphasize diplomacy by public relations gimmicks of visits and parades through foreign countries, summit conferences and kitchen debates. The full forum of the United Nations and the voices in this world organization should be utilized fully. The power struggles and verbal fencing among the Big Four or Big Five in the past have availed nothing but ammunition for more propaganda to widen the lack of cooperation and understanding. The new member nations and the old member nations who have been expected to line up behind either of the great powers must be heard and our message of world policy transmitted to them clearly and unequivocally.

As an adjunct to direct dealings with all member nations, including the U.S.S.R., through the United Nations and other international forums like the Inter-Parliamentary Union conference which I was privileged to attend a few months ago, I would encourage the more intelligent participation of the United States in the development of the Afro-Asian nations, some of which are now floundering in chaos and confusion due to lack of stable leadership. The importance of these new nations in world affairs should be recognized and a concerted effort through every available medium should be made to aid their emergence in our family of nations. Sponsorship of educational aid through projects along the line of the East-West Center and educational and research foundations will foster a mutual understanding between the United States and these new nations. The full power of international public opinion through the United Nation, not the timorous guess of ill-informed diplomats, utilized, should be in our actions abroad.

I would also encourage the establishment of a European counterpart of the East-West Center. We must go beyond the policies of economic aid which served a much-needed purpose in Europe under the Truman administration. To make a concerted drive for better understanding of America by our European neighbors, a wider exchange program for students, teachers and professionals and technicians should be supported. A massive "understand America" program through establishment of educational, cultural and research centers manned by qualified American personnel in foreign countries is vitally needed. These centers would be mutually beneficial for reciprocal understanding by training native personnel for employment in native establishments as well as in American businesses in foreign countries. A long-range program of this nature for the minds and hearts of the people of other nations, together with cooperative aid in economic development, would help to dispel the fears and oft-made charges of Yankee exploitation of native resources and businesses. It would put to rest, once and for all, the unsavory connotations and eternal bugaboos of old Yankee dollar diplomacy which have been fostered and revived in the minds of our neighbors.

On the negative side, I would discourage the prevalent Administration practice of economic blackmail—financial aid with strings attached, pot-luck selection of one dictator over another, one government over another, with a hope and a prayer that the selection would not be overthrown by revolution or by graft and corruption. I would also discourage the use of our foreign service as a spoils fund to reward big campaign contributors and as an elegant retirement ground for socialite and political friends. I would advocate a long-range program as detailed above to replace the hit-or-miss, play-by-ear and personal appearance diplomacy of the past eight years.

In summary, I sincerely believe that the international atmosphere cannot be improved by crash-program diplomacy based on expediency of the moment, threats and coercion or by attempting to straddle the middle of the international seesaw to maintain a balance of power that can only lead to war. I believe that only a long-range program designed to capture the understanding of the other nations based upon emphasis of salutary similarities and recognition of differences in attitudes and policies is the only solution to world peace. This would replace the futility of attempting to deal only with the U.S.S.R.

2. In advance of any new realignment of our foreign policy and any meaningful steps to negotiate and program gradual disarmament it would be foolhardy of me to advocate any revision at this precarious time in Hawaii's role as an essential military base.

It is an unfortunate fact of our economic life that Hawaii is heavily dependent on income from military spending. Assuming that we can, through a more intelligent and constructive foreign policy, gradually achieve a reduction in tensions which necessitate military preparedness I would favor an appropriate and corresponding revision of the military program in this state. It would, of course, be presumptuous of me to attempt to analyze or judge the need for certain bases or the degree of military preparedness which should be maintained here. I have confidence that our military leaders are in a better position than I to evaluate the necessity for certain installations and activities.

I would hope and expect, however, that there would be a gradual phasing out of lands now allocated for military use and these would ultimately be diverted into and integrated with the development of more diversified and balanced peacetime economy for our State. Under the Statehood Act, the President is obligated to make an accounting of the need for the maintenance of certain military land and establishments in this state. Present indications seem to be that the military and other federal agencies are making a concerted effort to "use" heretofore unused land areas in Hawaii to offset the mandate of the Statehood Act. I will use the authority of my office to see that justice is done by making an incisive inquiry into all factors involved and by balancing the equities of federal and state needs.

As a member of the Congress I would expect to be in a position to contribute constructively and critically to that evaluation. Committees of the Congress have already surveyed the islands and found some areas surplus to military requirements. It is my aim to use my office as effectively as I can to expedite the return of these areas to civilian and peacetime uses.

There is, of course, the concomitant need to encourage the development of established industry and to encourage new industrial diversification and growth. The record of my first term in the Congress already shows, I believe, that I am cognizant of this need and have attempted to serve it.

3. As indicated in the foregoing portion of this statement I believe that we should look primarily to the United Nations for formulation and implementation of policies and programs to control use of nuclear weapons. I would hope and expect that a new Democratic Administration, together with a redefinition and strengthening of U.S. foreign policy, would be in a position of lend more effective American support for nuclear controls within the framework of the United Nations. In my opinion we simply cannot expect to establish sound and constructive and reliably peaceful relations with other nations by continuing to peddle arms to those we think we can trust. There must be a renewed effort to strengthen our diplomatic relations, our economic aid programs, and perhaps, most important of all, the philosophy behind our approach to other peoples. Here I believe we must learn more about their problems and their needs and their aspirations and seek new means to serve them as long as they are consistent with our concept of human dignity and freedom. We cannot, in my view, continue to peddle our influence throughout the world on the basis of trying to buy loyalty with armaments.

As you know, direct Congressional action to avert the spread of nuclear weapons cannot be made to apply to any nation except the United States. The fountainhead of control would be the United Nations. Control of dissemination of natural resources, research sources and nuclear weapons themselves can only be national in scope. However, the full leadership of the United States in advocating control with supervision can make such control effective internationally. I would support any legislation designed to have this far-reaching effect.

4. I believe this question to be largely a restatement and combination of the three questions preceding. Our nation has recognized the "right to live" as basic—not only the right to live in the sense of existence, but "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Our Constitution recognizes this not only as the right of every citizen of our country but as the right of human beings everywhere. In a sense I believe that despite the freedom and physical comforts most of us enjoy in our country, living under the constantly threatening cloud of a possible nuclear war is a form of existence it is certainly not the life you and I want for the future of this country and the world.

To re-establish democratic control over this fundamental right I advocate new leadership for our nation, a new and firm leadership to strengthen the processes and organizations already established through which we may resolve our differences with people of other nations and learn to live peacefully with them, and a new dedication on the part of members of the Congress and all citizens throughout our nation to further this cause.

Mr. Kennedy has repeatedly stressed his concern that our relations with our nations have deteriorated steadily in the years of the Eisenhower Administration. I believe that for the present we must maintain our military capacity and must be alert and prepared to take firm steps in the protection of our nation! At the same time I do not in any sense believe that we can establish the atmosphere in which enduring peace can be achieved unless we do something more than strengthen our own armaments and those of nations we presume to be friendly. Just this week Mr. Kennedy recognized the need in this area when he proposed establishment of a "Peace Corps" who would be sent to various strategic areas not as bearers of arms but as dedicated Americans willing to seek and work for peaceful solutions to problems confronting our neighbors. I would encourage, in line with the Peace Corps, selection of our foreign service personnel, from ambassadors to clerks on the basis of qualifications and merit, rather than on the basis of party affiliation and campaign contributions. I would also encourage the image of America as a sincere neighbor and not as an overseer or condescending visitor. It is this sort of concept which appeals to me as being so urgently needed at this time.

I believe that the fiasco of the cancelled summit conference and the U-2 Flight brought to light a need for closer, more careful coordination, between the persons directing our intelligence program and its allied military program and those directing our so-called foreign policy. Dear Mr. Stant:

I have never had a fund contributed to my private groups after my election.

Any contributions I may have had were received prior to election and were intended solely and expressly used for the conduct of my campaign for election.

Honorable Daniel K. Inouye

Dear Congressman Inouye:

On Saturday evening, October 15th, in a TV broadcast over Station WRCTV, Channel 4, Washington, D. C., two well-known NBC commentators, David Brinkley and Chet Huntley, were interviewing Vice President Nixon, and questioned him about his fund, the so-called "Nixon Fund". Vice President Nixon, answering the question, said, "... And, incidentally, that's done now, at the present time, by Senators and Congressmen, Democratic or Republican -- incidentally, almost all of them, except those who are independently wealthy -- and it should be. ... The difference in my fund, incidentally, and many of the others, is that mine was publicly known."

Our Congressman in Virginia's Second District, the Honorable Porter Hardy, has branded the implication of this statement, as far as it may be construed to apply to him, as wholly false, and publicly repudiated it.

Follows is an exact transcription of the question asked of Vice President Nixon and his answer:

Question: "Mr. Vice President, in 1952, the so-called fund, the Nixon Fund, became a pretty rugged issue for a few days. Let me ask you this: If you had it to do over again, would there be a Nixon Fund?

Vice President Nixon's Answer: "Yes, I think so. I would say that not only would that be the case in my case, if I were a Senator or a Congressman, but it is the case at the present time of Senators and Congressmen throughout the country.

Let me point out what that fund was about. Many people may have seen that broadcast to which you referred. I, of course, was a participant in it.

Congressmen and Senators have to campaign all the time. Now, in order to take care of those campaign expenses, radio broadcasts, (not free ones like this, which of course are public service) television broadcasts, direct mail to their constituents, reporting to their constituents -- in order to do that, they have to get support from the people in their districts who do support them. That is what that fund was about
A number of people in my district who supported me wanted to be sure that I could get across to the people of my district on a week-by-week and a month-by-month basis a report to the people, and so they financed my radio broadcast, my television broadcast, and my direct mail to the people of my district. And, incidentally, that's done now, at the present time, by Senators and Congressmen, Democrat or Republican -- incidentally, almost all of them, except those who are independently wealthy -- and it should be. It is only proper that a man have the right and the opportunity to present his case to the people.

The difference in my fund, incidentally, and many of the others, is that mine was publicly known. The funds were accounted for publicly. There was never anything secret about it, and I believe all of them should be publicly known."

We believe that this statement of Vice President Nixon impugns the character of all our Nation's elected legislators. We desire to know, and we think the whole country should know, whether the other Congressmen and Senators in this country have a fund comparable to the "Nixon Fund" as Vice President Nixon avowed before the American public during the above referenced interview.

We will appreciate your immediate reply telling us whether you do or do not have such a fund contributed by a private group after your election.

Very truly yours,

Frederick T. Stant, Jr.

Dear Mr. Matsuo:

On behalf of the Dan K. Inouye Campaign Committee, I wish to express our sincere "mahalo" for your letter of October 21st and your enclosed check for the sum of $1,500.00.

We are indeed most fortunate to have the interest, concern and assistance of persons such as you and members of the "Bi-Partisan Volunteers for the re-election of Dan Inouye." We feel, as you do, that in Dan we have a man of whom we can be proud of in Congress and I'm sure that if re-elected he will continue to perform his duties with dignity and integrity. The fact that the mainland has taken an effort to assist him in this great endeavor is clear indication that he belongs, not only to Hawaii, but to our nation as well.

The financial assistance rendered comes at a time when it is most needed and you may be assured that it will be used in the campaign where it will do the most good.

Again, our sincere mahalo and warmest aloha.

Yours truly,

Dear Mr. Norwood and Mr. Laureta:

I have been instructed by Mr. Mike Masaoka and Mr. Saburo Kido to send you the enclosed check of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1500.00) to you.

The check is made out to the Volunteers for Inouye and Mr. Kido wrote it as treasurer of the Bipartisan volunteers for the reelection of Dan Inouye Fund Drive here in the mainland.

Please also find enclosed a copy of my letter to Mr. Masaoka, which I feel will bring you up to date on our situation here.

The $1500 does not represent the entire amount since we have not closed the campaign nor have we had the returns from some areas.

The committee as a whole wish Dan every success and we all hope that this contribution will help Dan in some way.

With kindest personal regards,

Aloha

Dear Mike:

Thank you for your letter of October 22 and also for the enclosed checks.

Mr. Kido and I discussed the contents of your letter and we both agree that all our donors will be happier with a "thank you" letter from Hawaii. We will therefore send Honolulu a complete list of all those who contributed and request Honolulu to follow thru.

We will also send a receipt for their contribution from this committee.

We have been phoning the local businessmen and I am happy to report that our fund is growing and we hope to hit the $2000 mark soon.

Mr. Kido returned from his trip to San Francisco Sunday and told us that you got together there. And that you will be coming to Los Angeles from the North West area as soon as you are thru with your campaigning for the repeal of the Anti-Japanese alien land law.

Frank Chuman, Mrs. Kido and I took the Ken Kono's out last week. We all had a gay time. Ken mentioned that he would like very much to have us drive you out to his place so you had better plan to include it in your schedule.

We are all so busy with the many activities. Everything take up so much time, we often go home after dark.

With kindest regards,

Dear Mike:

Thank you for your kind reply of October 18.

I also wish to acknowledge receipt of the checks you enclosed totaling $410. The entire amount has been turned in to Mr. Kido.

Upon receiving your letter, I got in touch with Mr. Kido and after we went over your letter together, he asked me to send you the following report, which will give you our up to this moment situation.

1. Following is an itemized report of our finances:

2. Please note that we have collected a total of $1241 to date; however, after Mr. Kido and I talked it over, we decided to send $1500. This means that Mr. Kido has advanced the difference of $259.

We expected a better turn out at the luau, but we had the handicap of the limited time plus the fact that there are so many activities going on. So many of the people made the contribution and apologized for not being able to come.

Mr. Kido and I are not satisfied with the amount raised to date and we have decided to canvas the local outstanding citizens for contributions, so we will be able to raise more money.
We agree with you that this project has been very educational and we should be able to learn from it. Your being laid-up with your back ailment was a big loss to the drive.

However, I feel that had it not been for the teamwork of you and Mr. Kido, it would not have been possible to undertake such a project as this. You must realize that not everyone was enthusiastic about the drive, and it took the team-work of you and Mr. Kido to set the pace for the drive.

There are so many fund drives going on right now, and everyone is involved. It includes the local and federal political campaigns, and the religious and social local affairs, together with all the visiting groups from Japan certainly strains the pockets of our local citizenry, as many of them have to contribute to every affair.

The Kennedy outfit is making a concerted drive for funds by the local young democrats and the Nixon group is making theirs. Nixon group is trying to raise $1200; and Congressman McDonough has already raised $500.

I went with Mr. Kido last night to a political rally in which he spoke for Vice President Nixon and Joe Yasaki spoke in behalf of Kennedy. I must say that he did a terrific job just like the kind of eloquent showing you would make.

I am sending the $1500 check thru the Sumitomo Bank tomorrow. As per your instructions, it has been made out to the VOLUNTEERS FOR INOUYE and it will be sent in care of Mr. William R. Norwood, Dan K. Inouye Campaign Committee, Room 200, Capitol Building, 850 Richards Street, Honolulu 13.

I am enclosing our press release which was carried by all our local papers tonight. It is your story you sent by the press teleotype doctored up.

I am rushing you this letter since you will be leaving for Washington Saturday. It is already very dark outside, but I feel that I want you to have this letter before you leave.
However just in case, you should miss this letter, Mr. Kido will bring a copy of this letter with him to San Francisco, where he is looking forward to visiting with you and going over the whole project with you and finalize the last phase of this project.

Mr. Kido is leaving for San Francisco tomorrow morning.

And tomorrow, we have Mr. & Mrs. Kono coming into town. I am taking them to a studio luncheon and tour (MGM) during the day and in the evening, Mrs. Kido and I will entertain them somewhere along the gay spots.

Both Mr. Kido and I appreciate very much your generosity in contributing the various costs including the numerous long distance telephone calls you made, over and above your generous $100 contribution.

Like you, Mr. Kido assumed every local expense, including all the advertisements, the many many news releases, the telephone calls, postage etc. and contributed $50 beyond this.

All the results shown from this area must be credited to Mr. Kido, since it was thru his influence that we were able to get the arrangement with Ken Kono who has a terrific friendship for Mr. Kido and many of the donors gave because Mr. Kido opened the door.

I just furnished the leg work.

I am looking forward to your next visit here and I hope you will be feeling better by then.

With kindest personal regards,

Aloha

Thank you for your Aloha and kind words from Kalaupapa.

I am scheduled to leave for Molokai on the 29th of October at 7:00 a.m. and hope to leave for Kalaupapa on the 9:30 a.m. flight that day.

Needless to say, I am looking forward to seeing all of you again and to speak with you.

Dear Representative Inouye:

ALOHA- from the people and myself of Kalaupapa, Molokai.

I have been an ardent viewer of television and have seen and listened to your speeches, such as the one that you appeared on Kona TV- Channel 2 October 14th this past week. You were wonderful and kept your composure in every sense of the word appearance. The Democratic Party is proud to have a distinguish and personable Congressman to represent the State of Hawaii in the U.S. Congress, so are we little people of this historic area of the island of Molokai.

The people of Kalaupapa have raved and praised of you after your last visit here about your dignity, honesty and all that makes a man like you so highly respected. They could not believe a wonderful voice diction, command of words which you attain and the delivery behind them. Our people are begging us to see that you will come here for the General Election campaign. This is why we are writing to you personally.

The Maui Democratic Rally in Kalaupapa is scheduled on October 29, 1960 at 1:00 pm with entertainment in our theatre. We people deeply appreciate your presence here personally and would also welcome your gracious and charming wife.

By the high esteem the people here have toward you, I feel that we need someone like you who have served in Congress to speak for the Honorable Senators Kennedy and Johnson. News in our local Newspapers- Television stations- and Radios have a great effect upon a voter which distorted facts, truths and issues presented puts the minds of voters in confusion. Therefore, by you being here to present the facts, they will help the voters to understand the World problems and our candidates seeking the highest office of our great country. You had stated to the people here that you will come to Kalaupapa and campaign for reelection either in the Primary or General Election, so we are looking forward to this honor. If you cannot come on the same date our rally here is scheduled, please let us know when you will come, because it means a lot to the patients and voters.

Trusting to hear from you soon- ALOHA* GOD LOVE YOU
Our prayers for your success.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Riki:

Morio turned over your request for material on Dan's congressional work to me.

I enclose herewith copies from the Congressional Record which is the best compilation of Dan's legislative work relating to Hawaii. I would suggest that the persons speaking on behalf of Dan take note of the underlined portion of the Record. Please be sure that they do not convey to the audience the idea that Dan did all these by himself.

Good luck and best wishes.

Aloha from all of us in Kalaupapa.

You are doing a great job and we here believe there's no one who could have done more than you did for the people of our State.

Saw you on Kona TV last night. You were great and came through with flying colors. We are indeed very proud of you. You will be in Congress again. Keep up the good work.

The Government Moves to Shore Up the Economy: To help dispel creeping economic pessimism and to offset to some extent threats of a business downturn in early 1961, the administration is moving cautiously in its plans to transfuse new blood into what many an economist calls a "sagging economy." How effective its spending programs — primarily in public construction and in defense — will be is still conjectural. Much depends on how quickly Government orders can be translated into new and usable money. Caution is dictated by the fact that the rate of spending will be subject to the inescapable criticism that assails the use of any public money in an election year.

Despite these restraints, however, some sizable spending projects are in the works. In several instances, their impact should be speedily apparent. For example, starting October 1, the Agriculture Department will pay out $339 million in soil bank rental checks, the largest amount since the program was inaugurated six years ago. The Commerce Department has freed nearly $2 billion to step up construction of the Federal highway system. Principal States to benefit from this program will be California, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Tennessee, and Virginia.

The Health, Education, and Welfare Department has released $70 million to help selected States, principally in the South, care for their aged. Freeing these HEW funds will serve to release individual State funds on a matching basis, ranging from $1 for $1 to $1 for $4. But, in some States, the money need not go for health programs. In fact, Federal payments will often amount to a bonus to be used for any activity a State may choose.

How soon added defense spending will make its mark is still uncertain. Of the $661 million Congress tacked onto the President's original defense budget, about $180 million will be spent this year by the National Guard and Air Force and Army reserves, mainly on personnel and small quantities of equipment. Another $85 million will go to the airborne alert and about the same amount will be spent on the Samos weather-missile program. Some $50 million will go to modernize the airlift program. The balance will pay for five Polaris submarines and a start toward designing the B-70 bomber.

Defense planners, understandably chary about setting a precise rate of dollar spending, nevertheless say most early contracts will be channeled into 21 geographic areas where labor surpluses are most persistent. These are in States such as Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and West Virginia, as well as Puerto Rico.

Where Should a State Tax Begin and End? Not the least troublesome problem Congress must consider next year, should it pursue a total or even partial revision of the overall tax structure, is the question of how much individual States can tax companies on their incomes from interstate transactions.

Increasingly — indeed, since the Supreme Court last year extended the power of a State to tax out-of-State corporations operating within the State — the need for uniform standards of taxation has become almost urgent. Thus far, efforts to get the States to adopt such standards voluntarily have fizzled.

What has long troubled businessmen (and some State tax officials) is how to cope with varying State tax laws and different tax reporting rules. During its first session, the 86th Congress... sought to limit States' powers to tax out-of-State companies. But the measure (PL 86-272) didn’t even touch the mist of confusion surrounding the interstate division of taxable earnings.

Actually, there are 36 States besides the District of Columbia which levy taxes on a corporation's net income earned within their boundaries. Most use a three-part formula to determine what portion of any company's indigenous income is taxable: (1) The company's sales within the State in relation to its total sales, (2) the company's within-the-State payroll as compared to its total payroll, and (3) how much of its total property holdings are within the State. In most cases, the States then apply the average of these three ratios to determine their share of a company's total tax payment.

The hitch in the formula is that no two States agree definitively on which formula to apply. Thus, a company — faced with differing interpretations in different States — might be subject to aggregate State taxes in excess of 100 percent of its taxable earnings.

At their recent convention, delegates of the American Bar Association endorse a model statute that could meet all States' needs. But, according to one member of the ABA's State tax section, it's unlikely the States will ever achieve uniformity working alone. What they need is some sort of lead from Congress.

Exactly how this lead should take form is debatable. But even if Congress limits its participation merely to advising the States, this would be extremely helpful. Unless the Legislature does something, it is doubtful, says the ABA tax expert, that any workable way to end the conflict in tax laws will be devised.

Tighter Internal Security Measures: While intelligence and counter-intelligence agencies doubtless must do much of their work in secrecy, many in Washington believe they should be subject to some congressional control. They claim that responsible criticism can spur these agencies to operate at top efficiency. But there's general agreement that intelligence is a Government activity demanding nearly balanced restraints.

The forthcoming congressional investigations into the defections of two National Security Agency code clerks (one probe by the House Un-American Activities Committee; the other, by the House Armed Services Committee) can do much good. But only if they are confined to their stated purpose: Evaluating the caliber of intelligence work being done.

The President himself called for a reexamination of hiring and employment procedures so that something can be done to tighten security here. But the danger in the forthcoming probes lies in irresponsibility. Wholesale allegations in the name of security will serve only to provoke suspicion and undermine morale among intelligence personnel. Also any attempt in a presidential election year to make one political party more or less guilty than the other would tend to obscure and distort important campaign issues.

A nationwide crackdown on firms selling so-called "pep pills" has been ordered by the Justice Department. Violators of a new Pure Food and Drug Act amendment governing labeling and directions for use will be subject to the maximum penalty of one year in jail and $1,000 fine for each conviction, says Assistant U.S. Attorney Irving Younger. . . . Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy is about ready to concede the Nation's newest state, Hawaii, to Vice President Nixon. Kennedy has canceled all plans to visit the State during his campaign travels. . . . The buying power of the average U.S. factory worker has risen 40 per cent since the end of World War II, according to a new Bureau of Labor Statistics study.

I would encourage the establishment of a European counterpart of the West Center. To make a concrete start for the minds of our European friends requires a wider, exchange program for students, teachers and young professionals and technicians will be supported. A massive "understand America" program through establishment of educational, cultural and research centers manned by qualified American personnel in foreign countries is vitally needed. These centers would be mutually beneficial to both countries.

Performing centers training foreign personnel for work in native establishments as well as American businesses in the foreign countries. An educational program for the native personnel will elevate the image and make them feel more American and Western. A "Western" training center in a foreign country will be established with qualified American personnel in the management.

On the negative side of my program, I would discourage the practice of economic blackmail - financial aid with strings attached, the political selection of one dictator over another, government on another, with a hope that the selected dictator or government would not be overthrown by revolution or by graft and corruption. I would advocate encouraging a long-range program as detailed above to replace the hit-or-miss, play-by-ear diplomacy of the past eight years.
Mr. Daniel Inouye, Democratic Candidate

Mr. Fred Titcomb, Republican Candidate
United States House of Representatives

Dear Mr. Inouye and Mr. Titcomb:

The participants in this inquiry to the Congressional candidates from Hawaii in the forthcoming election have diverse responsibilities to their organizations, the community and nation. However, all share the common desire to help improve the international atmosphere and lead mankind away from the threat of a devastating nuclear war which nobody wants.

In the furtherance of this universal desire, we present the following four questions to you and request your written answers which for the purpose of clarifying your stand on the issue of world peace, we will release to the press and radio for dissemination.

1. It is common knowledge that both the Soviet Union and the United States have nuclear weapons in a high state of readiness sufficient to threaten the survival of all humanity should a nuclear war occur. In view of the consequent need to negotiate differences between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. rather than resort to force or threat of nuclear war, what constructive steps do you propose on our side to improve the international atmosphere and make successful negotiations possible?

2. The absence of federal and state plans for converting to a full peace economy acts as a brake on international disarmament negotiations. What immediate steps do you propose in this respect and how does your proposal apply to the State of Hawaii where military expenditures exceed that of all other sources of income combined?

3. The spread of nuclear weapons to smaller nations will make a nuclear test ban treaty and disarmament far more difficult to achieve. What Congressional action would you propose to avert the further spread of nuclear weapons?

4. Under present conditions a worldwide nuclear war could break out in a few moments time by accident or by design thus violating the right of all humanity to live. By what means

Dear Mike:

Please forgive me for this very belated reply to your letter of October 5th. I had shown your letter to Mr. Bill Norwood, Dan, and others engaged in the campaign and it was delayed somewhat in its return journey to me.

We're all very pleased with the efforts of the Bipartisan Volunteers for Inouye, and Dan and Maggie especially, are most grateful.

The campaign here has resulted in several debates between Dan and his opponent. One is scheduled for Friday night over TV and we are confident that Dan will whip the pants off of Titcomb as he did in the last debate which was open only to students at Puna­hou School but reported "fairly" by the Republican Presses.

I enclose herewith a news clipping and of Dan's letter relating to one phase of the campaign for your information. May I suggest that you contact Mrs. Sue Brandon at our Washington office for a copy of the Corrupt Practices Act. We have only one copy here.

As per your suggestion, we are writing to those named by you who have kindly consented to assist in the drive for funds.

Dear Al:

Enclosed for your information, and that of Dan Inouye, are clippings from the "Pacific Citizen" for September 30 which report the organization of our Bipartisan Volunteers for the Re-Election of Dan Inouye and my Washington Newsletter column on why I believe that Dan should be re-elected.

The story of the formation of this Bipartisan Committee was carried in all of the Japanese language newspapers on the continental mainland.

In addition, we are sending you copies of our mimeographed letters to members of the advisory committee and 132 national officers and chapter presidents of our Japanese American Citizens League. The letters are self-explanatory.

We believe that it will be helpful if either you or Dan could write to the members of the advisory committee thanking them for their interest and cooperation and expressing the hope that they will be successful in their financial endeavors on behalf of this Bipartisan Volunteers group.

The addresses of the members of the advisory committee are: General Charles W. Pence (Ret.), 3976 Moseley Drive, Columbus, Georgia; Colonel V. R. Miller (Ret.), 1645 Greenview Drive, Ann Arbor, Michigan; Joe Kadowaki, 4991 E. 88th Street, Cleveland 25, Ohio; Ken Kono, C/O Saburo Kido, 305 East Second Street, Los Angeles 12, California; Tak Kubota, 9817 55th Avenue South, Seattle, Washington; Kelly Kuwayama, C/O Nomura Securities, 61 Broadway, New York 6, New York; Seichi Mikami, P. O. Box 1404, Fresno, California; Shig Teraji, 3061 South Mabry Court, Denver, Colorado; Ken Uchida, 1725 Cahoon Street, Ogden, Utah; Shig Wakamatsu, 6231 South Ellis Street, Chicago, Illinois; and Mas Yonemura, Room 1015 Financial Center Building, 405 14th Street, Oakland, 12, California.

This week we are issuing another news story to the effect that, although Dan won renomination as the Democratic candidate for Congress for Hawaii in the primary election last week, they should not become complacent because the real struggle will be in the general election on November 8. In the same news story, we mentioned that Colonel Miller has joined the advisory committee as Honorary Co-Chairman with General Pence and that Dan represented the United States at the Interparliamentary Union Conference in Tokyo last week as its policy representative.

Since we would like to put out at least a news story a week to maintain interest in the Bipartisan Volunteers, may we ask that you send us any ideas for stories that may be used. Possibly a statement from Dan or his campaign manager might be used next week, if we receive a copy before the end of the week for circularization.

Once again, I must confess that I have no idea as to the reaction to our plea and as to the amount which may be raised, for, frankly, this is an experiment with us in which we are tapping both Republicans and Democrats for funds to aid a member of Congress who does not represent any particular district from which the funds are being solicited. We can, however, hope for the best. Accordingly, we would appreciate any ideas you may have that may be helpful.

Ken Kono and Saburo Kido, together with Fred Matsuo, appear to be doing the best job. Since Los Angeles has almost a third of all the Japanese in the mainland, what they can do there in their area of concentration will pretty much determine the success of this campaign.

We would appreciate any suggestions or information from you regarding what is necessary to avoid violating the Corrupt Practices Act, which governs campaign funds. Of course, we will prepare a detailed report of all receipts and whatever disbursements are made by us to promote this campaign, which we will send to you. I am hopeful that this will discharge our legal responsibilities.

Please remember us to Dan and Margaret as well as to others on the campaign committee in Hawaii.

Once again, in writing you on behalf of the Bipartisan Volunteers for the Re-Election of Dan Inouye, may I apologize for mimeographing this letter which is sent to express my personal appreciation and that of Congressman Dan Inouye to you and, through you, to those who helped in this particular fund drive in your area.

We regret very much that we were not able to initiate this particular campaign until the last weeks before the November 8 elections, and so we appreciate all the extra effort you went to to try to make this campaign the success it deserves. Aside from the limited time, we are aware that you and others who might be interested are also very active in the current political campaigns going on in your respective communities, as well as in the many fund drives now being carried on locally for the various charities.

Regardless of how little was collected in your area, we want you to know how grateful we are to you for your efforts. Incidentally, if you have any funds on hand at this time, please do not forget to forward them directly to Saburo Kido, Treasurer, 305 East Second Street, Los Angeles 12, California, immediately.

Although we will send you a final report regarding our collections some time in November, you may be interested to learn that we have just sent a check for $1,500 to Dan Inouye's Campaign Headquarters in Honolulu as our first installment for his campaign.

In closing, may we thank you again for your cooperation. We know the difficulties we placed you under in asking you to serve and we also know the handicaps under which you labored. I am sorry to read in your letter dated October 20 that the response at the luau was not as good as expected. On the other hand, I am glad to know that $1,500 has been sent through the Sumitomo Bank to the Volunteers for Inouye in care of William R. Norwood in Honolulu.

Min Togasaki, 14045 Winthrop Street, Detroit, Michigan 5.00
Henry Y. Kasai, 83 D Street, Salt Lake City, Utah 5.00

Yesterday, we sent Saburo Kido contributions totalling $50.00. Enclosed for your information are the names and addresses of those contributors.

The reason that we list the names and address of the contributors is because we are assuming that someone in Dan's campaign headquarters in Hawaii will acknowledge receipt of these contributions. We are not acknowledging any of the contributions sent to us and we presume that Mr. Kido is following the same procedure because we believe that the contributors will appreciate much more a "thank you" note from either Dan or one of his campaign committee members.

We are also sending out a mimeograph letter to all the members of the advisory committee thanking them for their cooperation in spite of the lateness of our request and the many fund drives going on in their respective communities. A copy of that mimeograph letter is enclosed for your information.

Inasmuch as I will be seeing Mr. Kido in San Francisco on Saturday night, I will discuss with him the final aspects of this campaign. And, when I am

Dear Fred:

This is being dictated prior to my departure for Seattle Washington to participate there in the campaign to repeal the Anti-Japanese alien land law. It will be transcribed and sent to you over the signature of my secretary.

I am sorry to read in your letter dated October 20 that the response at the luau was not as good as expected. On the other hand, I am glad to know that $1,500 has been sent through the Sumitomo Bank to the Volunteers for Inouye in care of William R. Norwood in Honolulu.

Enclosed are checks from:

Kumeo Yoshinari, 7737 N. Marshfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill. $10.00
Min Togasaki, 14045 Winthrop Street, Detroit, Michigan 5.00
Henry Y. Kasai, 83 D Street, Salt Lake City, Utah 5.00

Yesterday, we sent Saburo Kido contributions totalling $50.00. Enclosed for your information are the names and addresses of those contributors.

The reason that we list the names and address of the contributors is because we are assuming that someone in Dan's campaign headquarters in Hawaii will acknowledge receipt of these contributions. We are not acknowledging any of the contributions sent to us and we presume that Mr. Kido is following the same procedure because we believe that the contributors will appreciate much more a "thank you" note from either Dan or one of his campaign committee members.

We are also sending out a mimeograph letter to all the members of the advisory committee thanking them for their cooperation in spite of the lateness of our request and the many fund drives going on in their respective communities. A copy of that mimeograph letter is enclosed for your information.

Inasmuch as I will be seeing Mr. Kido in San Francisco on Saturday night, I will discuss with him the final aspects of this campaign. And, when I am in Los Angeles after the November 8 elections, I hope to be able to sit down and discuss this particular project with you.

Hurriedly,

Mary Toda

Dear Dan:

There are now less than three full weeks before the election on November 8. What we do during these crucial days will largely determine the Nation's course for the next four years.

I believe the Democratic philosophy of government meets with the approval of the majority of American voters. Evidence of this is increasingly discernible in all states.

I need not tell you that this campaign has been and will continue to be difficult to the end. Your support of the national ticket is essential if we are to win a popular verdict. As your national candidates, Senator Johnson and I also wish to assure you of our confidence in your own campaign. We believe that your efforts will be a contributing factor in achieving a solid Democratic majority in the key administrative offices of the fifty states and in the Congress.

Let me at this time express my appreciation for your support and my earnest hope that in January we shall have the opportunity to work together, as elected representatives of the people, toward achieving the goals to which the Democratic Party is dedicated.

With warm personal regards,

John F. Kennedy

Dear Fred:

This is in response to your letter of October 14, in which you ask where the checks which have been forwarded to you should be sent. All checks should be sent to Volunteers for Inouye, c/o William R. Norwood, Dan K. Inouye Campaign Committee, Room 200, Capital Investment Building, 850 Richards Street, Honolulu 13, Hawaii. Bill Norwood is acting as chairman for Dan's campaign committee.

Because we started late, mostly because I fractured my vertebra and was hospitalized for some time, we probably will not collect very much money this time. But, we have learned a lot that should be helpful to us should we attempt a similar campaign at some future date.

As money comes in, I suggest that Mr. Kido forward it to Mr. Norwood as soon as possible in order that Dan may be able to use it most effectively. What checks we receive will be forwarded to Mr. Kido by my secretary since I am leaving this Saturday to campaign in the State of Washington for the repeal of its Anti-Alien Land Law. I will be away from the office until after the November 8 elections.

Enclosed at this time is $410.00 which represents what we have received thus far.

Although it was intended that the expenses of the telephone calls around the country to organize the Bipartisan Volunteers for the Re-Election of Dan Inouye and other expenses incidental to contact the JACL chapters in the country would be deducted from the contributions before they were forwarded to Hawaii, I have decided to add this to the contribution of $100.00 that I have already made to Dan's campaign.

Although we have not yet heard regarding the success of the luau which Ken Kono sponsored, we are hopeful that a couple of thousand dollars were realized in that project.

But, regardless of the amount, I am sure that Dan Inouye appreciates the efforts of his friends on the mainland to help with his campaign.

I expect to see Mr. Kido in San Francisco this Saturday evening at the Issei Recognitions Banquet of the San Francisco JACL Chapter. And, at that time, we will be able to do what is necessary to complete the activities of our Bipartisan Volunteers.

Dear Mr. Titcomb:

Thank you for your letter of October 12, 1960 demanding a personal reply to your so-called debate challenge.

As you well know, there was no need for you to call a special press conference to challenge me to a debate. If you will recall, the debate we had at Punahou School last week was set in September over a week before you issued your so-called challenge. If you will also recall, this debate was arranged by the Democratic Party Speakers' Bureau with my whole-hearted endorsement.

You will also recall that a debate was set by the Temple Emanu-El through the kind invitation of Mr. Sherman Grossman about a month before your so-called challenge. Unfortunately, due to my confinement at Kuakini Hospital, I was represented by my administrative assistant and you were represented by your sponsor, Mr. Ben Dillingham.

You will also note that you and I were invited by the NAACP on Sunday, October 16, 1960 to present our views on civil rights. However, you failed to appear nor did you send your representative to discuss a matter of vital importance to our people.

Please note further that in order to avail myself of public service time offered by KGMB-TV to meet you in a TV debate this Friday evening at 7:30 p.m., I have imposed on the National Rehabilitation Association to revise its plans to enable me to appear.

You must also be aware of our scheduled debate over Radio Station KGU at 5:40 p.m. on October 30.
The foregoing should be clear evidence that I welcome any opportunity to present my record in Congress for your scrutiny and for the scrutiny of the public. I firmly believe also that the "well-informed electorate" you speak of is entitled to know what your program is. It is entitled to something more than challenges, accusations and public relations gimmicks. It is unfair to the electorate to present a candidate ignominiously hanging on to the coat-tails of a Presidential nominee. It is basic to our form of government that a checks and balances system be maintained between the executive and legislative branches of government. Hawaii does not need a Presidential rubber stamp for a Congressman. It needs a Congressman who will help not Nixon, but Hawaii and the Nation.

As a footnote, please be informed that I accepted your so-called challenge on the very day I heard about it from the press upon my return from my Congressional duties in Japan. Please be further informed that the local press carried the contents of your "personal" letter to me two days before I, the addressee, received it. Hereafter, I respectfully request that if a "personal" reply is desired and your correspondence is personal and not for publicity purposes, please do not be so eager to reveal your personal correspondence to the press before its receipt by me personally. Your courtesy in this regard will be sincerely appreciated.

Dear Mr. Inouye:

Other than your ill-advised and facetious observation to representatives of the press that my letter sent to you on October 6 was written for "publicity purposes", I have received no indication that you are willing to meet with me for a public debate on your record as Congressman from the state of Hawaii.

I believe that the issues at stake are far too important for my letter to be dismissed by you in such a cavalier manner.

Let me assure you that it was written in all sincerity and with no attempt to introduce a note of levity into a matter which vitally concerns the well-being of the people of this state and, indeed, of all the American people.

In the interest of a well-informed electorate, it is essential that any such debate be placed before as many of our citizens as possible. To this end I submit that the only logical medium for our meeting is television.

I urge you to consider this letter seriously and to extend to me the courtesy of a personal reply.

Sincerely,

Fred Titcomb

Dear Mr. Inouye:

You have failed in your representation of the people of Hawaii in the Congress of the United States.

Despite the craftily cultivated image of statesmanship which has been presented to your constituents, your actions, your speeches and legislative record have been devoid of any real significance.

Your voting record has adhered consistently to special interest groups and is diametrically opposed to the highest principles of our traditional American freedoms and to the well-being of all the people of Hawaii.

Your contributions to United States foreign relations, vital domestic issues and local issues such as the problems facing the sugar industry are nothing more than a fairy tale.

The voters who have placed their trust in you are entitled to a full and unadorned accounting of your accomplishments as the elected representative to Congress.

I challenge you to meet with me in a public forum to defend your record.

We're a little late in acknowledging your two letters but I guess you know that campaigning and Congressional work, which continues unabated, are reasons for our tardiness. Dan is on the road most of the time although he was forced to take a little rest under doctors' orders at the hospital this past weekend. Just a slight cold and exhaustion - nothing serious.

Thanks ever so much for sending us a copy of the "Legislative Record." Sue sent us a copy and we're very grateful for the two we now have.

As for your excellent suggestion re the prison investigation, Dan prefers to hold up on that for the time being.

I should be leaving around the 10th of November to join my family in Washington. I heard that you'll be going with Senator Long to Samoa. If you should come here before I leave, let's get together.

Dear Mr. Inouye:

We would like to present your political position to the voters in the clearest possible terms.

It occurs to me that one of the best ways to do this would be in your own words, and perhaps phrased in the fashion of the popular contests of the day:

"I would make a better Congressman from Hawaii than Frederick J. Titcomb because....."

Any statement up to 500 words in length would be acceptable.

We would appreciate having this statement prepared for us on an exclusive basis although it naturally would encompass the main points of campaign talks.

Would it be possible to complete this in time for publication next weekend? We will need it in our hands by Thursday.

If any further information is desired, I would be glad to discuss this project with you or any member of your staff. My phones are 57-911, office, and 65-344, home.

Dear Danny:

Jack Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson are convinced that the development and conservation of natural resources, and the gross failures of the Eisenhower administration in this field, will be a major campaign issue. They have, accordingly, set up the Kennedy-Johnson Natural Resources Advisory Committee, to help point up the issue during the campaign and to help make policy in the field in the new administration.

Senator Kennedy would like you, as one of the Members of Congress who has taken a special interest in the over-all problem, to be a member of the Committee. Please let me know by wire or return mail whether you can accept appointment to the Committee.

I am enclosing a press release on the subject which you may use as you see fit. We can issue one from Washington if you prefer; if so, please include a list of the newspapers and radio stations to which it should be sent. If you would like to modify the release to meet any special issues in your District, or if you would like to have a special letter from Senator Kennedy in regard to the natural resources problems in your District, please call me and I'm sure we can work it out.

Mr. Goto’s salary is paid in part by the Federal Government.

Further, it is requested that you investigate the importation of fish by foreign boats to Hawaii.

The 10th Democratic Council, in meeting assembled, at Waipahu, Oahu, on October 13, 1960, unanimously directed that a letter be written you, calling the following to your attention, and respectfully requesting that action be taken as indicated by your Honorable Committee in the next Legislature:

(1) Investigate why the Department of Education, specifically the Division of Vocational Education has not availed itself of the Federal Grant In Aid for Fishery education.

(2) The Department of Education recently adopted a "School Code", which contains its regulations. It was not signed by the Superintendent (§37-6, RLH 1955), neither was it approved by the Governor nor published (§37-7, RLH 1955), and further there were no public hearings on same.

(3) Enact into law, a requirement that the Department of Education be mandated to publish in its next "School Directory" for its Staff, Teachers, Employees, and Servants, after their names respectively, the name of the University, College, School, from which they graduated, the year, and degree or degrees, if any. The Hawaii Education Association has endeavored for a number of years to have the District of Columbia Pay Act For Teachers, enacted into law in Hawaii. This Act is based on degree held, holding a higher degree in any position entitles the recipient to higher pay. Further, it lets the general public, including the parents know, just what the teacher's qualifications, educationally, are.

After being informed that he was being sent to the Kaneohe State Hospital (for the insane), he was left unguarded, and unattended. He then went up to the roof of the building, and jumped or fell to his death.

On September 17, 1960, Dr. Erwin Cheim, the Medical Officer in charge of the Medical Division of this Veterans Administration Regional Office, died under mysterious circumstances, at a local hotel.

It has been rumored here, that many disabled veterans, are having their service-connected disabilities withdrawn, or percentage-wise reduced.

The 10th Democratic District Council, in meeting assembled on October 13, 1960, directed that a letter be written to you, requesting an investigation by your Honorable Committees into the above matter.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Dwight:

Receipt of your letter of October 6, 1960 inviting Congressman Daniel K. Inouye to participate in a Non-Partisan Political Rally on October 24, 1960, at 7:30 p.m. at Kailua High School Cafetorium, sponsored by the Kailua Junior Chamber of Commerce, is acknowledged.

The Congressman regrets that previous commitments will prevent him from participating beyond 8:30 that evening. Consequently, if his appearance between 8:00 - 8:30 p.m. is satisfactory please advise me.

He extends his congratulations to you and your organization for your fine effort in stimulating interest in the future of our nation through this rally.

Very truly yours,

Chairman, Speakers Bureau

Hon. Daniel K. Inouye

Dear Mr. Inouye:

Before each general election the Kailua Junior Chamber of Commerce holds a Non-Partisan Political Rally. Again this year the Jaycees plan to hold a rally on October 24th at 7:30 p.m., at the Kailua High School Cafetorium, Kainalu Street, Kailua.

The procedure used in the rally will be the same as it has been in the past. The candidates for each political office will be given an opportunity to speak for a limited time. It will be impossible for a candidate to speak much longer than the limited time since either a buzzer or a bell will be used to cut off his speaking. This procedure has proved to be quite effective in the past and it not only saves the public from undue oratory by the candidates but also makes the rally more interesting and move at a faster clip. After the candidates for each office have spoken, there will be a limited Question and Answer period by the audience. The rules of the questioning will be as follows:

The questioner will direct his question to a specific candidate and there will be no comment by any other candidate as to that specific question, unless the same question happens to be asked of the other candidates.

We have found this method to be effective in maintaining order and in keeping the rally running smoothly.

You are cordially invited to attend and speak at the rally. We have always been able to raise a very large crowd for these rallies and we have no reason to believe that we will not do the same this year. In any event, we respectfully request that you state either your acceptance or rejection of our invitation by writing to or calling Charles B. Dwight, III, at 602 Trustco Building, Honolulu - telephone 67744 or in the evenings, 252101. As your acceptance comes in, we will have a better idea of the length of the rally time-wise and be able to follow up with another letter giving you a more specific time by which you should appear.

We realize that you will be pressed for time and if it is impossible for you to attend this rally, we will be happy to have one of your representatives appear.

Sincerely,

"Get Out the Vote Rally"
Kailua Junior Chamber of Commerce
Dear Mr. Dwight:

In the interest of clarifying the matter of Congressman Inouye’s inability to speak at the Kailua Junior Chamber of Commerce Non-Partisan Political Rally on October 24, I should like to direct your attention to the following:

Due to a mix-up in the mails, your letter invitation of October 6 was answered on October 14 by Mr. Hiram Kamaka, Chairman of our Speakers Bureau, after Mr. Omori requested and you hand-delivered to him your office carbon copy of your October 6 letter on October 13.

Contrary to your assertion that Congressman Inouye requested to appear that night at 9:00 p.m., Mr. Kamaka’s October 14 letter stated: "The Congressman regrets that previous commitments will prevent him from participating beyond 8:30 that evening. Consequently, if his appearance between 8:00 - 8:30 p.m. is satisfactory please advise me." Congressman Inouye’s office was accordingly advised that Congressman Inouye should appear around 8:00 p.m. in time for him to leave before 8:30 p.m. to appear at a Nanakuli Democratic rally shortly after 9:00 p.m.

Congressman Inouye left the Frank Fasi testimonial in Waikiki and got to your Kailua rally at the appointed hour. Since other speakers were being called on, Mr. Inouye’s representative inquired if Mr. Inouye could be called on in time for him to leave before 8:30 p.m. His request was denied. Mr. Inouye waited until 8:25 p.m. and was forced to leave for Nanakuli without an opportunity to speak at your rally.

We would appreciate your cooperation in setting the record straight in this matter and in conveying our sincere regrets to your organization and to the people of the Windward Community for this confusion.

Please accept our thanks for your kind invitation to appear.

Sincerely,

W. R. NORWOOD

Dear Dan:

As we go into the closing stages of the campaign, I want to express my personal hope that you will win overwhelmingly, and to assure you that I stand ready to do anything I can to help you bring about this victory.

I hope that you will take every opportunity to stress to your people the importance of electing a Democratic President and Vice-President as well as yourself.

You and I know that this country desperately needs an end to divided government if we are to meet successfully the world challenges that confront us. The United States Senate is sure to be Democratic in January, 1961, and I feel confident that we will have a Democratic majority in the House of Representatives so we must have a Democrat in the White House if this nation is to offer strong, unified leadership to the free world in these critical hours.

I know that you recognize the importance of having a President of your own party in making your own work as a Member of the House of Representatives effective for your district and your nation. No matter how successful you are in obtaining Congressional approval of measures benefiting your own district, your efforts may well be in vain if you are faced with a Republican President and a Republican Bureau of the Budget.

Therefore, I hope that you will emphasize to your people as strongly as you can the desirability of electing a Democratic President and Vice-President to work in harmony with a Democratic Congress.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Leandro:

My attention has been called to a misunderstanding arising out of certain campaign posters of mine which were posted on buildings belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murphy for whom you serve as their agent. I am sure that the person or persons responsible for this did so under the impression that they had obtained adequate authorization although I must agree with you that authorization from a tenant without the owners consent is insufficient.

I nevertheless take full responsibility for my workers' actions and enthusiasm, and I humbly apologize for the inconvenience it may have caused you and Mr. and Mrs. Murphy. Should any similar incidents occur, I would appreciate very much your calling my attention to them. I assure you that remedial action will be taken immediately.

With all best wishes and again my sincere apologies, I am

Dear Sir:

Attention is called and objection made to your political poster being attached by means of tacks to a building at corner Baldwin Avenue and Kahului and Hana highway, Lower Paia, Maui, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick M. Will you please have the foregoing corrected immediately.

Dear Congressman Inouye:

Mrs. Henriques and I wish, first of all to congratulate you and Mrs. Inouye upon your recent nomination and on your getting elected this November by a landslide.

Looking back knowing you first as a good America, a good Democrat, a good and fine Legislator and a personal friend of mine, how could we consider otherwise.

Remember I have served with you when you were our Floor Leader in the House of Representatives, and later as our Senator you were of considerable assistance to me.

We are most happy to be able to cast our votes for you knowing that you are the right man for the job in Congress to represent the people of this Hawaii State.

Our ALOHA to Mrs. Inouye who we know has been so much comfort and assistance to you all these past years.

We rejoice with both of you in your good fortune.

My very best wishes to you as you begin your new duties.

Most sincerely,

Mr. Alfred Laureta
Dan K. Inouye Campaign Committee
Room 200, Capital Investment Bldg.
850 Richards Street
Honolulu 13, Hawaii

Dear Alfred:

Thank you for your letter of October 5.

Please find enclosed more issues of the SHIN NICHIGI BII, which all carries stories of Dan. Mr. Kido has been keeping Dan on the front page every day to tie in with our sale of the DAN INOUYE re-election luau.

May I congratulate you in behalf of our committee for the recent success in the primary. It is because we all feel that we want Dan back in Congress that this committee was born.

I am sure that you realize that you have in Mr. Kido and Mr. Masaoka, two of the most respected and influential Niseis in the mainland and it is only thru their strong confidence and liking for Dan that we are able to carry out this project. This is the very first time that they are being involved in a political project of this nature and they have opened the way.

It is our hope to raise at least $2000 from the luau alone. We are selling the tickets at $10 dollars a person, which is above the heads of the salary group and are targeting our sales to the business men. The members on our committee is one of the most impressive group ever to be formed and it is as bi-partisan as you can ever get because they include the prominent members from both the Democrats and the Republicans. They all said they were happy to cross the line on this project.

I don't want to be too optimistic about the amount that we will be able to raise. I would like to say that it will be quite substantial and this is truly the first time funds are being raised here for a local Hawaiian campaign.
During the recent fund drive for the Hilo Tidal Wave Benefit, the JACL raised almost $11,000. Almost half of this was raised right here in Los Angeles thru Mr. Kido, who headed our small group of former Hawaii residents.

We ran a luau at Ken Kono's Kono Hawaii for that project and we charged $5 a ticket. This time we are charging $10.

I printed 300 tickets. There is only a capacity for 200 so we cannot sell beyond that. The capacity will give us a $2000 gross.

Mr. Kido and I drove out to Santa Ana two weeks ago and talked to Ken Kono owner of the place and he agreed whole heartedly to Mr. Kido's plans to help Dan. We will therefore receive from Mr. Kono, the entire proceeds from the luau, which means that Mr. Kono will absorb the entire cost of the house operations and the food inventory. This is really a big gesture of Mr. Kono and shows his great respect for Mr. Kido, as well as his wanting to help Dan.

It has been quite a job to get the tickets distributed, but it has been done. I am confident that the luau will be a success. However, this is not our only means of fund raising.

Mike has been writing directly on a vast east coast to west coast appeal to his friends to help make this project a success. I am enclosing a copy for you.

We are also making appeals for contributions here. We have had some come thru the mails as Mr. Kido's story mentions. Mr. Kido left for San Francisco on his own work yesterday and will be back here Sunday.

We have all of the three Japanese papers here helping us on this project. This is quite a feat and our stories has been carried very strongly in the Pacific Citizen and so many of the Japanese newspapers throughout the country.

We are all so busy, but we are all trying to pitch in to help Dan make an outstanding success so someday he could go on to greater heights. Please keep me informed with your local situation.

Aloha for now.......

Dear Mr. Matsuo:

Receipt of a copy of your letter to Maynamite Takushi and your enclosed front page story of Dan appearing in the New Japanese American News, is hereby gratefully acknowledged.

Dan is still in Japan where he went to attend the Inter-Parliamentary Union Conference as a U. S. Delegate and is not expected back until the 8th of October. You may be assured that your letter and enclosure will be brought to his attention upon his return.

May I, on behalf of Dan and his campaign committee, extend to you our sincere appreciation for your efforts to raise much needed funds for the campaign. While you may have heard that Dan out polled his opponent in the primary elections, it is the Committee's feeling that the campaign in no way should be relaxed. Consequently, the need for funds continues to exist.

We would appreciate your sending us copies of news stories appearing in the Japanese American News relating to Dan or the fund drive.

Mahalo and aloha.

Dear Dynamite:

Please find enclosed Mr. Kido's third story on Dan Inouye. Today's story is a very impressive banner feature story and it should go far to whip up the enthusiasm for our fund drive here.

Tomorrow, Mr. Kido is carrying the story on the Ken Kono luau which will be held on October 16, Sunday from 5 to 10 pm at Ken Kono's Kono Hawaii in Santa Ana.

As I told you yesterday, I have already ordered 300 tickets for this occasion, for which we have a capacity to sell 200. These tickets will sell for $10 each and we hope to raise at least two thousand dollars on this project alone. We will either pass the hat or make another appeal to those who are able to contribute more than the $10 tickets fee, so we may be able to raise more.

Most of today was spent lining up the committee for the luau. I am happy to inform you that we have every newspaper (Japanese) here and one of the most impressive congregation of nisei's who have consented to serve on the committee. They include active and loyal Democrats and Republicans as everyone agrees that they do not mind crossing the line for this project.

I guess both Mike Masaoka and Mr. Kido gave the necessary impetus for this feeling as this is the very first time that both have given their personal support and time for a political project such as this.

We will have more than 25 outstanding niseis on the luau committee. Tomorrow's story will carry full details and I will mail you same as usual.

With kindest regards,

Aloha

Dear Fred:

Thanks for your letters which keep me informed of what Saburo Kido, Ken Kono, and you are doing in the interest of the Bipartisan Volunteers for the Re-Election of Dan Inouye.

We trust that copies of our letters to Alfred Laureto will keep you and Mr. Kido informed as to our own progress.

If others in the various areas we have contacted would show the same enthusiasm and willingness to work that you in Los Angeles have shown, I feel that our drive can be successful. However, I am fearful that the ordinary veterans, including those of the 442nd, and JACL chapter presidents do not have the same enthusiasm as is being shown by you former residents of Hawaii. Still, any money that we can raise is that much more to help Dan Inouye, and I am sure that he appreciates our efforts to be helpful.

I do not recall having met this Dynamite Takushi, although I probably have if he was a member of the Hawaiian delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles last July. In any event, I know that he should be most grateful for what you there in Los Angeles are doing to be helpful.

With kindest regards.

Hurriedly,

Mike Masaoka

P.S. You might tell Mr. Kido that I am now back to the office on a part-time basis and I expect to be back on full-time basis by next week. My fractured vertebra appears to have healed satisfactorily and my problem now is to see that there is no strain until there is complete recovery. I understand that I will have to suffer some pain for at least a couple or more months, but the doctor tells me that I will no longer need treatments after this week.

Please excuse this mimeographing of this letter to you, thanking you for agreeing to serve on the executive committee of the Bipartisan Volunteers for the Re-Election of Dan Inouye.

As you may guess, we're pressed for time, so please accept our apologies for sending you this type of letter--mimeographed.

You will be pleased to learn that every person we contacted agreed to serve on this executive or advisory committee. This, we think, is unprecedented in politics, since we asked both Democrats and Republicans.

We are now in business, with General Charles W. Pence of Columbia, Georgia, and Colonel Virgil R. Miller of Ann Arbor, Michigan, as honorary co-chairmen; with Joe Kadowaki of Cleveland, Ohio; Ken Kono of Los Angeles, California; Tak Kubota of Seattle, Washington; Kelly Kuwayama of New York, New York; Seichi Mikami of Fresno, California; Shig Teraji of Denver, Colorado; Ken Uchida of Ogden, Utah; Shig Wakamatsu of Chicago, Illinois; and Mas Yonemura of Oakland, California, as members, and with Saburo Kido, 305 East Second Street, Los Angeles 12, California, as treasurer, and Mike Masaoka, 919 18th Street Northwest, Washington 6, D. C., as secretary.

Please note that all members of the committee are either veterans of World War II or former residents of Hawaii or mainland friends of the Congressman. All were selected because of their influence and prestige in their respective regions.

We ask all committee members to contact former members of the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, veterans of World War II, especially Nisei, former residents of Hawaii, and others, particularly Japanese Americans, in your respective areas and request them to contribute to the campaign for the re-election of Congressman Dan Inouye. If any or all of these groups are organized in your locality, contact the heads of the organization and ask them to conduct individual solicitations among their membership. Contributions of any size are welcome, and those who wish to remain anonymous may do so. All checks should be made out to the Bipartisan Volunteers for the Re-Election of Dan Inouye. They can be sent to either Saburo Kido, treasurer, or Mike Masaoka, secretary, who will forward them on to Dan Inouye with our best wishes.

Because the general elections are to be held on November 8, there is little time to solicit contributions, so please act as quickly as you can. We hope that not later than October 20 we can forward our last contributions to Honolulu, so that Dan can use them to best effect in the final drive for votes--on television, radio, newspaper advertisements, etc.

Enclosed for your information is my Washington Newsletter from the "Pacific Citizen" for Friday, September 30, together with a news story regarding the organization of this committee. There are two corrections to be made in these items. The campaign in 1962, not 1964, is the one in which Hawaii votes for a Governor, a United States Senator, and two United States Congressmen. Our guess, right now, is that the opposition wants to kill Dan off as a 1962 candidate for the Senate. Colonel Miller's acceptance arrived too late for last week's news story. His name will be included in the news story that is being sent out this week.

Also enclosed for your information is a copy of a mimeographed letter we are sending to various chapters of the Japanese American Citizens League requesting their respective presidents to help in this campaign on a nonpartisan basis.

So, please do whatever you can to activate individuals and organizations that should be concerned to join in this bipartisan volunteer movement. And, act as quickly as you can, for time is of the essence.

If you have any questions, please address them to me.

Yours for a successful campaign,

Mike Masaoka, Secretary

HAWAII

State:

Legislation to admit Hawaii as the nation's 50th state was passed by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower in March, 1959. Referendum voting on statehood questions and primary elections were held in June, 1959, Hawaii accepting statehood by an unofficial vote of 132,938 to 7,854. In July, 1959, general elections were held and Hawaii was formally admitted in August.

The five counties of Hawaii include Kalawao county, an area of 14 square miles on Molokai island consisting entirely of the Kalaupapa Hansen's disease settlement. In 1950 the population of the county (and settlement) was 340, and the county was included with Maui county and administered by the Hawaii Board of Health.

At the time this volume of AMERICA VOTES went to press, the final official canvass results of the July, 1959, elections were not available. Figures given below are therefore unofficial and provisional, though they should prove to be reasonably close to the official certified totals when these are canvassed. Commonwealth candidates for Governor, for Senator (4-year term), and for Congressman at-large polled only a very few votes each.

President, 1956. No Presidential vote was held in Hawaii, since the state had not been admitted at the time of the 1956 election.

Governor, July, 1959. Candidates: William F. Quinn (R) and John A. Burns (D). Unofficial figures gave Quinn 86,215 and Burns 82,054.

Senator, July, 1959 (6-year term). Candidates: Hiram L. Fong (R) and Frank F. Fasi (D). Unofficial figures gave Fong 87,175 and Fasi 77,692.

Congress:

Hawaii elected a single Representative at-large at its pre-admission election in July, 1959. Prior to admission the Territory of Hawaii had been represented in Congress by a single Delegate, also elected at-large. Postwar voting figures in the elections of this delegate are given on the previous page. Other vote in 1958 was Commonwealth (Brenner).

At-Large. The state (1950 Population: 499,704). Since the absence of official results from the July, 1959, election prevents the inclusion of the usual page for voting for Congress for Hawaii, the unofficial precanvass figures are given here: 111,733 for Daniel K. Inouye (D) and 51,058 for Charles H. Silva (R).

1958 Primaries (Territorial):

October 4 Congressional:

Republican: Delegate nomination unopposed.

Delegate — 50,959 John A. Burns, 6,928 Kenneth E. Young.

Dear Mike:

Please find enclosed several copies of today's SHIN NICHI BEI, which carries a banner story on the DAN INOUYE LUAAU Fund Drive.

This story was scheduled for Saturdays release, however, we held it up to today because we wanted the other papers to have the same date of release.

Mr. Kido is playing up Dan's situation in Hawaii to keep the interest high, so it seems we have Dan's story in the paper everyday.

We printed 300 tickets for the luau. We will distribute this, however, we cannot sell over 200 because of the limited capacity.

The tickets were delivered to us yesterday and we have already started distribution. At $10 a ticket, we are targeting most of the businessmen.

The names of the committee are in the luau story, however we will be adding more names in our next release.

Aloha for now......

Dear Herbert:

Congratulations for the tremendous vote you mustered up on your island. The terrific showing attests to the wonderful organization and activity which you were responsible for and accomplished. Keep up the good work for the General Election!

When you come to Honolulu this week-end, please bring a tentative date for Dan to go to your island before the General Election. We're planning to keep Dan in town the last week before election day. Please select the best day for Dan's visit and we'll try to accommodate you when we meet Saturday.

Please send us a list of your campaign workers, together with their addresses and all other supporters (banner location, etc.) so that appropriate thank you letters can be sent them right away.

Dan is returning on Saturday, October 8 at 4:15 p.m. instead of Friday, October 7. However, we'll have the meeting as planned at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Re: your arrival here, please let me know your airline and arrival time so that I can get Henry Giugni to pick you up upon arrival. We have your rooms set up at Princess Kaiulani so in case you have other plans upon arrival you can check there. Henry Giugni is taking care of this end so please feel free to let us know by return mail when you are coming in so we can meet you at the airport.

Be seeing you.

SUBJECT: "Free Enterprise" - by Mr. Orr of Bishop Trust & IMUA

Not knowing whether this should be sent to the State or National Democratic Committees, I send to you to decide - if it merits attention.

Problem... Mr. Orr has views which make the Nat'l Ass'n of Manufacturers sound like a socialistic movement. Some of his statistics are wrong, others misleading - albeit the sum total are nice to hear if we want puffing. How this matter is "linked" (per Commandant 14 Naval Dist) or "definitely linked" (per X-0 Moore of MCAS) to "leadership" is not at all clear to some of the captive audience. Some of the captives think this was questionable thru & thru - and amounted to a thinly disguised "VOTE REPUBLICAN" program. Whether this would show in a copy of the script I could not say.

Please accept apology for not signing. As one of the "Captives" I do not dare.

Dear Al:

Please pardon the tardiness of my reply to your letter of September 15, regarding a mainland campaign to raise funds for Dan's re-election. I slipped on the steps of my home about three weeks ago and suffered a fractured vertebra. After spending about ten days in the hospital, I am now convalescing at home.

About the time I received your letter, a personal friend of mine, Saburo Kido, a native of Hilo and publisher of the Shin Nichi Bei of Los Angeles, and one of the most distinguished and best-loved Nisei on the mainland, telephoned regarding a letter from a Mr. Takushi of Honolulu, asking him for financial contribution to help in your campaign.

At that time, I told Mr. Kido that I had discussed this possibility with both you and with the Congressman, prior to his departure after the special session, and that I had agreed to see what I could do among Dan's many friends on the mainland.

Since that time, I have written a special Washington Newsletter for the "Pacific Citizen" for this Friday which summarizes not only Dan's record in the Congress but reasons as to why I think he should be re-elected.

At the same time, we have organized the Bipartisan Volunteers for the Re-Election of Dan Inouye. We have secured the permission of General Charles W. Pence of Columbus, Georgia to serve as our Honorary Chairman. Regional Co-Chairmen are Joe Kadowaki, Cleveland, Ohio; Ken Kono, Los Angeles; Tak Kubota, Seattle, Washington; Kelly Kuwayama, New York; Seichi Mikami, Fresno, California; Shig Teraji, Denver, Colorado; Ken Uchida, Ogden, Utah; Shig Wakamatsu, Chicago, Illinois; and Mas Yonemura, Oakland, California. Treasurer will be Saburo Kido, 305 East Second Street, Los Angeles 12, California. I am serving as secretary of the special Committee.

Today an announcement is being made in all the Japanese newspapers of our group, inviting contributions for this campaign.

Early next week, after I have the Newsletter from the "Pacific Citizen", I shall write to a number of people requesting that they organize and solicit locally for funds to help Dan's re-election.
Mr. Alfred Laureta

Just in case you did not know, in the 15 years since I have come to Washington, this is the first time that I have let my name to any campaign of this kind because I have always wanted to maintain my "independent" status. I am making an exception in this case because of the reasons that I have outlined in my Newsletter. Also, while the Japanese American Citizens League by its Constitution, and its Articles of Incorporation, is prohibited from endorsing any candidates for political office, I am hopeful that unofficially and informally we can call upon our chapters to be helpful.

We realize that time is short and whatever money is to be raised must be raised within the next few weeks. Frankly, we do not know how successful we will be, but we are all getting behind Dan in order that he may know of our support.

In this connection, Ken Kono and Saburo Kido are going to hold a benefit luau to raise funds for Dan in the Los Angeles Area in a couple of weeks. An announcement to this effect is expected within a few days.

So, this will have to do as a preliminary report on our activities here. If you, or Dan, or any of your associates in Hawaii have any ideas that can be helpful, please let us know and we will do the best we can to cooperate.

Please remember us to Dan and Margaret.

Hurriedly,

Mike M. Masaoka

Dear Mike:

I'm addressing this note to you in my capacity as chairman of Dan Inouye's campaign committee. Al called my attention to your letter to him of September 29 outlining the very helpful efforts you and your associates are making to line up some assistance for Dan on the mainland. We appreciate your interest very much.

My main responsibility falls in the area of financial matters for Dan's campaign. One of the problems we have to face here is that because of Dan's popularity and his showing of such great strength in the primary election, there are the assumptions on the part of many people, including some of his very close friends, that he doesn't need any help. I can assure you that this is not the case. We are not conducting an elaborate campaign, but one which is consistent with Dan's decision not to take anything for granted and to campaign vigorously for reelection. This means that we need money.

I have no idea of what your expectations are in connection with the program of assistance that you and your associates have underway, but anything you can do will be most gratefully received and acknowledged. I might point out also, Mike, that as you probably are aware, Dan ran for election to the Congress just a year ago. It is doubly difficult under the circumstances to undertake another campaign even though the financial requirements are modest and carefully programmed in such a short span of time.

In closing, may I assure you my sincere appreciation of your interest, and I know that Dan, himself, and all of his associates here are equally grateful.

Yours very truly,

William R. Norwood
