2014 Stats
- $625,000,000 spent on sexual exploitation in Hawai‘i
- Average age of Hawai‘i victim: 17.2-years-old.
- Number of victims who reported being physically assaulted while trafficked: 91 percent.
- Number of victims who reported being raped while trafficked: 77 percent.
- 1 in 5 girls report that they have been targeted for recruitment on Oahu.

Sex Trafficking is the act of recruiting, harboring, transporting, providing, or obtaining a person for commercial sex acts through the use of force, fraud, or coercion or by any means when the individual is a minor under the age of 18. In 2017 there were 6,081 reported cases nationwide, and 17 in Hawai‘i. Recent research suggests that occurrence in Hawai‘i is under-reported.

Libraries have the power to:
- Address the impact of sex trafficking in Hawaii
- Foster public dialogue
- Advocate for survivors
- Increase community visibility and support for local nonprofits

Out of the Shadows: One Librarian’s Vision
San Diego Public Library’s initiative has promoted awareness, education, activism and prevention of sex trafficking since 2015

Programs include: System-wide staff training on sex-trafficking victim recognition, community-led think tanks, educational panels and youth advocate recruitment and training

The program began as a grass-roots effort pioneered by Ady Huerta, a San Diego Public Librarian.

Emerging Research:
1 in 11 men in Hawai‘i search online to pay for sex.

The Hawai‘i State Commission on the Status of Women & the Arizona State University Office of Sex Trafficking Intervention released part 1 of their study about Sex Trafficking in Hawai‘i. In the study, researchers planted false online sex advertisements on the islands and analyzed the response with shocking results:
- 756 responses in 24 hours to one ad
- 70% of the responses came from 808 area codes
- Responses included recruiters claiming to be on island

Demand for illicit sex benefits the sex trafficking industry and hurts vulnerable populations in Hawaii.
