Civic Feds To Issue Manifesto Showing Issues Its Supports

The Civic Federation has decided to get ready for the coming campaign, and to this end it will shortly issue a manifesto setting forth on what lines its policy will be in the campaign. This decision was reached at a meeting of the executive committee of the Federation held yesterday afternoon, and the preparation of the statement was placed in the hands of the Committee on Legislation and Public Services. The members of this committee are C. H. Dickey, chairman, Doremus Scudder and W. R. Castle.

"Yes, we will soon get together to prepare a manifesto in which we will show where the Civic Federation will stand in regard to the coming campaign," said Dickey this morning. "In previous campaigns kicks have been made against the Federation because it came out against certain candidates who were not satisfactory to it, and the claim was made that it should have done its work at the primaries and have seen to it that good candidates were nominated. This time we intend to place ourselves on record as desiring to go into the fight at the primaries, and before these start we shall issue the manifesto asking our supporters to go out and work in the primaries and showing them what the Federation stands for."

"Among the things which we will announce ourselves in favor of will be first of all the primary law. We will also recommend that the present liquor law be left as it is, both because it has been working very well."

Earlier Arrival Of 2 Battleships Probable

It has been learned in this city that the date for sailing of the battleships Maine and Alabama, which has been changed. The ships, detached from the Atlantic Fleet on May 18th, and put in drydock to be prepared for the voyage across the Pacific, will in all probability be here before the time heretofore set. The original orders were for these boats to sail for the trip across the Pacific by this port and Guam for the Mediterranean and the Atlantic seaboard, early in June, but it is now thought that they may get away by the end of this week or the first of next. In case this plan is adopted, they will be in this port earlier by some days.

They have been replaced in the big squadron by the Nebraska and Wisconsin, which will be with the fleet when it arrives here.

KOREAN SENTENCED.

CAMPBELL DOING POLITICAL DICKER?

Said To Be Trading Maui Office For Senate Support

In the appointment of a Tax Assessor for Maui being held up because Treasurer Campbell is improving the shining hour by making a political dicker? This is the substance of a report which is being circulated among politicians, and the longer the interregnum is lasting the stronger the belief in the report is growing.

It is stated that Campbell feels that he may meet with some opposition in the Senate at the next session when his appointment by Governor Frear comes up for confirmation by that body, owing mainly to the circumstances which surrounded the removal of Tax Assessor Holt by him. Therefore, it is said, the Treasurer is using the opportunity given him by the appointment of a successor for Robinson by trying to get through a trade by which he gives the appointment to the man the Maui politicians want, they in return to assure him the support of the Maui delegation in the Senate. As Maui has three Senators this would be a tidy proportion to count on in time of trouble.

SUIT INSTITUTED AGAINST PRATT

The protest against the sale of the Lepeloa Kauntho lands in Hawaii has reached the office of the High Sheriff, but the lands were sold last Monday. A wireless was received by the Bulletin a few days before the sale to the effect that the sale of the lands would be protested by a hui known as the Fernandes Settlement Association.

From the text of the suit now filed there is likely to be some fighting over the ownership of the lands, or, at any rate, there promise to be some interesting developments. The case is named Manuel Lopes et al. vs. J. W. Pratt, Commissioner of Public Lands, and in the papers it is alleged that in 1905 an application was presented to the authorities for these lands to be given to the Fernandes Settlement Association. On March 31st, the application was presented to Acting Governor Atkinson and was accepted, and the Fernandes

SAITO TO INSTRUCT CAPT. HARRIS HAS JAPANESE COLONY FAITH IN "HAWAII"

Will Tell Them How To Avoid Offending Fleet

In order to avoid international complications which may likely happen during the visit of the Fleet of the United States Navy here, Miki Saito, the Japanese Consul General, will call a meeting of the Japanese in the near future. At this meeting Saito will advise his fellow-countrymen how to properly use the American flags in decorating their sampans, vehicles, and stores. The general plan of the Japanese has been to decorate their stores with American and Japanese flags. When the approach of the Fleet is reported, the sampans and the other Japanese boats will be decorated in honor of the great Armada, and the hacks, expresses, automobiles and stores will be fittingly decorated with flags of America and Japan. The hotels will

MEANS STEAMERS FOR THIS PORT

Put In Full Charge, Says He Will Sail Her To Win

"I have every confidence in the outcome," said Captain S. J. Harris, who has just been chosen to command the yacht Hawaii in the Trans-Pacific Race, and takes charge of the craft today. "I am willing to take the responsibility and stand by the consequences. I cannot predict anything, but I will try to show myself worthy of the post which has been given me, and win the race."

"I have done little but sail these fast boats for years. The little tricks will count, and you may depend on it if we have to take in topsails during a squall, they will be set as soon as the squall is over, as everything of the sort must be watched."

"The arrangements made by the committee are perfectly satisfactory to me. I have not sailed the boat yet, and shall probably give her a trial run on Saturday, in order to get acquainted with her. I expect to go aboard tomorrow."

At a meeting of the Yacht Committee held yesterday, it was decided to turn the boat over to Harris today. He is now on the Niihau, but leaves her for his new craft. He has carte blanche so far as getting the boat ready for sea now goes; will engage his own crew of seamen, and will have the boat entirely under his control until after the race.

The committee has reached no conclusions as to whom they will put aboard to represent the press, but several have been mentioned. It is probable, says one member of the committee, that the selection will be a newspaperman.

WILL CABLE KELOS TODAY TO COME

A meeting of the Honolulu Baseball League was held this afternoon at 12:15 o'clock, at which it was decided to accept the terms of the trustees, in regard to the matter of the latter financing the project to bring the Kelo University baseball team here from Japan this summer to play ball. Pat Gleason and Frank Steere, who are the committee on the subject, will this afternoon see Harry Whitney, who has the funds secured through a local bank in charge. A cable will be sent to the Kelo men, steamship tickets arranged for, and the tickets either telegraphed or mailed, according to the outcome of a talk with the steamship people.

Gans And Nelson Escapes

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—The Conference Committee has agreed on the payment of a mail subsidy to American steamship lines plying to Japan, China, Australia, the Philippines, and South America.

This undoubtedly has reference to the subsidy bill amendment tacked on to the Postoffice Appropriation bill in the Senate. This amendment was the same as the original mail subsidy bill defeated by the House. If the Conference Committee report is accepted, as it probably will be, this mail subsidy means the immediate resumption of the Oceanic's line to Australia and more big steamers for both the Oceanic and Pacific Mail lines.

Inspire awe in the most authoritative manner, to all concerned of both private and public life, to everyone she meets, even to the matter of the poultry yard of meek Mrs. Collins. A tall, large woman, handsome and imposing, with an air far from condescending, the one who has this character in the play fully appreciates its requirements, and will meet the emergency.

Hobson Is Still Talking

TELLS SAN FRANCISCANS FLEET SHOULD BE KEPT AND MORE BUILT

"Keep the Atlantic Fleet and the Pacific Fleet in these waters, and add to them the five warships which are now on the Atlantic. Then build battleships as fast as we can."

That is Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson's suggestion to Congress. If, as is rumored, the hero of the Merrimac is the mouthpiece of President Roosevelt, this recommendation is, to say the least, significant. It means that there is a strongly growing sentiment in Administration circles that the Pacific Coast cannot be too powerfully protected by a Navy. And to such a sentiment Hobson subscribes in language which cannot be misconstrued.

"The Pacific Coast demands the retention of this Fleet which sailed into your harbor yesterday," said the young officer at the Fairmont, as he was catching a train to take a lecture appointment. "It means the protection not only of the West but of the whole country. The United States can never feel safe out here on the Pacific ocean until she dominates the sea as well as the land. And domination of the sea means a fleet of such proportions that the white race need have no fears of the aggressions of the yellow race."

"That demonstration Wednesday carried this idea, and it was planned for just such a purpose. There was diplomatic significance about that parade of battleships, and I don't believe the lesson was lost."

"But the work is but begun. The Pacific Coast cannot be guarded with a few cruisers. It needs just such an armament as is now assembled in your bay, and I believe that the country is awakening to the realization that the protection of the West is as great a national duty as the protection of the East. That will mean eventually the stationing of all these warships in your waters."

"The United States cannot protect both the Atlantic and Pacific shores with the ships which she now possesses. Her present naval strength is not too great to handle the problems of the Orient. The solution of the question is plainly one of more battleships—big ones. We ought to build, build, build without ceasing." And the speaker emphasized his words with characteristic thumps of his fist on his open palm. "We ought to build at least six battleships every year. That is a naval program none too great for this country."

Banks For The People

SENATOR CARTER EXPONDS SUPERIORITY OF POSTAL SAVINGS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7. — Postal savings banks was the subject of an address in the Senate today by Senator Carter of Montana. Carter spoke upon the bill to establish postal savings banks, recently reported by the Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads.

The pending bill, he said, proposes to subject the machinery of the Postoffice Department to an additional worthy, beneficent and consistent use.

"It does not," he said, "contemplate the employment of an additional force in the postoffices, the purchase of more equipment nor the imposition of any burdens of expense."

The power "to provide for the general welfare" contained in the Constitution he quoted as a complete authority for adding a savings bank feature to the postal service, which had first been established under very restricted bonds.

"The bill," said Carter, responds to the long-continued and earnest demand of the people for the use of the postoffices as savings depositories. To begin, the Postmaster General may confine the depositories to the Presidential offices only, and later extend the system to the full authorized limits. Accounts may be opened by any person over the age of 19 years and by a trustee for a person under that age. A deposit of $10 or more may be made, and increased by 10 cents or multiples of that amount. No deposit shall ever be allowed to exceed $1000, and interest will not be paid on a sum in excess of $500. Interest at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum is to be allowed."

The deposits in turn are to be placed in Government depositories near the place of deposit and 2 1/4 per cent. per annum is to be required for the use of the money. In the near future it is estimated that there will be 37,684 postal depositories.

"Dwellers in remote country districts will have the same inducements to economize and save," said Carter, "now enjoyed by those residing in the vicinity of the best conducted savings institutions in the large cities. The incalculable benefits to the people and to the Government destined to flow from the establishment of postal depositories no one can estimate, but all can appreciate. A prudent, thrifty man is rarely, if ever, a delinquent citizen, and good citizenship insures good government and respect for law. That which will tend to discourage extravagance and encourage a saving disposition will surely tend to suppress vice and encourage virtue."

MARK TWAIN'S WHITE TUXEDO

Everybody knows that Mark Twain was, and still is, a lover of Honolulu and things Hawaiian. He has done some of our best promotion work. But few are aware that he was one of the first to wear the white Tuxedo in the States. These dressy, cool, and comfortable evening and reception suits are becoming very popular there. They are infinitely more appropriate here, where it is always in form to wear white, and the more exclusive dressers of Honolulu, now that the suits are here, will follow the example of the noted humorist. Some of the handsomest, half-lined in silk, and with white braids on the trousers, are to be seen at Silva's Toggery.
