HONOLULU, H. I., SATURDAY, AUGUST 3, 1895.

No. 35.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Representative Ryeroft has stated that he knows several places in town where liquor can be bought on Sunday. He shouldn't make such remarks in public. Band concerts are not helped by any such confessions.

The Star still doubts the wisdom of punting down $30,000 of the people's money to relieve Mr. C. R. Bishop of his white elephant on Emma street. Quite right. Either the price is too loud or the advantages not likely to be so great as improving present government property. But what can you do with the present incompetent and irresponsible Board of Education?

The Advertiser announces this morning that ex-Marshall Hitchcock will be said good-bye to informally, by the officers of the Citizens Guard to-night. "Speech making will be indulged in and general good fellowship will prevail." Immediately below it prints a poetical effusion beginning:

Beware of the wine cup,
Oh touch not a drop."

Is this merely a coincidence or a family warning?

The editorial columnar supporters of the Advertiser now come out in front of the Star editor and fling down their unbespattered columns in the filth of public dispute and dare him to tread on their tails. Also, to prove that W. R. Castle has inspired or influenced the editorial utterances of that sheet or any other publication of the Hawaiian Gazette Company. Said one little boy to another, "You're a liar." Replied the other, "prove it!" That's the case in a nutshell.

The Sharpshooters seem to indulge in harmony to only a limited extent. The best thing they can do is to disband and reorganize in two companies. Once upon a time, so it is said, Mephistopheles and Satan found that there was too much friction between them—and friction matches at that. So Satan went to the storeroom and taking out a supply of brimstone, sulphur and Japanese patent safety matches, said to Mephistopheles, "My dear boy, take that, and go and start a little Gehenna of your own." History doesn't say whether the advice was followed and what the result was. But Honolulu could stand two lots of sharpshooters.

And, now, the Advertiser is carrying coals to Newcastle. Or rather conveying Chinese news to Li Hung Chang. No doubt that statesman peruses the paper daily, and likes Pears' baby "Isn't happy till he gets it." It is strange though, that even the Advertiser, when writing to people of that nationality, must use pigeon-English. But stop! a light breaks! Is this only a red herring drawn across the track to conceal the fact that the Chinese will not come here as laborers under the conditions imposed on them, and that Lau Chong's mission is a failure? Is it the only reason why the Chinese leave here, and don't come back, that they want to overturn the Manchu dynasty?

It is a pity the paid Labor Commission has been superseded. The quaint simplicity and nerve displayed in the literary efforts of Dr. Rodgers are too precious to be lost forever to Hawaiian literature. It is to be hoped the proposed unpaid Commission will continue to aid in the publication of gems like the following:

"Although the advertised hours were only from 9 to 11 a.m., the office has been open and the Secretary generally with some member of the Commission, has been in attendance during the ordinary business hours of each day."

Could italics add anything to the literary and truthful qualities of the above? Mark Twain himself never wrote anything so deliciously humorous by reason of its poetic form and strict adherence to truth. Generally! At five dollars a day! Sure.

Yesterday in the House Rep. Winston presented the following report:

"Your Committee on Commerce, to whom was referred Senate Bill No. 12, has had the matter under careful consideration and are unable to recommend the passage of the bill, for the following reasons:

"1. The bill does not clearly show on whose behalf, or for whose account the cable or cables are to be built, whether of the Government, or of the company that constructs and operates them.

"2. It does not expressly provide, as it should, that its connection in the Hawaiian Islands in the case of a foreign cable, shall be on the Island of Oahu, or some other habitable island of the Republic.

"3. It does not limit the time or period, in case the cable is owned by a company, that the contract with such company shall be made for.

"4. It does not provide for obtaining an estimate of the cost of (first) the cable itself, (second) of laying it, (third) of maintaining it, (fourth) of a repair ship and of operating such repair ship.

"The committee recommend the introduction of a new bill (which will remove the objections raised) in place of the one before the House."

The only object of the bill is to grant an appropriation of $10,000 to enable somebody to go somewhere and try to do something to give us a chance for a cable after we lost it by taking Necker Island and French Frigate Shoals. That is all.

True Philosophy not for P. O. Jones.

Dat poverty am no disgrace, I's often hyurd 'em say,
But it hab its inconveniences; I feels 'em eb'ry day.
My only comfort's thinkin', while I labours wiv de axe,
Dat I got no room to worry 'bout de in-come tax.

I bites away on hoe-cake, but I hankers arter pie;
I has eaten col' pertaters with a melon patch neah by;
But I cheers merse'f in spite ob all dees melancholy fac's,
'Cause I get no room to worry 'bout de in-come tax.

SATURDAY, AUG. 3, 1894.

A CHARITABLE INSTITUTION.

The concert arranged for the benefit of the families of the political prisoners at Kaunakapili was attended with a success which was, to say the least, unexpected. Foreigners and Hawaiians alike took advantage of the event to listen to good music and perform a deserving act of charity.

The trustees of the church did not follow the example given by the general public. They saw fit to make 25 percent out of the receipts of the moneys offered to the suffering Hawaiian women and children. Who did it we cannot tell. We can only respond to a request of a prominent missionary and publish the names of the present directors of the Kaunakapili Church, of whom a majority voted to rob the poor destitute women and children of their countrymen of one-quarter of their dues.

These are the trustees: D. W. Kahuakai, J. W. Mahelona, J. K. Kahookano, Enoch Johnson, W. Chun Hoon, J. M. Haole, S. H. Kauiakalani, Nahalau, S. H. Oni, M. Keliuhuluhulu.

We believe that the day will come when the above mentioned "Christian" gentlemen will wish that they never had been placed on record against a proper, fair and just move in favor of Hawaiians.

IS HE TIRED?

Anybody conversant with public affairs in Hawaii has admired the patience and political sense exhibited by Minister Damon. The gentleman in question, we have no doubt, prays day and night for a chance to shake his official yellow jacket and even his peacock feathers and once more become plain and simple banker Damon.

The Minister of Finance has held the Republic together and been its main prop in spite of the follies and imbecilities of his immaculate colleagues. He has even succeeded for months in hiding from the taxpayers the indebtedness of the government which he would wish to be able to pay and for which he no longer finds recourse.

We admire Mr. Damon and we pity him. To be the steward of a republic and be forced to answer the butcher, the baker and the printer, etc., etc., who knock at the door, that there is no money in the house, must be galling to a solid man like Damon who in private life pays his just debts, and more too.

The Minister must have learned what the loyalty is of alleged supporters during the period in which he has day in and day out been sued and dunned. When a printing concern which has been pampered and patronized by the Government calls for its little bill of $6000, and in case of non-payment threatens with a suit, we cannot blame the Minister for losing his temper and virtually answering, "sue and be blessed."

When a butcher concern, in which the Minister, as a private individual, is a shareholder, holds up a bill to him and tells him that the Government now owes it $8000, who can blame him for muttering d— your bones (or beefsteak)? We pity Minister Damon but we do wish that he would pay his Ministerial bills and prevent suits.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Star states it has very carefully investigated the refusal to Mr. and Mrs. Wodehouse to be allowed to say goodbye to the ex-Queen. It also says it has endeavored to present the facts just as they are. Immediately previous it prints as follows:

"The Star is told that it is not true that exception was taken to the form of the application made by the wife of the retiring minister nor to the fact that her application was made to a clerk rather than to a minister."

Now, either the Star's informers misled the writer or its statements about presenting facts just as they are, is wilfully false. Mrs. Wodehouse addressed the Foreign Office direct in the proper manner and to its proper head. The answer was signed by the chief clerk of that department in his official capacity.

If Mr. Wodehouse was in the eyes of Mr. Hatch still a diplomat, how is it that that gentleman who is popularly supposed to be learned in the law as he is a member of the Hawaiian bar, refused permission to visit prisoners to him which the laws and the constitution grant. All diplomats and consuls have free access at proper hours to all prisons with or without permission of the Foreign Office. And that has been the law of the Hawaiian Islands since Ricord, Attorney-General drafted the laws about 1848 or 50. You cannot conceal pettiness by subterfuge, Mr. Minister.

Honolulu, July 22, 1895.

It cannot be denied that the war cloud which hangs over the world at present is getting darker and darker. It is a historical fact that the end of each century has always been fraught with bloodshed and strife, internally as well as externally. The great powers of Europe today are making and unmaking alliances of all kinds. The fact is that diplomacy to-day is using every means to postpone the day when the crash must come and gain time for the different countries to prepare themselves for the gigantic struggle which will and must take place before the present generation dates its letters in the year 1900. Turkey is threatened from all sides. The Russian bear is extending his claws and licking his blood-thirsty tongue towards the East and South in anticipation of gain. The passive and cold brother nations who inhabit the Scandinavian peninsula are now glaring ferociously ready to spring at each other's throats. Germany, under its impetuous, indiscreet imperial master, is drifting into the deceptive maelstrom of conquest, and war, in which all past experience, all knowledge gained through the horrors of war are forgotten, and where only false sentiment and sham patriotism are ruling.

And while the giants get ready for the great war their leaders have realized one thing, and that is, that no army will have a show, no militia a chance, except provided with the indispensable bicycle. And no wonder that the monarchial countries of Europe prefer the "Monarch" to any other kind, and supply their "wheeling cavalry" with that favorite brand.

We have watched proceedings in the great countries with a great deal of care, and we have secured the sole agency for Hawaii of the Monarch Cycle. We have realized that, not alone a large stock is necessary, but that a workshop, in which all needed repairs can be done is in the interest of our patrons, and we have established one above our stores on Fort street. This "bicycle infirmary" will attend to any "sickness" which the wheel may meet through accident or lack of care. Our prices are far below veterinary figures. We fix the Monarchs sold by us at cost price if ever they should need it. We have everything on hand and have secured the services of a most experienced bicycle man, whose work we guarantee.

As the bicycle is not only of advantage in war but love, we wish to call the attention of the young boys and girls who have to spend their vacations in Honolulu, that we have wheels just suitable for them. If daddy can't send them to the country for a trip—or buy them a bow-wow—let them ask him for a Monarch. It will give more pleasure and last much longer than even a volcano trip.

(With apologies to Pauwaawaa.)

Late and early, late and early,
Tho' potatoes doesn't pay
Tho coffee's falling yearly,
I am yackering away
'Tis either husking, husking,
And cursing at the wet;
Or the ground is hard as iron
Even Hendry's Breakers jump,
you bet!
But I ain't licked yet!

Corn's $1.50 now and under
And the steamers get the plunder
Not while milk is turned, by thunder
No! I ain't licked yet!
I ain't licked yet!

'Tis drought, or blight on coffee,
And hay it doesn't pay;
And pigs is a delusion—
Cabbages? away with them, away!
Whilst butter still is selling
As axle grease, you bet,
And five cents for a gallon
Of milk is all I get.
Though the homestead is mortgaged
deeper,
And steamer freights don't get in cheaper,
And I ain't paid for no reaper,
But I ain't licked yet.

Late and early, late and early,
I am yackering away,
My joints are growing stiffer,
And my hair is turning gray.
As my very own ole woman
Just remarked with much regret
Vreddie! things is getting wusser,
Let us go and have a wet!
(Tho, of course I didn't foller)
You can bet your bottom dollar,
Whilst this 'ole hoss feels the collar,
That he ain't licked yet!
No, not even by Olaa. He aint licked yet.

NEWS FROM HAWAII.

Two Men Drowned at Waimea By Freshets.

The Claudine arrived late last evening from Hawaii and Maui. The weather on Hawaii has been very strong and heavy rain with freshets have made travelling in certain districts difficult if not dangerous. At Waimea the stream passing the stores of Akana and Koki rose with a rapidity never previously seen by the present generation. Two men, one Kahanu, a well-known cowboy in the employ of the Parker's ranch, the other, a white man who had been hanging around Waimea for some time and who claimed to be a carpenter—his name was not obtain by our correspondent, attempted to cross the stream and were both whirled to their death in the foaming waters, in spite of all efforts made to save them. Their bodies were recovered the following day every vestige of clothing having been stripped from them. The Parker boys and Frank Vida attempted to make the crossing shortly after without success, having a narrow escape from the fate which met the two drowned men.

The Misses Walker and Miss Vida are still at Mana. The Misses Parker returned by the Claudine together with the members of the Neumann family who have visited Waimea and enjoyed mountain life.

A large number of people are at the Volcano House. The crater is not very active but the heavy rain-storm experienced during the last week is generally a forerunner of an eruption. The guests of the Volcano House speak in the highest terms of that famous hostelry.

Collector-General Castle has made a thorough investigation of the books of Collector Notley. The Hilo Custom House is yet in the hands of book-keeper Wall of Honolulu. The results of the investigation have not been given to the public so far yet.

John Ena and family are enjoying their trip to Hawaii hugely and have visited the Volcano at Hilo.

Collector-General Castle made a test case in regard to the landing of aliens. The case referred to deserting seamen. The Collector-General held that the master of the vessel was responsible for his sailors and that their landing for the purpose of remaining here without $50 in their pocket was illegal. The defense claimed that if such rule held good the master of a vessel would be obliged to put his men in irons when in a Hawaiian port. District Magistrate Hapai took the case under consideration and the Lurline departed without bonds. Gardner Wilder acted for Castle and Wakefield for the captain.

A Word to the Wise

While people are complaining of dull times and no money, we are busy showing every CASH Customer who comes into our establishment, that the purchasing power of his dollar is greater with us than elsewhere. We believe that every purchaser who buys a good article cheap, gets into a good humor with himself, and by natural process, with his neighbors also; which goes a long way to relieve the oppressive feelings of dull times. To feel pleased with ourselves and one another no better opportunity offers than to trade at the Grocery Store of

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

The Advertiser is a leading article of July 29 dwells on the independence of the so-called independent journals of the city. Here is the Advertiser's definition of the word "kicker." One who dares to criticize any action of the government, whether right or wrong. Further on in the article we read, "Honest criticism is always acceptable." Mr. Editor, I am extremely sorry to say you lie! and you know it. Anyone who has the honesty to run counter to the opinions of your clique, is put down as a foul-mouthed vender of gross misrepresentations. Young man, you are a new comer here, and have yet to cut your eye teeth. In 1887, the missionary party, i. e. your clique, was supported by almost every voter in the land, and what was the result in 1890? Their rottenness, nepotism, and narrow mindedness caused their former supporters to leave them in disgust, and at the polls in Feb. 1890, snow them out of sight. History must repeat itself. No broad-minded man can continue to support a military oligarchy—time and the ballot, will drive them into obscurity never to return. A government by the people, and for the people, is what the country demands—anything else cannot stand.

MAUI.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

Betty, from "her point of view," in "Arthur McEwen's letter," says: "They have sentenced a poor negress in Chicago to be hanged, and a San Francisco woman says that she doesn't see any reason why the same punishment shouldn't be given to women and men for the same crimes. That's a kind of equal rights doctrine that I don't believe in. But I suppose this San Francisco woman is logical. It needed this sort of a case to show women who are so bold for their rights, that the greatest blessing they can enjoy is not any right, but the sweet privilege of being thought a little sacred by men. Hang women, no matter what they are, and you destroy so much chivalry in man's nature, and chivalry to women is the one thing we cannot afford to have men lose. For let them lose that and we are gone. The world will be a nasty place to live in when men treat women as they now treat each other. I don't care to be sworn at or knocked down; I'd rather surrender my chance of going to Congress and be given a seat in a crowded car. The nearer we get to the plane of equality with men the worse for us. There are a good many men who yet believe us a little superior to them; in the name of all that's good, let us keep up the belief, even if it is only a delusion." There may be a lesson in the above for the persons who have imprisoned the Queen, certainly there is something for their wives to read and ponder upon.

MELINDA.

Sans Souci.

The most lovely spot on Oahu is Sans Souci. This favorite seaside resort, which has been immortalized by the pen of Robert L. Stevenson, who resided there for months, is only four miles from Honolulu and within easy reach of the tramcars. The surroundings and bathing at this famous resort are superior to anything found in the Hawaiian Islands. Cottages and board can be obtained on easy terms. The table set by the manager is better than any offered here at other hotels. For picnics, bathing parties and outings the best accommodation can be secured by giving notice to the manager.

Speculation in His Eye.

Benevolent Individual: "Yes, sir, I hold that when a man makes a little extra money his first duty is to make his wife a present of a handsome dress."

Ordinary Individual: "You are a philosopher, I presume?"

Benevolent Individual: "No, I run a Fort-street dry goods store."

When Ingalls Comes to Congress.

When Mr. Ingalls gets back to his seat in the Senate he will find himself, on at least one count, in high favor with his pet aversion, the Mugwumps. Everybody remembers that famous speech of his in which he described the Mugwump, comparing him to that wonderful but now obsolete creature, the pterodactyl, and spilling all over him the rich but burning liquor of his sarcasm. Now, however, Mr. Ingalls is in perfect harmony with the Mugwumps as regards our foreign policy, and, whether he likes it or not, will have to put up with their admiration and applause. A recent publication in the Times-Herald, of Chicago, has him speaking thus as to Cuba:

"Our system does not contemplate the acquisition of dependencies and colonial possessions, to be governed like conquered provinces. Individual liberty, local self-government, home rule, and the indissoluble federation of independent states are the conditions of our national life. These require populations that are coherent and capable of political assimilation, having kindred pulses and aspirations, and intellectual and moral qualities that are compatible, or else empty and unoccupied regions that may become territories from which States may be developed. From this and many other reasons the 'jingo,' the aggressive, domineering advocate of a swaggering foreign policy, has never been a favorite in American politics. The people instinctively recognize the limitations of a representative popular democracy and cannot be misled."

This applies at least to the question of annexation in general and may fairly be accepted as an indication of his views touching the annexation of Cuba in particular. With reference to Hawaii Mr. Ingalls says:

"The Hawaiian episode is one of the most scandalous chapters in American diplomacy. It was begotten in sin and brought forth in iniquity. Every incident has been corrupt. The treaties have been public crimes. They reek with infamy. Bribery, intrigue, personal and official dishonor have marked every step in the degrading transactions. Public interest has been the mask behind which the shameless impudence of a few selfish adventurers endeavored to promote their own guilty fortunes at the expense of the national treasury and the well-being of the people of both countries. Two administrations have competed with each other in discreditable emulation to ostensibly advance American interests, but actually to protect a greedy gang of sharpers and thieves in their schemes of pecculation and plunder. So the public ear has been assailed with an incessant din about the necessity of fortifying Pearl harbor, securing a coaling station for our Navy, and annexing the Sandwich Islands in order to protect our Western coast from the depredations of foreign powers. It is to the credit of the common sense of the American people that they have not yielded to this mercenary clamor, and that they perceive the absurdity of maintaining costly establishments upon a group of islands inhabited by an alien race 2,000 miles from our shores."

This expressed in a manly and forcible way, is what the Mugwumps, the New York Evening Post, for instance, have felt with reference to the Hawaiian affair, and it distinctly locates Mr. Ingalls as the champion and leader of the anti-annexation party. Naturally Mr. Ingalls does not advocate the restoration of the so-called Queen or the employment of the United States forces to crush the hope of free government in Hawaii. He is not a Mugwump, although his opinions touch theirs at certain points.

But it is evident that his return to the Senate will be the signal for some highly interesting, not to say sensational, controversy. Mr. Lodge, Mr. Hoar, Mr. Frye, and other prominent Republicans will find in him a foeman worthy of all the steel they can muster among them, and excitement will be the order of the day.—Washington Post.
