SATURDAY MARCH 21, 1885

Vacation Notes. XI.

I had been cautioned several times to look out for a "rotter" if I wished to know, from experience, what disagreeable weather in California was...

Leaving Santa Rosa by a private team, by invitation of a graduate of Liton Springs College, we drove through a splendid stretch of farming country for Healdsburg, distant sixteen miles...

The following— from the college calendar— gives a concise description of its situation and its surrounding climate.

Liton Springs College is situated on the line of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railroad, sixty-nine miles from San Francisco...

After breakfast I inquired for and obtained several important bearings and sailing facts to take the most of a short day...

Our party was conducted over the main building, originally erected for a hotel, which seemed to be admirably arranged for the needs of the college, and was spacious, well ventilated...

A few hours in Healdsburg were profitably employed in settling the question of how much I was disappointed in it, which as a place of business fell far behind my expectations...

The Skating Craze.

An evening at Mr. Thomas Wall's Yosemite Skating Rink affords much pleasure to a large number of our people, not only to the skaters themselves but to the on-lookers who are watching...

KOHALA.

The Railway Ride from Mahukona to Waialeale. The scenery along the line.

I had heard in Honolulu some things in disparage of the Kohala Railway. But my ride over convinced me that injustice had been done it except in two particulars—route of line and redundancy of gulch curves.

I am assured that the planters along the line are responsible for the location, fearing that locomotive sparks would set fire to cane fields and thereby also endanger the mills.

As to the curves: Longer bridges over many of the gulches would have shortened the line somewhat, and would have prevented wear of rails and of rolling stock.

At eight o'clock, A. M., the train satisfied my longings to be left at San Rafael. Recent heavy rains had rendered the roads and streets very muddy and disagreeable, so I took the first "coach" that offered, telling the driver to continue to the hotel for me...

I do well not to risk spoiling the illusion by a visit, I am told. Haena's thrift and energy are as elusive as its whitewash—on dirt. It is a fishing village. I have told you already that fish abound.

I might go on and write of Kohala's scenery for a week. I could not exhaust the subject even then. I shall write of it incidentally again, in describing the district more in detail.

Building Improvements. Messrs. M. W. McChesney & Son, have made arrangements with Mr. A. J. Cartwright to shortly erect a one-story building on Hotel street, on the site formerly occupied by the "Elite Ice-cream Saloon."

Boating Notes, Etc., from Australia. It is next to impossible for you to form any idea of the scene at this first of the three great aquatic centers...

I was on the course nearly five hours before the race started and had ample time to watch the gathering host and to ponder. Hanlan looked strong, well, "clean," though a trifle snelly down. He was early at the boat-house with his friends, where a considerable crowd had accumulated to cheer him away to the starting point.

The roller coaster is now running every week-day night, except on Wednesdays, commencing at 7 o'clock. Single ride, 5 cents; two tickets for 25 cents. Special car, 50 cents.

The skating rink is nearly completed, and will be open to the public this afternoon evening. The building is admirably adapted to the purpose for which it is intended, and reflects credit on the proprietor.

The Canadian Government is considering a scheme to fit out armed schooners to watch the fishing grounds of the maritime provinces and also to prevent American fishermen from taking fish from Canadian waters.

Continental diplomats are discussing the French and Russian alliance against England. They assert that such an alliance would be especially advantageous to both these countries, particularly if France is in a mess with China when war is decided upon in Afghanistan.

The Journal de St. Petersburg of March 14th, says: Negotiations between Russia and England still continue to be conducted with a firm desire to avoid a collision and upon the profound conviction that it is to the interest of both countries to reach a solid settlement of the present dispute.

A dispatch dated Suakim, March 15th, says: General Ewart has arrived. Work on the Suakim Berber railway has been begun. General Digna has offered to give money and stop night attacks if the British return the body of his standard-bearer.

The firing last night was the heaviest and most continuous the British have yet been subjected to here.

General Briere De L'Isle has wired a furious complaint to Paris concerning the free passage of Chinese convoys. He says that arms and munition of war are regularly and uninterrupted transported, while two French naval squadrons are toiling 200 miles away.

Admiral Lespes has been notified to L'Isle's complaint, and has ordered the blockade of the Port of Pakhoi.

Recent reports of a further Russian advance are incorrect.

Blaine called on the evening of March 13th, to pay his respects to President Cleveland.

The meeting between the two gentlemen was a hearty one, each shaking the other by the hand with a warm grasp.

They were closeted together nearly an hour, and when Mr. Blaine came out, the President accompanied him to the door and gave him a cordial invitation to visit the Executive Mansion frequently.

Two swift British cruisers have been ordered to proceed to the Pacific Ocean to watch Russian vessels.

A report is current that the British Admiralty has offered a tempting sum of £500,000 to the Brazilian iron-clad Esmeralda.

Ever since the fall of Khartoum the Admiralty office has been quietly hiring all the available steamers that could be spared, for the transportation of troops to Egypt and India.

A London dispatch of the 15th inst. says: Special editions of several papers were published to-day, announcing, on the authority of a private telegram from Suakim, that Kassala had fallen and the garrison had been massacred.

The report is not believed official circles, as the Government dispatches from Suakim received to-day make no mention of such an occurrence.

Massow advises to March 16th, say that no news has been received from Kassala since March 1st.

A letter from Askabad, dated February 24th, says: Troops and stores are going forward daily, en route to Merv. The soldiers are previously blessed by the priests.

Civilians and military men openly discuss the likelihood of a declaration of war against England. It is stated that 10,000 troops have been ordered to Merv.

The railway from Kisl Arvat to Merv is being pushed with the utmost rapidity. A letter from Sarakhs, dated March 2d, states that five batteries of Russian infantry and three batteries of artillery are en route to Bokhara and Merv, and a small party of Cossacks recently attempted to traverse the Zulikar defile, but were prevented by force.

A dispatch of Teheran says it is reported that Sir Peter Lumsden has reached Herat which the Afghans are fortifying.

The Russian hold the well and rivers between Sarakhs and the Murghab river and there are several hundred Cossacks near Paul-I-Khatum, the most southerly point near Herat held by the Russians.

The Russian forces in Merv are a battalion of infantry, a regiment of dragoons and some Cossacks. There are about 8,000 troops at Askabad.

Daniel Manning of New York, Secretary of the Treasury, William C. Endicott of Massachusetts, Secretary of War, William C. Whitney of New York, Secretary of the Navy, Lucius Q. C. Lamar of Mississippi, Secretary of the Interior, William F. Vilas of Wisconsin, Postmaster General, Augustus H. Garland of Arkansas, Attorney General, Cleveland's first official list of the nomination of his cabinet.

His second was to affix his signature to commission U. S. Grant as officer on the retired list of the army with rank of General.

Paris, March 13.—An immense sensation has been caused by the stand which the authorities have taken toward the Russian agitators.

In addition to the arrest of James Stephens, Eugene Davis and John Morrissey yesterday, the police this morning arrested a journalist named Mortimer Leroy and another Fenian, name not learned.

Mrs. Stephens was also arrested, but subsequently released. Warrants for the expulsion of other Fenian leaders have been issued and further arrests are expected.

Stephens, Davis and Leroy were taken to the frontier of France to-day and warned not to return. They and the two anarchists expelled at the same time have gone into Belgium. Morrissey was allowed to remain in Paris.

The Chinese troops who had been defending the place fled into China. The Chinese Embassy to-day deny that the French have occupied the heights of Kelung, as claimed in Paris.

The members of the Embassy say that the French, after fighting several days and losing 500 men, succeeded in occupying two positions commanding a road across the island between Kelung and Tamsui, but the Chinese still hold all the other forts.

Dr. Sands and Shady, consulting physicians in General Grant's camp, visited the General's residence this afternoon, March 15th, and held a consultation with Dr. Douglas.

The General was fully endorsed in the treatment adopted by Drs. Barker and Douglas. The local disease is believed, for the present, to be stationary.

General Grant slept more than eight hours during the preceding night. He fell into a sound slumber at 4 o'clock this morning and did not awake until 10 o'clock.

The General does not suffer much from pain, but complains of a little soreness. He takes food more plentifully and consumed a chop this morning.

The affected part of his throat is treated with iodoforn, but the use of cocaine has been discontinued.

The General says that his insomnia is not due to pain. The cancer does not interfere with his breathing and has not particularly impaired his voice or speech.

A Washington dispatch of March 14th says: The administration believes that public sentiment demands the preservation of the autonomy of the Central American republics.

In his inaugural address the President advocated a peace policy and expressed an unwillingness to interfere in the affairs of foreign governments.

When Senator Bayard opposed the ratification of the Nicaraguan treaty in the Senate, he expressed similar sentiments.

The declaration of this policy, however, did not imply that the United States will sit idly by and see the government of Guatemala consolidate three unwilling independent republics under one head, especially when President Barrios is strongly suspected of being in the pay of the French Government.

and attempting to blackmail the United States by having the Nicaraguan Congress rescind the ratification of the treaty.

Mexico has notified Barrios that she will not consent to his consolidation scheme, and this government has ordered its ships of war, the Shenandoah and Wachusett, to the Central America, and the commanders of three other vessels have been told to hold themselves in readiness to proceed there at once.

There are American interests to protect in Central America and it looks now as though they would be carefully watched.

The Secretary of the Navy to-day directed by telegraph the commanders of the Wachusett and Shenandoah of the North Atlantic squadron, now near New Orleans, to proceed at once to Central America.

The commanders of three vessels of the squadron remaining near New Orleans were directed to hold themselves in readiness to execute his similar order.

Of the North Atlantic squadron three vessels—the Galena, Powhatan and Swatara—are now in Central American waters.

The entire squadron will be held subject to orders from Washington. These movements are understood to be direct reference to the career of General Barrios to make himself "supreme military chief of Central America."

The attitude assumed by Mexico in the fall of the autonomy of San Salvador, Nicaragua and Costa Rica against the threatened usurpation of President Barrios of Guatemala, excites enthusiasm throughout the three republics, and the determination of the people of these countries to resist incorporation into a republic under the domination of Barrios continues steadfast, and the fall of Barrios is considered certain.

The action of the Mexican Government in condemning General Barrios' pretensions is warmly commended by the newspapers of the city of Mexico, almost all of them recommending that if it should be necessary to put Barrios down, a Mexican army should be sent to aid San Salvador and Nicaragua.

When questioned as to the probable effect of the impending war on the commerce between the United States and Central America, General Toledo said: "The United States is our favorite market and San Francisco by nature is our most profitable port.

It is not that the existing complication can in any way work harm to our commercial intercourse. What I want to see is the establishment of a fast and cheap line of steamers between San Francisco and the prominent ports on the west coast of Central America."
