

A Newspaper Published Weekly. PUBLISHED BY THE PRESS PUBLISHING COMPANY, LIMITED.

THE SATURDAY PRESS. SATURDAY, AUGUST 29, 1908.

The Saturday Press ceases with this issue. It has been published five years. During four years it has continuously advocated the highest interests of Hawaii, independent of either party or clique.

Those responsible for the conduct of the Saturday Press—since its present proprietor assumed sole responsibility, in September 1881—have an honest right to be satisfied with their record.

The Nation lost nearly three thousand subscribers for refusing to believe that Mr. Hayes could honorably accept the presidency at the hands of the Louisiana and Florida Returning Boards.

Leprosy has been among the topics of foremost consideration by the Saturday Press, during the past four years. The proprietor and editors of the Press have never failed to recognize that leprosy is the prime cause of the decay of the Hawaiian race.

In wonder at large for political and personal reasons. Our warnings on the subject of leprosy have won for us the dislike of many cowardly time servers, who have feared depreciation of their real estate and other property because of the contagion upon that subject.

Many readers of this will remember the Advertiser just before its purchase by Gibson. At that time it was a weekly and often appeared with less than three columns of reading matter.

He lives the longest who looks back the most. In the vision left no dust be lost; In the vision left no dust be lost; He crowns the valleys of the mighty past.

The popular printing office with which the Saturday Press has been connected continues. It will endeavor—as always since its establishment—to serve the public need faithfully and satisfactorily.

This issue closes the fifth volume of the Saturday Press, and with this issue farewell to friend and foe. The Saturday Press will be numbered among the things of the past and although mistakes have been made in its course—the good it has done will be its memorial.

I owe it to a few true friends, some of whom I may have no opportunity to thank personally—friends whom I need not mention by name, yet who will understand for whom this is meant—to make acknowledgement of the advice, support and sympathy I have received during my brief Hawaiian residence.

THE DAILY HONOLULU PRESS. "The king is dead! Long live the king!" The Saturday Press is now the Daily Honolulu Press will soon be born. The day of weekly newspapers in Honolulu has practically come to an end.

The writer is unlikely to address the Hawaiian Nation soon again. It has been his privilege to address its people something over a hundred times. As a rule, he has written in plain language and upon pressing public topics.

The writer hopes that the principles for which the Press contended may be preserved. A long, discouraging, uphill fight is before the honest men of Hawaii. A victory at the next election will not win the battle.

THE LAST WEEK. A correct line—Mama—Hunulu—How. I am obliged to begin my last letter of my Hawaii trip with a correction—sent me this week by Mr. Kay of Kukuhaele. I quote from that gentleman's letter: "Your issue of the 18th instant came to hand the other day. I read it with interest; but an obliged to call your attention to two statements which are misleading."

MANAGER'S NOTICE. All accounts due the SATURDAY PRESS are desired to be settled immediately. All unexpired subscriptions or advertisements will be completed by the Daily Honolulu Press.
