BREWER ESTATE POSITION IS CLEAR

Galt Reiterates Readiness to Cooperate With Commission's Plans.

COMMISSION DECIDES TO RECOMMEND AGREEMENT

Exchange of Ground On Lines Proposed in Legislative Bill Favored.

Negotiations by the Bishop street commission for this improvement and the closing of Union street were decidedly advanced this morning when J. R. Galt, representing the Hawaiian Trust company, which in turn represents the Brewer estate, appeared before the commission and declared the willingness of the company to cooperate in every way with the commission.

Mr. Galt declared that the Brewer estate is holding back construction of its new building at Hotel and Union streets until the improvement plans are settled. He reiterated the offer of the estate for an exchange of property with the Territory to straighten out Hotel street, and stated that though the estate has $47,000 tied up and idle owing to the delay in the plans, it is willing to meet the commission half-way.

Mr. Galt's statement to the commission confirms in every particular the statement he made to the Bulletin a few weeks ago which was immediately denied by another paper. The Brewer estate's position is that of willingness to cooperate provided there is definite assurance of action in closing Union street, which is involved in the Bishop extension.

As a result the commission is to make a report to the Governor that the offer of the estate be accepted and that the matter be rushed ahead as rapidly as possible. The estate is offering $5.54 a foot for the Union street property which is the average price it paid for the portion it now owns there. The definite fixing of this is to be left for the Governor and the estate to come to some arrangement.

PEARL HARBOR BOILER CONTRACT

Babeock & Wilcox, for whom Castle & Cooke are the local agents, have been awarded the contract for furnishing the boilers and steam fittings of the naval station at Pearl Harbor. This news was received this morning by Castle & Cooke. The contract amounts to a total of about $160,000 and under the specifications must be completed on August 1, 1912. Foundations for the boilers are now being put in.

BIRD-POACHERS DRIVEN OFF AND LOOT RECOVERED

A party of Japanese bird poachers, who had been conducting an energetic campaign on Christmas Island were reluctant to leave the preserve and their supply of plumage and skins, when compelled to vacate the island at the behest of the officers of the British cruiser Challenger, which visited Christmas Island not many weeks after the departure of the British war vessel from Honolulu.

The little supra-laden schooner Sailor Boy, which now lies in the stream in Honolulu harbor, awaiting instructions from San Francisco regarding her repairs, carries officers and men who are well acquainted with conditions as they exist on Christmas, Washington and Fanning islands.

Captain W. C. Erratt, master of the schooner, which met with a lot of hard luck on the voyage after leaving Fanning Island on August 15, placed himself under treatment at the Queen's Hospital this morning.

The skipper is accompanied on the trip by his 12-year-old son and also J. Mayer, a San Francisco business man, who is making a round trip in the schooner.

Captain Erratt met with a painful accident on the cruise to Honolulu. He believes that he was struck a sharp blow in the middle of the back during the rolling of the ship. The injury was not considered serious at first, but about a week ago the bruise caused the master of the Sailor Boy much pain. He may be obliged to submit to an operation before leaving this port.

Japanese Poachers Are Active.

Japanese poachers are said by officers of the Sailor Boy to be exceedingly active in the South Seas. With the arrival of the British cruiser Challenger at Christmas Island, a score or more Japanese were found there. The party had been sent to Christmas Island after first having called at Fanning. A German-built schooner flying the Japanese flag was lying off the island, and it was in that vessel that the Japanese were returned to Fanning, after the serving of a formidable document upon them to the effect that they were considered as being engaged in an unlawful occupation. The British authorities insisted upon immediate retirement of the Japanese.

The poachers had accumulated a quantity of feathers and skins, but these they were obliged to leave behind, and they were afterward destroyed by the Challenger officers.

SANITATION WORK MUST BE LIMITED TO A PART OF CITY

A recommendation limiting the immediate scope of sanitary improvement work in Honolulu to a comparatively small portion of the city will almost certainly result from the investigations already made by the sanitary commission. Chairman George R. Carter says that the commission now realize the uselessness of attempting to cover the whole city properly and do the proposed work under the appropriation of the last legislature.

"It would be foolish to do all the work, to try to cover the whole city under the money appropriated," he declares, "and we have found that we must draw sharply-defined lines somewhere. Just where these will be is soon to be settled.

"The residents of Honolulu, generally speaking, are scattered. The density of the population is not great. Of course in certain sections the population is dense, but not generally.

"It is evident that we must fix boundaries within which the sanitation work is to be confined under the present amount of money available. The funds are not enough to permit of anything like the amount of work needed, probably only a small part of it."

On his forthcoming trip to the mainland, Chairman Carter is going to assemble some data on the powers of the health authority. He declares that the health authority should be the supreme authority in city government, and that Honolulu sooner or later must realize this.

"The cities of the mainland are realizing it," he said. "In Cincinnati a child had small-pox. Its father said it should go to school, although the health authorities said it should not. But the health board did not have the power to prevent it, because it was held that such a power was limited to times of epidemic.

"When the people of Cincinnati understood that this was the case, public sentiment was so aroused that they gave the powers needed to the health board.

"The health authority should be pre-eminent. Lawyers perhaps will say that the law should be the supreme authority, and this is something that will be worked out in Honolulu sooner or later. For instance, it should be settled that a house which is a menace to health from defective plumbing may be entered by a plumber and repaired although there is no authority in law for such summary action.

POLICE AGAINST HYPNOTIC BURIAL

Police interference is probable if Sheriff Jarrett, the two hypnotists, attempt to carry out an announced program of burying a live man underground while in a cataleptic trance. Both Sheriff Jarrett and Chief of Detectives McDuffie are opposed to allowing the feat to be even attempted. McDuffie says that he is ready to interfere if the hypnotists try it. Jarrett says that he will consult the County Attorney and see if

WILDER WANTED

James A. Wilder leaves on the next steamer to the Coast for Cambridge, Mass., where he will arrive in time to preside at the ceremonies planned for the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the famous Phyl club. Mr. Wilder was much surprised and pleased at the request received a few days ago that he act as presiding officer of the function, and although his injured tendon of Achilles is still in limbo he will brave the dangers of travel and be there with the boys on October 7. New York reports that the beef trust is again increasing prices and threatens to run them higher.

WOOD TELLS WHY HE'S LOW BIDDER ON BREAKWATER

Charles F. Wood, vice-president of the Breakwater company of Philadelphia and presumably successful bidder for the half-million Hilo breakwater contract, did not come to Honolulu to bid on the work. And his bid, which was rushed through by a margin of minutes, was put in not for the possible prospect of a profit on the job, but to give backing and impetus to a movement that if successful, will revolutionize the letting of Federal contracts in the islands as well as the rest of the country.

Mr. Wood this morning gave to the Bulletin the first statement from the Breakwater company that has been made. He declines to discuss either the objections to his bid that have been raised by other contractors or his own plans. Courteously but firmly the Philadelphia declines to state where his quarry for the breakwater rock is to be, how he will get it to the breakwater, and similar questions that have arisen since his bid went under that of the East-York Engineering company by two cents a ton, or a total of four thousand odd dollars in a $450,000 job.

Of the carrying out of the contract he will not talk, except to say frankly and smilingly that the work will be finished within the contract time. "We do not talk of what we intend to do, but I am willing to answer any questions on what we have done," he said today. As a matter of fact, a glance into the Federal records will show that the Breakwater company at the present time has eleven big contracts under way on the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Coast. As evidence of what it is doing it may be stated that last month the company put 63,000 tons of rock into the Cleveland breakwater, a rate which if carried on for the Hilo job, would finish that contract in about three months.

Even on the achievements of his company Mr. Wood is loath to dwell. "The records of the U. S. Engineer's office will speak for themselves," he says. "We do nothing but breakwater work. It is our specialty." But while declining to enter into any controversy, any discussion on the Hilo contract, he stated openly his reasons for bidding on the job, and emphasized the point that he will attempt to work with the Federal government through the letting of this work, which in itself is a comparatively small job for the Philadelphia company. "I have for some time been trying to impress upon the government the

ALL PRELIMINARIES ARRANGED FOR U. S.-JAPAN ARBITRATION

BY C. S. ALBERT.

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 14.—All the preliminaries for the negotiation of a General Arbitration treaty between the United States and Japan have been arranged. This was accomplished by a succession of notes the exchange being made at Tokio. The net result was that the Japanese Government has agreed to accept a convention framed on precisely the same lines as the treaties with Great Britain and France.

The final shaping of the treaty will not be taken up for several weeks. It is expected Baron Uchida, the present Ambassador here, will be recalled and made Minister for Foreign Affairs in the new Cabinet. The wording and signing of the new treaty will be deferred until the change takes place. The Government of Japan has announced a willingness to accept the same phraseology as is used in the General Arbitration treaties now awaiting ratification by the Senate.

It was not disturbed by the opposition that has developed and the certainty that the pending treaties will be materially amended. The concluding note declared that Japan would submit a decision of the matter to the American Senate and abide by it.

No disposition was manifested by the Japanese Government to have any provisions relating to immigration or citizenship inserted in the proposed treaty. It was agreed that those problems should be arranged in the new commercial treaty.

The acquiescence of the Japanese authorities in the suggestion advanced by the State Department for a General Arbitration treaty has given great satisfaction to President Taft and administration officials.

RECIPROCITY TO HELP ISLAND TRADE

Fred L. Waldron Sees New Markets If Agreement Is Effected.

PREDICTS ROLPH AS SAN FRANCISCO MAYOR

Commercial Club's New President Returns From Business Trip Up the Pacific Coast.

Reciprocity between the United States and Canada will result in the opening of new markets for Honolulu and the Hawaiian islands generally, predicts Fred L. Waldron, president of the Commercial Club, who has just returned on the Marama from Vancouver, after a business trip that included most of the cities of the Pacific Coast.

Although he believes reciprocity would open a new field for Hawaiian trade relations, Mr. Waldron is rather pessimistic as to the final fate of the agreement. British Columbia, he says, will probably go against Premier Laurier and his reciprocity ideas, for the British Columbia people believe they will be financial losers on the exchange. His opinion, he hastens to add, is based on what he heard in this province, and the sentiment in the eastern provinces may outweigh that of the west.

Mr. Waldron predicts confidently the success of James Rolph, Jr., in the mayoralty fight in San Francisco and declares that Rolph is the man for the place, that under his leadership San Francisco will be a greater city commercially and otherwise than under McCallister, who is widely discredited.

Rolph has the qualities that will make him a splendid Mayor of San Francisco, and to my mind there is no doubt that he will defeat McCallister.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY MAY REPORT THIS AFTERNOON

The Federal Grand Jury continued its session this morning at the United States District Court and is expected to bring in a report during the course of the afternoon. It may, however, be held over until tomorrow. There are a number of small cases which it has been considering and which should be given out in the course of this report. Among the latter cases which it took up, opium is supposed to have figured largely. Otherwise matters around the Federal court were very quiet.

(Continued from Page 1) ties. The estate is willing to deal over to Wolters half of the land and the few feet that come into his property, at a nominal figure. The estate is also willing to give up all its priority rights should Union street be closed up at any later period. This is considered a big point in favor of the scheme.

The matter has been held up by the county for some time and for the last three weeks the estate has been waiting for a letter from the county attorney's office in respect to the refusal for a building license. "We bought the property early this year," said Mr. Galt "and paid $47,000 for it. We went thoroughly into the proposition before we bought it and figured out that only by tearing down the old buildings which the board of health had threatened to condemn time after time could we make it a paying investment and get interest on the capital expended.

The Legislature Question. "We did not go before the Legislature with the matter although at first we thought that that would be the best method of carrying it through. The reason why we did not do so was because we felt that if we did it might seem as though we were asking something of the community which would benefit only us. At last, however, we were approached by one of the Territorial officials and asked to put the matter up to the Legislature. He told us that he was in favor of it and that, from the Governor down, everyone would back us right through. Our attorney saw the Governor and as he was agreeable we drew a bill and incorporated everything in it that the government wanted, in fact we drew it out from the survey plan made by the Public Works Department and on which we have been working all along. As you know the bill was killed. I have since ascertained that this was brought about by some of the people interested in the proposed Bishop street extension, as they thought that it would injure their interests. They have found out their mistake since.

Drew Up Plans. "Then when we found that we could do nothing we had our architects draw up plans and sent them along to the building inspector. After keeping them for five days he sent them back with one or two suggested alterations which were made just as fast as our architects could put them in. The plans were returned to the inspector again and after another wait of two days we were informed that he could not issue a building permit.

"Inquiry as to the reason gave us no satisfaction and then we were referred to the County Attorney's department and told that we would get a letter informing us of the whole of the facts in the course of a couple of days. That was three weeks ago and we have heard nothing so far. As far as we are concerned we are doing our utmost to do what is right by the community. At the same time we have all that money tied up and getting practically no interest from it.

"As far as the question of the shutting down of Union street is concerned we are quite prepared to waive all priority as far as we are concerned with that. This will allow the commission more frontage on Hotel street and may help along the extension of Bishop street. The estate is not asking anything from the government except just what the government suggested in the first place.

"We do not want any money; we are prepared to pay it out and would even take in the whole of the frontage on Union street if such a thing was desired. We paid $5.54 for our big lot and are prepared to pay the same for the remaining portion and all that we will ask you gentlemen to do is, if you agree with it, to have the matter put through as fast as it is possible. Then we will have fresh plans made out and will run up a $25,000 or $40,000 building as fast as we can.

"We are under a written contract with Mr. Jungclaus of the Palm cafe to give him a certain building and he has gone and ordered several thousands of dollars worth of material, including oil burners for his bakery, in order to do away with the smoke that is such a nuisance at the present time."

POI MAKERS FOR ARREST As reported in the Bulletin, Food Commissioner Edward B. Blanchard has been putting the probe into the manufacture of poi. As a result, he is to bring action against three of the makers on Monday or Tuesday next. Those who are to suffer are ones who have persistently been below the standard and who have not taken any notice of the warning given them from time to time.

In a letter from a Honolulu correspondent, the Maui News last Saturday published the following article, giving alleged details of the "deal" by which Capt. A. N. Tripp, harbor-master, has been dismissed and W. R. Foster named in his place:

"The Roosevelt era of youth continues. Captain Tripp, who has been on the waterfront here for seventeen or eighteen years, is out of a job, due to the action of the Harbor Commission. Billy Foster, for a time second mate on an inter-island steamer, and since then with Davies & Co., and the Honolulu Construction company, takes the place. Foster is not to say a young man, nor yet is he old. I would call him a betwixt and between and whether it was entirely on the score of age that he takes Tripp's place or for other reasons I am not prepared to say. Tripp, in his mode of speech is after the pattern of a Dickens sailorman. Not a cliche, of course, but a blunt old son of Neptune who has battled with whales in the far off Arctic.

"He was a jailor in the old prison on 'the reef,' twenty odd years ago, when things were not so up to date as now so that when a dissatisfied prisoner walked out that was about all there was to it. I remember when four men, who had been mixed in an affair on Hawaii which resulted in the death of a Japanese, were sentenced to long terms in the prison and when a couple of the longest termers walked out there was no effort made to find them. I was walking through the grounds at the Judiciary building one morning and overheard Tripp in the most matter of fact way tell the chief justice, Judd, that 'another one of them fellers from Hamakua had left the jail.'" Then when the overthrow came in '93 it was discovered by one or two of the radical overthrowers that Tripp had been on too friendly terms with one monarch to keep him in jail so he was let out and afterwards given a position on the customs force. Opium had been selling at a normal figure for months but Tripp's honesty sent the price kiting and it went up to seventy dollars a tin and lo, but there was a watchful eye kept on the boxes that came ashore. Tripp was considered up to that time the most honest man in the service for he would grant no concessions to anyone, even his relatives. He watched the freight so closely that he annoyed the men who brought dope to the Celestials here in the islands and as there was no show for the smuggler to make an honest dollar, Tripp went out. Then he went on the front as assistant to Captain Fuller and he has been shifting vessels from one berth to another ever since and there was seldom, if ever, an accident. Foster was with Davies, as I have said and managed the teams and freight of the firm until Billy Hooks started in opposition to Huxtable. A deal was made in which Davies helped Hooks by turning over freight to the new firm with the understanding that Foster would be taken over as a chattel. The arrangement worked satisfactorily until business got so good that Foster was rather in the way but there was something more than a gentleman's agreement and he remained. James Wakefield was the man who engineered the deal that put Foster with the firm and as he is a commissioner it is likely he did the same good turn by helping him out of that job into something that will pay better. I don't believe Wakefield had anything against Tripp. McStocker, another of the high and mighty, may have had because he was active in the overthrow of the Queen when Tripp was let out of his job in the jail and he occupied an important place in the custom house when he was let out there. It is a coincidence that he should be in two different places when an old timer like Tripp should be thrown out of a job. Tripp needs no charitable sympathy. He has lands and houses. He has always been economical and was void in composition of many of the characteristics of the sailor for he could have a dollar in his pocket at any time and pass a soloon without spending. It is said of him that he wears today a suit of clothes that was made for him when he was warder of the jail; that the cloth did not cost him anything and the making was done by a tailor who was serving a term. I don't believe it. Hyades Due on Sunday. I would rather have Russians working for me on this sort of a job than any others. Their work hard, will do what you tell them and will stick with you. The party is also experiencing great difficulties in connection with its food supplies. All of this has to be packed in through the forest on their backs. When the streams are swollen and they have to go right around by the ridges, it is no fun. They expect to be there about six weeks or two months more. String of Rain Gauges. "We have now established a string of rain gauges from Hilo right up to the 4000-foot mark, and observations are taken of these and the various amounts registered at regular intervals. At first I had some made that would hold 50 inches, but I soon found that we could not get to them soon enough, and then I had some put up that would hold 20 inches. These are working satisfactorily. They are placed every 500 feet throughout the whole of the distance."

Gregg Brothers Participate in Salvage. News is brought here concerning the salvage operations conducted by the Gregg brothers, well known in Honolulu, who did much towards assisting in the repairs to the barkentine Amazon, which put into Fanning Island in a distressed and leaking condition. The Amazon was laden with lumber and was en route from San Francisco to Melbourne. The vessel had been placed in seaworthy condition a few days before the Sailor Boy set sail for San Francisco on her memorable voyage.

Rolling Did the Damage. The greatest damage to the Sailor Boy was done in calm weather, say her officers. The terrific rolling caused by long swells during which time there was little or no wind, succeeded in working havoc with the masts and gear of the vessel. For days after leaving Fanning the Sailor Boy rolled in the trough of a heavy sea. Her mainmast head is broken off, and many of the stays are strained or parted. The vessel looks the part of a wreck as she lies in the stream.

LINK'S HOGS IN A MELON PATCH SEATTLE GETS BIG TRADE HERE

Thomas J. King, president and manager of the California Feed company, has placed with Puget Sound dealers the biggest order for grain, hay and feed generally ever given from the Hawaiian Islands, according to news from the Northwest, where Mr. King has recently been on a buying trip.

A Seattle paper of August 28 tells of Mr. King and his deals as follows: Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands are depending more and more upon Puget Sound dealers for their supply of grain and hay, and the large business in grain that formerly was done with San Francisco has shifted largely to Seattle. This was the statement made by T. J. King, president of the California Feed company, Ltd., of Honolulu, who is in the city contracting for the coming season's supplies.

This is Mr. King's twenty-eighth trip to the Pacific Coast. He has been a resident of the Hawaiian Islands for the past thirty-one years. He stated yesterday that he expects this to be his last trip. He is anxious to have other members of the firm do the buying hereafter.

"It may seem strange, but no hay at all is raised in the islands," said Mr. King. "Very little grain is produced. Prices are such this year that I expect the Pacific Northwest will just about supply the islands with the bulk of the hay and grain, particularly the grain, that will be required this season.

"The islands will require a large quantity of forage this year. The sugar and pineapple crops are large and the islands generally prosperous."

CHINESE CHILD FALLS AND DIES

Dan Ah Tack, a Chinese youth, aged three years and a half, who was playing on the railing of a two-story tenement building behind the Asahi Theater last night, fell off the veranda onto the cement sidewalk, fifteen feet below, and died shortly afterwards. The youth, according to the witnesses, lost his balance while sliding on a railing and fell down to the street. His body was taken to the morgue this morning, where the coroner's jury, summoned by Sheriff Jarrett, took a look at it. The inquest will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the police station.

KAIMUKI STIRRED AT LACK OF FIRE PROTECTION

Representative Ed. Towse, whose voice rang forth in legislative halls some months back in championing the rights of Kaimuki and other hill districts included in Honolulu's thriving suburbs, has donned war paint and would enter the arena and tilt a lance with none other worthy antagonist than Supervisor Harry Murray, whom he styles the "boss of the board."

Representative Towse made bold to speak his mind to an assembled municipal body of lawmakers and particularly directed several caustic shots at Murray in the course of his remarks which were along a line calling for some sort of fire protection for Kaimuki.

Supervisor Murray plainly resented the Towse insinuations and reflections which this city father termed as "slurs on each and every member of the board."

hold the floor despite the request from Murray that he be ruled out of order. Mayor Fern who officiated as mediator, apparently took keen delight in the passage of bon-mots between a layman and a member of a refractory and Republican board.

Towse insisted that the present board of supervisors had done nothing for Kaimuki. The people there had built two streets to every one laid by the municipality. He even went farther and stated that the residents out in his district expected to continue such a policy and were prepared to carry it out by the raising of private subscriptions.

Towse with a display of sarcasm ventured the suggestion that one of the proposed Seagrave chemical engines be sent to Kaimuki. This intimation riled Murray who immediately took to his feet and told the Representative that it was the intention of the board to place both motor driven chemical engines in the business district.

The board has authorized the taking out of insurance on two thousand dollars' worth of band music, in the Hackfeld agency, at a cost of $31.20.

Treasurer Shingle through deputies reported on city and county finances as follows: Receipts for August, $163,470.13; disbursements, $14,861.92; balance on hand the last day of the month, $198,596.21.

The board was informed by Deputy City and County Attorney Milverton that there was nothing in the city charter that prevented Dr. Wayson, present city and county physician, from drawing a salary as a member of the insanity commission, in addition to his other monthly stipend.

Schuman Lands a Fat Contract. One Schuman landed a winger in the award of a contract for the purchase of two Seagrave motor-driven chemical fire engines. McClellan made a strong talk for the Seagrave, his main point being that Schuman was the lowest bidder on one as well as two cars. He maintained that there was a saving to the city of over a thousand dollars in the purchase of the Seagrave, and, besides, the municipality was bound in honor to award the contract to the lowest bidder or else call for new tenders. McClellan cited the Vancouver fire department as being third in point of efficiency in the whole world.

In the opinion of Supervisor Low, the Knox car was the best and most adapted to the needs of the city. True, the Knox chemical was the highest priced car listed with the board, but Low stated that he had data concerning recent tests of Stockton, Cal., in which half a dozen chemical engines participated. According to his statements, the Knox led the procession in the performance of all sorts of difficult stunts.

"NO BLARNEY" SAID LUCAS

"You can't swine my land, and I'll soon let you know that I will not stand being made a goat by a lot of city supervisors," dramatically declared Jack Lucas to an assembled board last night.

Jack dropped in on the deliberations of the city and county fathers. He had "blood in his eye" as he sat through a couple hours of legislation, in which money was scattered with a lavish hand in the purchase of motor-driven chemical engines, the consideration of expensive oil-sprinkling devices and the substantial boost of municipal salaries, besides the payment of damage claims.

MUCH MONEY CIRCULATES AS SUPERVISORS DELIBERATE

Much money has been sent into circulation following upon the heels of the rather animated gathering of the city and county supervisors last evening.

Kaimuki, Palolo Valley, Kalihi Camp, Nuuanu Valley, Manoa Valley and other outside districts had lay representatives at the gathering of the city fathers, each hoping that some small crumb of comfort might be thrown from the municipal table. They waited in vain, while the board appropriated funds for the purchase of two Seagrave auto chemical trucks to cost $10,500, the contract being awarded to the Schuman Carriage Company.

who stated that he had suffered incalculable injury to anatomy and trousers through falling into an open manhole located near the corner of King and Alakoa streets.

When City and County Engineer Gere came forward with the request that the road department be provided with a new fan-spray oil-sprinkling device costing $350, with a possible $50 added for freight charges, the supervisors without dissent ordered the matter to the consideration of the ways and means committee.

The Trail and Mountain Club extended the palm for a donation of $5,000, the same to be applied in placing existing trails in better condition for general travel. This sum seemed to stagger the members for a moment, so they voted to pass the buck to the road committee. Trails may have to await the completion of some of the more essential highways of commerce.

This is the way that the matter looked last night. Professor Bryan was on hand to add a word in behalf of the Trail and Mountain Club if such was desired.

An echo of King street paving proposition was heard in the final reading of a communication from Marston Campbell, who informed the board that the Department of Public Works contemplated no change in the water pipe line along that portion of King street lying between Nuuanu and the point where King street joins Beretania avenue. Campbell also stated that the department was ready to proceed with water main and connections along Keolu street whenever the board signified its intention to start paving this thoroughfare.

When the Pily club of Harvard sends to Honolulu for the man to preside at its seventy-fifth anniversary you may know that the Territory of Hawaii grows something besides sugar, pineapples and allens.

There ought to be some surplus money here this year to carry out schemes for entertaining the tourists. This profitable line of business should not be allowed to run itself into the ground like the sugar stock market.

"What's the job?" is the question asked by a visiting Congressman when told that a movement was on foot to move the Federal building site from the location selected by the people and the officials. That's one of the questions that was not published by the morning paper when scheming up an interview on "civic center."

Don't try to fool Mr. Kahn with the statement that the northern excursion to Honolulu failed last winter on account of the coastwise shipping laws. The ship was chartered and the whole thing was in shape to proceed successfully when Portland and Seattle got into a row over two excursions. A coast family row and an attempt to force too much of a good thing is what killed off that enterprise. If the coastwise law suspensionists can't tell the plain facts, they might as well quit the job.

TAFT'S KEY NOTE-TARIFF SPEECH.

"No tariff for politics only." This is the key note of the Taft campaign that was sounded before the Republicans assembled at Hamilton, Mass., a few weeks ago.

As the Washington correspondent of the Bulletin writes in one of his recent letters, the flatfooted statements of the President were a surprise, coming on the eve of a Presidential campaign. But this is characteristic of the man. The public need have no doubt of where he stands. He asked for reciprocity and he got it, but that is no reason why he should upset the Republican policy of establishing a tariff commission and being guided by it, merely because some of the members of Congress were in a hurry to revise the tariff.

This address by the President will furnish the topic for many speeches and much discussion during the next twelve months and we commend it to the careful perusal of Bulletin readers who keep in touch with national events. Its main points are given herewith:

"I am here to speak words of encouragement as to the outlook for Republican success," President Taft said in part. "You have a State election immediately before you, into which it seems to me national issues ought to enter. We have just finished an extra session of Congress, called to confirm the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

"Our Democratic friends were not content to allow the session to pass with the accomplishment of the purpose for which it was called. I am sorry to say that, having pursued a purely statesmanlike course, with reference to reciprocity they did 'play politics' of the most irresponsible character in respect to three tariff bills. The bills bear internal evidence of the fact that they rested on a basis of 'tariff for politics only.'"

After describing at length what he called "profound errors" of Mr. Underwood, Democratic House leader, in framing a "free trade" wool bill, and sketching, later replaced by Mr. La Follette's "protectionist" measure Mr. Taft said: "The bill is seen to be a compromise between avowed free traders and avowed protectionists; a bill conceived in an unnatural alliance; a bill the product of political log rolling for the purpose of securing its passage; a bill framed in ignorance of the exact effect of its operations, and a bill that presents only those methods in its adoption which had been generally condemned in the making of previous tariff bills. No tariff bill within any one's recollection has ever been passed with so little care. These men, who before had been eager for a scientific revision of the tariff, declined to wait 90 days to hear a report of a full investigation.

"Under the present conditions it irritates these gentlemen of the House and Senate, who have been engaged in passing tariff legislation for politics chiefly to have the report of the impartial tariff board referred to as a reason for waiting 90 days in order to obtain care in legislation which is of vital interest to the country and its industries. I submit that the congressional history of this legislation, taken with the previous inconsistent position of Mr. Underwood and Mr. Clark, Mr. La Follette and his associates, is sufficient proof that it ought not to have been signed.

"It is enough to convince the people of this commonwealth that the party in power in the lower House, and the combination which was temporarily in power in the upper house ought not to receive from them a vote of confidence.

"The other two revenue measures were really impromptu and were so loosely drawn that to have put them on the statute books would have been a serious reflection upon the Congress responsible for them. They would have produced the utmost confusion in the collection of revenues, would have made very different changes in the rates from those which the authors of the bills intended, and were certainly not measures that any Congress would have been willing to be responsible for if they had been framed with a bonafide purpose of expectation of making them into law.

"They were plainly measures made to appeal to a supposed popular desire and with the hope that by the veto, which they had every reason to expect, they might invite popular hostility toward the executive and the party of which he was the head. These are the simple facts in respect to the tariff legislation attempted in the House and in the Senate.

"With respect to the commonwealth of Massachusetts the amendments of the woolsen schedule, of the cotton schedule and of the duty on shoes were of the most serious. I cannot tell what their effect would be, but as they were measures favoring of free trade and avowedly departing from the principle of protection when they were framed, it is just to say that they were not drawn for the purpose of helping your industries here. It may be that there were rates in them that would constitute only a proper reduction, but nobody knows, certainly not the framers of the bill. I hope we shall know in December.

"I am here to speak the truth as nearly as I can. I recognize the general demand throughout the country for a reduction of duties, so far as that reduction can be made consistent with the maintenance of a measure of protection that shall enable the industries of the country to live.

"The time of the Chinese wall and duties exceeding the difference between the cost of production here and the cost of production abroad has passed, and we of the Republican party are under an obligation as soon as opportunity comes to advocate and carry through a revision of the tariff which shall meet the present popular demand, and to which we are really pledged. Therefore, when the Tariff Board shall make its report in December on wool and cotton, I expect to submit to Congress recommendations based on their report for a revision of both schedules.

"I have already expressed my opinion that the woolsen schedule is too high, that it has prevailed for so many years that it ought to be revised, and is the subject of complaint, in the primaries," said Mr. Waldron this morning. "San Francisco is a little dull now in a business way, but Rolph's election will be a wonderful help to business there.

"McCarthy will be turned down by many of the same elements that helped elect him. He is unpopular and all interested devoted to the welfare of the city realize that he must be beaten.

"I hardly look for any union labor troubles in connection with construction work on the exposition buildings, and as a matter of fact, the fair management is planning to prevent any such difficulties."

Speaking of the reciprocity agreement and its chances, Mr. Waldron said:

"It seems to me that reciprocity would be a good thing for Hawaii. We would get Canadian markets and Canadian trade that we do not have now. Of course, it might not develop much immediately, but it would be another field for us. However, I am afraid reciprocity will be beaten in the Canadian elections. British Columbia is nearly as I could judge, was against it.

"But I was glad to see that there was not the slightest intimation of national feeling in the talk about reciprocity. The objection is not based on the fact that one side is Canadian and the other American, but on purely business principles. The Canadians are afraid they will lose commercially by the financial effect of the agreement.

"Portland and Seattle are booming, although in Seattle real estate has gone back a little. Vancouver is a great city now in point of rapid growth and development and will be a greater city."

Mr. Waldron saw Thomas J. King, of the California Feed Company, on the Coast and says Mr. King is looking very well and much improved in health.

HONOLULU CONSOLIDATED'S PLANT IS LARGEST IN THE WORLD

Description of Gusher and Great Plant For Gasoline.

DETAILS OF ACTIVITIES OF CAPTAIN MATSON

Think Standard or Associated Would Like to Control Holdings of Consolidated—Gusher Goes Over Derrick.

Honolulu Consolidated comes in for a large share of space in the August 31st issue of the California Oil World published in Bakersfield, Cal.

First is told the story of the starting of the new gusher.

Then comes a full description of the new plant installed to convert natural gas into gasoline.

Finally is the story, with Capt. Matson's denial, of the report that the Consolidated's holdings will be sold to either the Associated or Standard Oil interests. The articles follow:

FELLOWS, Aug. 30.—"All things come to him who waits," sometimes, provided he keeps hustling. For three months Tom Kingston has been "fussing" with No. 10 well of the Honolulu Consolidated up in the northwest corner of section 31, 31-23, but he could not get it either to pump or flow. Although there was oil sand, there was no production. Last Friday night he was aroused from slumbers deep and sweet by a roar. Investigation showed No. 10 spouting oil at a great rate. Before breakfast it had tanked 2000 barrels, and is still going.

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 30.—A telephone message to the California Oil World from Fellows this afternoon says that Honolulu No. 10 is going over the derrick. A gauger for the Standard is quoted as saying that the flow means 10,000 barrels a day.

there is a deficiency in California, and promises to be the forerunner of an extensive industry wherever gas is found containing a sufficient amount of gasoline to make its extraction pay.

Petroleum Gas is Rich.

Not all of the gas in the Buena Vista Hills contains gasoline to an extent that it can be profitably handled. The gas found in the upper strata is practically free from it, and that of the second strata contains but a small amount. But with greater depth the gas, which evidently has passed through or been generated in the formations which contain petroleum, is quite heavily saturated. In a strictly gas well the tests conducted in the small test plant on the Honolulu showed about five quarts of gasoline to the 1000 feet of gas. In oil wells the casing-head gas bolts gas as high as two and five-eighths gallons, where the product of the wells is 26 gravity.

Capacity of Plant Large.

The Honolulu plant, the installation of which is due to the ability of Capt. William Matson, president of the company, to grasp the wonderful possibilities of the method employed, and the extent of which is on the broad scale on which the property has been developed, was purchased from the Bessemer Gas Engine company. It comprises four units each consisting of two 80-horse Bessemer air compressors. The capacity of the entire plant is 4,000,000 feet of gas in twenty-four hours but the plant will probably not be run above 85 per cent of its capacity, in order to get the best results.

How it is Done.

The gas is taken in at zero, or a slight vacuum, through a six-inch main through a low pressure machine and is discharged from that machine at a high pressure of forty pounds through a single header, where any water in the gas is condensed and taken off. From there it is taken through a three-inch main into a high pressure machine, from which it is discharged, through a double header at a pressure of 300 pounds, through an expansion coil of 100 feet, where residue gas from a high pressure tank finishes the cooling process. The condensed liquid then passes through a series of brass tubes, where it is purified, and from there goes into receiving tanks of 2000 gallons capacity, from where the gasoline is drawn off under high pressure to stock tanks.

GASOLINE EXTRACTION PLANT IS LARGEST IN WORLD

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 30.—The Honolulu Consolidated Oil company has completed the largest plant in the world for the extraction of gasoline from gas, an industry yet in its infancy but in which perfection has all but been reached. The plant is located high up in the Buena Vista hills, almost on the top of the range in which has been developed one of the most remarkable and extensive natural gas belts known to exist.

Though only partially developed, the gas zone is of such extent and the volume of gas so great that it is considered to be practically inexhaustible. The operation of the plant will take a valuable commodity from a natural product, a commodity in which rior for domestic use, as it is clean from soot and dirt.

The Honolulu plant is complete in installation and lacks but the connection with the mains from the wells and the building of a structure in which to house it. The machinery was installed by Mr. Pratt, chief engineer of the Honolulu, and Marvin Robinson of the Bessemer, under the direction of W. D. Shira, salesman for Captain Matson. The work of installation is as perfect as can be done and is a marvel of workmanship, especially when the isolated location is considered. The plant has been tested out and found to be in perfect working order, and has been turned over to the Honolulu Consolidated to be operated.

Other Plants Operating.

The next largest to the Honolulu plant is that of the Penn Gas company at Steubenville, Ohio, which extracts 4500 gallons of gasoline daily. The Boulder-Greeley Oil company at Boulder, Colorado, has a single unit plant consisting of two 35-horse power compressors, which was the farthest west plant of any until the Honolulu was built. It produces 800 gallons daily. A plant has lately been installed at Tulsa, Oklahoma, which turns out 3000 gallons.

The product of these gasoline plants is said to be superior to the general run of gasoline sold for motor cars. By regulation of the pressure it can be made as high as 94 gravity but such light gasoline is unprofitable to manufacture because of the loss by evaporation in handling, and cannot be used in automobiles except by mixing with a lower grade of distillate. The grade which is most acceptable and profitable is 72 to 76 gravity.

How the Business Started.

The extraction of gasoline from gas had its origin about fifteen years ago, in the eastern fields, where it was generated by vacuum pumps used in bringing the oil to the top, and caught in the "drips." In this manner hundreds of barrels were procured yearly and it commanded a ready market. This led to experiments in compression but it was not until three years ago that a satisfactory process was developed.

LARGE INTERESTS WOULD LIKE TO GET PROPERTY

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 30.

California Oil World, Bakersfield, Cal. Absolutely no truth in report we are selling out. Have had no offer and properties not for sale.

WM. MATSON.

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 30.—Evidently some one with the ability to buy, wants the Honolulu Consolidated. Notwithstanding Captain William Matson's statement that the property is not for sale, it may be sold. Every oil man has his price.

Too many facts, isolated in themselves, but grouped together strongly indicative of a desire on the part of some strong organization to secure the property have reached the office of the California Oil World recently.

The product of the company is oil of a high gravity, valuable for refining purposes, and natural gas, some of it rich in gasoline, for the extraction of which a plant costing $50,000 has been completed, and all of which finds a ready market in the field for fuel.

Standard or Associated?

The circumstances, which are more or less of an intangible nature, that point to the probable side of the property, and with it the personal holdings of Captain Matson, indicate either Standard Oil or the Associated as the buyer. The former has a contract with the Honolulu for a million barrels or more of oil, but the well defined policy of the company is to avoid taking over lands the right to which may become a subject of strict inquiry by the government owing to withdrawal order entanglements, seems to eliminate it from the case.

With the Associated the circumstances are different. This company is offered and its affairs are directed by men who "take a chance" in the oil game. The Associated, moreover, has recently bought a refinery and the light oil of the Honolulu, together with the gasoline which it is possible to extract from its gas, would be a nice factor in its business. It has recently bought oil of the same grade from the Beltrige and the Universal. It has always been both a producing and a marketing company, having its origin in a combination or association of producers to combat the Standard.

An Empire in Extent.

The Honolulu holdings consist of all of sections 2, 4, 8, 10, 12, 14 and 24 and a large part of section 26, in township 32, range 24, of which all but 24 and 26 are in the Buena Vista hills; eighty acres on section 18, 32-25, adjoining the Pyramid and the north half of section 31, 31-25, Midway Valley. The company has several oil and gas wells, the oil being sold to the Standard and the gas to MacDonald Brothers at Taft and by them distributed throughout the field. The Honolulu also serves some of its neighbors gas for drilling purposes, and has a nice revenue from this source.

Captain Matson started operations in Midway and the Buena Vista hills more than two years ago, and made the first big strike of natural gas in that section. The land which the company controls was mostly purchased from the original locators. Sections 2 and 10 in the Buena Vista hills and the 320 acres on 31, 31-25, are patented.

Henry Bacon of New York was selected to design the $2,000,000 Lincoln memorial.

NEWS OF DAY ON WATERFRONT

Mate Andrews of Sailor Boy, a Printer
 There is a genial salt aboard the little American schooner Sailor Boy, now lying in the stream pending orders for her repair, who at no distant date worked at a case as a practical printer.

Some six months ago, F. C. Andrews, sailed from San Francisco in the lumber laden schooner, proposing to make a round trip to the South Seas in search of health. For years he has been identified with the larger publishing houses along the coast and judging from testimonials and documents he has on hand, was well up in the art "preservative of all arts." Chief Mate Andrews was much benefited by his half year at sea. He is a genial soul, possessing a wealth of stories of travels over land and sea. The mate proposes to stay with the ship until she returns to San Francisco with the load of copra.

Logan Away for the Philippines.
 Shortly after eleven o'clock this morning amid the blare of melody from the Territorial band, the United States army transport Logan pulled away from Hackfeld wharf into the stream and was soon steaming in the direction of Guam and Manila, Philippine islands. A large delegation of local army folk had gathered at the wharf to bid farewell to friends. The several selections from the band brought forth rounds of enthusiastic applause and cheers from the hundreds of enlisted men who thronged the rails of the vessel.

The Logan is expected to arrive at Manila on about October 2nd.

Hyades Will Take Sugar and Pines.
 The Matson Navigation freighter Hyades which is due to arrive from the Sound on Sunday noon will be supplied with a quantity of sugar and pineapples before departing for a return to the coast. As far as known the freighter will take 1800 tons sugar gathered at the ports of Honolulu, Kahului and Port Allen. The steamer will also be given in the neighborhood of ten thousand cases of pineapples from island ports which are to be discharged at San Francisco.

Enterprise to Take Hyades Run.
 The Matson Navigation steamer Enterprise which has been out of commission at San Francisco for a couple of trips has been thoroughly repaired and goes on the run formerly covered by the Hyades. The Enterprise will be laid up on arrival at the Sound, and the vessel will be fitted with large tanks for the transportation of molasses. The Enterprise will probably be off the regular triangular run for two trips.

Columbian Takes Much Sugar.
 The American-Hawaiian steamer Columbian is expected to get away from Hilo this evening with destination as Salina Cruz. The vessel has been gathering up consignments of sugar at several island ports. The freighter will sail for the isthmus with approximately twelve thousand sacks of sugar for transhipment to the East coast of the United States.

Helene Arrived With Cattle.

A shipment of seventy-five head cattle was placed aboard the steamer Helene at Kawaihae and arrived at this port this morning. The Helene also brought 9368 sacks sugar. The vessel met with fair weather on the homeward trip. Three heavy mill rollers was included in the cargo.

Nihuan An Arrival This Morning.
 The Inter-island steamer Nihuan was an arrival this morning bringing 7150 sacks sugar from Hawaii ports. The vessel also brought six sugar mill rollers as part of cargo.

ARMY AND NAVY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—The big army recruit depots of the country soon will be commanded permanently by colonels, instead of by officers of junior grade, as has been the custom in recent years. Seldom has a colonel been detailed to recruiting stations, because of the deficiency in the number of officers of that rank. The extra officers' act, recently passed by Congress, will permit high-grade commanders being assigned to the recruiting depots at Fort Stocum, N. Y.; Columbus Barracks, O.; Jefferson Barracks, Mo.; Fort Logan, Colo., and Fort McDowell, Cal.

Promotion Obstacle Removed.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4.—President Taft today commuted the court-martial sentence of dismissal in the case of Lieut. Robert G. Rutherford of the Twenty-fourth Infantry to a loss of fifty numbers in rank. Lieutenant Rutherford was tried on charges of financial irregularities at Madison Barracks, N. Y. The disposition of the case by the President will permit the War Department to promote a large number of officers in accordance with the extra officers' act.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—The joint maneuvers of the regular army and the organized militia next year will cost $1,500,000, according to estimates prepared by the War Department. These exercises are held on alternate years, none being scheduled this year. The War Department also will ask Congress for a considerable increase in appropriations for reserve field artillery guns and ammunition for the citizen soldiers.

HOLIDAY HOURS AT POSTOFFICE.

Holiday hours will be observed at the postoffice on Regatta Day, Saturday, September 16. The postoffice will be open from 8:59 a. m. to 9:30 a. m. No delivery will be made by letter carriers.

Persons to whom carriers usually deliver mail may obtain such an application at general delivery windows.

EXTENSION IS STILL HELD UP

The Sullivan and Buckley property is still the stumblingblock in connection with the opening up of the Bishop Street extension, but it is hoped that the commission will be able to do something tomorrow at its meeting, when the details of the $100,000 offer made through the Waterhouse Trust Company are available.

Frederick E. Steere appeared before the commission this morning and made a statement of the case. He also promised that the details would be ready by the next meeting. Sullivan and Buckley want the cash, according to what Mr. Steere said this morning, and will not take any notice of a compromise.

The matter of the opening is held up for the present until the commission can get to work and make the Sullivan and Buckley people an offer that will suit them or, failing this, start condemnation proceedings.

HEALTH BOARD MAY VISIT MILLS INSTITUTE TODAY

The usual weekly meeting of the Board of Health will be held this afternoon at half-past three o'clock.

Among the matters that are to come up for discussion is that of a sewerage system for the Mid-Pacific Institute. There is constant trouble out there with the cesspools overflowing, and the whole of the board will, in all probability, make a trip of inspection.

The confirmation of the appointment of Sanitary Inspector Hayden on Hawaii and also of Dr. McConkey for Maui will also be asked. Owing to the weekly meetings, matters do not pile up so rapidly as they used to, and there is only a small list.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The Celtic Chief case will come up again at the United States District Court tomorrow when Captain Pitz will be placed on the stand again.

The land case in which K. Laanea is bringing action against S. Mabelona should finish very shortly now, Mabelona being placed on the stand this morning.

The Hawaiian band serenaded Police Judge Monsarrat in his courtroom—almost. The band came into court about ten o'clock, but it appeared that the musicians were there only as spectators.

M. T. Sinton, master in the guardianship of Edward Dreier, a minor, filed his report in connection with the second annual account of Cecil Brown the guardian. The receipts show $19,919.83 and the expenditures $9,286.19.

The Marquis of Queensberry called for New York on the Mauretania, intending to seek a livelihood in the United States.

Cascarets Insure Inside Cleanliness

The millions of Cascaret users never have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

YUCATAN TROOPS KEEP ORDER

(Associated Press Cable.) MERIDIA, Yucatan, Sept. 13.—State guards today fired into a crowd of excursionists and eight persons were killed and sixteen wounded, some of whom will probably die.

A political celebration in honor of Francisco Madero, candidate for president of Mexico, was held here and a special train brought hundreds of celebrants.

Trouble Due to Liquor. Trouble occurred a number of times on the grounds, due to unlimited quantities of liquor, and the state guards had all they could do to preserve order.

Later in the day a mob of drunken men attempted to take possession of the train and, upon refusal to disperse, the guards opened fire with fatal results.

FEDERATION TALKS HULAS

Meeting Results In Discussion of Many Interesting Subjects.

The Civic Federation held an interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in Public Service Association headquarters, taking up a large and varied number of subjects. Child labor and hula dancers, better mail carrier service and minimums, and a few other things were brought before the federationists, who gave each much earnest discussion.

Chairman Anderson of the legislative committee submitted a report on child labor in the Islands, containing a letter from President James Dole of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, Mr. Dole explains the labor that children do in the canneries, stating that many of the children were sent to the cannery for employment by the Palama Settlement Association and other public charities and that the work is not arduous nor the surroundings unhealthful. The federation, however, believes that abuses may finally come in Hawaii unless a law covers the subject, and the committee was instructed to prepare a bill along the desired lines.

Chairman McClesney of the park committee, reporting on the recent gift by Queen Liliuokalani of a park to the city, which will be called Liliuokalani Gardens, said that options have been secured on adjoining property and a fund of $5990 will be raised for improvements.

Saloon conditions were brought up but no action taken, the feeling being that this matter is not in the province of the federation. It had been proposed to object formally to any Kakaako saloons.

Francis J. Green presented a resolution on the needs for more mail delivery routes, and considerable discussion resulted. A special committee of three will be named by President Arthur G. Smith to go into the matter.

When the federationists got onto the question of hula dancing, there was an interesting line of talk developed. Professor Cooke brought the matter up by mentioning the hula show advertised for a local theater. This started off a discussion of hulas, harmless or the reverse, of the haka-haka of Maori-land, the miki-miki of Fiji and the gish-ah of Japan. Professors Gulick, Bryan, Cooke and Ford took part in debating the relative merits. The point was brought out that a hula if done in a seemingly manner is harmless and indeed an attractive promotion feature for the Islands. So the federationists talked over the proposition of denaturing the hula and making it serviceable as a Hawaiian attraction.

The Sheng Linn, the Chinese government student at the University of Maine, who shot Miss Christine M. Shaw, a young Orono school teacher, on the night of June 8, was found guilty and remanded to jail for sentence.

PETITION IS LAID ON TABLE

The petition signed on behalf of Captain Tripp and asking that the board reconsider its decision in connection with the appointment of Captain Foster as harbor master in his place, as reported in the Bulletin yesterday afternoon, was dealt with by the harbor commissioners sitting in a committee of the whole. On resuming, they reported that the petition had been laid on the table and the board endorsed the action of the committee.

Inquiries were made from the board by Sam Johnson, manager of the Pahoa lumber mill, Hawaii, as to what the board called seasoned ohia. He stated that several prospective contractors were asking him if he could supply the blocks. He was told what he wanted to know and can now talk business with all the contractors.

The committee of the whole also dealt with an application from the Kahului Railroad company in respect to a wharf at the angle of the shore and the breakwater. The company wants to deepen the site for its lighters. The chairman is to obtain an opinion from the attorney general as to the whole proposition.

There is under consideration too an application to the Governor to obtain by proclamation an area of land adjoining the Oceanic wharf. It is proposed to use this for storing the cans of pineapple that come from windward Oahu.

GUESTS WERE HOSTS LAST NIGHT AT HAWAIIAN HOTEL

Dancing was revived again at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel last night when the guests entertained their friends. The big banals were lit up with colored lights and those present had an enjoyable time. ROBINSON IS NOT CANDIDATE

Hawaiian Politicians Would Boom Him, But He Refuses.

Leading Hawaiian politicians are discussing a movement to back M. P. Robinson, vice-president of the First National Bank, for Delegate to Congress or for Governor should Frear not be reappointed.

Mr. Robinson disclaims any political aspirations in the direction indicated and yesterday declared emphatically that he intends to take a mainland and European trip shortly for an extended vacation, but the Hawaiians are not satisfied that, if enough pressure were brought to bear, he would not consent to take one of the two positions mentioned.

Mr. Robinson yesterday promptly denied that he will have anything to do with political matters. He stated most emphatically that he has been contemplating making a vacation trip to the States, and to Europe in the early part of next year. He wants rest, he said, after having been in harness a long time.

"No," said Robinson, "I would not consider any political honor now. In the first place, I do not care to get into politics, and secondly, I would like to have a rest. I have not been feeling well lately and I want to go to the States and to Europe, where I can have a good rest."

He also said that he would not be a candidate for the gubernatorial position should Governor Frear fail to get the re-appointment at the hands of President Taft.

The fact is that Mr. Robinson's name has been discussed quite generally by some of the leading politicians. They claim that his name would be acceptable not only to the Hawaiians but to the other elements as well.

When Mr. Robinson was president of the Board of Health he did all he could to relieve the burden of the Hawaiians in the leper settlement. This action on his part has impressed the Hawaiians so much that they are now willing to back him up for any political position. During the monarchy Mr. Robinson was Minister of Finance under Queen Liliuokalani.

JUDSON HARMON GETS SUPPORT

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 1.—The Ohio Democratic Press Bureau, located at Columbus, O., and dedicated to advancing the nomination of Governor Judson Harmon for President, became much dissatisfied with the various congressional polls, all showing that Harmon was second or third choice, Woodrow Wilson and Champ Clark being considerably ahead of him. A newer and more complete poll was taken and the bureau announces the standing of the leading Democratic candidates thus:

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Number of Votes. Includes: The Democrats of the Senate and House voted as follows: For Harmon 54, For Clark 51, For Wilson 37, For Folk 13, For Marshall 14, For Underwood 13, For Carter Harrison 2, For Governor Foss 1, For Dix 1, Non-committal 82.

Captain Thomas Fleming Day, who crossed the Atlantic in a tiny yawl, and his companion Theodore R. Goodwin, arrived in New York on the liner Koenig Albert.

BROWN & ROBINSON TO OPEN AT BIJOU

Brown & Robinson, the team that opens at the Bijou tonight, made a big hit in Australia, to judge by their press notices. The following mention is given them:

At the commencement of the second part of the program, Messrs. Brown and Robinson (who, by the way, have just completed a most successful season at the Tivoli, Sydney, under engagement to Mr. Harry Rickards) made their appearance, and it was some little time before they were allowed to depart. They are both vocalists of a very high order, and the audience was very agreeably surprised at their performance. They opened with a novel turn, entitled "The Bricklayer and His Laborer," in which they both appear attired in laboring costume. They are supposed to be engaged on the erection of a music store, and an organ has already been deposited on the partly finished premises. At knocking off time, some music is suggested. One of the performers sang himself at the organ, whilst the other rolls unconcernedly on a wheelbarrow. They open with a beautiful rendering as a duet, of the "Lost Chord," with orchestral and organ accompaniment. An outburst of genuine applause greeted this number, and as a first encore, they did even better in "Sweet Genevieve." In response to a further encore, "Annie Laurie" was sung. Still the audience were not satisfied, and as a concluding number, the vocalists gave a fine rendering of "Killarney."

HYPNOTISTS WILL EXTEND ENGAGEMENT

That the hypnotists Ayesha and Barnett are giving to the public a first class attraction is proven by the enormous crowds which continue to attend the Savoy. A great number were turned away last night.

Moses Kawa, the young man who was put under a hypnotic sleep for forty-eight hours in J. Hopp's window, was awakened last night on the stage. There were no ill effects attendant on the long sleep, in fact the subject declared he never felt better in his life.

Ayesha and Barnett will extend their engagement in Honolulu by special request of the management, which changes the announcement made in previous issues of this paper. And they wish to announce that they will continue to give a complete change of program, offering an especially good show all this week.

BASLER WILL GIVE HAWAII PUBLICITY

Carl Basler, who has recently been representing a New York publishing company in Honolulu, will leave on the Korea on September 25 for a two years' trip around the world to introduce and establish agencies for the Excelsior Code System, compiled by A. J. Wirtz of this city. Incidentally, Mr. Basler, representing the Hands-Around-the-Pacific Club, will boost Hawaii and other Pacific countries for all he is worth.

Mr. Wirtz, the inventor and compiler of this code system, has been at work on it for over fourteen years, and commercial firms who have studied the result of his compilation unite in declaring the work to be monumental.

Mr. Basler will visit every commercial center of importance in the world, and the introduction of this code system to the world will serve to keep Honolulu and Hawaii before the eyes of all civilized peoples, for it is published in this city by the American-Hawaiian Publishing Co.

Those served with warrants are R. M. Morton, H. Taylor, Albert Afong, A. H. Dondero, Wm. Crune, E. F. Rowald, R. W. Eames, Martin Grune, W. A. Thomas, E. P. Jackson, L. H. Rickey and H. C. Bailey. PUUNENES STIR UP HOME CREWS OVER ENTRY FOR RACES

Healanis and Myrtles Determined to Give Them Good Beating If They Enter Junior Race as Seen Now.

The biggest surprise in the coming clubs for the next couple of days, and Regatta Day sports to be pulled off Saturday is the entry of the Puunene crew last night in both the junior and senior races.

It had been rumored that the Puunenes might compete in the junior race, but their entry in both the junior and senior events has the whole town stirred up. The Healanis and Myrtle club members claim that the action taken by the Puunene outfit in entering both events was to keep them guessing instead of coming right out like good sports and showing that they were going to row in the junior race.

Suspicion has been placed on the Puunenes since a few nights ago, when they turned out for training in the Myrtle barge. This set the Myrtle crews to thinking that it meant that the Maul crew was going to race in the junior event instead of the senior. Last night there was more suspicion, when the Puunene crew went out on the water without Captain Houghs. What did this mean? Well, it proved that with Walker substituting Hough the crew was eligible to compete with the other juniors.

The rule of the Hawaiian Rowing Association disqualified any crew from entering the junior race which has a senior member among its crew. This hits Captain Houghs, who rowed for the Myrtle seniors some years ago. This subject will be the talk of the day.

COMMITTEE HAS ARRANGED MEET

The committee in charge of the A. A. U. meet held its first meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. A full attendance was on hand, with Dr. Hand in the chair.

The arranging of events and prizes was completed, and the place where the meet is to be held decided on.

The events will be pulled off according to the order of events in the rules of the A. A. U. governing track meets, which do not contain any walking event. The rules show that right after the 440-yard run come the 220 trials, followed by the 220-yard hurdles. In the latter event it looks as though there will be only one heat, and if so this will do up Bill Rice some, as Bill expects to do great things on September 30, and with all his favorite events coming one after another he will have to make up his mind to drop a few to make good records. Rice at the present time holds the record for both the 220-yard hurdles and 220-yard dash. As the rules governing contestants stipulate that any who fail to compete in the events for which they have entered be suspended from the meet, athletes who are going to try for records should consider which events they are to compete in before they enter their names in the different events.

The meet will take place at Alexander Field, Oahu College. This is the best running track in the Islands and some good records should be made on it this year.

The events will be pulled off in the following order:

- 100-yard trials.
- 80-yard run.
- 100-yard final.
- One mile run.
- 440-yard run.
- 220-yard trials.
- 220-yard hurdles trials.
- 220-yard final.
- 220-yard hurdles final.
- Pole vault.
- Running high jump.
- Running broad jump.
- Putting 11-pound shot.
- Throwing 16-pound hammer.

All those wishing to compete in the coming meet should register at the Hawaiian News Co. store with John Soper, where each member will receive his A. A. U. card.

No entry fee will be charged, but all entries must be handed in to Mr. Soper by 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 23.

FANDOM AT RANDOM

Jackson, Scharsch and the Japanese wonder, Teukamoto, leave for Maui on the Claudine tomorrow afternoon. They will compete in a fifteen-mile race on September 24. The coming event is attracting much attention on the Valley Island.

Nascimento, a member of the Star team, left for the Coast yesterday. He will be missed in the outfield on the Star lineup Sunday. He has played in four games and made one run for his team out of the twenty-one that were registered.

Jack Johnson is in Paris with his big racing auto. He expects to enter the ring at 210 rounds, eleven more than his best fighting weight. Johnson is to get $20,000, win, lose or draw in his fight with Bombarlier Wells.

Four teams are expected to play the Olympic Club team in a short series on its arrival here. The teams that will tackle the visitors are the Saints, All-Chinese, Fifth Cavalry and an All-Oahu nine.

Pittsburg won another game on September 2, with Marty O'Toole in the box. He struck out nine of the St. Louis players and allowed but three hits.

There is much joy at the Healanis camp at the remarkable work the juniors are doing at present.

STARS SHINE BRIGHT IN TEAM BATTING AVERAGE

The present standing of the teams last week. That helped to swell the in batting and fielding shows some changes from that of the first series. The Stars and J. A. C. hold their positions in the team batting averages, and the P. A. C. have jumped the Hawaii.

In the fielding averages the J. A. C. beat the Hawaii this series, with 931 to the Hawaii's 944 during the first part of the season. The P. A. C. have also awakened in the team fielding averages, going from the tail end to second, and the Stars take their place at the bottom, having made twenty-seven errors during the last five games.

It's a wonder that the Stars manage to win first place in the individual batting list and the team batting averages. There are some terrible left-hand hitters on the team, however, and they do a great deal of damage at times. The Stars, with all their heavy weights, are even leading in the stolen-base column. We must not forget the steal that Manager Marcellino made also Kan Yen!

SAINTS TO PLAY ALL OAHU NINE

In a preliminary game to the five-mile race Saturday, the St. Louis College Alumni baseball nine will buck up against an All-Oahu League team captained by David Desha.

The St. Louis team lineup will be made up as nearly as possible as it will appear when it goes away. The men will be in their regular positions.

The Saints were out practicing last night and showed up well. It is doubtful whether they will be stationed behind the bat, as his thumb is not yet well. Leslie is scheduled to do the twisting. George Bruns, captain of the team, will cover first cushion. He is quite familiar with that position.

Franco will hold down second, as usual, with his side partner, Henry Chillingworth, at the half-way station, and Markham at third base. The fielders will be En Sue, Joy and Sumner.

The picked team will be made up from the following players: W. Rice, a Kona, Kan Yen, I. Tib. Bushnell, Souza, Raphael, Nottley, Avau, D. Desha, Lota, Medeiros, Brito and Ah Teau.

The ball game will take place at 7 o'clock and the five-mile race between Fitzgerald and King will start at 4 o'clock. The Canadian athlete is the favorite.

PROF. DUNCAN OPENS NEW GYM.

The new gymnasium of Professor Duncan will be opened this evening for the first time, and open house will be held tomorrow evening also.

Invitations in great numbers have been sent out by Duncan to friends for made up as nearly as possible as it will appear when it goes away. The gym will be open both tonight and tomorrow evening for the simple reason that there have been so many invitations sent out.

Professor Duncan's gymnasium is situated at 258 Heretania street, and will be open on both occasions at 8:30 o'clock. Duncan has been busy of late giving physical lessons at private homes, but as his gym is fitted out now, he will be ready to take on a large class. There are many business men taking lessons in physical culture from him and he is a dandy in this line.

The gym is well fitted up and has ample room for a big class. After a few weeks the professor will have many pupils under his care. Don't forget the housewarming on the evenings mentioned. One of you who have received invitations.

WATERFRONT NOTES

The All-Red Line.
That the All-Red Line, proposed for the establishment of a fast steamship and mail route between the United Kingdom and Australia, via Victoria, is likely to reach a practical conclusion following upon the Imperial Conference is the report published by the Pacific Marine Review of Seattle. The position is reported by this paper as follows:
"A certain group of financial and leasing houses in London, a syndicate of shipbuilders and a syndicate of shipowners have got together to urge this subject at the next Imperial Conference, and have guaranteed finance up to $5,000,000.
"Competitive units, that is competitive steamship lines in the Canadian-Atlantic trade, competitive Trans-Continental rail lines, and the Canadian-Australian Line, that is the Union Steamship Co. of New Zealand, are all reported to co-operate and to be satisfied upon the proposed terms of participation, division of traffic, etc, and administration, a well-known steamship owner, with steamers now engaged in the Trans-Pacific trades, having been invited to manage the line in London.
"It is stated that oil fuel will overcome the expense and difficulty of carrying coal for high-speed steamers on so long a route, and that the organizers of this service have secured a conditional independent and sufficient supply of oil fuel.
"We repeat none can accuse us of lack of enterprise and appreciation of modern progress, and we believe that this project, without expressing opinion upon the proposed terminals on the Irish coast and connecting ferry services, of which we have no useful knowledge, can be carried out, provided the speed limitations are reasonable on the Pacific, but if the promoters insist upon speeds exceeding 18 knots, or even 18 knots without extraordinary subsidies, for a period equal to the period of full efficiency of the steamers, we believe they will have great difficulty in finally financing same, or at least in obtaining public participation."

British Built Colliers for Japan.
When the steamer Kinkasan Maru was launched at Middlesbrough a few weeks ago, attention was directed to the enterprise of the firm of Mitsui in adopting the latest and most improved type of patent cantilever construction with topside ballast tanks for the four colliers which they have ordered for the service of their Mikko colleries. These vessels, remarks the L. & C. Express, are to be employed in their trade with Hongkong, Shanghai, and the rivers of China. The Kinkasan Maru, of 8,200 tons dead-weight capacity, the first of the four, has been built by Sir Raylton Dixon and Company, Limited. On June 10 she underwent her trial trip, which proved in every way satisfactory. The steamer is of the single-deck type with poop, bridge and forecastle. Her principal dimensions are: Length, 293 ft. 6 in.; breadth, 53 ft. 7 in.; and depth moulded, 29 ft. 7 1/2 in. The principal feature of her design is that she is self-trimming with absolutely clear holds, and six enormous hatchways, each 33 ft. by 32 ft. There are large wing tanks at the top of the holds at each side supported on the cantilever principle and containing 1,350 tons of water ballast, in addition to an equal quantity in the double bottom. The officers' and engineers' accommodation is provided in houses on deck. She has 12 derricks worked by 11 steam winches, electric light throughout, and is in every respect one of the most up-to-date colliers yet built.

Robert Chastee, city marshal of Ulin, Illinois, was shot and killed by unidentified person. He with William Farrell, who was fatally wounded, were standing at a bar when two shots were fired through a front window. Chastee was killed instantly.

Battle of Athens Near Iowa Line in Missouri a Federal Victory—Force Commanded by Lyon at Wilson's Creek Retreats to Rolla—McCulloch and Price Occupy Springfield—Many New Generals Named, Among Them Ulysses S. Grant—McClellan at Washington Daily Expects Attack on Capital by Beauregard—Complains That Old General Scott Is Chief Obstacle to His Plan of Defense—Finally Authorized to Organize Army of the Potomac.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON. (Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.)

FIVE days before the battle of Wilson's Creek occurred the action at Athens, in the same state. Athens is near the Iowa line, in the northeast corner of Missouri. There Colonel David Moore was encamped with a Union force of about 700. A junction of two Confederate bodies under Colonel Martin D. Green was effected, and the combined forces marched on Athens. The size of Green's command is in dispute, the estimates running all the way from 900 to 1,500, but at any rate they were superior to Moore's troop, and in addition Green had artillery, which the Union commander was without.

On the morning of Aug. 6 the Confederates drove in the Union pickets and opened an artillery fire, most of the shots going over the heads of the Federals. A part of Colonel Moore's men was across the Des Moines river at the time, but fled over to the Missouri side with colors flying. Green's men were armed with shotguns and squirrel rifles for the most part, while those under Moore had muskets and were also better drilled than their foe. The fight lasted two hours, when Colonel Moore ordered his center to charge bayonets. At this the Confederates broke and ran, the Union troops following for some distance. The Union commander estimated that his own losses were twenty-three and those of the enemy more than thirty-one. The Federals also captured many prisoners, horses, arms and supplies. The victory was important for its moral effect in northern Missouri.

The situation in the state was somewhat as follows: Late in July the convention had met at Jefferson City and declared the offices of governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of state vacant and provided that they should times. There are differences of opinion as to the motives of Magruder's act. One view is that he wanted to make it impossible for the Federals to encamp there in future and another that he was drunk and fired the village from pure wantonness. On Aug. 6 occurred two engagements—one opposite Point of Rocks, where three Confederates were killed, two wounded and seven taken prisoners, and Matthias point, where a force going ashore from a Union gunboat were ambushed, three being killed and one wounded. In a brush at Lovettsville on Aug. 8 five Confederate soldiers were injured and one lost his life.

Activity in Virginia. After the victorious campaign of McClellan in western Virginia things were quiet in that section for a time, the only movement worthy of note being an effort of the Union General Cox to drive ex-Governor Wise out of the Kanawha valley. On Aug. 3 General Rosecrans reported that this endeavor had been successful and the Confederates had been expelled from the valley. Five days later Captain Dayton attacked and put to flight 200 Confederates near Grafton, killing twenty-one.

Naval activity had been on the increase through the summer, most of the effort on the Union side being directed toward enforcing the blockade and suppressing Confederate privateers. There were several minor engagements about the middle of August. It was reported that the United States steamer South Carolina had captured and destroyed eleven sailships trying to run the blockade. A little earlier the Confederate privateer Petrel was sunk by the United States frigate St. Lawrence, two of the crew being drowned and thirty-five taken prisoners. Another Union boat, the Wabash, recaptured the Mary Alice, formerly taken by the privateer Dixie. On Aug. 10 the United States gunboat Union burned the Con-the eleven states forming the Confederacy were in insurrection against the government, that all commercial relations with them were suspended and that all goods taken in passing between the two sections and vehicles conveying the same were forfeited.

Washington Still Menaced. There was now a renewed rumor that Johnson and Beauregard were about to attack Washington. McClellan had been expecting such an attack and had finally succeeded in convincing General Scott and others that there was actual danger. On Aug. 17 the president issued another proclamation, to the effect that all troops from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Maine and Michigan should be sent immediately to Washington.

These were exceedingly busy days for General McClellan. His letters fairly breathe of haste, anxiety and preparation. On Aug. 8 he writes: "I have scarcely slept one moment for the last three nights, knowing well that the enemy intend some more-ment and fully recognizing our own weakness. If Beauregard does not attack tonight I shall look upon it as a dispensation of Providence. He ought to do it. Every day strengthens me. I am leaving nothing undone to increase our force; but the old general (Scott) always comes in the way. He understands nothing, appreciates nothing." Even on Sunday "Little Mac" was in the saddle from 10 to 5 and was "persecuted" till after midnight seeing the president, senators and others of the common people. Yet, busy as he was, McClellan had time to see much of Prince Napoleon, of whom he speaks often in his letters and whom he finds an "intelligent man."

"Scott the Great Obstacle."

These letters throw a revealing light on the inner nature of McClellan, his strength and weakness. He is an unflinching worker, for one thing, and in inspiring the army with his own energy. On Aug. 9 he writes: "I have had a busy day. Started from here at 7 in the morning and was in the saddle until about 9 this evening; rode over the advanced position on the other side of the river, was soundly drenched in a hard rain and have been busy ever since my return. Things are improving daily. General Scott is the great obstacle. He will not comprehend the danger. I have to fight my way against him. Tomorrow the question will probably be decided by giving me absolute control independently of him. . . . I receive letter after letter, have conversation after conversation, calling on me to save the nation, alluding to the presidency, dictatorship, etc. As I hope one day to be united with you this wife forever in heaven, I have no such aspiration. I would cheerfully take the dictatorship and agree to lay down my life after the country is saved. . . . I met the prince (Napoleon) at Alexandria today and came up with him. He says Beauregard's head is turned." The general's hope of being independent of Scott was delayed for ten days. It was not until Aug. 29 that he had his way and the order was given forming the Army of the Potomac.

Still Fearing Beauregard.

On Aug. 12 he writes, "If Beauregard will give me another week or ten days I will feel quite comfortable again." On the 15th his mind is still running on the same theme, for he says: "I am almost tired out; I cannot get one minute's rest during the day, and sleep with one eye open, looking out steadily for Beauregard, who, I think, has some notion of making a dash in this direction. General Scott is the most dangerous antagonist I have." The next day it is even worse. "I am in a terrible place," he says. "The enemy have from three to four times my force; the president, the old general, cannot or will not see the true state of affairs." But that night there is a rift in the clouds. "General Scott is at last opening his eyes," runs the letter, "to the fact that I am right and that we are in imminent danger." On Aug. 18 he is still more hopeful. "If Beauregard does not attack in two days he has lost every chance of success." On the 19th McClellan adds, "If this week passes without a battle and reinforcements come in I shall feel that the dangerous point is turned."

It is not without interest that the enemy agreed with this estimate, for on the very same day, Aug. 19, the Richmond Dispatch said that "it is too late to attack Washington" but advocated later the capture of Philadelphia and New York.

GENERAL ULYSSES S. GRANT AND SCENE OF HIS ENCAMPMENT IN ARCADIA VALLEY, Ironton, Mo., where he received his commission as brigadier general in August, 1861. While encamped here Grant drew up his plan to open the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers by reducing Forts Donelson and Henry.

be filled at the November elections. The Union men dominated the convention, as they did the state. General Fremont, in command at St. Louis, had designated General John Pope to keep order in northern Missouri. Following the battle of Wilson's Creek Major Sturgis had withdrawn to Springfield, where he was joined by Colonel Sigel, who then took command and retired to Rolla, at which point he soon had reinforcements from Fremont. Generals McCulloch and Price did not attempt to follow up their opponents, though they did advance to Springfield. Here McCulloch issued proclamations claiming credit for victory at Wilson's Creek, but he and Price did not agree, and McCulloch soon after withdrew from the state.

St. Louis Under Martial Law.

If Wilson's Creek had the effect of hearing the Union men in the state at large it produced an opposite result in St. Louis. There the southern sympathizers and men opposed to the Union became so jubilant and unruly that on Aug. 13 General Fremont placed the city under martial law. There were a few skirmishes in Missouri at this time worthy of notice. At Potosi on Aug. 9 occurred a fight in which thirty Confederates were reported to have been killed. There were also brushes at Georgetown on Aug. 11, Fredericktown Aug. 12 and Charlestown Aug. 18, at which a number of Confederate prisoners were taken.

There were likewise a few actions of minor importance in the east. The Confederate General Magruder burned Hampton, Va., a village in the vicinity of Fortress Monroe, where a Union force had been stationed at

Many New Generals Named.

The extra session of the United States congress adjourned on Aug. 6. One of its last acts was to raise the pay of Union soldiers two dollars per month. Among the army and navy officers confirmed by the Senate were the following: Major Generals McClellan, Fremont, Banks, Dix and Butler, Brigadier Generals Mansfield, McDaniel, Rosecrans, Anderson, Meigs, Thomas, McCall, Curtis, Kearney, Reynolds, Helmselman, Porter, Franklin, Stone, Sherman, Hooker, Lander, Baker, Kelly, Lyon, Pope, Cox, Hurlburt, Schenck, Prentiss, Grant, Sigel, Couch, Sprague, Burnside, Montgomery, Phelps, Williams, Buel, Oakes, Hamilton and McClernand. On Aug. 9 the president nominated an additional list of brigadier generals, among the list being the following: O. M. Mitchell, Lewis Blenker, Henry W. Slocum, James S. Wadsworth, John J. Peck, John H. Martinale and George Morrell. Notwithstanding the fact that Lincoln made jocular remarks about the number of brigadiers he appointed, most of these men made names for themselves in the war, some of them taking rank among the world's great commanders. Grant was encamped at Ironton, in the beautiful Arcadia valley, in southeast Missouri, when he received his commission as a brigadier general. Opportunity was at last coming his way and she would find him at home.

Not was the promotion of officers the only sign of activity on the part of the administration. On April 10 the president issued a proclamation that

WILLIE GREEN'S ADVENTURES

WHAT is the unseen force that keeps the stores of this city "everlastingly at it;" a force that makes of the store and merchandise living things, and reflect the life of the man who is at the helm? The store must breathe as regularly as does the human body. If the goods become stagnant and do not sell well the producer cannot live. If the store becomes clogged with goods IT cannot live. So the daily inflow and outgo of merchandise that you see is just the store's process of breathing. Still, it is asked again, "What is the unseen force that compels the store to breathe (do business) and keep 'everlastingly at it?'" The answer is: Crisp, live Advertising in an Evening Paper that goes into the majority of the homes.
