WATER!

WE TAKE PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING TO THE PROPERTY OWNERS IN OUR MAGNIFICENT

PALOLO HILL TRACT

that we have just received the splendid twenty horse power

Fairbanks-Morse Duplex Pumps

ordered from New York City some time ago for the purpose of supplying water from the Kaimuki Reservoir to the large tank at Kaimuki Boulevard and Wilhelmsen Place at an elevation of 340 feet.

The water, famed for its sweetness and purity, will be raised in a four-inch main and distributed in lateral pipes to every lot on the Hill. We have already commenced on our power house and trust that we will have the entire plant in working order within three weeks. We will then invite the public to witness a demonstration of the far-reaching utility of our service. Aside from domestic supply and irrigation purposes, the great water pressure will afford a fire system that cannot be excelled. At points as far as the second crossing of Seers Avenue a one-inch main will throw a stream over a building the height of the Young Hotel. All lateral pipes will be two and three inches in diameter, and residence pipes will be one and a half or two inches. This will give every home on Palolo Hill ample fire protection. All those who have purchased property on our superb tract can commence building at once and be absolutely assured of the finest water supply in Honolulu. We have many desirable lots for sale and will be pleased to show intending home-builders why they will make no mistake in establishing their homes in our beautiful suburban neighborhood. Go out and see the advantages we offer you.

WIFE MAY BE SUED FOR DEBT

The Supreme Court gave its decision today in the case in which the von Hamm-Young Company is suing Mrs. W. Walsh for the sum of $14.84 for seeds, wires and merchandise.

There were two points under consideration, one as to whether the plaintiff had the right to alter the name of defendant after having been mistaken in it. The other was whether a married woman can be sued when she contracts for necessities.

The court holds as follows: "Plaintiff having mistaken the name of the defendant, should have been allowed to amend by substituting the true name." In the second count, "A married woman may contract to pay for articles which are necessities."

In connection with the latter question, the court holds that the plea in abatement should not have been sustained, and says: "The statute which authorizes a married woman to make contracts and to sue and be sued is not confined to contracts for purchases which are not necessities, nor does it preclude her from contracting to pay for articles which the husband is bound to furnish. The right to make such contracts implies the liability to be sued on them."

BOUGHT TEN LOTS.

CHAUFFEUR IS IN HERO CLASS

Quick-headedness, carefulness and quickness to act on the part of Chauffeur David Kamaoaha, saved the lives of Captain Harry T. Lake, of the County Attorney's office, Spanish Interpreter Mullaney and the chauffeur himself last night, while returning from Kahuku in a police automobile.

Kamaoaha, acting under the orders in precedent in Kahuku with Captain Lake and a Spanish interpreter, went there yesterday while the rain was pouring down heavily and the roads were slippery.

On returning there was trouble awaiting them at the Waiakalaua Gulch, where the road was almost impassable. It was about 8 o'clock last night when they reached there, and it was difficult to see the road ahead.

Kamaoaha, who was at the wheel, was going down a hilly grade, when suddenly the machine skidded and whirled entirely around, almost going over the precipice.

Kamaoaha held on to the wheel and jamming the brakes, brought the machine to a standstill about three inches from the edge of the precipice, undoubtedly saving the lives of the party.

Already there is a talk in police circles of presenting Kamaoaha with a gold medal. It is intimated also that a letter of congratulation will be drafted by the county attorney.

ALLEGED BAD TREATMENT SECURES WIFE DIVORCE

Alleging that the brutal treatment handed out to her by Julius Babo had shattered her health and made her afraid to live with him, Annie Babo appeared before Judge W. J. Robinson in the Circuit Court this morning and asked for her divorce, which was granted.

She stated that there are two children now living, Lloyd Babo, nineteen months, and a male child unnamed, nearly two months old. Babo has not only failed to provide for the family, but he has "constantly ill-treated and abused" her (Annie), has called her vile and insulting names before other people, has denied that he is the father of her eldest son, and also struck her with his clenched fist, at the same time charging her and accusing her of immorality.

OAHU COLLEGE WAITING RESULTS OF KAM MEETING

College of Hawaii Intends to Form Another Football Team—Kam School Has Strong Teams—Highs Have Good Prospects in Athletics This Year.

The Oahu College athletes have not done anything in the way of athletics so far, as they are awaiting the result of the meeting to be held by the athletic committee of the Kamehameha Schools to decide whether that institution will play football this year or not. The committee will soon meet to take up the matter.

The College of Hawaii boys expect to turn out a team this year, but as Oahu College and Kamehameha have been rivals in athletics for many years, the former institution would rather play the Kams.

This has been a busy week at the Kamehameha Schools, and no time has been found to talk athletics, but the outline of sports for this year will be arranged as soon as the students settle down. There are so many boys at the school this year that it has been a difficult task to straighten things out. It is hoped that the Kams can put up a team this year, as the boys say that if the trustees made a little allowance for football articles they can see their way to producing a strong team.

The big university teams of California and Stanford are preparing for their annual rugby game, to take place eight weeks from now—on November 11. Amos Elliot is captain of California and Henry Erb of Stanford. The game is to be played at Stanford field. James O. Schaefer is coach of California and George Frosley of Stanford. This is their sixth year under the rugby rules. There are ten members of last year's team still at Stanford and thirteen at California.

On September 16 five Berkeley High School students attempted to swim the Golden Gate, starting from Fort Point and to end at Point Loma. The lads failed in their work and were picked up near Angel Island, succeeding in going half way. The boys started out in line form, but when half the distance was covered the strong current began to scatter the boys off their course and they were about all in when picked up by a rowboat which followed them. Marston did the best work in the water and came nearest to the goal, but he had to acknowledge defeat and was picked up by a government launch. The other four who failed in their attempt to cross the channel were George Lindsay, Arthur Kidder, William McElroy and Philip Hodgskins. It is believed the boys will make another attempt soon.

The McKinley High School should show up well in athletics this year, especially in soccer. Among the new students who entered, the High this year are athletes who will strengthen the different teams considerably during the season. There is little prospect of the Highs putting up a football team this year, as the boys are figuring on playing rugby with the Kamehamehas, William Rosa is back and he will once more lead the track team. Joe Dwight will captain the soccer team and he is a dandy at the game. Among the new players to be seen in the soccer lineup this year will be Allan McLowman, the Kam boy, and L. Tin, who is an all-around man. Jimmie Aylett has returned and will represent the school on its different teams.

Among the students of Kamehameha who will enter the coming A. A. U. meet are C. Hosen, Joe Kauli, Manoha, W. Apua, E. Noah, W. Walealea and H. Godfrey.

William Rice of the College of Hawaii; Hans Fassoth, Inman and Notluge of Oahu College and John Fernandez of St. Louis College will be seen in action on the track at the A. A. U. meet next Saturday.

Among the candidates for rugby honors at Stanford is L. Laussenwa, a freshman, the first Japanese student to try for either of the big varsity teams. Hausawa has played for two years on the Lick High School team. In practice he is doing well.

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 5.—Boxing as a regular sport of college athletes will be revived at the State university here this fall. Under arrangements concluded here today, instruction in the sport will be carried on in the gym two evenings a week. The Polytechnic Club, the students' boxing organization, will be governed this year by Moody Basham, president; H. E. Rundoval, vice-president, and R. G. Wagener, secretary-treasurer. A meeting will be held next week to conclude arrangements for boxing plans at the university this year. It is probable that one or two public events will be arranged.

The athletic representatives of the big schools of the city will meet soon and arrange a program for the coming winter. There are only three teams of the interscholastic League now—the Kams, Highs and Saints—but it is expected the Punahou will join the crowd this year; then a new start in school athletics will be made.

Among the recruits at the Kamehameha Schools this year there are a few speedy runners who hail from Maui and Hawaii. It is said by those who know them that Manoha will have a hard time in winning this year. Ah You is one of the lads, and is from Maui. For baseball material Joseph Kupa of Hilo is good, and he will be a candidate for the first team when the season opens.

Yale won the foursome in the team championship of the intercollegiate golf tournament over the links of the Baltusol Club, defeating Harvard in all three of the four-ball matches on September 6.

The Kamehameha Cadets will turn out for their first drill tomorrow afternoon at the school grounds, beginning at 4 o'clock. Lieutenant Turner is the new military officer. He is strongly in favor of the Kams putting up a football team this year.

The entries for the A. A. U. meet close this evening at 8 o'clock at the Hawaiian News Co. with John Roper. Only members who have cards to the A. A. U. can compete in the coming meet.

The Highs have not sent in an application as expected, but the boys will enter the events individually. The list of entries will be a large one from present indications, and this will go to make the meet a success. Bill Rosa, the present captain of the High School team, is the latest one to turn out to train, and he has been busy this week working with Rice at the Boys' Field. Rosa is a good man over the sprints and especially at the 440-yard run.

The application of the Kamehameha track team will be acted upon this afternoon, and the result is being awaited with keen interest.

The officials have been named and the best of the town have been selected. The timers are all experienced men at the watch, and there will be no possibility of mistakes as regard times made by the winners.

The employer of T. B. Davies & Co., Ltd., have issued a challenge to E. O. Hall & Son, H. Hackfeld & Co. and the Bank of Hawaii to take part in a barge race. Archie Robertson is back of the challengers.

THE DAVIS CUP DATES ARRANGED

A. F. Wilding Will Be Missed On Australasia Team.

The American team of tennis players which defeated the British team a few weeks ago in the preliminary which were held in New York will be passing through Honolulu during the early part of November.

The Davis cup management committee has met and decided upon the dates for the challenge round of the Davis cup contest between Australasia and now American champions (which defeated the British team in the title).

As the Australasians hold the cup at the present time the challenge round must be played in Australasia and the Australasia Lawn Tennis Association has given the honor to New Zealand this year in pull off the contest there and it has been decided to take place in the town of Christchurch on December 29 and 30 and January 1 and this means that the American players will spend their Christmas and New Year holidays away from home. These dates have been fixed and await the approval of America. It is hoped that it is satisfactory to the American team.

One big disadvantage in the English team this year will be the absence of Wilding, the champion. He has sent a cable to the secretary of the Australasia Lawn Tennis Association to the effect that he would not represent Australasia in the cup, and this has weakened the team a great deal but will make the contest more open.

W. A. Larned, National tennis champion and Maurice McLoughlin, the California champion, will be two of the American team that will make the tour to Australasia.

Larned is a great tennis player and Melville Long who returned from the East recently had this much to say of the champion to the Chronicle of Sept. 5: "Larned is a wonder. You know he is no longer a young player. He has been at the game nineteen years now and in that time he has perfected every stroke known to the game. In addition he is a great general. He has all of McLoughlin's strokes, but he knows how to use them to better advantage."

"Right at the start of the season Larned outgeneraled all of us by not taking part in the major tournaments. We figured that if those minor championship events and when it came time for the Newport we were about all in. When I lost to Nat Niles at Newport I did not care much when I went into the match whether I won or not."

"McLoughlin was far wiser than I was. He did stay out of two of three tournaments because the best was too much for him. He was in the best form of the Coast players, but the strain of the earlier events told on him."

"Hating the Southport tournament which I won Larned did not play in an important tournament during the season. All the time he was practicing though and not overlooking it. The consequence was that as usual he was right at the top of the game when the challenge match was arranged. There was no chance for McLoughlin to win from him nor will there be in the next year or two at least unless Larned loses much of his present ability."

Duncan's exhibition is attracting much attention of late, and many new men are beginning to take physical culture lessons at the new quarters, which are fitted out in the style

The All-Chinese, St. Louis and All-color lines are the three teams that will meet the Champions in the special series, with the possibility that the Cavair, may play midweek games

WOMAN'S CLUBHOUSE FOR HONOLULU IF CLUBS FEDERATE

WOMAN'S clubhouse, adequate to the social needs of Honolulu for years to come, will undoubtedly become an assured fact, rather than a remote possibility. If the tentative plans for the federation of the College Club, the Morning Music Club and the Kilohana Art League are carried into execution...

Understood that ample provision for future, as well as present needs will be made. A large concert hall and a ball room are two requirements which have been commonly agreed upon. It is understood in a general way that if built with an eye to popular use, a woman's clubhouse may prove a splendid financial success.

TROUSERS FOR WOMEN ARE BOUND TO COME SAYS HARVARD PROF.

If the theory of Dr. Sargent of Harvard University gains ground here, women of fashion may soon discard the bothersome skirt and petticoat for trousers. The eminent Harvard professor lately expressed himself as being in favor of trousers for women rather than trailing gowns, on account of the fact that the former give more freedom...

Several Los Angeles women have already advocated the professor's theory and it is possible that if just one or two would take the first rather embarrassing step a host of others would readily follow suit, says a recent press dispatch. Some say that a short skirt followed by or ending in trousers would form a much more modest costume than some of the hobble and harem and directoire which are worn.

FEMINE CHAT

"If you look as if you had slept in your clothes, most men will jump to the conclusion that you have, and you will never get to know them well enough to explain that your head is so full of noble thoughts that you haven't time to bother with the dandruff on your shoulders." The above from the pen of Robert Louis Stevenson is hardly worthy of that distinguished literary light, but crumpled aside, it certainly should be an effective plea for a more careful consideration of the matter of dress on the part of the members of the feminine sex.

WASHINGTON WOMAN, WELL KNOWN HERE, SHOWS HOW TO ENRICH LIVES OF OTHERS WITH WEALTH

MOTHER LOVE DEFENDS BAD BOY; AGED WOMAN IN COURT

All the world loves a lover and all the world loves a mother too and especially when she is old and feeble. Age seems to make no difference to her and with the strong love of the tigress for her cubs she defends her children against the world. Somehow or other nothing ever seems to look bad to her. She can always find some excuse for the escapade that her child has committed.

The court official forgot her. Every one forgot her. Still she sat there hour after hour waiting her chance. At last the strain was too much for her. The weak old back refused to hold up and she gradually stooped forward. Her eyes were shut, a tear trickled down and splashed on the floor. Then she slept uneasily. A smile turned up the corners of her mouth. Perhaps she was thinking of her boy. A man hurrying by wakened her. It was the judge. Her only hope had gone.

MEANING OF NAMES.

- Adela, Adele, Adelaide, Adelina - Nobility.
Amy - A lamb.
Anny - Female friend.
Alice, Aelcia, Alicia - A protectress.
Angela, Angelina, Angelica - A messenger.
Anna, Anna, Annie - Graceful charming.
Antoinette - The praiseworthy.
Arabella - The lovely.
Annabelle - Beautiful Anna.
Augusta - Queenly, glorious, sacred.
Frances, Fanny, Francesca - Free, frank.
Florence - Flourishing.
Gertrude - The well-beloved.

FLOUNGING NOTES.

Now's the time to pick up remnants of embroidery flouncing that can be used for various things. The little piece of two, three or more yards will be of great use to you in your dressmaking days of early fall. The embroidery flounce on the undershirt is always attractive. In either hand or eyelid work it looks well and outlasts lace.

FRENCH COFFEE.

Into the upper compartment of a French coffee blade put the finely ground coffee, allowing a cupful of this to a quart of water. Pour the boiling water upon the coffee and allow it to percolate through to the bottom. When all has run through pour off the liquid and run it again through the coffee. Do this three times to make it strong. If not yet strong enough repeat the process several times more.

PRUNES.

The prune is one of the most delicious as well as wholesome of the list of dried fruits, though it is too often rendered lopsided and unattractive by improper cooking. In the first place, prunes should be washed clean and put to soak for at least twelve hours in hot water, then cooked in the same water. The cooking should be done very slowly, for rapid boiling tends to toughen the fruit and destroy its flavor.

COATS.

There is a tendency to make coats of three piece suits somewhat longer than in the plain skirt model, and a number of thirty-six and forty-two inch coats are seen. Many medium and large milliners show a tendency to follow the latest lines, as their brides dress at the sides in peke fashion. Pierrot shirts with the high pointed collars and small or medium sized curled up hems are among the favored shades in white felt.

DYEING HINT.

When tinting any color, dissolve a pinch of carbonate of soda in hot water and add this to the liquid. It will make the colors even and not patchy. To make art shades of dye, mix a little blue with pink to make heliotrope, a little yellow with green to make a pretty moss, a little black with ceru to make Paris shade.

HELMETS NEWEST FASHION FREAK

From New York the edict has gone forth that the "metal hat" is to be worn by womankind this fall and winter. The dispatches have it that the newest styles of headgear are shown in the windows of the Fifth Avenue milliners and that the public is assured that they will be the proper thing for the modish young woman this fall. Some of the hats are reminiscent of the helmet, some are flat and broad, but they are all different from hats of other years. They are not simple and they are not cheap. Flowers and feathers, lace and fur, gold and silver are employed lavishly. The metallic effect is obtained in a variety of ways, including such novelties as metal fringe, silver flowers, bronzed flowers and gold and silver meshes and laces.

WATERMELON RIND.

Preserve Watermelon Rind. Grate the rind from the watermelon rind and cut the rind into strips. Lay a bottle with clean glass cover and put the rind into it in layers, putting ground ginger on each layer, and continuing it lightly with powdered alum. Pour in a little cold water, cover with a clean white lid and set at the side of the stove where the contents of the bottle will heat slowly. Steam without boiling for three hours. Take out the rind and change the water to fresh water. Boil for four hours. Put into the strainer and one-half ounce of sugar and add a quart of water and let it stand over all the day. When the strain looks clear of sugar take the rind from the water, wash it and lay it in the strain that will clear and tender, then strain on paper to keep. The strain for ten minutes more, or until quite thick, add a little strong ginger and water and let it stand over all the day. When the rind looks clear of sugar take the rind from the water, wash it and lay it in the strain that will clear and tender, then strain on paper to keep.

There is some danger that the narrow French heel will supplant the safe and more sensible Cuban heel in fashionable footwear.

COMINGS AND GOINGS OF THE SMART SET

Miss Edean Winter had planned to go to Europe with Mrs. Alice Hastings and Miss Hastings. On account of the latter having asthma, Mrs. Hastings is afraid to brave the rigid winter of Germany, where they had planned to go, and has postponed her trip until the spring. However, Miss Edean may decide to go abroad with other friends this autumn. Miss Winter is the granddaughter of Mrs. Margaret Roth and a niece of Mr. Clifford B. High and Mrs. Frank Thompson, and is one of the prettiest and most attractive girls in Honolulu.

Mrs. Watkins, wife of Lieutenant Watkins, U. S. A., met with a painful accident, spraining her ankle, and has been unable to participate in the autumn gayeties, much to the regret of her many friends.

The Hon. and Mrs. Ernest Mott-Smith are receiving the congratulations of their many friends over the arrival of a baby girl that was born Monday, September 18th.

Mrs. Richardson of Hilo, who has been visiting her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lyons, on Alexander street, after a pleasant six weeks' visit in Honolulu, is planning to leave Tuesday for her home on Hawaii.

Miss Florence Butler will leave in a few weeks for Honolulu, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Edolph Buckley, for seven or eight months. Since her return from abroad Miss Butler has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Alla Ayers, in this city, who also returned a few months ago from an extended stay in Europe. —San Francisco Examiner.

Judge and Mrs. Ralph Quarles and Miss Helen Quarles are living at 1211 Washington street, in Boise, Idaho. The few years that the Judge and his charming family resided in Honolulu they made many friends. They have been greatly missed since they left the islands and have decided to take up a permanent residence in their old home in Boise. There is a possibility of Miss Helen Quarles visiting Honolulu in the coming spring.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Ross Kingsbury will move on the first of October into one of the Castle houses at 1041 Lanahilo street. They are for the present enjoying the cool breezes at Waikiki at the Henry von Holt's bungalow.

Mrs. Charles Eisto, after a delightful visit with her mother at Waikiki, returned to Kaula Tuesday on the steamer Kinu. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eiston have recently ordered a six-cylinder Stevens-Duryea touring car, which will arrive shortly from the mainland.

The Palmer Woods are building an attractive bungalow on the corner of Dominus and College streets.

There will be an interesting meeting of the St. Andrew's Guild and Auxiliary on Tuesday, October 30, at the home of Mrs. Walter Emory, at 110 Bates street. The meeting was to have occurred on the twenty-sixth of week with Mrs. Jackie Lucas at her home on Lanahilo street.

Mr. T. J. King, who has been in the Northwest for the two months returned to Honolulu on the steamer Lurline. Mr. King visited Seattle, Tacoma, in Washington.

Miss Geraldine Neum spent the week-end at beautiful Hakala.

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford High and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson who have been sojourning on Mt. Tantalus at the Giffards place, expect to return to town next week. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson had expected to go East in October or November, but have postponed their visit.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Bekhoff, who have been stationed at West Point, arrived on the transport Logan and are proving a social acquisition to the service set, stationed at Schofield Barracks. Lieutenant Bekhoff belongs to the Field Artillery.

Mrs. Herman Focke and Mrs. B. H. Stackable are expected by friends and relatives to arrive in Honolulu on the steamer Siberia on the tenth of October. These two society matrons have been absent from Honolulu for nearly a year on an extensive European trip.

Captain Anderson of the steamer Nevada, will arrive on the Wilhelmina, October the third. The following day he will wed Miss Anna Rose.

Mrs. Joseph Atherton is building a beautiful new home in Mauna valley.

Lieut. Rogers of the 26th Infantry, spent the week-end at Schofield Barracks. He was busy bidding friends good-bye, as he leaves the first week of October with his regiment for Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wood left on the Wilhelmina for the mainland. They will visit San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Seattle, Tacoma and other cities in the interest of the 1915 exposition. They will return to Honolulu in October, sailing on the Makura from Victoria.

Monsieur Durup is planning to visit Halekula in October. This gifted artist left on Mauna Loa where he will spend ten days or two weeks in the Kona district, taking photographs of Hawaiians. A visit to the Volcano House will be made. From there to Hilo, while in that city, Monsieur Durup will be busy taking photographs of some of the leading citizens and their children. Maitos are planning to take advantage of the opportunity that will be afforded them while he is on their island.

Dr. and Mrs. Waterhouse's Dinner. Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse have issued invitations for a dinner that is to be given Thursday evening in honor of Miss Cordella Walker.

Captain and Mrs. Game's Dinner. Captain and Mrs. Game of the U. S. Army entertained General and Mrs. Montgomery Macomb and Major and Mrs. Davis at dinner Friday evening at their home, 1545 Kewalo street. The keynote of the dinner was informality, that lent an added charm to the pretty entertainment.

Major and Mrs. Neville, who have been living at 1024 Green street, have leased the W. H. McHenry place at Waikiki, where they will reside for several months. The Maine place has been occupied during July, August and September by the George Rodols family, but they will return to their home in Nuuanu Valley next Saturday and Major Neville and Mrs. Neville will move into their beach home the first of October.

Mr. John Kennedy, of Twelfth avenue, Kaimuki, will be an outgoing passenger on the Lurline, on his way to California, and thence probably to Oregon, where he may reside permanently.

SUMMER HOSTESS OF WASHINGTON, MRS. WILSON IS CHARMING WOMAN

Wife of Assistant Secretary of State Devoted to Husband Is Rising Into Unusual Social Prominence—Society at the Capital.

BY C. S. ALBERT.

(Special Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—“The Summer Hostess,” a title bestowed upon Mrs. Huntington Wilson, the lovely young wife of the Assistant Secretary of State, has fairly to cling to that admired and unusual position as long as she remains in Washington. Mrs. Wilson is a prominent figure in society at any season, but the autumn has made preeminently her own. For three summers past, particularly this one, Mrs. Wilson has unquestioned it in an otherwise woman-dominated capital and made of it for herself a veritable Eden. When the President and his official family of cabinet ministers all take the road for their summer travels, Huntington Wilson, ambitious first aide to Secretary Knox, is the ranking official in this city. And his wife becomes the First Lady in the land so far as the District of Columbia is concerned. Devotion to Husband.

Wife devotion prompts Mrs. Wilson to remain here during the summer. Without her husband's aid, she has no allurements for her. Her attachment to the interests of the able young assistant secretary is such that she has learned to be content wherever fortune calls him. Friends say that should the government decide tomorrow to send Mr. Wilson to the Desert of Sahara or the North Pole, Mrs. Wilson would without calling down any maledictions on Uncle Sam, decide quite cheerfully to accompany him. In the shortest possible time she would manage to pack the greatest number of marvelously modish frocks and hats and set off happily on the first train out. They further add that as soon as she arrived at her destination she would begin making friends among the aborigines and in the space of three days would have become social leader of the place. They point to Mrs. Wilson's prestige in Washington as something quite extraordinary for the wife of an official who is below cabinet rank. Of all the official matrons to whom distinguished foreigners are presented, Mrs. Wilson seems to remain longest in their recollections.

She Entertained Top.

She it was who entertained Admiral Togo when the “Grand Old Man of Japan” paid his recent visit to this city. Charmed with her stately beauty, her gracious manners and her remarkable knowledge of the Japanese language and customs, Admiral Togo lingered, delighted, while Mrs. Wilson recalled the pleasures of her residence in Tokio when her husband was an attaché of the embassy there. Mrs. Wilson has an extended acquaintance in all the sets which make up Washington society. Officialdom she knows thoroughly. The army and navy men are her devoted adherents. And as for the diplomats—they are all sworn by Mrs. Wilson. To her hospitable door they flock of a summer evening, sure that although every other door in the capital may be boarded up, there will be a welcome where the “Summer Hostess” reigns.

Rise Has Been Rapid.

The rise to social prominence of the assistant secretary of state and his wife has been a matter of frequent comment here. In the three seasons she has made Washington her home, Mrs. Wilson, one of the youngest women in official life, has steadily progressed in influence. Huntington Wilson is generally credited with cabinet or ambassadorial ambitions, and this fact is never mentioned in official circles without added comment as to Mrs. Wilson's unusual fitness for such a position. As an official hostess she has been a conspicuous success, and during her husband's diplomatic service she managed to make herself immensely popular wherever she happened to be stationed. Her cordial manners and adaptability increased the favorable impression made by her beauty.

The Japanese ambassador and Baroness Uchida have come to Washington from the summer headquarters of the embassy at Buena Vista, to make preparations for their departure the next of the month. The ambassador has just been appointed minister of foreign affairs in the cabinet of the Japanese empire, and they will leave for Japan within a few weeks. Baron Uchida's successor as ambassador at Washington has not yet been named.

The secretary of state and Mrs. Philander C. Knox, who have been at their country place at Valley Forge, Pa., for the greater part of the summer, will go to the Bretton Woods tomorrow to spend the month at the Mt. Washington.

Miss Ruth Celeste Bailey, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, was married on Wednesday evening, September 6, to Audley Calvin King of Los Angeles, Cal. The wedding occurred in Lauderdale county, Miss., although the announcement was made and the invitations issued here. The ceremony was performed at the old Bailey homestead, where this family of note had its origin. Mr. King is a Californian of prominence, and the cards state that the young couple will be at home at 939 West 6th street, Los Angeles, after October 31.

WILD DEER KNOCKS FARMER SENSELESS

Thompson, a farmer living near Caldwell, N. J., was knocked down by a wild deer and was rendered unconscious for several minutes. He had a gash in his face from the animal's hoofs which required several stitches to close. According to Alexander Thompson, the farmer's son, he and his father visited a hay barracks in the rear of the barn to get hay for the cattle.

His father reached the place first and started to pull down the hay. As he did so a large full-grown deer, which had been feeding at the other side of the barn, became frightened and bolted. In its haste to get away it struck the farmer with great force, knocking him down, and as it continued its flight it stepped on the fallen man.

JUST TRY A TEN CENT BOX OF CASCARERS

Insures you for months against a Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation or a Bad Stomach.

Put aside—just once—the Salt, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or purgative waters which merely force a passage through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, coated tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

NO MAJORITY; NO DIVISION

As reported briefly in the second edition of the Bulletin yesterday afternoon the Supreme Court has handed down a decision in favor of the trustees against Mrs. George Beckley, nee Mary Beatrice Campbell. This was a friendly suit brought to determine the right of Mrs. Campbell to claim distribution of her share of the estate. The trustees took the stand that she was not yet of age and that they could not therefore accede to her request.

In their plea for abatement, which the Circuit Judge sent to the Supreme Court for decision, they alleged that the plaintiff “is not yet eighteen years of age and will only attain the age of seventeen years on the 12th day of October 1911,” and inasmuch as the proceedings were not brought on behalf of the plaintiff by a next friend or other representative legally entitled to act on her behalf they pray judgment of the writ and bill, and that same may be quashed. In other words, was the plaintiff's disability of minority removed by her marriage?

In the decision the Supreme Court stated, “If the disability of minority continues as to a female until she attains the age of eighteen years, notwithstanding her marriage before she arrives at that age, and we are clearly of the opinion that such disability does so continue, it follows necessarily that the plaintiff did not possess the necessary legal capacity to institute this suit and she cannot maintain it.”

Further, “While it is true that section 2322 R. L., provides that ‘the marriage of any female who is under the guardianship as a minor, shall operate as a legal discharge to her guardian.’ (Ex parte Frank Pahlia, 15 Haw. 575), it by no means follows that such discharge of guardianship operates as a removal of the disability of minority.”

“The plea in abatement, in our opinion, is good in law and should be sustained. The question reserved therefore, is answered in the affirmative.”

In summing up the whole of the case the matter is laid in the following manner: “Infants—female infant—marriage of—disability. Notwithstanding the marriage of a female infant her disability continues until she attains the age of eighteen years.”

THAW MAINTAINS HE IS NOT INSANE

PITTSBURG, Sept. 4.—An answer was filed today by Harry K. Thaw, through his attorney, former Governor William A. Stone, to the petition of his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, in which Judge L. L. Davis was asked to appoint a lunacy commission to take charge of the income of Thaw in this state and provide for the support of the wife. Thaw's income is said to be $50,000 a year.

Thaw claims that the verdict of the jury in New York state of finding that he was insane and that the decree confining him in Matteawan was statutory and not a proceeding as to the lunacy of Thaw. He claims that the fact that he is still confined at Matteawan does not judicially or in any way establish his present insanity. The answer alleges that the petition asks the court to do what it has no authority to do.

In the second part of the answer Thaw states: “Your affiant is not at present insane. He is quite capable of attending to his own affairs, and does attend to his own affairs. If there was ever any derangement mentally, the affiant had entirely recovered from it and is now in the possession of all his mental faculties.”

Seven victims of the train wreck at Manchester, N. Y., were buried from their homes in towns adjacent to Pittsburgh.

MORE IN BOOZE THAN TRAFFIC

Charges against the local hackmen of conducting blind pigs in their hacks were laid before the board of license commissioners at their meeting held yesterday afternoon. One of the members stated that he thought there were a number of the drivers who made money out of peddling drink instead of carrying passengers.

The matter was brought up in connection with an inquiry by the board into the way in which Rosa & Co. kept their books, under Regulation 14, which compels them to make a record of all liquor sold and to state the name of the person to whom it is sold and also the date of such sale.

The firm is alleged to have sold a demijohn of wine to a hackman named John Hailola on July 25 and not to have entered the transaction. A denial of the sale was given and the evidence was of a contradictory nature. Finally the books were turned over to Inspector Fennell for investigation.

H. J. Buchly, representing Pencock & Co., once more brought up the matter of Regulation 14 and asked the board to amend the regulation so as to read that the names of buyers had not to be taken unless they bought six bottles of beer, three bottles of liquor or one gallon of wine. This he thought would be more satisfactory, as it was annoying to have to ask people who bought only one bottle to give their names and addresses. The commissioners stated that they would take the matter up and would inform Mr. Buchly of the result.

Waialua License.
Although it was thought that the matter of a license for the Waialua saloon would be settled yesterday, it was again held up, and this time owing to the applicant not being there. Attorney Douthitt explained the matter and it was once again held over.

Attorney Douthitt also appeared in connection with a license for the Mint saloon. This is necessary owing to Wagneh, one of the partners, having died. Mrs. Wagneh was on her way down from the Coast, he said, and when she arrived he would know whether or not there was any will. The matter was accordingly held over until the next meeting.

As published in the Bulletin yesterday, the matter of a license for the Kakaako district was withdrawn.

FINES WOULD ONLY BE HEAVY FOR REGULARS

That while notorious gamblers who have been arrested before and who are engaged in fleeing the public should suffer the penalty of the law, other people who have only just been having a friendly game between themselves and who are all of one race should be dealt with more lightly is the opinion of Judge Henry E. Cooper, according to a statement published this morning.

The matter was brought up in connection with the reduction of a fine in the case of a man known as Ah Sing. The judge holds the opinion that although Sing was a dealer in the game he had never been arrested before and that the sentence of $50 imposed by the lower court was too much.

He also pointed out that gambling is carried on in many places throughout the city other than among the Orientals.

FEATURING SALE DAYS.

Jordan's scheme of featuring one line of goods for a stated number of days, during which time the city patrons have a chance to make purchases at prices that are sacrificial, is meeting with all kinds of success, and people who are desirous of purchasing dry goods in some special line are watching the Bulletin for the announcement of the sale days of the articles wanted.

On the first three days of next week ribbons will be the feature at Jordan's, and on those days there will be on sale ribbons of every description, color, width and price, and the prices will be even all "dashed to ribbons." The entire line of ribbons at Jordan's is going to be closed out regardless of what it brings.

The feature for the three last days of next week will be a silk hose sale. And on these days there will be bargains in silk hose that will be astonishing. One special feature will be three pairs of 65-cent silk hose for $1.

Just watch Jordan's window for the next few days.

NEW GROUNDS FOR KALIHI SETTLEMENT

Announcement has been made that the Hawaiian Evangelical Association has bought a plot of ground on King street for Kalihi settlement work, the purchase being made upon the recommendation of a committee which investigated the needs of the settlement. Rev. H. W. Chamberlain, who has been in charge of the settlement work in Kalihi since 1906 has developed the scope of activity greatly. With October 1 the Kalihi settlement will be in full swing.

A number of prominent citizens by donations made possible the purchase of the property, among them Peter C. Jones.

MASSACHUSETTS HEARS OF LOCAL PINEAPPLES

A tribute to the pineapple industry of Hawaii comes from as far away as Chelsea, Mass., the Gazette of that city publishing the following recently:

The other day The Spectator entered a Broadway ice cream parlor and called for a pineapple college ice. When the clerk spooned the shredded pineapple over the ice cream, The Spectator wondered in a careless way if the clerk had to work hard peeling and cutting up the pineapples out in the back shop. Upon making inquiry The Spectator was told that he needn't give the clerk a second thought in this matter, however. In the cases out of ten, the pineapple was plucked and prepared for market by some Chinaman, Japanese or other Mongolian in his own land, far from Chelsea. During the past five years, The Spectator was told, there has been a great gain in the pineapple canning industry in Hawaii, Straits Settlements and Formosa. Honolulu will soon be sending 1,000,000 cases of canned pineapple to market. A single factory in Formosa, owned by Japanese, sends 350,000 cases of canned pineapple to market each year. This factory also makes 15,000 pounds of fiber cloth out of the long leaf of the pineapple. In the tropics the pineapples grow so plentifully and labor is so cheap that a can of pineapple all cut up and ready to eat may be shipped from Singapore and sold at Chelsea stores for 10 cents.

On October 16 there will be a competitive examination held at the naval station for structural steel work draftsmen at $3.04 per day. All applicants must be citizens of the United States and must have some idea of the nature of the work for which the examination is held.

ARTICLES ON HAWAII IN MAGAZINE FORM SOON

The American Magazine is now advertising the forthcoming series of articles on Hawaii by Ray Stannard Baker, who was here several months ago gathering material for his book.

The magazine says of it: "Next year Mr. Baker will write for the American Magazine a remarkable series of articles depicting the industrial struggle of the day. He will do this in an entirely new and graphic way. He will describe completely and clearly the industrial life of Hawaii, for on this small stage the whole drama of the industrial conflict of the present day world is being played in terms that can be easily understood."

Next Friday and Saturday Jordan's will sell 3 pairs pure silk hose for $1.00.

Ye Old English Scribe On Australian Slang Et Al

Slang is always interesting even to those particular people who are always careful as to what accent they use to ye great embarrassment of ye great run of ye populace. Even Honolulu has a slang which is peculiar to itself although it is made up of Hawaiian words and others which have been commandered from other languages. Ye scribe happens to know a man from ye land of ye kangaroo and has had many interesting conversations with him. When he first came across he could not understand what ye scribe told him nor could ye scribe make much out of what he said. In order that ye good American in Honolulu shall be able to understand ye youths with ye small hats and ye likewise small clothes who happen along when ye following is written.

Now ye American when he wishes to say that his health is good and that his creditors are not pressing him overmuch declares that he is feeling fine and dandy. Ye Australian on ye other hand will say that he is bouca or bouz, just as ye fit states him. Likewise will ye Australian declare that a man is a smoodger meaning that he is one who carries stories to ye house.

Ye American will make inquiries about a thing while ye Australian will make in-quire-ies, with accent on ye middle of ye word. Likewise again he has a word wower, which he applies to ye mean person who is plying that he is a villainous scribe. When ye Australian has a grinch on he is said to be sore and when he has put one over on a man he will say that he has put him to leg.

When he wants a man to get busy he will tell him to spring off his tail and ye meaning of ye word is that he knows not. At ye same time he does not say bloomin' between each word nor does he bring out bally. One of those is left for the cockney Englishman hailing from the heart of London and the other for the more or less aristocratic Englishman who says "Bally rot. Eh what?"

Ye scribe here gives a sample of Australian slang. Anyone wanting a solution may send along five cents in stamps to ye scribe, this office. "Ye great and noble Plugger was put to sleep in ye fourth round when Wower slipped a dinnhacer through his guard and landed on ye scribe followed by another to ye same effect with ye left duke. Ye mill through-out was a bunk. Both men sprung off their tails when ye gong went and shot striking ye bottom of ye hill and ye goat being on ye top, he failed to get his goat, however.

Attorney-General Lindsay put a shot in such close proximity to a goat that some of ye dirt splashed on ye animal. No damage was done, however, as ye goat was at ye bottom of ye ravine and ye shot struck ye top. Ye other members of ye party are firing off their guns with great success and so far no one has been hit. Water Chief Martin can now shoot without shutting both eyes.

1 p. m. Ye party are now resting for lunch, having expended 134 rounds of ammunition and secured many victories. Ye goats are in a circle around ye camp, waiting for ye scraps. Land Commissioner Charles S. Judd is ye hero of ye day. By trying a piece of crust that he saved over from breakfast he secured a goat. Ye poor animal eat ye crust, which was of Eben Low's baking, and did die kicking like a good supervisor.

Attorney-General Lindsay declares that he secured some hair off one of ye animals, but ye rest of ye party do not put any faith in this, and declare that ye goat scraped it off on a tree. No one saw ye deed done.

2 p. m. A suggestion brought up at a conference of ye gallant hunters has solved ye whole question. Eben Low has ye goats tied with red tape so that they cannot move fast—for ye officials are not used to anything moving fast—and ye slaughter is great.

2:15 p. m. Eddie Fernandez is on ye scene with his moving picture machine and is taking photos of each of ye hunters standing with his foot on a great goat. Ye red tape has been removed, so that it will not show in ye picture.

Varieties of Germs.
What is a germ? Ye scribe asks ye question in all good faith hoping that some of ye many readers of this paper can elucidate ye problem for him. According to what he has read in ye papers at various times a germ or bacillus or bacterium or one of them small insect things, according to how ye happen to have been pushed up through ye labyrinth of troubles which intrude themselves on ye presence of ye young and tender hearted youth of this old globe may be anything from a lump of nothingness to an elephant. It is what they do and what they really are, however, that interests ye scribe.

According to ye book on ye subject or rather according to some of ye books on ye subject for ye writers thereof are nearly as prolific and numerous as ye small germs themselves, it is a small something that cannot be seen with ye naked eye and that causes all sorts of disease, flavors tobacco, butter and other matter of that kind and then finally turns up its toes or ye apologies thereto and passes away into ye germ paradise. It is hard to imagine what they look like.

Likewise there are many more which have not yet been listed in ye official records and about which ye scribe off feels constrained to write ye book himself were it not for ye trouble of doing ye writing. Among ye unclassified germs ye one which heeds ye list is ye hot air bacillus. To look at this is ye insignificant one during such times as it is going through its metamorphosis. It is blind but in order to make up for this remedy it has even ye double capacity of air space and takes in air at such a fast rate that ye friction causes it to become hot. Thus it derives its name.

It attacks most anybody although there are certain types of human beings that it seems to have ye particular liking for. These are generally drawn from ye type known as "sports" and who frequent ye street corners leaning in ye most artistic fashion against ye hitching posts. They are generally dressed in a quaint type of hat such as have been misused during ye process of manufacture and which have ye peculiar style and beauty of their own. Next to be noticed is ye tie of alarming colors which seems to have ye power of attracting ye germs in great numbers.

When it comes down to ye matter of suits there is a great variation. Most of ye "sports" go to ye extremes, however, and have ye pants that are wide and ye shoulders of their coats padded so that they can walk in ye middle of ye street and touch both sides at once. In their faces is generally stuck a cigarette and in their pockets ye inquisitive person can always find a cork from a beer bottle. This they chew at intervals in order to make their breath smell. Occasionally—very occasionally they slip their heads inside ye saloon doors and then come away feeling that they have a good sense on.

Ye occupation of ye person who is affected by ye hot air germ is simple in ye extreme. He stands on ye street corner, sees that his hat and his cigarette are at ye right angle and then commences talking about everything that he knows nothing about. If he does know anything he is discreetly silent on that point. If there happen to be more than one then they all talk at once.

Ye amount of knowledge which ye average hot air artist has is almost as large as one of ye hot air germs itself. It remains ye scribe of ye story he once heard. Ye students were up for ye examination and one of them did not seem to know much about his subject. At last ye good professor could stand it no longer and taking a stamp out of his pocket handed it to ye youth. "Mr. Jones," he said, "you will greatly oblige me if during ye next two hours you will write all you know about ye examination subject on ye back of that stamp."

Two great men met during ye week and shook hands. Ye crowd wotted of ye occurrence and many of them pondered over ye whole affair and wondered which was ye greater of ye two. It was Tuesday night and ye men in question were Captain Sousa and Captain Berger. Ye first is known ye world over and ye second is known ye islands over and also a good part of ye same world. Of ye two ye latter is ye more interesting to talk about. He has played music during times when ye kings were on ye throne, during ye times when ye royal party were thrown down and when ye great Eagle came and spread his wings over ye islands and took them under his protection.

Talking of Captain Berger reminds ye scribe of something that happened away back in ye history of ye islands. It was ye birthday of ye great and truly remarkable man Hoeh der Kaiser Wilhelm of der Vaterland. All ye populace which could then be numbered in hundreds as far as ye white folks were concerned, had gathered at ye office of ye hospitable consul to partake of ye goodly cheer. Ye fact that it was being provided free and that they could have another without having to put their faces up as security proving a strong draw. Likewise ye Captain Berger and his merry musicians were there.

Now it happened that ye day was hot and ye band boys developed ye great thirst during such time as they were blowing into their instruments. Ye consul noted this fact and sent along word that ye boys should be given ye liquid refreshments ad lib, which being translated means until they could hold no more. It was not necessary for ye boys to get as far as ye lib part of ye offer, however.

Later in ye day ye good Captain Berger ordered ye boys to play some of ye music in honor of ye great emperor. Ye boys tried but ye noise so much resembled ye qualling of cats that ye populace asked that they desist. This they would not do. It was ye last thing to be thought of. They had been ordered to play for ye emperor and play they would. More than that they would walk through ye town and let ye whole of ye populace know they were playing. They formed a procession as well as they could and started.

Captain Berger did not like ye looks things however and started after

REGULAR MINISTER, NOT A CARPENTER, MARRIED ASTOR

Col. John Jacob Astor and Miss Madeline Force were not married by a regular minister now a carpenter after all. It appears that the carpenter-preacher was on hand for the job, but that the Colonel's offer of $1000 got a regular minister to consent to officiate.

Here's the story from Newport: Newport, R. I., Sept. 9.—Madeline Talmadge Force of New York became the bride of John Jacob Astor, head of the famous American family of his name, a few minutes after 9 o'clock this morning.

In that moment the storm of unfavorable comment this match had already aroused reached its climax. The Congregational minister who read the ceremony will probably be asked to resign. His reported $1000 fee is referred to by his fellow-clergymen as having tempted him to perform a disgraceful act.

Although the ceremony was performed at Newport, in the midst of famous society leaders, not one was present at the service.

The marriage took place in the beautiful white and gold ballroom of "Beechwood," the famous Astor show-place.

The secrecy which marked the courtship and subsequent prenuptial arrangements of Miss Force and Colonel Astor reached its climax in the carrying out of the wedding plans. So carefully were the plans laid that a room had been engaged in an obscure hotel, where the ceremony would have been performed if by any chance the "Beechwood" arrangements had been revealed.

Divine Challenges Criticisms.

The clergyman who dared public criticism by performing the ceremony was the Rev. Dr. Joseph Lambert, pastor of the Elmwood Temple Congregational Church of Providence, R. I.

The Rev. Edward S. Straight, known as the "carpenter preacher," was on hand, ready to act if required, but he was sent away just after the Rev. Dr. Lambert reached "Beechwood."

Immediately after the marriage, as he was rushing away to board his yacht Noma for his honeymoon voyage, Colonel Astor said to the Examiner correspondent:

"Now that we are happily married I don't care how difficult divorce and remarriage laws are made.

Astor Defends Conduct.

"I sympathize heartily with the most straight-laced people in most of their ideas, but believe remarriage should be made possible once, as marriage is the happiest condition for the individual and the community."

FRANCE SENDS FINAL TERMS ON MOROCCO QUESTION TO GERMANY

PARIS, Fr., Aug. 25.—A cabinet council was held today when the course of the French negotiations with Germany over the Moroccan dispute were unanimously approved, as were the instructions to Jules Cambon, French ambassador to Germany, as drawn up by M. Descloux, minister of foreign affairs, and Ambassador Cambon, after long conferences in which Premier Caillaux, M. Lebrun, minister of colonies, and M. Cruppi, minister of justice, participated.

The instructions to M. Cambon contain, according to an earlier announcement, the maximum terms which France will offer to Germany in order to reach a settlement.

The council convened at 10 o'clock under the presidency of the premier, and immediately began a consideration of the instructions which had been submitted by President Fallieres at Rambouillet yesterday to the premier.

The ministers entered the cabinet at the ministry of the interior in a spirit of much gravity, for it had been felt throughout the week that the decision of the cabinet today would have a serious import for France.

The session of the council lasted for two and one-half hours.

Although the instructions can not be regarded as suggesting an ultimatum, yet an important step has been taken toward a rupture of an accord, depending on how the German government receives the proposals.

The instructions endeavor to phrase the French conception of Germany's position in Morocco, and authorize Ambassador Cambon to offer specific parts of French Congo in exchange for the absolute recognition by Germany of French rights in Morocco.

Both France and Germany are carrying on war preparations and each appears anxious that the other should know it.

C. A. SPRECKELS HARD FIGHTER

Claus A. Spreckels gave some damaging testimony regarding the workings of the sugar trust, before the special Congressional committee. His story of the methods used to drive competitors out of the business was one of the most interesting chapters of the investigation. He is the son of the pioneer sugar man, Claus Spreckels, who founded the great Spreckels fortunes in Hawaii.

EXPRESS PEOPLE QUIT THE FIGHT

Companies Will Not Protest Reduction of Rates Long Needed.

BY C. S. ALBERT.
(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—The express companies have placed their cards face upward and thrown themselves on the mercy of the Interstate Commerce Commission. They have virtually announced that no fight will be made in court, but the commission will be invited to take their rates and readjust them.

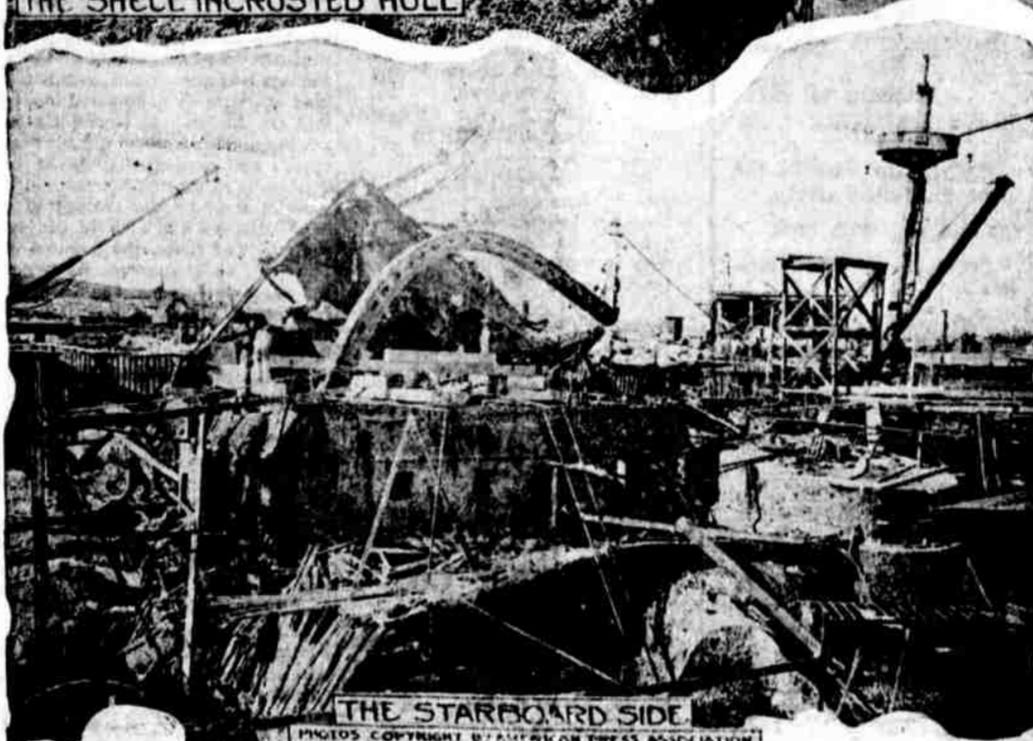

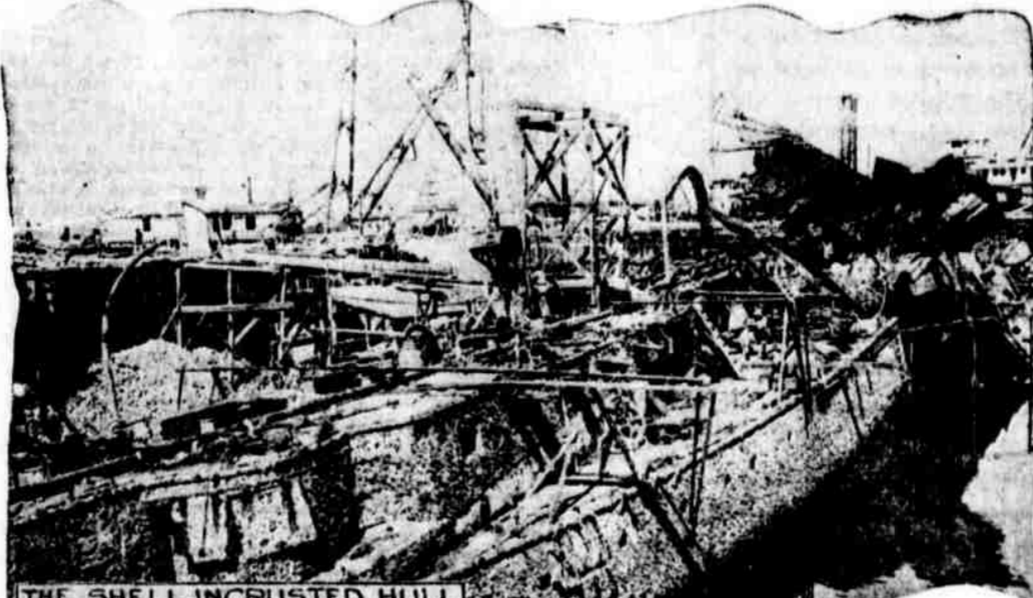

For this reason all the books and papers of the express companies have been turned over to investigators of the commission sent out to ascertain the capitalization, expenses, wages, rates and other detailed facts connected with the business of handling packages on railroads. No attempt has been made at secrecy or withholding of information.

As a consequence the Interstate Commerce Commission will proceed with the readjustment of express rates. It is certain there will be tremendous reductions all along the line, as the tariffs charged have been far in excess of that which is approximately reasonable. The public stands to derive great material benefit from lower express charges.

The reason for the unexpected attitude assumed by the express companies is that all recent decisions of the Supreme Court have sustained in every way the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to supervise rates and other matters connected with transportation. They consider it useless to waste any time or money in further appeals to the courts. They would rather gain the advantage to be derived from throwing themselves on the mercy of the commission.

Ensign W. Smith of Massachusetts and Midshipman A. L. Pendleton Jr. of North Carolina have resigned.

LATEST PHOTOS OF MAINE; WATER ALL PUMPED OUT

HAVANA, Aug. 25.—The water having been pumped out of the huge caisson enclosing the wreck of the Maine, the next problem confronting the United States army engineers is that of clearing away the mud that grips the lower part of the ship's hull. The craft lies in about thirty feet of mud. Many grim relics of the disaster are being uncovered.

MAY BE FIRST SENATOR FROM NEW MEXICO

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—William H. Andrews of this city, for three terms delegate from New Mexico territory to Congress, is regarded as a prominent candidate for one of the United States senatorships when New Mexico is finally admitted to statehood. Delegate Andrews recently said in an interview that he is confident that not more than twenty of the seventy-three members of the first State Legislature will be Democrats. However, at his last election as delegate he won by only 388 votes over his Democratic opponent, O.

POPE WILL NOT BLESS CARUSO

ROME, Sept. 6.—Some days ago Enrico Caruso, the tenor, asked for an audience with Pope Pius X, but his application was not granted, the reason being given that the Pontiff was still too weak from his recent illness to see the singer.

It is said that the refusal was due at least in part to certain scandals with which the tenor's name has been connected.

Unwilling to leave Rome without the Pope's blessing, which he hoped would restore his voice to its former power and beauty, Caruso purposely went by automobile to Naples and begged Cardinal Prince to intercede for him at the Vatican, but in spite of this the audience was not granted.

The tenor then sent a petition to the Pope asking for an autograph blessing on his photograph. This was willingly granted.

Caruso is not entirely satisfied, but hopes that the written blessing will be just as effective as a verbal one.

Yesterday's meeting between Pope Pius and his brother, Angelo Sarto, who brought his nephew from their home in Grado to be confirmed by his holiness, was touching.

Angelo, though two years older, on being ushered into the apartment of the pontiff, was about to kneel and kiss his hand, when the Pope prevented him and embraced him tenderly.

CLEVELAND'S DAUGHTER TO BE WEDDED SOON

PRINCETON, N. J.—The announcement that Miss Esther Cleveland, eldest surviving daughter of the late President Grover Cleveland, is to be married soon to Randolph D. West, a junior year student in Princeton University, has created considerable interest in college and social circles here.

Miss Cleveland, who was born eighteen years ago while her father was President, is at Tamworth, N. H., with her mother, sister and two brothers at the summer home of the family. It is understood that the wedding will take place about October 15, and it is stated that Mrs. Cleveland's wedding present to the couple will be a bungalow which she is to build on her property in New Hampshire. Mr. West is a son of Professor Andrew West of Princeton, dean of the graduate school.

The National Independent Political Rights League is in session in Boston. Samuel Harris, 15 years old, of Philadelphia committed suicide by inhaling gas.

HALF-MILLION DOLLAR HOTEL WILL BE BUILT NEAR CANAL

BY C. S. ALBERT.
(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. — The traveling public is much interested in an announcement by the Isthmian Canal Commission that a new hotel will be constructed by the government on the beach at Colon. Plans have been approved and the work will be performed by Cram, Goodhue & Ferguson of New York, who prepared the designs.

The hotel will cost not more than $500,000. The building will be 300 feet long, will have foundations of gravel concrete, walls of reinforced columns and beams, with hollow tile curtain walls, white cement stucco finish outside, floors of concrete, beams, floor slabs of solid concrete, concrete and tile, or of tile, according as cost may warrant; roof of tile. All of the 83 bedrooms on the second and third floors are to be ample in size for two beds, every room being provided with either a private bath or shower bath.

Additional interest for the tourist has been aroused by another announcement by the Isthmian Canal Commission. It declares that a supply of sanitary paper drinking cups has been ordered for the Isthmian, and these will be placed in the coaches of the Panama Railroad, substituting the public glass tins in use as soon as they are received. Arrangements have also been made for individual drinking cups for the hospital cars.

SWISS BIOLOGIST DECLARES HE CAN SUSPEND LIFE AND RENEW IT

PARIS, France, Aug. 25.—"Life is just an ordinary natural force, like weight."

Such is the revolutionary theory of Prof. Raoul Pictet, the well known Swiss biologist. His conclusion, he relates, was reached by a series of remarkable experiments, in which living organisms were subjected to the most intense cold for hours, and, on being gradually thawed out, resumed normal life as if nothing had happened.

"My first experiments with life under low temperatures were made almost eighteen years ago," said Prof. Pictet. "Going from one deduction to another, I have come to the conclusion that if one could manufacture a seed chemically, life would come to it of itself and animate it.

Suspends Without Killing.

"If this be not true, I do not see how to explain the results of my studies, for I have been able to interrupt all the chemical reactions of various living organs without injuring these organs in any way, and keep them interrupted for a long period; then, on removing the cold, the cause of the interruption, I have seen them reanimated. So far as I can prophesy now, lower forms of life can be suspended for an indefinite period, without being entirely slain.

"My most satisfactory experiments have been made with fresh water fish. I have been able to freeze them through and through, and then thaw them, without their dying. One day, at the University of Geneva, I put twenty-eight fish in a deep glass bowl. I left them twenty-four hours in water at freezing point; then, by gradually freezing, we were able to form a single compact cake of ice with the fish enclosed in it. By continuing freezing we reduced the temperature of this block to twenty degrees centigrade (4 Fahrenheit) below zero. We broke off a piece of the glass and removed the ice from one of the fish. It was no brittle that it broke easily into tiny pieces, as if it were itself made of ice. Two months later we slowly began to melt this ice in which the fish were enclosed. The fish, restored to their normal state, began to swim about as if nothing had happened.

Each Has a Limit.

"With ordinary carp the experiment does not succeed at temperatures lower than 29 degrees (centigrade) below zero. Frogs, however, can stand a congelation of 28 degrees (centigrade) below zero without dying; centipedes can stand 50 degrees (centigrade) below zero; snails, still more resistant, have endured without dying a cold from 119 to 129 degrees (centigrade) below zero during many days. Coming back to the animal scale, we submitted guinea pigs, dogs and rabbits to intense cold. A dog was able to stand a temperature of 110 degrees (centigrade) below zero for one hour without dying.

"All these researches," concludes the professor, "have convinced me that the study of vital phenomena by the systematic use of low temperatures will permit us to classify life as among the constant forces of nature—a force ever present and all pervading, waiting only the proper organic condition in order to enter a seemingly dead mass and animate it."

MARQUIS OF QUEENSBERRY MAY EXPATRIATE HIMSELF; IS SORE

Renunciation of the peerage for citizenship in the United States is admitted by the Marquis of Queensberry, whose ancestor was the author of the prize fighting rules observed in this country, to be a possibility should his efforts at recuperating his fortune make a continued residence here imperative. The Marquis said his title has no significance for him. Instead it is more of a mockery. He would have no regrets, he stated, if he abandoned the country in which his family has been honored for a thousand years to become a citizen of the United States. The Marquis arrived aboard the Mauretania and is now in the United States.

The nobleman, who is exceedingly democratic, is bitter against England for the way he has been treated and the manner in which his father was treated before him. His father was progressive, too much so, he said, for England, and got into disfavor as a result. He, too, has felt the influence that so strongly struck at his parent.

That is one of the reasons he would have no regrets if he became a citizen of the United States, he declares, but the right is denied him. His fortune is somewhat low on account of heavy losses he some time ago sustained. He is going to the virgin fields of Canada to gain another.

"When Scotland ceased to be an independent kingdom and went under the British domain," he said, "there was an agreement between the countries which England long since has ceased to honor, a fact which is greatly to its shame. Scotland was to have representation in the House in an increasing ratio with England, but it wasn't long before this agreement first was dishonored and finally forgotten. I am of the Scotch people, and the only Marquis in the United Kingdom—the only one, mark you—who is without a seat in the House of Lords.

The missing Mona Lisa, the famous painting of Leonardo Da Vinci, which mysteriously disappeared from the Louvre in Paris, was not found on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II when she docked at New York.

Harry W. Pout, assistant cashier of the Yale National Bank, who was reported missing after a trip to Faulkner's Island in a power boat, got home in safety, being delayed by the bad weather.
