HACKMEN ARE WELL WARNED

CLAUDINA COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Raymond Alvarez Caught Repose in Green Fields of Nuuanu Valley, But Later Found Lodgment Within the Reef's Stone Walls.

The hack formerly driven by Sinia, a Japanese, will no longer be seen traveling the thoroughfares of Honolulu unless a change of ownership and drivers is effected.

In fact the Oriental Jehu is at the present time bereft of a license, besides being an inmate of the city jail. Sinia was arrested on Wednesday night by a mounted patrolman charged with heedless driving, while laboring under the influence of a burdened jax. The hackman was alleged to have been imbibing at various wet goods establishments, and maintaining a fast and furious pace in some about the city streets.

When arraigned before Judge Wilcox in the Police Court yesterday morning the Japanese was found guilty of violating the carriage regulations and was fined $10. The court also ordered the license of Sinia revoked. Judge Wilcox took occasion to state that an effort would be made to sift out the responsible drivers from those of reckless disposition, and drivers who persisted in violating the rules governing the conduct of hacks on the city streets would be deprived of their authority to navigate public vehicles.

Antonio Henry was fined $5 and costs for his assault upon Officer Kane on Wednesday evening. Manuel Claudina, the Porto Rican charged with larceny, who was arrested in connection with the Hough burglary, was committed to trial at the next term of the Circuit Court.

Raymond Alvarez endeavor to find repose upon the Bolle premises in Nuuanu valley resulted in his being arrested for vagrancy. The Porto Rican was sentenced to a three-months' vacation at the reef.

Thomas Hermanson, also booked as a vagrant, succeeded in establishing his innocence, at the same time submitting proofs regarding his connection with manual labor. He was discharged.

Alfred Hendrickson, a diminutive lad, and Ella Ruoka, a young miss still in her teens, were brought before the magistrate by sorrow-stricken parents who declared the young hopefuls refused to attend school. Booked for disobedience to parents, the youngsters were given a well-seasoned scolding by the court. Upon promise of a prompt return to a studious life, the little people were discharged. Mrs. Gunderson was called to answer to a charge of having been guilty of profane language. Two native women testified that the defendant had applied a foul epithet to them and had abused them on Punchbowl street several days previously.

The trouble seemed to emanate from a hair-pulling soiree in which the younger women are said to have conspicuously figured. Mrs. Gunderson declared that she did not employ torrid conversation in dealing with the defendants. A general reprimand was administered to all parties and Mrs. Gunderson was discharged.

Star Stockholders Meet. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hawaiian Star News paper Association, Limited, was held in the offices of Castle & Cooke Wednesday afternoon. Financial statements of the previous year were read, whereafter the election of officers took place resulting in the re-election of those of the previous year.

Historical Society Meeting.

The Hawaiian Historical Society will hold its annual meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall on Saturday, January 11, at 7:30 p. m. An election of officers will be held and a paper on an interesting Hawaiian theme will be read by J. S. Emerson.

PLANTERS HEAR FROM SEED CANE TESTS

DISCOVERIES ON THE MAINLAND

Top of Cane Prove Equally as Successful as Full Joints—Important Announcement From Experts at Louisiana Experimental Station.

The local branch of the Department of Agriculture as well as several prominent sugar planters have recently acquired some valuable information from the mainland in regard to the work now being carried on at the experimental station in Louisiana.

Various methods have been thoroughly tested in deciding upon a proper seed cane. The discovery made at the southern experimental station has demonstrated that the tops of cane have proven as successful as the fully developed joints that were formerly used.

It is further stated by those in charge of the Louisiana Experimental Station, that good results are obtained by using the tops of the cane. Hereafter the tops have been thrown away, being deemed entirely worthless, and the theory that only the fully developed joints of the stalk make good seed has been widespread. In that section the tops have never come into use as seed, it being deemed absolutely necessary to plant the fully developed joints in order to produce successful results, but the success of the Louisiana Experiment Station will doubtless open the eyes of farmers in that section to the extent that the production of the crop will be still further cheapened.

Y. M. C. A. FINANCIAL COMMITTEE MEETS

UNUSUAL EXPENSES LAST YEAR

To Close Financial Year Without Debt $2,500 Must Be Raised—Letters Will Be Sent to Leading Business Houses.

The finance committee of the Y. M. C. A. met yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. office. Financial statements of the past year were read by the treasurer, C. H. Atherton, who dwelt especially upon the fact that the Association had to meet several unusual expenses, such as plumbers' bills, in connection with sewer work, over $100 for repairs to the roof, a piano debt of $250 and $2,500 was needed to close up the financial year which ends on March 31st next.

After some discussion upon this subject a committee consisting of C. H. Atherton and Walter Weedon was appointed to draft letters on the subject to business men and business firms of this city. When this has been done the financial committee will meet again to approve on and sign those letters.

Present at yesterday's meeting were the following: Henry Waterhouse, Chas. H. Atherton, E. J. Lewis, E. A. Mott-Smith, Walter C. Weedon and Secretary Brown.

NEW DIVING VESSEL TO RAISE ISLANDER

IS ANOTHER GREAT INVENTION

Will Sink to Any Depth—An Egg-Shaped Glass Vessel, She Will Stand Much Pressure—Prospects for Deep Sea Photography, Good.

The Hazard & Stevens diving vessel is the latest thing out to raise the lander, says the Province. The Vancouver paper describes this invention as "an egg-shaped glass vessel some four or five feet in diameter, made of 3-inch leaded glass, inside this there will be room for men to sit or move about. The vessel is attached to a cable and properly weighted, sunk to any depth. Air is supplied by tubes connected with pumps on the auxiliary steamer on the surface, and connection kept up by telephone. A screw propeller and rudder allow the vessel to be moved in any direction beneath the surface, the vessel above changing its position accordingly as word is sent by the telephone. A powerful searchlight will play up on the water, and when the submerged wreck is reached an ingenious scheme of detachable grappling irons allows the hull to be taken Maki of and lifted by the wrecking crews on the surface. The egg-shaped glass vessel will stand any possible pressure, being much stronger than steel, and if all that the inventor anticipates comes true the probabilities of the invention in deep sea photography and wrecking operations are enormous.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off.

Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prudden, merchant, Annotto Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

WOMAN'S WRATH AT "ADVERTISER"

"I read the Advertiser every day to keep track of the wicked lies that are told about me," cried Mrs. Theresa Wilcox, wife of Hawaii's Delegate to Congress, to an Advertiser reporter just after the Home Rule Republican meeting in Foster Hall last night.

"I want to tell you that you have printed what is not true and that you ought to be ashamed to misrepresent things the way you do. I give you information and you deliberately twist it to suit the purposes of the Advertiser. I demand that you make an apology that is if the Advertiser has enough decency left."

There was considerable excitement in Foster Hall last night just after the Home Rule meeting broke up. Mrs. Wilcox had a copy of the Advertiser in her hand and waited for the reporter of that paper to speak to her. She then broke forth with indignation, asking when the Advertiser intended to let up on its policy of warring on women.

Mrs. Wilcox specified numerous incorrect articles and waxed more indignant as she recalled the many misrepresentations of the Advertiser in regard to herself personally and the Home Rule Republican party.

The lady followed the Advertiser man around the room, shaking her fist in his face and telling him what she thought of the Advertiser.

She announced that she was an independent woman and that she believed in speaking the truth and that her husband wanted her to tell nothing but the truth about party affairs.

The Advertiser man naturally looked embarrassed, but manfully tried to stand up for the paper for which he was working. He said that no misrepresentation had been intended in any case and that he would say anything in the Advertiser that Mrs. Wilcox wanted him to say, anything to please her, he said.

This did not satisfy Mrs. Wilcox, however. She said she knew what the Advertiser was; that it was continually telling falsehoods and that the reporter ought to be ashamed of himself for being a party to them.

Members of the Home Rule party gathered around, some attempting to persuade Mrs. Wilcox to cease her tirade against the Advertiser, saying that everybody knew what kind of a paper it was and there was no good in trying to reform it.

Some, as Mrs. Wilcox's voice rose in justifiable anger, playfully called for the police.

As the Advertiser reporter went down stairs Mrs. Wilcox followed him and continued her remarks, scolding the Advertiser for its fight against a woman.

The last seen of the two, long after the meeting had dispersed, Mrs. Wilcox was still shaking her fist at the reporter and the latter was still promising to apologize.

HAWAII'S SUGAR AFFAIRS DISCUSSED

From the Louisiana Planter:
Honolulu, Hawaii, December 4.—There is apparently no change in weather conditions on any of the islands for the past week. The dry spell on Hawaii is probably over for years to come, and there is plenty of rain on all the islands.

The showing made by some of the plantations, in fact the most of them this month, has not been as good as a year ago this month. The dividends on the Honokaa plantation have been entirely cut off because of the loss which the severe Hamakua drought entailed. The Ewa plantation paid dividends aggregating $50,000 this month, Waimanalo, $5,000, Oahu, $15,000, and Kahuku $5,000. There is a promise, however, of bigger dividends for the next month. There is a feeling of better times among the planters and of bigger dividends all the way through, as no large expenditures for machinery and improvements are anticipated for the coming year.

Expert From Washington.
Frank E. Coeper, an agricultural department expert from Washington, is here making investigations, presumably at the instance of President Roosevelt. He has been collecting statistics as to the availability of the lands owned by the sugar planters, for the raising of crops other than sugar. His mission is a secret one, but enough is known to state that he will not report in favor of the admission of Chinese. He says that within another year that cane machinery will be perfected which will do with one white man, the work that it now takes five Asiatics to accomplish. Jared Smith, chief in charge of the local experiment station for the government, has also received instructions by wire to forward immediately all possible information concerning diversified industries in Hawaii.

Pearl Harbor Sugar Lands.
The sugar planters generally are interested in the trial of the Pearl Harbor condemnation suits, because of the fact that sugar lands are being taken and exceedingly absurd values are placed on them by the government experts. The Bishop estate owns 600 acres of cane land which the United States is taking for use as a naval station, and in the suit now on trial in the courts here, alleged experts placed the value of this land at from $5 to $50 an acre. It is admitted that the land will produce eight tons of sugar to the acre, and the Bishop estate claims the property to be worth six hundred dollars an acre.

Work at Olaa Plantation.
The second largest sugar mill in Hawaii has been started in operation at Olaa plantation on Hawaii. Steam was raised in the mill today but it will not be in full operation for about three weeks, and having a capacity of 1750 tons each twenty-four hours, it will be the largest in the territory except the Spreckelsville mill. Cutting of the immense crop of 4400 acres on Olaa will begin in about two weeks. Altogether there are about 18,000 acres in cane, and this plantation will be one of the greatest producers on the islands within a few years.

Government Entomologist.
Prof. A. Koebel, the government entomologist, is making a tour of the plantations on Hawaii looking for cane borers. He has recommended the fumigation of every cane plant brought into the territory to prevent the introduction of destructive pests from other places.

The news that the contract for the first section of cable to Honolulu had been let, was received with much gratification here. With the coming of the cable it is believed that all Hawaiian securities will be listed on the Eastern stock exchanges, which is now impossible owing to Hawaii's isolated position.

News brought by the Nihoa from Kauai is that there are 8,167 bags of sugar ready for shipment, at the various ports of that island.

DR. MORI A VICTIM.

Offices Visited by Burglars But Little of Value Taken.
Among the latest to receive nocturnal visits from light fingered pentry among the ranks of the physicians of Honolulu is Dr. Mori with offices on Beretania street.

Entrance to the premises was gained through a rear window. The robbers ransacked the house and office. They secured nothing of value. Costly surgical instruments were ignored by the burglars, who seemingly seek for cash only. From all indications the police are inclined to believe that the job was performed by the same parties who have visited the offices of other physicians.

"That's a queer complaint the Bulgarian brigands are making, that Miss Stone is trying to convert them to Christianity," said Mrs. Snaggs.

"Yes, I wonder if they won't demand an indemnity from the American Government as well as the ransom," added Mr. Snaggs.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

PAYING FOR A MEAL.

It Was Worth a Shilling to Pick Those Bones.
Colonel Ebenezer Sprout, of Revolutionary fame, was born and bred in Middleboro, Mass. He was always fond of a joke and was quick to seize an opportunity to indulge his propensity, as the following incident, related by Dr. Hildreth, well illustrates. His father, also a Colonel Sprout, kept a tavern. One day while Ebenezer was at home on a furlough three private soldiers, on their return from the seat of war, called for a cold luncheon.

Mrs. Sprout set on the table some bread and cheese with the remnants of the family dinner, which her son thought rather scanty fare for hungry men. He felt a little vexed that the defenders of the country were not more bountifully supplied. The soldiers, after satisfying their appetites, asked him how much they should pay. Ebenezer said he would ask his mother. He found her in the kitchen.

"Mother," he said, "how much is it worth to pick those bones?"

"About a shilling, I guess," she answered.

The young officer returned to the soldiers, and, taking from the barroom till 8 shillings and smiling genially upon them, gave each man one and with good wishes sent them on their way.

Mrs. Sprout soon after came in and asked Ebenezer what he had done with the money for the soldiers' dinner.

In apparent amazement he exclaimed: "Money! Did I not ask you what it was worth to pick those bones, and you said a shilling? I thought it little enough, for the bones were pretty bare, and I handed the men the money from the till, and they are gone."

Mrs. Sprout could not find heart to reprove her favorite son for this misinterpretation of her words, and then she, too, loved a joke, and so, after an instant's glum look, she laughed and said it was all right.—Youth's Companion.

Ants Invent a Wagon.
"There are a good many ants of different varieties on the lot at my country place, near Covington, and last year I began to make a systematic study of their habits," says a contributor to the New Orleans Times-Democrat. "Near one of my flower beds is a colony of small red ants that are extremely industrious in collecting food, and they frequently perform the most astonishing engineering feats in transporting heavy burdens to their home."

"Not long ago I watched a party of about a dozen who had found the body of a small spider and were dragging it toward the nest. The spider had hairy legs, which stuck out in every direction and caught on obstacles, greatly retarding progress. For several minutes the ants toiled away with their awkward booty and then stopped and seemed to hold a council. A minute fragment of dry leaf was lying on the ground, and presently they all lay hold and pulled the spider on top of it. Then they seized the edges and slid it along without difficulty."

The Advance of Time.
The age of man, we are told, is three-score years and ten. From 25 to 40, if the health be good, no material alteration is observed. From thence to 50 the change is greater. Fifty-five to 60, the alteration starts; still we are not bowed down. In the earliest periods of our life the body strengthens and keeps up the mind; in the later stages of it the reverse takes place, and the mind keeps up the body; a formidable duty this and keenly felt by both. Such is time's progress.—Scottish American.

The Carp is Very Bony.
People marvel at the mechanism of the human body, with its 402 bones and 60 arteries, but man is simple in this respect compared with the carp. That remarkable fish moves no fewer than 4,386 bones and muscles every time it breathes. It has 4,320 veins, to say nothing of its 99 muscles.

The Worst of It.
Jack—Tom, I'm in a terrible fix. I'm engaged to three girls.
Tom—Well, that's not exactly a crime.
Jack—No; that's the worst of it. If it were, I could go to prison and have some peace.

"I see you've got a copy of that new novel. I suppose you know it's a book of doubtful morality."
"No, I didn't, but I'm glad to hear it."
"You are?"
"Yes, the last one I bought was of undoubted immorality."—Philadelphia Press.
