FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF HAWAII DIRECTORS HOLD STORMY MEETING

All Proxies From Mainland Are Ruled Out Mandamus Proceedings to be Commenced to Rescind Yesterday's Proceedings—Cashier Cooper Says Macfarlane's Bombshell is Exploded.

The annual meeting of the First National Bank of Hawaii, held yesterday in the banking offices of the corporation, could hardly be said to have been a most harmonious gathering. In fact the proceedings savored very much of a warlike nature. The very air surrounding the handsome McIntyre building portended of trouble. It was only after the deliberations of the stockholders drew to a close that the true condition of affairs was made known to the outside world.

It was a meeting of stockholders. Shares to the amount of 5,000 were accounted for. The fight centered upon the election of a board of directors. One faction, backed up by President Cecil Brown, carried the day, while that for which Col. George Macfarlane gave battle royal, was defeated. All the old directors were re-elected. They include: M. P. Robinson, L. L. McCandless, G. August Dreier, G. N. Waller and Cecil Brown.

Mandamus Proceedings in Sight.

However, those on the inside declare that the end is not yet. Threats and declarations were freely bandied about yesterday evening. The positive statement was made last night to the effect that mandamus proceedings would be immediately begun against the legality of yesterday's meeting. Before the gathering came to a close a vigorous protest was filed against the manner in which the defeated faction insists it was treated, while holding a majority of the stock.

In fact, the annual meeting of the First National Bank of Hawaii was one of the liveliest business meetings held in Honolulu for many a day. Where the difficulty will end no one has the present hardihood to forecast. Both President Brown and Cashier Cooper do not mince matters in referring to the action of Col. Macfarlane. They maintain that the parties representing the outside stockholders were vainly seeking to secure absolute control of the financial institution. The faction supporting Col. Macfarlane declares that yesterday's proceedings were illegal and high-handed coming from the parties in control of the bank. On the other hand Cecil Brown, president of the First National Bank, and Cashier W. J. Cooper insist that the attempt of Col. Macfarlane to vote the stock in his possession was nothing more nor less than a conspiracy to put his representatives into the banking house and retire the present officials.

Macfarlane Has Mainland Proxies.

It is stated that all the Eastern and California stockholders in the corporation were represented at the meeting by proxies held by Col. George Macfarlane. When the time came to vote for a board of directors all the proxies held by Col. Macfarlane were ruled out by President Cecil Brown on the ground that they were not properly stamped. The proxies, so it is claimed, came in a sealed package from the Anglo-California bank and Col. Macfarlane presented them as they came from the Mainland. The attention of the holder was called to the fact that the proxies were not stamped. Col. Macfarlane claims that, then and there, he stated that he was prepared to place stamps on the proxies if necessary, as he regarded it a technicality only, and wanted to go on record that he was willing to put on the stamps.

Brown Keeps the Proxies.

It is charged that the Brown forces accepted the proxies and took possession of them, notwithstanding the claim that they were ruled out. Col. Macfarlane protested against such action upon the part of the chairman of the meeting, President Cecil Brown, and having made a protest, felt satisfied that he had protected the rights of the foreign stockholders.

After calling the roll of foreign stockholders the roll of local stockholders was called. The presentation of a proxy by Mr. Wundenberg brought to the attention of the chairman that it was also unstamped. Chairman Brown also ruled it out, but Mr. Wundenberg was immediately handed a stamp by a friend who was present and who went out of the meeting to get it.

Col. Macfarlane immediately jumped to his feet, and pointed out to Chairman Brown that he had refused to allow proxies of foreign stockholders to be presented but had accepted one from a local stockholder. Mr. Macfarlane set up the claim of partiality being shown to local stockholders for a purpose. It is claimed that Chairman Brown immediately saw his error and the force of the point made by Col. Macfarlane, and then reversed his decision and notified Mr. Wundenberg that his proxy was ruled out.

Macfarlane Has Majority.

Two or three others who had proxies, which were unstamped, refused to deposit their proxies after the reversal of the ruling. It was ascertained that the votes cast by Chairman Brown and Mr. Cooper were 2,068, being short of a majority. The votes cast by Col. Macfarlane for foreign stockholders, which the chairman ruled out, being 2,292 votes.

Out of the total of 5,000 shares in the corporation 107 were not represented at the meeting. The 33 shares held by Col. Macfarlane privately were not voted, as the holder declared that the foreign stockholders had no voice in the meeting.

The shares held by the Campbell estate to the number of 500 were also ruled out. It was currently reported that Mr. Brown refused to recognize letters that Mrs. James Campbell had written to him and to Joseph O. Carter, co-trustees in the Campbell estates, which letters were read at the meetings. Mrs. Campbell is said to have requested the holders of her interests to vote for a postponement of the meeting for thirty days pending her arrival in Honolulu.

Macfarlane Makes Protest.

The Macfarlane faction claims that, with a minority of the stockholders represented, namely, 2,068 shares, while 2,591 were a majority, the proceedings enacted at the meeting were nothing short of being high-handed, as was the action taken by the president in voting with the minority stock and the re-election of a board of directors.

Col. Macfarlane waited throughout the deliberations, and just previous to the president putting a motion for an adjournment, Col. Macfarlane immediately arose and read the following protest:

"I wish to enter my protest against the legality of each and every step of the proceedings of this meeting, which I claim was arbitrary, illegal, and unauthorized by law. The course of the chairman is an attempt to prevent certain stockholders abroad, whom I represent, from having any representation at this annual meeting, and to deprive them of their rights. I now give notice that this meeting will be declared invalid, as soon as I can take the necessary steps."

Prompt Legal Proceedings.

Col. Macfarlane declared yesterday evening that an unwarranted attack had been made against the Anglo-California Bank of California in the address of the president, which was read at the meeting, a full context of which appears in this issue.

"I will state this much," declared Col. Macfarlane. "Mandamus proceedings will be commenced against the legality of the proceedings of yesterday's meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of Hawaii. Steps will be taken immediately to declare the whole meeting invalid. I am not prepared to state to what extent certain financial relief intended by the Anglo-California Bank will be affected by the action of the stockholders at yesterday's meeting, but it now appears to me as if the former pleasant relations existing between the two banks had been very much strained because of the stand taken by the minority element."

CASHIER COOPER'S STATEMENT

When seen at his home last night Mr. W. J. Cooper, cashier of the First National Bank of Hawaii, made the following statement:

"Mr. Morgan was introduced to the Anglo-California Bank at San Francisco by W. J. Cooper, cashier of the First National Bank of Hawaii, in the same manner as many other gentlemen of this city have been, but without any idea that Mr. Morgan had any desire to become the president of the First National Bank. Had I been acquainted with the ambition animating Mr. Morgan, I should have been reluctant to extend to him, under any circumstances, an introduction to the managers of the Anglo-California Bank, as he is a man who has absolutely no fitness or ability for the position nor has he the following necessary to make the bank a success.

Col. Macfarlane's Bombshell.

"There can be no question that Mr. Cecil Brown has not given his whole attention to the business of the First National Bank, neither can it be any question that the success of the business of the First National Bank is solely attributable to Mr. Brown.

"In regard to Mr. Macfarlane's bombshell I feel that we have exploded it. That is all I care to say."

Mr. Cooper, however, added that the bank had been a great success. During the first six months of its existence the bank paid a dividend of 6 per cent, and during the past six months would have paid 11 per cent, but for the expense of fitting up and moving into new quarters.

Directors Hold Island Proxies.

At yesterday's meeting the present directors held all the proxies, except one, from the other islands.

Mr. Cooper feels that the whole conspiracy to get hold of the control of the bank was arranged at San Francisco, but that the plans collapsed and are now a total failure.

REPORT OF PRESIDENT BROWN.

To the Stockholders of the First National Bank of Hawaii, at Honolulu:

Gentlemen: Under the provisions of the National Banking Act, all National banks must hold their annual meetings in January of each year on the day specified in the articles of association, and almost every National bank in its articles of association, has fixed upon the second Tuesday in January as that day, and hence our meeting. Although this institution has been doing business for but fifteen months, this will be our second meeting, the first covering the period from October, 1900, to January 1st, 1901, and the present from January

BUCKEYE SOCIETY CONTRIBUTES $500 TO MEMORIAL FUND

Suggests That Statue of Late President McKinley be Erected.

SPEECH BY REV. MR. WESTERVELT

Ohio's Educational Institutions and State's Prominent Public Men Discussed.

Club Spends an Enjoyable Evening at Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen—Piano Selections by Miss Castle and Mrs. Hooker and Songs by the Buckeye Quartet.

The Buckeye Club of Hawaii met last night, at 7:30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen, on the corner of Huelo and Kewalo street. The evening began with a regular business meeting of the club. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The secretary, Mr. Skinner, then read a financial statement, whereupon the chairman, J. K. Brown, suggested that the club offer a contribution to the McKinley Memorial fund. After some discussion as to the means which should be adopted, a committee, consisting of Edwin S. Gill, chairman, Walter C. Woodson and Rev. E. S. Muckley, was appointed by the chairman. The committee withdrew to settle the question and the entertainment began.

Music and Education.

A charming piano solo was rendered by Mrs. Hooker, and then the Buckeye quartet favored the audience with a selection. This was followed by the chief feature of the evening, an address delivered by Rev. W. D. Westervelt on "The Educational Work in Ohio." Mr. Westervelt spoke in part as follows:

"In speaking of the educational work done in the State of Ohio, I have found it expedient to compare the work in that State with that in the other States in the Union, and I have found that Ohio in the point of spending money for educational purposes, is only rivaled by a few States and that Ohio holds a good position in the first rank. Connecticut, small as she is, takes a place which is hard to rival. Massachusetts, with Harvard University, to which students flock from all other parts of America, also takes a place in the front rank. New York, with her immense revenues for educational purposes, is a State with great educational institutions, while Illinois and Pennsylvania take a like position.

Ohio Stands First.

"But Ohio stands first in my mind because she has sent out some of the finest leaders of thought. Three Presidents of America were graduates from Ohio schools. Canon sent out President Hayes, President Harrison graduated from an Ohio college, and Hiram University sent out, first as a soldier boy and later on as one of our far too large list of martyred Presidents—William McKinley.

"No small interests have emanated from our educational institutions in Ohio. They have sent out men who filled positions of the highest order in the judiciary branches. Men like Chief Justice Matthews and Justice David Davis are from the colleges of our State. In the legislative branches we will also find that graduates from our educational institutions have filled places in the front rank, and these three, the executive, the judicial and the legislative powers, constitute the grand trinity which form the unity of the United States.

Tribute to McKinley.

"And not the least of all these men was our late President McKinley. He chose as his specialty the bill protecting the interests of the United States and devoted his life to the study of the tariff.

"Ohio is well endowed with educational institutions. She has 33 col-

JOE ROSA MEETS HIS DEATH FROM WOUND NEAR TEMPLE, SAYS JURY

George Rosa Held for Murder in First Degree Sharp Pointed Instrument Used to Penetrate Skull—Traces of Blood Found on Pair of Compasses—Wife and Son of Deceased Testify—Fight Between the Brothers.

An inquest was held last night in the office of the coroner, at the police station, on the body of Joseph Rosa who died under peculiar conditions on Monday morning at his home on Punchbowl street, near Kinan.

As previously reported, Dr. Alvarez attended the deceased just before death and diagnosed the case as one of alcoholism, giving a death certificate to that effect on the following day. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery on Monday afternoon. The police received a hint that something was wrong and caused the body to be exhumed. An autopsy was held at the morgue, Dr. McDonald making the examination. This occurred on Monday night when a coroner's jury was impaneled and the body was viewed.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury.

The coroner's jury met at 7 o'clock last night and examined Joe McKinnon, now night clerk at the police station; Dr. Shorey, government food inspector and chemist; Dr. J. T. McDonald, the physician who performed the autopsy; Dr. Alvarez, the attending physician and the doctor who gave the death certificate; Willie Keawe, the Hawaiian who visited the Rosa house on Sunday and who is said to have given the first intimation that something was wrong, by notifying Deputy Sheriff Albert McGurn; Louis Richard Rosa, the thirteen-year old son of the dead man; and Mrs. Joseph Rosa, the wife of deceased. It was almost 11 o'clock when the jury returned the following verdict:

"That the said Joe Rosa came to his death in Honolulu, Island of Oahu, on the 13th day of January, A. D. 1902, as the result of an injury to the skull causing the formation of a blood-clot and consequent pressure on the brain; said injury, so this jury believes, being the result of a blow from some sharp pointed instrument in the hands of a person to this jury unknown.

"A. M. BROWN, Coroner, "G. B. CURTIS, "WILLIAM C. SCHNEIDER, "HERBERT M. AYRES, "W. F. SABIN, "HERMAN KUBEY, "WILLIAM D. WILDER, Charged With Murder.

High Sheriff Brown now holds George Rosa, the brother of the dead man, on a charge of murder in the first degree. He will probably be held for the next grand jury.

Mrs. Joseph Rosa, who had been held as a witness in the matter, was last night allowed to return to her home and children. She will, of course, be summoned as a witness when the case comes to trial.

The testimony given by the various witnesses last night contained nothing definite which would go to show who administered the blow which caused the death of Joseph Rosa. While circumstantial evidence indicated that the brother, George Rosa, had a great deal to do with the fatal wound in the head of the deceased, there was no evidence which warranted the jury finding that the weapon which caused death was held in the hands of the brother, George Rosa as a suspect and will have to account for his actions just prior to the death of Joseph Rosa.

Had Previous Trouble.

The first witness called was Joe McKinnon, night clerk at the police station, who testified to some knowledge of the Rosa family and their troubles, having at one time witnessed some demonstration of enmity between the brothers Joseph, the deceased, and George.

Dr. Shorey, food commissioner, was the next to be examined. He had received the stomach of the deceased to examine. He said that he had failed to find any indication of the presence of alcohol in the stomach, although he did not wish this fact to imply, necessarily, that the man had not been drinking heavily prior to his death for it was possible for considerable alcoholic liquid to have been taken into the stomach, and, at the same time, for no trace of it to be found after death. The stomach was slightly inflamed but there were absolutely no indications that would point to the deceased having come to his death by alcoholism, or alcoholic poisoning.

Blood Spots on Compass.

Dr. Shorey said that he had also received, from the police, a pair of ordinary metal compasses, old and rusty, for examination as to whether or not there were any traces of blood on the instrument.

The doctor had prepared a chart of the two sides of the compass, marking in red the blood spots he had found on the instrument.

A small splotch of blood was shown at the joint and there were several spots on either arm of the compass. No blood was noticed on the points. Dr. Alvarez was asked if there were any questions he wished to ask the witness. He said that Dr. Shorey had explained the matter of alcohol very satisfactorily when he said that the fact of no signs of alcohol in the stomach did not necessarily imply that the deceased had not been drinking heavily.

Dr. McDonald's Report.

Dr. McDonald, the autopsy physician, next gave his testimony, commencing by reading his technical report of the autopsy. He described minutely every wound which had been noticeable on the body, dwelling especially on the subject of the wound over the left temple which, as the doctor said, was certainly sufficient in itself to cause death and which could hardly have resulted otherwise.

The doctor described the wound as hardly noticeable at a superficial glance, there being only a slight cut in the skin. Beneath the skin, however, there was a hole in the skull.

All probabilities were against the theory of alcoholic poisoning. Dr. McDonald believed that the man had recently been drinking very freely, although there was no odor of alcohol when the stomach was examined. There were indications of nothing else which could have resulted in death. The doctor made a most thorough examination of the body and described the condition of every organ minutely, showing clearly that the head was the cause of death.

Lingering Life Explained.

When asked if it was not unusual for a man to live with a hole in his head as long after the injury was received as Joseph Rosa was supposed to have lived, there being some uncertainty as to the exact time the wound was inflicted, Dr. McDonald replied that the case was not an extraordinary one and that there was nothing very unusual in the fact that Rosa lived many hours after the time when the hole in the head is supposed to have been made. Rosa died some time before 9:30 o'clock on Monday morning and it is supposed that the injury to the head was inflicted on Sunday morning.

Sharp Pointed Weapon Used.

Asked concerning the probable nature of the weapon used to inflict the wound in the head, Dr. McDonald said that it was undoubtedly made by some sharp pointed instrument. He said that he was greatly surprised after looking at the small cut on the forehead to find out that there was a hole in the skull. It was hardly to be suspected by a look at the skin wound that the skull had been punctured. The instrument must have been sharp and pointed. The wound could not have been made by a blade.

The doctor was asked to examine the compass which had been found hidden in the fence of the yard of the Rosa residence and to say whether or not the wound might have been inflicted by such an instrument. He said that the hole in the skull had evidently been made by just such an instrument. He explained that the skull, where the wound had been made, was thin and that the hole was circular in shape. The doctor said it was not likely that the puncture had been made by the putty knife which had been found with the compass.

Dr. Alvarez Testifies.

Dr. Alvarez, the attending physician and the doctor who signed the death certificate assigning the cause of death as alcoholism, was the next witness.

Dr. Alvarez was summoned to the Rosa residence about 11 o'clock on Sunday night. George Rosa called the doctor. George went to the doctor's house. The doctor noticed that George had been drinking. He drove to the Rosa residence with George. Here he followed George into the room where Joseph Rosa was lying. Mrs. Joseph Rosa was in bed. She was clothed only in a chemise. She arose and donned a gown. The doctor noticed the pillow case upon which Joe's head was lying.

Doctor Saw Blood Stains.

There were blood stains on the pillow case, the sheets and the mosquito netting. Joe Rosa was in a stupor. He could not be entirely aroused. His limbs seemed to be stiffening. The respiration was not noisy; it was rather easy. Temperature was 104. Pulse was 140. The smell of liquor on the breath of Joe was very strong. There were no symptoms of apoplexy. It seemed to be a case of poisoning by alcohol. There was no flow of blood from the wound on the temple.

Joe was naked except for the covering of the bedding. His body was scratched in numerous places. The marks were superficial and the doctor noticed no wounds of a serious nature.

Dr. Alvarez saw the mark on the left temple. It seemed to be nothing more than a scratch. The blood on the wound was dried a little. The wound seemed to be recent and had probably been made within the last twenty-four hours. There might have been a puncture of the skull under the scratch on the temple but this was not suspected by Dr. Alvarez.

Said Joe Was Violent.

Dr. Alvarez, noticing the scratches on Joe's body, asked the brother, George, how the wounds came to be inflicted, receiving in reply the information that Joe had become very violent and that it had been necessary to restrain him by holding him down. George said that Joe was suffering from delirium tremens and that sometimes he became very violent and wanted to do injury to people in the house. George volunteered the information that Joe, when he was in this condition, expressed the intention of killing his wife. George said that Joe would attack any one who came near him while he was under the influence of liquor. The wife, the brother said, had run away at the time Joe was being held down by his brother.

George afterward admitted to Dr. Alvarez that there had been a fight. Dr. Alvarez gave the patient an injection of strychnine before leaving him for the night.

Wanted Death Certificate.

On Monday morning, according to the testimony of Dr. Alvarez, George Rosa called at the doctor's office and said that his brother was dead and that he wanted a certificate of death.

The doctor said that George would have to wait until he had consulted with the president of the Board of Health. The doctor reminded George that the patient had received numerous scratches, that there had been a fight, and that it would be necessary, perhaps, to see the body before granting the death certificate.

Dr. Alvarez called on Dr. Sloggett and told him of the case, asking him what was best to be done under the circumstances. Dr. Alvarez testified that Dr. Sloggett had said that fights and rows were common in the district in which this death had occurred.

ISLAND STEAMERS FOR OTHER PORTS

BIG CROWD TO SEE THE KINAU Five Steamers Got Away Yesterday—Japanese Evangelist Causes Meritment by Preaching to the Crowd Many Passengers Leave Honolulu.

Five island steamers and one schooner departing and the arrival of a deep water ship was the record of yesterday's shipping along the waterfront.

The Wilder steamer, Kinau, Captain Freeman, cast off her lines exactly at noon and left for Hilo and Hawaii ports with a large list of passengers.

The usual big crowd had congregated on the Wilder's wharf, and seeing the many farewells exchanged, the hundreds of handkerchiefs agitated and the number of women crying it seemed as if the Kinau was going to some far-away country.

Much amusement was caused by a bright Oriental passenger, undoubtedly a Japanese, who had secured a megaphone and shouted verses of the Bible to the crowd assembled on the wharf. "Follow me and you will be saved." "I am the salvation and the life." "Come to Christ," were phrases which succeeded each other from the lips of the Japanese evangelist.

The gasoline schooner Eclipse got away at 3 o'clock for Lahaina and was followed half an hour later by the James Makee for Hanalei and Ahukini.

The steamers Claudine, Mikahala, Noeau sailed promptly at 5 o'clock and had a lively race out of the harbor. All the island steamers carried large numbers of passengers and full general cargoes.

SHIPPING NEWS AND NOTES. The Eureka will sail today for Kahului. The schooner Mo Wahine will sail today for Paauilo.

HAWAII YACHT CLUB'S MOONLIGHT CRUISE

THE DATE FIXED IS JANUARY 26. Armitage Trophy to be Offered for Competition—The Prince Cupid Yacht to Take Part in Race.—Will Start on Saturday.

The moonlight cruise of the Hawaii Yacht Club will take place on Sunday, January 26th, around the Ford Island course. The trophy which was presented to the club some time ago by H. W. Armitage will be offered for competition.

Under the conditions imposed by the donor, the trophy has to be won twice before it becomes the property of the yacht. The trophy consists of a section of a life buoy reproduced in regulation materials and fastened on an oak panel.

All the third class boats will be out for the race with the possible exception of the Hihimann. Pressure will be brought to bear on Albert Waterhouse to allow somebody to sail his boat for him as he cannot be present himself.

A lively contest is expected to take place between the Princess and the Myrtle for the possession of the trophy.

The other boats which will take part in the race are the Vi-kee, Shamrock, Pirate, Oio and Skip.

Commodore Hobron calls for a large turnout for the occasion. The cruise will start on Saturday afternoon, January 25th, from the regular moorings near the boat houses.

DEEP BLUE SEA STORY

Finn and Chink on Same Ship to be Avoided if Possible.

MADNESS FOLLOWS A MURDER

CAPTAIN AND WIFE ARE KILLED BY TROUBLE LOVING CHINAMAN.

One of New Crew of British Ship Langdale Relates Experiences at First Mid-Day Meal and Warns His Mates—Polishing Galley Tin-ware has an Awful Sequel.

From time immemorial the foibles of a deep water ship has been the paradise of all students of character and stories of real life are told there every day.

Yesterday at noon time a Republican reporter visited the British ship Langdale, a short time after the arrival on board of her new crew. "Bunks" had been distributed, a bottle of whiskey passed around, and sitting on their chests, the crew began to partake of their midday meal, and while eating, they proceeded to make acquaintance by means of mutual introductions.

Finn and Chink Combination.

One of the apprentices came down the fore-castle ladder and in a mysterious way conveyed the information that the new carpenter was a Finn. An old sea dog, a typical Yankee sailor, discarded his stew, pushed aside his cup of tea and exclaimed: "Now, boys, don't you have nothing to do with a ship that has a Finn and a Chinaman aboard at the same time. I've heard that Lake steamboat men can't stand a priest and a gray mare together, but if they can beat the Finn and Chink combination they're good ones."

"About eight years ago, I was on a bark with a general cargo for Singapore. We were through the doldrums, had caught the southeast trades and were making down to clear San Roque. The carpenter was a Finn, a great big fellow about six feet three, but so soft and gentle that you couldn't rile him. He was always smiling, and we used to play tricks on him just to see if he would retaliate. It wasn't any use, though. Where any other man would have jumped up and let us have it, he would just say, laughingly: 'All right, boys; I was a jokers too.'"

Cook Loved Trouble.

"The cook was the laziest, worst tempered Chinaman that was ever in a ship's galley. He was always in trouble, and went about looking for more. The captain was on to him, and had called him down often enough. Well, one day the skipper's wife went into the cabin to do some cooking and found the tins she wanted to use were rusty. She asked the cook why he let them get like that, and when he started in to check her she went and told the old man. "In half a minute he came running forward and hauled the Chinaman out of the galley by his collar. The longboat was lashed keel up over the main hatch. Before the Chinaman could think, the old man had him over the keel, and, passing a line under the boat, made his feet fast on each side. Then the skipper called the cabin boy and told him to give the Chink all the tinware in the galley, because he wasn't to be let down until he had polished it all so that you could see your face in it.

"Hell's Work to Pay."

"Well, he sat up there most of the day, as ugly a looking picture as you'd want to see. When the skipper was on deck he would watch him out of the corners of his little slanting black eyes, black and beady like a snake's. Along after supper—the cabin boy cooked it—the first mate cast him loose and he goes to his bunk off the galley and stays there. "Next morning, a little before sun-up, when my watch was turned in and asleep, one of the on decks comes running in and yells: "Hello, Hoy! port's well! aft with ye in a hurry. There's hell's work to pay aboard!"

"We run aft and down to the cabin and found the other watch in the cuddy, staring as if they were stupid and saying nothing. I looked in and it was a heart-breaking sight! Heaven fend I'll never see the like again! Captain and Wife Dead.

"The poor old lady was lying in the big bunk, with an awful gash in her forehead, and her white hair was all daubed with blood. The captain was on the floor with his head split open. Blood was everywhere. They were both stone dead.

We stood a minute just looking at each other, we couldn't speak, but the Finn was the worst. His face was as white as your shirt, and he was shaking all over. All of a sudden he threw his arms up in the air, fell down on his knees and called out: 'O my God! my God! half pity, the poor gentle old lady and the poor old man.'"

Cook is Revenged.

"It was the cook's revenge. We started looking for him and found him crouching down in the forechains under the channel close to the water. The Chinaman saw us, and he got scared; his foot slipped and he went into the sea striking his head as he fell. Somehow his long pigtail flew loose and jammed fast in the V between the chains and the side, a foot above the water, and this towed him along with us. The mate sang out to get hold of him and pull him up, when just then we heard the Finn give a howling roar; then he jumped into the carpenter's shop just behind, and out he came in a shake with his ax swinging around his head and shouting like he was crazy: 'Off the rail or I murder ye!' he yelled. And then he came for us.

Finn Has "Bear Shark."

"We didn't stop. Some went up on the fore-rigging and the rest scattered aft. Then he got over on the forechannel, cut the pigtail with one stroke and the Chinaman went off astern, and the Finn said: 'Ha ha, that was a good joke. I was a jokers too. They was good boys. They wouldn't have poor young scragged for murdering Chinaman.'"

"We saw what was the matter with the carpenter. The mate said that there was a name for that kind of fits that Finns have. 'Bear shark,' he said, they were called, and it is a pretty good name, too, for that Finn looked as ugly as a grizzly and as fierce for man meat as any shark I ever saw."

NO BIDDERS FOR KING STREET LAND

AUCTION SALE WAS POSTPONED.

Public Indifferent to Corner at King and Kekaulike Streets and Failed to Cover Upset Price of Twenty Thousand Dollars.

The lot located on the corner of King and Kekaulike streets, which was to have been sold at public auction yesterday, by Will Fisher, remains unsold owing to the indifference of prospective bidders, who failed to offer an amount which would cover the upset price of $20,000. The lot fronts 90 feet on King street and 110 feet on Kekaulike street, and is considered a very desirable piece of property. An able presentation of the merits of the property, by the aid of Col. Fisher's dulcet voice availed nothing, and after a brief period, in which the auctioneer and his silver toned bell vied with each other in disturbing the quietude of the noon hour, the selling of the land at public auction was deferred until a more propitious date.

A Little Boy's Life Saved.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., U. S. A., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today—Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa.

HONOLULU'S SOBRIETY.

There was only one case of drunkenness on the police court docket yesterday.

Anyone who watches the police court records must have noticed with satisfaction that sobriety is greatly on the increase in Honolulu. Not so very long ago it was quite customary for as many as twenty, or even thirty, inebriated to be lined up every morning before Judge Wilcox the only average being between twenty and thirty cases. Now it is seldom that more than half-a-dozen unfortunates can be found waiting to pay the regulation fine and usually there are only three or four men who have overstepped the bounds of temperance.

Judge Wilcox has often noted, from the bench, the improvement in the general sobriety of Honolulu. He attributes it to the fact that there are more licensed beer saloons in the city and that men can drink beer without bad results; whereas they used to imbibe bad spirits and soon be overcome in the days when the beer saloon, by itself, was unknown. The Judge has also gone so far as to say that he would like to see more beer saloons, as he believes they would be followed by still greater indications of temperance.

To a certain extent Judge Wilcox may be right, but we think that a share of the credit for the greater sobriety existing in Honolulu is due to the work of the temperance organizations in the city. These bodies have been conducting a vigorous anti-liquor campaign and they gain more influence among men by offering some evening attractions and amusements to keep them away from the saloons, whereas in the olden days the temperance work consisted in telling a man he was an outcast, without any practical effort at reformation. What ever the cause for the greater sobriety of the people here, the city of Honolulu is to be congratulated.

Boston has been holding pro-Chinese meetings. Are the Filipinos entirely friendless now on the mainland?

Hon. Edgar Stanton Macley, erstwhile naval historian, professes satisfaction at his retirement into public life.

President Roosevelt refuses to recognize any more claims made by those who state that they received certain promises from President McKinley.

When Congress ascertains the actual cost of producing sugar here and in Cuba it will be better prepared to proceed with the consideration of reciprocity.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Yes—when it does. Although Hon. Dick Croker possesses a desire for a rustic English life, he is kicking like a steer because Tammany is no longer bossing the New York dives.

Bandmaster Berger's welcome at the Capitol grounds on Sunday afternoon shows that the band was missed and that the people of Honolulu appreciate good music.

BOOK REVIEW.

Uncle Hank Relates His Experiences at Buffalo Exposition. "Around the Pan," by Thomas Fleming, published by The Nut Shell Publishing Company, New York, dedicated to the spirit of Pan America in a spirit of fun and constructed, as indicated in the "Foreword," on the theory that it is far better to laugh than to weep, is a most entertaining as well as instructive volume, neatly bound in green cloth. It is a book of 262 pages printed on good paper and cleverly and attractively illustrated by the author.

"Around the Pan with Uncle Hank. His Trip Through the Pan-American Exposition" is the full title of the work. "Uncle Hank" is a Yankee farmer from "way down East," and his experiences at the great exposition at Buffalo are amusingly told. The marvellous facts of the recent world's fair are clothed in a humor which is created by the manner in which things are seen by the genial, easy, old gentleman from the country. The book is one that can be put on the shelf after an enjoyable reading with the anticipation of again, and yet again, perusing its captivating contents.

"Uncle Hank" meets people and things from all parts of the world. He visits the Hawaiian village and is naturally attracted by the exaggerated exhibition.

The following brief extract will give an idea of the book:—"Uncle Hank's curiosity now directed his footsteps toward the Hawaiian village, and as the crowd was surging on he allowed himself to drift in. What he saw there can best be described in his own words:

"Jerusalem—crickery! When I set ter hum I must tell Si Hawkins ter see that Hoola Hoola dance—it's a curker!" and with his vociferously whistled the seductive music as an accompaniment. "The stage manager said it was the same dance that was danced afore King Kalakauer, but I'll bet Mrs. Kalakauer wasn't present when it waz."

Personal News.

Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. C. H. Pond, who have made so many friends during their stay in Honolulu, will sail today for the Coast on the Alameda.

H. E. Hendricks is expected to arrive from an extended trip to the mainland before the end of the month. Mr. Hendricks has, while away, visited the more important business centers including Chicago, St. Louis, Boston and New York.

VANDERBILT FORTUNE.

Reginald C. Gets $12,500,000 as a Starter in Life.

Chicago Record Herald.

Reginald C. Vanderbilt, the youngest son of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, has come into his inheritance of $7,500,000. This occurred on his twenty-first birthday, and under the terms of his father's will this sum was legally put into his possession as a birthday gift. The young man is now worth in his own right, with power to do as he sees fit, the vast sum of $12,500,000, as he was one of the four beneficiaries of a $20,000,000 trust fund which his father left for the benefit of his children. "Reggie," as he is called, came down from New Haven, where he is a senior at Yale, in order to take possession of his fortune.

Should his older brother Alfred die without heirs, of which there is no great likelihood at present, Reginald would fall heir to the headship of the Vanderbilt house and a fortune of $50,000,000.

He is said to be desirous of marrying Miss Kathleen Neilson, who is a Roman Catholic. The Vanderbilts are Episcopalians and the match has been objected to for this reason.

All the Vanderbilt boys have married young, however, and they have been quite disposed to pick their own choice, so that there are a good many prophecies that Reginald will have his way if Miss Neilson offers no objection.

Juvenile Philosophy.

From the Indianapolis News.

It was at the dinner table. The mother was talking of a woman who had died when the seven-year-old daughter put this question to her younger sister of three years:

"Suppose mamma should die, and papa should die, and Mary (the servant) should die, and I should die. Then what would you do?"

"With a little sigh, as though she appreciated the seriousness of such a situation, the three-year-old replied:

"Well, I guess I'd haf to button my dress my ownself."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF HAWAII

ist, 1901, to December 31st, 1901.

Since our last meeting the board of directors concluded to change the place of business of the institution, the old quarters becoming too small and cramped by reason of increasing business and the need of more help, and made arrangements for the present quarters with the McIntyre Building Co., Ltd., for a term of ten years at a yearly rental of $500 a month.

Best Offices in Territory.

The First American Savings and Trust Company of Hawaii, Limited, has its place of business on Fort street, in a part of the premises leased to us, thus reducing our rent by $190 a month.

The removal from the old to the new quarters has entailed an expense of over $7,000 for fixtures, etc., actually needed, and we have today the finest banking offices in the Territory. These fixtures will be carried on the books as an asset and be gradually written off. The business since the last meeting of the stockholders has greatly increased, and we feel perfectly justified from that fact in making the move we have done, and in making the expenditures caused by such removal, and also feel sure that the future business of the institution will justify this action.

The gross profits for the year have been $76,994.38, and the expenses $25,999.31; loss of currency per "Rio de Janeiro," $802. Premium written off U. S. bonds, $2911.52, leaving a net profit for the year's business of $47,281.55, out of which has been paid a dividend of five per cent, per annum, paid semi-annually. The sum of $20,000 has been carried to surplus account, and the balance of $2,281.55 to profit and loss account. Mr. W. G. Cooper, the cashier, has prepared a balance sheet, copies of which are to be distributed amongst you.

New Office of President.

The judges of election for this meeting who are to superintend the election of directors are Messrs. H. F. Lewis, Frank Hastace and Harry Armitage.

The present board of directors consists of Messrs. M. P. Robinson, G. J. Waller, L. L. McCandless, August Dreier and Cecil Brown, who are all eligible for re-election, and ask for a re-election at your hands. In this connection the writer deems it proper and necessary in his own behalf to make a statement as to what were and may be now the intention of the correspondents of this bank in San Francisco in relation to the office of president.

Their intention accidentally became known to the present incumbent and had it not been that a mistake was made by them as to the date of the annual meeting in all probability this intention would have been carried through, and that without a majority of the stockholders being aware or cognizant of what was intended.

Proposed Change of Directors.

The following is what was intended as learnt from outsiders, i. e., not the correspondents. It was the intention to name a board of directors, leaving the present incumbent out. The president of the bank must be a director, and is elected to that position by the directors, the stockholders electing the directors and this action was intended to be taken without any complaint or notification being given or compliance made of neglect of duty, non-attention to business or unfitness from any cause, and it is submitted that the move was intended to be made and undertaken without consultation with the stockholders (some of whom residing abroad knowing nothing of the move, and when finding out repudiated it), and entirely unknown to the stockholders resident here with, say, the exception of one or two, and one of those being an aspirant for the presidency.

Bank's Interest Not Considered.

And it is submitted that this programme was intended to be carried out, without taking into consideration the best interests of the bank and its stockholders. The present incumbent has been informed that the reason for the dissatisfaction of the correspondents was, that all of his time was not given to the institution; be that as it may, it is true that I have not given the whole of my time to the minor details of the office business of the institution, but I do say that in bringing business to the bank and devoting the best of my attention and efforts to that end, whatever salary has been paid me has been faithfully earned, and that in looking out for the interests of the bank and seeking for business has been and is the object for which most of my time is spent, a fact which is well known to those stockholders who reside in this Territory, and it is submitted that what has been done and the work as carried on shows conclusively that it has been successfully carried through; and considering the circumstances and drawbacks as to exchange and other matters under which the First American Bank of Hawaii started, the success has been remarkable. The parent institution had not nor has this day any facilities for obtaining exchange; we have to depend upon the courtesy of other banking institutions and on personal friends of myself, and frequently have to ship coin to cover our drawings, which is not only expensive, but against the interests of the Territory, as it reduces our coin circulation.

Bank Profits Increase.

This bank succeeded to the commercial business of the First American Bank of Hawaii, Ltd., on October 1st, 1900, bringing forward a balance to the credit of profit and loss account from the first American Bank of $23,810.98. For the quarter ending December 31st, 1900, the net profits were at the rate of 6 1-10 per cent per annum, but, as a matter of fact, had it not been for the heavy expenses in connection with the organization of the National Bank, in the way of new stationery, stamps on the new issue of stock, etc., the profits would have shown at the rate of about 8 per cent per annum net. For the six months ending June 30, 1901, the net profits of this bank show at the rate of 9 1/2 per cent per annum. For the six months ending December 31st, 1901, the net profits show a little over 10 per cent per annum.

Financial Exhibit.

During the existence of the National Bank, the gross earnings have been: $92,450.69

The operating expenses were $33,427.28. Loss written off currency shipped on the "Rio de Janeiro" 802.00. Premium written off U. S. Bonds 2,911.52. Dividends paid 31,250.00. $68,390.80

Leaving a net balance carried to profit and loss of $24,059.89. This added to the balance brought forward from the First American Bank of Hawaii 22,810.09

Gives a total of $46,869.98. $45,000.00 of which has been placed to reserve account, leaving a balance in undivided profits of $1,869.98.

Our United States 3 per cent Bonds stand on the Books at date. Principal $250,000.00. Premium 12,000.00. and during the past year, as above stated, we have written off about $3,000 of the amount of premium, notwithstanding the fact that the present market value of these bonds is 109 in New York, leaving a surplus at the present time in this account of over $10,000.

Net Earnings Satisfactory.

Our profits for the last period, had it not been for the extraordinary expenses in connection with moving into our present quarters, would have shown fully 11 per cent per annum net, and we think that the stockholders have every cause for congratulation at the steady improvements in the net earnings of the bank, as above shown from period to period.

The First American Savings and Trust Company of Hawaii, Ltd., which is operated under the Territorial laws, and does also a remunerative business and has paid the same dividend; the services rendered were evidently not taken into consideration by them, the writer being its president also, and serving as such without any remunerative whatever. If the majority of the stockholders, or the correspondents were dissatisfied, it is submitted that in all fairness some notification of displeasure or dissatisfaction as to the management or services, should have been communicated to the present incumbent direct.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS.

The undersigned beg to advise shippers that until further notice the rate of freight from San Francisco to Honolulu by steamers of the Oceanic Steamship Company will be $3.50 per ton net.

HOLD-UP MEN RUN TO REEF PORTO RICANS ARE PUNISHED

JUDGE WILCOX POLITELY BUT FIRMLY DECLINES TO PASS ON TITLE.

Hickory Hoe Handle Used as an Argument in Ordering Man Off Rice Patch—Possession of Dangerous Stiletto Results in Two Months on the Reef.

When Lum Wo Sing, a Chinese lessee of a patch of rice land at Walkiki, owned by Mrs. Lizzie Kainana, employed a well seasoned hoe handle in driving Tam Pong from the premises, he failed to count upon the attendant trouble the act would bring to his door.

The greater part of yesterday's proceedings in the police court were devoted to the unravelling of technical points concerning the rightful possession of the tract of land in question. In the opinion of the defense, the determining of the right of title had much to do with ascertaining the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

After his encounter in the rice field Tam Pong immediately swore out a warrant for the arrest of Lum Wo Sing upon a charge of assault and battery. J. A. Magoon assisted in the prosecution, while the defendant's case was looked after by Attorneys Kinney and Wilder.

Judge Wilcox Determined. Judge Wilcox politely but firmly notified both prosecution and the defense that his court could not be used to determine the title to the property. After hearing long drawn out testimony from both sides Lum Wo Sing was committed to the Circuit Court for trial.

The trouble emanated from an expired land lease held by Lum, and which ran out January 1st. A renewal was made out to Tam Pong. It was when the latter attempted to make some repairs about his newly acquired premises that he met with strenuous opposition from Lum. The former tenement insisted that he was still in possession of the property, and ordered the new lessee off the grounds. Tam Pong obeyed the man date, but not with as much haste as Lum desired, and to accelerate his flight Lum was alleged to have borrowed the interloper with a hickory hoe handle. The case wore well along to a late hour in the afternoon before a decision was given.

Hold-Up Men To the Reef. Porto Ricans who assumed new roles in the prevailing epidemic of petty depredations received a stiff sentence yesterday.

Joe Castro and Manuel Sava, arrested by Officer Devanchelle for an attempted hold-up of Hackman Makana, were found guilty and Castro was sentenced to six months on the reef. His partner Sava was given half that time for penal servitude.

Nine Chinese brought to the police station on Saturday evening in a Chillingworth raid, and charged with gambling, were released on a nolle proes. The Orientals fortified themselves by employing Attorney Mon War.

Haole was committed for trial at the next term of the Circuit Court. He was charged with assault and battery on H. Ryan.

Dangerous Looking Stiletto. J. V. Branco was released from the charge of assault upon Maria Vierra. Antonio Delgado, a Porto Rican, charged with vagrancy, established his close affiliation with hard work in court yesterday and was discharged. Antonio claimed he was earning his livelihood by polishing shoes. Upon the charge of carrying a concealed weapon and pulling a dangerous looking stiletto upon Officer McCauley when arrested, Delgado was given a two months' sentence at the reef.

One case of drunkenness graced the docket. Paul Becker admitted his guilt. He was fined $2 and costs.

WINDING UP AFFAIRS. Stock Yard Owners to Receive Eighty Per Cent of Their Investment. The directors of the Honolulu Stock Yards Company held a meeting yesterday at noon, at the office of J. F. Morgan, at which the question of making a payment on the shareholders' stock was brought up and discussed.

It was decided to refund twenty-five per cent to the stockholders, payment to be made in the next two weeks.

No agreement was made concerning the law suit just begun by contractor Smith for payment of some $4,500 that he alleges to be due him on the new building which was damaged by the fire of the Stock Yard stables about three months ago.

Other assets of the company will be turned over to the stockholders as soon as proper disposition of them can be made. It is expected that the stockholders will receive about eighty per cent of their investment.

PRAYER MEETING AT CENTRAL UNION SECOND SERIES WELL ATTENDED

Rev. William Morris Kincaid Speaks Earnestly for Nearly an Hour—Miss Hyde Sings—Regular Mid-Weekly Prayer To-night.

The second prayer meeting of this week in the series being held in Central Union Church was well attended last evening. Mr. Jones led in the opening prayer and the 51st Psalm was read in unison by the congregation.

Rev. William Morris Kincaid spoke earnestly for nearly an hour on the subject: "Take Ye Away the Stone." Mr. Kincaid used many examples in his own experience to show that knowledge without faith was of little use but faith of itself could accomplish wonders. The Lord had used David to slay Goliath because David had faith. How many have faith that they have received the Holy Spirit after having earnestly asked God for this gift. Take the Lord at his word. "Ask and Ye Shall Receive."

An evangelist wonderful in the saying of souls and in his simple child-like faith once said to me: "Everywhere I go I find the people ready and waiting for a revival, but to do this kind of work you must have faith and then you must have your mind filled with the Scripture and have a passion for souls."

There is a reservoir of spiritual power above us, as it were, and faith opens the floodgates. God is more anxious to bless us than we can imagine if we but ask and believe that we will have.

After the address Miss Yarrow led the meeting in an earnest prayer for faith and strength to carry Christ to needy souls. Miss Hyde sang "Will There Be Light?" and the closing hymn was "Take the Name of Jesus With You."

To-night the regular mid-weekly prayer meeting will be held, the subject being: "The Work of the Holy Spirit."

STRANGERS' FRIEND SOCIETY MEETING GOOD WORK DURING QUARTER

Mrs. Wm. G. Irwin and Hon. Charles R. Bishop Endow Beds in Queen's Hospital Where Upwards of Forty Patients are Treated.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Strangers' Friend Society was held yesterday morning in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. Since the last meeting $2,329 have been disbursed in charity. From the minutes of the annual meeting it was found that Hon. Charles R. Bishop had endowed four beds in the Queen's Hospital for the Friendless Society, and during the year they had been successfully occupied by thirty different patients. Mrs. Wm. G. Irwin had also given a bed to the Society and this had cared for eleven patients.

Mrs. Irwin had also presented the Society with $500. Mrs. Lewison had given $250. to be invested for the benefit of the Society.

Several needy families had been, and are now being, entirely or partly supported by the Society, and passages have been procured for destitute persons wishing to return to friends on the mainland. Provisions or weekly rations were given to many families; house rents had been paid in many instances; two orphan children had been paid for in the Castle Home and a great deal of good was done for transient cases through the monthly allowance given Mrs. Berger, manager of the Associated Charities.

A vote of thanks was unanimously extended to those who had made donations.

BAPTISM OF THE JAPANESE

OLD AND NEW CUSTOMS COMPARED

NAMES CHANGED AT EVERY PROGRESSIVE STEP IN LIFE.

Consul General Miki Saito Says That Fashion of Naming Child By Lottery Method is Becoming Obsolete in Cities Though Still in Vogue in Country Districts.

In the mode of baptizing children the sharp contrast between the old and the new customs of Japan is more evident than in most of their other phases of life.

According to the old custom the baptism of the child is accompanied with much ceremony. The baby was taken to the temple escorted by a procession at the end of which was a servant carrying the child's wardrobe, the size and richness of which indicated the social standing of the parents. When the temple was reached a paper was handed to the officiating priest, upon which three names were written. These names were copied on three separate slips of paper by the priest who then put them into a box and shook them together, at the same time offering an invocation to the gods. Finally he would draw out one of the slips and read out the name given to the child, as it was believed by the gods.

Custom Getting Obsolete. This custom is, according to Consul General Miki Saito of this city, rapidly getting obsolete. In the large cities it is not practiced at all but in the remote parts of the empire the common people still cling to the old custom. The custom of changing a person's name on different occasions has been stopped by the Japanese government, however.

It was customary to change a person's name as he passed through different periods of life. When he attained his majority, which was formerly at the age of 15, he got a new name. When he began official life he got another new name, and every time he rose a degree in his career his name was again changed. Thus it would be a wise parent that knew his own child.

Celebration of Baptism. At present all of this is different. When a child is born his name is registered in the register's office and in the census bureau. His baptism is made the cause of celebration and gifts are sent to the child from relatives and friends but no temple ceremonies take place as most of the enlightened Japanese do not now have much to do with the Shinto or Buddhist temples. The name is never changed in any place of the empire except of course in case of adoption or in the case of a woman when she gets married. The age of majority has also been changed to 21 years as in other countries.

Compulsory Education. Attendance at the public schools has also been made compulsory and every child in Japan is bound through the law to go to school when it attains the age of six years. Thus the quaint and picturesque costumes of old Japan are rapidly fading away under the sway of the government which looks to progress and has very little sympathy with conservatism.

While the decay of the quaint charms of the old fashions may cause a regret to the foreigners and tourists who visit the country the Japanese themselves are doing away with all such customs so rapidly that the nation will soon be similar in all its customs and government to the countries of the older civilized nations.

METEOROLOGICAL SUMMARY.

For the Month of December.

Temperature mean for the month, 72.1; normal, 71.5; average daily maximum, 77.4; average daily minimum, 67.1; mean daily range, 10.3; greatest daily range, 19 degrees; least daily range, 3 degrees; highest temperature, 82; lowest, 59.

Barometer average 29.923; normal, 29.970 (corrected for gravity by 0.0); highest 30.17 on the 21st; lowest, 29.73 on the 10th; greatest 24-hour change 0.23, i. e., from any given hour on one day to the same hour on the next; Lows passed this point on the 10th and 23rd; highs on the 4th, 20th, and 31st. In the October report the following remark was made: "It will be interesting to note whether seven successive months of low barometer will be followed by unusually heavy rains." The report below will show whether this was well founded.

Relative humidity, 76.2; normal 75; mean dew-point, 64.1; normal 63; mean absolute moisture, 6.53 grains to the cubic foot; normal, 6.32. The dew-point was unusually low during the last three days of the month. Rainfall, 9.98 inches; normal, 3.52; rain record days, 14; normal, 16; greatest rainfall in one day, 5.76 inches fell on the 24th; total at Luakaha, 25.51; at Kapiolani Park, 9.33. Total rainfall since January 1, 38.96; normal, 27.00. The artesian well level rose during the month from 32.56 feet above mean sea-level to 34.05. January 1, 1901, it stood at 34.00. It would seem that the lowering of the wells has come to a standstill, owing to the failure of the high-level wells, and probably greater economy on the part of those at a low-level. The average daily mean sea-level for December was 10.26 on the scale, 10.00 representing an assumed annual mean, and 9.92 the actual annual mean for nine years previous to 1901. The mean for 1901 has been 10.17.

Trane wind days, 7; normal, 14; 3 of N. N. E.; average force of wind (during daylight), 1.7 Beaufort scale. Cloudiness, tenths of sky, 5.0; normal, 4.4.

Approximate percentages of district rainfall, Hilo, 175 percent; Hamakua, 140; Kohala, 130; Waimea, 100; Kona, 200 to 400; Kau, 175; Puna, 150; Maui, variable from 60 to 200; Oahu, 240; Kauai, 225.

There was a general and very heavy rainfall throughout the group on the 24th; 6 inches in 24 hours on Oahu, 10 inches in 24 hours in Hilo, and at Laupahoehoe and Ookala, North Hilo, 20 inches in 24 hours, is reported on good authority, though the official report has not come in. The newspapers reported 40 inches in a day at Papaaloa 2 miles from Laupahoehoe, but there is no rain-gauge at that point; and Laupahoehoe reports 40 inches for two days, not one.

Mean temperatures, Pepeekeo, Hilo district, 100 feet elevation, average maximum, 77.6; average minimum, 67.8; Waimea, Hawaii, 2730 feet elevation, 73.7 and 61.6; Kohala, 521 elevation, 78.4 and 67.7; W. R. Cass, the Kilaokaha, 60 feet elevation, highest, 80; lowest, 59; average for year, 74.42. Ewa Plantation, 50 elevation, mean maximum, 81.2; mean minimum, 64.8; mean dew-point, 64.4.

The two storm periods of the month were about the 8th and 24th, both preceded by heavy swell, and followed by low dew-point. The north wind evidently precipitated the terrific downpour on North Hilo. There was lightning reported from Hawaii for the 8th, 9th, 13th, 24th and 25th, Maui on the 8th. Snow fell on Mauna Kea and Mauna Loa on the 8th and 24th, on Haleakala 8th. Earthquake reported at Hilo 7:30 p. m. on the 2nd.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off. "Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annotto Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

CASES BEFORE THE COURTS

PLENTY OF NEW LITIGATION

FIRST CIRCUIT COURT HAS HEAVY CALENDAR FOR FEBRUARY TERM.

Chinese Want C. Bolte Arrested But Judge Humphreys Declines to Suppress Wilcox—Kinney Complainants That He Was Not Notified of Dunne's Application.

The Supreme Court was occupied all day yesterday with the case of the Kapiolani Estate, Limited, against A. S. Cleghorn. The matter was argued and submitted and today the case of Jonathan Shaw against C. W. Booth, exceptions from Circuit Court, First Circuit, Robertson & Wilder for plaintiff and J. A. Magoon for defendant-appellant, will be commenced.

New Cases Filed.
Cases filed on return of summons yesterday were as follows:

Action to quiet title in land at Manoa: Frank Godfrey against John Kidwell. Plaintiff claims that on March 8, 1899, defendant obtained a deed of the property from Emma Metcalf Ikaika by wrongful methods. J. O. Carter, et al., trustees of the Bishop Estate, against Lulia (w.), ejectment from land at Kawananakoa; plaintiffs claim damages for wrongful possession.

Lahela Kualua against Kuaiwa, libel for divorce on the grounds of cruelty and intemperance.

F. Lombard against A. M. Brown, former marshal and present high sheriff, action for $2000 for false arrest. On account of said arrest plaintiff declares that he has suffered and that his reputation and profession as a teacher of languages have been damaged to the extent of $2000.

There were five arrests and the plaintiff states the history of each. He also speaks of the refusal of Judge Perry to allow him to bring suit for damages without costs on account of poverty.

The plaintiff says that while he was in a weak condition, Messrs. Watson and Schaefer, French and Italian consuls, called on him and induced him to accept $200, which offer he was unable to refuse on account of his distinction.

The Divorce Mill.
John Degraevs brings suit for divorce from his wife, Caroline Degraevs, alleging unlawful conduct.

Beke Ah Sing asks for divorce from Akai Sing, alleging non-support. She believes, she says, that her husband is a loafer and a vagrant, without any employment. The woman says her husband has never contributed to her support.

William H. Wright against John K. Gandall, assumpsit, claim for $2,403.60 with interest from May 31, 1901, indebtedness for money expended by plaintiff for the use of defendant.

M. L. Smith against the Honolulu Stock Yards Company, in assumpsit, claim for $4500 for building.

February Calendar.

There are already 275 cases entered on the calendar of the February term of the Circuit Court, First Circuit, as follows: Criminal, 25; civil jury, 202; jury waived, 22; and divorce, 26. Before the calendar is closed it is expected that there will be other cases added.

Wanted Bolte Arrested.
A number of Chinese appeared before Judge Humphreys in chambers yesterday morning, asking for the arrest of C. Bolte on a charge of assault and battery. Judge Humphreys refused to take jurisdiction in the matter, holding that it was a case for Judge Wilcox.

In the United States District Court yesterday morning Attorney Bigelow, of counsel for the Bishop Estate, intimated that there was some objection to the order of the Court on Saturday last putting the Government in possession of the land condemned in the suit against the Bishop Estate. Judge Estee consented to hear more in the matter today.

Pursuant to the order of Judge Estee, placing the United States in immediate possession of the land, subject to existing leases, United States District Attorney Dunne paid over to Chief Clerk Maling $52,737 for the 561.2 acres of Pearl Harbor land of the Bishop Estate.

Attorney W. A. Kinney, of counsel for the Bishop Estate, declared that he had received no notice that the Government was going to ask for such an order as was made by Judge Estee on Saturday.

District Attorney Dunne applied for and obtained the order under section 1559 of the civil code. Mr. Dunne says that there is nothing in the statute requiring the giving of such notice as is spoken of by Mr. Kinney.

"The money is here," said Judge Estee, "and will draw interest. The Bishop Estate can take it or refuse it. The Court signed the order because under the law it was the only proper thing to do."

Various Court Notes.
A demurrer has been filed in the case of S. C. Allen against T. R. Lucas, et al., foreclosure.

Henry Smith has filed a motion to amend his complaint against Mary A. S. Rose and Sanford B. Dole, an error having been made in the description of the property in the original complaint.

It is said that the additional testimony in the Kamalo case will be heard by Judge Humphreys during the present vacation.

Monday, February 17, has been set for hearing the petition of Palkal for probate of the will of J. W. Kealaka. Judge Humphreys has made an order allowing Louisa Kaaloa, guardian of her two minor children, to spend $500 for their support and education.

An order has also been made by Judge Humphreys directing J. S. Walker, administrator of the estate of J. C. Strow, deceased, to pay and deliver into court all moneys and property of the estate.

Francis Christian Wilhelm Buchholz, a German, was yesterday admitted to United States citizenship by United States Judge Estee, Chief Clerk Maling and Referee Fleming were yesterday approved by United States Judge Estee.

DESTITUTE PORTO RICANS.

Now in Charge of the High Sheriff Awaiting Employment.

Hungry and destitute, two dozen Porto Ricans who have for some time past been making their home at Kaaka, were taken in hand by the police department yesterday morning, and were rounded up to the central station.

The Porto Ricans had endeavored to secure aid from the Associated Charities, but were unsuccessful. Many of the men had families and declared that they were starving.

High Sheriff Born took up the matter of providing work for the unemployed, and within the next two days will endeavor to place his charges on the various plantations on the Island of Oahu. Those who refuse to work will be prosecuted for vagrancy.

The Porto Ricans have been frequenting the streets of late, and causing members of the police force much solicitation regarding their movements, in the light of the recent depredations which have been taking place nightly in Honolulu.

NEW ARC LAMPS

RECEIVE HEARTY ENDORSEMENTS.

The new enclosed type of Arc Lamps we are now installing receive the hearty endorsement of all who are now using them.

Mr. T. Rosenberg, of the Globe Clothing Co., says: "You may say for me that I am highly pleased with these lamps and would have no other. They meet every requirement, are soft, brilliant and steady, and so far as I can see, are absolutely without fault."

These lamps we will install at a very small cost. They will give five times the amount of light of the incandescent for the same money. Burn eighty hours with one trimming, and give a soft, penetrating, evenly distributed light, without fluttering or noise.

For further information, send us a postal, or ring up Main 390, and we will be pleased to call at your office.
