TRAGEDY ENACTED IN PLAIN VIEW OF CROWD

While returning in a row boat from an excursion trip to Cooanui Island last Sunday afternoon, Miss Myra Todd was drowned in plain view of a score of people standing on the Waiakea river bridge.

In company with George N. Day, her ten year old sister, Sarah, and Amy Williams, a playmate of the latter, Miss Todd went to Cooanui Island to spend the afternoon. On Sundays this is a favorite resort for picnickers and bathing parties.

On attempting to return to the boat landing up the Waiakea river, it was found that a high sea was running, the swells breaking at the mouth of the river. Mr. Day at the oars found difficulty in controlling the boat against the strong outward current of the river and as he traversed about half way along the piling which forms a jetty for the stream, a heavy comber from the rear caught the frail craft turning it half around. A second wave dashed over the occupants, instantly capsizing the boat. The water ordinarily is not very deep at this point and both Miss Todd and Mr. Day were expert swimmers. Miss Todd wore a light raglan coat at the time of the accident, which retarded her movements in the water, but clinging to the bottom of the overturned vessel, she called to her companion to save the Williams child and she would look after her sister.

In the meantime, their cries for help had been heard and some of the idlers on the Waiakea bridge ran to secure a boat and a gasoline launch. The overturned craft was rapidly drifting into the bay and it is supposed that Miss Todd, relying on her strength and swimming powers, attempted to strike off for the rocky shore not fifty feet distant. Her sister heard her cry, "Let go of the boat" and felt a tug at her skirt, when she disappeared in the water. When last seen by her sister her coat and hair were a confused mass about the poor girl's head and the theory is that she was dragged under by the rushing waters and losing her strength, could no longer baffle with the waves. Mr. Day and the Williams girl who were clinging desperately to the other side of the boat were not aware that she was gone until some time afterwards. Sarah Todd lost her hold of the vessel and was rescued by Antone Oliveira, a Portuguese who swam to her assistance. She was weak and half drowned when brought ashore having swallowed a quantity of the sea water. Day and the Williams girl were picked up by a Japanese fishing boat which went to their rescue some distance from the scene of the accident. Both were exhausted from their struggles and half dead.

William A. Todd, father of the drowned girl, was one of the first to arrive on the scene having been riding in the vicinity of Waiakea when he heard the cries for assistance, little realizing that it was his own daughter's voice calling for help. He jumped into a boat and hastened to the rescue, but too late to save his daughter whose life had been given up to the power of the sea. No blame attaches to Mr. Day for the sad tragedy, but wonder is expressed that with so many idlers on the bridge, none offered to come to the assistance of the unfortunate ones.

A diligent search for the body as made of the bay and sea shore throughout Sunday night without success, but early Monday morning the tide brought the remains ashore near the railroad trestle, where they were found about 6 o'clock by the searchers. The funeral took place at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon from the Episcopal Church of which she has recently become a member. An impressive funeral service was read by Rev. W. C. Stewart at the church and at the grave. The church was crowded by a large gathering of friends and the Hilo band led the funeral cortege to the cemetery.

Myra Keonaona Todd was born in Hilo, August 8, 1883, the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Todd. She attended the Union School until the summer of 1898, when she entered the Hilo Telephone office. She has been a faithful and intelligent employee and the most experienced and capable woman in that office. She had a host of friends and acquaintances, who were shocked to learn of her sudden death when just blossoming into womanhood. She was an athletic girl, a fearless swimmer and had she not become entangled in her clothing could easily have saved herself. This is the second loss by drowning in the Todd family, an infant sister having lost her life in a bathtub many years ago.

Balfour Will Not Resign.

London, England, Nov. 24.—Balfour Premier and his Cabinet have decided not to resign, but to dissolve Parliament and appeal to the people in a general election.

Directed to Survey Hilo Harbor.

Honolulu, Nov. 24.—Lieut. J. R. Slattery, U. S. Army, has been directed by the War Department to proceed with the survey of Hilo harbor and make an estimate of cost of construction of a breakwater. Engineer Slattery heretofore has only made a preliminary examination of the needs of a breakwater, and upon his report the War Department officials seek accurate data. It is estimated that the construction will cost a million and a quarter dollars. The survey will be completed and a report sent to Washington about January 1st.

District Magistrates Have Jurisdiction.

Honolulu, Nov. 24.—The Territorial supreme court decides that the district magistrates have jurisdiction over offenses against county ordinances, except where imprisonment is the penalty. Prosecutions should be made in the name of the Territory and not of the people or county. Supervisors cannot prescribe imprisonment as a penalty.

[This is the case of alleged violation of the gambling ordinance passed by the Oahu County Board of Supervisors. District Magistrate Whitney refused to issue a warrant, claiming no jurisdiction, and the decision is on a writ of mandamus.]

Pittsburg, Pa., November 22.—The Federation at its session today took action in favor of the exclusion of Chinese, Japanese and Korean labor from the United States and its possessions.

Hilo Boarding School Luau and Concert.

The lady managers of the luau and fair to be held next Thursday, "Thanksgiving Day," at the Hilo Boarding School, have worked diligently to make it a success, and to present an entertainment for old and young alike. A full afternoon and evening's program has been arranged. The luau will be served from 12:30 to 2 p. m. and a poi supper from 5 to 7 p. m. It is stated that the poi supper will be of as equally high quality and character as the noonday meal. The baseball game begins at 2 o'clock, weather permitting. During the afternoon a sideshow, "In the Land of the Mikado," will be personally superintended by Rev. Sokabe, who has decorated his rooms in Japanese style. It is stated that nothing just like this exhibit has ever been presented to a Hilo audience.

The concert, which begins promptly at 8 o'clock in the evening, promises to be an enjoyable performance, worth more than the fifty cents charged for admission. The program as arranged is as follows:

The Sultan Becomes Defiant.

Constantinople, Nov. 27.—The Porte has rejected the proposals of the powers for the international control of the finances of Macedonia.
An allied fleet arrived in The Piraeus, the harbor of Athens, day-before-yesterday. Unless the Sultan recedes from his position energetic measures are likely to be taken against him and they may seize the harbor and customs of several islands off the west coast of Asia Minor. It is believed that the Sultan's refusal to entertain the proposals of the Powers is based on the failure of the Kaiser to join in the demonstration against the Porte, and that he is expecting the support of Germany.

Author of all things created!
For the bounties of the year
Let us all, with hearts elated,
Offer Thee a thankful prayer.

THANKSGIVING.

The setting apart of one day in every year as a day of thanksgiving admits that the Great Giver of all good presides over us and is the fountain of all blessings. It is a day particularly for pause and for reflection upon the blessings vouchsafed us. It is not necessary that parade shall be made, but it is proper that those who really appreciate what they have enjoyed shall gather about God's altar or the parental board and give expression with thankful hearts for what they have received.

If upon next Thursday you are not giving thanks, why is it so? It is not a mere holiday devoted to festivities and hilarity, but a day of reverence, of remembrance and gratitude. Let us forsake our pleasures for a brief space and either in our own homes or by attending divine worship upon Thanksgiving Day show our appreciation of the Divine mercies which have been bestowed upon us.

If the year has not been so prosperous as others, let us look upon the bright spots which we have enjoyed and remember with grateful hearts that it might have been worse. Let us remember that every one of us has the power to create a little sunshine in our own and in the lives of others. We may have burdens to bear, but in helping others, by acts of self-sacrifice and by doing unto others as we would be done by, our own trials and troubles glide away from us and we revel in the very joy of living. Let not the day go by without some form of observance. Even those with pessimistic souls may have an optimistic appetite to be thankful for.

OUR FUTURE CITIZENS.

Under the editorial caption of "The Power of Sugar," the Honolulu Bulletin prints a strong leading article upon the future of these islands. It contains much food for thought and assimilation and is worthy of careful consideration by those upon whom the responsibility rests of shaping the destiny of this Territory. The following are salient paragraphs:

"Sugar planters of Hawaii are day by day determining the character of the population of the islands. They are shaping the future of Hawaii, politically and morally. The standard of future citizenship rests largely with them. It is inevitable, because the labor of any country developing under natural conditions furnishes the basis for the controlling citizenship of future days. The predominant industry shapes the destiny of the community, though secondary interests may from time to time rise up to act as an alleged leaven to revolutionize the whole loaf. It may be a sin to discourage the small leaveners, but unless the predominant influence takes an active part in whatever changes are sought to be brought about, the revolutionary movements of the smaller factors are more or less speedily swamped.

"When the leaders of the sugar industry discuss mechanical and scientific topics they are dealing with problems of today. When they discuss labor, they are determining the civic influences that will be in full swing a few years hence, influences that will come back to aid or distress, build up or destroy. One thing is certain—the crop reaped is usually determined by the seed sown."

UNTIL a resident laboring element is established in Hawaii, which is not forever peregrinating to new lands of promise, this Territory may expect to have endless trouble with its labor conditions.

WHO'S SCARED?

It is worthy of note that the administration officials are paying some attention to the "unworthy protests" of the Hilo Board of Trade regarding their official interpretation of the land laws of Hawaii. The Honolulu press appear to have run away with the idea that this last report addressed to Washington, which it is claimed contains "mere generalities," is the first and only complaint lodged with the Territorial officers against their misconception of the spirit of the land law.

Research in the archives of the office of the Commissioner of Public Lands would reveal a budget of specific cases to satisfy the most exacting and fastidious mind as to the policy of the land officials in their efforts to keep settlers off the public lands. Instead of seeking to drive homesteaders away from their holdings and to discourage the immigration of white settlers in Hawaii, the Territorial Land Office should be an adjunct to the Hawaii Promotion Committee. The opening and settlement of the public lands should be made an inducement to bring people from the mainland and elsewhere to contribute to the settlement and prosperity of the Territory by a resident laboring class. The great success of the colonizing schemes of southern California and the present rush to the northwest Territory is due to the liberal land policy adopted by these countries. There is already sufficient land set aside for forest reserve, but with a continuation of the antagonistic policy against the settlement of the public domain, we may yet witness all lands not absolutely necessary for sugar cultivation, deserted by American settlers and reserved for the future expansion of large estates.

ECHOES OF THE PRESS.

Commenting on banana business, the Advertiser says: By this means (acquisition of a local boat) the ruinous question of freight will be satisfactorily answered and one of the shippers obstacles to success in his enterprise removed. A fruit exchange run in the interests of the banana producers, and from this end of the line, would be instrumental in smoothing away other difficulties which beset profitable banana shipping at present. This and a local steamer would make the lot of the banana raisers in Hawaii a happy one.—Advertiser.

The broad and sweeping charges made by the Hilo Board of Trade against the Land Department are mere generalities and unworthy of a place in any communication emanating from a public body. What should be presented in each case is a definite charge backed up by proof. If the Board had no time to prepare these it should have at least been decent enough to omit wholesale libelous accusations against an official who is, from his official position itself and ignorance of specific complaints, unable to defend himself. We venture to assert that whatever action has been taken by Commissioner Pratt in the exercise of his duties, has been according to the letter of the law as he understands it or as he is advised by the Territory's legal guides.—Advertiser.

The letter of the Hilo Board of Trade may give a wrong impression of what is intended. Experience has shown, however, that Federal departments must have day and date and detail in intricate array before it is possible to draw a definite conclusion. If the complaint is merely against the local officers, as the letter implies, the question at issue before the department is whether the local officers are properly interpreting the local land law.

Few things could do Hawaii more good than a thorough investigation of its land laws and the reason why more Americans do not take up land and remain on it. The letter of the Hilo Board of Trade gives the impression that the protestants of that section are scattering their shot, complaining without getting down to the brass tacks of just what's the matter.—Bulletin.

If the administration of the public lands by the United States is successful elsewhere, there is no reason for fear in the interpretation of the local laws by disinterested officials from the mainland, who can recognize the importance of encouraging people to become citizens and to take up land.

THE administration of Eddie Boyd, whose misdeeds in the Land Office brought him to ruin, had more claim to merit for the settlement of the public lands than Commissioner Pratt dares to inaugurate under his present circumscribed official action.

WHEN it comes to decency and the making of "wholesale libelous accusations" the Advertiser takes the palm, as a scurrilous article emanating from Hilo and recently appearing in its columns demonstrates.

Death of Former Hiloite.

G. V. Jakins at Papaikou received word by the last Kinan of the death of his brother-in-law Walter Nicolls, which occurred on October 8th at Auckland, New Zealand, where he had gone to recuperate his health. He was well known in Hilo and Waikamalu, where he was associated in business with Mr. Jakins. He was 43 years of age, and died of heart trouble.

DUTY ON COFFEE.

Protection Needed for Hawaiian Industry.

There is an indication that the coffee growers of the Islands are going to get together and do something for their mutual benefit. Their plantations are widely scattered through the group, with Hawaii containing the largest interests, but a planters' association, with objects somewhat similar to the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, is about being organized, having in view Honolulu as headquarters. One of the first actions will be to send a representative to Washington next month to advocate in the strongest possible terms a protective tariff on coffee. He will be armed with several cogent arguments, one of which is the necessity of Americanizing Hawaii with American farmers. The simplicity of coffee culture will be set forth as adapted to the ability of any industrious farmer who has had no experience in this line. It will be shown that it is a pursuit in which his wife and children can engage as well as himself and one of the cleanest and most inexpensive kinds of agriculture, requiring no horses or cattle, fertilization or irrigation. It will be demonstrated that for equality of climate no section of the United States surpasses Hawaii and that the domestic and educational advantages in the coffee districts of the Islands are as good as in the country places of middle states.

Every farmer in the United States except the coffee farmer is protected. A duty, sufficient to be protective, is the only requisite for the coffee industry in the Islands and such duty should be five cents specific. Reciprocity has been a delusion so long that American political economists are beginning to open their eyes. The United States buys annually $100,000,000 worth of coffee, rubber and hides of Brazil and Brazil patronizes the United States to the extent of $10,000,000 annually. Brazil purchases the bulk of its manufactured goods in European countries which exact a high protective tariff on Brazilian coffee. Whether the standpatters will permit the revisionists to tinker with the tariff this coming season is a question. Congress is aware that more revenue is needed right away. The liquor, beer and tobacco manufacturers are very much adverse to an increase of the revenue on their products and they will make a solid and mighty resistance to any such measure. They would prefer to assemble their efforts to effect a duty on foreign coffee, which would furnish an enormous revenue.—Paradise of the Pacific (November.)

While the Agents of many Life Insurance Companies are petitioning their Officers for the ANNUAL DIVIDEND policy, it is a source of great satisfaction to the Policyholders of the Pacific Mutual to know that their Company has been issuing almost nothing else for years.

No petitioning necessary for liberality with the good old Pacific Mutual.

The Directors of the Company are by the California law made jointly and severally liable for all monies EMBEZZLED or MISAPPROPRIATED by the officers during the term of office of such Director. Quite a provision from the SECURITY STANDPOINT, considering what has recently occurred.

The Tie-up of the Greatrix Estate

(Original.)
When my mother died and left me alone in the world I resolved to rent my house, spend a few months abroad and on my return move into bachelor quarters. During the preliminary weeding out of useless accumulations I took from a box of old papers a bundle that astonished me. It contained documents relating to an estate of which I had never heard. They consisted of deeds to houses and lands, also stocks, bonds and other property.

I could not have been more surprised if an angel had come down from heaven and lit on my shoulder. How had these papers come into my possession? I had no remembrance of having placed anything in the box for several years. On examining some of them I found the estate to be held in trust for a minor, John Carter Greatrix. I had never heard of such a person. On further examination I came to the conclusion that the estate in question must have remained unavailable by any one from the time these papers had been placed in my box. What should I do in the matter? If I advertised them and could give no satisfactory reason for possessing them I might be accused of having stolen them. I had engaged my passage on an ocean liner and resolved to proceed on my journey, which would give me plenty of time to think over the best course to pursue. I sailed the next day.

During my trip I met in Berlin an American, Miss Eleanor Thurlow, who was there with her mother studying music with a view to teaching it on her return. She finished her course about the time I met her, and as her mother and she spent the summer in Switzerland I was enabled to see a great deal of them, for I stayed where they stayed, and on our return I engaged passage on the same steamer. Before embarking we were engaged.

During the voyage I thought at intervals about the estate of young John Carter Greatrix, wondering if he had come into possession of it and trying to decide what I should do about making known that I had the papers. Now that another was the partner of my joys and sorrows I felt my responsibility more keenly. I debated whether I should confide in Eleanor Thurlow; but, having known me only a very short time, she might grow suspicious of me. No, I would wait till she knew me better. I told her that I had a little property and was engaged in a business in which I was doing well. On the whole, we could live comfortably. She maintained a reserve with reference to her own affairs; but, as she was expecting to teach music, I concluded she was possessed of little or nothing. We parted as soon as we reached America to go to our respective homes, which were a day's journey apart.

Meanwhile I had resolved to refer the matter of the papers to my lawyer and be guided by his advice. In relating the circumstance to him I had no sooner mentioned the name of the minor for whom the estate was held than he jumped to his feet excitedly and, running to his partners, exclaimed: "The papers in the Greatrix estate are found!"

Years before the firm had settled a case for me out of court and handed me the papers concerning it, which I tossed unopened in a box at home. Later I was given another bundle containing the papers in this same case and, supposing them to be additional documents, tossed them into the same box. One of these bundles contained the Greatrix papers, given me by mistake.

Immediately on my return to my rooms I wrote my fiancée, unburdening myself to her of the annoyance I had suffered. She replied, congratulating me warmly upon so quick and satisfactory a solution.

A few days later I was told by my attorney that during the period the papers were missing the estate had suffered greatly. John Carter Greatrix died before coming of age, and the property had passed to three persons who were next of kin. "One of these persons," he said, "desires to thank you for your return of the papers that have enabled us to divide the property, and will meet you here tomorrow for that purpose." I promised to be there.

The next morning on my arrival at the office I was shown into a private room, where I found the attorney at his desk.

"I understand," he said, "that you are about to be married to a client of mine."

"Of yours?" I exclaimed, surprised.

"Yes. Miss Thurlow is a client of mine."

"But how did she come to tell you of her engagement?"

"In a professional way."

I grew more surprised every moment. "And now," he said, "I will introduce you to the person who wishes to thank you for ending the tie-up of the Greatrix estate. Come in here. He flung open a door leading into another room. A lady stood with her back to us, and when she turned there was—Eleanor Thurlow.

I stood stupefied. "Miss Thurlow," said the lawyer, "inherits one-third of the Greatrix estate and will now, through your finding the papers, come into a property worth $150,000. She desires to thank you."

He retired, closing the door behind him.

Can I ever forget the happy smile with which she came forward, dropping her outstretched arms about my neck? The explanations had all been made. We had nothing to do but enjoy in each other's embrace the first sensations of our altered condition.

OLAA'S NEW BONDS.

Stockholders Authorize a Two Mil- lion Issue.

At a meeting of the stockholders of Olaa Sugar Company held at Honolulu on Thursday, a resolution authorizing the issue of $2,000,000 of bonds to refund the outstanding bond issue of $1,250,- 000 and to pay the agents account was adopted.

The president stated that of the $709,000 heretofore sold, the owners of $540,000 have agreed to accept bonds of the new issue in exchange.

The proposed refunding proposition was stated, in part, as follows:
The outstanding obligations of the Olaa Sugar Company, as of November 1, 1905, are approximately as follows:

Bond issue authorized Aug. 1,
1900, which can be paid Feb. 1, 1906, amounts to $1,250,000. Of this issue, bonds have been

(1) Sold to the amount of...709,000

(2) Used collateral on notes...541,000

Outstanding bond issue...$1,250,000

The total debt, bonded or secured by bonds is $1,174,000

The amount due agents for advances, as of Nov. 1, is $1,023,- 946.31, less estimated returns from balance of 1905 crop of sugar, $265,- 000.

This leaves the approximate amount due agents $758,946.31.

So that the estimated total debt of Nov. 1, 1905, is approximately $1,932,946.31.

It is proposed to make a new issue of bonds to the amount of $2,000,000 the proceeds to be used to take up the outstanding bonds and indebtedness secured by bonds, and also to take up the agents' account, thereby converting it into a long term indebtedness, instead of a current account payable on demand.

The security for the new issue of bonds will be a first mortgage on the entire Olaa plantation, its assets and franchises, which include $500,- 000.00 of the bonds of the Puna
Sugar Company, its entire issue, and 90 per cent. of its stock, 37,993 shares of a par value of $758,060.00.

The Olaa plantation consists of approximately 16,000 acres of cane land under 40 years' lease.

Total land and cash investment in Puna, $1,804,000.00.

It is proposed to issue the above named bonds in two series, to be designated as "Series A" and "Series B," $1,000,000.00 each.

"Series A" to become due and payable twenty years from their date, the company reserving the option to call and cancel all or any portion of said bonds from and after date of issue.

"Series B" to become due and payable twenty years from date, the company reserving the option to call and cancel all or any portion of said bonds from and after the expiration of the tenth year following their date.

It is proposed to provide for a sinking fund, to go into effect say January 1, 1911, not less than 10 per cent. of the annual net earnings of the company to be applied thereto.

This proposition has been under consideration for several months past, Mr. B. F. Dislingham having on behalf of the directors, devoted much time thereto.

Of the holders of the bonds already sold, amounting to $709,- 000.00, owners of bonds to the amount of $540,000.00 have already agreed to accept bonds of the new issue in substitution for the bonds of the old issue.

The agents, Messrs. Bishop & Company, have also agreed to buy outright, $250,000.00 of the new issue, to surrender their mortgage on the plantation and hold the unsold balance of the bonds as collateral to their advances releasing from time time such bonds as may be sold by the company.

All of the holders of the notes of the company which are secured by bonds have agreed to accept payment of their notes, before the due date, and all bonds, the holders of which do not take new bonds for old in exchange, can be paid off on February 1st next. The road is therefore open to complete the refunding proposition by February 1st, which will place the company in a much better financial position than it now is.

The proposed action is on the recommendation of the directors of the company.

PATRIOTIC EXERCISES.

$50 Prize Offered for a School Program.

Whereas the lessons of patriotism and loyalty for the American nation are vital to the upbuilding of a strong national spirit among the children of our public schools, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Commission of Public Instruction hereby accepts the custody of $50, offered by Senator L. L. McCandless, to be given as a prize to the teacher of the public or private schools of the Territory, who shall present to the Superintendent of Public Instruction on or before December 1, 1905, the best plan for a patriotic exercise to occupy not more than ten minutes time, with a view to its adoption by the Department as the regular opening or closing exercise of each school day throughout the public schools of the Territory. The award to be made before January 1st, 1906, by a committee consisting of Governor Carter, Superintendent of Public Instruction Davis, and a representative from each of the following organizations: Sons of the American Revolution, Grand Army of the Republic and the Spanish American War Veterans.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to each of the teachers in the public or private schools of the Territory with the request that as many take part in the competition as possible.

Delay in Opening of Kau Term of Court.

Owing to the absence of a juror, Edward Macomber, Court proceedings at the Kau term of the Third Circuit Court were suspended. Judge Matthewman issued a bench warrant for the tardy juror, who was found at the mountain home several miles distant. He gave as an excuse illness and ignorance of the time set for convening. The judge fined him $25 and excused him from the panel. H. H. Renton is foreman of the Grand Jury. Two indictments were returned yesterday morning, one in the Kohala Japanese murder case and one against the Porto Rican who killed a Chinese in Kau. Owing to a defect in drawing the Kohala indictment, the prisoner was released, but subsequently arrested and re-indicted. County Attorney Williams is prosecuting for the government.

The following are the grand jurors summoned to appear last Friday, November 24th: J. Wight Atkins, John Kaemakule, Jr., Elias C. Bond, George W. Smith, George Bell, Ernest Langheim, Samuel Parker, Jr., Rudolph von S. Domkovicz, Adam Kealakai, James Upchurch, Philip Kepilino, Basil Apiki, Charles Meinecks, Jr., Samuel P. Woods, Henry Renton, Robert Laing, S. L. Wilhelm, Amos K. Eldredge, Edward D. Macomber, Albert Perkins, G. G. Kinney, Edward D. Quinn, Samuel E. Rogers.

The trial jurors are as follows: Chas. T. Simerson, Benjamin H. Zablan, P. R. Nielson, Elmer E. Conant, Harry Gregson, William H. Greenwell, Thomas Martin, Sam Kauhane, Ross Spencer, Henry G. Bertleman, Samuel Mahuka Spencer, George W. Dougall John Hind, John Wise, G. G. Arneemann, E. Bader, Fred L. Leslie, Joseph Hayes, George Kimball, G. J. Becker, John D. Paris, Jr. W. G. Ogg, James Ontai, W. E. Wright, William Wassman, Maximilian Campbell.

Impeachment of Police.

Word comes from Honokaa of the institution of impeachment proceedings against Wm. J. Rickard, deputy sheriff of the Hamakua district. A petition numerously signed, it is claimed, will be filed with the Board of Supervisors charging deputy sheriff Rickard with malfeasance in office and maladministration. Some of the charges are to the effect that Rickard was present at a bar room brawl, in which the bartender jumped over the counter and slapped John Correa in the face. He refused to arrest the offender, who happened to be his own cousin. He is accused of drunkenness, gambling and having frequented resorts where liquor is illicitly sold. It is stated there is a long line of witnesses to be summoned.

A report comes from North Kona of complaints against Policeman J. W. Keilikea of Kailua, who is charged among other things by Dr. Goodhue, of having permitted to escape thirty-eight out of forty lepers entrusted to his custody. Both cases will probably be investigated by the County Supervisors.

A Pleasant Surprise.

A pleasant surprise party was tendered to G. W. Weight last Tuesday evening at the home of his parents. The occasion was a birthday anniversary. Fully seventy-five guests were present, despite the inclemency of the weather, and enjoyed cards, chess and dancing until a late hour. The Waiakea string orchestra furnished the music of the evening.

SUGAR PLANTERS DISCUSS LABOR SAVING DEVICES

Twenty-Fifth Annual Meeting—H. P. Baldwin Elected President—Many Important Papers Read—Cane Loaders and Other Machinery—C. C. Kennedy Describes Methods Used at Waiakea.

PROGRAM

The following was the program for the week:

Monday P. M.—Reports of Hauling and Transportation Committee, and of the Manufacturing Committee.

Tuesday A. M.—Reports of Experimental Station of the Directors of the Divisions of Agriculture, Entomology, Pathology and Fertilization.

Tuesday P. M.—Cobb on Cane Disease, Craw on Beneficial Insects.

Wednesday A. M.—Committee Reports on Labor, Hauling and Transportation, Machinery, By-Products, Forestry and Labor Saving.

Thursday A. M.—Visit to Experimental Station, where lunch was served.

Thursday P. M.—Executive Session, Dinner at Young Hotel, followed by smoking concert.

Friday—Clearing up left-over business.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association convened last Monday at 10 o'clock in the rooms at the Judd Building. President F. M. Swanzy was in the chair and among those present at the opening of the meeting were F. Forbes, H. P. Baldwin, E. K. Bull, G. F. Davies, W. H. C. Campbell, C. F. Eckart, J. Fassett, A. Garvie, C. C. Kennedy, J. McLennan, J. A. Scott, W. Pfothenhauer, W. W. Hall, J. F. Tyre, E. Madden, F. Meyer, G. Ratten, W. O. Smith, F. Webber, A. Gartenberg, J. Hine, P. McLean, F. A. Schaefer, J. G. Spencer, James Webster, J. T. Moir, T. S. Kay, W. M. Giffard and R. D. Mead, secretary.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the Secretary and approved as read.

The president read his annual address announcing that the crop was 426,000 tons of sugar which, while not the largest on record was most satisfactory. He noted that the leaf hopper was gradually being decimated by the parasites found by Entomologists Koebele and Perkins in Fiji and Australia. He dealt on the foundation of the Pathological and the work of the Agricultural division at the Experimental Station. The work was greatly helped by W. M. Giffard. A year ago he had announced the price at 4.65 for New York centrifugals but he regretted that he could not say the same today, in fact the price was so different that he did not care to mention it at all. He felt that the tendency was down rather than up. The address closed with a feeling reference to the death of H. Alexander Isenberg.

On H. P. Baldwin's motion the report was adopted and ordered incorporated in the records of the meeting.

The secretary's report concerning the meetings of the board, the yield of sugar for the year and other matters of public record, was read and adopted.

Senator Baldwin suggested that there should be more uniformity in the manner in which reports of different plantations are sent in. Some plantations deducted for rock piles, waste land, road and main ditches while others did not. He thought that the deduction of area should be made as otherwise it would make a difference of about ten per cent. No action was taken.

On the motion of J. T. Moir the following were re-elected trustees for the year: E. D. Tenney, F. M. Swanzy, G. H. Robertson, F. A. Schaefer, H. P. Baldwin, W. Pfothenhauer, B. F. Dillingham, W. G. Irwin and W. O. Smith.

On reconvening at 2 o'clock, the secretary announced the following elections by the trustees:

H. P. Baldwin, president; Geo. H. Robertson, vice president; W. O. Smith, secretary and treasurer; E. Faxon Bishop, auditor.

A vote of thanks was tendered ex-President F. M. Swanzy to which the latter responded. The new president expressed his thanks for the honor conferred upon him and then presented the report and year-book of the Planters Experiment Station.

There was no formal report from the Committee on Irrigation, discussion of the subject going over until the receipt of the report of the Station. It was stated that many of the plantations were doing entirely too much irrigating.

C. C. Kennedy, of the Committee on Machinery, submitted a lengthy report. He gave a most interesting account of the improvements made since he was first connected with the sugar plantations in 1877.

Mr. Kennedy's paper was illustrated by blue-prints of different forms of machinery. It was most exhaustive and was heartily applauded.

The following report on Cane Loading was submitted by C. C. Kennedy and received close attention by the members:

"The cane loaders at Waiakea have done good work for the last three seasons. All of our cars are filled by the loaders, the cane being brought to the side of the railroad either by sleds or low trolley carts. We haul the cane between 500 and 600 feet, as the case may be, by mule power, and having no portable track (speaking as the term is used on plantations where that system is carried on), we shift our track, but always see that the road is good for locomotives.

"Our cane is picked up loose and placed on sleds or trucks with a sling under the cane, and after that it goes to the side of the railroad and the thing for the loader to do is to take the cane and put it into the railroad cars. This is done by our loaders which are on a side track parallel with the main line about seven feet from each other.

"Capacity—To give the capacity of one machine (to pick this cane off the trucks and drop it into the cars), is to state that I have known one to load 300 tons of cane into cars in nine hours with three men all told, working slings and emptying same (one man easily works the machine).

"Fuel—It will use five gallons of distillate per day, costing us 17 cents per gallon.

"The regular amount loaded is 200 tons.

"No trouble is experienced for cooling of the cylinder as the same water is used over and over all day and does not require renewing for weeks, especially in the Hilo district where it rains considerably, the water being caught from the roof of the house over the loader.

"Shifting—To shift the machine is an easy matter—no difficulty whatever, since it weighs but 2400 lbs. Thus any Portuguese after a little experience can do it, and not requiring a special man for the purpose.

"Labor Saving—We claim a saving of 60 men a day on Waiakea, on 20 tons of cane handled, since we got these machines.

"We use the loader to fill cars with wood or anything else as well as cane.

"This machine is just like a locomotive crane running by gas. The best feature of the machine is tilting the car a foot higher at one end, thereby the crane is made to work twice as fast as if it were on a level.

"Balance—To balance a load of 1,200 to 1,500 lbs. of cane where the engine and the water tank adjusted so that when the weight of cane is hanging on the crane, the cane is the heavy end, and being the heaviest will naturally work down easier on the car. When the cane is dropped the tank end is the heaviest, and of course, it wishes to go to the low end in a hurry. So on it goes, first the crane is the heaviest, and then the tank, time about, thus making it self-acting.

"Slings—With the loaders, the slings are as important, so that as soon as the load of cane is over the car, and in position, the little cord hanging down is pulled and the sling opens in the bottom, one-half going each way, hanging on the lifting rope.

"Improvements—After three years we have not been able to improve on the machine.

"Engine—We use the Union Gas Engine, and find it all we need to do the work, and gives no trouble.

"For picking up cane and filling cars, I have not met its equal. As for handling cane to the track, we claim nothing in that line, but for a loader I say this machine will do the work. Our loader is for that purpose only, and have not tried to make do the hauling of cane, our mules doing that at present.

"We are now making a machine half the weight of our present loader to be placed on truck or cart to pick up cane in the field and place it on truck, to be taken to the larger loader along side the railroad.

"The light machine will not have a water tank for cooling the gas engine which makes it a very light one to cart in the field, we believe four of such will do our work and make a saving of 3 cents per ton of cane.

"There is nothing like trying, what are most of you doing on the Islands? standing back, waiting developments and laughing at failure?

"Let us keep at it, gentlemen, and we will get there, but all get to it. One machine may suit one, and not suit the other. Make up your minds to try something, then work on it till you succeed, for you will never gain success until you do try."

A letter from Alexander Young describing his invention of sugar machinery, and another from "An Engineer of Twenty Years' Experience" on the setting of mill rollers were read.

C. F. Eckart, Director of Agriculture and Chemistry, read a scientific paper on fertilizer. He strongly recommended that apart from the experiments made by the Association, individual plantations should make experiments as the soil and climate at different plantations vary so much. He advocated the trying of by-products, green manuring and stable products should be tried and careful record kept of the results. Letters of fertilizing were read from James Gibb and Andrew Moore. The reports were ordered printed.

Printed copies of the reports of the Committees on Labor Saving Devices and on Manufacture were distributed.

The former dealt with cane loaders and cane cutters. As to the former it suggested that the association should appropriate a few thousand dollars towards perfecting and putting into operation a device which would pick up the cane from the ground and elevate it into wagons. Descriptions of a number of devices now in operation were furnished.

The Ginaca Cane Cutter, invented by a Honolulu mechanic, was mentioned with reserve.

The report on Manufactures contained contributions as follows:

"Clarification of Raw Juice," William Stodart, McBryde.

"Recovery of Sugar from Scums and Settlings," E. K. Bull, Oahu.

"Boiling and Drying No. 1 Sugars," E. Madden, Kukaiaua.

"Treatment of Boiling of Molasses Sugars," Mr. Williams, Puunene.

"Preparing Product for Shipment," J. Watt, Oahu.

"General Control of Manufacture," J. Scott, Waimaku.

A report of factory work in general made up from weekly bulletins issued by the Experiment Station is also attached.

What Cheer?

PLENTY

This is the season for cheer and it should manifest itself in every home in the land. It is the season for an exchange of gifts, a custom that has been in vogue since the earliest days of Christianity. Here in Hawaii much that is given at this season comes from away; articles devised here make appropriate gifts for friends at home. We have an assortment of Island products that may be transported by mail at a trifling expense and the cost of the articles is immaterial. They will be as much cherished by the receiver as if half a fortune was spent.

CHRISTMAS

Now for the folks right here near your own vine and fig tree. Our stock, received by the Enterprise, is adapted for use here more than to send away. Manicure Sets this year are both attractive in appearance and serviceable. One should be on the dressing case in every lady's boudoir. An Atomizer the same. Ours are cheap and beautiful. For your husband or brother there can be nothing better than a Shaving Set, if either shaves. For the library we have some beautiful Ink Stands and Smokers' Sets. A box for holding collars and cuffs would be an acceptable gift for a gentleman. We have some beauties. There are Dressing Sets for ladies, Mirrors in celluloid or stag frames, Comb and Brush Sets and Puff Boxes, and if you are thinking of baby get one of the sets made especially for the youngster.

The hotel is a beautiful stone-front, steel-framed, up-to-date fire-proof building. Corridors, toilets and bathrooms are all wainscoted with Tennessee marble.

All rooms are elegantly furnished and excellently well ventilated. Gentle breezes waft through corridors and sleeping-rooms day and night.

This hostelry, of already world-wide fame, opened a little over two years ago, has been favored by patrons from all parts, who unite in the opinion that its service, its silver and cutlery, its linen, its china, its crystal, etc., are equal to those of the best hotels anywhere.

WATER—A three-million-gallon-a-day artesian well of one thousand feet in depth supplies abundance of delightfully soft water of high chemical purity. Every room in the building has hot and cold water. All the table water, as well as that supplied to the rooms for drinking purposes, is distilled.

HOTEL FARM—The excellency of the table is much enhanced by this hostelry possessing its own farm, where, from a fine herd of Jersey cows, an abundant supply of milk and cream is obtained; a fine lot of poultry produces eggs and nice broilers; a lot of choice rants produce the delicate squab required; suckling pig and young pork are produced by a herd of fine Berkshire hogs. Fresh fruit and vegetables of all kinds are daily supplied from this farm; frogs and mullet from the ponds are also supplied daily.

ROOF GARDEN—On the fifth floor, in centre section of building, there is a ROOF GARDEN of one-third of an acre in area, furnished with beautiful shrubs; seats and tables are interspersed and refreshments are served by active and obliging waiters all day and throughout the evenings. Awnings are provided for shelter and band concerts are frequently given. At one end of this garden there is a large dance pavilion, while at the other end there is a similar room fitted with all the comforts for a lounging-room, where billiards and other games are enjoyed by ladies and gentlemen.

From the Roof Garden the whole of the city and surrounding country, with the sea on one hand and the verdure-clad mountains on the other, present a panorama of tropical beauty which for grandeur cannot be surpassed. Long-distance telephone in every room.
