PROGRESS OF THE HAWAIIAN REFUND BILL

The refund bill is making progress at Washington. Enemies to the proposition develop, but there is much influential and pronounced opinion favorable. Delegate Kalaniana'ole writes to the Honolulu press to this effect, as follows:

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Work on our revenue measure was promptly renewed by the delegation and myself at the beginning of this week. On Monday forenoon, by appointment, in company with Colonel Hepburn, I presented the delegation to Speaker Cannon at his private room. The Speaker gave us a very careful audience and asked numerous questions bearing upon the validity of our claims. His remarks and questions also clearly reflected his personal knowledge of Hawaiian conditions. We, of course, did not expect him to make any expression in favor of the bill, but his attitude seemed, in the main, friendly, and he did not raise some of the radical objections to the proposition that we expected. Immediately afterwards I presented the delegation to Chairman Tawney, in his committee room. The essentials of the bill had already been gone over with Mr. Tawney, and he again expressed his implied favor of the measure. Representative Bourke Cochran was seen by a member of the delegation, and he pledged his hearty support to the measure. This same gentleman, however, when he presented another letter of introduction to John Sharpe Williams, the minority leader, was met with a sharp rebuff, and the statement that he did not care to even listen to any reasons in favor of this bill, as his mind was already firmly made up against it. We have also been given to understand that Mr. Lloyd will oppose the bill, and it is possible that an effort will be made by the Democratic leader to gather opposition to its passage.

On Monday afternoon, I presented the delegation to Senators Perkins, Warren, Flint and Beveridge, all of whom expressed themselves as favoring my bill.

On Tuesday, our appointment hearing was made before the Senate Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico, Senators Foraker, Flint, Rayner, Pyles, Wetmore and Clapp being present. The main argument was made by Mr. George W. Smith, with brief additional statements by others. Sentiment in this Senate Committee seemed to be in favor of some friendly action, although some of the drift of their talk was toward cutting down both the percentage and the term of years and applying the entire amount granted to territorial works exclusively.

On Tuesday evening the entire California delegation in the House were our guests at a dinner at the New Willard hotel. The two California Senators were unable to be present because of previous engagements. Congressman McLachlan of the River and Harbors Committee referred in very flattering terms to the work done by Hawaii before their Committee the last session, and Congressman Smith, Hays and Kahn pointed out several precedents in Congressional action which were more radical than that asked for in the present bill. All the members of the Hawaiian delegation felt that the affair was a very successful one.

On Thursday, I presented the delegation to Chairman Payne of the Ways and Means Committee, who is the nominal leader of the Republicans in the House. Mr. Payne, while receiving us, very courteously expressed his disapproval of our measure, taking the ground that Hawaii contains ample wealth and natural resources to make it advisable for her to get only the same treatment that is accorded the other states and territories.

On every hand suggestions are met with that either the percentage or term of years, or both, should be reduced. To this we have uniformly said that if any reduction must be made, we ask that it be made in the term of years and not in the percentage rate, although we shall make strenuous efforts to have the bill reported without change as to either one. The fact that my bill calls for action differing from that extended to any other territory has always caused wide comment in both the House and the Senate. It is evident that while we shall have some strong support, there will also be much opposition to the measure.

If the Democratic leader attempts to gather the opposition against us, we shall try to have it made a party issue by the Republicans. But as Mr. Payne and some other Republican leaders do not favor the bill, there are obvious difficulties in having this done. For the present, our efforts are centered on securing a favorable report from the committee while still carrying on our general effort to extend its number of friends upon the floor.

Russian Refugees Arriving.

New York, March 2.—Two thousand Russian refugees have arrived here.

Nationalize Japanese Railroads.

Tokio, March 2.—The Cabinet has resolved to submit to the Diet a bill for nationalization of the railroads.

Philippine Bill Killed.

Washington, March 2.—The Philippine tariff bill, also a proposed Philippine free trade bill, have been killed in Senate Committee.

Army Bill Passes House.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—The House of Representatives has passed the Army Appropriation bill carrying sixty-nine millions of dollars.

The Expected Outbreak in China.

Canton, Feb. 26.—The situation here is quiet. It is believed that the Nanchang trouble is a local disturbance and that it will not spread.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—The American mission at Nanchang has been destroyed by rioters. The missionaries attached to the mission escaped.

The trouble is said to have originated in a dispute between the French Jesuits and the Chinese officials. Six Jesuits and two members of the Kingman family, British people, were killed during the rioting. Order has been restored. The American gunboat El Cano has been ordered to the scene from Shanghai.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—American Consul Rodgers has cabled the State Department that the American property at Nanchang is safe. The refugees have gone to Kinkiang.

Nanchang, March 1.—The native inhabitants of Nanchang are fleeing in dread of the arrival of the foreign gunboat.

Peking, March 2.—The situation here is quiet. The Empress Dowager is ill.

Columbia, South America, Feb. 26.—An earthquake on February 21 followed by a tidal wave is reported to have caused two thousand deaths along the coast.

Manila, Feb. 26.—General Wood, whose trip to Mindanao on inspection, was delayed on account of preparations for Chinese trouble, has gone to Mindanao.

Ex-Bank-President Arrested.

Chicago, March 2.—John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, which recently failed, has been arrested for a violation of the banking laws.

Bill to Increase Salaries.

Washington, March 2.—Senator Gallinger has introduced a bill fixing the salary of the President at $75,000 a year, that of the Vice-President and members of the Cabinet at $15,000, the Speaker of the House of Representatives at $12,000, and of Senators and Representatives at $7,500 each.

Troops to Manila.

Valetta, Malta, March 1.—The U. S. Transports Kilpatrick and McClellan with the First Infantry aboard, arrived here today en route to Manila.

Race Riots.

Springfield, Illinois, March 1.—Race rioting was resumed last night, and the mob of whites destroyed a dozen houses of negroes before the militia, hastily called out by Governor Deneen, succeeded in controlling the situation. At midnight the city was quiet.

Fatal Prize Fight.

San Francisco, March 1.—Prize Fighter Tenny, who was knocked out by Neil last night, died this morning and the autopsy shows that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage caused by the blow that ended the fight. His relatives say that he was doped. According to others, epilepsy was the cause of death.

Champion Neil and all the promoters of the fight have been arrested on charges of manslaughter, and have been released on bail.

Dynamited and Robbed.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 27.—The local postoffice has been dynamited and six thousand dollars stolen.

Russian Revolutionists Arrested.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—Thirty revolutionists composing the central group of the fighting organization, have been arrested.

Rob Russian Bank.

Helsingfors, Feb. 27.—Ten men have robbed the Russian State Bank, taking thirty-seven thousand roubles. The robbers shot the guardian of the bank and escaped.

To Settle Coal Miners' Strike.

New York, Feb. 27.—John Mitchell has announced that he will call a convention of the coal miners on March 15, following the suggestion of President Roosevelt that further efforts be made to secure a settlement of the wage schedule.

Standard Oil Amenable to Laws.

Jefferson City, Missouri, Feb. 27.—The Supreme Court has decided that witnesses must answer questions in the oil trust cases, consequently Rogers will be forced to furnish information concerning the operations of Standard Oil in this state.

Senator Acquitted.

Sacramento, Feb. 26.—Senator French, who was charged with acceptance of a bribe during the last session of the legislature, has been acquitted.

Castro and the Monroe Doctrine.

Willemstad, Dutch West Indies, Feb. 26.—It is reported that President Castro of Venezuela has decided to break with the Monroe doctrine and expel foreigners. The populace is reported to be desirous of an American protectorate and immediate intervention.

Quarantine Bill Passed.

Honolulu, Feb. 26.—"Quarantine bill passed," is the substance of a cablegram received Saturday by W. A. H. Connor, who represents the San Francisco Bridge Company in its dredging work in Honolulu Harbor. Thus it is learned that the government has appropriated $20,000 for the reclamation of Quarantine Island, a thing that has been expected by the people of this city for some time.

Woman Suffrage in Britain.

London, Feb. 25.—Sir Charles Dilke has introduced a bill in Parliament giving the franchise to women.

[Recognized as one of the ablest English statesmen of the day, if not the very ablest, the career of Sir Charles Dilke was virtually wrecked by a woman when he was made co-respondent in a famous divorce suit.]

King Edward Lamed For Life.

London, Feb. 24.—It has been discovered that King Edward broke his tendon achilles in a fall in the hunting field last November and that he will be lamed for life.

London, March 2.—King Edward has started on a two months' holiday trip, to visit France and the Mediterranean. He is traveling in recognition as the Duke of Lancaster.

Hamakua Ditch Company.

A sign of great activity in the Hamakua Ditch Company's plans has been shown by the filing of contracts in the record office, wherein the company is pledged to start actual work on the construction of its ditch this year, and to provide water to the plantations in question next year. The contracts now on file are between the Ditch Company and the Honokaa Sugar Company and the Pacific Sugar Mill Company. Both concern the upper ditch. Some other contracts involving the lower ditch were filed but subsequently withdrawn.—Bulletin.

The Hilo Tribune.

TUESDAY, - MARCH 6, 1906.

Entered at the Postoffice at Hilo, Hawaii, as second-class matter PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY. J. WHERLOCK MARSH - Editor D. W. MARSH - Business Manager.

J. T. STACKER, who with last week's issue retired from the editorship of the Herald, has made many friends in Hilo, who regret his withdrawal from the position he has so long and ably filled.

JOHN U. SMITH has been chosen as editor of our esteemed democratic contemporary the Hawaii Herald, a position made vacant by the resignation of J. T. Stacker. Mr. Smith is a man of versatility and well-known ability and the TRIBUNE congratulates the Herald on securing his services.

THE new proposition made by the Territorial land board to the Portuguese is certainly fair to them. It appears to be an attractive offer. The scheme of having villages in each tract, taken in connection with the new policy of the Oiaa and Wainaku plantations to plot townships where laborers may live in their own homes, marks the beginning of an industrial change in this island.

A SUGGESTION.

SOME time ago the Honolulu Advertiser made the following suggestion:

"Honolulu and Hilo ought to unite in some fitting celebration of the doubling of their first-class passenger and mail inter-communication now assured to start on the first of July."

Judge Dole said of his recent visit to the island of Hawaii:

"Residents of Honolulu, as a general rule, have no idea of the positive changes of climate which can be had in these islands. Where I spent last week there is a steady temperature at this season even cooler than that of San Francisco. Actual frost occurs and water freezes over night."

"The weather was delightfully fine during my stay, with no rain worth speaking about."

"Few Honolulu people realize what a bracing climate can be enjoyed without leaving the islands."

Now the TRIBUNE enthusiastically seconds the suggestion of the Advertiser, and would suggest an excursion to this island for the numerous residents of Honolulu who have never been here. They ought all to come and learn something about this country. That, we believe, would be the most effective cure for the "knockers."

The repeated statements of tourists, that they are advised in Honolulu against making the trip, establishes the fact beyond reasonable doubt that individuals answering this description are to be found in Honolulu. Honolulu papers are not among the number, for they have intelligence; they are not the tourists who have been here. The influences that are working against the Hilo trip are ignorance and special interests. The islands have many attractions for the tourist, and every resident of Honolulu should know that the Volcano of Kilauea is the chief, and is to be at least kept upon the list.

Initiation and Banquet.

Sixteen new members were initiated by Court Mauna Kea, 884, Order of Foresters, at their hall Monday evening. After the initiation ceremonies all adjourned to the banquet table where the following toasts were responded to, Chief Ranger, W. H. Beers, presiding as toast master: "Ancient Order of Forestry," B. F. Schoen, P. C.; "Our New Members," R. A. Lyman, Jr.; song by Kamehameha quintet; "Court Canteen," J. A. M. Oorior; "Trip to Volcano," J. U. Smith; music; "Advice to Officers," G. F. Alfonso; "The Acting Governor," N. W. Aluli; song, by quartet; "The President," W. A. Petter; "Fraternal Societies," Dr. Hayes; music. Others responded with impromptu remarks and songs. About seventy-five members were present.

THE OREGON EXCURSIONISTS.

Entertained by Hilo People—Visit the Volcano.

The party of Portland Daily Journal young lady excursionists from Oregon arrived on the Kinau Wednesday. They were entertained during their brief stay, by the people of Hilo at a reception and ball in the Armory; and at a supper given by some of the young men. The late arrival of the steamer spoiled part of the program, a drive about Hilo having been arranged for, that the visitors might see some of the natural attractions Hilo has to offer.

The party were met at the wharf by a committee and driven to the Peacock hotel and from there were escorted to Demosthenes Cafe for dinner. Though but directly from the ocean steamer, every member of the party attended the ball and did the honors of the occasion with a grace and spirit that their state might well be proud of. The hall was specially decorated for the occasion, the walls draped with flags and bunting and adorned with palms and other tropical foliage; and the greenery of the musicians' platform was effectively illuminated with vari-colored incandescents. The program was gotten up with an attempt at special propriety. It bore the motto of the State of Oregon, "Alis Volat Propriis;" "She Flies With Her Own Wings," over a view of Coconut Island. The list of names of the visitors was printed upon the program as follows: Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weathered, chaperon; Miss Mollie Proebstel, La Grande; Miss Katie Nash, La Grande; Miss Minnie S. Phillips, Portland; Miss Sallie Madigan, Portland; Miss Blanche Brown, Salem; Miss Bertha Courtemanche, McMinnville; Miss Edna Parsley, Roseburg; Miss Elsie May King, Walla Walla, Wash.; Miss Florence Heaven, Vancouver, Wash.; Miss Emilie Crossen, The Dalles. Following was the inscription: "From 'where rolls the Oregon and hears no sound save its own dashing,' to the abode of the goddess Pele." Some chinook jargon, which the young ladies were supposed to speak fluently but did not, headed one page, as follows: "Nesika chaco si—ah inati salt chuck, pe nesika hy-as ticks midite copa mesika quansam." "We come from a very long distance across the ocean, we would like to stay always." On the other page: "Ua Man ke Ea o ka Aina i ka Pono," the motto on the coins of the Hawaiian royalty, and that of King Kamehameha III. "The foundations of the government are laid in righteousness."

The Lei Mamo Glee Club furnished music and refreshments were served. At the conclusion of the first part of the program, the ladies sang the following song composed by Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weathered, the voices blending well, music and sentiment being heartily applauded: (Tune "My Bonnie") "Here's to the land of Hawaii, The beautiful Isle far away; Where the sunshine, fruits and flowers, Make life one long happy day. Sleep on, dream on, Hawaii, Hawaii for me."

"To one and all of the Island, The Journal's best greetings we bring, And when we return to our homeland, Hawaii's best interests we'll sing. Sleep on, dream on, Hawaii, Hawaii for me."

The following sentiment was, also, spoken in concert: "Here's to the Hilo bachelors, The Journal girls came to meet; We think you are all quite handsome, And, say—just a wee bit sweet. And here's a smile to greet you And a heart for one and all; But we hope the goblins will eat you If you are still bachelors this fall."

The dancing program concluded, the ladies were invited to supper at the Demosthenes Cafe an enjoyable feature added to the program. At the festal board Mrs. Weathered, speaking on behalf of the ladies, expressed great appreciation of the reception the Hilo people had accorded them and of the good time the party had enjoyed.

THE VOLCANO TRIP. Seven o'clock Thursday morning found the party aboard the train of the Hilo Railroad Company; destination, volcano. In the volcano party, besides the Oregon ladies, there were J. J. Downing, of Honolulu, excursion conductor, and J. B. McSwainson, representing the Honolulu Bulletin; also J. U. Smith and J. W. Marsh, of the Oregon colony in Hilo.

The first visit to the volcano is the trip of a life-time to any one, however familiar with the wonders of nature, and the ride by train through cane fields, banana groves and tropical woods was full of interest and surprises for the northern visitors. The change at Glenwood from cars to stage adds novelty and interest to the trip. The nine miles of staging up through the fern forests, with Mauna Loa's brown front and snow sprinkled summit in the back ground, always interesting, was especially enjoyed by the Oregonians. A forest of fern trees and ohia presenting features very different in appearance from an Oregon forest of lofty fir or pine, the Hawaiian forest more nearly resembling the undergrowth with forest removed.

Interest gives way to wonder when the hotel appears, with steam jets rising from the ground as if it were surrounded by a smouldering forest fire, and when the crater bursts on the view in its immensity, words fail to describe the impression made. Its dimensions have to be seen to be appreciated. One sees a lake of lava rock that he has been informed is six miles across, enclosed in walls of lava of a different formation. In the distance, out of it, steam, like smoke, rises in great volumes. The surface of the lake appears rough as if it had been tossed into waves and there congealed.

All the features of interest in the vicinity of the Volcano House were seen, including Kilauea Iki, and after luncheon horses were brought up and mounted and record breaking time made to the crater, three miles distant. On the arrival of the guide and assembling of the party, all were piloted through the cave and into the "Devils Kitchen." The proprietor was not seen, but he had left his fire burning and from the crevices above postal cards were scorched for souvenirs and coffee made. The sun had set behind Mauna Loa, reddened by clouds of sulphur fumes, on the party's arrival at the crater's edge, and it was now fully dark and time to see what kind of a pyrotechnic display Madam Pele had in store. The volcanic fires were seen by all through the hundreds of feet of thick vapor that filled the crater. The guide asked the party to sing, intimating that Pele liked music and that a better display of fire would be the reward.

The account of the visit can only be written in lighter vein; the newspaper man would better leave it to some literary genius to attempt to describe the appearance of Kilauea and the awe and wonder at the sight of it in all its features. The moon was shining and the heavens ablaze with stars, aiding in the return.

To paraphrase Scott: "If thou wouldst view Kilauea aright, go visit it by the pale moonlight." The appearance of the surroundings riding over the floor of the crater is rendered weird, and particularly was the mystical effect produced upon the cliff walls at the foot of the trail approaching the hotel noticed and commented upon.

Dinner, sitting before the roaring fire of the hotel fireplace, for there is a chill in the air at that altitude; preparing souvenir postals and letters for mailing, and a view of the constellation of the southern cross, not to be seen in northern latitudes, brought the day to a close.

Mrs. Weathered wrote an appropriate inscription in the register of the Volcano House and drew a vignette sketch of Mt. Hood in Oregon. She said in conclusion: "It is our opinion that no true American has done his country justice if the Isles of Hawaii are not included in his travels."

Mrs. Weathered also expressed the opinion that the volcano should be made a national park.

The party arrived back on Friday morning's train and departed by the Kinau on their return to Honolulu. They enjoyed their brief visit on the island of Hawaii and appreciated Hilo's hospitality. Many things about this country surprised them—its extent, resources, people, and they will as newspaper correspondents, magazine writers, etc., spread information about the character of the country widely, and be valuable aid in a campaign of education relative to the Islands.

Association at Kalapana.

A semi annual meeting of the Hawaii Congregational Association was held at Kalapana, Puna, from Thursday to Sunday of the past week.

Rev. Dr. Scudder, superintendent of mission, and others from a distance were present. A resolution was adopted approving the policy of the union of contiguous smaller churches in the support of a minister. The matter of systematic benevolence was discussed and enthusiasm prevailed for the support of the Hawaiian Board of Home Missions and the American Board of Foreign Missions.

Mrs. Ruth B. Baker, mother of Dr. Baker, of Kona, was licensed to preach. The suggestion to limit calls to pastors to 5 years, was approved.

Rev. O. H. Gulick delivered an address on the subject: "Workers together with God."

Rev. Kamakawiwoole, also, delivered a remarkable address.

Mr. John Martin, agent of the Hawaii Anti-Saloon League, was present and addressed the association.

Rev. S. L. Desha was prominent for his able interpretations. Visitors attending expressed appreciation of the helpfulness of Deputy Sheriff Hahoe, and of the hospitality of the people of the place. Kalapana has the distinction of being known as the town where no signatures can be obtained to a petition for a saloon.

Kohala Sugar Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Kohala Sugar Company was held on Saturday, March 3, at the office of Castle & Cook, Honolulu. The old board was re-elected, the following being the officers: E. D. Tenney, president; C. H. Cook, vice president; W. A. Bowen, treasurer; C. H. Atherton, secretary; M. P. Robinson, auditor.

GOVERNOR'S LAND POLICY.

The Irwin & Co., Olaa, and Wainaku Plantations in Accord.

Acting Governor Atkinson is being powerfully sustained in the position he has taken, as president of the Board of Immigration, of refusing aid to the importation of plantation laborers without the assurance from planters of at least one acre of land and a house to each head of a family brought here.

"Mr. Giffard came to me today," the Acting Governor said yesterday, "and told me that W. G. Irwin & Co. were in thorough accord with me upon the policy of domiciling labor. He stated that their plantations were all getting in line to meet the condition I have laid down of giving an acre of land in fee simple to every family of labor immigrants."

HILO AND OLA A SUGAR COMPANIES PLAT TOWNSITES.

"One of their managers was in town now, who was having land laid out in one-acre lots for the expected immigrants. This is John A. Scott of Wainaku. He is plotting a town site of fifty homesteads on that plantation, which will be given in fee simple to laborers.

"Of course there are many little details to be arranged with the planters. Some planters, it is true, have not fee simple land to offer, but in such cases the government will endeavor to assist in finding land for those willing to conform to the policy.

"Olaa Sugar Co. is coming up to the condition. That company is laying out acre lots as homesteads for laborers. The work began last week under authority of the board of directors. Moreover, these homesteads are not merely being prepared for people who may come, but are being offered to people already in the country. It is proposed to give fee simple title to the land when the laborer has occupied it for three years. You are probably aware that Mr. Thurston went over to the plantation last week on this business."

Mr. Atkinson went on to speak in terms of warm appreciation of the cordial and enthusiastic support Mr. Damon, as financier of Olaa, had given to the proposition.

"This thing of Olaa," the Acting Governor said, "is one of the greatest moves any plantation has made in this direction. Their going right ahead and giving fee simple land to people now on the ground shows that they mean business."

Mr. Atkinson felt justified in claiming that the support he had already received, as above mentioned, from W. G. Irwin & Co. and Olaa Sugar Co., was the best of evidence to prove the soundness of the policy he had declared.—Advertiser.

Cruzan in Spokane, Wash.

Rev. J. A. Cruzan, well-known in Hawaii, has left the Congregational communion and become a Unitarian. He was pastor of Fort street church, Honolulu, with which the Bethel united after its church burned in the great fire of 1886, forming Central Union Church. Differences, in part doctrinal, having occurred between him and the congregation, Pastor Cruzan, as he entitled himself, retired and went to the coast. Returning to the islands he was for some years pastor of the Foreign church at Hilo. Mr. Cruzan is a G. A. R. comrade. In the San Francisco Chronicle's church news of February 11 the following reference to him appears:

"Rev. J. A. Cruzan, known through his work along Congregational church lines, especially during the period he did editorial work for The Pacific, organ of the denomination here, is now in charge of the Unitarian Church of Spokane, Wash., where he is accomplishing much active work. The trustees of his church have recently published a communication urging all liberal Christians to be loyal to the principles for which Unitarianism stands, during the year 1906."

Rheumatism Can Be Cured.

There is no disease which inflicts more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is therefore a bold statement to make but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale in this country, has met with success in the treatment of this disease wherever it has been tried. One or two applications of this liniment will relieve the pain and hundreds of sufferers from this disease testify to permanent cures by its use. For sale by Hilo Drug Co.

Many Japs Coming.

Japanese immigration to Hawaii has recently increased in a marked degree. The average since the first of the year has run over a thousand a month, and the indications are that it is to be kept up. On the Korea, which left Yokohama several days ago enroute here, there are said to be five hundred Japanese for Honolulu.

At the same time migration to the coast has also increased, and Japanese are leaving Hawaii for the mainland at the rate of about five hundred a month. A steamer is coming to take a large number away before the end of the present month, and there is much agitation among Japanese all over the island, of the California labor proposition.

A considerable proportion of the Japanese coming here from their native land have the mainland for their real destination, it is thought. The imperial government will not allow the immigration of Japs to America, but does allow them to come here, and the Japs therefore start for here with a view to continuing the journey.—Star.

Oregon Girls At Young Hotel.

The ball at the Alexander Young Hotel last evening in honor of the Oregon girls was a very pretty affair and well attended by local society folk and visitors to Hawaii. The evening was perfect, save for a shower earlier in the evening, and even this was refreshing. The Roof Garden was brilliantly illuminated and with the numerous potted plants with which it is garnished, it was a delightful promenade between dances. The Kai Quintet Club furnished delightful Hawaiian music for the dances and the features were a source of delight to the young ladies from Oregon.

The young women were prettily gowned and as all are excellent dancers they danced very number on the program. In fact, although the guests of honor, they were the belles of the ball. Manager Gray last evening certainly excelled as a host and not only the Oregon girls, chaperoned by Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weathered, but all who attended, enjoyed a delightful evening.—Advertiser.

Acting Governor Atkinson expresses himself in favor of increasing the salaries of the teachers.

He says:

"I think that when the next legislature goes into session we should make sure of getting a good and sufficient appropriation for the teachers, even if some of the other items will have to be cut down as a consequence. I am in favor of raising these salaries, not only to restore them to the old basis but to place them on a good basis."

A Queer Capture

[Copyright, 1905, by T. C. McClure.]
In the year 1884 the British survey steamer Comet left Bombay to survey the Maldive islands.

The Comet had shipped ten men before starting out, all half castes and, as appeared later on, members of a secret band that had sworn vengeance on anything British. These men mutinied and, having got possession of the brig, ran her into Shark bay, on the northernmost island. The captain and other officers were set afloat on a raft, unprovided with sail, water or provisions, and no doubt they perished in the storm that swept over the waters next day.

The leader of the half castes was a man known as Dondra. He was a sailor by occupation and probably as great a ruffian as could be found in all India. When a start was made from Shark harbor a course was laid for Ceylon, and during a voyage lasting four weeks the Comet captured seven coasting vessels. In each and every case the crews were put to death, the cargoes transhipped and the craft scuttled.

It was piracy after the old style, except that the brig did not dare attack larger vessels. Her acts finally reached the ears of the authorities, and men-of-war started from Bombay and Calcutta to overhaul her.

After sailing part of the way up the coast of Ceylon the Comet put about, and she was halfway back to her harbor of refuge when the Serpent (man-of-war) sighted her. It was during a heavy gale, and nothing could be done but chase. It was three days before the Serpent fired a gun. Just as evening was coming on on the third day and after the mutineers had refused to surrender she crept up and fired a broadside into the brig and sent her to the bottom. It was supposed at the time that everybody aboard was drowned, but two months later news reached Bombay that Dondra and four other half castes had got away in a boat and reached an island at the mouth of the gulf of Manaar. A gunboat was sent down to make an investigation and a reward of £2,000 offered for the five men.

In the month of September of the year mentioned the bark Southland, bound from Liverpool to Bombay, was making her way up the Malabar coast under light breezes. One night in the middle watch it fell a dead calm, and this state of weather continued all next day and night. At midnight on the second night the officer of the deck heard faint shouting and singing to the east, and as no vessel had been sighted in that direction he was mystified. As the noises continued the mate awoke the captain, and it was finally decided that there were men afloat in a small boat a mile or so away. We burned a flare to guide them and heard shouts in reply, but it was two hours before a yawl crept up to us out of the darkness. The little craft contained five half caste Hindoos, and they were suffering terribly for the want of food and water. There was but one oar and no sail.

The story told by the men, all of whom spoke English fairly well, was that they were part of the crew of a coaster named the Emerald and while she was making her way up the gulf of Manaar she had been struck by a squall and turned turtle. They had clung to her bottom for several hours, but had finally managed to loosen the boat and drift out to sea. They claimed to have been afloat for three days. We had no room to stow their boat, and it was cast adrift, but not before we had seen that her name had been erased.

When questioned separately the stories of the men did not agree, but as we had heard nothing about the pirates we could not make out what the fellows had been up to. Their leader was an impudent swaggerer, who would not promise to do any work in return for his passage to Bombay, and he had not been aboard two days when the captain ordered him into irons. This action sobered him up, and presently he was as humble as you please and begging for his release. When restored to liberty he was zealous in his duty, and all suspicions on our part would have been lulled but for a discovery made by one of the apprentices who understood the Hindoo language.

Thinking themselves alone in the fore-castle one afternoon, the strangers plotted to take the ship, and the lad overheard every word and carried the news to the captain. He passed word to the crew, and of a sudden the Hindoos were fallen upon and made prisoners.

Not three hours later the gunboat from Bombay boarded us to give us the news about the pirates and ask that we keep our eyes open for them. Great was the surprise of her commander to find that we had prisoners aboard who answered to the description of those he was after.

The Hindoos saw that the game was up, and one of them made a confession. Their leader was Dondra himself, and they had been hiding on an island in the gulf. Learning that their whereabouts was known, they had put off to sea in a panic and in a boat stolen from another vessel. Two of their number had been stabbed to death during a quarrel and their bodies thrown overboard. The five survivors intended to fall upon our crew of eleven men and murder us all.

Of course the men were surrendered to the gunboat, and upon being taken to Bombay proof sufficient to hang them was easily obtained, and within three months of their boarding us in mid-ocean they were dangling at the ends of hangman's ropes. We had done little or nothing to bring about their capture, but the government of India paid us the reward and added its thanks to the money. M. QUAD.

HOW TO ENJOY A LUAU.

Promotion Committee Has Issued a Pamphlet of Interest.

The Promotion Committee has prepared a neat brochure for the information of tourists who may wish to indulge in the pleasures of a native luau. Bound in scarlet, the little book is certain to command attention and the bill of fare suggested, with the accompaniment of native hulas, in a native village in Hawaiian style, and, presumably with the traditional "pretty smiles" should prove alluring.

Here is the menu:
Puua Kalua—Pig cooked with hot stones in ti leaves under ground.
Puua Hoolua—Pig and salmon and luau cooked in ti leaves under-ground overnight.

Moa Me Ka Luau—Chicken cooked with luau in coconut sauce.
I'a Lawala—Fish baked in ti leaves under ground.

I'a Maloo—Dried fish.
Oio Ai Maka—Raw fish.
Hee Maloo—Dried squid cooked in ti leaves under ground.

Hee Maka—Raw devil fish.
Papa'i Mo'a—Boiled crabs.
Papa'i Maka—Raw crabs.
Alamibis—Smith salted crabs.
Opae—Shrimps.
Opibis—Small shell fish.

Hau Pia—Hawaiian starch cooked with coconut.
Wana—Sea Eggs.
Uala—Sweet potatoes baked under ground.

Koelapalau—Mashed sweet potatoes with coconut milk.
Inamona—Kukui nuts cooked and pounded with salt.

Poi—Hawaiian taro boiled or steamed and then pounded and mixed with water into a porridge and then fermented for a few days.

When it is understood that this program includes hula dances in the real old fashioned style the scale of prices for the entertainment seems ridiculously small. This is how it is scheduled: Party of five, $24 each; party of ten, $12 each; party of fifteen, $10 each; party of twenty, $8.50 each; party of twenty-five, $7.50 each; party of thirty, $6 each; party of forty, $5 each.

While the Agents of many Life Insurance Companies are petitioning their Officers for the ANNUAL DIVIDEND policy, it is a source of great satisfaction to the Policyholders of the Pacific Mutual to know that their Company has been issuing almost nothing else for years.

No petitioning necessary for liberality with the good old Pacific Mutual.

The Directors of the Company are by the California law made jointly and severally liable for all monies EMBEZZLED or MISAPPROPRIATED by the officers during the term of office of such Director. Quite a provision from the SECURITY STANDPOINT, considering what has recently occurred.

LANDS FOR THE PORTUGUESE.

Department Offers Them Same Terms and Conditions as Molokans.

A definite statement to the representatives of the Portuguese land associations in Hilo, was made by sub-agent Geo. H. Williams on Friday, on authority of the Territorial Commissioner of Public Lands.

The following is an exact statement of the proposition: The commissioner is ready and willing to accord the same privileges to the local settlement associations as to other organizations from the mainland composed of American citizens who are willing and ready to accept and fulfil the conditions proposed.

The lands are to be cut up into areas so that each settler will have from 15 to 20 acres of case land, it being the policy of the government to have actual, bona fide residents upon the lands of the territory, who will live upon and cultivate the full area; and that lands shall not be taken up for speculation.

The settlers may choose the site for a village at any point they may desire on the tract, and each land holder may choose a residence lot in such village, the amount of land so taken to be a part of the total allowance.

The directors of the Hakalau Plantation Co. are ready to make the same agreement that Col. Spalding has made with the Molokans on Kauai, which gives the planter a share of about five eighths of the proceeds of the crop.

This proposition applies to the tracts on which applications have been made, all within the Hakalau plantation, as follows: the Kaiwika tract of about 1,000 acres, the Lepolosa tract of about 300 acres, the Opea tract of about 1,000 acres.

Under this proposition, according to a close estimate, the cane will yield to the cultivator of the land $5.50 per ton of cane, which at an estimated production of 35 tons per acre will amount to $196 per acre, or $130 an acre a year, gross, on an 18 months' crop.

The settler will have the benefit of all improvements already made upon the land.

This important statement was made at the local office of the land department to Mr. Osorio, president of the Osorio association, who has made application for the Kaiwika tract; to Mr. Fernandez, president of the Fernandez association who has made application for the Lepolosa tract; to Mr. Ferry, representing the Lujan association, applicants for the Opea tract, and to R. A. Lyman, Jr., who is interested in the matter as being a public question.

The commissioner asked for an early decision on the part of the land associations and at the request of the representatives, they were given till March 14 to state their intentions.

MARSHALL BROTHERS Manufacturers of Manila and Wrapping Paper YORKLYN, Del., Nov. 17, Manager The Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York. Dear Sir: I have received policy for $20,000, issued to me in favor of my daughter on the continuous instalment plan. My daughter is but eighteen years of age, and this contract guarantees to her $1,000 at my death, and $1,000 per annum as long as she lives, and to pay not less than twenty instalments even if she should not live twenty years after my death. The reason I am so much pleased with this policy is based upon the fact that I fully realize, that no matter how much money I might leave my daughter at my death I would have no guarantee that it would last her through her entire lifetime. The Company's liability under this form of contract might be $50,000 or possibly $70,000, if my daughter should live to be as old as some of her ancestors. Yours very truly, ISRAEL W. MARSHALL. may be secured by all who follow the example of the young lady who gives this testimonial:
"Every spring, for years, I used to have intolerable headaches and total loss of energy, so that the season which should be welcomed by me was a dread; for, as the warm, pleasant days arrived, they brought to me lassitude and pain. A friend advised me to take

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

I commenced using it and have not had since then the least symptoms of headache. My appetite is splendid, and I perform my duties with a cheerfulness and energy that surprise myself. I take pleasure in telling all my friends of the merit of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and the happy results of its use."

EVOLUTION OF THE SUGAR MILL.

Enterprise of Our Planters in Perfecting Process of Manufacture.

The process of evolution through which the manufacture of sugar has passed on the Islands is told in a report of the committee on machinery read at a recent meeting of the Planters' Association. The development of the sugar manufactory from the primitive mill of thirty years ago to the present complications of machinery and apparatus of the mills of the present, is interesting. It indicates that the planters have been fully alive to the interests of the industry and have brought the milling process up to a high degree of perfection. The committee report recognizes the fact that the Waiakea mill at Hilo has been in the forefront in successfully adopting new mechanical devices, and this is undoubtedly due to the fact that its manager has a special, practical interest in machinery. The following are extracts made from the report:

The year 1876 was the first year in which we enjoyed the benefits of the Reciprocity Treaty, and through that treaty a new impetus had been given to the sugar industry—a steady improvement having been the rule since then, in every department of the business. At that time no one ever dreamed that more than one 3-roller mill was necessary for crushing cane, and extraction was not often mentioned as a criterion of efficiency. What we did hear often was, "How many tons are you making?"—"Oh, about ten!" and, mark you, this referred to a whole day's work, although candor compels the admission that it was not a twenty-four-hour day. But certainly it is a vast step from ten tons of sugar per ten-hour day, to as much as 100 and 300 tons in a twenty-four-hour day, which is now accomplished on some of our larger plantations.

When 8 cent sugar became a past experience, and all indications foretold a still lower price, it became obvious that we would have to get more of the sugar which was in the cane, into the market. The first improvement with this end in view was made in the year 1880, when a two-roller mill was placed behind the existing 3-roller mill at Spreckelsville, Maui. This could not be called a successful experiment, as great difficulty was experienced in getting the new 2-roller mill to take the feed, and therefore drier grinding, which was the object of the additional mill, was out of the question. This difficulty did not prove an insurmountable one, however, for in 1884 a 2-roller mill was installed at Waiakea, which had a patent feeder, the invention of Mr. Alexander Young, then manager of the Honolulu Iron Works.

This combination was eminently successful, the results being far beyond any expectations. The percentage of extraction was raised from the seventies to eighty-five and ninety. This was such a large increase in extraction, that grave doubts were expressed as to the accuracy of the reports. Chemists came from Honolulu to verify them, and did so. Even then doubting Thomases were rife, and one fine morning the S. S. Likelike arrived in Hilo, with a lot of megass in bags, to put with a fair amount of maceration, through the new 2-roller mill at Waiakea. The engineer of the plantation sending the megass came along to see fair play. The result of this special trial was conclusive, and the plantation referred to, ordered a mill with a feeder at once. Orders then went to Honolulu Iron Works so fast, that working day and night, they could not supply the demand but had to send to San Francisco and have some made the same as the original. We called these mills "Maceration Mills" on account of the water used.

I well remember while they were yet new, how sceptical many were, as to their necessity. Mr. Alexander Young said to a plantation owner one day, standing behind his mill. "Mr. So-and-so, you are not getting more than 65 per cent. extraction with that mill of yours." "Sir," said Mr. So-and-so, "you say that again and will have you arrested." "Well, I would like to put in a mill to catch what is left," said Mr. Young, and the planter felt badly hurt at the implication. He is still amongst us and may be here today, but he now has three 3-roller mills.

Maceration was such a decided improvement, that various combinations of mills were tried in the effort to get increased extraction. It soon became evident that some method of preparing the cane was necessary, so that the first mill would take its feed steadily and evenly, and discharge a blanket of megass, which after dilution, would feed to the second and third mills without baulking.

Rollers which were held absolutely rigid could only do good work with a feed of uniform thickness, but the then necessarily uneven feed was partly overcome by the application of the toggle springs to the cap bolts of the top roll. This, however, did not assure a steady a feed at the first mill as was necessary, and in our efforts to overcome this defect, we were shortly adding to our crushing plants, the Krajewski Crusher, the National Cane Shredder, and the Smith Revolving Cutter: the first installation of each being placed at Pepekeo, Wainaku and Waiakea respectively. Some of these machines are now a part of nearly every factory, and their value is beyond question. Some factories indeed, have installed both a cutter and a crusher, and many cutters, which were thrown to one side shortly after installation, have been since resurrected from the scrap pile, and are now doing duty nobly, thanks to Mr. H. Lorenz, who admired the knives the first he saw them at work.

After a short but comprehensive experience with the diffusion process of extraction, the Ewa Plantation Co. determined to discard this process and adopt crushing. This mill, having three 3-roller mills, with the top roll of each fitted with hydraulic rams, the pressure applied to the rolls being within immediate control, and a uniform known pressure being assured for cane and macerated bagasse, was a distinct advance over our previous combinations. The extraction rose from 90 per cent. up to 93 per cent., and it was so necessary by this time to get everything possible out of the cane, that all interested desired such mills for their factories.

This combination (three 3-rollers) with the various feeders remained the standard, until the installation two years ago at Oahu Plantation of a four 3-roller mill, behind their three 3-roller combination. This installation was the first of its kind in the world. The adoption of this idea and its application is entirely due to the progressive spirit of Hawaiian planters and engineers and the results have amply justified their judgment. Increased capacity and better extraction with a minimum of maceration have been obtained. The decrease in maceration is obtained by taking the thin juices from the fourth mill to macerate at the back of the first mill.

Construction of Steamer.

J. A. Kennedy has advertised for bids in San Francisco for the new 15-knot boat to displace the Kinau on the Hilo-Honolulu run. The new steamer is to be an exceptionally fine vessel, with ample passenger accommodations, and eclipsing in some respects the passenger arrangements of some of the ocean-going liners calling at this port. The new vessel is to have a saloon, piano, library, hardwood dining tables, etc. Especial attention is to be given to the staterooms. The new boat may burn oil for fuel and she may be ready to go into commission at the end of the present year.
