Two days of good sports are provided the people of Hilo and the visitors to the Beauty Spot of the Islands. Horse racing, a base ball game, bronco busting and wild bullock lassoing contests will furnish plenty to fill two days with amusement and excitement. Liberal purses, nearly $1500 in the aggregate, will make all the events contested for all they are worth. Hilo will have no patriotic exercises, but there will be a sufficiency of amusements. The national salute of twenty-one guns, however, will be fired by Capt. Fetter and Co. D boys in front of the armory at noon.

Special attention is being paid to the comfort of visitors to the city. Arrangements will be made so that comfortable quarters will be available to all who come to Hilo for the Fourth. Land Matters Considered.

Secretary Atkinson, during his stay in Hilo last week, made a specialty of land affairs, and a number of matters in which territorial lands figured were given attention.

The hitch between the plantation people and the Portuguese associations filing on the Hakalau lands was straightened out and the survey of the lands hastened.

A controversy in which a number of Hilo people are interested, relative to land filings at thirteen-mile, Oloa, was discussed by applicants for these lands and the Secretary. The question involved is that of residence upon the lands and the decision will affect all filings within the Territory and is therefore of great importance. A modification of the former ruling of the land department is looked for on this point of residence.

One day was spent reviewing the situation at Makaoku, the tract opposite to Cooconut Island, that is being thrown open for settlement. Secretary Atkinson expressed strongly the opinion that in connection with Cooconut Island, Kaineha point opposite on the mainland and the shore around toward government wharf and including the fish ponds near by, should be reserved by the Territory for park purposes; also that the preservation of the cocoanut and other trees on the island should be a special object of attention.

He also stated that he favored the organization of a board by the legislature to have special authority over parks in the way of their creation and care, suggesting that such a commission should consist of the commissioners of public lands and forestry, and others to be appointed.

Among other localities the Secretary considered it important to have set aside in parks, protected and preserved, are the heiaus, or ancient native temples, one of which, on one of the Puna hills the Secretary and his party visited.

Rainbow Falls Park was also visited and the idea of the preservation of the place in its native beauty was favored. The idea of the bay front park was urged and the promise made that every effort would be made with this in view to make an exchange with the Bishop estate for the property necessary on the Waiakae side of Mooheau Park, and to acquire in some manner the portion owned by the Hitchcock estate.

The party, consisting of Secretary Atkinson, Jas K. Wilder, and Sol. N. Sheridan, the representative of the Honolulu Advertiser, left by special train for Puna Wednesday morning, going to Kapoho, and from thence by horseback to Kalapana and the Volcano. Leaving the Volcano Friday morning the party continued, going to the Humuila sheep station between Mauna Kea and Mauna Loa, where they will be the guests of Eben Low, the manager of the ranch. It is the intention to make the ascent of Mauna Kea, the lake upon the summit being a special object of interest. It is the intention then to cross over into Kona, visiting Kealakuea Bay and other points of interest in Kona, returning to Kawaihae to catch the Kinau Friday.

Republican Party Rules.

A supply of the revised rules and Regulations of the Republican Party, printed in pamphlet form, has been received by R. A. Lyman, Jr., chairman of the county committee. There are some material changes. Under the present rules, the district committee is done away with, the county committee assuming the management of all campaign work; the allotment of representation to the county and district convention has been increased, the new basis being one delegate to every twelve votes cast for the republican candidate for senator receiving the highest number of votes at the last general election. This gives over a hundred delegates to the next convention to be held in Hilo in September.

The basis of representation to the territorial convention is unchanged, but greater restrictions have been placed upon the use of proxies. Nominations of precinct officers are to be made in the various precincts on Friday, July 13; the election of these officers follows on Friday, July 20. Nominations for delegates to the territorial, county and district conventions will be made on Friday, Aug. 24, and election will take place on Saturday, September 1st.

An Important Sanitary Work.

The Health Board is busy with the oversight of making sewer connections. Front Street is nearly finished and on the completion of this street, others leading into it will be taken up. The expense of connecting up is not great and the Board finds the opportunity to do so welcomed by most property owners. It will require several months, depending upon the plumbers, to complete this work. The benefits to Hilo will be far greater than the twenty odd thousand dollars the system cost.

Lurline Arrives First.

"Honolulu, June 25.—Lurline arrived Saturday at 8 p. m.; Anemone off port at noon today."

To Organize For Work.

The Young Men's Republican Club is preparing for active work in the coming campaign. This will be organized for assignment to different committees, as follows: land committee, improvement committee, finance committee, committee on enrolment, etc.

County Government Approved.

Secretary Atkinson coming down the coast overland was afforded an opportunity of seeing the character of road work being done by the Board of Supervisors and remarked on the improved condition of country roads and Hilo streets. He considered the advantages of county government as apparent.

Best Supply Point.

The freighter Massachusetts took aboard a large supply of Hilo vegetables, also fresh meats, for her long voyage around the Horn. Hilo's meats and vegetables, not to mention fruits, beat the world. Honolulu draws extensively from this locality. Over a hundred bags of cabbages alone were shipped to that market by the last Kinau.

Surveys to Be Made.

S. M. Kakanui, first assistant territorial surveyor, arrived from Honolulu by the last Kinau, for the purpose of making the surveys of the Hakalau land tracts to be allotted the Portuguese associations. Work on the survey will begin on the first of July and will probably occupy several months. This work is begun at the instance of Secretary Atkinson, as a result of an interview with the Portuguese applicants during his recent visit in Hilo.

Carter to the President.

Honolulu, June 19.—"I am glad to hear that the House insists upon the exemption of Hawaii from the operation of the Senate immigration bill."

Governor Carter stated today that he had written the above, or words to that effect, in a letter to President Roosevelt on May 31.

Yachts Soon Due.

Honolulu, June 19.—A lookout will probably be placed on Diamond Head on Thursday of this week to watch for the yachts La Pdloma, Lurline and Anemone, now racing from San Pedro to Honolulu for the Hawaii Cup.

Ex-Commodore Hobron of the Hawaii Yacht Club is not inclined to think the time made by the yachts will be phenomenal. He believes that the race may be made in fifteen days. The yachts are now out eight days.

San Francisco Aid.

Washington, June 19.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Shaw have agreed to deposit $12,000,000 in San Francisco banks to be secured by bonds.

Office For Californian.

Washington, June 19.—E. E. Brown, of Berkeley, has been appointed United States Commissioner of Educators.

[Elmer Ellesworth Brown since 1898 has been the professor of the theory and practice of teaching at the University of California. He was born in New York in 1861. He was educated in the public schools of that state and is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He studied in Germany and received the degree of Ph. D from the University of Halle-Wittenberg. He is an author of some note.]

Not Held For Trial.

San Francisco, June 19.—Ernest Denicke, charged with murder has been discharged by Judge Shortall. Judge Shortall, in discharging the prisoner, said he did his duty.

[Denicke is a mining and civil engineer, graduate of the University of California, and son of Ernest A. Denicke, the well-known capitalist and man of affairs. He shot and killed an unknown man at Lombard street wharf on the afternoon of May 20th.

It was claimed by Denicke that he shot the man because the latter had wrested a rifle from the grasp of a marine soldier, and because he believed the soldier was in danger of being killed by the citizen.]

House For The Bill.

Washington, June 18.—A bill which is acceptable to President Roosevelt provides an appropriation of three million dollars annually for the purposes of meat inspection. The officials will be appointed under the civil service system.

Washington, June 19.—The House has adopted the meat inspection bill, which requires a more searching inspection of the meat products put on the market by the Beef Trust.

Governor Pattison Dead.

Columbus, Ohio, June 18.—Governor Pattison is dead. Lieutenant-Governor Andrew Harris has been sworn into office as his successor.

John M. Pattison was elected Governor of Ohio in the last elections, winning out on the Democratic ticket. He was a civil war veteran, having enlisted in the Union army when sixteen years old, serving with the colors from 1864 to the end of the war. He was first elected to the Ohio Legislature in 1873, and to the State Senate in 1890. He was a member of the 52d Congress. Since 1881 he had been associated with the management of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company, having been its president since 1891. He was 59 years old.

HIGH SCHOOL FOR HILO.

WORK has at last commenced on the Hilo High School building and the terms of the contract for its construction call for its completion by the middle of December. The new High School building has a history already, though the building has not yet fully materialized. Its history begins back some years and is a story of procrastination, circumlocution and delay. "Out of sight, out of mind" has appeared to hold true of the territorial officials in this case. Hilo people who have grown sceptical meanwhile, as a result about the proposition, and have come to look upon a high school building as a matter of doubtful possibility, can now reassure themselves, the building is actually to be a realized fact. While it will not be completed in time for the commencement of work at the re-opening of school, there will be only a few weeks of waiting, which can be well endured in anticipation of the comforts and conveniences in prospect in the new building. Practically, the work of the High School will be little affected and to all intents and purposes as occupied from the beginning of the year.

Assured of a building, the work of high school grade and character so well conceived of and understood by the principal and his assistants and carried on under difficulties during the past year, will be performed. Thus Hilo will possess what it should have, a high school that will be a credit to the city and a valuable educational asset to the community. The statement that it should be patronized by the people of Hilo and of this Island follows directly and obviously. Many children have gone away from Hilo every year to Honolulu and elsewhere. This will be unnecessary in the future. Parents should consider well the opportunities for education here before sending their children to Honolulu. They should remember that their own town will have the coming year a high school in the broadest sense of the word; that full high school courses of instruction will be begun in September, that the transfer from the old to new quarters during the first term will cause no serious interruption to instruction. Hilo will now have to offer educationally the same advantages as the high schools and academies elsewhere afford. Local pride will prompt people to give it loyal support and patronage.

THERE is no doubt that the Kohala ditch, increasing the productivity of thousands of acres of cane land and being thousands more under cultivation, will prove to be $600,000 well invested. Nevertheless the enterprise of the company carrying the work to successful completion is commendable. It was a great undertaking to construct an aqueduct carrying seven million gallons of water daily, fourteen miles in length, through forest and among high pali, requiring nine miles of tunnel.

If "the greatest benefactor to the human race is the man who makes two blades of grass to grow where one grew before," as some one has said, the promoters of this enterprise are entitled to a pedestal or a niche in the Hawaii Temple of Fame in making the lands of Kohala to so blossom as the rose.

This country still has undeveloped resources, and opportunities await the enterprising benefactor who is looking for a good investment.

Mrs. I. P. Walsh, who was appointed librarian at a recent meeting of the trustees of the Hilo Library, declines to accept the position. William Hill is acting in the capacity of librarian and will continue in the position until other arrangements are made.

NOW FOR THE RACES.

Grand Program of Events at Hoolulu Park.

The celebration at Hoolulu Park this year is going to be the greatest in the history of the Hawaiian Islands.

The track is being put in excellent shape, and track records will no doubt be broken in more than one race.

The Jockey Club have arranged to have a number of wild bullock, that have never seen man before, brought down from the mountains. These will be tied to a tame (pin bullock,) and brought in, so they will be as wild when they arrive here as they were on the mountains. The cowboys from the different ranches are coming in to give an exhibition of lassoing and tying these wild bullock, and should furnish excellent sport.

The All-Hawaii Base Ball team have been practicing hard, and expect to take the Honolulu team into camp.

The Honolulu horses, Brunner and Racine Murphy are as fit as they ever were or ever will be thanks to the training of McAuliffe.

These two horses with the Egyptian Princess, So So, St. Yusef, Phillip and Alephus, will certainly make the free for all races very interesting, and the one who picks the horse who pokes his nose under the wire first will certainly be a wise one.

Of the 14 Hawaiian bred horses in training for the races, old Americo is probably the best known, but some of the younger ones will make him go some to win.

Large crowds will come up from Honolulu to attend the races, and all of the people in the outer districts on this Island will be here if they have to walk to town.

One of the best races on the program will be the Luna's race, as the boys on the plantations all think they have the best horse, and one of them has.

Perfecting Incorporation.

The incorporation papers of the Hilo Pineapple Co. have not yet been filed. Matters in reference to the organization are still under consideration and not yet fully settled. A meeting was to be held Monday afternoon at which it was expected conclusions would be reached and that rapid progress would follow directly in the way of completing the organization and getting the incorporation papers perfected and forwarded.

The pineapple plantations that it is proposed taking over by the company are being cultivated and improved by the respective owners, meanwhile, in anticipation of the company's taking them. Among these are Mr. Kelsey's plantation of 11,000 pines at Kaiwika; Mr. Andrews' two fields of 15,000 pines, all told and, F. S. Lyman's field of about 10,000 in Hilo.

Road in Park.

Road Supervisor N. C. Lyman put the prison gang at work Wednesday on making the driveway in Rainbow Fall Park. This is a long, winding road, twelve feet in width, and was surveyed by A. B. Loebenstein. A slight variation from the survey is being made by constructing the road farther from the bluff than the survey calls for. This is done on the grounds of greater comfort for the nervous, as well as for greater security. It is the intention to grade and macadamize the driveway, a work that will require about a month's time. The regular road gang that was employed in bringing Volcano street up to grade has been laid off for the present, the supervisor having learned that the work main on the street is to be moved.

The Courts.

The grand jury in the Fourth Circuit court will meet on July 10, and the trial jury on July 17. This will be for the May term of court. At Honokaa, the other locality in which court is held in the fourth circuit, court will sit for the August term on August 15. Court in the third circuit will convene on July 25 at Kona. The county attorney is at work preparing cases for the consideration of the grand jury. The sheriff and county attorney anticipate a busy and active season attending to the business of the various courts and getting about from one place to another.

Frank Dias and Adelaide S. Canario, daughter of M. S. Canario, the merchant tailor, of Hilo, were married at the residence of the bride's father on Thursday evening, Rev. C. W. Hill performing the ceremony.

AN ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM.

Entertainment and Dance By the Hawaiian Women's Club.

A most attractive program has been arranged for the evening of July 5 at the armory in the entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Hilo Branch of the Hawaiian Women's Club. It is to be both musical and spectacular and will undoubtedly be one of the prettiest exhibitions ever seen in Hilo.

Na Lei o Hawaii, by eight girls, each representing one of the islands, cannot fail of being a charming sight, as well as interesting in the characterization of the different islands. Hawaii is to be represented by Miss Mercy Akau, dressed in red and bedecked with leis, which the island is noted for.

Oahu will be represented by Miss Sarah Mahaila, and that island being noted for ilima flowers, she will be dressed in yellow. Maui will be represented by Miss Josephine Kaihenui, dressed in pink and decked with the roses for which that island is famous.

Kauai, in which the flowers mokihana and lauae are abundant, will be represented by Mrs. Kahaloe Kipi dressed in green decorated with these flowers.

Molokai will be represented by Miss Helen Aiona dressed in white and decked with kukui blossoms, characteristic of the island.

Niihau, by Miss Hannah Akamu, dressed in canary colored gown and adorned with the fine white shells found on this small isle.

Another pretty spectacular performance will be "Pidge" by six girls prettily attired in red. The solo will be sung by Mr. Ben Brown, Jr., and the chorus by Miss Kaulie Hapai, Miss Josephine Kaihenui, Miss Mercy Akau, Miss Hannah Akamu, Miss Daisy Todd and Miss Dodo Hapai.

Then there will be a chorus, followed by a double quartet, "The Owl and The Pussy Cat," by the following eight little girls: Irene Maby, Margaret Horner, Irene Brown, Ida Desha, Mary Wiggins, Love Akana and Jessie Kai.

Mrs. Chas Siemsen, one of Hilo's favorite singers, will render a solo. A tableau, "Blue Beard's Wives," a vocal duet by Misses Kaulie Hapai and Hannah Akamu; and "Ten Virgins," by ten girls dressed in white robes, make up the remainder of the program.

A dance will follow, music for which will be furnished by the Waialae Quintet Club.

Bananas to Burn.

A few bunches of bananas and a number of pineapples left over from shipment by the Hilonian, their consignor, Mr. Brughelli, sent to Honolulu by the Kinau, for disposal there or shipment to the Coast by the Ventura. It was a fine lot of fruit, according to Mr. Brughelli, not picked too green as he asserts most of the fruit is. His experience has shown this to him to be a fact, that fruit for shipment is not allowed to mature sufficiently, and he thinks the reputation of the Hilo banana will suffer from this cause. Hundreds and thousands of bunches of bananas, of finest quality, are going to waste now, as always, up through Oiaa, he says, that should be utilized, for brandy, denatured alcohol or something.

Pilikia of a Pake.

The deputy sheriff's office has all kinds and varieties of pilikia to deal with. Sunday night a chiuaman covered with gore rushed in there and with dramatic manner and unintelligible jabber tried to tell how a Jap had knocked him down and thrown an ice-cream glass at him, exhibiting a broken glass, a gash across his face, and an awful bump upon his features in evidence. Legal machinery got to work in less time than is required in the telling. Jap was booked and twenty plunks were put up by a friend to insure his appearance when wanted. During the day a Porto Rican from Onomes applied to the sheriff for authority to compel a belligerent parent to deliver to him his daughter, object matrimony.

Puna Pineapples.

M. J. Soares, of Pahoa, Puna, sent in two fine specimens of pineapples as samples of those grown on his land, of which he offers to sell twenty acres to the new Pineapple Company. The samples are of eight pounds weight each, and of exceptionally fine appearance and aroma. The company, however, is not contemplating the purchase of any land.

Sized and Condemned.

J. M. Hering, fish and food inspector, and D. S. Bowman, agent of the health board, on Tuesday seized 50 boxes of smoked herring and about 75 pounds of codfish, shipped from a commission house in Honolulu to an auction house in this city. The same were refused by the house here and were seized and condemned as being unfit for food.

A crop of insane cases has been maturing among the Japanese to all appearances. Every week for some time one or more has been sent down to Honolulu committed to the asylum.

Boundary Notice.

An application for settlement of the boundaries of the land called Hienaloli 1st, in the District of North Kona, County of Hawaii, Territory of Hawaii, having been filed with the Commissioner of Boundaries for the Third and Fourth Circuits, Territory of Hawaii, by J. W. Pratt, Commissioner of Public Lands. Notice is hereby given to said Commissioner of Public Lands for the Territory of Hawaii, the owner of said land, and also to the owners of the lands adjoining, namely, Hawaii Land Company, Ltd., for Grant 3148, Honouliuli, Mrs. H. N. Greenwell, for Grant 3100, Honouliuli, Thomas Aiu, for Land Com. Award 7716, Hienaloli 2d, Jno. de Costa Amarin, Land Com. Award 7716, Hienaloli 2d., American Board of Missions for L. C. A. 387, Hienaloli 1st, that said application and the testimony offered will be heard at the office of the Commissioner of Boundaries, at Hilo, Hawaii, on Thursday the 12th day of July, A. D. 1906, at 9 a. m. Hilo, Hawaii, June 7, 1906.

QUESTION OF WHO'S WHO.

In Picture of Criminal Expert and Convicted Koreans.

Sometime ago the Advertiser published a picture of the arrested Korean murderers in custody of Chester Doyle. This picture was republished when the execution occurred, the names of the men as given by Doyle in the first instance being repeated and the fact of execution or imprisonment noted in each case. Now comes Mr. A. Horner, of the Kukaiau Plantation Co., to state that three of the pictured prisoners, two of whom are supposed to be in prison for fifteen years and one of whom are supposed to have been executed in Oahu prison are "alive and kicking" on the Kukaiau plantation. Mr. Horner suggests a case of mistaken identity. The situation is certainly queer, for the men appearing in the picture in custody of Mr. Doyle are the ones he reported under arrest as the murderers. Either the wrong men were convicted, or the wrong men were hanged, or the wrong men had their pictures taken. We leave it to Carl Smith which is correct and in the meantime apologize to the unchanged and unimprisoned for the inadvertent use of their pictures. —Advertiser.

High Sheriff Henry tells the Star what of course there can be no doubt of that: "As far as the hanging and imprisonment is concerned, there is no question about identity. We had the best interpreters and used every care, as is necessary when one has a number of men who speak only a foreign tongue. The men that were hanged were shown by their own statements to the interpreters and ministers to be the right ones, and the men now at hard labor are equally well identified. There were probably some mistakes in the names of those in the published pictures."

Virtues of Okolehao.

"One of the most important undeveloped industries," say the promoters of the Kohala Okolehao distillery,—"one in which there is more money than there was in Sugar in its palmiest days—is lying dormant: viz: the distilling of the indigenous vegetable growth, Tiroot, into the aromatic spirituous liquor known the native name of okolehao.

"Okolehao is an alcoholic spirit of exceptional purity, and possesses a flavor of its own which immediately commends it to the palate of the connoisseur.

"The placing of this highly appreciated beverage on the market will be a welcome addition to the wine list of the opulent, and also of inestimable benefit to those whose taste is being vitiated and health ruined by the partaking of adulterated liquors of a pernicious character.

"The corporation now being organized is about to erect a distillery in conformity with federal and territorial legislation, for the purpose of manufacturing okolehao, and, also for other industrial purposes."

"Following closely on okolehao may be classified Aaypana.

"This a liqueur which combines an unrivalled fragrance with a curative element—being an infallible antidote for dyspepsia.

"The plant from which the liqueur is prepared is a native of the Amazon valley; and, a century ago, was so jealously guarded by the inhabitants, that a death sentence was the penalty for exportation.

After five years of untiring efforts, the plant has been introduced into Hawaii, and is now being propagated with success.

"The cultivation of vanilla in Hawaii has passed the experimental stage. In no country are more luxuriant vines to be found and the product equals, if not surpasses, the much prized Mexican bean.

"By manufacturing an extract of uniform quality and unquestionable purity, the Corporation's Extract of Hawaiian Vanilla will, in a short time, acquire a world-wide reputation.

"The manufacture of choice cordials, elixirs, essences, and other extracts from the aforementioned products, will come within the scope of the Corporation's operations.

"The corporation has acquired the right of purchase of twenty-eight acres of land situated in Kona, Hawaii, which is replete with Tiroot, and on which the distillery will be erected." —Advertiser.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAUGHT.

Lopez, Transferred From Hilo, Long Missing.

Lopez, the Porto Rican convict who escaped about two or three months since, was captured at Wailua, Oahu on Sunday June 17.

He has been in the neighborhood of Wailua almost ever since he escaped. One day he was at the Wailua court house seeing a poster with his picture on it, and an offer of a reward for his recapture, he tore the poster down into bits.

In some way he was able to secure one of these posters, and he also made a sort of an imitation police badge out of a piece of a tin can. With this badge he would go into Japanese camps and claim to be a Porto Rican policeman looking for the Porto Rican Lopez who had escaped. He would show the badge as proof of his authority and the picture of the wanted Lopez as corroborative evidence. In this way he would coerce the Japanese into giving him food and small amounts of money.

He had been living in a deserted shack near one of the pumping stations on the Wailua plantation. Lopez was armed with a revolver and a knife, but he was sized before he had a chance to take a shot at the officers. It is not known how he procured the revolver or knife. He had quite a supply of ammunition.

He is looked on by the sheriff's force as poor miserable specimen of humanity.

Maui Items.

The Masonic Lodge building at Kahului is nearing completion, and the Baldwin National Bank expects to get into its permanent quarters by the end of July. The Lodge rooms will not be finished until some time after that.

Mr. H. W. Baldwin, the Union Oil Co.'s representative at Kahului has been granted a leave of absence and expects to leave for the coast with his wife within a few weeks for a two months' vacation.

Haleakala Ranch Co. are doing considerable work extending their pipe line into the woods just below Puu Nianiau, on the mountain, to increase their water supply.

Mr. R. K. Bonine, the Edison moving picture man, was expected in Maui last week on his way back from Hawaii, to take pictures of Haleakala, of Iao Valley, of scenes along the big Koolau ditch out Keanae way, and of other interesting points. The people of Maui expected to entertain Mr. Bonine during his stay on the island free of all cost to him.

J. P. Cooke, and family are expected on Maui the latter part of this month and will spend several months at their summer home, Kula, in Kulau.

Dredging at Kahului.

Capt. J. R. Parker, in charge of the dredging operations at Kahului, left for San Francisco by the Nebraska last week, and it is reported that he goes for the purpose of trying to get the Pacific Dredging Co. to take over the work at Kahului from his company.

Whether Captain Parker's company is trying to get rid of the contract or not, it is known that they have been making efforts toward securing the services of the dredger Pacific. The Reclamation seems to have been doing fair work, but the experts do not seem to be satisfied. Many delays have been caused by the breaking of the digger, and it is said that the dredger is not powerful enough for the work.

An Old Maxim Applied to a Modern Remedy.

"Everyone speaks of the feast as he finds it," is a maxim of the Portuguese. Judging by the letters received from people all over the country; praising Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, it is evident this remedy has been found satisfactory. It is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, and no case has yet been reported where it has failed to give relief, and it has been in general use for more than a quarter of a century. A Matter of Clothes

(Original.)

Colonel Browning of the the United States infantry never wore a uniform when off duty, always wearing the plainest clothes. When he was a young lieutenant he had been noticeable for always dressing when in mufti in the most fashionable attire. But suddenly there had come a change. His fine clothes were replaced by those of the most ordinary type, and from that time forward he never again dressed as a "swell."

One evening when a number of retired officers at the Army and Navy club were sitting together one of them who had known him all his life remarked on the splendor of his former apparel and the sudden change, whereupon Browning told the following story:

Some forty years ago a gentleman stepped into a dance house at a point on the upper Missouri river where wagons started for the interior. The gentleman could not have been more inappropriately dressed if he had attended an inauguration ball in a woolen shirt, with his trousers tucked into his boots. It was a case of vice versa. The people in the dance house were teamsters, gamblers, thieves, cutthroats; the women, the lowest of the lowest class. The gentleman went among them dressed in the height of fashion. True, he wore what are called business clothes, but from their cut and texture among the costumes in the dance house they were as noticeable as if he had been got up to represent a rajah of India.

The gentleman stood looking on at the motley crowd dancing about to the music of a scraped fiddle, and, being nearsighted, slipped a pair of pince nez glasses before his eyes in order the better to take in the novel sight. He had never before seen men dancing with their hats on nor men and women pausing to walk up to the bar to have a drink together. And it is questionable if the dancers ever saw such a "swell" looking young fellow in a sky blue cravat spangled with white dots looking at them through a pair of eyeglasses without the slightest attempt to conceal his interest in their dress, manners and customs.

Very soon he was made aware of the fact that the people he considered so curious had feelings as well as himself, though not as delicate methods of showing them. There were cries of "Bloke!" "Tenderfoot!" "Dude!" and such like appellations, and presently the gentleman became aware that they were applied to him. He was about to turn and leave when a man stepped up to him and, showing a revolver under his nose, said:

"Stranger, we consider ourselves w' th a drink all round."

By this time the gentleman remembered that he had heard of such people as these and when they made a request of a man in their power it must be obeyed.

"All right," he said. "Step up!" The man who had made the request shouted that the stranger would set up the drinks, and every one present drank. The stranger joined, realizing that if he did not he would very likely never drink again. Then he paid the price, which used up a twenty dollar bill, and was about to depart when the man who had forced the invitation said to him:

"Now you"—here followed language not to be repeated—"git!"

The gentleman had not been unwilling to pay for the show he had enjoyed, though under compulsion, but at this point he demurred. Nevertheless he bowed politely to the man and remarked that he was sorry to have intruded. Then he departed, walking briskly down to the river bank, where he found a boat tied up, on which were some twenty recruits for the —th United States infantry stationed at Fort —.

They and the gentleman had arrived only a couple of hours before and were to proceed in the morning to the fort.

"Sergeant," said the gentleman, "get your men ashore and follow me." The order was obeyed, and in a few minutes the men with arms at right shoulder were marching up the roadway—it couldn't be called a street—the gentleman leading the way. When they reached the dance house they filed in and were drawn up in line before the only door. The gentleman then brought them to an "alm" and remarked to the assembly:

"Every man on his head."

One or two who saw blood in his eye obeyed instantly, but it was some minutes before all followed.

"Turn somersaults."

Every man obeyed the order. Then the gentleman directed the man who had insulted him to get up on a table and dance. When the sport became tiresome the manager of the show turned the men over to the sergeant and ordered him to march them back to the boat.

Who was the gentleman? Second Lieutenant Ned Browning—in other words, myself. I had brought the recruits up the river and on the evening of our arrival had fallen into the water and barely escaped drowning. I had no change of uniform, but I did have a suit of "cit's" clothes. After a rubbing I put them on and, having nothing better to do, thought I would go up and see something of frontier life. I saw more than I had bargained for. That episode taught me a lesson. The wearing of anything to attract attention, whether from its peculiarity or from contrast, is more likely to harm than benefit the wearer. Since that episode I have had a distaste to wearing any except ordinary clothing or clothing unbefitting my surroundings. I would at any time rather be underdressed than overdressed. LENA M. BROOKS.

THE MEAT TRUST.

Federal System of Inspection of Packing Houses.

Washington, June 19.—A bill which is acceptable to President Roosevelt provides an appropriation of three million dollars annually for the purposes of meat inspection. The officials will be appointed under the civil service system.

The message recently sent to the Senate by the President urged haste in the matter of a bill providing for the proper inspection of the big meat packing houses, both as regards their sanitary condition and the condition of the animals slaughtered and packed. The message was based on the report sent in by Labor Commissioner McNeil and Reynolds, the publication of which has turned public sentiment against the packers and resulted in a lessening of the sale of their products amounting to millions of dollars.

Floors found so filthy that blood and grease oozed through and fell upon good meat about to be canned.

Employers walked around in dirt in which they had expectorated, gathering up possible bacilli and afterward walking on carcasses.

In one case a hog slipped from the trolley and fell into a vile place; it was taken out and cut up for food with the others, without having been cleaned.

Dried meat was placed in the same room with good meat, intended for canning.

Potted hams appeared to consist of pig-skin and other cast-off pieces of hog, colored and put on the market.

The packers have replied to the President's charges, saying that they are unjustified, and that any inspection measure would be welcome.

The accusations that meat was dragged over floors and that there was need of better light, ventilation and toilet facilities, with the last-named further removed from the rooms where meat is prepared, were resented.

The replies of various packing firms are as follows:

Armour and Co.—"We heartily favor government inspection that will cover both meats and sanitary conditions. Our packing houses have been open to the public for forty years and during that time we have satisfied doctors, chemists, sanitarians and official government inspectors."

Nelson, Morris and Co.—"The millions of people all over the world who have visited our plants can testify to their cleanliness and sanitary condition. Our aim is to improve continually."

Swift and Co.—"We aim to maintain a high standard of sanitation. The Beveridge bill should form a basis for a good law. We want our government's certificate to represent the highest standard."

Schwarschild and Sulzberger—"Our plant is modern and we welcome inspection even by the President himself. We do not believe that there is anything in our sanitary conditions that can be criticized."

Long Cruise of Yacht.

Dingy gray in color and weather worn by her five months at sea, but clean-drawn and looking every inch the yacht she is, the little ketch Anemone the competitor from the Atlantic coast in the trans-Pacific race came into the Harbor of San Pedro.

It is utterly unnecessary to say that the men on board were glad to reach port—the first port entered since leaving New York Dec. 14.

Captain Henry Lindeberg, the skipper of the Anemone, and his crew have, in fact, been almost cut off from the world for 144 days, for as before stated they touched at no ports en route and spoke but few vessels. They knew nothing of the great earthquake and fire at San Francisco; they did not know that Owner Tutt had entered the yacht for the big ocean race to Honolulu; and the papers which were brought on board were eagerly welcomed. They were the first papers received since the day of sailing from New York.

Leads in Athletics.

The American sportsman now has the world beaten, says a writer on athletics in a leading mainland paper.

In scarcely any branch of sport, indoor or outdoor, have the experts of the Old World succeeded in holding records.

In every game not distinctly local, as, for instance, cricket, which being solely an English game naturally finds its champion exponents in the tight little isle, the skill and dexterity of Uncle Sam, allied to his pluck and daring, have given him the victory.

The recent triumph of the Americans in the Olympic games was complete: Willie Hoppe has just established an absolute mastery over the billiard world as Frank Ives ever enjoyed, horsemen on the other side have their choice of getting American jockeys or losing their races; Travis holds the amateur golf championship of England; James J. Jeffries is so far above any fighter the Old World could produce that it would be suicide for the man they attempted to put against him; Frank Kramer has just defeated the pick of Europe's cyclists in the international matches in London; Jay Gould, though only a mere boy, beat every court tennis player in England save only the champion, and the latter admits that it is only a question of a short time before nobody can cope with the grandson of the famous financier; Miss May Sutton outclasses the best women tennis players of England, and so straight down the line it will be found that the other side cannot produce the kind of material necessary to beat Uncle Sam.

The American victory in the games at Athens was particularly satisfying. Barring half a dozen of the Britishers, the other athletes in the competition fell laughably behind those who crossed the Atlantic to get in the competition.

Of the twenty-two Olympic records, nineteen are now held in this country. The only exceptions are the five-mile run, held by Hawtrey, of England; the Marathon race, where Sherring, of Canada, is the premier, and the polevault, where Gonder, of France, is tied with Dvorak, of Michigan.

Miss Sutton, after winning the National championship in Philadelphia, last spring went abroad, and simply outclassed everything on the other side. Against the champion of the British Isles she won by the hollow score of 6-0, 6-0, 6-0.

The tennis experts of the old country admitted their utter inability to cope with the young American girl, with a wrist of iron and unlimited speed and endurance.

Willie Hoppe has only been out of his knickerbockers for a few years, yet he was able to beat Vignaux, of France. Seventeen-years old Jay Gould did not win the court tennis championship of Great Britain, but he went through the preliminary rounds, only being finally downed by the veteran, Eustace Miles.

Death of Old Resident.

W. C. Borden, an old residence living on Volcano Street Tuesday afternoon, June 19, the cause of death being heart failure, and death occurring somewhat suddenly. The funeral was largely attended, and took place Wednesday morning, the services being held in the Catholic Church. W. C. Borden arrived in the Islands many years ago, coming here from New England in a whaler. He had since made several trips to the East. He was in business in Hilo for many years and had a wide acquaintance. Deceased was a war veteran and member of the G. A. R. He leaves a wife and large family.

In The Isle of Pines.

A letter was received recently by Mr. H. E. Kelsey, from Mrs. J. S. Shoemaker, who with her husband and family removed to the Isle of Pines, Cuban Republic, about two years ago. The family formerly lived at Kaiwika, and after selling their ranch there to Mr. Kelsey, lived in Kailua for a time before going to the Isle of Pines. Mrs. Shoemaker wrote that they had been engaged there in raising citrus fruits, but contemplated removing to Mexico, where a relative of Mr. Shoemaker's owns a sugar plantation, government conditions and schools being better in Mexico.

Making Koa Lumber.

The saw mill at the Hilo Railroad shops has been busily employed during the week turning out Koa lumber for the Hawaii Mahogany Lumber Co. The log supply has been drawn from both Kaunama and the Koa forest near the Volcano House, requiring about 6 miles of teaming in the former case and 10 miles in the latter. The first shipment of lumber will be made by the steamer Enterprise. If the Koa lumber proves to be the success it promises, a railroad will be built from the terminus of the Hilo railroad to the Volcano House and Koa forest.

Big Freighter.

The freighter Massachusetts, sailed at 7 p. m. Saturday for around the Horn to Philadelphia with 10,123 tons of sugar. The steamer belongs to the Atlantic Transport line and is under lease for the trip to the American-Hawaiian line to relieve the sugar situation in the Islands. She is 505 feet in length, over all, has a deck more than regular freighters and is about the biggest thing in the line of vessel that has been in port here, though the Texan had greater carrying capacity. She took 1571 tons from this port.

Detained by Strike.

Two sons of Jos. Vierra, on their way home to Hilo from the East, have been detained in San Francisco, the steamer on which they were to sail being tied up by the sailors' strike. These sons have been attending school there and one, Franklin Joseph, was recently married; the other, after graduating at Illinois; College, Jacksonville, Ill., and finishing a year of work at the Columbia Law School, Washington, D. C., comes home expecting to remain for the next year at least, finishing up the law course at some future time.

Abram Louison, the Hamakua coffee planter, was a passenger by the Kinan this morning. He goes to the States by the Mongolian. Miss Hadley, teacher at the public school of Lahaina, came down by the Kinan this morning. She is to take a vacation trip to Japan during the summer.—Bulletin.

SANTIAGO.

Good Progress on Rehearsal of Mammoth Production.

Potting this spectacular war drama before the public is an undertaking of considerable magnitude. Besides the fifteen principal characters of the play, a company of soldiers appear upon the stage, as well as a detachment of marines, and the Spanish guerrillas. The battle scene, in which the Union troops storm and capture a Cuban stronghold, not without loss of men, promises to be thrilling. A stage of extensive proportions is constructed for the occasion, with special new scenery. A complicated system of electric light switches is provided and some very fine stage effects will be produced. The rehearsals have been highly satisfactory to those having the management in hand, and the play, with its spectacular accompaniment, is calculated to arouse and hold the intense interest of the audience. The play is given by the Hilo Elks' Lodge and Company D. It will be the attractive feature of the evenings of July 3 and 4. The cast of characters is as follows:

- Capt. Oscar Hutton, U. S. A.
-N. G. Campion.

Can Now Go Ahead.

The incorporation papers of the Hilo Fruit Co. have been received back from Honolulu approved. A meeting of the directors is to be held Tuesday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms to consider plans of procedure. A meeting to elect permanent officers and complete organization will be held at some future date. The manufacture of denaturized alcohol within the province of the company, and in view of the importance of this article it is possible its manufacture may be considered. It is the intention to have the cannery in operation in a year. The capacity of the cannery is to be decided upon, determined by the amount of fruit in sight for the purpose and the estimated amount of increase in the future. The question of site for the cannery has not had consideration.

Appreciated the Honor.

A correspondent to Ka Hoku o Hawaii writes that paper that on June 12 the Home Rulers of Kona held a meeting to nominate a police officer for the district of South Kona. The one who received the nomination, showed his appreciation of the honor conferred by purchasing a keg of wine which produced such an enlivening effect that the arrest of eleven of the party for disorderly conduct followed. It was also stated that the nominee had been arrested for the theft of a pig.

The order created intense feeling and the parliament at once declared that it would not obey but would continue its sittings. It is believed that this will be the signal for a bloody struggle between the people and the crown. The gravity of the situation grows hourly.

Kohala Pineapple Project.

There will be other things than sugar in the Kohala district if the plans of the Woods brothers and their partner, Mr. Johnson, are carried to fulfillment as anticipated. It is the intention of this combination to start a pineapple plantation and cannery on the lands of the Woods ranch. The operators of the cannery will plant 100 acres in pineapples and a great number of the homesteaders in that section have signified their desire to plant pines. Johnson has been connected with the Kohala ditch work.

Sam P. Woods came from Hawaii in the Kinau to take up business details in connection with this proposed enterprise. The Woods-Johnson partnership expects eventually to put in 200 acres of pines, but it is work that cannot be done in a day. Two years will elapse before the first crop is taken off, but the work will go forward with all the speed these energetic men can produce. This will be a great opportunity for the natives and other homesteaders of the Kohala district and about the only present opportunity they have for producing a revenue from their lands. —Bulletin.

Popular Hawaiian Songs.

W. S. Ellis wrote from Piedmont Park, Alameda County, under date of June 4, of the Hawaiian Band: "Everything is a big hit so far. Jack (Ellis) is singing a great rebus to tenor. By the way 'Old Plantation' and 'Honolulu High' are the biggest hits of all the songs. Miss Brown, our lady vocalist (Lei Lehua) has done remarkably well considering the short time she has been singing."

HEROISM OF KAPIOLANI.

Subject of a Poem by Tennyson—Defied Goddess Pele.

I wonder how many of my readers, familiar with Tennyson as they may be, remember his poem "Kapiolani"? Kapiolani was the name of the Christiana convert recently referred to in "Anecdote" as the noble woman who descended the crater of the fiery Kilauea to free the people from heathenism. She was the wife of the public notary of Hawaii. The King and his court had abjured the worship of the evil goddess Pele. Many of the people had followed their example, but the priests of Pele, who lived on the mountain's flank, held the common folk to the old worship by threats of dire vengeance should they forsake it. Kapiolani determined to break the spell. Carrying with her the sacred berries which it was sacrilege for her sex to touch, she climbed over rocks and slippery lava to the edge of the terrible crater. Then she descended to the edge of the molten sea, which she had been taught to believe was a direct manifestation of the power of Pele, and flung into it the sacred berries. "If I perish by the anger of Pele," she cried, "then dread her power; but, behold, I defy her wrath; yet I live, and am safe, for Jehovah, the Almighty, is my God. His was the breath that kindled these flames; His is the hand that restrains their fury." And she returned in safety to the wondering people.

Kapiolani deserves a place in the roll of noble women. Empedocles leapt into the crater of Etna to win eternal fame, Kapiolani descended into the horrible abyss to free her people.—T. P.'s Weekly, London.

Evidence of Title Wanted.

Did his late Majesty King Kalakaua ever play for 52 1-2 acres of Waialua land which he bid for and secured at auction on April 21, 1897, but for which he never got a deed, is the question raised by the pleadings in the case of the Kapiolani Estate against Land Commissioner Pratt in which the plaintiffs secured an alternative writ of mandamus ordering that a deed issue and the land commissioner has filed a demurrer, claiming in substance that there is no evidence that the King ever really acquired the land.

The property was put up for sale by the government in 1887. The king was the highest bidder and the whole piece of land was knocked down to him for $170. A successor to his alleged title the Kapiolani estate is suing to force Pratt to issue a title, which Pratt has refused to do, holding that there is nothing to show that the King's purchase was ever carried out.

Deputy Attorney General Milverton filed a demurrer, setting forth that there is no ground whatever for the issuance of a title, it being claimed that the King failed to pay up after the auction and thus lost his intended purchase. C. W. Ashford is attorney for the plaintiff.

The Hamakua Ditch.

A ceremony fraught with quite as much importance as the notable Kohala Ditch opening was enacted Thursday at the upper end of the Hamakua ditch.

Fred Lewis drove the first pick in the ground for the construction of this ditch, which is to supply the water to the plantations of the district, and John McCrossen lifted the first shovelful of earth.

There was no wine spilled and the participants in the work were not attired in holiday goods, but it was nevertheless an important event. Immediately after the Kohala Ditch christening, Lewis, McCrossen, Abram Lewis, Wodehouse and some of the local managers started out for the scene of the upper Hamakua ditch. There is plenty of water and the ditch construction is comparatively easy on account of the small amount of tunnelling. This ditch will be ready to furnish water by January first.—Bulletin.

Visions of Luxury Vanished.

They tell queer tales, those who come back from Kohala, says "The Bystander," in the Advertiser. That sequestered district, it appears did not look for so large an invasion of the Goths and Vandals of Honolulu and had not prepared for it. There was a painful lack of both accommodations and food. The reporters found no transportation ready and being of supposed arboreal habits they were expected to sleep in the trees, if it was their custom to sleep at all. On that point Kohala, having heard them called night hawks, ventured to entertain a doubt. Others got accommodations here and there by dint of searching and cussing; but those who were turned over to the tender mercies of the Kohala Club say they fared the worst. There were not beds enough and food was at a premium. One man who affected to eat at the club says that he can highly recommend it as a place for banting and the cure of gout. There is nothing on the hill or in the service to tempt one to pernicious luxury. This story astonishes me, as I had supposed the Kohala Club to be a gilded palace of luxury and the Kohala district to be a land flowing with milk and honey as well as ditch water. But these illusions have vanished since the boys came back.

Howland Objects.

The Department of Public Works no longer requires the services of inspector Patterson around the new Nuuanu reservoir. Yesterday he was requested to hand in his resignation by the Assistant Superintendent Howland, who was visiting the work in the company of Superintendent Holloway.

The resignation was requested on the grounds that the inspector was insubordinate and had persisted in criticizing his superior and bearing tales to the newspapers. His qualifications as an inspector and his work during the past five months, since his appointment, were not questioned.

"But I am not going to resign," said Mr. Patterson last night. "If they want to get rid of me they will have to fire me. Howland says I have no business running around to the newspapers and giving copies of the official communications regarding the work, but I am prepared to stand by all the things I have said. I am not going to acknowledge myself even a little wrong by resigning and I will stay at work until I am discharged. I think that will be about tomorrow."

It is known that Howland has been wanting to discharge Patterson for some time and was only restrained by his chief, Mr. Holloway, who until yesterday had refused to sanction such actions until the report of the examination experts was at hand.

Log Supply From Coast.

The S. E. Slade Lumber Company has bought out the Oahu Lumber Company of Honolulu, and it is reported in connection with the purchase that a big scheme may be carried out for the direct shipping of log lumber here and construction of a mill to work it up. All the lumber that comes here now is on sailing vessels, and is sawed lumber. The proposition being discussed is the floating here of huge log rafts, to be converted into marketable lumber at a mill in this city.

The Slade Lumber Company is one of three or four big companies which control the American lumber business. Its headquarters are in the State of Washington.—Star.

Valuable Historically.

Archibarian Lydecker made a great find in the cellar of the courthouse at Lahaina. It was none other than the record of the doings of the Lahaina church from its founding in 1823 to 1872. No historical document Mr. Lydecker has encountered contains more of human interest and brings back the old days when Lahaina was the great center of religious as well as business activity. Rev. Mr. Desha went through the book and stated that it was of almost priceless value to those interested in church work and historical facts. Another find of Mr. Lydecker's was a very good picture of Kamehameha III.—Bulletin.

Jurisdiction Over Town Lots.

The question submitted to the Supreme Court some time ago by Superintendent Holloway and Land Commissioner Pratt has been decided in favor of the former's contentions. The question was as to jurisdiction over town lands, and the syllabus of the decision rules as follows:

"Section 75 of the Organic Act gives the Superintendent of Public Works the same limited power of disposing of lands described in the proviso of Section 262, R. L., that the Minister of the Interior formerly had and controls Section 73 of the same act in that regard.

"Remnants of land in Honolulu not contained in any grant, not needed for any public purpose, and not within any contemplated public house, are 'town lots' within the meaning of the proviso of Section 262, R. L."

Place of Holding Convention.

The place for holding the next Territorial convention of the Republicans is to be fixed upon at the next meeting of the Territorial Central Committee, and is being discussed among the members, with the choice apparently lying between Honolulu and Waialuku and the chances in favor of Honolulu.

Hilo had the last convention and Honolulu the one before that, and after the last one there was a strong movement in favor of giving Maui the next. Waituku made a bid for it, but of late her enthusiasm seems to have died out, and at present the indications are that Honolulu will get the convention without much of a contest. There are some, however, who favor rotation, and Maui's claims will have considerable attention if they are brought forward.—Star.

Warm, Debilitating Weather

Many people, after a long spell of oppressive heat, suffer from lassitude, loss of spirits, and a general "run down" feeling.

They need a course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, a medicine which has revived and restored to active life and health thousands of such sufferers. A lady who recently returned to England from South Africa writes concerning this "wonderful medicine": "While in Cape Town the past summer I suffered greatly from the long-continued heat. I was completely worn out; my blood seemed to become as thin as water, and I lost all energy and interest in life. My friends recommended and a course of this wonderful medicine restored my health and spirits. My husband suffered in the same way as I did, and he also was greatly benefited from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "AYER'S."
