ENGLAND JAPAN ALLIES.

Compact to Preserve China and Corea.

London, Feb. 11.—An important Parliamentary paper was issued tonight giving the terms of a practical alliance between Great Britain and Japan for the preservation of China and Corea. The paper covers a dispatch sent by Lord Lansdowne, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, January 30th, to the British Minister to China, Sir Claude MacDonald, and comprises a signed copy of the agreement.

In explanation the paper says the agreement may be regarded as an outcome of the events of the past two years. Throughout the Boxer troubles Great Britain and Japan had been in close and uninterrupted communication and actuated by similar views.

"We each desire," says Lord Lansdowne, "that the integrity and independence of the Chinese empire should be preserved, and that there should be no disturbance of the territorial status quo, either in China or the adjoining regions."

The discovery that their Far Eastern policies were identical resulted in each party to the agreement expressing its desire that their common policy find expression in an international contract of binding validity.

Lord Lansdowne further says that the British Government was largely influenced in entering upon this important contract by the conviction that it contains no provision which can be regarded as aggressive or self-seeking. He says it is conceived merely as a measure of protection, and that it in no way threatens the present position of legitimate interests of other powers.

His majesty's Government trusts that the agreement will be of mutual advantage to the two countries, and make for the preservation of peace, and should peace unfortunately be broken, it will have the effect of restricting the area of hostilities.

German Politics.

Berlin, February 14.—The frequent differences of opinion which have occurred in the Customs Committee of the Reichstag culminated this morning after several disturbing incidents in an open split and in the resignation of the chairman, Baron von Kardorf, one of the Agrarian leaders.

Although Count von Posadowski-Wehner, the Imperial Secretary of State for the Interior, declared the Government could not accept the suggestion, the committee, by a large majority, adopted a motion to the effect that the tariff bill should become effective January 1, 1905, which Baron von Kardorf refused to entertain.

The Liberals and Socialists violently denounced the chairman's ruling and the committee subsequently overruled the chair. The chairman resigned. The overruling of Baron von Kardorf led to an uproarious outbreak and Socialist shouts of "Dictatorship" and "Terrorism."

Russia Doesn't Kiek.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 14.—The Russian official view of the Anglo-Japanese treaty was communicated to the correspondent of the Associated Press as follows:

"We accept the news of the entente with the most complete equanimity, and are happy to ascertain that England and Japan are pledged to maintain the integrity to China and the independence of Corea, two principles which Russia was the first to establish as the basis of her foreign policy in the Orient. Russia would willingly have subscribed to the agreements in the preamble.

NEW LIGHT.

Great Britain Prevented Intervention of Powers.

New York, Feb. 13.—A special to the Sun from Washington says: While this Government has regarded with a mixture of curiosity and amusement the controversy between Germany and Great Britain as to which showed the greater friendliness toward the United States in the efforts to preserve peace between this country and Spain, the new turn which the incident has taken through the publication by the German Foreign Office of documentary evidence tending to place Lord Pauncefote and the British Ministry in an embarrassing position, has aroused keener interest among the officials here. The Government authorities with whom the Sun reporter talked today expressed great surprise over the revelations of the Berlin Foreign Office, and they were utterly at a loss to explain the specific statement of Von Holleben, the German Ambassador, and the written testimony to support it, that Pauncefote had initiated the proposal to the powers to unite to "dispel the error that armed intervention in Cuba is sanctioned by the civilized world."

Out of the controversy have come a number of interesting disclosures. A United States Senator, whose thorough acquaintance with diplomatic secrets and his high standing as an advisor of the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations command attention to his statements, today asserted positively that after the battle of Manila bay an attempt was made to induce the European powers to intervene to stop the war between Spain and the United States, but the attempt failed through the attitude of England, which emphatically declined to sanction the movement and used her influence to down it.

WHEELER OF KENTUCKY.

Objects to Our Style of Diplomacy in Bitter Speech.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The monotony of a private pension day of the House was enlivened today by a very sensational speech from Wheeler of Kentucky, in denunciation of what he denominated "funkeyism" to foreign countries. He took the recent statements emanating from Continental cabinets regarding the attitude of Great Britain during the Spanish war as a text for a wholesale attack upon trend of our recent diplomacy.

His speech aroused the House to a high pitch of excitement and elicited from Boutelle of Illinois a spirited defense of Secretary Hay, whom he engaged in high terms. Several other members on the Republican side took a hand, and later in the afternoon Grosvenor of Ohio took Wheeler to task for his "inopportune protest," and rehearsed the history of the visit of the Prince of Wales to this country in 1860 and his reception by President Buchanan.

Who Cranborne Is.

Viscount Cranborne, the eldest son of Lord Salisbury, who is Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs for the British Government, has recently made some important statements to Parliament in relation to the Nicaraguan canal treaty and the attitude of his Government toward the United States in the war with Spain. Lord Cranborne is now in his forty-first year and has had a seat in Parliament since 1885. For seven years he represented the Darwin division of Lancaster, and since 1893 has sat for Rochester.

Lord Cranborne is cautious, weighs well his utterances, and even as a youth was noted for his somewhat cynical good sense.

CHINESE EXCLUSION.

John M. Thurston Will Lead Fight Against It.

Washington, Feb. 13.—At tomorrow morning's meeting of the Senate Committee on Immigration, to consider the Chinese exclusion bill, ex-Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska, attorney for the Union Pacific and Mexican International roads and other Harriman interests, will appear on the side opposing exclusion. Thurston told a friend today that he would not appear on behalf of the railroads, but as the representative of the commercial interests of the Philippine islands.

The action of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Exchange has aroused much comment here, both in the committee and out. The California delegation is greatly disgusted at having to explain the apparent division of sentiment in California. Senator Perkins and Bard and Representatives Kahn, Coombs, Metcalf and Needham are outspoken in condemning the action of the San Francisco bodies. Senator Perkins said he had received a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Merchants' Exchange, with a request to present them, which, of course, he would do as a matter of courtesy.

WATERFRONT RAILWAY.

Work to Begin Within a Week or Ten Days.

Superintendent Lambert said to a TRIBUNE reporter Wednesday that dirt would begin to fly on the waterfront extension of the Hilo Railroad within ten days. The track will be laid and the grade made under the direct supervision of Superintendent Lambert without go-between contractors. The steel bridge for the Waiakea river will not be delivered in time for use in the construction of the extension. A temporary bridge will therefore be built to serve the purposes of making the extension. The track will run along the beach on a line not necessitating the removal of any buildings and will end at the banks of the Waiakea river. Along the line the shore side will be heavily ripped up, no stone seawall being contemplated at the present time.

The city depot of the railroad will be built on the vacant lot between the Postoffice and the Waiakea river. This depot will be a substantial and good looking building facing mauka. Train sheds will also be built on this site.

While the work on this improvement will be pushed as rapidly as possible, Mr. Lambert would not venture a prediction as to the date of its completion.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

Celebrated With Feasting, Speech and Song

The celebration of the one hundred and seventieth birthday of George Washington was enthusiastically carried out last Saturday evening with banqueting and speech making at Demosthenes Cafe. Covers were laid for nearly one hundred and fifty guests. The dining room was appropriately decorated with patriotic colors. The Fuhr portrait of George Washington adorned one wall and streamers of bunting hung from the corners and the chandeliers. The decorations were made by Mr. Frank Winter and Mrs. Sedgwick.

The dinner prepared and served under the supervision of Demosthenes Lycurgus was a delightful collation and every one who sat down to the tables arose pleased with the skill of the caterer.

The menu with crystals of poetry sandwiched between was as follows:

"May good digestion wait on appetite, And health on both."

OYSTERS

"Canst tell how an oyster makes his shell? No—nor I neither."

SOUP

"If you do expect spoon-meat bespeak a long spoon."

Consomme

RELISHES

"The sauce to meat is ceremony: Dinner were bare without it."
Worcestershire Sauce Mustard Catsup
Olives Pickles Salted Almonds
"The cover of the salt hides the salt, And therefore it is more than salt."

FISH

No more one could wish Than a slice of good fish.
Hawaiian Ku-mu with Mayonnaise

SALADS

"We may pick a thousand salads ere we light on such another."

MEATS

"What say you to a piece of ham and mustard?"
Turkey Chicken Roast beef Tongue Ham

VEGETABLES

"Herbs, and other country messes, Which the neat-handed Phillis dresses."
Mashed potatoes Rice Saratoga chips Asparagus Celery

DESSERT

"I will make an end of my dinner: There's pippins and cheese to come."

The executive committee in charge of the banquet consisted of Messrs. Carl Smith, W. C. Cook, J. A. Cruzan, A. C. McKenney, E. E. Richards, C. E. Sedgwick, C. A. Stobie.

The music which was of the stirring sort, was provided by a committee consisting of Mrs. J. T. Lewis, C. N. Prouty, J. H. Howland and A. H. Jackson.

After the feast of material things, an intellectual menu was discussed with delight and profit to all. Carl S. Smith introduced Mr. J. A. Cruzan as toastmaster for the evening. The latter gentleman acquitted himself as only a veteran of wars and a survivor of many banquets can. Mr. Cruzan introduced each speaker with happy prelude, paying the way for amicable relations between the audience and the orators. The speeches were mostly in lighter vein and were thoroughly enjoyed by the company.

The presence of women at the American festal board contributed very much to the success of the celebration. The orators spoke better and the singers sang better because of the presence of the fair sex.

The first toast of the evening was "The President of the United States," response by C. M. LeBlond. The remarks of this eloquent speaker are reproduced in full in another column.

"George Washington," response by Carl S. Smith, afforded the speaker a chance to contrast the lofty public spirit of Washington with the self seeking patriotism of the modern politician. The disinterested devotion to the public service which marked the career of George Washington was held by the speaker to be the best model of the patriot that history has produced.

"Our Country" was slated for W. S. Wise, but that gentleman being absent the toastmaster called upon H. L. Ross, Mr. Wise's partner, to fill the vacancy. Mr. Ross essayed the task with commendable nerve, among other things saying that he wished he had George Washington's hatchet in one hand and Wise in the other.

It had been discovered that E. E. Richards, one of the committee on arrangements, was like Washington, born on February 22. Accordingly, the master of ceremonies proposed a toast to E. E. Richards, which was drunk standing with a hearty good will.

"Edward VII and our Mother Country," was responded to by William McClusky. The speech of Mr. McClusky was a brilliant characterization of Britain's ruling sovereign and Consort Alexandra.

J. Castle Ridgway responded to the toast "The Territory and Governor of Hawaii." Mr. Ridgway's speech dealt with the governorship question from an angle that made it worth reproducing and interesting. This and every other response of the evening made a hit and delighted the hearers.

One of the most impressive speeches of the evening was by John T. Baker in response to the toast "Our Hawaiian Americans." He spoke in Hawaiian and his remarks were translated by L. A. Andrews. The sincere words of John T. Baker, once the Hawaiian governor of this Island, should be engrossed on parchment and placed in the hands of the President of the United States. They should be placed before the eyes of every politician in Hawaii and should be heeded as the true message from the people who have lost a flag to the nation now their sovereign.

Mr. Baker spoke of the love that was in the heart of every Hawaiian for the flag that was taken from them. He then told of the loss of the franchise which was a greater one than the loss of the flag. Then he said "The American flag was given to us, and with it the rights of full citizenship in the Great Republic. While we cannot forget the old flag, yet we love the new flag and know that it means protection to the rights of our people."

He addressed himself to the white politicians. He said, "We Hawaiians must be guided. We are easily led. We can be led in the wrong way. We want true Americans to lead us in the right way, that we may become good citizens."

"Americans in Hawaii," was the subject of a timely speech by Dr. Milton Rice. His words were words of wisdom and had significant application to political conditions in Hawaii at present.

W. C. Cook, "Hawaii's Chauncey" made the real hit of the evening in his response to the toast "Our Naturalized Citizens." He talked plainly to his fellow countrymen and his ringing words were greeted not only with frequent applause, but with warmly expressed "Amen's." Mr. Cook's speech is reproduced in another column.

The list of toasts closed with "The Ladies," response by A. C. McKenney. This was a maiden speech in two senses. The speaker acquitted himself as a platform war horse, bringing the house down more than once or twice.

Smith Transferred.

Jared Smith has received telegraphic advices from Washington of his transfer from the Department of Experiment Station to the Immigration Bureau, and will begin upon his new work immediately. His commission was to have been dated from January 1, but was for some reason delayed and consequently his work will extend into April. No definite immigration campaign of the Islands has yet been arranged.

PRINCIPLES OF PYTHIANISM.

Facts and Figures About a Leading Fraternal Order.

At the anniversary ball of the Knights of Pythias last Friday night, Judge Little outlined the history and growth of Pythianism as follows:

Pythian Knighthood sprung into existence within the memory of the living. Thirty-eight years ago, on the 19th of this month, the Order was instituted in Independence Hall in the City of Washington by J. Justus Rathbone, its founder.

Yet, within these short years, have been wrought, with their rising and setting suns, with oft recurring seedtime and harvests, a multitude of deeds, bright with the memory of peace, joy, love and steadfast devotion to the tenets of the Order. And its members feel that whatever may betide, yet the memory of the happy hours incident to its establishment and splendid fulfillment of the generous and comprehensive principles of friendship, charity and benevolence will cling and cluster about the hearts of our brothers as the fragrance of sweetest incense within the innermost recesses of our Castle Halls long after the fire of the altar on which it burned has ceased to glow, and to the honor of our beloved Order be it said that the pages of its history are luminous with many beautiful stories of Pythian courage, devotion and sacrifice upon the altar of friendship in the Castle Halls of modern knighthood.

We are taught to overcome all danger whether it emanate from ourselves or others, whether we contend in an armed affray or silently endure and watch. We are taught that wherever human sympathy gushes forth in deeds which assuage distress and mitigate the pangs of pain there will always be found the spirit of generous chivalry and moral knighthood.

Since its organization five hundred thousand brother Knights have joined hands as a brotherhood in the Castle Halls of our beloved Order, and stand ready to protect with their lives, if need be, the lives and honor of one another, the nation under whose flag we live, and the purity of the home circle. Charity toward mankind and loyalty to government are imperative duties and no one can be admitted to membership until he is fully tested as to his knowledge of the full worth and scope of those principles.

The Uniform or Military Rank has a membership of fifty thousand. The Endowment or Insurance Rank has a membership of about sixty-five thousand, representing more than one hundred and twenty millions of dollars of insurance. There has been paid to the beneficiaries of this department of the Order and under its supervision since its establishment about one million and five hundred thousand dollars. This causes us to reflect on how many homes would have been taken from widows and orphans, but for their rescue from mortgage and the iron grip of the miser, through the aid and assistance of the Endowment Rank.

Not alone that, but its labor of love embraces the reclamation of poor down-fallen humanity and develops and preserves the good in every creature. When others shall speak naught but ill of us; to express a favorable word and silence evil report and slanderous tongue is the sacred duty of every Knight. What a noble record these figures present and if faithfully carried out when we appear before our Supreme Grand Chancellor we shall hear him say, "well done brave and valliant Knight."

"Then let us all help one another to do all the good we can. Who withholds the hand of kindness scarce deserves the name of man; For one great law of nature which was meant mankind to bless. Bids us help a fellow creature when we find him in distress."

The chivalric order of the Knights of Pythias is predicated upon the beautiful story of the friendship existing between Damon and Pythias as contra-distinguished from the violence, licentiousness and superstition of that moral monster and tyrant Dionysius, and the stage whereon the scene was enacted were the plains of Sicily—the time long, long ago, and which having survived the defiling tooth of time became the corner stone of our splendid Order.

Hilo Lodge No. 7 Knights of Pythias, was instituted Jan 18, 1899, through the efforts of Brother Frederick Waldron, and instituted by Brother H. S. Waity as Deputy Supreme Chancellor and consisted of sixteen charter members. The first Chancellor Commander was Brother R. T. Guard of this city, and Brother I. E. Ray was the first Past Chancellor. The present membership is fifty-five and the Order is in a prosperous condition. The membership fee is twenty-five dollars, with weekly benefits when sick and funeral benefits to your family or other representative at death.

The modern object of our Order is to unite men together irrespective of nation, tongue, or creed, for mutual protection and improvement to foster among its members a spirit of friendship, charity and benevolence, and by a well regulated system of dues and benefits provide for the relief of the sick and the destitute and the burial of the dead.

Applicants for membership must be white, male citizens of the United States, of the age of twenty one years and upwards, of sound body, good health and good moral character, must have some respectable means of support and believe in a Supreme Being and Ruler of the Universe. It is made the duty of every member of the Knights of Pythias in the days of health to provide for the days of sickness and thereby shield his family from the cold charity of the world.

MASS MEETING.

Citizens Confer Regarding Location of Federal Building.

A mass meeting was held Monday night at the Fireman's hall to consider questions in connection with a Federal building at this place. Congressman Mercer, chairman of the committee on postoffices, wrote Postmaster Severance at this place for certain particulars. The committee wanted to know the present population of Hilo, its population ten year's ago and the probable population of the place in 1920. It was also asked if any citizen or citizens of Hilo would donate a site for the Federal building. These questions made a mass meeting desirable, hence a call was made for last Monday night.

There were between fifty and sixty of the representative business men of the city present. J. A. Scott was made chairman and N. Willfong secretary. The question of the location of the proposed building was debated. The majority of those speaking were in favor of the present site of the postoffice. Messrs. J. C. Ridgway and Dr. Rice believed the building should be located up Waiuanue street in the van of Hilo's future growth. Efforts were made by others to name a spot which would probably be in the center of the business district in 1920. Mr. Philip Peck said that it would even be more long headed to locate the building at a spot which would be the center of the town a hundred years hence. Messrs. Turner, Peck, Mason, and others favored the present postoffice site. Sheriff L. A. Andrews said that he had been informed that the Government had conveyed the lot on which the postoffice now stands to the Hilo Railroad Company.

The consensus of opinion was that Congress would not begin to mix mortar for a new Hilo postoffice for a period of three or five years and that all the exigencies of the present require would be a few suggestions and statistics.

Accordingly, a committee consisting of Messrs. P. Peck, J. W. Mason and N. Willfong was appointed to compile the information asked for by the Congressional Committee.

No citizen stepped forward to present Uncle Sam with a building site. But it was pointed out by many speakers that, since Uncle Sam himself owns choice lots upon nearly every street in town, he scarcely can expect a gift of this kind.

K. OF P. ANNIVERSARY.

Brilliant Social Dance Given By the Populaa Knights.

The anniversary ball of the Knights of Pythias at Spreckel's hall last Friday night was one of the most enjoyable social events of the season. The preparations for the entertainment of the guests were made with skill and in the best of taste, and all present had a thorough good time.

The decorations were made along pythian lines and were striking. A large portrait of George Washington, done in black and white by Mr. Fuhr graced one side of the hall and attracted many complimentary remarks. The portrait was surrounded by graceful draperies of the American flag. At the farthest end of the hall the K. of P. triangle in the colors of the order made a graceful decoration. At the head of the hall was the shield of the order. Green palm leaves and bamboo entered into the decoration scheme.

The large number of guests were taken in charge upon their arrival by a reception committee consisting of Messrs. R. H. Reid, Dr. Wachs, Bohnenberg and Brummagham. Mrs. Tracy presided at the piano and the dance soon claimed the majority of those present.

The refreshment room was a popular resort, as the evening was unusually hot. Two big punch bowls filled with claret punch, made under the skilled direction of Chas. H. Hitchcock was the oasis of an occasion of oases. More substantial refreshments were served later by Mr. Fetter.

During an intermission in the dance, Judge G. F. Little gave an outline of the history and purposes of the order of the Knights of Pythias which is printed elsewhere in this issue.

It Requires Nerve to stand the strain of nervous neuralgia, pains in the face, head or any part of the body. These pains are quickly stopped by the use of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. WAT ROOSEVELT WANTS.

It has been well known for a period of twelve months that Governor Dole would resign providing he had assurance that Secretary H. E. Cooper would be appointed his successor. It is known that the late President McKinley was approached with a proposition of this kind and that he did not look upon the scheme with favor.

Governor Dole and his Secretary have no one to blame but themselves for the furore that has been howling about their heads in Hawaii and in Washington.

With frankness the President has made his inquiries about conditions and men in Hawaii. He asked Parker a question and it was announced that he had offered to make him Governor.

President Roosevelt naturally wants a strong, sincere and harmonious Administration party built up in these Islands. Cooper could not make two magnets adhere.

HAWAII'S AGUINALDO.

The deadlock between the Judge of the Fourth Circuit Court and the Attorney General's department over the transmission of money collected for fines imposed in that Court, is a small detail which in itself shows with what stubbornness the old regime in Hawaii resist real American annexation.

The Hilo jail would be a good place for the Attorney General and the High Sheriff to do a month's thinking. And if they ever get there by reason of acts in contempt of Court, the Governor's reprieve will reach them with less alacrity than it did Hartwell, Kinney and Thurston at Honolulu.

THE SHETLAND PONY.

Carl S. Smith has a reputation as a lawyer. It has been said by himself and his friends that he graduated from some department at Stanford University. In spite of these achievements, as the chief factotum in banquet preparations, he can make more bulls and blunders in a minute than a herd of mules rampant on a stampede down Front street.

A FEDERAL BUILDING.

The citizens' committee, composed of Messrs. John A. Scott, P. Peck, N. C. Willong and J. W. Mason, appointed to compile data in answer to questions submitted by the chairman of the House Committee on Public Buildings and grounds have forwarded an excellent document.

With steamer communication with San Francisco this volume will be largely increased.

The report shows an increase in the value of the assessable property of the Hilo District in the past five years of $4,000,000. In the whole Island the increase during this period has been $11,872,320.

The sugar produced on this Island last year amounted to 134,618 tons, the output of the whole Territory being 360,038 tons. It was pointed out that with the completion of railroads now contemplated, the sugar product of this Island would nearly all pass through this port.

The need of suitable quarters in this city for the transaction of the official business of the United States could not be better emphasized than in the words of the report: "At the present time our Collector of the Port has no place to transact his business except a private office. Our Federal Judge is allowed by the courtesy of the Circuit Judge to hold his Court in the Circuit Court room, there being no other place available."

The report states that an appropriation of $50,000 would not be too much, as such a building should be large enough to accommodate not only a Postoffice and Custom House, but a United States Appraisers office; Surveyor of the Port; U. S. Marine Hospital Quarantine Service; Immigration Bureau; Revenue Cutter and Secret Service; U. S. Army and Navy Recruiting Office; U. S. Internal Revenue Office; Quarters for U. S. Court, U. S. Marshal, U. S. Attorney, U. S. Commissioner, and U. S. Land Office.

A building to suit the needs of Hilo must be much larger than one for a town of our size and population on the Mainland. Hilo is a distributing point of growing importance and will eventually be the commercial center of the biggest and richest Island in the Hawaiian group.

HONOLULU will appeal to the Federal Government to take charge of the job of rendering that city sanitary. A reckless boy once went into a strange country where he wasted his substance in riotous living. The biblical prodigal arose and went to his father. Modern prodigals send home for money.

W. C. COOK's speech at the American banquet, published in full in the news columns of the TRIBUNE is good easy reading and profitable.

AN American banquet with Judge Gilbert F. Little absent is like a play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out.

THE Hilo Railroad will be running along the water front before frost.

Report of Acting Governor.

The report of Acting Governor Cooper to the Secretary of the Interior has arrived here in bound form, complete, with a large number of half-tone illustrations and detail maps of the different islands. The volume in its present form is a valuable acquisition to any library, and the statistical matter is of great interest, not only to those living in the Islands, but to those on the mainland who desire to become acquainted with the Pacific Paradise.

The frontispiece is a fine photograph of the late Princess Kaiulani. Pictures are shown in half-tones of the residences of E. D. Tenney, Jas. B. Castle, W. G. Irwin, the Hotel Moano, Naval Row in Honolulu Harbor, Hilo Harbor, at which a breakwater is recommended to be constructed; open roadstead, "A Departing Steamer," Honolulu; sugar mill in course of construction, entrance to Ainalou, Hilo, Honolulu, residence of Princess Kaiulani, Kapiolani Park lake scene, Lauhala and cocoanuts, mountain waterfalls, Hawaii; native grass huts in the woods, lei makers, Honolulu; first attempt at forestry, Tantalus forest, showing silver wattle grown from seed and transplanted; coconut grove, Puna, Hawaii, grown in lava flow near the sea; forest, Hawaii, 2300 feet elevation, showing ohia trees 90 feet high; acacia koa forest, Hawaii, at 4,000 feet elevation; tamarind tree, 40 feet high; banyan tree; taro and bananas, mango tree in fruit, Hilo, Hawaii; breadfruit tree, full of fruit, 50 feet high; Travellers' Tree; map showing location of Honolulu sewer system, map of location of Honolulu Iron Works, bird's eye view of Iron Works, interior of Iron Works' machine shops, capitol building, Judd building, Stangenwald building, Central Fire Station, road through forest on way to volcano, lava flow, Kilaueo crater; mould-shaped lava overflow, crater of Kilauea Hawaii; Hale Mau Mau, House of Everlasting Fire.

The maps of the Islands, six in number, fill a large amount of space in the back of the volume. Each is colored and gives the elevation of the mountains, besides showing the earlier division of the crown and government lands by colors. The map of Hawaii is by C. J. Lyons, from trigonometrical surveys by W. D. Alexander, C. J. Lyons, J. F. Brown, M. O. Monsarrat and Wm. Webster.

Home Rule Dead.

Liverpool, Feb. 14.—Lord Rosebery received a tremendous ovation at the great Liberal demonstration here this evening. His lengthy speech, the principal one of the evening, was attentively received and heartily applauded. He failed to throw any fresh light on the war situation, but he strongly emphasized his hostility to the Irish party and his desire to utterly alienate it from the Liberal camp.

During his remarks Lord Rosebery said that the greatest change in heart and head undergone during his five years' absence from public life was in regard to the Irish problem. Gladstone's bills were dead and buried, though that statement cast no reflection on the great statesmen who originated them. The Irish party had now indignantly repudiated any connection with the Liberal party, and he believed they had acted wisely.

It was both to their interests and to those of the Liberal party. The Irish leaders had played their full hand. They had demanded an independent Parliament in Dublin and thereupon he had cried "Halt!" This remark was greeted with applause.

Dillingham on Prospects.

"The feeling in San Francisco in regard to Hawaiian securities is that the people here should keep up the values. The investors are not inclined to put in much more money in view of the low prices of shares, but they do not feel at all uneasy over the money they now have here. The belief seems to be that the people here should take better care of their own stocks, however, carry less floating debt on the plantations, even if a bond issue is necessary, and thus have a small dividend if not a great one. The low prices of shares prevents the people who do not understand the conditions here from investing in the stocks, and this will, I believe, continue.

"I am very hopeful of the future. Should there be adverse legislation we would not have to go to the wall as we did in 1891, and the few years succeeding, for if we cannot make great dividends we can make small ones, and the country has the value in it. The profits from the present crop should make it possible to have an easier money market here, and the belief expressed by those who have studied the situation is that this will be the outcome.

"The financial arrangements for Olan, Puna and Hilo railroad are made, all the bonds we wanted to sell practically have been placed. Some of these securities have been pledged, simply, so that they now may be taken up whenever we want to retire them. There will be no trouble in perfecting the properties and work on them will go right along."—Advertiser.

HASSON BRAGS ON HILO.

Pleased With Work of Sedgwick and E. E. Richards.
 W. F. C. Hasson, Inspector of Electric Light and Telephone systems for the Department of Public Works, was in the city between boats to look over the electrical plants in this city. Mr. Hasson, when seen by a TRIBUNE reporter, spoke very highly of the street work of both the Telephone and Electric Light Companies. He says the work recently done for the Electric Light Company by Manager Sedgwick is the best example of poles and wires in the Islands. He does not even hesitate to say that the wires and poles on Waiuanu street are as finely put up as can be found in any city in the world. He speaks in the same tone regarding the telephone lines.
 "The only drawback to a perfect system of street poles and wires in Hilo," said Mr. Hasson, "is on streets which are irregular. The Government and the people are to blame for this. Crooked streets and streets where the boundaries have not been defined, cause the companies a lot of trouble. They must wait until the lines are officially established. The people are to blame in some instances in not moving their buildings back to the street lines.
 Mr. Hasson will lay the whole situation before Superintendent Boyd upon his return to Honolulu. The representations he makes may expedite street straightening in Hilo.

Moonlight Ride.
 A bus load of Hilo young people drove to Olaa last Monday night. The crowd went to the Olaa Mill where they were received by Mr. Hasting's Howland and shown the sights. Later they drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walker where they were refreshed with square meal. The persons enjoying the moonlight drive were Misses Hitchcock, Eaton, Z. Cheek, Porter, Scholhorn; Messrs Easton, Ridgway, Guard, Moses and Sisson.

Hilo Elks.
 The Hilo Lodge of Elks will probably be instituted on Wednesday evening March 19. Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, Dr. C. B. Cooper of Honolulu will leave that city by the Kinau of March 18 and will be accompanied by thirty or thirty-five of the Honolulu herd of Elks. The hall for the institution of the Lodge of Elks has not yet been decided upon. The occasion will be a happy one and the prospective Elks and other citizens here hope to see a large number of visitors from Honolulu.

McGuire Writes.
 Sam Parker, received a letter from Chas. McGuire, his son-in-law stationed at Manila in the Army service, which gives news of Hawaiian people in the Orient. Mr. McGuire is inspector of launches at Manila and is prospering. He is the son of J. A. McGuire of Kona. In his letter he states that Lieut. Widdifield is one of the most popular young officers down there. He also says that Hawaii is a Paradise compared with the Philippines.

The Overnd-Dixon case came up for hearing before Judge Hapai last Tuesday morning and was set for a hearing next Tuesday morning. Mr. Overnd was allowed to go on his own recognizance. Wise & Ross appear for the prosecution; C. F. LeBlond for the defense.
 The officers of the Ladies Social Circle, elected at the annual meeting are: President, Mrs. L. Sevraner; vice-President, Mrs. R. T. Guard; Secretary, Mrs. E. N. Holmes; Treasurer, Mrs. E. L. Meyers; Committee on Socials, Mrs. R. T. Guard and Mrs. Marsh.

The Volcano Stables and Transportation Company have been awarded mail contracts covering a period of four years over the routes from Hilo to Laupahoehoe, from Laupahoehoe to Honokaa, from Honokaa to Kawaihae, from Hilo to Pahala and from Pahala to Honuapo.
 H. S. Rickard of Laupahoehoe visited Hilo and the Olaa plantation this week. He had not been to Olaa for two and one half years. He went through the Mill and says that it is the finest piece of machinery he ever saw. Mr. Rickard says that Manager McStocker has done marvels in laying out the whole proposition and that Engineer Scott should be credited with erecting the best mill in the Islands.

Among the men living in these Islands, whose forefathers fought with Washington in the American Revolution, the name of F. B. McStocker of Olaa, is mentioned. F. B. McStocker's ancestor was Francis McStocker, who was an Irish refugee, serving as an officer in the French Army. He accompanied Lafayette to the United States, served through the war of Independence and after returning to France was killed in the French revolution.
 A horse belonging to H. Hamada, the Puaeo merchant, ran away Monday afternoon on Waiuanu street, causing a trail of sensations. At Bridge street the frightened animal tried to turn to the left. Horse and vehicle bumped into the bank building and fell in a heap on the sidewalk. Scrambling to its feet the steed whirled past the Fish market, scaring another horse which went tearing down Front street. Hamada's horse was caught behind the Post office. The other has not yet been heard from.

FANCY DRESS BALL.

McLennan Home at Papaaloa Given a House Warming.
 The fancy dress ball at the home of the McLennans at Papaaloa, originally planned for New Years, was given on the evening of February 21. The postponement was made necessary on account of the washouts on the Honohina road. In spite of the difficulties encountered, the ball came off, a splendid success. The new home of Mr. and Mrs. McLennan was properly dedicated by the event. The hostess with the assistance of friends had made beautiful decoration.
 The guests were arrayed in fancy costumes and altogether the company presented a lively scene. The music for the dance was furnished by a Hilo orchestra. In the course of the evening the guests were served with both liquid and substantial refreshments.
 Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames—Geo. Ross, H. V. Patten, A. Chalmers, G. M. Deacon, Chas. Grasier, G. Gill, J. D. Fraser, Bridgewater, E. W. Barnard, W. G. Walker, Albert Horner, E. Madden, J. W. Leonhardt, A. Lidgate, Thos. McKinley, L. M. Whitehouse, Mesdames J. Horner, F. M. Wakefield, Misses—Aiken, McKenzie, Chalmers, Barnard, Irvin, May, Maude, Wight, Notley, Clive, Horner and Blacow.
 Messrs.—P. Tosh, A. C. Palfrey, E. W. Hockley, J. Wilcock, R. Hutchinson, R. McKenzie, Dr. A. Irvin, H. Irvin, J. E. Medcalf, Geo. Osborne, T. R. Robinson of Honolulu, L. Daingerfield, E. F. Patten, Dr. Buffet, J. B. Madden, John McLennan, Geo. McKenzie of Hilo, D. McKenzie, H. S. Gray, Jas. S. Gray.
 Ladies in Costumes were as follows: Meslames—Geo. Ross, (Shepherdess); H. V. Patten, (Grecian woman); A. Chalmers, (Japanese woman); G. M. Deacon, (Fortune-teller); Chas. Grasier, (Spanish girl); G. Gill, (Shepherdess); J. D. Fraser, (Winter); Bridgewater, (a Bride); E. W. Barnard, (Night); W. G. Walker, (Butterfly); A. Horner, (Lady of the Empire); E. Madden, (Japanese); J. W. Omsted Bankruptcy.
 Judge Estee handed down a decision in the Federal Court last Monday on the matter of the appeal from the decision of Referee Thos. C. Ridgway in the matter of Olaf Omsted, a Bankrupt. The Referee was sustained in his action in vacating a sub-poena issued upon the Bankrupt, and in his action in cutting down the claim of John W. Mason and allowing said claim to be noted for only $102.75. His allowance of the claims of M. Wachs, Hilo Wine and Liquor Co., J. D. Kennedy, Hawaii Herald Publishing Co., Ltd., and E. N. Holmes was overruled and the claims are ordered to be amended, the same point being raised in each claim.

She Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
 "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a number of years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds and croup I have ever used in my family. LOST IN PUNA.

Pleasure Hunters Have Difficulties With Mules.
 P. Romaine, E. F. Nichols and W. J. Stone celebrated Washington's Birthday by getting lost in the "bush." They started late Friday evening on horse back to the Volcano House and the story of the troubles of the trio is remarkable. At Mountain View, Romaine's mule swelled up and burst the saddle girth, and then side stepped a few, throwing Mr. Romaine and the saddle in a heap upon a hard place in the lava. This discouraged Romaine, and in spite of the beseechments of his companions he faced the sea and led his mule back to Hilo.
 Stone and Nichols pushed on. They headed for the wlds of Puna and found food and shelter at a little village Waialele. Saturday morning they were out early on their refreshed mules. They galloped about the district of Puna a few hours, inspecting several extinct volcanoes. Bye and bye, Stone consulted his compass, took the bearings and fixed his course for the Volcano House. Nichols fell in behind. The caravansary proceeded in silence. At about six bells in the third watch, Stone looked around for Nichols. He had vanished over the horizon, for two hours he hunted for his lost comrade but finally hastened to the Volcano House to organize a searching party. The party was made up and waiting for the moon to raise before setting out, at 8:30 the direct hove in sight. Nichols mule had bolted in the afternoon carrying him far out of his course. The mule was groaning beneath the 32,765 maledictions which had been heaped upon it by Nichols.

Temperance Workers.
 Messrs. Rice and Westervelt are in Hilo for the purpose of conducting a temperance campaign. Mr. Rice is a singer and both use the stereopticon effectively. Mr. Westervelt held a meeting in Olaa Wednesday night and in Puna Thursday night. Both gentlemen will take part in a service at Waiakea Saturday night. Sunday will be a "field day." In the morning Mr. Rice will speak in the Foreign church and Mr. Westervelt in the Haia church. In the evening there will be a union service in Haia church, conducted by Mr. Rice, who will give an address, illustrated by stereopticon views. Mr. Westervelt holds a similar service in the Portuguese church. Next week these gentlemen will hold services in Hilo and vicinity.

LeBLOND'S SPEECH.

Delivered at the Washington Banquet Saturday Night.

The official designation, "The President of the United States," has become to the world a synonym of love, power and grandeur, love of country, justice, fellow American citizens, and all mankind. Of power, in that, by virtue of the veto, conferred by the Constitution, the President has more real power than any crowned head of Europe, Russia excepted. Of grandeur in that he represents freedom in fact, a nation possessing the highest ideals of perfection in manhood, commercial enterprise, self government, equality of sexes and liberal education, representing a government of and by the people, made possible by its defense and construction by George Washington, he who thrust aside a crown that we might be free, he whose soul was gathered to his fathers, but yet lives; to whose memory, we a nation of eighty millions of people, bow the head and bend a knee, and always call our father. In line we find the inspired Jefferson, from whose pen was traced the noblest and best and grandest production in the annals of State papers, that the world has ever known. He whose purity of faith, was the guiding star of a beautiful and noble life, the spirit of which is so grandly expressed by:

"Know thyself,
Presume not God to scan,
The proper study of Mankind, is man."

The meek and lowly Lincoln, brought from the commonest walks of life to guide the ships of state; when our country was in the whirlpool of war and threatened dissolution, he who while accomplishing that almost more than mortal act, of piloting the good ship to her old moorings during the most bitter war the world had ever known, who shed tears of grief at his country's woe, and gave his labors and his life that we might live. Our beloved McKinley, whose heart, mind and love were given to his country, with no moment thereof, entertaining one selfish thought; whose faith was so steadfast, that in his dying thought he gave expression by word of that perfection, as given for our guidance in the word of God:

"Oh God, thy will be done, not mine."
And since so beautifully expressed by the poet:

"In spite of fate,
In erring reasons spite,
One truth is clear,
Whatever is, is right."

No more fitting representative of American manhood to fill the place of this great statesman and martyr, than he who in his earliest public career, as a member of the Legislature of New York, ignored the threats and abuse of the machine power of his political party, by introducing and forcing through that Legislature the law applying civil service to that great state. He the author and soldier, who within the past few weeks as President, has again demonstrated his great moral courage, by refusing to withdraw or change his position upon the question of reciprocity with Cuba, when the same was requested and demanded by the present leaders of his political party, because he believed himself to be right. He who is the recipient of overtures from the crowned heads of Europe, amounting to almost a scramble for preference, in the line of friendly nations. We as citizens join in praise of him, as our President and as being the right man in the right place. Who now present with all this galaxy of greatness in the past, with contentment, security and happiness for the present, with an absolute certainty for the future, looking into the beautiful flashing eyes of American womanhood here assembled, some of whom may become mothers of Presidents, with our joyful surroundings and good cheer, can repress the pulsation of patriotism and fail to cry with the poet:

"Breathes there a man,
With soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my Native land?"

Teachers Union.

The Teachers club held their usual Tuesday evening meeting at the Union School this week, and finished the study of William Cullen Bryant. In Art, the discussion was, "The Work of Phidias the Greek Sculptor." Mrs. Severance led in the discussion and was assisted by others. After the program, Mrs. W. D. Westervelt of Honolulu talked to the teachers on temperance. She read a section of the law passed by Congress making it compulsory to teach in all public schools in the District of Columbia and the Territories, the effects of narcotics on the human system. This law was only lately discovered by the Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction. He has sent copies of it to all teachers. Among other things the law provides that a teacher shall forfeit his or her diploma, if the mandate of the statute is ignored. Mrs. Westervelt also exhibited a temperance primer calculated for use in the primary grades. Copies of this were left with the teachers to assist them in their work of teaching temperance.

Progressive Hotel Management Issues Souvenir.

The management of the Moano hotel at Honolulu have issued a bright little souvenir booklet on Hawaii. It is written in a sparkling vein and shows not only the attractions at Waikiki but displays the beauties of Hilo and the Volcano region. Wherever it goes, it will be noticed with interest. Of this part of the group the booklet says:

"The Island of Hawaii, the largest of the group, produces 38 per cent of the sugar and most of the coffee in the group. One of its richest treasures is the volcano of Kilauea, whose fires never go out. The crater is 4,000 feet above the sea and has an area of 2,650 acres. It is over seven miles in circumference, nearly three miles long and nearly two wide. The tourist who fails to visit this natural wonder cannot say he has "done" the Hawaiian Islands. While it is the greatest show on the Islands, it is the greatest show on earth. The trip to Kilauea can be made from the town of Hilo by wagonette or horseback, with no discomfort whatever. Near the crater is the Volcano House, built and furnished especially for tourist parties. A picture of this hotel and its scenic surroundings is given in this booklet. Another live volcano to the north of Kilauea is Mokuaweweoe. Eminent scholars have come from all quarters of the earth to view these majestic spectacles. There are hot springs with water of peculiar chemical composition in the country about the volcanoes. In one pool the skin of native bathers is turned from the natural brown color to white, though the change is not lasting. Hawaii is full of mountains and gulches and for the most part well watered. The Puna district is noted for its wild, tropical appearance and for lighter complexioned Hawaiians than inhabit other parts of the group. Hilo is a town of some pretensions with an excellent hotel, electric street lights, a capable police force and many nice residences. The harbor is soon to be vastly improved. Most of the island's crop of sugar and coffee is shipped directly from Hilo to San Francisco. It contains many points of interest."

The warning cough is the faithful sentinel. It tells of the approach of consumption, which has killed more people than war and pestilence combined. It tells of painful chests, sore lungs, weak throats, bronchitis, and pneumonia. Do not suffer another day. It's useless, for there's a prompt and safe cure. A cure for fresh colds and old colds, easy coughs and hard coughs—

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

It often cures a fresh cold in a single night, and it masters chronic coughs and bronchitis in a short time. Consumption is certainly prevented, and cured, too, if taken in time.

If anybody tells you that consumption cannot be cured, they are certainly mistaken, for we have thousands of these cases reported to us, absolutely cured, and no mistake about it.

Put up in large and small bottles. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster placed directly over the tender, aching lung is a great aid to the Cherry Pectoral.

HOOLULU PARK.

Good Races and a Polo Game Entertain the People.

Washington's Birthday was celebrated in Hilo in a manner that will long be remembered by those who happened to attend the polo game and horse races at Hoolulu Park. Polo, that king of games which has been a faint possibility in Hilo for so many months, jumped into a popularity which has never been equalled in the Crescent City by any sport heretofore. The races were also of a fine order, but the main interests of the day centered around the polo game, the paddock being filled with the most stylish equipages in town, long after the races were over.

It was only by a superior brace in the last period and the sudden development of very acceptable teamwork that the Blues, led by the redoubtable Captain Prouty managed to win a game that was close and exciting enough to satisfy the ardor of the most incurable crank. The personnel of the Blues was Prouty, Guard, Grace and Robinson. Their opponents, the Pinks, were Messrs. W. Balding (captain), R. Balding, Scott and Kennedy.

Of the winners the captain, Prouty, stands out as the star of the day. He was every where at once, stroking with great accuracy and keeping his practically raw team well in hand during the trying moments of the game. Twice scoring seemed inevitable, but in the nick of time Prouty got the ball away and into the enemy's territory, saving the game for his side. He was ably supported by Guard who played a surprisingly good game for one who is so new at the game. Guard was severely handicapped by a poor horse and had been well mounted, things would have gone quite badly with the losers. The other two played a game that was mediocre in the extreme, Prouty and Guard being forced to play most of the game themselves. Of the Pinks, Kennedy perhaps did the finest all round work, although the judgement of Captain Balding was above par. Scott and R. Balding also played fine games, but no one player predominated over the others in the excellence of his play.

The first period started out well for the Pinks. They rushed things from the start and keeping the ball well down towards the Pink's goal in four minutes they had shot the goal, R. Balding doing the trick in very neat style. At this point the Blues braced and in a few minutes Prouty sent the ball squarely between the flags, evening the score. The rest of the period was very exciting but slowly and surely the Pinks got the best of it until just before the call of time Kennedy shot a very pretty goal. Score, Pinks 2, Blues 1.

The second period was characterized by more fierce and exciting play. Grace, who had arrived too late to play in the first period, was now added to the force of the Blues, but his play strengthened the team but little and the Pinks had decidedly the best of the period. Kennedy duplicated his trick of the first period and the Pinks score advanced a notch. The play was still in the favor of Balding's husky riders for they again forced the play down within breathing distance of the Melancholy's goal where a battle royal ensued. Time and again Prouty and Guard made connections with the ball saving the score from piling up above reaching distance, but the Pinks inevitably brought it back again until Prouty put his goal out of danger by making a safety thereby adding half a point to his opponent's score. By dint of some fast playing the Blues rushed the ball down to their enemy's goal, but in trying to score the ball was knocked outside. As it was sent in Prouty caught the ball squarely and shot one of the prettiest goals of the day. Score, Pinks 3 1/2 Blues 2.

The third period was the fiercest of the game. The opposing factions struggled back and forth across the field, now menacing one goal, now the other. Narrow escapas from scoring were plenty, but neither side did the trick until just at the end of the period when Prouty managed to get the elusive sphere over his adversary's line. Score, Pinks 3 1/2, Blues 3.

It was in the last spasm that the Blues took the brace that landed the game on their side of the fence. The ball was driven into the corner of the Pinks territory, but notwithstanding the great angle Prouty connected with the ball and shot the nearest goal of the day, placing his side half a point in the lead. This seemed to encourage the Blues for they suddenly developed some surprising teamwork and playing like veterans they took the ball along for another goal, Guard making the proper connections this time. The Pinks made a noble brace but the inning was decidedly against them and the game ended with the ball dangerously near their own goal. Final score, Blues 5, Pinks 3 1/2.

The horse races also furnished some rare sport. Philip won in a romp from a new horse called Time Center in a three-eighths dash. The green ones' tail went into the air when they turned into the stretch and Vidi brought his mount in in a walk. Golden rode the new horse.

After trailing to the half in a three-quarters' race, by a little clever riding Thomas brought Merrill's Force under the wire three lengths ahead of Royal Fan with Vidi up. The time was 1:22.

The surprise of the day was the defeat of Frank S by Del Vista in a three furlongs dash. The black was not in it from the start Golden having no trouble in landing his horse in the proper place. The time was .36 1/2.

General Cronje and Fierro put up the prettiest race of the day the distance being a mile. The General with Golden up won by half a neck in 1:49 1/2.

There were also three Jap races which furnished some very good sport.

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS.

Sheriff and Circuit Judge and Attorney General at Loggerheads.

The Fourth Circuit Court is in the throes of a contempt case which is likely to eclipse in spectacular results the famous contempt dramas enacted in the First Circuit Court at Honolulu a few months ago. At that time Judge Humphreys got into a tangle with the Attorney General's department, the executive branch of the government and numerous minor elements, which at Honolulu make up a rockribbed coalition against the operation of justice in Hawaii on the American plan.

Again, it is the Judiciary vs. the Attorney General's department. L. A. Andrews was before Judge Little last Tuesday on an order to appear and show reason why he should not be adjudged in contempt for violating an order of the Court. The order was that all moneys for fines forfeitures, executions costs etcetera, in cases tried in the Fourth Circuit Court should be paid to the clerk of that Court instead of being remitted to the High Sheriff at Honolulu.

The occasion for the order arose upon the discovery by Judge Little that the records in the office of the clerk failed to show satisfactions of judgements, after fines had been paid and the prisoners discharged. The clerk explained that he could not enter a satisfaction of judgement in any case unless he received the amount of the fine. The Sheriff was ordered in due form, at the January term not to remit any Fourth Circuit fines to the High Sheriff but to turn all such moneys into the clerk of that court. The Sheriff was given time to communicate the order to High Sheriff Brown and Attorney General Dole. These officials replied with a peremptory order directing Sheriff Andrews to ignore the order of Judge Little and send the money direct to High Sheriff Brown. As a subordinate officer under Brown, Andrews complied by sending $500, the amount of a fine collected since the order was made. There was an interesting tilt at arms in Court Tuesday between Andrews and the Judge. The Sheriff was given every chance to make his record of defense and the matter was taken under advisement by the Court until next week. Andrews places the responsibility of his action upon the order received from a Higher officer, and the Court is looking up light on this point. It may be that a bench warrant will issue, summoning the High Sheriff and the Attorney General to Hilo to account for their interference with a judicial order. It may be that they will be sent to the Hilo Jail for contempt together with the Sheriff of this Island.

In such event it will be interesting to observe whether a pardon from Governor Dole can be sent by wireless telegraph or by the mental telepathy route.

The order made by Judge Little to Sheriff Andrews, is in strict conformity with the rule prevailing in all the courts of the States. It also has the merit of being necessary in order that the clerk of his Court may square the records of his office when a fine is paid and a prisoner discharged.

Very Odd.

When someone told J. U. Smith that it was possible to buy thirteen two cent stamps at the Postoffice for one cent and a quarter he went right around to see Postmaster Severance about it. Severance told him that the report was true and did not seem surprised as the stamps have always sold at the price. Smith immediately put down five cents and asked for fifty-two, two cent stamps and was then told he was shy ninety-nine cents of the cost price. That although thirteen two cent stamps were sold for one cent and a quarter, five cents was not enough to pay for fifty-two twos.

Something That Will Do You Good.

We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will be of real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, colds, and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamblain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with such good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their homes as a safeguard against croup.—Camden (S. Rules and Requirements for Aerial Circuits for Electric Light, Power or Railway, Telephone or Telegraph Circuits on Public Roadways and Highways.

In the construction of aerial circuits for the above purposes, the following rules and requirements must be observed on and after this date:

- POLES.
1. Application must be made on proper blanks to the Superintendent of Public Works for permission to erect.
 2. Use of poles is limited to the purpose for which they are erected.
 3. Poles erected within town or city limits, other than those for electric railway purposes must not be less than forty feet in length and twelve inches in diameter at butt.
 4. Space between poles must not exceed 100 feet.
 5. Poles subjected to special strains must be properly guyed or braced. Guy lines are not to be secured to trees.
 6. Poles must be stamped with owner's name and numbered.
 7. Private signal lines must not be placed on poles for public service without permission.
 8. Where curb lines are established, poles are to be placed inside of and tangent to the curb line.
- CROSS ARMS.
1. Must be chamfered.
 2. For high potential lines should be dipped in oil.
 3. When carrying more than two lines must be braced with galvanized iron braces.
 4. Must be secured with galvanized iron bolts; not lag screws.
 5. Where lines are dead-ended double cross-arms should be used.
- WIRES.
1. Main conductors for electric light or power on roads and highways must not be less than No. 6, B. & S.
 2. Service wires on roads and highways must not be less than No. 6, B. & S.; in private grounds not less than No. 8, B. & S., and rubber covered.
 3. Electric light and power lines must be kept clear of foliage. Supply companies are responsible for lines on roads and highways, and owners on private grounds.
 4. The lower limit of wires on roads and highways is that of the electric railway trolley wire, twenty one feet above the level of the track.
 5. Where wires for various purposes are run on the same poles, or lines cross, the following order will be kept, beginning with the highest:
 - (a) Signal wires.
 - (b) Telephone and telegraph.
 - (c) High potential alternating current.
 - (d) Arc light.
 - (e) Low potential alternating current.
 - (f) Direct current, constant potential.
 6. Telephone and similar wires must be protected by dead insulated guard wires or wires from possibility of contact with other conducting wires. Must not be placed on same cross-arm with electric light or power wires, and when placed on the same poles with such wires the distance between the inside pins on each cross-arm must not be less than twenty-six inches.
 7. Wires crossing flat roofs must clear same by at least seven feet. Wires crossing pitched roofs must clear ridge over which they pass, or to which they are attached by at least one foot.
 8. Service wires must be run as nearly as possible in horizontal lines from poles to point of attachment to buildings.
 9. All joints in all wires must be soldered.
- INSULATORS.
1. All insulators for high potential circuits must be of glass and triple petticoat.
 2. Insulators for other electric light and power circuits must be glass and double petticoat.
 3. Service wires for electric light or power, where secured to the outside of buildings, must be carried on double petticoat, glass insulators.
- The term "high potential" covers any current between 550 volts and 3,500 volts.

Nerve Tonic

Builds up the System. Strengthens.

This warm climate is very trying to all. The blood easily becomes impure and the nervous system greatly debilitated. But you can retain your health and keep your nervous system strong.

This is the portrait of Mr. William Fanning, of Beaconsfield, Fremantle, Western Australia. In his letter he says:

"Upon arriving in Western Australia three years ago, I found that my blood was in bad condition and my general system all run down. I suffered greatly, especially from indigestion. I had heard so much about

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

I thought I would try it. I did so, and only three bottles restored my strength, built up my system, and cured my dyspepsia. And I have also found it a great nerve tonic.

If you are bilious, constipated, or are troubled with headache, take Ayer's Pills. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

A PATRIOTIC SPEECH.

Response of a Naturalized Englishman at an American Banquet.

W. C. Cook at the Washington Memorial dinner responded to the toast "Our Naturalized Citizens," in the following words:

To the player—standing before the footlights, his lines well rendered—the applause of an admiring audience is very sweet! Doubly sweet is the spontaneous outburst of public flattery which greets the actor in life's drama ere his lines begin! As a modest American citizen, allow me to thank you for your kindly compliment, and, at the same time, to assure you that the small sized 6 3/4 hat which recently covered this thinly thatched pate of mine, will not prove one hairsbreadth too small for me when I come to put it on again.

Amongst the many wise sayings of the people of the far East is the following: "Most wise is he, thrice blessed is he, who diggeth a well, begeth a son and planteth a tree." If this be true of the Hindu, it is equally true of the ordinary, every day white man, therefore, how blessed indeed was that stalwart Virginian to whom God sent a son, on this 22nd day of February one hundred and seventy years ago. Could he but have read the future of that piling, pink skinned, be-swaddled mite of humanity, could he have realized to what heights of power, of dignity, and fame his offspring was destined to soar; I think that he would have fallen upon his knees and covered his face in reverent awe at the importance of the event. There are some men, who, on occasions of a like character, are very apt to raise their hands and their eyes to Heaven, out of sheer gratitude and thankfulness of heart; that "it wasn't twins" this time.

We have been reminded several times this evening, that this scion of English nobility—I use the word "English" advisedly, for a glance at the genealogical tree of the Washington family will show you that the ancestors of the unconquerable George were Squires and Knights in the good old county of Lancashire, many generations before the American Revolution. We have been told that, in his budding youth, George took upon himself the task of cutting down the tree which his father had planted. Well, what if he did. He confessed the fault like an honest little man, and was freely forgiven. History does not tell us that the devil, which lurks in the hearts of most boys, ever prompted him to choke up the well which his father digged, but even tho' he had done so, I think that we should forgive him just as readily when we remember that later on in life he opened up a well of independence and liberty which flows on and on for ever and ever.

In the year 1876 your humble servant was a youthful pilgrim at the shrine of Independence, and remembers with pleasure the many happy days he spent in a boyish endeavor to locate the scenes of strife which had taken place a hundred years before—how, at Trenton, I stood beside the peacefully flowing river and beheld in vivid imagery its shining waters transformed into a frozen pathway, over which crossed and recrossed that gallant little army of ragged, half-starved, half frozen heroes who had followed their beloved leader so faithfully and so devotedly during the whole of that bitter campaign. As a Britisher, boy and man, I have never felt any grudge against the heroes of Bunker Hill, for a saintly mother taught me that the sword of Bunker Hill was the sword of God, the sword of Righteousness and justification. She also impressed upon my mind the fact that the English people of that day were not in sympathy with the iniquitous measures which drove a patient and a God fearing people into open rebellion against their King.

In 1774, Lord Chatham, on being told that the American colonists would resist the imposition of the Stamp Act, openly announced the fact that he was right glad to hear it. Later on, this noble Lord and statesman, in writing to his colleagues on this question, said, "I trust that there is not one free man in England today, who desires to see three millions of Englishmen made slaves in America."

That God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform, is apparent in this, that he used the whims of a witless king as a means upon which to build the greatest and the grandest Republic which the world has ever known, or probably ever will know. That George the Third happened to be in his dotage at this particular time was, perhaps, no fault of his own. Poor fellow, he couldn't help it! Even kings are subject to this as well as you or I. But I am proud, very proud indeed, ladies and gentlemen, to realize that it was the same Anglo Saxon blood which flows in mine own veins today that nerved the arms of your Carvels and your Wynnes and your Washingtons in their glorious resistance of oppression and wrong.

But there are Britishers and Britishers, there are citizens and citizens. I have met with Britishers in this little territory of ours, whose breadth of mind compelled them to apply the term "renegade" in its lowest sense, to those of their countrymen who deemed it their duty to pay allegiance to the country of their adoption. And I have seen those same loud-tongued patriots exhibit an almost frantic zeal to forswear the mother country when they realized that failure to do so would mean the forfeiture of the pittance they received in Government fees in connection with an office which they held temporarily. If, to be a renegade, is to pay a due respect to the country that supports me and to take an active interest in the affairs of its people, why, I must confess that I do not dislike the title at all, and fully appreciate the wit and worth of those who use it in this connection.

Andrew Carnegie, a naturalized American citizen, and one of whom the United States has no cause to feel ashamed, on being accused of a lack of loyalty to the mother country said: "It disna follow, that because a man marries a wife that he will luv his mither any the less!" Well, I should hope not! A man should love his mother all the more when he has tasted fully the sweets which a true wife brings into the life of a true man. The naturalized citizen, with few exceptions, is a progressive citizen, who insists upon clean politics, and who is usually to be found casting his ballot in the interests of good government. With the scheming trickster, your self-centered, place-hunting politician, he is rarely to be found.

Personally, I am rather proud of the fact that the only place I ever hunted was a warm corner in the hearts of my fellowman and woman, especially the latter. And why not! Artemus Ward, an inimitable humorist once remarked, 'Had it not been for the existence of female women I should hardly have been here with my unparalleled show on the present occasion.' So it is with citizenship; were it not for the influence, the divine influence of the gentle sex we should have but few citizens, naturalized or otherwise, who would be of much account in the community. No man ever won his way to success, politically or otherwise without some assistance from Eve's lovely daughters, and a man may certainly covet the goodwill of a good woman without violating the commandments. You may think that I am drawing somewhat upon the imagination, but use your eyes as you walk the streets of Hilo and you will find that she is capable of lending a sense of dignity to apparent meaus. See that round shouldered individual walking down Waianuenue street, the picture of woe and desolation, the hat drawn down over his eyes, the eyes fixed upon the sidewalk. As his lagging feet carry him round the corner into Front street he suddenly finds himself in company with a dainty, bright-eyed, light-footed piece of femininity, and presto, he is "translated" as Bottom the weaver would say. His hat sits jauntily upon the back of his head, his chin goes high into the air, and with carriage erect and shoulders square he faces the ups and downs of Front street with a martial stride, to which the musical patter of her little feet become a running accompaniment. Before he met with this little magician his thoughts were probably centered on last night's carouse, or a game with a two-bit ante; but now his mind is filled with glowing visions of a cosey home, where in this little charmer is enthroned as queen; his heart beats loud within him as in fancy, he hears the trip, trip of childish feet, and feels a pair of loving little arms twining around his neck, and a voice of ineffable sweetness calling him "Daddy." God bless the woman, say I, to whom He hath given the power to lift us out of our baser selves, and make us men.

To those of my countrymen present with us this evening, who have not, as yet, taken upon themselves the obligations of citizenship, I would say that the question of citizenship is one that you alone must decide, and it is a question which you cannot decide in a spirit of levity or lightness. I know from experience what it is to feel the tugging and the straining of the heart strings when it comes to severing the ties that bind a man to his mother country and the home of his youth. The United States will never ask you to renounce your fealty to the mother land; but let me remind you of the fact that Great Britain today is engaged in an expensive warfare in South Africa on the grounds that the late leaders in that country had refused to grant to British subjects the rights of citizenship within a reasonable space of probation. I would say further, that if it be your intention to make the United States or its territories your future home; if you desire to marry, to dig wells and to plant trees, and, incidentally, to put more money into your pockets than you could reasonably hope to acquire in the land you have left; if you would be true men, honest in the sight of God, then it becomes your duty (and you know what the hero of Trafalgar said on that score, "England expects every man will do his duty"); it becomes your bounden duty to seek and to accept the honor which the United States confer upon all who pledge themselves to support the Constitution, and who keep faith as true and loyal citizens by virtue of naturalization.

Mr. Wheeler Got Rid of His Rheumatism.

"During the winter of 1898 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked steadily all the year.—R. WHEELER, Northwood, N. Y., U. S. A. For sale by Hilo Drug Co.
